If the title to any part of the lands required by the United States government for the construction of an inland waterway from Beaufort Inlet to the Cape Fear River is owned by a private person, company or corporation, railroad company, street railway company, telephone or telegraph company, or other public service corporation, or has been donated or condemned for any public use by any political subdivision of the State or if it may be necessary, for the purpose of obtaining the proper title to any lands, the title to which has heretofore been vested in the State Board of Education, then the Utilities Commission, in the name of the State of North Carolina, may secure a right-of-way 1,000 feet wide for the inland waterway across and through the lands or any part thereof, if possible by purchase, donation or otherwise, through agreement with the owner or owners, and when any property is thus acquired, the Governor and Secretary of State shall execute a deed for the same to the United States; and if for any reason the Commission is unable to secure a right-of-way across the property by voluntary agreement with the owner or owners as aforesaid, the Commission acting for and in behalf of the State of North Carolina, is hereby vested with the power to condemn the same, and in so doing, the ways, means, methods and procedure of Chapter 40A of the General Statutes of North Carolina, entitled "Eminent Domain," shall be used by it as near as the same is suitable for the purposes of this law, and in all instances, the general and the special benefits to the owner thereof shall be assessed as offsets against the damages to the property or lands.

As condemnation proceedings might result in delay in the acquiring of title to all parts of the right-of-way and in the construction of the inland waterway by the United States, the Utilities Commission is authorized to enter any of the lands and property and take possession of the same at the time hereinafter provided as needed for this use in behalf of the State or the United States government for the purposes herein set out prior to the bringing of the proceeding for condemnation and prior to the payment of the money for the land or property under any judgment in condemnation. In the event the owner or owners shall appeal from the report of the commissioners appointed in the condemnation proceeding it shall not be necessary for the Commission, acting in behalf of the State of North Carolina, the State of North Carolina, or the United States government, to deposit the money assessed by the commissioners with the clerk.

Whenever proceedings in condemnation are instituted under the provisions of this section, the Commission upon the filing of the petition or petitions in the proceedings, may take immediate possession on behalf of the State of the lands or property to the extent of the interest to be acquired and the Governor and Secretary of State shall thereupon execute a deed to the United States and the lands or property may then be appropriated and used by the United States for the purposes described in this section. Provided, that in every case the proceedings in condemnation shall be diligently prosecuted to final judgment in order that the just compensation to which the owners of the property are entitled may be ascertained and when so ascertained and determined the compensation shall be promptly paid as hereinafter in this law provided.

If the United States government shall so determine, it is hereby authorized to condemn and use all lands and property that may be needed for the purposes herein set out and which is specifically described and set out in the preceding paragraphs, under the authority of the United States government, and according to the provisions existing in the federal statutes for condemning lands and property for the use of the United States government. In case the United States government shall so condemn the land and property, the Utilities Commission is hereby authorized to pay all expenses of the condemnation proceedings and any award that may be made thereunder, out of the money that may be appropriated for these purposes. (1927, c. 44, s. 2; 1929, c. 4; c. 7, s. 1; 1937, c. 434; 2001-487, s. 38(d).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-487, s. 38(d), effective December 16, 2001, made stylistic changes throughout the section; in the first paragraph, substituted “is owned by a private person” for “shall be in any private person,” substituted “may secure” for “is hereby authorized and empowered, acting for and in behalf of the State of North Carolina, to secure,” and substituted “Chapter 40A” for “Chapter 40”; and in the third paragraph, substituted “under the provisions of this section” for “in pursuance of the provisions of this section,” substituted “may take” for “shall have the right to take,” and substituted “described in this section” for “aforesaid.”

§ 104-21. Use declared paramount public purpose.

In such condemnation proceedings the uses for which such land or property is condemned are hereby declared to be for a purpose paramount to all other public uses, and the fact that any portion of it has heretofore been condemned by a railroad company, street railway company, telephone or telegraph company, or other public service corporation, or by any political subdivision of the State of North Carolina, for public uses, or has been conveyed by any person or corporation for any such public uses, or vested in the State Board of Education, shall in no way affect the right of the State of North Carolina, or the United States government, to proceed and condemn such land and property as hereinbefore provided. (1927, c. 44, s. 3.)

§ 104-22. Method of payment of expenses and awards.

Whenever said Commission has agreed with the owner of any such land or property as to the purchase price thereof, or the damage for the construction of the inland waterway has finally been determined in any condemnation proceeding necessary to secure such land or property, the said Commission is hereby authorized and directed to pay all of said sum and other expenses incident thereto by proper warrant upon the sum which may be appropriated for said purpose, and all such sums shall constitute and remain a fixed and valid claim against the State of North Carolina until paid and satisfied in full. (1927, c. 44, s. 4.)

§ 104-23. Maintenance and operation of bridges over waterway.

The Board of Transportation or the road governing body of any political subdivision of the State of North Carolina is hereby authorized and directed to take over and maintain and operate in perpetuity, by contract with the United States government, if necessary, or otherwise, any bridge or bridges which may be subject to their respective control and which the United States government may construct across said inland waterway. (1927, c. 44, s. 6; 1929, c. 4; c. 7, s. 2; 1957, c. 65, s. 11; 1973, c. 507, s. 5.)

The State of North Carolina retains concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over any lands acquired and held in pursuance of the provisions of this Chapter, so far as that all civil and criminal process issued under authority of any law of this State may be executed in any part of the premises so acquired for such inland waterway, or for the buildings or constructions thereon erected for the purposes of such inland waterway. (1927, c. 44, s. 7.)

For the purpose of aiding in the construction of a proposed inland waterway by the United States from the City of Norfolk, in the State of Virginia, to Beaufort Inlet, in the State of North Carolina, the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to issue to the United States of America a grant to the land located within a distance of 1,000 feet on either side of the center of the said inland waterway, insofar as such land is subject to grant by the State of North Carolina, the said grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the Secretary of State by the Secretary of War, or by any authorized officer of the corps of engineers of the United States army, or by any other authorized official, exercising control of the construction of the said waterway.

Wherever, in the construction of the said inland waterway, lands theretofore submerged shall be raised above the water by deposit of excavated material, the lands so formed shall become the property of the United States for a distance of 1,000 feet on either side of the center of such canal or channel, and the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to issue to the United States a grant to the land so formed within the distance above mentioned, the grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the Secretary of State by some authorized official of the United States as above provided. (1913, c. 197; C.S., s. 7583; 1937, c. 445.)

§§ 104-26 through 104-30: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 3.Jurisdiction over National Park System Lands.§ 104-31. Governor authorized to cede jurisdiction.

(a) Whenever the United States shall desire to acquire legislative jurisdiction over any lands of the national park system within this State and shall make application for that purpose, the Governor is authorized to cede to the United States such measure of jurisdiction, not exceeding that requested by the United States, as he may deem proper over all or any part of such lands as to which a cession of legislative jurisdiction is requested, reserving to the State such concurrent or partial jurisdiction as he may deem proper.

(b) Said application on behalf of the United States shall state in particular the measure of jurisdiction desired and shall be accompanied by an accurate description of the lands of the national park system over which such jurisdiction is desired and information as to which of such lands are then owned or leased by the United States.

(c) Said cession of jurisdiction shall become effective when it is accepted on behalf of the United States, which acceptance shall be indicated, in writing upon the instrument of cession, by an authorized official of the United States and admitting it to record in the appropriate land records of the county in which lands are situated. (1979, c. 560, s. 1.)

§ 104-32. Jurisdiction reserved.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, there are reserved over any lands as to which any legislative jurisdiction may be ceded to the United States pursuant to this Article, the State's entire legislative jurisdiction with respect to taxation and that of each State agency, county, city, political subdivision, and public district of the State; the State's entire legislative jurisdiction with respect to marriage, divorce, annulment, adoption, commitment of the mentally incompetent, and descent and distribution of property; concurrent power to enforce the criminal law; and the power to execute any process, civil or criminal, issued under the authority of the State; nor shall any persons residing on such lands be deprived of any civil or political rights, including the right of suffrage, by reason of the cession of such jurisdiction to the United States. (1979, c. 560, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Murder Prosecution. — Even assuming that discovery of the murder victim's corpse on federal lands was determinative on the issue of the location where her murder was effected, the state court nevertheless retained criminal jurisdiction over the murder trial. State v. Rice, 129 N.C. App. 715, 501 S.E.2d 665 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 374, 525 S.E.2d 189 (1998).

§ 104-33. Applicability of Article.

The provisions of this Article shall not apply to any lands owned by the United States and held in trust for the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, located in Jackson, Swain, Graham, or Cherokee Counties. (1979, c. 560, s. 2.)

§ 104A-1. Degrees of kinship; how computed.

In all cases where degrees of kinship are to be computed, the same shall be computed in accordance with the civil law rule, as follows:

- (1) The degrees of lineal kinship of two persons is computed by counting one degree for each person in the line of ascent or descent, exclusive of the person from whom the computing begins; and
- (2) The degree of collateral kinship of two persons is computed by commencing with one of the persons and ascending from him to a common ancestor, descending from that ancestor to the other person, and counting one degree for each person in the line of ascent and in the line of descent, exclusive of the person from whom the computation begins, the total to represent the degree of such kinship. ### In General.

§ 104B-1. Removal of property deposited by hurricane or other act of nature.

Whenever the house, garage, building, or any part thereof, or other property of a person, firm or corporation shall be deposited on the land of another by any hurricane, tornado, tidal wave, flood or other act of nature and is not removed from said land within 30 days after the deposit, the owner of such land may notify in writing the owner of the house, garage, building, or other property of such deposit and may require owner to remove the property so deposited within 60 days after receipt of the notice. If the owner of the deposited property fails to remove it within 60 days after receipt of the notice, the owner of the land may remove the deposited property and destroy it or may use it as he sees fit without incurring liability to the owner of the deposited property, or may sell it and retain the proceeds for his own use; provided, the amount by which the proceeds of any such sale exceed the cost of removal and sale shall be paid to the owner of the deposited property or held for his account.

If the owner of the land is unable to notify the owner of the deposited property and, after diligent search, the owner of the deposited property cannot be located and notified, the owner of the land may, at any time after the expiration of 120 days from the date of the deposit of the property on his land, remove, use, or sell the deposited property in the same manner and under the same restrictions as provided above for removal, use, or sale after notice.

§ 104D-1. Compact entered into; form of compact.

The Southern States Energy Compact is hereby enacted into law and entered into with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

SOUTHERN STATES ENERGY COMPACT

ARTICLE I. Policy and Purpose. The party states recognize that the proper employment and conservation of energy and employment of energy-related facilities, materials, and products, within the context of a responsible regard for the environment, can assist substantially in the industrialization of the South and the development of a balanced economy for the region. They also recognize that optimum benefit from and acquisition of energy resources and facilities require systematic encouragement, guidance, and assistance from the party states on a cooperative basis. It is the policy of the party states to undertake such cooperation on a continuing basis; it is the purpose of this compact to provide the instruments and framework for such a cooperative effort to improve the economy of the South and contribute to the individual and community well-being of the region's people.

ARTICLE II. The Board. (a) There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the "Southern States Energy Board" (hereinafter called the Board). The Board shall be composed of three members from each party state, one of whom shall be appointed or designated in each state to represent the Governor, the State Senate and the State House of Representatives, respectively. Each member shall be designated or appointed in accordance with the law of the state which he represents and shall serve and be subject to removal in accordance with such law. Any member of the Board may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions thereon, either for the duration of his membership or for any lesser period of time, by a deputy or assistant, if the laws of his state make specific provision therefor. The federal government may be represented without vote if provision is made by federal law for such representation.

(b) Each party state shall be entitled to one vote on the Board, to be determined by majority vote of each member or member's representative from the party state present and voting on any question. No action of the Board shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of all party states are represented and unless a majority of the total number of votes on the Board are cast in favor thereof.

(c) The Board shall have a seal.

(d) The Board shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a treasurer. The Board shall appoint an Executive Director who shall serve at its pleasure and who shall also act as secretary, and who, together with the treasurer, shall be bonded in such amounts as the Board may require.

(e) The Executive Director, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint and remove or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the Board's functions irrespective of the civil service, personnel or other merit system laws of any of the party states.

(f) The Board may establish and maintain, independently or in conjunction with any one or more of the party states, a suitable retirement system for its full-time employees. Employees of the Board shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivors insurance provided that the Board takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to federal law to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The Board may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate.

(g) The Board may borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, from any interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation.

(h) The Board may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services (conditional or otherwise) from any state or the United States or any subdivision or agency thereof, or interstate agency, or from any institution, person, firm or corporation, and may receive, utilize, and dispose of the same.

(i) The Board may establish and maintain such facilities as may be necessary for the transaction of its business. The Board may acquire, hold, and convey real and personal property and any interest therein.

(j) The Board shall adopt bylaws, rules and regulations for the conduct of its business, and shall have the power to amend and rescind these bylaws, rules, and regulations. The Board shall publish its bylaws, rules, and regulations in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof, and shall also file a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(k) The Board annually shall make to the Governor of each party state, a report covering the activities of the Board for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been adopted by the Board, which report shall be transmitted to the legislature of said state. The Board may issue such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

ARTICLE III. Finances. (a) The Board shall submit to the executive head or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that jurisdiction for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the Board's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. One-half of the total amount of each budget of estimated expenditures shall be apportioned among the party states in equal shares; one quarter of each such budget shall be apportioned among the party states in accordance with the ratio of their populations to the total population of the entire group of party states based on the last decennial federal census; and one quarter of each such budget shall be apportioned among the party states on the basis of the relative average per capita income of the inhabitants in each of the party states based on the latest computations published by the federal census-taking agency. Subject to appropriations by their respective legislatures, the Board shall be provided with such funds by each of the party states as are necessary to provide the means of establishing and maintaining facilities, a staff of personnel, and such activities as may be necessary to fulfill the powers and duties imposed upon and entrusted to the Board.

(c) The Board may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article II(h) of this Compact, provided that the Board takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to the incurring of any obligation to be met in whole or in part in this manner. Except where the Board makes use of funds available to it under Article II(h) hereof, the Board shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party jurisdictions adequate to meet the same.

(d) The Board shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the Board shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the Board shall be audited yearly by a qualified public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become a part of the annual report of the Board.

(e) The accounts of the Board shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection.

ARTICLE IV. Advisory Committees. The Board may establish such advisory and technical committees as it may deem necessary, membership on which to include but not be limited to private citizens, expert and lay personnel, representatives of industry, labor, commerce, agriculture, civic associations, medicine, education, voluntary health agencies, and officials of local, state and federal government, and may cooperate with and use the services of any such committees and the organizations which they represent in furthering any of its activities under this Compact.

ARTICLE V. Powers. The Board shall have the power to:

- (1) Ascertain and analyze on a continuing basis the position of the South with respect to energy, energy-related industries, and environmental concerns.
- (2) Encourage the development, conservation and responsible use of energy and energy-related facilities, installations, and products as part of a balanced economy and healthy environment.
- (3) Collect, correlate, and disseminate information relating to civilian uses of energy and energy-related materials and products.
- (4) Conduct, or cooperate in conducting, programs of training for state and local personnel engaged in any aspect of:
  - a. Energy, environment, and application of energy, environmental, and related concerns to industry, medicine, or education or the promotion or regulation thereof.
  - b. The formulation or administration of measures designed to promote safety in any matter related to the development, use or disposal of energy and energy-related materials, products, installations, or wastes.
- (5) Organize and conduct, or assist and cooperate in organizing and conducting, demonstrations of energy product, material, or equipment use and disposal and of proper techniques or processes for the application of energy resources to the civilian economy or general welfare.
- (6) Undertake such nonregulatory functions with respect to sources of radiation as may promote the economic development and general welfare of the region.
- (7) Study industrial, health, safety, and other standards, laws, codes, rules, regulations, and administrative practices in or related to energy and environmental fields.
- (8) Recommend such changes in, or amendments or additions to, the laws, codes, rules, regulations, administrative procedures and practices or ordinances of the party states in any of the fields of its interest and competence as in its judgment may be appropriate. Any such recommendation shall be made through the appropriate state agency with due consideration of the desirability of uniformity but shall also give appropriate weight to any special circumstances which may justify variations to meet local conditions.

- (9) Prepare, publish and distribute, with or without charge, such reports, bulletins, newsletters or other material as it deems appropriate.
- (10) Cooperate with the United States Department of Energy or any agency successor thereto, any other officer or agency of the United States, and any other governmental unit or agency or officer thereof, and with any private persons or agencies in any of the fields of its interests.
- (11) Act as licensee of the United States Government or any party state with respect to the conduct of any research activity requiring such license and operate such research facility or undertake any program pursuant thereto.
- (12)a. Ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances, and conditions as may bring about the prevention and control of energy and environmental incidents in the area comprising the party states, to coordinate the environmental and other energy-related incident prevention and control plans and the work relating thereto of the appropriate agencies of the party states and to facilitate the rendering of aid by the party states to each other in coping with energy and environmental incidents.
  - b. The Board may formulate and, in accordance with need from time to time, revise a regional plan or regional plans for coping with energy and environmental incidents within the territory of the party states as a whole or within any subregion or subregions of the geographic area covered by this Compact.

ARTICLE VI. Supplementary Agreements. (a) To the extent that the Board has not undertaken an activity or project which would be within its power under the provisions of Article V of this Compact, any two or more of the party states (acting by their duly constituted administrative officials) may enter into supplementary agreements for the undertaking and continuance of such an activity or project. Any such agreement shall specify its purpose or purposes; its duration and the procedure for termination thereof or withdrawal therefrom; the method of financing and allocating the costs of the activity or project; and such other matters as may be necessary or appropriate. No such supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to this Article shall become effective prior to its submission to and approval by the Board. The Board shall give such approval unless it finds that the supplementary agreement or the activity or project contemplated thereby is inconsistent with the provisions of this Compact or a program or activity conducted by or participated in by the Board.

(b) Unless all of the party states participate in a supplementary agreement, any cost or costs thereof shall be borne separately by the states party thereto. However, the Board may administer or otherwise assist in the operation of any supplementary agreement.

(c) No party to a supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to this Article shall be relieved thereby of any obligation or duty assumed by said party state under or pursuant to this Compact, except that timely and proper performance of such obligation or duty by means of the supplementary agreement may be offered as performance pursuant to the Compact.

ARTICLE VII. Other Laws and Relationships. Nothing in this Compact shall be construed to:

- (1) Permit or require any person or other entity to avoid or refuse compliance with any law, rule, regulation, order or ordinance of a party state or subdivision thereof now or hereafter made, enacted or in force.
- (2) Limit, diminish or otherwise impair jurisdiction exercised by the United States Department of Energy, any agency successor thereto, or any other federal department, agency or officer pursuant to and in conformity with any valid and operative act of Congress.
- (3) Alter the relations between and respective internal responsibilities of the government of a party state and its subdivisions.
- (4) Permit or authorize the Board to exercise any regulatory authority or to own or operate any nuclear reactor for the generation of electric energy; nor shall the Board own or operate any facility or installation for industrial or commercial purposes.

ARTICLE VIII. Eligible Parties, Entry into Force and Withdrawal. (a) Any or all of the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the United States Virgin Islands shall be eligible to become party to this Compact.

(b) As to any eligible party state, this Compact shall become effective when its legislature shall have enacted the same into law: Provided that it shall not become initially effective until enacted into law by seven states.

(c) Any party state may withdraw from this Compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall become effective until the Governor of the withdrawing state shall have sent formal notice in writing to the Governor of each other party state informing said Governors of the action of the legislature in repealing the Compact and declaring an intention to withdraw.

ARTICLE IX. Severability and Construction. The provisions of this Compact and of any supplementary agreement entered into hereunder shall be (severable) and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this Compact or such supplementary agreement is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this Compact or such supplementary agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact or any supplementary agreement entered into hereunder shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the Compact or such supplementary agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. The provisions of this Compact and of any supplementary agreement entered into pursuant thereto shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes thereof. (1965, c. 858, s. 1; 1983, c. 282, s. 1.)

State Government Reorganization. — The administration of the Southern Interstate Nuclear Compact (see now the Southern States Energy Compact) was transferred to the Department of Administration by former § 143A-95, enacted by Session Laws 1971, c. 864. See also former § 143B-370, enacted by Session Laws 1975, c. 879, s. 6.

(a) North Carolina members of the Southern States Energy Board shall be appointed as follows:

- (1) One member to be appointed by the Governor.
- (2) One member of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.
- (3) One member of the Senate to be appointed by the President of the Senate.

(b) Members shall serve at the pleasure of the original appointing authority and until their successors are appointed.

(c) Each appointing authority is authorized to appoint an alternate member who may serve at and for such time as the regular member shall designate and shall have the same power and authority as the regular member when so serving. (1965, c. 858, s. 2; 1983, c. 282, s. 2.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is applicable until the amendment by Session Laws 1991, c. 739, s. 33 becomes applicable. For this section as amended at that time, see the following section, also numbered § 104D-2.

(a) North Carolina members of the Southern States Energy Board shall be appointed as follows:

- (1) One member to be appointed by the Governor.
- (2) One member of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.
- (3) One member of the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

(b) Members shall serve at the pleasure of the original appointing authority and until their successors are appointed.

(c) Each appointing authority is authorized to appoint an alternate member who may serve at and for such time as the regular member shall designate and shall have the same power and authority as the regular member when so serving. (1965, c. 858, s. 2; 1983, c. 282, s. 2; 1991, c. 739, s. 9.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is applicable to any appointments for terms beginning on or after January 1, 1993, and also applies to the filling of any unexpired terms where the term began before that date but the vacancy occurs on or after that date. For this section as applicable until then, see the preceding section, also numbered § 104D-2.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1991, c. 739, which amended this section by inserting "Pro Tempore" in subdivision (a)(3), in s. 34 provided: "This act applies to any appointments for terms beginning on or after January 1, 1993, and also applies to the filling of any unexpired terms where the term began before that date but the vacancy occurs on or after that date".

§ 104D-3. Submission of budgets of Board.

Pursuant to Article III(a) of the compact, the Board shall submit its budgets of estimated expenditures to the Director of the Budget for presentation to the General Assembly. (1965, c. 858, s. 3.)

§ 104D-4. Supplementary agreements ineffective until funds appropriated.

Any supplementary agreement entered into pursuant to Article VI of the compact and requiring the expenditure of funds or the assumption of an obligation to expend funds in addition to those already appropriated shall not become effective as to this State until the required funds therefor are appropriated by the General Assembly. (1965, c. 858, s. 4.)

§ 104D-5. Cooperation with Board.

The departments, institutions and agencies of this State and its subdivisions are hereby authorized to cooperate with the Board in the furtherance of any of its activities pursuant to the Compact. (1965, c. 858, s. 5.)

§ 104E-1. Title.

This Chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “North Carolina Radiation Protection Act.” (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — This Chapter is Chapter 104C as rewritten by Session Laws 1975, c. 718, s. 1, effective July 1, 1975, and recodified. Session Laws 1975, c. 718, s. 8, provided that s. 1 of the act would expire June 30, 1981. Session Laws 1975, c. 718, s. 8, was amended by Session Laws 1981, c. 393, so as to delete the provision for expiration of the act.

The provision of Session Laws 1977, c. 712, as amended, tentatively repealing this Chapter effective July 1, 1983, was itself repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 932, s. 1.

Session Laws 1987, c. 850, which amended many of the sections of this Chapter, provided in s. 27(a) that c. 850 would not be construed as a revenue bill within the meaning of N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23. However, Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 993, s. 23, repealed Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 27(a).

§ 104E-2. Scope.

Except as otherwise specifically provided, this Chapter applies to all persons who receive, possess, use, transfer, own or acquire any source of radiation within the State of North Carolina; provided, however, that nothing in this Chapter shall apply to any person to the extent such person is subject to regulation by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission or its successors. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-3. Declaration of policy.

It is the policy of the State of North Carolina in furtherance of its responsibility to protect the public health and safety:

- (1) To institute and maintain a program to permit development and utilization of sources of radiation for purposes consistent with the health and safety of the public; and
- (2) To prevent any associated harmful effects of radiation upon the public through the institution and maintenance of a regulatory program for all sources of radiation, providing for:
  - a. A single, effective system of regulation within the State;
  - b. A system consonant insofar as possible with those of other states; and
  - c. Compatibility with the standards and regulatory programs of the federal government for by-product, source and special nuclear materials. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-4. Purpose.

It is the purpose of this Chapter to effectuate the policies set forth in G.S. 104E-3 by providing for:

- (1) A program of effective regulation of sources of radiation for the protection of the occupational and public health and safety;
- (2) A program to promote an orderly regulatory pattern within the State, among the states and between the federal government and the State and facilitate intergovernmental cooperation with respect to use and regulation of sources of radiation to the end that duplication of regulation may be minimized; and
- (3) A program to establish procedures for assumption and performance of certain regulatory responsibilities with respect to sources of radiation. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-5. Definitions.

Unless a different meaning is required by the context, the following terms as used in this Chapter shall have the meanings hereinafter respectively ascribed to them:

- (1) "Agreement materials" means those materials licensed by the State under agreement with the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission and which include by-product, source or special nuclear materials in a quantity not sufficient to form a critical mass, as defined by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 as amended.
- (2) "Agreement state" means any state which has consummated an agreement with the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission under the authority of section 274 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 as amended, as authorized by compatible state legislation providing for acceptance by that state of licensing authority for agreement materials and the discontinuance of such licensing activities by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission.
- (3) "Atomic energy" means all forms of energy released in the course of nuclear fission or nuclear fusion or other atomic transformations.

- (4) “By-product material” means any radioactive material, except special nuclear material, yielded in or made radioactive by exposure to the radiation incident to the process of producing or utilizing special nuclear material.
- (5) “Commission” means the Radiation Protection Commission.
- (6) “Department” means the State Department of Environment and Natural Resources.
- (7) “Emergency” means any condition existing outside the bounds of nuclear operating sites owned or licensed by a federal agency, and further any condition existing within or outside of the jurisdictional confines of a facility licensed by the Department and arising from the presence of by-product material, source material, special nuclear materials, or other radioactive materials, which is endangering or could reasonably be expected to endanger the health and safety of the public, or to contaminate the environment.
- (7a) “Engineered barrier” means a man-made structure or device that is intended to improve a disposal facility’s ability to meet (i) the performance objectives of Subpart C, Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations Part 61 in effect on 1 January 1987, (ii) other requirements set out in G.S. 104E-25, and (iii) requirements of rules adopted by the Commission under this Chapter.
- (8) “General license” means a license effective pursuant to regulations promulgated under the provisions of this Chapter without the filing of an application to transfer, acquire, own, possess, or use quantities of, or devices or equipment utilizing by-product, source, special nuclear materials, or other radioactive materials occurring naturally or produced artificially.
- (9) “Ionizing radiation” means gamma rays and x-rays, alpha and beta particles, high speed electrons, protons, neutrons, and other nuclear particles; but not sound or radio waves, or visible, infrared, or ultraviolet light.
- (9a) “Low-level radioactive waste” means low-level radioactive waste as defined in the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985, Pub. L. 99-240, 99 Stat. 1842, 42 U.S.C. 2021b et seq. and other waste, including waste containing naturally occurring and accelerator produced radioactive material, which is not regulated by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission or other agency of the federal government and which is determined to be low-level radioactive waste by the North Carolina Radiation Protection Commission.
- (9b) “Low-level radioactive waste facility” means a facility for the storage, collection, processing, treatment, recycling, recovery, or disposal of low-level radioactive waste.
- (9c) “Low-level radioactive waste disposal facility” means any low-level radioactive waste facility or any portion of such facility, including land, buildings, and equipment, which is used or intended to be used for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste on or in land in accordance with rules promulgated under this Chapter.
- (10) “Nonionizing radiation” means radiation in any portion of the electromagnetic spectrum not defined as ionizing radiation, including, but not limited to, such sources as laser, maser or microwave devices.
- (11) “Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, group, agency, political subdivision of this State, any other state or political subdivision or agency thereof, and any legal successor, representative, agent, or agency of the foregoing, other than the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, or any successor thereto, and other than federal government agencies licensed by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, or any successor thereto.

- (12) "Radiation" means gamma rays and x-rays, alpha and beta particles, high speed electrons, protons, neutrons, and other nuclear particles, and electromagnetic radiation consisting of associated and interacting electric and magnetic waves including those with frequencies between three times 10 to the eighth power cycles per second and three times 10 to the twenty-fourth power cycles per second and wavelengths between one times 10 to the minus fourteenth power centimeters and 100 centimeters.
- (13) "Radiation machine" means any device designed to produce or which produces radiation or nuclear particles when the associated control devices of the machine are operated.
- (14) "Radioactive material" means any solid, liquid, or gas which emits ionizing radiation spontaneously.
- (14a) "Shallow land burial" means disposal of low-level radioactive waste in subsurface trenches without the additional confinement of the waste as described in G.S. 104E-25.
- (14b) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources.
- (15) "Source material" means (i) uranium, thorium, or any other material which the Department declares to be source material after the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, or any successor thereto has determined the material to be such; or (ii) ores containing one or more of the foregoing materials, in such concentration as the Department declares to be source material after the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, or any successor thereto, has determined the material in such concentration to be source material.
- (16) "Special nuclear material" means (i) plutonium, uranium 233, uranium 235, uranium enriched in the isotope 233 or in the isotope 235, and any other material which the Department declares to be special nuclear material after the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, or any successor thereto, has determined the material to be such, but does not include source material; or (ii) any material artificially enriched by any of the foregoing, but does not include source material.
- (17) "Specific license" means a license, issued after application, to use, manufacture, produce, transfer, receive, acquire, own or process quantities of, or devices or equipment utilizing by-product, source, special nuclear materials, or other radioactive materials occurring naturally or produced artificially. Nothing in this Chapter shall require the licensing of individual natural persons involved in the use of radiation machines or radioactive materials for medical diagnosis or treatment.
- (18) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 3. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 8; 1987, c. 633, ss. 1-4; c. 850, s. 3; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(16); 1993, c. 501, s. 2.1; 1995, c. 504, s. 4; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 104E-6. Designation of State radiation protection agency.

The Department is hereby designated the State agency to administer a statewide radiation protection program consistent with the provisions of this Chapter. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-6.1. Conveyance of land used for low-level radioactive waste disposal facility to State.

(a) No land may be used as a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility until fee simple title to the land has been conveyed to the State of North Carolina. In consideration for such conveyance, the State shall enter into a lease agreement with the grantor for a term equal to the estimated life of the facility in which the State will be the lessor and the grantor the lessee. Such lease agreement shall specify that for an annual rent of fifty dollars ($50.00), the lessee shall be allowed to use the land for the development and operation of a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility. Such lease agreement shall provide that the lessor or any person authorized by the lessor shall have at all times the right to enter without a search warrant or permission of the lessee upon any and all parts of the premises for monitoring, inspection and all other purposes necessary to carry out the provisions of Chapter 104E. The lessee shall remain fully liable for all damages, losses, personal injury or property damage which may result or arise out of the lessee's operation of the facility, and for compliance with regulatory requirements concerning insurance, bonding for closure and post-closure costs, monitoring and other financial or health and safety requirements as required by applicable law and regulations. The State, as lessor, shall be immune from liability except as otherwise provided by statute. The lease shall be transferrable with the written consent of the lessor, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld. In the case of such a transfer of the lease, the transferee shall be subject to all terms and conditions that the State deems necessary to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations. If the lessee or any successor in interest fails in any material respect to comply with any applicable law, regulation, or permit condition, or with any term or condition of the lease, the State may terminate the lease after giving the lessee written notice specifically describing the failure to comply and upon providing the lessee a reasonable time to comply. If the lessee does not effect compliance within the reasonable time allowed, the State may reenter and take possession of the premises.

(b) Notwithstanding the termination of the lease by either the lessee or the lessor for any reason, the lessee shall remain liable for, and be obligated to perform all acts necessary or required by law, regulation, permit conditions or the lease for the permanent closure of the site until the site has either been permanently closed or until a substitute operator has been secured and assumed the obligations of the lessee.

(c) In the event of changes in laws or regulations applicable to the facility which make continued operation by the lessee impossible or economically infeasible, the lessee shall have the right to terminate the lease upon giving the State reasonable notice of not less than six months, in which case the lessor shall have the right to secure a substitute lessee and operator.

(d) In the event of termination of the lease by the lessor as provided in subsection (a) of this section, or by the lessee as provided in subsection (c) of this section, the lessee shall be paid the fair market value of any improvements made to the leased premises less the costs to the lessor resulting from termination of the lease and securing a substituted lessee and operator; provided, that the lessor shall have no obligation to secure a substitute lessee or operator and may require the lessee to permanently close the facility. (1981, c. 704, s. 9; 1987, c. 633, s. 5; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1004, s. 5.)

§ 104E-6.2. Local ordinances prohibiting low-level radioactive waste facilities invalid; petition to preempt local ordinance.

(a) It is the intent of the General Assembly to maintain a uniform system for the management of low-level radioactive waste and to place limitations upon the exercise by all units of local government in North Carolina of the power to regulate the management of low-level radioactive waste by means of special, local, or private acts or resolutions, ordinances, property restrictions, zoning regulations, or otherwise. Notwithstanding any authority granted to counties, municipalities, or other local authorities to adopt local ordinances, including but not limited to those imposing taxes, fees, or charges or regulating health, environment, or land use, any local ordinance that prohibits or has the effect of prohibiting the establishment or operation of a low-level radioactive waste facility that the Secretary has preempted pursuant to subsections (b) through (f) of this section, shall be invalid to the extent necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Chapter. To this end, all provisions of special, local, or private acts or resolutions are repealed that:

- (1) Prohibit the transportation, treatment, storage, or disposal of low-level radioactive waste within any county, city, or other political subdivision.
- (2) Prohibit the siting of a low-level radioactive waste facility within any county, city, or other political subdivision.
- (3) Place any restriction or condition not placed by this Chapter upon the transportation, treatment, storage, or disposal of low-level radioactive waste, or upon the siting of a low-level radioactive waste facility within any county, city, or other political subdivision.
- (4) In any manner are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Chapter.

(a1) No special, local, or private acts or resolutions enacted or taking effect hereafter may be construed to modify, amend, or repeal any portion of this Chapter unless it expressly provides for such by specific references to the appropriate section of this Chapter. Further to this end, all provisions of local ordinances, including those regulating land use, adopted by counties, municipalities, or other local authorities that prohibit or have the effect of prohibiting the establishment or operation of a low-level radioactive waste facility are invalidated to the extent preempted by the Secretary pursuant to this Section.

(b) When a low-level radioactive waste facility would be prevented from construction or operation by a county, municipal, or other local ordinance, the operator of the proposed facility may petition the Secretary to review the matter. After receipt of a petition, the Secretary shall hold a hearing in accordance with the procedures in subsection (c) of this section and shall determine whether or to what extent to preempt the local ordinance to allow for the establishment and operation of the facility.

(c) When a petition described in subsection (b) of this section has been filed with the Secretary, the Secretary shall hold a public hearing to consider the petition. The public hearing shall be held in the affected locality within 60 days after receipt of the petition by the Secretary. The Secretary shall give notice of the public hearing by:

- (1) Publication in a newspaper or newspapers having general circulation in the county or counties where the facility is or is to be located or operated, once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first notice appearing at least 30 days prior to the scheduled date of the hearing; and

- (2) First class mail to persons who have requested notice. The Secretary shall maintain a mailing list of persons who request notice in advance of the hearing pursuant to this section. Notice by mail shall be complete upon deposit of a copy of the notice in a post-paid wrapper addressed to the person to be notified at the address that appears on the mailing list maintained by the Secretary, in a post office or official depository under the exclusive care and custody of the United States Postal Service.

(c1) Any interested person may appear before the Secretary at the hearing to offer testimony. In addition to testimony before the Secretary, any interested person may submit written evidence to the Secretary for the Secretary's consideration. At least 20 days shall be allowed for receipt of written comment following the hearing.

(d) The Secretary shall determine whether or to what extent to preempt local ordinances so as to allow the establishment and operation of the facility no later than 60 days after conclusion of the hearing. The Secretary shall preempt a local ordinance only if the Secretary makes all five of the following findings:

- (1) That there is a local ordinance that would prohibit or have the effect of prohibiting the establishment or operation of a low-level radioactive waste facility.
- (2) That the proposed facility is needed in order to establish adequate capability to meet the current or projected low-level radioactive waste management needs of this State or to comply with the terms of any interstate agreement for the management of low-level radioactive waste to which the State is a party and therefore serves the interests of the citizens of the State as a whole.
- (3) That all legally required State and federal permits or approvals have been issued by the appropriate State and federal agencies or that all State and federal permit requirements have been satisfied and that the permits or approvals have been denied or withheld only because of the local ordinance.
- (4) That local citizens and elected officials have had adequate opportunity to participate in the siting process.
- (5) That the construction and operation of the facility will not pose an unreasonable health or environmental risk to the surrounding locality and that the facility operator has taken or consented to take reasonable measures to avoid or manage foreseeable risks and to comply to the maximum feasible extent with applicable local ordinances.

(d1) If the Secretary does not make all five findings set out above, the Secretary shall not preempt the challenged local ordinance. The Secretary's decision shall be in writing and shall identify the evidence submitted to the Secretary plus any additional evidence used in arriving at the decision.

(e) The decision of the Secretary shall be final unless a party to the action files a written appeal under Article 4 of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes, as modified by G.S. 7A-29 and this section, within 30 days of the date of the decision. The record on appeal shall consist of all materials and information submitted to or considered by the Secretary, the Secretary's written decision, a complete transcript of the hearing, all written material presented to the Secretary regarding the location of the facility, the specific findings required by subsection (d) of this section, and any minority positions on the specific findings required by subsection (d) of this section. The scope of judicial review shall be that the court may affirm the decision of the Secretary, or may remand the matter for further proceedings, or may reverse or modify the decision if the substantial rights of the parties may have been prejudiced because the agency findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

- (1) In violation of constitutional provisions;
- (2) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency;
- (3) Made upon unlawful procedure;
- (4) Affected by other error of law;
- (5) Unsupported by substantial evidence admissible under G.S. 150B-29(a) or G.S. 150B-30 in view of the entire record as submitted; or
- (6) Arbitrary or capricious.

(e1) If the court reverses or modifies the decision of the agency, the judge shall set out in writing, which writing shall become part of the record, the reasons for the reversal or modification.

(f) In computing any period of time prescribed or allowed by this procedure, the provisions of Rule 6(a) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, G.S. 1A-1, shall apply. (1981, c. 704, s. 9; 1987, c. 633, s. 6; c. 850, s. 4; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 993, s. 24; c. 1082, s. 10; c. 1100, s. 40.5; 1989, c. 168, s. 14; 1993, c. 501, s. 3; 2001-474, s. 16.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 16, effective November 29, 2001, rewrote the section.

§ 104E-7. Radiation Protection Commission — Creation and powers.

(a) There is hereby created the North Carolina Radiation Protection Commission of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources with the power to promulgate rules and regulations to be followed in the administration of a radiation protection program. All rules and regulations for radiation protection that were adopted by the Commission for Health Services and are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Chapter shall remain in full force and effect unless and until repealed or superseded by action of the Radiation Protection Commission. The Radiation Protection Commission is authorized:

- (1) To advise the Department in the development of comprehensive policies and programs for the evaluation, determination, and reduction of hazards associated with the use of radiation;
- (2) To adopt, promulgate, amend and repeal such rules, regulations and standards relating to the manufacture, production, transportation, use, handling, servicing, installation, storage, sale, lease, or other disposition of radioactive material and radiation machines as may be necessary to carry out the policy, purpose and provisions of this Chapter. To this end, the Commission is authorized to require licensing or registration of all persons who manufacture, produce, transport, use, handle, service, install, store, sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of radioactive material and radiation machines, as the Commission deems necessary to provide an adequate protection and supervisory program: provided, that prior to adoption of any regulation or standard, or amendment or repeal thereof, the Commission shall afford interested parties the opportunity, at a public hearing, as provided in G.S. 104E-13, to submit data or views orally or in writing. The recommendations of nationally recognized bodies in the field of radiation protection shall be taken into consideration in such standards relative to permissible dosage of radiation;
- (3) To require all sources of ionizing radiation to be shielded, transported, handled, used, stored, or disposed of in such a manner to provide compliance with the provisions of this Chapter and rules, regulations and standards adopted hereunder;

- (4) To require, on prescribed forms furnished by the Department, registration, periodic reregistration, licensing, or periodic relicensing of persons to use, manufacture, produce, transport, transfer, install, service, receive, acquire, own, or possess radiation machines and other sources of radiation;
  - (5) To exempt certain sources of radiation or kinds of uses or users from the licensing or registration requirements set forth in this Chapter when the Commission determines that the exemption of such sources of radiation or kinds of uses or users will not constitute a significant risk to the health and safety of the public;
  - (6) To promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to this Chapter which may provide for recognition of other state and federal licenses as the Commission shall deem desirable, subject to such registration requirements as it may prescribe; and exercise all incidental powers necessary to carry out the provisions of this Chapter;
  - (7) To provide by rule and regulation for an electronic product safety program to protect the public health and safety, which program may authorize regulation and inspection of sources of nonionizing radiation throughout the State. The product safety program may include the establishment of minimum qualifications for the operators of these products or sources.
  - (8) To adopt, amend, repeal or promulgate such rules, regulations, and standards relating to the nonradioactive, toxic and hazardous aspects of radioactive waste disposal, as may be necessary to protect the public health and safety.
  - (9) To adopt regulations establishing financial responsibility requirements for maintenance, operation and long-term care of low-level radioactive waste facilities, including insurance during the operation of the facility and adequate assurance of availability of funds for facility closure and post-closure monitoring and corrective measures.
  - (10) To adopt rules which exempt a generator of low-level radioactive waste who operates a low-level radioactive waste facility solely for the management of wastes he produces, from any requirement, made applicable by this Chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this Chapter to low-level radioactive waste facilities generally where, because of the low volume or activity of the wastes involved, such exemption would not endanger the public health or safety, or the environment.
- (b) No license for a low-level radioactive waste facility that would accept low-level radioactive waste from the public, or from another person for a fee, shall be issued other than for a facility authorized by the General Assembly. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1979, c. 694, s. 3; 1981, c. 704, s. 10; 1987, c. 850, s. 5; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(17); 1991, c. 735, s. 3; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a); 2001-474, s. 2.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 2, effective November 29, 2001, in subsection (b), substituted “that” for “which,” and substituted “authorized by the General Assembly” for “to be operated pursuant to Chapter 104G of the General Statutes.”

§ 104E-8. Radiation Protection Commission — Members; selections; removal; compensation; quorum; services.

(a) The Commission shall consist of 11 voting public members and 10 nonvoting ex officio members. The 11 voting public members of the Commission shall be appointed by the Governor as follows:

- (1) One member who shall be actively involved in the field of environmental protection;

- (2) One member who shall be an employee of one of the licensed public utilities involved in the generation of power by atomic energy;
- (3) One member who shall have experience in the field of atomic energy other than power generation;
- (4) One member who shall be a scientist or engineer from the faculty of one of the institutions of higher learning in the State;
- (5) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the field of radiation and its biological effects from the North Carolina Medical Society;
- (6) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the field of radiation and its biological effects from the North Carolina Dental Society;
- (7) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the field of radiation and its biological effects from the State at large;
- (8) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the field of radiation and its biological effects and who shall be a practicing hospital administrator from the North Carolina Hospital Association;
- (9) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the field of radiation and its biological effects from the North Carolina Chiropractic Association;
- (10) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the clinical application of radiation, shall be a practicing radiologic technologist from the North Carolina Society of Radiologic Technologists, and shall be certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists;
- (11) One member who shall have recognized knowledge in the clinical application of radiation and shall be a practicing podiatrist licensed by the North Carolina State Board of Podiatry Examiners.

(b) Public members so appointed shall serve terms of office of four years. Four of the initial members shall be appointed for two years, three members for three years, and three members for four years. Any appointment to fill a vacancy on the Commission created by the resignation, dismissal, death or disability of a public member shall be for the balance of the unexpired term. At the expiration of each public member's term, the Governor shall reappoint or replace the member with a member of like qualifications. At its first meeting on or after July first of each year, the Commission shall designate by election one of its public members as chairman and one of its public members as vice-chairman to serve through June thirtieth of the following year.

(c) The 10 ex officio members shall be appointed by the Governor, shall be members or employees of the following State agencies or their successors, and shall serve at the Governor's pleasure:

- (1) The Utilities Commission;
- (2) The Commission for Health Services;
- (3) The Environmental Management Commission;
- (4) The Board of Transportation;
- (5) The Division of Emergency Management of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety;
- (6) The Division of Radiation Protection of the Department;
- (7) The Department of Labor;
- (8) The Industrial Commission;
- (9) The Department of Insurance;
- (10) The Medical Care Commission.

(d) The Governor shall have the power to remove any member from the Commission for misfeasance, malfeasance, or nonfeasance in accordance with G.S. 143B-13.

(e) The members of the Commission shall receive per diem and necessary travel and subsistence expenses in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 138-5.

(f) A majority of the public members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(g) All clerical and other services required by the Commission shall be supplied by the Secretary. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(18); 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1004, ss. 19(b), 41; 1991, c. 342, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 104E-9. Powers and functions of Department of Environment and Natural Resources.

- (a) The Department of Environment and Natural Resources is authorized:
- (1) To advise, consult and cooperate with other public agencies and with affected groups and industries.
  - (2) To encourage, participate in, or conduct studies, investigations, public hearings, training, research, and demonstrations relating to the control of sources of radiation, the measurement of radiation, the effect upon public health and safety of exposure to radiation and related problems.
  - (3) To require the submission of plans, specifications, and reports for new construction and material alterations on (i) the design and protective shielding of installations for radioactive material and radiation machines and (ii) systems for the disposal of radioactive waste materials, for the determination of any radiation hazard and may render opinions, approve or disapprove such plans and specifications.
  - (4) To collect and disseminate information relating to the sources of radiation, including but not limited to: (i) maintenance of a record of all license applications, issuances, denials, amendments, transfers, renewals, modifications, suspensions, and revocations; and (ii) maintenance of a record of registrants and licensees possessing sources of radiation requiring registration or licensure under the provisions of this Chapter, and regulations hereunder, and any administrative or judicial action pertaining thereto; and to develop and implement a responsible data management program for the purpose of collecting and analyzing statistical information necessary to protect the public health and safety. The Department may refuse to make public dissemination of information relating to the source of radiation within this State after the Department first determines that the disclosure of such information will contravene the stated policy and purposes of this Chapter and such disclosure would be against the health, welfare and safety of the public.
  - (5) To respond to any emergency which involves possible or actual release of radioactive material; and to perform or supervise decontamination and otherwise protect the public health and safety in any manner deemed necessary. This section does not in any way alter or change the provisions of Chapter 166 of the North Carolina General Statutes concerning response during an emergency by the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs or its successor.
  - (6) To develop and maintain a statewide environmental radiation program for monitoring the radioactivity levels in air, water, soil, vegetation, animal life, milk, and food as necessary to ensure protection of the public and the environment from radiation hazards.
  - (7) To implement the provisions of this Chapter and the regulations duly promulgated under the Chapter.
  - (8) To establish annual fees for activities under this Chapter based on actual administrative costs to be applied to training, enforcement, and inspection pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter and to charge and collect fees from operators and users of low-level radioactive waste facilities pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter.

- (9) To enter upon any lands and structures upon lands to make surveys, borings, soundings, and examinations as may be necessary to determine the suitability of a site for a low-level radioactive waste facility or low-level radioactive disposal facility. The Department shall give 30 days' notice of the intended entry authorized by this section in the manner prescribed for service of process by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4. Entry under this section shall not be deemed a trespass or taking; provided, however, that the Department shall make reimbursement for any damage to such land or structures caused by such activities.
- (10) To encourage research and development and disseminate information on state-of-the-art means of handling and disposing of low-level radioactive waste.
- (11) To promote public education and public involvement in the decision-making process for the siting and permitting of proposed low-level radioactive waste facilities. The Department shall assist localities in which facilities are proposed in collecting and receiving information relating to the suitability of the proposed site. At the request of a local government in which facilities are proposed, the Department shall direct the appropriate agencies of State government to develop such relevant data as that locality shall reasonably request.

(b) The Radiation Protection Division of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources shall develop a training program for tanning equipment operators that meets the training rules adopted by the North Carolina Radiation Protection Commission. If the training program is provided by the Department, the Department may charge each person trained a reasonable fee to recover the actual cost of the training program. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1979, c. 694, s. 4; 1981, c. 704, s. 10.1; 1987, c. 633, s. 7; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 993, s. 25; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(19); 1991, c. 735, s. 2; 1993, c. 501, s. 4; 1995, c. 509, s. 49; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a); 2001-474, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Chapter 166, referred to in subdivision (a)(5), was repealed by Session Laws 1977, c. 848, s. 1. See now § 166A-1 et seq.

The text of this section, as it read subsequent to its amendment by Session Laws 1989, c. 727, s. 219(19), was designated as subsection (a), and the first and last sentences of Session Laws 1991, c. 735, s. 2 were codified as subsection (b), at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 3, effective November 29, 2001, deleted the last sentence of subdivision (a)(9), which read: "This authority shall also apply to the North Carolina Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority."

§ 104E-10. Licensing of by-product, source, and special nuclear materials and other sources of ionizing radiation.

(a) The Governor, on behalf of this State, is authorized to enter into agreements with the federal government providing for discontinuance of certain of the responsibilities of the federal government with respect to sources of ionizing radiation and the assumption thereof by this State.

(b) Upon the signing of an agreement with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission or its successor as provided in subsection (a) above, the Commission shall provide by rule or regulation for general or specific licensing of persons to use, manufacture, produce, transport, transfer, receive, acquire, own, or possess by-product, source, or special nuclear materials or devices, installations, or equipment utilizing such materials. Such rule or regulation shall provide for amendment, suspension, renewal or revocation of licenses. Each application for a specific license shall be in writing on forms prescribed by the Commission and furnished by the Department and shall state, and be accompanied by, such information or documents, including, but not limited to plans, specifications and reports for new construction or material alterations as the Commission may determine to be reasonable and necessary to decide the qualifications of the applicant to protect the public health and safety. The Commission may require all applications or statements to be made under oath or affirmation. Each license shall be in such form and contain such terms and conditions as the Commission may deem necessary. No license issued under the authority of this Chapter and no right to possess or utilize sources of radiation granted by any license shall be assigned or in any manner disposed of; and the terms and conditions of all licenses shall be subject to amendment, revision, or modification by rules, regulations, or orders issued in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.

(c) Any person who, on the effective date of an agreement under subsection (a) above, possesses a license issued by the federal government shall be deemed to possess the same pursuant to a license issued under this Chapter, which shall expire either 90 days after receipt from the Department of a notice of expiration of such license, or on the date of expiration specified in the federal license, whichever is earlier.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 6. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1979, c. 694, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 11.1; 1987, c. 850, s. 6.)

§ 104E-10.1. Additional requirements for low-level radioactive waste facilities.

(a) An applicant for a permit for a low-level radioactive facility shall satisfy the department that:

- (1) Any low-level radioactive waste facility heretofore constructed or operated by the applicant (or any parent or subsidiary corporation if the applicant is a corporation) has been operated in accordance with sound waste management practices and in substantial compliance with federal and state laws and regulations; and
- (2) The applicant (or any parent or subsidiary corporation if the applicant is a corporation) is financially qualified to operate the subject low-level radioactive waste facility.

The approval of a permit shall be contingent upon the applicant first satisfying the department that he has met the above two requirements. In order to continue to hold a license under this Chapter, a licensee must remain financially qualified, and must provide any information requested by the Department to show that he continues to be financially qualified.

(b) Each permit applicant or permit holder (or any parent or subsidiary corporation if the permit applicant or permit holder is a corporation), as a condition of receiving or holding a permit, shall have an independent annual audit by a firm of duly licensed certified public accountants carrying a minimum of five million dollars ($5,000,000) professional liability insurance coverage, proof of which coverage shall be provided with the issuance of the audit report. Each permit applicant or permit holder referred to above shall also provide the Department of Environment and Natural Resources with a copy of the report and shall submit a copy of the report to the State Auditor for approval regarding its adequacy and completeness. As a minimum, the required report shall include the financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, all disclosures in the public interest required by law, and the auditor's opinion and comments relating to the financial statements. The audit shall be performed in conformity with generally accepted auditing standards.

(c) Within 10 days of receiving an application for a license or an amendment to a license to operate a low-level radioactive waste facility, the Department shall notify the clerk of the board of commissioners of the county or counties in which the facility is proposed to be located or is located, and, if the facility is to be located or is located within a city, the clerk of the governing board of the city, that the application has been filed, and shall file a copy of the application with the clerk. Prior to issuing a license or an amendment to an existing license the Secretary of the Department or his designee shall conduct a public hearing in the county, or in one of the counties, in which a person proposes to operate a low-level radioactive waste facility or to enlarge an existing facility. The Secretary shall give notice of the hearing at least 30 days prior to the date thereof by:

- (1) Publication in a newspaper or newspapers having general circulation in the county or counties where the facility is to be located for three consecutive weeks beginning 30 days prior to the scheduled date of the hearing; and
- (2) First class mail to persons who have requested such notice. The Department shall maintain a mailing list of persons who request notice pursuant to this subsection. (1981, c. 704, s. 11; 1985, c. 529; 1987, c. 24, ss. 1-3; c. 850, ss. 7, 8; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(20); 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 104E-10.2. Conveyance of property used for radioactive material disposal.

A license to dispose of radioactive waste materials on land shall include a legal description of the disposal site that would be sufficient as a description in an instrument of conveyance. The license to dispose of radioactive waste materials shall not be effective unless the owner of the disposal site files a certified copy of the license in the register of deeds' office in the county or counties in which the site is located. The register of deeds shall record the certified copy of the license and index it in the grantor index under the name of the owner of the land. When any such site is sold, leased, conveyed or transferred in any manner, the deed or other instrument of transfer shall contain in the description section in no smaller type than that used in the body of the deed or instrument a statement that the property has been used as a disposal site for radioactive waste materials and a reference by book and page to the recordation of the license. (1981, c. 480, s. 1.)

§ 104E-10.3. Low-level radioactive waste facility access licenses.

The Commission shall provide by regulation for the licensing of access to any low-level radioactive waste facility located in the State. No person shall send waste to a low-level radioactive waste facility unless licensed or otherwise authorized to do so by the Department. No low-level radioactive waste facility shall receive waste from any source not licensed by the Department except as may be otherwise specifically authorized by the Department. Such regulations shall provide, at a minimum, for amendment, suspension, or revocation of licenses, and for authorization for access to a low-level radioactive waste facility by the Department on a temporary or emergency basis. Each application for a license or amendment shall be in writing and shall include such information as may be required by regulation, and such additional information as the Department deems necessary. The application for a license shall set forth the manner in which the applicant plans to comply with the requirements of this Chapter and regulations promulgated thereunder. Upon receipt of an application under this section the Department shall review the application and shall issue a license only if it finds that the applicant is fully qualified under all applicable laws and regulation. (1987, c. 850, s. 9.)

§ 104E-11. Inspections, agreements, and educational programs.

(a) Authorized representatives of the Department shall have the authority to enter upon any public or private property, other than a private dwelling, at all reasonable times for the purpose of determining compliance with the provisions of this Chapter and rules, regulations and standards adopted hereunder.

(b) After approval by the Commission, the Governor is authorized to enter into agreements with the federal government, other states, or interstate agencies, whereby this State will perform on a cooperative basis with the federal government, other states, or interstate agencies, inspections, emergency response to radiation accidents, and other functions related to the control of radiation.

(c) The Department is authorized to institute educational programs for the purpose of training or educating persons who may possess, use, handle, transport, or service radioactive materials or radiation machines. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-12. Records.

(a) The Commission is authorized to require each person who possesses or uses a source of radiation:

- (1) To maintain appropriate records relating to its receipt, storage, use, transfer, or disposal and maintain such other records as the Commission may require, subject to such exemptions as may be provided by the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission; and
- (2) To maintain appropriate records showing the radiation exposure of all individuals for whom personnel monitoring may be required by the Commission, subject to such exemptions as may be provided by the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission.

Copies of all records required to be kept by this subsection shall be submitted to the Department or its duly authorized agents upon request.

(b) The Commission is authorized to require that any person possessing or using a source of radiation furnish to each employee for whom personnel monitoring is required a copy of such employee's personal exposure record upon the request of such employee, at any time such employee has received radiation exposure in excess of limits established in the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission, and upon termination of employment. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-13. Administrative procedures and judicial review.

(a) The Department may refuse to grant a license as provided in G.S. 104E-7 or 104E-10 to any applicant who does not possess the requirements or qualifications which the Commission may prescribe in rules and regulations. The Department may suspend, revoke, or amend any license in the event that the person to whom such license was granted violates any of the rules and regulations of the Commission, or ceases, or fails to have the reasonable facilities prescribed by the Commission: Provided, that before any order is entered denying an application for a license or suspending, revoking, or amending a license previously granted, the applicant or person to whom such license was granted shall be given notice and granted a hearing as provided in Chapter 150B of the North Carolina General Statutes.

(b) Whenever the Department in its opinion determines that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to protect the public health and safety the Department may, without notice or hearing, issue an order reciting the existence of such emergency and requiring that such action be taken as is necessary to meet the emergency. Notwithstanding any provision of this Chapter, such order shall be effective immediately. Any person to whom such order is directed shall comply therewith immediately, and on application to the Department shall be afforded a hearing within 10 days. On the basis of such hearing, the emergency order shall be continued, modified, or revoked within 30 days after such hearing, as the Department may deem appropriate under the evidence.

(c) Any applicant or person to whom a license was granted who shall be aggrieved by any order of the Department or its duly authorized agent denying such application or suspending, revoking, or amending such license may appeal directly to the superior court as provided in Chapter 150B of the North Carolina General Statutes. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1987, c. 850, s. 10.)

§ 104E-14. Impounding of materials.

(a) Authorized representatives of the Department shall have the authority in the event of an emergency to impound or order the impounding of sources of radiation in the possession of any person who is not equipped to observe or fails to observe the provisions of this Chapter or any rules or regulations promulgated by the Commission.

(b) The Department may release such sources of radiation to the owner thereof upon terms and conditions in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and rules and regulations adopted hereunder or may bring an action in the appropriate superior court for an order condemning such sources of radiation and providing for the destruction or other disposition so as to protect the public health and safety. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-15. Transportation of radioactive materials.

(a) The Radiation Protection Commission is authorized to adopt, promulgate, amend, and repeal rules and regulations governing the transportation of radioactive materials in North Carolina, which, in the judgment of the Commission, shall promote the public health, safety, or welfare and protect the environment.

(1) Such rules and regulations may include, but shall not be limited to, provisions for the use of signs designating radioactive material cargo; for the packing, marking, loading, and handling of radioactive materials, and the precautions necessary to determine whether the material when offered is in proper condition for transport, and may include designation of routes in this State which are to be used for the transportation of radioactive materials.

(2) Such rules and regulations shall not include the carrier vehicle or its equipment, the licensing of packages, nor shall they apply to the handling or transportation of radioactive material within the confines of a facility licensed by or owned by a federal agency.

(3) The Commission is authorized to adopt by reference, in whole or in part, such federal rules and regulations governing the transportation of radioactive material which are established by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the United States Department of Transportation, or the United States Postal Service (or any federal agency which is a successor to any of the foregoing agencies), as such federal rules may be amended from time to time.

(b) The Department is authorized to enter into agreements with the respective federal agencies designed to avoid duplication of effort and/or conflict in enforcement and inspection activities so that:

- (1) Rules and regulations adopted by the Commission pursuant to this section of this Chapter may be enforced, within their respective jurisdictions, by any authorized representatives of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources and the Department of Transportation, according to mutual understandings between such departments of their respective responsibilities and authorities.
  - (2) The Department, through any authorized representative, is authorized to inspect any records of persons engaged in the transportation of radioactive materials during the hours of business operation when such records reasonably relate to the method or contents of packing, marking, loading, handling, or shipping of radioactive materials within the State.
  - (3) The Department, through any authorized representative, may enter upon and inspect the premises or vehicles of any person engaged in the transportation of radioactive materials during hours of business operation, with or without a warrant, for the purpose of determining compliance with the provisions of this Chapter and the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission.
- (c) Upon a determination by the Department that any provision of this section, or the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission are being violated or that any practice in the transportation of radioactive materials constitutes a clear and imminent danger to the public health, property, or safety, it shall issue an order requiring correction as provided in G.S. 104E-13(b). (1975, c. 716, s. 7; c. 718, s. 1; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(22); 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 104E-16. Nonreverting Radiation Protection Fund.

(a) There is hereby established under the control and direction of the Department a Nonreverting Radiation Protection Fund which shall be used to defray the expenses of any project or activity for:

- (1) Emergency response to and decontamination of radiation accidents as provided in G.S. 104E-9(a)(5), or
- (2) Perpetual maintenance and custody of radioactive materials as the Department may undertake.

In addition to any moneys that shall be appropriated or otherwise made available to it, the Fund may be maintained by fees, charges, or other moneys paid to or recovered by or on behalf of the Department under the provisions of this Chapter, except for the clear proceeds of penalties. Any moneys paid to or recovered by or on behalf of the Department as fees, charges, or other payments authorized by this Chapter, except for the clear proceeds of penalties, shall be paid to the Radiation Protection Fund in an amount equal to the sum expended for the projects or activities in subdivisions (1) and (2) above.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 11. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 11.2; 1987, c. 633, s. 8; c. 850, s. 11; 1998-215, s. 47(b).)

§ 104E-17. Payments to State and local agencies.

Upon completion of any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16(a)(1), and from time to time during any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16(a)(2), each State and local agency that has participated by furnishing personnel, equipment or material shall deliver to the Department a record of the expenses incurred by the agency. The amount of incurred expenses shall be disbursed by the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to each such agency from the Radiation Protection Fund. Upon completion of any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16(a)(1), and from time to time during any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16(a)(2), the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources shall prepare a statement of all expenses and costs of the project or activity expended by the State and shall make demand for payment upon the person having control over the radioactive materials or the release thereof which necessitated said project or activity. Any person having control over the radioactive materials or the release thereof and any other person causing or contributing to an incident necessitating any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16 shall be directly liable to the State for the necessary expenses incurred thereby and the State shall have a cause of action to recover from any or all such persons. If the person having control over the radioactive materials or the release thereof shall fail or refuse to pay the sum expended by the State, the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources shall refer the matter to the Attorney General of North Carolina, who shall institute an action in the name of the State in the Superior Court of Wake County, or in his discretion, in the superior court of the county in which the project or activity was undertaken by the State, to recover such cost and expenses.

In any action instituted by the Attorney General under this section, a verified and itemized statement of the expenses incurred by the State in any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16 shall be filed with the complaint and shall constitute prima facie the amount due the State; and any judgment for the State thereon shall be for such amount in the absence of allegation and proof on the part of the defendant or defendants that the statement of expenses incurred by and the amount due the State is not correct because of an error in:

- (1) Calculating the amount due, or
  - (2) Not properly crediting the account with any cash payment or payments or other satisfaction which may have been made thereon.
- (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(23); 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 104E-18. Security for emergency response and perpetual maintenance costs.

(a) No person shall use, manufacture, produce, transport, transfer, receive, acquire, own, possess or dispose of radioactive material until that person shall have procured and filed with the Department such bond, insurance or other security as the Commission may by regulation require. Such bond, insurance or other security shall:

- (1) Run in favor of the Radiation Protection Fund in the amount of the estimated total cost as established by the Commission that may be incurred by the State in any project or activity stated in G.S. 104E-16, and
  - (2) Have as indemnitor on such bond or insurance an insurance company licensed to do business in the State of North Carolina.
- (b) The Commission may from time to time:
- (1) Cause an audit to be made of any person that insures itself by means of other security as provided for in subsection (a) above;
  - (2) Amend or modify the estimated total cost for security established pursuant to this section; and
  - (3) Provide by regulation for the discontinuance of indemnification by one insurer and the assumption thereof by another insurer, as the Commission deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this Chapter and rules and regulations adopted and promulgated hereunder.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 4, effective November 29, 2001. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 12; 1987, c. 850, s. 12; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1082, s. 11; 2001-474, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 4, effective November 29, 2001, repealed subsection (c), concerning provisions of former Chapter 104G of the General Statutes.

§ 104E-19. Fees.

(a) In order to meet the anticipated costs of administering the educational and training programs in G.S. 104E-11(c), of enforcing and carrying out the inspection provisions in G.S. 104E-7(a)(7) and G.S. 104E-11(a), and of administering the licensing program in G.S. 104E-10.3, the Department is authorized to charge and collect such reasonable fees as it may by rule establish.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 13. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 13; 1987, c. 633, s. 9; c. 850, s. 13; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 993, s. 26; 2001-474, s. 5.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 5, effective November 29, 2001, in subsection (a), substituted “G.S. 104E-11(a), and” for “104E-11(a),” deleted “and of licensing low level radioactive waste facilities operated pursuant to Chapter 104G of the General Statutes” following “G.S. 104E-10.3,” and deleted “or regulation” following “by rule.”

§ 104E-20. Prohibited uses and facilities.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to use, manufacture, produce, transport, transfer, receive, acquire, own or possess any source of radiation unless licensed, registered or exempted by the Department in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated hereunder.

(b) Shallow land burial is prohibited. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1987, c. 633, s. 10.)

§ 104E-21. Conflicting laws.

(a) Ordinances, resolutions or regulations, now or hereafter in effect, of the governing body of a municipality or county or board of health relating to by-product, source and special nuclear materials shall not be superseded by this Chapter. Provided, that such ordinances or regulations are and continue to be consistent and compatible with the provisions of this Chapter, as amended, and rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission.

(b) It is the intent of the General Assembly to prescribe a uniform system for the management of low-level radioactive waste and to place limitations upon the exercise by all units of local government in North Carolina of the power to regulate the management of low-level radioactive waste by special, local or private acts or resolutions as provided in G.S. 143B-285.10(b). (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1981, c. 704, s. 25.)

Editor’s Note. — Section 143B-285.10, referred to in subsection (b), was repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 501, s. 1, effective July 23, 1993.

§ 104E-22. Tort claims against persons rendering emergency assistance.

Any and all tort claims against any person which arise while that person is rendering assistance during an emergency (i) at the request of any authorized representative of the State of North Carolina or (ii) pursuant to a mutual radiological assistance agreement as provided for in G.S. 104E-11(b), shall constitute claims against this State; and the disposition thereof shall be governed by the provisions of Article 31 of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes.

In any civil action brought against said person, the provisions of Article 31A of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes shall apply as if such person were an employee of this State. (1975, c. 718, s. 1.)

§ 104E-23. Penalties; injunctive relief.

(a) Any person who violates the provisions of G.S. 104E-15 or 104E-20, or who hinders, obstructs, or otherwise interferes with any authorized representative of the Department in the discharge of his official duties in making inspections as provided in G.S. 104E-11, or in impounding materials as provided in G.S. 104E-14, shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished as provided by law. Any person who willfully violates the provisions of G.S. 104E-10.2 shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished as provided by law.

(b) The Secretary may, either before or after the institution of any other action or proceedings authorized by law, institute a civil action in the superior court of the county in which the defendant in said action resides for injunctive relief to prevent a threatened or continued violation of any provision of this Chapter or any order or regulation issued pursuant to this Chapter. (1975, c. 718, s. 1; 1979, c. 694, s. 5; 1981, c. 480, s. 2; 1993, c. 539, s. 685; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 104E-24. Administrative penalties.

(a) The Department may impose an administrative penalty on any person:

- (1) Who fails to comply with this Chapter, any order issued hereunder, or any rules adopted pursuant to this Chapter;
- (2) Who refuses to allow an authorized representative of the Radiation Protection Commission or the Department of Environment and Natural Resources a right of entry as provided for in G.S. 104E-11 or impounding materials as provided for in G.S. 104E-14.

(b) Each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation. Such penalty shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per day. In determining the amount of the penalty, the Department shall consider the degree and extent of the harm caused by the violation. Any person assessed a penalty shall be notified of the assessment by registered or certified mail, and the notice shall specify the reasons for the assessment.

(c) Any person wishing to contest a penalty or order issued under this section shall be entitled to an administrative hearing and judicial review in accordance with the procedures outlined in Articles 3, 3A, and 4 of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes.

(d) The Secretary may bring a civil action in the superior court of the county in which such violation is alleged to have occurred to recover the amount of administrative penalty whenever a person:

- (1) Who has not requested an administrative hearing fails to pay the penalty within 60 days after being notified of such penalty, or
- (2) Who has requested an administrative hearing fails to pay the penalty within 60 days after service of a written copy of the decision as provided in G.S. 150B-36.

(e) The clear proceeds of penalties imposed pursuant to this section shall be remitted to the Civil Penalty and Forfeiture Fund in accordance with G.S. 115C-457.2. (1981, c. 704, s. 14; 1987, c. 850, s. 14; 1989, c. 727, s. 219(24); 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a); 1998-215, s. 47(a).)

Editor's Note. — This section was amended bill drafting format provided by § 120-20.1. by Session Laws 1998-215, s. 47(a) in the coded The act added a new subsection (c), but failed to incorporate existing subsections (c) and (d). The new subsection has been renumbered as subsection (e) and existing subsections (c) and (d) have been set out in the form above at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

§ 104E-25. Performance objectives, technical requirements and design criteria applicable to low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities; engineered barriers.

(a) As used in this section, the term “Part 61” means Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations Part 61 in effect on 1 January 1987. Unless a different meaning is required by definitions generally applicable to this Chapter or by the context, terms defined or used in Part 61 shall have the same meaning in this section as in Part 61.

(b) The Commission shall adopt rules for low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities which incorporate and are consistent with the performance objectives and technical requirements set out in Subparts C and D of Part 61. In the event that Part 61 is amended, the Commission shall amend its rules at least to the extent necessary to maintain the State’s status as an agreement state. The Commission may adopt rules which exceed the requirements of applicable federal statutes and regulations.

(c) Low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities shall incorporate engineered barriers for all waste classifications. The Commission shall specify minimum design criteria for engineered barriers. Different engineered barrier design criteria may be specified for different waste classifications. In the event that a single disposal unit is used for the disposal of wastes having more than one waste classification, the engineered barrier employed shall be that specified for the highest waste classification in the disposal unit.

(d) Engineered barriers shall be designed and constructed to complement and, where appropriate, improve the ability of the disposal facility to meet the performance objectives of this section. The site for a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility shall meet all hydrogeological and other criteria and standards applicable to disposal site suitability as though engineered barriers were not required. Engineered barriers shall not substitute for a suitable site or compensate for any deficiency in a site.

(e) Engineered barriers shall be designed and constructed of materials having physical and chemical properties so as to provide reasonable assurance that the barriers will maintain their functional integrity under all reasonably foreseeable conditions for at least the institutional control period. To the maximum extent possible, engineered barriers shall be chemically nonreactive with waste, waste containers and surrounding soil. Engineered barriers shall not detract from the ability of the disposal facility to meet the performance objectives adopted by the Commission under this Chapter. The Commission shall determine the appropriate design life of engineered barriers, which may exceed the institutional control period; however no reliance may be placed on engineered barriers beyond the end of the institutional control period.

(f) Disposal units and the incorporated engineered barriers shall be designed and constructed to meet the following objectives:

- (1) Prevention of the migration of water into the disposal unit.
- (2) Prevention of the migration of waste or waste contaminated water out of the disposal unit.
- (3) Detection of water and other fluids in the disposal unit.
- (4) Temporary collection and retention of water and other liquids for a time sufficient to allow for their detection and removal or other remedial measures without contamination of groundwater or surrounding soil.

- (5) Facilitation of remedial measures without disturbing other disposal units.
- (6) Facilitation of recovery of waste, other than Class A waste, in the packing or container in which the waste was placed for disposal.
- (7) Reasonable assurance that waste will be isolated for at least the institutional control period.
- (8) Prevention of contact between waste and the surrounding earth, except for earth that may be used as fill within the disposal unit.

(g) The term "container" means any portable device into which waste is placed for storage, transportation, treatment, disposal, or other handling and includes the first enclosure which encompasses the waste. All waste shall be packed in containers for disposal. The Commission shall adopt standards for the design and construction of containers for disposal which are consistent with applicable federal standards. Standards for containers may vary for different types and classifications of waste. The standards for disposal containers may supplement or duplicate any of the requirements for engineered barriers set out in this section; however the requirements for engineered barriers are separate and cumulative, and engineered barriers and containers may not substitute for or replace one another.

(h) Waste shall be converted into a form for disposal which is as chemically stable, nonreactive, and physically stable as can be reasonably achieved, as determined by the Commission, taking into consideration costs and available technology. All liquid waste shall be solidified prior to disposal.

(i) In adopting rules specifying performance objectives, technical requirements, and design criteria and standards for a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility, the Commission shall consider the possibility of unforeseen differences between expected and actual performance of the facility. The Commission shall consider best available technology and costs.

(j) The Commission shall require that the bottom of a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility shall be at least seven feet above the seasonal high water table. The Commission shall require additional separation wherever necessary to adequately protect the public health and the environment. (1987, c. 633, s. 11.)

§ 104E-26. Standards and criteria for licensing low-level radioactive waste facilities.

Standards and criteria for licensing low-level radioactive waste facilities shall be developed by the Commission. Such standards and criteria shall be developed with public participation and shall be incorporated into rules adopted by the Commission for the licensing of such facilities. Standards and criteria shall be consistent with all applicable federal and State law, including statutes, regulations and rules; shall be developed and revised in light of the best available scientific data; and shall be based on consideration of at least the following factors:

- (1) Hydrological and geological factors, including flood plains, depth to water table, groundwater travel time, soil pH, soil cation exchange capacity, soil composition and permeability, cavernous bedrock, seismic activity, slope, mines, climate and earthquake faults;
- (2) Environmental and public health factors, including air quality, quality of surface and groundwater, and proximity to public water supply watersheds;
- (3) Natural and cultural resources, including wetlands, gamelands, endangered species habitats, proximity to parks, forests, wilderness areas, nature preserves, and historic sites;
- (4) Local land uses;

- (5) Transportation factors, including proximity to waste generators, route safety, and method of transportation;
- (6) Aesthetic factors, including the visibility, appearance, and noise level of the facility. (1987, c. 850, s. 15.)

§ 104E-27. Volume reduction required.

(a) The Commission shall develop and adopt rules that require generators of low-level radioactive waste to implement best management practices, including prevention, minimization, reduction, segregation, and hold-for-decay storage, as a condition of access to any low-level radioactive waste disposal facility located in this State.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 6, effective November 29, 2001.

(c) The Department shall periodically review the State's comprehensive low-level radioactive waste management system and make recommendations to the Governor, cognizant State agencies, and the General Assembly on ways to improve waste management; reduce the amount of waste generated; and minimize the amount of low-level radioactive waste that must be disposed of. (1987, c. 850, s. 15.1; 1993, c. 501, s. 5; 2001-474, s. 6.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-474, s. 6, effective November 29, 2001, in subsection (a), substituted “that” for “which,” substituted “any” for “the,” and inserted “located in this State” at the end; deleted subsection

(b), concerning licenses issued pursuant to former Chapter 104G of the General Statutes; and substituted “that” for “which” in subsection (c).

§ 104E-28. Limited liability for volunteers in low-level radioactive waste abatement.

Part 5 of Article 21A of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes shall apply to civil liability and penalties pursuant to this Chapter. (1987, c. 269, s. 4.)

§ 104E-29. Confidential information protected.

(a) The following information received or prepared by the Department in the course of carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this Chapter is confidential information and shall not be subject to disclosure under G.S. 132-6:

- (1) Information which the Secretary determines is entitled to confidential treatment pursuant to G.S. 132-1.2. If the Secretary determines that information received by the Department is not entitled to confidential treatment, the Secretary shall inform the person who provided the information of that determination at the time such determination is made. The Secretary may refuse to accept or may return any information that is claimed to be confidential that the Secretary determines is not entitled to confidential treatment.
- (2) Information that is confidential under any provision of federal or state law.
- (3) Information compiled in anticipation of enforcement or criminal proceedings, but only to the extent disclosure could reasonably be expected to interfere with the institution of such proceedings.

(b) Confidential information may be disclosed to officers, employees, or authorized representatives of federal or state agencies if such disclosure is necessary to carry out a proper function of the Department or the requesting agency or when relevant in any proceeding under this Chapter.

(c) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section or as otherwise provided by law, any officer or employee of the State who knowingly discloses information designated as confidential under this section shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor and shall be removed from office or discharged from employment. (1991, c. 745, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 686; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

Chapter 104F.

Southeast Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Compact.

§§ 104F-1 through 104F-5: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-357, s. 2.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1987, c. 850, s. 26, had provided for withdrawal of North Carolina from the Compact unless every party state to the Southeast Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Compact (Compact) had enacted legislation to amend the Compact Law in force in that state in substantially the manner set out in s. 25 of the act by December 31, 1988, and unless the Congress of the United States had amended the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985, Pub. L. No. 99-240, 99 Stat. 1842 (1986), so as to consent to the amendments to the Compact required to be made by s. 26 on or before December 31, 1992. Section 26 of c. 850 had also provided that the North Carolina Compact Commissioners would certify to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Attorney General, and the Secretary of State that the requirements of the section had or had not been met, and that in the event that the party states to the Compact had not enacted legislation to amend the Compact as required by the section by December 31, 1988, Chapter 104F of the General Statutes would be repealed as of that date, and in the event that the Congress had not amended the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act so as to consent to the amendments required to be made by the section by December 31, 1992, Chapter 104F of the General Statutes would be repealed as of that date.

On December 22, 1988, the North Carolina Compact Commissioners certified that every party state had amended its compact law in substantially the same form as required by Session Laws 1987, c. 850, ss. 25 and 26.

On April 9, 1990, the North Carolina Compact Commissioners certified that the Congress of the United States had consented to the amendments in substantially the form required by North Carolina.

Session Laws 1999-357, s. 1 provides: "In accordance with the provisions of G.S. 104F-1, Article VII, Section (g) of the General Statutes, North Carolina hereby withdraws from membership as a party state in the Southeast Interstate Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Compact."

Session Laws 1999-357, s. 5 provides: "The North Carolina Radiation Protection Commission is directed to review and study the current and projected availability and adequacy of facilities for the management of low-level radioactive waste produced by North Carolina generators, and to formulate a recommended plan for complying with North Carolina's responsibilities under the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Act of 1980, Pub. L. No. 96-573, 94 Stat. 3347, and the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985, Pub. L. 99-240, 99 Stat. 1842, 42 U.S.C. 202 lb, et seq. The Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly on or before May 15, 2000. No license application for a low-level radioactive waste facility shall be issued or considered by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources prior to action by the General Assembly establishing a plan for future management of low-level radioactive waste."

North Carolina Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority Act of 1987.

§§ 104G-1 through 104G-23: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-357, s. 4, effective July 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-357, s. 3, provides that, notwithstanding any provision of Chapter 104G to the contrary, the sole function of the North Carolina Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority shall be to take all necessary actions to complete the process of closure and restoration of the proposed Wake County low-level radioactive waste site, and to finalize all other responsibilities and business of the Authority relating to closure and restoration on or before June 30, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-357, s. 5 provides: "The North Carolina Radiation Protection Commission is directed to review and study the current and projected availability and adequacy of facilities for the management of low-level radioactive waste produced by North Carolina generators, and to formulate a recommended plan for complying with North Carolina's responsibilities under the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Act of 1980, Pub. L. No. 96-573, 94 Stat. 3347, and the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985, Pub. L. 99-240, 99 Stat. 1842, 42 U.S.C. 202 lb, et seq. The Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly on or before May 15, 2000. No license application for a low-level radioactive waste facility shall be issued or considered by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources prior to action by the General Assembly establishing a plan for future management of low-level radioactive waste."

SUBCHAPTER I. LEVY OF TAXES.

§ 105-1. Title and purpose of Subchapter.

The title of this Subchapter shall be “The Revenue Act.” The purpose of this Subchapter shall be to raise and provide revenue for the necessary uses and purposes of the government and State of North Carolina during the next biennium and each biennium thereafter, and the provisions of this Subchapter shall be and remain in full force and effect until changed by law. It is the policy of this State that as many State taxes as possible be structured so that they are deductible for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code. (1939, c. 158, ss. A, B; 1941, c. 50, s. 1; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1097, s. 1.)

Cross References. — As to the Department of Revenue, see §§ 143B-217 through 143B-220.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-191, s. 3, effective June 18, 1999, provided that the Legislative Research Commission shall conduct a comprehensive study of property tax exemptions for nonprofit institutions, including the history and evolution of such exemptions in North Carolina, the policy reasons for property tax exemptions, the effect of the exemptions on local governments and on other taxpayers, the extent to which other states provide property tax exemptions for nonprofit institutions, and any other issues it considers relevant. The Legislative Research Commission shall make a final report of its findings and recommendations to the 2000 Regular Session of the 1999 General Assembly.

Session Laws 2001-491, ss. 29.1 to 29.13, establishes a North Carolina Tax Policy Commission.

Section 29.3 of Session Laws 2001-491 sets out the mission of the Commission as follows: “The mission of the Commission is to study, examine, and, if necessary, design a realignment of the State and local tax structure in accordance with a clear, consistent tax policy. This mission requires:

“(1) Establishing the principles of taxation upon which a sound State and local tax structure should be built for the 21st century.

“(2) Examining the current State and local tax structure to determine if it reflects these principles.

“(3) Recommending changes in the State and local tax structure to the extent it does, and does not, reflect these benchmark tax principles.

“(4) Recommending principles and practices to simplify and consolidate existing taxes to provide uniformity; to ease the administrative burden on the taxpayer; to maximize taxpayers’ use of electronic tax payment and reporting methods; and to reduce the costs of collecting and administering taxes.”

Section 29.4 of Session Laws 2001-491 specifies the following duties for the Commission:

“(1) Evaluate the current State and local tax base in terms of:

“a. Responsiveness of each base to the changing and emerging economies (e.g., from farming and manufacturing to services, commerce, such as Internet sales, and technology).

“b. Rates compared to other states.

"c. Cost of collecting each tax.

"d. Tax burden imposed on individuals and businesses in the State.

"e. Principles of taxation reflected in the tax.

"(2) Examine all current tax preferences, such as lower rates, exemptions, exclusions, and refunds, to determine their public policy purpose; examine the narrowing of the tax base that is a product of these preferences; and evaluate the resulting impact on taxpayers not eligible for these preferences.

"(3) Review tax changes made in the last 10 years to determine their impact on the State compared to their projected impact, and to assess any economic or demographic conditions on the horizon that may alter their impact.

"(4) Examine the impact of changing intergovernmental (federal-State-local) relationships upon funding among levels of government and the resulting impact upon tax policy; and examine how the State, counties, and cities will share a reduced federal funding role, when, in 2003, the Balanced Budget Act takes full effect and federal domestic spending is fully capped.

"(5) Examine the impact of changing interlocal, (city/county) service systems and the resulting effect on local tax policy; and examine how area-wide services, such as fire suppression, water and sewer, and recreation, should be financed and allocated."

The Commission is to submit a final report of its findings and recommendations by March 1, 2003. The Commission may also make an interim report, including recommended legislation, to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly, and to the Governor and the citizens of the State.

The Commission is to terminate upon filing its final report.

Session Laws 1999-395, ss. 3.1 to 3.13, contained similar provisions.

Session Laws 1999-395, s. 1, provides that the act shall be known as "The Studies Act of 1999."

Session Laws 2001-491, s. 1, provides: "This act shall be known as 'The Studies Act of 2001.'"

CASE NOTES

Taxing Power of General Assembly. — The General Assembly has an unlimited right to tax all persons domiciled within the State, and all property within the State, except so far as this right has been limited by the provisions of the Constitution, either expressly or by necessary implication. Pullen v. Commissioners of Wake County, 66 N.C. 361 (1872).

Uniformity Required. — Under N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2(1), (2) and (6), the same rule of uniformity applies to the taxing of "trades, professions, franchises and incomes" as to the other species of property therein named, and there must also be uniformity in the mode of assessment. Worth v. Petersburg R.R., 89 N.C. 301 (1883).

Uniformity, in its legal and proper sense, is inseparably incident to the power of taxation, whether applied to taxes on property or to those imposed on trades, professions, etc. State v. Moore, 113 N.C. 697, 18 S.E. 342 (1893), overruled on other grounds, State v. Hunt, 129 N.C. 686, 40 S.E. 216 (1901).

Statement of Object in Levying Taxes. — The N.C. Const., Art. V, § 5, requires that every act levying taxes shall state the objects to which they shall be appropriated. This provision, however, has no application to taxes levied by county authorities for county purposes. Parker v. Board of Comm'rs, 104 N.C. 166, 10 S.E. 137 (1889).

Abortion Funding as Necessary Use and Purpose. — The funding of elective abortions constitutes a "necessary use and purpose of government" within the meaning of this section, and the appropriation and expenditure of State tax moneys for elective abortions does not violate N.C. Const., Art. V, § 5. Stam v. State, 47 N.C. App. 209, 267 S.E.2d 335 (1980), aff'd, 302 N.C. 357, 275 S.E.2d 439 (1981).

Legislative Delegation of Power to Municipal Corporation. — The legislature may authorize a municipal corporation to lay taxes on the town property, the persons, and the subject of taxation incident to the persons, of those who have a business residence in town though they have a residence also out of town. Worth v. Commissioners of Fayetteville, 60 N.C. 617 (1864).

ARTICLE 1.

Inheritance Tax.

§§ 105-2 through 105-32: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.2(a), effective January 1, 1999, and applicable to the estates of decedents dying on or after that date.

Cross References. — For Article 1A, providing for an estate tax, see now § 105-32.1 et seq.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-69, ss. 1 to 9, effective August 1, 1998, and applicable to estates of decedents who died on or after that date, rewrote former § 105-2.1, 105-20, 105-24, and 105-31, repealed § 105-11, 105-11.1, 105-12, and 105-30, and added § 105-13.1, to abolish tax waivers for the transfer or deliverance of a decedent's property.

Session Laws 1998-98, ss. 2, 3, and 73 to 75, effective August 14, 1998, repealed § 105-17 and 105-25, and amended former § 105-7, 105-8, and 105-9, making technical and conforming changes.

ARTICLE 1A.

*Estate Taxes.§ 105-32.1. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (2) Personal representative. — The person appointed by the clerk of superior court under Chapter 28A of the General Statutes to administer the estate of a decedent or, if no one is appointed under that Chapter, the person required to file a federal estate tax return for the estate of the decedent.
- (3) Secretary. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A(d), made this Article effective January 1, 1999, and applicable to the estates of decedents dying on or after that date.

CASE NOTES

- I. General Consideration.
- II. Transfer of Property.
- III. Property Subject to Tax.
- IV. Gifts to Minors.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Editor's Note. — The cases in the notes below were decided under the former Inheritance Tax provisions, repealed §§ 105-2 to 105-32, and under previous corresponding provisions.

Constitutionality. — For case upholding of former law relating to computation of tax on resident and nonresident decedents, see Rigby v. Clayton, 2 N.C. App. 57, 162 S.E.2d 682 (1968).

Constitutional Equality and Uniformity Provisions Inapplicable. — The equality and uniformity required by the State Constitution in property taxation does not apply to inheritance or succession taxation. Rigby v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 465, 164 S.E.2d 7 (1968).

Equal Protection Not Denied. — Former section which levied an inheritance tax upon the transfer of property within the State at a rate which considered decedent's entire estate wherever situated, even outside the State, was a valid exercise of legislative powers, the statute neither denying equal protection of laws, nor imposing an arbitrary and capricious classification. Rigby v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 465, 164 S.E.2d 7 (1968).

Broad power of state legislature to classify and thus to discriminate for purposes of inheritance taxation has been fully established. Rigby v. Clayton, 2 N.C. App. 57, 162 S.E.2d 682 (1968).

"Due process" provisions of federal or State Constitutions are not violated by use of the value of decedent's entire estate, wherever located, to determine the rate of inheritance tax to be applied to the transfer of property within the State. Rigby v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 465, 164 S.E.2d 7 (1968).

Tax Imposed on Privilege to Succeed to Property. — The North Carolina inheritance tax was not a tax upon property itself, but a tax imposed on the privilege to succeed to property upon the death of the former owner. Rigby v. Clayton, 2 N.C. App. 57, 162 S.E.2d 682 (1968).

North Carolina was not alone in imposing an inheritance tax upon succession to property within its borders but at a rate determined by reference to the decedent's entire estate wherever located. At least 10 other states use a similar taxing method. Rigby v. Clayton, 2 N.C. App. 57, 162 S.E.2d 682 (1968).

The purpose of the inheritance tax laws is to raise revenues for the operation of the State government by imposing a tax on the transfer of property when the transfer occurs by reason of death. In re Estate of Kapoor, 303 N.C. 102, 277 S.E.2d 403 (1981).

For history of inheritance tax statute, see State v. Scales, 172 N.C. 915, 90 S.E. 439 (1916).

History of Former Section Relating to Rate of Tax. — See Ingram v. Johnson, 260 N.C. 697, 133 S.E.2d 662 (1963).

Liberal Construction. — A liberal construction will be given to inheritance tax statutes to the end that all property fairly and reasonably coming within their provisions may be taxed. State v. Scales, 172 N.C. 915, 90 S.E. 439 (1916). See also Norris v. Durfey, 168 N.C. 321, 84 S.E. 687 (1915); Reynolds v. Reynolds, 208 N.C. 578, 182 S.E. 341 (1935); Watkins v. Shaw, 234 N.C. 96, 65 S.E.2d 881 (1951).

Under this liberal construction in favor of the government, every transfer of property that could be reasonably brought within the purview of the law has been subjected to taxation. Norris v. Durfey, 168 N.C. 321, 84 S.E. 687 (1915).

A law imposing an inheritance tax is to be liberally construed to effectuate the intention of the legislature, and all property fairly and reasonably coming within the provision of such law may be taxed. Korschun v. Clayton, 13 N.C. App. 273, 185 S.E.2d 417 (1971).

Exemptions Are Strictly Construed. — Exemptions of property from taxation are to be strictly construed. Benson v. Johnston County, 209 N.C. 751, 185 S.E. 6 (1936).

Whole Revenue Act Construed in Pari Materia. — The whole Revenue Act of 1939 and all of its parts are to be considered in pari materia and construed accordingly. Valentine v. Gill, 223 N.C. 396, 27 S.E.2d 2 (1943).

Basis of Inheritance Tax. — The theory on which taxation on the devolution of estates is based and its legality upheld is clearly established and is founded upon two principles: (1) A succession tax is a tax on the right of succession to property, and not on the property itself; and (2) the right to take property by devise or descent is not one of the natural rights of man, but is the creature of the law. In re Morris Estate, 138 N.C. 259, 50 S.E. 682 (1905). See Waddell v. Doughton, 194 N.C. 537, 140 S.E. 160 (1927).

Revenue Act reflects the same philosophy which underlies the statutes of descent and distribution. It recognizes in the decedent the privilege of disposition of his property, and, if not the moral and social obligations which rest upon him with respect to its exercise, yet, indeed, the fitness of his provision for those more closely related to him by consanguinity or marital ties. This privilege may be exercised either by testamentary disposition or by leaving his property to be distributed under the law. Valentine v. Gill, 223 N.C. 396, 27 S.E.2d 2 (1943).

Interest Under Discretionary Control of Beneficiary's Mother Taxable. — The interest acquired by the child of testator is taxable and does not escape by reason of the fact that the testator placed it under the discretionary control and disposition of its mother. In re Inheritance Tax, 172 N.C. 170, 90 S.E. 203 (1916).

Testator May Treat Stepchildren and Natural Children Equally. — Former section expressly authorized a testator to accord his children equally whether they were stepchildren or natural children. Ingram v. Johnson, 260 N.C. 697, 133 S.E.2d 662 (1963).

The exemptions allowed Class A beneficiaries under former law were not intended to force a testator to draw a distinction between his children whether they were stepchildren or natural children. Ingram v. Johnson, 260 N.C. 697, 133 S.E.2d 662 (1963).

Stepgrandchildren as Class A Beneficiaries. — Stepgrandchildren of testatrix who were the daughters of testatrix' stepchildren who predeceased testatrix fell within Class A and not Class C as defined by former law for the purpose of determining the rate of tax to be paid on properties bequeathed them. Ingram v. Johnson, 260 N.C. 697, 133 S.E.2d 662 (1963).

Situs for Taxation. — The personal property of a decedent, whatever its character and wherever located, is subject to an inheritance tax in the state in which its owner was a resident at the time of his death. This position is upheld upon the principle that the situs of personal property, for the purpose of taxation, is said to be in the state where the owner resides and has his domicile. Rhode Island Hosp. Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N.C. 263, 121 S.E. 741 (1924), rev'd on other grounds, 270 U.S. 69, 46 S. Ct. 256, 70 L. Ed. 475, 43 A.L.R. 1374 (1926).

After legacy or distributive share has been received, it then becomes a part of the property of one of the citizens of the State, and then it may be taxed in common with any other property of the like kind. Rhode Island Hosp. Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N.C. 263, 121 S.E. 741 (1924), rev'd on other grounds, 270 U.S. 69, 46 S. Ct. 256, 70 L. Ed. 475, 43 A.L.R. 1374 (1926).

If testator or intestate had his domicile abroad and his personal estate also, no tax would be demanded of the legatee or next of kin, though they might be resident in the State. State v. Brim, 57 N.C. 300 (1858).

Source of Funds. — Trust for the benefit of decedent's wife was the proper source of funds for payment of the additional North Carolina estate tax due by reason of inclusion of the value of the trust in wife's federal taxable estate. Branch Banking & Trust Co. v. Staples, 120 N.C. App. 227, 461 S.E.2d 921 (1995).

Death of Beneficiary of Testamentary Trust. — Under the provisions of a will, the entire beneficial interest in the estate vested in testator's three sons upon testator's death with the right of full enjoyment postponed until the termination of the trust. One of the sons died during minority, prior to the termination of the trust, leaving his two brothers as his sole heirs at law. It was held that the surviving brothers took the deceased brother's interest under the laws of descent and distribution, and the estate so inherited was subject to the appropriate State and federal inheritance taxes and was encumbered by the lien for such taxes. Coddington v. Stone, 217 N.C. 714, 9 S.E.2d 420 (1940).

Secretary of Revenue is required to value assets of estate at same amount as for federal estate tax purposes. Stanback v. Coble, 30 N.C. App. 533, 227 S.E.2d 175 (1976).

Settlement of Taxes by Compromise. — The settlement of taxes by compromise, in a court of competent jurisdiction, in view of the bona fide controversies between the parties, and the facts and circumstances of the case, was affirmed on appeal, the matter being a legitimate subject of compromise and all parties affected being duly represented. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 208 N.C. 578, 182 S.E. 341 (1935).

No Assessment on Basis of Settlement or Compromise Agreements. — Former 105-2(1) made no provision for assessment of inheritance taxes on the basis of settlement or compromise agreements. Greene v. Lynch, 51 N.C. App. 665, 277 S.E.2d 454 (1981).

Consent Judgment Final for Purposes of Former 105-2(1). — A consent judgment entered in a caveat proceeding was, absent any evidence of collusion, a final judgment for purposes of former 105-2(1). Medford v. Lynch, 67 N.C. App. 543, 313 S.E.2d 593 (1984).

Former Law Applying to Nonresidents Invalid in Part. — Under the provisions of the prior law an inheritance or transfer tax was imposed upon the right of nonresident legatees or distributees to take by will or to receive, under the intestate laws of another state, from a nonresident testator or intestate, shares of stock in a foreign corporation having a stated proportion of its property located within this State and conducting its business here. This provision was held invalid upon the principle that the subject to be taxed must be within the jurisdiction of the state assessing and collecting the tax, and that this principle applies as well in the case of a transfer tax as in that of a property tax. Rhode Island Hosp. Trust Co. v. Doughton, 270 U.S. 69, 46 S. Ct. 256, 70 L. Ed. 475, 43 A.L.R. 1374 (1926), rev'g 187 N.C. 263, 121 S.E. 741 (1924), discussed in 3 N.C.L. Rev. 107 (1925). See Rotan v. State, 195 N.C. 291, 141 S.E. 733 (1928).

Lien Arises Against Beneficiary of Policy Includable in Taxable Estate. — Where proceeds of a life insurance policy were includable in a decedent's taxable estate by reason of former section, a lien for taxes arose against the beneficiary of such insurance policy. First Nat'l Bank v. Dixon, 38 N.C. App. 430, 248 S.E.2d 416 (1978).

And beneficiary was primarily liable for taxes so incurred. First Nat'l Bank v. Dixon, 38 N.C. App. 430, 248 S.E.2d 416 (1978).

Therefore personal representative of estate could proceed against beneficiary of such insurance policy, or could retain such assets in the estate as would otherwise pass to the beneficiary and proceed under former sections to obtain the ratable share of tax incurred by the estate by reason of the includable proceeds. First Nat'l Bank v. Dixon, 38 N.C. App. 430, 248 S.E.2d 416 (1978).

Separate Excise Tax Not Imposed on Beneficiary Under Former Statute. — Section 11, c. 127, Public Laws 1937, could not be construed to impose a separate and independent excise tax upon the receipt of the proceeds of life insurance policies when such policies were issued to the beneficiary, who retained all rights and liabilities thereunder, in addition to imposing an inheritance tax on the proceeds of policies when they were issued to the insured, or the insured retained the right to change the beneficiary or some other incidents of ownership, since that section had to be construed as a part of the whole act, and when so construed, no such intent appeared from its language. Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. v. Maxwell, 221 N.C. 528, 20 S.E.2d 840 (1942).

Where wife procured a policy of insurance upon the life of her husband, the policy being issued on her application and all rights and liabilities thereunder being retained by her, upon the husband's death the proceeds of the policy were not subject to a tax under the provisions of § 11, c. 127, Public Laws 1937, as a gift inter vivos to take effect at or after death, even though the husband during his life voluntarily paid all premiums, since he did not procure the issuance of the policy and each payment of premium constituted a completed gift. Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. v. Maxwell, 221 N.C. 528, 20 S.E.2d 840 (1942).

Primary Liability of devisees Not Affected by Compromise Agreement. — The primary liability of the devisees for the inheritance tax on the value of property devised to them under the will is not affected by any compromise agreement under which the ultimate disposition of the lands differs in whole or in part from that prescribed by the will. Pulliam v. Thrash, 245 N.C. 636, 97 S.E.2d 253 (1957).

Will devising certain lands to three devisees as tenants in common was established by verdict and judgment, and by compromise agreement a fourth person was let in as a tenant in common and the land sold for partition. An additional inheritance tax assessed was paid by the commissioner out of the proceeds of sale. It was held that the share of each of the three devisees was chargeable with one third of the tax, and no part thereof was chargeable against the share of the person let in by the compromise agreement or her transferee in the absence of an express or implied agreement to pay same. Pulliam v. Thrash, 245 N.C. 636, 97 S.E.2d 253 (1957).

Beneficiary of Insurance Policy Primarily Liable. — Where proceeds of a life insurance policy were includable in a decedent's taxable estate by reason of former section, a lien for taxes arose against the beneficiary of such insurance policy, and the beneficiary was primarily liable for the taxes so incurred as provided. Therefore, the personal representative of an estate could proceed against the beneficiary of such insurance policy, or could retain such assets in the estate as would otherwise pass to the beneficiary and proceed to obtain the ratable share of tax incurred by the estate by reason of the includable proceeds. First Nat'l Bank v. Dixon, 38 N.C. App. 430, 248 S.E.2d 416 (1978).

II. TRANSFER OF PROPERTY.

"Transfer" Construed. — The transfer of property, as that term was used in former 105-2, contemplated both the legal power to transmit property at death and the privilege of receiving property. Rigby v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 465, 164 S.E.2d 7 (1968).

Transfer Necessary. — The thing taxed is the privilege of transferring, and it is essential that there shall be a transfer, from decedent to the beneficiary by reason of death. There must be a transfer of something before there can be a tax upon its transfer, and where the decedent had no interest in or control over a life insurance policy which could be transferred by his death its proceeds would not be subject to the former inheritance tax. Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. v. Maxwell, 221 N.C. 528, 20 S.E.2d 840 (1942).

III. PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAX.

Kind of Property Transferred Is Immaterial. — The right to impose an inheritance tax does not depend upon the kind of property transferred. In re Morris Estate, 138 N.C. 259, 50 S.E. 682 (1905).

As to Applicability of Former Law to Realty and Personality see Norris v. Durfey, 168 N.C. 321, 84 S.E. 687 (1915).

United States savings bonds held subject to inheritance tax. See Watkins v. Shaw, 234 N.C. 96, 65 S.E.2d 881 (1951).

A widow's dower and year's allowance allotted to her upon her dissent from her husband's will was property passing by will or by intestate laws within the meaning of this statute. State v. Dunn, 174 N.C. 679, 94 S.E. 481 (1917), decided prior to abolition of dower.

Interest on Estate Tax Deficiency Not Part of Tax. — Although collected as part of the tax, interest paid on an estate or inheritance tax deficiency is not part of the tax, but something in addition to the tax. Holt v. Lynch, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Deduction of Interest on Estate Tax Deficiencies and Money Borrowed to Pay Tax. — Interest paid with respect to federal estate tax deficiencies and deferred installment of federal estate tax, state inheritance tax deficiencies, and moneys borrowed to pay estate and inheritance tax deficiencies was deductible as costs of administration under former section. Holt v. Lynch, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Life Insurance Proceeds Held Deductible as Decedent's Debt. — Where a separation agreement required the decedent to maintain in full force and effect a life insurance trust in the amount of at least $150,000 for the benefit of decedent's former wife and their children, the decedent's "debt" under the agreement was not the amount of money required to maintain the policies but was the $150,000 in life insurance proceeds required to fund the trust. Therefore, the life insurance proceeds were a "debt of decedent" deductible from decedent's estate for inheritance tax purposes pursuant to former section. In re Estate of Kapoor, 303 N.C. 102, 277 S.E.2d 403 (1981).

No Corresponding Deduction Where Amount of Federal Tax Increased. — It is proper for a state statute levying inheritance and transfer taxes to refer to a federal statute in allowing deductions for amounts paid the federal government in estate taxes and in excepting from deductible amounts additional taxes levied by the federal government under a federal act effective on a certain date. A taxpayer relying on the State statute for the right to make deductions may not complain that additional federal taxes not deductible were computed according to an amendment of the federal act changing the schedule of rates but depending upon the original act for the tax-levying provisions, although the amendment was enacted subsequent to the enactment of the State Revenue Act, since in such case the additional federal estate taxes are levied by the original federal act, although the amount thereof is computed under the amendment changing the schedule of rates. Harwood v. Maxwell, 213 N.C. 55, 195 S.E. 54 (1938).

IV. GIFTS TO MINORS.

Gift to Minor Is "Transfer". — A gift made under the provisions of the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (see now the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act, § 33A-1 et seq.) was a "transfer" within the meaning of former 105-2. Korschun v. Clayton, 13 N.C. App. 273, 185 S.E.2d 417 (1971).

Death of Donor Before Donee Reaches

Age 21. — Where the donor makes the gift to himself as custodian under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (see now the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act, § 33A-1 et seq.) and dies prior to the donee's reaching age 21, the important determinative factors requiring inclusion of the value of a gift in decedent donor's taxable estate are the rights reserved to the donor. Where these rights existed at the time of the transfer, and continued to be possessed by donor until the time of his death, it is of no consequence whether the rights ever exercised. Korschun v. Clayton, 13 N.C. App. 273, 185 S.E.2d 417 (1971).

The value of property which is the subject of a gift to the donor's unemancipated minor child under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (see now the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act, § 33A-1 et seq.) is includable in the gross estate of the donor for State inheritance tax purposes where the donor appoints himself as custodian of the property and dies while serving in that capacity before the minor donee attains his majority. Korschun v. Clayton, 13 N.C. App. 273, 185 S.E.2d 417 (1971).

If a parent donor wishes to avoid inheritance tax on a transfer under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (see now the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act, § 33A-1 et seq.) he need only choose as custodian one of those persons or corporations allowed by the act other than himself. Korschun v. Clayton, 13 N.C. App. 273, 185 S.E.2d 417 (1971).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Editor's Note. — The opinions below were rendered under prior statutory law.

Gift taxes paid by executor and imposed upon transfer of assets found to be includible in decedent's estate are not deductions for inheritance tax purposes. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. B.E. Rogers, Inheritance and Gift Tax Division, Department of Revenue, 42 N.C.A.G. 32 (1972).

Clerk of Superior Court May Not Delegate Duty to Be Present to Officer of Bank. — See opinion of Attorney General to Honorable Sion H. Kelly, Clerk of Superior Court of Lee County, 41 N.C.A.G. 44 (1970).

§ 105-32.2. Estate tax imposed in amount equal to federal state death tax credit.

(a) Tax. — An estate tax is imposed on the estate of a decedent when a federal estate tax is imposed on the estate under section 2001 of the Code and any of the following apply:

- (1) The decedent was a resident of this State at death.
- (2) The decedent was not a resident of this State at death and owned any of the following:
  - a. Real property or tangible personal property that is located in this State.
  - b. Intangible personal property that has a tax situs in this State.

(b) Amount. — The amount of the estate tax imposed by this section is the maximum credit for state death taxes allowed under section 2011 of the Code. If any property in the estate is located in a state other than North Carolina, the amount of tax payable is the North Carolina percentage of the credit.

If the decedent was a resident of this State at death, the North Carolina percentage is the net value of the estate that does not have a tax situs in another state, divided by the net value of all property in the estate. If the decedent was not a resident of this State at death, the North Carolina percentage is the net value of real property that is located in North Carolina plus the net value of any personal property that has a tax situs in North Carolina, divided by the net value of all property in the estate, unless the decedent's state of residence uses a different formula to determine that state's percentage. In that circumstance, the North Carolina percentage is the amount determined by the formula used by the decedent's state of residence.

The net value of property that is located in or has a tax situs in this State is its gross value reduced by any debt secured by that property. The net value of all the property in the estate is its gross value reduced by any debts and deductions of the estate. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.3. Liability for estate tax.

(a) Primary. — The tax imposed by this Article is payable from the assets of the estate. A person who receives property from an estate is liable for the amount of estate tax attributable to that property.

(b) Personal Representative. — The personal representative of an estate is liable for an estate tax that is not paid within two years after it was due. This liability is limited to the value of the assets of the estate that were under the control of the personal representative. The amount for which the personal representative is liable may be recovered from the personal representative or from the surety on any bond filed by the personal representative under Article 8 of Chapter 28A of the General Statutes.

(c) Clerk of Court. — A clerk of court who allows a personal representative to make a final settlement of an estate without presenting one of the following is liable on the clerk's bond for any estate tax due:

- (1) An affirmation by the personal representative certifying that no tax is due on the estate because this Article does not require an estate tax return to be filed for that estate.
- (2) A certificate issued by the Secretary stating that the tax liability of the estate has been satisfied. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.4. Payment of estate tax.

(a) Due Date. — The estate tax imposed by this Article is due when an estate tax return is due. An estate tax return is due on the date a federal estate tax return is due.

(b) Filing Return. — An estate tax return must be filed under this Article if a federal estate tax return is required. The return must be filed by the personal representative of the estate on a form provided by the Secretary.

(c) Extension. — An extension of time to file a federal estate tax return is an automatic extension of the time to file an estate tax return under this Article. The Secretary may, in accordance with G.S. 105-263, extend the time for paying the estate tax imposed by this Article or for filing an estate tax return.

(d) Obtaining Amount Due. — The personal representative of an estate may sell assets in the estate to obtain money to pay the tax imposed by this Article.

(e) Administration. — Article 9 of this Chapter applies to this Article. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.5. Making installment payments of tax due when federal estate tax is payable in installments.

A personal representative who elects under section 6166 of the Code to make installment payments of federal estate tax may elect to make installment payments of the tax imposed by this Article. An election under this section extends the time for payment of the tax due in accordance with the extension elected under section 6166 of the Code. Payments of tax are due under this section at the same time and in the same proportion to the total amount of tax due as payments of federal estate tax under section 6166 of the Code. Acceleration of payments under section 6166 of the Code accelerates the payments due under this section. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.6. Estate tax is a lien on real property in the estate.

The tax imposed by this Article on an estate is a lien on the real property in the estate and on the proceeds of the sale of the real property in the estate. The lien is extinguished when one of the following occurs:

- (1) The personal representative certifies to the clerk of court that no tax is due on the estate because this Article does not require an estate tax return to be filed for that estate.
- (2) The Secretary issues a certificate stating that the tax liability of the estate has been satisfied.
- (3) For specific real property, when the Secretary issues a tax waiver for that property.
- (4) Ten years have elapsed since the date of the decedent's death. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.7. Generation-skipping transfer tax.

(a) Tax. — A tax is imposed on a generation-skipping transfer that is subject to the tax imposed by Chapter 13 of Subtitle B of the Code when any of the following apply:

- (1) The original transferor is a resident of this State at the date of the original transfer.
- (2) The original transferor is not a resident of this State at the date of the original transfer and the transfer includes any of the following:
  - a. Real or tangible personal property that is located in this State.
  - b. Intangible personal property that has a tax situs in this State.

(b) Amount. — The amount of the tax imposed by this section is the maximum credit for state generation-skipping transfer taxes allowed under section 2604 of the Code. If property in the transfer is located in a state other than North Carolina, the amount of tax payable is the North Carolina percentage of the credit.

If the original transferor was a resident of this State at the date of the original transfer, the North Carolina percentage is the net value of the property transferred that does not have a tax situs in another state, divided by the net value of all property transferred. If the original transferor was not a resident of this State at the date of the original transfer, the North Carolina percentage is the net value of real property that is located in North Carolina plus the net value of any personal property that has a tax situs in North Carolina, divided by the net value of all property transferred, unless the original transferor's state of residence uses a different formula to determine that state's percentage. In that circumstance, the North Carolina percentage is the amount determined by the formula used by the original transferor's state of residence.

The net value of property that is located in or has a tax situs in this State is its gross value reduced by any debt secured by that property. The net value of all the property in a transfer is its gross value reduced by any debts secured by the property.

(c) Payment. — The tax imposed by this section is due when a return is due. A return is due the same date as the federal return for payment of the federal generation-skipping transfer tax. The tax is payable by the person who is liable for the federal generation-skipping transfer tax. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b).)

§ 105-32.8. Federal determination that changes the amount of tax payable to the State.

If the federal government corrects or otherwise determines the amount of the maximum state death tax credit allowed an estate under section 6166 of the Code, the personal representative must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file an estate tax return with the Secretary reflecting the correct amount of tax payable under this Article. If the federal government corrects or otherwise determines the amount of the maximum state generation-skipping transfer tax credit allowed under section 2604 of the Code, the person who made the transfer must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file a tax return with the Secretary reflecting the correct amount of tax payable under this Article.

The Secretary must assess and collect any additional tax due as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter and must refund any overpayment of tax as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. A person who fails to report a federal correction or determination in accordance with this section forfeits the right to any refund due by reason of the determination. (1998-212, s. 29A.2(b); 1999-337, s. 13.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 13, effective July 22, 1999, deleted "is subject to the penalties in G.S. 105-236 and" following "with this section" in the second paragraph in this section.

Privilege Taxes.

§ 105-33. Taxes under this Article.

(a) General. — Taxes in this Article are imposed for the privilege of carrying on the business, exercising the privilege, or doing the act named.

(b) License Taxes. — A license tax imposed by this Article is an annual tax. The tax is due by July 1 of each year. The tax is imposed for the privilege of engaging in a specified activity during the fiscal year that begins on the July 1 due date of the tax. The full amount of a license tax applies to a person who, during a fiscal year, begins to engage in an activity for which this Article requires a license. Before a person engages in an activity for which this Article requires a license, the person must obtain the required license.

(c) Other Taxes. — The taxes imposed by this Article on a percentage basis or another basis are due as specified in this Article.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999.

(f), (g) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999.

(h) Liability Upon Transfer. — A grantee, transferee, or purchaser of any business or property subject to the State taxes imposed in this Article must make diligent inquiry as to whether the State tax has been paid. If the business or property has been granted, sold, transferred, or conveyed to an innocent purchaser for value and without notice that the vendor owed or is liable for any of the State taxes imposed under this Article, the property, while in the possession of the innocent purchaser, is not subject to any lien for the taxes.

Editor's Note. — Effective July 1, 1999, Session Laws 1998-95, s. 1 changed the head to this Article to read "Privilege Taxes."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 4.2, effective July 1, 1999, provided: "Effective July 1, 1999, Article 2B of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, is repealed. The Secretary shall retain from collections under Article 2 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes the cost of refunding the taxes levied in Article 2B of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, substituted "Privilege Taxes" for "Schedule B. License Taxes" in the article head and rewrote the section.

Legal Periodicals. — For comment on 1943 amendment which made additions to the section, see 21 N.C.L. Rev. 368 (1943).

CASE NOTES

Several Occupations Conducted by Individual. — Where several occupations are conducted in a town by the same individual, a privilege tax on one does not prevent a similar tax on another. Guano Co. v. Town of Tarboro, 126 N.C. 68, 35 S.E. 231 (1900).

Goods Manufactured in Another State. — The right of a state to tax traders, professions and avocations within the borders of the state is unquestionable, though the goods dealt in are manufactured in another state. State v. Gorham, 115 N.C. 721, 20 S.E. 179 (1894).

Peddling. — A State license issued under § 105-53 authorizes the licensee to engage in the business of peddling. State v. Byrd, 259 N.C. 141, 130 S.E.2d 55 (1963).

§ 105-33.1. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) City. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (1a) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (2) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 3, effective July 1, 1999.
- (3) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (4) Secretary. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90. (1991, c. 45, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 2; 1993, c. 12, s. 3; c. 354, s. 6; 1998-95, s. 3.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, added present subdivision (1), and redesignated former subdivision (1) as present subdivision (1a); repealed former subdivision (2), defining “municipality”; and substituted “Defined in G.S. 105-228.90” for “The Secretary of Revenue” in subdivision (4).

§ 105-35: Repealed by Session Laws 1979, c. 72.

§§ 105-36 through 105-37: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 17.

§ 105-37.1. Dances, athletic events, shows, exhibitions, and other entertainments.

(a) Scope. — A privilege tax is imposed on the gross receipts of a person who is engaged in any of the following:

- (1) Giving, offering, or managing a dance or an athletic contest for which an admission fee in excess of fifty cents (50¢) is charged.
- (2) Giving, offering, or managing a form of amusement or entertainment that is not taxed by another provision of this Article and for which an admission fee is charged.
- (3) Exhibiting a performance, show, or exhibition, such as a circus or dog show, that is not taxed by another provision of this Article.

(b) Rate and Payment. — The rate of the privilege tax is three percent (3%) of the gross receipts from the activities described in subsection (a) of this section. The tax is due when a return is due. A return is due by the 10th day after the end of each month and covers the gross receipts received during the previous month.

(c) Advance Report. — A person who owns or controls a performance, show, or exhibition subject to the tax imposed by this section and who plans to bring the performance to this State from outside the State must file a statement with the Secretary that lists the dates, times, and places of the performance, show, or exhibition. The statement must be filed no less than five days before the first performance, show, or exhibition in this State.

(d) Local Taxes. — Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Cities may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) of this section; however, the tax may not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day the performance, show, or exhibition is given at each location.

Counties may not levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section. Counties may levy a license tax on a person taxed under subdivision (a)(3) to the same extent as a city. (1939, c. 158, ss. 105, 106; 1943, c. 400, s. 2; 1945, c. 708, s. 2; 1947, c. 501, s. 2; 1963, c. 1231; 1967, c. 865;

Editor's Note. — The historical citation for this section incorporates the history of repealed § 105-38, which was combined into this section by Session Law 1999-337.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, rewrote the section.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 14(a), effective July 22, 1999, rewrote the section.

Session Laws 1999-456, s. 26, effective August 13, 1999, deleted "(Effective July 1, 1999)" from the catchline of the section as set out in Session Laws 1999-337, s. 14(a).

§ 105-37.2: Repealed pursuant to Session Law 1998-96, s. 3, effective July 1, 1999.

Cross References. — As to tax exemption for arts festivals and community festivals, see now § 105-40 (10) and (11).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-96, s. 3, made this section, relating to tax exemptions for arts festivals and community festivals, effective August 14, 1998. Section 3 further stated that s. 1 of that act would be repealed effective July 1, 1999, only if Senate Bill 1252, An Act To Simplify And Modify Privilege And Excise Taxes And Related Permit Fees, was enacted by the 1998 General Assembly. Senate Bill 1252 was enacted as Session Laws 1998-95.

§ 105-38: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-337, s. 14(b), effective July 22, 1999.

§ 105-38.1. Motion picture shows.

(a) A privilege tax at the rate of one percent (1%) is imposed on the gross receipts of a person who is engaged in the business of operating a motion picture show for which an admission is charged. The tax is due when a return is due. A return is due by the 10th day after the end of each month and covers the gross receipts received during the previous month. If a person offers an entertainment or amusement that includes both a motion picture taxable under this section and an entertainment or amusement taxable under G.S. 105-37.1, the tax in that statute applies to the entire gross receipts and the tax levied in this section does not apply.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1999-337, s. 15(a), effective July 22, 1999. (1998-95, s. 5.1; 1999-337, s. 15(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides that "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of this amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 15(a), effective July 22, 1999, substituted "Motion picture shows" for "Amusements" in the catchline, substituted "G.S. 105-37.1" for "G.S. 105-37.1 or G.S. 105-38" and substituted "that statute" for "G.S. 105-37.1 or G.S. 105-38, as appropriate" in subsection (a), and deleted subsection (b), relating to an exemption. The section is set out in the form above at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

§ 105-39: Repealed by Session Laws 1987 (Regular Session, 1988), c. 1082, s. 1.

§ 105-40. Amusements — Certain exhibitions, performances, and entertainments exempt from tax.

The following forms of amusement are exempt from the taxes imposed under this Article:

- (1) All exhibitions, performances, and entertainments, except as in this Article expressly mentioned as not exempt, produced by local talent exclusively, for the benefit of religious, charitable, benevolent or educational purposes, as long as no compensation is paid to the local talent.
- (2) The North Carolina Symphony Society, Incorporated, as specified in G.S. 140-10.1.
- (3) All exhibits, shows, attractions, and amusements operated by a society or association organized under the provisions of Chapter 106 of the General Statutes where the society or association has obtained a permit from the Secretary to operate without the payment of taxes under this Article.
- (4) All outdoor historical dramas, as specified in Article 19C of Chapter 143 of the General Statutes.
- (5) All elementary and secondary school athletic contests, dances, and other amusements.
- (6) The first one thousand dollars ($1,000) of gross receipts derived from dances and other amusements actually promoted and managed by civic organizations when the entire proceeds of the dances or other amusements are used exclusively for civic and charitable purposes of the organizations and not to defray the expenses of the organization conducting the dance or amusement. The mere sponsorship of a dance or another amusement by a civic or fraternal organization does not exempt the dance or other amusement, because the exemption applies only when the dance or amusement is actually managed and conducted by the civic or fraternal organization.
- (7) All dances, motion picture shows, and other amusements promoted and managed by a qualifying corporation that operates a center for the performing and visual arts if the dance or other amusement is held at the center. "Qualifying corporation" means a corporation that is exempt from income tax under G.S. 105-130.11(a)(3). "Center for the performing and visual arts" means a facility, having a fixed location, that provides space for dramatic performances, studios, classrooms, and similar accommodations to organized arts groups and individual artists. This exemption does not apply to athletic events.
- (8) A person that is exempt from income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and is engaged in the business of operating a teen center. A "teen center" is a fixed facility whose primary purpose is to provide recreational activities, dramatic performances, dances, and other amusements exclusively for teenagers.
- (9) All entertainments or amusements offered or given on the Cherokee Indian reservation when the person giving, offering, or managing the entertainment or amusement is authorized to do business on the reservation and pays the tribal gross receipts levy to the tribal council.

- (10) Arts festivals held by a person that is exempt from income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and that meets the following conditions:
  - a. The person holds no more than two arts festivals during a calendar year.
  - b. Each of the person's arts festivals last no more than seven days.
  - c. The arts festivals are held outdoors on public property and involve a variety of exhibitions, entertainments, and activities.
- (11) Community festivals held by a person who is exempt from income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and that meets all of the following conditions:
  - a. The person holds no more than one community festival during a calendar year.
  - b. The community festival lasts no more than seven days.
  - c. The community festival involves a variety of exhibitions, entertainments, and activities, the majority of which are held outdoors and are open to the public. (1939, c. 158, s. 108; 1998-95, ss. 5.1, 6; 1998-96, s. 2; 1999-337, s. 15(b); 2000-140, s. 61.)

Editor's Note. — The historical citation for this section incorporates the history of repealed § 105-38.1(b), which was combined into this section by Session Laws 1999-337.

Session Laws 1998-96, s. 3 provided that s. 2 of that act, which added subdivisions (10) and (11) would become effective July 1, 1999, if Senate Bill 1252, An Act To Simplify And Modify Privilege License And Excise Taxes And Related Permit Fees, was enacted by the 1997 General Assembly. Senate Bill 1252 was enacted as S.L. 1998-95.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides that "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of this amendment or repeal."

Session Laws, 1998-96, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999, added subdivisions (10) and (11).

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 15(b), effective July 22, 1999, inserted "motion picture shows" in subdivision (7).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 61, effective July 21, 2000, deleted "license" following "exempt from" in the catchline.

§ 105-41. Attorneys-at-law and other professionals.

(a) Every individual in this State who practices a profession or engages in a business and is included in the list below must obtain from the Secretary a statewide license for the privilege of practicing the profession or engaging in the business. A license required by this section is not transferable to another person. The tax for each license is fifty dollars ($50.00).

- (1) An attorney-at-law.
- (2) A physician, a veterinarian, a surgeon, an osteopath, a chiropractor, a chiropodist, a dentist, an ophthalmologist, an optician, an optometrist, or another person who practices a professional art of healing.
- (3) A professional engineer, as defined in G.S. 89C-3.
- (4) A registered land surveyor, as defined in G.S. 89C-3.
- (5) An architect.
- (6) A landscape architect.

- (7) A photographer, a canvasser for any photographer, or an agent of a photographer in transmitting photographs to be copied, enlarged, or colored.
- (8) A real estate broker or a real estate salesman, as defined in G.S. 93A-2. A real estate broker or a real estate salesman who is also a real estate appraiser is required to obtain only one license under this section to cover both activities.
- (9) A real estate appraiser, as defined in G.S. 93E-1-4. A real estate appraiser who is also a real estate broker or a real estate salesman is required to obtain only one license under this section to cover both activities.
- (10) A person who solicits or negotiates loans on real estate as agent for another for a commission, brokerage, or other compensation.
- (11) A mortician or embalmer licensed under G.S. 90-210.25.
- (b) The following persons are exempt from the tax:
  - (1) A person who is at least 75 years old.
  - (2) A person practicing the professional art of healing for a fee or reward, if the person is an adherent of an established church or religious organization and confines the healing practice to prayer or spiritual means.
  - (3) A blind person engaging in a trade or profession as a sole proprietor. A "blind person" means any person who is totally blind or whose central visual acuity does not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or where the widest diameter of visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees. This exemption shall not extend to any sole proprietor who permits more than one person other than the proprietor to work regularly in connection with the trade or profession for remuneration or recompense of any kind, unless the other person in excess of one so remunerated is a blind person.
- (c) Every person engaged in the public practice of accounting as a principal, or as a manager of the business of public accountant, shall pay for such license fifty dollars ($50.00), and in addition shall pay a license of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) for each person employed who is engaged in the capacity of supervising or handling the work of auditing, devising or installing systems of accounts.
- (d) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 7, effective July 1, 1999.
- (e) Licenses issued under this section are issued as personal privilege licenses and shall not be issued in the name of a firm or corporation. A licensed photographer having a located place of business in this State is liable for a license tax on each agent or solicitor employed by the photographer for soliciting business. If any person engages in more than one of the activities for which a privilege tax is levied by this section, the person is liable for a privilege tax with respect to each activity engaged in.
- (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 17.
- (g) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 7, effective July 1, 1999.
- (h) Counties and cities may not levy any license tax on the business or professions taxed under this section.
- (i) Obtaining a license required by this Article does not of itself authorize the practice of a profession, business, or trade for which a State qualification license is required. (1939, c. 158, s. 109; 1941, c. 50, s. 3; 1943, c. 400, s. 2; 1949, c. 683; 1953, c. 1306; 1957, c. 1064; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 17; c. 83, ss. 4, 5; 1989, c. 584, s. 7; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 974, s. 1; 1993, c. 419, s. 13.2; 1998-95, s. 7.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, in the introductory language in subsection (a), inserted the second sentence, and deleted "the tax does not apply to an individual who is at least 75 years old" in the last sentence, and added subdivision (a)(11); rewrote subsection (b); repealed former subsection (d), requiring licensed morticians or embalmers to obtain a statewide license for practicing; substituted "corporation. A" for "corporation: Provided, that a," "State is" for "State, shall be," "the photographer" for "him," and "the person is liable" for "such person shall be liable" in subsection (e); repealed former subsection (g), providing that failure to pay the license tax could result in suspension or revocation of the license until paid; rewrote subsection (h); and added subsection (i).

Legal Periodicals. — For comment on the 1943 amendment which added the last sentence of subsection (e), see 21 N.C.L. Rev. 367 (1943).

CASE NOTES

A "professional" art is one requiring knowledge of advanced type in a given field of science or learning gained by a prolonged course of specialized instruction and study. Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

A "professional" act or service is one arising out of a vocation, calling, occupation, or employment involving specialized knowledge, labor, or skill, and the labor or skill involved is predominantly mental or intellectual, rather than physical or manual. Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

The word "healing" in this section is ordinarily understood to mean the curing of diseases or injuries. Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

Rulings by Secretary of Revenue Not Binding on Courts. — Rulings made by the Secretary of Revenue setting forth his interpretations of this section are not binding upon the courts. Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

Masseurs are not persons "practicing any professional art of healing" within the meaning of subsection (a). Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

Masseurs are not required to obtain a privilege license from the State, and they are subject to regulation by local governments. Smith v. Keator, 21 N.C. App. 102, 203 S.E.2d 411, aff'd, 285 N.C. 530, 206 S.E.2d 203, appeal dismissed, 419 U.S. 1043, 95 S. Ct. 613, 42 L. Ed. 2d 636 (1974).

Persons Making "Negatives" Are Photographers Subject to License Tax. — To solicit persons to have their photographs taken, arrange for the sitting and actually have the camera present and take what is popularly called a picture, but in fact is a "negative," which is the outline of the subject on glass is engaging within the State in the profession or business of photography within the meaning of this section. Lucas v. City of Charlotte, 14 F. Supp. 163 (W.D.N.C. 1936), aff'd, 86 F.2d 394 (4th Cir. 1936).

Although the "negatives" are sent to another state for development the assessment of the tax under this section on photographers does not constitute an interference with or burden upon interstate commerce. Lucas v. City of Charlotte, 14 F. Supp. 163 (W.D.N.C. 1936), aff'd, 86 F.2d 394 (4th Cir. 1936).

Discriminatory Statute Applying to Real Estate Brokers Is Unconstitutional. — Public-Local Laws of 1927, c. 241, requiring real estate brokers and salesmen in certain designated counties to be licensed by a real estate commission on the basis of moral character and proficiency in the public interest and requiring the payment of a license fee in addition to the license required by this section, was held unconstitutional as discriminatory. *State v. § 105-83. Installment paper dealers.

(a) Every person engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, or evidences of debt for which, at the time of or in connection with the execution of the instruments, a lien is reserved or taken upon personal property located in this State to secure the payment of the obligations, shall submit to the Secretary quarterly no later than the twentieth day of January, April, July, and October of each year, upon forms prescribed by the Secretary, a full, accurate, and complete statement, verified by the officer, agent, or person making the statement, of the total face value of the obligations dealt in, bought, or discounted within the preceding three calendar months and, at the same time, shall pay a tax of two hundred seventy-seven thousandths of one percent (.277%) of the face value of these obligations.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 9, effective July 1, 1999.

(c) If any person deals in, buys, or discounts any obligations described in this section without paying a tax imposed by this section, the person may not bring an action in a State court to enforce collection of an obligation dealt in, bought, or discounted during the period of noncompliance with this section until the person pays the amount of tax, penalties, and interest due.

(d) This section does not apply to corporations liable for the tax levied under G.S. 105-102.3 or to savings and loan associations.

(e) Counties and cities shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 148; 1957, c. 1340, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 83, ss. 8, 9; 1991, c. 45, s. 3; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 965, s. 3; 1998-95, s. 9; 1998-98, s. 1(f).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws, 1998-98, s. 1(f), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added “or to savings and loan associations” at the end of subsection (d).

Session Laws, 1998-95, s. 9, effective July 1, 1999, rewrote former subsections (a) and (b) as present subsection (a); deleted “obtaining the license required by this section or” preceding “paying,” and deleted “obtains the license and” preceding “pays” in subsection (c); and substituted “Counties and cities” for “Counties, cities, and towns” in subsection (e).

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — The imposition of taxes on installment paper dealers is not rendered discriminatory by the exemption from the tax of corporations organized under the State or national banking laws, even though banks, in addition to their regular banking business, carry on the identical business of discounting commercial paper, since the two businesses are distinct in fact, and the one is subject to regulations and controls which are not applicable to the other. Lenoir Fin. Co. v. Currie, 254 N.C. 129, 118 S.E.2d 543, appeal dismissed, 368 U.S. 289, 82 S. Ct. 375, 7 L. Ed. 336 (1961).

The defendant/finance corporation was not subject to tax assessment under this section for its wholesale installment paper business where the buying and selling of the installment paper took place entirely within a foreign state and its other activities were not incident to the buying and selling of the paper. The defendant's retail installment paper business in North Carolina had no relation to its wholesale installment paper business; and the record contained no evidence that the defendant engaged in the promotion or solicitation of the buying or selling of installment paper in North Carolina. Chrysler Fin. Co., L.L.C. v. Offerman, 138 N.C. App. 268, 531 S.E.2d 223 (2000).

Bank Distinguished from Installment Paper Dealer. — See Lenoir Fin. Co. v. Currie, 254 N.C. 129, 118 S.E.2d 543, appeal dismissed, 368 U.S. 289, 82 S. Ct. 375, 7 L. Ed. 336 (1961).

“Engaged in the Business.” — The defendant/finance corporation was “engaged in the business of dealing in . . . installment paper” where it purchased credit sale agreements from another corporation although it did so in order to provide dealerships with financing under a wholesale finance plan and not for the purpose of making a profit. Chrysler Fin. Co., L.L.C. v. Offerman, 138 N.C. App. 268, 531 S.E.2d 223 (2000).

§ 105-88. Loan agencies.

(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in any of the following businesses must pay for the privilege of engaging in that business an annual tax of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) for each location at which the business is conducted:

- (1) The business of making loans or lending money, accepting liens on, or contracts of assignments of, salaries or wages, or any part thereof, or other security or evidence of debt for repayment of such loans in installment payment or otherwise.

- (2) The business of check cashing regulated under Article 22 of Chapter 53 of the General Statutes.
- (3) The business of pawnbroker regulated under Chapter 91A of the General Statutes.

(b) This section does not apply to banks, industrial banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, cooperative credit unions, the business of negotiating loans on real estate as described in G.S. 105-41, or insurance premium finance companies licensed under Article 35 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes. This section applies to those persons or concerns operating what are commonly known as loan companies or finance companies and whose business is as hereinbefore described, and those persons, firms, or corporations pursuing the business of lending money and taking as security for the payment of the loan and interest an assignment of wages or an assignment of wages with power of attorney to collect the amount due, or other order or chattel mortgage or bill of sale upon household or kitchen furniture. No real estate mortgage broker is required to obtain a privilege license under this section merely because the broker advances the broker's own funds and takes a security interest in real estate to secure the advances and when, at the time of the advance, the broker has already made arrangements with others for the sale or discount of the obligation at a later date and does so sell or discount the obligation within the period specified in the arrangement or extensions thereof; or when, at the time of the advance the broker intends to sell the obligation to others at a later date and does, within 12 months from date of initial advance, make arrangements with others for the sale of the obligation and does sell the obligation within the period specified in the arrangement or extensions thereof; or because the broker advances the broker's own funds in temporary financing directly involved in the production of permanent-type loans for sale to others; and no real estate mortgage broker whose mortgage lending operations are essentially as described above is required to obtain a privilege license under this section.

(c) At the time of making any such loan, the person, or officer of the firm or corporation making the loan, shall give to the borrower in writing in convenient form a statement showing the amount received by the borrower, the amount to be paid back by the borrower, the time in which the amount is to be paid, and the rate of interest and discount agreed upon.

(d) A loan made by a person who does not comply with this section is not collectible at law under G.S. 105-269.13.

(e) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. Except as provided in G.S. 160A-211 and G.S. 153A-152, the tax may not exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 152; 1967, c. 1080; c. 1232, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 45, s. 4; 1993, c. 539, s. 695; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1998-98, s. 1(g); 1999-438, s. 2; 2000-120, s. 3; 2000-173, s. 2.)

Cross References. — For the Consumer Finance Act, see §§ 53-164 through 53-191.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subsection (b), substituted "This section does not apply" for "Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply," substituted "savings and loan associations" for "building and loan associations," substituted "the amount due" for "same," substituted "the broker" or a variation thereof for "he" or "his" throughout, twice deleted "of his own funds" following "broker," substituted "is" for "shall be" throughout, and made gender-neutral and stylistic changes.

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999, deleted “or brokers” from the end of the section catchline; rewrote subsections (a) and (d); deleted “pawnbrokers lending or advancing money on specific articles of personal property” in the first sentence of subsection (b); and substituted “the loan” for “the same” and “the time in which the amount” for “and the time in which said amount” in subsection (c).

Session Laws 2000-120, s. 3, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote subsection (d).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 2, effective July 1, 2001, substituted “section. Except as provided in G.S. 160A-211 and G.S. 153A-152, the tax may not exceed” for “section not in excess of” in subsection (e).

CASE NOTES

Purpose of Section Is to Raise Revenue. — The tax imposed on loan agencies or brokers by this section is merely one of the Section B license taxes imposed by this Article for the privilege of carrying on a particular business, and its purpose is to raise revenue. Northcutt v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 428, 152 S.E.2d 471 (1967).

This Section Applies to Loan Agencies Irrespective of the Amounts Loaned. — All loan agencies subject to the provisions of this section are not subject to the provisions of the Consumer Finance Act, § 53-164 et seq. This section applies to all the loan agencies specified therein, irrespective of the amounts which they loan or the interest they charge. Northcutt v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 428, 152 S.E.2d 471 (1967).

There is imposed upon every bank or banking association, including each national banking association, that is operating in this State as a commercial bank, an industrial bank, a savings bank created other than under Chapter 54B or 54C of the General Statutes or the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U.S.C. §§ 1461-68), a trust company, or any combination of such facilities or services, and whether such bank or banking association, hereinafter to be referred to as a bank or banks, is organized, under the laws of the United States or the laws of North Carolina, in the corporate form or in some other form of business organization, an annual privilege tax. A report and the privilege tax are due by the first day of July of each year on forms provided by the Secretary. The tax rate is thirty dollars ($30.00) for each one million dollars ($1,000,000) or fractional part thereof of total assets held as provided in this section. The assets upon which the tax is levied shall be determined by averaging the total assets shown in the four quarterly call reports of condition (consolidating domestic subsidiaries) for the preceding calendar year as required by bank regulatory authorities. If a bank has been in operation less than a calendar year, then the assets upon which the tax is levied shall be determined by multiplying the average of the total assets by a fraction, the denominator of which is 365 and the numerator of which is the number of days of operation. If a bank operates an international banking facility, as defined in G.S. 105-130.5(b)(13), the assets upon which the tax is levied shall be reduced by the average amount for the taxable year of all assets of the international banking facility which are employed outside the United States, as computed pursuant to G.S. 105-130.5(b)(13)c. For an out-of-state bank with one or more branches in this State, or for an in-state bank with one or more branches outside this State, the assets of the out-of-state bank or of the in-state bank upon which the tax is levied shall be reduced by the average amount for the taxable year of all assets of the out-of-state bank or of the in-state bank which are employed outside this State. The tax imposed in this section shall be for the privilege of carrying on the businesses herein defined on a statewide basis regardless of the number of places or locations of business within the State. Counties and cities may not levy a license or privilege tax on the businesses taxed under this section, nor on the business of an international banking facility as defined in subsection (b)(13) of G.S. 105-130.5. (1973, c. 1053, s. 7; 1981, c. 855, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 985, s. 4; 1995, c. 322, s. 2; 1998-95, s. 10; 1998-98, s. 1(h).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws, 1998-98, s. 1(h), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, inserted

Session Laws, 1998-95, s. 10, effective July 1, 1999, rewrote the section.

§ 105-102.4: Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 584, s. 35.

§ 105-102.5: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 17.

§ 105-102.6. Publishers of newsprint publications.

(a) Purpose. — The purpose of this section is to provide incentives for the recycling of newsprint and magazines and for the use of newsprint that contains recycled content.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Gross tonnage of newsprint consumed. — The weight in metric tons of all newsprint consumed by a publisher.
- (2) Newsprint. — Uncoated paper, whether supercalendered or machine finished, made primarily from mechanical wood pulp combined with some chemical wood pulp, weighing between 24.5 and 35 pounds for 500 sheets of paper two feet by three feet in size, and having a brightness of less than 60.
- (2a) Nonvirgin newsprint. — Newsprint that contains recycled postconsumer recovered paper.
- (3) Postconsumer recovered paper. — Paper products, generated by a business or consumer, that have served their intended end uses and have been separated or diverted from solid waste.
- (4) Publisher. — A person engaged in the business of producing publications printed on newsprint who acquires and uses newsprint for this business.
- (5) Recycled content percentage. — The percentage by weight of the total gross tonnage of newsprint consumed by the publisher that is recycled postconsumer recovered paper. For example, if a publisher consumes 10 tons of virgin newsprint, 10 tons of nonvirgin newsprint that contains fifty percent (50%) recycled postconsumer recovered paper, and 10 tons of nonvirgin newsprint that contains ten percent (10%) recycled postconsumer recovered paper, the publisher's recycled content percentage is 6/30 or twenty percent (20%).
- (6) Recycled content tonnage. — The weight in metric tons of the total gross tonnage of newsprint consumed by the publisher that is recycled postconsumer recovered paper.
- (7) Recycling. — Any process by which solid waste, or materials that would otherwise become solid waste, are collected, separated, or processed, and reused or returned to use in the form of raw materials or products.
- (8) Recycling tonnage. — The weight in metric tons of newsprint and magazines recycled or diverted to recycling by a publisher.
- (9) Virgin newsprint. — Newsprint that does not contain recycled postconsumer recovered paper.

- During 1991 and 1992, twelve percent (12%).
- During 1993, fifteen percent (15%).
- During 1994, twenty percent (20%).
- During 1995 and 1996, twenty-five percent (25%).
- During 1997 and 1998, thirty percent (30%).
- During 1999 through 2004, thirty-five percent (35%).
- After 2004, forty percent (40%).

A publisher who has developed and operates or contracts for the operation of a newspaper or magazine recycling program shall receive partial credit toward the recycled content percentage goals established in this subsection on the basis of one ton of credit toward its total recycled content tonnage for each ton of recycling tonnage.

(d) Tax. — Every publisher shall apply for and obtain from the Secretary a newsprint publisher tax reporting number and shall file an annual report with the Secretary by January 31 of each year. The report shall include the following information for the preceding calendar year:

- (1) Tonnage of virgin newsprint consumed.
- (2) Tonnage of nonvirgin newsprint consumed.
- (3) Gross tonnage of newsprint consumed.
- (4) Itemized percentages of recycled postconsumer recovered paper contained in tonnage of nonvirgin newsprint consumed.
- (5) Recycled content tonnage.
- (6) Recycled content percentage.
- (7) Recycling tonnage.

In addition, each publisher whose recycled content percentage for a calendar year is less than the applicable minimum recycled content percentage provided in subsection (c) shall pay a tax of fifteen dollars ($15.00) on each ton by which the publisher's recycled content tonnage falls short of the tonnage of recycled postconsumer recovered paper needed to achieve the applicable minimum recycled content percentage provided in subsection (c). This tax is due when the report is filed. No county or city may impose a license tax on the business taxed under this section.

(e) Exemption. — The tax levied in this section does not apply to an amount calculated pursuant to subsection (d) to the extent the amount is attributable solely to the publisher's inability to obtain sufficient recycled content newsprint because (i) recycled content newsprint was not available at a price comparable to the price of virgin newsprint; (ii) recycled content newsprint of a quality comparable to virgin newsprint was not available; or (iii) recycled content newsprint was not available within a reasonable period of time during the reporting period. In order to claim the exemption provided in this subsection, a publisher must certify to the Secretary:

- (1) The amount of virgin newsprint consumed by the publisher during the reporting period solely for one of the reasons listed above.
- (2) That the publisher attempted to obtain recycled content newsprint from every manufacturer of recycled content newsprint that offered to sell recycled content newsprint to the publisher within the preceding calendar year.
- (3) The name, address, and telephone number of each recycled content newsprint manufacturer contacted, including the company name and the name of the company's individual representative or employee.

(f) Use of Proceeds. — The Secretary shall, on or before April 15 of each year, credit the net proceeds of the tax imposed by this section to the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund created in G.S. 130A-309.12. (1991, c. 539, s. 2; c. 761, s. 18; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 1; 1995, c. 459, s. 1; 1997-456, s. 27; 1998-95, s. 11; 1999-346, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, substituted "city" for "municipality" in the last sentence of the last paragraph of subsection (d).

Session Laws 1999-346, s. 1, effective July 1, 1999, inserted "and magazines" in subsection (a); substituted "and magazines recycled" for "that is recycled" in subdivision (b)(8); and in subsection (c), substituted "through 2004" for "and 2000" and substituted "2004" for "2000" in the list of percentages in the first sentence, and inserted "or magazine" and substituted "one ton of" for "one half ton" in the second sentence.

§ 105-103. Unlawful to operate without license.

When a license tax is required by law, and whenever the General Assembly shall levy a license tax on any business, trade, employment, or profession, or for doing any act, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation without a license to engage in such business, trade, employment, profession, or do the act; and when such tax is imposed it shall be lawful to grant a license for the business, trade, employment, or for doing the act; and no person, firm, or corporation shall be allowed the privilege of exercising any business, trade, employment, profession, or the doing of any act taxed in this schedule throughout the State under one license, except under a statewide license. (1939, c. 158, s. 181; 1998-98, s. 41.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 41, effective August 14, 1998, deleted the former Division I designation from sections 105-103 through 105-113, so that Article 2 now contains G.S. 105-33 through 105-113 without any subdivision into Parts.

§ 105-104. Manner of obtaining license from Secretary of Revenue.

(a) Every person, firm, or corporation desiring to obtain a State license for the privilege of engaging in any business, trade, employment, profession, or of the doing of any act for which a State license is required, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, make application therefor in writing to the Secretary of Revenue, in which shall be stated the county, city, or town and the definite place therein where the business, trade, employment, or profession is to be exercised; the name and resident address of the applicant, whether the applicant is an individual, firm, or corporation; the nature of the business, trade, employment, or profession; number of years applicant has prosecuted such business, trade, employment, or profession in this State, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Revenue. The application shall be accompanied by the license tax prescribed in this Article.

(b) Upon receipt of the application for a State license with the tax prescribed by this Article, the Secretary of Revenue, if satisfied of its correctness, shall issue a State license to the applicant to engage in the business, trade, employment, or profession in the name of and at the place set out in the application. No license issued by the Secretary of Revenue shall be valid or have any legal effect unless and until the tax prescribed by law has been paid, and the fact of such shall appear on the face of the license. (1939, c. 158, s. 182; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-105. Persons, firms, and corporations engaged in more than one business to pay tax on each.

Where any person, firm, or corporation is engaged in more than one business, trade, employment, or profession which is made under the provisions of this Article subject to State license taxes, such persons, firms, or corporations shall pay the license tax prescribed in this Article for each separate business, trade, employment, or profession. (1939, c. 158, s. 183.)

§ 105-106. Effect of change in name of firm.

No change in the name of a firm, partnership, or corporation, nor the taking in of a new partner, nor the withdrawal of one or more of the firm, shall be considered as commencing business; but if any one or more of the partners remain in the firm, or if there is change in ownership of less than a majority of the stock, if a corporation, the business shall be regarded as continuing. (1939, c. 158, s. 184.)

§ 105-108. Property used in a licensed business not exempt from taxation.

A State license, issued under any of the provisions of this Article shall not be construed to exempt from other forms of taxation the property employed in such licensed business, trade, employment, or profession. (1939, c. 158, s. 186.)

§ 105-109. Obtaining license and paying tax.

(a) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 13, effective July 1, 1999.

(b) License Required. Before a person may engage in a business, trade, or profession for which a license is required under this Article, the person must be licensed by the Department pursuant to G.S. 105-104. A license must be displayed conspicuously at the location of the licensed business, trade, or profession.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(a), effective January 1, 1999.

(d) Penalties. The penalties in G.S. 105-236 apply to this Article. The Secretary may collect a tax due under this Article in any manner allowed under Article 9 of this Chapter.

(e) Local License Taxes. The penalty and collection provisions of this section apply to taxes levied by counties of the State under the authority of this Article in the same manner and to the same extent as they apply to taxes levied by the State. The provisions of this section for the collection of delinquent license taxes apply to license taxes levied by the cities and towns of this State under authority of this Article, or any other provision of law, in the same manner and to the same extent as they apply to taxes levied by the State. (1939, c. 158, s. 187; 1957, c. 859; 1963, c. 294, s. 5; 1973, c. 108, s. 51; c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 539, ss. 698, 699; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1998-95, s. 13; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(a).)

Local Modification. — City of Charlotte: 1991, c. 64, s. 1.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998'."

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-95, s. 13, effective July 1, 1999, repealed former subsection (a), regarding payment of state license taxes.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(a), effective January 1, 1999, rewrote this section.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-111: Repealed by Session Laws 2001-414, s. 2, effective September 14, 2001.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Editor's Note. — This section, which related to privilege taxes payable in advance and provided for the reduction of taxes levied under certain sections, was derived from Session

Laws 1943, c. 400, s. 2, and was amended by Session Laws 1945, c. 708, s. 2. As the section expired by limitation on June 1, 1947, it has been deleted.

ARTICLE 2A.

Tobacco Products Tax.

Part 1. General Provisions.

§ 105-113.2. Short title.

This Article may be cited as the "Tobacco Products Tax Act" or "Tobacco Products Tax Article." (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1991, c. 689, s. 266; 1998-98, s. 56.)

§ 105-113.3. Scope of tax; administration.

(a) Scope. — The taxes imposed by this Article shall be collected only once on the same tobacco product. Except as permitted by Article 2 of this Chapter, a city or county may not levy a privilege license tax on the sale of tobacco products.

(b) Administration. — Article 9 of this Chapter applies to this Article. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1991, c. 689, s. 268; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(d).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998'."

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, rewrote subsection (b).

§ 105-113.4. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Cigar. — A roll of tobacco wrapped in a substance that contains tobacco, other than a cigarette.

(1a) Cigarette. — Any of the following:

a. A roll of tobacco wrapped in paper or in a substance that does not contain tobacco.

- b. A roll of tobacco wrapped in a substance that contains tobacco and that, because of its appearance, the type of tobacco used in the filler, or its packaging and labeling, is likely to be offered to or purchased by a consumer as a cigarette described in subpart a. of this subdivision.
- (2) Cost price. — The price a person liable for the tax on tobacco products imposed by Part 3 of this Article paid for the products, before any discount, rebate, or allowance or the tax imposed by that Part.
- (3) Distributor. — Either of the following:
  - a. A person, wherever resident or located, who purchases non-tax-paid cigarettes directly from the manufacturer of the cigarettes and stores, sells, or otherwise disposes of the cigarettes.
  - b. A person who manufactures or produces cigarettes or causes them to be manufactured or produced.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 267.
- (5) Licensed distributor. — A distributor licensed under Part 2 of this Article.
- (6) Manufacturer. — A person who manufactures or produces tobacco products.
- (7) Package. — The individual packet, can, box, or other container used to contain and to convey tobacco products to the consumer.
- (8) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (9) Retail dealer. — A person who sells a tobacco product to the ultimate consumer of the product.
- (10) Sale. — A transfer, a trade, an exchange, or a barter, in any manner or by any means, with or without consideration.
- (10a) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.
- (11) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 442, s. 1, effective January 1, 1994.
- (11a) Tobacco product. — A cigarette, a cigar, or any other product that contains tobacco and is intended for inhalation or oral use.
- (12) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 442, s. 1, effective January 1, 1994.
- (13) Use. — The exercise of any right or power over cigarettes, incident to the ownership or possession thereof, other than the making of a sale thereof in the course of engaging in a business of selling cigarettes. The term includes the keeping or retention of cigarettes for use.
- (14) Wholesale dealer. — A person who makes tobacco products other than cigarettes or who acquires tobacco products other than cigarettes for sale to another wholesale dealer or to a retail dealer. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 267; 1993, c. 354, s. 7; c. 442, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.4A. Licenses.

(a) General. — To obtain a license required by this Article, an applicant must apply to the Secretary and pay the tax due for the license. A license is not transferable or assignable and must be displayed at the place of business for which it is issued.

(b) Refund. — A refund of a license tax is allowed only when the tax was collected or paid in error. No refund is allowed when a license holder surrenders a license or the Secretary revokes a license.

(c) Duplicate or Amended License. — Upon application to the Secretary, a license holder may obtain without charge one of the following:

- (1) A duplicate license, if the license holder establishes that the original license has been lost, destroyed, or defaced.
- (2) An amended license, if the license holder establishes that the location of the place of business for which the license was issued has changed.

A duplicate or amended license shall state that it is a duplicate or amended license, as appropriate. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 3.)

§ 105-113.4B. Reasons why the Secretary can cancel a license.

(a) Reasons. — The Secretary may cancel a license issued under this Article upon the written request of the license holder. The Secretary may summarily cancel the license of a license holder when the Secretary finds that the license holder is incurring liability for the tax imposed under this Article after failing to pay a tax when due under this Article. In addition, the Secretary may cancel the license of a license holder that commits one or more of the following acts after holding a hearing on whether the license should be cancelled:

- (1) A violation of this Article.
- (2) A violation of G.S. 14-401.18.

(b) Procedure. — The Secretary must send a person whose license is summarily cancelled a notice of the cancellation and must give the person an opportunity to have a hearing on the cancellation within 10 days after the cancellation. The Secretary must give a person whose license may be cancelled after a hearing at least 10 days' written notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing. A notice of a summary license cancellation and a notice of hearing must be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the license holder. (1999-333, s. 6.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-333, s. 10, made this section effective December 1, 1999, and applicable to offenses committed on or after that date. Session Laws 1999-333 s. 9 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-113.4C. Enforcement of Master Settlement Agreement Provisions.

The Master Settlement Agreement between the states and the tobacco product manufacturers, incorporated by reference into the consent decree referred to in S.L. 1999-2, requires each state to diligently enforce Article 37 of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes. The Office of the Attorney General and the Secretary of Revenue shall perform the following responsibilities in enforcing Article 37:

- (1) The Office of the Attorney General must give to the Secretary of Revenue a list of the nonparticipating manufacturers under the Master Settlement Agreement and the brand names of the products of the nonparticipating manufacturers.
- (2) The Office of the Attorney General must update the list provided under subdivision (1) of this section when a nonparticipating manufacturer becomes a participating manufacturer, another nonparticipating manufacturer is identified, or more brands or products of nonparticipating manufacturers are identified.
- (3) The Secretary of Revenue must require the taxpayers of the tobacco excise tax to identify the amount of tobacco products of nonparticipating manufacturers sold by the taxpayers, and may impose this requirement as provided in G.S. 66-290(10).
- (4) The Secretary of Revenue must determine the amount of State tobacco excise taxes attributable to the products of nonparticipating manufacturers, based on the information provided by the taxpayers, and must report this information to the Office of the Attorney General. (1999-311, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-311, s. 3, made this section effective July 15, 1999. The number of this section was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the number in Session Laws 1999-311, s. 2 having been § 105-113.4B.

Part 2. Cigarette Tax.

§ 105-113.5. Tax on cigarettes.

A tax is levied on the sale or possession for sale in this State, by a distributor, of all cigarettes at the rate of two and one-half mills per individual cigarette. This tax does not apply to any of the following:

- (1) Sample cigarettes distributed without charge in packages containing five or fewer cigarettes.
- (2) Cigarettes in a package of cigarettes given without charge by the manufacturer of the cigarettes to an employee of the manufacturer who works in a factory where cigarettes are made, if the cigarettes are not taxed by the federal government. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; c. 1246, s. 1; 1991, c. 689, s. 262.)

§ 105-113.6. Use tax levied.

A tax is levied upon the sale or possession for sale by a person other than a distributor, and upon the use, consumption, and possession for use or consumption of cigarettes within this State at the rate set in G.S. 105-113.5. This tax does not apply, however, to cigarettes upon which the tax levied in G.S. 105-113.5 has been paid. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1993, c. 442, s. 2.)

§ 105-113.7. Tax with respect to inventory on effective date of tax increase.

Every distributor subject to the taxes levied in this Article who, on the effective date of a tax increase under this Article, has on hand any cigarettes shall file a complete inventory of the cigarettes within 20 days after the effective date of the increase, and shall pay an additional tax to the Secretary when filing the inventory. The amount of tax due is the amount due based on the difference between the former tax rate and the increased tax rate. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 263.)

§ 105-113.8. Federal Constitution and statutes.

Any activities which this Article may purport to tax in violation of the Constitution of the United States or any federal statute are hereby expressly exempted from taxation under this Article. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2.)

§ 105-113.9. Out-of-state shipments.

Any distributor engaged in interstate business shall be permitted to set aside part of the stock as necessary to conduct interstate business without paying the tax otherwise required by this Part, but only if the distributor complies with the requirements prescribed by the Secretary concerning keeping of records, making of reports, posting of bond, and other matters for administration of this Part.

“Interstate business” as used in this section means:

- (1) The sale of cigarettes to a nonresident where the cigarettes are delivered by the distributor to the business location of the nonresident purchaser in another state; and

- (2) The sale of cigarettes to a nonresident wholesaler or retailer registered through the Secretary who has no place of business in North Carolina and who purchases the cigarettes for the purposes of resale not within this State and where the cigarettes are delivered to the purchaser at the business location in North Carolina of the distributor who is also licensed as a distributor under the laws of the state of the nonresident purchaser. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 874; 1993, c. 442, s. 3.)

§ 105-113.10. Manufacturers shipping to distributors exempt.

Any manufacturer shipping cigarettes to other distributors who are licensed under G.S. 105-113.12 may, upon application to the Secretary and upon compliance with requirements prescribed by the Secretary, be relieved of paying the taxes levied in this Part. No manufacturer may be relieved of the requirement to be licensed as a distributor in order to make shipments, including drop shipments, to a retail dealer or ultimate user. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; c. 1246, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 275, s. 2; 1993, c. 442, s. 4.)

§ 105-113.11. Licenses required.

After the effective date of this Article, no person shall engage in business as a distributor in this State, without having first obtained from the Secretary the appropriate license for that purpose as prescribed herein. Any license required by this Article shall be in addition to any and all other licenses which may be required by law. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-113.12. Distributor must obtain license.

(a) A distributor shall obtain for each place of business a continuing distributor's license and shall pay a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the license.

(b) For the purposes of this section, a "place of business" is a place where a distributor receives or stores non-tax-paid cigarettes.

(c) An out-of-state distributor may obtain a distributor's license upon compliance with the provisions of G.S. 105-113.24 and payment of a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 4; 1993, c. 442, s. 5.)

§ 105-113.13. Secretary may investigate applicant for distributor's license and require a bond.

(a) Investigation. — The Secretary may investigate an applicant for a distributor's license to determine if the information the applicant submits with the application is accurate and if the applicant is eligible to be licensed as a distributor. The Secretary may decline to issue a distributor's license to an applicant when the Secretary has reasonable cause to believe any of the following:

- (1) That the applicant has willfully withheld information requested by the Secretary for the purpose of determining the applicant's eligibility for the license.
- (2) That information submitted with the application is false or misleading.
- (3) That the application is not made in good faith.

(b) Bond. — The Secretary may require a distributor to furnish a bond in an amount that adequately protects the State from loss if the distributor fails to pay taxes due under this Part. A bond shall be conditioned on compliance with this Part, shall be payable to the State, and shall be in the form required by the Secretary. The Secretary shall set the bond amount based on the anticipated tax liability of the distributor. The Secretary shall periodically review the sufficiency of bonds required of the distributor and shall increase the amount of a required bond if the bond amount no longer covers the anticipated tax liability of the distributor. The Secretary shall decrease the amount of a required bond if the Secretary finds that a lower bond amount will protect the State adequately from loss. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 5; 1993, c. 442, s. 6.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-333, s. 10, provides that ss. 5 through 8 of the act become effective December 1, 1999, and apply to offenses committed on or after that date.

§ 105-113.17. Identification of dispensers.

Each vending machine that dispenses cigarettes must be marked to identify its owner in the manner required by the Secretary. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 8.)

§ 105-113.18. Payment of tax; reports.

The taxes levied in this Part are payable when a report is required to be filed. The following reports are required to be filed with the Secretary:

- (1) Distributor's Report. — A distributor shall file a monthly report in the form prescribed by the Secretary. The report covers sales and other activities occurring in a calendar month and is due within 20 days after the end of the month covered by the report. The report shall state the amount of tax due and shall identify any transactions to which the tax does not apply.
- (1a) Report of Free Cigarettes. — A manufacturer who distributes cigarettes without charge shall file a monthly report in the form prescribed by the Secretary. The report covers cigarettes distributed without charge in a calendar month and is due within 20 days after the end of the month covered by the report. The report shall state the number of cigarettes distributed without charge and the amount of tax due.
- (2) Use Tax Report. — Every other person who has acquired non-tax-paid cigarettes for sale, use, or consumption subject to the tax imposed by this Part shall, within 96 hours after receipt of the cigarettes, file a report in the form prescribed by the Secretary showing the amount of cigarettes so received and any other information required by the Secretary. The report shall be accompanied by payment of the full amount of the tax.
- (3) Shipping Report. — Any person, except a licensed distributor, who transports cigarettes upon the public highways, roads, or streets of this State, upon notice from the Secretary, shall file a report in the form prescribed by the Secretary and containing the information required by the Secretary.

- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1981 (Regular Session, 1982), c. 1209, s. 1. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1209, s. 1; 1993, c. 442, s. 7; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 2.)

§ 105-113.21. Discount; refund.

(a) Discount. — A distributor who files a timely report under G.S. 105-113.18 and who sends a timely payment may deduct from the amount due with the report a discount of four percent (4%). This discount covers expenses incurred in preparing the records and reports required by this Part, and the expense of furnishing a bond.

(b) Refund. — A distributor in possession of packages of stale or otherwise unsalable cigarettes upon which the tax has been paid may return the cigarettes to the manufacturer and apply to the Secretary for refund of the tax. The application shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary and shall be accompanied by an affidavit from the manufacturer stating the number of cigarettes returned to the manufacturer by the applicant. The Secretary shall refund the tax paid on the unsalable cigarettes, less the discount allowed, to the applicant. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; cc. 1222, 1238; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 442, s. 9; 2001-414, s. 3.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws inserted “and who sends a timely payment” in 2001-414, s. 3, effective September 14, 2001, subsection (a).

§ 105-113.24. Out-of-State distributors to register and remit tax.

(a) The Secretary may authorize any distributor outside this State engaged in the business of selling and shipping cigarettes into the State to obtain a license and report and pay taxes required by this Part.

(b) A nonresident distributor must agree to submit the distributor’s books, accounts, and records to reasonable examination by the Secretary or the Secretary’s duly authorized agents. The Secretary may require a nonresident distributor to file a bond in accordance with G.S. 105-113.13.

(c) Each such nonresident distributor, other than a foreign corporation which has qualified with the Secretary of State as doing business in this State shall, by a duly executed instrument filed in the office of the Secretary of State, constitute and appoint the Secretary of State his lawful attorney in fact upon whom any original process in any action or legal proceeding against such nonresident distributor arising out of any matter relating to this Article may be served, and therein agree that any original process against him so served shall be of the same force and effect as if served on him within this State, and that the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocably so long as any such nonresident distributor shall remain liable for any taxes, interest and penalties under this Article.

(d) Any nonresident distributor who shall comply with the provisions of this section may be licensed as a distributor. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 9; 1993, c. 442, ss. 9.1(a), 9.1(b).)

§ 105-113.26. Records to be kept.

Every person required to be licensed under this Article and every person required to make reports under this Article shall keep complete and accurate records of all sales and other information as required under this Article. The records shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary.

These records shall be safely preserved for a period of three years in a manner to ensure their security and accessibility for inspection by the Department. The Secretary may consent to the destruction of any records at any time within this three-year period. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 442, s. 10.)

§ 105-113.27. Non-tax-paid cigarettes.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, licensed distributors shall not sell, borrow, loan, or exchange non-tax-paid cigarettes to, from, or with other licensed distributors.

(b) No person shall sell or offer for sale non-tax-paid cigarettes.

(c) The possession of more than six hundred cigarettes on which tax has been paid to another state or country, by any person other than a licensed distributor, is prima facie evidence that the cigarettes are possessed in violation of this Part. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1993, c. 442, s. 11; 1999-337, s. 18.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 18, effective July 22, 1999, in subsection (c), substituted "on which tax has been paid to" for "bearing the tax stamp of" and substituted "is" for "shall be."

§ 105-113.29. Unlicensed place of business.

It shall be unlawful for any person to maintain a place of business within this State required by this Article to be licensed to be engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale cigarettes without first obtaining such licenses. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2.)

§ 105-113.30. Records and reports.

It shall be unlawful for any person who is required under the provisions of this Article to keep records or make reports, to fail to keep such records, refuse to keep such reports, make false entries in such records, fail to produce such records for inspection by the Secretary or his duly authorized agents, fail to file a report, or make a false or fraudulent report or statement. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-113.31. Possession and transportation of non-tax-paid cigarettes; seizure and confiscation of vehicle or vessel.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to transport non-tax-paid cigarettes in violation of this Part. The Secretary may adopt rules allowing quantities of non-tax-paid cigarettes, not exceeding six hundred, to be brought into this State by a transient, a tourist, or a person returning to this State after traveling outside this State, for their own use. The possession or transportation of these cigarettes is not subject to the penalties imposed by this section.

(b)(1) Every person who transports non-tax-paid cigarettes on the public highways, roads, streets, or waterways of this State must transport with the cigarettes invoices or delivery tickets for the cigarettes showing the true name and complete and exact address of the consignee or purchaser, the quantity and brands of the cigarettes transported, and the true name and complete and exact address of the person who has paid or who will pay the tax imposed by this Part or the tax, if any, of the state or foreign country at the point of ultimate destination.

(2) A common carrier that has issued a bill of lading for a shipment of cigarettes and is without notice to itself or to any of its agents or employees that the cigarettes are non-tax-paid in violation of this Part is considered to have complied with this Part and the vehicle or vessel in which the cigarettes are being transported is not subject to confiscation under this section. In the absence of the required invoices, delivery tickets, or bills of lading, the cigarettes so transported, the vehicle or vessel in which the cigarettes are being transported, and any paraphernalia or devices used in connection with the non-tax-paid cigarettes are declared to be contraband goods and may be seized by any officer of the law, who shall take possession of the vehicle or vessel and cigarettes and shall arrest any person in charge of the vehicle or vessel and cigarettes.

(3) The officer shall at once proceed against the person arrested, under the provisions of this Part, in any court having competent jurisdiction; but the vehicle or vessel shall be returned to the owner upon execution by the owner of a good and valid bond, with sufficient sureties, in a sum double the value of the property, which bond shall be approved by the officer and shall be conditioned to return the property to the custody of the officer on the day of trial to abide the judgment of the court. All non-tax-paid cigarettes seized under this section shall be held and shall, upon the acquittal of the person so charged, be returned to the established owner.

(4) Unless the claimant can show that the non-tax-paid cigarettes seized were not transported in violation of this Part and that the property seized belongs to the claimant or that in the case of property other than cigarettes, the property was used in transporting non-tax-paid cigarettes in violation of this Part without the claimant's knowledge or consent, with the right on the part of the claimant to have a jury pass upon this claim, the court shall order a sale by public auction of the property seized, and the officer making the sale, after deducting the cost of the tax due, which the officer shall pay upon sale, expenses of keeping the property, the fee for the seizure, and the costs of the sale, shall pay all liens according to their priorities, which are established, by intervention or otherwise, at the hearing or in another proceeding brought for the purpose as being bona fide and as having been created without the lien or having any notice that the vehicle or vessel was being used for the unlawful transportation of non-tax-paid cigarettes, and shall pay the balance of the proceeds to the State Treasurer for the General Fund.

- (5) All liens against property sold under the provisions of this section shall be transferred from the property to the proceeds of the sale of the property. If, however, no one is found claiming the cigarettes, or the vehicle or vessel, then the taking of the cigarettes, vehicle, or vessel, along with a description, shall be advertised in a newspaper having circulation in the county where the items were taken, once a week for two weeks and by notices posted in three public places near the place of seizure, and if no claimant appears within ten days after the last publication of the advertisement, the property shall be sold, and the proceeds, after deducting the expenses and costs, shall be paid to the State Treasurer for the General Fund.
- (6) This section does not authorize an officer to search any vehicle or vessel or baggage of any person without a search warrant duly issued, except where the officer has knowledge that there are non-tax-paid cigarettes in the vehicle or vessel. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 442, s. 12.)

§ 105-113.32. Non-tax-paid cigarettes subject to confiscation.

All non-tax-paid cigarettes subject to the tax imposed by this Part, together with any container in which they are stored or displayed for sale (including but not limited to vending machines), are declared to be contraband goods and may be seized by any officer of the law. The officer shall arrest any person in charge of the contraband goods and shall at once proceed against the person arrested, under the provisions of this Part, in any court having competent jurisdiction. The disposition of the seized cigarettes and container shall be governed by the provisions of G.S. 105-113.31. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1993, c. 442, s. 13.)

§ 105-113.33. Criminal penalties.

Any person who violates any of the provisions of this Article for which no other punishment is specifically prescribed shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1993, c. 539, s. 700; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

Part 3. Tax on Other Tobacco Products.

§ 105-113.35. Tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes.

(a) Tax. — An excise tax is levied on tobacco products other than cigarettes at the rate of two percent (2%) of the cost price of the products. This tax does not apply to the following:

- (1) A tobacco product sold outside the State.
- (2) A tobacco product sold to the federal government.
- (3) A sample tobacco product distributed without charge.

(b) Primary Liability. — The wholesale dealer or retail dealer who first acquires or otherwise handles tobacco products subject to the tax imposed by this section is liable for the tax imposed by this section. A wholesale dealer or retail dealer who brings into this State a tobacco product made outside the State is the first person to handle the tobacco product in this State. A wholesale dealer or retail dealer who is the original consignee of a tobacco product that is made outside the State and is shipped into the State is the first person to handle the tobacco product in this State.

(c) Secondary Liability. — A retail dealer who acquires non-tax-paid tobacco products subject to the tax imposed by this section from a wholesale dealer is liable for any tax due on the tobacco products. A retail dealer who is liable for tax under this subsection may not deduct a discount from the amount of tax due when reporting the tax.

(d) Manufacturer's Option. — A manufacturer who is not a retail dealer and who ships tobacco products other than cigarettes to either a wholesale dealer or retail dealer licensed under this Part may apply to the Secretary to be relieved of paying the tax imposed by this section on the tobacco products. Once granted permission, a manufacturer may choose not to pay the tax until otherwise notified by the Secretary. To be relieved of payment of the tax imposed by this section, a manufacturer must comply with the requirements set by the Secretary. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1977, c. 1114, s. 4; 1991, c. 689, s. 269; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 10.)

§ 105-113.36. Wholesale dealer and retail dealer must obtain license.

A wholesale dealer shall obtain for each place of business a continuing tobacco products license and shall pay a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the license. A retail dealer shall obtain for each place of business a continuing tobacco products license and shall pay a tax of ten dollars ($10.00) for the license. A "place of business" is a place where a wholesale dealer or where a retail dealer makes tobacco products other than cigarettes or a wholesale dealer or a retail dealer receives or stores non-tax-paid tobacco products other than cigarettes. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 270; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 11.)

§ 105-113.37. Payment of tax.

(a) Monthly Report. — Except for tax on a designated sale under subsection (b), the taxes levied by this Article are payable when a report is required to be filed. A report is due on a monthly basis. A monthly report covers sales and other activities occurring in a calendar month and is due within 20 days after the end of the month covered by the report. A report shall be filed on a form provided by the Secretary and shall contain the information required by the Secretary.

(b) Designation of Exempt Sale. — A wholesale dealer who sells a tobacco product to a person who has notified the wholesale dealer in writing that the person intends to resell the item in a transaction that is exempt from tax under G.S. 105-113.35(a)(1) or (2) may, when filing a monthly report under subsection (a), designate the quantity of tobacco products sold to the person for resale. A wholesale dealer shall report a designated sale on a form provided by the Secretary.

A wholesale dealer is not required to pay tax on a designated sale when filing a monthly report. The wholesale dealer shall pay the tax due on all other sales in accordance with this section. A wholesale dealer or a customer of a wholesale dealer may not delay payment of the tax due on a tobacco product by failing to pay tax on a sale that is not a designated sale or by overstating the quantity of tobacco products that will be resold in a transaction exempt under G.S. 105-113.35(a)(1) or (2).

A person who does not sell a tobacco product in a transaction exempt under G.S. 105-113.35(a)(1) or (2) after a wholesale dealer has failed to pay the tax due on the sale of the item to the person in reliance on the person's written notification of intent is liable for the tax and any penalties and interest due on the designated sale. If the Secretary determines that a tobacco product reported as a designated sale is not sold as reported, the Secretary shall assess the person who notified the wholesale dealer of an intention to resell the item in an exempt transaction for the tax due on the sale and any applicable penalties and interest. A wholesale dealer who does not pay tax on a tobacco product in reliance on a person's written notification of intent to resell the item in an exempt transaction is not liable for any tax assessed on the item.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Regular Session, 1992), c. 955, s. 12. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 271; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 955, s. 12.)

§ 105-113.38. Bond.

The Secretary may require a wholesale dealer or a retail dealer to furnish a bond in an amount that adequately protects the State from loss if the dealer fails to pay taxes due under this Part. A bond shall be conditioned on compliance with this Part, shall be payable to the State, and shall be in the form required by the Secretary. The Secretary shall proportion a bond amount to the anticipated tax liability of the wholesale dealer or retail dealer. The Secretary shall periodically review the sufficiency of bonds required of dealers, and shall increase the amount of a required bond when the amount of the bond furnished no longer covers the anticipated tax liability of the wholesale dealer or retail dealer. The Secretary shall decrease the amount of a required bond when the Secretary determines that a smaller bond amount will adequately protect the State from loss. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1991, c. 689, s. 272.)

§ 105-113.39. Discount.

A wholesale dealer or a retail dealer who is primarily liable under G.S. 105-113.35(b) for the excise taxes imposed by this Part, who files a timely report under G.S. 105-113.37, and who sends a timely payment may deduct from the amount due with the report a discount of four percent (4%). This discount covers losses due to damage to tobacco products, expenses incurred in preparing the records and reports required by this Part, and the expense of furnishing a bond. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1991, c. 689, s. 273; 2001-414, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 4, effective September, 14, 2001, in the first sentence, substituted "Part," for "Part and" and substituted "G.S. 105-113.37, and who sends a timely payment" for "G.S. 105-113.37."

§ 105-113.40. Records of sales, inventories, and purchases to be kept.

Every wholesale dealer and retail dealer shall keep accurate records of the dealer's purchases, inventories, and sales of tobacco products. These records shall be open at all times for inspection by the Secretary or an authorized representative of the Secretary. (1969, c. 1075, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 274.)

ARTICLE 2B.

§§ 105-113.41 through 105-113.67: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 4.2, effective July 1, 1999.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 4.2, effective July 1, 1999, provides: "Effective July 1, 1999, Article 2B of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, is repealed. The Secretary shall retain from collections under Article 2 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes the cost of refunding the taxes levied in Article 2B of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Repealed §§ 105-113.43, 105-113.48, 105-113.49, 105-113.54 to 105-113.56C, 105-113.59 to 105-113.62, 105-113.66 and 105-113.67 had been repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 286. Repealed § 105-113.65 had been repealed by Session Laws 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1004, s. 1.

ARTICLE 2C.

Alcoholic Beverage License And Excise Taxes.

§ 105-113.68. Definitions; scope.

(a) Definitions. — As used in this Article, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

- (1) "ABC Commission" means the North Carolina Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission established under G.S. 18B-200.
- (2) "ABC law" means a statute in this Article or in Chapter 18B or a rule issued by the Secretary under the authority of this Chapter.
- (3) "ABC permit" means a written or printed authorization issued by the ABC Commission pursuant to Chapter 18B, other than a purchase-transportation permit. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, "ABC permit" means a presently valid permit.
- (4) "Alcoholic beverage" means a beverage containing at least one half of one percent (0.5%) alcohol by volume, including malt beverages, unfortified wine, fortified wine, spirituous liquor, and mixed beverages.
- (5) "Fortified wine" means a wine made by fermentation from grapes, fruits, berries, rice, or honey, to which nothing has been added other than pure brandy made from the same type of grape, fruit, berry, rice, or honey that is contained in the base wine, and which has an alcoholic content of not more than twenty-four percent (24%) alcohol by volume.
- (6) "License" means a certificate, issued pursuant to this Article by a city or county, that authorizes a person to engage in a phase of the alcoholic beverage industry.

- (7) "Malt beverage" means beer, lager, malt liquor, ale, porter, and any other brewed or fermented beverage containing at least one half of one percent (0.5%) and not more than six percent (6%) alcohol by volume.
- (8) "Person" has the same meaning as in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (9) "Sale" means a transfer, trade, exchange, or barter, in any manner or by any means, for consideration.
- (10) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Revenue.
- (11) "Spirituous liquor" or "liquor" means distilled spirits or ethyl alcohol, including spirits of wine, whiskey, rum, brandy, gin, and all other distilled spirits and mixtures of cordials, liqueurs, and premixed cocktails in closed containers for beverage use regardless of the dilution.
- (12) "Unfortified wine" means wine that has an alcoholic content produced only by natural fermentation or by the addition of pure cane, beet, or dextrose sugar.
- (13) "Wholesaler or importer" when used with reference to wholesalers or importers of wine or malt beverages includes resident wineries that sell their wines at retail and resident breweries that produce fewer than 310,000 gallons of malt beverages per year.
- (14) "Wine" means unfortified and fortified wine.

(b) Scope. — All alcoholic beverages shall be taxed as provided in this Article regardless whether they meet all criteria of these definitions. (1971, c. 872, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 411, s. 1; 1981, c. 747, s. 2; 1985, c. 114, s. 1; c. 596, s. 3; 1993, c. 354, s. 9; c. 415, s. 26; 1995, c. 466, s. 16; 1998-95, s. 14; 1998-98, s. 58.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1971, c. 872, s. 2 added this Article, which contains revenue provisions similar to those formerly appearing in repealed Chapter 18.

Session Laws 1981, c. 747, ss. 1-32, extensively amended this Article so as to bring it into conformity with the revision of the laws governing alcoholic beverages, contained in Chapter 18B, as enacted by Session Laws 1981, c. 412.

Session Laws 1985, c. 114, s. 1, again extensively amended this Article. The historical citations to sections of this Article as it read prior to its 1985 amendment have been added where appropriate to corresponding sections of the Article as amended.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-95, s. 14, effective May 1, 1999, deleted "by the Secretary or" following "Article" in subdivision (a)(6).

§ 105-113.69. License tax; effect of license.

The taxes imposed in Part 3 of this Article are license taxes on the privilege of engaging in the activity authorized by the license. Licenses issued under this Article authorize the licensee to engage in only those activities that are authorized by the corresponding ABC permit. The activities authorized by each retail ABC permit are described in Article 10 of Chapter 18B of the General Statutes and the activities authorized by each commercial ABC permit are described in Article 11 of that Chapter. (1949, c. 974, s. 6; 1951, c. 378, s. 4; 1963, c. 426, s. 12; 1971, c. 872, s. 2; 1981, c. 747, s. 3; 1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 15.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, substituted "Part 3" for "Parts 2 and 3" in the first sentence, deleted "by the State or a local government" following "issued" in the second sentence, and substituted "Chapter 18B of the General Statutes" for "Chapter 18B" in the third sentence.

§ 105-113.70. Issuance, duration, transfer of license.

(a) Issuance, Qualifications. — Each person who receives an ABC permit shall obtain the corresponding local license, if any, under this Article. All local licenses are issued by the city or county where the establishment for which the license is sought is located. The information required to be provided and the qualifications for a local license are the same as the information and qualifications required for the corresponding ABC permit. Upon proper application and payment of the prescribed tax, issuance of a local license is mandatory if the applicant holds the corresponding ABC permit. No local license may be issued under this Article until the applicant has received from the ABC Commission the applicable permit for that activity, and no county license may be issued for an establishment located in a city in that county until the applicant has received from the city the applicable license for that activity.

(b) Duration. — All licenses issued under this section are annual licenses for the period from May 1 to April 30.

(c) Transfer. — A license may not be transferred from one person to another or from one location to another.

(d) License Exclusive. — A local government may not require a license for activities related to the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages other than the licenses stated in this Article. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 16.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, in subsection (a), deleted the former second sentence, which read “All State licenses are issued by the Secretary,” twice inserted “local” preceding “licence,” and twice deleted “State or” preceding “local license”; and in subsection (d), substituted “A local government may not” for “Neither the State nor a local government may.”

CASE NOTES

Commission Decision Granting Permit Preempts Zoning Ordinance. — In case in which petitioner, without objection by respondent board, argued that the decision of the ABC Commission to grant him a permit preempted respondent's denial of his special exception use permit request since the zoning ordinance, upon which respondent's denial was based, attempted to regulate the sale of alcoholic beverages, which is a violation of State law, the trial court did not err in concluding that petitioner, as the holder of a valid ABC permit issued by the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission, was entitled to be issued a city beer license, and in ordering the tax collector of the city to issue any city license. Melkonian v. Board of Adjustment, 85 N.C. App. 351, 355 S.E.2d 503, cert. denied, 320 N.C. 631, 360 S.E.2d 91 (1987).

§ 105-113.71. Local government may refuse to issue license.

(a) Refusal to Issue. — Notwithstanding G.S. 105-113.70, the governing board of a city or county may refuse to issue a license if it finds that the applicant committed any act or permitted any activity in the preceding year that would be grounds for suspension or revocation of his permit under G.S. 18B-104. Before denying the license, the governing board shall give the applicant an opportunity to appear at a hearing before the board and to offer evidence. The applicant shall be given at least 10 days' notice of the hearing. At the conclusion of the hearing the board shall make written findings of fact based on the evidence at the hearing. The applicant may appeal the denial of a license to the superior court for that county, if notice of appeal is given within 10 days of the denial.

(b) Local Exceptions. — The governing bodies of the following counties and cities in their discretion may decline to issue on-premises unfortified wine licenses: the Counties of Alamance, Alexander, Ashe, Avery, Chatham, Clay, Duplin, Granville, Greene, Haywood, Jackson, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Montgomery, Nash, Pender, Randolph, Robeson, Sampson, Transylvania, Vance, Watauga, Wilkes, Yadkin; any city within any of those counties; and the cities of Greensboro, Aulander, Pink Hill, and Zebulon. (1985, c. 114, s. 1.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, violation of a provision of the ABC law is a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1939, c. 158, s. 525; 1971, c. 872, s. 2; 1981, c. 747, s. 32; 1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 701; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-113.74: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 18, effective May 1, 1999.

Editor’s Note. — A former § 105-113.74 was repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 747, s. 8, effective January 1, 1982.

§ 105-113.75: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 19, effective May 1, 1999.

§ 105-113.76: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-95, s. 20, effective May 1, 1999.

§ 105-113.77. City beer and wine retail licenses.

(a) License and Tax. — A person holding any of the following retail ABC permits for an establishment located in a city shall obtain from the city a city license for that activity. The annual tax for each license is as stated.

ABC Permit	Tax for Corresponding License
On-premises malt beverage .....	$15.00
Off-premises malt beverage .....	5.00
On-premises unfortified wine, on-premises fortified wine, or both .....	15.00
Off-premises unfortified wine, off-premises fortified wine, or both .....	10.00

(b) Tax on Additional License. — The tax stated in subsection (a) is the tax for the first license issued to a person. The tax for each additional license of the same type issued to that person for the same year is one hundred ten percent (110%) of the base license tax, that increase to apply progressively for each additional license. (1985, c. 114, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — A former § 105-113.77 was repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 747, s. 11, effective January 1, 1982.

§ 105-113.78. County beer and wine retail licenses.

A person holding any of the following retail ABC permits for an establishment located in a county shall obtain from the county a county license for that activity. The annual tax for each license is as stated.

ABC Permit	Tax for Corresponding License
On-premises malt beverage .....	$25.00
Off-premises malt beverage .....	5.00
On-premises unfortified wine, on-premises fortified wine, or both .....	25.00
Off-premises unfortified wine, off-premises fortified wine, or both .....	25.00

(1985, c. 114, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — A former § 105-113.78 was repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 747, s. 11, effective January 1, 1982.

§ 105-113.79. City wholesaler license.

A city may require city malt beverage and wine wholesaler licenses for businesses located inside the city, but may not require a license for a business located outside the city, regardless whether that business sells or delivers malt beverages or wine inside the city. The city may charge an annual tax of not more than thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents ($37.50) for a city malt beverage wholesaler or a city wine wholesaler license. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 21.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, substituted “thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents ($37.50) for a city malt beverage wholesaler or a city wine wholesaler license” for “twenty-five percent (25%) of the annual tax for the equivalent State license as set by G.S. 105-113.74” in the last sentence.

§ 105-113.80. Excise taxes on beer, wine, and liquor.

- (a) Beer. — An excise tax of fifty-three and one hundred seventy-seven one thousandths cents (53.177¢) per gallon is levied on the sale of malt beverages.
- (b) Wine. — An excise tax of twenty-one cents (21¢) per liter is levied on the sale of unfortified wine, and an excise tax of twenty-four cents (24¢) per liter is levied on the sale of fortified wine.
- (c) Liquor. — An excise tax of twenty-five percent (25%) is levied on liquor sold in ABC stores. Pursuant to G.S. 18B-804(b), the price of liquor on which this tax is computed is the distiller’s price plus (i) the State ABC warehouse freight and bailment charges, and (ii) a markup for local ABC boards. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1987, c. 832, s. 2; 1998-95, s. 22; 2001-424, s. 34.23(c), (d).)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations and Capital Improve-ments Appropriations Act of 2001’.” Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, rewrote subsection (a).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(c), effective December 1, 2001, deleted the last sentence in subsection (c), which read: "This tax is in lieu of sales and use taxes; accordingly, liquor is exempt from those taxes as provided in G.S. 105-164.13(37)."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(d), effective February 1, 2002, in subsection (c), as amended by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(c), substituted "twenty-five percent (25%)" for "twenty-eight percent (28%)."

Legal Periodicals. — For article, "A History of Liquor-by-the-Drink Legislation in North Carolina," see 1 Campbell L. Rev. 61 (1979).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Computation of "Net Profit." — Taxes payable under former § 18-85 were not deductible in computing "net profit" for purposes of determining the tax ceiling. See opinion of Attorney General to Honorable I.L. Clayton, Commissioner of Revenue of N.C., and Mr. W.C. Pickett, Jr., Director, Privilege License Beverage and Cigarette Tax Division, 41 N.C.A.G. 144 (1970), rendered under former § 18-85.

§ 105-113.81. Exemptions.

(a) Major Disaster. — Wholesalers and importers of malt beverages and wine are not required to remit excise taxes on malt beverages or wine rendered unsalable by a major disaster. To qualify for this exemption, the wholesaler or importer shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary that a major disaster occurred. A major disaster is the destruction, spoilage, or rendering unsalable of 50 or more cases, or the equivalent, of malt beverages or 25 or more cases, or the equivalent, of wine.

(b) Sales to Oceangoing Vessels. — Wholesalers and importers of malt beverages and wine are not required to remit excise taxes on malt beverages and wine sold and delivered for use on oceangoing vessels. An oceangoing vessel is a ship that plies the high seas in interstate or foreign commerce, in the transport of freight or passengers, or both, for hire exclusively. To qualify for this exemption the beverages shall be delivered to an officer or agent of the vessel for use on that vessel. Sales made to officers, agents, crewmen, or passengers for their personal use are not exempt.

(c) Sales to Armed Forces. — Wholesalers and importers of malt beverages and wine are not required to remit excise taxes on malt beverages and wine sold to the United States Armed Forces. The Secretary may require malt beverages and wine sold to the Armed Forces to be marked "For Military Use Only" to facilitate identification of those beverages.

(d) Out-of-State Sales. — Wholesalers and importers of malt beverages and wine are not required to remit excise taxes on malt beverages and wine shipped out of this State for resale outside the State.

(e) Tasting. — Resident breweries and wineries are not required to remit excise taxes on malt beverages and wine given free of charge to customers, visitors, and employees on the manufacturer's licensed premises for consumption on those premises. (1963, c. 992, s. 1; 1967, c. 759, s. 24; 1971, c. 872, s. 2; 1975, c. 586, s. 3; 1985, c. 114, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.81A. Distribution of part of wine taxes attributable to North Carolina wine.

The Secretary shall on a quarterly basis credit to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services the net proceeds of the excise tax collected on unfortified wine bottled in North Carolina during the previous quarter and the net proceeds of the excise tax collected on fortified wine bottled in North Carolina during the previous quarter, except that the amount credited to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services under this section shall not exceed three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) per fiscal year. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services shall allocate the funds received under this section to the North Carolina Grape Growers Council to be used to promote the North Carolina grape and wine industry and to contract for research and development services to improve viticultural and enological practices in North Carolina. Any funds credited to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services under this section that are not expended by June 30 of any fiscal year may not revert to the General Fund, but shall remain available to the Department for the uses set forth in this section. (1987, c. 836, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1036, s. 12(a); 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 900, s. 176(b); 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, ss. 25.2(a), 25.2(b); 1997-261, s. 109; 1997-443, s. 14.4; 1999-237, s. 13.7; 2001-475, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-237, s. 1.1, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 1999'."

Session Laws 1999-237, s. 30.4 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-237, s. 13.7, effective July 1, 1999, substituted "one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($175,000)" for "one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000)" in the first sentence.

Session Laws 2001-475, s. 1, effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to distributions made on or after that date, in the first sentence, deleted "ninety four percent (94%) of" and "ninety-five percent (95%) of," and substituted "three hundred fifty thousand dollars ($350,000)" for "one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($175,000)."

§ 105-113.82. Distribution of part of beer and wine taxes.

(a) Amount, Method. — The Secretary shall distribute annually the following percentages of the net amount of excise taxes collected on the sale of malt beverages and wine during the preceding 12-month period ending March 31, less the amount of the net proceeds credited to the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services under G.S. 105-113.81A, to the counties and cities in which the retail sale of these beverages is authorized in the entire county or city:

- (1) Of the tax on malt beverages levied under G.S. 105-113.80(a), twenty-three and three-fourths percent (23¾%);
- (2) Of the tax on unfortified wine levied under G.S. 105-113.80(b), sixty-two percent (62%); and
- (3) Of the tax on fortified wine levied under G.S. 105-113.80(b), twenty-two percent (22%).

If malt beverages, unfortified wine, or fortified wine may be licensed to be sold at retail in both a county and a city located in the county, both the county and city shall receive a portion of the amount distributed, that portion to be determined on the basis of population. If one of these beverages may be licensed to be sold at retail in a city located in a county in which the sale of the beverage is otherwise prohibited, only the city shall receive a portion of the amount distributed, that portion to be determined on the basis of population. The amounts distributed under subdivisions (1), (2), and (3) shall be computed separately.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 2000, c. 173, s. 3, effective August 2, 2000.

(c) Exception. — Notwithstanding subsection (a), in a county in which ABC stores have been established by petition, the revenue shall be distributed as though the entire county had approved the retail sale of a beverage whose retail sale is authorized in part of the county.

(d) Time. — The revenue shall be distributed to cities and counties within 60 days after March 31 of each year.

(e) Population Estimates. — To determine the population of a city or county for purposes of the distribution required by this section, the Secretary shall use the most recent annual estimate of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

(f) City Defined. — As used in this section, the term “city” means a city as defined in G.S. 153A-1(1) or an urban service district defined by the governing body of a consolidated city-county.

(g) Use of Funds. — Funds distributed to a county or city under this section may be used for any public purpose.

(h) Disqualification. — No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1987, c. 836, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 813, s. 5; 1991, c. 689, s. 28(b); 1993, c. 321, s. 26(g); c. 485, s. 2; 1995, c. 17, s. 1; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, s. 25.2(a); 1997-261, s. 109; 1999-458, s. 10; 2000-173, s. 3.)

Local Modification. — Community of Gray’s Creek: 1999-458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002); Community of Union Cross: 1999-458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002).

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 12 provides that s. 1 of the act, which amended § 120-163(c), applies with respect to municipalities for which the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations makes recommendations on or after the date the act becomes law. Sections 1 through 11 of the act, other than the repeal of § 120-169.1(a), do not apply to any community which first filed a petition with the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations prior to July 20, 1999. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law (August 13, 1999.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 10, effective August 13, 1999, added subsection (h). See editor’s note for applicability.

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 3, effective August 2, 2000, added “in the entire county or city” in subsection (a); repealed subsection (b), regarding reduction in the amount distributed; and inserted “Disqualification” in subsection (h).

Part 5. Administration.

§ 105-113.83. Payment of excise taxes.

(a) Liquor. — The excise tax on liquor levied under G.S. 105-113.80(c) is payable monthly by the local ABC board to the Secretary. The tax shall be paid on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which the tax was collected.

(b) Beer and Wine. — The excise taxes on malt beverages and wine levied under G.S. 105-113.80(a) and (b), respectively, are payable to the Secretary by the resident wholesaler or importer who first handles the beverages in this State. The taxes on malt beverages and wine shall be paid only once on the same beverages. The tax shall be paid on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which the beverage is first sold or otherwise disposed of in this State by the wholesaler or importer. When excise taxes are paid on wine or malt beverages, the wholesaler or importer shall submit to the Secretary verified reports on forms provided by the Secretary detailing sales records for the month for which the taxes are paid. The report shall indicate the amount of excise tax due, contain the information required by the Secretary, and indicate separately any transactions to which the excise tax does not apply.

(c) Railroad Sales. — Each person operating a railroad train in this State on which alcoholic beverages are sold must submit monthly reports of the amount of alcoholic beverages sold in this State and must remit the applicable excise tax due on the sale of these beverages when the report is submitted. The report is due on or before the 15th day of the month following the month in which the beverages are sold. The report must be made on a form prescribed by the Secretary. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 23.)

§ 105-113.84. Report of resident brewery, resident winery, or nonresident vendor.

A resident brewery, resident winery, and nonresident vendor must file a monthly report with the Secretary. The report must list the amount of beverages delivered to North Carolina wholesalers and importers during the month. The report is due by the 15th day of the month following the month covered by the report. The report must be filed on a form approved by the Secretary and must contain the information required by the Secretary. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 24; 2000-173, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, rewrote the introductory language in subsection (a), substituting gender-neutral terms, and adding “all of the following” following “state”; substituted “permit holder” for “licensee” in subdivision (a)(1), substituted “permit” for “license” in subdivision (a)(2), inserted “including the number of cases” following “delivered” in subdivision (a)(3), and added subdivision (a)(5); deleted the former second sentence in subsection (b), which read “The report shall specify the size and type of containers sold”; and made stylistic changes.

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 4, effective August 2, 2000, substituted “Report” for “Invoices; report” in the catchline and rewrote the section.

§ 105-113.85. Discount.

Each wholesaler or importer who files a timely return and sends a timely payment may deduct from the amount payable a discount of four percent (4%). This discount covers losses due to spoilage and breakage, expenses incurred in preparing the records and reports required by this Article, and the expense of furnishing a bond. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 5; 2001-414, s. 5.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 5, effective August 2, 2000, deleted the former last sentence, which read, “No discount is allowed on taxpaid beverages given as free goods for advertising.”

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 5, effective September, 14, 2001, substituted “files a timely return and sends a timely payment” for “remits the excise taxes on malt beverages or wine,” and deleted “by him” preceding “a discount.”

§ 105-113.86. Bonds.

(a) Wholesalers and Importers. — A wholesaler or importer shall furnish a bond in an amount of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) nor more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). The bond shall be conditioned on compliance with this Article, shall be payable to the State, shall be in a form acceptable to the Secretary, and shall be secured by a corporate surety or by a pledge of obligations of the federal government, the State, or a political subdivision of the State. The Secretary shall proportion the bond amount to the anticipated tax liability of the wholesaler or importer. The Secretary shall periodically review the sufficiency of bonds furnished by wholesalers and importers, and shall increase the amount of a bond required of a wholesaler or importer when the amount of the bond furnished no longer covers the wholesaler’s or importer’s anticipated tax liability.

(b) Nonresident Vendors. — The Secretary may require the holder of a nonresident vendor ABC permit to furnish a bond in an amount not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000). The bond shall be conditioned on compliance with this Article, shall be payable to the State, shall be in a form acceptable to the Secretary, and shall be secured by a corporate surety or by a pledge of obligations of the federal government, the State, or a political subdivision of the State. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1987, c. 18; 1998-95, s. 25.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, substituted “A wholesaler or importer” for “Each holder of a malt beverage wholesaler license, a wine wholesaler license, or an importer license,” and deleted “to cover his tax liability” following “($50,000)” in subsection (a); and substituted “ABC permit” for “license” in subsection (b).

§ 105-113.87. Refund for excise tax paid on sacramental wine.

(a) Refund Allowed. — A person who purchases wine for the purpose stated in G.S. 18B-103(8) may obtain a refund from the Secretary for the amount of the excise tax levied under this Article. The Secretary shall make refunds annually.

(b) Application. — An applicant for a refund authorized by this section shall file a written request with the Secretary for the refund due for the prior calendar year on or before April 15. The Secretary may by rule prescribe what information and records shall be supplied by the applicant to qualify for the refund. No refund may be made if the application is filed more than three years after the date it is due.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(e), effective January 1, 1999. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(e).)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998’.”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, added the last sentence to subsection (b); and deleted subsection (c), regarding late applications.

§ 105-113.88. Record-keeping requirements.

A person who is required to file a report or return under this Article must keep a record of all documents used to determine information the person provides in a report or return. The records must be kept for three years from the due date of the report or return to which the records apply. (1939, c. 158, s. 520; 1945, c. 903, s. 1; 1971, c. 872, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 747, s. 28; 1985, c. 114, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 6.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 6, effective August 2, 2000, rewrote the section.

§ 105-113.89. Other applicable administrative provisions.

The administrative provisions of Article 9 of this Chapter apply to this Article. (1985, c. 114, s. 1; 1998-95, s. 26.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective May 1, 1999, deleted the former second and third sentences, regarding application of the administrative provisions of Schedule B.

§§ 105-113.90, 105-113.91: Repealed by Session Laws 1985, c. 114, s. 1.

ARTICLE 2D.

§ 105-113.105. Purpose.

The purpose of this Article is to levy an excise tax to generate revenue for State and local law enforcement agencies and for the General Fund. Nothing in this Article may in any manner provide immunity from criminal prosecution for a person who possesses an illegal substance. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 59.)

CASE NOTES

Federal court's view of this section as a criminal penalty prevented the defendant's subsequent drug conviction from being enhanced with a mandatory life sentence. The court found that such enhancement would be unconstitutional where the state had previously assessed and collected a portion of its drug tax against him with respect to the very drugs at issue in the conviction and where the defendant had not waived his double jeopardy claim because it would have been futile for him to have raised it in state court where the drug tax was not considered a criminal penalty. United States v. Anderson, — F.3d —, 2000 U.S. App. LEXIS 10610 (4th Cir. May 15, 2000).

Did Not Result in the Issuance of a Writ of Habeas Corpus. — Because the tax outlined in this section is neither contingent upon arrest, nor assessed on property that has necessarily been confiscated or destroyed and because it allows for anonymous reporting and payment, the state court's finding that this section was not a criminal penalty and its consequent refusal to dismiss the defendant's sentence of imprisonment for trafficking in cocaine, based in part on the same drugs upon which the Drug Tax was assessed, as multiple punishment in violation of the Double Jeopardy clause of the Fifth Amendment did not warrant a writ of habeas corpus although a federal court deciding the issue on direct appeal might have come to a different conclusion. Vick v. Williams, 233 F.3d 213 (4th Cir. 2000), cert denied, — U.S. —, 121 S. Ct. 2596, 150 L. Ed. 2d 754 (2001).

Double Jeopardy. — A judgment entered for unpaid taxes on seized drugs did not preclude, under double jeopardy principles, the defendant's prosecution for controlled substances violations. State v. Adams, 132 N.C. App. 819, 513 S.E.2d 588 (1999), cert. denied, 350 N.C. 836, 538 S.E.2d 570, cert. denied, 528 U.S. 1022, 120 S. Ct. 534, 145 L. Ed. 2d 414 (1999).

The North Carolina Controlled Substance Tax, §§ 105-113.105 through 105-113.113, did not violate the double jeopardy clause as it did not have fundamentally punitive characteristics to render it violative. State v. Crenshaw, 144 N.C. App. 574, 551 S.E.2d 147 (2001).

Because the Department of Revenue's collection of unpaid taxes on seized drugs pursuant to this section did not constitute criminal punishment, subsequent marijuana charges were not barred by double jeopardy. State v. Woods, 136 N.C. App. 386, 524 S.E.2d 363 (2000), cert. denied, 351 N.C. 370, 543 S.E.2d 147 (2000).

Tax Not Punishment. — Assessment and collection of the North Carolina Controlled Substance Tax does not constitute punishment so as to bar subsequent prosecution and punishment for criminal possession of the same drugs. State v. Ballenger, 123 N.C. App. 179, 472 S.E.2d 572 (1996), aff'd, 345 N.C. 626, 481 S.E.2d 84 (1997), cert. denied, 522 U.S. 817, 118 S. Ct. 68, 139 L. Ed. 2d 29 (1997).

The Controlled Substance Tax Is Not a Criminal Penalty. — Whether challenged in a criminal proceeding or a civil proceeding, the drug tax is not a criminal penalty, and the plaintiff was, therefore, not entitled to the procedural safeguards required for criminal proceedings. (But see Lynn v. West, 134 F.3d 582 (4th Cir. 1998).) Milligan v. State, 135 N.C. App. 781, 522 S.E.2d 330 (1999), cert. denied, 531 U.S. 819, 121 S. Ct. 60, 148 L. Ed. 2d 26 (2000).

The controlled substance tax is a criminal penalty, given its high rate of taxation and its deterrent purpose, and thus the state's enforcement scheme must provide the constitutional safeguards that attach to criminal prosecutions. Lynn v. West, 134 F.3d 582 (4th Cir. 1998), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 813, 119 S. Ct. 47, 142 L. Ed. 2d 36 (1998). (But see Milligan v. State, 135 N.C. App. 781, 522 S.E.2d 330 (1999)).

The Tax Injunction Act did not apply to bar the district court from exercising subject matter jurisdiction over the plaintiffs' claims for declaratory and injunctive relief with regard to the controlled substances tax because the tax is in reality a criminal penalty. Lynn v. West, 134 F.3d 582 (4th Cir. 1998), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 813, 119 S. Ct. 47, 142 L. Ed. 2d 36 (1998). (But see Milligan v. State, 135 N.C. App. 781, 522 S.E.2d 330 (1999)).

Cited in State v. Creason, 123 N.C. App. 495, 473 S.E.2d 771 (1996), aff'd, 346 N.C. 165, 484 S.E.2d 525 (1997).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

If money or property is not seized as evidence of a controlled substance law violation, agents of the Department of Revenue may seize it for satisfaction of controlled substance excise taxes without an order from the court having jurisdiction over the criminal offense and without the district attorney's consent provided the seizure otherwise is made in compliance with law. See opinion of Attorney General to Secretary Janice H. Faulkner, — N.C.A.G. — (July 19, 1994).

§ 105-113.106. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Controlled Substance. — Defined in G.S. 90-87.
- (2) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 340, s. 1.
- (3) Dealer. — Any of the following:
  - a. A person who actually or constructively possesses more than 42.5 grams of marijuana, seven or more grams of any other controlled substance that is sold by weight, or 10 or more dosage units of any other controlled substance that is not sold by weight.
  - b. A person who in violation of Chapter 18B of the General Statutes possesses illicit spirituous liquor for sale.
  - c. A person who in violation of Chapter 18B of the General Statutes possesses mash.
  - d. A person who in violation of Chapter 18B of the General Statutes possesses an illicit mixed beverage for sale.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 340, s. 1.
- (4a) Illicit mixed beverage. — A mixed beverage, as defined in G.S. 18B-101, composed in whole or in part from spirituous liquor on which the charge imposed by G.S. 18B-804(b)(8) has not been paid, but not including a premixed cocktail served from a closed package containing only one serving.

- (4b) Illicit spirituous liquor. — Spirituous liquor, as defined in G.S. 105-113.68, not authorized by the North Carolina Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission. Some examples of illicit spirituous liquor are the products known as “bootleg liquor”, “moonshine”, “non-tax-paid liquor”, and “white liquor”.
- (4c) Local law enforcement agency. — A municipal police department, a county police department, or a sheriff’s office.
- (4d) Low-street-value drug. — Any of the following controlled substances:
  - a. An anabolic steroid as defined in G.S. 90-91(k).
  - b. A depressant described in G.S. 90-89(4), 90-90(4), 90-91(b), or 90-92(a).
  - c. A hallucinogenic substance described in G.S. 90-89(3) or G.S. 90-90(5).
  - d. A stimulant described in G.S. 90-89(5), 90-90(3), 90-91(j), 90-92(a)(3), or 90-93(a)(3).
  - e. A controlled substance described in G.S. 90-91(c), (d), or (e), 90-92(a)(3), or (a)(5), or 90-93(a)1.
- (5) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 340, s. 1.
- (6) Marijuana. — All parts of the plant of the genus Cannabis, whether growing or not; the seeds of this plant; the resin extracted from any part of this plant; and every compound, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of this plant, its seeds, or its resin.
- (6a) Mash. — The fermentable starchy mixture from which spirituous liquor can be distilled.
- (7) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (8) Secretary. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (8a) State law enforcement agency. — Any State agency, force, department, or unit responsible for enforcing criminal laws.
- (9) Unauthorized substance. — A controlled substance, an illicit mixed beverage, illicit spirituous liquor, or mash. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1993, c. 354, s. 10; 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1; 1999-337, s. 19; 2000-119, ss. 3, 4.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: “This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 19, effective July 22, 1999, updated the section references in subdivisions (4c)b, (4c)c, (4c)d and (4c)e.

Session Laws 2000-119, ss. 3 and 4, effective December 1, 2000, and applicable to arrests or seizures occurring on or after that date, added subdivisions (4c) and (8a), and recodified former subdivision (4c) as subdivision (4d).

CASE NOTES

Seizure by Filing Certificate of Tax Liability. — Filing a certificate of tax liability following assessment of a controlled substance tax constituted a meaningful interference with possessory interests and thus was a fourth amendment seizure. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

No Probable Cause. — Agents did not have probable cause to believe that plaintiff was a dealer or that he possessed the marijuana forming the basis of the controlled substance tax assessment, and thus they did not have probable cause to seize his property by way of tax assessment and lien. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

§ 105-113.107. Excise tax on unauthorized substances.

(a) Controlled Substances. — An excise tax is levied on controlled substances possessed, either actually or constructively, by dealers at the following rates:

- (1) At the rate of forty cents (40¢) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of harvested marijuana stems and stalks that have been separated from and are not mixed with any other parts of the marijuana plant.
- (1a) At the rate of three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of marijuana, other than separated stems and stalks taxed under subdivision (1) of this section.
- (1b) At the rate of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of cocaine.
- (2) At the rate of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each gram, or fraction thereof, of any other controlled substance that is sold by weight.
- (2a) At the rate of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each 10 dosage units, or fraction thereof, of any low-street-value drug that is not sold by weight.
- (3) At the rate of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each 10 dosage units, or fraction thereof, of any other controlled substance that is not sold by weight.

(a1) Weight. — A quantity of marijuana or other controlled substance is measured by the weight of the substance whether pure or impure or dilute, or by dosage units when the substance is not sold by weight, in the dealer's possession. A quantity of a controlled substance is dilute if it consists of a detectable quantity of pure controlled substance and any excipients or fillers.

(b) Illicit Spirituous Liquor. — An excise tax is levied on illicit spirituous liquor possessed by a dealer at the following rates:

- (1) At the rate of thirty-one dollars and seventy cents ($31.70) for each gallon, or fraction thereof, of illicit spirituous liquor sold by the drink.
- (2) At the rate of twelve dollars and eighty cents ($12.80) for each gallon, or fraction thereof, of illicit spirituous liquor not sold by the drink.

(c) Mash. — An excise tax is levied on mash possessed by a dealer at the rate of one dollar and twenty-eight cents ($1.28) for each gallon or fraction thereof.

(d) Illicit Mixed Beverages. — A tax is levied on illicit mixed beverages sold by a dealer at the rate of twenty dollars ($20.00) on each four liters and a proportional sum on lesser quantities. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1; 1998-218, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Failure to Pay Excise Tax. — Convictions for trafficking in cocaine by possession and for failure to pay excise tax on the controlled substance did not constitute double jeopardy, nor did the punishments imposed upon those convictions violate the prohibition against multiple punishments for the same offense, where the State sought to collect the drug excise tax from defendant in the same prosecution, and where neither of the crimes in question was a lesser included offense of the other. State v. Morgan, 118 N.C. App. 461, 455 S.E.2d 490 (1995).

Tax Not Punishment. — Assessment and collection of the North Carolina Controlled Substance Tax does not constitute punishment

so as to bar subsequent prosecution and punishment for criminal possession of the same drugs. State v. Ballenger, 123 N.C. App. 179, 472 S.E.2d 572 (1996), aff'd, 345 N.C. 626, 481 S.E.2d 84 (1997), cert. denied, 522 U.S. 817, 118 S. Ct. 68, 139 L. Ed. 2d 29 (1997).

Quoted in Lynn v. West, 134 F.3d 582 (4th Cir. 1998), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 813, 119 S. Ct. 47, 142 L. Ed. 2d 36 (1998). (But see Milligan v. State, 135 N.C. App. 781, 522 S.E.2d 330 (1999)).

Stated in Vick v. Williams, 233 F.3d 213 (4th Cir. 2000), cert. denied, — U.S. —, 121 S. Ct. 2596, 150 L. Ed. 2d 754 (2001).

§ 105-113.107A. Exemptions.

(a) Authorized Possession. — The tax levied in this Article does not apply to a substance in the possession of a dealer who is authorized by law to possess the substance. This exemption applies only during the time the dealer's possession of the substance is authorized by law.

(b) Certain Marijuana Parts. — The tax levied in this Article does not apply to the following marijuana:

- (1) Harvested mature marijuana stalks when separated from and not mixed with any other parts of the marijuana plant.
- (2) Fiber or any other product of marijuana stalks described in subdivision (1) of this subsection, except resin extracted from the stalks.
- (3) Marijuana seeds that have been sterilized and are incapable of germination.
- (4) Roots of the marijuana plant. (1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.108. Reports; revenue stamps.

(a) Revenue Stamps. — The Secretary shall issue stamps to affix to unauthorized substances to indicate payment of the tax required by this Article. Dealers shall report the taxes payable under this Article at the time and on the form prescribed by the Secretary. Dealers are not required to give their name, address, social security number, or other identifying information on the form. Upon payment of the tax, the Secretary shall issue stamps in an amount equal to the amount of the tax paid. Taxes may be paid and stamps may be issued either by mail or in person.

(b) Reports. — Every local law enforcement agency and every State law enforcement agency must report to the Department within 48 hours after seizing an unauthorized substance, or making an arrest of an individual in possession of an unauthorized substance, listed in this subsection upon which a stamp has not been affixed. The report must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary and it must include the time and place of the arrest or seizure, the amount, location, and kind of substance, the identification of an individual in possession of the substance and that individual's social security number, and any other information prescribed by the Secretary. The report must be made when the arrest or seizure involves any of the following unauthorized substances upon which a stamp has not been affixed as required by this Article:

- (1) More than 42.5 grams of marijuana.
- (2) Seven or more grams of any other controlled substance that is sold by weight.
- (3) Ten or more dosage units of any other controlled substance that is not sold by weight.
- (4) Any illicit mixed beverage.
- (5) Any illicit spirituous liquor.
- (6) Mash. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1; 2000-119, s. 5.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws applicable to arrests or seizures occurring on or after that date, designated the existing paragraph as subsection (a), inserting "Revenue Stamps" as the subsection (a) heading, and added subsection (b).

§ 105-113.109. When tax payable.

The tax imposed by this Article is payable by any dealer who actually or constructively possesses an unauthorized substance in this State upon which the tax has not been paid, as evidenced by a stamp. The tax is payable within 48 hours after the dealer acquires actual or constructive possession of a non-tax-paid unauthorized substance, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays of this State, in which case the tax is payable on the next working day. Upon payment of the tax, the dealer shall permanently affix the appropriate stamps to the unauthorized substance. Once the tax due on an unauthorized substance has been paid, no additional tax is due under this Article even though the unauthorized substance may be handled by other dealers. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.111. Assessments.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an assessment against a dealer who possesses an unauthorized substance to which a stamp has not been affixed as required by this Article shall be made as provided in this section. The Secretary shall assess a tax, applicable penalties, and interest based on personal knowledge or information available to the Secretary. The Secretary shall notify the dealer in writing of the amount of the tax, penalty, and interest due, and demand its immediate payment. The notice and demand shall be either mailed to the dealer at the dealer's last known address or served on the dealer in person. If the dealer does not pay the tax, penalty, and interest immediately upon receipt of the notice and demand, the Secretary shall collect the tax, penalty, and interest pursuant to the procedure set forth in G.S. 105-241.1(g) for jeopardy assessments or the procedure set forth in G.S. 105-242, including causing execution to be issued immediately against the personal property of the dealer, unless the dealer files with the Secretary a bond in the amount of the asserted liability for the tax, penalty, and interest. The Secretary shall use all means available to collect the tax, penalty, and interest from any property in which the dealer has a legal, equitable, or beneficial interest. The dealer may seek review of the assessment as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1039, s. 2; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 900, s. 20(d); 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.112. Confidentiality of information.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, information obtained pursuant to this Article is confidential and may not be disclosed or, unless independently obtained, used in a criminal prosecution other than a prosecution for a violation of this Article. Stamps issued pursuant to this Article may not be used in a criminal prosecution other than a prosecution for a violation of this Article. A person who discloses information obtained pursuant to this Article is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. This section does not prohibit the Secretary from publishing statistics that do not disclose the identity of dealers or the contents of particular returns or reports. (1989, c. 772, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 702; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1997, c. 292, s. 1.)

§ 105-113.113. Use of tax proceeds.

(a) Special Account. — The Secretary shall credit the proceeds of the tax levied by this Article to a special nonreverting account, to be called the State Unauthorized Substances Tax Account, until the tax proceeds are unencumbered. The Secretary shall remit the unencumbered tax proceeds as provided in this section on a quarterly or more frequent basis. Tax proceeds are unencumbered when either of the following occurs:

- (1) The tax has been fully paid and the taxpayer has no current right under G.S. 105-267 to seek a refund.
  - (2) The taxpayer has been notified of the final assessment of the tax under G.S. 105-241.1 and has neither fully paid nor timely contested the tax under G.S. 105-241.1 through G.S. 105-241.4 or G.S. 105-267.
- (b) Distribution. — The Secretary shall remit seventy-five percent (75%) of the part of the unencumbered tax proceeds that was collected by assessment to the State or local law enforcement agency that conducted the investigation of a dealer that led to the assessment. If more than one State or local law enforcement agency conducted the investigation, the Secretary shall determine the equitable share for each agency based on the contribution each agency made to the investigation. The Secretary shall credit the remaining unencumbered tax proceeds to the General Fund.
- (c) Refunds. — The refund of a tax that has already been distributed shall be drawn initially from the State Unauthorized Substances Tax Account. The amount of refunded taxes that had been distributed to a law enforcement agency under this section and any interest shall be subtracted from succeeding distributions from the Account to that law enforcement agency. The amount of refunded taxes that had been credited to the General Fund under this section and any interest shall be subtracted from succeeding credits to the General Fund from the Account. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 900, s. 20(c); 1995, c. 340, s. 1; 1997-292, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 3.

Franchise Tax.

§ 105-114. Nature of taxes; definitions.

(a) Nature of Taxes. — The taxes levied in this Article upon persons and partnerships are for the privilege of engaging in business or doing the act named.

(a1) Scope. — The taxes levied in this Article upon corporations are privilege or excise taxes levied upon:

- (1) Corporations organized under the laws of this State for the existence of the corporate rights and privileges granted by their charters, and the enjoyment, under the protection of the laws of this State, of the powers, rights, privileges and immunities derived from the State by the form of such existence; and
- (2) Corporations not organized under the laws of this State for doing business in this State and for the benefit and protection which these corporations receive from the government and laws of this State in doing business in this State.

(a2) Condition for Doing Business. — If the corporation is organized under the laws of this State, the payment of the taxes levied by this Article is a condition precedent to the right to continue in the corporate form of organization. If the corporation is not organized under the laws of this State, payment of these taxes is a condition precedent to the right to continue to engage in doing business in this State.

(a3) Tax Year. — The taxes levied in this Article are for the fiscal year of the State in which the taxes become due, except that the taxes levied in G.S. 105-122 are for the income year of the corporation in which the taxes become due.

(a4) No Double Taxation. — G.S. 105-122 does not apply to holding companies taxed under G.S. 105-120.2. G.S. 105-122 applies to a corporation taxed under another section of this Article only to the extent the taxes levied on the corporation in G.S. 105-122 exceed the taxes levied on the corporation in other sections of this Article.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) City. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.

(1a) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.

(2) Corporation. — A domestic corporation, a foreign corporation, an electric membership corporation organized under Chapter 117 of the General Statutes or doing business in this State, or an association that is organized for pecuniary gain, has capital stock represented by shares, whether with or without par value, and has privileges not possessed by individuals or partnerships. The term includes a mutual or capital stock savings and loan association or building and loan association chartered under the laws of any state or of the United States. The term does not include a limited liability company.

(3) Doing business. — Each and every act, power, or privilege exercised or enjoyed in this State, as an incident to, or by virtue of the powers and privileges granted by the laws of this State.

(4) Income year. — Defined in G.S. 105-130.2(5).

(c) Limited Liability Companies. — If a corporation is a member of a limited liability company and the limited liability company's governing law provides that seventy percent (70%) or more of its assets, after payments to creditors, must be distributed upon dissolution to the member corporation or to includible corporations of an affiliated group in which the member corporation is includible, then (i) a percentage of the limited liability company's income, assets, liabilities, and equity is attributed to that member corporation and must be included in the member corporation's computation of tax under this Article, and (ii) the member corporation's investment in the limited liability company is not included in the member corporation's computation of tax under this Article. The attributable percentage is equal to the percentage of the limited liability company's assets, after payments to creditors, that would be distributable to the member corporation under the limited liability company's governing law if the limited liability company dissolved as of the last day of the member corporation's taxable year. In all other cases, none of the limited liability company's income, assets, liabilities, or equity is attributed to a member corporation under this Article. A limited liability company's governing law is determined under G.S. 57C-6-05 or G.S. 57C-7-01, as applicable. The definitions in section 1504 of the Code apply in this subsection.

A taxpayer who, because of fraud with intent to evade tax, underpays the tax under this Article on assets attributable to it under this subsection is guilty of a Class H felony in accordance with G.S. 105-236(7). (1939, c. 158, s. 201; 1943, c. 400, s. 3; 1945, c. 708, s. 3; 1965, c. 287, s. 16; 1967, c. 286; 1969, c. 541, s. 6; 1973, c. 1287, s. 3; 1983, c. 713, s. 66; 1985, c. 656, s. 7; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 853, s. 1; 1987, c. 778, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1015, s. 2; 1989, c. 36, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 981, s. 2; 1991, c. 30, s. 2; c. 689, s. 250; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 3; 1993, c. 12, s. 4; c. 354, s. 11; c. 485, s. 5; 1997-118, s. 4; 1998-98, ss. 60, 76; 1999-337, s. 20; 2000-173, s. 8; 2001-327, s. 2(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 1(i) provides: "This section repeals any law that would otherwise exempt savings and loan associations, as defined in G.S. 54B-4, from the franchise tax imposed in Article 3 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

The subdivision designation (b)(1) was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the designation in Session Laws 1997-118, s. 4, having been (b)(01); former subdivision (b)(1) was renumbered as (b)(1a) at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

The definition of "Income year," referred to in subdivision (b)(4) of this section, is found at G.S. 105-130.2(4a). Session Laws 1993, c. 354, s. 12 originally enacted the definition of "Income year" as subdivision (5); however, this definition was redesignated as subdivision (4a) at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 2(a) provides: "The General Assembly finds that most corporations engaged in business in this State comply with the State franchise tax on corporate assets. Some taxpayers, however, take advantage of an unintended loophole in the law and avoid franchise tax by transferring their assets to a controlled limited liability company. This tax avoidance creates an unfair burden on corporate citizens that pay the franchise tax on their assets. It is the intent of this section to apply the franchise tax equally to assets held by corporations and assets held by corporate-affiliated limited liability companies. It is also the intent of this section to provide that a criminal penalty applies to taxpayers who fraudulently evade the tax."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 4(a) provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by December 1, 2001, on its plans and actions to implement the provisions of this act. In addition, the Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May 1, 2002, and December 1, 2002, on the effects of this act. These reports must include any recommendations the Department has for changes to this act or to other similar provisions in the Revenue Act."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 20, effective July 22, 1999, added the second sentence in subdivision (b)(2).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 8, effective August 2, 2000, designated the former last sentence in the first paragraph in subsection (a) as subsection (a1), and inserted "Scope"; redesignated former subdivisions (a)(1) and (2) as present (a1)(1) and (2); designated the former second paragraph in subsection (a) as present subsections (a2) and (a3); in subsection (a2), inserted "Condition for Doing Business"; in subsection (a3), inserted "Tax Year" and made a minor punctuation change; designated the former third paragraph in subsection (a) as present subsection (a4); and in subsection (a4) inserted "No Double Taxation" and deleted "street transportation systems taxed under G.S. 105-120.1 or" following "G.S. 105-122 does not apply to."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 2(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes due on or after that date, added subsection (c).

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — Assessment of tax under this section against a business trust did not violate the uniformity requirement of N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2, on grounds that it was similar to a limited partnership, which is not subject to the franchise tax. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

What Organizations Are Taxable Under This Section. — This section levies a franchise tax only upon organizations which are (1) corporations as defined within that section, and (2) doing business within North Carolina. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

Corporation. — Under the terms of this section, an organization is properly classified as a corporation for franchise tax purposes when it satisfies three criteria: (1) It is a corporation, association, joint-stock company or any other form of organization for pecuniary gain; (2) it has capital stock represented by shares; and (3) it has privileges not possessed by individuals or partnerships. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

"Capital stock" must be read to encompass ownership interests in all the different types of business organizations potentially subject to the franchise tax. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

Despite the fact that plaintiff was organized as a business trust rather than as an ordinary business corporation, and that its shares of capital stock were designated as "shares of beneficial interest," plaintiff's shares were the functional equivalent of capital stock for purposes of this section. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

Franchise Tax Not Ordinarily Included in Term "Privilege Tax." — While the term "privilege tax" includes franchise taxes as well as license taxes, a franchise is a special kind of privilege constituting a property right, which is ordinarily transferable and exclusive, and involves the use of public facilities. The word "privilege" is too broad, per se, as a classification for taxation, but is usually particularized into licenses and franchises in classifying businesses for taxation, and as used in our taxing statutes, the term "privilege tax" does not ordinarily include franchise taxes. Duke Power Co. v. Bowles, 229 N.C. 143, 48 S.E.2d 287 (1948).

Privileges Not Possessed by Individuals or Partnerships. — By establishing for its trustees and shareholders limited liability for trust obligations, the plaintiff obtained a privilege not possessed by individuals or partnerships for purposes of this section. First Carolina Investors v. Lynch, 78 N.C. App. 583, 337 S.E.2d 691 (1985).

Tax Measured by Amount of Business Transacted. — Whenever a tax is imposed upon a corporation directly by the legislature and is not assessed by assessors, and the amount depends on the amount of business transacted by the corporation, and the extent to which it has exercised the privileges granted in its charter, without reference to the value of its property or the nature of the investments made of it, it is a franchise tax. Worth v. Petersburg R.R., 89 N.C. 301 (1883).

Franchise taxes are imposed for the privilege of engaging in business in this State. The amount of the tax varies with the nature and magnitude of the privilege taxed, the relative financial returns to be expected of the business or activities under franchise, and the burden put on government in regulating, protecting and fostering the enterprise. Southern Bell Tel. & Tel. Co. v. Clayton, 266 N.C. 687, 147 S.E.2d 195 (1966).

Uniformity Required. — The rule of uniformity laid down in N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2, was intended to apply to taxes on franchises. Worth v. Petersburg R.R., 89 N.C. 301 (1883).

Legislature May Make Tax by State Exclusive. — The General Assembly may require a corporation to pay a license tax for the privilege of carrying on its business, and forbid counties or other municipalities to exact any other license tax or fee. Charlotte Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Commissioners of Mecklenburg County, 115 N.C. 410, 20 S.E. 526 (1894).

Cited in Standard Fertilizer Co. v. Gill, 225 N.C. 426, 35 S.E.2d 275 (1945); Secretary of Revenue v. Carolina Tel. & Tel. Co., 81 N.C. App. 240, 344 S.E.2d 46 (1986); Four County Elec. Membership Corp. v. Powers, 96 N.C. App. 417, 386 S.E.2d 107 (1989).

§ 105-116. Franchise or privilege tax on electric power, water, and sewerage companies.

- (a) Tax. — An annual franchise or privilege tax is imposed on the following:
- (1) An electric power company engaged in the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, or power.
  - (2), (2a) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-22, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999.
  - (3) A water company engaged in owning or operating a water system subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission.
  - (4) A public sewerage company engaged in owning or operating a public sewerage system.

The tax on an electric power company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, or power. The tax on a water company is four percent (4%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a water system subject to regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission. The tax on a public sewerage company is six percent (6%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from owning or operating a public sewerage company. A company's taxable gross receipts are its gross receipts from business inside the State less the amount of gross receipts from sales reported under subdivision (b)(2). A company that engages in more than one business taxed under this section shall pay tax on each business. A company is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this section for the company's investments in certain entities in accordance with Part 5 of Article 4 of this Chapter.

(b) Report and Payment. — The tax imposed by this section is payable quarterly, semimonthly, or monthly as specified in this subsection. A return is due quarterly.

A water company or public sewerage company must pay tax quarterly when filing a return. An electric power company must pay tax in accordance with the schedule that applies to its payments of sales and use tax under G.S. 105-164.16 and must file a return quarterly. An electric power company is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment for a semimonthly or monthly payment period if the electric power company timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due for each semimonthly or monthly payment period and includes the underpayment with the quarterly return for those semimonthly or monthly payment periods.

A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month that follows the quarter covered by the return. A taxpayer must submit a return on a form provided by the Secretary. The return must include the taxpayer's gross receipts from all property it owned or operated during the reporting period in connection with its business taxed under this section. A taxpayer must report its gross receipts on an accrual basis. A return must contain the following information:

- (1) The taxpayer's gross receipts for the reporting period from business inside and outside this State, stated separately.
- (2) The taxpayer's gross receipts from commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are sold to a vendee subject to the tax levied by this section or to a joint agency established under Chapter 159B of the General Statutes or a city having an ownership share in a project established under that Chapter.
- (3) The amount of and price paid by the taxpayer for commodities or services described in subsection (a) that are purchased from others engaged in business in this State and the name of each vendor.
- (4) For an electric power company the entity's gross receipts from the sale within each city of the commodities and services described in subsection (a).

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-22, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999.

(d) Distribution. — Part of the taxes imposed by this section on electric power companies is distributed to cities under G.S. 105-116.1. If a taxpayer's return does not state the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts derived within a city, the Secretary must determine a practical method of allocating part of the taxpayer's taxable gross receipts to the city.

(e) Local Tax. — So long as there is a distribution to cities from the tax imposed by this section, no city shall impose or collect any greater franchise, privilege or license taxes, in the aggregate, on the businesses taxed under this section, than was imposed and collected on or before January 1, 1947.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-22, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999. (1939, c. 158, s. 203; 1949, c. 392, s. 2; 1951, c. 643, s. 3; 1955, c. 1313, s. 2; 1957, c. 1340, s. 3; 1959, c. 1259, s. 3; 1963, c. 1169, s. 1; 1965, c. 517; 1967, c. 519, ss. 1, 3; c. 1272, ss. 1, 3; 1971, c. 298, s. 1; c. 833, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 537, s. 3; c. 1287, s. 3; c. 1349; 1975, c. 812; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1097, ss. 2, 16; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 882, s. 4.4; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 813, s. 3; c. 814, s. 10; c. 945, ss. 3, 17; 1991, c. 598, s. 4; c. 689, s. 28(c); 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 2; 1993, c. 321, s. 26(h); 1997-118, s. 2; 1997-426, s. 3; 1998-22, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 72; 1998-217, s. 32(a); 2000-140, s. 62; 2001-427, s. 6(c), (d).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(h), provides: "The Revenue Laws Study Committee may study the reporting requirements for electric power companies and the method by which the franchise tax on these companies is distributed to cities to determine simpler ways to achieve the goals of the current requirements and distribution method. The Committee may ask the League of Municipalities for its recommendations on this issue. The Committee may report its findings to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly."

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 6 (i), provides: "In order to pay for its costs of postage, printing, and computer programming to implement this section [s. 6 of Session Laws 2001-487], the Department of Revenue may withhold not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes during the 2001-2002 fiscal year."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 2, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, deleted "natural gas" from the section heading; deleted subdivisions (a)(2),

(a)(2a), relating to natural gas companies and regional gas districts, and deleted the former second sentence in the paragraph following subdivision (a)(4) which read: "The tax on a natural gas company is three and twenty-two hundredths percent (3.22%) of the company's taxable gross receipts from the business of furnishing piped natural gas"; substituted "company" for "company, a natural gas company, or a regional natural gas district" in the first paragraph of subsection (b) and in subdivision (b)(4); substituted "Chapter 159B of the General Statutes" for "G.S. Chapter 159B" in subdivision (b)(2); substituted "must" for "shall" in the paragraph following subdivision (b)(4); deleted subsection (c), relating to gas special charges; deleted the former last sentence of subsection (e) relating to privilege, license or franchise taxes collected between 1947 and 1949; and deleted subsection (f), relating to gas city exemptions.

Session Laws 1998-217, s. 32(a), effective July 1, 1999, deleted the second sentence in subsection (a), which provided the formula for determining the tax on a regional natural gas district.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 62, effective July 21, 2000, deleted "natural gas companies, and regional natural gas districts" following "companies" in subsection (d).

Session Laws 2001-427, ss. 6(c) and 6(d), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes levied on or after that date, rewrote subsection (b), and in subsection (d) added the second sentence.

Legal Periodicals. — For brief comment on 1949 amendment, see 27 N.C.L. Rev. 482 (1949).

CASE NOTES

Application of Section to Electric Cooperative. — This section taxes billings for electrical service rendered by cooperatives in the same manner as billings for service rendered by investor-owned utilities; therefore, application of this section to an electric cooperative did not violate that entity's rights under N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19, or N.C. Const., Art. V, §§ 2 and 3. Four County Elec. Membership Corp. v. Powers, 96 N.C. App. 417, 386 S.E.2d 107 (1989), cert. denied and appeal dismissed, 326 N.C. 799, 393 S.E.2d 894 (1990), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 1040, 111 S. Ct. 711, 112 L. Ed. 2d 700 (1991).

"Privilege or License Tax" Not Including Franchise Taxes. — The term "privilege or license tax," as used in former subsection (f) prior to the 1949 amendment did not include franchise taxes, it being apparent that the legislature would have used the term "franchise" eo nomine if it had intended to include franchise taxes within the limitation upon taxes to be imposed by cities or towns. Duke Power Co. v. Bowles, 229 N.C. 143, 48 S.E.2d 287 (1948).

"Patronage Capital" as Part of Gross Receipts. — Amounts designated as "patronage capital," defined as the total revenues received by electric cooperative's monthly billings to its members for electrical service rendered, less related operating expenses arising from furnishing such electricity, including interest payments upon any debt capital used in providing electric service as well as depreciation upon operating facilities and equipment, which was determined after the close of the fiscal year, where at the time of rendering bills, the amount of the bill which would go to patronage capital could not be determined, were part of the corporation's gross receipts for the purposes of this section. Furthermore, the corporation could not deduct patronage capital actually repaid from its franchise tax base. Four County Elec. Membership Corp. v. Powers, 96 N.C. App. 417, 386 S.E.2d 107 (1989), cert. denied and appeal dismissed, 326 N.C. 799, 393 S.E.2d 894 (1990), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 1040, 111 S. Ct. 711, 112 L. Ed. 2d 700 (1991).

For history of former subsection (f) prior to 1949 amendment, see Duke Power Co. v. Bowles, 229 N.C. 143, 48 S.E.2d 287 (1948).

Application of Former Statute to Buses for Hire. — A former statute of similar import, but differently worded, was held not to apply to the operation of buses for hire within a city, even though operated on definite routes, unless used in connection with or in substitution for a street railway. Safe Bus v. Maxwell, 214 N.C. 12, 197 S.E. 567 (1938).

§ 105-116.1. Distribution of gross receipts taxes to cities.

(a) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Freeze deduction. — The amount by which the percentage distribution amount of a city was required to be reduced in fiscal year 1995-96 in determining the amount to distribute to the city.

(2) Percentage distribution amount. — Three and nine hundredths percent (3.09%) of the gross receipts derived by an electric power company from sales within a city that are taxable under G.S. 105-116.

(b) Distribution. — The Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the taxes collected under this Article on electric power companies. Each city's share for a calendar quarter is the percentage distribution amount for that city for that quarter minus one-fourth of the city's hold-back amount and one-fourth of the city's proportionate share of the annual cost to the Department of administering the distribution. The Secretary must make the distribution within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter.

(c) Limited Hold-Harmless Adjustment. — The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes on electric power companies and natural gas companies less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year but at least sixty percent (60%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

- (1) Adjust the city's 1995-96 distribution by adding the city's freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies to the amount distributed to the city for that year.
- (2) Compare the adjusted 1995-96 amount with the city's 1990-91 distribution.
- (3) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is less than or equal to the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is zero.
- (4) If the adjusted 1995-96 amount is more than the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is the city's freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies minus the difference between the city's 1990-91 distribution and the city's 1995-96 distribution.

(c1) Additional Limited Hold-Harmless Adjustment. — The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes on electric power companies and natural gas companies less than sixty percent (60%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

- (1) Adjust the city's 1999-2000 distribution by adding the city's freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies to the amount distributed to the city for that year.
- (2) Compare the adjusted 1999-2000 amount with the city's 1990-91 distribution.
- (3) If the adjusted 1999-2000 amount is less than or equal to the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is zero.
- (4) If the adjusted 1999-2000 amount is more than the city's 1990-91 distribution, the hold-back amount for the city is the city's freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies minus the difference between the city's 1990-91 distribution and the city's 1999-2000 distribution.

(d) Allocation of Hold-Harmless Adjustment. — The hold-back amount for a city that, in the 1995-96 fiscal year, received from gross receipts taxes on electric power companies and natural gas companies at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year is the amount determined by the following calculation:

- (1) Determine the amount by which the freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies is reduced for all cities whose hold-back amount is determined under subsections (c) and (c1) of this section. This amount is the total hold-harmless adjustment.

- (2) Determine the amount of gross receipts taxes that would be distributed for the quarter to cities whose hold-back amount is determined under this subsection if these cities received their percentage distribution amount minus one-fourth of their freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies.
- (3) For each city included in the calculation in subdivision (2) of this subsection, determine that city's percentage share of the amount determined under that subdivision.
- (4) Add to the city's freeze deduction attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies an amount equal to the city's percentage share under subdivision (3) of this subsection multiplied by the total hold-harmless adjustment.

(e) Disqualification. — No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999. (1997-118, s. 1; 1997-426, s. 3.1; 1997-439, s. 3; 1997-456, s. 55.5; 1998-22, s. 3; 1999-458, s. 11; 2000-128, s. 2; 2001-430, s. 11.)

Local Modification. — Community of Gray's Creek: 1999-458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002); Community of Union Cross: 1999-458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 12 provides that s. 1 of the act, which amended § 120-16(c), applies with respect to municipalities for which the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations makes recommendations on or after the date the act becomes law. Sections 1 through 11 of the act, other than the repeal of § 120-169.1(a), do not apply to any community which first filed a petition with the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations prior to July 20, 1999. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law.

Session Laws 2000-128, s. 4, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under the statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, substituted "company" for "company, a natural gas company, a regional natural gas district" in subdivision (a)(2), and substituted "companies" for "companies, natural gas companies, regional natural gas districts" in subsection (b).

Session Laws 1999-458, s. 11, effective August 13, 1999, added subsection (e). See editor's note for applicability.

Session Laws 2000-128, s. 2, effective October 1, 2000, and applicable to distributions made on or after that date, inserted "but at least sixty percent (60%) of the amount it received in the 1990-91 fiscal year" in subsection (c); added subsection (c1); substituted "subsections (c) and (c1)" for "subsection (c)" in subdivision (d)(1); and inserted "Disqualification" in subsection (e).

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 11, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, in subdivision (a)(2), deleted "and a telephone company" following "electric power company" and deleted "or G.S. 105-120" following "G.S. 105-116"; in subsection (b), deleted "and telephone companies" following "electric power companies" at the end of the first sentence; inserted "on electric power companies and natural gas companies" in the introductory language of subsections (c) and (d); inserted "attributable to receipts from electric power companies and natural gas companies" in subdivisions (c)(1), (c)(4), (c1)(1), (c1)(4), (d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(4).

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 18, as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 119, provides: "Pursuant to G.S. 62-31 and G.S. 62-32, the Utilities Commission must lower the rates set for telecommunications services to reflect the repeal of G.S. 105-120 and the resulting liability of local telecommunications companies for the tax imposed under G.S. 105-122."

§ 105-120.2. Franchise or privilege tax on holding companies.

(a) Every corporation, domestic and foreign, incorporated or, by an act, domesticated under the laws of this State or doing business in this State which, at the close of its taxable year is a holding company as defined in subsection (c) of this section, shall, pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-122:

- (1) Make a report and statement, and
  - (2) Determine the total amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, and
  - (3) Apportion such outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to this State.
- (b)(1) Every corporation taxed under this section shall annually pay to the Secretary of Revenue, at the time the report and statement are due, a franchise or privilege tax, which is hereby levied, at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the amount determined under subsection (a) of this section, but in no case shall the tax be more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) nor less than thirty-five dollars ($35.00).
- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (1) of this subsection, if the tax produced pursuant to application of this paragraph (2) exceeds the tax produced pursuant to application of subdivision (1), then the tax shall be levied at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) on the greater of the amounts of
- a. Fifty-five percent (55%) of the appraised value as determined for ad valorem taxation of all the real and tangible personal property in this State of each such corporation plus the total appraised value of intangible property returned for taxation of intangible personal property as computed under G.S. 105-122(d); or
  - b. The total actual investment in tangible property in this State of such corporation as computed under G.S. 105-122(d).

(c) For purposes of this section, a “holding company” is any corporation which receives during its taxable year more than eighty percent (80%) of its gross income from corporations in which it owns directly or indirectly more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting stock.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1985, c. 656, s. 39.

(e) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy a franchise tax on corporations taxed under this section. The tax imposed under the provisions of G.S. 105-122 shall not apply to businesses taxed under the provisions of this section.

(f) In determining the total tax payable by any holding company under this section, there shall be allowed as a credit on such tax the amount of the credit authorized under Part 5 of Article 4 of this Chapter. (1975, c. 130, s. 1; 1985, c. 656, s. 39; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 854, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 882, s. 4.2; 1991, c. 30, s. 4; 1998-98, s. 72.)

§ 105-121.1. Mutual burial associations.

An annual franchise or privilege tax on all domestic mutual burial associations shall be due and payable to the Secretary of Revenue on or before the first day of April of each year. The amount of this franchise or privilege tax shall be based on the membership of such associations according to the following schedule:

Membership less than 3,000 .....	$15.00
Membership of 3,000 to 5,000 .....	20.00
Membership of 5,000 to 10,000 .....	25.00
Membership of 15,000 to 20,000 .....	35.00
Membership of 20,000 to 25,000 .....	40.00
Membership of 25,000 to 30,000 .....	45.00
Membership of 30,000 or more .....	50.00

§ 105-122. Franchise or privilege tax on domestic and foreign corporations.

(a) Every corporation, domestic and foreign, incorporated, or, by an act, domesticated under the laws of this State or doing business in this State, except as otherwise provided in this Article, shall, on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the end of its income year, annually make and deliver to the Secretary in the form prescribed by the Secretary a full, accurate, and complete report and statement signed by either its president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary or assistant secretary, containing the facts and information required by the Secretary as shown by the books and records of the corporation at the close of the income year.

There shall be annexed to the return required by this subsection the affirmation of the officer signing the return.

(b) Every such corporation taxed under this section shall determine the total amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits; no reservation or allocation from surplus or undivided profits shall be allowed other than for definite and accrued legal liabilities, except as herein provided; taxes accrued, dividends declared and reserves for depreciation of tangible assets as permitted for income tax purposes shall be treated as deductible liabilities. There shall also be treated as a deductible liability reserves for the entire cost of any air-cleaning device or sewage or waste treatment plant, including waste lagoons, and pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed which reduces the amount of air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and industrial wastes or other polluting materials or substances into the outdoor atmosphere or streams, lakes, or rivers, upon condition that the corporation claiming such deductible liability shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or from a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 certifying that the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program has found as a fact that the air-cleaning device, waste treatment plant or pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed as above described has actually been constructed and installed and that such plant or equipment complies with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program with respect to such devices, plants or equipment, that such device, plant or equipment is being effectively operated in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program and that the primary purpose thereof is to reduce air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and waste and not merely incidental to other purposes and functions. The cost of purchasing and installing equipment or constructing facilities for the purpose of recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste or for the purpose of reducing the volume of hazardous waste generated shall be treated as deductible for the purposes of this section upon condition that the corporation claiming such deductible liability shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources certifying that the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found as a fact that the equipment or facility has actually been purchased, installed or constructed, that it is in conformance with all rules and regulations of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and the recycling or resource recovering is the primary purpose of the facility or equipment. The cost of constructing facilities of any private or public utility built for the purpose of providing sewer service to residential and outlying areas shall be treated as deductible for the purposes of this section; the deductible liability allowed by this section shall apply only with respect to such pollution abatement plants or equipment constructed or installed on or after January 1, 1955. Treasury stock shall not be considered in computing the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as the basis for franchise tax, but shall be excluded proportionately from said capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as the case may be upon the basis and to the extent of the cost thereof. In the case of an international banking facility, the capital base shall be reduced by the excess of the amount as of the end of the taxable year of all assets of an international banking facility which are employed outside the United States over liabilities of the international banking facility owed to foreign persons. For purposes of such reduction, foreign persons shall have the same meaning as defined in G.S. 105-130.5(b)(13)d.

Every corporation doing business in this State which is a parent, subsidiary, or affiliate of another corporation shall add to its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits all indebtedness owed to a parent, subsidiary or affiliated corporation as a part of its capital used in its business and as a part of the base for franchise tax under this section. The term “indebtedness” as used in this paragraph includes all loans, credits, goods, supplies, or other capital of whatsoever nature furnished by a parent, subsidiary, or affiliated corporation, other than indebtedness endorsed, guaranteed, or otherwise supported by one of these corporations. The terms “parent,” “subsidiary,” and “affiliate” as used in this paragraph shall have the meaning specified in G.S. 105-130.6. If any part of the capital of the creditor corporation is capital borrowed from a source other than a parent, subsidiary or affiliate, the debtor corporation, which is required under this paragraph to include in its tax base the amount of debt by reason of being a parent, subsidiary, or affiliate of the said creditor corporation, may deduct from the debt thus included a proportionate part determined on the basis of the ratio of such borrowed capital as above specified of the creditor corporation to the total assets of the said creditor corporation. Further, in case the creditor corporation as above specified is also taxable under the provisions of this section, such creditor corporation shall be allowed to deduct from the total of its capital, surplus and undivided profits the amount of any debt owed to it by a parent, subsidiary or affiliated corporation to the extent that such debt has been included in the tax base of said parent, subsidiary or affiliated debtor corporation reporting for taxation under the provisions of this section.

- (c)(1) After ascertaining and determining the amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, as provided herein, every corporation permitted to allocate and apportion its net income for income tax purposes under the provisions of Article 4 of this Chapter shall apportion said capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to this State through use of the fraction computed for apportionment of its business income under said Article. A corporation that is subject to franchise tax under this Article but is not subject to income tax under Article 4 of this Chapter must apportion its capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits to this State by using the apportionment formula that would apply to the corporation if it were subject to Article 4.

Provided, that although a corporation is authorized by the Tax Review Board to apportion its business income by use of an alternative formula or method, the corporation may not use such alternative formula or method for apportioning its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits unless specifically authorized to do so by order of the Tax Review Board.

Provided, further, that a corporation which is required to pay an income tax to this State on its entire net income shall apportion its entire capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to this State.

- (2) If any corporation believes that the method of allocation or apportionment hereinbefore described as administered by the Secretary has operated or will so operate as to subject it to taxation on a greater portion of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits than is reasonably attributable to business within the State, it may file with the Tax Review Board a petition setting forth the facts upon which its belief is based and its argument with respect to the application of the allocation formula. This petition shall be filed in such form and within such time as the Tax Review Board may prescribe. The Board shall grant a hearing on the petition. The time limitations set in G.S. 105-241.2 for the date of the hearing, notification to the taxpayer, and a decision following the hearing apply to a hearing held pursuant to this subdivision.

At least three members of the Tax Review Board shall attend any hearing pursuant to such petition. In such cases the Tax Review Board's membership shall be augmented by the addition of the Secretary, who shall sit as a member of the Board with full power to participate in its deliberations and decisions with respect to petitions filed under the provisions of this section. An informal record containing in substance the evidence, contentions and arguments presented at the hearing shall be made. All members of the augmented Tax Review Board shall consider such evidence, contentions and arguments, and the decision thereon shall be made by a majority vote of the augmented Board.

If the corporation employs in its books of account a detailed allocation of receipts and expenditures which reflects more clearly than the applicable allocation formula or alternative formulas prescribed by this section the portion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits attributable to the business within this State, application for permission to base the return upon the taxpayer's books of account shall be considered by the Tax Review Board. The Board may permit such separate accounting method in lieu of applying the applicable allocation formula if the Board finds that method best reflects the portion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits attributable to this State.

If the corporation shows that any other method of allocation than the applicable allocation formula or alternative formulas prescribed by this section reflects more clearly the portion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits attributable to the business within this State, application for permission to base the return upon such other method shall be considered by the Tax Review Board. The application shall be accompanied by a statement setting forth in detail, with full explanations, the method the taxpayer believes will more nearly reflect the portion of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits attributable to the business within this State. If the Board concludes that the allocation formula and the alternative formulas prescribed by this section allocate to this State a greater portion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of the corporation than is reasonably attributable to business within this State, it shall determine the allocable portion by such other method as it finds best calculated to assign to this State for taxation the portion reasonably attributable to its business within this State.

There shall be a presumption that the appropriate allocation formula reasonably attributes to this State the portion of the corporation's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits reasonably attributable to its business in this State and the burden shall rest upon the corporation to show the contrary. The relief herein authorized shall be granted by the Board only in cases of clear, cogent and convincing proof that the petitioning taxpayer is entitled thereto. No corporation shall use any alternative formula or method other than the applicable allocation formula provided by statute in making a franchise tax report or return to this State except upon order in writing of the Board and any return in which any alternative formula or other method other than the applicable allocation formula prescribed by statute is used without the permission of the Board, shall not be a lawful return.

When the Board determines, pursuant to the provisions of this Article, that an alternative formula or other method more accurately reflects the portion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits allocable to North Carolina and renders its decision with regard thereto, the corporation shall allocate its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits for future years in accordance with such determination and decision of the Board so long as the conditions constituting the basis upon which the decision was made remain unchanged or until such time as the business method of operation of the corporation changes. Provided, however, that the Secretary may, with respect to any subsequent year, require the corporation to furnish information relating to its property, operations and activities.

A corporation which proposes to do business in this State may file a petition with the Board setting forth the facts upon which it contends that the applicable allocation formula will allocate a greater portion of the corporation's capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to North Carolina than will be reasonably attributable to its proposed business within the State. Upon a proper showing in accordance with the procedure described above for determination by the Board, the Board may authorize such corporation to allocate its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to North Carolina on the basis prescribed by the Board under the provisions of this section for such future years as the conditions constituting the basis upon which the Board's decision is made remain unchanged and the business operations of the corporation continue to conform to the statement of proposed methods of business operations presented by the corporation to the Board.

When the Secretary asserts liability under the formula adjustment decision of the Tax Review Board, an aggrieved taxpayer may pay the tax under protest and bring a civil action for recovery under the provisions of G.S. 105-241.4.

- (3) The proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such corporation so allocated shall be deemed to be the proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such corporation used in connection with its business in this State and liable for annual franchise tax under the provisions of this section.

(d) After determining the proportion of its total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as set out in subsection (c) of this section, which amount so determined shall in no case be less than fifty-five percent (55%) of the appraised value as determined for ad valorem taxation of all the real and tangible personal property in this State of each such corporation plus the total appraised value of intangible property returned for taxation of intangible personal property as herein specified nor less than its total actual investment in tangible property in this State, every corporation taxed under this section shall annually pay to the Secretary of Revenue, at the time the report and statement are due, a franchise or privilege tax, which is hereby levied at the rate of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein provided. The tax imposed in this section shall in no case be less than thirty-five dollars ($35.00) and shall be for the privilege of carrying on, doing business, and/or the continuance of articles of incorporation or domestication of each such corporation in this State. Appraised value of tangible property including real estate shall be the ad valorem valuation for the calendar year next preceding the due date of the franchise tax return. Appraised value of intangible property shall be the total gross valuation required to be reported for intangible tax purposes on April 15 coincident with or next preceding the due date of the franchise tax return. The term "total actual investment in tangible property" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the total original purchase price or consideration to the reporting taxpayer of its tangible properties, including real estate, in this State plus additions and improvements thereto less reserve for depreciation as permitted for income tax purposes, and also less any indebtedness incurred and existing by virtue of the purchase of any real estate and any permanent improvements made thereon. In computing "total actual investment in tangible personal property" there shall also be deducted reserves for the entire cost of any air-cleaning device or sewage or waste treatment plant, including waste lagoons, and pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed which reduces the amount of air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and industrial wastes or other polluting materials or substances into the outdoor atmosphere or into streams, lakes, or rivers, upon condition that the corporation claiming such deduction shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or from a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 certifying that said Department or local air pollution control program has found as a fact that the air-cleaning device, waste treatment plant or pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed as above described has actually been constructed and installed and that such device, plant or equipment complies with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program with respect to such devices, plants or equipment, that such device, plant or equipment is being effectively operated in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program and that the primary purpose thereof is to reduce air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and waste and not merely incidental to other purposes and functions. The cost of constructing facilities of any private or public utility built for the purpose of providing sewer service to residential and outlying areas shall be treated as deductible for the purposes of this section; the deductible liability allowed by this section shall apply only with respect to such pollution abatement plants or equipment constructed or installed on or after January 1, 1955.

(d1) Credits. — A corporation is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this section for a taxable year equal to one-half of the amount of tax payable during the taxable year under Article 5E of this Chapter. The credit allowed by this subsection may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this section for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer.

(e) Any corporation which changes its income year, and files a "short period" income tax return pursuant to G.S. 105-130.15 shall file a franchise tax return in accordance with the provisions of this section in the manner and as of the date specified in subsection (a) of this section. Such corporation shall be entitled to deduct from the total franchise tax computed (on an annual basis) on such return the amount of franchise tax previously paid which is applicable to the period subsequent to the beginning of the new income year.

(f) The report, statement and tax required by this section shall be in addition to all other reports required or taxes levied and assessed in this State.

(g) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy a franchise tax on corporations taxed under this section.

(h) Repealed by Session Laws 1981 (Regular Session, 1982), c. 1211, s. 5. (1939, c. 158, s. 210; 1941, c. 50, s. 4; 1943, c. 400, s. 3; 1945, c. 708, s. 3; 1947, c. 501, s. 3; 1951, c. 643, s. 3; 1953, c. 1302, s. 3; 1955, c. 1100, s. 2½; c. 1350, s. 17; 1957, c. 1340, s. 3; 1959, c. 1259, s. 3; 1963, c. 1169, s. 1; 1967, c. 286; c. 892, ss. 10, 11; c. 1110, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 17; c. 1262, s. 23; c. 1287, s. 3; 1975, c. 764, s. 2; 1977, c. 771, s. 4; 1981, c. 704, s. 18; c. 855, s. 3; 1981 (Reg. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 1(i) provides: "This section repeals any law that would otherwise exempt savings and loan associations, as defined in G.S. 54B-4, from the franchise tax imposed in Article 3 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 18, as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 119, provides: "Pursuant to G.S. 62-31 and G.S. 62-32, the Utilities Commission must lower the rates set for telecommunications services to reflect the repeal of G.S. 105-120 and the resulting liability of local telecommunications companies for the tax imposed under G.S. 105-122."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-22, ss. 8 and 9, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, deleted the last paragraph of subsection (d), relating to a credit authorized by Division V of Article 4 of this chapter, and added subsection (d1).

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 21, effective July 22, 1999, added the last sentence in the first paragraph in subdivision (c)(1).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 12(a), effective September 28, 2001, rewrote subsection (d1).

CASE NOTES

Purpose of Section. — The purpose of this section is to levy a tax upon going corporations for the privilege of doing business in this State. Broadwell Realty Corp. v. Coble, 30 N.C. App. 261, 226 S.E.2d 869 (1976), rev'd on other grounds, 291 N.C. 608, 231 S.E.2d 656 (1977).

Power of Legislature. — It is within the legislative power of taxation, in respect to corporations, to levy any two or more of the following taxes simultaneously: (1) on the franchise (including corporate dividends); (2) on the capital stock; (3) on the tangible property of the corporation; and (4) on the shares of the capital stock in the hands of the stockholders. The tax on the two subjects last named is imperative. Board of Comm'rs v. Blackwell Durham Tobacco Co., 116 N.C. 441, 21 S.E. 423 (1895).

Foreign corporations do business here by comity of the State, and the latter may impose a license tax as a condition upon which such corporations may do business here under the protection of our laws, where such is not an interference with interstate commerce, or the tax is not otherwise invalid. Pittsburgh Life & Trust Co. v. Young, 172 N.C. 470, 90 S.E. 568 (1916).

Tax Is on Privilege of Existence. — By the express terms of Laws 1931, c. 427, s. 210, which was superseded by this section, the corporation was liable for the annual franchise tax for each year during which it enjoyed the privilege of the continuance of its charter. It was immaterial whether or not the corporation exercised its privilege of doing or carrying on the business authorized by its charter or certificate of incorporation; it was liable so long as it enjoyed the privilege granted by the State of "being" a corporation. Stagg v. George E. Nissen Co., 208 N.C. 285, 180 S.E. 658 (1935).

Manner of Assessment of Tax by Secretary. — This section does not require that the Secretary use generally accepted accounting principles in making his determination of the franchise tax. Broadwell Realty Corp. v. Coble, 291 N.C. 608, 231 S.E.2d 656 (1977).

The portion of this section in subsection (a) which states that the tax shall be computed from the "books and records of the corporation" is not a requirement that the Secretary follow the categorizations placed upon the information contained in the books and records. Rather, this section authorizes the Secretary to require such facts and information as is deemed necessary to comply with his duty to assess the franchise tax in accordance with the statute. Broadwell Realty Corp. v. Coble, 291 N.C. 608, 231 S.E.2d 656 (1977).

Subsection (b) clearly does not permit a deduction for future income taxes from the franchise tax base. Broadwell Realty Corp. v. Coble, 291 N.C. 608, 231 S.E.2d 656 (1977).

The plaintiff corporation, having voluntarily elected the installment method of accounting for income tax purposes, may not deduct deferred, potential State and federal income tax liabilities from its franchise tax base under subsection (b) as either "definite and accrued legal liabilities" or "accrued taxes." Broadwell Realty Corp. v. Coble, 291 N.C. 608, 231 S.E.2d 656 (1977).

Corporation Not Relieved of License Tax on Carrying on of Particular Business. — The franchise tax imposed upon every corporation doing business in the State is a tax upon the privilege of being a corporation, and its payment does not relieve it, or its lessee, from the payment of a tax imposed upon the privilege of carrying on the particular kind of business for which the corporation was chartered. Cobb v. Commissioners of Durham County, 122 N.C. 307, 30 S.E. 338 (1898).

Effect of Business Corporation Act (now North Carolina Business Corporation Act) on Section. — It is illogical to assume that the legislature intended by the Business Corporation Act (now North Carolina Business Corporation Act), Chapter 55, to void regulations permitting computation of taxes on the cash receipt basis and thereby outlaw that method of accounting, or to invalidate an accepted method of determining capital and surplus for franchise tax returns required by this section. Watson v. Watson Seed Farms, Inc., 253 N.C. 238, 116 S.E.2d 716 (1961).

Textile finishing plant engaged in processing by mechanical and chemical means, for a fee on a contractual basis, unfinished textile goods owned by others into finished textile goods with qualities and characteristics different from those of the unfinished material is engaged in manufacturing within the purview of this section for the purpose of computing its franchise tax liability. Sayles Biltmore Bleacheries, Inc. v. Johnson, 266 N.C. 692, 147 S.E.2d 177 (1966).

Quoted in Duke Power Co. v. Bowles, 229 N.C. 143, 48 S.E.2d 287 (1948).

§ 105-123: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 30, s. 1.

§ 105-125. Exempt corporations.

(a) Exemptions. — The following corporations are exempt from the taxes levied by this Article. Upon request of the Secretary, an exempt corporation must establish its claim for exemption in writing:

- (1) A charitable, religious, fraternal, benevolent, scientific, or educational corporation not operated for profit.
- (2) An insurance company subject to tax under Article 8B of this Chapter.
- (3) A mutual ditch or irrigation association, a mutual or cooperative telephone association or company, a mutual canning association, a cooperative breeding association, or a similar corporation of a purely local character deriving receipts solely from assessments, dues, or fees collected from members for the sole purpose of meeting expenses.
- (4) A cooperative marketing association that operates solely for the purpose of marketing the products of members or other farmers and returns to the members and farmers the proceeds of sales, less the association's necessary operating expenses, including interest and dividends on capital stock, on the basis of the quantity of product furnished by them. The association's operations may include activities directly related to these marketing activities.
- (5) A production credit association organized under the federal Farm Credit Act of 1933.
- (6) A club organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, or other nonprofit purposes, a civic league operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare, a business league, or a board of trade.
- (7) A chamber of commerce or merchants' association not organized for profit, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of a private stockholder, an individual, or another corporation.

- (8) An organization, such as a condominium association, a homeowners' association, or a cooperative housing corporation not organized for profit, the membership of which is limited to the owners or occupants of residential units in the condominium, housing development, or cooperative housing corporation. To qualify for the exemption, the organization must be operated exclusively for the management, operation, preservation, maintenance, or landscaping of the residential units owned by the organization or its members or of the common areas and facilities that are contiguous to the residential units and owned by the organization or by its members. To qualify for the exemption, no part of the net earnings of the organization may inure, other than through the performance of related services for the members of the organization, to the benefit of any person.
- (9) Except as otherwise provided by law, an organization exempt from federal income tax under the Code.

Provided, that an entity that qualifies as a real estate mortgage investment conduit, as defined in section 860D of the Code, is exempt from all of the taxes levied in this Article. Upon request by the Secretary of Revenue, a real estate mortgage investment conduit must establish in writing its qualification for this exemption.

(b) Certain Investment Companies. — A corporation doing business in North Carolina that qualifies as a "regulated investment company" under section 851 of the Code or as a "real estate investment trust" under section 856 of the Code and elects for federal income tax purposes to be treated as a "regulated investment company" or as a "real estate investment trust," may, in determining its basis for franchise tax, deduct the aggregate market value of its investments in the stocks, bonds, debentures, or other securities or evidences of debt of other corporations, partnerships, individuals, municipalities, governmental agencies, or governments. (1939, c. 158, s. 213; 1951, c. 937, s. 3; 1955, c. 1313, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, s. 3; 1963, c. 601, s. 3; c. 1169, s. 1; 1967, c. 1110, s. 2; 1971, c. 820, s. 3; c. 833, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1053, s. 2; c. 1287, s. 3; 1975, c. 591, s. 1; 1983, c. 28, s. 2; c. 713, s. 67; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 826, s. 4; 1991, c. 30, s. 6; 1993, c. 485, s. 4; c. 494, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 494, s. 1, added the proviso at the end of subsection (a). The amendment, however, was made to the version of the section in effect before its complete revision by Session Laws 1993, c. 485, s. 4. This section has been set out in the form above at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

§ 105-127. When franchise or privilege taxes payable.

(a) Every corporation, domestic or foreign, from which a report is required by law to be made to the Secretary of Revenue, shall, unless otherwise provided, pay to said Secretary annually the franchise tax as required by G.S. 105-122.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 78, effective August 14, 1998.

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officer having charge of any such corporation, domestic or foreign, upon which a tax is herein imposed, to transmit the amount of the tax due to the Secretary of Revenue within the time provided by law for payment of same.

(d) Individual stockholders in any corporation, joint-stock association, limited partnership, or company paying a tax on its entire capital stock shall not be required to list or pay ad valorem taxes on the shares of stock owned by them.

(e) Corporations in the State legally holding shares of stock in other corporations, upon which the tax has been paid to the State by the corporation issuing the same, shall not be required to list or pay an ad valorem tax on said shares of stock.

(f) After the end of the income year in which a domestic corporation is dissolved pursuant to Article 14 of Chapter 55 of the General Statutes, the corporation is no longer subject to the tax levied in this Article unless the Secretary of Revenue finds that the corporation has engaged in business activities in this State not appropriate to winding up and liquidating its business and affairs. (1939, c. 158, s. 215; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 30, s. 7; 1993, c. 485, s. 6; 1998-98, s. 78.)

§ 105-128. Power of attorney.

The Secretary of Revenue shall have the authority to require a proper power of attorney of each and every agent for any taxpayer under this Article. (1939, c. 158, s. 217; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-129. Extension of time for filing returns.

A return required by this Article is due on or before the date set in this Article. A taxpayer may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263. (1939, c. 158, s. 216; 1955, c. 1350, s. 17; 1959, c. 1259, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 1114, s. 6; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 7; 1997-300, s. 2.)

ARTICLE 3A.

Tax Incentives For New And Expanding Businesses.

(See Editor's note for repeal of this Article.)

§ 105-129.2. (See Editor's note for repeal) Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Air courier services. — The furnishing of air delivery of individually addressed letters and packages for compensation, except by the United States Postal Service.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2000-56, ss. 5(a), 5(b); 2000-173, s. 1(a); 2001-476, s. 1(a), (b).)

Article Repealed Effective January 1, 2006. — This Article is repealed effective for applications for credits filed under § 105-129.6 on or after January 1, 2006. See § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.2(3), made this Article effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, and applicable to jobs created on or after August 1, 1996, and property placed in service on or after August 1, 1996, except for G.S. 105-129.11, which is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1997, and applicable to training expenditures made on or after July 1, 1997.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.11, provides that, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if a taxpayer relocates an employee to this State during 1996, any in-house research expenses the taxpayer incurs with respect to that employee during 1996, either before or after relocation, are considered in-house research expenses in this State for purposes of this section, and further provides that if the federal tax credit for increasing research activities that was formerly allowed under s. 41 of the Code is reenacted, the credit for research and development allowed in Article 3A of this Chapter becomes effective for the same taxable year for which the reenacted federal credit becomes effective.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 1(a) amended Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.2(3), as amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 1, to provide for repeal of this Article as provided within the Article.

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 1(b), codified Session Laws 1997-277, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 18.1, as § 105-129.2A(b), (c), and (d).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 22 makes subdivisions (3a) and (5a) of § 105-129.2, as enacted by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Session Laws 1999-360, s. 23 makes § 105-129.2(2)b, as enacted by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective retroactively as of January 1, 1999. The remaining amendments to § 105-129.2 by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2 are effective August 4, 1999.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 1(c) provides: "Subsection (a) of this section is effective when it becomes law. The General Assembly finds that the amendments to G.S. 105-129.2 made by subsection (a) of this section clarify the intent of the existing law and do not represent a change in the law. Subsection (b) of this section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001."

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 7(a), effective November 29, 2001, provides: "The General Assembly finds that the purpose of Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is to encourage the creation of new quality jobs and to encourage new investment in machinery and equipment, research and development, and real property. The General Assembly further finds that allowing taxpayers to file amended returns and retroactively claim credits under that Article does not further this purpose of encouraging job creation and new investment."

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 15(a), effective November 29, 2001, provided: "As part of its ongoing review of business tax incentives, including those under Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, the Revenue Laws Study Committee shall study the tax rate structure relating to sales of electricity to manufacturers. This study shall include a thorough review of the legal and fiscal effects of exempting all electricity sold to manufacturers from the sales and use tax, of exempting electricity used by a manufacturer in certain processes or furnaces from the sales and use tax, and of creating a graduated tax rate structure for sales of electricity to manufacturers. The Revenue Laws Study Committee shall make an interim report of its findings and recommendations to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly and shall make a final report of its findings and recommendations to the

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 15(c), effective November 29, 2001, provided: “As part of its ongoing review of business tax incentives, including those under Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, the Revenue Laws Study Committee shall study the tax rate structure relating to sales of piped natural gas to manufacturers. This study shall include a thorough review of the legal and fiscal effects of exempting all piped natural gas received by a manufacturer from the piped natural gas excise tax, and of exempting piped natural gas that is used by a manufacturer in certain processes or furnaces from the piped natural gas excise tax. The Revenue Laws Study Committee shall make an interim report of its findings and recommendations to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly and shall make a final report of its findings and recommendations to the 2003 General Assembly.”

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(c), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 123, provides: “This section is effective for business activities occurring on or after January 1, 2002. In addition, this section applies to business activities occurring before January 1, 2002, for which no application has been filed with the Department of Commerce as of January 1, 2003. For business activities occurring before January 1, 2002, for which no application for certification has been filed as of January 1, 2002, the taxpayer must file an application pursuant to G.S. 105-129.6, accompanied by any required fee, with the Department of Commerce. The Department of Commerce shall not make a determination regarding eligibility for credits under Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes based on the application and shall not issue a certification, but shall instead mark on the application that the fee has been paid and return the application to the taxpayer. The taxpayer must then submit the application along with the relevant tax return. The relevant tax return is the first return on which the credit is claimed if that return is an amended return. In all other cases, the relevant return is the next return filed by the taxpayer. The Department of Commerce shall retain one-fourth of these fees collected during the 2002 calendar year for the costs of administering Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and shall credit the remaining proceeds of these fees to the Department of Revenue for the costs of auditing and administering Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. The proceeds of these fees are receipts of the Department to which they are credited.”

The definitions of “Computer Services” and “Cost” were renumbered at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes to preserve alphabetical order.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, rewrote the section.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, rewrote subdivisions (2), (4), (11), and (13), added subdivisions (3a), (5a), (11a) and (14), and inserted “equipment” following “machinery” in subdivision (10). For effective date provisions, see Editor’s note.

Session Laws 2000-56, ss. 5(a) and 5(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, in subdivision (2), substituted “Central office or aircraft facility” for “Central administrative office” as the subdivision heading, substituted “Any” for “Either” in the introductory language, deleted the last sentence of subdivision (2)b., pertaining to the definitions of “hub” and “interstate passenger air carrier,” and added subdivision (2)c.; and added subdivisions (8) and (8a).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 1(a) and (b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, rewrote the section.

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Regarding an amendment which would extend existing tax benefits to establishments retailing merchandise by mail or electronic media, see opinion of Attorney General to The Honorable Bill Owens, North Carolina General Assembly, N.C. General Assembly, 1999 N.C.A.G. 18 (6/23/99).

§ 105-129.2A. (See Editor’s note for repeal) Sunset; studies.

(a) Sunset. — This Article is repealed effective for business activities that occur on or after January 1, 2006.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(b) Equity Study. — The Department of Commerce shall study the effect of the tax incentives provided in this Article on tax equity. This study shall include the following:

- (1) Reexamining the formula in G.S. 105-129.3(b) used to define enterprise tiers, to include consideration of alternative measures for more equitable treatment of counties in similar economic circumstances.
- (2) Considering whether the assignment of tiers and the applicable thresholds are equitable for smaller counties, for example those under 50,000 in population.
- (3) Compiling any available data on whether expanding North Carolina businesses receive fewer benefits than out-of-State businesses that locate to North Carolina.

(c) Impact Study. — The Department of Commerce shall study the effectiveness of the tax incentives provided in this Article. This study shall include:

- (1) Study of the distribution of tax incentives across new and expanding industries.
- (2) Examination of data on economic recruitment for the period from 1994 through the most recent year for which data are available by county, by industry type, by size of investment, and by number of jobs, and other relevant information to determine the pattern of business locations and expansions before and after the enactment of the William S. Lee Act incentives.
- (3) Measuring the direct costs and benefits of the tax incentives.
- (4) Compiling available information on the current use of incentives by other states and whether that use is increasing or declining.

(d) Report. — The Department of Commerce shall report the results of these studies and its recommendations to the General Assembly biennially with the first report due by April 1, 2001. (1997-277, s. 4; 1999-360, s. 18.1; 2000-173, ss. 1(b), 1(c); 2001-476, s. 2(a).)

Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-173, ss. 1(b) and (c), effective August 2, 2000, codified Session Laws 1997-277, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 18.1, as subsections (b), (c), and (d) of this section, adding subsection headings, and added subsection (a); and in subsections (b) and (c), substituted "this Article" for "the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act, codified as Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-476, s. 2(a), effective November 29, 2001, substituted "business activities that occur" for "applications for credits filed under G.S. 105-129.6" in subsection (a); in subdivision (c)(2), inserted "from" preceding "1994," and substituted "the most recent year for which data are available" for "2000"; and in subsection (d), deleted "2001" preceding "General Assembly," and added "biennially with the first report due."

§ 105-129.3. (See Editor's note for repeal) Enterprise tier designation.

(a) Tiers Defined. — An enterprise tier one area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the 10 highest in the State. An enterprise tier two area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 15 highest in the State. An enterprise tier three area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier four area is a county whose enterprise factor is one of the next 25 highest in the State. An enterprise tier five area is any area that is not in a lower-numbered enterprise tier.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(b) Annual Designation. — Each year, on or before December 31, the Secretary of Commerce shall assign to each county in the State an enterprise factor that is the sum of the following:

- (1) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average rate of unemployment from lowest to highest, for the preceding three years.
- (2) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by average per capita income from highest to lowest, for the preceding three years.
- (3) The county's rank in a ranking of counties by percentage growth in population from highest to lowest.

The Secretary of Commerce shall then rank all the counties within the State according to their enterprise factor from highest to lowest, identify all the areas of the State by enterprise tier, and publish this information. An enterprise tier designation is effective only for the calendar year following the designation.

(b1) Data. — In measuring rates of unemployment and per capita income, the Secretary shall use the latest available data published by a State or federal agency generally recognized as having expertise concerning the data. In measuring population and population growth, the Secretary shall use the most recent estimates of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

(c) Exception for Enterprise Tier One and Two Areas. — Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a county designated as an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area may not be redesignated as a higher-numbered enterprise tier area until it has been in its enterprise tier area for at least two consecutive years.

(d) Exception for Two-County Industrial Park. — For the purpose of this Article, an eligible two-county industrial park has the lower enterprise tier designation of the designations of the two counties in which it is located if it meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) It is located in two contiguous counties, one of which has a lower enterprise tier designation than the other.
- (2) At least one-third of the park is located in the county with the lower tier designation.
- (3) It is owned by the two counties or a joint agency of the counties.
- (4) The county with the lower tier designation contributed at least the lesser of one-half of the cost of developing the park or a proportion of the cost of developing the park equal to the proportion of land in the park located in the county with the lower tier designation.

(e) Exceptions for Certain Small Counties. — The following exceptions to the provisions of this section apply to small counties:

- (1) A county that meets both of the conditions set out below is designated an enterprise tier one area:
  - a. Its population is less than 12,000.
  - b. More than sixteen percent (16%) of its population is below the federal poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
- (2) A county that meets both of the conditions set out below has an enterprise tier designation one level below the designation it would otherwise have under subsection (a) of this section:
  - a. Its population is less than 50,000.
  - b. More than eighteen percent (18%) of its population is below the federal poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
- (3) A county that has a population of less than 35,000 and that would otherwise be designated an enterprise tier four or five area under this section must be designated an enterprise tier three area. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, s. 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 1999-456, s. 64; 2000-73, s. 1; 2001-94, s. 1; 2001-476, s. 3(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 22 makes subdivisions (3a) and (5a) of § 105-129.2, as enacted by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Session Laws 1999-360, s. 23 makes § 105-129.2(2)b, as enacted by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective retroactively as of January 1, 1999. The remaining amendments to § 105-129.2 by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2 are effective August 4, 1999.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-73, s. 2, makes the amendment by Session Laws 2000-73, s. 1 effective June 30, 2000, and, notwithstanding G.S. 105-129.3(b), applicable retroactively to designations for the 2000 and later calendar years.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subsection (d).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective August 4, 1999, added the subsection (b1) designation, and in subsection (b1), added the subsection catchline "Data," and inserted "and population" preceding "growth".

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, as amended by Session Laws 1999-456, s. 64, made effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 24, added subsection (e).

Session Laws 2000-73, s. 1, in subsection (c), inserted "and Two" in the subsection catchline, substituted "a county designated as an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area" for "an enterprise tier one area," and substituted "been in its enterprise tier area" for "been an enterprise tier area." See editor's note for applicability and effective date.

Session Laws 2001-94, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, deleted "that meets all of the following conditions" following "industrial park" and substituted "in which it is located if it meets all of the following conditions" for "in which it is located" in the introductory language of subsection (d); and in subdivision (d)(4) inserted "the lesser of" preceding "one-half" and added "or a proportion of the cost of developing the park equal to the proportion of land in the park located in the county with the lower tier designation" at the end thereof.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 3(a), effective November 29, 2001, and applicable to tier designations made on or after that date, substituted "publish this information" for "provide this information to the Secretary of Revenue" in the final paragraph of subsection (b); substituted "12,000" for "10,000" in subdivision (e)(1)a.; and substituted "35,000" for "25,000" in subdivision (e)(3).

§ 105-129.3A. (See Editor's note for repeal) Development zone designation.

(a) Development Zone Defined. — A development zone is an area comprised of one or more contiguous census tracts, census block groups, or both in the most recent federal decennial census that meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) Every census tract and census block group in the zone is located in whole or in part within the primary corporate limits of a city with a population of more than 5,000 according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.
- (2) It has a population of 1,000 or more according to the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.
- (3) More than twenty percent (20%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
- (4) Every census tract and census block group in the zone meets at least one of the following conditions:

Article 3A has a delayed repealed date. See notes.

- a. More than ten percent (10%) of its population is below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
  - b. It is immediately adjacent to another census tract or census block group that is in the same zone and has more than twenty percent (20%) of its population below the poverty level according to the most recent federal decennial census.
- (5) None of the census tracts or census block groups in the zone is located in another development zone designated by the Secretary of Commerce.

(b) Designation. — Upon request of a taxpayer or a local government, the Secretary of Commerce shall designate whether an area is a development zone that meets the conditions of subsection (a) of this section. If the applicant is a taxpayer, it must notify each city in which part of the zone is located. A development zone designation is effective for 24 months following the designation. The Department of Commerce must publish annually a list of all development zones with a description of their boundaries.

(c) Relationship With Enterprise Tiers. — For the purpose of the wage standard requirement of G.S. 105-129.4, the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed in G.S. 105-129.9, and the credit for worker training allowed in G.S. 105-129.11, a development zone is considered an enterprise tier one area. For all other purposes, a development zone has the same enterprise tier designation as the county in which it is located. (1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2001-414, s. 6; 2001-476, s. 4(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-55, s. 1, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 25, provides that notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) of G.S. 105-129.3A, a development zone designation made in 1998 or 1999 is effective until January 1, 2001.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

1999-360, s. 2, effective August 1, 1999, and applicable to applications filed on or after that date, in subdivision (a)(1), substituted "Every census tract and census block group in the zone" for "It", inserted "within the primary corporate limits of" and deleted "in" preceding "a city with"; added subdivisions (a)(4) and (a)(5); and in subsection (b), inserted the present second sentence, and substituted "24 months" for "48 months" in the present third sentence.

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 6, effective September 14, 2001, substituted "G.S. 105-129.4" for "G.S. 105.129.3(b)" in subsection (c).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 4(a), effective November 29, 2001, added the final sentence in subsection (b).

§ 105-129.4. (See Editor's note for repeal) Eligibility; forfeiture.

(a) Type of Business. — The following conditions apply in determining a taxpayer's eligibility for the credits in this Article:

- (1) Central office or aircraft facility. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article if it operates a central office or aircraft facility that creates at least 40 new jobs and the jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that office or facility.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- (2) Single business. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article other than by G.S. 105-129.12 if the primary business of the taxpayer is one of the following types of businesses and the jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business:
- a. Air courier services.
  - b. Data processing.
- (3) Multiple business. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article other than by G.S. 105-129.12 if the primary business of the taxpayer is one of the following types of businesses and the jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in any of the following types of businesses:
- a. Manufacturing.
  - b. Warehousing.
  - c. Wholesale trade.
- (4) Single establishment. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article other than by G.S. 105-129.12 if the primary business of the taxpayer or the primary activity of an establishment of the taxpayer is one of the following types of businesses and the jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that business:
- a. Computer services.
  - b. An electronic mail order house that creates at least 250 new jobs and is located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area.
- (5) Customer service center. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article other than by G.S. 105-129.12 if all of the following conditions are met:
- a. The taxpayer's primary business is as a telecommunications or financial services company, as defined by NAICS.
  - b. The primary activity of an establishment of the taxpayer is a customer service center located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area.
  - c. The jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in that activity.
- (6) Warehousing. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credits allowed by this Article other than by G.S. 105-129.12 if all of the following conditions are met:
- a. The primary activity of an establishment of the taxpayer is in warehousing.
  - b. The warehousing establishment is located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area and serves 25 or more establishments of the taxpayer in at least five different counties in one or more states.
  - c. The jobs, investment, and activity with respect to which a credit is claimed are used in the warehousing establishment.
- (a1) New Jobs Defined. — A central office or aircraft facility creates at least 40 new jobs if the taxpayer hires at least 40 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the office either (i) within 12 months immediately following the date the taxpayer first uses the property as a central office or aircraft facility or (ii) within a 36-month period that includes the 24 months that immediately precede and the 12 months that immediately follow the first use of the property as a central office or aircraft facility property when the taxpayer uses temporary space for the central office or aircraft facility functions during completion of the central office or aircraft facility property.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

Other property creates at least 200 new jobs if the taxpayer hires at least 200 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the location in a two-year period beginning when the property is first used in an eligible business. An electronic mail order house creates at least 250 new jobs if the taxpayer hires at least 250 additional full-time employees to fill new positions at the house in the two-year period ending on the last day of the taxable year the taxpayer first claims a credit under this Article. Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this subsection.

(a2) Expiration. — If, during the period that installments of a credit under this Article accrue, the taxpayer is no longer engaged in one of the types of business described in subsection (a) of this section, the credit expires. If, during the period that installments of a credit under this Article accrue, the number of jobs of an eligible business falls below the minimum number required under subsection (a) of this section, any credit associated with that business expires. When a credit expires, the taxpayer may not take any remaining installments of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5. A change in the enterprise tier designation of the location of an establishment does not result in expiration of a credit under this Article.

(b) Wage Standard. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for creating jobs or the credit for worker training if, for the calendar year the jobs are created or the worker training is provided, the average wage of the jobs for which the credit is claimed meets the wage standard and the average wage of all jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meets the wage standard. No credit is allowed for jobs not included in the wage calculation. A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the credit for research and development, the credit for investing in real property for a central office or aircraft facility, or the credit for substantial investment in other property if, for the calendar year the taxpayer engages in the activity that qualifies for the credit, the average wage of all jobs at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed meets the wage standard. In making the wage calculation, the taxpayer must include any positions that were filled for at least 1,600 hours during the calendar year the taxpayer engages in the activity that qualifies for the credit even if those positions are not filled at the time the taxpayer claims the credit.

Jobs meet the wage standard if they pay an average weekly wage that is at least equal to the applicable percentage times the applicable average weekly wage for the county in which the jobs will be located, as computed by the Secretary of Commerce from data compiled by the Employment Security Commission for the most recent period for which data are available. The applicable percentage for jobs located in an enterprise tier one area is one hundred percent (100%). The applicable percentage for all other jobs is one hundred ten percent (110%). The applicable average weekly wage is the lowest of the following: (i) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county, (ii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the State, and (iii) the average wage for all insured private employers in the county multiplied by the county income/wage adjustment factor. The county income/wage adjustment factor is the county income/wage ratio divided by the State income/wage ratio. The county income/wage ratio is average per capita income in the county divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the county. The State income/wage ratio is the average per capita income in the State divided by the annualized average wage for all insured private employers in the State. The Department of Commerce must annually publish the wage standard for each county.

(b1) Large Investment. — A taxpayer who is otherwise eligible for a tax credit under this Article becomes eligible for the large investment enhancements provided for credits under this Article if the Secretary of Commerce makes a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central office or aircraft facility property. If the taxpayer fails to make the required level of investment within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits the large investment enhancements as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

(b2) Health Insurance. — A taxpayer is eligible for a credit for creating jobs or for worker training under this Article if the taxpayer provides health insurance for the positions for which the credit is claimed each year it claims an installment or carryforward of the credit. A taxpayer is eligible for the other credits under this Article if the taxpayer provides health insurance for all of the full-time positions at the location with respect to which the credit is claimed each year it claims an installment or carryforward of the credit. For the purposes of this subsection, a taxpayer provides health insurance if it pays at least fifty percent (50%) of the premiums for health care coverage that equals or exceeds the minimum provisions of the basic health care plan of coverage recommended by the Small Employer Carrier Committee pursuant to G.S. 58-50-125.

Each year that a taxpayer claims an installment or carryforward of a credit allowed under this Article, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the taxpayer's certification that the taxpayer continues to provide health insurance for the jobs for which the credit was claimed or the full-time jobs at the location with respect to which the credit was claimed. If the taxpayer ceases to provide health insurance for the jobs during a taxable year, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment or carryforward of the credit.

(b3) Environmental Impact. — A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed under this Article only if the taxpayer certifies that, at the time the taxpayer first claims the credit, the taxpayer has no pending administrative, civil, or criminal enforcement action based on alleged significant violations of any program implemented by an agency of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has had no final determination of responsibility for any significant administrative, civil, or criminal violation of any program implemented by an agency of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources within the last five years. A significant violation is a violation or alleged violation that does not satisfy any of the conditions of G.S. 143-215.6B(d). The Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources must notify the Department of Revenue annually of every person that currently has any of these pending actions and every person that has had any of these final determinations within this last five years.

(b4) Safety and Health Programs. — A taxpayer is eligible for a credit allowed under this Article only if the taxpayer certifies that, as of the time the taxpayer first claims the credit, at the business location with respect to which the credit is claimed, the taxpayer has no citations under the Occupational Safety and Health Act that have become a final order within the past three years for willful serious violations or for failing to abate serious violations. For the purposes of this subsection, "serious violation" has the same meaning as in

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

G.S. 95-127. The Secretary of Labor must notify the Department of Revenue annually of all employers who have had these citations become final orders within the past three years.

(b5) Substantial Investment in Other Property. — A taxpayer is eligible for the credit for substantial investment in other property under G.S. 105-129.12A with respect to a location only if the Secretary of Commerce makes a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to purchase or lease and use in an eligible business at that location within a three-year period at least ten million dollars ($10,000,000) of real property and that the location that is the subject of the credit will create at least 200 new jobs within two years of the time that the property is first used in an eligible business. If the taxpayer fails to timely make the required level of investment or fails to timely create the required number of new jobs, the taxpayer forfeits the credit as provided in subsection (d) of this section.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-55, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

(d) Forfeiture. — A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this Article if the taxpayer was not eligible for the credit for the calendar year in which the taxpayer engaged in the activity for which the credit was claimed. In addition, a taxpayer forfeits a large investment enhancement of a tax credit if the taxpayer fails to timely make the required level of investment under subsection (b1) of this section. A taxpayer forfeits the credit for substantial investment in other property allowed under G.S. 105-129.12A if the taxpayer fails to timely create the number of required new jobs or to timely make the required level of investment under subsection (b5) of this section. A taxpayer forfeits the technology commercialization credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.9A if the taxpayer fails to make the level of investment required by subsection (e) of that section within the required period or if the taxpayer fails to meet the terms of its licensing agreement with a research university. If a taxpayer claimed a twenty percent (20%) technology commercialization credit under G.S. 105-129.9A(d) and fails to make the level of investment required under that subsection within the required period, but does make the level of investment required under subsection (e) of that section within the required period, the taxpayer forfeits one-fourth of the twenty percent (20%) credit.

A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this Article is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. If a taxpayer forfeits the credit for creating jobs, the technology commercialization credit, or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment, the taxpayer also forfeits any credit for worker training claimed for the jobs for which the credit for creating jobs was claimed or the jobs at the location with respect to which the technology commercialization credit or the credit for investing in machinery and equipment was claimed.

(e) Change in Ownership of Business. — As used in this subsection, the term “business” means a taxpayer or an establishment. The sale, merger, consolidation, conversion, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a business, or any transaction by which an existing business reformulates itself as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding business with respect to credits for which the predecessor was not eligible under this Article. A successor business may, however, take any installment of or carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

The acquisition of a business is a new investment that creates new eligibility in the acquiring taxpayer under this Article if any of the following conditions are met:

- (1) The business closed before it was acquired.
- (2) The business was required to file a notice of plant closing or mass layoff under the federal Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, 29 U.S.C. § 2102, before it was acquired.
- (3) The business was acquired by its employees directly or indirectly through an acquisition company under an employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism. For the purpose of this subdivision, "acquired" means that as part of the initial purchase of a business by the employees, the purchase included an agreement for the employees through the employee stock option transaction or another similar mechanism to obtain one of the following:
  - a. Ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) of the business.
  - b. Ownership of not less than forty percent (40%) of the business within seven years if the business has tangible assets with a net book value in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) and has the majority of its operations located in an enterprise tier one, two, or three area.

(f) Development Zone Project Credit. — Subsections (a) through (b4) of this section do not apply to the credit for development zone projects provided in G.S. 105-129.13.

(g) Advisory Ruling. — A taxpayer may request in writing from the Secretary of Revenue specific advice regarding eligibility for a credit under this Article. G.S. 105-264 governs the effect of this advice. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, ss. 1, 2; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-305, s. 3; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 1999-369, s. 5.2; 2000-56, ss. 5(c), 6, 8(c); 2000-140, ss. 92.A(a),(b); 2001-414, s. 7; 2001-476, ss. 5(a), 6(a).)

Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 22, makes the addition of subdivisions (a)(2a) and (a)(3a) of G.S. 105-129.4 and the amendments to subsection (a1) of G.S. 105-129.4 by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2 effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 26, makes the addition of subsections (b2), (b3), and (b4) of G.S. 105-129.2 by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2 effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, and applicable to credits for which applications are first filed on or after that date.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 6(b), provides that the amendments to G.S. 105-129.4(a2) and the enactment of G.S. 105-129.4(g) are effective November 29, 2001. The amendments to G.S. 105-129.4(a) are effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001. The remainder of the section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted "Manufacturing" for "Manufacturing or processing" in subdivision (a)(4); substituted "wholesale trade" for "distribution" in subdivision (a)(5); inserted the subsection (a1) designation and the subsection heading, and in subsection (a1) deleted "during the taxable year the taxpayer first uses the property as a central administrative office" following "40 new jobs" and added the language beginning "either in the year" at the end of the first sentence; added subsection (b1); repealed subsection (c) relating to worker training; inserted the second sentence in subsection (d); and in subsection (e), deleted "other" preceding "transaction" in the first sentence, and added the last sentence and subdivisions (e)(1) through (e)(3).

Session Laws 1999-305, s. 3, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, in subsection (d), added the second and third sentences of the first paragraph, and inserted “the technology commercialization credit” and inserted “the technology commercialization credit or” in the third sentence of the second paragraph.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, in subsection (a), added subdivisions (2a), (3a), and (6), and deleted “or wholesale trade” at the end of subdivision (5); in subsection (a1), substituted “New Jobs Defined” for “Central Administrative Office” in the subsection catchline, and inserted the present second sentence; and added subsections (b2), (b3), (b4), and (f). For effective date and applicability, see Editor’s note.

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.2, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, inserted “consolidation, conversion” near the beginning of subsection (e).

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 5(c), as amended by Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, substituted “central office or aircraft facility” for “central administrative office” in subsections (a), (a1), (b) and (b1).

Session Law 2000-56, s. 6, effective May 1, 1999, and applicable to acquisitions made on or after that date, rewrote subdivision (e)(3), adding subdivisions (e)(3)a. and b.

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(c), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added subsection (a2).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(b) amends Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(g), providing for the effective date of subsection (a2), as added by Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(c).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 7, effective September, 14, 2001, added the second and final sentences to the first paragraph of subsection (b).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 5(a), effective November 29, 2001, and applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, in subsection (b4), deleted “outstanding” preceding “citations” in the first sentence, and substituted “that have become a final order . . . as in G.S. 95-127.” for “and has had no serious violation as defined in G.S. 95-127 within the last three years.”

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 6(a), rewrote the section. See editors note for effective date.

§ 105-129.5. (See Editor’s note for repeal) Tax election; cap; carryforwards; limitations.

(a) Tax Election. — The credits provided in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter, the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter, and the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer may divide the technology commercialization credit allowed in G.S. 105-129.9A between the taxes against which it is allowed. The taxpayer shall elect the percentage of the credit that will be taken against each tax when filing the return on which the credit is first taken. This election is binding. The percentage of the credit elected to be taken against each tax may be carried forward only against the same tax.

The taxpayer must take any other credit allowed in this Article against only one of the taxes against which it is allowed. The taxpayer shall elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of the credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. — The credits allowed under this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year.

(c) Carryforward. — Any unused portion of a credit with respect to a large investment, with respect to the technology commercialization credit allowed in G.S. 105-129.9A, or with respect to substantial investment in other property under G.S. 105-129.12A may be carried forward for the succeeding 20 years. Any unused portion of a credit with respect to research and development activities under G.S. 105-129.10 may be carried forward for the succeeding 15 years. Any unused portion of a credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 10 years if, before the taxpayer claims the credit, the Secretary of Commerce makes a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to purchase or lease, and place in service in connection with the eligible business within a two-year period, at least fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) worth of one or more of the following: real property, machinery and equipment, or central office or aircraft facility property. If the taxpayer fails to make the required level of investment within this two-year period, the taxpayer forfeits this enhanced carryforward period. Any unused portion of any other credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

(d) Statute of Limitations. — Notwithstanding Article 9 of this Chapter, a taxpayer must claim a credit under this Article within six months after the date set by statute for the filing of the return, including any extensions of that date. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, s. 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-305, s. 4; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2000-56, s. 2; 2001-476, s. 7(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 7(a), effective November 29, 2001, provides: "The General Assembly finds that the purpose of Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is to encourage the creation of new quality jobs and to encourage new investment in machinery and equipment, research and development, and real property. The General Assembly further finds that allowing taxpayers to file amended returns and retroactively claim credits under that Article does not further this purpose of encouraging job creation and new investment."

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 7(c), provides: "The amendments to G.S. 105-129.5(c) in this section are effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, and apply to credits that are first claimed on or after that date. The remainder of this section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, inserted the second sentence in subsection (a); and in subsection (b), substituted "a credit with respect to a large investment may be carried" for "the credit may be carried" and substituted "20 years" for "five years" in the third sentence, and added the last sentence.

Session Laws 1999-305, s. 4, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, in subsection (a), added the present last four sentences in the first paragraph, and added the first sentence in the second paragraph; and inserted "or with respect to the technology commercialization credit allowed in G.S. 105-129.9A" in the third sentence of subsection (b).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subsection (a), deleted "and" following "Article 3 of this Chapter" and substituted "and" for "The credit for investing in central administrative office property provided in G.S. 105-129.12 is also allowed against" preceding "the gross premiums tax."

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added "carryforwards" to the section heading; added subsection (c), transferring the former last two sentences in subsection (b) to be the present first and last sentences in subsection (c); and made stylistic changes.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 7(b), in the catchline, deleted "limitations" following "carryforwards"; in subsection (c), in the first sentence, deleted "or" following "large investment" and inserted "or with respect to substantial investment in other property under G.S. 105-129.12A," inserted the second sentence, in the third sentence, inserted "before the taxpayer claims the credit," and substituted "makes a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to" for "certifies when an application for the credit is first made that the taxpayer will," and substituted "required level of investment" for "level of investment certified" in the fourth sentence; and added subsection (d). See editor's note for effective date and applicability.

§ 105-129.6. Fees and reports.

(a) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(a), effective November 29, 2001.

(a1) Fee. — When filing a return for a taxable year in which the taxpayer engaged in activity for which the taxpayer is eligible for a credit under this Article, the taxpayer must pay the Department of Revenue a fee of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each credit the taxpayer claims or intends to claim with respect to a location that is in an enterprise tier three, four, or five area, subject to a maximum fee of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per taxpayer per taxable year. This fee does not apply to any credit the taxpayer claims or intends to claim with respect to a location that is in a development zone as defined in G.S. 105-129.3A. If the taxpayer claims or intends to claim a credit that relates to locations in more than one enterprise tier area, the fee is based on the highest-numbered enterprise tier area.

The fee is due at the time the return is due for the taxable year in which the taxpayer engaged in the activity for which the taxpayer is eligible for a credit. No credit is allowed under this Article for a taxable year until all outstanding fees have been paid.

The Secretary of Revenue shall retain three-fourths of the proceeds of the fee imposed in this section for the costs of administering and auditing the credits allowed in this Article. The Secretary of Revenue shall credit the remaining proceeds of the fee imposed in this section to the Department of Commerce for the costs of administering this Article. The proceeds of the fee are receipts of the Department to which they are credited.

(b) Reports. — The Department of Revenue shall publish by March 1 of each year the following information itemized by credit and by taxpayer for the 12-month period ending the preceding December 31:

- (1) The number of claims for each credit allowed in this Article.
- (2) The number and enterprise tier area of new jobs with respect to which credits were generated and to which credits were claimed.
- (3) The cost and enterprise tier area of machinery and equipment with respect to which credits were generated and to which credits were claimed.
- (4) The number of new jobs created by businesses located in development zones, and the percentage of jobs at those locations that were filled by residents of the zones.
- (5) The amount and enterprise tier area of worker training expenditures with respect to which credits were generated and to which credits were claimed.
- (6) The amount and enterprise tier area of new research and development expenditures with respect to which credits were generated and to which credits were claimed.
- (7) The cost and enterprise tier area of real property investment with respect to which credits were generated and to which credits were claimed. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, s. 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2000-56, s. 1(a); 2001-476, s. 8(a); 2001-487, s. 123.)

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-55, s. 20, provides that § 105-129.6(a1) becomes effective January 1, 1999, and applies to applications filed on or after that date.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(c), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 123, provides: "This section is effective for business activities occurring on or after January 1, 2002. In addition, this section applies to business activities occurring before January 1, 2002, for which no application has been filed with the Department of Commerce as of January 1, 2003. For business activities occurring before January 1, 2002, for which no application for certification has been filed as of January 1, 2002, the taxpayer must file an application pursuant to G.S. 105-129.6, accompanied by any required fee, with the Department of Commerce. The Department of Commerce shall not make a determination regarding eligibility for credits under Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes based on the application and shall not issue a certification, but shall instead mark on the application that the fee has been paid and return the application to the taxpayer. The taxpayer must then submit the application along with the relevant tax return. The relevant tax return is the first return on which the credit is claimed if that return is an amended return. In all other cases, the relevant return is the next return filed by the taxpayer. The Department of Commerce shall retain one-fourth of these fees collected during the 2002 calendar year for the costs of administering Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and shall credit the remaining proceeds of these fees to the Department of Revenue for the costs of auditing and administering Article 3A of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. The proceeds of these fees are receipts of the Department to which they are credited."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subsection (a1) and subdivision (b)(4).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective 30 days after August 4, 1999 (September 3, 1999), and applicable to applications filed on or after that date, in subsection (a), inserted "or G.S. 105-129.13, as applicable" following "G.S. 105-129.4" three times, and added the last sentence of the first paragraph; and rewrote subsection (a1).

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 1(a), effective January 1, 2001, and applicable to applications made on or after that date, inserted the second sentence in the first paragraph in subsection (a1).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, rewrote the section heading; deleted subsection (a) pertaining to application for certification of eligibility; and rewrote subsections (a1) and (b).

§ 105-129.7. Substantiation.

(a) To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the taxpayer, and no credit shall be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

(b) Each taxpayer must provide with the tax return qualifying information for each credit claimed under this Article for the first taxable year the credit is claimed and for every year in which a subsequent installment or a carryforward of that credit is claimed. The qualifying information must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary, must cover each taxable year beginning with the first taxable year the credit is claimed, and must be signed and affirmed by the individual who signs the taxpayer's tax return. The information required by this subsection is information demonstrating that the taxpayer has met the conditions for qualifying for an initial credit and any installments and carryforwards, and includes the following:

- (1) The physical location of the jobs and investment with respect to which the credit is claimed, including the enterprise tier designation of the location and whether it is in a development zone. In addition, for each individual who fills a job at a location with respect to which a credit is claimed, the place where the individual resided before taking the job, including any enterprise tier designation of that place. In addition, for jobs that are located in a development zone, the number of those jobs that are filled by residents of the development zone.
- (2) The type of business with respect to which the credit is claimed, as required by G.S. 105-129.4(a), and wage information described in G.S. 105-129.4(b).
- (3) If the credit is claimed with respect to a large investment under G.S. 105-129.4(b1), is a credit with a carryforward period of 10 years under G.S. 105-129.5(c), or is a credit claimed under G.S. 105-129.12A, the amount of the investment requirement under those subsections that has been met to date.
- (4) Qualifying information required for the credit for creating jobs allowed under G.S. 105-129.8, the credit for investing in machinery and equipment allowed under G.S. 105-129.9, the credit for worker training allowed under G.S. 105-129.11, the credit for investing in central office or aircraft facility property allowed in G.S. 105-129.12, the credit for substantial investment in other property under G.S. 105-129.12A, and any other credits allowed under this Article. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2000-56, s. 5(d); 2001-476, s. 9(a).)

Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective January 1, 2000, redesignated the former section as subsection (a); and added subsection (b).

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 5(d), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, in subdivision (b)(3), inserted "or is a credit with a carryforward period of 10 years under G.S. 105-129.5(c)" and substituted "those subsections" for "that subsection"; and substituted "central office or aircraft facility" for "central administrative office" in subdivision (b)(4).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 9(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, in subdivision (b)(1), deleted "or development zone" preceding "designation" in the second sentence, and added the final sentence; in subdivision (b)(3), deleted "certified" following the first use of "investment," substituted "105-129.4(b1)" for "105.129.4(b1) or," and added "or is a credit claimed under G.S. 105-129.12A"; and added "the credit for substantial investment in other property under G.S. 105-129.12A" in subdivision (b)(4).

§ 105-129.8. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for creating jobs.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements set out in G.S. 105-129.4, has five or more full-time employees, and hires an additional full-time employee during the taxable year to fill a position located in this State is allowed a credit for creating a new full-time job. The amount of the credit for each new full-time job created is set out in the table below and is based on the enterprise tier of the area in which the position is located. In addition, if the position is located in a development zone, the amount of the credit is increased by four thousand dollars ($4,000) per job.

Area Enterprise Tier	Amount of Credit
Tier One	$12,500
Tier Two	4,000
Tier Three	3,000
Tier Four	1,000
Tier Five	500

A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area. The credit may not be taken in the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired. Instead, the credit must be taken in equal installments over the four years following the taxable year in which the additional employee is hired and is conditioned on the continued employment by the taxpayer of the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had upon hiring the employee that caused the taxpayer to qualify for the credit.

If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the number of the taxpayer's full-time employees falls below the number of full-time employees the taxpayer had in the year in which the taxpayer qualified for the credit, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

Jobs transferred from one area in the State to another area in the State are not considered new jobs for purposes of this section. If, in one of the four years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the position filled by the employee is moved to an area in a higher- or lower-numbered enterprise tier, or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit must be calculated as if the position had been created initially in the area to which it was moved.

(b1), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3.

(d) Planned Expansion. — A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to create at least twenty new full-time jobs in a specific area within two years of the date the letter is signed qualifies for the credit in the amount allowed by this section based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for that year even though the employees are not hired that year. The credit shall be available in the taxable year after at least twenty employees have been hired if the hirings are within the two-year commitment period. The conditions outlined in subsection (a) apply to a credit taken under this subsection except that if the area is redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or loses its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not hire the employees within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the credit. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit under subsection (a) in the year any new employees are hired, the taxpayer may take the credit under that subsection.

(e), (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.3. (1987, c. 568, ss. 1, 2; 1989, c. 111, ss. 1, 2; c. 751, ss. 7(6), 7(7), 8(10), 8(11); c. 753, s. 4.1(a)-(d); 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 14; 1991, c. 517, ss. 1-3; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 959, ss. 20, 21; 1993, c. 45, ss. 1, 2; c. 485, ss. 7, 11; 1995, c. 370, ss. 5, 6; 1996, 2nd Ex. Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subsection (a), added the last sentence in the first paragraph, and inserted “or is moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone” in the second sentence of the last paragraph; in subsection (d), inserted “and development zone designation” in the first and third sentences, and inserted “or loses its development zone designation” in the third sentence.

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, substituted “has five or more full-time employees” for “has five or more employees for at least 40 weeks during taxable year” in subsection (a).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(b) amends Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(g), providing for the effective date of the amendment to subsection (a) by Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(a).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 8, effective September, 14, 2001, in subsection (a), substituted “the taxable year” for “that year” in the first paragraph, substituted “must be taken” for “shall be taken,” and substituted “is conditioned” for “shall be conditioned” in the third sentence of the second paragraph, substituted “are not considered” for “shall not be considered” in the first sentence of the final paragraph, and substituted “credit must be calculated” for “credit shall be calculated” in the final sentence of the final paragraph.

§ 105-129.9. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for investing in machinery and equipment.

(a) General Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places them in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold. Machinery and equipment are eligible if they are capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code and not leased to another party. In addition, in the case of a large investment, machinery and equipment that are not capitalized by the taxpayer are eligible if the taxpayer leases them from another party. The credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the machinery and equipment are placed in service but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which they are placed in service.

(a1) Technology Commercialization Credit. — If a taxpayer is eligible for the credit allowed in this section with respect to eligible machinery and equipment and qualifies for one of the credits allowed in G.S. 105-129.9A with respect to the same machinery and equipment, the taxpayer may choose to take one of those credits instead of the credit allowed in this section. A taxpayer may take the credit allowed in this section or one of the credits allowed in G.S. 105-129.9A during a taxable year with respect to eligible machinery and equipment, but may not take more than one of these credits with respect to the same machinery and equipment.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. — The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the eligible machinery and equipment and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that are in service in this State on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that were in service in this State on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer had the most eligible machinery and equipment in service in this State.

(c) Threshold. — The applicable threshold is the appropriate amount set out in the following table based on the enterprise tier where the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service during the taxable year. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service at more than one establishment in an enterprise tier during the taxable year, the threshold applies separately to the eligible machinery and equipment placed in service at each establishment. If the taxpayer places eligible machinery and equipment in service at an establishment over the course of a two-year period, the applicable threshold for the second taxable year is reduced by the eligible investment amount for the previous taxable year.

Area Enterprise Tier	Threshold
Tier One	$ -0-
Tier Two	100,000
Tier Three	200,000

(d) Expiration. — If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit for that machinery and equipment unless the cost of that machinery and equipment is offset in the same taxable year by the taxpayer's new investment in eligible machinery and equipment placed in service in the same enterprise tier, as provided in this subsection. If, during the taxable year the taxpayer disposed of the machinery and equipment for which installments remain, there has been a net reduction in the cost of all the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that are in service in the same enterprise tier as the machinery and equipment that were disposed of, and the amount of this reduction is greater than twenty percent (20%) of the cost of the machinery and equipment that were disposed of, then the taxpayer forfeits the remaining installments of the credit for the machinery and equipment that were disposed of. If the amount of the net reduction is equal to twenty percent (20%) or less of the cost of the machinery and equipment that were disposed of, or if there is no net reduction, then the taxpayer does not forfeit the remaining installments of the expired credit. In determining the amount of any net reduction during the taxable year, the cost of machinery and equipment the taxpayer placed in service during the taxable year and for which the taxpayer claims a credit under Article 3B of this Chapter may not be included in the cost of all the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that are in service. If in a single taxable year machinery and equipment with respect to two or more credits in the same tier are disposed of, the net reduction in the cost of all the taxpayer's eligible machinery and equipment that are in service in the same tier is compared to the total cost of all the machinery and equipment for which credits expired in order to determine whether the remaining installments of the credits are forfeited.

The expiration of a credit does not prevent the taxpayer from taking the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the machinery and equipment with respect to which the credit was claimed are moved to an area in a higher-numbered enterprise tier, or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone, the remaining installments of the credit are allowed only to the extent they would have been allowed if the machinery and equipment had been placed in service initially in the area to which they were moved.

(e) Planned Expansion. — A taxpayer that signs a letter of commitment with the Department of Commerce to place specific eligible machinery and equipment in service in an area within two years after the date the letter is signed may, in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in that area, calculate the credit for which the taxpayer qualifies based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. All other conditions apply to the credit, but if the area has been redesignated to a higher-numbered enterprise tier or has lost its development zone designation after the year the letter of commitment was signed, the credit is allowed based on the area's enterprise tier and development zone designation for the year the letter was signed. If the taxpayer does not place part or all of the specified eligible machinery and equipment in service within the two-year period, the taxpayer does not qualify for the benefit of this subsection with respect to the machinery and equipment not placed in service within the two-year period. However, if the taxpayer qualifies for a credit in the year the eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service, the taxpayer may take the credit for that year as if no letter of commitment had been signed pursuant to this subsection. Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-55, s. 20, provides in part: "The amendment to G.S. 105-129.9(c) made by Section 1 of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1998."

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, except that the amendment to subsection (c) is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1998, in subsection (a) inserted "eligible" preceding "machinery", and inserted the second and third sentences; in subsection (b) inserted "eligible" preceding "machinery" four times; in subsection (c) inserted "eligible" preceding "machinery" three times and inserted the third sentence; in the second paragraph of subsection (d), inserted "or are moved from a development zone to an area that is not a development zone"; in subsection (e), inserted "eligible" preceding "machinery" four times, inserted "and development zone designation" preceding "for the year" two times, and inserted "or has lost its development zone designation" following "higher-numbered enterprise tier".

Session Laws 1999-305, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, inserted "General" in the subcatchline of subsection (a); added subsection (a1); and added the last sentence of subsection (b).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective August 4, 1999, in subsection (a), substituted "places them" for "places it" in the first sentence, in the second sentence, substituted "are eligible" for "is eligible", substituted "they are capitalized" for "it is capitalized", and deleted "is" preceding "not leased", in the third sentence, substituted "are not capitalized" for "is not capitalized" and "are eligible" for "is eligible" and "leases them" for "leases it", and in the fourth sentence, substituted "machinery and equipment are" for "equipment is" and "they are placed" for "the equipment is placed"; in subsection (b), substituted "are in service" for "is in service" and "were in service" for "was in service."

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, rewrote subsection (d).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(b) amends Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(g), providing for the effective date of the amendment to subsection (d) by Session Laws 2000-56, s. 8(b).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 10(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, and applicable to machinery and equipment first placed in service on or after that date, deleted the final sentence of subsection

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(b), which read: "A taxpayer that claims a credit under this section must include with the application for certification required under G.S. 105-129.6(a) specific documentation supporting the taxpayer's calculation of the eligible investment amount under this subsection"; in subsection (c), deleted "of the area" following "tier" in the first sentence, in the second sentence substituted "at more than one establishment in an enterprise tier" for "in more than one area" and substituted "at each establishment" for "in each area," and substituted "at an establishment" for "in an area" in the final sentence.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased eligible machinery and equipment places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer may qualify for a credit as provided in this section. If the taxpayer is also eligible for the credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.9 with respect to the eligible machinery and equipment, the taxpayer may choose instead of the credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.9 with respect to the machinery and equipment to take one of the credits under this section for which the taxpayer qualifies. The twenty percent (20%) credit is a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold for the taxable year. The fifteen percent (15%) credit is a credit equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the excess of the eligible investment amount over the applicable threshold for the taxable year.

Except as provided in this section, the provisions of G.S. 105-129.9 apply to the credits allowed under this section. As used in this section, the term "research university" means an institution of higher education classified as a Research I university or a Research II university in the most recent edition of "A Classification of Institutions of Higher Education," the official report of The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

A credit allowed under this section must be taken for the taxable year in which the machinery and equipment are placed in service. A taxpayer may take the twenty percent (20%) credit allowed under this section, the fifteen percent (15%) credit allowed under this section, or the credit allowed in G.S. 105-129.9 during a taxable year with respect to eligible machinery and equipment, but may not take more than one of these credits with respect to the same machinery and equipment.

(b) Eligible Investment Amount. — In calculating the eligible investment amount under this section, for the purpose of determining the taxpayer's machinery and equipment in service in this State during the taxable year and the three immediately preceding taxable years, the following exceptions apply:

- (1) Machinery and equipment that were transferred to another taxpayer during the three-year period are considered the taxpayer's machinery and equipment if they are still in service in this State during the taxable year, and the taxpayer to whom they were transferred is ineligible under G.S. 105-129.4(e) to claim a new credit for the investment under this Article.
- (2) Machinery and equipment that were taken out of service during the three-year period are considered the taxpayer's machinery and equipment in service if all of the following conditions are met:
  - a. The machinery and equipment were taken out of service by the taxpayer or by the person to whom the taxpayer transferred them.
  - b. The machinery and equipment were taken out of service at a location separate from any location with respect to which the taxpayer claims a credit under this section.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- c. The machinery and equipment were used in a business that was not and is not competitive with any business with respect to which the taxpayer claimed a credit under this section. For the purpose of this subdivision, two businesses are not competitive if both of the following conditions are met:
  1. Their products and services lack reasonable interchangeability of use by the customer, based on use but without regard to quality, price, condition, or availability.
  2. Their products and services lack reasonable interchangeability of production in that the businesses could not readily switch production capabilities from one product or service to the other.

(c) Documentation. — If the taxpayer claims the exception provided in subdivision (b)(2) of this section, the taxpayer must first request a ruling by the Department of Revenue as to whether the taxpayer meets all of the conditions of subdivision (b)(2) of this section.

(d) Twenty Percent Credit. — A taxpayer qualifies for a twenty percent (20%) credit under this section if it meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) The eligible machinery and equipment are directly related to production based on technology developed by and licensed from a research university or are used to produce resources essential to the taxpayer's production based on technology developed by and licensed from a research university.
- (2) The eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in a tier one, two, or three enterprise area.
- (3) The eligible investment amount is at least ten million dollars ($10,000,000) for the taxable year.
- (4) The Secretary of Commerce has made a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to invest at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in eligible machinery and equipment in a tier one, two, or three enterprise area by the end of the fourth year after the year in which the taxpayer first places eligible machinery and equipment in service in the enterprise area.
- (5) No more than nine years have passed since the first taxable year the taxpayer claimed a credit under this section with respect to the same location.

(e) Fifteen Percent Credit. — A taxpayer qualifies for a fifteen percent (15%) credit under this section if it meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) The eligible machinery and equipment are directly related to production based on technology developed by and licensed from a research university, or are used to produce resources essential to the taxpayer's production based on technology developed by and licensed from a research university.
- (2) The eligible machinery and equipment are placed in service in a tier one, two, or three enterprise area.
- (3) The eligible investment amount is at least ten million dollars ($10,000,000) for the taxable year.
- (4) The Secretary of Commerce has made a written determination that the taxpayer is expected to invest at least one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) in eligible machinery and equipment in a tier one, two, or three enterprise area by the end of the fourth year after the year in which the taxpayer first places eligible machinery and equipment in service in the enterprise area.
- (5) No more than nine years have passed since the first taxable year the taxpayer claimed a credit under this section with respect to the same location. (1999-305, s. 2; 2001-476, s. 11(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-305, s. 5, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-476, s. 11(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, substituted “the taxpayer must first request a ruling by the Department of Revenue as to whether the taxpayer meets all of the conditions of subdivision (b)(2) of this section” for “the Secretary of Commerce must obtain an opinion of the Attorney General that the taxpayer meets all of the conditions of subdivision (b)(2) before the Secretary certifies the application under G.S. 105-129.6(a)” at the end of subsection (c); in subdivision (d)(4), substituted “made a written determination” for “certified,” and substituted “is expected to” for “will”; and in subdivision (e)(4), substituted “made a written determination” for “certified,” and substituted “is expected to” for “will.”

§ 105-129.10. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for research and development.

(a) General Credit. — A taxpayer that claims for the taxable year a federal income tax credit under section 41(a) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to five percent (5%) of the State's apportioned share of the taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities. The State's apportioned share of a taxpayer's expenditures for increasing research activities is the excess of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses for the taxable year over the base amount, as determined under section 41 of the Code, multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year.

(b) Alternative Credit. — A taxpayer that claims the alternative incremental credit under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for increasing research activities is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed. The State's apportioned share of the federal credit claimed is the amount of the alternative incremental credit the taxpayer claimed under section 41(c)(4) of the Code for the taxable year multiplied by a percentage equal to the ratio of the taxpayer's qualified research expenses in this State for the taxable year to the taxpayer's total qualified research expenses for the taxable year. For the purpose of this subsection, the amount of the alternative incremental credit claimed by a taxpayer is determined without regard to any reduction elected under section 280C(c) of the Code.

(c) Definitions. — As used in this section, the terms “qualified research expenses” and “base amount” have the meaning provided in section 41 of the Code. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-228.90(b), as used in this section, the term “Code” means the Internal Revenue Code as enacted as of January 1, 1999. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, § 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, ss. 1, 2; 2000-173, s. 1(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.11, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, and applicable to jobs created on or after August 1, 1996, and property placed in service on or after August 1, 1996, provides that, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if a taxpayer relocates an employee to this State during 1996, any in-house research expenses the taxpayer incurs with respect to that employee during 1996, either before or after relocation, are considered in-house research expenses in this State for purposes of this section, and further provides that if the federal tax credit for increasing research activities that was formerly allowed under section 41 of the Code is reenacted, the credit for research and development allowed in Article 3A of this Chapter becomes effective for the same taxable year under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subsection (b) and the subsection (a) and (c) designations and headings; and in subsection (a) substituted "section 41(a) of the Code" for "section 41 of the Code" in the first sentence.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2, effective August 4, 1999, added the last sentence in subsection (c).

§ 105-129.11. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for worker training.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer that provides worker training for five or more of its eligible employees during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to the wages paid to the eligible employees during the training. Wages paid to an employee performing his or her job while being trained are not eligible for the credit. For positions located in an enterprise tier one area, the credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) per employee trained during the taxable year. For other positions, the credit may not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) per employee trained during the taxable year. A position is located in an area if more than fifty percent (50%) of the employee's duties are performed in the area.

(b) Eligibility. — An employee is eligible if the employee is in a full-time position not classified as exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1) and meets one or more of the following conditions:

- (1) The employee occupies a job for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for creating jobs.
- (2) The employee is being trained to operate machinery and equipment for which the taxpayer is eligible to claim an installment of the credit for investing in machinery and equipment. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.3; 1997-277, s. 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 1(a).)

before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subsection (a) substituted “the wages paid to the eligible employees during” for “fifty percent (50%) of its eligible expenditures for” preceding “the training”, added the second sentence; and rewrote subsection (b).

§ 105-129.12. (See Editor’s note for repeal) Credit for investing in central office or aircraft facility property.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in this State begins to use the property as a central office or aircraft facility during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to seven percent (7%) of the eligible investment amount. The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the property the taxpayer is using in this State as central office or aircraft facilities on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the property the taxpayer was using in this State as central office or aircraft facilities on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most property in this State as central office or aircraft facilities. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer’s lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used as the taxpayer’s central office or aircraft facility if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer under this section for property used as a central office or aircraft facility is five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central office or aircraft facility but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used as a central office or aircraft facility. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. — If the taxpayer uses only part of the property as the taxpayer’s central office or aircraft facility, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used as the taxpayer’s central office or aircraft facility and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. — If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central office or aircraft facility, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used as a central office or aircraft facility, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5. (1997-277, s. 1; 1998-55, s. 1; 1999-360, s. 1; 2000-56, s. 5(e); 2001-476, s. 12(a).)

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

Cross References. — For delayed repeal of Article 3A, see § 105-129.2A(a).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, inserted “not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is” in the third sentence of subsection (a).

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 5(e), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, substituted “central office or aircraft facility” for “central administrative office” throughout the section.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 12(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, deleted the former final sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (c), which read: “If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at all of its central office or aircraft facilities in this State drops by 40 or more, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.”

§ 105-129.12A. Credit for substantial investment in other property.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased real property in an enterprise tier one or two area begins to use the property in an eligible business during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to thirty percent (30%) of the eligible investment amount if all of the eligibility requirements of G.S. 105-129.4 are met. For the purposes of this section, property is located in an enterprise tier one or two area if the area the property is located in was an enterprise tier one or two area at the time the taxpayer applied for the certification required under G.S. 105-129.4(b5). The eligible investment amount is the lesser of (i) the cost of the property and (ii) the amount by which the cost of all of the real property the taxpayer is using in this State in an eligible business on the last day of the taxable year exceeds the cost of all of the real property the taxpayer was using in this State in an eligible business on the last day of the base year. The base year is that year, of the three immediately preceding taxable years, in which the taxpayer was using the most real property in this State in an eligible business. In the case of property that is leased, the cost of the property is not determined as provided in G.S. 105-129.2 but is considered to be the taxpayer's lease payments over a seven-year period, plus any expenditures made by the taxpayer to improve the property before it is used by the taxpayer if the expenditures are not reimbursed or credited by the lessor. The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is first used in an eligible business but shall be taken in equal installments over the seven years following the taxable year in which the property is first used in an eligible business. When part of the property is first used in an eligible business in one year and part is first used in an eligible business in a later year, separate credits may be claimed for the amount of property first used in an eligible business in each year. The basis in any real property for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) Mixed Use Property. — If the taxpayer uses only part of the property in an eligible business, the amount of the credit allowed under this section is reduced by multiplying it by a fraction, the numerator of which is the square footage of the property used in an eligible business and the denominator of which is the total square footage of the property.

(c) Expiration. — If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used in an eligible business, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the seven years in which the installment of a credit accrues, part of the property with respect to which the credit was claimed is no longer used in an eligible business, the remaining installments of the credit shall be reduced by multiplying it by the fraction described in subsection (b) of this section. If, in one of the years in which the installment of a credit accrues and by which the taxpayer is required to have created 200 new jobs at the property, the total number of employees the taxpayer employs at the property with respect to which the credit is claimed is less than 200, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

In each of these cases, the taxpayer may nonetheless take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.5.

(d) No Double Credit. — A taxpayer may not claim a credit under this section with respect to real property for which a credit is claimed under G.S. 105-129.12. (2001-476, s. 13(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-476, s. 13(b), provided: "This section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, and applies to property that is first used in an eligible business on or after that date."

§ 105-129.13. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for development zone projects.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer who contributes cash or property to a development zone agency for an improvement project in a development zone is allowed a credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the value of the contribution. A contribution is for an improvement project for the purposes of this section if the agency receiving the contribution contracts in writing to use the contribution for the project and agrees in the contract to repay to the taxpayer, with interest, any part of the contribution not used for the project. The credit may not be taken for the year in which the contribution is made but must be taken for the taxable year beginning during the calendar year in which the application for the credit becomes effective as provided in this section.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Community development corporation. — A nonprofit corporation that meets all of the following conditions:
  - a. It is chartered pursuant to Chapter 55A of the General Statutes and is tax-exempt pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Code.
  - b. Its primary mission is to develop and improve low-income communities and neighborhoods through economic and related development.
  - c. Its activities and decisions are initiated, managed, and controlled by the constituents of those local communities.
  - d. Its primary function is to act as deal maker and packager of projects and activities that will increase its constituency's opportunities to become owners, managers, and producers of small businesses, to obtain affordable housing, and to obtain jobs designed to produce positive cash flow and curb blight in the targeted community.
- (2) Community development purpose. — A purpose for which a city is authorized to expend funds under G.S. 160A-456, 160A-457, and 160A-457.2.

Article 3A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- (3) Control. — A person controls an entity if the person owns, directly or indirectly, more than ten percent (10%) of the voting securities of that entity. As used in this subdivision, the term “voting security” means a security that (i) confers upon the holder the right to vote for the election of members of the board of directors or similar governing body of the business or (ii) is convertible into, or entitles the holder to receive upon its exercise, a security that confers such a right to vote. A general partnership interest is a voting security.
  - (4) Development zone agency. — Any of the following agencies that the Department of Commerce certifies will undertake an improvement project in a development zone:
    - a. A community-based development organization qualified under 24 C.F.R. § 570.204 to receive community development block grant funds under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 5301, et seq., to carry out a neighborhood revitalization project, a community economic development project, or an energy conservation project.
    - b. A community action agency that has been officially designated as such pursuant to section 210 of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, Public Law 88-452, 78 Stat. 508 and which has not lost its designation as a result of a failure to comply with the provisions of that act.
    - c. A community development corporation.
    - d. A community development financial institution certified by the United States Department of the Treasury under the Community Development Banking and Financial Institutions Act of 1994, 12 U.S.C. § 4701, et seq.
    - e. A community housing development organization qualified under the HOME Investment Partnerships Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12701, 12704, and 24 C.F.R. § 92.2.
    - f. A local housing authority created under Article 1 of Chapter 157 of the General Statutes.
  - (5) Improvement project. — A project to construct or improve real property for community development purposes or to acquire real property and convert it for community development purposes. Construction or improvement includes services provided by a development zone agency directly related to the construction or improvement, and project development fees charged by a developer for the construction or improvement.
- (c) Certification. — Before certifying that a development zone agency will undertake an improvement project in a development zone, the Secretary of Commerce must require the agency to provide sufficient documentation to establish the identity of the agency, the nature of the project, and that the project is for a community development purpose and is located in a development zone. The Secretary of Commerce shall not certify a development zone agency under this section if the agency, any of the agency's officers or directors, or any partner of the agency has ever used any part of a contribution made under this section for any purpose other than an improvement project.
- (d) Limitations. — A taxpayer who claims a credit under this subsection must identify in the application the development zone agencies to which the taxpayer made contributions and the amount contributed to each. No credit is allowed for a contribution if the taxpayer has one of the relationships defined in section 267(b) of the Code with the development zone agency or if the taxpayer controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with an affiliate of the development zone agency. No credit is allowed to the extent the taxpayer receives anything of value in exchange for the contribution.

(e) Application. — To be eligible for the tax credit provided in this section, the taxpayer must file an application for the credit with the Secretary of Revenue on or before April 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the contribution was made. The Secretary may grant extensions of this deadline, as the Secretary finds appropriate, upon the request of the taxpayer, except that the application may not be filed after September 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the contribution was made. An application is effective for the year in which it is timely filed. The application must be on a form prescribed by the Secretary and must include any supporting documentation that the Secretary may require. If a contribution for which a credit is applied for was of property rather than cash, the taxpayer must include with the application a certified appraisal of the value of the property contributed. There is no fee for an application under this section.

(f) Ceiling. — The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under this section for contributions made in a calendar year may not exceed four million dollars ($4,000,000). The Secretary of Revenue must calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed under this section. If the total amount of tax credits claimed for contributions made in a calendar year exceeds four million dollars ($4,000,000), the Secretary must allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating a total of four million dollars ($4,000,000) in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer. If a credit is reduced pursuant to this subsection, the Secretary must notify the taxpayer of the amount of the reduction of the credit on or before December 31 of the year the application was filed. The Secretary's allocations based on applications filed pursuant to this section are final and will not be adjusted to account for credits applied for but not claimed.

(g) Forfeiture. — A taxpayer forfeits a credit allowed under this section to the extent the development zone agency uses the taxpayer's contribution for any purpose other than an improvement project. Each development zone agency certified by the Department of Commerce must file with the Department of Commerce annual financial statements audited in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and in accordance with Government Audit Standards developed by the Comptroller General of the United States. The annual statements are required each time the agency receives a contribution eligible for the credit allowed under this section until the entire contribution has been used for improvement projects. If the Department of Commerce determines that a development zone agency has used part or all of a contribution for any purpose other than an improvement project, the Department must notify the Secretary of Revenue of the forfeiture, the taxpayer who made the contribution, and the amount forfeited. ### ARTICLE 3B.

Business And Energy Tax Credits.

§ 105-129.15. (See Editor’s note for repeal) Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Business property. — Tangible personal property that is used by the taxpayer in connection with a business or for the production of income and is capitalized by the taxpayer for tax purposes under the Code. The term does not include, however, a luxury passenger automobile taxable under section 4001 of the Code or a watercraft used principally for entertainment and pleasure outings for which no admission is charged.
- (2) Cost. — In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined pursuant to regulations adopted under section 1012 of the Code, subject to the limitation on cost provided in section 179 of the Code. In the case of property the taxpayer leases from another, cost is value as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4(j)(2).
- (3) Recodified as § 105-129.15(5).
- (4) Hydroelectric generator. — A machine that produces electricity by water power or by the friction of water or steam.
- (4a) Pass-through entity. — Defined in G.S. 105-129.35.
- (5) Purchase. — Defined in section 179 of the Code.
- (6) Renewable biomass resources. — Organic matter produced by terrestrial and aquatic plants and animals, such as standing vegetation, aquatic crops, forestry and agricultural residues, landfill wastes, and animal wastes.
- (7) Renewable energy property. — Any of the following machinery and equipment or real property:
  - a. Biomass equipment that uses renewable biomass resources for biofuel production of ethanol, methanol, and biodiesel; anaerobic biogas production of methane utilizing agricultural and animal waste or garbage; or commercial thermal or electrical generation from renewable energy crops or wood waste materials. The term also includes related devices for converting, conditioning, and storing the liquid fuels, gas, and electricity produced with biomass equipment.
  - b. Hydroelectric generators located at existing dams or in free-flowing waterways, and related devices for water supply and control, and converting, conditioning, and storing the electricity generated.
  - c. Solar energy equipment that uses solar radiation as a substitute for traditional energy for water heating, active space heating and cooling, passive heating, daylighting, generating electricity, dis-

- tillation, desalination, detoxification, or the production of industrial or commercial process heat. The term also includes related devices necessary for collecting, storing, exchanging, conditioning, or converting solar energy to other useful forms of energy.
- d. Wind equipment required to capture and convert wind energy into electricity or mechanical power, and related devices for converting, conditioning, and storing the electricity produced. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.12; 1997-277, s. 3; 1998-55, s. 2; 1999-342, s. 2; 1999-360, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 1(a); 2001-431, s. 1.)

Article Has a Delayed Repeal Date. — For repeal of this Article, see § 105-129.15A.

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 1(a) amended Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.2(3), as amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 1, to provide for repeal of this Article as provided within the Article.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.2(3), made this Article effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, and applicable to jobs created on or after August 1, 1996, and property placed in service on or after August 1, 1996.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2 amended the head of Article 3B to read "Business and Energy Tax Credits." Session Laws 1999-360, s. 10 amended the head to read "Business Tax Credits." The article head is set out as amended by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2 at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Subdivisions (4) to (7) were designated as such by the Revisor of Statutes, the designation in Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2 having been subdivisions (3) to (6).

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subdivision (2) substituted "In the case of property owned by the taxpayer, cost is determined" for "Determined" at the beginning, and added the last sentence.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added present subdivisions (4), (6) and (7).

Session Laws 2001-431, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and applicable to buildings that are placed in service on or after January 1, 2001, added subdivision (4a).

§ 105-129.15A. Sunset.

G.S. 105-129.16 is repealed effective for business property placed in service on or after January 1, 2002. The remainder of this Article is repealed effective January 1, 2006. The repeal of G.S. 105-129.16A applies to renewable energy property placed in service on or after January 1, 2006. The repeal of G.S. 105-129.16B applies to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2006. (2000-173, s. 1(d).)

Article 3B has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 20, made this section effective August 2, 2000.

§ 105-129.16. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for investing in business property.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased business property places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to four and one-half percent (4.5%) of the cost of the property. The maximum credit allowed a taxpayer for property placed in service during a taxable year is four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500). The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service but must be taken in five equal installments beginning with the taxable year in which the property is placed in service.

(b) Expiration. — If, in one of the five years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the business property with respect to which the credit was claimed is disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.17.

(c) No Double Credit. — A taxpayer that claims the credit allowed under Article 3A of this Chapter with respect to business property may not take the credit allowed in this section with respect to the same property. A taxpayer may not take the credit allowed in this section for business property the taxpayer leases from another unless the taxpayer obtains the lessor's written certification that the lessor will not capitalize the property for tax purposes under the Code and the lessor will not claim the credit allowed in this section with respect to the property. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.12; 1997-277, s. 3; 1999-360, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 1(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

§ 105-129.16A. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for investing in renewable energy property.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has constructed, purchased, or leased renewable energy property places it in service in this State during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to thirty-five percent (35%) of the cost of the property. In the case of renewable energy property that serves a single-family dwelling, the credit must be taken for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service. For all other renewable energy property, the entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service but must be taken in five equal installments beginning with the taxable year in which the property is placed in service.

(b) Expiration. — If, in one of the years in which the installment of a credit accrues, the renewable energy property with respect to which the credit was claimed is disposed of, taken out of service, or moved out of State, the credit expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit.

Article 3B has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.17. No credit is allowed under this section to the extent the cost of the renewable energy property was provided by public funds.

(c) Ceilings. — The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the applicable ceilings provided in this subsection.

(1) Nonresidential Property. — A ceiling of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) per installation applies to renewable energy property placed in service for any purpose other than residential.

(2) Residential Property. — The following ceilings apply to renewable energy property placed in service for residential purposes:

a. One thousand four hundred dollars ($1,400) per dwelling unit for solar energy equipment for domestic water heating.

b. Three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) per dwelling unit for solar energy equipment for active space heating, combined active space and domestic hot water systems, and passive space heating.

c. Ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500) per installation for any other renewable energy property for residential purposes.

(d) No Double Credit. — A taxpayer that claims any other credit allowed under this Chapter with respect to renewable energy property may not take the credit allowed in this section with respect to the same property. A taxpayer may not take the credit allowed in this section for renewable energy property the taxpayer leases from another unless the taxpayer obtains the lessor's written certification that the lessor will not claim a credit under this Chapter with respect to the property. ## § 105-129.16B. (See Editor's note for repeal) Credit for low-income housing.

(a) (Effective until January 1, 2005) Credit. — A taxpayer that is allowed for the taxable year a federal income tax credit for low-income housing under section 42 of the Code with respect to a qualified North Carolina low-income building, is allowed a credit under this Article equal to a percentage of the total federal credit allowed with respect to that building. For the purposes of this section, the total federal credit allowed is the total allowed during the 10-year federal credit period plus the disallowed first-year credit allowed in the 11th year. For the purposes of this section, the total federal credit is calculated based on qualified basis as of the end of the first year of the credit period and is not recalculated to reflect subsequent increases in qualified basis. For buildings that meet condition (c)(1) or (c)(1a) of this section, the credit percentage is seventy-five percent (75%). For other buildings, the credit percentage is twenty-five percent (25%).

(a) (Effective January 1, 2005) Credit. — A taxpayer that is allowed for the taxable year a federal income tax credit for low-income housing under section 42 of the Code with respect to a qualified North Carolina low-income building, is allowed a credit under this Article equal to a percentage of the total federal credit allowed with respect to that building. For the purposes of this section, the total federal credit allowed is the total allowed during the 10-year federal credit period plus the disallowed first-year credit allowed in the 11th year. For the purposes of this section, the total federal credit is calculated based on qualified basis as of the end of the first year of the credit period and is not recalculated to reflect subsequent increases in qualified basis. For buildings that meet condition (c)(1) of this section, the credit percentage is seventy-five percent (75%). For other buildings, the credit percentage is twenty-five percent (25%).

Article 3B has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(b) Timing. — The credit must be taken in equal installments over the five years beginning in the first taxable year in which the federal credit is claimed for that building. During the first taxable year in which the credit allowed under this section may be taken with respect to a building, the amount of the installment must be multiplied by the applicable fraction under section 42(f)(2)(A) of the Code. Any reduction in the amount of the first installment as a result of this multiplication is carried forward and may be taken in the first taxable year after the fifth installment is allowed under this section.

(b1) Allocation. — Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-131.8 and G.S. 105-269.15, a pass-through entity that qualifies for the credit provided in this section may allocate the credit among any of its owners in its discretion as long as the amount of credit allocated to an owner does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the pass-through entity, as determined under the Code, at the end of the taxable year in which the federal credit is first claimed. Owners to whom a credit is allocated are allowed the credit as if they had qualified for the credit directly. A pass-through entity and its owners must include with their tax returns for every taxable year in which an allocated credit is claimed a statement of the allocation made by the pass-through entity and the allocation that would have been required under G.S. 105-131.8 or G.S. 105-269.15.

(c) Definitions. — The definitions in section 42 of the Code apply in this section. In addition, as used in this section the term "qualified North Carolina low-income building" means a qualified low-income building that was allocated a federal credit under section 42(h)(1) of the Code, was not allowed a federal credit under section 42(h)(4) of the Code, and meets any of the following conditions:

(1) It is located in an area that, at the time the federal credit is allocated to the building, is a tier one or two enterprise area, as defined in G.S. 105-129.3.

(1a) (Expires January 1, 2005) It is located in a county that, at the time the federal credit is allocated to the building, has been designated as having sustained severe or moderate damage from a hurricane or a hurricane-related disaster, according to the Federal Emergency Management Agency impact map, revised on September 25, 1999. Those counties are Bertie, Beaufort, Bladen, Brunswick, Carteret, Columbus, Craven, Dare, Duplin, Edgecombe, Greene, Halifax, Hertford, Jones, Lenoir, Martin, Nash, New Hanover, Northampton, Onslow, Pasquotank, Pender, Pitt, Washington, Wayne, and Wilson Counties.

(2) It is located in an area that, at the time the federal credit is allocated to the building, is a tier three or four enterprise area, and forty percent (40%) of its residential units are both rent-restricted and occupied by individuals whose income is fifty percent (50%) or less of area median gross income as defined in the Code.

(3) It is located in an area that, at the time the federal credit is allocated to the building, is a tier five enterprise area, and forty percent (40%) of its residential units are both rent-restricted and occupied by individuals whose income is thirty-five percent (35%) or less of area median gross income as defined in the Code.

(d) Expiration. — If, in one of the five years in which an installment of the credit under this section accrues, the taxpayer is no longer eligible for the corresponding federal credit with respect to the same qualified North Carolina low-income building, then the credit under this section expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installment of the credit. If, in one of the five years in which an installment of the credit under this section accrues, the building no longer qualifies as a low-income building under subdivision (2) or (3) of subsection (c) of this section because less than forty percent (40%) of its residential units are both rent-restricted and occupied by individuals who meet the income requirements, then the credit under this section expires and the taxpayer may not take any remaining installments of the credit. The taxpayer may, however, take the portion of an installment that accrued in a previous year and was carried forward to the extent permitted under G.S. 105-129.17.

(e) Forfeiture for Disposition. — If the taxpayer is required under section 42(j) of the Code to recapture all or part of a federal credit under that section with respect to a qualified North Carolina low-income building, the taxpayer forfeits the corresponding part of the credit allowed under this section with respect to that qualified North Carolina low-income building. If the credit was allocated among the owners of a pass-through entity, the forfeiture applies to the owners in the same proportion that the credit was allocated.

(f) Forfeiture for Change in Ownership. — If an owner of a pass-through entity that has qualified for the credit allowed under this section disposes of all or a portion of the owner's interest in the pass-through entity within five years from the date the federal credit is first claimed and the owner's interest in the pass-through entity is reduced to less than two-thirds of the owner's interest in the pass-through entity at the time the federal credit is first claimed, the owner forfeits a portion of the credit. The amount forfeited is determined by multiplying the amount of credit by the percentage reduction in ownership and then multiplying that product by the forfeiture percentage. The forfeiture percentage equals the recapture percentage found in the table in section 50(a)(1)(B) of the Code. The remaining allowable credit is allocated equally among the five years in which the credit is claimed. Forfeiture as provided in this subsection is not required if the change in ownership is the result of any of the following:

- (1) The death of the owner.
- (2) A merger, consolidation, or similar transaction requiring approval by the shareholders, partners, or members of the taxpayer under applicable State law, to the extent the taxpayer does not receive cash or tangible property in the merger, consolidation, or other similar transaction.

(g) Liability From Forfeiture. — A taxpayer or an owner of a pass-through entity that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer or owner of a pass-through entity that fails to pay the taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. (1999-360, s. 11; 2000-56, s. 7; 2000-140, s. 88; 2001-431, s. 2.)

Subsection (a) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (a) set out above is effective until January 1, 2005. The second version of subsection (a) set out above is effective January 1, 2005.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 33, as amended by Session Laws 2000-140, s. 88, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, and applicable to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000.

The number of this section was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the number in Session Laws 1999-360, s. 11 having been § 105-129.16A.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(f), makes the amendment to subsection (d) by s. 7 of the act effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, and makes the amendment to subsection (a) and the addition of subdivision (c)(1a) effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and applicable to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after that date. Section 10(f) provides for the expiration of the amendment to subsection (a) and the addition of subdivision (c)(1a) on January 1, 2005.

33, to read: "Part III of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Sections 10 through 15 of Part III [which affected the head to Article 3B and §§ 105-129.16B, 105-129.17, 105-129.18, and 105-129.19] apply to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-56, s. 7, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and applicable to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2001, in the last sentence of subsection (a), inserted "or (c)(1a)" following "condition (c)(1)"; and added subdivision (c)(1a). For expiration of this amendment, see the editor's note.

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 7, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added the second sentence in subsection (d).

Session Laws 2001-431, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and applicable to buildings that are placed in service on or after January 1, 2001, added subsection (b1); rewrote subsection (e); and added subsections (f) and (g).

§ 105-129.16C. (See note for repeal) Credit for investing in dry-cleaning equipment that does not use a hazardous substance.

(a) Credit. — If a taxpayer that has purchased or leased qualified dry-cleaning equipment, places it in service in this State for commercial purposes during the taxable year, the taxpayer is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the cost of the equipment. To support the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must file with the tax return for the taxable year in which the credit is claimed a certification by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources that the equipment purchased or leased by the taxpayer is qualified dry-cleaning equipment.

(b) Restrictions. — No credit is allowed under this section to the extent the cost of the equipment was paid with public funds. A taxpayer that claims any other credit allowed under this Chapter with respect to qualified dry-cleaning equipment may not take the credit allowed in this section with respect to the same equipment.

(c) Definitions. — The following definitions apply only in this section:

- (1) Hazardous solvent. — A solvent, any portion of which consists of a chlorine-based solvent, a hydrocarbon-based solvent, a hazardous substance as defined in G.S. 130A-310(2), or any substance determined by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency or the Director of the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health to possess carcinogenic potential to humans.
- (2) Qualified dry-cleaning equipment. — Equipment that is designed and used primarily to dry-clean clothing and other fabric and does not use any hazardous solvent or any other substance that the Department of

1, makes this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

§ 105-129.17. (See Editor's note for repeal) Tax election; cap.

(a) Tax Election. — The credits allowed in this Article are allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter or the income taxes levied in Article 4 of this Chapter. In addition, the credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.16B is allowed against the gross premiums tax levied in Article 8B of this Chapter. The taxpayer must elect the tax against which a credit will be claimed when filing the return on which the first installment of the credit is claimed. This election is binding. Any carryforwards of a credit must be claimed against the same tax.

(b) Cap. — The credits allowed in this Article may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the tax against which they are claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this Article against each tax for the taxable year. Any unused portion of the credits may be carried forward for the succeeding five years. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.12; 1997-277, s. 3; 1999-342, s. 2; 1999-360, ss. 1, 13; 2000-140, ss. 63(a), 88; 2001-431, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 88, effective July 21, 2000, rewrites Session Laws 1999-360, s. 33 to read: "Part III of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Sections 10 through 15 of Part III [which affected the head to Article 3B and §§ 105-129.16B, 105-129.17, 105-129.18, and 105-129.19] apply to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, in subsection (a), substituted "credits" for "credit," substituted "are allowed" for "is allowed," and substituted "a credit" for "the credit"; and substituted "A credit" for "The credit" at the beginning of (b).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 13, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, and applicable to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000, in subsection (a), substituted "credits" for "credit," substituted "a credit" for "the credit" twice, and substituted "are allowed" for "is allowed"; and in subsection (b), substituted "total credits" for "credit," substituted "they are" for "it is" and substituted "credits" for "credit."

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 63(a), effective July 21, 2000, substituted "The credits" for "A total credits" in subsection (b).

added the second sentence in subsection (a).

§ 105-129.18. (See Editor's note for repeal) Substantiation.

To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every taxpayer claiming a credit under this Article must maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for a credit and the amount of the credit rests upon the taxpayer, and no credit may be allowed to a taxpayer that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.12; 1997-277, s. 3; 1999-342, s. 2; 1999-360, ss. 1, 14; 2000-140, ss. 63(b), 88.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 88, effective July 21, 2000, rewrites Session Laws 1999-360, s. 33, to read: "Part III of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Sections 10 through 15 of Part III [which affected the head to Article 3B and §§ 105-129.16B, 105-129.17, 105-129.18, and 105-129.19] apply to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, substituted "a" for "the" preceding the first and fourth instances of "credit" in this section.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 14, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, and applicable to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000, substituted "credits" for "credit" in the first sentence.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 63(b), effective July 21, 2000, substituted "To claim a credit" for "To claim a credits."

§ 105-129.19. (See Editor's note for repeal) Reports.

The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee and to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

- (1) The number of taxpayers that claimed the credits allowed in this Article.
- (2) The cost of business property and renewable energy property with respect to which credits were claimed.
- (2a) The location of each qualified North Carolina low-income building with respect to which a low-income housing credit was claimed.
- (3) The total cost to the General Fund of the credits claimed. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.12; 1997-277, s. 3; 1999-342, s. 2; 1999-360, ss. 1, 15; 2000-140, ss. 63(c), 88; 2001-414, s. 10.)

ARTICLE 3C.

Tax Incentives For Recycling Facilities.

§ 105-129.25. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Reserved.
- (2) Reserved.
- (3) Large recycling facility. — A recycling facility that qualifies under G.S. 105-129.26(b).
- (4) Machinery and equipment. — Engines, machinery, tools, and implements used or designed to be used in the business for which the credit is claimed. The term does not include real property as defined in G.S. 105-273 or rolling stock as defined in G.S. 105-333.
- (5) Major recycling facility. — A recycling facility that qualifies under G.S. 105-129.26(a).
- (6) Owner. — A person who owns or leases a recycling facility.
- (7) Post-consumer waste material. — Any product that was generated by a business or consumer, has served its intended end use, and has been separated from the solid waste stream for the purpose of recycling. The term includes material acquired by a recycling facility either directly or indirectly, such as through a broker or an agent.
- (8) Purchase. — Defined in section 179 of the Code.

- (9) Recycling facility. — A manufacturing plant at least three-fourths of whose products are made of at least fifty percent (50%) post-consumer waste material measured by weight or volume. The term includes real and personal property located at or on land in the same county and reasonably near the plant site and used to perform business functions related to the plant or to transport materials and products to or from the plant. The term also includes utility infrastructure and transportation infrastructure to and from the plant. (1998-55, s. 12.)

§ 105-129.26. Qualification; forfeiture.

(a) Major Recycling Facility. — A recycling facility qualifies for the tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter for major recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.
- (2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the fourth year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the facility and create at least 250 new, full-time jobs at the facility.
- (3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(b) Large Recycling Facility. — A recycling facility qualifies for the tax credit provided in G.S. 105-129.27 for large recycling facilities if it meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) The facility is located in an area that, at the time the owner began construction of the facility, was an enterprise tier one area pursuant to G.S. 105-129.3.
- (2) The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the owner will, by the end of the second year after the year the owner begins construction of the recycling facility, invest at least one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in the facility and create at least 155 new, full-time jobs at the facility.
- (3) The jobs at the recycling facility meet the wage standard in effect pursuant to G.S. 105-129.4(b) as of the date the owner begins construction of the facility.

(c) Forfeiture. — If the owner of a large or major recycling facility fails to make the required minimum investment or create the required number of new jobs within the period certified by the Secretary of Commerce under this section, the recycling facility no longer qualifies for the applicable recycling facility tax benefits provided in this Article and in Article 5 of this Chapter and forfeits all tax benefits previously received under those Articles. Forfeiture does not occur, however, if the failure was due to events beyond the owner's control. Upon forfeiture of tax benefits previously received, the owner is liable under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for a tax equal to the amount of all past taxes under Articles 3, 4, and 5 previously avoided as a result of the tax benefits received plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the tax benefits had not been received. The tax and interest are due 30 days after the date of the forfeiture. An owner that fails to pay the tax and interest is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(d) Substantiation. — To claim a credit allowed by this Article, the owner must provide any information required by the Secretary of Revenue. Every owner claiming a credit under this Article shall maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary of Revenue any records the Secretary considers necessary to determine and verify the amount of the credit to which the owner is entitled. The burden of proving eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit shall rest upon the owner, and no credit shall be allowed to an owner that fails to maintain adequate records or to make them available for inspection.

(e) Reports. — The Department of Commerce shall report to the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly by May 1 of each year the following information for the 12-month period ending the preceding April 1:

- (1) The number and location of large and major recycling facilities qualified under this Article.
- (2) The number of new jobs created by each recycling facility.
- (3) The amount of investment in each recycling facility.
- (4) The amount of reinvestment credit refunded to each major recycling facility under G.S. 105-129.28. (1998-55, s. 12.)

§ 105-129.27. Credit for investing in large or major recycling facility.

(a) Credit. — An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a major recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment. An owner that purchases or leases machinery and equipment for a large recycling facility in this State during the taxable year is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount payable by the owner during the taxable year to purchase or lease the machinery and equipment.

(b) Taxes Credited. — The credit provided in this section is allowed against the franchise tax levied in Article 3 of this Chapter and the income tax levied in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. Any other nonrefundable credits allowed the owner are subtracted before the credit allowed by this section.

(c) Carryforwards. — The credit provided in this section may not exceed the amount of tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all other credits allowed against that tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the owner. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 25 years.

(d) Change in Ownership of Facility. — The sale, merger, consolidation, conversion, acquisition, or bankruptcy of a recycling facility, or any transaction by which the facility is reformulated as another business, does not create new eligibility in a succeeding owner with respect to a credit for which the predecessor was not eligible under this section. A successor business may, however, take any carried-over portion of a credit that its predecessor could have taken if it had a tax liability.

(e) Forfeiture. — If any machinery or equipment for which a credit was allowed under this section is not placed in service within 30 months after the credit was allowed, the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer that fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236.

(f) No Double Credit. — A recycling facility that is eligible for the credit allowed in this section is not allowed the credit for investing in machinery and equipment provided in G.S. 105-129.9. (1998-55, s. 12; 1999-369, s. 5.3.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.3, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, inserted “consolidation, conversion” near the beginning of subsection (d).

§ 105-129.28. (Repealed effective January 1, 2008. See note) Credit for reinvestment.

(a) Credit. — A major recycling facility that is accessible by neither ocean barge nor ship and that transports materials to the facility or products away from the facility is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter equal to its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred with respect to the materials and products due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. The additional expenses for which credit is allowed are expenses due to using river barges and expenses due to having to use another mode of transportation because the quantity that is transported by river barge is insufficient to meet the facility’s needs. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the facility must provide the Secretary of Commerce audited documentation of the amount of its additional transportation and transloading expenses incurred during the taxable year.

(b) Cap. — The credit allowed to a major recycling facility under this section for the taxable year may not exceed the applicable annual cap provided in the following table:

Taxable Year	Cap
1998	$ 150,000
1999	$ 640,000
2000	$ 3,860,000
2001	$ 8,050,000
2002	$ 9,550,000

(c) Reduction. — For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins transporting materials and products to and from the major recycling facility, the credit allowed by this section must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed in previous years that was used for a purpose other than an allowable purpose under subsection (d) of this section, as certified by the Secretary of Commerce.

(d) Use of Credited Amount. — For the first ten taxable years after the owner begins construction of the major recycling facility, the owner must use the amount of credit allowed under this section to pay for (i) investment in rail or roads associated with the facility, (ii) investment in water system infrastructure designed to reduce the expense of transporting materials and products to and from the recycling facility, and (iii) investment in land and infrastructure for other industrial sites located in the same county as the recycling facility. If the owner determines that there are no reasonable economic opportunities in a given year to use the total amount of credit for the expenditures described above, the owner may use the excess for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

Expenses incurred for the purposes allowed in this subsection during a taxable year in the ten-year period may be counted toward a credit allowed in a later taxable year in the ten-year period. If the owner is not able to use the full amount of the credit during a taxable year for any of the purposes allowed by this subsection, the excess may be used for these purposes in subsequent taxable years.

The owner must provide the Secretary of Commerce with annual audited documentation demonstrating that the amount of credit received under this section during the previous twelve-month period has not been used for a purpose inconsistent with this subsection. If the Secretary of Commerce determines that the owner has used any of the credit for a purpose that is inconsistent with the requirements of this subsection, the Secretary of Commerce shall certify the amount so used to the Secretary of Revenue and the credit allowed the owner under this section for the following taxable year shall be reduced by that amount in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.

After the end of the ten-year period, the amount of any credit allowed under this section that has not yet been used may be used for investment at or in connection with the recycling facility above the initial required investment of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000).

(e) Credit Refundable. — If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits. (1998-55, s. 12.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-55, s. 19 provides in part that this section, as enacted by Session Laws 1998-55, s. 12, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2008. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under § 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under § 105-129.28 before the effective date of its repeal.

Further, the purpose of this ten-year sunset provision is to allow a determination to be made whether any major recycling facility continues to experience additional transportation and transloading expenses due to its inability to use ocean barges or ships. It is the expectation and intent that the General Assembly will postpone the sunset of § 105-129.28 if it is determined that any major recycling facility continues to experience these additional transportation and transloading expenses as of 2008.

ARTICLE 3D.

Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credits.

§ 105-129.35. Credit for rehabilitating income-producing historic structure.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer who is allowed a federal income tax credit under section 47 of the Code for making qualified rehabilitation expenditures for a certified historic structure located in this State is allowed a credit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the expenditures that qualify for the federal credit.

(b) (Repealed January 1, 2004, for property placed in service on or after January 1, 2004) Allocation. — Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-131.8 and G.S. 105-269.15, a pass-through entity that qualifies for the credit provided in this section may allocate the credit among any of its owners in its discretion as long as the amount of credit allocated to an owner does not exceed the owner's adjusted basis in the pass-through entity, as determined under the Code, at the end of the taxable year in which the certified historic structure is placed in service. Owners to whom a credit is allocated are allowed the credit as if they had qualified for the credit directly. A pass-through entity and its owners must include with their tax returns for every taxable year in which an allocated credit is claimed a statement of the allocation made by the pass-through entity and the allocation that would have been required under G.S. 105-131.8 or G.S. 105-269.15.

(c) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Certified historic structure. — Defined in section 47 of the Code.
- (2) Pass-through entity. — An entity or business, including a limited partnership, a general partnership, a joint venture, a Subchapter S Corporation, or a limited liability company, all of which is treated as owned by individuals or other entities under the federal tax laws, in which the owners report their share of the income, losses, and credits from the entity or business on their income tax returns filed with this State. For the purpose of this section, an owner of a pass-through entity is an individual or entity who is treated as an owner under the federal tax laws.
- (3) Qualified rehabilitation expenditures. — Defined in section 47 of the Code, (1993, c. 527, ss. 1, 2; 1997-139, ss. 1, 2; 1998-98, ss. 36, 69; 1999-389, ss. 2, 5, 6; 2001-476, s. 19(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6, provides that Article 3D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, incorporates both G.S. 105-130.42 and G.S. 105-151.23.

Session Laws 1999-389, s. 9, as amended by Session Laws 2001-476, s. 19(a), provides that G.S. 105-129.35(b), as amended by Session Laws 1999-389, s.9, is repealed effective January 1, 2004, for property placed in service on or after that date.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-389, ss. 2 and 6, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, recodified G.S. 105-130.42(a) and G.S. 105-151.23(a) as G.S. 105-129.35 in Article 3D of Chapter 105.

Session Laws 1999-389, s. 5, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, rewrote the section catchline; in subsection (a), added the subsection catchline, substituted "qualified" for "qualifying" and substituted "equal to" for "against the tax imposed by this Part. The amount of the credit is"; and added subsections (b) and (c). For repeal of subsection (b), see the Editor's note.

§ 105-129.36. Credit for rehabilitating nonincome-producing historic structure.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer who is not allowed a federal income tax credit under section 47 of the Code and who makes rehabilitation expenses for a State-certified historic structure located in this State is allowed a credit equal to thirty percent (30%) of the rehabilitation expenses. To qualify for the credit, the taxpayer's rehabilitation expenses must exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) within a 24-month period. To claim the credit allowed by this subsection, the taxpayer must attach to the return a copy of the certification obtained from the State Historic Preservation Officer verifying that the historic structure has been rehabilitated in accordance with this subsection.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Certified rehabilitation. — Repairs or alterations consistent with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and certified as such by the State Historic Preservation Officer prior to the commencement of the work.
- (2) Rehabilitation expenses. — Expenses incurred in the certified rehabilitation of a certified historic structure and added to the property's basis. The term does not include the cost of acquiring the property, the cost attributable to the enlargement of an existing building, the cost of sitework expenditures, or the cost of personal property.

- (3) State-certified historic structure. — A structure that is individually listed in the National Register of Historic Places or is certified by the State Historic Preservation Officer as contributing to the historic significance of a National Register Historic District or a locally designated historic district certified by the United States Department of the Interior.

- (4) State Historic Preservation Officer. — The Director of the Division of Archives and History or the Director's designee who acts to administer the historic preservation programs within the State.

(c) Rules. — The North Carolina Historical Commission, in consultation with the State Historic Preservation Officer, may adopt rules needed to administer the certification process required by this section. (1993, c. 527, ss. 1, 2; 1997-139, ss. 1, 2; 1998-98, ss. 36, 69; 1999-389, ss. 3, 5, 6.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6, provides that Article 3D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, incorporates both G.S. 105-130.42 and G.S. 105-151.23.

Subdivisions (b)(1) to (b)(3) were designated as such by the Revisor of Statutes, the designations in Session Laws 1999-389, s. 5 having been subdivisions (b)(2), (b)(3), and (b)(3a).

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-389, ss. 3 and 6, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, recodified G.S. 105-130.42(b) and 105-151.23(b) as G.S. 105-129.36 in Article 3D of Chapter 105.

Session Laws 1999-389, s. 5, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, designated the former paragraphs as subsections (a) and (b); in subsection (a) substituted "State-certified" for "certified," substituted "equal to" for "against the tax imposed by this Part. The amount of the credit is" and inserted the present second sentence; in subsection (b), substituted "section" for "subsection" at the end of the introductory language, repealed former subdivision (b)(1), defining the term "certified historic structure," deleted the last two sentences of present subdivision (b)(1), pertaining to expenditures exceeding $25,000, and pertaining to rules, and added present subdivision (b)(3); added subsection (c); and added subsection catchlines throughout the section.

§ 105-129.37. Tax credited; credit limitations.

(b) Credit Limitations. — The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the property is placed in service but must be taken in five equal installments beginning with the taxable year in which the property is placed in service. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years. A credit allowed under this Article may not exceed the amount of the tax against which it is claimed for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer.

(c) Forfeiture for Disposition. — A taxpayer who is required under section 50 of the Code to recapture all or part of the federal credit for rehabilitating an income-producing historic structure located in this State forfeits the corresponding part of the State credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.35 with respect to that historic structure. If the credit was allocated among the owners of a pass-through entity, the forfeiture applies to the owners in the same proportion that the credit was allocated.

(d) Forfeiture for Change in Ownership. — If an owner of a pass-through entity that has qualified for the credit allowed under G.S. 105-129.35 disposes of all or a portion of the owner's interest in the pass-through entity within five years from the date the rehabilitated historic structure is placed in service and the owner's interest in the pass-through entity is reduced to less than two-thirds of the owner's interest in the pass-through entity at the time the historic structure was placed in service, the owner forfeits a portion of the credit. The amount forfeited is determined by multiplying the amount of credit by the percentage reduction in ownership and then multiplying that product by the forfeiture percentage. The forfeiture percentage equals the recapture percentage found in the table in section 50(a)(1)(B) of the Code. The remaining allowable credit is allocated equally among the five years in which the credit is claimed.

(e) Exceptions to Forfeiture. — Forfeiture as provided in subsection (d) of this section is not required if the change in ownership is the result of any of the following:

- (1) The death of the owner.
- (2) A merger, consolidation, or similar transaction requiring approval by the shareholders, partners, or members of the taxpayer under applicable State law, to the extent the taxpayer does not receive cash or tangible property in the merger, consolidation, or other similar transaction.

(f) Liability From Forfeiture. — A taxpayer or an owner of a pass-through entity that forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited. A taxpayer or owner of a pass-through entity that fails to pay the taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. (1993, c. 527, ss. 1, 2; 1997-139, ss. 1, 2; 1998-98, ss. 36, 69; 1999-389, ss. 4, 5, 6.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6, provides that Article 3D of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as amended by this act, incorporates both G.S. 105-130.42 and G.S. 105-151.23.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-389, ss. 4 and 6, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, recodified G.S. 105-130.42(c) and G.S. 105-151.23(c) as G.S. 105-129.37 in Article 3D of Chapter 105.

Session Laws 1999-389, s. 5, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, designated the former paragraph as subsection (b); added the section catchline; added subsection (a); in subsection (b), substituted "A" for "The," substituted "Article" for "section" and substituted "the tax against which it is claimed" for "tax imposed by this Part"; and added subsections (c) to (f).

ARTICLE 4.

Income Tax.

Part 1. Corporation Income Tax.

§ 105-130. Short title.

This Part of the income tax Article shall be known and may be cited as the Corporation Income Tax Act. (1939, c. 158, s. 300; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1998-98, ss. 42, 61, 68.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-151, s. 6.1 authorizes the Department of Revenue to draw from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for the 2000-2001 fiscal year its actual costs of implementing § 14-306.1(e1) as enacted by Session Laws 2000-151, which bans the introduction of new video gaming machines into the state.

Legal Periodicals. — For discussion of changes made in this Article by the Session Laws of 1947 and 1949, respectively, see 25 N.C.L. Rev. 467 (1947); 27 N.C.L. Rev. 482 (1949).

§ 105-130.1. Purpose.

The general purpose of this Part is to impose a tax for the use of the State government upon the net income of every domestic corporation and of every foreign corporation doing business in this State.

The tax imposed upon the net income of corporations in this Part is in addition to all other taxes imposed under this Subchapter. (1939, c. 158, s. 301; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-130.2. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Part:

- (1) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (1a) Corporation. — A joint-stock company or association, an insurance company, a domestic corporation, a foreign corporation, or a limited liability company.
- (1b) C Corporation. — A corporation that is not an S Corporation.
- (1c) Department. — The Department of Revenue.
- (2) Domestic corporation. — A corporation organized under the laws of this State.
- (3) Fiscal year. — An income year, ending on the last day of any month other than December. A corporation that pursuant to the provisions of the Code has elected to compute its federal income tax liability on the basis of an annual period varying from 52 to 53 weeks shall compute its taxable income under this Part on the basis of the same period used by the corporation in computing its federal income tax liability for the income year.
- (4) Foreign corporation. — Any corporation other than a domestic corporation.
- (4a) Income year. — The calendar year or the fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this Part. If no fiscal year has been established, the income year is the calendar year. In the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year under the provisions of this Part or under rules adopted by the Secretary, the income year is the period for which the return is made.
- (5) Limited liability company. — Either a domestic limited liability company organized under Chapter 57C of the General Statutes or a foreign limited liability company authorized by that Chapter to transact business in this State that is classified for federal income tax purposes as a corporation. As applied to a limited liability company that is a corporation under this Part, the term "shareholder" means a member of the limited liability company and the term "corporate officer" means a member or manager of the limited liability company.
- (5a) S Corporation. — Defined in G.S. 105-131(b).
- (5b) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.
- (5c) State net income. — The taxpayer's federal taxable income as determined under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-130.5 and, in the case of a corporation that has income from business activity that is taxable both within and without this State, allocated and apportioned to this State as provided in G.S. 105-130.4.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 354, s. 12 originally enacted subdivision (5) as subdivision (5a), and redesignated subdivisions (5a), (5b), and (5c) as (5b), (5c), and (5d), respectively. Subdivision (5) has been redesignated as (4a), subdivision (5a) as (5), and (5a), (5b), and (5c) have not been changed, at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

§ 105-130.3. Corporations.

A tax is imposed on the State net income of every C Corporation doing business in this State. An S Corporation is not subject to the tax levied in this section. The tax is a percentage of the taxpayer's State net income computed as follows:

Income Years Beginning	Tax
In 1997	7.5%
In 1998	7.25%
After 1999	6.9%.

(1939, c. 158, s. 311; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 752, s. 3; 1953, c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 1350, s. 18; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; c. 1186; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 1287, s. 4; 1975, c. 275, s. 4; 1977, c. 657, s. 4; 1979, c. 179, s. 2; 1981, c. 15; 1983, c. 713, s. 69; 1987, c. 622, s. 8; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 5; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.33; 1991, c. 689, s. 258; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 2.1.)

Legal Periodicals. — For article, "Foreign Corporations in North Carolina: The 'Doing Business' Standards of Qualification, Taxation, and Jurisdiction," see 16 Wake Forest L. Rev. 711 (1980).

CASE NOTES

Every corporation doing business in North Carolina is required to pay an annual income tax equivalent to 6% of its net taxable income. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966), decided under §§ 105-134 and 105-140 prior to the 1967 amendments thereto. Section 105-140 was repealed by S.L. 1989, c. 728, s. 1.3.

"Taxable Income" Defined. — Under the Internal Revenue Code, "taxable income" means gross income minus specified allowable deductions. Mutual Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Lanier, 279 N.C. 299, 182 S.E.2d 368 (1971).

Income Tax and Franchise Tax Distinguished. — A comparison of Article 3 of this Chapter, relating to franchise taxes, and Article 4, relating to income taxes, indicates a clear legislative intent to differentiate between these two types of taxes, for a clear distinction has been made by the General Assembly between an excise tax imposed on domestic and foreign corporations for the privilege of transacting business within the State, and an income tax on net corporate income, which is based on a past fact of earned net profits. The statutes under which these taxes were assessed in the instant case in precise words preclude a contention that it was the legislative intent that the taxes assessed and paid here were excise or privilege taxes. ET & WNC Transp. Co. v. Currie, 248 N.C. 560, 104 S.E.2d 403 (1958), aff'd, 359 U.S. 28, 79 S. Ct. 602, 3 L. Ed. 2d 625, rehearing denied, 359 U.S. 976, 79 S. Ct. 874, 3 L. Ed. 2d 843 (1959), construing § 105-134 prior to the 1967 amendment.

Foreign Corporation Taxed on Income Earned in State. — The incidence of the tax on a foreign corporation is that part of its net income earned within North Carolina by reason of its interstate business, and reasonably attributable to its interstate business done or performable within the borders of North Carolina, and not upon its franchise to engage in interstate business in North Carolina. ET & WNC Transp. Co. v. Currie, 248 N.C. 560, 104

Editor's Note. — This section expired for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995, pursuant to Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 357(2).

§ 105-130.4. Allocation and apportionment of income for corporations.

(a) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the corporation's trade or business and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and/or disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the corporation's regular trade or business operations.
- (2) "Commercial domicile" means the principal place from which the trade or business of the taxpayer is directed or managed.
- (3) "Compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services.
- (4) "Excluded corporation" means any corporation engaged in business as a building or construction contractor, a securities dealer, or a loan company or a corporation that receives more than fifty percent (50%) of its ordinary gross income from intangible property.
- (5) "Nonbusiness income" means all income other than business income.
- (6) "Public utility" means any corporation that is subject to control of one of more of the following entities: the North Carolina Utilities Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Power Commission, or the Federal Aviation Agency; and that owns or operates for public use any plant, equipment, property, franchise, or license for the transmission of communications, the transportation of goods or persons, or the production, storage, transmission, sale, delivery or furnishing of electricity, water, steam, oil, oil products, or gas. The term also includes a motor carrier of property whose principal business activity is transporting property by motor vehicle for hire over the public highways of this State.
- (7) "Sales" means all gross receipts of the corporation except for the following receipts:
  - a. Receipts from a casual sale of property.
  - b. Receipts allocated under subsections (c) through (h) of this section.
  - c. Receipts exempt from taxation.
  - d. The portion of receipts realized from the sale or maturity of securities or other obligations that represents a return of principal.
- (8) "Casual sale of property" means the sale of any property which was not purchased, produced or acquired primarily for sale in the corporation's regular trade or business.
- (9) "State" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

(b) A corporation having income from business activity which is taxable both within and without this State shall allocate and apportion its net income or net loss as provided in this section. For purposes of allocation and apportionment, a corporation is taxable in another state if (i) the corporation's business activity in that state subjects it to a net income tax or a tax measured by net income, or (ii) that state has jurisdiction based on the corporation's business activity in that state to subject the corporation to a tax measured by net income regardless whether that state exercises its jurisdiction. For purposes of this section, "business activity" includes any activity by a corporation that would establish a taxable nexus pursuant to 15 United States Code section 381.

(c) Rents and royalties from real or tangible personal property, gains and losses, interest, dividends less the portion deductible under G.S. 105-130.7, patent and copyright royalties and other kinds of income, to the extent that they constitute nonbusiness income, less related expenses shall be allocated as provided in subsections (d) through (h) of this section.

(d)(1) Net rents and royalties from real property located in this State are allocable to this State.

(2) Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this State:

- a. If and to the extent that the property is utilized in this State, or
- b. In their entirety if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this State and the corporation is not organized under the laws of, or is not taxable in, the state in which the property is utilized.

(3) The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the income year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the income year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the corporation, tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

(e)(1) Gains and losses from sales or other disposition of real property located in this State are allocable to this State.

(2) Gains and losses from sales or other disposition of tangible personal property are allocable to this State if

- a. The property had a situs in this State at the time of the sale, or
- b. The corporation's commercial domicile is in this State and the corporation is not taxable in the state in which the property has a situs.

(3) Gains and losses from sales or other disposition of intangible personal property are allocable to this State if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this State.

(f) Interest and net dividends are allocable to this State if the corporation's commercial domicile is in this State. For purposes of this section, the term "net dividends" means gross dividend income received less related expenses and less that portion of the dividends deductible under G.S. 105-130.7.

(g)(1) Royalties or similar income received from the use of patents, copyrights, secret processes and other similar intangible property are allocable to this State:

- a. If and to the extent that the patent, copyright, secret process or other similar intangible property is utilized in this State, or

- b. If and to the extent that the patent, copyright, secret process or other similar intangible property is utilized in a state in which the taxpayer is not taxable and the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this State.
- (2) A patent, secret process or other similar intangible property is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, processing, or other use in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from such intangible property does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the intangible property is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.
- (3) A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.
- (h) The income less related expenses from any other nonbusiness activities or investments not otherwise specified in this section is allocable to this State if the business situs of the activities or investments are located in this State.
- (i) All business income of corporations other than public utilities and excluded corporations shall be apportioned to this State by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus twice the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four. Provided, that where the sales factor does not exist, the denominator of the fraction shall be the number of existing factors and where the sales factor exists but the payroll factor or the property factor does not exist, the denominator of the fraction shall be the number of existing factors plus one.
- (j)(1) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the corporation's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this State during the income year and the denominator of which is the average value of all the corporation's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the income year.
- (2) Property owned by the corporation is valued at its original cost. Property rented by the corporation is valued at eight times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rental rate is the annual rental rate paid by the corporation less any annual rental rate received by the corporation from subrentals except that subrentals shall not be deducted when they constitute business income. Any property under construction and any property the income from which constitutes nonbusiness income shall be excluded in the computation of the property factor.
- (3) The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and end of the income year, but in all cases the Secretary of Revenue may require the averaging of monthly or other periodic values during the income year if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the corporation's property. A corporation that ceases its operations in this State before the end of its income year because of its intention to dissolve or to relinquish its certificate of authority, or because of a merger, conversion, or consolidation, or for any other reason whatsoever shall use the real estate and tangible personal property values as of the first day of the income year and the last day of its operations in this State in determining the average value of property, but the Secretary may require averaging of monthly or other periodic values during the income year if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the corporation's property.

- (k)(1) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in this State during the income year by the corporation as compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the income year. All compensation paid to general executive officers and all compensation paid in connection with nonbusiness income shall be excluded in computing the payroll factor. General executive officers shall include the chairman of the board, president, vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, comptroller, and any other officers serving in similar capacities.
- (2) Compensation is paid in this State if:
- a. The individual's service is performed entirely within the State; or
  - b. The individual's service is performed both within and without the State, but the service performed without the State is incidental to the individual's service within the State; or
  - c. Some of the service is performed in this State and (i) the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in this State, or (ii) the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this State.
- (l)(1) The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the corporation in this State during the income year, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the corporation everywhere during the income year. Notwithstanding any other provision under this Part, the receipts from any casual sale of property shall be excluded from both the numerator and the denominator of the sales factor. Where a corporation is not taxable in another state on its business income but is taxable in another state only because of nonbusiness income, all sales shall be treated as having been made in this State.
- (2) Sales of tangible personal property are in this State if the property is received in this State by the purchaser. In the case of delivery of goods by common carrier or by other means of transportation, including transportation by the purchaser, the place at which the goods are ultimately received after all transportation has been completed shall be considered as the place at which the goods are received by the purchaser. Direct delivery into this State by the taxpayer to a person or firm designated by a purchaser from within or without the State shall constitute delivery to the purchaser in this State.
- (3) Other sales are in this State if:
- a. The receipts are from real or tangible personal property located in this State; or
  - b. The receipts are from intangible property and are received from sources within this State; or
  - c. The receipts are from services and the income-producing activities are in this State.
- (m) All business income of a railroad company shall be apportioned to this State by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the "railway operating revenue" from business done within this State and the denominator of which is the "total railway operating revenue" from all business done by the company as shown by its records kept in accordance with the standard classification of accounts prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

“Railway operating revenue” from business done within this State shall mean “railway operating revenue” from business wholly within this State, plus the equal mileage proportion within this State of each item of “railway operating revenue” received from the interstate business of the company. “Equal mileage proportion” shall mean the proportion which the distance of movement of property and passengers over lines in this State bears to the total distance of movement of property and passengers over lines of the company receiving such revenue. “Interstate business” shall mean “railway operating revenue” from the interstate transportation of persons or property into, out of, or through this State. If the Secretary of Revenue shall find, with respect to any particular company, that its accounting records are not kept so as to reflect with exact accuracy such division of revenue by State lines as to each transaction involving interstate revenue, the Secretary of Revenue may adopt such regulations, based upon averages, as will approximate with reasonable accuracy the proportion of interstate revenue actually earned upon lines in this State. Provided, that where a railroad is being operated by a partnership which is treated as a corporation for income tax purposes and pays a net income tax to this State, or if located in another state would be so treated and so pay as if located in this State, each partner’s share of the net profits shall be considered as dividends paid by a corporation for purposes of this Part and shall be so treated for inclusion in gross income, deductibility, and separate allocation of dividend income.

(n) All business income of a telephone company shall be apportioned to this State by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is gross operating revenue from local service in this State plus gross operating revenue from toll services performed wholly within this State plus the proportion of revenue from interstate toll services attributable to this State as shown by the records of the company plus the gross operating revenue in North Carolina from other service less the uncollectible revenue in this State, and the denominator of which is the total gross operating revenue from all business done by the company everywhere less total uncollectible revenue. Provided, that where a telephone company is required to keep its records in accordance with the standard classification of accounts prescribed by the Federal Communications Commission the amounts in such accounts shall be used in computing the apportionment fraction as provided in this subsection.

(o) All business income of a motor carrier of property shall be apportioned by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of vehicle miles in this State and the denominator of which is the total number of vehicle miles of the company everywhere. The words “vehicle miles” shall mean miles traveled by vehicles owned or operated by the company hauling property for a charge or traveling on a scheduled route.

(p) All business income of a motor carrier of passengers shall be apportioned by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of vehicle miles in this State and the denominator of which is the total number of vehicle miles of the company everywhere. The words “vehicle miles” shall mean miles traveled by vehicles owned or operated by the company carrying passengers for a fare or traveling on a scheduled route.

(q) All business income of a telegraph company shall be apportioned by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor and the denominator of which is three.

The property factor shall be as defined in subsection (j) of this section, the payroll factor shall be as defined in subsection (k) of this section, and the sales factor shall be as defined in subsection (l) of this section.

(r) All business income of an excluded corporation and of all other public utilities shall be apportioned by multiplying the income by the sales factor as determined under subsection (l) of this section.

(s) All business income of an air or water transportation corporation shall be apportioned by a fraction, the numerator of which is the corporation's revenue ton miles in this State and the denominator of which is the corporation's revenue ton miles everywhere. The term "revenue ton mile" means one ton of passengers, freight, mail, or other cargo carried one mile. In making this computation, a passenger is considered to weigh two hundred pounds.

- (t)(1) If any corporation believes that the method of allocation or apportionment as administered by the Secretary has operated or will so operate as to subject it to taxation on a greater portion of its income than is reasonably attributable to business or earnings within the State, it may file with the Tax Review Board a petition setting forth the facts upon which its belief is based and its argument with respect to the application of the allocation formula. This petition shall be filed in such form and within such time as the Tax Review Board may prescribe. The Board shall grant a hearing on the petition. The time limitations set in G.S. 105-241.2 for the date of the hearing, notification to the taxpayer, and a decision following the hearing apply to a hearing held pursuant to this subsection. At least three members of the Tax Review Board shall attend any hearing pursuant to such petition. In such cases, the Tax Review Board's membership shall be augmented by the addition of the Secretary, who shall sit as a member of the Board with full power to participate in its deliberations and decisions with respect to petitions filed under the provisions of this subsection. An informal record containing in substance the evidence, contentions and arguments presented at the hearing shall be made. All members of the augmented Tax Review Board shall consider such evidence, contentions and arguments and the decisions thereon shall be made by a majority vote of the augmented Board.
- (2) If the corporation employs in its books of account a detailed allocation of receipts and expenditures which reflects more clearly than the applicable allocation formula prescribed by this section the income attributable to the business within this State, application for permission to base the return upon the taxpayer's books of account shall be considered by the Tax Review Board. The Board may permit such separate accounting method in lieu of applying the applicable allocation formula if the Board finds that method best reflects the income and earnings attributable to this State.
- (3) If the corporation shows that any other method of allocation than the applicable allocation formula prescribed by this section reflects more clearly the income attributable to the business within this State, application for permission to base the return upon such other method shall be considered by the Tax Review Board. The application shall be accompanied by a statement setting forth in detail, with full explanations, the method the corporation believes will more nearly reflect its income from business within this State. If the Board concludes that the allocation formula prescribed by this section allocates to this State a greater portion of the net income of the corporation than is reasonably attributable to business or earnings within this State, it shall determine the allocable net income by such other method as it finds best calculated to assign to this State for taxation the portion of the corporation's net income reasonably attributable to its business or earnings within this State.
- (4) There shall be a presumption that the appropriate allocation formula reasonably attributes to this State the portion of the corporation's income earned in this State, and the burden shall rest upon the corporation to show the contrary. The relief herein authorized shall be granted by the Board only in cases of clear, cogent and convincing proof that the petitioning corporation is entitled thereto. No corporation shall use any alternative formula or method other than the applicable allocation formula provided by statute in making a report or return of its income to this State except upon order in writing of the Board, and any return in which any alternative formula or other method, other than the applicable allocation formula prescribed by statute, is used without permission of the Board shall not be a lawful return.

When the Board determines, pursuant to the provisions of this subsection, that an alternative formula or other method more accurately reflects the income allocable to North Carolina and renders its decision with regard thereto, the corporation shall allocate its net income for future years in accordance with such determination and decision of the Board so long as the conditions constituting the basis upon which the decision was made remain unchanged or until such time as the business method of operation of the corporation changes. Provided, however, that the Secretary may, with respect to any subsequent year, require the corporation to furnish information relating to its property, operations, and activities.

- (5) A corporation which proposes to do business in this State may file a petition with the Board setting forth the facts upon which it contends that the applicable allocation formula will allocate a greater portion of the corporation's future income to North Carolina than will be reasonably attributable to its proposed business or contemplated earnings within the State. Upon a proper showing in accordance with the procedure described above for determinations by the Board, the Board may authorize such corporation to allocate income from its future business to North Carolina on the basis prescribed by the Board under the provisions of this section for such future years if the conditions constituting the basis upon which the Board's decision is made remain unchanged and the business operations of the corporation continue to conform to the statement of proposed methods of business operation presented by the corporation to the Board.
- (6) When the Secretary asserts liability under the formula adjustment decision of the Tax Review Board, an aggrieved corporation may pay the tax and bring a civil action for recovery under the provisions of Article 9. (1939, c. 158, s. 311; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 752, s. 3; 1953, c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 1350, s. 18; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; c. 1186; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 4; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1212; 1987, c. 804, s. 2; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 994, s. 1; 1993, c. 532, s. 12; 1995, c. 350, s. 3; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 5; 1998-98, s. 69; 1999-369, s. 5.4; 2000-126, s. 5; 2001-327, s. 1(c).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(f), provides that: "This section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax by a payer of royalties who adds the payments to State net income pursuant to G.S.105-130.7A(c), to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

1999-369, s. 5.4, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, in subdivision (j)(3), substituted "that ceases" for "which ceases," and inserted "conversion" following "because of a merger" in the second sentence.

Session Laws 2000-126, s. 5, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote subdivision (a)(7).

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(c), effective January 1, 2001, in subdivision (a)(4), inserted "or" following "dealer", substituted "that" for "which", and deleted "investments in and/or dealing in" preceding "intangible property."

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — A number of the cases cited below were decided under provisions similar to this section appearing in § 105-134 prior to the 1967 amendment thereto.

Purpose of Apportionment. — The imposition of the income tax upon a base which reasonably represents the proportion of the trade or business carried on within the State is designed to meet the due process requirement that a state show a sufficient nexus between such a tax and the transaction within a state for which the tax is an exaction, and the prescriptions of the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution which permit a state to tax only that part of a corporation's net income from multistate operations which is attributable to earnings within the taxing state. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

Reversion of Funds from Pension Fund. — Court must consider both transactional and functional tests in determining if the reversion of funds from a pension fund is business income the court must consider both the transactional test and the functional test. Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 132 N.C. App. 665, 513 S.E.2d 341 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

Reversion of funds from a corporation's overfunded pension plan was not business income under the functional test, since the pension fund was not essential to the corporation's regular course of manufacturing and selling chemicals. Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 132 N.C. App. 665, 513 S.E.2d 341 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

Plaintiff's reversion of pension plan contributions was not business income under the functional test of subsection (a)(1) of this section because plaintiff's contingent property right in the pension plan was not integral to its business nor used to generate income in its regular business operations. Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

"Compensation". — Article 4 of the Revenue Act was extensively revised in 1967, and this new section dealing with the payroll factor clarified the provisions of former § 105-134 so as to make it plain that "compensation" to be included means "wages, salaries, commissions and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services." Myrtle Desk Co. v. Clayton, 8 N.C. App. 452, 174 S.E.2d 619 (1970).

"Integral Part" of Business. — Even though corporate taxpayer was not in business of leasing equipment, lease arrangement which was means of gaining working capital and increasing cash flow for all corporation business operations was considered an "integral part" of the corporation's business. National Serv. Indus., Inc. v. Powers, 98 N.C. App. 504, 391 S.E.2d 509 (1990).

Once a corporation's assets are found to constitute integral parts of the corporation's regular trade or business, income resulting from the acquisition, management, and/or disposition of those assets constitutes business income regardless of how that income is received. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999).

State has right to collect nondiscriminatory income taxes imposed on foreign corporation if the taxes are imposed solely on that part of the corporation's income earned within the State in its interstate business, and reasonably attributable to its interstate business done or performed within the borders of this State. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

Burden of Showing Statutory Assessment Unconstitutional. — Where the Commissioner (now Secretary) of Revenue assessed an income tax against a foreign corporation operating a manufacturing plant in this State in accordance with the provisions of § 311 of the Revenue Act of 1929, without regard to its intangible property, the Commissioner's (now Secretary's) assessment was upheld upon appeal where the corporation failed to show that such method of allocation was unconstitutional in its application to the corporation. State ex rel. Maxwell v. Kent-Coffey Mfg. Co., 204 N.C. 365, 168 S.E. 397 (1933), aff'd, 291 U.S. 642, 54 S. Ct. 437, 78 L. Ed. 1040 (1934).

Method of Apportionment Not Unreasonable and Arbitrary Will Be Sustained. — In determining the amount of income of a foreign corporation subject to taxation by a state the difficulty of making an exact apportionment is apparent and hence, when the state has adopted a method not intrinsically arbitrary, it will be sustained until proof is offered of an unreasonable and arbitrary application in particular cases. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

Evidence May Be Received to Show Ar-

bitrariness of Method Fair on Its Face. — When there are different taxing jurisdictions, each competent to lay a tax with respect to what lies within, and is done within, its own borders, and the question is necessarily one of apportionment, evidence may always be received which tends to show that a state has applied a method, which, albeit fair on its face, operates so as to reach profits which are in no just sense attributable to transactions within its jurisdiction. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

If Result Unjust, Additional Factors May Be Added to Formula. — If the apportionment formula produces an unjust result, differing and additional factors may be added. Clark Equip. Co. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 269, 134 S.E.2d 327 (1964).

Use of Corporation's Own Accounting System. — When a complaining taxpayer establishes by evidence, clear, cogent and convincing, an inequitable result, the Tax Review Board may, in cases where the corporation keeps its books in such manner as to establish the income earned in this State, use the company's separate bookkeeping and accounting system to ascertain that portion of the income earned in North Carolina. Clark Equip. Co. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 269, 134 S.E.2d 327 (1964).

Purpose of Subsection(s). — The purpose of provisions such as subsection (s) of this section was not to provide either a substitute for, or an alternative to, § 105-267, but to afford relief from the apportionment formula of this section when it operates to tax a greater portion of a corporation's income than is reasonably attributable to business in this State. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

Taxpayer May Pay Under Protest and Sue for Refund. — A taxpayer contending that an additional assessment of income tax is invalid is not required to proceed under provisions such as subsection (s) of this section, but may pay the tax under protest, make proper demand for refund and, upon refusal, bring suit under § 105-267. Sayles Biltmore Bleacheries, Inc. v. Johnson, 266 N.C. 692, 147 S.E.2d 177 (1966).

Tax Review Board Ruling Not Required Before Seeking Relief in Superior Court. — It was not the intention of the legislature, when it amended the predecessor of this section in 1953, to require a corporation to secure a ruling from the augmented Tax Review Board before it might have the superior court determine the legality of a tax assessment against specific items of its income earned outside of North Carolina, no part of which, it contends, is allocable to North Carolina. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

tax imposed under former § 105-134 on a foreign corporation doing an exclusively interstate business as a motor carrier of freight did not impose a burden on interstate commerce in contravention of the United States Constitution, since no tax would be imposed if such corporation should have no net income earned in North Carolina by reason of its interstate business, and the tax was imposed only upon that portion of its net income which was reasonably attributable to its interstate business done within the borders of the State, without any discrimination against the taxpayer either in the admeasurement of the tax or the means for enforcing it, and the tax not being upon the franchise to engage in business. ET & WNC Transp. Co. v. Currie, 248 N.C. 560, 104 S.E.2d 403 (1958), aff'd, 359 U.S. 28, 79 S. Ct. 602, 3 L. Ed. 2d 625, rehearing denied, 359 U.S. 976, 79 S. Ct. 874, 3 L. Ed. 2d 842 (1959), construing § 105-134 as it stood before the 1957 amendment.

In the collection of income taxes under former § 105-134 from a foreign corporation doing an exclusively interstate business in North Carolina there was no violation of the "due process of law" provision of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV or of the "law of the land" provision of N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19. ET & WNC Transp. Co. v. Currie, 248 N.C. 560, 104 S.E.2d 403 (1958), aff'd, 359 U.S. 28, 79 S. Ct. 602, 3 L. Ed. 2d 625, rehearing denied, 359 U.S. 976, 79 S. Ct. 874, 3 L. Ed. 2d 843 (1959), construing § 105-134 as it stood before the 1957 amendment.

Transactional Test For Business Income. — Under the transactional test, to determine whether business income is derived from a transaction or activity in the regular course of the corporation's trade or business, one must consider the frequency and regularity of similar transactions, the former practices of the business, and the taxpayer's subsequent use of the income. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999); Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 132 N.C. App. 665, 513 S.E.2d 341 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

Functional Test for Business Income. — Under the functional test, income is classified as business income if it arises from the acquisition, management, and/or disposition of an asset that was used by the taxpayer in the regular course of business, and when determining whether a source of income constitutes business income under the functional test, the extraordinary nature or infrequency of the event is irrelevant. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999).

Prejudgment and postjudgment interest recovered by a taxpayer as part of a judgment for patent infringement was properly characterized as business income, where the patents arose out of and were created by the taxpayer's business activities, and the interest represented compensation received in lieu of income that the taxpayer would have earned in the marketplace absent the infringement. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999).

In determining if income is business income under the functional test, the court considers whether there are indicia of corporate ownership of the property and whether the property is essential to completeness of the regular trade or business. Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 132 N.C. App. 665, 513 S.E.2d 341 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

Functional Test for Business Income Applied to Liquidation. — The sale and liquidation of plaintiff's fine jewelry manufacturing division generated nonbusiness income for the purpose of its corporate return where the plaintiff continued to manufacture and sell other consumer products but not fine jewelry and where the proceeds were not reinvested in the company to pay off debts or meet other needs but were immediately distributed to the shareholder; because the sale was a partial liquidation, the court looked to the totality of the circumstances in applying the functional test. Lenox, Inc. v. Offerman, 140 N.C. App. 662, 538 S.E.2d 203 (2000), aff'd sub nom. Lenox, Inc. v. Tolson, — N.C. —, 548 S.E.2d 513 (2001).

When a transaction involves a complete or partial liquidation and cessation of a company's particular line of business, and the proceeds are distributed to shareholders rather than reinvested in the company, any gain or loss generated from that transaction is nonbusiness income under the functional test. Lenox, Inc. v. Tolson, 353 N.C. 659, 548 S.E.2d 513 (2001).

Apportionment of Income of Unitary Business. — The fact that the corporate enterprise is a unitary one, in the sense that the ultimate gain is derived from the entire business, does not mean that for the purpose of taxation the activities which are conducted in different jurisdictions are to be regarded as component parts of a single unit so that the entire net income may be taxed in one state regardless of the extent to which it may be derived from the conduct of the enterprise in another state. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

Although a unitary business (a concern that is carrying on one kind of business, the component parts of which are too closely connected and necessary to each other to justify division or separate consideration, as independent units) may produce an income which must be allocated to two or more states in which its activities are carried on, such business may not be split up arbitrarily and conventionally in applying the tax laws; there must be some logical reference to the production of income. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

In apportioning the income of a unitary business to determine how much of it is subject to state taxation the formula used must give adequate weight to the essential elements responsible for the earning of the income. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

Lost Profit Damages Award for Patent Infringement. — The Secretary of Revenue's interpretation of business income to include a lost profit damages award for infringement of the taxpayer's patents was correct, in that the recovery was an extraordinary or unusual transaction that provided the taxpayer with income from assets that were integral parts of its regular trade or business operations. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526 U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999).

Mutual Dependency of Interrelated Activities Sustains Apportionment Formula.

— In allocating for taxation by this State a part of the net income of a unitary business operating in this State and several other states, it is not required that its equipment appropriately employed in this State be equally productive with that employed in the other states, but the mutual dependency of the interrelated activities in furtherance of the entire business sustains an apportionment formula which results in a reasonable approximation of its income earned here, it being required only that the formula not be intrinsically arbitrary or produce an unreasonable result. VEPCO v. Currie, 254 N.C. 17, 118 S.E.2d 155, appeal dismissed, 367 U.S. 910, 81 S. Ct. 1919, 6 L. Ed. 2d 1250 (1961).

Taxation of Dividends Received by Foreign Corporation from Foreign Subsidiary. — For purposes of taxation in a parent-subsidiary relationship, where the corporate separation is maintained and the subsidiary conducts its own business, the subsidiary, not the parent, is doing the business. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

The mere fact that a foreign corporation engaged in business in this and other states, owns a subsidiary corporation in another state, which subsidiary does no business in North Carolina and owns no property in this State but is engaged in a similar business to that of the parent corporation, does not of itself require the parent corporation to prorate the dividends received from such subsidiary to all the states in which the parent corporation does business.

There was no legal basis for requiring a foreign corporation to pay income taxes to the State on the dividends received from its subsidiary, where the subsidiary was neither a customer nor a retail outlet of the parent corporation, and the dividends were paid out of earnings of the subsidiary no part of which was earned from business conducted or transacted in the State. American Bakeries Co. v. Johnson, 259 N.C. 419, 131 S.E.2d 1 (1963).

Taxation of Dividends Received by Domesticated Corporation from Foreign Subsidiary. — Where the separate entities of the domesticated parent and its foreign, dividend-paying subsidiary (engaged in a similar business outside of North Carolina) are maintained — each transacting its own business as a distinct corporation and dealing with the other as if no parent-subsidiary relation existed — North Carolina cannot tax the subsidiary's dividends even though they are included in the parent's ultimate gains. Gulf Oil Corp. v.

The test for determining whether income of a foreign subsidiary may be taxed in this State is not solely whether the business of a foreign subsidiary is similar to that in which the domesticated parent is engaging in North Carolina or elsewhere, or whether it has had business transactions with the parent elsewhere in the world. Conceding both similarity of businesses and intercorporate transactions outside the State, yet the dividend income which the subsidiary pays the parent cannot be constitutionally allocated to North Carolina and prorated for income taxation unless (1) it is attributable to business activities within this jurisdiction or (2) the activities of the corporations are so interrelated as to make it impossible to identify the various sources of the taxpayer's total earnings with reasonable certainty. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Company Not "Excluded Corporation". — A mortgage guaranty insurance company is not an "excluded corporation" under subdivision

(a)(4). See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. W.B. Matthews, Director, Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Division, North Carolina Department of Revenue, 46 N.C.A.G. 34 (1976).

§ 105-130.5. Adjustments to federal taxable income in determining State net income.

(a) The following additions to federal taxable income shall be made in determining State net income:

- (1) Taxes based on or measured by net income by whatever name called and excess profits taxes;
- (2) Interest paid in connection with income exempt from taxation under this Part;
- (3) The contributions deduction allowed by the Code;
- (4) Interest income earned on bonds and other obligations of other states or their political subdivisions, less allowable amortization on any bond acquired on or after January 1, 1963;
- (5) The amount by which gains have been offset by the capital loss carryover allowed under the Code. All gains recognized on the sale or other disposition of assets must be included in determining State net income or loss in the year of disposition;
- (6) The net operating loss deduction allowed by the Code; and
- (7) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-327, s. 3(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001.
- (8) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 778, s. 2.
- (9) Payments to or charges by a parent, subsidiary or affiliated corporation in excess of fair compensation in all intercompany transactions of any kind whatsoever pursuant to the Revenue Laws of this State.
- (10) The total amounts allowed under this Chapter during the taxable year as a credit against the taxpayer's income tax. A corporation that apportions part of its income to this State shall make the addition required by this subdivision after it determines the amount of its income that is apportioned and allocated to this State and shall not apply to a credit taken under this Chapter the apportionment factor used by it in determining the amount of its apportioned income.

- (11) The amount by which the percentage depletion allowance allowed by sections 613 and 613A of the Code for mines, oil and gas wells, and other natural deposits exceeds the cost depletion allowance for these items under the Code, except as otherwise provided herein. This subdivision does not apply to depletion deductions for clay, gravel, phosphate rock, lime, shells, stone, sand, feldspar, gemstones, mica, talc, lithium compounds, tungsten, coal, peat, olivine, pyrophyllite, and other solid minerals or rare earths extracted from the soil or waters of this State. Corporations required to apportion income to North Carolina shall first add to federal taxable income the amount of all percentage depletion in excess of cost depletion that was subtracted from the corporation's gross income in computing its federal income taxes and shall then subtract from the taxable income apportioned to North Carolina the amount by which the percentage depletion allowance allowed by sections 613 and 613A of the Code for solid minerals or rare earths extracted from the soil or waters of this State exceeds the cost depletion allowance for these items.
  - (12) The amount allowed under the Code for depreciation or as an expense in lieu of depreciation for a utility plant acquired by a natural gas local distribution company, to the extent the plant is included in the company's rate base at zero cost in accordance with G.S. 62-158.
  - (13) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-427, s. 4(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002.
  - (14) Royalty payments required to be added by G.S. 105-130.7A, to the extent deducted in calculating federal taxable income.
- (b) The following deductions from federal taxable income shall be made in determining State net income:
- (1) Interest upon the obligations of the United States or its possessions, to the extent included in federal taxable income: Provided, interest upon the obligations of the United States shall not be an allowable deduction unless interest upon obligations of the State of North Carolina or any of its political subdivisions is exempt from income taxes imposed by the United States.
  - (1a) Interest upon the obligations of any of the following, net of related expenses, to the extent included in federal taxable income:
    - a. This State, a political subdivision of this State, or a commission, an authority, or another agency of this State or of a political subdivision of this State.
    - b. A nonprofit educational institution organized or chartered under the laws of this State.
  - (2) Payments received from a parent, subsidiary or affiliated corporation in excess of fair compensation in intercompany transactions which in the determination of the net income or net loss of such corporation were not allowed as a deduction under the Revenue Laws of this State.
  - (3) The deductible portion of dividends from stock as provided under G.S. 105-130.7.
  - (3a) Dividends treated as received from sources outside the United States as determined under section 862 of the Code, net of related expenses, to the extent included in federal taxable income.
  - (3b) Any amount included in federal taxable income under section 78 or section 951 of the Code, net of related expenses.

- (4) Losses in the nature of net economic losses sustained by the corporation in any or all of the 15 preceding years pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-130.8. A corporation required to allocate and apportion its net income under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.4 shall deduct its allocable net economic loss only from total income allocable to this State pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-130.8.
- (5) Contributions or gifts made by any corporation within the income year to the extent provided under G.S. 105-130.9.
- (6) Amortization in excess of depreciation allowed under the Code on the cost of any sewage or waste treatment plant, and facilities or equipment used for purposes of recycling or resource recovery of or from solid waste, or for purposes of reducing the volume of hazardous waste generated as provided in G.S. 105-130.10.
- (7) Depreciation of emergency facilities acquired prior to January 1, 1955. Any corporation shall be permitted to depreciate any emergency facility, as such is defined in section 168 of the Code, over its useful life, provided such facility was acquired prior to January 1, 1955, and no amortization has been claimed on such facility for State income tax purposes.
- (8) The amount of losses realized on the sale or other disposition of assets not allowed under section 1211(a) of the Code. All losses recognized on the sale or other disposition of assets must be included in determining State net income or loss in the year of disposition.
- (9) With respect to a shareholder of a regulated investment company, the portion of undistributed capital gains of such regulated investment company included in such shareholder's federal taxable income and on which the federal tax paid by the regulated investment company is allowed as a credit or refund to the shareholder under section 852 of the Code.
- (10) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 778, s. 2.
- (11) If a deduction for an ordinary and necessary business expense was required to be reduced or was not allowed under the Code because the corporation claimed a federal tax credit against its federal income tax liability for the income year in lieu of a deduction, the amount by which the deduction was reduced and the amount of the deduction that was disallowed.
- (12) Reasonable expenses, in excess of deductions allowed under the Code, paid for reforestation and cultivation of commercially grown trees; provided, that this deduction shall be allowed only to those corporations in which the real owners of all the shares of such corporation are natural persons actively engaged in the commercial growing of trees, or the spouse, siblings, or parents of such persons. Provided, further, that in no case shall a corporation be allowed a deduction for the same reforestation or cultivation expenditure more than once.
- (13) The eligible income of an international banking facility to the extent included in determining federal taxable income, determined as follows:
  - a. "International banking facility" shall have the same meaning as is set forth in the laws of the United States or regulations of the board of governors of the federal reserve system.
  - b. The eligible income of an international banking facility for the taxable year shall be an amount obtained by multiplying State taxable income as determined under G.S. 105-130.3 (determined without regard to eligible income of an international banking facility and allocation and apportionment, if applicable) for such year by a fraction, the denominator of which shall be the gross receipts for such year derived by the bank from all sources, and the numerator of which shall be the adjusted gross receipts for such year derived by the international banking facility from:

1. Making, arranging for, placing or servicing loans to foreign persons substantially all the proceeds of which are for use outside the United States;
2. Making or placing deposits with foreign persons which are banks or foreign branches of banks (including foreign subsidiaries or foreign branches of the taxpayer) or with other international banking facilities; or
3. Entering into foreign exchange trading or hedging transactions related to any of the transactions described in this paragraph.
- c. The adjusted gross receipts shall be determined by multiplying the gross receipts of the international banking facility by a fraction the numerator of which is the average amount for the taxable year of all assets of the international banking facility which are employed outside the United States and the denominator of which is the average amount for the taxable year of all assets of the international banking facility.
- d. For the purposes of this subsection the term "foreign person" means:
  1. An individual who is not a resident of the United States;
  2. A foreign corporation, a foreign partnership or a foreign trust, as defined in section 7701 of the Code, other than a domestic branch thereof;
  3. A foreign branch of a domestic corporation (including the taxpayer);
  4. A foreign government or an international organization or an agency of either, or
  5. An international banking facility.

For purposes of this paragraph, the terms "foreign" and "domestic" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 7701 of the Code.

- (14) The amount by which the basis of a depreciable asset is required to be reduced under the Code for federal tax purposes because of a tax credit allowed against the corporation's federal income tax liability. This deduction may be claimed only in the year in which the Code requires that the asset's basis be reduced. In computing gain or loss on the asset's disposition, this deduction shall be considered as depreciation.
- (15) The amount paid during the income year, pursuant to 7 U.S.C. § 1445-2, as marketing assessments on tobacco grown by the corporation in North Carolina.
- (16) The amount of natural gas expansion surcharges collected by a natural gas local distribution company under G.S. 62-158.
- (17) The amount of 911 charges collected under G.S. 62A-5 and remitted to a local government under G.S. 62A-6, and the amount of wireless Enhanced 911 service charges collected under G.S. 62A-23 and remitted to the Wireless Fund under G.S. 62A-24.
- (18) Interest, investment earnings, and gains of a trust, the settlors of which are two or more manufacturers that signed a settlement agreement with this State to settle existing and potential claims of the State against the manufacturers for damages attributable to a product of the manufacturers, if the trust meets all of the following conditions:

- a. The purpose of the trust is to address adverse economic consequences resulting from a decline in demand of the manufactured product potentially expected to occur because of market restrictions and other provisions in the settlement agreement.
  - b. A court of this State approves and retains jurisdiction over the trust.
  - c. Certain portions of the distributions from the trust are made in accordance with certifications that meet the criteria in the agreement creating the trust and are provided by a nonprofit entity, the governing board of which includes State officials.
- (19) To the extent included in federal taxable income, the amount paid to the taxpayer during the taxable year from the Hurricane Floyd Reserve Fund in the Office of State Budget and Management for hurricane relief or assistance, but not including payments for goods or services provided by the taxpayer.
- (20) Royalty payments received from a related member who added the payments to income under G.S. 105-130.7A for the same taxable year.
- (c) The following other adjustments to federal taxable income shall be made in determining State net income:
- (1) In determining State net income, no deduction shall be allowed for annual amortization of bond premiums applicable to any bond acquired prior to January 1, 1963. The amount of premium paid on any such bond shall be deductible only in the year of sale or other disposition.
  - (2) Federal taxable income must be increased or decreased to account for any difference in the amount of depreciation, amortization, or gains or losses applicable to property which has been depreciated or amortized by use of a different basis or rate for State income tax purposes than used for federal income tax purposes prior to the effective date of this Part.
  - (3) No deduction is allowed for any direct or indirect expenses related to income not taxed under this Part; provided, no adjustment shall be made under this subsection for adjustments addressed in G.S. 105-130.5(a) and (b).
  - (4) The taxpayer shall add to federal taxable income the amount of any recovery during the taxable year not included in federal taxable income, to the extent the taxpayer's deduction of the recovered amount in a prior taxable year reduced the taxpayer's tax imposed by this Part but, due to differences between the Code and this Part, did not reduce the amount of the taxpayer's tax imposed by the Code. The taxpayer may deduct from federal taxable income the amount of any recovery during the taxable year included in federal taxable income under section 111 of the Code, to the extent the taxpayer's deduction of the recovered amount in a prior taxable year reduced the taxpayer's tax imposed by the Code but, due to differences between the Code and this Part, did not reduce the amount of the taxpayer's tax imposed by this Part.
  - (5) A savings and loan association may deduct interest earned on deposits at the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta, or its successor, to the extent included in federal taxable income.
- (d) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 778, s. 3.
- (e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, any recapture of depreciation required under the Code must be included in a corporation's State net income to the extent required for federal income tax purposes.
- (f) Expired. (1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1969, cc. 1113, 1124; 1971, c. 820, s. 1; c. 1206, s. 1; 1973, c. 1287, s. 4; 1975, c. 764, s. 4; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1200, s. 1; 1979,

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-171, s. 11(a) made the amendments to this section by s. 7 effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, and applicable to losses incurred for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-333 s. 9 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 1999-463, enacted at the 1999 Extra Session held on December 15 and 16, 1999, provides in s. 1 that the act shall be known as the Hurricane Floyd Recovery Act of 1999.

For counties declared a major disaster area as a result of Hurricane Floyd, see the under § 115C-84.2.

Session Laws 1999-463, s. 4.5 provides that a written statement of State and federal income tax treatment be included with the disbursement of funds or property for hurricane relief or assistance by each agency disbursing same.

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(a), provides: "The General Assembly finds that most corporations engaged in manufacturing and retailing activities in this State comply with the State tax on income generated from using trademarks in those activities. Taxpayers who do not comply, however, create an unfair burden on these corporate citizens. It is the intent of this section to reward taxpayers who comply, by giving them an option on how to file tax returns involving royalty income."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(f), provides in part: "Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax by a payer of royalties who adds the payments to State net income pursuant to G.S.105-130.7A(c), to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section

Session Laws 2001-327, s.3(c) provides: "Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 4(a), provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by December 1, 2001, on its plans and actions to implement the provisions of this act. In addition, the Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May 1, 2002, and December 1, 2002, on the effects of this act. These reports must include any recommendations the Department has for changes to this act or to other similar provisions in the Revenue Act."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001.'"

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 10(b), provides that notwithstanding § 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by s. 10 of the act, which amended subdivisions (b)(3a) and (b)(3b) of § 105-130.5.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 1(c), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (c)(5).

Session Laws 1998-158, s. 5, as amended by Session Laws 1999-337, s. 1, effective September 25, 1998, added subdivision (b)(17).

Session Laws 1998-171, s. 7, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted "15" for "five" and "A" for "Provided, a" in subdivision (b)(4).

Session Laws 1999-333, s. 2, effective, for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (b)(18).

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 1 amended Session Laws 1998-158, s. 7, which had the effect of changing the effective date of subdivision (b)(17) to September 25, 1998.

The 1999 Extra Session amendment, by Session Laws 1999-463, s. 4.6 (b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (b)(19).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 93.1, effective July 1, 2000, in subdivision (b)(19), substituted "Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management" for "Office of State Budget and Management."

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 19(c), effective August 2, 2000, inserted "911 charges collected under G.S. 62A-5 and remitted to a local government under G.S. 62A-6, and the amount of" in subdivision (b)(17).

Session Laws 2001-327, ss. 1(d), 1(e), 3(a) and 3(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, added subsections (a)(14), (b)(3a), (b)(3b), and (b)(20), and repealed subdivision (a)(7), which read: "Special deductions allowable under sections 241 to 247, inclusive, of the Code."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 12.2(b), effective July 1, 2001, substituted "Office of State Budget and Management" for "Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management" in subdivision (b)(19).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 4(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, repealed subdivision (a)(13), relating to income excluded because attributed under section 925 of the Code to a foreign sales corporation.

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 10(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, in this section as enacted by Session Laws 2001-327, inserted "net of related expenses" in subdivisions (b)(3a) and (b)(3b).

§ 105-130.6. Subsidiary and affiliated corporations.

The net income of a corporation doing business in this State that is a parent, subsidiary, or affiliate of another corporation shall be determined by eliminating all payments to or charges by the parent, subsidiary, or affiliated corporation in excess of fair compensation in all intercompany transactions of any kind whatsoever. If the Secretary finds as a fact that a report by a corporation does not disclose the true earnings of the corporation on its business carried on in this State, the Secretary may require the corporation to file a consolidated return of the entire operations of the parent corporation and of its subsidiaries and affiliates, including its own operations and income. The Secretary shall determine the true amount of net income earned by such corporation in this State. The combined net income of the corporation and of its parent, subsidiaries, and affiliates shall be apportioned to this State by use of the applicable apportionment formula required to be used by the corporation under G.S. 105-130.4. The return shall include in the apportionment formula the property, payrolls, and sales of all corporations for which the return is made. For the purposes of this section, a corporation is considered a subsidiary of another corporation when, directly or indirectly, it is subject to control by the other corporation by stock ownership, interlocking directors, or by any other means whatsoever exercised by the same or associated financial interests, whether the control is direct or through one or more subsidiary, affiliated, or controlled corporations. A corporation is considered an affiliate of another corporation when both are directly or indirectly controlled by the same parent corporation or by the same or associated financial interests by stock ownership, interlocking directors, or by any other means whatsoever, whether the control is direct or through one or more subsidiary, affiliated, or controlled corporations. The secretary may require a consolidated return under this section regardless of whether the parent or controlling corporation or interests or its subsidiaries or affiliates, other than the taxpayer, are or are not doing business in this State.

If a consolidated return required by this section is not filed within 60 days after it is demanded, then the corporation is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-230 and G.S. 105-236.

The parent, subsidiary, or affiliated corporation must incorporate in its return required under this section information needed to determine the net income taxable under this Part, and must furnish any additional information the Secretary requires. If the return does not contain the information required or the additional information requested is not furnished within 30 days after it is demanded, the corporation is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-230 and G.S. 105-236.

If the Secretary finds that the determination of the income of a parent, subsidiary, or affiliated corporation under a consolidated return will produce a greater or lesser figure than the amount of income earned in this State, the Secretary may readjust the determination by reasonable methods of computation to make it conform to the amount of income earned in this State. If the corporation contends the figure produced is greater than the earnings in this State, it must file with the Secretary within 30 days after notice of the determination a statement of its objections and of an alternative method of determination. The Secretary must consider the statement in determining the income earned in this State. The findings and conclusions of the Secretary shall be presumed to be correct and shall not be set aside unless shown to be plainly wrong. (1939, c. 158, s. 3181/2; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1959, c. 1259, ss. 4, 8; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1971, c. 1223, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(f).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(f), effective January 1, 1999, rewrote this section.

CASE NOTES

Taxation of Dividends Received by Domesticated Corporation from Foreign Subsidiary. — Where the separate entities of the domesticated parent and its foreign, dividend-paying subsidiary (engaged in a similar business outside of North Carolina) are maintained, each transacting its own business as a distinct corporation and dealing with the other as if no parent-subsidiary relation existed, North Carolina cannot tax the subsidiary's dividends, even though they are included in the parent's ultimate gains. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

The test for determining whether income of a foreign subsidiary may be taxed in this State is not solely whether the business of a foreign subsidiary is similar to that in which the domesticated parent is engaging in North Carolina or elsewhere, or whether it has had business transactions with the parent elsewhere in the world. Conceding both similarity of businesses and intercorporate transactions outside the State, yet the dividend income which the subsidiary pays the parent cannot be constitutionally allocated to North Carolina and prorated for income taxation unless (1) it is attributable to business activities within this jurisdiction, or (2) the activities of the corporations are so interrelated as to make it impossible to identify the various sources of the taxpayer's total earnings with reasonable certainty. *Gulf Oil Corp. v. ### § 105-130.7. Deductible portion of dividends.

(a) Regulated Investment Companies. — A corporation may deduct the proportionate part of dividends received by it from a regulated investment company or a real estate investment trust, as defined in G.S. 105-130.12, as represents and corresponds to income received by the regulated investment company or real estate investment trust that would not be taxed by this State if received directly by the corporation.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-327, s. 3(c) provides: "This section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 4(a) provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by December

1, 2001, on its plans and actions to implement the provisions of this act. In addition, the Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May 1, 2002, and December 1, 2002, on the effects of this act. These reports must include any recommendations the Department has for changes to this act or to other similar provisions in the Revenue Act."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-327, s. 3(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, repealed subsection (b), relating to subsidiary dividends.

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — The cases below were decided prior to the 2001 amendment to this section.

Taxation of Dividends Received by Domesticated Corporation from Foreign Subsidiary. — Where the separate entities of the domesticated parent and its foreign, dividend-paying subsidiary (engaged in a similar business outside of North Carolina) are maintained, each transacting its own business as a distinct corporation and dealing with the other as if no parent-subsidiary relation existed, North Carolina cannot tax the subsidiary's dividends, even though they are included in the parent's ultimate gains. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

The test for determining whether income of a foreign subsidiary may be taxed in this State is not solely whether the business of a foreign subsidiary is similar to that in which the domesticated parent is engaging in North Carolina or elsewhere, or whether it has had business transactions with the parent elsewhere in the world. Conceding both similarity of businesses and intercorporate transactions outside the State, yet the dividend income which the subsidiary pays the parent cannot be constitutionally allocated to North Carolina and prorated for income taxation unless (1) it is attributable to business activities within this jurisdiction, or (2) the activities of the corporations are so interrelated as to make it impossible to identify the various sources of the taxpayer's total earnings with reasonable certainty. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

§ 105-130.7A. Royalty income reporting option.

(a) Purpose. — Royalty payments received for the use of trademarks in this State are income derived from doing business in this State. This section provides taxpayers with an option concerning the method by which these royalties can be reported for taxation when the recipient and the payer are related members. As provided in this section, these royalty payments can be either (i) deducted by the payer and included in the income of the recipient, or (ii) added back to the income of the payer and excluded from the income of the recipient.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Component member. — Defined in section 1563(b) of the Code.

(2) North Carolina royalty. — An amount charged that is for, related to, or in connection with the use in this State of a trademark. The term includes royalty and technical fees, licensing fees, and other similar charges.

- (3) Own. — To own directly, indirectly, beneficially, or constructively. The attribution rules of section 318 of the Code apply in determining ownership under this section.
- (4) Related entity. — Any of the following:
  - a. A stockholder who is an individual, or a member of the stockholder's family enumerated in section 318 of the Code, if the stockholder and the members of the stockholder's family own in the aggregate at least eighty percent (80%) of the value of the taxpayer's outstanding stock.
  - b. A stockholder, or a stockholder's partnership, limited liability company, estate, trust, or corporation, if the stockholder and the stockholder's partnerships, limited liability companies, estates, trusts, and corporations are component members with respect to the taxpayer.
  - c. A corporation, or a party related to the corporation in a manner that would require an attribution of stock from the corporation to the party or from the party to the corporation under the attribution rules of section 318 of the Code, if the taxpayer owns at least eighty percent (80%) of the value of the corporation's outstanding stock.
- (5) Related member. — A person that, with respect to the taxpayer during any part of the taxable year, is one or more of the following:
  - a. A related entity.
  - b. A component member.
  - c. A person to or from whom there would be attribution of stock ownership in accordance with section 1563(e) of the Code if the phrase "5 percent or more" were replaced by "twenty percent (20%) or more" each place it appears in that section.
- (6) Royalty payment. — Either of the following:
  - a. Expenses, losses, and costs paid, accrued, or incurred for North Carolina royalties, to the extent the amounts are allowed as deductions or costs in determining taxable income before operating loss deduction and special deductions for the taxable year under the Code.
  - b. Amounts directly or indirectly allowed as deductions under section 163 of the Code, to the extent the amounts are paid, accrued, or incurred for a time price differential charged for the late payment of any expenses, losses, or costs described in this subdivision.
- (7) Trademark. — A trademark, trade name, service mark, or other similar type of intangible asset.
- (8) Use. — Use of a trademark includes direct or indirect maintenance, management, ownership, sale, exchange, or disposition of the trademark.

(c) Election. — For the purpose of computing its State net income, a taxpayer must add royalty payments made to, or in connection with transactions with, a related member during the taxable year. This addition is not required for an amount of royalty payments that meets either of the following conditions:

- (1) The related member includes the amount as income on a return filed under this Part for the same taxable year that the amount is deducted by the taxpayer, and the related member does not elect to deduct the amount pursuant to G.S. 105-130.5(b)(20).
- (2) The taxpayer can establish that the related member during the same taxable year directly or indirectly paid, accrued, or incurred the amount to a person who is not a related member.

(d) Indirect Transactions. — For the purpose of this section, an indirect transaction or relationship has the same effect as if it were direct. (2001-327, s. 1(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(a), provides: "The General Assembly finds that most corporations engaged in manufacturing and retailing activities in this State comply with the State tax on income generated from using trademarks in those activities. Taxpayers who do not comply, however, create an unfair burden on these corporate citizens. It is the intent of this section to reward taxpayers who comply, by giving them an option on how to file tax returns involving royalty income."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(f) makes this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001.

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(f), provides in part: "Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax by a payer of royalties who adds the payments to State net income pursuant to G.S.105-130.7A(c), to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section [s. 1 of Session Laws 2001-327]."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 4(a) provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by December 1, 2001, on its plans and actions to implement the provisions of this act. In addition, the Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May 1, 2002, and December 1, 2002, on the effects of this act. These reports must include any recommendations the Department has for changes to this act or to other similar provisions in the Revenue Act."

§ 105-130.8. Net economic loss.

(a) Net economic losses sustained by a corporation in any or all of the 15 preceding income years shall be allowed as a deduction to the corporation subject to the following limitations:

- (1) The purpose in allowing the deduction of a net economic loss of a prior year is to grant some measure of relief to the corporation that has incurred economic misfortune or is otherwise materially affected by strict adherence to the annual accounting rule in the determination of net income. The deduction allowed in this section does not authorize the carrying forward of any particular items or category of loss except to the extent that the loss results in the impairment of the net economic situation of the corporation so as to result in a net economic loss as defined in this section.
- (2) The net economic loss for any year means the amount by which allowable deductions for the year other than prior year losses exceed income from all sources in the year including any income not taxable under this Part.
- (3) Any net economic loss of prior years brought forward and claimed as a deduction in any income year may be deducted from net income of the year only to the extent that the loss carried forward from the prior years exceeds any income not taxable under this Part received in the same year in which the deduction is claimed, except that in the case of a corporation required to allocate and apportion to North Carolina its net income, only that proportionate part of the net economic loss of a prior year shall be deductible from total income allocable to this State as would be determined by the use of the allocation and apportionment provisions of G.S. 105-130.4 for the year of the loss.
- (4) A net economic loss carried forward from any year shall first be applied to, or offset by, any income taxable or nontaxable of the next succeeding year before any portion of the loss may be carried forward to a succeeding year.
- (5) For purposes of this section, any income item deductible in determining State net income under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.5 and any nonbusiness income not allocable to this State under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.4 shall be considered as income not taxable under this Part.

(6) No loss shall either directly or indirectly be carried forward more than 15 years.

(b) A corporation claiming a deduction for a loss for the current year or carried forward from a prior year must maintain and make available for inspection by the Secretary all records necessary to determine and verify the amount of the deduction. The Secretary or the taxpayer may redetermine an item originating in a taxable year that is closed under the statute of limitations for the purpose of determining the amount of net economic loss that can be carried forward to a taxable year that remains open under the statute of limitations. (1939, c. 158, s. 322; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; c. 668; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; c. 752, s. 3; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; c. 894; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; c. 937, s. 4; 1953, c. 1031, s. 1; c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 1100, s. 1; c. 1331, s. 1; c. 1332, 1342; c. 1343, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, ss. 4, 8; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1961, c. 201, s. 1; c. 1148; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1965, c. 1048; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-171, ss. 6, 8.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-171, s. 11(a) made the amendments to this section by s. 6 effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, and applicable to losses incurred for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1993.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-171, s. 6, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, rewrote the section. See editor's note for applicability.

Session Laws 1998-171, s. 8, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, deleted "except that a loss that is more than five years old may offset no more than fifteen percent (15%) of any taxable income for a taxable years before the remaining portion may be carried forward to a succeeding" in subdivision (a)(4).

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Many of the cases in the following note were decided under § 105-147 prior to the amendment thereof by Session Laws 1967, c. 1110. Section 105-147 was repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.3.

Section Patterned After Internal Revenue Code. — This section is patterned after the net operating loss carryover deduction found in the 1939 federal Internal Revenue Code (see now Internal Revenue Code of 1954). Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. v. Coble, 290 N.C. 586, 227 S.E.2d 562 (1976).

Federal Case Law Applicable. — The Supreme Court of North Carolina in construing this section has looked to and relied upon federal cases applying the analogous federal deduction. Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. v. Coble, 290 N.C. 586, 227 S.E.2d 562 (1976).

Carry-Over Provisions Enacted as a Matter of Grace. — The General Assembly was under no constitutional or other legal compulsion to permit a net economic loss or losses deduction for a corporation from taxable income in a subsequent year or years. It enacted the carry-over provisions purely as a matter of grace, gratuitously conferring a benefit but limiting such benefit to the net economic loss of the taxpayer after deducting therefrom the allocable portion of such taxpayer's nontaxable income. Aberfoyle Mfg. Co. v. Clayton, 265 N.C. 165, 143 S.E.2d 113 (1965).

The General Assembly was under no constitutional compulsion to allow any deduction whatever from income otherwise taxable in this State, because of a "net economic loss" in a prior year. Dayco Corp. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 490, 153 S.E.2d 28 (1967).

Determination of Deduction of Loss for Prior Years. — This section requires the inclusion of nontaxable income in arriving at an allowable deduction for carry-over purposes to be deducted from taxable income in a succeeding year. Dayton Rubber Co. v. Shaw, 244 N.C. 170, 92 S.E.2d 799 (1956), decided prior to the 1963 amendment to former § 105-147.

As to process provided for determining amount of deduction allowable to corporation on account of a "net economic loss" in a prior year, see Dayco Corp. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 490, 153 S.E.2d 28 (1967).

Out-of-State Dividends and Capital Gains Received by Foreign Corporation Must Be Deducted. — Dividends received by a foreign corporation from shares of stock owned by it in nonsubsidiary corporations and capital gains received by it from the sale of shares of stock in such nonsubsidiary corporations, even though such income is derived from out-of-state transactions and is not taxable here, must be deducted from the amount of loss carry-over claimed by the corporation against its income taxable by this State in succeeding years, since the income derived from dividends and capital gains is "income not taxable under this Division." Dayco Corp. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 490, 153 S.E.2d 28 (1967).

As Must Nonrecognized Gain on Liquidation of Subsidiaries. — Plaintiff's gain realized from the sale of its two wholly-owned subsidiaries constituted "income from all sources in the year including any income not taxable under this division"; consequently, plaintiff was not entitled to any net economic losses deduction as sought in its complaint. Aberfoyle Mfg. Co. v. Clayton, 265 N.C. 165, 143 S.E.2d 113 (1965).

Deduction by Successor Corporation of Loss Sustained by Submerged Corporation. — Whether a successor corporation is entitled to deduct from its gross income an economic loss sustained by another corporation depends upon whether the successor corporation is for practical purposes the same and is engaged in continuing the business of the kind and character conducted by the corporation whose loss is claimed as a deduction. Good Will Distribs. (N.), Inc. v. Shaw, 247 N.C. 157, 100 S.E.2d 334 (1957); Good Will Distribs., Inc. v. Currie, 251 N.C. 120, 110 S.E.2d 880 (1959).

Where a corporation surviving a merger seeks to establish its right to deduct from its gross income an economic loss of one of its submerged corporations for a prior year as a carry-over under this section, and it appears from the facts alleged that the submerged corporation had a profit in the months of the fiscal year prior to the merger and that it had deducted its prior economic loss from such net income, leaving a balance on the loss side, and further, that as far as the facts alleged disclosed, to allow the surviving corporation to make such deduction would result in reducing the surviving corporation's income tax liability which had accrued on the date of the merger, such deduction by the surviving corporation was disallowed. Good Will Distribs. (N.), Inc. v. Shaw, 247 N.C. 157, 100 S.E.2d 334 (1957).

The enactment of loss carry-over legislation by the General Assembly was purely a matter of grace. The provision should not be construed to give a "windfall" to a taxpayer who happens to have merged with other corporations. Its purpose is not to give a merged taxpayer a tax advantage over others who have not merged. Good Will Distribs., Inc. v. Currie, 251 N.C. 120, 110 S.E.2d 880 (1959).

In determining whether a successor corporation may claim a net economic loss suffered by a predecessor corporation, the court must find that the two corporations are the "same," applying the continuity of business enterprise test. Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. v. Coble, 290 N.C. 586, 227 S.E.2d 562 (1976).

Continuity of business enterprise theory, the test used in determining whether a successor corporation may claim a net economic loss suffered by its predecessor, means that where a loss corporation and a gain corporation are merged, premerger losses may be offset against post-merger gains only to the extent that the business (or group of assets) which was previously operating at a loss is now operating at a profit. Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. v. Coble, 290 N.C. 586, 227 S.E.2d 562 (1976).

The forgiveness of an indebtedness by an officer-stockholder constitutes a contribution to capital and does not constitute income of the corporation. Hence, the forgiveness of such indebtedness does not offset a net operating loss of a corporation for a taxable year, and the corporation is entitled to carry forward such loss. Foreman Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 504, 135 S.E.2d 205 (1964).

Applied in Royle & Pilkington Co. v. Currie, 250 N.C. 726, 110 S.E.2d 339 (1959), decided prior to the 1963 amendment to former § 105-147.

Cited in Bellsouth Telecommunications, Inc. v. North Carolina Dep't of Revenue, 126 N.C. App. 409, 485 S.E.2d 333 (1997).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Life insurance proceeds constitute "income not taxable" for Purposes of Computing the Net Economic Loss Deduction under this Section. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr.

Wiley A. Warren, Jr., Assistant Director, Corporate Income and Franchise Tax Division, 47 N.C.A.G. 29 (1977).

§ 105-130.9. Contributions.

Contributions shall be allowed as a deduction to the extent and in the manner provided as follows:

- (1) Charitable contributions as defined in section 170(c) of the Code, exclusive of contributions allowed in subdivision (2) of this section, shall be allowed as a deduction to the extent provided herein. The amount allowed as a deduction hereunder shall be limited to an amount not in excess of five percent (5%) of the corporation's net income as computed without the benefit of this subdivision or subdivision (2) of this section. Provided, that a carryover of contributions shall not be allowed and that contributions made to North Carolina donees by corporations allocating a part of their total net income outside this State shall not be allowed under this subdivision, but shall be allowed under subdivision (3) of this section.

- (2) Contributions by any corporation to the State of North Carolina, any of its institutions, instrumentalities, or agencies, any county of this State, its institutions, instrumentalities, or agencies, any municipality of this State, its institutions, instrumentalities, or agencies, and contributions or gifts by any corporation to educational institutions located within North Carolina, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholders or dividend. For the purpose of this subdivision, the words "educational institution" shall mean only an educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where the educational activities are carried on. The words "educational institution" shall be deemed to include all of such institution's departments, schools and colleges, a group of "educational institutions" and an organization (corporation, trust, foundation, association or other entity) organized and operated exclusively to receive, hold, invest and administer property and to make expenditures to or for the sole benefit of an "educational institution" or group of "educational institutions."
- (3) Corporations allocating a part of their total net income outside North Carolina under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.4 shall deduct from total income allocable to North Carolina contributions made to North Carolina donees qualified under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section or made through North Carolina offices or branches of other donees qualified under the above-mentioned subdivisions of this section; provided, such deduction for contributions made to North Carolina donees qualified under subdivision (1) of this section shall be limited in amount to five percent (5%) of the total income allocated to North Carolina as computed without the benefit of this deduction for contributions.
- (4) The amount of a contribution for which the taxpayer claimed a tax credit pursuant to G.S. 105-130.34 shall not be eligible for a deduction under this section. The amount of the credit claimed with respect to the contribution is not, however, required to be added to income under G.S. 105-130.5(a)(10). (1939, c. 158, s. 322; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; c. 668; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; c. 752, s. 3; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; c. 894; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; c. 937, s. 4; 1953, c. 1031, s. 1; c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 1100, s. 1; c. 1331, s. 1; cc. 1332, 1342; c. 1343, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, ss. 4, 8; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1961, c. 201, s. 1; c. 1148; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1965, c. 1048; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1969, c. 1175, s. 1; 1973, c. 1287, s. 4; 1983, c. 713, s. 82; c. 793, s. 2; 1995, c. 370, s. 4.)

§ 105-130.10. Amortization of air-cleaning devices, waste treatment facilities and recycling facilities.

In lieu of any depreciation allowance, at the option of the corporation, a deduction shall be allowed for the amortization, based on a period of 60 months, of the cost of:

- (1) Any air-cleaning device, sewage or waste treatment plant, including waste lagoons, and pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed which reduces the amount of air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage, industrial waste, or other polluting materials or substances into the outdoor atmosphere or streams, lakes, rivers, or coastal waters. The deduction provided herein shall apply also to the facilities or equipment of private or public utilities built and installed primarily for the purpose of providing sewer service to residential and outlying areas. The deduction provided for in this subdivision shall be allowed by the Secretary of Revenue only upon the condition that the corporation claiming such allowance shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or from a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 certifying that the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program has found as a fact that the air-cleaning device, waste treatment plant or other pollution abatement equipment purchased or constructed and installed as above described has actually been constructed and installed and that such construction, plant or equipment complies with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program with respect to such devices, construction, plants or equipment, that such device, plant or equipment is being effectively operated in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program, and that the primary purpose thereof is to reduce air or water pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants or the discharge of sewage and waste and not merely incidental to other purposes and functions.
- (2) Purchasing and installing equipment or constructing facilities for the purpose of recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, or for the purpose of reducing the volume of hazardous waste generated. The deduction provided for in this subdivision shall be allowed by the Secretary of Revenue only upon the condition that the corporation claiming such allowance shall furnish to the Secretary a certificate from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources certifying that the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found as a fact that the equipment or facility has actually been purchased, installed or constructed, that it is in conformance with all rules and regulations of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and that recycling or resource recovering is the primary purpose of the facility or equipment. (1939, c. 158, s. 322; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; c. 668; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; c. 752, s. 3; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; c. 894; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; c. 937, s. 4; 1953, c. 1031, s. 1; c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 1100, s. 1; c. 1331, s. 1; cc. 1332, 1342; c. 1343, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, ss. 4, 8; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1961, c. 201, s. 1; c. 1148; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1965, c. 1048; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1969, c. 817; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1262, s. 23; 1975, c. 764, s. 3; 1977, c. 771, s. 4; 1981, c. 704, s. 19; 1987, c. 804, s. 4; 1989, c. 148, s. 2; c. 727, ss. 218(40), 219(28); 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 105-130.10A. Amortization of equipment mandated by OSHA.

(a) In lieu of any depreciation allowance, at the option of the corporation, a deduction shall be allowed for the amortization, based on a period of 60 months, of the cost of any equipment mandated by the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA), including the cost of planning, acquiring, constructing, modifying, and installing said equipment.

(b) For the purposes of this section and G.S. 105-147(13)d, the term "equipment mandated by the Occupational Safety and Health Act" is any tangible personal property and other buildings and structural components of buildings, which is acquired, constructed, reconstructed, modified, or erected after January 1, 1979; and which the taxpayer must acquire, construct, install, or make available in order to comply with the occupational safety and health standards adopted and promulgated by the United States Secretary of Labor or the Commissioner of Labor of North Carolina, and the term "occupational safety and health standards" includes but is not limited to interim federal standards, consensus standards, any proprietary standards or permanent standards, as well as temporary emergency standards which may be adopted by the United States Secretary of Labor, promulgated as provided by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, (Public Law 91-596, 91st Congress, Act of December 29, 1970, 84 Stat. 1950) and which standards or regulations are published in the Code of Federal Regulations or otherwise properly promulgated under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 or any alternative rule, regulation or standard promulgated by the Commissioner of Labor of North Carolina as provided in G.S. 95-131. (1979, c. 776, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Section 105-147(13)d, referred to in this section, was repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 13, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

§ 105-130.11. Conditional and other exemptions.

(a) Exempt Organizations. — Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), the following organizations and any organization that is exempt from federal income tax under the Code are exempt from the tax imposed under this Part.

- (1) Fraternal beneficiary societies, orders or associations
  - a. Operating under the lodge system or for the exclusive benefit of the members of a fraternity itself operating under the lodge system, and
  - b. Providing for the payment of life, sick, accident, or other benefits to the members of such society, order or association, or their dependents.
- (2) Cooperative banks without capital stock organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit; and electric and telephone membership corporations organized under Chapter 117 of the General Statutes.
- (3) Cemetery corporations and corporations organized for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.
- (4) Business leagues, chambers of commerce, merchants' associations, or boards of trade not organized for profit, and no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.
- (5) Civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit, but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

- (6) Clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, and other nonprofitable purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or member.
- (7) Farmers' or other mutual hail, cyclone, or fire insurance companies, mutual ditch or irrigation companies, mutual or cooperative telephone companies, or like organizations of a purely local character the income of which consists solely of assessments, dues, and fees collected from members for the sole purpose of meeting expenses.
- (8) Farmers', fruit growers', or like organizations organized and operated as sales agents for the purpose of marketing the products of members and turning back to them the proceeds of sales, less the necessary selling expenses, on the basis of the quantity of product furnished by them.
- (9) Mutual associations formed under G.S. 54-111 through 54-128 to conduct agricultural business on the mutual plan and marketing associations organized under G.S. 54-129 through 54-158.

Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to exempt any cooperative, mutual association, or other organization from an income tax on net income that has not been refunded to patrons on a patronage basis and distributed either in cash, stock, or certificates, or in some other manner that discloses the amount of each patron's refund. Provided, in arriving at net income for purposes of this subdivision, no deduction shall be allowed for dividends paid on capital stock. Patronage refunds made after the close of the taxable year and on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the taxable year are considered as to be made on the last day of the taxable year to the extent the allocations are attributable to income derived before the close of the year; provided, that no stabilization or marketing organization that handles agricultural products for sale for producers on a pool basis is considered to have realized any net income or profit in the disposition of a pool or any part of a pool until all of the products in that pool have been sold and the pool has been closed; provided, further, that a pool is not considered closed until the expiration of at least 90 days after the sale of the last remaining product in that pool. These cooperatives and other organizations shall file an annual information return with the Secretary on forms to be furnished by the Secretary and shall include the names and addresses of all persons, patrons, or shareholders whose patronage refunds amount to ten dollars ($10.00) or more.

- (10) Insurance companies paying the tax on gross premiums as specified in G.S. 105-228.5.
- (11) Corporations or organizations, such as condominium associations, homeowner associations, or cooperative housing corporations not organized for profit, the membership of which is limited to the owners or occupants of residential units in the condominium, housing development, or cooperative housing corporation, and operated exclusively for the management, operation, preservation, maintenance, or landscaping of the common areas and facilities owned by the corporation or organization or its members situated contiguous to the houses, apartments, or other dwellings or for the management, operation, preservation, maintenance, and repair of the houses, apartments, or other dwellings owned by the corporation or organization or its members, but only if no part of the net earnings of the corporation or organization inures (other than through the performance of related services for the members of such corporation or organization) to the benefit of any member of such corporation or organization or other person.

(b) Unrelated Business Income. — Except as provided in this subsection, an organization described in subdivision (a)(1), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), or (9) of this section and any organization exempt from federal income tax under the Code is subject to the tax provided in G.S. 105-130.3 on its unrelated business taxable income, as defined in section 512 of the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-130.5. The tax does not apply, however, to net income derived from any of the following:

- (1) Research performed by a college, university, or hospital.
- (2) Research performed for the United States or its instrumentality or for a state or its political subdivision.
- (3) Research performed by an organization operated primarily to carry on fundamental research, the results of which are freely available to the general public.

(c) Homeowner Association Income. — An organization described in subdivision (a)(11) of this section is subject to the tax provided in G.S. 105-130.3 on its gross income other than membership income less the deductions allowed by this Article that are directly connected with the production of the gross income other than membership income. The term “membership income” means the gross income from assessments, fees, charges, or similar amounts received from members of the organization for expenditure in the preservation, maintenance, and management of the common areas and facilities of or the residential units in the condominium or housing development.

(d) Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduits. — An entity that qualifies as a real estate mortgage investment conduit, as defined in section 860D of the Code, is exempt from the tax imposed under this Part, except that any net income derived from a prohibited transaction, as defined in section 860F of the Code, is taxable to the real estate mortgage investment conduit under G.S. 105-130.3 and G.S. 105-130.3A, subject to the adjustments provided in G.S. 105-130.5. This subsection does not exempt the holders of a regular or residual interest in a real estate mortgage investment conduit as defined in section 860G of the Code from any tax on the income from that interest. (1939, c. 158, s. 314; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; c. 752, s. 3; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1951, c. 937, s. 1; 1955, c. 1313, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1959, c. 1259, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1053, s. 4; 1975, c. 19, s. 28; c. 591, s. 2; 1981, c. 450, s. 2; 1983, c. 28, s. 1; c. 31; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 826, s. 5; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 921, s. 1; 1993, c. 494, s. 2; 1998-98, ss. 1(b), 69.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 1(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, deleted “Building and loan associations and savings and loan associations subject to tax under Article 8D of this Chapter” at the beginning of subdivision (a)(2), and made a stylistic change.

Session Laws 1998-98, s. 69, effective August 14, 1998, substituted “this Part” for “this Division” in subsections (a) and (d).

CASE NOTES

Income realized by an educational institution of another state from the rental of real estate owned by it in this State is exempt from income taxes under this section, when such income is placed in the general fund of such educational institution and is used exclusively for educational purposes. In re Vanderbilt Univ., 252 N.C. 743, 114 S.E.2d 655 (1960), decided under former § 105-138.

§ 105-130.12. Regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts.

Any organization or trust which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Revenue of North Carolina, qualifies as either a “regulated investment company” under section 851 of the Code or as a “real estate investment trust” under section 856 of the Code and which files with the North Carolina Department of Revenue its election to be treated as a “regulated investment company,” or as a “real estate investment trust” shall be taxed under this Part upon only that part of its net income which is not distributed or declared for distribution to shareholders during the income year or by the time required by law for the filing of the return for the income year including the period of any extension of time granted for filing such return. (1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 110, s. 3; 1971, c. 820, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 74; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-130.13: Repealed by Session Laws 1987 (Regular Session, 1988), c. 1089, s. 2, as amended by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.33.

§ 105-130.14. Corporations filing consolidated returns for federal income tax purposes.

Any corporation electing or required to file a consolidated income tax return with the Internal Revenue Service shall not file a consolidated return with the Secretary of Revenue, unless specifically directed to do so in writing by the Secretary, and shall determine its State net income as if a separate return had been filed for federal purposes. (1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-130.15. Basis of return of net income.

(a) The net income of a corporation shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting it regularly employs in keeping its books. The method must be consistent with respect to both income and deductions. If this method does not clearly reflect the income, the computation shall be made in accordance with a method that, in the Secretary's opinion, does clearly reflect the income, but shall follow as nearly as practicable the federal practice, unless contrary to the context and intent of this Part.

The Secretary may adopt the rules and regulations and any guidelines administered or established by the Internal Revenue Service unless contrary to any provisions of this Part.

(b) Change of Income Year. —

- (1) A corporation may change the income year upon which it reports for income tax purposes without prior approval by the Secretary of Revenue if such change in income year has been approved by or is acceptable to the Federal Commissioner of Internal Revenue and is used for filing income tax returns under the provisions of the Code.

If a corporation desires to make a change in its income year other than as provided above, it may make such change in its income year with the approval of the Secretary of Revenue, provided such approval is requested at least 30 days prior to the end of its new income year.

A corporation which has changed its income year without requesting the approval of the Secretary of Revenue as provided in the first paragraph of this subdivision shall submit to the Secretary of Revenue notification of any change in the income year after the change has been approved by the Federal Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his agent where application for permission to change is required by the Federal Commissioner of Internal Revenue with such notification stating that such approval has been received. Where application for change of the income year is not required by the Federal Commissioner of Internal Revenue, notification of the change of income year shall be submitted to the Secretary of Revenue with the short period return.

- (2) A return for a period of less than 12 months (referred to in this subsection as “short period”) shall be made when the corporation changes its income year. In such a case, the return shall be made for the short period beginning on the day after the close of the former taxable year and ending at the close of the day before the day designated as the first day of the new taxable year, except that a corporation changing to, or from, a taxable year varying from 52 to 53 weeks shall not be required to file a short period return if such change results in a short period of 359 days or more, or less than seven days. Short period income tax returns shall be filed within the same period following the end of such short period as is required for full year returns under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.17.

(c) Any foreign corporation not domesticated in this State shall not use the installment method of reporting income to this State unless such corporation files a bond with the Secretary of Revenue in such amount and with such sureties as the Secretary shall deem necessary to secure the payment of any taxes which were deferred with respect to any installment transaction.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, any corporation which uses the installment method of reporting income to this State and which is planning to withdraw from this State, merge, or consolidate its business, or terminate its business in this State by any other means whatsoever, shall be required to make a report for income tax purposes, to the Secretary of Revenue, of any unrealized or unreported income from installment sales made while doing business in this State and to pay any tax which may be due on such income. The manner and form for making such report and paying the tax shall be as prescribed by the Secretary. (1939, c. 158, s. 318; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1955, c. 1313, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 82; 1998-98, s. 69; 2000-140, s. 64(a).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 64(a), effective July 21, 2000, in subsection (a), in the first paragraph, substituted “employs in keeping its books. The method must” for “employed in keeping the books of such corporation, but such method of accounting must,” substituted “deductions. If this method” for “deductions, but if in any case such method,” substituted “a method that, in the Secretary’s opinion” for “such method as in the opinion of the Secretary of Revenue” and deleted “in his discretion” following “The Secretary may” in the second paragraph.

§ 105-130.16. Returns.

(a) Return. — Every corporation doing business in this State must file with the Secretary an income tax return showing specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this Part and any other facts the Secretary requires to make any computation required by this Part. The return of a corporation must be signed by its president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary, or assistant secretary. The officer signing the return must furnish an affirmation verifying the return. The affirmation must be in the form required by the Secretary.

(b) Correction of Distortions. — When the Secretary has reason to believe that any corporation so conducts its trade or business in such manner as to either directly or indirectly distort its true net income and the net income properly attributable to the State, whether by the arbitrary shifting of income, through price fixing, charges for service, or otherwise, whereby the net income is arbitrarily assigned to one or another unit in a group of taxpayers carrying on business under a substantially common control, the Secretary may require any facts the Secretary considers necessary for the proper computation of the entire net income and the net income properly attributable to the State, and in determining these computations, the Secretary must have regard to the fair profit that would normally arise from the conduct of the trade or business.

(c) Other Corrections. — When any corporation liable to taxation under this Part conducts its business in such a manner as to either directly or indirectly benefit the members or stockholders thereof or any person interested in the business by selling its products or goods or commodities in which it deals at less than the fair price which might be obtained therefor, or when a corporation, a substantial portion of whose capital stock is owned either directly or indirectly by another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation so owning a substantial portion of its stock in such a manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of the corporations, or when a corporation, owning directly or indirectly a substantial portion of the stock of another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation of which it so owns a substantial portion of the stock in such manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of the corporations, the Secretary may determine the amount of taxable income of the such corporations for the calendar or fiscal year, having due regard to the reasonable profits which, but for such arrangement or understanding, might or could have been obtained by the corporations liable to taxation under this Part from dealing in such products, goods or commodities. (1939, c. 158, s. 326; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 69; 1999-337, s. 22.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

§ 105-130.17. Time and place of filing returns.

(a) Returns must be filed as prescribed by the Secretary at the place prescribed by the Secretary. Returns must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary. The Secretary shall furnish forms in accordance with G.S. 105-254.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the return of a corporation shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of its income year. An income year ending on any day other than the last day of the month shall be deemed to end on the last day of the calendar month ending nearest to the last day of a taxpayer's actual income year.

(c) In the case of mutual associations formed under G.S. 54-111 through 54-128 to conduct agricultural business on the mutual plan and marketing associations organized under G.S. 54-129 through 54-158, which are required to file under subsection (a)(9) of G.S. 105-130.11, a return made on the basis of a calendar year shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the September following the close of the calendar year, and a return made on the basis of a fiscal year shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the fiscal year.

(d) A taxpayer may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263.

(d1) Organizations described in G.S. 105-130.11(a)(1), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7) and (8) that are required to file a return under G.S. 105-130.11(b) shall file a return made on the basis of a calendar year on or before the fifteenth day of May following the close of the calendar year and a return made on the basis of a fiscal year on or before the fifteenth day of the fifth month following the close of the fiscal year.

(e) Any corporation that ceases its operations in this State before the end of its income year because of its intention to dissolve or to withdraw from this State, or because of a merger, conversion, or consolidation or for any other reason whatsoever shall file its return for the then current income year within 75 days after the date it terminates its business in this State.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-217, s. 42, effective October 31, 1998. (1939, c. 158, s. 329; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; 1953, c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 17, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 4; 1981, c. 56; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 8; 1997-300, s. 3; 1998-217, s. 42; 1999-369, s. 5.5; 2000-140, s. 64(b).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.5, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, in subsection (e), substituted “that ceases” for “which ceases,” and inserted “conversion” following “merger.”

§ 105-130.18. Failure to file returns; supplementary returns.

If the Secretary determines that a corporation has failed to file a return or to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, items of taxable income, the Secretary may require from the corporation a return or supplementary return, under affirmation, of all the items of income that the corporation received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under this Part. If from a supplementary return or otherwise the Secretary finds that any items of income, taxable under this Part, have been omitted from the original return, that any items returned as taxable are not taxable, or that any item of taxable income is overstated or understated, the Secretary may require that the item be disclosed under affirmation of the corporation, and be added to or deducted from the original return. The filing of a supplementary return and the correction of the original return does not relieve the corporation from any of the penalties under G.S. 105-236. The Secretary may proceed under the provisions of G.S. 105-241.1, whether or not the Secretary requires a return or a supplementary return under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 331; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 69; 2000-140, s. 64(c).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 64(c), effective July 21, 2000, rewrote the section.

§ 105-130.19. When tax must be paid.

(a) Except as provided in Article 4C of this Chapter, the full amount of the tax payable as shown on the return must be paid to the Secretary within the time allowed for filing the return.

(b), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 37, s. 1.

§ 105-130.20. Federal corrections.

If a taxpayer's federal taxable income is corrected or otherwise determined by the federal government, the taxpayer must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file an income tax return with the Secretary reflecting the corrected or determined taxable income. The Secretary shall determine from all available evidence the taxpayer's correct tax liability for the income year. As used in this section, the term "all available evidence" means evidence of any kind that becomes available to the Secretary from any source, whether or not the evidence was considered in the federal correction or determination.

The Secretary shall assess and collect any additional tax due from the taxpayer as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. The Secretary shall refund any overpayment of tax as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. A taxpayer that fails to comply with this section is subject to the penalties in G.S. 105-236 and forfeits its rights to any refund due by reason of the determination. (1939, c. 158, s. 334; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1957, c. 1340, s. 14; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 2.)

§ 105-130.21. Information at the source.

(a) Every corporation having a place of business or having one or more employees, agents or other representatives in this State, in whatever capacity acting, including lessors or mortgagors of real or personal property, or having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (other than interest coupons payable to the bearer), rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains or profits paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer, shall make complete return thereof to the Secretary of Revenue under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by him. The filing of any report in compliance with the provisions of this section by a foreign corporation shall not constitute an act in evidence of and shall not be deemed to be evidence that such corporation is doing business in this State.

(b) Every corporation doing business or having a place of business in this State shall file with the Secretary of Revenue, on such form and in such manner as he may prescribe, the names and addresses of all taxpayers, residents of North Carolina, to whom dividends have been paid and the amount of such dividends during the income year. (1939, c. 158, s. 328; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-130.22. Tax credit for construction of dwelling units for handicapped persons.

There is allowed to corporate owners of multifamily rental units located in this State as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part, an amount equal to five hundred fifty dollars ($550.00) for each dwelling unit constructed by the corporate owner that conforms to Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code for the taxable year within which the construction of the dwelling unit is completed. The credit is allowed only for dwelling units completed during the taxable year that were required to be built in compliance with Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code. If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the tax imposed by this Part reduced by all other credits allowed, the excess may be carried forward for the next succeeding year. In order to secure the credit allowed by this section the corporation shall file with its income tax return a copy of the occupancy permit on the face of which is recorded by the building inspector the number of units completed during the taxable year that conform to Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code. After recording the number of these units on the face of the occupancy permit, the building inspector shall promptly forward a copy of the permit to the Building Accessibility Section of the Department of Insurance. (1973, c. 910, s. 1; 1979, c. 803, ss. 1, 2; 1981, c. 682, s. 16; 1997-6, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by the act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-130.25. Credit against corporate income tax for construction of cogenerating power plants.

(a) Credit. — A corporation or a partnership, other than a public utility as defined in G.S. 62-3(23), that constructs a cogenerating power plant in North Carolina is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the costs paid during the taxable year to purchase and install the electrical or mechanical power generation equipment of that plant. The credit may not be taken for the year in which the costs are paid but shall be taken for the taxable year beginning during the calendar year following the calendar year in which the costs were paid. To be eligible for the credit allowed by this section, the corporation or partnership must own or control the power plant at the time of construction. The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer.

(b) Cogenerating Power Plant Defined. — For purposes of this section, a cogenerating power plant is a power plant that sequentially produces electrical or mechanical power and useful thermal energy using natural gas as its primary energy source.

(c) Alternative Method. — A taxpayer eligible for the credit allowed by this section may elect to treat the costs paid during an earlier year as if they were paid during the year the plant becomes operational. This election must be made on or before April 15 following the calendar year in which the plant becomes operational. The election must be in the form prescribed by the Secretary and must contain any supporting documentation the Secretary may require. An election with respect to costs paid by a partnership must be made by the partnership and is binding on any partners to whom the credit is passed through.

The costs with respect to which this election is made will be treated, for the purposes of this section, as if they had actually been paid in the year the plant becomes operational. If a taxpayer makes this election, however, the credit may not exceed one-fourth the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax by or on behalf of the taxpayer, but any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the next 10 taxable years. An election made under this subsection is irrevocable.

(d) Application. — To be eligible for the credit allowed in this section, a taxpayer must file an application for the credit with the Secretary on or before April 15 following the calendar year in which the costs were paid. The application shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary and shall include any supporting documentation the Secretary may require. An application with respect to costs paid by a partnership must be made by the partnership on behalf of its partners.

(e) Ceiling. — The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under this section for payments for construction and installation made in a calendar year may not exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000). The Secretary shall calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed pursuant to subsection (d). If the total amount of tax credits claimed for payments made in a calendar year exceeds five million dollars ($5,000,000), the Secretary shall allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating the total allowable amount among all taxpayers claiming the credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer. In no case may the total amount of all tax credits allowed under this section for costs paid in a calendar year exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000).

If a credit claimed under this section is reduced as provided in this subsection, the Secretary shall notify the taxpayer of the amount of the reduction of the credit on or before December 31 of the year the taxpayer applied for the credit. The amount of the reduction of the credit may be carried forward and claimed for the next 10 taxable years if the taxpayer reapplies for a credit for the amount of the reduction, as provided in subsection (d). In such a reapplication, the costs for which a credit is claimed shall be considered as if they had been paid in the year preceding the reapplication. The Secretary's allocations based on applications filed pursuant to subsection (d) are final and shall not be adjusted to account for credits applied for but not claimed. (1979, c. 801, s. 34; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 674, ss. 1, 2, 4; 1995, c. 17, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 69.)

Editor's Note. — Subsections (a1) and (b) through (e), respectively, at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

§ 105-130.26: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by the act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-130.27: Expired.

Editor's Note. — Pursuant to former subsection (g) of this section, this section applied only to costs incurred during taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1998.

§ 105-130.27A: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by the act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-130.28. (Repealed effective for costs incurred during taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006) Credit against corporate income tax for construction of a renewable energy equipment facility.

(a) Credit. — A corporation that constructs in North Carolina a facility for the manufacture of renewable energy equipment is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the installation and equipment costs of construction paid during the taxable year. The entire credit may not be taken for the taxable year in which the costs are paid but must be taken in five equal installments beginning with the taxable year in which the costs are paid.

No credit is allowed, however, to the extent that any of the costs of the equipment were provided by federal, State, or local grants. To secure the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must own or control the facility at the time of construction.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Biomass equipment. — Products designed to use renewable biomass resources for biofuel production of ethanol, methanol, and biodiesel; anaerobic biogas production of methane utilizing agricultural and animal waste or garbage; or commercial thermal or electrical generation from renewable energy crops or wood waste materials. The term also includes related devices for converting, conditioning, and storing the liquid fuels, gas, and electricity produced with biomass equipment.
- (2) Hydroelectric generator. — Defined in G.S. 105-129.15.
- (3) Renewable biomass resources. — Defined in G.S. 105-129.15.
- (4) Renewable energy equipment. — Biomass equipment, hydroelectric generators, solar electric or thermal equipment, and wind energy equipment.
- (5) Solar electric or thermal equipment. — Products designed to convert sunlight into electricity or heat.
- (6) Wind energy equipment. — Products designed to capture and convert wind energy into electricity or mechanical power.

(c) Cap. — The credit allowed by this section may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of the credit, including carryforwards, claimed by the taxpayer under this section for the taxable year. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding 10 years.

(d) No Double Credit. — A taxpayer that claims any other credit allowed under this Chapter with respect to construction of a facility for the manufacture of renewable energy equipment may not take the credit allowed in this section with respect to the same facility. (1981, c. 921, s. 1; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 584, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 82; 2000-128, s. 1.)

Section Repealed Effective for Costs Incurred During Taxable Years Beginning on or after January 1, 2006. — This section is repealed effective for costs incurred during taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006, by Session Laws 2000-128, s. 3.

Session Laws 2000-128, s. 4, effective July 14, 2000, provides: “This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under the statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-128, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, substituted “renewable energy” for “photovoltaic” in the section heading; divided subsection (a) into the present two paragraphs, and in the first paragraph, inserted “Credit,” substituted “A corporation” for “Any corporation,” substituted “manufacture of renewable energy” for “production of photovoltaic” and added the last sentence, and deleted the last sentence in the second paragraph stating “The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of the tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer”; substituted the present provisions in subsection (b) for “As used in this section, ‘photovoltaic equipment’ means those products designed, manufactured, and produced to convert sunlight directly into electricity”; substituted the present provisions in subsection (c) for “The amount of credit allowed under this section may be carried over for the next succeeding five years”; and added subsection (d).

§§ 105-130.29 through 105-130.33: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by the act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

Repealed § 105-130.33 was amended by Session Laws 1999-337, s. 23, effective July 22, 1999, which, in subsection (a), inserted a second instance of “generator” and deleted “under this Part” following “allowable.”

§ 105-130.34. Credit for certain real property donations.

(a) Any corporation that makes a qualified donation of an interest in real property located in North Carolina during the taxable year that is useful for public beach access or use, public access to public waters or trails, fish and wildlife conservation, or other similar land conservation purposes is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the fair market value of the donated property interest. To be eligible for this credit, the interest in real property must be donated to and accepted by either the State, a local government, or a body that is both organized to receive and administer lands for conservation purposes and qualified to receive charitable contributions pursuant to G.S. 105-130.9. Lands required to be dedicated pursuant to local governmental regulation or ordinance and dedications made to increase building density levels permitted under a regulation or ordinance are not eligible for this credit. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000). To support the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must file with its income tax return, for the taxable year in which the credit is claimed, a certification by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources that the property donated is suitable for one or more of the valid public benefits set forth in this subsection.

(b) The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer.

(c) Any unused portion of this credit may be carried forward for the next succeeding five years.

(d) That portion of a qualifying donation that is the basis for a credit allowed under this section is not eligible for deduction as a charitable contribution under G.S. 105-130.9. (1983, c. 793, s. 1; 1989, c. 716, s. 1; c. 727, s. 218 (41); 1997-226, s. 1; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a); 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-212, s. 29A.13(c).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.13(c), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted “five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000)” for “two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000)” in subsection (a).

§ 105-130.36. Credit for conservation tillage equipment.

(a) Any corporation that purchases conservation tillage equipment for use in a farming business, including tree farming, shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the cost of the equipment paid during the taxable year. This credit may not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for any taxable year for any taxpayer. The credit may be claimed only by the first purchaser of the equipment and may not be claimed by a corporation that purchases the equipment for resale or for use outside this State. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the tax imposed under this Part, the excess may be carried forward for the succeeding five years. The basis in any equipment for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of credit allowable.

(b) As used in this section, “conservation tillage equipment” means:

- (1) A planter such as a planter commonly known as a “no-till” planter designed to minimize disturbance of the soil in planting crops or trees, including equipment that may be attached to equipment already owned by the taxpayer; or,
- (2) Equipment designed to minimize disturbance of the soil in reforestation site preparation, including equipment that may be attached to equipment already owned by the taxpayer; provided, however, this shall include only those items of equipment generally known as a “KG-Blade”, a “drum-chopper”, or a “V-Blade”. (1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 969, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 88.)

§ 105-130.37. Credit for gleaned crop.

(a) Any corporation that grows a crop and permits the gleaning of the crop during the taxable year is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to ten percent (10%) of the market price of the quantity of the gleaned crop. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. No deduction is allowed under G.S. 105-130.5(b)(5) for the items for which a credit is claimed under this section. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years.

(b) The following definitions apply to this section:

- (1) "Gleaning" means the harvesting of a crop that has been donated by the grower to the nonprofit organization which will distribute the crop to individuals or other nonprofit organizations it considers appropriate recipients of the food;
- (2) "Market price" means the season average price of the crop as determined by the North Carolina Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, or the average price of the crop in the nearest local market for the month in which the crop is gleaned if the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service does not determine the season average price for that crop; and
- (3) "Nonprofit organization" means an organization to which charitable contributions are deductible from gross income under the Code. (1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1018, s. 1; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 6; 1997-261, s. 12; 1998-98, s. 89.)

§ 105-130.38: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

§ 105-130.39. Credit for certain telephone subscriber line charges.

(a) A corporation that provides local telephone service to low-income residential consumers at reduced rates pursuant to an order of the North Carolina Utilities Commission is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to the difference between the following:

- (1) The amount of receipts the corporation would have received during the taxable year from those low-income customers had the customers been charged the regular rates for local telephone service and fees.
- (2) The amount billed those low-income customers for local telephone service during the taxable year.

(b) This credit is allowed only for a reduction in local telephone service rates and fees and is not allowed for any reduction in interstate subscriber line charges. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the corporation. (1985, c. 694, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 90.)

§ 105-130.40: Recodified as § 105-129.8 by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

§ 105-130.41. (Effective for taxable years ending before January 1, 2003) Credit for North Carolina State Ports Authority wharfage, handling, and throughput charges.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer whose waterborne cargo is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at the State-owned port terminal at Wilmington or Morehead City, without consideration of the terms under which the cargo is moved, is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part. The amount of credit allowed is equal to the excess of the wharfage, handling (in or out), and throughput charges assessed on the cargo for the current taxable year over an amount equal to the average of the charges for the current taxable year and the two preceding taxable years. The credit applies to forest products, break-bulk cargo and container cargo, including less-than-container-load cargo, that is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at either the Wilmington or Morehead City port terminal and to bulk cargo that is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at the Morehead City port terminal. To obtain the credit, taxpayers must provide to the Secretary a statement from the State Ports Authority certifying the amount of charges for which a credit is claimed and any other information required by the Secretary.

(b) Limitations. — This credit may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the corporation. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years. The maximum cumulative credit that may be claimed by a corporation under this section is two million dollars ($2,000,000).

(c) Definitions. — For purposes of this section, the terms “handling” (in or out) and “wharfage” have the meanings provided in the State Ports Tariff Publications, “Wilmington Tariff, Terminal Tariff #6,” and “Morehead City Tariff, Terminal Tariff #1.” For purposes of this section, the term “throughput” has the same meaning as “wharfage” but applies only to bulk products, both dry and liquid. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, s. 1; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 681, s. 1; 1995, c. 17, s. 17; c. 495, ss. 1, 3, 4; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, s. 15.3(a); 1997-443, s. 29.1(a)-(c); 1998-98, s. 69; 2001-517, ss. 1, 2.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 17, by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 3, by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(a), and by Session Laws 2001-517, s. 1, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after March 1, 1992, and expiring for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, which enacted this section, in s. 3, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 681, s. 3, and by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 5, provides: “The North Carolina State Ports Authority shall report annually to the General Assembly regarding the impact of the income tax credit enacted by this act on shipping and economic growth. Each report shall show the overall annual increase in shipping at each State port for the most recent year for which data is available and for each of the previous 10 years. Each report shall estimate the number of jobs created at each port and in businesses related to port activity at each port since July 1, 1992, as compared to the number of similar jobs created during the 10 years preceding July 1, 1992. Each report shall state the net economic impact on the State as a result of the allowance of the tax credit. Each report shall include the number of persons using the tax credit who have stopped, or are likely to stop, using a North Carolina port when the credit expires and to then use a port in another state. The Ports Authority shall file a report on May 1 of 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, and 1997, by submitting a copy to the Fiscal Research Division and five copies to the Legislative library. The Department of Revenue and the Department of Commerce shall cooperate with the Ports Authority in providing the information required in the annual reports.”

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 18, s. 1.1, provides: “This act shall be known as the Current Operations Appropriations Act of 1996.”

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 18, s. 29.5, is a severability clause.

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 1.1, provides: “This act shall be known as ‘The Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 1997’”.

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 35.2, provides: “Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1997-99 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1997-99 fiscal biennium.”

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 35.4, is a severability clause.

Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 3, by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(a), and by Session Laws 2001-517, s. 1, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after March 1, 1992, and provides that it expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Session Laws 1993, c. 681, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 17, by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 4, by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(b), and by Session Laws 2001-517, s. 2, made the amendments to this section by the 1993 act effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and provides that they expire for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Session Laws 2001-517, s. 3, provides that the act, which extended the sunset for this section, is effective for taxable years beginning on or after March 2, 2000.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994) amendment, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 17, by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 4, and by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and ending on or before February 28, 2001, rewrote subsection (a), deleted “under this Division” following “allowable” in the first sentence of subsection (b) and substituted “handling in” for “handling” in the first sentence of subsection (c).

The 1996 Second Extra Session amendment, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, inserted “forest products” in the third sentence of subsection (a).

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(c), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1998, substituted “two million dollars ($2,000,000)” for “one million dollars ($1,000,000)” in subsection (b).

The 1998 amendment, effective August 14, 1998, substituted “this Part” for “this Division” in subsections (a) and (b).

§ 105-130.42: Recodified as §§ 105-129.35 through 105-129.37 by Session Laws 1999-389, ss. 2-4, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6 provides that Article 3D of Chapter 105, as amended by Session Laws 1999-389, incorporates both § 105-130.42 and § 105-151.23.

§ 105-130.43. Credit for savings and loan supervisory fees.

Every savings and loan association is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part for a taxable year equal to the amount of supervisory fees, paid by the association during the taxable year, that were assessed by the Commissioner of Banks of the Department of Commerce for the State fiscal year beginning during that taxable year. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year, reduced by the sum of all credits allowed against the tax, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. A taxpayer that claims the credit allowed under this section may not deduct the supervisory fees in determining taxable income. (1985, c. 750, s. 1; 1989, c. 76, s. 24; c. 751, s. 7(8); 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 959, s. 22; 1998-98, s. 1(d), (e); 2001-193, s. 16.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 1(d), recodified 105-228.24A as this section, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. (1)(e), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted “Credit for savings and loan supervisory fees” for “Income tax credit for supervisory fees” in the catchline; and rewrote the section.

Session Laws 2001-193, s. 16, effective July 1, 2001, substituted “Commissioner of Banks” for “Administrator of the Savings Institutions Division.”

A taxpayer who constructs in this State a poultry composting facility, as defined in G.S. 106-549.51 for the composting of whole, unprocessed poultry carcasses from commercial operations in which poultry is raised or produced, is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the installation, materials, and equipment costs of construction paid during the taxable year. This credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for any single installation. The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax by or on behalf of the taxpayer. The credit allowed by this section does not apply to costs paid with funds provided the taxpayer by a State or federal agency. (1998-134, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-130.45. (Repealed effective January 1, 2005) Credit for manufacturing cigarettes for exportation.

- (a) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:
- (1) Base year exportation volume. — The number of cigarettes manufactured and exported by a corporation during the calendar year 1998.
  - (2) Exportation. — The shipment of cigarettes manufactured in the United States to a foreign country sufficient to relieve the cigarettes in the shipment of the federal excise tax on cigarettes.
- (b) Credit. — A corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing cigarettes for exportation to a foreign country is allowed a credit against the taxes levied by this Part. The amount of credit allowed under this section is determined by comparing the exportation volume of the corporation in the year for which the credit is claimed with the corporation's base year exportation volume, rounded to the nearest whole percentage. The amount of credit allowed is as follows:

Current Year's Exportation Volume Compared to its Base Year's Exportation Volume	Amount of Credit per Thousand Cigarettes Exported
120% or more	40¢
119% — 100%	35¢
99% — 80%	30¢
79% — 60%	25¢
59% — 50%	20¢
Less than 50%	None

- (c) Cap. — The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the lesser of six million dollars ($6,000,000) or fifty percent (50%) of the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all other credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. This limitation applies to the cumulative amount of the credit allowed in any tax year, including carryforwards claimed by the taxpayer under this section for previous tax years. Any unused portion of a credit allowed in this section may be carried forward for the next succeeding five years.
- (d) Documentation of Credit. — A corporation that claims the credit under this section must include the following with its tax return:
- (1) A statement of the base year exportation volume.
  - (2) A statement of the exportation volume on which the credit is based.
  - (3) A list of the corporation's export volumes shown on its monthly reports to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms of the United States Treasury for the months in the tax year for which the credit is claimed. (1999-333, s. 4.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-333, s. 10, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999. Section 10 provides that this section is repealed effective for cigarettes exported on or after January 1, 2005. Session Laws 1999-333, s. 9, contains a severability clause.

Part 1A. S Corporation Income Tax.

§ 105-131. Title; definitions; interpretation.

(a) This Part of the income tax Article shall be known and may be cited as the S Corporation Income Tax Act.

(b) For the purpose of this Part, unless otherwise required by the context:

(1) “Code” has the same meaning as in G.S. 105-228.90.

(2) “C Corporation” means a corporation that is not an S Corporation and is subject to the tax levied under Part 1 of this Article.

(3) “Department” means the Department of Revenue.

(4) “Income attributable to the State” means items of income, loss, deduction, or credit of the S Corporation apportioned and allocated to this State pursuant to G.S. 105-130.4.

(5) “Income not attributable to the State” means all items of income, loss, deduction, or credit of the S Corporation other than income attributable to the State.

(6) “Post-termination transition period” means that period defined in section 1377(b)(1) of the Code.

(7) “Pro rata share” means the share determined with respect to an S Corporation shareholder for a taxable period in the manner provided in section 1377(a) of the Code.

(8) “S Corporation” means a corporation for which a valid election under section 1362(a) of the Code is in effect.

(9) “Secretary” means the Secretary of Revenue.

(10) “Taxable period” means any taxable year or portion of a taxable year during which a corporation is an S Corporation.

(c) Except as otherwise expressly provided or clearly appearing from the context, any term used in this Part shall have the same meaning as when used in a comparable context in the Code, or in any statute relating to federal income taxes, in effect during the taxable period. Due consideration shall be given in the interpretation of this Part to applicable sections of the Code in effect and to federal rulings and regulations interpreting those sections, except where the Code, ruling, or regulation conflicts with the provisions of this Part. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 981, s. 4; 1991, c. 689, s. 251; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 5; 1993, c. 12, s. 6; 1998-98, ss. 43, 68-70.)

Editor’s Note. — Another section, also numbered § 105-131, which was in Division I of Article 4 of this Chapter, was repealed by Session Laws 1967, c. 1110, s. 3. For present provisions similar to the repealed section, see §§ 105-130.1, 105-134.

Section 105-132, at the end of this Division, is reserved for future codification purposes. Another section, also numbered § 105-132, was transferred to § 105-135 by Session Laws 1967, c. 1110, s. 3, but was repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.3.

§ 105-131.1. Taxation of an S Corporation and its shareholders.

(a) An S Corporation shall not be subject to the tax levied under G.S. 105-130.3.

(b) Each shareholder’s pro rata share of an S Corporation’s income attributable to the State and each resident shareholder’s pro rata share of income not attributable to the State, shall be taken into account by the shareholder in the manner and subject to the adjustments provided in Parts 2 and 3 of this Article and section 1366 of the Code and shall be subject to the tax levied under

Parts 2 and 3 of this Article. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1998-98, ss. 5, 68.)

§ 105-131.2. Adjustment and characterization of income.

(a) Adjustment. The pro rata share of each shareholder in the income attributable to the State of an S Corporation shall be adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-130.5. The pro rata share of each resident shareholder in the income not attributable to the State of an S Corporation shall be adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6(b), (c), and (d).

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.35.

(c) Characterization of Income. S Corporation items of income, loss, deduction, and credit taken into account by a shareholder pursuant to G.S. 105-131.1(b) shall be characterized as though received or incurred by the S Corporation and not its shareholder. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1993, c. 485, s. 8.)

§ 105-131.3. Basis and adjustments.

(a) The initial basis of a resident shareholder in the stock of an S Corporation and in any indebtedness of the corporation owed to that shareholder shall be determined, as of the later of the date the stock is acquired, the effective date of the S Corporation election, or the date the shareholder became a resident of this State, as provided under the Code.

(b) The basis of a resident shareholder in the stock and indebtedness of an S Corporation shall be adjusted in the manner and to the extent required by section 1011 of the Code except that:

- (1) Any adjustments made (other than for income exempt from federal or State income taxes) pursuant to G.S. 105-131.2 shall be taken into account; and
- (2) Any adjustments made pursuant to section 1367 of the Code for a taxable period during which this State did not measure S Corporation shareholder income by reference to the corporation's income shall be disregarded.

(c) The initial basis of a nonresident shareholder in the stock of an S Corporation and in any indebtedness of the corporation to that shareholder shall be zero.

(d) The basis of a nonresident shareholder in the stock and indebtedness of an S Corporation shall be adjusted as provided in section 1367 of the Code, except that adjustments to basis shall be limited to the income taken into account by the shareholder pursuant to G.S. 105-131.1(b).

(e) The basis of a shareholder in the stock of an S Corporation shall be reduced by the amount allowed as a loss or deduction pursuant to G.S. 105-131.4(c).

(f) The basis of a resident shareholder in the stock of an S Corporation shall be reduced by the amount of any cash distribution that is not taxable to the shareholder as a result of the application of G.S. 105-131.6(b).

(g) For purposes of this section, a shareholder shall be considered to have acquired stock or indebtedness received by gift at the time the donor acquired the stock or indebtedness, if the donor was a resident of this State at the time of the gift. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35.)

§ 105-131.4. Carryforwards; carrybacks; loss limitation.

(a) Carryforwards and carrybacks to and from an S Corporation shall be restricted in the manner provided in section 1371(b) of the Code.

(b) The aggregate amount of losses or deductions of an S Corporation taken into account by a shareholder pursuant to G.S. 105-131.1(b) may not exceed the combined adjusted bases, determined in accordance with G.S. 105-131.3, of the shareholder in the stock and indebtedness of the S Corporation.

(c) Any loss or deduction that is disallowed for a taxable period pursuant to subsection (b) of this section shall be treated as incurred by the corporation in the succeeding taxable period with respect to that shareholder.

(d)(1) Any loss or deduction that is disallowed pursuant to subsection (b) of this section for the corporation's last taxable period as an S Corporation shall be treated as incurred by the shareholder on the last day of any post-termination transition period.

(2) The aggregate amount of losses and deductions taken into account by a shareholder pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection may not exceed the adjusted basis of the shareholder in the stock of the corporation (determined in accordance with G.S. 105-131.3 at the close of the last day of any post-termination transition period and without regard to this subsection).

§ 105-131.5. Part-year resident shareholder.

If a shareholder of an S Corporation is both a resident and nonresident of this State during any taxable period, the shareholder's pro rata share of the S Corporation's income attributable to the State and income not attributable to the State for the taxable period shall be further prorated between the shareholder's periods of residence and nonresidence, in accordance with the number of days in each period, as provided in G.S. 105-134.5. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35.)

§ 105-131.6. Distributions.

(a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, a distribution made by an S Corporation with respect to its stock to a resident shareholder is taxable to the shareholder as provided in Parts 2 and 3 of this Article to the extent that the distribution is characterized as a dividend or as gain from the sale or exchange of property pursuant to section 1368 of the Code.

(b) Subject to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, any distribution of money made by a corporation with respect to its stock to a resident shareholder during a post-termination transition period is not taxable to the shareholder as provided in Parts 2 and 3 of this Article to the extent the distribution is applied against and reduces the adjusted basis of the stock of the shareholder in accordance with section 1371(e) of the Code.

(c) In applying sections 1368 and 1371(e) of the Code to any distribution referred to in this section:

(1) The term "adjusted basis of the stock" means the adjusted basis of the shareholder's stock as determined under G.S. 105-131.3.

(2) The accumulated adjustments account maintained for each resident shareholder must be equal to, and adjusted in the same manner as, the corporation's accumulated adjustments account defined in section 1368(e)(1)(A) of the Code, except that:

a. The accumulated adjustments account shall be modified in the manner provided in G.S. 105-131.3(b)(1).

b. The amount of the corporation's federal accumulated adjustments account that existed on the day this State began to measure the S Corporation shareholders' income by reference to the income of the S Corporation is ignored and is treated for purposes of this Article as additional accumulated earnings and profits of the corporation. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1998-98, s. 6.)

§ 105-131.7. Returns; shareholder agreements; mandatory withholding.

(a) An S Corporation incorporated or doing business in the State shall file with the Department an annual return, on a form prescribed by the Secretary, on or before the due date prescribed for the filing of C Corporation returns in G.S. 105-130.17. The return shall show the name, address, and social security or federal identification number of each shareholder, income attributable to the State and the income not attributable to the State with respect to each shareholder as defined in G.S. 105-131(4) and (5), and such other information as the Secretary may require.

(b) The Department shall permit S Corporations to file composite returns and to make composite payments of tax on behalf of some or all nonresident shareholders. The Department may permit S Corporations to file composite returns and make composite payments of tax on behalf of some or all resident shareholders.

(c) An S Corporation shall file with the Department, on a form prescribed by the Secretary, the agreement of each nonresident shareholder of the corporation (i) to file a return and make timely payment of all taxes imposed by this State on the shareholder with respect to the income of the S Corporation, and (ii) to be subject to personal jurisdiction in this State for purposes of the collection of any unpaid income tax, together with related interest and penalties, owed by the nonresident shareholder. If the corporation fails to timely file an agreement required by this subsection on behalf of any of its nonresident shareholders, then the corporation shall at the time specified in subsection (d) of this section pay to the Department on behalf of each nonresident shareholder with respect to whom an agreement has not been timely filed an estimated amount of the tax due the State. The estimated amount of tax due the State shall be computed at the rates levied in G.S. 105-134.2(a)(3) on the shareholder's pro rata share of the S Corporation's income attributable to the State reflected on the corporation's return for the taxable period. An S Corporation may recover a payment made pursuant to the preceding sentence from the shareholder on whose behalf the payment was made.

(d) The agreements required to be filed pursuant to subsection (c) of this section shall be filed at the following times:

(1) At the time the annual return is required to be filed for the first taxable period for which the S Corporation becomes subject to the provisions of this Part.

(2) At the time the annual return is required to be filed for any taxable period in which the corporation has a nonresident shareholder on whose behalf such an agreement has not been previously filed.

(e) Amounts paid to the Department on account of the corporation's shareholders under subsections (b) and (c) constitute payments on their behalf of the income tax imposed on them under Parts 2 and 3 of this Article for the taxable period. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1991, c. 689, s. 301; 1998-98, s. 7; 1999-337, s. 24.)

Editor's Note. — The reference in subsection (a) to "G.S. 105-131(4) and (5)" should probably be to "G.S. 105-131(b)(4) and (5)."

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 24, effective July 22, 1999, substituted “Part” for “Division; and” in subdivision (d)(1).

§ 105-131.8. Tax credits.

(a) For purposes of G.S. 105-151 and G.S. 105-160.4, each resident shareholder is considered to have paid a tax imposed on the shareholder in an amount equal to the shareholder’s pro rata share of any net income tax paid by the S Corporation to a state that does not measure the income of S Corporation shareholders by the income of the S Corporation. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term “net income tax” means any tax imposed on or measured by a corporation’s net income.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 105-160.3, each shareholder of an S Corporation is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by Parts 2 and 3 of this Article an amount equal to the shareholder’s pro rata share of the tax credits for which the S Corporation is eligible. (1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1089, s. 1; 1989, c. 728, ss. 1.33, 1.35; 1991, c. 45, s. 7; 1998-98, s. 8.)

§ 105-132: Reserved for future codification purposes.

Part 2. Individual Income Tax.

§ 105-133. Short title.

This Part of the income tax Article shall be known as the Individual Income Tax Act. (1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.1; 1998-98, ss. 44, 68.)

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Cited in In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

II. DECISIONS UNDER PRIOR LAW.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1989, c. 728, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989, repealed former sections 105-135 to 105-149, relating to individual income tax, and enacted new sections 105-134.1 to 105-134.8. The following annotations were taken from the repealed sections and arranged under this analysis for convenience.

A. Individuals.

The cases cited below were decided under former § 105-136.

Former § 105-136 imposed a tax on all of a resident's net income. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Only Portion of Income Derived from This State Taxed. — Former § 105-136 imposed a tax only on that portion of the net income of a nonresident which is derived from North Carolina sources. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Basis for Taxation of Nonresident Partner. — Former § 105-142(c) determined the basis on which this section levied an income tax on a nonresident partner. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

B. Gross Income Defined.

Editor's Note. — The cases cited below were decided under former § 105-141.

This Division taxes income derived from any source whatever and in whatever form paid. Foreman Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 504, 135 S.E.2d 205 (1964).

Section Does Not Include Loans. — Neither former § 105-141, which defined income, nor former § 105-147, which specified deductions, included loans. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

Loans to a taxpayer do not constitute taxable income and should not, therefore, be included as gross income on his income tax return. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

Nor Value of Property Acquired by Gift. — The value of property acquired by gift is excluded from both State and federal income tax. Foreman Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 504, 135 S.E.2d 205 (1964).

Meaning of "Gift." — For North Carolina income tax purposes the definition of gift remains what it was at common law: "A voluntary transfer of property by one to another without any consideration therefor." Stone v. Lynch, 68 N.C. App. 441, 315 S.E.2d 350 (1984), aff'd, 312 N.C. 739, 325 S.E.2d 230 (1985).

Federal Practice Not Controlling. — Whereas the General Assembly has specifically provided at numerous places in the income tax statutes that the state shall follow federal practice, the absence of such language in former § 105-141(b)(3) leads to the inference that, by exclusion, the legislature intended federal practice not to control it. Stone v. Lynch, 68 N.C. App. 441, 315 S.E.2d 350 (1984), aff'd, 312 N.C. 739, 325 S.E.2d 230 (1985).

Union strike benefits are not taxable as income to the recipient under North Carolina law; such strike benefits qualify as a gift, thereby allowing the taxpayer to exclude them from taxable income. Stone v. Lynch, 68 N.C. App. 441, 315 S.E.2d 350 (1984), aff'd, 312 N.C. 739, 325 S.E.2d 230 (1985).

Damages for Wrongful Death Not Exempt. — It is reversible error for the trial court to instruct the jury that damages awarded in a wrongful death action are exempt from federal and State income taxes. Scallon v. Hooper, 58 N.C. App. 551, 293 S.E.2d 843, cert. denied, 306 N.C. 744, 295 S.E.2d 480 (1982).

C. Basis of Return of Net Income.

Editor's Note. — The cases cited below were decided under former § 105-142.

Statutes providing exemption from taxation are strictly construed. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Taxation is the rule; exemption the exception. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Former § 105-142(a) does not authorize any deductions not specifically authorized by North Carolina statute, nor does it require use of federal tax treatments. Stone v. Lynch, 68 N.C. App. 441, 315 S.E.2d 350 (1984), aff'd, 312 N.C. 739, 325 S.E.2d 230 (1985).

Former § 105-142(a) authorizes no de- ductions not included in former § 105-147. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

Accounting Practices. — While it is true that former § 105-142(a) provided that accounting methods selected by the state shall follow as nearly as practicable the federal practice, this provision, however, does not mandate use of federal accounting practices. Stone v. Lynch, 68 N.C. App. 441, 315 S.E.2d 350 (1984), aff'd, 312 N.C. 739, 325 S.E.2d 230 (1985).

Determining Basis of Income Tax on Nonresident Partner. — Former § 105-142(c) determined the basis on which former § 105-136 levied an income tax on a nonresident partner. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Determination of Net Income of Multistate Partnerships Attributable to This State. — The proviso following the third sentence of former § 105-142(c) relates solely to the second and third sentences of that subsection and its sole purpose was to provide how the net income of a multistate partnership attributable to North Carolina was to be determined. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

The proviso of former § 105-142(c) relates solely to the method for determining the portion of the net income attributable to North Carolina of a multistate partnership with nonresident members. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Proviso Not Enacted in Substitution for Former § 105-147(10)(b). — The contention that the proviso of former § 105-142(c) was enacted in substitution for former § 105-147(10)(b) is without substance. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Loan Not Income and Repayment Not Deductible. — The classification of a loan as income for the year in which the money was borrowed and as a deduction for the year in which the money was repaid, not only is not an approved and generally accepted method of accounting but also is a procedure directly contrary to "the context and intent" of this Article. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

A gain resulting from the involuntary conversion of a capital asset by fire was taxable under the State law as income, notwithstanding that the proceeds of the fire insurance plus additional cash were necessary for and used in the restoration of the building, under former §§ 105-142 and 105-141, prior to the passage of former § 105-144.1. State v. Speizman, 230 N.C. 459, 53 S.E.2d 533 (1949).

Requirement That Secretary of Revenue Follow Federal Practice. — Subsection (a) of former § 105-142, stipulating that the Secretary of Revenue shall follow the federal practice as nearly as practicable in instances where the method of accounting of the taxpayer does not clearly reflect the income of the taxpayer, does not require the Secretary to apply the provisions of § 112(f), 26 U.S.C.A. 95, in computing the income of a taxpayer from involuntary conversion of a capital asset. State v. Speizman, 230 N.C. 459, 53 S.E.2d 533 (1949).

Necessity of Reliance on Federal Tax Returns. — Recognizing the practical necessity for the North Carolina Department of Revenue to rely upon tax returns accepted by the Federal Internal Revenue Service for a proper reflection of taxable income upon foreign corporations, the General Assembly enacted this section. In re Virginia-Carolina Chem. Corp., 248 N.C. 531, 103 S.E.2d 823 (1958).

D. Determination of Gain or Loss.

Editor's Note. — The cases cited below were decided under former § 105-144.

Former § 105-144 had to do only with fixing for tax purposes the mode of ascertaining realized gains or losses sustained in respect to the disposal of property. Hence the statute was not applicable to a gift of property to a charitable institution. Wiscassett Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

Former § 105-144 prescribed the method for ascertaining the amount of a loss resulting "from the sale or other disposition of property." Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

When Method for Ascertaining Loss Is Applicable. — The method for ascertaining the amount of a loss prescribed is applicable whenever property is disposed of by sale, casualty or otherwise, in such manner as to result in a taxable gain or a deductible loss. Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Income tax law is concerned only with realized losses, as with realized gains. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Basis Where Loss Is from Sale or Other Disposition of Property. — Former § 105-144 clearly provided that in ascertaining a loss from the sale or other disposition of property, the basis shall be the adjusted cost of the property. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Casualty loss is an "other disposition of property." Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

A taxpayer's loss of timber by fire is an "other disposition of property", and therefore the income tax deduction allowable under former § 105-147 for such casualty loss may not exceed the taxpayer's cost basis of the property so destroyed. Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

And Is Not Treated Differently Than a Loss from a Sale. — Nothing indicates the General Assembly intended a taxpayer's deductible loss by fire or other casualty to be treated differently from a loss resulting from a sale. Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Taxpayer showed no cost basis whereby a realized loss could be measured. See Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

E. Deductions.

1. In General.

Editor's Note. — The cases cited below were decided under former § 105-147.

Deduction Defined. — A deduction is defined as "something that is or may be subtracted." Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Nature of Deductions. — Deductions are in the nature of exemptions; they are privileges, not matters of right, and are allowed as a matter of legislative grace. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Taxpayer claiming deduction must bring himself within the statutory provisions authorizing the deduction. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

The allowance of a deduction in the computation of taxable income is a privilege granted as a matter of legislative grace. One claiming the deduction must bring himself within the statutory provisions authorizing it, and in general the deduction may be taken only by the taxpayer to whom it accrues. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Deduction of Particular Charges, Expenses, or Disbursements. — The states may allow deductions in the computation of income for income tax purposes as they choose, and statutes imposing a tax on incomes ordinarily authorize the deduction from gross income of particular charges, expenses, or disbursements, in arriving at the income on which the tax is to be imposed. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Strict Accounting on Annual Basis Formerly Required. — The North Carolina income tax statutes formerly required all taxpayers to account strictly on an annual basis, reporting for each taxable year all items of gross income and claiming as deductions for that year only items properly pertaining to that accounting period. Holly Farms Poultry Indus.,

Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Burden of proof to establish a deductible loss and the amount of it is on the plaintiff. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Section Does Not Include Loans. — Neither former § 105-141, which defined income, nor former § 105-147, which specified deductions, included loans. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

Amounts expended to repay the principal of a loan are not allowed as deductions from taxable income. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

Income from Business Situated in Another State. — In order for a resident taxpayer to be entitled to deduct income derived from a business situated in another state from his income taxable by this State, the taxpayer must show that he has a business or investment in such other state, that the income therefrom is taxable in that state, and that the questioned income is derived from such business or investment. Sabine v. Gill, 229 N.C. 599, 51 S.E.2d 1 (1948).

2. Ordinary and Necessary Expenses.

What are "ordinary and necessary" expenses necessarily vary in individual cases, and depend upon the nature of a particular business, its size, its location, its mode of operations, and to some extent the business customs and practices prevailing at the time and in the locality or area where the taxpayer operates. Therefore, in order to take care of the varying situations as they arise, former § 105-147 should be left flexible in form for application in individual cases according to the practical meaning of the statutory language. Wiscassett Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

In order for an item of expense to be deductible it must be both an "ordinary" expense and a "necessary" expense, since these words are used conjunctively. Also of controlling significance is this phrase appearing in the section: "in carrying on any trade or business." Here, the connotation is that the expense in order to be deductible must relate to the cost of "carrying on" the business, and carrying on a business in plain language means operating the business. Therefore, it would seem that an expense in order to be deductible not only must be an "ordinary and necessary" business expense, but as a general rule it must relate in a substantial way to the costs of current operations, — to the cost of producing the gross income from which the deduction is sought. Wiscassett Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C.

Business expenses are proper deductions from one's taxable income. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

3. Capital Expenditures.

Capital Expenditures Not Deductible. — Former § 105-147 did not sanction the deduction of an expenditure the underlying purpose and predominant effect of which are to provide permanent improvements or betterments reasonably calculated to enhance the value of the taxpayer's business or property for a period substantially beyond the year in which the outlay is made. Such an outlay is a capital expenditure, as distinguished from an item of normal operating business expense, and it is not deductible for income tax purposes. Wiscasset Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

Ordinarily, the expense of installing sewers is treated as a capital expenditure and is not deductible. And the fact that the taxpayer does not own the property on which the mains were laid and did not by contractual arrangement with the city acquire some vested property rights therein in return for the sums paid to the city does not have the effect of transforming these capital expenditures into ordinary and necessary business expenses to be written off entirely within the year. Wiscasset Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

4. Rentals or Other Payments.

Former § 105-147(4) was intended to provide for the deduction only of "rentals or other payments" as and when the items accrue from year to year, and in no event may it be interpreted as authorizing the deduction in one year of a prepayment of rentals or other like charges for a period of years in advance. Wiscasset Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

Advance Rentals, Bonuses, etc., to Be Spread over Life of Lease. — Rentals required to be paid for the use or possession of business property, not owned by the taxpayer and in which he has no equity, may usually be deducted in computing income tax. However, where an expenditure made by a lessee is in the nature of an investment in property used in his trade or business, or is the cost, or part of the cost, of the lease itself, it cannot be deducted in toto from the lessee's taxable income as an expense for the year in which it occurred, but must be recovered in annual allowances. Thus, advances, rentals and bonuses, the price paid for an assignment of a lease, and other similar expenditures by a lessee are not deductible as ordinary and necessary business expenses in the year of payment but are required to be spread over the entire life of the lease. Wiscasset Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

5. Interest.

Interest on Estate Tax Deficiency Not Part of Tax. — Although collected as part of the tax, interest paid on an estate or inheritance tax deficiency is not part of the tax, but something in addition to the tax. Holt v. Lynch, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

No distinction between interest paid on debt created to pay taxes and interest paid on tax itself. To deny a deduction merely because the government is the lending party has the practical effect of treating such interest in the same manner as a penalty if the estate does not have sufficient taxable income to benefit from deducting the interest paid on its income tax returns. Interest in the tax law, as elsewhere, is merely the cost of the use of money and is not a penalty. Holt v. Lynch, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Interest on Tax Is Deductible. — Inasmuch as the definition of "tax" in former § 105-241.1(i1) specifically applied to the subchapter dealing with state inheritance taxes, interest on tax, although administratively treated as tax for assessment, collection and payment purposes, remains substantively interest paid for the use of money and was deductible. Holt v. Lynch, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

6. Casualty Losses.

Former § 105-147 authorized a deduction for certain casualty losses, including fire, to property not connected with a trade or business. Ward v. Clayton, 5 N.C. App. 53, 167 S.E.2d 808 (1969), aff'd, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Section Prescribed No Method for Ascertaining Amount of Casualty Loss. — Former § 105-147 enumerated the items, including casualty losses, which were deductible, but prescribed no method for ascertaining the amount of such casualty loss. Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

Determining Deduction for Loss of Timber by Fire. — A taxpayer's loss of timber by fire was an "other disposition of property" within the meaning of former § 105-144, and therefore the income tax deduction allowable for such casualty loss may not exceed the taxpayer's cost basis of the property so destroyed. Ward v. Clayton, 276 N.C. 411, 172 S.E.2d 531 (1970).

7. Carry-Over Losses.

Constitutionality of Carryover Losses Requirement. — The requirement that the taxpayer reduce his North Carolina carryover losses by his non-North Carolina income did not result in a sophisticated scheme which belatedly taxed the non-North Carolina income and did not violate either the due process clause of the United States Constitution or the law of the land clause of N.C. Const., Art. I, § 20. Aronov v. Secretary of Revenue, 323 N.C. 132, 371 S.E.2d 468, cert. denied, 323 N.C. 480, 373 S.E.2d 860 (1988), 489 U.S. 1096, 109 S. Ct. 1568, 103 L. Ed. 2d 935 (1989).

Requirement of Taxpayer to Reduce Carryover Losses Does Not Exceed Legislative Authority. — The Secretary's interpretation of former § 105-147(9)(d)(2) to require a taxpayer to reduce his North Carolina carryover losses by his non-North Carolina income does not exceed legislative authority. Aronov v. Secretary of Revenue, 323 N.C. 132, 371 S.E.2d 468, cert. denied, 323 N.C. 480, 373 S.E.2d 860 (1988), 489 U.S. 1096, 109 S. Ct. 1568, 103 L. Ed. 2d 935 (1989).

Deductions, such as that authorized in former § 105-147(9)(d)(2), were in the nature of exemptions: they were privileges, not rights, and were allowed as a matter of legislative grace. Aronov v. Secretary of Revenue, 323 N.C. 132, 371 S.E.2d 468, cert. denied, 323 N.C. 480, 373 S.E.2d 860 (1988), 489 U.S. 1096, 109 S. Ct. 1568, 103 L. Ed. 2d 935 (1989).

Deduction of Prior Year's Net Economic Loss from Current Gross Income. — Subdivision (9)d of former § 105-147 permits, under certain conditions, a deduction of a prior year's net economic loss from current gross income in order to determine taxable income. The legislature was under no constitutional or other legal compulsion to allow any carry-over to be deducted from taxable income in a future year. It enacted the carry-over provisions purely as a matter of grace, gratuitously conferring a benefit but limiting such benefit to the net economic loss of the taxpayer after deducting therefrom the allocable portion of such taxpayer's nontaxable income. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Loss Carry-Over Provision Was Added for Purpose of Tax Relief. — For the purpose of granting some measure of relief to taxpayers who have incurred economic misfortune of who are otherwise materially affected by strict adherence to the annual accounting rule in the determination of taxable income, the legislature added a loss carry-over provision to the State income tax statute which was subdivision (9)d of former § 105-147. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Former § 105-147(9)d required the inclusion of nontaxable income in arriving at an allowable deduction for carry-over purposes to be deducted from taxable income in a succeeding year. Dayton Rubber Co. v. Shaw, 244 N.C. 170, 92 S.E.2d 799 (1956), decided prior to the 1963 amendment.

Deduction of Loss Carry-Over from Post-Merger Income Depends on Continuity of Business. — A corporation resulting from a merger may not deduct from its post-merger income the loss carry-over of one or more of its constituent corporations unless there is a continuity of business enterprise — that is, unless the income-producing business has not been altered, enlarged, or materially affected by the merger. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Type of Merger Makes No Difference. — In determining whether there is a "continuity of business enterprise" after a merger, for purposes of determining the loss carry-over of the surviving corporation it makes no difference that there was a "vertical type" merger in which the several merged corporations were doing jobs in one continuous chain of processing, rather than a "horizontal type" in which each of the corporations was doing basically the same job. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Nor Does Purpose of Merger. — The fact that mergers were made in pursuance of an overall plan to bring into being an "integrated" operation and were not for tax avoidance purposes is not determinative of the question of whether the surviving corporation can carry forward and deduct from its own gross income pre-merger losses incurred by corporations with which it merged. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

No Continuity of Business in Surviving Corporation after Merger. — There was no "continuity of business enterprise" where the net worth of the surviving corporation into which two other corporations were merged was increased substantially by each merger, and the surviving corporation was transformed from a manufacturer of poultry feeds into a combined manufacturing and feeding operation; consequently, the surviving corporation was not entitled to carry over and deduct for North Carolina income tax purposes the pre-merger net economic losses of the two sub-merged corporations from the post-merger income earned by the combined corporate businesses. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

A corporation resulting from the merger of several separate incorporated businesses was not entitled to carry over and deduct the pre-merger net operating losses of some of its constituent corporations from the post-merger income attributable to the other businesses, since the income against which the offset was claimed was not produced by substantially the same businesses which incurred the losses. Holly Farms Poultry Indus., Inc. v. Clayton, 9 N.C. App. 345, 176 S.E.2d 367, cert. denied, 277 N.C. 351, 177 S.E.2d 900 (1970).

Deduction by Successor Corporation of Loss Sustained by Submerged Corporation. — See Good Will Distribs. (N.), Inc. v. Shaw, 247 N.C. 157, 100 S.E.2d 334 (1957); Good Will Distribs., Inc. v. Currie, 251 N.C. 120, 110 S.E.2d 880 (1959).

Regulation in Respect to Carry-Over Losses Held to Comply. — The Supreme Court found no conflict between the Income Tax Regulation No. 2, promulgated on 10 February, 1944, by the Secretary of Revenue and followed by the Department of Revenue in its administrative practice with respect to carry-over losses, and the statutory provisions with respect thereto. Dayton Rubber Co. v. Shaw, 244 N.C. 170, 92 S.E.2d 799 (1956).

8. Depletion.

Deduction for Depletion Not Required to Be on Basis of Cost. — Deduction on basis of percentage of cost is applicable to depreciation and not to depletion. A reasonable allowance is provided for depletion. There is no requirement that it should be on the basis of cost. In re Virginia-Carolina Chem. Corp., 248 N.C. 531, 103 S.E.2d 823 (1958).

Prior to the 1953 amendment to former § 105-147, the section permitted a reasonable allowance for depletion without requiring that it should be calculated on percentage of cost; the 1953 amendment made mandatory that which was permissible before. In re Virginia-Carolina Chem. Corp., 248 N.C. 531, 103 S.E.2d 823 (1958).

9. Gifts.

"Amount" of Gift. — Former § 105-147(15) contained no technical language. Thus, it must be interpreted in accordance with the ordinary use and common understanding of the words used. According to ordinary use, the "amount" of a gift and the value of a gift have the same meaning and effect. It follows, then, that when a contribution was made in property rather than in cash, the amount of the gift, and the amount of the deduction, was the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift. Wiscassett Mills Co. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 14, 68 S.E.2d 816 (1952).

10. Nonresident Individuals and Partnerships.

Constitutionality. — Subdivision (18) of former § 105-147 limiting the right of a nonresident taxpayer, in computing his net income taxable by this State, to claim only those deductions which are related to his business in this State, was valid and did not constitute an unlawful discrimination in that residents of this State were permitted personal deductions not allowed to the nonresident, since only the income of the nonresident earned within this State was subject to income taxes here. Stiles v. Currie, 254 N.C. 197, 118 S.E.2d 428 (1961).

11. Payments to Estate or Heirs of Deceased Employee.

Legal Obligation Need Not Exist. — The contention that payments by an employer to the widow of an employee are allowable as deductions only when a legal obligation to make such payments exists would seem to render meaningless the 1957 amendment of subsection (23) of former § 105-147. Boylan-Pearce, Inc. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 582, 126 S.E.2d 492 (1962).

Preexisting Contract or Resolution Not Required. — The 1957 amendment of subsection (23) of former § 105-147 made no reference to a previous or preexisting "contract, resolution of the board of directors, or custom," of the corporation with respect to payments by an employer to a deceased employee's estate, widow or heirs. Boylan-Pearce, Inc. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 582, 126 S.E.2d 492 (1962).

Payments by an employer to the widow of a deceased executive were authorized and allowable as deductions in computing employer's net income, and were not taxable as gifts under § 105-188, and no legal significance was attached to the fact that there was no preexisting plan or policy, or to the fact that the resolution authorizing the payments was not adopted until some 13 months after the death of the executive, or to the fact that the employer was a so-called family corporation. Boylan-Pearce, Inc. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 582, 126 S.E.2d 492 (1962).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Member of Religious Order Not Exempt from Tax. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. J.A. Porter, Jr., Director, Division of Auditing and Accounting, State Board of Education, 40 N.C.A.G. 841 (1970), decided under former § 105-136.

Court May Not Assign Dependency Exemption to One Spouse Without Regard to

Which Furnished More Than One Half the Support. — See opinion of Attorney General to Representative Marcus Short, 41 N.C.A.G. 866 (1972), decided under former § 105-149.

§ 105-134. Purpose.

The general purpose of this Part is to impose a tax for the use of the State government upon the taxable income collectible annually:

- (1) Of every resident of this State.
- (2) Of every nonresident individual deriving income from North Carolina sources attributable to the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this State or deriving income from a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in this State. (1939, c. 158, s. 301; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.2; 1998-98, s. 69.)

Cited in Aronov v. Secretary of Revenue, 323 N.C. 132, 371 S.E.2d 468 (1988).

§ 105-134.1. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Part:

- (1) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (2) Department. — The Department of Revenue.
- (3) Educational institution. — An educational institution that normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on.
- (4) Fiscal year. — Defined in section 441(e) of the Code.
- (5) Gross income. — Defined in section 61 of the Code.
- (6) Head of household. — Defined in section 2(b) of the Code.
- (7) Individual. — A human being.
- (7a) Limited liability company. — Either a domestic limited liability company organized under Chapter 57C of the General Statutes or a foreign limited liability company authorized by that Chapter to transact business in this State that is classified for federal income tax purposes as a partnership. As applied to a limited liability company that is a partnership under this Part, the term “partner” means a member of the limited liability company.
- (7b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 9, effective August 14, 1998.
- (8) Married individual. — An individual who is married and is considered married as provided in section 7703 of the Code.
- (9) Nonresident individual. — An individual who is not a resident of this State.
- (10) North Carolina taxable income. — Defined in G.S. 105-134.5.
- (10a) Partnership. — A domestic partnership, a foreign partnership, or a limited liability company.
- (11) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (12) Resident. — An individual who is domiciled in this State at any time during the taxable year or who resides in this State during the taxable year for other than a temporary or transitory purpose. In the absence of convincing proof to the contrary, an individual who is present within the State for more than 183 days during the taxable year is presumed to be a resident, but the absence of an individual from the state for more than 183 days raises no presumption that the individual is not a resident. A resident who removes from the State during a taxable year is considered a resident until he has both established a definite domicile elsewhere and abandoned any domicile in this State. The fact of marriage does not raise any presumption as to domicile or residence.

- (13) Retirement benefits. — Amounts paid to a former employee or the beneficiary of a former employee under a written retirement plan established by the employer to provide payments to an employee or the beneficiary of an employee after the end of the employee's employment with the employer where the right to receive the payments is based upon the employment relationship. With respect to a self-employed individual or the beneficiary of a self-employed individual, the term means amounts paid to the individual or beneficiary of the individual under a written retirement plan established by the individual to provide payments to the individual or the beneficiary of the individual after the end of the self-employment. In addition, the term includes amounts received from an individual retirement account described in section 408 of the Code or from an individual retirement annuity described in section 408 of the Code. For the purpose of this subdivision, the term "employee" includes a volunteer worker.
- (14) S Corporation. — Defined in G.S. 105-131(b).
- (15) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.
- (16) Taxable income. — Defined in section 63 of the Code.
- (17) Taxable year. — Defined in section 441(b) of the Code.
- (18) Taxpayer. — An individual subject to the tax imposed by this Part.
- (19) This State. — The State of North Carolina. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4; c. 792, s. 1.2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 15; c. 981, s. 5; 1991, c. 689, s. 252; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 6; 1993, c. 12, s. 7; c. 354, s. 13; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 8.2; 1998-98, ss. 9, 69.)

§ 105-134.2. Individual income tax imposed.

(a) (Effective until January 1, 2004) A tax is imposed upon the North Carolina taxable income of every individual. The tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually and shall be computed at the following percentages of the taxpayer's North Carolina taxable income.

- (1) For married individuals who file a joint return under G.S. 105-152 and for surviving spouses, as defined in section 2(a) of the Code:

Over	Up To	Rate
-0-	$21,250	6%
$21,250	$100,000	7%
$100,000	$200,000	7.75%
$200,000	NA	8.25%

- (2) For heads of households, as defined in section 2(b) of the Code:

Over	Up To	Rate
-0-	$17,000	6%
$17,000	$80,000	7%
$80,000	$160,000	7.75%
$160,000	NA	8.25%

- (3) For unmarried individuals other than surviving spouses and heads of households:

§ 105-134.2(a) is set out twice. See note.

Over	Up To	Rate
-0-	$12,750	6%
$12,750	$60,000	7%
$60,000	$120,000	7.75%

(4) For married individuals who do not file a joint return under G.S. 105-152:

Over	Up To	Rate
-0-	$10,625	6%
$10,625	$50,000	7%
$50,000	$100,000	7.75%

(a) (Effective January 1, 2004) A tax is imposed upon the North Carolina taxable income of every individual. The tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually and shall be computed at the following percentages of the taxpayer's North Carolina taxable income.

(1) For married individuals who file a joint return under G.S. 105-152 and for surviving spouses, as defined in section 2(a) of the Code:

On the North Carolina taxable income up to twenty-one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($21,250), six percent (6%).

On the amount over twenty-one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($21,250) and up to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), seven percent (7%).

On the amount over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%).

(2) For heads of households, as defined in section 2(b) of the Code:

On the North Carolina taxable income up to seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000), six percent (6%).

On the amount over seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000) and up to eighty thousand dollars ($80,000), seven percent (7%).

On the amount over eighty thousand dollars ($80,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%).

(3) For unmarried individuals other than surviving spouses and heads of households:

On the North Carolina taxable income up to twelve thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($12,750), six percent (6%).

On the amount over twelve thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($12,750) and up to sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), seven percent (7%).

On the amount over sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%).

(4) For married individuals who do not file a joint return under G.S. 105-152:

On the North Carolina taxable income up to ten thousand six hundred twenty-five dollars ($10,625), six percent (6%).

On the amount over ten thousand six hundred twenty-five dollars ($10,625) and up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), seven percent (7%).

On the amount over fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%).

(b) In lieu of the tax imposed by subsection (a) of this section, there is imposed for each taxable year upon the North Carolina taxable income of every individual a tax determined under tables, applicable to the taxable year, which may be prescribed by the Secretary. The amounts of the tax determined under the tables shall be computed on the basis of the rates prescribed by subsection (a) of this section. This subsection does not apply to an individual making a return under section 443(a)(1) of the Code for a period of less than 12 months on account of a change in the individual's annual accounting period, or to an estate or trust. The tax imposed by this subsection shall be treated as the tax imposed by subsection (a) of this section. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 16; 1991, c. 45, s. 8; c. 689, s. 300; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 15; 2001-424, s. 34.18(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.18(b), provides: "This section becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.15, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of individual income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.18(a), in subsection (a), substituted the table in subdivision (1) for the undesignated paragraphs, which read: "On the North Carolina taxable income up to twenty-one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($21,250), six percent (6%). On the amount over twenty-one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($21,250) and up to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), seven percent (7%). On the amount over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%)."; substituted the table in subdivision (2) for the undesignated paragraphs, which read: "On the North Carolina taxable income up to seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000), six percent (6%). On the amount over seventeen thousand dollars ($17,000) and up to eighty thousand dollars ($80,000), seven percent (7%). On the amount over eighty thousand dollars ($80,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%)."; substituted the table in subdivision (3) for the undesignated paragraphs, which read: "On the North Carolina taxable income up to twelve thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($12,750), six percent (6%). On the amount over twelve thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($12,750) and up to sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), seven percent (7%). On the amount over sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%)."; and substituted the table in subdivision (4) for the undesignated paragraphs, which read: "On the North Carolina taxable income up to ten thousand six hundred twenty-five dollars ($10,625), six percent (6%). On the amount over ten thousand six hundred twenty-five dollars ($10,625) and up to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), seven percent (7%). On the amount over fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), seven and seventy-five one-hundredths percent (7.75%)." See editor's note for effective date and applicability.

§ 105-134.3. Year of assessment.

The tax imposed by this Part shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the taxable year following the taxable year for which the assessment is made, except as provided to the contrary in Article 4A of this Chapter. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-134.4. Taxable year.

A taxpayer shall compute North Carolina taxable income on the basis of the taxable year used in computing the taxpayer's income tax liability under the Code. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4.)

Cited in Union Carbide Corp. v. Offerman, 132 N.C. App. 665, 513 S.E.2d 341 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 310, 526 S.E.2d 167 (2000).

§ 105-134.5. North Carolina taxable income defined.

(a) Residents. — For residents of this State, the term “North Carolina taxable income” means the taxpayer's taxable income as determined under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7.

(b) Nonresidents. — For nonresident individuals, the term “North Carolina taxable income” means the taxpayer's taxable income as determined under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7, multiplied by a fraction the denominator of which is the taxpayer's gross income as determined under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7, and the numerator of which is the amount of that gross income, as adjusted, that is derived from North Carolina sources and is attributable to the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this State or is derived from a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in this State.

(c) Part-year Residents. — If an individual was a resident of this State for only part of the taxable year, having moved into or removed from the State during the year, the term “North Carolina taxable income” has the same meaning as in subsection (b) except that the numerator shall include gross income, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7, derived from all sources during the period the individual was a resident.

(d) S Corporations and Partnerships. — In order to calculate the numerator of the fraction provided in subsection (b), the amount of a shareholder's pro rata share of S Corporation income that is includable in the numerator shall be the shareholder's pro rata share of the S Corporation's income attributable to the State, as defined in G.S. 105-131(b)(4). In order to calculate the numerator of the fraction provided in subsection (b) for a member of a partnership or other unincorporated business with one or more nonresident members that operates in one or more other states, the amount of the member's distributive share of income of the business that is includable in the numerator shall be determined by multiplying the total net income of the business by the ratio ascertained under the provisions of G.S. 105-130.4. As used in this subsection, total net income means the entire gross income of the business less all expenses, taxes, interest, and other deductions allowable under the Code which were incurred in the operation of the business. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4; 1995, c. 17, s. 4.)

§ 105-134.6. Adjustments to taxable income.

(a) S Corporations. — The pro rata share of each shareholder in the income attributable to the State of an S Corporation shall be adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-130.5. The pro rata share of each resident shareholder in the income not attributable to the State of an S Corporation shall be subject to the adjustments provided in subsections (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(b) Deductions. — The following deductions from taxable income shall be made in calculating North Carolina taxable income, to the extent each item is included in taxable income:

- (1) Interest upon the obligations of any of the following:
  - a. The United States or its possessions.
  - b. This State, a political subdivision of this State, or a commission, an authority, or another agency of this State or of a political subdivision of this State.
  - c. A nonprofit educational institution organized or chartered under the laws of this State.
- (2) Gain from the disposition of obligations issued before July 1, 1995, to the extent the gain is exempt from tax under the laws of this State.
- (3) Benefits received under Title II of the Social Security Act and amounts received from retirement annuities or pensions paid under the provisions of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1002, s. 2.
- (5) Refunds of state, local, and foreign income taxes included in the taxpayer's gross income.
- (5a) Reserved.
- (5b) The amount received during the taxable year from one or more State, local, or federal government retirement plans to the extent the amount is exempt from tax under this Part pursuant to a court order in settlement of the following cases: Bailey v. State, 92 CVS 10221, 94 CVS 6904, 95 CVS 6625, 95 CVS 8230; Emory v. State, 98 CVS 0738; and Patton v. State, 95 CVS 04346. Amounts deducted under this subdivision may not also be deducted under subdivision (6) of this subsection.
- (6)a. An amount, not to exceed four thousand dollars ($4,000), equal to the sum of the amount calculated in subparagraph b. plus the amount calculated in subparagraph c.
- b. The amount calculated in this subparagraph is the amount received during the taxable year from one or more state, local, or federal government retirement plans.
- c. The amount calculated in this subparagraph is the amount received during the taxable year from one or more retirement plans other than state, local, or federal government retirement plans, not to exceed a total of two thousand dollars ($2,000) in any taxable year.
- d. In the case of a married couple filing a joint return where both spouses received retirement benefits during the taxable year, the maximum dollar amounts provided in this subdivision for various types of retirement benefits apply separately to each spouse's benefits.
- (7) Recodified as G.S. 105-134.6(d)(1).
- (8) Recodified as G.S. 105-134.6(d)(2).
- (9) Income that is (i) earned or received by an enrolled member of a federally recognized Indian tribe and (ii) derived from activities on a federally recognized Indian reservation while the member resides on the reservation. Income from intangibles having a situs on the reservation and retirement income associated with activities on the reservation are considered income derived from activities on the reservation.
- (10) The amount by which the basis of property under this Article exceeds the basis of the property under the Code, in the year the taxpayer disposes of the property.
- (11) Severance wages received by a taxpayer from an employer as the result of the taxpayer's permanent, involuntary termination from employment through no fault of the employee. The amount of severance wages deducted as the result of the same termination may not exceed thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) for all taxable years in which the wages are received.

(12) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-171, s. 2, effective October 1, 1998.

(13) The amount that is distributed to a beneficiary of the Parental Savings Trust Fund of the State Education Assistance Authority unless the distribution is a refund of earnings described in section 529 of the Code.

(14) The amount paid to the taxpayer by the State under G.S. 148-84 as compensation for pecuniary loss suffered by reason of erroneous conviction and imprisonment.

(15) Interest, investment earnings, and gains of a trust, the settlors of which are two or more manufacturers that signed a settlement agreement with this State to settle existing and potential claims of the State against the manufacturers for damages attributable to a product of the manufacturers, if the trust meets all of the following conditions:

a. The purpose of the trust is to address adverse economic consequences resulting from a decline in demand of the manufactured product potentially expected to occur because of market restrictions and other provisions in the settlement agreement.

b. A court of this State approves and retains jurisdiction over the trust.

c. Certain portions of the distributions from the trust are made in accordance with certifications that meet the criteria in the agreement creating the trust and are provided by a nonprofit entity, the governing board of which includes State officials.

(16) The amount paid to the taxpayer during the taxable year from the Hurricane Floyd Reserve Fund in the Office of State Budget and Management for hurricane relief or assistance, but not including payments for goods or services provided by the taxpayer.

(c) Additions. — The following additions to taxable income shall be made in calculating North Carolina taxable income, to the extent each item is not included in taxable income:

(1) Interest upon the obligations of states other than this State, political subdivisions of those states, and agencies of those states and their political subdivisions.

(2) Any amount allowed as a deduction from gross income under the Code that is taxed under the Code by a separate tax other than the tax imposed in section 1 of the Code.

(3) Any amount deducted from gross income under section 164 of the Code as state, local, or foreign income tax to the extent that the taxpayer's total itemized deductions deducted under the Code for the taxable year exceed the standard deduction allowable to the taxpayer under the Code reduced by the amount the taxpayer is required to add to taxable income under subdivision (4) of this subsection.

(4) (Effective until taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) The amount by which the taxpayer's additional standard deduction for aged and blind has been increased for inflation under section 63(c)(4)(A) of the Code plus the amount by which the taxpayer's basic standard deduction, including adjustments for inflation, under the Code exceeds the appropriate amount in the following chart based on the taxpayer's filing status:

§ 105-134.6(c)(4) is set out twice. See note.

Filing Status	Standard Deduction
Married filing jointly/Surviving Spouse	$5,500
Head of Household	4,400
Single	3,000
Married filing separately	2,750

- (4) (Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) The amount by which the taxpayer's additional standard deduction for aged and blind has been increased for inflation under section 63(c)(4)(A) of the Code plus the amount by which the taxpayer's basic standard deduction, including adjustments for inflation, under the Code exceeds the appropriate amount in the following chart based on the taxpayer's filing status:

Filing Status	Standard Deduction
Married filing jointly/Surviving Spouse	$6,000
Head of Household	4,400
Married filing separately	3,000

- (4a) The amount by which each of the taxpayer's personal exemptions has been increased for inflation under section 151(d)(4)(A) of the Code. This amount is reduced by five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each personal exemption if the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI), as calculated under the Code, is less than the following amounts:

Filing Status	AGI
Married, filing jointly	$100,000
Head of Household	80,000
Single	60,000
Married, filing separately	50,000.

For the purposes of this subdivision, if the taxpayer's personal exemptions have been reduced by the applicable percentage under section 151(d)(3) of the Code, the amount by which the personal exemptions have been increased for inflation is also reduced by the applicable percentage.

- (5) The market price of the gleaned crop for which the taxpayer claims a credit for the taxable year under G.S. 105-151.14.
- (6) The amount by which the basis of property under the Code exceeds the basis of the property under this Article, in the year the taxpayer disposes of the property.
- (7) The amount of federal estate tax that is attributable to an item of income in respect of a decedent and is deducted from gross income under section 691(c) of the Code.
- (d) Other Adjustments. — The following adjustments to taxable income shall be made in calculating North Carolina taxable income:
- (1) The amount of inheritance or estate tax attributable to an item of income in respect of a decedent required to be included in gross income under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.5, 105-134.6, and 105-134.7, may be deducted in the year the item of income is included. The amount of inheritance or estate tax attributable to an item of income in respect of a decedent is (i) the amount by which the inheritance or estate tax paid under Article 1 or 1A of this Chapter on property transferred to a beneficiary by a decedent exceeds the amount of the tax that would have been payable by the beneficiary if the item of income in respect of a decedent had not been included in the property transferred to the beneficiary by the decedent, (ii) multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount required to be included in gross income for the taxable year under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.5, 105-134.6, and 105-134.7, and the denominator of which is the total amount of income in respect of a decedent transferred to the beneficiary by the decedent. For an estate or trust, the deduction allowed by this subdivision shall be computed by excluding from the gross income of the estate or trust the portion, if any, of the items of income in respect of a decedent that are properly paid, credited, or to be distributed to the beneficiaries during the taxable year.

The Secretary may provide to a beneficiary of an item of income in respect of a decedent any information contained on an inheritance or estate tax return that the beneficiary needs to compute the deduction allowed by this subdivision.

- (2) The taxpayer may deduct the amount by which the taxpayer's deductions allowed under the Code were reduced, and the amount of the taxpayer's deductions that were not allowed, because the taxpayer elected a federal tax credit in lieu of a deduction. This deduction is allowed only to the extent that a similar credit is not allowed by this Part for the amount.
- (3) The taxpayer shall add to taxable income the amount of any recovery during the taxable year not included in taxable income, to the extent the taxpayer's deduction of the recovered amount in a prior taxable year reduced the taxpayer's tax imposed by this Part but, due to differences between the Code and this Part, did not reduce the amount of the taxpayer's tax imposed by the Code. The taxpayer may deduct from taxable income the amount of any recovery during the taxable year included in taxable income under section 111 of the Code, to the extent the taxpayer's deduction of the recovered amount in a prior taxable year reduced the taxpayer's tax imposed by the Code but, due to differences between the Code and this Part, did not reduce the amount of the taxpayer's tax imposed by this Part. (1989, c. 718, s. 2; c. 728, s. 1.4; c. 770, ss. 41.2, 41.3; c. 792, s. 1.1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 4; c. 1002, s. 2; 1991, c. 45, s. 9; c. 453, s. 1; c. 689, ss. 253, 254; 1991 (Reg. Subdivision (c)(4) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subdivision (c)(4) set out above is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002 until taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. The second version of subdivision (c)(4) set out above is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-333 s. 9 contains a severability clause.

The State of North Carolina and the plaintiffs entered a consent order in the class actions Bailey et al. v. State, Emory et al. v. State, and Patton et al. v. State (92CVS10221, 94CVS6904, 95CVS6625, 95CVS8230, 95CVS4346, and 98CVS738) that affects the State's income taxation of State and Federal retirement plans. Class counsel has established, or caused to be established, a Web site at www.baileypatton.wcsr.com and a telephone number, 1-877-TAX-CASE(1-877-829-2273), for persons seeking information. (This note was included at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.)

Session Laws 1999-463, enacted at the 1999 Extra Session held on December 15 and 16, 1999, provides in s. 1 that the act shall be known as the Hurricane Floyd Recovery Act of 1999.

For counties declared a major disaster area as a result of Hurricane Floyd, see the note under § 115C-84.2.

Session Laws 1999-463, s. 4.5 provides that a written statement of State and federal income tax treatment be included with the disbursement of funds or property for hurricane relief or assistance by each agency disbursing same.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.2(c), effective January 1, 1999, and applicable to the estates of decedents dying on or after that date, in subdivision (d)(1), inserted "or estate" following "inheritance" throughout, and inserted "or 1A" following "Article 1," and substituted "the tax" for "inheritance tax" in the second sentence.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.13(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, in subdivision (c)(5) deleted "fair market value, up to a maximum of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000), of the donated property interest for which the taxpayer claims a credit for the taxable year under G.S. 105-151.12 and the" preceding "market price."

Session Laws 1999-333, s. 3, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (b)(15).

The 1999 Extra Session amendment, by Session Laws 1999-463, s. 4.6 (a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (b)(16).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 65, effective July 21, 2000, added subdivision (b)(5b).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 93.1, effective July 1, 2000, in subdivision (b)(16), substituted "Office of State Budget, Planning and Management" for "Office of State Budget and Management."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 12.2(b), effective July 1, 2001, substituted "Office of State Budget and Management" for "Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management" in subdivision (b)(16).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.19(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, in subdivision (c)(3), substituted "the taxpayer is required to add to taxable income under subdivision (4) of this subsection" for "by which the taxpayer's allowable standard deduction has been increased under section 63(c)(4) of the Code," and in subdivision (c)(4), inserted "additional," "for aged and blind," and the language beginning "plus the amount by which," and added the table.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.19(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, amended subdivision (c)(4), as amended by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.19(a), by changing the standard deduction for married filing jointly/surviving spouse from $5,500 to $6,000 and for married filing separately from $2,750 to $3,000.

Tax Exemption for State and Local Government Employees' Retirement Benefits.

— The tax exemption for retirement benefits of state and local employees was a term or condition of retirement systems to which the employees had a contractual right and it did not constitute an unconstitutional contracting away of the state's sovereign power of taxation. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Amendment placing a $4,000 annual exemption cap on retirement benefits of state and local employees substantially impaired the employees' contractual right to the exemption. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Removal of state and local employees' tax exemption for retirement benefits constituted a taking of property without just compensation. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Impairment of the contractual right of state and local employees' to the tax exemption for retirement benefits was not reasonable nor necessary for achieving an important state purpose. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Where the collection of taxes on retirement benefits of certain state and local government employees was held unconstitutional, the trial court erred by limiting relief only to those taxpayers who protested in accordance with § 105-267. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

§ 105-134.7. Transitional adjustments.

(a) The following adjustments to taxable income shall be made in calculating North Carolina taxable income:

(1) Amounts that were included in the basis of property under federal tax law but not under State tax law before January 1, 1989, shall be added to taxable income in the year the taxpayer disposes of the property.

- (2) Amounts that were included in the basis of property under State tax law but not under federal tax law before January 1, 1989, shall be deducted from taxable income in the year the taxpayer disposes of the property.
- (3) Amounts that were recognized as income under federal law but not under State law due to a taxpayer's use of the installment method set out in G.S. 105-142(f) prior to January 1, 1989, shall be added to taxable income in the taxpayer's first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989. Amounts that were recognized as income under State law but not under federal law due to a taxpayer's use of a different installment method prior to January 1, 1989, shall be deducted from taxable income in the taxpayer's first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989.
- (4) Losses in the nature of net economic losses sustained in any or all of the five taxable years preceding the taxpayer's first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, arising from business transactions, business capital, or business property, may be deducted from taxable income subject to the limitations contained in former G.S. 105-147(9)a., c., and d. (repealed).
- (5) If the taxpayer has a net operating loss for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, that part of the loss that is carried back to and deducted in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1989, pursuant to section 172 of the Code may be deducted from taxable income in the taxable year following the taxable year for which the loss occurred.
- (6) A loss or deduction that was incurred or paid and deducted from State taxable income in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1989, and is carried forward and deducted in a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, under the Code shall be added to taxable income.
- (7) The transitional adjustments provided in Part 1A of this Article shall be made with respect to a shareholder's pro rata share of S Corporation income.

(b) The Secretary may by rule require other adjustments to be made to taxable income as necessary to assure that the transition to the tax changes effective January 1, 1989, will not result in double taxation of income, exemption of otherwise taxable income from taxation under this Division, or double allowance of deductions. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4; 1993, c. 485, s. 10; 1998-98, s. 91.)

Editor's Note. — Sections 105-142 and 105-147, referred to in this section, were repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.3.

§ 105-134.8. Inventory.

Whenever, in the opinion of the Secretary, it is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by the taxpayer as prescribed by the Secretary, conforming as nearly as possible to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and most clearly reflecting the income. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.4.)

§§ 105-135 through 105-149: Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.3.

§ 105-151. Tax credits for income taxes paid to other states by individuals.

(a) An individual who is a resident of this State is allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this Part for income taxes imposed by and paid to another state or country on income taxed under this Part, subject to the following conditions:

- (1) The credit is allowed only for taxes paid to another state or country on income derived from sources within that state or country that is taxed under its laws irrespective of the residence or domicile of the recipient, except that whenever a taxpayer who is deemed to be a resident of this State under the provisions of this Part is deemed also to be a resident of another state or country under the laws of that state or country, the Secretary may allow a credit against the taxes imposed by this Part for taxes imposed by and paid to the other state or country on income taxed under this Part.
- (2) The fraction of the gross income, as calculated under the Code and adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7, that is subject to income tax in another state or country shall be ascertained, and the North Carolina net income tax before credit under this section shall be multiplied by that fraction. The credit allowed is either the product thus calculated or the income tax actually paid the other state or country, whichever is smaller.
- (3) Receipts showing the payment of income taxes to another state or country and a true copy of a return or returns upon the basis of which the taxes are assessed shall be filed with the Secretary when the credit is claimed. If credit is claimed on account of a deficiency assessment, a true copy of the notice assessing or proposing to assess the deficiency, as well as a receipt showing the payment of the deficiency, shall be filed.

(b) If any taxes paid to another state or country for which a taxpayer has been allowed a credit under this section are at any time credited or refunded to the taxpayer, a tax equal to that portion of the credit allowed for the taxes so credited or refunded is due and payable from the taxpayer and is subject to the penalties and interest provided in Subchapter I of this Chapter. (1939, c. 158, s. 325; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; c. 204, s. 1; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.5; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 17; 1998-98, s. 92.)

CASE NOTES

Statutes providing exemption from taxation are strictly construed. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Taxation is the rule, exemption the ex- ception. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Credit Allowed on Income Tax for Payments to Another State. — Under this section, instead of allowing a deduction in computing taxable net income, a credit is allowed against North Carolina tax for the amount of the tax paid to another state or country on the same income. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

That "another state or country" can lawfully impose an income tax only on that portion of the income of a resident of North Carolina derived from sources in that "state or country," implies that such income is to be taxed by North Carolina, but allows a credit on the North Carolina income tax for payments, if any, to "another state or country." In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

Tax Computed on Basis of Resident's Entire Net Income. — The income tax of a resident is computed on the basis of his entire net income. In re Dickinson, 281 N.C. 552, 189 S.E.2d 141 (1972).

§ 105-151.1. Credit for construction of dwelling units for handicapped persons.

An owner of multifamily rental units located in this State is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to five hundred fifty dollars ($550.00) for each dwelling unit constructed by the owner that conforms to Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code for the taxable year within which the construction of the dwelling unit is completed. The credit is allowed only for dwelling units completed during the taxable year that were required to be built in compliance with Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code. If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the tax imposed by this Part reduced by all other credits allowed, the excess may be carried forward for the next succeeding year. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must file with the income tax return a copy of the occupancy permit on the face of which is recorded by the building inspector the number of units completed during the taxable year that conform to Volume I-C of the North Carolina Building Code. After recording the number of these units on the face of the occupancy permit, the building inspector shall promptly forward a copy of the permit to the Building Accessibility Section of the Department of Insurance. (1973, c. 910, s. 2; 1979, c. 803, ss. 3, 4; 1981, c. 682, s. 17; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.6; 1997-6, s. 4; 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-100, s. 1.)

§ 105-151.2: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-151.3: Repealed by Session Laws 1983 (Regular Session 1984), c. 1004, s. 2.

§ 105-151.5: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-151.6: Expired.

Editor’s Note. — Pursuant to former subsection (g) of this section, this section applied only to costs incurred during taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1998.

§ 105-151.6A: Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.11.

§§ 105-151.7 through 105-151.10: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-342, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-342, s. 4, provides that the act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Session Laws 1999-342, s. 3, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute repealed by this act before the effective date of its repeal, nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the repealed statute before the effective date of its repeal.

§ 105-151.11. Credit for child care and certain employment-related expenses.

(a) Credit. — A person who is allowed a credit against federal income tax for a percentage of employment-related expenses under section 21 of the Code shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to the applicable percentage of the employment-related expenses as defined in section 21(b)(2) of the Code. In order to claim the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must provide with the tax return the information required by the Secretary.

(a1) Applicable Percentage. — For employment-related expenses that are incurred only with respect to one or more dependents who are seven years old or older and are not physically or mentally incapable of caring for themselves, the applicable percentage is the appropriate percentage in the column labeled “Percentage A” in the table below, based on the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income determined under the Code. For employment-related expenses with respect to any other qualifying individual, the applicable percentage is the appropriate percentage in the column labeled “Percentage B” in the table below, based on the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income determined under the Code.

Filing Status	Adjusted Gross Income	Percentage A	Percentage B
Head of Household	Up to $20,000	9%	13%
	Over $20,000
	Up to $32,000	8%	11.5%
	Over $32,000	7%	10%
Surviving Spouse or Joint Return	Up to $25,000	9%	13%
	Over $25,000
	Up to $40,000	8%	11.5%
	Over $40,000	7%	10%
Single	Up to $15,000	9%	13%
	Over $15,000
	Up to $24,000	8%	11.5%

Filing Status	Adjusted Gross Income	Percentage A	Percentage B
Married Filing Separately	Over $24,000	7%	10%
	Up to $12,500	9%	13%
	Over $12,500
	Up to $20,000	8%	11.5%
	Over $20,000	7%	10%

(b) Employment Related Expenses. — The amount of employment-related expenses for which a credit may be claimed may not exceed two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) if the taxpayer’s household includes one qualifying individual, as defined in section 21(b)(1) of the Code, and may not exceed four thousand eight hundred dollars ($4,800) if the taxpayer’s household includes more than one qualifying individual.

(c) Limitations. — A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. No credit shall be allowed under this section for amounts deducted from gross income in calculating taxable income under the Code. The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except for payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. (1981, c. 899, s. 1; 1985, c. 656, ss. 8-11; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.16; 1993, c. 432, s. 1; 1998-98, ss. 69, 99; 1998-100, s. 2.)

Legal Periodicals. — See legislative survey, 21 Campbell L. Rev. 323 (1999).

CASE NOTES

Conformity with Federal Tax Law. — Section 105-149 was repealed in an apparent effort by the General Assembly to bring North Carolina’s personal income tax laws into conformity with the 1984 revisions of federal tax statutes. Under federal law, the custodial parent, not the parent paying primary support, is entitled to claim the support exemption for the child under circumstances such as those in the case at bar. However, federal law also provides that the custodial parent may waive the right to claim an exemption. Cohen v. Cohen, 100 N.C. App. 334, 396 S.E.2d 344 (1990), decided under former § 105-149.

Trial court may order custodial parent to waive right to claim federal and state tax exemptions. Cohen v. Cohen, 100 N.C. App. 334, 396 S.E.2d 344 (1990), decided under former § 105-149.

Court order assigning federal and state tax dependency exemptions to payor of child support for all income tax purposes was valid. Cohen v. Cohen, 100 N.C. App. 334, 396 S.E.2d 344 (1990), decided under former § 105-149.

§ 105-151.12. Credit for certain real property donations.

(a) A person who makes a qualified donation of an interest in real property located in North Carolina during the taxable year that is useful for (i) public beach access or use, (ii) public access to public waters or trails, (iii) fish and wildlife conservation, or (iv) other similar land conservation purposes is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the fair market value of the donated property interest. To be eligible for this credit, the interest in property must be donated to and accepted by either the State, a local government, or a body that is both organized to receive and administer lands for conservation purposes and qualified to receive charitable contributions under the Code. Lands required to be dedicated pursuant to local governmental regulation or ordinance and dedications made to increase building density levels permitted under a regulation or ordinance are not eligible for this credit. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000). To support the credit allowed by this section, the taxpayer must file with the income tax return for the taxable year in which the credit is claimed a certification by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources that the property donated is suitable for one or more of the valid public benefits set forth in this subsection.

(b) The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer.

Any unused portion of this credit may be carried forward for the next succeeding five years.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.13(b).

(d) In the case of property owned by a married couple, if both spouses are required to file North Carolina income tax returns, the credit allowed by this section may be claimed only if the spouses file a joint return. If only one spouse is required to file a North Carolina income tax return, that spouse may claim the credit allowed by this section on a separate return.

(e) In the case of marshland for which a claim has been filed pursuant to G.S. 113-205, the offer of donation must be made before December 31, 2003 to qualify for the credit allowed by this section.

(f) (Expires for taxable years ending on or after January 1, 2005) Notwithstanding G.S. 105-269.15, the maximum dollar limit that applies in determining the amount of the credit applicable to a partnership that qualifies for the credit applies separately to each partner. (1983, c. 793, s. 3; 1985, c. 278, s. 2; 1989, c. 716, s. 2; c. 727, s. 218(43); c. 728, s. 1.17; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 869, s. 3; 1991, c. 45, s. 10; c. 453, ss. 2, 4; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 21; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 717, s. 4; 1997-226, s. 2; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a); 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-179, s. 2; 1998-212, s. 29A.13(b), (d); 2001-335, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — “December 31, 2003” was substituted for “31 December 2003” in subsection (e) at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 2001-335, s. 3 provides that s. 2 of the act, which added subsection (f), expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.13(b) and (d), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted “two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000)” for “one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000)” in subsection (a); and repealed subsection (c), providing the method by which a taxpayer could claim the credit allowed under the section.

Session Laws 2001-335, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, added subsection (f). See editor's note for expiration.

§ 105-151.13. Credit for conservation tillage equipment.

(a) A taxpayer who purchases conservation tillage equipment for use in a farming business, including tree farming, shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the cost of the equipment paid during the taxable year. This credit may not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for any taxable year. The credit may be claimed only by the first purchaser of the equipment and may not be claimed by a person who purchases the equipment for resale or for use outside this State. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the tax imposed under this Part, the excess may be carried forward for the next succeeding five years. The basis in any equipment for which a credit is allowed under this section shall be reduced by the amount of the credit allowable.

(b) As used in this section, “conservation tillage equipment” means:

- (1) A planter such as a planter commonly known as a “no-till” planter designed to minimize disturbance of the soil in planting crops or trees, including equipment that may be attached to equipment already owned by the taxpayer; or
- (2) Equipment designed to minimize disturbance of the soil in reforestation site preparation, including equipment that may be attached to equipment already owned by the taxpayer; provided, however, this shall include only those items of equipment generally known as a “KG-Blade”, a “drum-chopper”, or a “V-Blade”.

§ 105-151.14. Credit for gleaned crop.

(a) A taxpayer who grows a crop and permits the gleaning of the crop during the taxable year shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the market price of the quantity of the gleaned crop. This credit may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. In order to claim the credit allowed under this section, the taxpayer must add the market price of the gleaned crop to taxable income as provided in G.S. 105-134.6(c). Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the next succeeding five years.

(b) The following definitions apply to this section:

- (1) “Gleaning” means the harvesting of a crop that has been donated by the grower to a nonprofit organization which will distribute the crop to individuals or other nonprofit organizations it considers appropriate recipients of the food.
- (2) “Market price” means the season average price of the crop as determined by the North Carolina Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, or the average price of the crop in the nearest local market for the month in which the crop is gleaned if the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service does not determine the season average price for that crop; and
- (3) “Nonprofit organization” means an organization to which charitable contributions are deductible from gross income under the Code. (1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1018, s. 2; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.19; 1991, c. 453, s. 3; 1997-261, s. 13; 1998-98, s. 101.)

§ 105-151.15: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

§ 105-151.17: Recodified as § 105-129.8 by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.4, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

§ 105-151.18. Credit for the disabled.

(a) Disabled Taxpayer. — A taxpayer who (i) is retired on disability, (ii) at the time of retirement, was permanently and totally disabled, and (iii) claims a federal income tax credit under section 22 of the Code for the taxable year, is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to one-third of the amount of the federal income tax credit for which the taxpayer is eligible under section 22 of the Code.

(b) Disabled Dependent. — If a dependent or spouse for whom a taxpayer is allowed an exemption under the Code is permanently and totally disabled, the taxpayer is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part. In order to claim the credit allowed by this subsection, the taxpayer must attach to the tax return on which the credit is claimed a statement from a physician or local health department certifying that the dependent or spouse for whom the credit is claimed is permanently and totally disabled, as defined in this section. The amount of the credit allowed shall be determined as follows: For a taxpayer whose North Carolina adjusted gross income does not exceed the appropriate income amount provided in the table below, based on the taxpayer's filing status, the credit allowed is the appropriate initial credit provided in the table below. For a taxpayer whose North Carolina adjusted gross income does exceed the appropriate income amount, the credit allowed is the appropriate initial credit reduced by four dollars ($4.00) for every one thousand dollars ($1,000) by which the taxpayer's North Carolina adjusted gross income exceeds the appropriate income amount.

Head of Household	$64.00	$16,000
Surviving Spouse or Joint Return	$80.00	$20,000
Single	$48.00	$12,000
Married Filing Separately	$40.00	$10,000

(c) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) North Carolina Adjusted Gross Income. Adjusted gross income, as determined under the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7.
- (2) Permanently and Totally Disabled. Unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death or that has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months. For the purpose of this section, a minor is permanently and totally disabled if the impact of the impairment on the minor's ability to function is equivalent in severity to that which would make an adult unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity.

(d) Limitations. — A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.22; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 5; 1998-98, ss. 69, 102.)

§ 105-151.19: Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 2, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

§ 105-151.20. Credit or partial refund for tax paid on certain federal retirement benefits.

(a) Purpose; Definitions. — The purpose of this section is to benefit certain retired federal government workers on account of their public service. The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Federal retirement benefits. — Retirement benefits received from one or more federal government retirement plans.
- (2) Net pension tax. — The amount of tax a taxpayer paid under this Part for the 1985, 1986, 1987, and 1988 tax years on federal retirement benefits, without interest, less any part of the tax for which the taxpayer received a credit under this section before 1997 and any part of the tax refunded to the taxpayer before 1997.
- (3) Tax year. — The taxpayer's taxable year beginning on a day in the applicable calendar year.

(b) Credit. — A taxpayer who received federal retirement benefits during the 1985, 1986, 1987, or 1988 tax year may claim a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to the net pension tax on those benefits. The credit allowed under this section shall be taken in equal installments over the taxpayer's first three taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part reduced by the sum of all credits allowed against the tax, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer; any unused portion of a credit installment may be carried forward to the 1999 and 2000 tax years.

(c) Partial Refund Alternative. — If the amount of tax imposed by this Part on the taxpayer for the taxpayer's 1996 tax year, reduced by the sum of all credits allowed against the tax except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer, is less than five percent (5%) of the taxpayer's net pension tax for which credit is allowed, the taxpayer is eligible to elect a partial refund under this subsection in lieu of claiming the credit. The partial refund allowed under this subsection is equal to the lesser of eighty-five percent (85%) of the taxpayer's net pension tax or the reduced amount determined by the Secretary as provided in this subsection. To elect the partial refund, an eligible taxpayer must file with the Secretary on or before April 15, 1997, a written request for a partial refund of the taxpayer's net pension. The Secretary shall calculate from these requests eighty-five percent (85%) of the total amount of net pension tax for which partial refunds have been claimed and, if this sum exceeds the amount in the Federal Retiree Refund Account created in this section, shall allocate the amount in the Account among the eligible taxpayers claiming partial refunds by reducing each taxpayer's claimed refund in proportion to the size of the claimed refund. The Secretary shall remit these partial refunds before January 1, 1998.

(d) Substantiation; Deceased Taxpayers. — In order to claim a refund or credit under this section, a taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary to establish the taxpayer's eligibility for tax benefit and the amount of the tax benefit. In the case of a taxpayer who is deceased, the representative of the taxpayer's estate may claim the refund in the name of the deceased taxpayer and, if the taxpayer does not qualify for a refund, the surviving spouse may claim the deceased taxpayer's credit. If there is no surviving spouse, the representative of the taxpayer's estate may claim the credit in the name of the taxpayer but may not carry forward any unused portion of the credit to the 1999 or 2000 tax year.

(e) Federal Retiree Accounts. — There are created in the Department of Revenue two special accounts to be known as the Federal Retiree Refund Account and the Federal Retiree Administration Account. Funds in the Federal Retiree Refund Account shall be spent only for partial refunds pursuant to subsection (c) of this section. The Department of Revenue may use funds in the Federal Retiree Administration Account only for the costs of administering this section. Funds in the Federal Retiree Refund Account and the Federal Retiree Administration Account shall not revert to the General Fund until the Director of the Budget certifies that the Department of Revenue has completed all duties necessary to implement this section, including processing the escheat of refund checks that have not been cashed. (1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 6; 1991, c. 45, s. 11; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 19, s. 1; 1997-499, ss. 1, 2; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-151.21. Credit for property taxes paid on farm machinery.

(a) Credit. — An individual engaged in the business of farming is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to the amount of property taxes the individual paid at par during the taxable year on farm machinery and on attachments and repair parts for farm machinery. In addition, an individual shareholder of an S Corporation engaged in the business of farming is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part equal to the shareholder's pro rata share of the amount of property taxes the S Corporation paid at par during the taxable year on farm machinery and on attachments and repair parts for farm machinery. The total credit allowed under this section may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for the taxable year and may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. To claim the credit, the taxpayer shall attach to the return a copy of the tax receipt for the property taxes for which credit is claimed. The receipt must indicate that the taxes have been paid and the amount and date of the payment.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Farm machinery. Machinery subject to State sales tax at the rate of one percent (1%) under G.S. 105-164.4A.
- (2) Property taxes. The principal amount of taxes levied and assessed by a taxing unit under Subchapter II of this Chapter. The term does not include costs, penalties, interest, or other charges that may be added to the principal amount.
- (3) Taxing unit. Defined in G.S. 105-273.

(c) Adjustment. If a taxing unit gives a taxpayer a credit or refund for any of the property taxes for which the taxpayer claimed a credit under this section, the taxpayer shall notify the Secretary within 90 days. The Secretary shall then recompute the credit allowed under this section and make any resulting adjustment of income tax for the taxable year for which the credit was claimed. (1985, c. 656, s. 13(3); 1987, c. 804, s. 6; 1991, c. 45, s. 14(a); 1998-98, s. 103; 2001-414, s. 11.)

Editor's Note. — This section is § 105-163.07, as recodified as § 105-151.21 and amended by Session Laws 1991, c. 45, s. 14(a).

Section 105-164.4(a)(1d)a, referred to in subdivision (b)(1) above, was recodified as § 105-164.4A.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 11, effective September 14, 2001, substituted "G.S. 105-164.4A" for "G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d)a" in subdivision (b)(1).

§ 105-151.22. (Effective for taxable years ending before January 1, 2003) Credit for North Carolina State Ports Authority wharfage, handling, and throughput charges.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer whose waterborne cargo is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at the State-owned port terminal at Wilmington or Morehead City, without consideration of the terms under which the cargo is moved, is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part. The amount of credit allowed is equal to the excess of the wharfage, handling (in or out), and throughput charges assessed on the cargo for the current taxable year over an amount equal to the average of the charges for the current taxable year and the two preceding taxable years. The credit applies to forest products, break-bulk cargo and container cargo, including less-than-container-load cargo, that is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at either the Wilmington or Morehead City port terminal and to bulk cargo that is loaded onto or unloaded from an ocean carrier calling at the Morehead City port terminal. To obtain the credit, taxpayers must provide to the Secretary a statement from the State Ports Authority certifying the amount of charges for which a credit is claimed and any other information required by the Secretary.

(b) Limitations. — This credit may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. Any unused portion of the credit may be carried forward for the succeeding five years. The maximum cumulative credit that may be claimed by a taxpayer under this section is two million dollars ($2,000,000).

(c) Definitions. — For purposes of this section, the terms "handling" (in or out) and "wharfage" have the meanings provided in the State Ports Tariff Publications, "Wilmington Tariff, Terminal Tariff #6," and "Morehead City Tariff, Terminal Tariff #1." For purposes of this section, the term "throughput" has the same meaning as "wharfage" but applies only to bulk products, both dry and liquid. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, s. 2; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 681, s. 2; 1995, c. 17, s. 17; c. 495, ss. 2-4; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, s. 15.3(b); 1997-443, s. 29.1 (a), (b), (d); 1998-98, s. 69; 2001-517, ss. 1, 2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 3, by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(a), and by Session Laws 2001-517, s. 1, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after March 1, 1992, and provides that it expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 977, which enacted this section, in s. 3, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 681, s. 3, and by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 5, provides: "The North Carolina State Ports Authority shall report annually to the General Assembly regarding the impact of the income tax credit enacted by this act on shipping and economic growth. Each report shall show the overall annual increase in shipping at each State port for the most recent year for which data is available and for each of the previous 10 years. Each report shall estimate the number of jobs created at each port and in businesses related to port activity at each port since July 1, 1992, as compared to the number of similar jobs created during the 10 years preceding July 1, 1992. Each report shall state the net economic impact on the State as a result of the allowance of the tax credit. Each report shall include the number of persons using the tax credit who have stopped, or are likely to stop, using a North Carolina port when the credit expires and to then use a port in another state. The Ports Authority shall file a report on May 1 of 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, and 1997, by submitting a copy to the Fiscal Research Division and five copies to the Legislative library. The Department of Revenue and the Department of Commerce shall cooperate with the Ports Authority in providing the information required in the annual reports.”

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 1.1, provides: “This act shall be known as “The Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 1997”.

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 35.2, provides: “Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1997-99 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1997-99 fiscal biennium.”

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 35.4, is a severability clause.

Session Laws 1993, c. 681, s. 4, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 17, by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 4, by Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(b), and by Session Laws 2001-517, s. 2, made the amendments to this section by the 1993 act effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and provides that they expire for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Session Laws 2001-517, s. 3, provides that the act, which extended the sunset for this section, is effective for taxable years beginning on or after March 2, 2000.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994) amendment, as amended by Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 17, by Session Laws 1995, c. 495, s. 4, and Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, and ending on or before February 28, 2001, rewrote subsection (a), deleted “under this Division” following “allowable” in the first sentence of subsection (b) and substituted “handling in” for “handling” in the first sentence of subsection (c).

Session Laws 1997-443, s. 29.1(d), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1998, substituted “two million dollars ($2,000,000)” for “one million dollars ($1,000,000)” in subsection (b).

The 1998 amendment, effective August 14, 1998, substituted “this Part” for “this Division” in subsections (a) and (b).

§ 105-151.23: Recodified as §§ 105-129.35 through 105-129.37 by Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 6 provides that Article 3D of Chapter 105, as amended by Session Laws 1999-389, incorpo-

§ 105-151.24. (Effective for taxable years ending before January 1, 2003) Credit for children.

An individual whose adjusted gross income (AGI), as calculated under the Code, is less than the amount listed below is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part in an amount equal to seventy-five dollars ($75.00) for each dependent child for whom the individual was allowed to deduct a personal exemption under section 151(c)(1)(B) of the Code for the taxable year:

Filing Status	AGI
Married, filing jointly	$100,000
Head of Household	80,000
Single	60,000
Married, filing separately	50,000.

A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. (1995, c. 42, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69; 2001-424, s. 34.20(a).)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective until taxable years ending before January 1, 2003. For the section as in effect for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, see the following section, also numbered § 105-151.24.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, 34.20(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, substituted "seventy-five dollars ($75.00)" for "sixty dollars ($60.00)" in the first paragraph.

§ 105-151.24. (Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) Credit for children.

An individual whose adjusted gross income (AGI), as calculated under the Code, is less than the amount listed below is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part in an amount equal to one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each dependent child for whom the individual was allowed to deduct a personal exemption under section 151(c)(1)(B) of the Code for the taxable year:

Filing Status	AGI
Married, filing jointly	$100,000
Head of Household	80,000
Married, filing separately	50,000.

A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. (1995, c. 42, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69; 2001-424, s. 34.20(a), (b).)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. For the section as in effect until January 1, 2003, see the preceding section, also numbered § 105-151.24.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.
Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, 34.20(b), as amended by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.20(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, substituted "one hundred dollars ($100.00)" for "seventy-five dollars ($75.00)" in the first paragraph.

§ 105-151.25. Credit for construction of a poultry composting facility.

(a) Credit. — A taxpayer who constructs in this State a poultry composting facility as defined in G.S. 106-549.51 for the composting of whole, unprocessed poultry carcasses from commercial operations in which poultry is raised or produced is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Division an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the installation, materials, and equipment costs of construction paid during the taxable year. This credit may not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for any single installation. The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Division for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except payments of tax by or on behalf of the taxpayer. The credit allowed by this section does not apply to costs paid with funds provided the taxpayer by a State or federal agency.

(b) Property Owned by the Entirety. — In the case of property owned by the entirety, if both spouses are required to file North Carolina income tax returns, the credit allowed by this section may be claimed only if the spouses file a joint return. If only one spouse is required to file a North Carolina income tax return, that spouse may claim the credit allowed by this section on a separate return. (1995, c. 543, s. 1; 1998-134, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 105-151.26. Credit for charitable contributions by nonitemizers.

A taxpayer who elects the standard deduction under section 63 of the Code for federal tax purposes is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part an amount equal to seven percent (7%) of the taxpayer’s excess charitable contributions. The taxpayer’s excess charitable contributions are the amount by which the taxpayer’s charitable contributions for the taxable year that would have been deductible under section 170 of the Code if the taxpayer had not elected the standard deduction exceed two percent (2%) of the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income as calculated under the Code.

No credit shall be allowed under this section for amounts deducted from gross income in calculating taxable income under the Code or for contributions for which a credit was claimed under G.S. 105-151.12 or G.S. 105-151.14. A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 7.1; 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-183, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws, 1998-183, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, substituted “seven percent (7%)” for “two and three-fourths percent (2.75%)” in the first sentence.

§ 105-151.27. (Repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001.) Credit for child health insurance.

(a) Credit. — Subject to the limitations provided in this section, a taxpayer is allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Division if the taxpayer paid a health insurance premium during the taxable year that provided insurance coverage for the taxpayer’s dependent children. The amount of the credit is the amount provided in the table below that corresponds to the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income, as a percentage of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), as defined in G.S. 108A-70.18, based on the taxpayer’s family size.

AGI as % of FPL	Credit Amount
0 — 225	$300
Over 225	$100

(b) Income Limitations. — To be eligible for the credit allowed under this section, the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income (AGI), as calculated under the Code, must be less than the amount listed in the table below:

Filing Status	AGI
Married, filing jointly	$100,000
Head of Household	80,000
Married, filing separately	50,000

(c) Credit Limitations. — The credit allowed by this section may not exceed the amount of health insurance premium the taxpayer paid during the taxable year that provided insurance coverage for the taxpayer’s dependent children. A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this section shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate. In order to claim a credit under this section, a taxpayer must provide any information required by the Secretary to establish the taxpayer’s eligibility for the credit and the amount of the credit.

(d) No Double Benefit. — If the taxpayer claimed a deduction for health insurance costs of self-employed individuals under section 162(l) of the Code for the taxable year, the amount of credit otherwise allowed the taxpayer under this section is reduced by the applicable percentage provided in section 162(l) of the Code. If the taxpayer claimed a deduction for medical care expenses under section 213 of the Code for the taxable year, the taxpayer is not allowed a credit under this section. A taxpayer who claims the credit allowed by this section must provide any information required by the Secretary to demonstrate that the amount paid for premiums for which the credit is claimed was not excluded from the taxpayer’s gross income for the taxable year.

(e) Credit Refundable. — If the credit allowed by this section exceeds the amount of tax imposed by this Division for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, the Secretary shall refund the excess to the taxpayer. The refundable excess is governed by the provisions governing a refund of an overpayment by the taxpayer of the tax imposed in this Division. In computing the amount of tax against which multiple credits are allowed, nonrefundable credits are subtracted before refundable credits.

(f) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Comprehensive health insurance plan. — Any of the following plans, policies, or contracts that provide health benefits coverage for dependent children for inpatient and outpatient hospital services, physicians’ surgical and medical services, and laboratory and X-ray services: accident and health insurance policy or certificate; hospital or medical service corporation contract; HMO subscriber contract; plan provided by a MEWA or plan provided by another benefit arrangement, to the extent permitted by ERISA, and the North Carolina Teachers’ and State Employees’ Comprehensive Major Medical Plan established under Part 3 of Article 3 of Chapter 135 of the General Statutes. “Comprehensive health insurance plan” does not mean any plan implemented or administered through the Department of Health and Human Services.
- (2) Dependent child. — A child under the age of 19 for whom the taxpayer is allowed to deduct a personal exemption under section 151(c)(1)(B) of the Code for the taxable year.
- (3) Family size. — The number of individuals for whom the taxpayer is entitled to deduct a personal exemption under the Code for the taxable year.

- (4) Health insurance premium. — An amount paid by the taxpayer for insurance coverage of the taxpayer's dependent children under a private or employer-sponsored comprehensive health insurance plan and an amount paid to purchase extended coverage under the Health Insurance Program for Children pursuant to G.S. 108A-70.21. The term does not include, however, amounts deducted from or not included in the taxpayer's gross income for the taxable year, as calculated in subsection (d) of this section. (1998-1, s. 5(a); 2001-424, s. 34.21(a).)

Section Repealed Effective for Taxable Years Beginning On or After January 1, 2001. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.21(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, repealed this section.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides:

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-151.28. (Effective until taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004) Credit for premiums paid on long-term care insurance.

(a) Credit. — An individual is allowed, as a credit against the tax imposed by this Part, an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the premium costs the individual paid during the taxable year on a qualified long-term care insurance contract that offers coverage to either the individual, the individual's spouse, or a dependent for whom the individual was allowed to deduct a personal exemption under section 151(c)(1)(A) of the Code for the taxable year. The credit allowed by this section may not exceed three hundred fifty dollars ($350.00) for each qualified long-term care insurance contract for which a credit is claimed. The credit allowed under this section may not exceed the amount of tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowed, except payments of tax made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. A nonresident or part-year resident who claims the credit allowed by this subsection shall reduce the amount of the credit by multiplying it by the fraction calculated under G.S. 105-134.5(b) or (c), as appropriate.

(b) No Double Benefit. — No credit is allowed for payments that are deducted from, or not included in, the taxpayer's gross income for the taxable year. If the taxpayer claimed a deduction for health insurance costs of self-employed individuals under section 162(l) of the Code for the taxable year, the amount of credit otherwise allowed the taxpayer under this section is reduced by the applicable percentage provided in section 162(l) of the Code. If the taxpayer claimed a deduction for medical care expenses under section 213 of the Code for the taxable year, the taxpayer is not allowed a credit under this section. A taxpayer who claims the credit allowed by this section must provide any information required by the Secretary to demonstrate that the amount paid for premiums for which the credit is claimed was not excluded from the taxpayer's gross income for the taxable year.

(c) Definition. — For purposes of this section, the term “qualified long-term care insurance contract” has the same meaning as defined in section 7702B of the Code. (1998-212, s. 29A.6(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.6(d), made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, and provided that it expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.2 provides “Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1998-99 fiscal year, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1998-99 fiscal year.”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998’.”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.6(c) provides in part that the Legislative Research Commission shall study the effectiveness of this credit and report to the 2004 Regular Session of the 2003 General Assembly.

§ 105-152. Income tax returns.

(a) Who Must File. — The following individuals shall file with the Secretary an income tax return under affirmation:

- (1) Every resident required to file an income tax return for the taxable year under the Code and every nonresident who (i) derived gross income from North Carolina sources during the taxable year attributable to the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this State or derived from a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in this State and (ii) is required to file an income tax return for the taxable year under the Code.
- (2) Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 1.
- (3) Any individual whom the Secretary believes to be liable for a tax under this Part, when so notified by the Secretary and requested to file a return.

(b) Taxpayer Deceased or Unable to Make Return. — If the taxpayer is unable to file the income tax return, the return shall be filed by a duly authorized agent or by a guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of the taxpayer. If an individual who was required to file an income tax return for the taxable year while living has died before making the return, the administrator or executor of the estate shall file the return in the decedent’s name and behalf, and the tax shall be levied upon and collected from the estate.

(c) Information Required With Return. — The income tax return shall show the taxable income and adjustments required by this Part and any other information the Secretary requires. The Secretary may require some or all individuals required to file an income tax return to attach to the return a copy of their federal income tax return for the taxable year. The Secretary may require a taxpayer to provide the Department with copies of any other return the taxpayer has filed with the Internal Revenue Service and to verify any information in the return.

(d) Secretary May Require Additional Information. — When the Secretary has reason to believe that any taxpayer conducts a trade or business in a way that directly or indirectly distorts the taxpayer’s taxable income or North Carolina taxable income, the Secretary may require any additional information for the proper computation of the taxpayer’s taxable income and North Carolina taxable income. In computing the taxpayer’s taxable income and North Carolina taxable income, the Secretary shall consider the fair profit that would normally arise from the conduct of the trade or business.

(e) Joint Returns. — A husband and wife shall file a single income tax return jointly if (i) their federal taxable income is determined on a joint federal return and (ii) both spouses are residents of this State or both spouses have North Carolina taxable income. Except as otherwise provided in this Part, a wife and husband filing jointly are treated as one taxpayer for the purpose of determining the tax imposed by this Part. A husband and wife filing jointly are jointly and severally liable for the tax imposed by this Part reduced by the sum of all credits allowable including tax payments made by or on behalf of the husband and wife. However, if a spouse has been relieved of liability for federal tax attributable to a substantial understatement by the other spouse pursuant to section 6015 of the Code, that spouse is not liable for the corresponding tax imposed by this Part attributable to the same substantial understatement by the other spouse. A wife and husband filing jointly have expressly agreed that if the amount of the payments made by them with respect to the taxes for which they are liable, including withheld and estimated taxes, exceeds the total of the taxes due, refund of the excess may be made payable to both spouses jointly or, if either is deceased, to the survivor alone.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 1. (1939, c. 158, s. 326; 1941, c. 50, s. 5; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 903, s. 1; c. 1287, s. 5; 1977, c. 315; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.23; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 1; 1998-98, ss. 69, 104; 1999-337, s. 25.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 25, effective July 22, 1999, substituted "6015" for "6013" in subsection (e).

§ 105-154. Information at the source returns.

(a) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 354, s. 14.

(b) Information Returns of Payers. — A person who is a resident of this State, has a place of business in this State, or has an employee, an agent, or another representative in any capacity in this State shall file an information return as required by the Secretary if the person directly or indirectly pays or controls the payment of any income to any taxpayer. The return shall contain all information required by the Secretary. The filing of any return in compliance with this section by a foreign corporation is not evidence that the corporation is doing business in this State.

(c) Information Returns of Partnerships. — A partnership doing business in this State and required to file a return under the Code shall file an information return with the Secretary. A partnership that the Secretary believes to be doing business in this State and to be required to file a return under the Code shall file an information return when requested to do so by the Secretary. The information return shall contain all information required by the Secretary. It shall state specifically the items of the partnership's gross income, the deductions allowed under the Code, and the adjustments required by this Part. The information return shall also include the name and address of each person who would be entitled to share in the partnership's net income, if distributable, and the amount each person's distributive share would be. The information return shall specify the part of each person's distributive share of the net income that represents corporation dividends. The information return shall be signed by one of the partners under affirmation in the form required by the Secretary.

A partnership that files an information return under this subsection shall furnish to each person who would be entitled to share in the partnership's net income, if distributable, any information necessary for that person to properly file a State income tax return. The information shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary and must be furnished on or before the due date of the information return.

(d) Payment of Tax on Behalf of Nonresident Owner or Partner. — If a business conducted in this State is owned by a nonresident individual or by a partnership having one or more nonresident members, the manager of the business shall report the earnings of the business in this State, the distributive share of the income of each nonresident owner or partner, and any other information required by the Secretary. The manager of the business shall pay with the return the tax on each nonresident owner or partner's share of the income computed at the rate levied on individuals under G.S. 105-134.2(a)(3). The business may deduct the payment for each nonresident owner or partner from the owner or partner's distributive share of the profits of the business in this State. If the nonresident partner is not an individual and the partner has executed an affirmation that the partner will pay the tax with its corporate, partnership, trust, or estate income tax return, the manager of the business is not required to pay the tax on the partner's share. In this case, the manager shall include a copy of the affirmation with the report required by this subsection. (1939, c. 158, s. 328; 1945, c. 708, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 5; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.25; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 19; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 2; 1993, c. 314, s. 1; c. 354, s. 14; 1998-98, s. 69; 1999-337, s. 26.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 26, effective July 22, 1999, substituted "required by the Secretary" for "prescribed in G.S. 105-155" in subsection (c).

§ 105-155. Time and place of filing returns; extensions; affirmation.

(a) Where and When to File. — An income tax return shall be filed as prescribed by the Secretary at the place prescribed by the Secretary. The income tax return of every taxpayer reporting on a calendar year basis shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of April in each year, and the income tax return of every taxpayer reporting on a fiscal year basis shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year. An information return shall be filed at the times prescribed by the Secretary. A taxpayer may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263.

(d) Forms. — Returns and affirmations shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary. (1939, c. 158, s. 329; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; 1953, c. 1302, s. 4; 1955, c. 17, s. 1; 1957, c. 1340, s. 4; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.26; 1989 (Reg. ### § 105-156. Failure to file returns; supplementary returns.

If the Secretary is of the opinion that any taxpayer has failed to file a return or to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, taxable income, the Secretary may require from the taxpayer a return or supplementary return, under oath, in such form as the Secretary shall prescribe, of all the items of gross income the taxpayer received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under the provisions of this Part. If from a supplementary return or otherwise the Secretary finds that any taxable income has been omitted from the original return, he may require the taxable income so omitted to be disclosed to him under oath of the taxpayer, and to be added to the original return. The supplementary return and the correction of the original return shall not relieve the taxpayer from any of the penalties under any provision of G.S. 105-236. The Secretary may proceed under the provisions of G.S. 105-241.1 whether or not he requires a return or a supplementary return under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 331; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.27; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 20; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-157. When tax must be paid.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in Article 4A of this Chapter, the full amount of the tax payable as shown on the return must be paid to the Secretary within the time allowed for filing the return. If the amount shown to be due is less than one dollar ($1.00), no payment need be made.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 450, s. 4. (1939, c. 158, s. 332; 1943, c. 400, s. 4; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; 1951, c. 643, s. 4; 1955, c. 17, s. 2; 1959, c. 1259, s. 2; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 702, s. 1; c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 903, s. 2; c. 1287, s. 5; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.29; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 11; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 4; 1993, c. 450, s. 4.)

CASE NOTES

Applied in City of Winston-Salem v. Powell Paving Co., 7 F. Supp. 424 (M.D.N.C. 1934).

§ 105-158. Taxation of certain armed forces personnel and other individuals upon death.

An individual is not subject to the tax imposed by this Part for a taxable year if, under section 692 of the Code, the individual is not subject to federal income tax for that same taxable year. (1969, c. 1116; 1979, c. 179, s. 2; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.30; 1991, c. 439, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 69.)

Editor's Note. — Former § 105-158 was repealed by Session Laws 1959, c. 1259, s. 9.

§ 105-159. Federal corrections.

If a taxpayer's federal taxable income is corrected or otherwise determined by the federal government, the taxpayer must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file an income tax return with the Secretary reflecting the corrected or determined taxable income. The Secretary shall determine from all available evidence the taxpayer's correct tax liability for the taxable year. As used in this section, the term "all available evidence" means evidence of any kind that becomes available to the Secretary from any source, whether or not the evidence was considered in the federal correction or determination.

The Secretary shall assess and collect any additional tax due from the taxpayer as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. The Secretary shall refund any overpayment of tax as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. A taxpayer who fails to comply with this section is subject to the penalties in G.S. 105-236 and forfeits the right to any refund due by reason of the determination. (1939, c. 158, s. 334; 1947, c. 501, s. 4; 1949, c. 392, s. 3; 1957, c. 1340, s. 14; 1963, c. 1169, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.31; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

This section imposes on the taxpayer a positive duty with respect to his income tax liability beyond that required by § 105-152, respecting his original return; it is his duty not only to report the change made by the federal department but to file another return under oath reflecting it. Garrou Knitting Mills v. Gill, 228 N.C. 764, 47 S.E.2d 240 (1948).

This section imposes a positive duty upon taxpayers beyond the requirements as to their original return. State v. Patton, 57 N.C. App. 702, 292 S.E.2d 172 (1982).

Correction of Net Income by Federal Officer Requires New Return. — The taxpayer whose net income for any year is corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other authorized federal officer must file a new return reflecting his corrected net income within two years after receipt of the federal agent's report. Failure to make such a new return within the time specified subjects the taxpayer to all penalties provided by § 105-236 including, when applicable, the criminal penalty provided by § 105-236(7). State v. Patton, 57 N.C. App. 702, 292 S.E.2d 172 (1982).

Effect on North Carolina Net Income Not Required. — This section does not require that the taxpayer's North Carolina net income be affected before it governs a taxpayer's duty to report changes in his federal net income. McFarland v. Justus, 113 N.C. App. 107, 437 S.E.2d 668 (1993), decision based on pre-1989 law.

Procedure Under Former Statute Exclusive. — The procedure prescribed by the former statute requiring that a new return be made within 30 days of the receipt of the redetermination of the taxpayer's income tax by the federal government was held exclusive and had to be followed to entitle the taxpayer to the relief therein provided. State ex rel. Maxwell v. Hinsdale, 207 N.C. 37, 175 S.E. 847 (1934).

Statute of Limitations Extended. — Failure to notify the Secretary of Revenue of the assessment of additional taxes by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue pursuant to this section extended the statute of limitations. McFarland v. Justus, 113 N.C. App. 107, 437

S.E.2d 668 (1993), decision based on pre-1989 law.

§ 105-159.1. Designation of tax by individual to political party.

(a) Every individual whose income tax liability for the taxable year is one dollar ($1.00) or more may designate on his or her income tax return that one dollar ($1.00) of the tax shall be credited to the North Carolina Political Parties Financing Fund for the use of the political party designated by the taxpayer. In the case of a married couple filing a joint return whose income tax liability for the taxable year is two dollars ($2.00) or more, each spouse may designate on the income tax return that one dollar ($1.00) of the tax shall be credited to the North Carolina Political Parties Financing Fund for the use of the political party designated by the taxpayer. Amounts credited to the Fund shall be allocated among the political parties according to the designation of the taxpayer. Where any taxpayer elects to designate but does not specify a particular political party, those funds shall be distributed among the political parties on a pro rata basis according to their respective party voter registrations as determined by the most recent certification of the State Board of Elections. As used in this section, the term "political party" means one of the following that has at least one percent (1%) of the total number of registered voters in the State:

- (1) A political party that at the last preceding general State election received at least ten percent (10%) of the entire vote cast in the State for Governor or for presidential electors.
- (2) A group of voters who by July 1 of the preceding calendar year, by virtue of a petition as a new political party, had duly qualified as a new political party within the meaning of Chapter 163 of the General Statutes.

(b) Amounts designated under subsection (a) shall be credited to the North Carolina Political Parties Financing Fund on a quarterly basis. Interest earned by the Fund shall be credited to the Fund and shall be allocated among the political parties on the same basis as the principal of the Fund. The State Board of Elections, which administers the Fund, shall make a quarterly report to each State party chairman stating the amount of funds allocated to each party for that quarter, the cumulative total of funds allocated to each party to date for the year, and an estimate of the probable total amount to be collected and allocated to each party for that calendar year.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 481.

(d) Return. — The first page of the income tax return must give an individual the opportunity to make the political contribution authorized in this section. The return or its accompanying explanatory instructions must readily indicate that a contribution neither increases nor decreases an individual's tax liability.

(e) A paid preparer of tax returns may not designate on a return that the taxpayer does or does not desire to make the political contribution authorized in this section unless the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse has consented to the designation. (1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1298, s. 1; 1979, c. 801, s. 69; 1981, c. 963, s. 1; 1983, cc. 139, 480, 481; 1989, c. 37, s. 4; c. 713; c. 728, s. 1.32; c. 770, s. 41.1; 1991, c. 45, s. 13; c. 347, s. 3; c. 690, ss. 8, 9; 1997-515, s. 10(a); 1999-438, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Section 105-159.1 was 775, s. 1, and expired by its own terms Dec. 31, originally enacted by Session Laws 1975, c. 1977. See Session Laws 1975, c. 775, s. 3. The above § 105-159.1 was enacted by Session Laws 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1298, s. 1, effective with respect to taxable years beginning on or after Jan. 1, 1978.

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 3, effective August 10, 1999, rewrote subsection (d).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Regarding the designation of funds for political parties by 1998 taxpayers where a third party was erroneously included on the income tax forms, see opinion of Attorney General to Gary O. Bartlett, Executive Secretary-Director (now the Executive Director), State Board of Elections, N.C. General Assembly, 1999 N.C.A.G. 16 (6/14/99).

Part 3. Income Tax — Estates, Trusts, and Beneficiaries.

§ 105-160. Short title.

This Part shall be known as the Income Tax Act for Estates, Trusts, and Beneficiaries. (1967, c. 1110, s. 3; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.36; 1998-98, ss. 45, 68.)

§ 105-160.1. Definitions.

The definitions provided in Part 2 of this Article shall apply in this Part except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1998-98, ss. 69, 71.)

§ 105-160.2. Imposition of tax.

The tax imposed by this Part shall apply to the taxable income of estates and trusts as determined under the provisions of the Code except as otherwise provided in this Part. The taxable income of an estate or trust shall be the same as taxable income for such an estate or trust under the provisions of the Code, adjusted as provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7, except that the adjustments provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7 shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries based on the distributions made during the taxable year. The tax shall be computed on the amount of the taxable income of the estate or trust that is for the benefit of a resident of this State, or for the benefit of a nonresident to the extent that the income (i) is derived from North Carolina sources and is attributable to the ownership of any interest in real or tangible personal property in this State or (ii) is derived from a business, trade, profession, or occupation carried on in this State. For purposes of the preceding sentence, taxable income and gross income shall be computed subject to the adjustments provided in G.S. 105-134.6 and G.S. 105-134.7. The tax on the amount computed above shall be at the rates levied in G.S. 105-134.2(a)(3). The tax computed under the provisions of this Part shall be paid by the fiduciary responsible for administering the estate or trust. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 21; 1991, c. 689, s. 302; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-160.3. Tax credits.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the credits allowed to an individual against the tax imposed by Part 2 of this Article shall be allowed to the same extent to an estate or a trust against the tax imposed by this Part. Any credit computed as a percentage of income received shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries based on the distributions made during the taxable year. No credit may exceed the amount of the tax imposed by this Part for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all credits allowable, except for payments of tax made by or on behalf of the estate or trust.

(b) The following credits are not allowed to an estate or trust:

- (1) G.S. 105-151. Tax credits for income taxes paid to other states by individuals.
- (2) G.S. 105-151.11. Credit for child care and certain employment-related expenses.
- (3) G.S. 105-151.18. Credit for the disabled.
- (4) G.S. 105-151.24. Credit for children.
- (5) G.S. 105-151.26. Credit for charitable contributions by nonitemizers.
- (6) G.S. 105-152.27. Credit for child health insurance.
- (7) (See editor's note for repeal date) G.S. 105-151.28. Credit for long-term care insurance. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1998-1, s. 5(b); 1998-98, ss. 10, 105; 1998-212, s. 29A.6(b).)

Cross References. — For the Health Insurance Program for Children, see § 108A-70.18 et seq.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-1, s. 5(d) provides that s. 5 of the act which added subdivision (b)(6) of § 105-160.3, is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, and expires on the effective date of an act repealing the Health Insurance Program for Children established under the act.

Session Laws 1998-1, s. 5(e) provides that s. 5 of the act becomes effective only if the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services approves the State Plan to implement the Health Insurance Program for Children established under this act. The Program was approved by letter dated July 14, 1998 from Secretary Donna E. Shalala.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.6(d), provides that subdivision (b)(7), as enacted by that act, is repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

§ 105-160.4. Tax credits for income taxes paid to other states by estates and trusts.

(a) If a fiduciary is required to pay income tax to this State for an estate or a trust, the fiduciary shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this Part for income taxes imposed by and paid to another state or country on income derived from sources within that other state or country in accordance with the formula contained in subsection (b) and the requirements of subsection (c).

(b) The fraction of the gross income for North Carolina income tax purposes that is derived from sources within and subject to income tax in another state or country shall be ascertained and the North Carolina income tax before credit under this section shall be multiplied by that fraction. The credit allowed shall be either the product thus calculated or the income tax actually paid the other state or country, whichever is smaller.

(c) Receipts showing the payment of income taxes to another state or country and a true copy of the return upon the basis of which the taxes are assessed shall be filed with the Secretary at or before the time credit is claimed. If credit is claimed on account of a deficiency assessment, a true copy of the notice assessing or proposing to assess the deficiency, as well as a receipt showing the payment of the deficiency, shall be filed with the Secretary.

(d) If any taxes paid to another state or country for which a fiduciary has been allowed a credit under this section are at any time credited or refunded to the fiduciary, a tax equal to that portion of the credit allowed for the taxes so credited or refunded shall be due and payable from the fiduciary and shall be subject to the penalties and interest on delinquent payments provided in G.S. 105-236 and G.S. 105-241.1.

(e) A resident beneficiary of an estate or trust who is taxed under the provisions of Part 2 of this Article on income from an estate or trust determined to be includable in the resident's gross income is allowed a credit against the tax imposed for income taxes paid by the fiduciary to another state or country on the income in accordance with the formula contained in subsection (b) of this section and the requirements of subsection (c) of this section; provided, that if any taxes paid to another state or country for which a beneficiary has been allowed credit under this section are at any time credited or refunded to the beneficiary, a tax equal to that portion of the credit allowed for the taxes so credited or refunded shall be due and payable from the beneficiary and shall be subject to the penalties and interest on delinquent payments provided in G.S. 105-236 and G.S. 105-241.1. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1998-98, ss. 69, 71.)

§ 105-160.5. Returns.

The fiduciary of an estate or trust described below shall file an income tax return under affirmation, showing specifically the taxable income and the adjustments required by this Part and such other facts as the Secretary may require for the purpose of making any computation required by this Part:

- (1) Every estate or trust which has taxable income under this Part during the taxable year and is required to file an income tax return for the taxable year under the Code.
- (2) Every estate or trust which the Secretary believes to be liable for a tax under this Part, when so notified by the Secretary and requested to file a return. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§ 105-160.6. Time and place of filing returns.

An income tax return of an estate or a trust shall be filed as prescribed by the Secretary at the place prescribed by the Secretary. The return of every fiduciary reporting on a calendar year basis shall be filed on or before the 15th day of April in each year, and the return of every fiduciary reporting on a fiscal year basis shall be filed on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year. A fiduciary may ask the Secretary for an extension of time to file a return under G.S. 105-263. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 12; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 7.)

§ 105-160.7. When tax must be paid.

(a) The full amount of the tax payable as shown on the return must be paid to the Secretary within the time allowed for filing the return. However, if the amount shown to be due after all credits is less than one dollar ($1.00), no payment need be made.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 450, s. 5. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 13; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 8; 1993, c. 450, s. 5.)

§ 105-160.8. Federal corrections.

For purposes of this Part, the provisions of G.S. 105-159 requiring an individual to report the correction or determination of taxable income by the federal government apply to fiduciaries required to file returns for estates and trusts. (1989, c. 728, s. 1.38; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 69.)

§§ 105-161 through 105-163: Repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 728, s. 1.37.

Part 5. Tax Credits for Qualified Business Investments.

(Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003)

§ 105-163.010. (Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003) Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Part:

- (1) Affiliate. — An individual or business that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another individual or business.
- (2) Business. — A corporation, partnership, limited liability company, association, or sole proprietorship operated for profit.
- (3) Control. — A person controls an entity if the person owns, directly or indirectly, more than ten percent (10%) of the voting securities of that entity. As used in this subdivision, the term “voting security” means a security that (i) confers upon the holder the right to vote for the election of members of the board of directors or similar governing body of the business or (ii) is convertible into, or entitles the holder to receive upon its exercise, a security that confers such a right to vote. A general partnership interest is a voting security.
- (4) Equity security. — Common stock, preferred stock, or an interest in a partnership, or subordinated debt that is convertible into, or entitles the holder to receive upon its exercise, common stock, preferred stock, or an interest in a partnership.
- (5) Financial institution. — A business that is (i) a bank holding company, as defined in the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, 12 U.S.C. §§ 1841, et seq., or its wholly owned subsidiary, (ii) registered as a broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. §§ 78a, et seq., or its wholly owned subsidiary, (iii) an investment company as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. §§ 80a-1, et seq., whether or not it is required to register under that act, (iv) a small business investment company as defined in the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, 15 U.S.C. §§ 661, et seq., (v) a pension or profit-sharing fund or trust, or (vi) a bank, savings institution, trust company, financial services company, or insurance company. The term does not include, however, a business, other than a small business investment company, whose net worth, when added to the net worth of all of its affiliates, is less than ten million dollars ($10,000,000). The term also does not include a business that does not generally market its services to the public and is controlled by a business that is not a financial institution.
- (6) North Carolina Enterprise Corporation. — A corporation established in accordance with Article 3 of Chapter 53A of the General Statutes or a limited partnership in which a North Carolina Enterprise Corporation is the only general partner.
- (7) Pass-through entity. — An entity or business, including a limited partnership, a general partnership, a joint venture, a Subchapter S Corporation, or a limited liability company, all of which is treated as owned by individuals or other entities under the federal tax laws, in which the owners report their share of the income, losses, and credits from the entity or business on their income tax returns filed with this State. For the purpose of this Part, an owner of a pass-through entity is an individual or entity who is treated as an owner under the federal tax laws.

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- (8) Qualified business venture. — A business that (i) engages primarily in manufacturing, processing, warehousing, wholesaling, research and development, or a service-related industry, and (ii) is registered with the Secretary of State under G.S. 105-163.013.
- (9) Qualified grantee business. — A business that (i) has received during the preceding three years a grant or other funding from the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, Inc., North Carolina First Flight, Inc., the North Carolina Biotechnology Center, the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, the Kenan Institute for Engineering, Technology and Science, or the Federal Small Business Innovation Research Program, and (ii) is registered with the Secretary of State under G.S. 105-163.013.
- (10) Real estate-related business. — A business that is involved in or related to the brokerage, selling, purchasing, leasing, operating, or managing of hotels, motels, nursing homes or other lodging facilities, golf courses, sports or social clubs, restaurants, storage facilities, or commercial or residential lots or buildings is a real estate-related business, except that a real estate-related business does not include (i) a business that purchases or leases real estate from others for the purpose of providing itself with facilities from which to conduct a business that is not itself a real estate-related business or (ii) a business that is not otherwise a real estate-related business but that leases, subleases, or otherwise provides to one or more other persons a number of square feet of space which in the aggregate does not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the number of square feet of space occupied by the business for its other activities.
- (10a) Related person. — A person described in one of the relationships set forth in section 267(b) or 707(b) of the Code.
- (11) Security. — A security as defined in Section 2(1) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77b(1).
- (12) Selling or leasing at retail. — A business is selling or leasing at retail if the business either (i) sells or leases any product or service of any nature from a store or other location open to the public generally or (ii) sells or leases products or services of any nature by means other than to or through one or more other businesses.
- (13) Service-related industry. — A business is engaged in a service-related industry, whether or not it also sells a product, if it provides services to customers or clients and does not as a substantial part of its business engage in a business described in G.S. 105-163.013(b)(4). A business is engaged as a substantial part of its business in an activity described in G.S. 105-163.013(b)(4) if (i) its gross revenues derived from all activities described in that subdivision exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of its gross revenues in any fiscal year or (ii) it is established as one of its primary purposes to engage in any activities described in that subdivision, whether or not its purposes were stated in its articles of incorporation or similar organization documents.
- (14) Subordinated debt. — Indebtedness that is not secured and is subordinated to all other indebtedness of the issuer issued or to be issued to a financial institution other than a financial institution described in subdivisions (5)(ii) through (5)(v) of this section. Except as provided in G.S. 105-163.014(d1), any portion of indebtedness that matures earlier than five years after its issuance is not subordinated debt. (1987, c. 852, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 882, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 848, s. 2; 1991, c. 637, s. 1; 1993, c. 443, s. 1; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 7; 1997-6, s. 5; 1998-98, ss. 46, 69; 1998-212, ss. 29A.15(a), 29A.16(c), (d); 1999-369, s. 5.6.)

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

Repeal of Part. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a), provides: “Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes will remain in effect for investments made before January 1, 2003.”

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 10, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(b), provides: “Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

“A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

“Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

“Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

“The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.16(c) and (d), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subdivision (10a); and in subdivision (14), substituted “is not secured and” for “(i) by its terms matures five or more years after its issuance, (ii) is not secured, and (iii)” in the first sentence, and added “Except as provided in G.S. 105-163.014(d1)” at the beginning of the last sentence.

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.6, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, inserted “limited liability company” in subdivision (2).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

On the subject of whether North Carolina Enterprise Corporations are entitled to a tax credit pursuant to this section, see the Attorney General Opinion dated 17 December 1996 and advisory letter dated 28 October 1996, attached to and incorporated by reference in the opinion of Attorney General to The Honorable David W. Hoyle Senator, 1998 N.C.A.G. 44 (10/22/98).

§ 105-163.011. (Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003) Tax credits allowed.

(a) No Credit for Brokered Investments. — No credit is allowed under this section for a purchase of equity securities or subordinated debt if a broker's fee or commission or other similar remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting the purchase.

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(b) Individuals. — Subject to the limitations contained in G.S. 105-163.012, an individual who purchases the equity securities or subordinated debt of a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business directly from that business is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by Part 2 of this Article for the taxable year an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount invested. The aggregate amount of credit allowed an individual for one or more investments in a single taxable year under this Part, whether directly or indirectly as owner of a pass-through entity, may not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). The credit may not be taken for the year in which the investment is made but shall be taken for the taxable year beginning during the calendar year in which the application for the credit becomes effective as provided in subsection (c) of this section.

(b1) Pass-Through Entities. — This subsection does not apply to a pass-through entity that has committed capital under management in excess of five million dollars ($5,000,000) or to a pass-through entity that is a qualified grantee business, a qualified business venture, or a North Carolina Enterprise Corporation. Subject to the limitations provided in G.S. 105-163.012, a pass-through entity that purchases the equity securities or subordinated debt of a qualified grantee business or a qualified business venture directly from the business is eligible for a tax credit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount invested. The aggregate amount of credit allowed a pass-through entity for one or more investments in a single taxable year under this Part, whether directly or indirectly as owner of another pass-through entity, may not exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000). The pass-through entity is not eligible for the credit for the year in which the investment by the pass-through entity is made but shall be eligible for the credit for the taxable year beginning during the calendar year in which the application for the credit becomes effective as provided in subsection (c) of this section.

Each individual who is an owner of a pass-through entity is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by Part 2 of this Article for the taxable year an amount equal to the owner's allocated share of the credits for which the pass-through entity is eligible under this subsection. The aggregate amount of credit allowed an individual for one or more investments in a single taxable year under this Part, whether directly or indirectly as owner of a pass-through entity, may not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

If an owner's share of the pass-through entity's credit is limited due to the maximum allowable credit under this section for a taxable year, the pass-through entity and its owners may not reallocate the unused credit among the other owners.

(c) Application. — To be eligible for the tax credit provided in this section, the taxpayer must file an application for the credit with the Secretary on or before April 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the investment was made. The Secretary may grant extensions of this deadline, as the Secretary finds appropriate, upon the request of the taxpayer, except that the application may not be filed after September 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the investment was made. An application is effective for the year in which it is timely filed. The application shall be on a form prescribed by the Secretary and shall include any supporting documentation that the Secretary may require. If an investment for which a credit is applied for was paid for other than in money, the taxpayer shall include with the application a certified appraisal of the value of the property used to pay for the investment. The application for a credit for an investment made by a pass-through entity must be filed by the pass-through entity.

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

(d) Penalties. — The penalties provided in G.S. 105-236 apply in this Part. (1987, c. 852, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 882, ss. 3, 3.1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 848, s. 3; 1991, c. 637, s. 2; 1993, c. 443, s. 2; 1995, c. 491, s. 1; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 7; 1998-98, s. 71; 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a); 1999-337, s. 27.)

Repeal of Part. — Session Laws 1993, c. 443, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a), provides: “Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes [ §§ 105-163.010 through 105-163.014 ] is repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes will remain in effect for investments made before January 1, 2003.”

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 443, s. 10, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(b), provides: “Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

“A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

“Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

“Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

“The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes.”

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 27, effective July 22, 1999, substituted “Part” for “Division” throughout this section.

§ 105-163.012. (Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003) Limit; carry-over; ceiling; reduction in basis.

(a) The credit allowed a taxpayer under G.S. 105-163.011 may not exceed the amount of income tax imposed by Part 2 of this Article for the taxable year reduced by the sum of all other credits allowable except tax payments made by or on behalf of the taxpayer. The amount of unused credit allowed under G.S. 105-163.011 may be carried forward for the next five succeeding years. The fifty thousand dollar ($50,000) limitation on the amount of credit allowed a taxpayer under G.S. 105-163.011 does not apply to unused amounts carried forward under this subsection.

(b) The total amount of all tax credits allowed to taxpayers under G.S. 105-163.011 for investments made in a calendar year may not exceed six million dollars ($6,000,000). The Secretary of Revenue shall calculate the total amount of tax credits claimed from the applications filed pursuant to G.S. 105-163.011(c). If the total amount of tax credits claimed for investments made in a calendar year exceeds six million dollars ($6,000,000), the Secretary shall allow a portion of the credits claimed by allocating a total of six million dollars ($6,000,000) in tax credits in proportion to the size of the credit claimed by each taxpayer.

(c) If a credit claimed under G.S. 105-163.011 is reduced as provided in this section, the Secretary shall notify the taxpayer of the amount of the reduction of the credit on or before December 31 of the year following the calendar year in which the investment was made. The Secretary's allocations based on applications filed pursuant to G.S. 105-163.011(c) are final and shall not be adjusted to account for credits applied for but not claimed.

(d) The taxpayer's basis in the equity securities or subordinated debt acquired as a result of an investment in a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business shall be reduced for the purposes of this Article by the amount of allowable credit. "Allowable credit" means the amount of credit allowed under G.S. 105-163.011 reduced as provided in subsection (c) of this section. (1987, c. 852, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 882, ss. 4, 4.1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 848, s. 4; 1991, c. 637, s. 3; 1993, c. 443, s. 3; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 8; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, ss. 6, 7; 1998-98, s. 71; 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a).)

Repeal of Part. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a), provides: "Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes will remain in effect for investments made before January 1, 2003."

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 10, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(b), provides: "Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994."

"A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration."

"Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested."

"Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made."

"The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

§ 105-163.013. (Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003) Registration.

(a) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 443, s. 4.

(b) Qualified Business Ventures. — In order to qualify as a qualified business venture under this Part, a business must be registered with the Securities Division of the Department of the Secretary of State. To register, the business must file with the Secretary of State an application and any supporting documents the Secretary of State may require from time to time to determine that the business meets the requirements for registration as a qualified business venture. A business meets the requirements for registration as a qualified business venture if all of the following are true as of the date the business files the required application:

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- (1) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 7.
- (1a) Reserved for future codification purposes.
- (1b) Either (i) it was organized after January 1 of the calendar year in which its application is filed or (ii) during its most recent fiscal year before filing the application, it had gross revenues, as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, of five million dollars ($5,000,000) or less on a consolidated basis.
- (2) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 7.
- (3) It is organized to engage primarily in manufacturing, processing, warehousing, wholesaling, research and development, or a service-related industry.
- (4) It does not engage as a substantial part of its business in any of the following:
  - a. Providing a professional service as defined in Chapter 55B of the General Statutes.
  - b. Construction or contracting.
  - c. Selling or leasing at retail.
  - d. The purchase, sale, or development, or purchasing, selling, or holding for investment of commercial paper, notes, other indebtedness, financial instruments, securities, or real property, or otherwise make investments.
  - e. Providing personal grooming or cosmetics services.
  - f. Offering any form of entertainment, amusement, recreation, or athletic or fitness activity for which an admission or a membership is charged.
- (5) It was not formed for the primary purpose of acquiring all or part of the stock or assets of one or more existing businesses.
- (6) It is not a real estate-related business.

The effective date of registration for a qualified business venture whose application is accepted for registration is 60 days before the date its application is filed. No credit is allowed under this Part for an investment made before the effective date of the registration or after the registration is revoked. For the purpose of this Article, if a taxpayer's investment is placed initially in escrow conditioned upon other investors' commitment of additional funds, the date of the investment is the date escrowed funds are transferred to the qualified business venture free of the condition.

To remain qualified as a qualified business venture, the business must renew its registration annually as prescribed by rule by filing a financial statement for the most recent fiscal year showing gross revenues, as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, of five million dollars ($5,000,000) or less on a consolidated basis and an application for renewal in which the business certifies the facts required in the original application.

Failure of a qualified business venture to renew its registration by the applicable deadline shall result in revocation of its registration effective as of the next day after the renewal deadline, but shall not result in forfeiture of tax credits previously allowed to taxpayers who invested in the business except as provided in G.S. 105-163.014. The Secretary of State shall send the qualified business venture notice of revocation within 60 days after the renewal deadline. A qualified business venture may apply to have its registration reinstated by the Secretary of State by filing an application for reinstatement, accompanied by the reinstatement application fee and a late filing penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000), within 30 days after receipt of the revocation notice from the Secretary of State. A business that seeks approval of a new application for registration after its registration has been revoked must also pay a penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000). A registration that has been reinstated is treated as if it had not been revoked.

If the gross revenues of a qualified business venture exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000) in a fiscal year, the business must notify the Secretary of State in writing of this fact by filing a financial statement showing the revenues of the business for that year.

(c) Qualified Grantee Businesses. — In order to qualify as a qualified grantee business under this Part, a business must be registered with the Securities Division of the Department of the Secretary of State. To register, the business must file with the Secretary of State an application and any supporting documents the Secretary of State may require from time to time to determine that the business meets the requirements for registration as a qualified grantee business. A business meets the requirements for registration as a qualified grantee business if it has received during the preceding three years a grant or other funding from the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, the North Carolina Technological Development Authority, Inc., North Carolina First Flight, Inc., the North Carolina Biotechnology Center, the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, the Kenan Institute for Engineering, Technology and Science, or the Federal Small Business Innovation Research Program.

The effective date of registration for a qualified grantee business whose application is accepted for registration is the filing date of its application. No credit is allowed under this Part for an investment made before the effective date of the registration or after the registration is revoked.

To remain qualified as a qualified grantee business, the business must renew its registration annually as prescribed by rule by filing an application for renewal in which the business certifies the facts listed in this subsection.

(d) Application Forms; Rules; Fees. — Applications for registration, renewal of registration, and reinstatement of registration under this section shall be in the form required by the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State may, by rule, require applicants to furnish supporting information in addition to the information required by subsections (b) and (c) of this section. The Secretary of State may adopt rules in accordance with Chapter 150B of the General Statutes that are needed to carry out the Secretary's responsibilities under this Part. The Secretary of State shall prepare blank forms for the applications and shall distribute them throughout the State and furnish them on request. Each application shall be signed by the owners of the business or, in the case of a corporation, by its president, vice-president, treasurer, or secretary. There shall be annexed to the application the affirmation of the person making the application in the following form: "Under penalties prescribed by law, I certify and affirm that to the best of my knowledge and belief this application is true and complete." A person who submits a false application is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

The fee for filing an application for registration under this section is one hundred dollars ($100.00). The fee for filing an application for renewal of registration under this section is fifty dollars ($50.00). The fee for filing an application for reinstatement of registration under this section is fifty dollars ($50.00).

An application for renewal of registration under this section shall indicate whether the applicant is a minority business, as defined in G.S. 143-128, and shall include a report of the number of jobs the business created during the preceding year that are attributable to investments that qualify under this section for a tax credit and the average wages paid by each job. An application that does not contain this information is incomplete and the applicant's registration may not be renewed until the information is provided.

(e) Revocation of Registration. — If the Securities Division of the Department of the Secretary of State finds that any of the information contained in an application of a business registered under this section is false, it shall revoke the registration of the business. The Secretary of State shall not revoke the registration of a business solely because it ceases business operations for an indefinite period of time, as long as the business renews its registration each year as required under G.S. 105-163.013.

(f) Transfer of Registration. — A registration as a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business may not be sold or otherwise transferred, except that if a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business enters into a merger, conversion, consolidation, or other similar transaction with another business and the surviving company would otherwise meet the criteria for being a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business, the surviving company retains the registration without further application to the Secretary of State. In such a case, the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business shall provide the Secretary of State with written notice of the merger, conversion, consolidation, or similar transaction and the name, address, and jurisdiction of incorporation or organization of the surviving company.

(g) Report by Secretary of State. — The Secretary of State shall report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by October 1 of each year all of the businesses that have registered with the Secretary of State as qualified business ventures and qualified grantee businesses. The report shall include the name and address of each business, the location of its headquarters and principal place of business, a detailed description of the types of business in which it engages, whether the business is a minority business as defined in G.S. 143-128, the number of jobs created by the business during the period covered by the report, and the average wages paid by these jobs. (1987, c. 852, s. 1; 1991, c. 637, s. 4; 1993, c. 443, ss. 4, 9; c. 485, s. 12; c. 553, s. 80.1; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 50; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, ss. 9, 10; 1996, 2nd Ex. Repeal of Part. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a), provides: "Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes will remain in effect for investments made before January 1, 2003."

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 10, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(b), provides: "Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

"A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

"Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

fore January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

“The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes.”

Session Laws 1993, c. 443, s. 9 was codified as subsection (g) of this section at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.16(e), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, rewrote subdivision (b)(6).

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.7, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, in subsection (f), inserted “conversion” preceding “consolidation” twice, substituted “company” for “corporation” preceding “would otherwise,” and inserted “or organization” following “jurisdiction of incorporation.”

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 12, effective September 14, 2001, substituted “Revenue Laws Study Committee” for “Legislative Services Commission” in subsection (g).

§ 105-163.014. (Repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003) Forfeiture of credit.

(a) Participation in Business. — A taxpayer who has received a credit under this Part for an investment in a qualified business venture or qualified grantee business forfeits the credit if, within three years after the investment was made, the taxpayer participates in the operation of the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business. For the purpose of this section, a taxpayer participates in the operation of a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business if the taxpayer, the taxpayer’s spouse, parent, sibling, or child, or an employee of any of these individuals or of a business controlled by any of these individuals, provides services of any nature to the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business for compensation, whether as an employee, a contractor, or otherwise. However, a person who provides services to a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business, whether as an officer, a member of the board of directors, or otherwise does not participate in its operation if the person receives as compensation only reasonable reimbursement of expenses incurred in providing the services, participation in a stock option or stock bonus plan, or both.

(b) False Application. — A taxpayer who has received a credit under this Part for an investment in a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business forfeits the credit if the registration of the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business is revoked because information in the registration application was false at the time the application was filed with the Secretary of State.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 7.

(d) Transfer or Redemption of Investment. — A taxpayer who has received a credit under this Part for an investment in a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business forfeits the credit in the following cases:

- (1) Within one year after the investment was made, the taxpayer transfers any of the securities received in the investment that qualified for the tax credit to another person or entity, other than in a transfer resulting from one of the following:
  - a. The death of the taxpayer.
  - b. A final distribution in liquidation to the owners of a taxpayer that is a corporation or other entity.

Part 5 has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- c. A merger, conversion, consolidation, or similar transaction requiring approval by the owners of the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business under applicable State law, to the extent the taxpayer does not receive cash or tangible property in the merger, conversion, consolidation, or other similar transaction.
- (2) Except as provided in subsection (d1) of this section, within five years after the investment was made, the qualified business venture or qualified grantee business in which the investment was made makes a redemption with respect to the securities received in the investment.

In the event the taxpayer transfers fewer than all the securities in a manner that would result in a forfeiture, the amount of the credit that is forfeited is the product obtained by multiplying the aggregate credit attributable to the investment by a fraction whose numerator equals the number of securities transferred and whose denominator equals the number of securities received on account of the investment to which the credit was attributable. In addition, if the redemption amount is less than the amount invested by the taxpayer in the securities to which the redemption is attributable, the amount of the credit that is forfeited is further reduced by multiplying it by a fraction whose numerator equals the redemption amount and whose denominator equals the aggregate amount invested by the taxpayer in the securities involved in the redemption. The term "redemption amount" means all amounts paid that are treated as a distribution in part or full payment in exchange for securities under section 302(a) of the Code.

(d1) Certain Redemptions Allowed. — Forfeiture of a credit does not occur under this section if a qualified business venture that engages primarily in motion picture film production makes a redemption with respect to securities received in an investment and the following conditions are met:

- (1) The redemption occurred because the qualified business venture completed production of a film, sold the film, and was liquidated.
- (2) Neither the qualified business venture nor a related person continues to engage in business with respect to the film produced by the qualified business venture.

(e) Effect of Forfeiture. — A taxpayer who forfeits a credit under this section is liable for all past taxes avoided as a result of the credit plus interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date the taxes would have been due if the credit had not been allowed. The past taxes and interest are due 30 days after the date the credit is forfeited; a taxpayer who fails to pay the past taxes and interest by the due date is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. (1987, c. 852, s. 1; 1991, c. 637, s. 5; 1993, c. 443, s. 5; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 7; 1998-98, s. 69; 1998-212, ss. 29A.15(a), 29A.16(a), (b); 1999-369, s. 5.8.)

Repeal of Part. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(a), provides: "Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes is repealed effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes will remain in effect for investments made before January 1, 2003."

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993-443, s. 10, as amended by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.15(b), provides: "Section 6 of this act is effective upon ratification. Section 7 of this act becomes effective for investments made on or after January 1, 2003. The remainder of this act becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1994.

"A business registered as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business before January 1, 1994, retains its registration until the renewal date for the registration of that business under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes as in effect before

January 1, 1994. The Secretary of State shall not grant renewal of a registration as a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business unless at the time of filing the renewal application, the business meets the requirements then in effect for a new registration.

"Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(a), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a sibling of the taxpayer provides services for compensation to the business in which the taxpayer invested.

"Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-163.014(d), as amended by this act, a credit under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes for an investment made before January 1, 1994, is not forfeited solely on the grounds that a redemption of the securities received in the investment is made within five years after the investment was made.

"The Secretary of State may require a qualified business venture or a qualified grantee business that is unable to renew its registration after January 1, 1994, to file reports the Secretary of State considers appropriate to determine the location of the headquarters and principal business operations of the business until three years after the date of the last investment in the business that qualified for the tax credit allowed under Part 5 of Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998'."

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.2 provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1998-99 fiscal year, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1998-99 fiscal year."

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.16(a) and (b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, added subsection (d1); and inserted "Except as provided in subsection (d1) of this section" at the beginning of subdivision (d)(2).

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.8, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, in subdivision (d)(1)c., inserted "conversion" twice and substituted "owners" for "shareholders."

DIVISION IV. INCOME TAX CREDITS FOR PROPERTY TAXES.

ARTICLE 4A.

Withholding; Estimated Income Tax for Individuals.

§ 105-163.1. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Compensation. — Consideration a payer pays a nonresident individual or nonresident entity for personal services performed in this State.
- (2) Contractor. — Either of the following:

- a. A nonresident individual who performs in this State for compensation other than wages any personal services in connection with a performance, an entertainment, an athletic event, a speech, or the creation of a film, radio, or television program.
- b. A nonresident entity that provides for the performance in this State for compensation of any personal services in connection with a performance, an entertainment, an athletic event, a speech, or the creation of a film, radio, or television program.
- (3) Dependent. — An individual with respect to whom an income tax exemption is allowed under the Code.
- (4) Employee. — An individual, whether a resident or a nonresident of this State, who performs services in this State for wages or an individual who is a resident of this State and performs services outside this State for wages. The term includes an ordained or licensed member of the clergy who elects to be considered an employee under G.S. 105-163.1A, an officer of a corporation, and an elected public official.
- (5) Employer. — A person for whom an individual performs services for wages. In applying the requirements to withhold income taxes from wages and pay the withheld taxes, the term includes a person who:
  - a. Controls the payment of wages to an individual for services performed for another.
  - b. Pays wages on behalf of a person who is not engaged in trade or business in this State.
  - c. Pays wages on behalf of a unit of government that is not located in this State.
  - d. Pays wages for any other reason.
- (6) Individual. — Defined in G.S. 105-134.1.
- (7) Miscellaneous payroll period. — A payroll period other than a daily, weekly, biweekly, semimonthly, monthly, quarterly, semiannual, or annual payroll period.
- (8) Nonresident entity. — Any of the following:
  - a. A foreign limited liability company, as defined in G.S. 57C-1-03, that has not obtained a certificate of authority from the Secretary of State pursuant to Article 7 of Chapter 57C of the General Statutes.
  - b. A foreign limited partnership as defined in G.S. 59-102 or a general partnership formed under the laws of any jurisdiction other than this State, unless the partnership maintains a permanent place of business in this State.
  - c. A foreign corporation, as defined in G.S. 55-1-40, that has not obtained a certificate of authority from the Secretary of State pursuant to Article 15 of Chapter 55 of the General Statutes.
- (9) Pass-through entity. — Defined in G.S. 105-163.010.
- (10) Payer. — A person who, in the course of a trade or business, pays a nonresident individual or a nonresident entity compensation for personal services performed in this State.
- (11) Payroll period. — A period for which an employer ordinarily pays wages to an employee of the employer.
- (11a) Pension payer. — A payor or a plan administrator with respect to a pension payment under section 3405 of the Code.
- (11b) Pension payment. — A periodic payment or a nonperiodic distribution as those terms are defined in section 3405 of the Code.
- (12) Taxable year. — Defined in section 441(b) of the Code.
- (13) Wages. — The term has the same meaning as in section 3401 of the Code except it does not include either of the following:

- a. The amount of severance wages paid to an employee during the taxable year that is exempt from State income tax for that taxable year under G.S. 105-134.6(b)(11).
  - b. The amount an employer pays an employee as reimbursement for ordinary and necessary expenses incurred by the employee on behalf of the employer and in the furtherance of the business of the employer.
- (14) Withholding agent. — An employer, a pension payer, or a payer. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1967, c. 716, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 657, s. 5; 1979, c. 801, s. 70; 1983, c. 713, ss. 79, 82; 1985, c. 394, s. 1; c. 656, s. 7; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 853, s. 1; 1987, c. 778, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1015, s. 5; 1989, c. 36, s. 5; c. 728, s. 1.40; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 5; c. 981, s. 6; 1991, c. 689, s. 255; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 7; 1993, c. 12, s. 9; c. 354, s. 15; 1997-6, s. 6; 1997-109, ss. 1, 2, 4; 1998-162, ss. 1, 2; 1999-414, ss. 1, 2; 2000-126, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-162, s. 14 provides in part that notwithstanding Sections 1, 2, and 3 of Session Laws 1998-162, any tax withheld under § 105-163.3 may be repaid to the person from whom the tax was withheld only as provided in § 105-163.3(f).

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1997-109, s. 4, effective January 1, 1999, in subdivision (2)b deleted “the following” following “performance of” and deleted “services in connection with a performance, an entertainment, an athletic event, the creation of a film or television program, or the construction or repair of a building or highway” from the end. However, Session Laws 1998-162, ss. 1 and 2, effective retroactively to January 1, 1998, rewrote subdivision (2) and deleted the amendment effective January 1, 1999 by S.L. 1997-109, s. 4.

Session Laws 1999-414, ss. 1 and 2, effective January 1, 2001, added subdivisions (11a) and (11b); and inserted “a pension payer” and made a minor punctuation change in subdivision (14).

Session Laws 2000-126, s. 2, effective January 1, 2001, in subdivision (11b) deleted “that is not an eligible rollover distribution” following “nonperiodic distribution” and inserted “those terms are” preceding “defined.”

CASE NOTES

Cited in Allen v. Currie, 254 N.C. 636, 119 S.E.2d 917 (1961).

§ 105-163.1A. Ordained or licensed clergyman may elect to be considered an employee.

An ordained or licensed clergyman who performs services for a church of any religious denomination may file an election with the Secretary and the church he serves to be considered an employee of the church instead of self-employed. Until a clergyman files an election, amounts paid by a church to a clergyman are not subject to withholding. A church shall withhold taxes from a clergyman's wages after the clergyman files an election with it under this section. (1985, c. 394, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 826, s. 9; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 6.)

§ 105-163.2. Employers must withhold taxes.

(a) Withholding Required. — An employer shall deduct and withhold from the wages of each employee the State income taxes payable by the employee on the wages. For each payroll period, the employer shall withhold from the employee's wages an amount that would approximate the employee's income tax liability under Article 4 of this Chapter if the employer withheld the same amount from the employee's wages for each similar payroll period in a calendar year. In calculating an employee's anticipated income tax liability, the employer shall allow for the exemptions, deductions, and credits to which the employee is entitled under Article 4 of this Chapter. The amount of State income taxes withheld by an employer is held in trust for the Secretary.

(b) Withholding Tables. — The manner of withholding and the amount to be withheld shall be determined in accordance with tables and rules adopted by the Secretary. The withholding exemption allowed by these tables and rules shall, as nearly as possible, approximate the exemptions, deductions, and credits to which an employee would be entitled under Article 4 of this Chapter. The Secretary shall promulgate tables for computing amounts to be withheld with respect to different rates of wages for different payroll periods applicable to the various combinations of exemptions to which an employee may be entitled and taking into account the appropriate standard deduction. The tables may provide for the same amount to be withheld within reasonable salary brackets or ranges so designed as to result in the withholding during a year of approximately the amount of an employee's indicated income tax liability for that year. The withholding of wages pursuant to and in accordance with these tables shall be deemed as a matter of law to constitute compliance with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Article.

(c) Withholding if No Payroll Period. — If wages are paid with respect to a period that is not a payroll period, the amount to be deducted and withheld shall be that applicable in the case of a miscellaneous payroll period containing a number of days, excluding Sundays and holidays, equal to the number of days in the period with respect to which such wages are paid. In any case in which wages are paid by an employer without regard to any payroll period or other period, the amount to be deducted and withheld shall be that applicable in the case of a miscellaneous payroll period containing a number of days equal to the number of days, excluding Sundays and holidays, which have elapsed since the date of the last payment of such wages by such employer during the calendar year, or the date of commencement of employment with such employer during such year, or January 1 of such year, whichever is the later.

(d) Estimated Withholding. — The Secretary may, by rule, authorize employers to estimate the wages to be paid to an employee during a calendar quarter, calculate the amount to be withheld for each period based on the estimated wages, and, upon payment of wages to the employee, adjust the withholding so that the amount actually withheld is the amount that would be required to be withheld if the employee's payroll period were quarterly.

(e) Alternatives to Tables. — If the Secretary determines that use of the withholding tables would be impractical, would impose an unreasonable burden on an employer, or would produce substantially incorrect results, the Secretary may authorize or require an employer to use some other method of determining the amounts to be withheld under this Article. The alternative method authorized by the Secretary must reasonably approximate the predicted income tax liability of the affected employees. In addition, with the agreement of the employer and employee, the Secretary may authorize an employer to use an alternative method that results in withholding of a greater amount than otherwise required under this section.

The Secretary's authorization of an alternative method is discretionary and may be cancelled at any time without advance notice if the Secretary finds that the method is being abused or is not resulting in the withholding of an amount reasonably approximating the predicted income tax liability of the affected employees. The Secretary shall give an employer written notice of any cancellation and the findings upon which the cancellation is based. The cancellation becomes effective upon the employer's receipt of this notice or on the third day after the notice was mailed to the employer, whichever occurs first. If the employer requests a hearing on the cancellation within 30 days after the cancellation, the Secretary shall grant a hearing. After a hearing, the Secretary's findings are conclusive. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 13; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.41; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 7; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.2A. Pension payers must withhold taxes.

(a) Definitions. — The definitions provided in section 3405 of the Code apply in this section.

(b) Withholding Required. — A pension payer required to withhold federal taxes under section 3405 of the Code on a pension payment to a resident of this State must deduct and withhold from the payment the State income taxes payable on the payment. Liability for withholding and paying taxes under this section on a pension payment falls on the person who would be liable under section 3405 of the Code for withholding federal taxes on the payment.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of this Article apply to a pension payer's pension payment to a resident of this State as if it were an employer's payment of wages to an employee. If a pension payer has more than one arrangement under which it may make pension payments to a resident of this State, each arrangement must be treated separately under this section.

(c) Amount. — In the case of a periodic payment, the pension payer must withhold the amount that would be required to be withheld under this Article if the payment were a payment of wages by an employer to an employee for the appropriate payroll period. If the recipient of periodic payments fails to file an exemption certificate under G.S. 105-163.5, the pension payer must compute the amount to be withheld as if the recipient were a married individual claiming three withholding exemptions.

In the case of a nonperiodic distribution, the pension payer must withhold taxes equal to four percent (4%) of the nonperiodic distribution.

(d) Election of No Withholding. — The recipient may elect not to have taxes withheld under this section to the extent permitted by section 3405 of the Code. The election must be in the form required by the Secretary. In the case of periodic payments, the election remains in effect until revoked by the recipient. In the case of a nonperiodic distribution, the election applies on a distribution-by-distribution basis unless it meets conditions prescribed by the Secretary for it to apply to subsequent nonperiodic distributions by the pension payer.

A pension payer must notify each recipient of the right to elect not to have taxes withheld under this section. The notice must comply with the requirements of section 3405 of the Code and any additional requirements prescribed by the Secretary.

A recipient's election not to have taxes withheld under this section is void if the recipient fails to furnish the recipient's tax identification number to the pension payer, or the Secretary has notified the pension payer that the tax identification number furnished by the recipient is incorrect.

(e) Exemptions. — This section does not apply to the following pension payments:

- (1) A pension payment that is wages under this Article.
- (2) Any portion of a pension payment that meets both of the following conditions:
  - a. It is not a distribution or payment from an individual retirement plan as defined in section 7701 of the Code.
  - b. The pension payer reasonably believes it is not taxable to the recipient under Article 4 of this Chapter.

- (3) A distribution described in section 404(k)(2) of the Code, relating to dividends on corporate securities.
- (4) A pension payment that consists only of securities of the recipient's employer corporation plus cash not in excess of two hundred dollars ($200.00) in lieu of securities of the employer corporation. (1999-414, s. 3; 2000-126, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-414, s. 4, made this section effective January 1, 2001.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-126, s. 3, effective January 1, 2001, inserted "to the extent permitted by section 3405 of the Code" in the first sentence in subsection (d).

§ 105-163.3. Certain payers must withhold taxes.

(a) Requirement. — Every payer who pays a contractor more than one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) during a calendar year shall deduct and withhold from compensation paid to the contractor the State income taxes payable by the contractor on the compensation as provided in this section. The amount of taxes to be withheld is four percent (4%) of the compensation paid to the contractor. The taxes a payer withholds are held in trust for the Secretary.

(b) Exemptions. — The withholding requirement does not apply to the following:

- (1) Compensation that is subject to the withholding requirement of G.S. 105-163.2.
- (2) Compensation paid to an ordained or licensed member of the clergy.
- (3) Compensation paid to an entity exempt from tax under G.S. 105-130.11.

(c) Returns; Due Date. — A payer shall file a return with the Secretary on a form prepared by the Secretary and shall provide any information required by the Secretary. The return is due and the withheld taxes are payable by the last day of the first month after the end of each calendar quarter during which the payer pays compensation to a contractor. The Secretary may extend the time for filing the return or paying the tax as provided in G.S. 105-263.

(d) Annual Statement; Report to Secretary. — A payer required to deduct and withhold from a contractor's compensation under this section shall furnish to the contractor duplicate copies of a written statement showing the following:

- (1) The payer's name, address, and taxpayer identification number.
- (2) The contractor's name, address, and taxpayer identification number.
- (3) The total amount of compensation paid during the calendar year.
- (4) The total amount deducted and withheld under this section during the calendar year.

This statement is due by January 31 following the calendar year. If the personal services for which the payer is paying are completed before the end of the calendar year and the contractor requests the statement, the statement is due within 45 days after the payer's last payment of compensation to the contractor. The Secretary may require the payer to include additional information on the statement.

Each payer shall file with the Secretary an annual report that compiles the information contained in each of the payer's statements to contractors and any other information required by the Secretary. This report is due on the date prescribed by the Secretary and is in lieu of the information report required by G.S. 105-154.

(e) Records. — If a payer does not withhold from payments to a nonresident entity because the entity is exempt from tax under G.S. 105-130.11, the payer shall obtain from the entity documentation proving its exemption from tax. If a payer does not withhold from payments to a nonresident corporation or a nonresident limited liability company because the entity has obtained a certificate of authority from the Secretary of State, the payer shall obtain from the entity its corporate identification number issued by the Secretary of State. If a payer does not withhold from payments to an individual because the individual is a resident, the payer shall obtain the individual's address and social security number. If a payer does not withhold from a partnership because the partnership has a permanent place of business in this State, the payer shall obtain the partnership's address and taxpayer identification number. The payer shall retain this information with its records.

(f) Payer May Repay Amounts Withheld Improperly. — A payer may refund to a person any amount the payer withheld improperly from the person under this section, if the refund is made before the end of the calendar year and before the payer furnishes the person the annual statement required by subsection (d) of this section. An amount is withheld improperly if it is withheld from a payment to a person who is not a contractor, if it is withheld from a payment that is not compensation, or if it is in excess of the amount required to be withheld under this section. A payer who makes a refund under this section must:

- (1) Not report the amount refunded on the annual statement required by subsection (d); and
- (2) Either not pay to the Secretary the amount refunded or, if the amount refunded has already been paid to the Secretary, reduce by the amount refunded the next payments to the Secretary of taxes withheld from the person. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.42; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 8; 1997-109, s. 2; 1998-98, ss. 11-13; 1998-162, s. 3.)

§ 105-163.4. Withholding does not create nexus.

A nonresident withholding agent's act in compliance with this Article does not in itself constitute evidence that the nonresident is doing business in this State. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 9; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.5. Employee exemptions allowable; certificates.

(a) An employee receiving wages is entitled to the exemptions for which the employee qualifies under Article 4 of this Chapter.

(b) Every employee shall, at the time of commencing employment, furnish his or her employer with a signed withholding exemption certificate informing the employer of the exemptions the employee claims, which in no event shall exceed the amount of exemptions to which the employee is entitled under the Code. If the employee fails to file the exemption certificate the employer, in computing amounts to be withheld from the employee's wages, shall allow the employee the exemption accorded a single person with no dependents.

(c) Withholding exemption certificates shall take effect as of the beginning of the first payroll period that ends on or after the date on which the certificate is furnished, or if payment of wages is made without regard to a payroll period, then the certificate shall take effect as of the beginning of the miscellaneous payroll period for which the first payment of wages is made on or after the date on which the certificate is furnished.

(d) If, on any day during the calendar year, the amount of withholding exemptions to which the employee is entitled is less than the amount of withholding exemptions claimed by the employee on the withholding exemption certificate then in effect with respect to the employee, the employee shall, within 10 days thereafter, furnish the employer with a new withholding exemption certificate stating the amount of withholding exemptions which the employee then claims, which shall in no event exceed the amount to which the employee is entitled on that day. If, on any day during the calendar year, the amount of withholding exemptions to which the employee is entitled is greater than the amount of withholding exemptions claimed, the employee may furnish the employer with a new withholding exemption certificate stating the amount of withholding exemptions which the employee then claims, which shall in no event exceed the amount to which the employee is entitled on that day.

(e) Withholding exemption certificates must be in the form and contain the information required by the Secretary. As far as practicable, the Secretary shall cause the form of the certificates to be substantially similar to federal exemption certificates.

(f) In addition to any criminal penalty provided by law, if an individual furnishes his or her employer an exemption certificate that contains information which has no reasonable basis and that results in a lesser amount of tax being withheld under this Article than would have been withheld if the individual had furnished reasonable information, the individual is subject to a penalty of fifty percent (50%) of the amount not properly withheld. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1277; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.43; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.6. When employer must file returns and pay withheld taxes.

(a) General. — A return is due quarterly or monthly as specified in this section. A return shall be filed with the Secretary on a form prepared by the Secretary, shall report any payments of withheld taxes made during the period covered by the return, and shall contain any other information required by the Secretary.

Withheld taxes are payable quarterly, monthly, or semiweekly, as specified in this section. If the Secretary finds that collection of the amount of taxes this Article requires an employer to withhold is in jeopardy, the Secretary may require the employer to file a return or pay withheld taxes at a time other than that specified in this section.

(b) Quarterly. — An employer who withholds an average of less than two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) of State income taxes from wages each month must file a return and pay the withheld taxes on a quarterly basis. A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month following the end of the quarter.

(c) Monthly. — An employer who withholds an average of at least two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) but less than two thousand dollars ($2,000) from wages each month must file a return and pay the withheld taxes on a monthly basis. A return for the months of January through November is due by the 15th day of the month following the end of the month covered by the return. A return for the month of December is due the following January 31.

(d) Semiweekly. — An employer who withholds an average of at least two thousand dollars ($2,000) of State income taxes from wages each month shall file a return by the date set under the Code for filing a return for federal employment taxes attributable to the same wages and shall pay the withheld State taxes by the date set under the Code for depositing or paying federal employment taxes attributable to the same wages. The date set by the Code for depositing or paying federal employment taxes shall be determined without regard to § 6302(g) of the Code.

An extension of time granted to file a return for federal employment taxes attributable to wages is an automatic extension of time for filing a return for State income taxes withheld from the same wages, and an extension of time granted to pay federal employment taxes attributable to wages is an automatic extension of time for paying State income taxes withheld from the same wages. An employer who pays withheld State income taxes under this subsection is not subject to interest on or penalties for a shortfall in the amount due if the employer would not be subject to a failure-to-deposit penalty had the shortfall occurred in a deposit of federal employment taxes attributable to the same wages and the employer pays the shortfall by the date the employer would have to deposit a shortfall in the federal employment taxes.

(e) Category. — The Secretary shall monitor the amount of taxes withheld by an employer or estimate the amount of taxes to be withheld by a new employer and shall direct each employer to pay withheld taxes in accordance with the appropriate schedule. An employer shall file a return and pay withheld taxes in accordance with the Secretary's direction until notified in writing to file and pay under a different schedule. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 7; 1975, 2nd Sess., c. 979, s. 1; 1977, c. 488; 1987, c. 622, s. 9; c. 813, s. 24; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 10; 1993, c. 450, s. 6; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 661, s. 1; 1997-109, s. 2; 2001-427, s. 5(a), (b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-427, s. 5(c), provides: "In order to pay for its costs of postage, printing, and computer programming to implement this section [s. 5 of Session Laws 2001-427, which amended subsections (b) and (c) of § 105-163.6], the Department of Revenue may withhold not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes during the 2001-2002 fiscal year."

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(g), provides: "The Secretary of Revenue must review the thresholds in G.S. 105-163.6 for accelerated payment of withheld taxes to evaluate the efficiency, burden, and level of compliance under the current law. The Secretary must take steps to assure taxpayer compliance and must report the results of the study and any recommendations to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by April 1, 2002."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-427, ss. 5(a) and (b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to payments of withheld income taxes made on or after that date, in subsections (b) and (c) substituted "two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00)" for "five hundred dollars ($500.00)" and substituted "must file" for "shall file."

§ 105-163.6A. Federal corrections.

If the amount of taxes an employer is required to withhold and pay under the Code is corrected or otherwise determined by the federal government, the employer must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file a return with the Secretary reflecting the corrected or determined amount. The Secretary shall determine from all available evidence the correct amount the employer should have paid under this Article for the period covered by the federal determination. As used in this section, the term "all available evidence" means evidence of any kind that becomes available to the Secretary from any source, whether or not the evidence was considered in the federal correction or determination.

The Secretary shall assess and collect any additional tax due from the employer as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. If there has been an overpayment of the tax, the Secretary shall either refund the overpayment to the employer in accordance with G.S. 105-163.9 or credit the amount of the overpayment to the individual in accordance with G.S. 105-163.10. An employer who fails to comply with this section is subject to the penalties in G.S. 105-236 and forfeits the right to any refund due by reason of the determination. Failure of an employer to comply with this section does not, however, affect an individual's right to a credit under G.S. 105-163.10. (1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 4.)

§ 105-163.7. Statement to employees; information to Secretary.

(a) Every employer required to deduct and withhold from an employee's wages under G.S. 105-163.2 shall furnish to the employee in respect to the remuneration paid by the employer to such employee during the calendar year, on or before January 31 of the succeeding year, or, if the employment is terminated before the close of the calendar year, within 30 days after the date on which the last payment of remuneration is made, duplicate copies of a written statement showing the following:

- (1) The employer's name, address, and taxpayer identification number.
- (2) The employee's name and social security number.
- (3) The total amount of wages.
- (4) The total amount deducted and withheld under G.S. 105-163.2.

(b) The Secretary may require an employer to include information not listed in subsection (a) on the employer's written statement to an employee and to file the statement at a time not required by subsection (a). Every employer shall file an annual report with the Secretary that contains the information given on each of the employer's written statements to an employee and other information required by the Secretary. The annual report is due on the same date the employer's federal information return of federal income taxes withheld from wages is due under the Code. The report required by this subsection is in lieu of the report required by G.S. 105-154.

(c) An employer who is required to file an annual report under subsection (b) of this section must report to the Secretary the following information concerning compliance with Article 1 of Chapter 97 of the General Statutes, the Workers' Compensation Act:

- (1) Whether the employer is required to maintain insurance or qualify as a self-insured employer under the provisions of G.S. 97-93.
- (2) Whether the employer is insured, self-insured through a group, or individually self-insured.
- (3) The name of the employer's workers' compensation insurance carrier and the number and expiration date of the insurance policy if the employer has workers' compensation insurance.
- (4) The name of the self-insured group, the group's third-party administrator, and the group's or employer's self-insured code number used by the Department of Insurance, if the employer is a member of a self-insured group.
- (5) The name of the employer's third-party administrator and the employer's self-insured code number used by the Department of Insurance, if the employer is individually self-insured.
- (6) Whether any information reported to the Secretary on a previous return has changed.

The Secretary must compile the information concerning workers' compensation reported by employers on an annual report and must give the compiled data to the Industrial Commission. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 11; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 679, s. 8.3; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.8. Liability of withholding agents.

(a) A withholding agent who withholds the proper amount of income taxes under this Article and pays the withheld amount to the Secretary is not liable to any person for the amount paid. A withholding agent who fails to withhold the proper amount of income taxes or pay the amount withheld to the Secretary is liable for the amount of tax not withheld or not paid. A withholding agent who fails to withhold the amount of income taxes required by this Article or who fails to pay withheld taxes by the due date for paying the taxes is subject to the penalties provided in Article 9 of this Chapter.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(g), effective January 1, 1999. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 12; 1997-109, s. 2; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(g).)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, deleted “and others” from the catchline; deleted the subsection (a) subcatchline “Withholding Agents”; and deleted subsection (b), regarding the liability of a person other than a withholding agent who fails to withhold taxes as required.

§ 105-163.9. Refund of overpayment to withholding agent.

A withholding agent who pays the Secretary more under this Article than the Article requires the agent to pay may obtain a refund of the overpayment by filing an application for a refund with the Secretary. No refund is allowed, however, if the withholding agent withheld the amount of the overpayment from the wages or compensation of the agent’s employees or contractors. A withholding agent must file an application for a refund within the time period set in G.S. 105-266. Interest accrues on a refund as provided in G.S. 105-266. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 74, s. 1; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1223, s. 3; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 13; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.10. Withheld amounts credited to taxpayer for calendar year.

The amount deducted and withheld under this Article during any calendar year from the wages or compensation of an individual shall be allowed as a credit to that individual against the tax imposed by Article 4 of this Chapter for taxable years beginning in that calendar year. The amount deducted and withheld under this Article during any calendar year from the compensation of a nonresident entity shall be allowed as a credit to that entity against the tax imposed by Article 4 of this Chapter for taxable years beginning in that calendar year. If the nonresident entity is a pass-through entity, the entity shall pass through and allocate to each owner the owner’s share of the credit.

If more than one taxable year begins in the calendar year during which the withholding occurred, the amount shall be allowed as a credit against the tax for the last taxable year so beginning. To obtain the credit allowed in this section, the individual or nonresident entity must file with the Secretary one copy of the withholding statement required by G.S. 105-163.3 or G.S. 105-163.7 and any other information the Secretary requires. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1967, c. 1110, s. 4; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.44; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 9; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.15. Failure by individual to pay estimated income tax; penalty.

(a) In the case of any underpayment of the estimated tax by an individual, the Secretary shall assess a penalty in an amount determined by applying the applicable annual rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i) to the amount of the underpayment for the period of the underpayment.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the amount of the underpayment shall be the excess of the required installment, over the amount, if any, of the installment paid on or before the due date for the installment. The period of the underpayment shall run from the due date for the installment to whichever of the following dates is the earlier: (i) the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year, or (ii) with respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which such portion is paid. A payment of estimated tax shall be credited against unpaid required installments in the order in which such installments are required to be paid.

(c) For purposes of this section there shall be four required installments for each taxable year with the time for payment of the installments as follows:

- (1) First installment — April 15 of taxable year;
- (2) Second installment — June 15 of taxable year;
- (3) Third installment — September 15 of taxable year; and
- (4) Fourth installment — January 15 of following taxable year.

(d) Except as provided in subsection (e), the amount of any required installment shall be twenty-five percent (25%) of the required annual payment. The term “required annual payment” means the lesser of:

- (1) Ninety percent (90%) of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, or, if no return is filed, ninety percent (90%) of the tax for that year; or
- (2) One hundred percent (100%) of the tax shown on the return of the individual for the preceding taxable year, if the preceding taxable year was a taxable year of 12 months and the individual filed a return for that year.

(e) In the case of any required installment, if the individual establishes that the annualized income installment is less than the amount determined under subsection (d), the amount of the required installment shall be the annualized income installment, and any reduction in a required installment resulting from the application of this subsection shall be recaptured by increasing the amount of the next required installment determined under subsection (d) by the amount of the reduction and by increasing subsequent required installments to the extent that the reduction has not previously been recaptured.

In the case of any required installment, the annualized income installment is the excess, if any, of (i) an amount equal to the applicable percentage of the tax for the taxable year computed by placing on an annualized basis the taxable income for months in the taxable year ending before the due date for the installment, over (ii) the aggregate amount of any prior required installments for the taxable year. The taxable income shall be placed on an annualized basis under rules prescribed by the Secretary. The applicable percentages for the required installments are as follows:

- (1) First installment — twenty-two and one-half percent (22.5%);
- (2) Second installment — forty-five percent (45%);
- (3) Third installment — sixty-seven and one-half percent (67.5%); and
- (4) Fourth installment — ninety percent (90%).

(f) No addition to the tax shall be imposed under subsection (a) if the tax shown on the return for the taxable year reduced by the tax withheld under this Article is less than the amount set in section 6654(e) of the Code or if the individual did not have any liability for tax under Part 2 of Article 4 for the preceding taxable year.

(g) For purposes of this section, the term “tax” means the tax imposed by Part 2 of Article 4 minus the credits against the tax allowed by this Chapter other than the credit allowed by this Article. The amount of the credit allowed under this Article for withheld income tax for the taxable year is considered a payment of estimated tax, and an equal part of that amount is considered to have been paid on each due date of the taxable year, unless the taxpayer establishes the dates on which all amounts were actually withheld, in which case the amounts so withheld are considered payments of estimated tax on the dates on which the amounts were actually withheld.

(h) If, on or before January 31 of the following taxable year, the taxpayer files a return for the taxable year and pays in full the amount computed on the return as payable, no addition to tax shall be imposed under subsection (a) with respect to any underpayment of the fourth required installment for the taxable year.

(i) Notwithstanding subsections (c), (d), (e), and (h) of this section, an individual who is a farmer or fisherman for a taxable year is subject to the provisions of this subsection.

(1) One installment. — The individual is required to make only one installment payment of tax for that taxable year. This installment is due on or before January 15 of the following taxable year. The amount of the installment payment must be the lesser of:

- a. Sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66  $\frac{2}{3}$ %) of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, or, if no return is filed, sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66  $\frac{2}{3}$ %) of the tax for that year; or
- b. One hundred percent (100%) of the tax shown on the return of the individual for the preceding taxable year, if the preceding taxable year was a taxable year of 12 months and the individual filed a return for that year.

(2) Exception. — If, on or before March 1 of the following taxable year, the taxpayer files a return for the taxable year and pays in full the amount computed on the return as payable, no addition to tax is imposed under subsection (a) of this section with respect to any underpayment of the required installment for the taxable year.

(3) Eligibility. — An individual is a farmer or fisherman for any taxable year if the individual's gross income from farming or fishing, including oyster farming, for the taxable year is at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66  $\frac{2}{3}$ %) of the total gross income from all sources for the taxable year, or the individual's gross income from farming or fishing, including oyster farming, shown on the return of the individual for the preceding taxable year is at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66  $\frac{2}{3}$ %) of the total gross income from all sources shown on the return.

(j) In applying this section to a taxable year beginning on any date other than January 1, there shall be substituted, for the months specified in this section, the months that correspond thereto. This section shall be applied to taxable years of less than 12 months in accordance with rules prescribed by the Secretary.

(k) This section shall not apply to any estate or trust. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1963, c. 785, ss. 3, 4; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 7; 1977, c. 657, s. 5; c. 1114, s. 8; 1985, c. 443, s. 2; 1989, c. 692, s. 7.1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 950, s. 1; 1997-109, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 71; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(h); 2000-126, s. 4.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.18(a) rewrote G.S. 105-134.2(a). Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.18(b), provides "this section [s. 34.18] becomes effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and expires for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.15, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of individual income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section [s. 34.18]."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium.”

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(h), effective January 1, 1999, substituted “the Secretary shall assess a penalty in” for “there shall be added to the tax imposed under Article 4 for the taxable year” in subsection (a).

Session Laws 2000-126, s. 4, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote subsection (i).

§ 105-163.16. Overpayment refunded.

If the amount of wages or compensation withheld at the source under this Article exceeds the tax imposed by Article 4 of this Chapter against which the withheld tax is credited under G.S. 105-163.10, the excess is considered an overpayment by the employee or contractor. If the amount of estimated tax paid under G.S. 105-163.15 exceeds the taxes imposed by Article 4 of this Chapter against which the estimated tax is credited under the provisions of this Article, the excess is considered an overpayment by the taxpayer. An overpayment shall be refunded as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1967, c. 702, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 903, s. 3; 1975, c. 74, s. 2; 1979, c. 801, s. 71; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1223, s. 1; 1983, c. 663, s. 2; c. 865, s. 1; 1985, c. 443, s. 3; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1063, s. 2; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.45; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 23; 1991, c. 45, s. 22; 1993, c. 315, s. 2; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.22. Reciprocity.

The Secretary may, with the approval of the Attorney General, enter into agreements with the taxing authorities of states having income tax withholding statutes with such agreements to govern the amounts to be withheld from the wages and salaries of residents of such other state or states under the provisions of this Article when such other state or states grant similar treatment to the residents of this State. Such agreements may provide for recognition of the anticipated tax credits allowed under the provisions of G.S. 105-151 in determining the amounts to be withheld. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.23. Withholding from federal employees.

The Secretary is designated as the proper official to make request for and enter into agreements with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to provide for the compliance with this Article by the head of each department or agency of the United States in withholding of State income taxes from wages of federal employees and paying the same to this State. The Secretary is authorized, empowered, and directed to request and enter into these agreements. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1997-109, s. 2.)

§ 105-163.24. Construction of Article.

This Article shall be liberally construed in pari materia with Article 4 of this Chapter to the end that taxes levied by Article 4 shall be collected with respect to wages and compensation by withholding agents' withholding of the appropriate amounts and by individuals' payments in installments of income tax with respect to income not subject to withholding. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1; 1997-109, s. 2.)

ARTICLE 4C.

Filing of Declarations of Estimated Income Tax and Installment Payments of Estimated Income Tax by Corporations.

§ 105-163.38. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article, unless the context requires otherwise:

- (1) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (1a) Corporation. — Defined in section 7701 of the Code.
- (2) Estimated tax. — The amount of income tax the corporation estimates as the amount imposed by Article 4 for the taxable year.
- (3) Fiscal year. — An accounting period of 12 months ending on the last day of any month other than December.
- (4) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.
- (5) Taxable year. — The calendar year or fiscal year used as a basis to determine net income under Article 4. If no fiscal year has been established, "fiscal year" means the calendar year. In the case of a return made for a fractional part of the year under Article 4, or under rules prescribed by the Secretary, "taxable year" means the period for which the return is made. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1A; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 86; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 15; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 8; 1993, c. 12, s. 10.)

Editor's Note. — This Article is Article 4B, as rewritten by Session Laws 1983, c. 713, s. 86, and recodified. Where appropriate, the historical citations to the sections in the former Article have been added to corresponding sections in the Article as rewritten and recodified.

§ 105-163.39. Declarations of estimated income tax required.

(a) Declaration Required. — Every corporation subject to taxation under Article 4 shall submit a declaration of estimated tax to the Secretary. This declaration is due at the time established in G.S. 105-163.40, and payment of the estimated tax is due at the time and in the manner prescribed in that section.

(b) Content. — In the declaration of estimated tax, the corporation shall state its estimated total net income from all sources for the taxable year, the proportion of its total net income allocable to this State, its estimated tax, and any other information required by the Secretary.

(c) Amendments to Declaration. — Under rules prescribed by the Secretary, a corporation may amend a declaration of estimated tax. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1A; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 86.)

§ 105-163.40. Time for submitting declaration; time and method for paying estimated tax; form of payment.

(a) Due Dates of Declarations. — Declarations of estimated tax are due at the same time as the corporation's first installment payment. Installment payments are due as follows:

- (1) If, before the 1st day of the 4th month of the taxable year, the corporation's estimated tax equals or exceeds five hundred dollars ($500.00), the corporation shall pay the estimated tax in four equal installments on or before the 15th day of the 4th, 6th, 9th and 12th months of the taxable year.
- (2) If, after the last day of the 3rd month and before the 1st day of the 6th month of the taxable year, the corporation's estimated tax equals or exceeds five hundred dollars ($500.00), the corporation shall pay the estimated tax in three equal installments on or before the 15th day of the 6th, 9th and 12th months of the taxable year.
- (3) If, after the last day of the 5th month and before the 1st day of the 9th month of the taxable year, the corporation's estimated tax equals or exceeds five hundred dollars ($500.00), the corporation shall pay the estimated tax in two equal installments on or before the 15th day of the 9th and 12th months.
- (4) If, after the last day of the 8th month and before the 1st day of the 12th month of the taxable year, the corporation's estimated tax equals or exceeds five hundred dollars ($500.00), the corporation shall pay the estimated tax on or before the 15th day of the 12th month of the taxable year.

(b) Payment of Estimated Tax When Declaration Amended. — When a corporation submits an amended declaration after making one or more installment payments on its estimated tax, the amount of each remaining installment shall be the amount that would have been payable if the estimate in the amended declaration was the original estimate, increased or decreased as appropriate by the amount computed by dividing:

- (1) The absolute value of the difference between:
  - a. The amount paid and
  - b. The amount that would have been paid if the estimate in the amended declaration was the original estimate by
- (2) The number of remaining installments.

(c) Short Taxable Year. — Payment of estimated tax for taxable years of less than 12 months shall be made in accordance with rules promulgated by the Secretary.

(d) Form of Payment. — A corporation that is required under the Code to pay its federal-estimated corporate income tax by electronic funds transfer must pay its State-estimated tax by electronic funds transfer. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1A; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 86; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 16; 1999-389, s. 7.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 7, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added “form of payment” to the section catchline; and added subsection (d).

§ 105-163.41. Penalty for underpayment.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (d), if the amount of estimated tax paid by a corporation during the taxable year is less than the amount of tax imposed upon the corporation under Article 4 of this Chapter for the taxable year, the corporation must be assessed an additional tax as a penalty in an amount determined by multiplying the amount of the underpayment as determined under subsection (b), for the period of the underpayment as determined under subsection (c), by the percentage established as the rate of interest on assessments under G.S. 105-241.1(i) that is in effect for the period of the underpayment. For the purpose of this section, the amount of tax imposed under Article 4 of this Chapter is the net amount after subtracting the credits against the tax allowed by this Chapter other than the credit allowed by this Article.

(b) The amount of the underpayment shall be the difference between:

- (1) The amount of the installment the corporation would have been required to pay if the corporation's estimated tax equalled ninety percent (90%) of the tax imposed under Article 4 for the taxable year, assuming the same schedule of installments, or ninety percent (90%) of the tax imposed for the taxable year if the corporation made no installment payments; and
- (2) The amount, if any, of the corresponding installment timely paid by the corporation.

(c) The period of the underpayment shall run from the date the installment was required to be paid to the earlier of:

- (1) The 15th day of the 3rd month following the close of the taxable year, or
- (2) With respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which the portion is paid. An installment payment of estimated tax shall be considered a payment of any previous underpayment only to the extent the payment exceeds the amount of the installment determined under subdivision (1) of subsection (b) for that installment date.

(d) Except as provided in subdivision (5) of this subsection, the penalty for underpayment shall not be imposed if the total amount of all payments of estimated tax made on or before the last date prescribed for the payment of the installments equals or exceeds the amount that would have been required to be paid on or before that date if the estimated tax was equal to the least of:

- (1) The tax shown on the return of the corporation for the preceding taxable year, if the corporation filed a return for the preceding taxable year and the preceding year was a taxable year of 12 months;
- (2) An amount equal to the tax computed at the rates applicable to the taxable year but otherwise on the basis of the facts shown on the return of the corporation for, and the law applicable to, the preceding taxable year; or
- (3) An amount equal to ninety percent (90%) of the tax for the taxable year computed by placing on an annualized basis the taxable income:
  - a. For the first three months of the taxable year, in the case of the installment required to be paid in the 4th month;
  - b. For the first three months or for the first five months of the taxable year, in the case of the installment required to be paid in the 6th month;

- c. For the first six months or for the first eight months of the taxable year, in the case of the installment required to be paid in the 9th month; and
  - d. For the first nine months or for the first 11 months of the taxable year, in the case of the installment required to be paid in the 12th month of the taxable year.
- (4) For purposes of this subdivision, the taxable income shall be placed on an annualized basis by multiplying by 12 the taxable income referred to in the preceding sentence, and dividing the resulting amount by the number of months in the taxable year (3, 5, 6, 8, 9, or 11 as the case may be) referred to in that sentence.
  - (5) In the case of a large corporation, as defined in section 6655 of the Code, subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection shall not apply. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1A; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 1114, s. 9; 1983, c. 713, s. 86; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 994, ss. 2, 3; 2001-414, s. 13.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-327, s. 1(f), provides in part: "Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax by a payer of royalties who adds the payments to State net income pursuant to G.S.105-130.7A(c), to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section [s. 1 of Session Laws 2001-327]."

Session Laws 2001-327, s. 3(c) provides: "This section is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made under that statute for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by this section."

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 10(b), provides that notwithstanding § 105-163.41, no addition to tax may be made thereunder for a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2001, and before January 1, 2002, with respect to an underpayment of corporation income tax to the extent the underpayment was created or increased by s. 10 of Session Laws 2001-427, which amended subdivisions (b)(3a) and (b)(3b) of § 105-130.5.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 13, effective September 14, 2001, in subsection (a), added "of this Chapter" and substituted "must" for "shall" in the first sentence, and added the final sentence.

§ 105-163.42: Repealed by Session Laws 1985 (Regular Session, 1986), c. 820.

§ 105-163.43. Overpayment refunded.

If the amount of estimated tax paid under this Article exceeds the taxes against which the estimated tax is credited pursuant to this Article, the excess is considered an overpayment by the taxpayer and shall be refunded as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. (1959, c. 1259, s. 1A; 1967, c. 1110, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 86; 1993, c. 315, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 5.

Sales and Use Tax.

§ 105-164: Repealed by Session Laws 1957, c. 1340, s. 5.

Part 1. Title, Purpose and Definitions.

§ 105-164.1. Short title.

This Article shall be known as the "North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act." (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1998-98, s. 47.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 47, effective August 14, 1998, redesignated Division I as Part 1.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 32.15, provides: "For the 2001-2002 and 2002-2003 fiscal years, the Secretary of Revenue shall transfer at the end of each quarter from the State sales and use tax net collections received by the Department of Revenue under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes to the State Treasurer for the Wildlife Resources Fund to fund the cost of any legislative salary increase for employees of the Wildlife Resources Commission."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides:

"This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — The sales tax cannot constitutionally be imposed upon interstate sales since it would then be a tax upon the privilege of doing interstate business, and would constitute a burden upon interstate commerce in violation of the commerce clause of the United States Constitution. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act does not violate the equal protection clause of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV, and the principle of equitable taxation found in N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

A state has the power to enact statutes which impose taxes on all businesses, including the press, in order to generate revenue so long as those statutes operate evenhandedly upon all similarly situated. The Sales and Use Tax Act imposes a uniform tax on all. Absent a discriminatory tax burden an appellant cannot be heard to complain that it, like all other businesses in the State, must bear its portion of the State's revenue needs. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The purpose of the Sales and Use Tax Act is to impose a use tax, credited with any sales tax previously paid, upon the user of any tangible personal property in this State. Oscar Miller Contractor v. North Carolina Tax Rev. Bd., 61 N.C. App. 725, 301 S.E.2d 511, cert. denied, 308 N.C. 677, 304 S.E.2d 756 (1983).

The purpose of North Carolina's sales and use tax is two-fold. The primary purpose is, of course, to generate revenue for the State. The sales tax is, in effect, a tax imposed upon the retail merchant as a privilege tax for the right to engage in that business. The tax is, however, designed to be passed on to the consumer. The second purpose of the sales and use tax scheme is to equalize the tax burden on all State residents. This is achieved through imposition of the use tax in certain situations where the sales tax is not applicable. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The chief function of the Sales and Use Tax Act is to prevent the evasion of a sales tax by persons purchasing tangible personal property outside of North Carolina for storage, use or consumption within the State. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Imposing a tax upon the retail sale of goods within the State without imposing a complementing tax on the in-state use of goods purchased outside the State might encourage North Carolina residents to shop in other states to avoid paying North Carolina sales tax. Therefore, the Sales and Use Tax Act imposes a use tax on items purchased outside the State and thus not subject to sales tax, which are brought into the State for storage, use or consumption in this State. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Power of Legislature. — The power of the legislature to levy taxes of the character provided in this Article has long been settled. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

The sales tax and the use tax may often bring about the same result but they are different in conception. They are assessments upon different transactions and are bottomed on distinguishable taxable events. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Distinction Between Sales Tax and Use Tax. — A sales tax is assessed on the purchase price of property and is imposed at the time of sale; a use tax is assessed on the storage, use or consumption of property and takes effect only after such use begins. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

Unlike a sales tax imposed on interstate sales, the use tax does not impermissibly burden interstate commerce since it is a tax imposed on the enjoyment of goods after the sale has already spent its interstate character. It is designed to complement the sales tax and to reach transactions which cannot constitutionally be subject to a sales tax. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The use tax removes, insofar as possible, the discrimination against local merchants resulting from the imposition of a sales tax and equalizes the burden of the tax on property sold locally and that purchased without the State. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Sales Tax Is a Privilege or License Tax. — The legislature intended that the sales tax be primarily a privilege or license tax on retailers. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

The sales tax statute levies a tax upon the sale of tangible personal property in this State by a "retail" merchant as a privilege tax for engaging or continuing in the business of a retail merchant. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Imposed on All Retailers, as a Class. — The North Carolina law imposes the sales tax on all retailers, as a class, and applies it alike in its exactions and exemptions to all persons belonging to the prescribed class. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Perfect equality in the collection of the tax by retailers from consumers is, as a practical matter, impossible as between almost any two or more retailers by reason of the differences in types of merchandise sold and selling methods. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

If property is used to produce something which will add to the taxpayer's profit, but the thing produced will not be sold subject to the sales tax, the sale of the property is not a sale to a manufacturer within the meaning of the Sales and Use Tax Act. Such a sale is subject to the Use Tax at the rate of 4 percent (3 percent for the State and 1 percent for the county). Oscar Miller Contractor v. North Carolina Tax Rev. Bd., 61 N.C. App. 725, 301 S.E.2d 511, cert. denied, 308 N.C. 677, 304 S.E.2d 756 (1983).

Construction of Former Provisions of Article. — As to the incidence of the sales tax where it is imposed upon a general class, as for instance retail merchants, the law is construed more strictly against the agency imposing the tax, and in favor of the taxpayer. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

For other decisions under former laws, see Powell v. Maxwell, 210 N.C. 211, 186 S.E. 326 (1936); McCanless Motor Co. v. Maxwell, 210 N.C. 725, 188 S.E. 389 (1936); Leonard v. Maxwell, 216 N.C. 89, 3 S.E.2d 316, appeal dismissed, 308 U.S. 516, 60 S. Ct. 175, 84 L. Ed. 439 (1939).

§ 105-164.2. Purpose.

The taxes herein imposed shall be in addition to all other license, privilege or excise taxes and the taxes levied by this Article are to provide revenue for the support of the public school system of this State and for other necessary uses and purposes of the government and State of North Carolina. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5.)

§ 105-164.3. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Business. — Includes any activity engaged in by any person or caused to be engaged in by him with the object of gain, profit, benefit or advantage, either direct or indirect. The term "business" shall not be construed in this Article to include occasional and isolated sales or transactions by a person who does not hold himself out as engaged in business.
- (2) Candy. — A preparation of sugar, honey, or other natural or artificial sweeteners in combination with chocolate, fruits, nuts, or other ingredients or flavorings in the form of bars, drops, or pieces that do not require refrigeration. The term does not include any preparation that contains flour.
- (3) Clothing. — All human wearing apparel suitable for general use including coats, jackets, hats, hosiery, scarves, and shoes.
- (4) Clothing accessories or equipment. — Incidental items worn on the person or in conjunction with clothing including jewelry, cosmetics, eyewear, wallets, and watches.
- (5) Consumer. — Means and includes every person storing, using or otherwise consuming in this State tangible personal property purchased or received from a retailer either within or without this State.
- (6) Delivery charges. — Charges imposed by the retailer for preparation and delivery of personal property or services to a location designated by the consumer.
- (7) Dietary supplement. — A product that is intended to supplement the diet of humans and is required to be labeled as a dietary supplement under federal law, identifiable by the "Supplement Facts" box found on the label.
- (8) Direct-to-home satellite service. — Programming transmitted or broadcast by satellite directly to the subscribers' premises without the use of ground equipment or distribution equipment, except equipment at the subscribers' premises or the uplink process to the satellite.
- (9) Engaged in business. — Maintaining, occupying or using permanently or temporarily, directly or indirectly, or through a subsidiary or agent, by whatever name called, any office, place of distribution, sales or sample room or place, warehouse or storage place, or other place of business, for the selling or delivering of tangible personal property for storage, use or consumption in this State, or permanently or temporarily, directly or through a subsidiary, having any representative, agent, salesman, canvasser or solicitor operating in this State in such selling or delivering, and the fact that any corporate retailer, agent or subsidiary engaged in business in this State may not be legally domesticated or qualified to do business in this State is immaterial. It also means maintaining in this State, either permanently or temporarily, directly or through a subsidiary, tangible personal property for the purpose of lease or rental. It also means making a mail order sale, as defined in this section, if one of the conditions listed in G.S. 105-164.8(b) is met.

- (10) Food. — Substances that are sold for ingestion or chewing by humans and are consumed for their taste or nutritional value. The substances may be in liquid, concentrated, solid, frozen, dried, or dehydrated form. The term does not include tobacco products, as defined in G.S. 105-113.4.
- (11) Food sold through a vending machine. — Food dispensed from a machine or another mechanical device that accepts payment.
- (12) Gross sales. — The sum total of all retail sales of tangible personal property as defined herein, whether for cash or credit without allowance for cash discount and without any deduction on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or service costs, interest paid or any other expenses whatsoever and without any deductions of any kind or character except as provided in this Article.
- (13) Hub. — Either of the following:
  - a. An interstate air courier's hub is the airport in this State that meets all of the following conditions:
    1. The air courier has allocated to the airport under G.S. 105-338 more than sixty percent (60%) of its aircraft value appportioned to this State.
    2. The air courier's primary function at the airport is to sort and distribute letters and packages received from multiple consolidation locations.
    3. The air courier's primary function at the airport is not to consolidate letters and packages and deliver them to another airport for sorting and distribution.
  - b. An interstate passenger air carrier's hub is the airport in this State that meets both of the following conditions:
    1. The air carrier has allocated to the airport under G.S. 105-338 more than sixty percent (60%) of its aircraft value appportioned to this State.
    2. The majority of the air carrier's passengers boarding at the airport are connecting from other airports rather than originating at that airport.
- (14) In this (the) State. — Within the exterior limits of the State of North Carolina and includes all territory within such limits owned by or ceded to the United States of America.
- (15) Interstate air courier. — A person engaged in the air courier services business, as defined in G.S. 105-129.2, in interstate commerce.
- (16) Interstate passenger air carrier. — A person whose primary business is scheduled passenger air transportation, as defined in the North American Industry Classification System adopted by the United States Office of Management and Budget, in interstate commerce.

- (17) Lease or rental. — A transfer, for consideration, of the use but not the ownership of property to another for a period of time.
- (18) Mail order sale. — A sale of tangible personal property, ordered by mail, telephone, computer link, or other similar method, to a purchaser who is in this State at the time the order is remitted, from a retailer who receives the order in another state and transports the property or causes it to be transported to a person in this State. It is presumed that a resident of this State who remits an order was in this State at the time the order was remitted.
- (19) Major recycling facility. — Defined in G.S. 105-129.25.
- (20) Manufactured home. — A structure that is designed to be used as a dwelling and that meets one of the following conditions:
  - a. Is manufactured in accordance with the specifications for manufactured homes issued by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.
  - b. Is manufactured in accordance with the specifications for modular homes under the North Carolina State Residential Building Code, is built on a permanent chassis, and is transportable in one or more sections.
- (21) Mobile telecommunications service. — A radio communication service carried on between mobile stations or receivers and land stations and by mobile stations communicating among themselves and includes all of the following:
  - a. Both one-way and two-way radio communication services.
  - b. A mobile service that provides a regularly interacting group of base, mobile, portable, and associated control and relay stations for private one-way or two-way land mobile radio communications by eligible users over designated areas of operation.
  - c. Any service for which a federal license is required in a personal communications service.
- (22) Moped. — A vehicle that has two or three wheels, no external shifting device, and a motor that does not exceed 50 cubic centimeters piston displacement and cannot propel the vehicle at a speed greater than 20 miles per hour on a level surface.
- (23) Motor vehicle. — A vehicle that is designed primarily for use upon the highways and is either self-propelled or propelled by a self-propelled vehicle, but does not include:
  - a. A moped.
  - b. Special mobile equipment.
  - c. A tow dolly that is exempt from motor vehicle title and registration requirements under G.S. 20-51(10) or (11).
  - d. A farm tractor or other implement of husbandry.
  - e. A manufactured home, a mobile office, or a mobile classroom.
  - f. Road construction or road maintenance machinery or equipment.
- (24) Net taxable sales. — Means and includes the gross retail sales of the business of the retailer taxed under this Article after deducting exempt sales and nontaxable sales.
- (25) Nonresident retail or wholesale merchant. — A person who does not have a place of business in this State, is engaged in the business of acquiring, by purchase, consignment, or otherwise, tangible personal property and selling the property outside the State, and is registered for sales and use tax purposes in a taxing jurisdiction outside the State.
- (26) Person. — The same meaning as in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (27) Prepaid telephone calling arrangement. — A right that meets all of the following requirements:

- a. Authorizes the exclusive purchase of telecommunications service.
  - b. Must be paid for in advance.
  - c. Enables the origination of calls by means of an access number, authorization code, or another similar means, regardless of whether the access number or authorization code is manually or electronically dialed.
  - d. Is sold in units or dollars whose number or dollar value declines with use and is known on a continuous basis.
- (28) Prepared food. — Food that meets at least one of the following conditions:
- a. It is sold in a heated state or it is heated by the retailer.
  - b. It consists of two or more foods mixed or combined by the retailer for sale as a single item.
  - c. It is sold with eating utensils provided by the retailer, such as plates, knives, forks, spoons, glasses, cups, napkins, and straws. The term does not include food the retailer sliced, repackaged, or pasteurized but did not otherwise process.
- (29) Prescription drug. — A drug that under federal law is required, prior to being dispensed or delivered, to be labeled with the following statement: “Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription”.
- (30) Production company. — A person engaged in the business of making original motion picture, television, or radio images for theatrical, commercial, advertising, or educational purposes.
- (31) Protective equipment. — Items for human wear and designed as protection of the wearer against injury or disease or as protection against damage or injury of other persons or property but not suitable for general use including breathing masks, face shields, hard hats, and tool belts.
- (32) Purchase. — Acquired for a consideration whether
- a. The acquisition was effected by a transfer of title or possession, or both, or a license to use or consume;
  - b. The transfer was absolute or conditional regardless of the means by which it was effected; and
  - c. The consideration is a price or rental in money or by way of exchange or barter.
- It shall also include the procuring of a retailer to erect, install or apply tangible personal property for use in this State.
- (33) Purchase price. — The term has the same meaning as the term “sales price” when applied to an item subject to use tax.
- (34) Retail sale or sale at retail. — The sale, lease, or rental for any purpose other than for resale, sublease, or subrent.
- (35) Retailer. — Means and includes every person engaged in the business of making sales of tangible personal property at retail, either within or without this State, or peddling the same or soliciting or taking orders for sales, whether for immediate or future delivery, for storage, use or consumption in this State and every manufacturer, producer or contractor engaged in business in this State and selling, delivering, erecting, installing or applying tangible personal property for use in this State notwithstanding that said property may be permanently affixed to a building or realty or other tangible personal property. “Retailer” also means a person who makes a mail order sale, as defined in this section, if one of the conditions listed in G.S. 105-164.8(b) is met. Provided, however, that when in the opinion of the Secretary it is necessary for the efficient administration of this Article to regard any salesmen, solicitors, representatives, consignees, peddlers, truckers or canvassers as agents of the dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, employers or persons under whom they operate or from whom they obtain the tangible personal property sold by them regardless of whether they are making sales on their own behalf or on behalf of such dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, employers or persons, the Secretary may so regard them and may regard the dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, employers or persons as “retailers” for the purpose of this Article.

- (36) Sale or selling. — The transfer of title or possession of tangible personal property, conditional or otherwise, in any manner or by any means whatsoever, for a consideration paid or to be paid.

The term includes the fabrication of tangible personal property for consumers by persons engaged in business who furnish either directly or indirectly the materials used in the fabrication work. The term also includes the furnishing or preparing for a consideration of any tangible personal property consumed on the premises of the person furnishing or preparing the property or consumed at the place at which the property is furnished or prepared. The term also includes a transaction in which the possession of the property is transferred but the seller retains title or security for the payment of the consideration.

If a retailer engaged in the business of selling prepared food and drink for immediate or on-premises consumption also gives prepared food or drink to its patrons or employees free of charge, for the purposes of this Article the property given away is considered sold along with the property sold. If a retailer gives an item of inventory to a customer free of charge on the condition that the customer purchase similar or related property, the item given away is considered sold along with the item sold. In all other cases, property given away or used by any retailer or wholesale merchant is not considered sold, whether or not the retailer or wholesale merchant recovers its cost of the property from sales of other property.

- (37) Sales price. — The total amount or consideration for which personal property or services are sold, leased, or rented. The consideration may be in the form of cash, credit, property, or services. The sales price must be valued in money, regardless of whether it is received in money.

a. The term includes all of the following:

1. The retailer's cost of the property sold.
2. The cost of materials used, labor or service costs, interest, losses, all costs of transportation to the retailer, all taxes imposed on the retailer, and any other expense of the retailer.
3. Charges by the retailer for any services necessary to complete the sale.
4. Delivery charges.
5. Installation charges.
6. The value of exempt personal property given to the consumer when taxable and exempt personal property are bundled together and sold by the retailer as a single product or piece of merchandise.

b. The term does not include any of the following:

1. Discounts, including cash, term, or coupons, that are not reimbursed by a third party, are allowed by the retailer, and are taken by a consumer on a sale.
2. Interest, financing, and carrying charges from credit extended on the sale, if the amount is separately stated on the invoice, bill of sale, or a similar document given to the consumer.

3. Any taxes imposed directly on the consumer that are separately stated on the invoice, bill of sale, or similar document given to the consumer.
- (38) Secretary. — The Secretary of the North Carolina Department of Revenue.
- (39) Service address. — The location of the telecommunications equipment from which a customer originates or receives telecommunications service. In the case of mobile telecommunications service, maritime systems, third-number calls, calling card calls, and other similar services for which the location of the equipment cannot be determined as part of the billing process, the telecommunications service provider may determine the location of the equipment based upon the customer's telephone number, the mailing address to which the bills are sent, or a street address provided by the customer if the street address is within the licensed service area of the service provider. In the case of telecommunications service paid through a payment mechanism that does not relate to the location of the equipment, such as a bank, travel, debit, or credit card, the service address is the address of the central office as determined by the area code and the first three digits of the seven-digit originating telephone number.
- (40) Soft drink. — A nonalcoholic beverage that contains natural or artificial sweeteners. The term does not include beverages that contain one or more of the following:
- a. Milk or milk products.
  - b. Soy, rice, or similar milk substitutes.
  - c. More than fifty percent (50%) vegetable or fruit juice.
- (41) Special mobile equipment. — Any of the following:
- a. A vehicle that has a permanently attached crane, mill, well-boring apparatus, ditch-digging apparatus, air compressor, electric welder, feed mixer, grinder, or other similar apparatus is driven on the highway only to get to and from a nonhighway job and is not designed or used primarily for the transportation of persons or property.
  - b. A vehicle that has permanently attached special equipment and is used only for parade purposes.
  - c. A vehicle that is privately owned, has permanently attached fire-fighting equipment, and is used only for fire-fighting purposes.
  - d. A vehicle that has permanently attached playground equipment and is used only for playground purposes.
- (42) Sport or recreational equipment. — Items designed for human use and worn in conjunction with an athletic or recreational activity that are not suitable for general use including ballet shoes, cleated athletic shoes, shin guards, and ski boots.
- (43) State agency. — A unit of the executive, legislative, or judicial branch of State government, such as a department, a commission, a board, a council, or The University of North Carolina. The term does not include a local board of education.
- (44) Storage. — Means and includes any keeping or retention in this State for any purpose by the purchaser thereof, except sale in the regular course of business, of tangible personal property purchased from a retailer.
- (45) Storage and Use; Exclusion. — "Storage" and "use" do not include the keeping, retaining or exercising of any right or power over tangible personal property by the purchaser thereof for the original purpose of subsequently transporting it outside the State for use by said purchaser thereafter solely outside the State and which purpose is consummated, or for the purpose of being processed, fabricated or manufactured into, attached to or incorporated into, other tangible personal property to be transported outside the State and thereafter used by the purchaser thereof solely outside the State.

- (46) Tangible personal property. — Personal property that may be seen, weighed, measured, felt, or touched or is in any other manner perceptible to the senses. The term does not include stocks, bonds, notes, insurance, or other obligations or securities, nor does it include water delivered by or through main lines or pipes either for commercial or domestic use or consumption. The term includes computer software delivered on a storage medium, such as a cd rom, a disk, or a tape.
- (47) Taxpayer. — Any person liable for taxes under this Article.
- (48) Telecommunications service. — The transmission, conveyance, or routing of voice, data, audio, video, or any other information or signals to a point, or between or among points, by or through any electronic, radio, satellite, optical, microwave, or other medium, regardless of the protocol used for the transmission, conveyance, or routing. The term includes mobile telecommunications service and vertical services. Vertical services are switch-based services offered in connection with a telecommunications service, such as call forwarding services, caller ID services, and three-way calling services.
- (49) Use. — Means and includes the exercise of any right or power or dominion whatsoever over tangible personal property by a purchaser thereof and includes, but is not limited to, any withdrawal from storage, distribution, installation, affixation to real or personal property, or exhaustion or consumption of tangible personal property by the owner or purchaser thereof, but does not include the sale of tangible personal property in the regular course of business.
- (50) Use tax. — The tax imposed by Part 2 of this Article.
- (51) Wholesale merchant. — Every person who engages in the business of buying or manufacturing any tangible personal property and selling same to registered retailers, wholesalers and nonresident retail or wholesale merchants for resale. It shall also include persons making sales of tangible personal property which are defined herein as wholesale sales. For the purposes of this Article any person, firm, corporation, estate or trust engaged in the business of manufacturing, producing, processing or blending any articles of commerce and maintaining a store or stores, warehouse or warehouses, or any other place or places, separate and apart from the place of manufacture or production, for the sale or distribution of its products (other than bakery products) to other manufacturers or producers, wholesale or retail merchants, for the purpose of resale shall be deemed a “wholesale merchant.”
- (52) Wholesale sale. — A sale of tangible personal property by a wholesale merchant to a manufacturer, or registered jobber or dealer, or registered wholesale or retail merchant, for the purpose of resale but does not include a sale to users or consumers not for resale. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 5; 1961, c. 1213, s. 1; 1967, c. 1110, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 8; 1975, c. 104; c. 275, s. 6; 1979, c. 48, s. 2; c. 71; c. 801, s. 72; 1983, c. 713, ss. 87, 88; 1983 (Reg. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1096, s. 6 provides: "It is the intent of the General Assembly that the Department of Revenue shall collect all of the sales and use taxes due to the State and local governments. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-268.1, the Secretary of Revenue may, without seeking prior approval of the Governor and the Council of State, enter into agreements with any other state to coordinate and promote collection of sales and use taxes by retailers making mail order sales, as defined in this act."

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 2, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001.'"

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 18(c), provides: "This section becomes effective January 1, 2002, and applies to sales made on or after that date. The Codifier is authorized to modify G.S. 105-164.3 to change the format of the existing definitions to match the format of the new definitions enacted during 2001, but not to change the format of the new definitions enacted in 2001 to match the format of the existing definitions. The Codifier is authorized to renumber these definitions as necessary to maintain their alphabetical order." The definitions have been renumbered as above at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 4, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, substituted "company" for "company, a gas company, a regional natural gas district" and "G.S. 105-120(e)" for "G.S. 105-120(c)" in subdivision (25).

Session Laws 1998-55, s. 7, as amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 6(b), effective May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (6b).

Session Laws 1998-55, s. 7, effective January 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (6d).

Session Laws 1998-98, s. 13.1(a), effective July 1, 1999, deleted "subject to excise tax under Article 2B of this Chapter" preceding "or tobacco products" in subdivision (16)f.

Session Laws 1999-337, ss. 28(a) and 28(b), effective July 22, 1999, designated former subdivision (8b), defining "motor vehicle," as present subdivision (8c); deleted "as defined in G.S. 20-4.01(27)(d1)" in subdivision (8c)a; deleted "as defined in G.S. 20-4.01(44)" in subdivision (8c)b; and added subdivisions (8b) and (16b), defining "moped" and "special mobile equipment."

Session Laws 1999-360, ss. 6(a) and 6(c), effective retroactively as of May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (6e); and in subdivision (6b), rewrote the introductory language, designated the former provision as subdivision (6b)a. and added "An interstate air courier's hub is the" to the beginning, redesignated former subdivisions (6b)a. to c. as subdivisions (6b)a.1. to 3., and added subdivision (6b)b.

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 4, effective August 10, 1999, rewrote subdivision (25), defining "utility."

Session Laws 2000-153, s. 4, effective August 2, 2000, added subdivision (11c).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 9, effective August 2, 2000, in subdivision (8a), inserted "that meets one of the following conditions" in the introductory language; substituted present subdivision (8a)a. for "Is built on a permanent chassis"; substituted present subdivision (8a)b. for "Is transportable in one or more sections"; repealed subdivision (8a)c. which read, "When transported, is at least eight feet wide or forty feet long; and"; and repealed subdivision (8a)d. which read, "When erected on a site, has at least 320 square feet."

Session Laws 2001-347, ss. 2.1 through 2.7, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "Article" for "article, except when the context clearly indicates a different meaning" in the introductory paragraph; added subdivisions (2), (6), (7), (10), (11), (33) and (40); rewrote subdivisions (28), (34) and (37); in subdivision (49) inserted "distribution," inserted "or" preceding "exhaustion or consumption," and substituted "does not" for "shall not"; and recodified former subdivision (16c) as present subdivision (41) and former subdivision (16b) as present subdivision (40).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 14, effective January 1, 2002, repealed former subdivision (4), defining "Cost price."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.17(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (8).

Session Laws 2001-430, ss. 1 and 2, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, added subdivisions (20), (27), (39), and (48), defining "Mobile telecommunications service," "Prepaid telephone calling arrangement," "Service address," and "Telecommunications service," and repealed former subdivision (25), defining "Utility."

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 18(a), effective November 29, 2001, added subdivisions (3), (4), (31), and (42).

Session Laws 2001-489, s. 3(a), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, deleted "alcoholic beverages, as defined in G.S. 105-113.68, or" preceding "tobacco" in subdivision (10).

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former § 105-89.1.

"Cash Discount". — The size of a discount is irrelevant if it is given in consideration for payment within a prescribed time, in which case it is a "cash discount" within the meaning of subdivision (6). Walls & Marshall Fuel Co. v. North Carolina Dep't of Revenue, 95 N.C. App. 151, 381 S.E.2d 815 (1989).

Where taxpayer who sold fuel oil offered an 8 cents per gallon discount to its customers if the bill was paid within three days from delivery, the price reduction option fell within the recognized meaning of "cash discount," because it was a deduction from the billed price which the seller allowed for payment within a certain time. Walls & Marshall Fuel Co. v. North Carolina Dep't of Revenue, 95 N.C. App. 151, 381 S.E.2d 815 (1989).

Bank as Automobile Dealer. — Where a dealer in automobiles has sold to the bank, to which he was indebted, his automobiles on hand, for the purpose of securing the debt, under further provisions that he was to sell and collect and hold the proceeds in trust for the purpose stated and has thereafter left the State and the bank has assumed to continue the sales and make collection therefor, the bank may not avoid payment of the tax upon the ground that it was not a dealer, etc., in contemplation of the statute, and thus evade the practical efficiency of the statute and reduce it to a nullity. American Exch. Nat'l Bank v. Lacy, 188 N.C. 25, 123 S.E. 475 (1924).

limits "storage" to the keeping or retention of personal property purchased from a retailer, thus excluding from the tax the storage of personal property not so acquired. The commas inserted by the 1973 amendment make this clear as to "storage" thereafter. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

"Use". — Under this section as it stood before the 1975 amendment to subdivision (19) [now (45)], it was held that a taxable "use" did not include a processing of material into a different product, which resulting product was, itself, to be transported outside the State and used outside the State exclusively, regardless of who the user there might be. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

There is no limitation upon the definition of "use" contained in subdivision (18) [now (49)]. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Subdivision (18) [now (49)] does not stand alone. Subdivision (19) [now (45)] is part of the definition of "use." In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

The terms "storage" and "use," as used in § 105-164.6, must be given the meaning stated in the definitions under subdivisions (17), (18) and (19) [now (44), (49), and (45), respectively] of this section. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

"Nonresident retailer wholesale merchant." — Where plaintiff, a wholesale candy merchant, sold its products to purchasers outside of North Carolina who resold the products and plaintiff shipped the products directly to their customers, some of whom were located in North Carolina, the purchasers met the definition of 'nonresident retail or wholesale merchants' under § 105-164.3(10) [now (25)], and plaintiff was incorrectly assessed wholesale taxes under (former) § 105-164.5(2). VSA, Inc. v. Faulkner, 126 N.C. App. 421, 485 S.E.2d 348 (1997).

Use of Fabric by Furniture Manufacturer in Producing Swatch Books. — Under this section as it stood before the 1975 amendment to subdivision (19) [now (45)], it was held that the use, in North Carolina, by a furniture manufacturer of fabric in the production of swatch books for distribution, without charge, to its potential customers, in or out of this State, was not a "use" within the definition of that word contained in subdivisions (18) and (19) [now (44) and (45)] of this section, and no tax thereon was imposed by § 105-164.6. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Burden on Lessor to Show That Leasing Transactions Constituted Sale for Resale. — A lessor of television sets who had not procured resale certificates from any of its customers had the burden to show that its leasing transactions constituted a sale for resale, entitling the lessor to an exemption from the sales tax. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

Leasing of Television Set to Motel or Hotel Owner Not Sale for Resale. — Leasing of a television set to a motel or hotel owner for use in a room rented to transients is not a sale for resale as contemplated by the North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

Temporary Custody of Tapes for Purpose of Rebroadcast Was Not a "Sale". — The word "sale" under a former statute did not embrace a transaction whereby a radio broadcasting station was given temporary custody of transcription tapes or records in order to rebroadcast the programs contained thereon. Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

"Motor Vehicles" — Auto trucks were held to come within the designation of "automobiles" as used in a former statute taxing the manufacturers of automobiles. State v. Evans, 205 N.C. 434, 171 S.E. 640 (1933), rev'd on other grounds, 256 U.S. 421, 41 S. Ct. 571, 65 L. Ed. 1029 (1921).

Applied in Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969); Young Roofing Co. v. North Carolina Dep't of Revenue, 42 N.C. App. 248, 256 S.E.2d 306 (1979).

Quoted in In re Proposed Assmt. of Additional Sales & Use Tax, 46 N.C. App. 631, 265 S.E.2d 461 (1980); In re Assessment of Additional Sales & Use Tax Against Strawbridge Studios, Inc., 94 N.C. App. 300, 380 S.E.2d 142 (1989).

Cited in Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979); In re Rock-Ola Cafe, 111 N.C. App. 683, 433 S.E.2d 236 (1993).

Part 2. Taxes Levied.

§ 105-164.4. Tax imposed on retailers.

(a) (Effective until July 1, 2003) A privilege tax is imposed on a retailer at the following percentage rates of the retailer's net taxable sales or gross receipts, as appropriate. The general rate of tax is four and one-half percent (4 ½%).

(a) (Effective for sales on or after July 1, 2003) A privilege tax is imposed on a retailer at the following percentage rates of the retailer's net taxable sales or gross receipts, as appropriate. The general rate of tax is four percent (4%).

(1) The general rate of tax applies to the sales price of each item or article of tangible personal property that is sold at retail and is not subject to tax under another subdivision in this section.

(1a) The rate of two percent (2%) applies to the sales price of each manufactured home sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the manufactured home when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is three hundred dollars ($300.00) per article. Each section of a manufactured home that is transported separately to the site where it is to be erected is a separate article.

(1b) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the sales price of each aircraft, boat, railway car, or locomotive sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the item when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per article.

- (1c) The rate of one percent (1%) applies to the sales price of the following articles:
- a. Horses or mules by whomsoever sold.
  - b. Semen to be used in the artificial insemination of animals.
  - c. Sales of fuel, other than electricity, to farmers to be used by them for any farm purposes other than preparing food, heating dwellings, and other household purposes. The quantity of fuel purchased or used at any one time shall not in any manner be a determinative factor as to whether any sale or use of fuel is or is not subject to the one percent (1%) rate of tax imposed by this subdivision.
  - d. Sales of fuel, other than electricity, to manufacturing industries and manufacturing plants for use in connection with the operation of such industries and plants other than sales of fuels to be used for residential heating purposes. The quantity of fuel purchased or used at any one time shall not in any manner be a determinative factor as to whether any sale or use of fuel is or is not subject to the rate of tax provided in this subdivision.
  - e. Sales of fuel, other than electricity, to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry-cleaning establishments for use in machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service.
  - f. Sales to freezer locker plants of wrapping paper, cartons and supplies consumed directly in the operation of such plant.
- (1d) The rate of one percent (1%) applies to the sales price of the articles listed in G.S. 105-164.4A. The maximum tax is eighty dollars ($80.00) per article. As used in G.S. 105-164.4A and G.S. 105-187.51, the term "accessories" does not include electricity.
- a. through k. Recodified as § 105-164.4A by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 3(a), effective August 4, 1999.
- (1e) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the sales price of each mobile classroom or mobile office sold at retail, including all accessories attached to the mobile classroom or mobile office when it is delivered to the purchaser. The maximum tax is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) per article. Each section of a mobile classroom or mobile office that is transported separately to the site where it is to be placed is a separate article.
- (1f) The rate of two and eighty-three-hundredths percent (2.83%) applies to the sales price of electricity described in this subdivision and measured by a separate meter or another separate device:
- a. Sales of electricity to farmers to be used by them for any farm purposes other than preparing food, heating dwellings, and other household purposes. The quantity of electricity or gas purchased or used at any one time shall not be a determinative factor as to whether its sale or use is or is not subject to the rate of tax provided in this subdivision.
  - b. Repealed by Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date.
  - c. Sales of electricity to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry-cleaning establishments for use in machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service.

(1g) Electricity Sold to Manufacturers.

- a. General. — Qualified electricity is taxable as provided in this subdivision. Qualified electricity is electricity that is measured by a separate meter or another separate measuring device and is sold to a manufacturing industry or manufacturing plant for use in connection with the operation of the industry or plant.
- b. (Effective until July 1, 2005) Rates. — A single tax rate applies to all of the qualified electricity received by an industry or a plant in each fiscal year beginning July 1. That tax rate is determined based on the megawatt-hour volume of qualified electricity received by the industry or plant during the previous calendar year, in accordance with the following table. The rates set based on the table are subject to adjustment as provided in sub-subdivision f. of this subdivision.

Previous Year's Megawatt-Hours Received	Rate for Fiscal Year
900,000 or Less	2.83%
Over 900,000	0.17%

- b. (Effective July 1, 2005 and applicable to sales made on or after that date) Rates. — A single tax rate applies to all of the qualified electricity received by an industry or a plant in each fiscal year beginning July 1. That tax rate is determined based on the megawatt hour volume of qualified electricity received by the industry or plant during the previous calendar year, in accordance with the following table. The rates set based on the table are subject to adjustment as provided in sub-subdivision f. of this subdivision.

Previous Year's Megawatt Hours Received	Rate for Fiscal Year
5,000 or Less	2.83%
Over 5,000 up to 250,000	2.25%
Over 250,000 up to 900,000	2%
Over 900,000	0.17%

- c. Multiple Meters. — If the industry or plant receives qualified electricity that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices, unless the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. In that circumstance, the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through the two or more separate measuring devices.
- d. Procedure. — During the first five months of each calendar year, each retailer of qualified electricity must determine the annual volume of electricity it sold during the previous calendar year to each manufacturing industry and manufacturing plant. Based on this volume, the retailer must determine the tax rate that will apply to each industry and plant. If the applicable rate is different from the rate in effect for the previous fiscal year, the retailer must notify the taxpayer of the new rate on or before June 1 before it goes into effect.
- e. New Manufacturers. — If a manufacturer begins business using qualified electricity, the retailer must establish a rate at the time the manufacturer first purchases qualified electricity. In this case, and in the case of a manufacturer that was not in business for the entire calendar year preceding the rate determination, the retailer must estimate the expected annual volume of qualified electricity it will sell to the plant or industry during its first twelve months of business and determine the applicable tax rate based on this estimate.

- f. Adjustment. — If the actual volume of qualified electricity received by an industry or a plant during a fiscal year dictates a different tax rate from the rate charged for that fiscal year, the manufacturer is eligible for a refund of any excess or is liable for payment of any deficiency. A manufacturer who is eligible for a refund may apply to the Department and a manufacturer who is liable for a deficiency must report the liability to the Department.
- (2) The applicable percentage rate applies to the gross receipts derived from the lease or rental of tangible personal property by a person who is engaged in the business of leasing or renting tangible personal property, or is a retailer and leases or rents property of the type sold by the retailer. The applicable percentage rate is the rate and the maximum tax, if any, that applies to a sale of the property that is leased or rented. A person who leases or rents property shall also collect the tax imposed by this section on the separate retail sale of the property.
- (3) Operators of hotels, motels, tourist homes, tourist camps, and similar type businesses and persons who rent private residences and cottages to transients are considered retailers under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the gross receipts derived by these retailers from the rental of any rooms, lodgings, or accommodations furnished to transients for a consideration. This tax does not apply to any private residence or cottage that is rented for less than 15 days in a calendar year or to any room, lodging, or accommodation supplied to the same person for a period of 90 or more continuous days.
- As used in this subdivision, the term “persons who rent to transients” means (i) owners of private residences and cottages who rent to transients and (ii) rental agents, including “real estate brokers” as defined in G.S. 93A-2, who rent private residences and cottages to transients on behalf of the owners. If a rental agent is liable for the tax imposed by this subdivision, the owner is not liable.
- (4) Every person engaged in the business of operating a dry cleaning, pressing, or hat-blocking establishment, a laundry, or any similar business, engaged in the business of renting clean linen or towels or wearing apparel, or any similar business, or engaged in the business of soliciting cleaning, pressing, hat blocking, laundering or linen rental business for any of these businesses, is considered a retailer under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the gross receipts derived by these retailers from services rendered in engaging in any of the occupations or businesses named in this subdivision. The tax imposed by this subdivision does not apply to receipts derived from coin, token, or card-operated washing machines, extractors, and dryers. The tax imposed by this subdivision does not apply to gross receipts derived from services performed for resale by a retailer that pays the tax on the total gross receipts derived from the services.
- (4a) The rate of three percent (3%) applies to the gross receipts derived from sales of electricity, other than sales of electricity subject to tax under another subdivision in this section. A person who sells electricity is considered a retailer under this Article.
- (4b) A person who sells tangible personal property at a specialty market, other than the person’s own household personal property, is considered a retailer under this Article. A tax at the general rate of tax is levied on the sales price of each article sold by the retailer at the specialty market. The term "specialty market" has the same meaning as defined in G.S. 66-250.

- (4c) The rate of six percent (6%) applies to the gross receipts derived from providing telecommunications service. A person who provides telecommunications service is considered a retailer under this Article. Telecommunications service is taxed in accordance with G.S. 105-164.4C.
- (4d) The sale or recharge of prepaid telephone calling arrangements is taxable at the general rate of tax. The tax applies regardless of whether tangible personal property, such as a card or a telephone, is transferred. Prepaid telephone calling arrangements taxed under this subdivision are not subject to tax as a telecommunications service.

Prepaid telephone calling arrangements are taxable at the point of sale instead of at the point of use. If the sale or recharge of a prepaid telephone calling arrangement does not take place at a retailer's place of business, the sale or recharge is considered to have taken place at one of the following:

- a. The customer's shipping address, if an item of tangible personal property is shipped to the customer as part of the transaction.
  - b. The customer's billing address or, for mobile telecommunications service, the customer's service address, if no tangible personal property is shipped to the customer as part of the transaction.
- (5) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.1(a), effective May 1, 1999.
- (6) The rate of five percent (5%) applies to the gross receipts derived from providing direct-to-home satellite service to subscribers in this State. A person engaged in the business of providing direct-to-home satellite service is considered a retailer under this Article.
- (7) The rate of six percent (6%) applies to the sales price of spirituous liquor other than mixed beverages. As used in this subdivision, the terms "spirituous liquor" and "mixed beverage" have the meanings provided in G.S. 18B-101.

(b) The tax levied in this section shall be collected from the retailer and paid by him at the time and in the manner as hereinafter provided. Provided, however, that any person engaging or continuing in business as a retailer shall pay the tax required on the net taxable sales of such business at the rates specified when proper books are kept showing separately the gross proceeds of taxable and nontaxable sales of tangible personal property in such form as may be accurately and conveniently checked by the Secretary or his duly authorized agent. If such records are not kept separately the tax shall be paid as a retailer on the gross sales of business and the exemptions and exclusions provided by this Article shall not be allowed. The tax levied in this section is in addition to all other taxes whether levied in the form of excise, license or privilege or other taxes.

(c) Certificate of Registration. — Before a person may engage in business as a retailer or a wholesale merchant, the person must obtain a certificate of registration from the Department in accordance with G.S. 105-164.29. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; 1963, c. 1169, ss. 3, 11; 1967, c. 1110, s. 6; c. 1116; 1969, c. 1075, s. 5; 1971, c. 887, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 8; 1975, c. 752; 1977, c. 903; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1218; 1979, c. 17, s. 1; c. 22; c. 48, s. 1; c. 527, s. 1; c. 801, s. 73; 1981, c. 984, ss. 1, 2; 1981 (Reg. ### Introductory Language of Subsection

Subdivision (a)(1g)b Set Out Twice. — The first version of subdivision (a)(1g)b set out above is effective until July 1, 2005. The second version of subdivision (a)(1g)b set out above is effective July 1, 2005, and applies to sales made on or after that date.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-121, s. 2, effective August 27, 1998, and applicable to taxes payable on or after July 1, 1998, repealed "Part 2 of Division II of Article 5 of Chapter 105." This act probably intended to repeal § 105-164.5, which was the only section in Part 2 of Division II of Article 5. Effective August 14, 1998, Session Laws 1998-98, ss. 48(a) and (b) to 54, merged §§ 105-164.4 to 105-164.12B into Division II, redesignated the Divisions of Article 5 as Part 1 to 8 with former Division II as Part 2 (§§ 105-164.4 to 105-164.12B). Subsequently 1998-217, s. 59, effective October 31, 1998, rewrote 1998-121, s. 2 to refer only to § 105-164.5.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before that effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-424, ss. 34.17(a) and 34.23(b) both added a subdivision (a)(6) to this section. The subdivision added by s. 34.23(b) has been renumbered (a)(7) at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.13(b), provides: "The provisions of this section [s. 34.13 of Session Laws 2001-424] increasing the general rate of State sales tax do not apply to construction materials purchased to fulfill a lump-sum or unit-price contract entered into or awarded before the effective date of the increase or entered into or awarded pursuant to a bid made before the effective date of the increase when the construction materials would otherwise be subject to the increased rate of tax provided under this section [s. 34.13 of Session Laws 2001-424]."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.13(c), provides: "This section [s. 34.13 of Session Laws 2001-424] becomes effective October 16, 2001, and applies to sales made on or after that date. This section is repealed effective for sales made on or after July 1, 2003. This section does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this section before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(g), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 122(c), provides: "Subsections (b) and (c) of this section become effective January 1, 2002, and apply to sales made on or after that date. Subsection (f) of this section becomes effective July 1, 2005, and applies to sales made on or after that date. The remainder of this section is effective when it becomes law."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 5, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, in subsection (a), substituted "electricity" for "electricity or piped natural gas" in subdivisions (1c)c., (1c)d., and (1c)e.; added a comma following "dwellings" in subdivision (1c)c.; substituted "by this subdivision" for "herein" at the end of subdivision (1c)c.; deleted "and piped natural gas" following "electricity" in subdivisions (1f), (1f)a., (1f)b., and (1f)c.; inserted "separate" preceding "device" at the end of subdivision (1f); deleted "and gas" preceding "to be used" and deleted "or gas" preceding "purchased" in subdivision (1f)b.; and, in subdivision (4a), substituted "electricity" for "electricity, piped natural gas", deleted "or piped natural gas" preceding "subject to tax", and deleted the former next-to-the-last sentence which read: "Gross receipts from sales of piped natural gas shall not include natural gas expansion surcharges imposed under G.S. 62-158".

Session Laws 1998-55, s. 8, effective January 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (a)(1d)k (now recodified in § 105-164.4A.)

Session Laws, 1998-197, s. 1, effective January 1, 2000 and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added the second sentence in subdivision (a)(4a).

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.1(a), effective May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, repealed subdivision (a)(5), relating to the tax rate on the sales price of food that would be exempt pursuant to § 105-164.13 if it were purchased with coupons issued under the Food Stamp Program.

Session Laws 1999-337, ss. 29 and 30, effective July 22, 1999, substituted "token, or card-operated" for "or token operated" in subdivision (a)(4); and inserted "who makes taxable sales" in subsection (c).

Session Laws 1999-360, ss. 3(a) and 3(b), effective August 4, 1999, recodified subdivisions (a)(1d)a. to (a)(1d)k. as G.S. 105-164.4A, and substituted "articles listed in G.S. 105-164.4A" for "following articles" in subdivision (a)(1d).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 1, effective January 1, 2000, deleted "and pay fifteen dollars ($15.00)" following "Department" in the last sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (c).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 67(a), effective

July 21, 2000, rewrote subsection (c).

Session Laws 2001-424, ss. 34.13(a), effective October 16, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, substituted "four and one-half percent (4½%)" for "four percent" in the introductory language of subsection (a).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.17(a), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (a)(6).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(b), effective December 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (a)(7).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.25(a), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, amends this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-430, s. 4, by substituting "six percent (6%)" for "four and one-half percent (4.5%)" in subdivision (a)(4c).

Session Laws 2001, c. 430, ss. 3 to 5, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, rewrote subdivisions (a)(4a) and (a)(4c) and added subdivision (a)(4d).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(b) and (c), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 122(c), effective January 1, 2002, repealed former subdivision (a)(1f)b, and added subdivision (a)(1g).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(d), effective November 29, 2001, added the final sentence in subdivision (a)(1d).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(f), effective July 1, 2005, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, rewrote the table in subdivision (a)(1g)b.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(b), effective January 1, 2002, substituted "G.S. 105-164.4C" for "G.S. 105-164.4B" in subdivision (a)(4c) as rewritten by Session Laws 2001-430, s. 4.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 122(a), effective December 16, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after January 1, 2002, amends this section as enacted by Session Laws 2001-476, s. 17(c), by twice substituting "900,000" for "1,200,000" in subdivision (a)(1g)b.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

The purpose of North Carolina's sales and use tax scheme is two-fold. The primary purpose is, of course, to generate revenue for the State. The sales tax is, in effect, a tax imposed upon the retail merchant as a privilege tax for the right to engage in that business. The tax is, however, designed to be passed on to the consumer. The second purpose of the sales and use tax scheme is to equalize the tax burden on all State residents. This is achieved through imposition of the use tax in certain situations where the sales tax is not applicable. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The chief function of the Sales and Use Tax Act is to prevent the evasion of a sales tax by persons purchasing tangible personal property outside of North Carolina for storage, use or consumption within the State. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Distinctions Between Sales and Use Taxes and Property Taxes. — See Sykes v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 398, 163 S.E.2d 775 (1968).

Sales and Use Taxes Differ in Conception. — While a sales tax and a use tax in many instances may bring about the same result, they are different in conception. They are assessments upon different transactions and are bottomed on distinguishable taxable events. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966); In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The purpose of the use tax as indicated by the legislative histories of use and sales taxes is to impose the same burdens on out-of-state purchases as the sales tax imposes on purchases within the State. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

A sales tax is a tax on the freedom of purchase. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

Hence, It Burdens Interstate Commerce. — A sales tax, when applied to interstate transactions, is a tax on the privilege of doing interstate business, creates a burden on interstate commerce, and runs counter to the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution. Atwater-

Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

And the sales tax cannot constitutionally be imposed upon interstate sales since it would then be a tax upon the privilege of doing interstate business, and would constitute a burden upon interstate commerce in violation of the commerce clause of the United States Constitution. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

But Use Tax Is Tax on Enjoyment After Sale Has Spent Interstate Character. — A use tax is a tax on the enjoyment of that which was purchased after a sale has spent its interstate character. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

The use tax does not impermissibly burden interstate commerce since it is a tax imposed on the enjoyment of goods after the sale has already spent its interstate character. It is designed to complement the sales tax and to reach transactions which cannot constitutionally be subject to a sales tax. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Merchants are statutory agents for the collection of the tax on sales, which is definitely imposed upon the consumer, and their responsibility arises on the assumption that they must so collect. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

The sales tax is a tax on the retailer. In re Newsom Oil Co., 273 N.C. 383, 160 S.E.2d 98 (1968).

This section imposes the sales tax on all retailers, as a class, and applies it alike in its exactions and exemptions to all persons belonging to the prescribed class. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

And Is a Privilege Tax. — Taxes under this section are not imposed upon the consumer, but are rather a privilege tax for engaging in business. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

This section imposes a privilege or license tax upon retailers and not a tax on purchasers or consumers. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

The sales tax is primarily a privilege or license tax on retailers, and not a tax on consumers. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

But Sales Tax Intended to Be Passed on to Consumer. — Even though the sales tax is primarily a license or privilege tax on retailers, the intent of the law is that the sales tax be passed on to the consumer. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

No Double Taxation. — The sales/use tax is, by its terms, levied upon the "retailer." There is, perforce, no double levy on any one object of taxation, where the two different sections of the sales/use tax impose two separate taxes on two separate people for two separate transactions. Telarent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

Perfect Equality in Collection of Tax Is Impossible. — Perfect equality in the collection of the tax by retailers from consumers is, as a practical matter, impossible as between almost any two or more retailers by reason of the differences in types of merchandise sold and selling methods. If the accidents of trade lead to inequality or hardships, the consequences must be accepted as inherent in government by law instead of government by edict. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

Taxable event for assessment of the sales tax occurs at the time of sale and purchase within the State. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

The language in the exemption under subdivision (1) of this section, "the tax levied under this subdivision," refers to the sales or use tax imposed under this section. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

Provisos Create Class of Transactions Taxed at Lower Rate. — Provisos incorporated into this section create a class of transactions as to which the tax is computed at a smaller percentage of the sale price, coupled in some instances with a limitation of the maximum tax to be imposed on account of the sale of any single article within the category. Hatteras Yacht Co. v. High, 265 N.C. 653, 144 S.E.2d 821 (1965), decided prior to the second 1967 amendment.

And Are Strictly Construed. — A proviso in a statute taxing certain transactions at a lower rate than that made applicable in general, or providing that as to certain transactions the total tax shall not exceed a specified amount, there being no such limitation generally, is a partial exemption and is, therefore, to be strictly construed against the claim of such special or preferred treatment. Hatteras Yacht Co. v. High, 265 N.C. 653, 144 S.E.2d 821 (1965).

The expression "total net taxable sales" and expressions of similar purport, as used in this Article, means the total of all retail sales, except those excluded in whole or in part by Part 1 of Division II, which imposes and levies the tax, and except those which are exempt under § 105-164.13. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Retail merchants may themselves make retail purchases. Long Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 264 N.C. 12, 140 S.E.2d 744 (1965).

And when they do, they must like any other purchaser, pay the retail sales tax. Long Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 264 N.C. 12, 140 S.E.2d 744 (1965).

Retailer as Actual User and Ultimate Consumer. — Petitioner's sale of propane gas tanks to retailers, who brought them for the purpose of placing them on the premises of their retail gas customers, constituted retail sales upon which petitioner should have collected the sales tax from the retailers, who were not purchasing the particular property for resale or rental, but were the actual users and ultimate consumers of the tanks in question. Long Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 264 N.C. 12, 140 S.E.2d 744 (1965).

Lessor Has Burden to Show That Leasing Transactions Constituted Sale for Resale. — A lessor of television sets who had not procured resale certificates from any of its customers had the burden to show that its leasing transactions constituted a sale for resale, entitling the lessor to an exemption from the sales tax. Telarent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

Erroneous Advice of Agent of Department of Revenue. — The State is not estopped to collect the retail sales tax levied by this section by the action of an agent of the Department of Revenue in erroneously advising the merchant that certain sales were not subject to the tax, notwithstanding that the merchant was thereby deprived of the opportunity to collect the tax from his customers. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

Exemption from State Sales Tax Does Not Preclude Local Sales Taxation. — The limitation, in § 105-467(1), of local sales tax to sales "subject to" the State sales tax refers not to those transactions for which a state sales tax is actually assessed, but to any transaction described in subdivision (1) of this section without regard to whether the transaction might be exempted or excluded from taxation by the operation of § 105-164.13. Thus, exemption from state sales tax does not preclude the assessment of a local sales tax. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 38 N.C. App. 483, 248 S.E.2d 378 (1978), aff'd, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

Taxpayer Has Burden of Showing Lower Tax Rate Applies. — When a taxing statute provides a lower tax rate than is generally applied, a partial exemption is created; the taxpayer claiming an exemption has the burden of showing that he comes within that exception. Deep River Farms, Ltd. v. Lynch, 58 N.C. App. 165, 292 S.E.2d 752 (1982).

Building Materials. — For decisions under the former statute relating to tax on building materials, see Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952); Robinson & Hale, Inc. v. Shaw, 242 N.C. 486, 87 S.E.2d 909 (1955).

A sales tax on retailers who sell merchandise through vending machines (including items sold for less than ten cents where it is impossible to recoup the tax from the purchaser) does not violate constitutional provisions relating to due process and equal protection. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

Applied in Young Roofing Co. v. North Carolina Dep't of Revenue, 42 N.C. App. 248, 256 S.E.2d 306 (1979); Development Assocs. v. Wake County Bd. of Adjustment, 48 N.C. App. 541, 269 S.E.2d 700 (1980).

II. MANUFACTURING.

Term "Manufacturing" Not Definable with Complete Precision. — The term "manufacturing" as used in tax statutes is not susceptible of an exact and all-embracing definition, for it has many applications and meanings. Master Hatcheries, Inc. v. Coble, 286 N.C. 518, 212 S.E.2d 150 (1975).

A commercial hatchery is a manufacturing industry or plant within the meaning of paragraph (1)h (now (1d)b.). Master Hatcheries, Inc. v. Coble, 286 N.C. 518, 212 S.E.2d 150 (1975).

A restaurant is not a manufacturer as that term is used in subdivision (1)h (now (1d)b) of this section. Hed, Inc. v. Powers, 84 N.C. App. 292, 352 S.E.2d 265, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 458, 356 S.E.2d 4 (1987).

III. FUELS.

When Fuel Exempted from Sales and Use Taxes. — When fuel is the product of a mine and sold by the producer in its original unmanufactured state, it is exempt from sales and use taxes. Duke Power Co. v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 505, 164 S.E.2d 289 (1968).

IV. MACHINERY USED IN AGRICULTURE.

Hydroponic Growing Systems Are Not "Machines". — The definition of "machines" in paragraph g of subdivision (1) (now (1d)a.) of this section does not include a greenhouse-like structure used for hydroponic growing of tomatoes, as the hydroponic growing systems required substantial human activity within the system in order for the tomatoes to be cultivated and harvested. Deep River Farms, Ltd. v. Lynch, 58 N.C. App. 165, 292 S.E.2d 752 (1982).

V. LEASES AND RENTALS.

The language in subdivision (2) clearly contemplates a rental paid periodically in cash or in commodities or services having a monetary value. Long Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 264 N.C. 12, 140 S.E.2d 744 (1965).

Taxing of Both Rental of Room and Leasing of Television Located Therein. — The imposition of a sales/use tax on the gross rental of a motel or hotel room as well as on the gross proceeds from the leasing of a television set located in that room does not constitute double taxation. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

Monthly Equipment and Maintenance Charges. — Where a corporation that designed, manufactured, leased and sold computers and other business machines and equipment, in leasing such machines and equipment, required lessees to agree to pay both a "monthly equipment charge" and a "base monthly maintenance charge," both charges were part of the gross proceeds derived from the renting of machines and equipment within the contemplation of this section. Sperry Corp. v. Lynch, 76 N.C. App. 327, 332 S.E.2d 757, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 669, 336 S.E.2d 401 (1985).

VI. CLEANING AND LAUNDERING FACILITIES.

Coin-Operated Laundry Subject to Tax Under Subdivision (4). — A coin-operated laundry, which is a commercial establishment in which automatic washing machines, dryers and dry-cleaning machines are installed for the use and convenience of the general public, is a "launderette" or "launderiall" as those terms are used in subdivision (4) of this section and is subject to the tax levied upon laundries in that subdivision. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

Apartment Owners Must Pay Sales Tax on Laundry Machine Receipts. — The General Assembly did not intend by the 1975 amendment to § 105-85, exempting apartment owners from the privilege license tax on laundries, to exclude the payment of sales tax by apartment owners on the gross receipts from coin-operated washers and dryers. In re Proposed Assmt. of Additional Sales & Use Tax, 46 N.C. App. 631, 265 S.E.2d 461 (1980).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Sales tax is applicable to gross receipts from rug cleaning services conducted on the business premises of a rug cleaner but is not applicable to gross receipts from rug cleaning services conducted on the premises of the rug cleaner's customer. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Eric L. Gooch, Sales and Use Tax Division, N.C. Department of Revenue, 42 N.C.A.G. 35 (1972).

§ 105-164.4A. Articles taxed at one percent (1%), eighty dollars ($80.00).

The following articles are taxable under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1d):

- (1) Farm machinery. — Sales to a farmer of machines and machinery, and parts and accessories for these machines and machinery, for use by the farmer in the planting, cultivating, harvesting, or curing of farm crops or in the production of dairy products, eggs, or animals. A "farmer" includes a dairy operator, a poultry farmer, an egg producer, a livestock farmer, a farmer of crops, and a farmer of an aquatic species, as defined in G.S. 106-758. Items that are exempt from tax under G.S. 105-164.13(4c) are not subject to tax under G.S. 105-164.4.

The term "machines and machinery" as used in this subdivision is defined as follows:

The term shall include all vehicular implements, designed and sold for any use defined in this subdivision, which are operated, drawn or propelled by motor or animal power, but shall not include vehicular implements which are operated wholly by hand, and shall not include any motor vehicles required to be registered under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes.

The term shall include all nonvehicular implements and mechanical devices designed and sold for any use defined in this subdivision, which have moving parts, or which require the use of any motor or animal power, fuel, or electricity in their operation but shall not include nonvehicular implements which have no moving parts and are operated wholly by hand.

The term shall also include metal flues sold for use in curing tobacco, whether such flues are attached to handfired furnaces or used in connection with mechanical burners.

- (2) (Repealed effective January 1, 2006) Manufacturing machinery. — Sales of mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories to manufacturing industries and plants, and sales to contractors and subcontractors purchasing mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories for use by them in the performance of contracts with manufacturing industries and plants, and sales to subcontractors purchasing mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories for use by them in the performance of contracts with general contractors who have contracts with manufacturing industries and plants. As used in this paragraph, the term "manufacturing industries and plants" does not include delicatessens, cafes, cafeterias, restaurants, and other similar retailers that are principally engaged in the retail sale of foods prepared by them for consumption on or off their premises.
- (3) Telephone company property. — Sales of central office equipment and switchboard and private branch exchange equipment to telephone companies regularly engaged in providing telephone service to subscribers on a commercial basis, and sales to these companies of prewritten computer programs used in providing telephone service to their subscribers.

- (4) Laundry machinery. — Sales to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry cleaning establishments of machinery used in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service and of parts and accessories thereto.
- (5) Freezer plant machinery. — Sales to freezer locker plants of machinery used in the direct operation of the freezer locker plant and of parts and accessories thereto.
- (6) Broadcasting machinery. — Sales of broadcasting equipment and parts and accessories thereto and towers to commercial radio and television companies which are under the regulation and supervision of the Federal Communications Commission.
- (7) Tobacco equipment. — Sales to farmers of bulk tobacco barns and racks and all parts and accessories thereto and similar apparatus used for the curing and drying of any farm produce.
- (8) Farm storage facilities. — Sales to farmers of grain, feed or soybean storage facilities and accessories thereto, whether or not dryers are attached, and all similar apparatus and accessories thereto for the storage of grain, feed or soybeans.
- (9) Farm containers. — Sales of containers to farmers or producers for use in the planting, producing, harvesting, curing, marketing, packaging, sale, or transporting or delivery of their products when such containers do not go with and become part of the sale of their products at wholesale or retail.
- (10) Recycling facility equipment. — Sales to a major recycling facility of the following tangible personal property for use in connection with the facility: cranes, structural steel crane support systems, foundations related to the cranes and support systems, port and dock facilities, rail equipment, and material handling equipment.
- (11) Air courier equipment. — Sales of the following items to an interstate air courier for use at its hub: materials handling equipment, racking systems, and related parts and accessories, for the storage or handling and movement of tangible personal property at an airport or in a warehouse or distribution facility.
- (12) Flight crew training equipment. — Sales to an interstate passenger air carrier or an interstate air courier of aircraft simulators for flight crew training for use at the air carrier or air courier's hub. (1999-360, ss. 3(a), (c), 8; 2001-347, s. 2.8.)

Editor's Note. — Subdivision (11), relating to air courier equipment, was added by Session Laws 1998-55, s. 8, effective January 1, 2001, and is applicable to sales made on or after that date.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-360, ss. 3(a) and 3(c), effective August 4, 1999, recodified former subdivisions (a)(1d)a. to k. of G.S. 105-164.4 as this section; added the section catchline and introductory language; numbered the former subdivisions as present subdivisions (1) to (11) and added the subdivision catchlines throughout; substituted "G.S. 105-164.4" for "this section" in subdivision (1); and substituted "the" for "said" in subdivision (5).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 8, effective retroactively as of May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added subdivision (12).

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.8, effective January 1, 2006, repeals subdivision (2).

§ 105-164.4B. Sales are sourced based on destination.

(a) Principles. — The following principles apply in determining where to source the sale of a product. These principles apply regardless of the nature of the product.

- (1) Over-the-counter. — When a purchaser receives a product at a business location of the seller, the sale is sourced to that business location.
- (2) Delivery to specified address. — When a purchaser receives a product at a location specified by the purchaser and the location is not a business location of the seller, the sale is sourced to the location where the purchaser receives the product.
- (3) Delivery address unknown. — When a seller of a product does not know the address where a product is received, the sale is sourced to the first address listed in this subsection that is known to the seller:
  - a. The business or home address of the purchaser.
  - b. The billing address of the purchaser.
  - c. The address of the seller.

(b) Exceptions. — This section does not apply to telecommunications services. (2001-347, s. 2.9.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.2, made this section effective January 1, 2002.

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.16, amended Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, s. 4, which authorized a sales tax for Mecklenburg County, by deleting the final sentence of the third paragraph, and adding the following sentence immediately following the second sentence in the third paragraph: "The sourcing principles in G.S. 105-164.4B apply in determining whether the local sales tax applies to a transaction."

A new § 105-164.4B, relating to tax on telecommunications, was enacted by Session Laws 2001-430, s. 6, effective January 1, 2002, and recodified as § 105-164.4C by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(a), also effective January 1, 2002.

§ 105-164.4C. Tax on telecommunications.

(a) General. — The gross receipts derived from providing telecommunications service in this State are taxed at the rate set in G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4c). Mobile telecommunications service is provided in this State if the customer's service address is in this State and the call originates or terminates in this State.

(b) Included in Gross Receipts. — Gross receipts derived from telecommunications service include the following:

- (1) Receipts from local, intrastate, interstate, toll, private, and mobile telecommunications service.
- (2) Charges for directory assistance, directory listing that is not yellow-page classified listing, call forwarding, call waiting, three-way calling, caller ID, and other similar services.
- (3) Customer access line charges billed to subscribers for access to the intrastate or interstate interexchange network.
- (4) Charges billed to a pay telephone provider who uses the telecommunications service to provide pay telephone service.

(c) Excluded From Gross Receipts. — Gross receipts derived from telecommunications service do not include any of the following:

- (1) Charges for telecommunications services that are a component part of or are integrated into a telecommunications service that is resold. Examples of services that are resold include carrier charges for access to an intrastate or interstate interexchange network, interconnection charges paid by a provider of mobile telecommunications service, and charges for the sale of unbundled network elements. An unbundled network element is a network element, as defined in 47 U.S.C. § 153(29), to which access is provided on an unbundled basis pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 251(c)(3).

- (2) Telecommunications services that are resold as part of a prepaid telephone calling arrangement.
  - (3) 911 charges imposed under G.S. 62A-4 or G.S. 62A-23 and remitted to the Emergency Telephone System Fund under G.S. 62A-7 or the Wireless Fund under G.S. 62A-24.
  - (4) Allowable surcharges imposed to recoup assessments for the Universal Service Fund.
  - (5) Receipts of a pay telephone provider from the sale of pay telephone service.
  - (6) Charges for commercial, cable, mobile, broadcast, or satellite video or audio service unless the service provides two-way communication, other than the customer's interactive communication in connection with the customer's selection or use of the video or audio service.
  - (7) Paging service, unless the service provides two-way communication.
  - (8) Charges for telephone service made by a hotel, motel, or another entity whose gross receipts are taxable under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3) when the charges are incidental to the occupancy of the entity's accommodations.
  - (9) Receipts from the sale, installation, maintenance, or repair of tangible personal property.
  - (10) Directory advertising and yellow-page classified listings.
  - (11) Voicemail services.
  - (12) Information services. — An information service is a service that can generate, acquire, store, transform, process, retrieve, use, or make available information through a communications service. Examples of an information service include an electronic publishing service and a web hosting service.
  - (13) Internet access service, electronic mail service, electronic bulletin board service, or similar on-line services.
  - (14) Billing and collection services.
  - (15) Charges for bad checks or late payments.
  - (16) Charges to a State agency or to a local unit of government for the North Carolina Information Highway and other data networks owned or leased by the State or unit of local government.
- (d) Bundled Services. — When a taxable telecommunications service is bundled with a service that is not taxable, the tax applies to the gross receipts from the taxable service in the bundle as follows:
- (1) If the service provider offers all the services in the bundle on an unbundled basis, tax is due on the unbundled price of the taxable service, less the discount resulting from the bundling. The discount for a service as the result of bundling is the proportionate price decrease of the service, determined on the basis of the total unbundled price of all the services in the bundle compared to the bundled price of the services.
  - (2) If the service provider does not offer one or more of the services in the bundle on an unbundled basis, tax is due on the taxable service based on a reasonable allocation of revenue to that service. If the service provider maintains an account for revenue from a taxable service, the service provider's allocation of revenue to that service for the purpose of determining the tax due on the service must reflect its accounting allocation of revenue to that service.
- (e) Interstate Private Line. — The gross receipts derived from interstate private telecommunications service are taxable as follows:

- (1) One hundred percent (100%) of the charge imposed at each channel termination point in this State.
  - (2) One hundred percent (100%) of the charge imposed for the total channel mileage between each channel termination point in this State.
  - (3) Fifty percent (50%) of the charge imposed for the total channel mileage between the first channel termination point in this State and the nearest channel termination point outside this State.
- (f) Call Center Cap. — The gross receipts tax on interstate telecommunications service that originates outside this State, terminates in this State, and is provided to a call center that has a direct pay permit issued by the Department under G.S. 105-164.27A may not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) a calendar year. This cap applies separately to each legal entity.
- (g) Credit. — A taxpayer who pays a tax legally imposed by another state on a telecommunications service taxable under this section is allowed a credit against the tax imposed in this section.
- (h) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:
- (1) Call center. — Defined in G.S. 105-164.27A.
  - (2) Interstate telecommunications service. — Telecommunications service that originates or terminates in this State, but does not both originate and terminate in this State, and is charged to a service address in this State.
  - (3) Intrastate telecommunications service. — Telecommunications service that both originates and terminates in this State.
  - (4) Local telecommunications service. — Telecommunications service that provides access to a local telephone network and enables a user to communicate with substantially everyone who has a telephone or radiotelephone station that is part of the local telephone network.
  - (5) Mobile telecommunications service. — Defined in G.S. 105-164.3.
  - (6) Private telecommunications service. — Telecommunications service that entitles a subscriber of the service to exclusive or priority use of a communications channel or group of channels.
  - (7) Service address. — Defined in G.S. 105-164.3.
  - (8) Telecommunications service. — Defined in G.S. 105-164.3.
  - (9) Toll telecommunications service. — Any of the following:
    - a. A service for which there is a toll charge that varies in amount with the distance or elapsed transmission time of each individual communication.
    - b. A service that entitles the subscriber, upon payment of a periodic charge, determined as a flat amount or on the basis of total elapsed transmission time, to an unlimited number of communications to or from all or a substantial portion of those who have a telephone or radiotelephone station in an area outside the local telephone network. (2001-430, s. 6; 2001-487, ss. 67(a), (c), 69(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-430, s. 20, makes this section effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002.

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 15, provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by October 1, 2003, on the amounts collected under this act and on the distributions made to local governments, including the amounts received by them from the sales and use tax on prepaid calling arrangements. On or before October 1, 2007, the Department must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee any recommendations it has, if any, to adjust the distributions made to local governments. The Department must consult with the North Carolina League of Municipalities in developing its recommendations."

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 19, provides: "The Revenue Laws Study Committee shall recommend to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly any changes necessary to this act to conform with the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act."

This section was formerly § 105-164.4B. It was recodified by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(a), effective January 1, 2002.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(a), effective January 1, 2002, recodified § 105-164.4B, as enacted by s. 6 of Session Laws 2001-430, as G.S. 105-164.4C.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(c), effective January 1, 2002, substituted “permit” for “certificate” in the first sentence of subsection (f) as enacted by Session Laws 2001-430 and recodified by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(a).

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 69(b), effective January 1, 2002, in this section as enacted by Session Laws 2001-430 and recodified, added subdivision (c)(16).

§ 105-164.5: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-121, s. 2, as amended by Session Laws 1998-217, s. 59, and applicable to taxes payable on or after July 1, 1998.

§ 105-164.5A: Repealed by Session Laws 1961, c. 1213, s. 3.

§ 105-164.6. Imposition of tax.

(a) An excise tax at the following percentage rates is imposed on the storage, use, or consumption in this State of tangible personal property purchased inside or outside the State for storage, use, or consumption in the State:

- (1) At the applicable percentage rate of the purchase price of each item or article of tangible personal property that is stored, used, or consumed in this State. The applicable percentage rate is the rate and the maximum tax, if any, that applies to a sale of the property that is stored, used, or consumed.
- (2) At the applicable percentage rate of the monthly lease or rental price paid, contracted, or agreed to be paid by the lessee or renter to the owner of tangible personal property that is stored, used, or consumed in this State. The applicable percentage rate is the rate and the maximum tax, if any, that applies to a lease or rental of the property that is stored, used, or consumed.

(b) An excise tax at the general rate of tax set in G.S. 105-164.4 is imposed on the purchase price of tangible personal property purchased inside or outside the State that becomes a part of a building or other structure in the State. The purchaser of the property is liable for the tax. If the purchaser is a contractor, the contractor and owner are jointly and severally liable for the tax; if the purchaser is a subcontractor, the subcontractor and contractor are jointly and severally liable for the tax. The liability of an owner or a contractor who did not purchase the property is satisfied if the purchaser delivers to the owner or contractor before final settlement between them an affidavit certifying that the tax has been paid.

(c) Where a retail sales tax has already been paid with respect to tangible personal property in this State by the purchaser thereof, the tax shall be credited upon the tax imposed by this Part. Where a retail sales and use tax is due and has been paid with respect to tangible personal property in another state by the purchaser for storage, use or consumption in this State, the tax shall be credited upon the tax imposed by this Part. If the amount of tax paid to another state is less than the amount of tax imposed by this Part, the purchaser shall pay to the Secretary an amount sufficient to make the tax paid to the other state and this State equal to the amount imposed by this Part. The Secretary of Revenue shall require such proof of payment of tax to another state as he deems necessary. No credit shall be given under this subsection for sales or use taxes paid in another state if that state does not grant similar credit for sales taxes paid in North Carolina.

(d) Every person storing, using or otherwise consuming in this State tangible personal property purchased or received at retail either within or without this State shall be liable for the tax imposed by this Article and the liability shall not be extinguished until the tax has been paid to this State. Provided, however, that a receipt from a registered retailer engaged in business in this State given to the purchaser in accordance with the provisions of this Article shall be prima facie sufficient to relieve the purchaser from liability for the tax to which such receipt may refer and the liability of the purchaser shall be extinguished upon payment of the tax by any retailer from whom he has purchased the property.

(e) Except as provided herein the tax so levied is and shall be in addition to all other taxes whether levied in the form of excise, license, privilege or other taxes.

(f) Before a person may engage in business in this State selling or delivering tangible personal property for storage, use, or consumption in this State, the person must obtain a certificate of registration from the Department. To obtain a certificate of registration, a person must register with the Department.

A certificate of registration is valid unless it is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article or becomes void. A certificate issued to a retailer becomes void if, for a period of 18 months, the retailer files no returns or files returns showing no sales.

(g) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 7, s. 1. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; 1967, c. 1110, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, c. 17, s. 2; c. 48, ss. 3, 4; c. 179, s. 3; c. 527, s. 2; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1100, s. 1; c. 1175; 1981, cc. 18, 65; 1983, c. 713, s. 90; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1065, s. 3; 1989, c. 692, s. 3.4; 1991, c. 689, s. 312; c. 690, s. 3; 1995, c. 7, s. 1; c. 17, s. 7; 1998-121, s. 4; 1999-438, s. 1.1; 2001-414, s. 15.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 1.1, effective January 1, 2000, deleted "and pay fifteen dollars ($15.00)" following "Department" in the last sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (f).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 15, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "purchase price" for "cost price" in subdivision (a)(1).

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former statutes relating to the levy of compensating use taxes.

Constitutionality. — The constitutionality of a use tax has long been established. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

The purpose of North Carolina's sales and use tax scheme is two-fold. The primary purpose is, of course, to generate revenue for the State. The sales tax is, in effect, a tax imposed upon the retail merchant as a privilege tax for the right to engage in that business. The tax is, however, designed to be passed on to the consumer. The second purpose of the sales and use tax scheme is to equalize the tax burden on all State residents. This is achieved through imposition of the use tax in certain situations where the sales tax is not applicable. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Sales Tax and Use Tax Are Complementary. — The use tax and the sales tax law, taken and applied together, provide a uniform tax upon either the sale or use of all tangible personal property irrespective of where it may be purchased. That is, the sales tax and the use tax are complementary and functional parts of one system of taxation. Johnston v. Gill, 224 N.C. 638, 32 S.E.2d 30 (1944).

The use tax is designed to complement the sales tax and to reach transactions which cannot be subject to a sales tax by reason of its burden on interstate commerce. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

But Differ from Each Other in Conception. — While a sales tax and a use tax in many instances may bring about the same result, they are different in conception. They are assessments upon different transactions and are bottomed on distinguishable taxable events. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966); In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Distinctions Between Sales and Use Taxes and Property Taxes. — See Sykes v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 398, 163 S.E.2d 775 (1968).

The purpose of the use tax is to remove, insofar as possible, the discrimination against local merchants resulting from the imposition of a sales tax, and to equalize the burden of the tax on property sold locally and that purchased without the State. Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

The use tax is not a sales tax. Its chief function is to prevent the evasion of the sales tax by persons purchasing tangible personal property outside of North Carolina for storage, use, or consumption within the State. Thus it prevents unfair competition on the part of out-of-state merchants. Johnston v. Gill, 224 N.C. 638, 32 S.E.2d 30 (1944).

The purpose of the use tax is to impose the same burdens on out-of-state purchases as the sales tax imposes on purchases within the State. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

Use tax does not aim at or discriminate against interstate commerce. It is laid upon every purchaser, within the State, of goods for consumption, regardless of whether they have been transported in interstate commerce. Its only relationship to interstate commerce arises from the fact that immediately preceding the transfer of possession to the purchaser within the State, which is the taxable event regardless of the time and place of passing of title, the merchandise had been transported in interstate commerce and brought to its journey's end. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

A sales tax is a tax on the freedom of purchase and, when applied to interstate transactions, it is a tax on the privilege of doing interstate business, creates a burden on interstate commerce and runs counter to the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution. Conversely, a use tax is a tax on the enjoyment of that which was purchased after a sale has spent its interstate character. Atwater-Waynick Hosiery Mills, Inc. v. Clayton, 268 N.C. 673, 151 S.E.2d 574 (1966).

A use tax does not discriminate against interstate commerce since it is laid upon every purchaser, within the State, of goods for consumption, regardless of whether they have been transported in interstate commerce. Colo- nial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

The use tax does not impermissibly burden interstate commerce since it is a tax imposed on the enjoyment of goods after the sale has already spent its interstate character. It is designed to complement the sales tax and to reach transactions which cannot constitutionally be subject to a sales tax. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Provisions of this statute cannot be extended beyond clear import of language used, or their operation enlarged so as to embrace matters not specifically pointed out. Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

The terms "storage" and "use," as used in this section, must be given the meaning stated in the definitions under subdivisions (17), (18) and (19) [now (44), (49), and (45), respectively] of § 105-164.3. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Taxable Event for Assessment of Use Tax. — Regardless of the time and place of passing title, the taxable event for assessment of the use tax occurs when possession of the property is transferred to the purchaser within the taxing state for storage, use or consumption. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

If property is used to produce something which will add to the taxpayer's profit but the thing produced will not be sold subject to the sales tax, the sale of the property is not a sale to a manufacturer within the meaning of the Sales and Use Tax Act. Such a sale is subject to the Use Tax at the rate of four percent (three percent for the state and one percent for the county). Oscar Miller Contractor, Inc. v. North Carolina Tax Rev. Bd., 61 N.C. App. 725, 301 S.E.2d 511, cert. denied, 308 N.C. 677, 304 S.E.2d 756 (1983).

When Fuel Exempt from Sales and Use Taxes. — When fuel is the product of a mine and sold by the producer in its original unmanufactured state, it is exempt from sales and use taxes. Duke Power Co. v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 505, 164 S.E.2d 289 (1968).

Soliciting Orders. — Where one is engaged within this State in a regular business of soliciting orders for tailor-made clothing on commission, part of which he collects at the time the order is taken, and the clothes are shipped by the maker, who collects the balance of the price directly from the purchaser, such transaction is subject to the use tax and the solicitor is a retailer and an agent for collecting the use tax, for which he is liable on his failure to do so. Johnston v. Gill, 224 N.C. 638, 32 S.E.2d 30 (1944).

Prerequisites to Assessment of Tax. — See Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

Dominion over, Possession of, or Title to Property Must Be Acquired by Purchaser. — See Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

Lease of Transcription Tape to Broadcasting Station. — The former statute could not be construed to impose a tax on a broadcasting station where it purchased the right to rebroadcast programs recorded on a transcription tape and was given temporary custody of the tape in order to make use of the purchase. Watson Indus. v. Shaw, 235 N.C. 203, 69 S.E.2d 505 (1952).

Food, such as peanuts, pretzels, and other “munchies” offered by respondent restaurants to customers purchasing beverages at their bars, meals offered without charge to restaurant managers, and matches provided free of charge to customers were not subject to use tax under subsection (a) because respondents included the cost of all the various items in their menu-item prices and collected sales taxes on those items. In re Rock-Ola Cafe, 111 N.C. App. 683, 433 S.E.2d 236 (1993), discretionary review improvidently granted, 336 N.C. 58, 441 S.E.2d 551 (1994).

Statute of Limitations. — The collection of a use or excise tax being subject to the same statute of limitations, which applies to the collection of the sales tax, a use or excise tax which accrued in the year 1937 was held barred by the three-year statute of limitations when assessed in 1942. Standard Fertilizer Co. v. Gill, 225 N.C. 426, 35 S.E.2d 275 (1945).

eral to Mr. Eric L. Gooch, Director, Sales and Use Tax Division, N.C. Department of Revenue, 40 N.C.A.G. 887 (1969).

§ 105-164.6A. Voluntary collection of use tax by sellers.

(a) Voluntary Collection Agreements. — The Secretary may enter into agreements with sellers pursuant to which the seller agrees to collect and remit on behalf of its customers State and local use taxes due on items of tangible personal property the seller sells. For the purpose of this section, a seller is a person who is engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property for use in this State and who does not have sufficient nexus with this State to be required to collect use tax on the sales.

(b) Mandatory Provisions. — The agreements must contain the following provisions:

- (1) The seller is not liable for use tax not paid to it by a customer.
- (2) A customer's payment of a use tax to the seller relieves the customer of liability for the use tax.
- (3) The seller must remit all use taxes it collects from customers on or before the due date specified in the agreement, which may not be later than 31 days after the end of a quarter or other collection period.
- (4) A seller who fails to remit use taxes collected on behalf of its customers by the due date specified in the agreement is subject to the interest and penalties provided in Article 9 of this Chapter with respect to the taxes to the same extent as if the seller were a retailer and were required to collect use taxes under this Article.

(c) Optional Provisions. — The agreements may contain the following provisions:

- (1) The seller will collect the use tax only on items that are subject to the general rate of tax.

- (2) The seller will collect local use taxes only to the extent they are at the same rate in every unit of local government in the State.
- (3) The seller will remit the tax and file reports in the form prescribed by the Secretary.
- (4) Other provisions establishing the types of transactions on which the seller will collect tax and prescribing administrative procedures and requirements. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 11; 2000-120, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-120, s. 4, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote subdivision (b)(1), which read “The customer may elect to pay the use tax directly to the Secretary in accordance with law rather than to the seller.”

§ 105-164.7. Sales tax part of purchase price.

Every retailer subject to the tax levied in G.S. 105-164.4 shall at the time of selling or delivering or taking an order for the sale or delivery of taxable tangible personal property or a taxable service, or collecting the sales price, add to the sales price the amount of tax due. The tax constitutes a part of the purchase price, is a debt from the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and is recoverable at law in the same manner as other debts. The tax must be stated and charged separately from the sales price, shown separately on the retailer's sales records, and paid by the purchaser to the retailer as trustee for and on account of the State. The retailer is liable for the collection of the tax and for its payment to the Secretary. The retailer's failure to charge to or collect the tax from the purchaser does not affect this liability. It is the intent of this Article that the tax be added to the sales price of tangible personal property and services when sold at retail and be borne and passed on to the customer, instead of being borne by the retailer. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 2000-19, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-19, s. 20, contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 21, authorizes the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to study alternative dry-cleaning processes and equipment, evaluating the benefits and costs as well as the feasibility of installing and implementing these, and to make a final report to the Environmental Review Commission no later than September 1, 2001, with findings, recommendations, and any legislative proposals.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 22, as amended by Session Laws 2001-265, s. 4, provides: “This act constitutes a recent act of the General Assembly within the meaning of G.S. 150B-21.1. The Environmental Management Commission and the Commission on Health Services may adopt temporary rules to implement the provisions of this act until 1 July 2002.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-19, s. 1.3, effective June 26, 2000, rewrote the section.

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — The cases below were decided prior to the 2000 amendment to this section.

Sales Tax Intended to Be Passed on to Consumer. — Even though the sales tax is primarily a license or privilege tax on retailers, the intent of the law is that the sales tax be passed on to the consumer. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

But this section does not relieve the retailer of any tax liability; it provides him a ready legal means for recoupment. Piedmont

Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Failure to Charge or Collect Tax Does Not Affect Retailer's Liability. — The tax must be added to the purchase price and constitutes a debt from purchaser to retailer until paid, but failure to charge or collect the tax from purchaser shall not affect retailer's liability. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

The retailer is not to be excused from liability merely because it is to his advantage to make use of a method of selling which will not permit him to keep a proper record of sales or to make the collections required by law. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962); Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

Failure to charge or collect the tax from purchaser does not relieve the retailer of any tax liability. Fisher v. Jones, 15 N.C. App. 737, 190 S.E.2d 663 (1972).

Notwithstanding that it is the intent of the law that the sales tax shall be passed on to the customer and that it not be borne by the retailer, the retailer is liable to the Secretary for the tax if he fails to collect it from his vendee or, in a proper case, from his lessee. Long Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 264 N.C. 12, 140 S.E.2d 744 (1965).

Effect of Failure to Add Tax at Proper Time. — In an action to determine who was liable to the Secretary of Revenue for the sales tax from a transaction, plaintiff retailer could not collect from defendant purchaser for sales taxes on materials sold by plaintiff to defendant where plaintiff failed to add sales taxes to the sales price of the material at the “time of selling or delivering or taking an order” as required by this section. Carolina-Atlantic Distribs., Inc. v. Teachey’s Insulation, Inc., 51 N.C. App. 705, 277 S.E.2d 460 (1981).

In bankruptcy proceedings, both collected and uncollected sales taxes under this section will be accorded unlimited priority of payment pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)-(7)(C), which accords priority status to taxes required to be collected by a party and held for the government. ## § 105-164.8. Retailer’s obligation to collect tax; mail order sales subject to tax.

(a) Sales Tax. — Every retailer engaged in business in this State as defined in this Article shall collect said tax notwithstanding

- (1) That the purchaser’s order or the contract of sale is delivered, mailed or otherwise transmitted by the purchaser to the retailer at a point outside this State as a result of solicitation by the retailer through the medium of a catalogue or other written advertisement; or
- (2) That the purchaser’s order or the contract of sale is made or closed by acceptance or approval outside this State, or before said tangible personal property enters this State; or
- (3) That the purchaser’s order or the contract of sale provides that said property shall be or is in fact procured or manufactured at a point outside this State and shipped directly to the purchaser from the point of origin; or
- (4) That said property is mailed to the purchaser in this State or a point outside this State or delivered to a carrier outside this State f.o.b. or otherwise and directed to the purchaser in this State regardless of whether the cost of transportation is paid by the retailer or by the purchaser; or
- (5) That said property is delivered directly to the purchaser at a point outside this State; or
- (6) Any combination in whole or in part of any two or more of the foregoing statements of fact, if it is intended that the tangible personal property purchased be brought to this State for storage, use or consumption in this State.

(b) Mail Order Sales. — A retailer who makes a mail order sale is engaged in business in this State and is subject to the tax levied under this Article if one of the following conditions is met:

- (1) The retailer is a corporation engaged in business under the laws of this State or a person domiciled in, a resident of, or a citizen of, this State;
- (2) The retailer maintains retail establishments or offices in this State, whether the mail order sales thus subject to taxation by this State result from or are related in any other way to the activities of such establishments or offices;
- (3) The retailer has representatives in this State who solicit business or transact business on behalf of the retailer, whether the mail order sales thus subject to taxation by this State result from or are related in any other way to such solicitation or transaction of business;

- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 45, s. 16.
- (5) The retailer, by purposefully or systematically exploiting the market provided by this State by any media-assisted, media-facilitated, or media-solicited means, including direct mail advertising, distribution of catalogs, computer-assisted shopping, television, radio or other electronic media, telephone solicitation, magazine or newspaper advertisements, or other media, creates nexus with this State;
- (6) Through compact or reciprocity with another jurisdiction of the United States, that jurisdiction uses its taxing power and its jurisdiction over the retailer in support of this State's taxing power; or
- (7) The retailer consents, expressly or by implication, to the imposition of the tax imposed by this Article. For purposes of this subdivision, evidence that a retailer engaged in the activity described in subdivision (5) shall be prima facie evidence that the retailer consents to the imposition of the tax imposed by this Article.

(c) Use Tax. — A retailer who is required to collect the tax imposed by this Article must collect a local use tax on a transaction if a local sales tax does not apply to the transaction. The sourcing principles in G.S. 105-164.4B determine whether a local sales tax or a local use tax applies to a transaction. A "local sales tax" is a tax imposed under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws or by Subchapter VIII of this Chapter, and a local use tax is a use tax imposed under that act or Subchapter. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1096, s. 4; 1991, c. 45, s. 16; 2001-347, s. 2.10.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, referred to in subsection (c) of this section, relates to sales and use tax for Mecklenburg County.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.10, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "Retailer's obligation to collect tax" for "Retailer to collect tax regardless of place sale consummated" in the section heading; added subsection catchlines in subsections (a) and (b); and added subsection (c).

§ 105-164.9. Advertisement to absorb tax unlawful.

Any retailer who shall by any character or public advertisement offer to absorb the tax levied in this Article or in any manner directly or indirectly advertise that the tax herein imposed is not considered an element in the price to the purchaser shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. Any violations of the provisions of this section reported to the Secretary shall be reported by him to the Attorney General of the State to the end that such violations may be brought to the attention of the solicitor of the court of the county or district whose duty it is to prosecute misdemeanors in the jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of such solicitor to investigate such alleged violations and if he finds that this section has been violated prosecute such violators in accordance with the law. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 539, s. 704; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-164.10. Retail bracket system.

For the convenience of the retailer in collecting the tax due under this Article, the Secretary shall prescribe tables that compute the tax due on sales by rounding off the amount of tax due to the nearest whole cent. The Secretary shall issue a separate table for each rate of tax that may apply to a sale, including the general rate established in G.S. 105-164.4, preferential rates, and combined State and local rates. Use of the tables prescribed by the Secretary does not relieve a retailer of liability for the applicable rate of tax due on the gross receipts or net taxable sales of the retailer. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 689, s. 313.)

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — This section does not render the sales tax unconstitutional as violating the due process clause of the State Constitution or U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

The seller of goods through vending machines was in no position to attack the sales tax statute as discriminatory in that no tax is collected on sales of less than 10¢, where approximately 76% of the seller's receipts came from items priced at 10¢ or above, and thus assuming the average sale to be 20¢, the seller must have collected 5% on more than three fourths of its total receipts. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Bracket system is for the convenience of the retailer. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

The 1957 act made no material change in the effect of the bracket system, which had previously been in force pursuant to a regulation of the Secretary of Revenue, and made no change in the nature of the tax by reason of the inclusion of the bracket system in the act itself. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Retailer Not Relieved of Liability. — The legislature was careful to state, in all instances where administrative provisions might be construed to shift the burden of the tax from retailer to purchaser, that such provisions do not relieve the retailer from his privilege tax liability. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Goods Not Exempt Because of Smallness of Unit Price. — This Article in no particular exempts goods from the tax on retailers because of smallness of unit price. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

Section Has Reference to Sales, Not Unit Price of Goods. — The bracket system provides that a retailer shall collect from a purchaser "no amount on sales of less than 10¢," and it has reference to sales, not unit price of goods. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

If a customer buys two or more items priced at less than ten cents each so that the sale amounts to ten cents or more, the retailer's failure to collect said tax from the purchaser shall not affect the retailer's liability to the State. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

§ 105-164.11. Excessive and erroneous collections.

When the tax collected for any period is in excess of the total amount that should have been collected, the total amount collected must be paid over to the Secretary. When tax is collected for any period on exempt or nontaxable sales the tax erroneously collected shall be remitted to the Secretary and no refund shall be made to a taxpayer unless the purchaser has received credit for or has been refunded the amount of tax erroneously charged. This provision shall be construed with other provisions of this Article and given effect so as to result in the payment to the Secretary of the total amount collected as tax if it is in excess of the amount that should have been collected. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 4.)

§ 105-164.12A. Electric golf cart and battery charger considered a single article.

The sale of an electric golf cart and a battery charger that is not physically attached to the golf cart is considered the sale of a single article of tangible personal property in imposing tax under this Article if the battery charger is designed to recharge the golf cart and is sold to the purchaser of the golf cart when the golf cart is sold. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 901.)

§ 105-164.12B. Bundled transactions.

(a) Bundled Transaction Defined. — A bundled transaction is a transaction in which all of the following conditions are met:

- (1) A seller transfers an item of tangible personal property to a consumer on the condition that the consumer enter into an agreement to purchase services on an ongoing basis for a minimum period of at least six months.
- (2) The agreement requires the consumer to pay a cancellation fee to the service provider if the consumer cancels the contract for services within the minimum period.
- (3) For the item transferred, the seller:
  - a. Does not charge the consumer; or
  - b. Charges the consumer a price that, after any discount or rebate the seller gives the consumer, is below the purchase price the seller paid for the item.

(b) Bundled Transaction Is a Sale; Sales Price. — If a seller transfers an item of tangible personal property as part of a bundled transaction, a sale has occurred, and the sales price of the item is presumed to be the retail price at which the item would sell if no agreement for services were entered into. Part of this price may be paid by the consumer at the time of the transfer; the remainder of the price is considered paid as part of the price to be paid for the services contracted for. Sales tax is due on any part of the price paid by the consumer at the time of the transfer.

(c) No Additional Sales Tax if Services Taxed. — If the services for which the consumer was required to contract are subject to services taxes at a combined rate equal to or greater than the combined State and local general rate of sales and use tax, then no additional sales tax is due on the transfer. However, if the consumer cancels the contract for services before the expiration of the minimum period, sales tax applies to the cancellation fee paid by the consumer.

(d) Additional Sales Tax if Services Not Taxed. — If the services for which the consumer was required to contract are not subject to services taxes at a combined rate equal to or greater than the combined State and local general rate of sales and use tax, then sales tax is due at the time of the transfer on the remainder of the sales price not paid at that time.

(e) Services Taxes Defined. — For the purpose of this section, the term “services taxes” means any combination of State franchise tax on gross receipts, State sales tax, or local sales tax levied on the sale of or gross receipts from the services.

(f) Determination of Purchase Price. — For the purpose of this section, the purchase price a seller paid for an item is presumed to be no greater than the price the seller paid for the same model within 12 months before the bundled transaction, as shown on the seller’s invoices. (1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 5.1; 2001-414, ss. 16, 17.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.2(5), made this section effective on the earliest date practicable (November 1, 1996), and provides that the earliest date practicable is considered to be the first day of the third month following the ratification of the act (August 2, 1996). The act further provides that this section is applicable to sales made on or after the effective date.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c.

13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 200-414, ss. 16 and 17, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "purchase price" for "cost price" in (a)(3)b. and twice in (f).

Part 3. Exemptions and Exclusions.

§ 105-164.13. Retail sales and use tax.

The sale at retail, the use, storage or consumption in this State of the following tangible personal property is specifically exempted from the tax imposed by this Article:

Agricultural Group.

- (1) Commercial fertilizer, lime, land plaster, and seeds sold to a farmer for agricultural purposes.
- (2) Repealed by Session Laws 2001, c. 514, s. 1, effective February 1, 2002.
- (2a) Any of the following when purchased for use on animals or plants, as appropriate, held or produced for commercial purposes:
  - a. Remedies, vaccines, medications, litter materials, and feeds for animals.
  - b. Rodenticides, insecticides, herbicides, fungicides, and pesticides.
  - c. Defoliants for use on cotton or other crops.
  - d. Plant growth inhibitors, regulators, or stimulators, including systemic and contact or other sucker control agents for tobacco and other crops.
- (3) Products of forests and mines in their original or unmanufactured state when such sales are made by the producer in the capacity of producer.
- (4) Cotton, tobacco, peanuts or other farm products sold to manufacturers for further manufacturing or processing.
- (4a) Baby chicks and poults sold for commercial poultry or egg production.
- (4b) Products of a farm sold in their original state by the producer of the products if the producer is not primarily a retail merchant and ice used to preserve agriculture, aquaculture and commercial fishery products until the products are sold at retail.
- (4c) Any of the following:
  - a. Commercially manufactured facilities to be used for commercial purposes for housing, raising, or feeding animals or for housing equipment necessary for these commercial activities.
  - b. Building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of and are used in the construction, repair, or improvement of an enclosure or a structure specifically designed, constructed, and used for housing, raising, or feeding animals or for housing equipment necessary for one of these commercial activities.
  - c. Commercially manufactured equipment, and parts and accessories for the equipment, used in a facility that is exempt from tax under this subdivision or in an enclosure or a structure whose building materials are exempt from tax under this subdivision.

- (4d) The lease or rental of tobacco sheets used in handling tobacco in the warehouse and transporting tobacco to and from the warehouse.

Industrial Group.

- (5) Manufactured products produced and sold by manufacturers or producers to other manufacturers, producers, or registered retailers or wholesale merchants, for the purpose of resale except as modified by G.S. 105-164.3(23). This exemption does not extend to or include retail sales to users or consumers not for resale.
- (5a) (Effective January 1, 2006) Mill machinery and mill machinery parts and accessories that are subject to tax under Article 5F of this Chapter.
- (6) Repealed by Session Laws 1989 (Regular Session, 1990), c. 1068, s. 1.
- (7) Sales of products of waters in their original or unmanufactured state when such sales are made by the producer in the capacity of producer. Fish and seafoods are likewise exempt when sold by the fisherman in that capacity.
- (8) Sales to a manufacturer of tangible personal property that enters into or becomes an ingredient or component part of tangible personal property that is manufactured. This exemption does not apply to sales of electricity.
- (8a) Sales to a small power production facility, as defined in 16 U.S.C. § 796(17)(A), of fuel used by the facility to generate electricity.
- (9) Sales of boats, fuel oil, lubricating oils, machinery, equipment, nets, rigging, paints, parts, accessories, and supplies to persons for use by them principally in commercial fishing operations within the meaning of G.S. 113-168, except when the property is for use by persons principally to take fish for recreation or personal use or consumption. As used in this subdivision, "fish" is defined as in G.S. 113-129(7).
- (10) Sales to commercial laundries or to pressing and dry cleaning establishments of articles or materials used for the identification of garments being laundered or dry cleaned, wrapping paper, bags, hangers, starch, soaps, detergents, cleaning fluids and other compounds or chemicals applied directly to the garments in the direct performance of the laundering or the pressing and cleaning service.

Motor Fuels Group.

- (10a) Sales to a major recycling facility of (i) lubricants and other additives for motor vehicles or machinery and equipment used at the facility and (ii) materials, supplies, parts, and accessories, other than machinery and equipment, that are not capitalized by the taxpayer and are used or consumed in the manufacturing and material handling processes at the facility.
- (10b) Sales to a major recycling facility of electricity used at the facility.
- (11) Any of the following fuel:
  - a. Motor fuel, as defined in G.S. 105-449.60, except motor fuel for which a refund of the per gallon excise tax is allowed under G.S. 105-449.105A or G.S. 105-449.107.
  - b. Alternative fuel taxed under Article 36D of this Chapter, unless a refund of that tax is allowed under G.S. 105-449.107.
- (11a) Sales of diesel fuel to railroad companies for use in rolling stock other than motor vehicles. The definitions in G.S. 105-333 apply in this subdivision.

Medical Group.

- (12) Sales of any of the following items:
  - a. Therapeutic, prosthetic, or artificial devices, such as pulmonary respirators or medical beds, that are designed for individual personal use to correct or alleviate physical illness, disease, or incapacity and that are sold on the written prescription of a physician, dentist, or other professional person licensed to prescribe.
  - b. Crutches, artificial limbs, artificial eyes, hearing aids, false teeth, eyeglasses ground on prescription of a physician or an optometrist.
  - c. Orthopedic appliances designed to be worn by the purchaser or user.
  - d. Durable medical equipment and related medical supplies that are covered under the Medicare or Medicaid program and are sold on either a certificate of medical necessity or a written prescription of a physician, dentist, or other professional person licensed to prescribe. This exemption applies whether or not the item is purchased by a Medicare or Medicaid beneficiary.
- (13) All of the following drugs, including the constituent elements and ingredients used to produce the drugs, the packaging materials, and any instructions or information about the product included in the package with the drugs:
  - a. Prescription drugs.
  - b. Nonprescription drugs sold on prescription of physicians, dentists, or veterinarians.
  - c. Insulin.
- (13a) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 16.
- (13b) Repealed by Session Laws 1999, c. 438, s. 7, effective October 1, 1999.
- (13c) Nutritional supplements sold by a chiropractic physician at a chiropractic office to a patient as part of the patient's plan of treatment, as authorized by G.S. 90-151.1.

Printed Materials Group.

- (14) Public school books on the adopted list, the selling price of which is fixed by State contract.
- (14a) Recodified as subdivision (33a) by Session Laws 2000-120, s. 5, effective July 14, 2000.

Transactions Group.

- (15) Accounts of purchasers, representing taxable sales, on which the tax imposed by this Article has been paid, that are found to be worthless and actually charged off for income tax purposes may, at corresponding periods, be deducted from gross sales, provided, however, they must be added to gross sales if afterwards collected.
- (16) Sales of an article repossessed by the vendor if tax was paid on the sales price of the article.

Exempt Status Group.

- (17) Sales which a state would be without power to tax under the limitations of the Constitution or laws of the United States or under the Constitution of this State.

Unclassified Group.

- (18) Funeral expenses, including coffins and caskets, not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). All other funeral expenses, including gross receipts for services rendered, shall be taxable at the general rate of tax set in G.S. 105-164.4. However, "services rendered" shall not include those services which have been taxed pursuant to G.S. 105-164.4(4), or to those services performed by any beautician, cosmetologist, hairdresser or barber employed by or at the specific direction of the family or personal representative of a deceased; and "funeral expenses" and "services rendered" shall not include death certificates procured by or at the specific direction of the family or personal representative of a deceased. Where coffins, caskets or vaults are purchased direct and a separate charge is paid for services, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply to the total for both.
- (19) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 618, s. 1.
- (20) Sales by blind merchants operating under supervision of the Department of Health and Human Services.
- (21) The lease or rental of motion picture films used for exhibition purposes where the lease or rental of such property is an established business or part of an established business or the same is incidental or germane to said business of the lessee.
- (22) The lease or rental of films, motion picture films, transcriptions and recordings to radio stations and television stations operating under a certificate from the Federal Communications Commission.
- (22a) Sales of audiovisual masters made or used by a production company in making visual and audio images for first generation reproduction. For the purpose of this subdivision, an "audiovisual master" is an audio or video film, tape, or disk or another audio or video storage device from which all other copies are made.
- (23) Sales of the following packaging items:
  - a. Wrapping paper, labels, wrapping twine, paper, cloth, plastic bags, cartons, packages and containers, cores, cones or spools, wooden boxes, baskets, coops and barrels, including paper cups, napkins and drinking straws and like articles sold to manufacturers, producers and retailers, when such materials are used for packaging, shipment or delivery of tangible personal property which is sold either at wholesale or retail and when such articles constitute a part of the sale of such tangible personal property and are delivered with it to the customer.
  - b. A container that is used as packaging by the owner of the container or another person to enclose tangible personal property for delivery to a purchaser of the property and is required to be returned to its owner for reuse.
- (24) Sales of fuel and other items of tangible personal property for use or consumption by or on ocean-going vessels which ply the high seas in interstate or foreign commerce in the transport of freight and/or passengers for hire exclusively, when delivered to an officer or agent of such vessel for the use of such vessel; provided, however, that sales of fuel and other items of tangible personal property made to officers, agents, members of the crew or passengers of such vessels for their personal use shall not be exempted from payment of the sales tax.
- (25) Sales by merchants on the Cherokee Indian Reservation when such merchants are authorized to do business on the Reservation and are paying the tribal gross receipts levy to the Tribal Council.
- (26) Food sold not for profit by public or private school cafeterias within school buildings during the regular school day.

- (26a) Food sold not for profit by a public school cafeteria to a child care center that participates in the Child and Adult Care Food Program of the Department of Public Instruction.
- (27) Meals and food products served to students in dining rooms regularly operated by State or private educational institutions or student organizations thereof.
- (28) Sales of newspapers by newspaper street vendors, by newspaper carriers making door-to-door deliveries, and by means of vending machines and sales of magazines by magazine vendors making door-to-door sales.
- (29) Sales to the North Carolina Museum of Art of paintings and other objects or works of art for public display, the purchases of which are financed in whole or in part by gifts or donations.
- (29a) Repealed by Session Laws 1995 (Regular Session, 1996), c. 646, s. 5.
- (30) Sales from vending machines when sold by the owner or lessee of said machines at a price of one cent (1¢) per sale.
- (31) Sales of meals not for profit to elderly and incapacitated persons by charitable or religious organizations not operated for profit which are entitled to the refunds provided by G.S. 105-164.14(b), when such meals are delivered to the purchasers at their places of abode.
- (31a) Food sold by a church or religious organization not operated for profit when the proceeds of the sales are actually used for religious activities.
- (31b) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 14, s. 16.
- (32) Sales of motor vehicles, the sale of a motor vehicle body to be mounted on a motor vehicle chassis when a certificate of title has not been issued for the chassis, and the sale of a motor vehicle body mounted on a motor vehicle chassis that temporarily enters the State so the manufacturer of the body can mount the body on the chassis.
- (33) Tangible personal property purchased solely for the purpose of export to a foreign country for exclusive use or consumption in that or some other foreign country, either in the direct performance or rendition of professional or commercial services, or in the direct conduct or operation of a trade or business, all of which purposes are actually consummated, or purchased by the government of a foreign country for export which purpose is actually consummated. "Export" shall include the acts of possessing and marshalling such property, by either the seller or the purchaser, for transportation to a foreign country, but shall not include devoting such property to any other use in North Carolina or the United States. "Foreign country" shall not include any territory or possession of the United States.

In order to qualify for this exemption, an affidavit of export indicating compliance with the terms and conditions of this exemption, as prescribed by the Secretary of Revenue, must be submitted by the purchaser to the seller, and retained by the seller to evidence qualification for the exemption.

If the purposes qualifying the property for exemption are not consummated, the purchaser shall be liable for the tax which was avoided by the execution of the aforesaid affidavit as well as for applicable penalties and interest and the affidavit shall contain express provision that the purchaser has recognized and assumed such liability.

The principal purpose of this exemption is to encourage the flow of commerce through North Carolina ports that is now moving through out-of-state ports. However, it is not intended that property acquired for personal use or consumption by the purchaser, including gifts, shall be exempt hereunder.

- (33a) Tangible personal property sold by a retailer to a purchaser within or without this State, when the property is delivered in this State to a common carrier or to the United States Postal Service for delivery to the purchaser or the purchaser's designees outside this State and the purchaser does not subsequently use the property in this State.
- (34) Sales of items by a nonprofit civic, charitable, educational, scientific or literary organization when the net proceeds of the sales will be given or contributed to the State of North Carolina or to one or more of its agencies or instrumentalities, or to one or more nonprofit charitable organizations, one of whose purposes is to serve as a conduit through which such net proceeds will flow to the State or to one or more of its agencies or instrumentalities.
- (35) Sales by a nonprofit civic, charitable, educational, scientific, literary, or fraternal organization when all of the following conditions are met:
  - a. The sales are conducted only upon an annual basis for the purpose of raising funds for the organization's activities.
  - b. The proceeds of the sale are actually used for the organization's activities.
  - c. The products sold are delivered to the purchaser within 60 days after the first solicitation of any sale made during the organization's annual sales period.
- (36) Advertising supplements and any other printed matter ultimately to be distributed with or as part of a newspaper.
- (37) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(a), effective December 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date.
- (38) Food and other items lawfully purchased under the Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51, and supplemental foods lawfully purchased with a food instrument issued under the Special Supplemental Food Program, 42 U.S.C. § 1786, and supplemental foods purchased for direct distribution by the Special Supplemental Food Program.
- (39) Repealed by Session Laws 1999-438, s. 10, effective October 1, 1999.
- (40) Sales to the Department of Transportation.
- (41) Sales of mobile classrooms to local boards of education or to local boards of trustees of community colleges.
- (42) Tangible personal property that is purchased by a retailer for resale or is manufactured or purchased by a wholesale merchant for resale and then withdrawn from inventory and donated by the retailer or wholesale merchant to either a governmental entity or a nonprofit organization, contributions to which are deductible as charitable contributions for federal income tax purposes.
- (43) Custom computer software. — "Custom computer software" is software written in accordance with the specifications of a specific customer. The term includes a user manual or other documentation that accompanies the sale of the software. The term does not include prewritten software that can be installed and executed with no changes to the software's source code other than changes made to configure hardware or software.
- (44) Piped natural gas. — This item is exempt because it is taxed under Article 5E of this Chapter.
- (45) Sales of the following items to an interstate passenger air carrier or an interstate air courier for use at its hub: aircraft lubricants, aircraft repair parts, and aircraft accessories.
- (46) Sales of electricity by a municipality whose only wholesale supplier of electric power is a federal agency and who is required by a contract with that federal agency to make payments in lieu of taxes.
- (47) An amount charged as a deposit on a beverage container that is returnable to the vendor for reuse when the amount is refundable or creditable to the vendee, whether or not the deposit is separately charged.

- (48) An amount charged as a deposit on an aeronautic, automotive, industrial, marine, or farm replacement part that is returnable to the vendor for rebuilding or remanufacturing when the amount is refundable or creditable to the vendee, whether or not the deposit is separately charged. This exemption does not include tires or batteries.
- (49) Installation charges when the charges are separately stated.
- (50) Fifty percent (50%) of the sales price of tangible personal property sold through a coin-operated vending machine, other than closed-container soft drinks and tobacco. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 670; c. 1259, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; cc. 1103, 1163; 1963, c. 1169, ss. 7-9; 1965, c. 1041; 1967, c. 756; 1969, c. 907; 1971, c. 990; 1973, c. 476, s. 143; c. 708, s. 1; cc. 1064, 1076; c. 1287, s. 8; 1975, 2nd Sess., c. 982; 1977, c. 771, s. 4; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1219, s. 43.6; 1979, c. 46, ss. 1, 2; c. 156, s. 1; c. 201; c. 625, ss. 1, 2; c. 801, ss. 74, 75; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1099, s. 1; 1981, cc. 14, 207, 982; 1983, c. 156; c. 570, s. 21; c. 713, ss. 91, 92; c. 873; c. 887; 1983 (Reg. Editor's Note. — The reference in subdivision (18) above to G.S. 105-164.4(4) was apparently intended to be a reference to G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4).

The reference in subdivision (5) to § 105-164.3(23) should now refer to § 105-164.3(51). See editor's note at § 105-164.3 regarding Session Laws 2001-476, s. 18(c), which authorizes the renumbering of the definitions in that section to maintain their alphabetical order.

Session Laws 1989, c. 692, s. 8.4, as amended by Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 590, s. 7, and by Session Laws 1999-380, s. 3, provides that when contracts for all projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 have been let and sufficient revenue has been accumulated to pay the contracts, the Secretary of Transportation shall certify this occurrence by letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the Secretary of State, which contingency is not expected to happen until the year 2020. Proceeds of bonds and notes issued pursuant to the State Highway Bond Act of 1996 shall not be included as revenues accumulated to pay the contracts for projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes. Section 8.4(9) of c. 692 amends subsection (32) of this section by deleting "Sales of motor vehicles" at the beginning, effective the first day of the calendar quarter following the date the Secretary sends the letter, unless there is less than 30 days between that date and the first day of the following quarter, in which case, the amendment will become effective the first day of the second calendar quarter following the date the letter is sent.

Subdivisions (39)(1) through (39)(4) were redesignated as subdivisions (39)a. to (39)d. pursuant to Session Laws 1997-456, s. 27, which authorized the Revisor of Statutes to renumber or reletter sections and parts of sections having a number or letter designation that is incompatible with the General Assembly's computer database.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 6 and Session Laws 1998-55, s. 9 each added a subdivision (44). The subdivision (44) added by Session Laws 1998-55, s. 9 was to go into effect on January 1, 2001; it was redesignated as subdivision (45) at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes. This subdivision was subsequently repealed by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 7(a), effective retroactively to May 1, 1999, and hence never went into effect.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before that effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.2, makes subdivision (5a) effective January 1, 2006, and subdivisions (47) through (50) effective January 1, 2002.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 6, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, added subdivision (44).

Session Laws 1998-55, s. 9, effective January 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added a subdivision (45), relating to sales to an interstate air courier. This subdivision was subsequently repealed by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 7(a), effective retroactively to May 1, 1999, and hence never went into effect.

Session Laws 1998-225, s. 4.3, effective July 1, 1999, in subdivision (9), substituted "G.S. 113-168" for "G.S. 113-152."

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 31, effective July 22, 1999, deleted "burlap" following "rental of" in subdivision (4d).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 7(a), effective retroactively as of May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, repealed Session Laws 1998-55, s. 9, which would have added, effective January 1, 2001, a subdivision (45), relating to sales to an interstate air carrier for a use at its hub.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 7(b), effective retroactively as of May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, added present subdivision (45).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 7(c), effective January 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, inserted "or an interstate air courier" in subdivision (45).

Session Laws 1999-438, ss. 5 to 11, effective October 1, 1999, rewrote subdivisions (12), (13), (16) and (35); repealed subdivision (13b), regarding prescription drugs, and repealed subdivision (39), regarding sales of paper, ink, and other personal property; and inserted "either" and "governmental entity or a" in subdivision (42).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 12, effective August 10, 1999, added subdivision (46).

Session Laws 2000-120, s. 5, effective July 14, 2000, recodified former subdivision (14a) as subdivision (33a), and in that subdivision substituted "Tangible personal property sold by a retailer" for "Printed material which is sold by a printer," substituted the first instance of "the property" for "such printed material," substituted "State and" for "State, if," and substituted "subsequently use the property" for "thereafter use the printed material."

Session Laws 2000-153, s. 5, effective August 2, 2000, deleted the former last sentence in subdivision (22a), which read "For the purpose of this subdivision, a production company is a person engaged in the business of making motion picture, television, or radio images for theatrical, commercial, advertising, or educational purposes."

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.9, added subdivisions (5a), (47), (48), (49) and (50). See editor's note for effective dates.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.23(a), effective December 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, repealed subdivision (37), relating to the exemption of spirituous liquor from retail and sales use tax.

Session Laws 2001-476, s. (17)(e), effective November 29, 2001, in subdivision (8), substituted "to a manufacturer of tangible personal property that" for "of tangible personal property to a manufacturer which" in the first sentence, and added the final sentence.

Session Laws 2001-509, s. 1, effective January 1, 2002, in subdivision (28), deleted "and" following "vendors," and inserted "and by means of vending machines."

Session Laws 2001-514, s. 1, effective February 1, 2002, rewrote subdivision (1); and deleted subdivision (2), which read, "Seeds."

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under the former law.

Subsection (14) Violates Free Press Clause of United States Constitution. — Religious literature exemption contained in subsection (14) of this section violates free press clause of United States Constitution. Finlator v. Powers, 902 F.2d 1158 (4th Cir. 1990).

And Violates Establishment Clause of United States Constitution. — Religious literature exemption contained in subsection (14) of this section contravenes the establishment clause of United States Constitution. Finlator v. Powers, 902 F.2d 1158 (4th Cir. 1990).

Religious literature exemption contained in subsection (14) of this section differentiates between Christian sacred text and other publications, both sacred and nonsacred and Christian and non-Christian. This distinction forces State to discriminate on basis of contents of book, text or other published work, which is intolerable under U.S. Const., Amend. I. Finlator v. Powers, 902 F.2d 1158 (4th Cir. 1990).

Power to exempt from taxation, as well as the power to tax, is an essential attribute of sovereignty. Sale v. Johnson, 258 N.C. 749, 129 S.E.2d 465 (1963).

Statutes Strictly Construed. — Statutes providing exemption from taxation are strictly construed. Sale v. Johnson, 258 N.C. 749, 129 S.E.2d 465 (1963).

Provisions in a tax statute granting exemptions from the tax thereby imposed are to be strictly construed in favor of the imposition of the tax and against the claim of exemption. Hatteras Yacht Co. v. High, 265 N.C. 653, 144 S.E.2d 821 (1965).

Exemption Is Never Presumed. — The general rule is that a grant of exemption from taxation is never presumed. Sale v. Johnson, 258 N.C. 749, 129 S.E.2d 465 (1963).

Claimant Has Burden. — One who claims an exemption or exception from tax coverage has the burden of bringing himself within the exemption or exception. Piedmont Canteen Serv., Inc. v. Johnson, 256 N.C. 155, 123 S.E.2d 582 (1962).

For meaning of "original or unmanufactured state" in subdivision (3), see Duke Power Co. v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 505, 164 S.E.2d 289 (1968).

Sales Tax Is Unconstitutional if Transaction Is Interstate. — A sales tax is a tax on the freedom of purchase, and, when applied to interstate transactions, is a tax on the privilege of doing interstate commerce, creates a burden on interstate commerce, and runs counter to the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

Delivery to Carrier for Transportation Out of State Makes Property Immune from Local Taxation. — The unconditional commitment of property to a common carrier for transportation in regular course to another state or country is generally held to place it in the stream of interstate or foreign commerce, so as to render it immune from local taxation. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

But Principle Is Inapplicable to Deliveries to Purchasers in State. — The principle of law that the unconditional commitment of property to a common carrier for transportation in regular course to another state or country places it in the stream of interstate or foreign commerce, so as to render it immune from local taxation, is not applicable where the material was delivered to the purchasers in North Carolina, the taxing jurisdiction. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

Despite Intention to Use Goods Out of State. — The mere intention of the buyer and the seller that the goods sold be used outside of the State does not make the sales transaction any less a local intrastate activity. Where the delivery of the goods sold is in the taxing state and is accepted within the taxing state, a sales tax may lawfully be imposed upon the transaction. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

Incidental interstate attributes do not transform purely local transactions into interstate transactions and thereby create a burden on interstate commerce and run counter to the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

Sales Held Intrastate and Subject to Sales Tax. — Sale of goods to interstate carriers for use by the carriers at terminals outside this State are intrastate transactions subject to the North Carolina sales tax when the goods are delivered to the carriers at the seller's plant in this State notwithstanding the carriers take the goods f.o.b. the seller's plant under bills of lading with themselves as consignees at the respective terminals, without transportation charges, and inspection of the goods is had at, and payment is forwarded from, such foreign terminals. The imposition of such tax does not offend the Commerce Clause of the federal Constitution. Excel, Inc. v. Clayton, 269 N.C. 127, 152 S.E.2d 171 (1967).

Purchases by Housing Authority. — Neither the Constitution of this State nor the Constitution and laws of the United States prohibit the collection of a sales tax on purchases of tangible personal property made by a housing authority duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the Housing Authorities Law (§ 157-1 et seq.) enacted in 1935 by the General Assembly of North Carolina. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

Local Sales Tax Not Precluded by Exemption from State Tax. — The limitation, in § 105-467(1), of local sales tax to sales "subject to" the State sales tax refers not to those transactions for which a state sales tax is actually assessed, but to any transaction described in (former) § 105-164.4(1) without regard to whether the transaction might be exempted or excluded from taxation by the operation of § 105-164.13. Thus, exemption from state sales tax does not preclude the assessment of a local sales tax. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 38 N.C. App. 483, 248 S.E.2d 378 (1978), aff'd, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

Burden of Proof. — Where the tax coverage is challenged by virtue of an exemption or exception, the burden is upon the challenger to bring himself within the exemption or exception. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

Quoted in In re Halifax Paper Co., Inc., 259 N.C. 589, 131 S.E.2d 441 (1963).

Cited in Hajoca Corp. v. Clayton, 277 N.C. 560, 178 S.E.2d 481 (1971).

II. FARM PRODUCTS.

Flowers grown upon the vendors' own land are farm products within the meaning of the exemption of such products from the sales tax. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

Sale by Florist of Flowers Grown on Own Land. — Plaintiffs operated a florist shop and sold therein flowers grown by themselves on their own land and also flowers purchased from wholesalers. It was held that the sale of flowers grown by them on their own land was not exempt from the sales tax, since even though such flowers are regarded as farm products, such sales were made by plaintiffs in their character and capacity of florists and not as farmers or producers. Henderson v. Gill, 229 N.C. 313, 49 S.E.2d 754 (1948).

III. INSECTICIDES.

Section does not define "insecticides," so the term must be given its ordinary meaning. Olin Mathieson Chem. Corp. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 666, 127 S.E.2d 262 (1962).

MH-30 is an agent for destroying weeds and plants, an herbicide. It is no more an insecticide than would be a forest fire which destroyed the balsam firs upon which the woolly aphids feed. Olin Mathieson Chem. Corp. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 666, 127 S.E.2d 262 (1962).

IV. PROPERTY INCORPORATED INTO MANUFACTURED PRODUCT.

Purpose. — The clear intent of subdivision (8) is that a sale of such property to a "manufacturer" is not taxed and neither is its use by the manufacturer as an ingredient or component of another "manufactured" article. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

"Manufacturing" Defined. — See In re Appeal of Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Construed Against One Claiming Exemption. — Subdivision (8), being an exemption from the tax otherwise imposed upon a "use" of tangible personal property, is to be construed strictly against the claim of exemption, insofar as its meaning is in doubt. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Inapplicable to Sales Promotional Material. — The exemption provided in subdivision (8) was not intended by the legislature to apply, and does not apply, to use of material by a manufacturer in the production of an article intended for use by the manufacturer, itself, through its distribution to potential customers as sales promotional material. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

Furniture manufacturer producing swatch books for use of its sales representatives and its customers has "manufactured" these swatch books. In re Clayton-Marcus Co., 286 N.C. 215, 210 S.E.2d 199 (1974).

V. SALES OF USED ARTICLES.

Policy behind subdivision (16) of this section is to prevent the same tax from being imposed twice on what are essentially the proceeds of one sale. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

VI. MATERIALS USED FOR PACKAGING, SHIPMENT, OR DELIVERY.

Poultry Coops. — Where plaintiffs alleged that they "sell their coops to farmers, poultrymen, and persons, firms, and corporations engaged in the poultry business, and such coops are used for packaging, shipment, and delivery of tangible personal property which is sold either at wholesale or retail, or such coops are delivered with the chickens or turkeys to the customer," and defendant admitted "that the plaintiffs sell their coops to farmers, poultrymen and persons, firms and corporations engaged in the poultry business, and that such coops are used by such customers in the delivery of live poultry, which is sold by such customers at either wholesale or retail," such allegations in the complaint and admissions in the answer are not sufficient to exempt plaintiffs' sales of coops from the sales tax within the purview and intent of subdivision (23) of this section, since there was no allegation in the complaint to the effect that when plaintiffs' vendees sold poultry the coops constituted a part of the sale of such poultry and were delivered with the poultry to the customer. Sale v. Johnson, 258 N.C. 749, 129 S.E.2d 465 (1963).

VII. NEWSPAPERS.

The North Carolina use tax can be constitutionally assessed against a newspaper which enjoys protection under U.S. Const., Amend. I. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984).

"Newspaper" Defined. — A newspaper is a publication appearing at short intervals of time containing news which may be of various types, and intended for the general reader. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 66 N.C. App. 423, 311 S.E.2d 366, modified and aff'd, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

Publication devoted almost entirely to advertising which does not disseminate news except in very small amounts, does not qualify as a newspaper but is instead an advertising circular. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 66 N.C. App. 423, 311 S.E.2d 366, modified and aff'd, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Sand and crushed stone which have been washed and screened remain in their "original or unmanufactured state," and sale by producer as producer and not retail merchant is exempt from the sales tax. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Eric L. Gooch, Department of Revenue, 41 N.C.A.G. 511 (1971).

§ 105-164.13A. Service charges on food, beverages, or meals.

When a service charge is imposed on food, beverages, or meals, so much of the service charge that does not exceed twenty percent (20%) of the sales price is considered a tip and is specifically exempted from the tax imposed by this Article if it meets both of the following conditions:

- (1) Is separately stated in the price list, menu, or written proposal and also in the invoice or bill.
- (2) Is turned over to the personnel directly involved in the service of the food, beverages, or meals, in accordance with G.S. 95-25.6. (1979, c. 801, s. 76; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1101; 1999-438, s. 13.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 13, effective October 1, 1999, rewrote the section.

§ 105-164.13B. Food exempt from tax.

Food is exempt from the taxes imposed by this Article, except as follows:

- (1) The following items are subject to tax:
  - a. Alcoholic beverages, as defined in 105-113.68.
  - b. Dietary supplements.
  - c. Food sold through a vending machine.
- (2) The following items are subject to tax, unless the items are purchased for home consumption and would be exempt if purchased under the Federal Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51:
  - a. Candy.
  - b. Prepared food.
  - c. Soft drinks. (1998-212, s. 29A.1(b); 2001-347, s. 2.13; 2001-489, s. 3(b).)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A(d), made this section effective May 1, 1999, and applicable to sales made on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998’.”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.13, effective January 1, 2002, rewrote the section.

Session Laws 2001-489, s. 3(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, rewrote the section as amended by Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.13.

§ 105-164.13C. Sales and use tax holiday.

(a) The taxes imposed by this Article do not apply to the following items of tangible personal property if sold between 12:01A.M. on the first Friday of August and 11:59 P.M. the following Sunday:

- (1) Clothing with a sales price of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or less per item.
  - (2) School supplies, such as pens, pencils, paper, binders, notebooks, textbooks, reference books, book bags, lunchboxes, and calculators, with a sales price of one hundred dollars ($100.00) or less per item.
  - (3) Computers, printers and printer supplies, and educational computer software, with a sales price of three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) or less per item.
  - (4) Sport or recreational equipment with a sales price of fifty dollars ($50.00) or less per item.
- (b) The exemption allowed by this section does not apply to the following:
- (1) Sales of clothing accessories or equipment.
  - (2) Sales of protective equipment.
  - (3) Sales of furniture.
  - (4) Sales involving a layaway contract or a similar deferred payment and delivery plan.
  - (5) Sales of an item for use in a trade or business.
  - (6) Rentals.

(c) For the purpose of this section, “computer” means a central processing unit for personal use and any peripherals sold with it and any computer software installed at the time of purchase. (2001-424, s. 34.16(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.16(d), made this section effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-476, s. 18(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, deleted former subdivisions (a)(2) and (a)(3); redesignated former subdivisions (a)(4) and (a)(5) as present subdivisions (a)(2) and (a)(3); added present subdivision (a)(4); rewrote subdivision (b)(1), which formerly read: "Sales of jewelry, cosmetics, eyewear, wallets, or watches"; added present subdivision (b)(2); and redesignated former subdivisions (b)(2) through (b)(5) as present subdivisions (b)(3) through (b)(6).

§ 105-164.14. Certain refunds authorized.

(a) Interstate Carriers. — An interstate carrier is allowed a refund, in accordance with this section, of part of the sales and use taxes paid by it on fuel, lubricants, repair parts, and accessories purchased in this State for a motor vehicle, railroad car, locomotive, or airplane the carrier operates. An "interstate carrier" is a person who is engaged in transporting persons or property in interstate commerce for compensation. The Secretary shall prescribe the periods of time, whether monthly, quarterly, semiannually, or otherwise, with respect to which refunds may be claimed, and shall prescribe the time within which, following these periods, an application for refund may be made.

An applicant for refund shall furnish the following information and any proof of the information required by the Secretary:

- (1) A list identifying the fuel, lubricants, repair parts, and accessories purchased by the applicant inside or outside this State during the refund period.
- (2) The purchase price of the items listed in subdivision (1) of this subsection.
- (3) The sales and use taxes paid in this State on the listed items.
- (4) The number of miles the applicant's motor vehicles, railroad cars, locomotives, and airplanes were operated both inside and outside this State during the refund period.
- (5) Any other information required by the Secretary.

For each applicant, the Secretary shall compute the amount to be refunded as follows. First, the Secretary shall determine the ratio of the number of miles the applicant operated its motor vehicles, railroad cars, locomotives, and airplanes in this State during the refund period to the number of miles it operated them both inside and outside this State during the refund period. Second, the Secretary shall determine the applicant's proportional liability for the refund period by multiplying this mileage ratio by the purchase price of the items identified in subdivision (1) of this subsection and then multiplying the resulting product by the tax rate that would have applied to the items if they had all been purchased in this State. Third, the Secretary shall refund to each applicant the excess of the amount of sales and use taxes the applicant paid in this State during the refund period on these items over the applicant's proportional liability for the refund period.

(b) Nonprofit Entities and Hospital Drugs. — A nonprofit entity included in the following list is allowed a semiannual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article, except under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4a) and G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4c), on direct purchases of tangible personal property for use in carrying on the work of the nonprofit entity:

- (1) Hospitals not operated for profit, including hospitals and medical accommodations operated by an authority created under the Hospital Authorities Law, Article 2 of Chapter 131E of the General Statutes.

- (2) Educational institutions not operated for profit.
- (3) Churches, orphanages, and other charitable or religious institutions and organizations not operated for profit.
- (4) Qualified retirement facilities whose property is excluded from property tax under G.S. 105-278.6A.

Sales and use tax liability indirectly incurred by a nonprofit entity on building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of or annexed to any building or structure that is owned or leased by the nonprofit entity and is being erected, altered, or repaired for use by the nonprofit entity for carrying on its nonprofit activities is considered a sales or use tax liability incurred on direct purchases by the nonprofit entity.

A hospital that is not allowed a refund under this subsection of sales and use taxes paid on its direct purchases of tangible personal property is allowed a semiannual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it on medicines and drugs purchased for use in carrying out its work.

The refunds allowed under this subsection for certain nonprofit entities and for medicines and drugs purchased by hospitals do not apply to organizations, corporations, and institutions that are owned and controlled by the United States, the State, or a unit of local government, except hospital facilities created under Article 2 of Chapter 131E of the General Statutes and nonprofit hospitals owned and controlled by a unit of local government that elect to receive semiannual refunds under this subsection instead of annual refunds under subsection (c).

A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund for the first six months of a calendar year is due the following October 15; a request for a refund for the second six months of a calendar year is due the following April 15.

(c) Certain Governmental Entities. — A governmental entity listed in this subsection is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article, except under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4a) and G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4c), on direct purchases of tangible personal property. Sales and use tax liability indirectly incurred by a governmental entity on building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of or annexed to any building or structure that is owned or leased by the governmental entity and is being erected, altered, or repaired for use by the governmental entity is considered a sales or use tax liability incurred on direct purchases by the governmental entity for the purpose of this subsection. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the governmental entity's fiscal year.

This subsection applies only to the following governmental entities:

- (1) A county.
- (2) A city as defined in G.S. 160A-1.
- (2a) A consolidated city-county as defined in G.S. 160B-2.
- (2b) A local school administrative unit.
- (3) A metropolitan sewerage district or a metropolitan water district in this State.
- (4) A water and sewer authority created under Chapter 162A of the General Statutes.
- (5) A lake authority created by a board of county commissioners pursuant to an act of the General Assembly.
- (6) A sanitary district.
- (7) A regional solid waste management authority created pursuant to G.S. 153A-421.
- (8) An area mental health, developmental disabilities, and substance abuse authority, other than a single-county area authority, established pursuant to Article 4 of Chapter 122C of the General Statutes.

- (9) A district health department, or a public health authority created pursuant to Part 1A of Article 2 of Chapter 130A of the General Statutes.
- (10) A regional council of governments created pursuant to G.S. 160A-470.
- (11) A regional planning and economic development commission or a regional economic development commission created pursuant to Chapter 158 of the General Statutes.
- (12) A regional planning commission created pursuant to G.S. 153A-391.
- (13) A regional sports authority created pursuant to G.S. 160A-479.
- (14) A public transportation authority created pursuant to Article 25 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
- (14a) A facility authority created pursuant to Part 4 of Article 20 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
- (15) A regional public transportation authority created pursuant to Article 26 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes, or a regional transportation authority created pursuant to Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
- (16) A local airport authority that was created pursuant to a local act of the General Assembly.
- (17) A joint agency created by interlocal agreement pursuant to G.S. 160A-462 to operate a public broadcasting television station.
- (18) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 7, effective November 29, 2001.
- (19) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 7, effective November 29, 2001.
- (20) A constituent institution of The University of North Carolina, but only with respect to sales and use tax paid by it for tangible personal property acquired by it through the expenditure of contract and grant funds.
- (21) The University of North Carolina Hospitals at Chapel Hill.
- (22) A regional natural gas district created pursuant to Article 28 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.

(d) Late Applications. — Refunds applied for more than three years after the due date are barred.

(e) State Agencies. — The State is allowed quarterly refunds of local sales and use taxes paid by a State agency on direct purchases of tangible personal property and local sales and use taxes paid indirectly by the State agency on building materials, supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of or annexed to a building or structure that is owned or leased by the State agency and is being erected, altered, or repaired for use by the State agency. This subsection does not apply to purchases for which a State agency is allowed a refund under subsection (c) of this section.

A person who pays local sales and use taxes on building materials or other tangible personal property for a State building project shall give the State agency for whose project the property was purchased a signed statement containing all of the following information:

- (1) The date the property was purchased.
- (2) The type of property purchased.
- (3) The project for which the property was used.
- (4) If the property was purchased in this State, the county in which it was purchased.
- (5) If the property was not purchased in this State, the county in which the property was used.
- (6) The amount of sales and use taxes paid.

If the property was purchased in this State, the person shall attach a copy of the sales receipt to the statement. A State agency to whom a statement is submitted shall verify the accuracy of the statement.

Within 15 days after the end of each calendar quarter, every State agency shall file with the Secretary a written application for a refund of taxes to which this subsection applies paid by the agency during the quarter. The application shall contain all information required by the Secretary. The Secretary shall credit the local sales and use tax refunds directly to the General Fund.

(f) Information to Counties. — Upon written request of a county, the Secretary shall, within 30 days after the request, provide the designated county official a list of each claimant that has, within the past 12 months, received a refund under subsection (b), (c), or (g) of this section of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) of tax paid to the county. The list shall include the name and address of each claimant and the amount of the refund it has received from that county. Upon written request of a county, a claimant that has received a refund under subsection (b), (c), or (g) of this section shall provide the designated county official a copy of the request for the refund and any supporting documentation requested by the county to verify the request. For the purpose of this subsection, the designated county official is the chair of the board of county commissioners or a county official designated in a resolution adopted by the board. Information provided to a county under this subsection is not a public record and may not be disclosed except in accordance with G.S. 153A-148.1. If a claimant determines that a refund it has received under subsection (b), (c), or (g) of this section is incorrect, it shall file an amended request for the refund.

(g) Major Recycling Facilities. — The owner of a major recycling facility is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of the real property of the recycling facility. Liability incurred indirectly by the owner for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the owner. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the major recycling facility's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred.

(h) Low Enterprise Tier Machinery. — Eligible taxpayers are allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid under this Article as provided in this subsection.

- (1) Refunds. — An eligible person is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article at the general rate of tax on eligible machinery and equipment it purchases for use in an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area, as defined in G.S. 105-129.3. Liability incurred indirectly by the taxpayer for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the taxpayer. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the State's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred.
- (2) Eligibility. — A person is eligible for the refund provided in this subsection if it is engaged primarily in one of the businesses listed in G.S. 105-129.4(a) in an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area, as defined in G.S. 105-129.3.
- (3) Machinery and equipment. — For the purpose of this subsection, the term "machinery and equipment" means engines, machinery, equipment, tools, and implements used or designed to be used in one of the businesses listed in G.S. 105-129.4(a). Machinery and equipment are eligible for the refund provided in this subsection if the taxpayer places them in service in an enterprise tier one area or an enterprise tier two area, as defined in G.S. 105-129.3, capitalizes them for tax purposes under the Code, and does not lease them to another party.

(i) (See Editor's note) Nonprofit Insurance Companies. — Eligible nonprofit insurance companies are allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid under this Article as provided in this subsection.

- (1) (Effective until January 1, 2004) Refunds. — An eligible nonprofit insurance company is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of its real property, and on computer systems hardware and software it capitalizes for tax purposes under the Code. Liability incurred indirectly by the company for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the company. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the insurance company's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred.
- (1) (Effective January 1, 2004 until January 1, 2008) Refunds. — An eligible nonprofit insurance company is allowed an annual refund of sales and use taxes paid by it under this Article on building materials, building supplies, fixtures, and equipment that become a part of its real property. Liability incurred indirectly by the company for sales and use taxes on these items is considered tax paid by the company. A request for a refund must be in writing and must include any information and documentation required by the Secretary. A request for a refund is due within six months after the end of the insurance company's fiscal year. Refunds applied for after the due date are barred.
- (2) Eligibility. — An insurance company is eligible for the refund provided in this subsection if it meets all of the following conditions:
  - a. It is a nonprofit corporation.
  - b. (Effective for taxes paid until January 1, 2008) It is operated for the exclusive purpose of providing insurance and annuity contracts to or for the benefit of (i) organizations exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Code and their employees or (ii) public institutions and their employees.
  - b. (Effective for taxes paid on or after January 1, 2008) It is operated for the exclusive purpose of providing insurance and annuity contracts to or for the benefit of organizations exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Code and their employees.
  - c. The Secretary of Commerce has certified that the insurance company will invest at least twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) in constructing a facility in this State for the conduct of its operations.
- (3) Forfeiture. — If an eligible insurance company does not make the required minimum investment within five years after its first refund under this subsection, it loses its eligibility and forfeits all refunds already received under this subsection. Upon forfeiture, the company is liable for tax under this Article equal to the amount of all past taxes refunded under this subsection, plus interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i), computed from the date each refund was issued. The tax and interest are due 30 days after the date of the forfeiture. A company that fails to pay the tax and interest is subject to the penalties provided in G.S. 105-236. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1961, c. 826, s. 2; 1963, cc. 169, 1134; 1965, c. 1006; 1967, c. 1110, s. 6; 1969, c. 1298, s. 1; 1971, cc. 89, 286; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 895, s. 1; 1979, c.

Subdivision (i)(1) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subdivision (i)(1) set out above is effective until January 1, 2004. The second version of subdivision (i)(1) set out above is effective January 1, 2004 until January 1, 2008.

Subdivision (i)(2)b. Set Out Twice. — The first version of subdivision (i)(2)b. set out above is effective for taxes paid until January 1, 2008. The second version of subdivision (i)(2)b. set out above is effective for taxes paid on or after January 1, 2008.

Local Modification. — City of Raeford: 1995, c. 16, s. 1.

Cross References. — As to hospital authorities, see § 131E-15 et seq.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 31 provides that s. 5 of the act, which added subsection (i) effective May 1, 1999, and amended subdivision (i)(1) effective January 1, 2004, is repealed for taxes paid on or after January 1, 2008.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(c); and Session Laws 2001-414, s. 1, amended Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(h), which had provided: "Section 12 of this act becomes effective May 1, 1999, and applies to taxes paid on or after that date. Section 12 is repealed for taxes paid on or after January 1, 2008," by substituting reference to section 9 for reference to section 12.

Section 9 of Session Laws 2000-56 amended § 105-164.14. There is no section 12 in Session Laws 2000-56.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(i), effective January 1, 1999, rewrote subsection (d).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 4, effective January 1, 2000, and applicable to taxes paid on or after that date, added subsection (h).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 5(a), effective May 1, 1999, and applicable to taxes paid on or after that date, added subsection (i). For repeal of subsection (i), see Editor's note.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 5(b), effective January 1, 2004, and applicable to taxes paid on or after that date, deleted "and on computer systems hardware and software it capitalizes for tax purposes under the Code" from the end of the first sentence of subdivision (i)(1). For repeal of this amendment, see Editor's note.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 9, effective October 1, 1999, inserted "fuel" preceding "lubricants" in the first sentence of subsection (a) and in subdivision (a)(1).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 14, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to purchases made on or after that date, rewrote subdivision (c)(16).

Session Laws 2000-56, s. 9, effective May 1, 1999 and applicable to taxes paid on or after that date, in subdivision (i)(2)b, inserted subdivision designation (i) and substituted "Code and their employees or (ii) public institutions and their employees" for "Code, and their employees." For expiration of this amendment, see editor's note and amendment note below.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 92.A(c), effective July 21, 2000, amended Session Laws 2000-56, s. 10(h) to provide that the amendment to this section by Session Laws 2000-140, s. 9 would be effective May 1, 1999, and would be applicable to taxes paid on or after that date. Session Laws 2001-414, s. 1, effective September 14, 2001, further amended Session Laws 2001-56, s. 10(h) to provide that s. 9 of the 2000 act is repealed for taxes paid on or after January 1, 2008.

Session Laws 2001-474, s. 7, effective November 29, 2001, deleted subdivision (c)(18) which read: "The North Carolina Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority created pursuant to Chapter 104G of the General Statutes"; and deleted subdivision (c)(19) which read: "The North Carolina Hazardous Waste Management Commission created pursuant to Chapter 130B of the General Statutes."

Legal Periodicals. — See legislative survey, 21 Campbell L. Rev. 323 (1999).

CASE NOTES

Purpose. — This provision is designed to fairly apportion sales and use taxes imposed on interstate air carriers, so that the carriers are taxed on the basis of the relative amount of the use of their commercial aircraft in the state. USAIR, Inc. v. Faulkner, 126 N.C. App. 501, 485 S.E.2d 847 (1997).

Source of Property Basis for Classification. — Court of Appeals was not persuaded that the Legislature intended the source of the property to be the determinative factor in classifying accessories. USAIR, Inc. v. Faulkner, 126 N.C. App. 501, 485 S.E.2d 847 (1997).

Seats and Furnishings Not Accessories. — Items such as seats, galley, other furnishings, electronic communication devices and other aircraft control devices are not accessories because they are essential to the primary operation of a commercial passenger aircraft; thus, buyer furnished equipment should not be classified as accessories pursuant to subsection (a)c. USAIR, Inc. v. Faulkner, 126 N.C. App. 501, 485 S.E.2d 847 (1997).

Provisions Which Deny Refund to United States Are Void. — Those (but only those) provisions of the Sales and Use Tax Act and the regulations which operate to deny the United States a tax refund when an appropriate and timely request therefor is made are null and void. United States v. Clayton, 250 F. Supp. 827 (E.D.N.C. 1965), appeal dismissed, 384 U.S. 154, 86 S. Ct. 1383, 16 L. Ed. 2d 434, 384 U.S. 156, 86 S. Ct. 1379, 16 L. Ed. 2d 432 (1966).

Housing Authority Not Entitled to Refund. — A housing authority created pursuant to the provisions of the Housing Authorities Law (§ 157-1 et seq.) is a municipal corporation but is not an incorporated city or town, and is not entitled to the refund of sales taxes paid on purchases of tangible personal property pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

A municipal corporation or public agency created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of this State, more particularly the Housing Authorities Law, codified as § 157-1 et seq., is not a charitable organization within the meaning of the refund provisions of subsection (b) of this section. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

Residential Care Facility for the Elderly. — The term "charitable organization" easily accommodated the nature of plaintiffs' residential care facility for the elderly; plaintiffs were engaged in a humane and philanthropic endeavor to aid and assist the rapidly growing class of elderly citizens of this State, and their activities benefited the larger community which only recently had come to realize the problems associated with an aging population. Southminster, Inc. v. Justus, 119 N.C. App. 669, 459 S.E.2d 793 (1995).

Aircraft Control Devices. — Items such as seats, galleys, other furnishings, electronic communication devices and other aircraft control devices are not accessories because they are essential and contribute to the primary operation of a commercial passenger aircraft; thus, taxpayer was entitled to refund of taxes paid. USAIR, Inc. v. Faulkner, 126 N.C. App. 501, 485 S.E.2d 847 (1997).

Part 4. Reporting and Payment.

§ 105-164.15. Secretary shall provide forms.

The Secretary shall design, prepare, print and furnish to all retailers and wholesale merchants all necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to insure a full collection from retailers and wholesale merchants and an accounting for taxes due. But the failure of any retailer or wholesale merchant to obtain or receive forms shall not relieve such taxpayer from the payment of said tax at the time and in the manner herein provided. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 50.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 50, effective August 14, 1998, redesignated Division IV as Part 4.

§ 105-164.16. Returns and payment of taxes.

(a) General. — Sales and use taxes are payable quarterly, monthly, or semimonthly as specified in this section. A return is due quarterly or monthly as specified in this section. A return must be filed with the Secretary on a form prescribed by the Secretary and in the manner required by the Secretary. A return must be signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's agent.

A sales tax return must state the taxpayer's gross sales for the reporting period, the amount and type of sales made in the period that are exempt from tax under G.S. 105-164.13 or are elsewhere excluded from tax, the amount of tax due, and any other information required by the Secretary. A use tax return must state the purchase price of tangible personal property that was purchased or received during the reporting period and is subject to tax under G.S. 105-164.6, the amount of tax due, and any other information required by the Secretary. Returns that do not contain the required information will not be accepted. When an unacceptable return is submitted, the Secretary will require a corrected return to be filed.

(b) Quarterly. — A taxpayer who is consistently liable for less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) a month in State and local sales and use taxes must file a return and pay the taxes due on a quarterly basis. A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the 15th day of the month following the end of the quarter.

(b1) Monthly. — A taxpayer who is consistently liable for more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) but less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) a month in State and local sales and use taxes must file a return and pay the taxes due on a monthly basis. A monthly return is due by the 15th day of the month following the calendar month covered by the return.

(b2) Semimonthly. — A taxpayer who is consistently liable for at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000) a month in State and local sales and use taxes must pay the tax twice a month and must file a return on a monthly basis. One semimonthly payment covers the period from the first day of the month through the 15th day of the month. The other semimonthly payment covers the period from the 16th day of the month through the last day of the month. The semimonthly payment for the period that ends on the 15th day of the month is due by the 25th day of that month. The semimonthly payment for the period that ends on the last day of the month is due by the 10th day of the following month.

A return covers both semimonthly payment periods. The return is due by the 20th day of the month following the month of the payment periods covered by the return. A taxpayer is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment for a semimonthly payment period if the taxpayer timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due for each semimonthly payment period and includes the underpayment with the monthly return for those semimonthly payment periods.

(b3) Category. — The Secretary must monitor the amount of State and local sales and use taxes paid by a taxpayer or estimate the amount of taxes to be paid by a new taxpayer and must direct each taxpayer to pay tax and file returns in accordance with the appropriate schedule. In determining the amount of taxes due from a taxpayer, the Secretary must consider the total amount due from all places of business owned or operated by the same person as the amount due from that person. A taxpayer must file a return and pay tax in accordance with the Secretary's direction until notified in writing to file and pay under a different schedule.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(a), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes levied on or after that date.

(d) (Effective until taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) Use Tax on Out-of-State Purchases. — Use tax payable by an individual who purchases tangible personal property outside the State for a nonbusiness purpose is due on an annual basis. For an individual who is not required to file an individual income tax return under Part 2 of Article 4 of this Chapter, the annual reporting period ends on the last day of the calendar year and a use tax return is due by the following April 15. For an individual who is required to file an individual income tax return, the annual reporting period ends on the last day of the individual's income tax year, and the use tax must be paid on the income tax return as provided in G.S. 105-269.14.

(d) (Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) Use Tax on Out-of-State Purchases. — Notwithstanding subsection (b), an individual who purchases tangible personal property outside the State for a nonbusiness purpose shall file a use tax return on an annual basis. The annual reporting period ends on the last day of the calendar year. The return is due by the due date, including any approved extensions, for filing the individual's income tax return. Subsection (d) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (d) set out above is effective until taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. The second version of subsection (d) set out above is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-430, s. 7, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, amended language in subsection (c), which had been deleted by Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(a). Please see effect of amendment note for 2001-430, s. 7. Subsection (c) has been set out as "Repealed" at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 6(i), provides: "In order to pay for its costs of postage, printing, and computer programming to implement this section [s. 6 of Session Laws 2001-487], the Department of Revenue may withhold not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes during the 2001-2002 fiscal year."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, in subsection (b), substituted "one hundred dollars ($100.00)" for "fifty dollars ($50.00)" in the second paragraph; and substituted gender-neutral terms.

Session Laws 1999-341, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999, rewrote subsection (d).

Session Laws 2000-120, s. 11, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, rewrote subsection (d).

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.14, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "Returns" for "Report" in the section heading; rewrote subsection (a); rewrote subsection (b) as subsections (b) to (b3); and in subsection (c) substituted the present first two sentences for the former first sentence, which read: "A return for taxes levied under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4a), and G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4c) is due quarterly or monthly as specified in this subsection."

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 18, effective January 1, 2002, in this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-347, substituted "purchase price" for "cost price" in the second paragraph of subsection (a).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(a), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes levied on or after that date, in this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-347, in the first paragraph of subsection (a) inserted the second sentence, divided the former last sentence into the present last two sentences, inserted "in the manner required by the Secretary" at the end of the present next to last sentence, and inserted "A return" at the beginning of the last sentence; in subsection (b1), substituted "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)" for "twenty thousand dollars ($20,000)" in the first sentence and inserted "calendar" in the second sentence; in subsection (b2), substituted "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)” for “twenty thousand dollars ($20,000)” in the first sentence of the first paragraph, indented the last three sentences as a second paragraph, and substituted “ninety-five percent (95%)” for “95%” in the last sentence of that paragraph; and deleted subsection (c), relating to sales tax on utility services.

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 7, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, in subsection (c), substituted “Electricity and Telecommunications” for “Utility Services” in the catchline; in the first paragraph, substituted “due monthly” for “due quarterly or monthly as specified in this subsection” at the end of the first sentence, and deleted the former second through fourth sentences, which read: “A utility that is allowed to pay tax under G.S. 105-120 on a quarterly basis shall file a quarterly return. All other utilities shall file a monthly return. A quarterly return is due by the last day of the month following the quarter covered by the return”; in the second paragraph, substituted “retailer” for “utility” throughout, and substituted “retailer’s” for “company’s” in the last sentence; and made minor stylistic changes.

Cross References. — For present similar provisions, see G.S. 105-241.

§ 105-164.19. Extension of time for making returns and payment.

The Secretary for good cause may extend the time for making any return under the provisions of this Article and may grant such additional time within which to make such return as he may deem proper but the time for filing any such return shall not be extended for more than 30 days after the regular due date of such return. If the time for filing a return be extended, interest at the rate established pursuant to G.S. 105-241.1(i) from the time the return was due to be filed to the date of payment shall be added and paid. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 1114, s. 10; 1985, c. 656, s. 30.)

§ 105-164.20. Cash or accrual basis of reporting.

Any retailer, except a retailer who sells electricity or telecommunications service, may report sales on either the cash or accrual basis of accounting upon making application to the Secretary for permission to use the basis selected. Permission granted by the Secretary to report on a selected basis continues in effect until revoked by the Secretary or the taxpayer receives permission from the Secretary to change the basis selected. A retailer who sells electricity or telecommunications service must report its sales on an accrual basis. A sale of electricity or telecommunications service is considered to accrue when the retailer bills its customer for the sale. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1097, s. 15; 1998-22, s. 7; 2001-430, s. 8.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-430, s. 8, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, substituted “retailer who sells electricity or telecommunications service” for “utility” in the first and third sentences, rewrote the last sentence, which read “A sale by a utility of electricity or intrastate telephone service is considered to accrue when the utility bills its customer for the sale”; and made minor punctuation changes.

§ 105-164.21A. Deduction for municipalities that sell electric power.

A municipality that pays the retail sales tax imposed by this Article on electricity may deduct from the amount of tax payable by the municipality an amount equal to three percent (3%) of the difference between its gross receipts from sales of electricity for the preceding reporting period and the amount paid by the municipality for purchased power and related services during that reporting period. (1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1097, s. 12; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 945, s. 2.)

Part 5. Records Required to Be Kept.

§ 105-164.22. Retailer must keep records.

Every retailer shall keep and preserve suitable records of the gross income, gross receipts and/or gross receipts of sales of such business and such other books or accounts as may be necessary to determine the amount of tax for which he is liable under the provisions of this Article. And it shall be the duty of every retailer to keep and preserve for a period of three years all invoices of goods, wares and merchandise purchased for resale and all such books, invoices and other records shall be open for examination at all reasonable hours during the day by the Secretary or his duly authorized agent. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 51.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 51, effective August 14, 1998, redesignated Division V as Part 5.

§ 105-164.23. Consumer must keep records.

Every consumer shall keep such records, receipts, invoices and other pertinent papers in such form as may be required by the Secretary and all such books, invoices and other records shall be open for examination by the Secretary or any of his duly authorized agents. In the event the retailer, user or consumer has imported the tangible personal property and fails to produce an invoice showing the purchase price of the tangible personal property as defined in this Article which is subject to tax or the invoices do not reflect the true or actual cost as defined herein, then the Secretary shall ascertain in any manner feasible the true purchase price and assess and collect the tax with interest, plus penalties, if such have accrued, on the true cost price as determined by him. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 2001-414, s. 19.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 19, effective January 1, 2002, substituted “purchase price” for “cost price” in two places.

§ 105-164.24. Separate accounting required.

Every retailer shall keep separate records disclosing sales of tangible personal property taxable under this Article and sales transactions not taxable because exempt under G.S. 105-164.13 or elsewhere excluded from taxation. Such records shall be kept in such form as may be accurately and conveniently checked by the Secretary or his authorized agents and unless such records shall be kept the exemptions and exclusions provided in this Article shall not be allowed and it shall be the duty of the Secretary or his agents to assess a tax upon the total gross sales at the rate levied upon retail sales and if records are not kept disclosing gross sales, it shall be the duty of the Secretary to assess a tax upon an estimation of sales based upon the best information available. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.25. Wholesale merchant must keep records.

Every wholesale merchant selling tangible personal property to other merchants for resale or tangible personal property the sale of which is otherwise defined as a wholesale sale under the terms of this Article shall deliver to the customer a bill of sale for each sale of such tangible personal property whether sold for cash or on terms of credit, and shall make and retain a duplicate or carbon copy of each bill of sale and shall keep a file of all such duplicate bills of sale for at least three years from the date of sale. Such bills of sale shall contain and include the name and address of the purchaser, the date of the purchase, the article purchased and the price at which the article is sold to the customer. These records shall be kept for a period of three years and shall be open for inspection by the Secretary or his duly authorized agents at all reasonable hours. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall subject the wholesale merchant to liability for tax upon such sales at the rate of tax levied in this Article upon retail sales. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.26. Presumption that sales are taxable.

For the purpose of the proper administration of this Article and to prevent evasion of the retail sales tax, it shall be presumed that all gross receipts of wholesale merchants and retailers are subject to the retail sales tax until the contrary is established by proper records as required in this Article. It shall be prima facie presumed that tangible personal property sold by any person for delivery in this State, however made, and by carrier or otherwise, is sold for storage, use, or other consumption in this State, and a like presumption shall apply to tangible personal property delivered outside this State and brought to this State by the purchaser. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1998-98, s. 108.)

Burden of showing exemptions or exceptions from a taxing statute is upon the one asserting the exemption or exclusion. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

School Picture Sales as Retail Sales. — Evidence supported Secretary's finding and conclusions that "commission" picture sales were retail sales, where taxpayer's letter stated that the price of packages available for order included sales tax, and where although proof envelope described the picture sales as a school project on which the school retained a commission, it did not say that the school was selling the pictures. In re Assessment of Additional Sales & Use Tax Against Strawbridge Studios, Inc., 94 N.C. App. 300, 380 S.E.2d 142 (1989).

Department's Statements Not Evidence That Sales Were Wholesale Sales. — Statements in Department of Revenue's internal correspondence and correspondence with taxpayer's attorney stating that "contract sales" were or appeared to be sales for resale did not constitute evidence that the "contract sales" were wholesale sales, where in each case the correspondence made it clear that in order to be taxable as wholesale sales, the statutory and regulatory requirements had to be met, and the characterizations were not judicial admissions that the requirements for wholesale taxation had been met. § 105-164.27: Repealed by Session Laws 1961, c. 826, s. 2.

§ 105-164.27A. Direct pay permit.

(a) Tangible Personal Property. — A direct pay permit for tangible personal property authorizes its holder to purchase any tangible personal property without paying tax to the seller and authorizes the seller to not collect any tax on a sale to the permit holder. A person who purchases tangible personal property under a direct pay permit issued under this subsection is liable for use tax due on the purchase. The tax is payable when the property is placed in use. A direct pay permit issued under this subsection does not apply to taxes imposed under G.S. 105-164.4(a) (1f) or G.S. 105-164.4(a) (4a).

A person who purchases tangible personal property whose tax status cannot be determined at the time of the purchase because of one of the reasons listed below may apply to the Secretary for a direct pay permit for tangible personal property:

- (1) The place of business where the property will be used is not known at the time of the purchase and a different tax consequence applies depending on where the property is used.
- (2) The manner in which the property will be used is not known at the time of the purchase and one or more of the potential uses is taxable but others are not taxable.

(b) Telecommunications Service. — A direct pay permit for telecommunications service authorizes its holder to purchase telecommunications service without paying tax to the seller and authorizes the seller to not collect any tax on a sale to the permit holder. A person who purchases telecommunications service under a direct pay permit must file a return and pay the tax due monthly to the Secretary. A direct pay permit issued under this subsection does not apply to any tax other than the tax on telecommunications service.

A call center that purchases interstate telecommunications service that originates outside this State and terminates in this State may apply to the Secretary for a direct pay permit for telecommunications service. A call center is a business that is primarily engaged in providing support services to customers by telephone to support products or services of the business. A business is primarily engaged in providing support services by telephone if at least sixty percent (60%) of its calls are incoming.

must be made on a form provided by the

(c) Application. — An application for a direct pay permit must be made on a form provided by the Secretary and contain the information required by the Secretary. The Secretary may grant the application if the Secretary finds that the applicant complies with the sales and use tax laws and that the applicant's compliance burden will be greatly reduced by use of the permit.

(d) Revocation. — A direct pay permit is valid until the holder returns it to the Secretary or the Secretary revokes it. The Secretary may revoke a direct pay permit if the holder of the permit does not file a sales and use tax return on time, does not pay sales and use tax on time, or otherwise fails to comply with the sales and use tax laws. (2000-120, s. 1; 2001-414, s. 20; 2001-430, s. 9.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-120, s. 18, made this section effective July 14, 2000.

This section was enacted as § 105-164.27 and was redesignated as this section at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 9, amended this section in the coded bill drafting format provided by § 120-20.1. The amendment omitted some words that had been in subsection (b) in striking through that subsection. The subsection is set out in the form above at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 20, effective September 14, 2001, substituted “sales and use tax on time” for “sales and use on time” in subsection (d).

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 9, effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, rewrote this section; and substituted “permit” for “certificate” in the section catchline.

§ 105-164.28. Certificate of resale.

(a) Seller's Responsibility. — A seller who accepts a certificate of resale from a purchaser of tangible personal property has the burden of proving that the sale was not a retail sale unless all of the following conditions are met:

- (1) For a sale made in person, the certificate is signed by the purchaser, states the purchaser's name, address, and registration number, and describes the type of tangible personal property generally sold by the purchaser in the regular course of business.
- (2) For a sale made in person, the purchaser is engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property of the type sold.
- (3) For a sale made over the Internet or by other remote means, the sales tax registration number given by the purchaser matches the number on the Department's registry.

(b) Liabilities. — A purchaser who does not resell property purchased under a certificate of resale is liable for any tax subsequently determined to be due on the sale. A seller of property sold under a certificate of resale is jointly liable with the purchaser of the property for any tax subsequently determined to be due on the sale only if the Secretary proves that the sale was a retail sale. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 914, s. 1; 2000-120, s. 6.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-120, s. 6, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote the section.

CASE NOTES

Taxpayer Not Denied Due Process and Equal Protection. — Burden of proof and requirement of a Form E-590, which creates a conclusive presumption of retail sales, did not deny taxpayer due process and equal protection, as no part of the tax law required the taxpayer to obtain a Form E-590 from schools, since the taxpayer could present other written evidence to establish that the schools were registered to pay the retail tax and that pictures were purchased for resale. In re Assessment of Additional Sales & Use Tax Against Strawbridge Studios, Inc., 94 N.C. App. 300, 380 S.E.2d 142 (1989).

Lessor Has Burden to Show That Leasing Transactions Constituted Sale for Resale. — A lessor of television sets who had not procured resale certificates from any of its customers had the burden to show that its leasing transactions constituted a sale for resale, entitling the lessor to an exemption from the sales tax. Telerent Leasing Corp. v. High, 8 N.C. App. 179, 174 S.E.2d 11 (1970).

§ 105-164.29. Application for certificate of registration by wholesale merchants and retailers.

(a) Application. — To obtain a certificate of registration, a person must register with the Department. A wholesale merchant or retailer who has more than one business is required to obtain only one certificate of registration to cover all operations of the business throughout the State. An application for registration must be signed as follows:

- (1) By the owner, if the owner is an individual.
- (2) By a manager, member, or partner, if the owner is an association, a partnership, or a limited liability company.
- (3) By an executive officer or some other person specifically authorized by the corporation to sign the application, if the owner is a corporation. If the application is signed by a person authorized to do so by the corporation, written evidence of the person's authority must be attached to the application.

(b) Issuance. — A certificate of registration is not assignable and is valid only for the person in whose name it is issued. A copy of the certificate of registration must be displayed at each place of business.

(c) Term. — A certificate of registration is valid unless it is revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this Article or becomes void. A certificate issued to a retailer who makes taxable sales becomes void if, for a period of 18 months, the retailer files no returns or files returns showing no sales.

(d) Revocation. — Whenever a wholesale merchant or retailer fails to comply with this Article or violates G.S. 14-401.18, the Secretary, upon hearing, after giving 10 days' notice in writing, specifying the time and place of hearing and requiring the wholesale merchant or retailer to show cause why the certificate of registration should not be revoked, may revoke or suspend the certificate of registration. The notice may be served personally or by registered mail directed to the last known address of the wholesale merchant or retailer. All provisions with respect to review and appeals of the Secretary's decisions as provided by G.S. 105-241.2, 105-241.3, and 105-241.4 apply to this section. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1084; 1991, c. 690, s. 5; 1993, c. 354, s. 17; c. 539, s. 705; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1999-333, s. 8; 2000-140, s. 67(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-333 s. 9 contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-333, s. 8, effective December 1, 1999, and applicable to offenses committed on or after that date, inserted "or violates G.S. 14-400.18 [14-401.18]" in the first paragraph of subsection (d).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 67(b), effective July 21, 2000, rewrote the section.

Part 6. Examination of Records.

§ 105-164.30. Secretary or agent may examine books, etc.

For the purpose of enforcing the collection of the tax levied by this Article, the Secretary or his duly authorized agent is hereby specifically authorized and empowered to examine at all reasonable hours during the day the books, papers, records, documents or other data of all retailers or wholesale merchants bearing upon the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made as required by this Article, and may require the attendance of any person and take his testimony with respect to any such matter, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons. If any person summoned as a witness shall fail to obey any summons to appear before the Secretary or his authorized agent, or shall refuse to testify or answer any material question or to produce any book, record, paper, or other data when required to do so, such failure or refusal shall be reported to the Attorney General or the district solicitor, who shall thereupon institute proceedings in the superior court of the county where such witness resides to compel obedience to any summons of the Secretary or his authorized agent. Officers who serve summonses or subpoenas, and witnesses attending, shall receive like compensation as officers and witnesses in the superior courts, to be paid from the proper appropriation for the administration of this Article.

In the event any retailer or wholesale merchant shall fail or refuse to permit examination of his books, papers, accounts, records, documents or other data by the Secretary or his authorized agents as aforesaid, the Secretary shall have the power to proceed by citing said retailer or wholesale merchant to show cause before the superior court of the county in which said taxpayer resides or has its principal place of business as to why such books, records, papers, or documents should not be examined and said superior court shall have jurisdiction to enter an order requiring the production of all necessary books, records, papers, or documents and to punish for contempt of such order any person violating the same. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 52.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 52, effective August 14, 1998, redesignated Division VI as Part 6.

§ 105-164.31. Complete records must be kept for three years.

Every retailer, wholesale merchant or consumer as defined by this Article shall secure, maintain and keep for a period of three years a complete record of tangible personal property received, used, sold at retail or wholesale, distributed or stored, leased or rented within this State by said retailer, wholesale merchant or consumer together with invoices, bills of lading and other pertinent papers and records as may be required by the Secretary for the reasonable administration of this Article and all such records shall be open for inspection by the Secretary or his duly authorized agent at all reasonable hours during the day. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.32. Incorrect returns; estimate.

In the event any retailer, wholesale merchant or consumer fails to make a return and to pay the tax as provided by this Article or in case any retailer, wholesale merchant or consumer makes a grossly incorrect return or a report that is false or fraudulent, it shall be the duty of the Secretary or his authorized agent to make an estimate for the taxable period of wholesale and/or retail sales of such retailer or wholesale merchant or of the gross proceeds of rentals or leases of tangible personal property by the retailer and to estimate the purchase price of all articles of tangible personal property imported by the consumer for use, storage, or consumption in this State and to assess and collect the tax and interest, plus penalties, if such have accrued, upon the basis of such estimate. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 2001-414, s. 21.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 21, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "purchase price" for "cost price."

Part 7. Failure to Make Returns; Overpayments.

§§ 105-164.33, 105-164.34: Repealed by Session Laws 1963, c. 1169, s. 3.

§ 105-164.35. Excessive payments; recomputing tax.

As soon as practicable after a return is filed, the Secretary shall examine it. If it then appears that the correct amount of tax is greater or less than the amount shown in the return, the tax shall be recomputed.

- (1) Excessive Payments. — If the amount already paid exceeds that which should have been paid on the basis of the tax so recomputed, the excess shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in accordance with the provisions of this Article.
- (2) to (5) Repealed by Session Laws 1959, c. 1259, s. 9. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1959, c. 1259, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

CASE NOTES

Taxpayer who has prepaid his liability is entitled to a refund or credit on subsequently accruing taxes. Park-N-Shop, Inc. v. Clayton, 264 N.C. 218, 141 S.E.2d 294 (1965).

§ 105-164.36: Repealed by Session Laws 1959, c. 1259, s. 9.

§ 105-164.37. Bankruptcy, receivership, etc.

If any taxpayer subject to the provisions of this Article goes into bankruptcy, receivership or turns over his stock of merchandise by voluntary transfer to creditors, the tax liability under this Article shall constitute a prior lien upon such stock of merchandise and shall become subject to levy under execution and it shall be the duty of the transferee in any such case to retain the amount of the tax due from the first sales of such stock of merchandise and pay the same to the Secretary. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.38. Tax is a lien.

(a) The tax imposed by this Article is a lien upon all personal property of any person who is required by this Article to obtain a certificate of registration to engage in business and who stops engaging in the business by transferring the business, transferring the stock of goods of the business, or going out of business. A person who stops engaging in business must file the return required by this Article within 30 days after transferring the business, transferring the stock of goods of the business, or going out of business.

(b) Any person to whom the business or the stock of goods was transferred must withhold from the consideration paid for the business or stock of goods an amount sufficient to cover the taxes due until the person selling the business or stock of goods produces a statement from the Secretary showing that the taxes have been paid or that no taxes are due. If the person who buys a business or stock of goods fails to withhold an amount sufficient to cover the taxes and the taxes remain unpaid after the 30-day period allowed, the buyer is personally liable for the unpaid taxes to the extent of the greater of the following:

- (1) The consideration paid by the buyer for the business or the stock of goods.
- (2) The fair market value of the business or the stock of goods.

(c) The period of limitations for assessing liability against the buyer of a business or the stock of goods of a business and for enforcing the lien against the property expires one year after the end of the period of limitations for assessment against the person who sold the business or the stock of goods. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person who buys a business or the stock of goods of a business and that person's liability for unpaid taxes are subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-241.1, 105-241.2, 105-241.3, and 105-241.4 and to other remedies for the collection of taxes to the same extent as if the person had incurred the original tax liability. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1963, c. 1169, s. 3; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 690, s. 6; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 949, s. 2; 2000-140, s. 67(c).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 67(c), effective July 21, 2000, substituted “is” for “shall be” in the catchline and in subsection (a); inserted the subsection designations; substituted “certificate of registration” for “license” in subsection (a); substituted “must” for “shall” in subsections (a) and (b); and substituted “expires” for “shall expire” in subsection (c).

§ 105-164.39. Attachment.

In the event any retailer or wholesale merchant is delinquent in the payment of the tax herein provided for, the Secretary may give notice of the amount of such delinquency by registered mail to all persons having in their possession or under their control any credits or other personal property belonging to such retailer or wholesale merchant or owing any debts to such taxpayer at the time of the receipt by them of such notice and thereafter any person so notified shall neither transfer nor make any other disposition of such credits, other personal property or debts until the Secretary shall have consented to a transfer or disposition or until 30 days shall have elapsed from and after the receipt of such notice. All persons so notified must within five days after receipt of such notice advise the Secretary of any and all such credits, other personal property or debts in their possession, under their control or owing by them as the case may be. The remedy provided by this section shall be cumulative and optional and in addition to all other remedies now provided by law for the collection of taxes due the State. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.40. Jeopardy assessment.

If the Secretary is of the opinion that the collection of any tax or any amount of tax required to be collected and paid to the State under this Article will be jeopardized by delay, he shall make an assessment of the tax or amount of tax required to be collected and shall mail or issue a notice of such assessment to the taxpayer together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax or of the deficiency in tax declared to be in jeopardy including interest and penalties. In the case of a tax for a current period, the Secretary may declare the taxable period of the taxpayer immediately terminated and shall cause notice of such finding and declaration to be mailed or issued to the taxpayer together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax based on the period declared terminated and such tax shall be immediately due and payable, whether or not the time otherwise allowed by law for filing a return and paying the tax has expired. Assessments provided for in this section shall be immediately due and payable and proceedings for the collection shall commence at once and if any such tax, penalty or interest is not paid upon demand of the Secretary, he shall forthwith cause a levy to be made on the property of the taxpayer or, in his discretion the Secretary may require the taxpayer to file such indemnity bond as in his judgment may be sufficient to protect the interest of the State. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.41. Excess payments; refunds.

If upon examination of any return made under this Article, it appears that an amount of tax has been paid in excess of that properly due, then the amount in excess shall be credited against any tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, under any other subsequent return, or shall be refunded to the taxpayer by the Secretary out of any funds appropriated for that purpose. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1963, c. 1169, s. 3; 1967, c. 1110, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1985, c. 656, s. 29; 1993, c. 257, s. 7.)

§ 105-164.42: Repealed by Session Laws 1959, c. 1259, s. 9.

Part 7A. Uniform Sales and Use Tax Administration Act.

(Effective until January 1, 2006)

§ 105-164.42A. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Short title.

This Part is the “Uniform Sales and Use Tax Administration Act” and may be cited by that name. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1, provides: “Part 1 of this act [which enacted Part 7A of Article 5 of Chapter 105] is effective when it becomes law [August 8, 2001] and expires January 1, 2006, unless one of the following occurs: (i) 15 states have signed the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, or (ii) states representing a combined resident population equal to at least ten percent (10%) of the national resident population, as determined by the 2000 federal decennial census, have signed the Agreement.”

§ 105-164.42B. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Part:

- (1) Agreement. — The Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement.
- (2) Certified automated system. — Software certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the Agreement to calculate the tax imposed by each jurisdiction on a transaction, determine the amount of tax to remit to the appropriate state, and maintain a record of the transaction.
- (3) Certified service provider. — An agent certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the Agreement to perform all of the seller’s sales tax functions.
- (4) Member state. — A state that has entered into the Agreement.
- (5) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (6) Sales tax. — The tax levied in G.S. 105-164.4.
- (7) Seller. — A person making sales, leases, or rentals of personal property or services.
- (8) State. — The term “this State” means the State of North Carolina. Otherwise, the term state“ means any state of the United States and the District of Columbia.
- (9) Use tax. — The tax levied in G.S. 105-164.6. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Part 7A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

---

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

§ 105-164.42C. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Authority to enter Agreement.

The Secretary is authorized to enter into the Agreement with one or more states to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration in order to substantially reduce the burden of tax compliance for all sellers and for all types of commerce. The Secretary may act jointly with other member states to establish standards for certification of a certified service provider and a certified automated system and to establish performance standards for multistate sellers.

The Secretary is authorized to represent this State before the other member states. The Secretary may take any other actions reasonably required to implement this Part, including the joint procurement with other member states of goods and services in furtherance of the Agreement. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

§ 105-164.42D. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note)
Relationship to North Carolina law.

No provision of the Agreement authorized by this Part invalidates or amends any provision of the law of this State. Adoption of the Agreement by this State does not amend or modify any law of this State. Implementation of a condition of the Agreement in this State must be made pursuant to an act of the General Assembly. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

§ 105-164.42E. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Agreement requirements.

The Secretary may not enter into the Agreement unless the Agreement requires each state to abide by the following requirements:

- (1) Uniform state rate. — The Agreement must set restrictions to achieve more uniform state rates through the following:
  - a. Limiting the number of state rates.
  - b. Limiting maximums on the amount of state tax that is due on a transaction.
  - c. Limiting thresholds on the application of a state tax.
- (2) Uniform standards. — The Agreement must establish uniform standards for all of the following:
  - a. The sourcing of transactions to taxing jurisdictions.
  - b. The administration of exempt sales.
  - c. The allowances a seller can take for bad debts.
  - d. Sales and use tax returns and remittances.

Part 7A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

- (3) Uniform definitions. — The Agreement must require states to develop and adopt uniform definitions of sales and use tax terms. The definitions must enable a state to preserve its ability to make policy choices not inconsistent with the uniform definitions.
  - (4) Central registration. — The Agreement must provide a central, electronic registration system that allows a seller to register to collect and remit sales and use taxes for all signatory states.
  - (5) No nexus attribution. — The Agreement must provide that registration with the central registration system and the collection of sales and use taxes in the signatory states will not be used as a factor in determining whether the seller has nexus with a state for any tax.
  - (6) Local sales and use taxes. — The Agreement must provide for reduction of the burdens of complying with local sales and use taxes through one or more of the following:
    - a. Restricting variances between the state and local tax bases.
    - b. Requiring states to administer any sales and use taxes levied by local jurisdictions within the state so that sellers collecting and remitting these taxes will not have to register or file returns with, remit funds to, or be subject to independent audits from local taxing jurisdictions.
    - c. Restricting the frequency of changes in the local sales and use tax rates and setting effective dates for the application of local jurisdictional boundary changes to local sales and use taxes.
    - d. Providing notice of changes in local sales and use tax rates and of changes in the boundaries of local taxing jurisdictions.
  - (7) Monetary allowances. — The Agreement must outline any monetary allowances that are to be provided by the states to sellers or certified service providers.
  - (8) State compliance. — The Agreement must require each state to certify compliance with the terms of the Agreement before becoming a member and to maintain compliance, under the laws of the member state, with all provisions of the Agreement while a member.
  - (9) Consumer privacy. — The Agreement must require each state to adopt a uniform policy for certified service providers that protects the privacy of consumers and maintains the confidentiality of tax information. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

§ 105-164.42F. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Cooperating sovereigns.

The Agreement authorized by this Part is an accord among individual cooperating sovereigns in furtherance of their governmental functions. The Agreement provides a mechanism among the member states to establish and maintain a cooperative, simplified system for the application and administration of sales and use taxes under the laws of each member state. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

Part 7A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

§ 105-164.42G. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Effect of Agreement.

Entry of this State into the Agreement does not create a cause of action or a defense to an action. No person may challenge any action or inaction by a department, agency, or other instrumentality of this State, or a political subdivision of this State, on the ground that the action or inaction is inconsistent with the Agreement. No law of this State, or its application, may be declared invalid on the ground that the provision or application is inconsistent with the Agreement. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

§ 105-164.42H. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Certification of certified automated system and effect of certification.

(a) Certification. — The Secretary may certify a software program as a certified automated system if the Secretary determines that the program correctly determines all of the following and that the software can generate reports and returns required by the Secretary:

- (1) The applicable combined State and local sales and use tax rate for a sale, based on the sourcing principles in G.S. 105-164.4B.
- (2) Whether or not an item is exempt from tax, based on a uniform product code or another method.
- (3) Whether or not an exemption certificate offered by a purchaser is a valid certificate, based on the Department's registry of holders of exemption certificates.
- (4) The amount of tax to be remitted for each taxpayer for a reporting period.
- (5) Any other issue necessary for the application or calculation of sales and use tax due.

(b) Liability. — A seller may choose to use a certified automated system in performing its sales tax administration functions. A seller that uses a certified automated system is liable for sales and use taxes due on transactions it processes using the certified automated system except for underpayments of tax attributable to errors in the functioning of the system. A person that provides a certified automated system is responsible for the proper functioning of that system and is liable for underpayments of tax attributable to errors in the functioning of the system. (2000-120, s. 2; 2001-347, ss. 1.1, 1.3.)

Editor's Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.1, effective August 8, 2001, recodifies G.S. 105-164.43A(a) as G.S. 104-164.42H(a). For contingent expiration date, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, ss. 1.1 and 1.3, effective August 8, 2001, added the section heading; recodified former § 105-164.43A(a) as subsection (a); in subsection (a), rewrote the subsection catchline, which formerly read "Software," substituted "automated system" for "sales tax collection program" in the introductory paragraph, and substituted "the sourcing principles in G.S. 105-164.4B" for "a ship to address" in subdivision (a)(1); and added subsection (b). For contingent expiration, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

Part 7A has a delayed repeal date. See notes.

§ 105-164.42I. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Contract with certified service provider and effect of contract.

(a) Certification. — The Secretary may certify an entity as a certified service provider if the entity meets all of the following requirements:

- (1) The entity uses a certified automated system.
- (2) The entity has agreed to update its program upon notification by the Secretary.
- (3) The entity integrates its certified automated system with the system of a seller for whom the entity collects tax so that the tax due on a sale is determined at the time of the sale.
- (4) The entity remits the taxes it collects at the time and in the manner specified by the Secretary.
- (5) The entity agrees to file sales and use tax returns on behalf of the sellers for whom it collects tax.
- (6) The entity enters into a contract with the Secretary and agrees to comply with all the conditions of the contract.

(b) Contract. — The Secretary may contract with a certified service provider for the collection and remittance of sales and use taxes. A certified service provider must file with the Secretary a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit in the amount set by the Secretary. A bond must be conditioned upon compliance with the contract, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary. The amount a certified service provider charges under the contract is a cost of collecting the tax and is payable from the amount collected.

(c) Liability. — A seller may contract with a certified service provider to collect and remit sales and use taxes payable to the State on sales made by the seller. A certified service provider with whom a seller contracts is the agent of the seller. As the seller's agent, the certified service provider, rather than the seller, is liable for sales and use taxes due this State on all sales transactions the certified service provider processes for the seller unless the seller misrepresents the type of products it sells or commits fraud. A seller that misrepresents the type of products it sells or commits fraud is liable for taxes not collected as a result of the misrepresentation or fraud.

(d) Audit and Review. — In the absence of misrepresentation or fraud, a seller that contracts with a certified service provider is not subject to audit on the transactions processed by the certified service provider. A seller is subject to audit for transactions not processed by the certified service provider. The State may perform a system check of a seller and review a seller's procedures to determine if the certified service provider's system is functioning properly and the extent to which the seller's transactions are being processed by the certified service provider. A certified service provider is subject to audit. (2000-120, s. 2; 2001-347, ss. 1.1, 1.3.)

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.1, effective August 8, 2001, recodifies G.S. 105-164.43A(b) as G.S. 104-164.42I(a) and G.S. 105-164.43B as G.S. 105-164.42I(b). For contingent expiration date, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, ss. 1.1 and 1.3, effective August 8, 2001, added the section heading; recodified former § 105-164.43A(b) as subsection (a), and former § 105.164.43B as subsection (b); in subsection (a), rewrote the subsection catchline, which formerly read "Tax Collector," substituted "certified service provider" for "Certified Sales Tax Collector" in the introductory paragraph, substituted “automated system” for “sales tax collection program” in subdivisions (a)(1) and (a)(3), and substituted “seller” for “retailer” in subdivisions (a)(3) and (a)(5); in subsection (b), added the subsection catchline, and substituted “certified service provider” for “Certified Sales Tax Collectors” in three places; and added subsections (c) and (d). For contingent expiration, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

§ 105-164.42J. (Effective until January 1, 2006 — See note) Performance standard for multistate seller.

The Secretary may establish a performance standard for a seller that is engaged in business in this State and at least 10 other states and has developed a proprietary system to determine the amount of sales and use taxes due on transactions. A seller that enters into an agreement with the Secretary that establishes a performance standard for that system is liable for the failure of the system to meet the performance standard. (2001-347, s. 1.3.)

Editor’s Note. — For contingent expiration date for Part 7A, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1 at § 105-164.42A.

Part 8. Administration and Enforcement.

§ 105-164.43. Secretary to make regulations.

Subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-262 the Secretary shall from time to time promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Article for making returns and for the ascertainment, assessment, and collection of the tax imposed hereunder as he may deem necessary to enforce its provisions, and upon request shall furnish any taxpayer with a copy of such rules and regulations. All provisions with respect to reviews and appeals from the Secretary’s decisions as provided by G.S. 105-241.2, 105-241.3 and 105-241.4 shall be applicable to this section. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-98, s. 54.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 54, effective August 14, 1998, redesignated Division VIII as Part 8.

G.S. 105-164.43A(a) formerly read, "Software. — The Secretary may certify a software program as a certified sales tax collection program if the Secretary determines that the program correctly determines all of the following and that the software can generate reports and returns required by the Secretary:

"(1) The applicable combined State and local sales and use tax rate for a sale, based on a ship-to address.

"(2) Whether or not an item is exempt from tax, based on a uniform product code or another method.

"(3) Whether or not an exemption certificate offered by a purchaser is a valid certificate, based on the Department's registry of holders of exemption certificates.

"(4) The amount of tax to be remitted for each taxpayer for a reporting period.

"(5) Any other issue necessary for the application or calculation of sales and use tax due."

G.S. 105-164.43A(b) formerly read "Tax Collector. — The Secretary may certify an entity as a Certified Sales Tax Collector if the entity meets all of the following requirements:

"(1) The entity uses a certified sales tax collection program.

"(2) The entity has agreed to update its program upon notification by the Secretary.

"(3) The entity integrates its certified sales tax collection program with the system of a retailer for whom the entity collects tax so that the tax due on a sale is determined at the time of the sale.

"(4) The entity remits the taxes it collects at the time and in the manner specified by the Secretary.

"(5) The entity agrees to file sales and use tax returns on behalf of the retailers for whom it collects tax.

"(6) The entity enters into a contract with the Secretary and agrees to comply with all the conditions of the contract."

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1, provides: "Part 1 of this act is effective when it becomes law [August 8, 2001] and expires January 1, 2006, unless one of the following occurs: (i) 15 states have signed the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, or (ii) states representing a combined resident population equal to at least ten percent (10%) of the national resident population, as determined by the 2000 federal decennial census, have signed the Agreement."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.3, effective August 8, 2001, recodified former subsection (a) as present § 105-164.42H(a), and former subsection (b) as present § 105-164.42I(a). For contingent expiration date, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

§ 105-164.43B. (Recodified effective August 8, 2001 until January 1, 2006 — See note) Contract with Certified Sales Tax Collector.

Recodified as § 105-164.42I(b) by Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.1, effective August 8, 2001 until January 1, 2006. See note. (2000-120, s. 2; 2001-347, s. 1.1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.1, effective August 8, 2001, recodifies G.S. 105-164.43B as G.S. 105-164.42I(b). For contingent expiration date, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

G.S. 105-164.43B read "The Secretary may contract with a Certified Sales Tax Collector for the collection and remittance of sales and use taxes. A Certified Sales Tax Collector must file with the Secretary a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit in the amount set by the Secretary. A bond must be conditioned upon compliance with the contract, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary.

The amount a Certified Sales Tax Collector charges under the contract is a cost of collecting the tax and is payable from the amount collected."

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1, provides: "Part 1 of this act is effective when it becomes law [August 8, 2001] and expires January 1, 2006, unless one of the following occurs: (i) 15 states have signed the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, or (ii) states representing a combined resident population equal to at least ten percent (10%) of the national resident population, as determined by the 2000 federal decennial census, have signed the Agreement."

§ 105-164.43C. (Repealed effective August 8, 2001 until January 1, 2006 — See note) Effect of contract.

Repealed by Session Laws 2001-347, s. 1.2, effective August 8, 2001 until January 1, 2006. See note. (2000-120, s. 2; 2001-347, s. 1.2.)

Editor's Note. — Sessions Laws 2001-347, s. 1.2, repealed this section effective August 8, 2001. For contingent expiration date of this repeal, see note regarding Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1.

G.S. 105-164.43C formerly read, "(a) Retailer. — A retailer may contract with a Certified Sales Tax Collector to collect and remit sales and use taxes payable to the State on sales made by the retailer. In the absence of fraud, a retailer who contracts with a Certified Sales Tax Collector is not subject to audit by the State on the transactions it processes using the Collector's certified sales tax collection program. A retailer is subject to audit for transactions not processed by the Certified Sales Tax Collector.

"The Department may review a retailer's procedures to determine if the certified sales tax collection program is functioning properly. A retailer who contracts with a Certified Sales Tax Collector is not liable for taxes due on sales processed using the program unless the retailer misrepresented the product it sells. A contract with a Certified Sales Tax Collector is not a factor in determining whether a person has nexus with this State for payment of any tax.

"(b) Collector. — A Certified Sales Tax Collector is the agent of a seller who contracts with the Certified Sales Tax Collector for collection and remittance of sales and use taxes payable to this State. As the seller's agent, the Certified Sales Tax Collector is liable for sales tax due on all sales transactions processed by the Certified Sales Tax Collector unless the seller misrepresented the type of property sold."

Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.1, provides: "Part 1 of this act is effective when it becomes law [August 8, 2001] and expires January 1, 2006, unless one of the following occurs: (i) 15 states have signed the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, or (ii) states representing a combined resident population equal to at least ten percent (10%) of the national resident population, as determined by the 2000 federal decennial census, have signed the Agreement."

§ 105-164.44. Penalty and remedies of Article 9 applicable.

All provisions not inconsistent with this Article in Article 9, entitled "General Administration — Penalties and Remedies" of Subchapter I of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, including but not limited to, administration, auditing, making returns, promulgation of rules and regulations by the Secretary, additional taxes, assessment procedure, imposition and collection of taxes and the lien thereof, assessments, refunds and penalties are hereby made a part of this Article and shall be applicable thereto. (1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-164.44B. Transfer to Wildlife Resources Fund of taxes on hunting and fishing supplies and equipment.

Each fiscal year, the Secretary of Revenue shall transfer at the end of each quarter from the State sales and use tax net collections received by the Department of Revenue under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes to the State Treasurer for the Wildlife Resources Fund, one fourth of the amount transferred the preceding fiscal year plus or minus the percentage of that amount by which the total collection of State sales and use taxes increased or decreased during the preceding fiscal year. (1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1116, s. 88; 1987, c. 738, s. 150; 1989, c. 752, s. 159; 1993, c. 321, ss. 290(a), 290(b); 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 591, s. 9, c. 769, s. 27.1(a), (b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1116, which amended this section, provided in s. 88(c): "All of the funds collected by the Secretary of Revenue and transferred to the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission pursuant to this section shall be obligated and expended by the Commission in accordance with Article 1 of Chapter 143 of the North Carolina General Statutes. Of the additional financial support generated annually by the provisions of this section for the Wildlife Commission, an amount not less than fifty percent (50%) shall be obligated and expended by the Commission annually for capital improvements and other nonrecurring purposes."

Session Laws 1999-237, s. 28.17 provides that, for the 1999-2000 and 2000-2001 fiscal years, the Secretary of Revenue is to transfer at the end of each quarter from the state sales and use tax net collections received by the Department of Revenue under Article 5, Chapter 105 of the General Statutes to the State Treasurer for the Wildlife Resources Fund to fund the cost of any legislative salary increase for employees of the Wildlife Resources Commission.

Session Laws 1999-237, s. 30.2 provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1999-2001 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1999-2001 biennium."

Session Laws 1999-237, s. 1.1 provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 1999'."

Session Laws 1999-237, s. 30.4 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-164.44C. (Repealed effective July 1, 2003) Reimbursement for sales taxes on food stamp foods and supplemental foods.

As soon as practicable after July 1 of each year, the Secretary shall make a preliminary allocation to each county of the amount of local sales taxes that would have been collected in the county during the 1989-90 fiscal year on foods purchased with food stamp coupons or supplemental food instruments in the county, had these foods not been exempt from tax under G.S. 105-164.13(38). The Secretary shall then distribute the amounts allocated to each county between the county and the cities located in the county in accordance with the method by which local sales and use taxes are distributed in that county. In order to pay for the reimbursement under this section and the cost to the Department of Revenue for administering the reimbursement, the Secretary shall draw from collections received under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter an amount equal to the amount of the reimbursement and the cost of administration. (1985, c. 656, s. 31; 1989, c. 752, s. 52(b); 1991, c. 689, s. 28(e); 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 993, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 70; 2001-424, s. 34.15(a)(1).)

Section Repealed Effective July 1, 2003.

— This section is repealed effective July 1, 2003, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.15(a)(1).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the

'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-164.44D. Reimbursement for sales tax exemption for purchases by the Department of Transportation.

The amount of sales and use tax revenue that is not realized by the General Fund as the result of the sales and use tax exemption in G.S. 105-164.13 for purchases by the Department of Transportation shall be transferred from the Highway Fund to the General Fund in accordance with this section. This direct transfer is made in lieu of eliminating the Department of Transportation's sales and use tax exemption to alleviate the administrative and accounting burden that would be placed on the Department of Transportation by eliminating the exemption.

For the 1991-92 fiscal year, the State Treasurer shall transfer the sum of eight million seven hundred thousand dollars ($8,700,000) from the Highway Fund to the General Fund. The transfer shall be made on a quarterly basis by transferring one-fourth of the annual amount each quarter.

For each fiscal year following the 1991-92 fiscal year, the State Treasurer shall transfer the sum transferred the previous fiscal year plus or minus the percentage of that amount by which the total collection of State sales and use taxes increased or decreased during the previous fiscal year. In each fiscal year, the transfer shall be made on a quarterly basis by transferring one-fourth of the annual amount each quarter. (1991, c. 689, s. 322.)

§ 105-164.44E. (Effective April 1, 2003, until June 30, 2010) Transfer to the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Fund.

At the end of each quarter, the Secretary must transfer to the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Fund established under G.S. 143-215.104C an amount equal to fifteen percent (15%) of the net State sales and use taxes collected under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4) during the previous fiscal year, as determined by the Secretary based on available data. (2000-19, s. 1.1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-19, s. 23, makes this section effective April 1, 2003 and provides for its expiration on June 30, 2010.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 20, contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 21, authorizes the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to study alternative dry-cleaning processes and equipment, evaluating the benefits and costs as well as the feasibility of installing and implementing these, and to make a final report to the Environmental Review Commission no later than September 1, 2001, with findings, recommendations, and any legislative proposals.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 22, as amended by Session Laws 2001-265, s. 4, provides: "This act constitutes a recent act of the General Assembly within the meaning of G.S. 150B-21.1. The Environmental Management Commission and the Commission on Health Services may adopt temporary rules to implement the provisions of this act until 1 July 2002."

§ 105-164.44F. Distribution of part of telecommunications taxes to cities.

(a) Amount. — The Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the taxes imposed by G.S. 105-164.4(a) (4c) on telecommunications service. The Secretary must make the distribution within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter. The amount the Secretary must distribute is eighteen and twenty-six hundredths percent (18.26%) of the net proceeds of the taxes collected during the quarter, minus two million six hundred twenty thousand nine hundred forty-eight dollars ($2,620,948). This deduction is one-fourth of the annual amount by which the distribution to cities of the gross receipts franchise tax on telephone companies, imposed by former G.S. 105-120, was required to be reduced beginning in fiscal year 1995-96 as a result of the "freeze deduction." The Secretary must distribute the specified percentage of the proceeds, less the "freeze deduction" among the cities in accordance with this section.

(b) Share of Cities Incorporated on or After January 1, 2001. — The share of a city incorporated on or after January 1, 2001, is its per capita share of the amount to be distributed to all cities incorporated on or after this date. This amount is the proportion of the total to be distributed under this section that is the same as the proportion of the population of cities incorporated on or after January 1, 2001, compared to the population of all cities. In making the distribution under this subsection, the Secretary must use the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Planning Officer.

(c) Share of Cities Incorporated Before January 1, 2001. — The share of a city incorporated before January 1, 2001, is its proportionate share of the amount to be distributed to all cities incorporated before this date. A city's proportionate share for a quarter is based on the amount of telephone gross receipts franchise taxes attributed to the city under G.S. 105-116.1 for the same quarter that was the last quarter in which taxes were imposed on telephone companies under repealed G.S. 105-120. The amount to be distributed to all cities incorporated before January 1, 2001, is the amount determined under subsection (a) of this section, minus the amount distributed under subsection (b) of this section.

The following changes apply when a city incorporated before January 1, 2001, alters its corporate structure. When a change described in subdivision (2) or (3) occurs, the resulting cities are considered to be cities incorporated before January 1, 2001, and the distribution method set out in this subsection rather than the method set out in subsection (b) of this section applies:

- (1) If a city dissolves and is no longer incorporated, the proportional shares of the remaining cities incorporated before January 1, 2001, must be recalculated to adjust for the dissolution of that city.
- (2) If two or more cities merge or otherwise consolidate, their proportional shares are combined.
- (3) If a city divides into two or more cities, the proportional share of the city that divides is allocated among the new cities on a per capita basis.

(d) Share of Cities Served by a Telephone Membership Corporation. — The share of a city served by a telephone membership corporation, as described in Chapter 117 of the General Statutes, is computed as if the city was incorporated on or after January 1, 2001, under subsection (b) of this section. If a city is served by a telephone membership corporation and another provider, then its per capita share under this subsection applies only to the population of the area served by the telephone membership corporation.

(e) Ineligible Cities. — An ineligible city is disregarded for all purposes under this section. A city incorporated on or after January 1, 2000, is not eligible for a distribution under this section unless it meets both of the following requirements:

- (1) It is eligible to receive funds under G.S. 136-41.2.
- (2) A majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. (2001-430, s. 10; 2001-424, s. 34.25(b); 2001-487, s. 67(d).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.25(b) amends subsection (a) of this section, as enacted by House Bill 571, contingent on House Bill 571 becoming law on or before January 1, 2002. House Bill 571 is Session Laws 2001-430, effective January 1, 2002.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 15, provides: "The Department of Revenue must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by October 1, 2003, on the amounts collected under this act and on the distributions made to local governments, including the amounts received by them from the sales and use tax on prepaid calling arrangements. On or before October 1, 2007, the Department must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee any recommendations it has, if any, to adjust the distributions made to local governments. The Department must consult with the North Carolina League of Municipalities in developing its recommendations."

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 19, provides: "The Revenue Laws Study Committee shall recommend to the 2002 Regular Session of the 2001 General Assembly any changes necessary to this act [Session Laws 2001-430] to conform with the federal Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act."

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 20, makes this section effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.25(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, in subsection (a), as enacted by Session Laws 2001-430, s. 10, substituted “eighteen and twenty-six hundredths percent (18.26%)” for “twenty-four and four-tenths percent (24.4%).”

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(d), effective January 1, 2002, redesignated former subsection (d) as present subsection (e) and added present subsection (d), relating to the share of cities served by a telephone membership corporation.

DIVISION IX. LOCAL OPTION SALES AND USE TAXES.

§§ 105-164.45 through 105-164.58: Repealed by Session Laws 1971, c. 77, s. 1.

ARTICLE 5A.

North Carolina Highway Use Tax.

§ 105-187.1. Definitions.

The following definitions and the definitions in G.S. 105-164.3 apply to this Article:

- (1) Commissioner. — The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.
- (2) Division. — The Division of Motor Vehicles, Department of Transportation.
- (3) Long-term lease or rental. — A lease or rental made under a written agreement to lease or rent property to the same person for a period of at least 365 continuous days.
- (4) Recreational vehicle. — A motorized or towable vehicle that combines transportation and temporary living quarters for travel, recreation, and camping. To qualify as a motorized recreational vehicle, the vehicle must be a camping and travel vehicle built on or as an integral part of a self-propelled motor vehicle chassis. If a towable vehicle is of such size or weight as to require a special highway movement permit, it is not a recreational vehicle. Towable recreational vehicles include travel trailers, fifth-wheel travel trailers, folding camping trailers, and truck campers.

- (5) Rescue squad. — An organization that provides rescue services, emergency medical services, or both.
- (6) Retailer. — A retailer as defined in G.S. 105-164.3 who is engaged in the business of selling, leasing, or renting motor vehicles.
- (7) Short-term lease or rental. — A lease or rental that is not a long-term lease or rental. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; 1991, c. 79, s. 4; 2000-173, s. 10(a); 2001-424, s. 34.24(e); 2001-497, s. 2(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1989, c. 692, s. 8.4, as amended by Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 590, s. 7, and by Session Laws 1999-380, s. 3, provides that when contracts for all projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 have been let and sufficient revenue has been accumulated to pay the contracts, the Secretary of Transportation shall certify this occurrence by letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the Secretary of State, which contingency is not expected to occur until the year 2020. Proceeds of bonds and notes issued pursuant to the State Highway Bond Act of 1996 shall not be included as revenues accumulated to pay the contracts for projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes. This Article shall be repealed effective the first day of the calendar quarter following the date the Secretary sends the letter, unless there is less than 30 days between that date and the first day of the following quarter, in which case, the repeal will become effective the first day of the second calendar quarter following the date the letter is sent.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 10(a), effective August 2, 2000, added subdivision (3a).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24(e), effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to certificates of title issued on or after that date, substituted "Commissioner. — The" for "Commissioner" means the" in subdivision (1); substituted "Division. — The" for "Division" means the" in subdivision (2); substituted "Long-term lease or rental. — A" for "long-term lease or rental" means a" in subdivision (3); added subdivision (3a); redesignated former subdivision (3a) as (3b); and substituted "Short-term lease or rental. — A" for "Short-term lease or rental" means a" in subdivision (4).

Session Laws 2001-497, s. 2(b), effective December 19, 2001, and applicable retroactively to certificates of title issued on or after October 1, 2001, deleted former subdivisions (3a), (3b) and (4), defining rescue squad, retailer, and short term lease or rental, and added present subdivisions (4) to (7), defining recreational vehicle, rescue squad, retailer, and short-term lease or rental.

§ 105-187.2. Highway use tax imposed.

A tax is imposed on the privilege of using the highways of this State. This tax is in addition to all other taxes and fees imposed. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1.)

§ 105-187.3. Rate of tax.

(a) Amount. — The rate of the use tax imposed by this Article is three percent (3%) of the retail value of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued. The tax is payable as provided in G.S. 105-187.4. The maximum tax is one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each certificate of title issued for a Class A or Class B motor vehicle that is a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in G.S. 20-4.01. The maximum tax is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for each certificate of title issued for a recreational vehicle that is not subject to the one thousand dollar ($1,000) maximum tax.

(b) Retail Value. — The retail value of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued because of a sale of the motor vehicle by a retailer is the sales price of the motor vehicle, including all accessories attached to the vehicle when it is delivered to the purchaser, less the amount of any allowance given by the retailer for a motor vehicle taken in trade as a full or partial payment for the purchased motor vehicle. The retail value of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued because of a sale of the motor vehicle by a seller who is not a retailer is the market value of the vehicle, less the amount of any allowance given by the seller for a motor vehicle taken in trade as a full or partial payment for the purchased motor vehicle. A transaction in which two parties exchange motor vehicles is considered a sale regardless of whether either party gives additional consideration as part of the transaction. The retail value of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued because of a reason other than the sale of the motor vehicle is the market value of the vehicle. The market value of a vehicle is presumed to be the value of the vehicle set in a schedule of values adopted by the Commissioner.

(c) Schedules. — In adopting a schedule of values for motor vehicles, the Commissioner shall adopt a schedule whose values do not exceed the wholesale values of motor vehicles as published in a recognized automotive reference manual. (1989, c. 692, ss. 4.1, 4.2; c. 770, s. 74.13; 1993, c. 467, s. 3; 1995, c. 349, s. 1; c. 390, s. 30; 2001-424, s. 34.24(a); 2001-497, s. 2(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-424, § 34.24(f), effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to certificates of title issued on or after that date, as amended by Session Laws 2001-489, s. 1(a), effective December 19, 2001, provides that subsection (a) of s. 34.24, which amended subsection (a) of § 105-187.3, does not apply to a certificate of title issued as the result of a purchase of a vehicle if the purchase was made before October 1, 2001, or was made pursuant to a contract entered into or awarded before October 1, 2001.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24(a), effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to certificates of title issued on or after that date, deleted the last sentence in subsection (a), which read: "The tax may not be more than one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) for each certificate of title issued for any other motor vehicle."

Session Laws 2001-497, s. 2(a), effective December 19, 2001, and applicable retroactively to certificates of title issued on or after October 1, 2001, in subsection (a) of this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24, substituted "maximum tax is" for "tax may not be more than" in the second sentence, and added the final sentence.

§ 105-187.4. Payment of tax.

(a) Method. — The tax imposed by this Article must be paid to the Commissioner when applying for a certificate of title for a motor vehicle. The Commissioner may not issue a certificate of title for a vehicle until the tax imposed by this Article has been paid. The tax may be paid in cash or by check.

(b) Sale by Retailer. — When a certificate of title for a motor vehicle is issued because of a sale of the motor vehicle by a retailer, the applicant for the certificate of title must attach a copy of the bill of sale for the motor vehicle to the application. A retailer who sells a motor vehicle may collect from the purchaser of the vehicle the tax payable upon the issuance of a certificate of title for the vehicle, apply for a certificate of title on behalf of the purchaser, and remit the tax due on behalf of the purchaser. If a check submitted by a retailer in payment of taxes collected under this section is not honored by the financial institution upon which it is drawn because the retailer's account did not have sufficient funds to pay the check or the retailer did not have an account at the institution, the Division may suspend or revoke the license issued to the retailer under Article 12 of Chapter 20 of the General Statutes. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; 1991, c. 193, s. 1.)

§ 105-187.5. Alternate tax for those who rent or lease motor vehicles.

(a) Election. — A retailer may elect not to pay the tax imposed by this Article at the rate set in G.S. 105-187.3 when applying for a certificate of title for a motor vehicle purchased by the retailer for lease or rental. A retailer who makes this election shall pay a tax on the gross receipts of the lease or rental of the vehicle. Like the tax imposed by G.S. 105-187.3, this alternate tax is a tax on the privilege of using the highways of this State. The tax is imposed on a retailer, but is to be added to the lease or rental price of a motor vehicle and thereby be paid by the person who leases or rents the vehicle.

(b) Rate. — The tax rate on the gross receipts from the short-term lease or rental of a motor vehicle is eight percent (8%) and the tax rate on the gross receipts from the long-term lease or rental of a motor vehicle is three percent (3%). Gross receipts does not include the amount of any allowance given for a motor vehicle taken in trade as a partial payment on the lease or rental price. The maximum tax in G.S. 105-187.3(a) on certain motor vehicles applies to a continuous lease or rental of such a motor vehicle to the same person.

(c) Method. — A retailer who elects to pay tax on the gross receipts of the lease or rental of a motor vehicle shall make this election when applying for a certificate of title for the vehicle. To make the election, the retailer shall complete a form provided by the Division giving information needed to collect the alternate tax based on gross receipts. Once made, an election is irrevocable.

(d) Administration. — The Division shall notify the Secretary of Revenue of a retailer who makes the election under this section. A retailer who makes this election shall report and remit to the Secretary the tax on the gross receipts of the lease or rental of the motor vehicle. The Secretary shall administer the tax imposed by this section on gross receipts in the same manner as the tax levied under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(2). The administrative provisions and powers of the Secretary that apply to the tax levied under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(2) apply to the tax imposed by this section. In addition, the Division may request the Secretary to audit a retailer who elects to pay tax on gross receipts under this section. When the Secretary conducts an audit at the request of the Division, the Division shall reimburse the Secretary for the cost of the audit, as determined by the Secretary. In conducting an audit of a retailer under this section, the Secretary may audit any sales of motor vehicles made by the retailer. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; 1991, c. 79, s. 5; c. 193, s. 3; 1995, c. 410, s. 1; 2000-173, s. 10(b); 2001-424, s. 34.24(b); 2001-497, s. 2(c).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 10(b), effective August 2, 2000, deleted "who is engaged in the business of leasing or renting motor vehicles" following "A retailer" at the beginning of subsection (a).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24(b), effective

October 1, 2001, and applicable to certificates of title issued on or after that date, in subsection (b), inserted "on certain commercial motor vehicles" and "such" in the last sentence.

Session Laws 2001-497, s. 2(c), effective December 19, 2001, and applicable retroactively to certificates of title issued on or after October 1, 2001, deleted "commercial" following "certain" in the final sentence of subsection (b) of this section as amended by s. 34.24 of Session Laws 2001-424.

§ 105-187.6. Exemptions from highway use tax.

(a) Full Exemptions. — The tax imposed by this Article does not apply when a certificate of title is issued as the result of a transfer of a motor vehicle:

- (1) To the insurer of the motor vehicle under G.S. 20-109.1 because the vehicle is a salvage vehicle.
- (2) To either a manufacturer, as defined in G.S. 20-286, or a motor vehicle retailer for the purpose of resale.
- (3) To the same owner to reflect a change or correction in the owner's name.
- (3a) To one or more of the same co-owners to reflect the removal of one or more other co-owners, when there is no consideration for the transfer.
- (4) By will or intestacy.
- (5) By a gift between a husband and wife, a parent and child, or a stepparent and a stepchild.
- (6) By a distribution of marital or divisible property incident to a marital separation or divorce.
- (7) To a handicapped person from the Department of Health and Human Services after the vehicle has been equipped by the Department for use by the handicapped.
- (8) To a local board of education for use in the driver education program of a public school when the motor vehicle is transferred:
  - a. By a retailer and is to be transferred back to the retailer within 300 days after the transfer to the local board.
  - b. By a local board of education.
- (9) To a volunteer fire department or volunteer rescue squad that is not part of a unit of local government, has no more than two paid employees, and is exempt from State income tax under G.S. 105-130.11, when the motor vehicle is one of the following:
  - a. A fire truck, a pump truck, a tanker truck, or a ladder truck used to suppress fire.
  - b. A four-wheel drive vehicle intended to be mounted with a water tank and hose and used for forest fire fighting.
  - c. An emergency services vehicle.

(b) Partial Exemptions. — A maximum tax of forty dollars ($40.00) applies when a certificate of title is issued as the result of a transfer of a motor vehicle:

- (1) To a secured party who has a perfected security interest in the motor vehicle.
- (2) To a partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, or other person where no gain or loss arises on the transfer of the motor vehicle under section 351 or section 721 of the Code, or because the transfer is treated under the Code as being to an entity that is not a separate entity from its owner or whose separate existence is otherwise disregarded, or to a partnership, limited liability company, or corporation by merger, conversion, or consolidation in accordance with applicable law.

(c) Out-of-state Vehicles. — A maximum tax of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) applies when a certificate of title is issued for a motor vehicle that, at the time of applying for a certificate of title, is and has been titled in another state for at least 90 days. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; c. 770, ss. 74.9, 74.10; 1991, c. 193, s. 4; c. 689, s. 323; 1993, c. 467, s. 1; 1995, c. 390, s. 31; 1997-443, s. 11A.118(a); 1998-98, s. 15.1; 1999-369, s. 5.9; 2000-140, s. 68; 2001-387, s. 151; 2001-424, s. 34.24(d); 2001-487, s. 68.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-387, s. 154(b), provides that nothing in this act shall supersede the provisions of Article 10 or 65 of

Chapter 58 of the General Statutes, and this act does not create an alternate means for an entity governed by Article 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes to convert to a different business form.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.9, effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, rewrote subdivision (b)(2).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 68, effective July 21, 2000, substituted "Code" for "Internal Revenue Code as defined in G.S. 105-228.90" in subdivision (b)(2).

Session Laws 2001-387, effective January 1, 2002, rewrote subdivision (b)(2).

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24(d), effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to certificates of title issued on or after that date, added subdivision (a)(9).

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 68, effective December 16, 2001, in subsection (a) of this section as amended by s. 34.24 of Session Laws 2001-424, inserted subdivision (a)(3a).

§ 105-187.7. Credits.

(a) Tax Paid in Another State. — A person who, within 90 days before applying for a certificate of title for a motor vehicle on which the tax imposed by this Article is due, has paid a sales tax, an excise tax, or a tax substantially equivalent to the tax imposed by this Article on the vehicle to a taxing jurisdiction outside this State is allowed a credit against the tax due under this Article for the amount of tax paid to the other jurisdiction.

(b) Tax Paid Within One Year. — A person who applies for a certificate of title for a motor vehicle that is titled in another state but was formerly titled in this State is allowed a credit against the tax due under this Article for the amount of tax paid under this Article by that person on the same vehicle within one year before the application for a certificate of title. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; 1995, c. 390, s. 32; c. 512, s. 1.)

§ 105-187.8. Refund for return of purchased motor vehicle.

When a purchaser of a motor vehicle returns the motor vehicle to the seller of the motor vehicle within 90 days after the purchase and receives a vehicle replacement for the returned vehicle or a refund of the price paid the seller, whether from the seller or the manufacturer of the vehicle, the purchaser may obtain a refund of the privilege tax paid on the certificate of title issued for the returned motor vehicle.

To obtain a refund, the purchaser must apply to the Division for a refund within 30 days after receiving the replacement vehicle or refund of the purchase price. The application must be made on a form prescribed by the Commission and must be supported by documentation from the seller of the returned vehicle. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; 1995, c. 390, s. 33.)

§ 105-187.9. Disposition of tax proceeds.

(a) Distribution. — Taxes collected under this Article at the rate of eight percent (8%) shall be credited to the General Fund. Taxes collected under this Article at the rate of three percent (3%) shall be credited to the North Carolina Highway Trust Fund.

(b) Transfer. — In each fiscal year the State Treasurer shall transfer the amounts provided below from the taxes deposited in the Trust Fund to the General Fund. The transfer of funds authorized by this section may be made by transferring one-fourth of the amount at the end of each quarter in the fiscal year or by transferring the full amount annually on July 1 of each fiscal year, subject to the availability of revenue.

- (1) The sum of one hundred seventy million dollars ($170,000,000).
- (2) In addition to the amount transferred under subdivision (1) of this subsection, the sum of one million seven hundred thousand dollars ($1,700,000) shall be transferred in the 2001-2002 fiscal year. The amount distributed under this subdivision shall increase in the 2002-2003 fiscal year to the sum of two million four hundred thousand dollars ($2,400,000). In each fiscal year thereafter, the sum transferred under this subdivision shall be the amount distributed in the previous fiscal year plus or minus a percentage of this sum equal to the percentage by which tax collections under this Article increased or decreased for the most recent 12-month period for which data are available. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; c. 799, s. 33; 1993, c. 321, s. 164(a); 2001-424, s. 34.24(c); 2001-513, s. 15.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.24(c), effective on and after July 1, 2001, added the subsection designations, in subsection (b), substituted "amounts provided below from" for "sum of one hundred seventy million dollars ($170,000,000) of," and added subdivisions (1) and (2).

Session Laws 2001-513, s. 15, effective July 1, 2001, added catchlines to subsections (a) and (b); and in subdivision (b)(2), in the first sentence, substituted "In addition to the amount transferred under subdivision (1) of this subsection" for "In 2001-2002 fiscal year," and added "shall be transferred in 2001-2002 fiscal year", in the the second sentence added "The amount distributed under this subdivision shall increase" and substituted "to" for a comma following "2002-2003 fiscal year," and in the third sentence, inserted "shall be the amount distributed."

§ 105-187.10. Penalties and remedies.

(a) Penalties. — The penalty for bad checks in G.S. 105-236(1) applies to a check offered in payment of the tax imposed by this Article. In addition, if a check offered to the Division in payment of the tax imposed by this Article is returned unpaid and the tax for which the check was offered, plus the penalty imposed under G.S. 105-236(1), is not paid within 30 days after the Commissioner demands its payment, the Commissioner may revoke the registration plate of the vehicle for which a certificate of title was issued when the check was offered.

(b) Unpaid Taxes. — The remedies for collection of taxes in G.S. 20-99 apply to the taxes levied by this Article and collected by the Commissioner.

(c) Appeals. — A taxpayer who disagrees with the presumed value of a motor vehicle must pay the tax based on the presumed value, but may appeal the value to the Commissioner. A taxpayer who appeals the value must provide two estimates of the value of the vehicle to the Commissioner. If the Commissioner finds that the value of the vehicle is less than the presumed value of the vehicle, the Commissioner shall refund any overpayment of tax made by the taxpayer with interest at the rate specified in G.S. 105-241.1 from the date of the overpayment. (1989, c. 692, s. 4.1; c. 770, s. 74.8.)

§ 105-187.11. Transition from sales tax to highway use tax for lessors and renters of motor vehicles.

A tax at the rate set in G.S. 105-187.5(b) is levied on the gross receipts derived by a retailer from the lease or rental of a motor vehicle owned by the retailer before October 1, 1989, and leased or rented on or after that date. A retailer subject to this tax may elect to pay highway use tax at the rate set in G.S. 105-187.3(a) on a motor vehicle owned by the retailer before October 1, 1989, and leased or rented on or after that date. The retail value of a motor vehicle for which a retailer makes an election under this section is the value of the motor vehicle that would apply under G.S. 105-187.3(b) if the retailer received the vehicle because of a reason other than the sale of the motor vehicle on the date the retailer makes the election.

To make the election allowed by this section, a retailer shall complete a form provided by the Division, pay the tax due, and pay the fee set in G.S. 20-85(a)(9). A retailer who makes this election may not receive credit for any tax paid on the motor vehicle under Article 5 of this Chapter or for any tax on gross receipts paid under this Article. The Division shall notify the Secretary of Revenue of a retailer who makes an election under this section. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-187.9, the taxes collected under this section shall be credited to the General Fund. (1991, c. 46, s. 1.)

§§ 105-187.12 through 105-187.14: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 5B.

Scrap Tire Disposal Tax.

§ 105-187.15. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-164.3 apply to this Article, except that the term “sale” does not include lease or rental, and the following definitions apply to this Article:

- (1) Scrap tire. — A tire that is no longer suitable for its original, intended purpose because of wear, damage, or defect.
- (2) Tire. — A continuous solid or pneumatic rubber covering encircling a wheel. (1991, c. 221, s. 1.)

§ 105-187.16. (Effective until June 30, 2002) Tax imposed.

(a) Levy. — A privilege tax is imposed on a tire retailer at a percentage rate of the sales price of each new tire sold at retail by the retailer. A privilege tax is imposed on a tire retailer and on a tire wholesale merchant at a percentage rate of the sales price of each new tire sold by the retailer or wholesale merchant to a wholesale merchant or retailer for placement on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental by the retailer or wholesale merchant. An excise tax is imposed on a new tire purchased for storage, use, or consumption in this State or for placement in this State on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental. This excise tax is a percentage rate of the purchase price of the tire. These taxes are in addition to all other taxes.

(b) Rate. — The percentage rate of the taxes imposed by subsection (a) of this section is set by the following table; the rate is based on the bead diameter of the new tire sold or purchased:

Bead Diameter of Tire	Percentage Rate
Less than 20 inches	2%
At least 20 inches	1%.

(1991, c. 221, s. 1; 1993, c. 548, s. 1; 1997-209, s. 1; 2001-414, s. 22.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective until June 30, 2002. For the section as amended effective June 30, 2002, see the following section, also numbered § 105-187.16.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 548,

§ 105-187.16 is set out twice. See notes.

s. 9, provided that the amendment by c. 548, s. 1 would expire June 30, 1997. Session Laws 1997-209, s. 1, changed the expiration date to June 30, 2002.

Session Laws 1993, c. 548, s. 9, effective October 1, 1993, provides: "The expiration of the additional tax imposed by Section 1 of this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person that arise during the time the additional tax is in effect."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, s. 22, effective January 1, 2002, substituted "purchase price" for "cost price" in the final sentence of subsection (a).

§ 105-187.16. (Effective June 30, 2002) Tax imposed.

A privilege tax is imposed on a tire retailer at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of each new tire sold at retail by the retailer. A privilege tax is imposed on a tire retailer and on a tire wholesale merchant at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of each new tire sold by the retailer or wholesale merchant to a wholesale merchant or retailer for placement on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental by the retailer or wholesale merchant. An excise tax is imposed on a new tire purchased for storage, use, or consumption in this State or for placement in this State on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental. This excise tax is at the rate of one percent (1%) of the cost price of the tire. These taxes are in addition to all other taxes. (1991, c. 221, s. 1; 1993, c. 548, s. 1; 1997-209, s. 1.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective June 30, 2002. For the section as in effect until June 30, 2002, see the preceding section, also numbered § 105-187.16.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 548,

s. 9, provided that the amendment by c. 548, s. 1 would expire June 30, 1997. Session Laws 1997-209, s. 1, changed the expiration date to June 30, 2002. This section is set out above as it will read at that time.

§ 105-187.17. Administration.

The privilege tax this Article imposes on a tire retailer who sells new tires at retail is an additional State sales tax and the excise tax this Article imposes on the storage, use, or consumption of a new tire in this State is an additional State use tax. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, these taxes shall be collected and administered in the same manner as the State sales and use taxes imposed by Article 5 of this Chapter. As under Article 5 of this Chapter, the additional State sales tax paid when a new tire is sold is a credit against the additional State use tax imposed on the storage, use, or consumption of the same tire.

The privilege tax this Article imposes on a tire retailer and on a tire wholesale merchant who sell new tires for placement in this State on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental is a tax on the wholesale sale of the tires. This tax and the excise tax this Article imposes on a new tire purchased for placement in this State on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental shall, to the extent practical, be collected and administered as if they were additional State sales and use taxes. The privilege tax paid when a new tire is sold for placement on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental is a credit against the use tax imposed on the purchase of the same tire for placement in this State on a vehicle offered for sale, lease, or rental. (1991, c. 221, s. 1.)

§ 105-187.18. Exemptions.

The taxes imposed by this Article do not apply to:

- (1) Bicycle tires and other tires for vehicles propelled by human power.
- (2) Recapped tires.
- (3) Tires sold for placement on newly manufactured vehicles.

The exemptions in G.S. 105-164.13 and the refunds allowed in G.S. 105-164.14 do not apply to the taxes imposed by this Article. (1991, c. 221, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 867, s. 1; 1993, c. 364, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 364, s. 2, effective July 16, 1993, rewrote Session Laws 1991, c. 867, s. 2 to make the amendment by c. 867, s. 1 to § 105-187.18 effective upon ratification (July 15, 1992) and to make it applicable retroactively to tires sold on or after July 1, 1991.

§ 105-187.19. Use of tax proceeds.

(a) The Secretary shall distribute the taxes collected under this Article, less the allowance to the Department of Revenue for administrative expenses, in accordance with this section. The Secretary may retain the cost of collection by the Department, not to exceed two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) a year, as reimbursement to the Department.

(b) Each quarter, the Secretary shall credit five percent (5%) of the net tax proceeds to the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund and shall credit twenty-seven percent (27%) of the net tax proceeds to the Scrap Tire Disposal Account. The Secretary shall distribute the remaining sixty-eight percent (68%) of the net tax proceeds among the counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Planning Officer.

(c) A county may use funds distributed to it under this section only as provided in G.S. 130A-309.54. A county that receives funds under this section and that has an agreement with another unit of local government under which the other unit of local government provides for the disposal of solid waste for the county shall transfer the amount received under this section to the other unit of local government. A unit of local government to which funds are transferred is subject to the same restrictions on use of the funds as the county. (1991, c. 221, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 13; c. 548, s. 2; 1997-209, ss. 1, 3, 8.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 2.2(j), provides: "Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-187.19(b), effective for taxes levied during the 2001-2002 fiscal year, the Secretary of Revenue shall credit to the General Fund the net tax proceeds that G.S. 105-187.19(b) directs the Secretary to credit to the Scrap Tire Disposal Account."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

§ 105-187.20. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-164.3 apply to this Article, except that the term "sale" does not include lease or rental, and the following definitions apply to this Article:

- (1) Chlorofluorocarbon refrigerant. — Defined in G.S. 130A-290(a).
- (2) White goods. — Defined in G.S. 130A-290(a). (1993, c. 471, s. 3; 1998-24, s. 7; 2000-109, s. 9(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b), and further amended by Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, made this section effective January 1, 1994 and provided that it would expire July 1, 2001. Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), effective July 13, 2000, deleted the expiration date.

§ 105-187.21. Tax imposed.

A privilege tax is imposed on a white goods retailer at a flat rate for each new white good that is sold by the retailer. An excise tax is imposed on a new white good purchased outside the State for storage, use, or consumption in this State. The rate of the privilege tax and the excise tax is three dollars ($3.00). These taxes are in addition to all other taxes. (1993, c. 471, s. 3; 1998-24, ss. 1, 7; 2000-109, s. 9(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 471, which enacted this section, in s. 11 provides: "The repeal of the tax imposed by Section 3 of this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person that arose during the time the tax was in effect." Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), deleted this application.

Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b), and further amended by Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, made this section effective January 1, 1994 and provided that it would expire July 1, 2001. Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), effective July 13, 2000, deleted the expiration date.

§ 105-187.22. Administration.

The privilege tax this Article imposes on a white goods retailer is an additional State sales tax and the excise tax this Article imposes on the storage, use, or consumption of a new white good in this State is an additional State use tax. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, these taxes shall be collected and administered in the same manner as the State sales and use taxes imposed by Article 5 of this Chapter. As under Article 5 of this Chapter, the additional State sales tax paid when a new white good is sold at retail is a credit against the additional State use tax imposed on the storage, use, or consumption of the same white good. (1993, c. 471, s. 3; 1998-24, s. 7; 2000-109, s. 9(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b), and further amended by Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, made this section effective January 1, 1994 and provided that it would expire July 1, 2001. Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), effective July 13, 2000, deleted the expiration date.

§ 105-187.23. Exemptions and refunds.

Exemptions. — Except for the exemption provided in G.S. 105-164.13(17), the exemptions in G.S. 105-164.13 do not apply to the taxes imposed by this Article.

Refunds. — The refunds allowed in G.S. 105-164.14 do not apply to the taxes imposed by this Article. A person who buys at least 50 new white goods of any kind in the same sale or purchase may obtain a refund equal to sixty percent (60%) of the amount of tax imposed by this Article on the white goods when all of the white goods purchased are to be placed in new or remodeled dwelling units that are located in this State and do not contain the kind of white goods purchased. To obtain a refund, a person must file an application for a refund with the Secretary. The application must contain the information required by the Secretary, be signed by the purchaser of the white goods, and be submitted by the date set by the Secretary. (1993, c. 471, s. 3; 1998-24, s. 7; 2000-109, s. 9(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b), and further amended by Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, made this section effective January 1, 1994 and provided that it would expire July 1, 2001. Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), effective July 13, 2000, deleted the expiration date.

§ 105-187.24. Use of tax proceeds.

The Secretary shall distribute the taxes collected under this Article, less the Department of Revenue's allowance for administrative expenses, in accordance with this section. The Secretary may retain the Department's cost of collection, not to exceed two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) a year, as reimbursement to the Department.

Each quarter, the Secretary shall credit eight percent (8%) of the net tax proceeds to the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund and shall credit twenty percent (20%) of the net tax proceeds to the White Goods Management Account. The Secretary shall distribute the remaining seventy-two percent (72%) of the net tax proceeds among the counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Planning Officer. The Department shall not distribute the tax proceeds to a county when notified not to do so by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources under G.S. 130A-309.87. If a county is not entitled to a distribution, the proceeds allocated for that county will be credited to the White Goods Management Account.

A county may use funds distributed to it under this section only as provided in G.S. 130A-309.82. A county that receives funds under this section and that has an interlocal agreement with another unit of local government under which the other unit provides for the disposal of solid waste for the county must transfer the amount received under this section to that other unit. A unit to which funds are transferred is subject to the same restrictions on use of the funds as the county. (1993, c. 471, s. 3; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b); 1998-24, ss. 2, 7; 2000-109, s. 9(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993, c. 769, s. 15.1(b), Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, and Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), provides: "The first report submitted by the Department to the Environmental Review Commission under G.S. 130A-309.85, as enacted by this act, shall cover the period from January 1, 1994, to June 30, 1994."

Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(a), effective July 1, 1994, repealed Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 10, which would have amended this section effective January 1, 1995.

Session Laws 1993, c. 471, s. 11, as amended by Session Laws 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 769, s. 15.1(b), and further amended by Session Laws 1998-24, s. 7, made this section effective January 1, 1994 and provided that it would expire July 1, 2001. Session Laws 2000-109, s. 9(a), effective July 13, 2000, deleted the expiration date.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 2.2(j), provides: "Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-187.24 effective for taxes levied during the 2001-2002 fiscal year, the Secretary of Revenue shall credit to the General Fund the net tax proceeds that G.S. 105-187.24 directs the Secretary to credit to the White Goods Management Account."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

ARTICLE 5D.

Dry-Cleaning Solvent Tax.

(Repealed effective January 1, 2010)

§ 105-187.30. (Repealed effective January 1, 2010) Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-164.3 apply to this Article, and the following definitions apply to this Article:

- (1) Dry-cleaning facility. — Defined in G.S. 143-215.104B.
- (2) Dry-cleaning solvent. — Defined in G.S. 143-215.104B. (1997-392, s. 4.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1997-392, s. 8 provides in part that section 4 (which enacts Article 5D) is repealed effective January 1, 2010.

Session Laws 1997-392, s. 5, as amended by Session Laws 2000-19, s. 17, provides: "This act constitutes a recent act of the General Assembly within the meaning of G.S. 150B-21.1. The Environmental Management Commission may adopt temporary rules to implement this act until 30 June 2001."

§ 105-187.31. (Repealed effective January 1, 2010) Tax imposed.

A privilege tax is imposed on a dry-cleaning solvent retailer at a flat rate for each gallon of dry-cleaning solvent sold by the retailer to a dry-cleaning facility. An excise tax is imposed on dry-cleaning solvent purchased outside the State for storage, use, or consumption by a dry-cleaning facility in this State. The rate of the privilege tax and the excise tax is ten dollars ($10.00) for each gallon of dry-cleaning solvent that is chlorine-based and one dollar and thirty-five cents ($1.35) for each gallon of dry-cleaning solvent that is hydrocarbon-based. These taxes are in addition to all other taxes. (1997-392, s. 4; 2000-19, s. 1.2; 2001-265, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-19, s. 20, contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 21, authorizes the Secretary of Environment and Natural Resources to study alternative dry-cleaning processes and equipment, evaluating the benefits and costs as well as the feasibility of installing and implementing these, and to make a final report to the Environmental Review Commission no later than September 1, 2001, with findings, recommendations, and any legislative proposals.

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 22, as amended by Session Laws 2001-265, s. 4, provides: "This act constitutes a recent act of the General Assembly within the meaning of G.S. 150B-21.1. The Environmental Management Commission and the Commission on Health Services may adopt temporary rules to implement the provisions of this act until 1 July 2002."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-19, s. 1.2, as amended by Session Laws 2001-265, s. 1, effective August 1, 2001, and expiring January 1, 2010, in the third sentence, substituted "ten dollars ($10.00)" for "five dollars and eighty-five cents ($5.85)" and "one dollar and thirty-five cents ($1.35)" for "eighty cents (80¢)."

Legal Periodicals. — For 1997 legislative survey, see 20 Campbell L. Rev. 443.

Article 5D has a postponed repeal date. See notes.

---

§ 105-187.32. (Repealed effective January 1, 2010) Administration.

The privilege tax this Article imposes on a dry-cleaning solvent retailer is an additional State sales tax, and the excise tax this Article imposes on the storage, use, or consumption of dry-cleaning solvent by a dry-cleaning facility in this State is an additional State use tax. Except as otherwise provided in this Article these taxes shall be collected and administered in the same manner as the State sales and use taxes imposed by Article 5 of this Chapter. As under Article 5 of this Chapter, the additional State sales tax paid when dry-cleaning solvent is sold at retail is a credit against the additional State use tax imposed on the storage, use, or consumption of the same dry-cleaning solvent. (1997-392, s. 4.)

§ 105-187.33. (Repealed effective January 1, 2010) Exemptions and refunds.

The exemptions in G.S. 105-164.13 do not apply to the taxes imposed by this Article. The refunds allowed in G.S. 105-164.14 do not apply to the taxes imposed by this Article. (1997-392, s. 4.)

§ 105-187.34. (Repealed effective January 1, 2010) Use of tax proceeds.

The Secretary must credit the taxes collected under this Article, less the Department of Revenue's allowance for administrative expenses, to the Dry-Cleaning Solvent Cleanup Fund. The Secretary may retain the Department's cost of collection, not to exceed one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($125,000) a year, as reimbursement to the Department. (1997-392, s. 4.)

§§ 105-187.35 through 105-187.39: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 5E.

The definitions in G.S. 105-228.90 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Gas city. — A city in this State that operated a piped natural gas distribution system as of July 1, 1998. These cities are Bessemer City, Greenville, Kings Mountain, Lexington, Monroe, Rocky Mount, Shelby, and Wilson.
- (2) Local distribution company. — A natural gas company to whom the North Carolina Utilities Commission has issued a franchise under Chapter 62 of the General Statutes to serve an area of this State.
- (3) Premises. — Defined in G.S. 62-110.2. When applying the definition of premises to this Article, electric service is to be construed as piped natural gas service.
- (4) Sales customer. — An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by the seller of the gas.

- (5) Transportation customer. — An end-user who does not have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and whose piped natural gas is delivered by a person who is not the seller of the gas. (1998-22, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date. Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-187.41. Tax imposed on piped natural gas.

(a) Scope. — An excise tax is imposed on piped natural gas received for consumption in this State. This tax is imposed in lieu of a sales and use tax and a percentage gross receipts tax on piped natural gas.

(b) Rate. — The tax rate is set in the table below. The tax rate is based on monthly therm volumes of piped natural gas received by the end-user of the gas. If an end-user receives piped natural gas that is metered through two or more separate measuring devices, the tax is calculated separately on the volume metered through each device rather than on the total volume metered through all measuring devices, unless the devices are located on the same premises and are part of the same billing account. In that circumstance, the tax is calculated on the total volume metered through the two or more separate measuring devices.

Monthly Volume of Therms Received	Rate Per Therm
First 200	$.047
201 to 15,000	.035
15,001 to 60,000	.024
60,001 to 500,000	.015
Over 500,000	.003

(c) Gas City Exemption. — The tax imposed by this section does not apply to piped natural gas received by a gas city for consumption by that city or to piped natural gas delivered by a gas city to a sales or transportation customer of the gas city. (1998-22, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date. Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-187.42. Liability for the tax.

The excise tax imposed by this section on piped natural gas is payable as follows:

- (1) For piped natural gas delivered by a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by the local distribution company.
- (2) For piped natural gas delivered by a person who is not a local distribution company to a sales or transportation customer, the tax is payable by that person.
- (3) For piped natural gas received by a person by means of direct access to an interstate gas pipeline for consumption by that person, the tax is payable by that person. (1998-22, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-187.43. Payment of the tax.

(a) Payment. — The tax imposed by this Article is payable semimonthly in accordance with the schedule set in G.S. 105-164.16 for semimonthly payments of sales and use taxes. The tax imposed by this Article on piped natural gas delivered to a sales or transportation customer accrues when the gas is delivered. The tax payable on piped natural gas received by a person who has direct access to an interstate pipeline for consumption by that person accrues when the gas is received.

(b) Small Underpayments. — A person is not subject to interest on or penalties for an underpayment of a semimonthly amount due if the person timely pays at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount due and includes the underpayment with the next return the person files.

(c) Return. — A return is due quarterly. A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month that follows the quarter covered by the return. (1998-22, s. 1; 1999-337, s. 32(a); 2001-427, s. 6(f).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 6(i), provides: "In order to pay for its costs of postage, printing, and computer programming to implement this section [s. 6 of Session Laws 2001-487], the Department of Revenue may withhold not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes during the 2001-2002 fiscal year."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 32(a), effective July 22, 1999, substituted "Payment" for "Monthly Return" in the catchline for subsection (a); and added subsection (c).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(f), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes levied on or after that date, in subsection (a) substituted the present first sentence for the former first two sentences, which read "The tax imposed by this Article is payable monthly to the Secretary. A monthly tax payment is due by the last day of the month that follows the month in which the tax accrues"; and in subsection (b), substituted "semimonthly" for "monthly."

§ 105-187.44. Distribution of part of tax proceeds to cities.

(a) City Information. — A quarterly return filed under this Article must indicate the amount of tax attributable to the following:

- (1) Piped natural gas delivered during the quarter to sales or transportation customers in each city in the State.
- (2) Piped natural gas received during the quarter in each city in the State by persons who have direct access to an interstate gas pipeline and who receive the gas for their own consumption.

If a tax return does not state this information, the Secretary must determine how much of the tax proceeds are to be attributed to each city.

(b) Distribution. — Within 75 days after the end of each calendar quarter, the Secretary must distribute to the cities part of the tax proceeds collected under this Article during that quarter. The amount to be distributed to a city is one-half of the amount of tax attributable to that city for that quarter under subsection (a) of this section. (1998-22, s. 1; 1998-217, s. 32(b); 1999-337, s. 32(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 14, as amended by Session Laws 2000-140, s. 85, provides that notwithstanding G.S. 105-187.44(b), as enacted by this act, the amount distributed to a city under G.S. 105-187.44(b) for taxes collected for each of the quarters in 1999-2000 and 2000-2001 fiscal years may not exceed its benchmark amount until each city receives an amount equal to its benchmark amount. Each quarter, the Secretary of Revenue shall determine a city's benchmark amount and the amount it would receive under G.S. 105-187.44(b) if not for the redistribution required by this section. The Secretary shall identify those cities whose distribution amounts under G.S. 105-187.44(b) are less than their benchmark amounts and shall determine the total dollar amount of the shortfall. The Secretary shall reduce the amount to be distributed to those cities whose distribution amount under G.S. 105-187.44(b) exceeds their benchmark amount by the total dollar amount of the shortfall determined for that quarter in proportion to each city's excess. However, in no event may a city's distribution amount be reduced below its benchmark amount. The Secretary will redistribute these monies to the cities whose distribution amounts under G.S. 105-187.44(b) are less than their benchmark amounts in proportion to each city's shortfall. In any quarter that a city does not have a prior year's distribution for the corresponding quarter in fiscal year 1998-99, that city is excluded from the redistribution required under this section for that quarter. In that case, the city will receive the amount it is entitled to receive under G.S. 105-187.44(b). For the purposes of this provision, the term "benchmark amount" means the amount a city received under G.S. 105-116.1 attributable to piped natural gas for the corresponding quarter during the fiscal year 1998-99. Section 14 also provides for a study by the Revenue Laws Study Committee of the impact of this act and a report of its findings.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, transferred the language beginning "if a tax return" at the end of the introductory language in subsection (a) to follow subdivision (a)(2), and made stylistic changes.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 32(b), effective July 22, 1999, substituted "quarterly" for "monthly" in subsection (a); and substituted "quarter" for "month" in subdivisions (a)(1) and (a)(2).

§ 105-187.45. Information exchange and information returns.

(a) Utilities Information. — The North Carolina Utilities Commission or the Public Staff of that Commission must give the Secretary a list of the entities that receive piped natural gas from an interstate pipeline and any other information available to the Commission that the Secretary asks for in administering the tax imposed by this Article.

(b) Information Return. — The Secretary may require the operator of an interstate pipeline to report the amount of piped natural gas taken from the pipeline in this State, the persons that received the gas, and the volume received by each person. (1998-22, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

§ 105-187.46. Records and audits.

(a) Records. — A person who is required to file a return under this Article must keep a record of all documents used to determine information provided in the return. The records must be kept for three years after the due date of the return to which the records apply.

(b) Audits. — The Secretary may audit a person who is required to file a return under this Article. (1998-22, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-22, s. 1 made this Article effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date.

Session Laws 1998-22, s. 16 contains a severability clause.

§§ 105-187.47 through 105-187.49: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 5F.

Mill Machinery.

(Effective January 1, 2006)

§ 105-187.50. (Effective January 1, 2006) Definitions.

The definitions in G.S 105-164.3 apply in this Article. (2001-347, s. 2.17.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 3.2, makes this Article effective January 1, 2006.

§ 105-187.51. (Effective January 1, 2006) Tax imposed on mill machinery.

(a) Scope. — A privilege tax is imposed on the following persons:

- (1) A manufacturing industry or plant that purchases mill machinery or mill machinery parts or accessories for storage, use, or consumption in this State. A manufacturing industry or plant does not include a delicatessen, cafe, cafeteria, restaurant, or another similar retailer that is principally engaged in the retail sale of foods prepared by it for consumption on or off its premises.
- (2) A contractor or subcontractor that purchases mill machinery or mill machinery parts or accessories for use in the performance of a contract with a manufacturing industry or plant.
- (3) A subcontractor that purchases mill machinery or mill machinery parts or accessories for use in the performance of a contract with a general contractor that has a contract with a manufacturing industry or plant.

(b) Rate. — The tax is one percent (1%) of the sales price of the machinery, part, or accessory purchased. The maximum tax is eighty dollars ($80.00) per article. (2001-347, s. 2.17.)

§ 105-187.52. (Effective January 1, 2006) Administration. The privilege tax this Article imposes on a person listed in G.S.

The privilege tax this Article imposes on a person listed in G.S 105-187.51 is an additional State use tax. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the collection and administration of this tax is the same as the State use tax imposed by Article 5 of this Chapter. (2001-347, s. 2.17.)

ARTICLE 6.

*Gift Taxes.§ 105-188. Gift taxes; classification of beneficiaries; exemptions; rates of tax.

(a) State gift taxes, as hereinafter prescribed, are hereby levied upon the shares of the respective beneficiaries in all property within the jurisdiction of this State, real, personal and mixed, and any interest therein which shall in any one calendar year pass by gift made after March 24, 1939.

(b) The taxes shall apply whether the gift is in trust or otherwise and whether the gift is direct or indirect. In the case of a gift made by a nonresident, the taxes shall apply only if the property is within the jurisdiction of this State. The taxes shall not apply to gifts made prior to March 24, 1939.

(c) The tax shall not apply to the passage of property in trust where the power to revest in the donor title to such property is vested in the donor, either alone or in conjunction with any person not having substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, but the relinquishment or termination of such power (other than by the donor's death) shall be considered to be a passage from the donor by gift of the property subject to such power, and any payment of the income therefrom to a beneficiary other than the donor shall be considered to be a passage by donor of such income by gift.

(d) Gifts not exceeding a total value of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) made to any one donee in a calendar year are not taxable under this Article. When gifts exceeding a total value of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) are made to any one donee in a calendar year, only the portion of the gifts exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in value is taxable under this Article. This exclusion does not apply to gifts of future interests in property. For the purposes of determining the exclusion herein provided, no part of a gift to an individual, or in trust for an individual, who has not attained the age of 21 years on the date of such transfer shall be considered a gift of a future interest in property if the property and the income therefrom may be expended by, or for the benefit of, the donee before his attaining the age of 21 years, and will to the extent not so expended pass to the donee on his attaining the age of 21 years, and in the event the donee dies before attaining the age of 21 years, be payable to the estate of the donee or as he may appoint under a general power of appointment.

When a gift is made by one spouse to a person other than the donor's spouse, the donor may claim both the donor's annual exclusion and the spouse's annual exclusion provided that both spouses consent and both spouses are residents of this State when the gift is made. Consent to share annual gift tax exclusions shall be made in writing on a timely filed gift tax return. Once given, consent to share annual exclusions is irrevocable.

(e) The tax shall be based on the aggregate sum of the net gifts made by the donor to the same donee, and shall be computed as follows:

- (1) Determine the aggregate sum of the net gifts to the donee for the calendar year and the net gifts to the same donee for each of the preceding calendar years since January 1, 1948.
- (2) Compute the tax upon said aggregate sum by applying the rates hereinafter set out.
- (3) From the tax thus computed, deduct the total gift tax, if any, computed with respect to gifts to the same donee in any prior year or years since January 1, 1948. The sum thus ascertained shall be the gift tax due.

The term "net gifts" shall mean the sum of the gifts made by a donor to the same donee during any stated period of time in excess of the annual exclusion and the applicable specific exemption.

(f) The rates of tax, which are based on the relationship between the donor and the donee, shall be as follows:

(1) Where the donee is the lineal issue, lineal ancestor, adopted child, or stepchild of the donor (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $ 10,000 above exemption .....	1 percent
Over $ 10,000 and to $ 25,000 .....	2 percent
Over $ 25,000 and to $ 50,000 .....	3 percent
Over $ 50,000 and to $ 100,000 .....	4 percent
Over $ 100,000 and to $ 200,000 .....	5 percent
Over $ 200,000 and to $ 500,000 .....	6 percent
Over $ 500,000 and to $1,000,000 .....	7 percent
Over $1,000,000 and to $1,500,000 .....	8 percent
Over $1,500,000 and to $2,000,000 .....	9 percent
Over $2,000,000 and to $2,500,000 .....	10 percent
Over $2,500,000 and to $3,000,000 .....	11 percent
Over $3,000,000 .....	12 percent

(2) Where the donee is the brother or sister, or descendant of the brother or sister, or is the uncle or aunt by blood of the donor (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $ 5,000 .....	4 percent
Over $ 5,000 and to $ 10,000 .....	5 percent
Over $ 10,000 and to $ 25,000 .....	6 percent
Over $ 25,000 and to $ 50,000 .....	7 percent
Over $ 50,000 and to $ 100,000 .....	8 percent
Over $ 100,000 and to $ 250,000 .....	10 percent
Over $ 250,000 and to $ 500,000 .....	11 percent
Over $ 500,000 and to $1,000,000 .....	12 percent
Over $1,000,000 and to $1,500,000 .....	13 percent
Over $1,500,000 and to $2,000,000 .....	14 percent
Over $2,000,000 and to $3,000,000 .....	15 percent
Over $3,000,000 .....	16 percent

(3) Where the donee is in any other degree of relationship than is hereinbefore stated, or shall be a stranger in blood to the donor, or shall be a body politic or corporate (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $ 10,000 .....	8 percent
Over $ 10,000 and to $ 25,000 .....	9 percent
Over $ 25,000 and to $ 50,000 .....	10 percent
Over $ 50,000 and to $ 100,000 .....	11 percent
Over $ 100,000 and to $ 250,000 .....	12 percent
Over $ 250,000 and to $ 500,000 .....	13 percent
Over $ 500,000 and to $1,000,000 .....	14 percent
Over $1,000,000 and to $1,500,000 .....	15 percent
Over $1,500,000 and to $2,500,000 .....	16 percent
Over $2,500,000 .....	17 percent

(g) A donor is entitled to a total exemption of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to be deducted from gifts made to donees named in subdivision (f)(1), less the sum of amounts claimed and allowed as an exemption in prior calendar years. The exemption, at the option of the donor, may be taken in its entirety in a single year or may be spread over a period of years. When this exemption has been exhausted, no further exemption is allowable. When the exemption or any part of the exemption is applied to gifts to more than one donee in any one calendar year, the exemption shall be apportioned against the gifts in the same ratio as the gross value of the gifts to each donee is to the total value of all the gifts made in the calendar year. No exemption is allowed a donor for gifts made to donees named in subdivision (f)(2) or (f)(3).

(h) It is expressly provided, however, that the tax levied in this Article shall not apply to so much of said property as shall so pass exclusively:

- (1) For state, county or municipal purposes within this State;
- (2) To or for the exclusive benefit of charitable, educational, or religious organizations located within this State, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual;
- (3) To or for the exclusive benefit of charitable, religious and educational corporations, foundations and trusts, not conducted for profit, incorporated or created or administered under the laws of any other state, when such other state levies no gift taxes upon property similarly passing from residents of such state to charitable, educational or religious corporations, foundations and trusts incorporated or created or administered under the laws of this State, or when such corporation, foundation or trust receives and disburses funds donated in this State for religious, charitable and educational purposes; or
- (4) To one spouse from the other spouse.

(i) The tax does not apply to tuition payments made on behalf of an individual to an educational institution or to medical payments made on behalf of an individual to a provider of medical care, as defined in the Code for the care of that individual. The term "educational institution" includes only those institutions that normally maintain a regular faculty and curriculum and normally have a regularly organized body of students in attendance where the educational activities are conducted.

(j) The tax does not apply to property transferred to a spouse when the transfer of the property is exempt from federal estate and gift taxes under section 2523(f) of the Code because it is considered qualified terminable interest property.

(k) Qualified Tuition Programs. — The provisions of section 529(c)(2) and (5) of the Code apply to this Article. If a donor elects to take a contribution into account ratably over a five-year period as provided in section 529(c)(2) of the Code, that election applies for the purposes of this Article. ## § 105-188.1. Powers of appointment.

(a) For purposes of this Article “general power of appointment” shall mean any power of appointment which is exercisable in favor of the individual possessing the power (hereinafter in this section referred to as the “possessor”), his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate; except that:

- (1) A power to consume, invade, or appropriate property for the benefit of the possessor which is limited by an ascertainable standard relating to the health, education, support or maintenance of the possessor shall not be deemed a general power of appointment.
- (2) In the case of a power of appointment which is exercisable by the possessor only in conjunction with another person:
  - a. If the power is not exercisable by the possessor except in conjunction with the creator of the power, such power shall not be deemed a general power of appointment.
  - b. If the power is not exercisable by the possessor except in conjunction with a person having a substantial interest, in the property subject to the power, which is adverse to exercise of the power in favor of the possessor, such power shall not be deemed a general power of appointment. For the purposes of this clause a person who, after the death of the possessor, may be possessed of a power of appointment (with respect to the property subject to the possessor’s power) which he may exercise in his own favor shall be deemed as having an interest in the property and such interest shall be deemed adverse to such exercise of the possessor’s power.
  - c. If (after the application of clauses a and b) the power is a general power of appointment and is exercisable in favor of such other person, such power shall be deemed a general power of appointment only in respect of a fractional part of the property subject to such power, such part to be determined by dividing the value of such property by the number of such persons (including the possessor) in favor of whom such power is exercisable.
  - d. For purposes of clauses b and c, a power shall be deemed exercisable in favor of a person if it is exercisable in favor of such person, his estate, his creditors, or the creditors of his estate.
- (b) Any person having a general power of appointment with respect to any interest in property shall for gift tax purposes be deemed to be the owner of such interest, and accordingly:
  - (1) If in connection with any gift of property the donor shall give to any person a general power of appointment with respect to any interest in such property, the donor shall be deemed to have given such person such interest in such property.
  - (2) If any person holding a general power of appointment with respect to any interest in property shall exercise such power in favor of any other person or persons, he shall be deemed to have made a gift of such interest to such person or persons.
  - (3) If any person holding a general power of appointment with respect to any interest in property shall relinquish such power, he shall be deemed to have made a gift of such interest to the person or persons who shall benefit by such relinquishment.
  - (4) The lapse of a general power of appointment during the life of the individual possessing the power shall be considered a relinquishment of the power. The rule of the preceding sentence shall apply with respect to the lapse of such powers during any calendar year only to the extent that the interest in property which could have been appointed by exercise of the lapsed power exceeds in value the greater of the following amounts:

- a. Five thousand dollars ($5,000) or
- b. Five percent (5%) of the aggregate value of the interest in property out of which, or the proceeds of which, the exercise of the lapsed power could be satisfied.

(c) Neither the exercise nor the relinquishment of a special power of appointment with respect to an interest in property shall be deemed to constitute a gift of such interest in such property.

(d) If in connection with any gift of property the donor shall give to any person a special power of appointment with respect to any interest in such property, the donor shall be deemed for gift tax purposes to have given such interest in equal shares to those persons, not more than two, among the possible appointees and takers in default of appointment whom the donor or his executor or administrator may designate in the gift tax return filed with respect to such gift. But the tax shall be computed according to the relationship of the donee of the power to the person designated if:

- (1) The possible appointees and takers in default of appointment include any persons more closely related to the donee of the power than to the donor, and
- (2) Such computation would produce a higher tax. (1963, c. 942; 1967, c. 1110, s. 7; 1987, c. 556.)

§ 105-189. Transfer for less than adequate and full consideration.

Where property is transferred for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, then the amount by which the value of the property exceeded the value of the consideration shall, for the purpose of the tax imposed by this Article, be deemed a gift and shall be included in computing the amount of gifts made during the calendar year. (1939, c. 158, s. 601.)

§ 105-190. Gifts made in property.

If the gift is made in property, the fair market value thereof at the date of the gift shall be considered the amount of the gift. (1939, c. 158, s. 602.)

§ 105-191: Repealed by Session Laws 1995 (Regular Session, 1996), c. 646, s. 7.

§ 105-193. Lien for tax; collection of tax.

The tax imposed by this Article shall be a lien upon all gifts that constitute the basis for the tax for a period of 10 years from the time they are made. If the tax is not paid by the donor when due, each donee shall be personally liable, to the extent of their respective gifts, for so much of the tax as may have been assessed, or may be assessable thereon. Any part of the property comprised in the gift that may have been sold by the donee to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth shall be divested of the lien hereby imposed and the lien, to the extent of the value of such gift, shall attach to all the property of the donee (including after-acquired property) except any part sold to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

If the tax is not paid within 30 days after it has become due, the Department of Revenue may use any of the methods authorized in this Subchapter for the collection of other taxes to enforce the payment of taxes assessed under this Article.

In any proceeding by warrant or otherwise to enforce the collection of said tax, the donor shall be liable for the full amount of the tax due by reason of all the gifts constituting the basis for such tax, and each donee shall be liable only for so much of said tax as may be due on account of his respective gift. (1939, c. 158, s. 605.)

§ 105-194. Death of donor within three years; time of assessment.

If a donor dies within three years after filing a return, gift taxes may be assessed at any time within those three years, or on or before the date of final settlement of the donor's State estate or inheritance taxes, whichever is later. (1939, c. 158, s. 606; 1947, c. 501, s. 6; 1959, c. 1259, s. 10; 1999-337, s. 33.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 33, effective July 22, 1999, substituted "If" for "Where," substituted "those" for "said," inserted "the" preceding "donor's," and inserted "estate or."

§ 105-195. Tax to be assessed upon actual value of property; manner of determining value of annuities, life estates and interests less than absolute interest.

Said taxes shall be assessed upon the actual value of the property at the time of the transfer by gift. If the gift subject to said tax be given to a donee for life or for a term of years, or upon condition or contingency, with remainder to take effect upon the termination of the life estate or term of years or the happening of the condition or contingency, the tax on the whole amount shall be due and payable as in other cases, and said tax shall be apportioned between such life tenant or tenant for years and the remainderman, such apportionment to be made by computation based upon the mortuary and annuity tables set out in G.S. 8-46 and 8-47 of the General Statutes, and upon the basis of six per centum (6%) of the gross value of the property for the period of expectancy of the life tenant or for the term of years in determining the value of the respective interests. When property is transferred or limited in trust or otherwise, and the rights or interests of the transferees or beneficiaries are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended, or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate, within the discretion of the Secretary of Revenue, which on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions would be possible under the provisions of this section, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith by the donor, and the Secretary of Revenue shall assess the tax on such transfers. (1939, c. 158, s. 607; 1943, c. 400, s. 7; 1955, c. 1353, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1985, c. 44.)

§ 105-197. When return required; due date of tax and return.

(a) When Return Required. — Anyone who, during the calendar year, gives to a donee a gift of a future interest or one or more taxable gifts whose total value exceeds the amount of the annual exclusion set in G.S. 105-188(d) must file a gift tax return, under oath or affirmation, with the Secretary on a form prescribed by the Secretary. For the purpose of this section, a taxable gift is a gift that is not exempt under G.S. 105-188(h) or (i).

(b) Due Date. — The tax is due on April 15th following the end of the calendar year. A return must be filed on or before the due date of the tax. A taxpayer may ask the Secretary of Revenue for an extension of time for filing a return under G.S. 105-263. (1939, c. 158, s. 609; 1955, c. 22, s. 1; 1973, c. 1287, s. 9; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 821; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 10; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 8; 1998-98, s. 16.)

If the amount of a taxpayer's net gifts is corrected or otherwise determined by the federal government, the taxpayer must, within two years after being notified of the correction or final determination by the federal government, file a gift tax return with the Secretary of Revenue reflecting the corrected or determined net gifts. The Secretary of Revenue shall determine from all available evidence the taxpayer's correct tax liability for the taxable year. As used in this section, the term "all available evidence" means evidence of any kind that becomes available to the Secretary from any source, whether or not the evidence was considered in the federal correction or determination.

The Secretary shall assess and collect any additional tax due from the taxpayer as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. The Secretary shall refund any overpayment of tax as provided in Article 9 of this Chapter. A taxpayer who fails to comply with this section is subject to the penalties in G.S. 105-236 and forfeits the right to any refund due by reason of the determination. (1973, c. 1287, s. 10; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 6.)

§§ 105-201 through 105-204: Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 41, s. 1(b).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1997-17, s. 1, provides that the Secretary of Revenue shall take no action to assess or collect intangibles tax from any taxpayer for liability arising solely from the taxpayer's use of the taxable percentage deductions in former § 105-203 (repealed) for one or more of the tax years from 1990 through 1994.

Session Laws 1997-318, ss. 1-3, provide that, because the General Assembly has enacted Session Laws 1997-17, prohibiting the Secretary of Revenue from collecting intangibles tax liability arising from a taxpayer's use of the taxable percentage deductions in former § 105-203 for any of the tax years from 1990 through 1994, § 105-267 as it applies to those tax years entitles a taxpayer to a refund for one or more of those tax years to the extent the taxpayer meets all of the following requirements with respect to the applicable tax year:

- (1) The taxpayer paid intangibles tax on shares of stock for the tax year.
- (2) The taxpayer protested payment of the tax within 30 days of payment and met the other requirements of § 105-267, as it then existed, to establish and preserve the taxpayer's refund claim for the tax year.
- (3) The taxpayer's established and preserved refund claim was pending on February 21, 1996, the date the United States Supreme Court held the taxable percentage deduction in former § 105-203 unconstitutional.

The Secretary of Revenue shall make these refunds in accordance with § 105-267, and shall mail a copy of the Wake County Superior Court's notice in the class action lawsuit Smith v. State to all intangibles taxpayers identified as possibly being affected and for whom there is a last known mailing address as quickly as possible, and shall supplement the mailing required by this section with circulation of the court's notice to tax professionals and media outlets throughout the state and to any other person considered appropriate.

ARTICLE 8A.

*Gross Earnings Taxes on Freight Line Companies in Lieu of Ad Valorem Taxes.§ 105-228.1. Defining taxes levied and assessed in this Article.

The purpose of this Article is to levy a fair and equal tax under authority of Section 2(2) of Article V of the North Carolina Constitution and to provide a practical means for ascertaining and collecting it. The taxes levied and assessed in this Article are on gross earnings, as defined in the Article, and are in lieu of ad valorem taxes upon the properties of persons taxed in this Article. (1954, c. 400, s. 8; 1998-98, ss. 64, 109.)

Legal Periodicals. — For comment on this Article, see 21 N.C.L. Rev. 364 (1943).

§ 105-228.2. Tax upon freight car line companies.

(a) For purposes of taxation under this section the property of freight line companies as defined is declared to constitute a special class of property. In lieu of all ad valorem taxes by either or both the State government and the respective local taxing jurisdictions, a tax upon gross earnings in the State as elsewhere defined shall be imposed.

(b) Any person or persons, joint-stock association or corporation, wherever organized or incorporated, engaged in the business of operating cars or engaged in the business of furnishing or leasing cars not otherwise listed for taxation in this State, for the transportation of freight (whether such cars be owned by such company or any other person or company), over any railway or lines, in whole or in part, within this State, such line or lines not being owned, leased or operated by such company, whether such cars be termed box, flat, coal, ore, tank, stock, gondola, furniture, or refrigerator car or by some other name, shall be deemed a freight line company.

(c) For the purposes of taxation under this section all cars used exclusively within the State, or used partially within and without the State, and a proportionate part of the intangible values of the business as a going concern, are hereby declared to have situs in this State.

(d) Every freight line company, as hereinbefore defined, shall pay annually a sum in the nature of a tax at three per centum (3%) upon the total gross earnings received from all sources by such freight line companies within the State, which shall be in lieu of all ad valorem taxes in this State of any freight company so paying the same.

(e) The term "gross earnings received from all sources by such freight line companies within the State" as used in this Article is hereby declared and shall be construed to mean all earnings from the operation of freight cars within the State for all car movements or business beginning and ending within the State and a proportion, based upon the proportion of car mileage within the State to the total car mileage, or earnings on all interstate car movements or business passing through, or into or out of the State.

(f) Every railroad company using or leasing the cars of any freight line company shall, upon making payment to such freight line company for the use or lease, after June 30, 1943, of such cars withhold so much thereof as is designated in this section. On or before March first of each year such railroad company shall make and file with the Secretary of Revenue a statement showing the amount of such payment for the next preceding 12-month period ending December 31, and of the amounts so withheld by it, and shall remit to the Secretary of Revenue the amounts so withheld. If any railroad company shall fail to make such report or fail to remit the amount of tax herein levied, or shall fail to withhold the part of such payment hereby required to be withheld, such railroad company shall become liable for the amount of the tax herein levied and shall not be entitled to deduct from its gross earnings for purposes of taxation the amounts so paid by it to freight line companies.

It is not the purpose of this subsection to impose an unreasonable burden of accounting on railroad companies operating in this State, and the Secretary of Revenue is hereby authorized, upon the application of any railroad company, to approve any method of accounting which he finds to be reasonably adequate for determining the amount of mileage earnings by any car line company whose equipment is operated within the State by or on the lines of such railroad company. Further, if in the opinion of the Secretary of Revenue the tax imposed by this section can be satisfactorily collected direct from the freight line companies, he is hereby authorized to fix rules and regulations for such direct collection, with the authority to return at any time to the method of collection at source above provided in this subsection.

(g) Every car line company shall file such additional reports annually, and in such form and as of such date as the Secretary of Revenue may deem necessary to determine the equitable amount of tax levied under this section.

(h) Upon the filing of such reports it shall be the duty of the Secretary of Revenue to inspect and verify the same and assess the amount of taxes due from freight line companies therein named. Any freight line company against which a tax is assessed under the provisions of this Article may at any time within 15 days after the last day for the filing of reports by railroad companies, appear before the Secretary of Revenue at a hearing to be granted by the Secretary and offer evidence and argument on any matter bearing upon the validity or correctness of the tax assessed against it, and the Secretary shall review his assessment of such tax and shall make his order confirming or modifying the same as he shall deem just and equitable, and if any overpayment is found to have been made it shall be refunded by the Secretary. Provided, however that such payment if in the amount of three dollars ($3.00) or more shall be refunded to the taxpayer within 60 days of the discovery thereof; if the amount of overpayment is less than three dollars ($3.00) then such overpayment shall be refunded only upon receipt by the Secretary of Revenue of a written demand for such refund from the taxpayer. Provided further, that no overpayment shall be refunded irrespective of whether upon discovery or receipt of written demand if such discovery is not made or such demand is not received within three years from the filing date of the return or within six months of the payment of the tax alleged to be an overpayment, whichever date is the later.

(i) The provisions of Article 9 of this Chapter apply to this Article.

(j) The provisions of this Article shall apply to all freight line gross earnings accruing from and after June 30, 1943. (1943, c. 400, s. 8; 1957, c. 1340, s. 14; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(j).)

ARTICLE 8B.

Taxes Upon Insurance Companies.

§ 105-228.3. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Article 65 corporation. — A corporation subject to Article 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes, regulating hospital, medical, and dental service corporations.
- (2) Insurer. — An insurer as defined in G.S. 58-1-5 or a group of employers who have pooled their liabilities pursuant to G.S. 97-93 of the Workers' Compensation Act.
- (3) Self-insurer. — An employer that carries its own risk pursuant to G.S. 97-93 of the Workers' Compensation Act. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 928, s. 12; 1995, c. 360, s. 1(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-98, s. 65 deleted "Schedule I-B" from the article heading.

CASE NOTES

Cited in Lenoir Fin. Co. v. Currie, 254 N.C. 129, 118 S.E.2d 543 (1961).

§ 105-228.4: Recodified as § 58-6-7 by Session Laws 1995, c. 360, s. 1(c).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995, c. 193, s. 65, amended this section effective June 7, 1995, by substituting "license" for "registration" in the catchline; in subsection (a), substituting "license" for "certificate of registration" in the first sentence, and in the second and third sentences substituting "license" for "certificate". The amendments have been implemented in § 58-6-7.

§ 105-228.5. (Effective until January 1, 2003) Taxes measured by gross premiums.

(a) Tax Levied. — A tax is levied in this section on insurers, Article 65 corporations, health maintenance organizations, and self-insurers. An insurer, health maintenance organization, or Article 65 corporation that is subject to the tax levied by this section is not subject to franchise or income taxes imposed by Articles 3 and 4, respectively, of this Chapter.

(b) Tax Base. —

- (1) Insurers. — The tax imposed by this section on an insurer or a health maintenance organization shall be measured by gross premiums from business done in this State during the preceding calendar year.
- (2) Additional Local Fire and Lightning Rate. — The additional tax imposed by subdivision (d) (4) of this section shall be measured by gross premiums from business done in fire districts in this State during the preceding calendar year. For the purpose of this section, the term "fire district" has the meaning provided in G.S. 58-84-5.
- (3) Article 65 Corporations. — The tax imposed by this section on an Article 65 corporation shall be measured by gross collections from membership dues, exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans, received by the corporation during the preceding calendar year.
- (4) Self-insurers. — The tax imposed by this section on a self-insurer shall be measured by the gross premiums that would be charged against the same or most similar industry or business, taken from the manual insurance rate then in force in this State, applied to the self-insurer's payroll for the previous calendar year as determined under Article 2 of Chapter 97 of the General Statutes modified by the self-insurer's approved experience modifier.

(b1) Calculation of Tax Base. — In determining the amount of gross premiums from business in this State, all gross premiums received in this State, credited to policies written or procured in this State, or derived from business written in this State shall be deemed to be for contracts covering persons, property, or risks resident or located in this State unless one of the following applies:

- (1) The premiums are properly reported and properly allocated as being received from business done in some other nation, territory, state, or states.
- (2) The premiums are from policies written in federal areas for persons in military service who pay premiums by assignment of service pay.

Gross premiums from business done in this State in the case of life insurance contracts, including supplemental contracts providing for disability benefits, accidental death benefits, or other special benefits that are not annuities, means all premiums collected in the calendar year, other than for contracts of reinsurance, for policies the premiums on which are paid by or credited to persons, firms, or corporations resident in this State, or in the case of group policies, for contracts of insurance covering persons resident within this State. The only deductions allowed shall be for premiums refunded on policies rescinded for fraud or other breach of contract and premiums that were paid in advance on life insurance contracts and subsequently refunded to the insured, premium payer, beneficiary or estate. Gross premiums shall be deemed to have been collected for the amounts as provided in the policy contracts for the time in force during the year, whether satisfied by cash payment, notes, loans, automatic premium loans, applied dividend, or by any other means except waiver of premiums by companies under a contract for waiver of premium in case of disability.

Gross premiums from business done in this State for all other contracts of insurance, including contracts of insurance required to be carried by the Workers' Compensation Act, means all premiums written during the calendar year, or the equivalent thereof in the case of self-insurers under the Workers' Compensation Act, for contracts covering property or risks in this State, other than for contracts of reinsurance, whether the premiums are designated as premiums, deposits, premium deposits, policy fees, membership fees, or assessments. Gross premiums shall be deemed to have been written for the amounts as provided in the policy contracts, new and renewal, becoming effective during the year irrespective of the time or method of making payment or settlement for the premiums, and with no deduction for dividends whether returned in cash or allowed in payment or reduction of premiums or for additional insurance, and without any other deduction except for return of premiums, deposits, fees, or assessments for adjustment of policy rates or for cancellation or surrender of policies.

(c) Exclusions. — Every insurer, in computing the premium tax, shall exclude all of the following from the gross amount of premiums:

- (1) All premiums received on or after July 1, 1973, from policies or contracts issued in connection with the funding of a pension, annuity, or profit-sharing plan qualified or exempt under section 401, 403, 404, 408, 457 or 501 of the Code as defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (2) Premiums or considerations received from annuities, as defined in G.S. 58-7-15.
- (3) Funds or considerations received in connection with funding agreements, as defined in G.S. 58-7-16.

The gross amount of the excluded premiums, funds, and considerations shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this section.

§ 105-228.5 is set out twice. See notes.

---

(d) Tax Rates; Disposition. —

- (1) Workers' Compensation. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums, or the equivalent thereof in the case of self-insurers, on contracts applicable to liabilities under the Workers' Compensation Act shall be two and five-tenths percent (2.5%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (2) Other Insurance Contracts. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums on all other insurance contracts issued by insurers shall be one and nine-tenths percent (1.9%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (3) Additional Statewide Fire and Lightning Rate. — An additional tax shall be applied to gross premiums on contracts of insurance applicable to fire and lightning coverage, except in the case of marine and automobile policies, at the rate of one and thirty-three hundredths percent (1.33%). Twenty-five percent (25%) of the net proceeds of this additional tax shall be deposited in the Volunteer Fire Department Fund established in Article 87 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes. The remaining net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (4) Additional Local Fire and Lightning Rate. — An additional tax shall be applied to gross premiums on contracts of insurance applicable to fire and lightning coverage within fire districts at the rate of one-half of one percent ( $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the Department of Insurance for disbursement pursuant to G.S. 58-84-25.
- (5) Article 65 Corporations. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums and/or gross collections from membership dues, exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans, received by Article 65 corporations shall be one-half of one percent ( $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.

(e) Report and Payment. — Each insurer, Article 65 corporation, and self-insurer doing business in this State shall, within the first 15 days of March, file with the Secretary of Revenue a full and accurate report of the total gross premiums as defined in this section, the payroll and other information required by the Secretary in the case of a self-insurer, or the total gross collections from membership dues exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans collected in this State during the preceding calendar year. The taxes imposed by this section shall be remitted to the Secretary with the report.

(f) Installment Payments Required. — Insurers, Article 65 corporations, and self-insurers that are subject to the tax imposed by this section and have a premium tax liability, not including the additional local fire and lightning tax, of ten thousand dollars (\$10,000) or more for business done in North Carolina during the immediately preceding year shall remit three equal quarterly installments with each installment equal to at least thirty-three and one-third percent ( $33\frac{1}{3}\%$ ) of the premium tax liability incurred in the immediately preceding taxable year. The quarterly installment payments shall be made on or before April 15, June 15, and October 15 of each taxable year. The company shall remit the balance by the following March 15 in the same manner provided in this section for annual returns.

The Secretary of Revenue may permit an insurance company to pay less than the required estimated payment when the insurer reasonably believes that the total estimated payments made for the current year will exceed the total anticipated tax liability for the year.

An underpayment of an installment payment required by this subsection shall bear interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i). Any overpayment shall bear interest as provided in G.S. 105-266(b) and, together with the interest, shall be credited to the company and applied against the taxes imposed upon the company under this Article.

(g) Exemptions. — This section does not apply to farmers' mutual assessment fire insurance companies or to fraternal orders or societies that do not operate for a profit and do not issue policies on any person except members. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1947, c. 501, s. 8; 1951, c. 643, s. 8; 1955, c. 1313, s. 5; 1957, c. 1340, s. 12; 1959, c. 1211; 1961, c. 783; 1963, c. 1096; 1969, c. 1221; 1973, cc. 142, 1019; 1975, c. 143; c. 559, s. 8; 1979, c. 714, s. 2; 1983, c. 713, s. 81; 1985, c. 119, s. 3; c. 719, ss. 1, 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 1031, ss. 1-5; 1987, c. 709, s. 2; c. 814, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 27; 1991, c. 689, s. 297; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 600, s. 4; 1995, c. 360, s. 1(d); 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 747, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 17; 2001-487, s. 69(a).)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective until January 1, 2003. For the section as in effect for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, see the following section, also numbered § 105-228.5.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 747, s. 16, provides: "This act does not obligate the General Assembly to appropriate funds."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

2001-487, s. 69(a), effective January 1, 2002, deleted "The report shall be verified by the oath of the official or other representative responsible for transmitting it;" preceding "the taxes imposed" in the last sentence of subsection (e), as amended by s. 34.22(a) of Session Laws 2001-424.

Legal Periodicals. — For discussion of the 1947 amendment which added to the section, see 25 N.C.L. Rev. 471 (1947).

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — See Great Am. Ins. Co. v. High, 264 N.C. 752, 142 S.E.2d 681 (1965); Great Am. Ins. Co. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 367, 126 S.E.2d 92 (1962).

The license tax imposed by a former statute upon the gross receipts of insurance companies on business written within the borders of our State was held not in contravention of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV, as to due process and equal protection of the law, nor a burden upon interstate commerce, being restricted to intrastate commerce, and not extending beyond the boundaries of the State. Pittsburg Life & Trust Co. v. Young, 172 N.C. 470, 90 S.E. 568 (1916).

Legislative History of Section. — See Great Am. Ins. Co. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 367, 126 S.E.2d 92 (1962).

Nature of Tax. — A tax imposed by a former statute upon the gross earnings of foreign life insurance companies doing business within this State, derived within this State, was a license or occupation tax. Pittsburg Life & Trust Co. v. Young, 172 N.C. 470, 90 S.E. 568 (1916).

A tax on the gross receipts of an insurance company is a privilege tax. Wilmington Underwriters Ins. Co. v. Stedman, 130 N.C. 221, 41 S.E. 279 (1902).

Gross Receipts from Business Done in State. — The former tax on gross receipts applied to all receipts from business done in the State, whether the money was paid here or forwarded to the main office. Pittsburg Life & Trust Co. v. Young, 172 N.C. 470, 90 S.E. 568 (1916).

Validity of Section Tested by § 105-267. — The validity of provisions of this section can be tested only by the exclusive procedure set out in § 105-267. Great Am. Ins. Co. v. Gold, 254 N.C. 168, 118 S.E.2d 792 (1961).

§ 105-228.5. (Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) Taxes measured by gross premiums.

(a) Tax Levied. — A tax is levied in this section on insurers, Article 65 corporations, health maintenance organizations, and self-insurers. An insurer, health maintenance organization, or Article 65 corporation that is subject to the tax levied by this section is not subject to franchise or income taxes imposed by Articles 3 and 4, respectively, of this Chapter.

§ 105-228.5 is set out twice. See notes.

(b) Tax Base. —

- (1) Insurers. — The tax imposed by this section on an insurer or a health maintenance organization shall be measured by gross premiums from business done in this State during the preceding calendar year.
- (2) Additional Local Fire and Lightning Rate. — The additional tax imposed by subdivision (d) (4) of this section shall be measured by gross premiums from business done in fire districts in this State during the preceding calendar year. For the purpose of this section, the term “fire district” has the meaning provided in G.S. 58-84-5.
- (3) Article 65 Corporations. — The tax imposed by this section on an Article 65 corporation shall be measured by gross collections from membership dues, exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans, received by the corporation during the preceding calendar year.
- (4) Self-insurers. — The tax imposed by this section on a self-insurer shall be measured by the gross premiums that would be charged against the same or most similar industry or business, taken from the manual insurance rate then in force in this State, applied to the self-insurer’s payroll for the previous calendar year as determined under Article 2 of Chapter 97 of the General Statutes modified by the self-insurer’s approved experience modifier.

(b1) Calculation of Tax Base. — In determining the amount of gross premiums from business in this State, all gross premiums received in this State, credited to policies written or procured in this State, or derived from business written in this State shall be deemed to be for contracts covering persons, property, or risks resident or located in this State unless one of the following applies:

- (1) The premiums are properly reported and properly allocated as being received from business done in some other nation, territory, state, or states.
- (2) The premiums are from policies written in federal areas for persons in military service who pay premiums by assignment of service pay.

Gross premiums from business done in this State in the case of life insurance contracts, including supplemental contracts providing for disability benefits, accidental death benefits, or other special benefits that are not annuities, means all premiums collected in the calendar year, other than for contracts of reinsurance, for policies the premiums on which are paid by or credited to persons, firms, or corporations resident in this State, or in the case of group policies, for contracts of insurance covering persons resident within this State. The only deductions allowed shall be for premiums refunded on policies rescinded for fraud or other breach of contract and premiums that were paid in advance on life insurance contracts and subsequently refunded to the insured, premium payer, beneficiary or estate. Gross premiums shall be deemed to have been collected for the amounts as provided in the policy contracts for the time in force during the year, whether satisfied by cash payment, notes, loans, automatic premium loans, applied dividend, or by any other means except waiver of premiums by companies under a contract for waiver of premium in case of disability.

Gross premiums from business done in this State for all other health care plans and contracts of insurance, including contracts of insurance required to be carried by the Workers’ Compensation Act, means all premiums written during the calendar year, or the equivalent thereof in the case of self-insurers under the Workers’ Compensation Act, for contracts covering property or risks in this State, other than for contracts of reinsurance, whether the premiums are designated as premiums, deposits, premium deposits, policy fees, membership fees, or assessments. Gross premiums shall be deemed to have been written for the amounts as provided in the policy contracts, new and renewal, becoming effective during the year irrespective of the time or method of making payment or settlement for the premiums, and with no deduction for dividends whether returned in cash or allowed in payment or reduction of premiums or for additional insurance, and without any other deduction except for return of premiums, deposits, fees, or assessments for adjustment of policy rates or for cancellation or surrender of policies.

(c) Exclusions. — Every insurer, in computing the premium tax, shall exclude all of the following from the gross amount of premiums, and the gross amount of excluded premiums is exempt from the tax imposed by this section:

- (1) All premiums received on or after July 1, 1973, from policies or contracts issued in connection with the funding of a pension, annuity, or profit-sharing plan qualified or exempt under section 401, 403, 404, 408, 457 or 501 of the Code as defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (2) Premiums or considerations received from annuities, as defined in G.S. 58-7-15.
- (3) Funds or considerations received in connection with funding agreements, as defined in G.S. 58-7-16.
- (4) The following premiums, to the extent federal law prohibits their taxation under this Article:
  - a. Federal Employees Health Benefits Plan premiums.
  - b. Medicaid or Medicare premiums.

(d) Tax Rates; Disposition. —

- (1) Workers' Compensation. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums, or the equivalent thereof in the case of self-insurers, on contracts applicable to liabilities under the Workers' Compensation Act is two and five-tenths percent (2.5%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (2) Other Insurance Contracts. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums on all other taxable contracts issued by insurers is one and nine-tenths percent (1.9%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (3) Additional Statewide Fire and Lightning Rate. — An additional tax shall be applied to gross premiums on contracts of insurance applicable to fire and lightning coverage, except in the case of marine and automobile policies, at the rate of one and thirty-three hundredths percent (1.33%). Twenty-five percent (25%) of the net proceeds of this additional tax shall be deposited in the Volunteer Fire Department Fund established in Article 87 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes. The remaining net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (4) Additional Local Fire and Lightning Rate. — An additional tax shall be applied to gross premiums on contracts of insurance applicable to fire and lightning coverage within fire districts at the rate of one-half of one percent ( $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the Department of Insurance for disbursement pursuant to G.S. 58-84-25.
- (5) (Effective until January 1, 2004) Article 65 Corporations. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums and/or gross collections from membership dues, exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans, received by Article 65 corporations is one and one-tenth percent (1.1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.
- (5) (Effective January 1, 2004) Article 65 Corporations. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums and/or gross collections from membership dues, exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans, received by Article 65 corporations is one percent (1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.

- (6) (Effective until January 1, 2004) Health Maintenance Organizations. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums on insurance contracts issued by health maintenance organizations is one and one-tenth percent (1.1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.

- (6) (Effective January 1, 2004) Health Maintenance Organizations. — The tax rate to be applied to gross premiums on insurance contracts issued by health maintenance organizations is one percent (1%). The net proceeds shall be credited to the General Fund.

(e) Report and Payment. — Each taxpayer doing business in this State shall, within the first 15 days of March, file with the Secretary of Revenue a full and accurate report of the total gross premiums as defined in this section, the payroll and other information required by the Secretary in the case of a self-insurer, or the total gross collections from membership dues exclusive of receipts from cost plus plans collected in this State during the preceding calendar year. The taxes imposed by this section shall be remitted to the Secretary with the report.

In the case of an insurer liable for the additional local fire and lightning tax, the report shall include the information required under G.S. 58-84-1.

(f) (See editor's note for 2003 taxable year) Installment Payments Required. — Taxpayers that are subject to the tax imposed by this section and have a premium tax liability, not including the additional local fire and lightning tax, of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more for business done in North Carolina during the immediately preceding year shall remit three equal quarterly installments with each installment equal to at least thirty-three and one-third percent (33 ⅓%) of the premium tax liability incurred in the immediately preceding taxable year. The quarterly installment payments shall be made on or before April 15, June 15, and October 15 of each taxable year. The company shall remit the balance by the following March 15 in the same manner provided in this section for annual returns.

The Secretary of Revenue may permit an insurance company to pay less than the required estimated payment when the insurer reasonably believes that the total estimated payments made for the current year will exceed the total anticipated tax liability for the year.

An underpayment of an installment payment required by this subsection shall bear interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i). Any overpayment shall bear interest as provided in G.S. 105-266(b) and, together with the interest, shall be credited to the company and applied against the taxes imposed upon the company under this Article.

(g) Exemptions. — This section does not apply to farmers' mutual assessment fire insurance companies or to fraternal orders or societies that do not operate for a profit and do not issue policies on any person except members. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1947, c. 501, s. 8; 1951, c. 643, s. 8; 1955, c. 1313, s. 5; 1957, c. 1340, s. 12; 1959, c. 1211; 1961, c. 783; 1963, c. 1096; 1969, c. 1221; 1973, cc. 142, 1019; 1975, c. 143; c. 559, s. 8; 1979, c. 714, s. 2; 1983, c. 713, s. 81; 1985, c. 119, s. 3; c. 719, ss. 1, 2; 1985 (Reg. Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003. For the section as in effect until January 1, 2003, see the preceding section, also numbered § 105-228.5.

Subdivisions (d)(5) and (6) Set Out Twice. — The first versions of subdivisions (d)(5) and (6) set out above are effective until January 1, 2004. The second versions of subdivisions (d)(5) and (6) set out above are effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 747, s. 16, provides: "This act does not obligate the General Assembly to appropriate funds."

Session Laws 2001-489, s. 2(e), provides: "Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-228.5(f), the following provisions apply to Article 65 Corporations and Health Maintenance Organizations, as defined in G.S. 105-228.3, for the 2003 taxable year in lieu of the provisions of G.S. 105-228.5(f):

"Article 65 Corporations and Health Maintenance Organizations that are subject to the tax imposed by G.S. 105-228.5 and have an estimated premium tax liability for the 2003 taxable year, not including the additional local fire and lightning tax, of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more for business done in North Carolina shall remit two estimated tax payments with each payment equal to fifty percent (50%) of the taxpayer's estimated premium tax liability for the 2003 taxable year. The first estimated payment is due on or before April 15, 2003, and the second estimated payment is due on or before June 15, 2003. The taxpayer must remit the balance by the following March 15 in the same manner provided in G.S. 105-228.5(e) for annual returns.

"An underpayment of an estimated payment required by this subsection [s. 2(e) of Session Laws 2001-489] bears interest at the rate established under G.S. 105-241.1(i). Any overpayment bears interest as provided in G.S. 105-266(b) and, together with the interest, must be credited to the taxpayer and applied against the taxes imposed upon the company under G.S. 105-228.5.

"The penalties provided in Article 9 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes apply to the estimated tax payments required by this subsection [s. 2(e) of Session Laws 2001-489]."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001.'"

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-489, s. 2(a), effective December 19, 2001, repealed Session Laws 2001-424, ss. 34.22(d) and (e), which would have amended subdivision (d)(5) of this section, amended by s. 34.22(a), and subdivision (d)(6) of this section, as enacted by s. 34.22(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, by increasing the percentage at the end of the first sentence thereof to 1%.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.22(a), as amended by Session Laws 2001-489, s. 2(d), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, in subsection (a), inserted "health maintenance organizations," and "health maintenance organization,"; in subdivision (b)(1), inserted "or a health maintenance organization"; in subsection (b1), inserted "health care plans and" in the second undesignated paragraph; in subsection (c), inserted "and the gross amount of excluded premiums is exempt from the tax imposed by this section:" in the first paragraph, added subdivision (4), and deleted the last undesignated paragraph, which read: "The gross amount of the excluded premiums, funds, and considerations shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this section."; in subsection (d), substituted "Workers" for "Workers" in subdivision (1), substituted "taxable" for "insurance" and "is" for "shall be" in subdivision (2), substituted "is eight hundred thirty-three thousandths percent (0.833%)" for "shall be one-half of one percent (1/2 of 1%)" in subdivision (5), and added subdivision (6); in subsection (e), substituted "taxpayer" for "insurer, Article 65 corporation, and self-insurer" in the first paragraph; and in subsection (f), substituted "Taxpayers" for "Insurers, Article 65 corporations, and self-insurers" in the first paragraph.

Session Laws 2001-489, ss. 2(b) and 2(c), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, substituted "one and one-tenth percent (1.1%)" for "eight hundred thirty-three thousandths percent (0.833%)" in subdivisions (d)(5) and (d)(6) of this section, as amended and enacted, respectively, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.22.

Session Laws 2001-489, ss. 2(f) and 2(g), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004, substituted "one percent (1%)" for "one and one tenths percent (1.1%)" in subsections (d)(5) and (d)(6) as amended and enacted, respectively, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.22(a).

§ 105-228.5A. Credit against gross premium tax for assessments paid to the Insurance Guaranty Association and the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association.

(a) The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Assessment. — An assessment as described in G.S. 58-48-35 or an assessment as described in G.S. 58-62-41.
- (2) Association. — The North Carolina Insurance Guaranty Association created under G.S. 58-48-25 or the North Carolina Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association created under G.S. 58-62-26.
- (3) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 360, s. 1(e).
- (4) Member insurer. — A member insurer as defined in G.S. 58-48-20 or a member insurer as defined in G.S. 58-62-16.

(b) A member insurer who pays an assessment is allowed as a credit against the tax imposed under G.S. 105-228.5 an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the assessment in each of the five taxable years following the year in which the assessment was paid. In the event a member insurer ceases doing business, all assessments for which it has not taken a credit under this section may be credited against its premium tax liability for the year in which it ceases doing business. The amount of the credit allowed by this section may not exceed the member insurer's premium tax liability for the taxable year.

(c) Any sums that are acquired by refund, under either G.S. 58-48-35 or G.S. 58-62-41, from the Association by member insurers, and that have previously been offset against premium taxes as provided in subsection (b) of this section, shall be paid by the member insurers to this State in the manner required by the Secretary of Revenue. The Association shall notify the Secretary that the refunds have been made. (1991, c. 689, s. 298; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 8; 1995, c. 360, s. 1(e).)

§ 105-228.6. Taxes in case of withdrawal from State.

Any insurance company which for any cause withdraws from this State or ceases to register and transact new business in this State shall be liable for the taxes specified in G.S. 105-228.5 with respect to gross premiums collected in the calendar year in which such withdrawal may occur. In case any company which was formerly licensed or registered in this State and which subsequently ceased to do business therein, may apply to reenter this State, application for reentry or renewal of registration shall be denied unless and until said company shall have paid all taxes, together with any penalties and interest, due as to premiums collected in the year of withdrawal and also taxes as specified in G.S. 105-228.5 for gross premiums collected in the calendar year next preceding the year in which such application for renewal of registration is made. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 1031, s. 5.1; 1987, c. 814, s. 4; 1989, c. 346, s. 1.)

§ 105-228.8. Retaliatory premium taxes.

(a) When the laws of any other state impose, or would impose, any premium taxes, upon North Carolina companies doing business in the other state that are, on an aggregate basis, in excess of the premium taxes directly imposed upon similar companies by the statutes of this State, the Secretary of Revenue shall impose the same premium taxes, on an aggregate basis, upon the companies chartered in the other state doing business or seeking to do business in North Carolina. Any company subject to the retaliatory tax imposed by this section shall report and pay the tax with the annual premium tax return required by G.S. 105-228.5. The retaliatory tax imposed by this section shall be included in the quarterly prepayment rules for premium taxes.

(b) For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall be applied:

(1) "State" includes the District of Columbia and other states, territories, and possessions of the United States, the provinces of Canada, and other nations.

(2) "Companies" includes all entities subject to tax under G.S. 105-228.5.

(c) For purposes of this section, any premium taxes that are, or would be, imposed upon North Carolina companies by any city, county, or other political subdivision or agency of another state shall be deemed to be imposed directly by that state.

(d) In computing the premium taxes that another state imposes, or would impose, upon a North Carolina company doing business in the state, it shall be assumed that North Carolina companies pay the highest rates of premium tax that are generally imposed by the other state on similar companies chartered outside of the state.

(e) This section shall not apply to special purpose obligations or assessments based on premiums imposed in connection with particular kinds of insurance, to the special purpose regulatory charge imposed under G.S. 58-6-25, or to dedicated special purpose taxes based on premiums. For purposes of this section, seventy-five percent (75%) of the one and thirty-three hundredths percent (1.33%) tax on amounts collected on contracts of insurance applicable to fire and lightning coverage shall not be a special purpose obligation or assessment or a dedicated special purpose tax within the meaning of this subsection.

(f) If the laws of another state retaliate against North Carolina companies on other than an aggregate basis, the Secretary of Revenue shall retaliate against companies chartered in that state on the same basis. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1987, c. 814, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1069, s. 21; 1991, c. 689, s. 291; 1995, c. 360, s. 1(f).)

§ 105-228.9. Commissioner of Insurance to administer portions of Article.

The following taxes relating to insurance are collected by the Commissioner of Insurance:

(1) Surplus lines tax, G.S. 58-21-85.

(2) Tax on risk retention groups not chartered in this State, G.S. 58-22-20(3).

(3) Tax on person procuring insurance directly with an unlicensed insurer, G.S. 58-28-5(b).

The Commissioner of Insurance has the same authority and responsibility in administering those taxes as the Secretary of Revenue has in administering this Article. (1945, c. 752, s. 2; 1955, c. 1350, s. 22; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987, c. 804, s. 9; 1995, c. 360, s. 1(a); 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 747, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 747, s. 16, provides: “This act does not obligate the General Assembly to appropriate funds.”

Excise Stamp Tax on Conveyances.

§ 105-228.28. Scope.

This Article applies to every person conveying an interest in real estate located in North Carolina other than a governmental unit or an instrumentality of a governmental unit. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1999-28, s. 1.)

Local Modification. — Pasquotank, Perquimans, and Washington: 1989, c. 393, s. 1.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote the Article head, which formerly read "Excise Stamp Tax on Conveyances"; and in this section substituted "This article applies to every person" for "The provisions of this Article shall apply to every person, firm, corporation, association, society or organization" and "or an instrumentality of a governmental unit" for "and instrumentalities thereof."

opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Austin C. Williams, 41 N.C.A.G. 714 (1972).

§ 105-228.29. Exemptions.

This Article does not apply to any of the following transfers of an interest in real property:

- (1) By operation of law.
- (2) By lease for a term of years.
- (3) By or pursuant to the provisions of a will.
- (4) By intestacy.
- (5) By gift.
- (6) If no consideration in property or money is due or paid by the transferee to the transferor.
- (7) By merger, conversion, or consolidation.
- (8) By an instrument securing indebtedness. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1999-28, s. 1; 1999-369, s. 5.10(a)-(c).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.10(b), provided that s. 5.10(a) of Session Laws 1999-369, which amended this section, would expire July 1, 2000.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote this section.

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.10(a), effective December 15, 1999, and applicable to mergers, consolidations, or conversions effective on or after that date, inserted "conversion" in this section as it read prior to July 1, 2000. For expiration of this amendment, see Editor's note.

Session Laws 1999-369, s. 5.10(c), effective July 1, 2000, inserted "conversion" in subdivision (7).

Conveyance of interest in lease for term of years is not subject to real estate excise stamp tax on conveyances. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Lucius M. Cheshire, County Attorney, Orange County, 43 N.C.A.G. 364 (1974).

§ 105-228.30. Imposition of excise tax; distribution of proceeds.

(a) An excise tax is levied on each instrument by which any interest in real property is conveyed to another person. The tax rate is one dollar ($1.00) on each five hundred dollars ($500.00) or fractional part thereof of the consideration or value of the interest conveyed. The transferor must pay the tax to the register of deeds of the county in which the real estate is located before recording the instrument of conveyance. If the instrument transfers a parcel of real estate lying in two or more counties, however, the tax must be paid to the register of deeds of the county in which the greater part of the real estate with respect to value lies.

The excise tax on instruments imposed by this Article applies to timber deeds and contracts for the sale of standing timber to the same extent as if these deeds and contracts conveyed an interest in real property.

(b) (Effective until July 1, 2003) The register of deeds of each county must remit the proceeds of the tax levied by this section to the county finance officer. The finance officer of each county must credit one-half of the proceeds to the county’s general fund and remit the remaining one-half of the proceeds, less the county’s allowance for administrative expenses, to the Department of Revenue on a quarterly basis. A county may retain two percent (2%) of the amount of tax proceeds allocated for remittance to the Department of Revenue as compensation for the county’s cost in collecting and remitting the State’s share of the tax. Of the funds remitted to it pursuant to this section, the Department of Revenue must credit seventy-five percent (75%) to the Parks and Recreation Trust Fund established under G.S. 113-44.15 and twenty-five percent (25%) to the Natural Heritage Trust Fund established under G.S. 113-77.7.

(b) (Effective July 1, 2003) The register of deeds of each county must remit the proceeds of the tax levied by this section to the county finance officer. The finance officer of each county must credit one-half of the proceeds to the county’s general fund and remit the remaining one-half of the proceeds, less the county’s allowance for administrative expenses, to the Department of Revenue on a monthly basis. A county may retain two percent (2%) of the amount of tax proceeds allocated for remittance to the Department of Revenue as compensation for the county’s cost in collecting and remitting the State’s share of the tax. Of the funds remitted to it pursuant to this section, the Department of Revenue must credit seventy-five percent (75%) to the Parks and Recreation Trust Fund established under G.S. 113-44.15 and twenty-five percent (25%) to the Natural Heritage Trust Fund established under G.S. 113-77.7. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1991, c. 689, s. 338; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1019, s. 1; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 772, s. 2; 1995, c. 456, s. 3; 1999-28, s. 1; 2000-16, s. 1; 2001-427, s. 14(a).)

Subsection (b) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (b) set out above is effective until July 1, 2003. The second version of subsection (b) set out above is effective July 1, 2003.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote subsection (a); and in subsection (b), substituted "must" for "shall" in three places, and deleted "shall" preceding "remit the remaining."

Session Laws 2000-16, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, and applicable to timber deeds and contracts for the sale of standing timber executed on or after that date, added the second paragraph of subsection (a).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 14.(a), effective July 1, 2003, and applicable to amounts collected on or after that date, substituted "monthly" for "quarterly" in the second sentence of subsection (b).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Lessee's Conveyance of Leasehold Improvements to Purchaser. — An instrument conveying ownership of leasehold improvements, owned by a lessee, from the lessee to a purchaser is not subject to the excise stamp tax on conveyances. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Thomas Russell Odom, Durham County Attorney, 55 N.C.A.G. 109 (1986).

§ 105-228.31: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

§ 105-228.32. Instrument must be marked to reflect tax paid.

A person who presents an instrument for registration must report to the Register of Deeds the amount of tax due. Before the instrument may be recorded, the Register of Deeds must collect the tax due and mark the instrument to indicate that the tax has been paid and the amount of the tax paid. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1969, c. 599, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1999-28, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote the section.

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Since 1969 Amendment, Register of Deeds May Not Refuse Tender of Deed for Recording If Stamp Tax Not Paid. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mrs. Lois C. LeRay, Register of Deeds, New Hanover County, 40 N.C.A.G. 876 (1970).

§ 105-228.33. Taxes recoverable by action.

A county may recover unpaid taxes under this Article in an action in the name of the county brought in the superior court of the county. The action may be filed if the taxes remain unpaid more than 30 days after the register of deeds has demanded payment. In such actions, costs of court shall include a fee to the county of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for expense of collection. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1999-28, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote the section.

§ 105-228.34: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

§ 105-228.35. Administrative provisions.

Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the provisions of Article 9 of this Chapter apply to this Article. (1967, c. 986, s. 1; 1999-28, s. 1; 2000-170, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.
Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000, rewrote the section.
Session Laws 2000-170, s. 1, effective August 2, 2000, and applicable retroactively to taxes paid on or after January 1, 2000, inserted “Except as otherwise provided in this Article.”

§ 105-228.36: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-28, s. 1, effective July 1, 2000.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-28, s. 2, provides that prosecutions for offenses committed before the effective date of this act are not abated or affected by this act, and the statutes that would be applicable but for this act remain applicable to those prosecutions.

§ 105-228.37. Refund of overpayment of tax.

- (a) Refund Request. — A taxpayer who pays more tax than is due under this Article may request a refund of the overpayment by filing a written request for a refund with the board of county commissioners of the county where the tax was paid. The request must be filed within six months after the date the tax was paid and must explain why the taxpayer believes a refund is due.
- (b) Hearing by County. — A board of county commissioners must review a request for refund and must follow the time limitations set in G.S. 105-266.1 for holding a hearing and making a decision. If the board decides that a refund is due, it must refund the county’s portion of the overpayment, together with any applicable interest, to the taxpayer. If the board finds that no refund is due, the written decision of the board must inform the taxpayer that the taxpayer may ask the Secretary to review the decision. The board must send the Secretary a copy of a decision on a request for refund.
- (c) Review by Secretary. — A taxpayer whose request for a refund is denied by a board of county commissioners may obtain a review of the board’s decision by the Secretary. The request must be made in writing and must be filed within 30 days after the taxpayer receives the board’s decision denying the refund. The Secretary must send the board of county commissioners a copy of the Secretary's decision made on the request. If the Secretary determines that a refund is due, the board of county commissioners must refund the county's portion of the overpayment, together with any applicable interest, to the taxpayer. A decision of the Secretary is binding on a board of county commissioners.

(d) Judicial Review. — A taxpayer who disagrees with a decision of the Secretary may bring an action against the county and the State to recover the disputed overpayment. The action may be brought in the Superior Court of Wake County or in the superior court of the county where the tax was paid.

(e) Recording Correct Deed. — Before a tax is refunded, the taxpayer must record a new instrument reflecting the correct amount of tax due. If no tax is due because an instrument was recorded in the wrong county, then the taxpayer must record a document stating that no tax was owed because the instrument being corrected was recorded in the wrong county. The taxpayer must include in the document the names of the grantors and grantees and the deed book and page number of the instrument being corrected.

When a taxpayer records a corrected instrument, the taxpayer must inform the register of deeds that the instrument being recorded is a correcting instrument. The taxpayer must give the register of deeds a copy of the decision granting the refund that shows the correct amount of tax due. The correcting instrument must include the deed book and page number of the instrument being corrected. The register of deeds must notify the county finance officer and the Secretary when the correcting instrument has been recorded.

(f) Interest. — An overpayment of tax bears interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i) from the date that interest begins to accrue. Interest begins to accrue on an overpayment 30 days after the request for a refund is filed by the taxpayer with the board of county commissioners. (2000-170, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-170, s. 4, made this section effective August 2, 2000, and applicable retroactively to taxes paid on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 2000-170, s. 3, provides that, notwithstanding G.S. 105-228.37, as enacted by the act, a refund request filed by a taxpayer who paid the tax imposed by Chapter 105, Article 8E, on or after January 1, 2000, and whose time limit for requesting a refund expires on or before August 1, 2000, is considered timely if the request is filed with the board of county commissioners by October 1, 2000.

ARTICLE 9.

General Administration; Penalties and Remedies.

§ 105-228.90. Scope and definitions.

(a) Scope. — This Article applies to Subchapters I, V, and VIII of this Chapter, to the annual report filing requirements of G.S. 55-16-22, to the primary forest product assessment levied under Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, and to inspection taxes levied under Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Charter school. — A nonprofit corporation that has a charter under G.S. 115C-238.29D to operate a charter school.

(1a) City. — A city as defined by G.S. 160A-1(2). The term also includes an urban service district defined by the governing board of a consolidated city-county, as defined by G.S. 160B-2(1).

- (1b) (See Editor's Note) Code. — The Internal Revenue Code as enacted as of January 1, 2001, including any provisions enacted as of that date which become effective either before or after that date.
- (1c) County. — Any one of the counties listed in G.S. 153A-10. The term also includes a consolidated city-county as defined by G.S. 160B-2(1).
- (2) Department. — The Department of Revenue.
- (3) Electronic Funds Transfer. — A transfer of funds initiated by using an electronic terminal, a telephone, a computer, or magnetic tape to instruct or authorize a financial institution or its agent to credit or debit an account.
- (4) Reserved.
- (5) Person. — An individual, a fiduciary, a firm, an association, a partnership, a limited liability company, a corporation, a unit of government, or another group acting as a unit. The term includes an officer or employee of a corporation, a member, a manager, or an employee of a limited liability company, and a member or employee of a partnership who, as officer, employee, member, or manager, is under a duty to perform an act in meeting the requirements of Subchapter I, V, or VIII of this Chapter, of G.S. 55-16-22, of Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, or of Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes.
- (6) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.
- (7) Tax. — A tax levied under Subchapter I, V, or VIII of this Chapter, the primary forest product assessment levied under Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, or an inspection tax levied under Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the terms "tax" and "additional tax" include penalties and interest as well as the principal amount.
- (8) Taxpayer. — A person subject to the tax or reporting requirements of Subchapter I, V, or VIII of this Chapter, of Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes, or of Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 13; 1993, c. 12, s. 1; c. 354, s. 18; c. 450, s. 1; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 662, s. 1; c. 745, s. 13; 1995, c. 17, s. 9; c. 461, s. 14; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 664, s. 1; 1997-55, s. 1; 1997-475, s. 6.9; 1998-171, s. 1; 1999-415, s. 1; 2000-72, s. 1; 2000-126, s. 1; 2000-140, s. 6.9; 2001-414, s. 23; 2001-427, s. 4(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 3.11, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, and applicable to jobs created on or after August 1, 1996, and property placed in service on or after August 1, 1996, provides that, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if a taxpayer relocates an employee to this State during 1996, any in-house research expenses the taxpayer incurs with respect to that employee during 1996, either before or after relocation, are considered in-house research expenses in this State for purposes of this section, and further provides that if the federal tax credit for increasing research activities that was formerly allowed under s. 41 of the Code is reenacted, the credit for research and development allowed in Article 3A of this Chapter becomes effective for the same taxable year for which the reenacted federal credit becomes effective.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c.

13, s. 1, provides that the act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1998-171, s. 5, provides that notwithstanding the amendment by s. 1 to subdivision (b)(1a) (now subdivision (b)(1b)), to the extent an amendment to the Internal Revenue Code enacted after January 1, 1997, would increase North Carolina taxable income for a taxpayer's tax year beginning before January 1, 1998, the amendment does not apply to the taxpayer for that tax year. For a prior similar provision, see 1997-55, s. 2.

Session Laws 2000-126, s. 7, provides that, notwithstanding Session Laws 2000-126, s. 1 (which amended this section), any amendments to the Internal Revenue Code enacted in 1999 that increase North Carolina taxable income for the 1999 taxable year become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000.

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 4(c), provides that notwithstanding s. 4(a) of the act [which amended subdivision (b)(1b)], any amendments to the Internal Revenue Code enacted in 2000 that increase North Carolina taxable income for the 2000 taxable year become effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-415, s. 1, effective August 5, 1999, substituted “June 1, 1999” for “September 1, 1998” in subdivision (b)(1a).

Session Laws 2000-72, s. 1, effective October 1, 2000, added present subdivision (b)(1) and redesignated former subdivisions (b)(1), (1a) and (1b) in alphabetical order as present subdivisions (b)(1a), (1b) and (1c), respectively.

Session Laws 2000-126, s. 1, effective July 14, 2000, substituted “January 1, 2000” for “June 1, 1999” in present subdivision (b)(1b).

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 69, effective July 21, 2000, added subdivision (b)(2), defining “Department.”

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 23, effective September 14, 2001, inserted “to the primary forest product assessment levied under Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes” in subsection (a); inserted “of G.S. 55-16-22, of Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes” in subdivision (b)(5); inserted “the primary forest product assessment levied under Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes” in subdivision (b)(7); and added “of Article 12 of Chapter 113A of the General Statutes” in subdivision (b)(8).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 4(a), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2001, substituted “January 1, 2001” for “January 1, 2000” in subdivision (b)(1b).

§ 105-230. Charter suspended for failure to report.

(a) If a corporation or a limited liability company fails to file any report or return or to pay any tax or fee required by this Subchapter for 90 days after it is due, the Secretary shall inform the Secretary of State of this failure. The Secretary of State shall suspend the articles of incorporation, articles of organization, or certificate of authority, as appropriate, of the corporation or limited liability company. The Secretary of State shall immediately notify by mail every domestic or foreign corporation or limited liability company so suspended of its suspension. The powers, privileges, and franchises conferred upon the corporation or limited liability company by the articles of incorporation, the articles of organization, or the certificate of authority terminate upon suspension.

(b) Any act performed or attempted to be performed during the period of suspension is invalid and of no effect, unless the Secretary of State reinstates the corporation or limited liability company pursuant to G.S. 105-232. (1939, c. 158, ss. 901, 902; 1957, c. 498; 1967, c. 823, s. 31; 1969, c. 965, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987, c. 644, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1024, s. 19(a); 1993, c. 354, ss. 19, 20; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(1); 2001-387, s. 152.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 2001-387, s. 154(b), provides that nothing in this act shall supersede the provisions of Article 10 or 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes, and this act does not create an alternate means for an entity governed by Article 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes to convert to a different business form.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, in the first paragraph, transferred the former last sentence to be the present third sentence; and recodified former G.S. 105-231 as the second paragraph, deleting the former first sentence, which provided the monetary penalty for exercising functions after suspension of articles or a certificate.

Session Laws 2001-387, effective January 1, 2002, added “unless the Secretary of State ... pursuant to G.S.105-232” at the end of subsection (b); and made a minor punctuation change.

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — The court declined to address the plaintiff's allegation that this section argue is unconstitutional because it does not require the corporation, whose certificate of authority has been suspended, be notified of the suspension prior to the suspension taking effect because this argument was not asserted at trial. Ben Johnson Homes, Inc. v. Watkins, 142 N.C. App. 162, 541 S.E.2d 769 (2001), cert. granted, 354 N.C. 67, — S.E.2d — (2001), review granted, 354 N.C. 67, 553 S.E.2d 33 (2001).

Reinstatement of Charter. — When a corporation's charter is suspended pursuant to this section, the same may be reinstated within five years upon payment of fees and taxes due the Revenue Department. Raleigh Swimming Pool Co. v. Wake Forest Country Club, 11 N.C. App. 715, 182 S.E.2d 273 (1971).

Liquidation of Corporation If Charter Not Reinstated. — If a suspended charter is not reinstated within five years, then liquidation of corporate assets is as provided in § 105-232 rather than in § 55-114 et seq. (see now § 55-14-05 et seq.). Raleigh Swimming Pool Co. v. Wake Forest Country Club, 11 N.C. App. 715, 182 S.E.2d 273 (1971).

This section was not intended to deprive a corporation of its properties nor to penalize innocent parties. Page v. Miller, 252 N.C. 23, 113 S.E.2d 52 (1960); Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

Effect of Suspension of Charter on Corporation's Capacity to Sue. — Allegations in the complaint to the effect that plaintiff corporation's charter was temporarily suspended under this section less than a year prior to the institution of the action do not disclose that the corporation did not have legal capacity to institute the action. Mica Indus., Inc. v. Penland, 249 N.C. 602, 107 S.E.2d 120 (1959).

A corporation whose articles of incorporation were suspended under this section for failure to pay taxes had standing under § 55-114 (see now § 55-14-05 et seq.) to maintain an action to recover the amount due on a contract. Raleigh Swimming Pool Co. v. Wake Forest Country Club, 11 N.C. App. 715, 182 S.E.2d 273 (1971).

A corporation whose charter has been suspended is not required to remain completely dormant for five years. Such a corporation may bring an action in court or defend an action brought against it. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

A corporation could not bring suit to enforce contract entered into during a period of revenue suspension. South Mecklenburg Painting Contractors v. Cunnane Group, Inc., 134 N.C. App. 307, 517 S.E.2d 167 (1999).

Effect of Suspension of Certificate of Authority on Corporation's Capacity to Sue. — Construction company which entered into a contract with defendant-homeowner and performed that contract at a time when its certificate of authority was in a state of suspension could not assert or enforce its rights under the contract, including claims based in equity (i.e., claims based on quantum meruit). Ben Johnson Homes, Inc. v. Watkins, 142 N.C. App. 162, 541 S.E.2d 769 (2001), cert. granted, 354 N.C. 67, — S.E.2d — (2001), review granted, 354 N.C. 67, 553 S.E.2d 33 (2001).

And on Ability to Take Property Under Will. — A corporation whose charter has been suspended may take property under a will. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

And on Power to Assign Bid Made at Foreclosure Sale. — When the rights of third parties are involved, a corporation whose charter has been suspended has the power to assign a bid made at a foreclosure sale, regardless of whether the exercise of that power subjects the corporation to a penalty under § 105-231. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

And on Power to Purchase Property at Foreclosure Sale. — A corporation whose charter has been suspended has the power to purchase property at a foreclosure sale and to convey it validly to an innocent third party. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

Duty of Officers to Corporation. — While corporate officers in North Carolina are not trustees, their fiduciary duty to the corporation is a high one; this includes a duty not to continue to incur ordinary business obligations on behalf of the corporation when they have knowledge that the corporation's charter has been suspended. Pierce Concrete, Inc. v. Cannon Realty & Constr. Co., 77 N.C. App. 411, 335 S.E.2d 30 (1985).

Where plaintiff corporation had no legal existence on date of conveyance of certain real property, the deed could not operate to convey title to plaintiff corporation. Piedmont & W. Inv. Corp. v. Carnes-Miller Gear Co., 96 N.C. App. 105, 384 S.E.2d 687 (1989), cert. denied, 326 N.C. 49, 389 S.E.2d 93 (1990), decided prior to 1987 amendment.

Effect of Suspension of Charter on Corporation's Capacity to Sue. — A corporation whose charter has been suspended is not required to remain completely dormant for five years. Such a corporation may bring an action in court or defend an action brought against it. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

And on Ability to Take Property Under

Will. — A corporation whose charter has been suspended may take property under a will. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

And on Power to Assign Bid Made at Foreclosure Sale. — When the rights of third parties are involved, a corporation whose charter has been suspended has the power to assign a bid made at a foreclosure sale, regardless of whether the exercise of that power subjects the corporation to a penalty under this section. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

And on Power to Purchase Property at Foreclosure Sale. — A corporation whose charter has been suspended has the power to purchase property at a foreclosure sale and to convey it validly to an innocent third party. Parker v. Life Homes, Inc., 22 N.C. App. 297, 206 S.E.2d 344 (1974).

Duty of Officers to Corporation. — While corporate officers in North Carolina are not trustees, their fiduciary duty to the corporation is a high one; this includes a duty not to continue to incur ordinary business obligations on behalf of the corporation when they have knowledge that the corporation's charter has been suspended. Pierce Concrete, Inc. v. Cannon Realty & Constr. Co., 77 N.C. App. 411, 335 S.E.2d 30 (1985).

Use of Corporate Name as Shield. — The law will not permit a corporate officer to create obligations in the name of the corporation, knowing the acts are without authority and invalid, and then be permitted to use the corporate name as a shield against creditors. Pierce Concrete, Inc. v. Cannon Realty & Constr. Co., 77 N.C. App. 411, 335 S.E.2d 30 (1985).

§ 105-231: Recodified as the second paragraph of § 105-230 by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(k).

§ 105-232. Rights restored; receivership and liquidation.

(a) Any corporation or limited liability company whose articles of incorporation, articles of organization, or certificate of authority to do business in this State has been suspended by the Secretary of State under G.S. 105-230, that complies with all the requirements of this Subchapter and pays all State taxes, fees, or penalties due from it (which total amount due may be computed, for years prior and subsequent to the suspension, in the same manner as if the suspension had not taken place), and pays to the Secretary of Revenue a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) to cover the cost of reinstatement, is entitled to exercise again its rights, privileges, and franchises in this State. The Secretary of Revenue shall notify the Secretary of State of this compliance and the Secretary of State shall reinstate the corporation or limited liability company by appropriate entry upon the records of the office of the Secretary of State. Upon entry of reinstatement, it relates back to and takes effect as of the date of the suspension by the Secretary of State and the corporation or limited liability company resumes carrying on its business as if the suspension had never occurred, subject to the rights of any person who reasonably relied, to that person's prejudice, upon the suspension. The Secretary of State shall immediately notify by mail the corporation or limited liability company of the reinstatement.

(b) When the articles of incorporation, articles of organization, or certificate of authority to do business in this State has been suspended by the Secretary of State under G.S. 105-230, and the corporation or limited liability company has ceased to operate as a going concern, if there remains property held in the name of the corporation or limited liability company or undisposed of at the time of the suspension, or there remain future interests that may accrue to the corporation, the limited liability company, or its successors, members, or stockholders, any interested party may apply to the superior court for the appointment of a receiver. Application for the receiver may be made in a civil action to which all stockholders, members, or their representatives or next of kin shall be made parties. Stockholders or members whose whereabouts are unknown, unknown stockholders or members, unknown heirs and next of kin of deceased stockholders, members, creditors, dealers, and other interested persons may be served by publication. A guardian ad litem may be appointed for any stockholders, members, or their representatives who are infants or incompetent. The receiver shall enter into a bond if the court requires one and shall give notice to creditors by publication or otherwise as the court may prescribe. Any creditor who fails to file a claim with the receiver within the time set shall be barred of the right to participate in the distribution of the assets. The receiver may (i) sell the property interests of the corporation or limited liability company upon such terms and in such manner as the court may order, (ii) apply the proceeds to the payment of any debts of the corporation or limited liability company, and (iii) distribute the remainder among the stockholders, the members, or their representatives in proportion to their interests in the property interests. Shares due to any stockholder or member who is unknown or whose whereabouts are unknown shall be paid into the office of the clerk of the superior court, to be disbursed according to law. In the event the records of the corporation or limited liability company are lost or do not reflect the owners of the property interests, the court shall determine the owners from the best evidence available, and the receiver shall be protected in acting in accordance with the court's finding. This proceeding is authorized for the sole purpose of providing a procedure for disposing of the assets of the corporation or limited liability company by the payment of its debts and by the transfer to its stockholders, its members, or their representatives their proportionate shares of its assets. (1939, c. 158, s. 903; c. 370, s. 1; 1943, c. 400, s. 9; 1947, c. 501, s. 9; 1951, c. 29; 1969, c. 541, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1065; 1987, c. 644, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1024, s. 19(b); 1991, c. 645, s. 21; 1993, c. 354, s. 21; 2001-387, s. 153; 2001-487, s. 62(dd).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-387, s. 154(b), provides that nothing in this act shall supersede the provisions of Article 10 or 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes, and this act does not create an alternate means for an entity governed by Article 65 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes to convert to a different business form.

Session Laws 2001-387, s. 175(b), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 62(ff), provides: "The amendment to G.S. 105-232 set forth in Section 153 of this act is intended to be retroactive. Accordingly, any act performed or attempted to be performed during the period of suspension of any corporation or limited liability company reinstated pursuant to G.S. 105-232(a) prior to January 1, 2002, shall not be deemed to be invalid and of no effect under G.S. 105-230, subject to the rights of any person who reasonably relied, to that person's prejudice, on the suspension."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-387, effective January 1, 2002, in subsection (a), substituted "office of the Secretary" for "Office of Secretary" near the end of the second sentence, inserted the third sentence, and inserted "by mail" in the last sentence.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 62(dd), effective January 1, 2002, in the next to last sentence of subsection (a) as amended by Session Laws 2001-387, s. 153, deleted a comma following "Secretary of State," and substituted "relied, to that person's prejudice, upon" for "relied on that person's prejudice on."

CASE NOTES

Liquidation of Corporation if Suspended Charter Not Reinstated. — When a corporation's charter is suspended pursuant to § 105-230, the same may be reinstated within five years upon payment of fees and taxes due the Revenue Department; and if the charter is not so reinstated within five years, then liquidation of corporate assets is as provided in this section rather than in § 55-114 et seq. (see now § 55-14-05 et seq.). Raleigh Swimming Pool Co. v. Wake Forest Country Club, 11 N.C. App. 715, 182 S.E.2d 273 (1971).

§ 105-233. Officers, agents, and employees; failing to comply with tax law a misdemeanor.

If any officer, agent, and/or employee of any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions of this Subchapter shall willfully fail, refuse, or neglect to make out, file, and/or deliver any reports or blanks, as required by such law, or to answer any question therein propounded, or to knowingly and willfully give a false answer to any such question wherein the fact inquired of is within his knowledge, or upon proper demand to exhibit to such Secretary of Revenue or any of his duly authorized representatives any book, paper, account, record, memorandum of such person, firm, or corporation in his possession and/or under his control, he shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor and only fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 904; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 539, s. 707; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-234. Aiding and/or abetting officers, agents, or employees in violation of this Subchapter a misdemeanor.

If any person, firm, or corporation shall aid, abet, direct, or cause or procure any of his or its officers, agents, or employees to violate any of the provisions of this Subchapter, he or it shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor, and only fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 905; 1993, c. 539, s. 708; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-235. Every day's failure a separate offense.

The willful failure, refusal, or neglect to observe and comply with any order, direction, or mandate of the Secretary of Revenue, or to perform any duty enjoined by this Subchapter, by any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions of this Subchapter, or any officer, agent, or employee thereof, shall, for each day such failure, refusal, or neglect continues, constitute a separate and distinct offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 906; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-236. Penalties.

Penalties assessed by the Secretary under this Subchapter are assessed as an additional tax. Except as otherwise provided by law, and subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-237, the following penalties shall be applicable:

- (1) Penalty for Bad Checks. — When the bank upon which any uncertified check tendered to the Department of Revenue in payment of any obligation due to the Department returns the check because of insufficient funds or the nonexistence of an account of the drawer, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the check, subject to a minimum of one dollar ($1.00) and a maximum of one thousand dollars ($1,000). This penalty does not apply if the Secretary finds that, when the check was presented for payment, the drawer of the check had sufficient funds in an account at a financial institution in this State to pay the check and, by inadvertence, the drawer of the check failed to draw the check on the account that had sufficient funds.

- (1a) Penalty for Bad Electronic Funds Transfer. — When an electronic funds transfer cannot be completed due to insufficient funds or the nonexistence of an account of the transferor, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the amount of the transfer, subject to a minimum of one dollar ($1.00) and a maximum of one thousand dollars ($1,000). This penalty may be waived by the Secretary in accordance with G.S. 105-237.
- (1b) Making Payment in Wrong Form. — For making a payment of tax in a form other than the form required by the Secretary pursuant to G.S. 105-241(a), the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to five percent (5%) of the amount of the tax, subject to a minimum of one dollar ($1.00) and a maximum of one thousand dollars ($1,000). This penalty may be waived by the Secretary in accordance with G.S. 105-237.
- (2) Failure to Obtain a License. — For failure to obtain a license before engaging in a business, trade or profession for which a license is required, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to five percent (5%) of the amount prescribed for the license per month or fraction thereof until paid, not to exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the amount so prescribed, but in any event shall not be less than five dollars ($5.00).
- (3) Failure to File Return. — In case of failure to file any return on the date it is due, determined with regard to any extension of time for filing, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to five percent (5%) of the amount of the tax if the failure is for not more than one month, with an additional five percent (5%) for each additional month, or fraction thereof, during which the failure continues, not exceeding twenty-five percent (25%) in the aggregate, or five dollars ($5.00), whichever is the greater.
- (4) Failure to Pay Tax When Due. — In the case of failure to pay any tax when due, without intent to evade the tax, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the tax, except that the penalty shall in no event be less than five dollars ($5.00). This penalty does not apply in any of the following circumstances:
  - a. When the amount of tax shown as due on an amended return is paid when the return is filed.
  - b. When a tax due but not shown on a return is assessed by the Secretary and is paid within 30 days after the date of the proposed notice of assessment of the tax.
- (5) Negligence. —
  - a. Finding of negligence. — For negligent failure to comply with any of the provisions to which this Article applies, or rules issued pursuant thereto, without intent to defraud, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the deficiency due to the negligence.
  - b. Large individual income tax deficiency. — In the case of individual income tax, if a taxpayer understates taxable income, by any means, by an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) or more of gross income, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the deficiency. For purposes of this subdivision, “gross income” means gross income as defined in section 61 of the Code.

- c. Other large tax deficiency. — In the case of a tax other than individual income tax, if a taxpayer understates tax liability by twenty-five percent (25%) or more, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the deficiency.
  - d. No double penalty. — If a penalty is assessed under subdivision (6) of this section, no additional penalty for negligence shall be assessed with respect to the same deficiency.
  - e. Inheritance and gift tax deficiencies. — This subdivision does not apply to inheritance, estate, and gift tax deficiencies that are the result of valuation understatements.
- (5a) Misuse of Exemption Certificate. — For misuse of an exemption certificate by a purchaser, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). An exemption certificate is a certificate issued by the Secretary that authorizes a retailer to sell tangible personal property to the holder of the certificate and either collect tax at a preferential rate or not collect tax on the sale. Examples of an exemption certificate include a certificate of resale, a direct pay certificate, and a farmer's certificate.
  - (5b) Road Tax Understatement. — If a motor carrier understates its liability for the road tax imposed by Article 36B of this Chapter by twenty-five percent (25%) or more, the Secretary shall assess the motor carrier a penalty in an amount equal to two times the amount of the deficiency.
  - (6) Fraud. — If there is a deficiency or delinquency in payment of any tax because of fraud with intent to evade the tax, the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to fifty percent (50%) of the total deficiency.
  - (7) Attempt to Evade or Defeat Tax. — Any person who willfully attempts, or any person who aids or abets any person to attempt in any manner to evade or defeat a tax or its payment, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a Class H felony.
  - (8) Willful Failure to Collect, Withhold, or Pay Over Tax. — Any person required to collect, withhold, account for, and pay over any tax who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over the tax shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no prosecution for a violation brought under this subdivision shall be barred before the expiration of six years after the date of the violation.
  - (9) Willful Failure to File Return, Supply Information, or Pay Tax. — Any person required to pay any tax, to make a return, to keep any records, or to supply any information, who willfully fails to pay the tax, make the return, keep the records, or supply the information, at the time or times required by law, or rules issued pursuant thereto, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no prosecution for a violation brought under this subdivision shall be barred before the expiration of six years after the date of the violation.
  - (9a) Aid or Assistance. — Any person, pursuant to or in connection with the revenue laws, who willfully aids, assists in, procures, counsels, or advises the preparation, presentation, or filing of a return, affidavit, claim, or any other document that the person knows is fraudulent or false as to any material matter, whether or not the falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present or file the return, affidavit, claim, or other document, shall be guilty of a Class H felony.
  - (10) Failure to File Informational Returns. —
    - a. Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(m), effective January 1, 1999.

- b. The Secretary may request a person who fails to file timely statements of payment to another person with respect to wages, dividends, rents, or interest paid to that person to file the statements by a certain date. If the payer fails to file the statements by that date, the amounts claimed on the payer's income tax return as deductions for salaries and wages, or rents or interest shall be disallowed to the extent that the payer failed to comply with the Secretary's request with respect to the statements.
  - c. For failure to file an informational return required by Article 36C or 36D of this Chapter by the date the return is due, there shall be assessed a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00).
- (10a) Filing a Frivolous Return. — If a taxpayer files a frivolous return under Part 2 of Article 4 of this Chapter, the Secretary shall assess a penalty in the amount of up to five hundred dollars ($500.00). A frivolous return is a return that meets both of the following requirements:
- a. It fails to provide sufficient information to permit a determination that the return is correct or contains information which positively indicates the return is incorrect, and
  - b. It evidences an intention to delay, impede or negate the revenue laws of this State or purports to adopt a position that is lacking in seriousness.
- (11) Any violation of Subchapter I, V, or VIII of this Chapter or of Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes is considered an act committed in part at the office of the Secretary in Raleigh. The certificate of the Secretary that a tax has not been paid, a return has not been filed, or information has not been supplied, as required by law, is prima facie evidence that the tax has not been paid, the return has not been filed, or the information has not been supplied.
- (12) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 45, s. 27. (1939, c. 158, s. 907; 1953, c. 1302, s. 7; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8; 1963, c. 1169, s. 6; 1967, c. 1110, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 13; 1979, c. 156, s. 2; 1985, c. 114, s. 11; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 983; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1076; 1989, c. 557, ss. 7 to 10; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1005, s. 9; 1991, c. 45, s. 27; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 914, s. 2; c. 1007, s. 10; 1993, c. 354, s. 22; c. 450, s. 10; c. 539, ss. 709, 710, 1292, 1293; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1995, c. 390, s. 36; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 10; c. 647, s. 51; c. 696, s. 1; 1997-6, s. 8; 1997-109, s. 3; 1998-178, ss. 1, 2; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(m); 1999-415, ss. 2, 3; 1999-438, ss. 15, 16; 2000-119, s. 2; 2000-120, s. 7; 2000-140, s. 70.)

Cross References. — As to exception under subdivisions (2), (3) and (4) of this section when time period is extended because of a presidentially declared disaster, see § 105-249.2.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(m), effective January 1, 1999, added the first sentence in the introductory paragraph; in subdivision (1), substituted "the Secretary shall assess a penalty equal to ten percent (10%) of the check" for "an additional tax equal to ten percent (10%) of the check shall be imposed" in the first sentence and substituted "penalty" for "additional tax" in the last sentence; and rewrote subdivisions (2) through (5a), (6), and (10).

Session Laws 1999-415, ss. 2 and 3, effective December 1, 1999, and applicable to prosecutions brought on or after that date for cases where the three-year statute of limitations had not expired prior to December 1, 1999, substituted "six years" for "three years" in the second sentences of subdivisions (8) and (9).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 15, effective October 1, 1999, and applicable to penalties assessed on or after that date, deleted "The penalty imposed may not be waived or diminished by the Secretary" from the end of subdivision (1).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 16, effective October 1, 1999, and applicable to penalties assessed on or after that date, inserted "individual" preceding "income tax" twice in subdivision (5)b. and in subdivision (5)c.

Session Laws 2000-119, s. 2, effective October 1, 2000, and applicable to returns filed on or after that date, added subdivision (10a).

Session Laws 2000-120, s. 7, effective January 1, 2001, rewrote subdivision (5a) to provide a penalty for misuse of an exemption certificate rather than misuse of a certificate of resale.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 70, effective July 21, 2000, inserted "the" preceding "payer's income tax return" in subdivision (10)b.

CASE NOTES

Penalties. — The criminal and civil penalties of the Tax Code did not provide an exclusive remedy, where a retailer allegedly did not pay sales and use taxes collected from a purchaser, and thus, the retailer could be prosecuted under the embezzlement statutes. State v. Kennedy, 130 N.C. App. 399, 503 S.E.2d 133 (1998), aff'd, 350 N.C. 87, 511 S.E.2d 305 (1999).

Taxes Are Not Debt Within Meaning of Constitution. — Taxes which are imposed are not contractual obligations of the taxpayer to the State, and do not constitute a debt within the meaning of the Constitution. State v. Locklear, 21 N.C. App. 48, 203 S.E.2d 63 (1974).

Designating Failure to Pay Tax Misdemeanor Is Within Police Power. — In the enactment of this section, the General Assembly has determined that any person required by the State Revenue Act to pay any tax who willfully fails to pay such tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The legislature had full authority to make this decision. It is a valid exercise of legislative power. State v. Locklear, 21 N.C. App. 48, 203 S.E.2d 63 (1974).

Selective Prosecution of Tax Evaders. — The prosecution of individuals who publicly assert privileges not to pay taxes does not necessarily constitute selection for prosecution upon an impermissible basis. Such prosecutions, predicated in part upon a potential deterrent effect, serve a legitimate interest in promoting more general tax compliance. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

Penalty for Failure to File New Return. — The taxpayer whose net income for any year is corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or other authorized federal officer must file a new return reflecting his corrected net income within two years after receipt of the federal agent's report. Failure to make such a new return within the time specified under § 105-159 subjects the taxpayer to all penalties provided by this section including, when applicable, the criminal penalty provided by subdivision (7) of this section. State v. Patton, 57 N.C. App. 702, 292 S.E.2d 172 (1982).

Failure to file an income tax return upon correction of income for three years by a federal tax audit and placing income in wife's bank account committed in a willful attempt to evade or defeat income taxes, would constitute the offense defined by subdivision (7) of this section. State v. Patton, 57 N.C. App. 702, 292 S.E.2d 172 (1982).

What Must Be Shown Under Subdivision (7). — Where a defendant is charged with attempting to evade or defeat the ascertainment of a tax, and that person also fails to file a return, the State must only show that defendant was subject to being taxed under the law, and that he willfully attempted to evade or defeat imposition of the tax. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

What Constitutes New Offense Under Subdivision (7). — An attempt to evade or defeat taxes on April 29, 1979, by failing to file a return for an earlier year within the time required by § 105-159 and by placing assets in the account of another would constitute a new offense, and the statute of limitations applicable to subdivision (7) of this section would begin to run anew as of that date. State v. Patton, 57 N.C. App. 702, 292 S.E.2d 172 (1982).

Section 105-241.1 addresses only the civil assessment of taxes and is fully independent of the criminal offenses set forth in subdivisions (7) and (9) of this section. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

And Its Procedural Protections Are Not Applicable to Individual Charged Under This Section. — Individual charged with violation of subdivisions (7) and (9) of this section was entitled to all the due process protections of a person charged under a criminal statute. However, he was not entitled to any procedural protections offered under the civil assessment statute, § 105-241.1. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

Willfulness Shown. — Defendant's admission that he considered it unconstitutional to pay taxes, along with evidence that on at least four occasions during the period in question (1984 to 1986) he claimed on his employee withholding certificates personal and dependent exemptions totaling at least $16,800 to which he was not entitled, and that he did not file a state personal income tax return between 1980 and 1986, taken together, was adequate to show a willful attempt to evade a tax. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

Defendants' Belief No Defense to Willfulness. — Belief of defendant charged with failure to pay state income taxes that he was not liable to pay income taxes on his wages because his wages were not "income," but rather compensation for services rendered, was not a defense to willfulness. Essentially, the trial court was required to inform the jury that while a good-faith misunderstanding of the law may negate willfulness, a good-faith disagreement with the law does not. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

Applied in State v. Hundley, 272 N.C. 491, 158 S.E.2d 582 (1968).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Available Only to Secretary of Revenue and Not Cities or Counties in Enforcing Payment of License Taxes. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Henry W. Underhill, Jr., Charlotte City Attorney, 40 N.C.A.G. 866 (1970).

§ 105-236.1. Enforcement of revenue laws by revenue law enforcement agents.

(a) General. — The Secretary may appoint employees of the Unauthorized Substances Tax Division to serve as revenue law enforcement officers having the responsibility and subject-matter jurisdiction to enforce the excise tax on unauthorized substances imposed by Article 2D of this Chapter.

The Secretary may appoint employees of the Criminal Investigations Division to serve as revenue law enforcement officers having the responsibility and subject-matter jurisdiction to enforce the following tax violations and criminal offenses:

- (1) The felony and misdemeanor tax violations in G.S. 105-236.
- (2) The misdemeanor tax violations in G.S. 105-449.117 and G.S. 105-449.120.
- (3) The following criminal offenses when they involve a tax imposed under Chapter 105 of the General Statutes:
  - a. G.S. 14-91 (Embezzlement of State Property).
  - b. G.S. 14-92 (Embezzlement of Funds).
  - c. G.S. 14-100 (Obtaining Property By False Pretenses).
  - d. G.S. 14-119 (Forgery).
  - e. G.S. 14-120 (Uttering Forged Paper).
  - f. G.S. 14-401.18 (Sale of Certain Packages of Cigarettes).

(b) Authority. — A revenue law enforcement officer is a State officer with jurisdiction throughout the State within the officer's subject-matter jurisdiction. A revenue law enforcement officer may serve and execute notices, orders, warrants, or demands issued by the Secretary or the General Court of Justice in connection with the enforcement of the officer's subject-matter jurisdiction. A revenue law enforcement officer has the full powers of arrest as provided by G.S. 15A-401 while executing the notices, orders, warrants, or demands.

(c) Qualifications. — To serve as a revenue law enforcement officer, an employee must be certified as a criminal justice officer under Chapter 17C of the General Statutes. The Secretary may administer the oath of office to revenue law enforcement officers appointed pursuant to this section. (1997-503, s. 1; 2000-119, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-119, s. 1, effective July 14, 2000, rewrote subsection (a) and added subsection (c).

CASE NOTES

Penalties. — The criminal and civil penalties of the Tax Code did not provide an exclusive remedy, where a retailer allegedly did not pay sales and use taxes collected from a purchaser, and thus, the retailer could be prosecuted under the embezzlement statutes. State v. Kennedy, 130 N.C. App. 399, 503 S.E.2d 133 (1998), aff'd, 350 N.C. 87, 511 S.E.2d 305 (1999).

§ 105-237. Waiver of penalties; installment payments.

(a) Waiver. — The Secretary may, upon making a record of the reasons therefor, reduce or waive any penalties provided for in this Subchapter.

(b) Installment Payments. — After a proposed assessment of a tax becomes final, the Secretary may enter into an agreement with the taxpayer for payment of the tax in installments if the Secretary determines that the agreement will facilitate collection of the tax. The agreement may include a waiver of penalties but may not include a waiver of liability for tax or interest due. The Secretary may modify or terminate the agreement if one or more of the following findings is made:

- (1) Information provided by the taxpayer in support of the agreement was inaccurate or incomplete.
- (2) Collection of tax to which the agreement applies is in jeopardy.
- (3) The taxpayer's financial condition has changed.
- (4) The taxpayer has failed to pay an installment when due or to pay another tax when due.
- (5) The taxpayer has failed to provide information requested by the Secretary.

The Secretary must give a taxpayer who has entered into an installment agreement at least 30 days' written notice before modifying or terminating the agreement on the grounds that the taxpayer's financial condition has changed unless the taxpayer failed to disclose or concealed assets or income when the agreement was made or the taxpayer has acquired assets since the agreement was made that can satisfy all or part of the tax liability. A notice must specify the basis for the Secretary's finding of a change in the taxpayer's financial condition. (1939, c. 158, s. 908; c. 370, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 532, s. 1; 1999-438, s. 17.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 17, effective October 1, 1999, and applicable to penalties assessed on or after that date, deleted "except the penalty provided in G.S. 105-236 relating to unpaid checks" following "Subchapter" in subsection (a).

§ 105-237.1. Compromise of liability.

(a) The Secretary of Revenue, with the approval of the Attorney General, is authorized to compromise the amount of liability of any taxpayer for taxes due under Subchapter I, V, or VIII of this Chapter or under Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes and to accept in full settlement of the liability a lesser amount than that asserted to be due when in the opinion of the Secretary and the Attorney General the compromise settlement is in the best interest of the State. When made other than in the course of litigation in the courts of the State on an appeal from an administrative determination or in a civil action brought to recover from the Secretary, the basis for the compromise must also conform to the conditions set out in this section. The compromise settlement may be made only after a final administrative or judicial determination of the liability of the taxpayer.

A compromise settlement may be made only if one or more of the following findings is made:

- (1) There is a reasonable doubt as to the amount of the liability of the taxpayer under the law and the facts.
- (2) The taxpayer is insolvent and the Secretary probably could not otherwise collect an amount equal to or in excess of the amount offered in compromise.
- (3) Collection of a greater amount than that offered in compromise is improbable, and the funds or a substantial portion of the funds offered in the settlement come from sources from which the Secretary could not otherwise collect.
- (4) A federal tax assessment arising out of the same facts has been compromised with the federal government on the same or a similar basis as that proposed to the State and the Secretary could probably not collect an amount equal to or in excess of that offered in compromise.

For the purposes of this section a taxpayer may be considered insolvent only if (i) there is an established status of insolvency by either a judicial declaration of a status necessarily or ordinarily involving insolvency or by a legal proceeding in which the insolvency of the taxpayer would ordinarily be determined or made evident or (ii) it is plain and indisputable that the taxpayer is clearly insolvent and will remain so in the reasonable future. Whenever a compromise is made by the Secretary pursuant to this section and the unpaid amount of the tax assessed is one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more, the Secretary shall place on file in the office of the Secretary a written opinion, signed by the Secretary and the Attorney General, setting forth the amount of tax or additional tax assessed, the amount actually paid in accordance with the terms of the compromise, and a summary of the facts and reasons upon which acceptance of the compromise is based.

(b) Whenever an assessment of taxes or additional taxes is based upon an action of the federal government in making an assessment of taxes and the federal assessment is subsequently settled, compromised or adjusted, the Secretary may, in his discretion, settle, compromise or adjust the State's tax assessment upon the same basis as the federal settlement, compromise or adjustment. (1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1985, c. 114, s. 11; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 11.)

§ 105-238. Tax a debt.

Every tax imposed by this Subchapter, and all increases, interest, and penalties thereon, shall become, from the time it is due and payable, a debt from the person, firm, or corporation liable to pay the same to the State of North Carolina. (1939, c. 158, s. 909.)

CASE NOTES

For prior law see Gatling v. Commissioners of Carteret County, 92 N.C. 536 (1885); Worth v. Wright, 122 N.C. 335, 29 S.E. 361 (1898); Commissioners of Yancey County v. Hall, 177 N.C. 490, 99 S.E. 372 (1919).

§ 105-239. Action for recovery of taxes.

Action may be brought at any time and in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State or other State, in the name of the State and at the instance of the Secretary of Revenue, to recover the amount of any taxes, penalties, and interest due under this Subchapter. This remedy is in addition to all other remedies for the collection of said taxes and shall not in any respect abridge the same. Any judgment shall be declared to have such preference and priority against the property of the defendant as is provided by law for taxes levied by this Subchapter, and free from any claims for homestead or personal property exemption of the defendant therein. (1939, c. 158, s. 910; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-239.1. Transferee liability.

(a) Property transferred for an inadequate consideration to a donee, heir, legatee, devisee, distributee, stockholder of a liquidated corporation, or any other person at a time when the transferor is insolvent or is rendered insolvent by reason of the transfer shall be subject to a lien for any taxes owing by the transferor to the State of North Carolina at the time of the transfer whether or not the amount of the taxes has been ascertained or assessed at the time of the transfer. G.S. 105-241 applies to this tax lien. In the event the transferee has disposed of the property so that it cannot be subjected to the State's tax lien, the transferee shall be personally liable for the difference between the fair market value of the property at the time of the transfer and the actual consideration, if any, paid to the transferor by the transferee.

Upon a foreclosure of the State's tax lien upon property in the hands of a transferee, the value of any consideration that the transferee proves has been given to the transferor shall be paid to the transferee out of the proceeds of the foreclosure sale before applying the proceeds toward the satisfaction of the State's tax lien.

In order to proceed against the transferee or property in the transferee's hands, the Secretary shall cause to be docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the transferee resides or the property is located, as the case may be, a certificate of tax liability as provided in G.S. 105-242 or a lien certificate which shall set forth the amount of the lien as determined by the Secretary or as finally determined upon appeal and a description of the property subject to the lien. Thereafter, execution may be issued against the transferee as in the case of other money judgments except that no homestead or personal exemption shall be allowable or, upon a lien certificate, an execution may be issued directing the sheriff to seize the property subject to the lien and sell same in the same manner as property is sold under execution. Such procedure and collection shall be subject to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section.

(b) The period of limitations for assessment of any liability against a transferee or enforcing the lien against the transferred property shall expire one year after the expiration of the period of limitations for assessment against the transferor.

(c) The provisions of G.S. 105-241.1, 105-241.2, 105-241.3, 105-241.4, 105-266.1 and 105-267 with respect to assessment procedure, demand for refund, review, and appeal shall apply to the liability of any transferee assessed under this section or of any property subject to the liability imposed by this section and to the assertion of a lien upon property in the hands of the transferee.

(d) In any proceeding before the Tax Review Board or in any court of the State the burden of proof shall be upon the Secretary of Revenue to show that a person is liable as a transferee of property of a taxpayer under this section. (1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 450, s. 11.)

§ 105-240. Tax upon settlement of fiduciary's account.

No final account of a fiduciary shall be allowed by the probate court unless such account shows, and the judge of said court finds, that all taxes imposed by the provisions of this Subchapter upon said fiduciary, which have become payable, have been paid, and that all taxes which may become due are secured by bond, deposit, or otherwise. The certificate of the Secretary of Revenue and the receipt for the amount of tax herein certified shall be conclusive as to the payment of the tax to the extent of said certificate.

For the purpose of facilitating the settlement and distribution of estates held by fiduciaries, the Secretary of Revenue, with the approval of the Attorney General, may, on behalf of the State, agree upon the amount of taxes at any time due or to become due from such fiduciaries under the provisions of this Subchapter, and the payment in accordance with such agreement shall be full satisfaction of the taxes to which the agreement relates. (1939, c. 158, s. 911; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-240.1. Agreements with respect to domicile.

Whenever reasonably necessary in order to facilitate the collection of any tax, the Secretary of Revenue with the consent and approval of the Attorney General, is authorized to make agreements with the taxing officials of other states of the United States or with taxpayers in cases of disputes as to the domicile of a decedent. (1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-241. Where and how taxes payable; tax period; liens.

(a) Form of Payment. — Taxes are payable in the national currency. The Secretary shall prescribe where taxes are to be paid and whether taxes must be paid in cash, by check, by electronic funds transfer, or by another method.

(b) Electronic Funds Transfer. — Payment by electronic funds transfer is required as provided in this subsection.

- (1) Corporate estimated taxes. — A corporation that is required under the Code to pay its federal-estimated corporate income tax by electronic funds transfer must pay its State-estimated corporate income tax by electronic funds transfer as provided in G.S. 105-163.40.
- (2) Semimonthly taxes. — A taxpayer that is required to pay tax on a semimonthly schedule must pay the tax by electronic funds transfer.
- (3) Large tax payments. — Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the Secretary shall not require a taxpayer to pay a tax by electronic funds transfer unless, during the applicable period for that tax, the average amount of the taxpayer's required payments of the tax was at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) a month. The twenty thousand dollar ($20,000) threshold applies separately to each tax. The applicable period for a tax is a 12-month period, designated by the Secretary, preceding the imposition or review of the payment requirement. The requirement that a taxpayer pay a tax by electronic funds transfer remains in effect until suspended by the Secretary. Every 12 months after requiring a taxpayer to pay a tax by electronic funds transfer, the Secretary must determine whether, during the applicable period for that tax, the average amount of the taxpayer's required payments of the tax was at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) a month. If it was not, the Secretary must suspend the requirement that the taxpayer pay the tax by electronic funds transfer and must notify the taxpayer in writing that the requirement has been suspended.

(c) Tax Period. — Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, taxes are levied for the fiscal year of the state in which they became due.

(d) Lien. — This subsection applies except when another Article of this Chapter contains contrary provisions with respect to a lien for a tax levied in that Article. The lien of a tax attaches to all real and personal property of a taxpayer on the date a tax owed by the taxpayer becomes due. The lien continues until the tax and any interest, penalty, and costs associated with the tax are paid. A tax lien is not extinguished by the sale of the taxpayer's property. A tax lien, however, is not enforceable against a bona fide purchaser for value or the holder of a duly recorded lien unless:

- (1) In the case of real property, a certificate of tax liability or a judgment was first docketed in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the real property is located.
- (2) In the case of personal property, there has already been a levy on the property under an execution or a tax warrant.

The priority of these claims and liens is determined by the date and time of recording, docketing, levy, or bona fide purchase.

If a taxpayer executes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or if insolvency proceedings are instituted against a taxpayer who owes a tax, the tax lien attaches to all real and personal property of the taxpayer as of the date and time the taxpayer executes the assignment for the benefit of creditors or the date and time the insolvency proceedings are instituted. In these cases, the tax lien is subject only to a prior recorded specific lien and the reasonable costs of administering the assignment or the insolvency proceedings. (1939, c. 158, s. 912; 1949, c. 392, s. 6; 1957, c. 1340, s. 5; 1993, c. 450, s. 2; 1999-389, s. 8; 2001-427, s. 6(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-487, s. 6 (i), provides: "In order to pay for its costs of postage, printing, and computer programming to implement this section [s. 6 of Session Laws 2001-487], the Department of Revenue may withhold not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) from collections under Article 4 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes during the 2001-2002 fiscal year."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-389, s. 8, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, added "Except as provided in G.S. 105-163.40" to the beginning of subsection (b).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 6(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxes levied on or after that date, inserted the introductory sentence in subsection (b); inserted subdivisions (b)(1) and (b)(2); inserted the subdivision (b)(3) designation; and in subdivision (b)(3), added the subdivision catchline, substituted "as otherwise provided in this subsection" for "as provided in G.S. 105-163.40" in the first sentence, and substituted "must" for "shall" in the last two sentences.

CASE NOTES

Purchase of Warehouse Receipt Without Knowledge of Lien Senior in Time. — Under this section a lien for State taxes on personal property is not enforceable against a bona fide purchaser for value, except upon a levy upon such property under an execution or a tax warrant; but when a tax lien is perfected, it is, by § 105-356(b), superior to all other liens or rights prior or subsequent in time. By § 25-7-502(1)(c) a bona fide purchaser of a warehouse receipt acquires good title against a lien senior in time of which the purchaser had no notice. Thus, an enforceable lien on oil stored in North Carolina would not arise until it was executed on; but it could not be attached when a warehouse receipt therefor was in the hands of one who purchased it not knowing of the lien. Davenport v. Ralph N. Peters & Co., 386 F.2d 199 (4th Cir. 1967).

Local ad valorem tax liens do not fall within the scope of "other recorded specific liens". County of Lenoir v. Moore, 114 N.C. App. 110, 441 S.E.2d 589 (1994), aff'd, 340 N.C. 104, 455 S.E.2d 158 (1995).

Seizure by Filing Certificate of Tax Liability. — Filing a certificate of tax liability following assessment of a controlled substance tax constituted a meaningful interference with possessory interests and thus was a fourth amendment seizure. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F.

Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

Illustrative Case. — A jury could find by a preponderance that plaintiff was directly injured by defendants' acts; the plaintiff could not receive income from harvesting trees on property owned jointly with a co-plaintiff, upon whom certificates of tax liability were filed, and consequently the plaintiff was unable to meet his obligations and was forced into bankruptcy. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

§ 105-241.1. Additional taxes; assessment procedure.

(a) Proposed Assessment. — If the Secretary discovers that any tax is due from a taxpayer, the Secretary must notify the taxpayer in writing of the kind and amount of tax due and of the Secretary's intent to assess the taxpayer for the tax. The notice must describe the basis for the proposed assessment and identify the amounts of any tax, interest, additions to tax, and penalties included in the proposed assessment. The notice must also advise the taxpayer that the proposed assessment will become final unless the taxpayer requests a hearing within the time set in subsection (c) of this section.

The Secretary must base a proposed assessment on the best information available. A proposed assessment of the Secretary is presumed to be correct.

(b) Delivery of Notice. — The Secretary shall deliver the notice of a proposed assessment to a taxpayer either in person or by United States mail sent to the taxpayer's last known address. A notice mailed to a taxpayer is presumed to have been received by the taxpayer unless the taxpayer makes an affidavit to the contrary within 90 days after the notice was mailed. If the taxpayer makes this affidavit, the time limitations in subsection (c) apply as if the notice had been delivered on the date the taxpayer makes the affidavit.

(c) Hearing. — A taxpayer who objects to a proposed assessment of tax is entitled to a hearing before the Secretary as provided in this subsection. To obtain a hearing, the taxpayer must file a written request either for a hearing or for a written statement of the information and evidence upon which the proposed assessment is based. If the notice of a proposed assessment was mailed, the taxpayer's request must be filed within 30 days after the date the notice was mailed; if the notice of a proposed assessment was delivered in person, the taxpayer's request must be filed within 30 days after the date the notice was delivered.

When a taxpayer files a timely request for a written statement of the information and evidence upon which a proposed assessment is based, the Secretary must give the written statement to the taxpayer within 45 days after the taxpayer filed the request. A taxpayer who files a timely request for a written statement concerning a proposed assessment and who desires to have a hearing on the proposed assessment must file a written request for a hearing within 30 days after the written statement was mailed.

When a taxpayer files a timely request for a hearing, the Secretary must set the time and place at which the hearing will be conducted and must notify the taxpayer of the designated time and place within 60 days after the taxpayer filed the request for a hearing and at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing. The date set for the hearing must be within 90 days after the timely request for a hearing was filed or at a later date mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary. The date set for the hearing may be postponed once at the request of the taxpayer and once at the request of the Secretary for a period of up to 90 days or for a longer period mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary.

The taxpayer may present any objections to the proposed assessment at the hearing. The rules of evidence do not apply at the hearing.

Within 90 days after the Secretary conducts a hearing on a proposed assessment, the Secretary must make a decision on the proposed assessment and notify the taxpayer of the decision. The decision must assess the taxpayer for the amount of any tax the Secretary determined to be due.

(d) Assessment. — If a taxpayer does not apply for a hearing in accordance with subsection (c) of this section, a proposed assessment becomes final without further notice. If a taxpayer applies for a hearing in accordance with subsection (c) of this section, a proposed assessment becomes final when the taxpayer is notified of the decision made after the hearing. An assessment that is final is immediately due and collectible. G.S. 105-241.2, 105-241.3, and 105-241.4 apply to a tax assessed under this section.

Except in the case of a jeopardy assessment, the Secretary may not assess a taxpayer for a tax until the notice required by subsection (a) has been given and one of the following has occurred:

- (1) The time for applying for a hearing has expired.
- (2) The Secretary and the taxpayer have agreed upon a settlement.
- (3) The taxpayer has filed a timely application for a hearing and the Secretary, after conducting the hearing, has given the taxpayer written notice of the decision.

(d1) Notice of Assessment. — The Secretary must notify the taxpayer when a proposed assessment becomes final and is therefore collectible. The notice must identify the amounts of any tax, interest, additions to tax, and penalties included in the assessment. The notice must include or be accompanied by a brief statement in simple and nontechnical terms of all of the following:

- (1) The Department's authority to, and procedure for, levy on and sale of the taxpayer's property.
- (2) The taxpayer's available administrative appeals regarding the levy and sale of property, including the procedures for appeal.
- (3) Other options available to the taxpayer that could prevent levy on the property.
- (4) Procedures to redeem property and obtain release of a lien on property.

(e) Statute of Limitations. — There is no statute of limitations and the Secretary may propose an assessment of tax due from a taxpayer at any time if (i) the taxpayer did not file a proper application for a license or did not file a return, (ii) the taxpayer filed a false or fraudulent application or return, or (iii) the taxpayer attempted in any manner to fraudulently evade or defeat the tax.

If a taxpayer files a return reflecting a federal determination as provided in G.S. 105-29, 105-130.20, 105-159, 105-160.8, 105-163.6A, or 105-197.1, the Secretary must propose an assessment of any tax due within one year after the return is filed or within three years of when the original return was filed or due to be filed, whichever is later. If there is a federal determination and the taxpayer does not file the required return, the Secretary must propose an assessment of any tax due within three years after the date the Secretary received the final report of the federal determination.

If a taxpayer forfeits a tax credit or tax benefit pursuant to forfeiture provisions of this Chapter, the Secretary must assess any tax due as a result of the forfeiture within three years after the date of the forfeiture. If a taxpayer elects under section 1033(a)(2)(A) of the Code not to recognize gain from involuntary conversion of property into money, the Secretary must assess any tax due as a result of the conversion or election within the applicable period provided under section 1033(a)(2)(C) or section 1033(a)(2)(D) of the Code. If a taxpayer sells at a gain the taxpayer's principal residence, the Secretary must assess any tax due as a result of the sale within the period provided under section 1034(j) of the Code.

In all other cases, the Secretary must propose an assessment of any tax due from a taxpayer within three years after the date the taxpayer filed an application for a license or a return or the date the application or return was required by law to be filed, whichever is later.

If the Secretary proposes an assessment of tax within the time provided in this section, the final assessment of the tax is timely.

A taxpayer may make a written waiver of any of the limitations of time set out in this subsection, for either a definite or an indefinite time. If the Secretary accepts the taxpayer's waiver, the Secretary may propose an assessment at any time within the time extended by the waiver.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 532, s. 2.

(g) Jeopardy Assessments. — Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Secretary may at any time within the applicable period of limitations immediately assess any tax the Secretary finds is due from a taxpayer if the Secretary determines that collection of the tax is in jeopardy and immediate assessment is necessary in order to protect the interest of the State. For a jeopardy assessment, the Secretary may give the taxpayer the notice of proposed assessment required by subsection (a) any time within 30 days after the jeopardy assessment is made. The taxpayer may request a hearing on the jeopardy assessment by following the procedure described in the notice.

Within five days after a jeopardy assessment is made under this subsection that is not the result of a criminal investigation or of a liability for a tax imposed under Article 2D of this Chapter, the Secretary must provide the taxpayer with a written statement of the information upon which the Secretary relied in making the assessment. Within 30 days after receipt of this written statement or, if no statement is received, within 30 days after the statement was due, the taxpayer may request the Secretary to review the action taken. After receipt of this request, the Secretary must determine whether making the jeopardy assessment was reasonable under all the circumstances and whether the amount assessed is reasonable under all the circumstances. The Secretary must give the taxpayer written notice of this determination within 30 days after the request. The taxpayer may seek judicial review of this determination as provided in G.S. 105-241.5.

(h) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 532, s. 2.

(i) Interest. — All assessments of tax, exclusive of penalties assessed on the tax, shall bear interest at the rate established pursuant to this subsection from the time the tax was due until paid. On or before June 1 and December 1 of each year, the Secretary shall establish the interest rate to be in effect during the six-month period beginning on the next succeeding July 1 and January 1, respectively, after giving due consideration to current market conditions and to the rate that will be in effect on that date pursuant to the Code. If no new rate is established, the rate in effect during the preceding six-month period shall continue in effect. The rate established by the Secretary may not be less than five percent (5%) per year and may not exceed sixteen percent (16%) per year.

(il) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 532, s. 2.

(j) Construction. — This section is in addition to and not in substitution of any other provision of the General Statutes relative to the assessment and collection of taxes. (1949, c. 392, s. 6; 1951, c. 643, s. 9; 1955, c. 1350, s. 23; 1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8; 1969, c. 1132, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 13; 1977, c. 657, s. 6; c. 1114, ss. 1, 11; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1211, s. 2; c. 1223, s. 4; 1987, c. 827, s. 21; 1989, c. 530; 1993, c. 443, s. 6; c. 532, s. 2; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 582, s. 5; c. 745, s. 14; 1995, c. 17, s. 18; c. 468, s. 2; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 11; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 3.7; 1999-360, s. 16; 2000-140, s. 88.)

Editor's Note. — Section 105-29, referred to in the second paragraph of subsection (e) above, has been repealed.

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that this act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 88, effective July 21, 2000, rewrites Session Laws 1999-360, s. 33, to read: "Part III of this act is effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000. Sections 10 through 15 of Part III [which affected the head to Article 3B of Chapter 105 and §§ 105-129.16B, 105-129.17, 105-129.18, and 105-129.19] apply to buildings to which federal credits are allocated on or after January 1, 2000." Section 105-241.1 was amended by Session Laws 1999-360, s. 16, which was within Part III of the act.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-360, s. 16, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2000, divided the former second paragraph of subsection (e) into the present second and third paragraph, and in the present third paragraph substituted "or tax benefit pursuant to forfeiture provisions of" for "pursuant to G.S. 105-163.014 or Article 3A of."

CASE NOTES

Construction with Federal Law. — Neither the federal Tax Injunction Act nor principles of comity prevented the federal court from considering plaintiffs' section 1983 action alleging that imposition of a controlled substance tax assessment and filing a certificate of liability violated the fourth amendment because (1) the action did not seek to enjoin, suspend, or restrain the assessment, did not seek a refund, and did not challenge the constitutionality of the controlled substance tax or seek a declaratory judgment regarding its validity, (2) no tax was ever collected, and (3) North Carolina statutes did not afford a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

This section addresses only the civil assessment of taxes and is fully independent of the criminal offenses set forth in § 105-236(7) and (9). State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

And Its Procedural Protections Are Not Applicable to Individual Charged Under § 105-236. — Individual charged with violation of § 105-236(7) and (9) was entitled to all the due process protections of a person charged under a criminal statute. However, he was not entitled to any procedural protections offered under this section, the civil assessment statute. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

The statute of limitations set forth in subsection (c) runs against the sovereign since it is expressly named therein. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

Where taxpayer filed timely use tax returns and remitted the amounts covered by the returns, subsection (e) bars an action by the Secretary of Revenue for underpayment of use taxes which accrued more than three years prior to the date that notice of assessment for underpayment of use taxes was furnished to the taxpayer. Colonial Pipeline Co. v. Clayton, 275 N.C. 215, 166 S.E.2d 671 (1969).

Statute of Limitations Extended for Failure to Comply with § 105-159. — Failure to notify the Secretary of Revenue of the assessment of additional taxes by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue pursuant to § 105-159 extends the statute of limitations. McFarland v. Justus, 113 N.C. App. 107, 437 S.E.2d 668 (1993).

Deductibility of interest on estate and inheritance taxes arises out of and only out of (former) § 105-9(5) and subdivision (i1) of this section, and not out of (former) § 105-9(8). Holt v. Lynch, 57 N.C. App. 532, 291 S.E.2d 920, rev'd on other grounds, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Definition of "Tax" Applicable to Inheritance and Individual Income Taxes. —

Both the inheritance tax statutes and the individual income tax statutes fall within Subchapter I of this Chapter. Thus, the definition of "tax" found in subsection (i1) of this section applies to both taxing schemes. Holt v. Lynch, 57 N.C. App. 532, 291 S.E.2d 920, rev'd on other grounds, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Interest on Estate Tax Deficiency Not Part of Tax. — Although collected as part of the tax, interest paid on an estate or inheritance tax deficiency is not part of the tax, but something in addition to the tax. Holt v. Lynch, 57 N.C. App. 532, 291 S.E.2d 920, rev'd on other grounds, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

Interest on Taxes Is Deductible. — Inasmuch as the definition of "tax" in subdivision (i1) of this section specifically applies to the subchapter dealing with state inheritance taxes, interest on tax, although administratively treated as tax for assessment, collection and payment purposes, remains substantively interest paid for the use of money and is deductible. Holt v. Lynch, 57 N.C. App. 532, 291 S.E.2d 920, rev'd on other grounds, 307 N.C. 234, 297 S.E.2d 594 (1982).

When Tax on Refund Becomes Due. — Where, following the receipt of refunds in August, 1985, for property taxes company had paid under protest and which were finally invalidated, company correctly recomputed income tax credit previously taken on its 1983 return and paid the additional corporate income tax in September 1985, the tax did not become due or begin to bear interest until after the refunds were received, and the tax thereon was computed in accord with this section, rather than on the due date of the original 1983 return. *In re R.J. ## § 105-241.2. Administrative review.

(a) Petition for Administrative Review. — Without having to pay the tax or additional tax assessed by the Secretary under this Chapter, any taxpayer may obtain from the Tax Review Board an administrative review with respect to the taxpayer's liability for the tax or additional tax assessed by the Secretary. Such a review may be obtained only if the taxpayer has obtained a hearing before the Secretary and the Secretary has rendered a final decision with respect to the taxpayer's liability. If a taxpayer has made a timely written demand for refund of an alleged overpayment and the Secretary has issued a decision denying part or all of the claimed refund, the taxpayer may obtain from the Tax Review Board an administrative review of the Secretary's decision. To obtain administrative review the taxpayer must take the following actions:

- (1) Within 30 days after the Secretary's final decision is issued, file with the Tax Review Board, with a copy to the Secretary, notice of intent to file a petition for review.
- (2) Within 60 days after filing a notice of intent under subdivision (1) of this subsection, file with the Tax Review Board, with a copy to the Secretary, a petition requesting administrative review and stating in concise terms the grounds upon which review is sought.

(b) Secretary to Provide Records. — Upon receipt by the Secretary of the taxpayer's petition, the Secretary shall transmit to the Tax Review Board all of the records, data, evidence, and other materials in the Secretary's possession pertaining to the matters the Tax Review Board is being requested by the taxpayer to review. The Secretary shall also transmit to the Board a copy of the decision of the Secretary on the matters.

(b1) Hearing. — Within 60 days after a timely petition for administrative review has been filed and at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing, the Tax Review Board shall notify the taxpayer and the Secretary in writing of the time and place at which the hearing will be conducted. The hearing shall be held in Raleigh and the date set for the hearing shall be within 90 days after the timely petition for administrative review was filed or at a later date mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary. The date set for the hearing may be postponed once at the request of the taxpayer and once at the request of the Secretary for a period of up to 90 days or for a longer period mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary. Officers and employees of the Revenue Department, when so requested by the Board, shall attend hearings on petitions for review and shall furnish the Board with all information they have respecting the asserted liability. The Tax Review Board may establish the procedure to be followed in hearings before it and may establish a schedule of costs of the proceedings. At least two members of the Board shall sit at the hearing and all members shall consider and decide the matters on review.

(b2) Decision of Tax Review Board. — Within 90 days after conducting a hearing under this section, the Board shall confirm, modify, reverse, reduce, or increase the assessment or decision of the Secretary, furnish a written copy of its order to the Secretary, and serve a written copy of its order upon the taxpayer by personal service or by registered mail (return receipt requested). If the decision of the Tax Review Board does not result in a reduction of the tax liability asserted by the Secretary to be due, or if the Tax Review Board dismisses the petition under subsection (c) of this section, the costs of the proceeding shall be added to and shall become a part of the tax liability to be collected by the Secretary. If the decision of the Tax Review Board should result in a reduction of the tax liability asserted by the Secretary to be due or in a refund to the taxpayer, no costs shall be taxed against the taxpayer. Any overpayment of tax determined by the decision of the Tax Review Board, together with interest thereon at the rate and for the period provided under G.S. 105-266, shall be refunded by the State.

(c) Frivolous Petitions. — Upon receipt of a petition requesting administrative review as provided in the preceding subsection, the Tax Review Board shall examine the petition and the records and other data transmitted by the Secretary pertaining to the matter for which review is sought, and if it appears from the records and data that the petition is frivolous or filed for the purpose of delay, the Tax Review Board shall dismiss the petition for review.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 532.

(e) Jeopardy Levies. — At any time the Secretary may, if in the Secretary's opinion, such action is necessary for the protection of the interest of the State, proceed at once to levy the assessment for the amount of the tax against the property of the taxpayer seeking the administrative review. In levying the assessment the Secretary shall make a certificate verifying the essential parts relating to the tax, including the amount thereof asserted to be due, the date when same is asserted to have become due and payable, the person, firm, or corporation chargeable therewith, and the nature of the tax. The Secretary shall transmit this certificate to the clerk of the superior court of any county in which the taxpayer resides or has property; whereupon, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county to docket the certificate and to index it on the cross index of judgments. When so docketed and indexed, the certificate of tax liability shall constitute a lien upon the property of the taxpayer to the same extent as that provided for by G.S. 105-241. No execution shall issue on the certificate before final determination of the administrative review by the Tax Review Board; provided, however, if the Secretary determines that the collection of the tax would be jeopardized by delay, the Secretary may cause execution to be issued, as provided in this Chapter, immediately against the personal property of the taxpayer unless the taxpayer files with the Secretary a bond in the amount of the asserted liability for tax, penalty and interest. If upon final administrative determination the tax asserted or any part thereof is sustained, execution may issue on the certificate at the request of the Secretary and the sheriff shall proceed to advertise and sell the property of the taxpayer.

Within five days after a jeopardy levy is made under this subsection that is not the result of a criminal investigation or of a liability for a tax imposed under Article 2D of this Chapter, the Secretary must provide the taxpayer with a written statement of the information upon which the Secretary relied in making the levy. Within 30 days after receipt of this statement or, if no statement was received, within 30 days after the statement was due, the taxpayer may request the Secretary to review the action taken. After receipt of this request, the Secretary shall determine whether the levy was reasonable under the circumstances. The Secretary shall give the taxpayer written notice of this determination within 30 days after the request. The taxpayer may seek judicial review of this determination as provided in G.S. 105-241.5.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 532, s. 3. (1955, c. 1350, s. 5; 1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 532, s. 3; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, ss. 15, 16; 1995, c. 17, s. 10; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(n).)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, rewrote subsection (c).

CASE NOTES

Procedure. — When the Secretary has determined a tax liability exists, the person assessed may, without the payment of the tax so assessed, apply to the Tax Review Board for a determination of his tax liability. The Board, after a review of the factual situation and the application of the statute to that situation, renders its decision. If not satisfied with the decision of the Tax Review Board, the taxpayer may take an appeal by complying with statutory procedure and without the payment of the tax. This appeal is to the superior court under § 105-241.3. The jurisdiction thus conferred on the superior court is not original but appellate. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

Board May Not Pass on Constitutionality of Statute. — This section and § 105-241.3 do not give the administrative board authority or jurisdiction to pass on the constitutionality of a statute. Great Am. Ins. Co. v. Gold, 254 N.C. 168, 118 S.E.2d 792 (1961).

§ 105-241.3. Appeal without payment of tax from Tax Review Board decision.

(a) Any taxpayer aggrieved by the decision of the Tax Review Board may, upon payment of the tax, penalties and interest asserted to be due or upon filing with the Secretary a bond in such form as the Secretary may prescribe in the amount of said taxes, penalties and interest conditioned on payment of any liability found to be due on an appeal, appeal said decision to the superior court under the provisions of Article 4 of Chapter 150B of the General Statutes; provided, neither this section nor the provisions of Article 4 of Chapter 150B shall be construed to prohibit a jeopardy assessment and execution made in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-241.2.

(b) When an appeal is taken under this section from the Tax Review Board's dismissal of a petition for administrative review under the provisions of G.S. 105-241.2(c), the question of appeal shall be limited to a determination of whether the Tax Review Board erred in its dismissal, and in the event that the court finds error, the case shall be remanded to the Tax Review Board to be heard. (1955, c. 1350, s. 6; 1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1211, s. 1; 1987, c. 827, s. 20.)

§ 105-241.4. Action to recover tax paid.

Within 30 days after notification of the Secretary's decision with respect to liability under this Subchapter or Subchapter V, any taxpayer aggrieved thereby, in lieu of petitioning for administrative review thereof by the Tax Review Board under G.S. 105-241.2, may pay the tax and bring a civil action for its recovery as provided in G.S. 105-267.

Any taxpayer who has obtained an administrative review by the Tax Review Board as provided by G.S. 105-241.2 and who is aggrieved by the decision of the Board may, in lieu of appealing pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-241.3, within 30 days after notification of the Board's decision with respect to liability pay the tax and bring a civil action for its recovery as provided in G.S. 105-267.

Either party may appeal to the appellate division from the judgment of the superior court under the rules and regulations prescribed by law for appeals, except that if the Secretary appeals, the Secretary is not required to give any undertaking or make any deposit to secure the cost of the appeal.

Any taxes, interest or penalties paid and found by the court to be in excess of those which can be properly assessed shall be ordered refunded to the taxpayer with interest from time of payment. (1955, c. 1350, s. 7; 1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1967, c. 1110, s. 9; 1969, c. 44, s. 65; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 45, s. 26.)

CASE NOTES

Taxpayer May Abandon Administrative Review and Seek Relief Under Section. — Having taken advantage of the opportunity for a review by the Tax Review Board under § 105-241.2, the person assessed may, if he so elects, abandon the process of administrative review and seek relief from the superior court under its original jurisdiction. Of course, if he asks the superior court to exercise its original jurisdiction he must, as a condition precedent thereto, pay his tax under protest and sue to recover as provided by § 105-267. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

Appeal to Supreme Court. — It is immaterial whether the superior court determines the taxpayer's liability in an action originally instituted in that court or as an appellate court. The taxpayer is permitted in either event to review the judgment by appeal to the Supreme Court under this section. Duke v. State, 247

N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957), decided prior to the 1969 amendment.

§ 105-241.5. Appeal of certain jeopardy actions.

Within 90 days after the earlier of the date a taxpayer received or should have received a determination of the Secretary concerning a jeopardy assessment under G.S. 105-241.1(g) or a jeopardy levy under G.S. 105-241.2(e), the taxpayer may bring a civil action, in the Superior Court of Wake County or of the county in North Carolina in which the taxpayer resides, seeking review of the jeopardy action. Within 20 days after the action is filed, the court shall determine:

- (1) In the case of a jeopardy assessment, whether the assessment is reasonable under the circumstances and whether the amount assessed is appropriate under the circumstances.
- (2) In the case of a jeopardy levy, whether the levy is reasonable under the circumstances.

If the court determines that an action of the Secretary is unreasonable or inappropriate, the court may order the Secretary to take any action the court finds appropriate. If the taxpayer shows reasonable grounds why the 20-day limit on the court should be extended, the court may grant an extension of not more than 40 additional days. (1993, c. 532, s. 4.)

§ 105-242. Warrants for collection of taxes; garnishment and attachment; certificate or judgment for taxes.

(a) Warrants for Collection of Taxes. — If any tax levied by the State and payable to the Secretary has not been paid within 30 days after the taxpayer was given a notice of final assessment of the tax under G.S. 105-241.1(d1), the Secretary may take either of the following actions to collect the tax:

- (1) The Secretary may issue a warrant or an order under the Secretary's hand and official seal, directed to the sheriff of any county of the State, commanding him to levy upon and sell the real and personal property of the taxpayer found within the county for the payment of the tax, including penalties and interest, and the cost of executing the warrant and to return to the Secretary the money collected, within a time to be specified in the warrant, not less than 60 days from the date of the warrant; the sheriff upon receipt of the warrant shall proceed in all respects with like effect and in the same manner prescribed by law in respect to executions issued against property upon judgments of a court of record, and shall be entitled to the same fees for services in executing the warrant, to be collected in the same manner.
- (2) The Secretary may issue a warrant or order under the Secretary's hand and seal to any revenue officer or other employee of the Department of Revenue charged with the duty to collect taxes, commanding the officer or employee to levy upon and sell the taxpayer's personal property, including that described in G.S. 105-366(d), found within the State for the payment of the tax, including penalties and interest. Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, the levy upon the sale of personal property shall be governed by the laws regulating levy and sale under execution. The person to whom the warrant is directed shall proceed to levy upon and sell the personal property subject to levy in the same manner and with the same powers and authority normally exercised by sheriffs in levying upon and selling personal property under execution, except that the property may be sold in any county, in the discretion of the Secretary. In addition to the notice of sale required by the laws governing sale of property levied upon under execution, the Secretary may advertise the sale in any reasonable manner and for any reasonable period of time to produce an adequate bid for the property. Levy and sale fees, plus actual advertising costs, shall be added to and collected in the same manner as taxes.

(b) Garnishment and Attachment. — Bank deposits, rents, salaries, wages, and all other choses in action or property incapable of manual levy or delivery, including property held in the Escheat Fund, hereinafter called the intangible, belonging, owing, or to become due to any taxpayer subject to any of the provisions of this Subchapter, or which has been transferred by such taxpayer under circumstances which would permit it to be levied upon if it were tangible, shall be subject to attachment or garnishment as herein provided, and the person owing said intangible, matured or unmatured, or having same in his possession or control, hereinafter called the garnishee, shall become liable for all sums due by the taxpayer under this Subchapter to the extent of the amount of the intangible belonging, owing, or to become due to the taxpayer subject to the setoff of any matured or unmatured indebtedness of the taxpayer to the garnishee; provided, however, the garnishee shall not become liable for any sums represented by or held pursuant to any negotiable instrument issued and delivered by the garnishee to the taxpayer and negotiated by the taxpayer to a bona fide holder in due course, and whenever any sums due by the taxpayer and subject to garnishment are so held or represented, the garnishee shall hold such sums for payment to the Secretary of Revenue upon the garnishee's receipt of such negotiable instrument, unless such instrument is presented to the garnishee for payment by a bona fide holder in due course in which event such sums may be paid in accordance with such instrument to such holder in due course. To effect such attachment or garnishment the Secretary of Revenue shall serve or cause to be served upon the taxpayer and the garnishee a notice as hereinafter provided, which notice may be served by any deputy or employee of the Secretary of Revenue or by any officer having authority to serve summonses or may be served in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The notice shall:

- (1) Show the name of the taxpayer, and if known his Social Security number or federal tax identification number and his address;
- (2) Show the nature and amount of the tax, and the interest and penalties thereon, and the year or years for which the same were levied or assessed, and
- (3) Be accompanied by a copy of this subsection, and thereupon the procedure shall be as follows:

If the garnishee has no defense to offer or no setoff against the taxpayer, he shall within 10 days after service of said notice, answer the same by sending to the Secretary of Revenue by registered or certified mail a statement to that effect, and if the amount due or belonging to the taxpayer is then due or subject to his demand, it shall be remitted to the Secretary with said statement, but if said amount is to mature in the future, the statement shall set forth that fact and the same shall be paid to the Secretary upon maturity, and any payment by the garnishee hereunder shall be a complete extinguishment of any liability therefor on his part to the taxpayer. If the garnishee has any defense or setoff, he shall state the same in writing under oath, and, within 10 days after service of said notice, shall send two copies of said statement to the Secretary by registered or certified mail; if the Secretary admits such defense or setoff, he shall so advise the garnishee in writing within 10 days after receipt of such statement and the attachment or garnishment shall thereupon be discharged to the amount required by such defense or setoff, and any amount attached or garnished hereunder which is not affected by such defense or setoff shall be remitted to the Secretary as above provided in cases where the garnishee has no defense or setoff, and with like effect. If the Secretary shall not admit the defense or setoff, he shall set forth in writing his objections thereto and shall send a copy thereof to the garnishee within 10 days after receipt of the garnishee's statement, or within such further time as may be agreed on by the garnishee, and at the same time he shall file a copy of said notice, a copy of the garnishee's statement, and a copy of his objections thereto in the superior court of the county where the garnishee resides or does business where the issues made shall be tried as in civil actions.

If judgment is entered in favor of the Secretary of Revenue by default or after hearing, the garnishee shall become liable for the taxes, interest and penalties due by the taxpayer to the extent of the amount over and above any defense or setoff of the garnishee belonging, owing, or to become due to the taxpayer, but payments shall not be required from amounts which are to become due to the taxpayer until the maturity thereof, nor shall more than ten percent (10%) of any taxpayer's salary or wages be required to be paid hereunder in any one month as provided in subdivision (e)(4) of this section. The garnishee may satisfy said judgment upon paying said amount, and if he fails to do so, execution may issue as provided by law. From any judgment or order entered upon such hearing either the Secretary of Revenue or the garnishee may appeal as provided by law. If, before or after judgment, adequate security is filed for the payment of said taxes, interest, penalties, and costs, the attachment or garnishment may be released or execution stayed pending appeal, but the final judgment shall be paid or enforced as above provided. The taxpayer's sole remedies to question his liability for said taxes, interest, and penalties shall be those provided in this Subchapter, as now or hereafter amended or supplemented. If any third person claims any intangible attached or garnished hereunder and his lawful right thereto, or to any part thereof, is shown to the Secretary, he shall discharge the attachment or garnishment to the extent necessary to protect such right, and if such right is asserted after the filing of said copies as aforesaid, it may be established by interpleader as now or hereafter provided by law in cases of attachment and garnishment. In case such third party has no notice of proceedings hereunder, he shall have the right to file his petition under oath with the Secretary at any time within 12 months after said intangible is paid to him and if the Secretary finds that such party is lawfully entitled thereto or to any part thereof, he shall pay the same to such party as provided for refunds by G.S. 105-266.1, and if such payment is denied, said party may appeal from the determination of the Secretary under the provisions of G.S. 105-241.4; provided, that in taking an appeal to the superior court, said party may appeal either to the Superior Court of Wake County or to the superior court of the county wherein he resides or does business. The intangibles of a taxpayer shall be paid or collected hereunder only to the extent necessary to satisfy said taxes, interest, penalties, and costs. Except as hereinafter set forth, the remedy provided in this section shall not be resorted to unless a warrant for collection or execution against the taxpayer has been returned unsatisfied: Provided, however, if the Secretary is of opinion that the only effective remedy is that herein provided, it shall not be necessary that a warrant for collection or execution shall be first returned unsatisfied, and in no case shall it be a defense to the remedy herein provided that a warrant for collection or execution has not been first returned unsatisfied.

This subsection shall be applicable with respect to the wages, salary or other compensation of officials and employees of this State and its agencies and instrumentalities, officials and employees of political subdivisions of this State and their agencies and instrumentalities, and also officials and employees of the United States and its agencies and instrumentalities insofar as the same is permitted by the Constitution and laws of the United States. In the case of State or federal employees, the notice shall be served upon such employee and upon the head or chief fiscal officer of the department, agency, instrumentality or institution by which the taxpayer is employed. In case the taxpayer is an employee of a political subdivision of the State, the notice shall be served upon such employee and upon the chief fiscal officer, or any officer or person charged with making up the payrolls, or disbursing funds, of the political subdivision by which the taxpayer is employed. Such head or chief officer or fiscal officer or other person as specified above shall thereafter, subject to the limitations herein provided, make deductions from the salary or wages due or to become due the taxpayer and remit same to the Secretary until the tax, penalty, interest and costs allowed by law are fully paid. Such deductions and remittances shall, pro tanto, constitute a satisfaction of the salary or wages due the taxpayer.

(c) Certificate or Judgment for Taxes. — In addition to the remedy herein provided, the Secretary of Revenue is authorized and empowered to make a certificate setting forth the essential particulars relating to the said tax, including the amount thereof, the date when the same was due and payable, the person, firm, or corporation chargeable therewith, and the nature of the tax, and under his hand and seal transmit the same to the clerk of the superior court of any county in which the delinquent taxpayer resides or has property; whereupon, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county to docket the said certificate and index the same on the cross index of judgments, and execution may issue thereon with the same force and effect as an execution upon any other judgment of the superior court (said tax shall become a lien on realty only from the date of the docketing of such certificate in the office of the clerk of the superior court and on personalty only from the date of the levy on such personalty and upon the execution thereon no homestead or personal property exemption shall be allowed except as provided in subdivision (e)(1) of this section).

Except as provided in G.S. 105-241.2(e) for jeopardy levies, no sale of real or personal property shall be made under any execution issued on a certificate docketed pursuant to the provisions of this subsection before the administrative action of the Secretary of Revenue or the Tax Review Board is completed when a hearing has been requested of the Secretary or a petition for review has been filed with the Tax Review Board, nor shall such sale be made before the assessment on which the certificate is based becomes final when there is no request for a hearing before the Secretary or petition for review by the Tax Review Board. Neither the title to real estate nor to personal property sold under execution issued upon a certificate docketed under this subsection shall be drawn in question upon the ground that the administrative action contemplated by this paragraph was not completed prior to the sale of such property under execution. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the sheriff to whom an execution is issued from levying upon either real or personal property pending an administrative determination of tax liability and, in the case of personal property, the sheriff may hold such property in his custody or may restore the execution defendant to the possession thereof upon the giving of a sufficient forthcoming bond. Upon a final administrative determination of the tax liability being had, if the assessment or any part thereof is sustained, the sheriff shall, upon request of the Secretary of Revenue, proceed to advertise and sell the property under the original execution notwithstanding the original return date of the execution may have expired.

The owner of tangible property seized under this section may request the Secretary to authorize the sale of the property under execution within 60 or more days after the request is made. The Secretary shall authorize the sale unless the Secretary finds that selling the property would not be in the best interests of the State. When property is sold at the request of the owner, the Department shall receive from the sale of the property the administrative expenses it incurred in having the property sold.

A certificate or judgment in favor of the State or the Secretary of Revenue for taxes payable to the Department of Revenue, whether docketed before or after the effective date of this paragraph, shall be valid and enforceable for a period of 10 years from the date of docketing. When any such certificate or judgment, whether docketed before or after the effective date of this paragraph, remains unsatisfied for 10 years from the date of its docketing, the same shall be unenforceable and the tax represented thereby shall abate. Upon the expiration of said 10-year period, the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized deputy shall cancel of record said certificate or judgment. Any such certificate or judgment now on record which has been docketed for more than 10 years shall, upon the request of any interested party, be canceled of record by the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized deputy; provided, in the event of the death of the judgment debtor or his absence from the State before the expiration of the 10-year period herein provided, the running of said 10-year period shall be stopped for the period of his absence from the State or during the pendency of the settlement of the estate and for one year thereafter, and the time elapsed during the pendency of any action or actions to set aside the judgment debtor's conveyance or conveyances as fraudulent, or the time during the pendency of any insolvency proceeding, or the time during the existence of any statutory or judicial bar to the enforcement of the judgment shall not be counted in computing the running of said 10-year period. And, provided further, that any execution sale which has been instituted upon any such judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period may be completed after the expiration of the 10-year period, notwithstanding the fact that resales may be required because of the posting of increased bids. Provided further, that, notwithstanding the expiration of the 10-year period provided and notwithstanding the fact that no proceedings to collect the judgment by execution or otherwise has been commenced within the 10-year period, the Secretary of Revenue may accept any payments tendered upon said judgments after the expiration of said 10-year period.

(c1) Release of Lien. — The Secretary shall release the State tax lien on a taxpayer's property if the liability for which the lien attached has been satisfied. The Secretary may release the State tax lien on all or part of a taxpayer's property if one or more of the following findings is made:

- (1) The liability for which the lien attached has become unenforceable due to lapse of time.
- (2) The lien is creating an economic hardship due to the financial condition of the taxpayer.
- (3) The fair market value of the property exceeds the tax liability and release of the lien on part of the property would not hinder collection of the liability.
- (4) Release of the lien will probably facilitate, expedite, or enhance the State's chances for ultimately collecting a tax due the State.

If the Secretary of Revenue shall find that it will be for the best interest of the State in that it will probably facilitate, expedite or enhance the State's chances for ultimately collecting a tax due the State, he may authorize a deputy or agent to release the lien of a State tax judgment or certificate of tax liability upon a specified parcel or parcels of real estate by noting such release upon the judgment docket where such certificate of tax liability is recorded. Such release shall be signed by the deputy or agent and witnessed by the clerk of court or his deputy or assistant and shall be in substantially the following form: "The lien of this judgment upon (insert here a short description of the property to be released sufficient to identify it, such as reference to a particular tract described in a recorded instrument) is hereby released, but this judgment shall continue in full force and effect as to other real property to which it has heretofore attached or may hereafter attach. This ____ day of _____, ____

Revenue Officer, N.C. Department of Revenue

WITNESS:

____ 42 C.S.C."

The release shall be noted on the judgment docket only upon conditions prescribed by the Secretary and shall have effect only as to the real estate described therein and shall not affect any other rights of the State under said judgment.

(d) Remedies Cumulative. — The remedies herein given are cumulative and in addition to all other remedies provided by law for the collection of said taxes.

(e) Exempt Property. — Only the following property is exempt from levy, attachment, and garnishment under this Article:

- (1) The taxpayer's principal residence, unless the Secretary approves of the levy in writing or the Secretary finds that collection of the tax is in jeopardy.
- (2) Tangible personal property that is exempt from federal levy as provided in section 6334 of the Code.
- (3) Intangible personal property that is exempt from federal levy under section 6334 of the Code.
- (4) Ninety percent (90%) of the taxpayer's salary or wages per month.

(f) Uneconomical Levy. — The Secretary shall not levy against any property if the Secretary estimates before levy that the expenses the Department would incur in levying against the property would exceed the fair market value of the property.

(g) Erroneous Lien. — A taxpayer may appeal to the Secretary after a certificate is filed under subsection (c) of this section if the taxpayer alleges an error in the filing of the lien. The Secretary shall make a determination of such an appeal as quickly as possible. If the Secretary finds that the filing of the certificate was erroneous, the Secretary shall issue a certificate of release of the lien as quickly as possible. ## CASE NOTES

Federal Tax Lien Entitled to Priority Where Taxpayer Insolvent. — A tax lien filed by the State of North Carolina under subsection (c) of this section is no more than a general lien, and thus, under 31 U.S.C. § 191, where taxpayer was insolvent within the meaning of that statute, the federal government's lien for unpaid income tax was entitled to priority though State lien for unpaid taxes was filed prior to date of federal tax lien. United States v.

Williams, 139 F. Supp. 94 (M.D.N.C. 1956).

No Showing That Property Rights Affected. — Relatives alleged nothing to show that they had any property rights under state law that were affected by revenue enforcement officer's seizing their property to satisfy a tax assessment for the purposes of a due process claim. Lynn v. West, 134 F.3d 582 (4th Cir. 1998), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 813, 119 S. Ct. 47, 142 L. Ed. 2d 36 (1998). (But see Milligan v. State, 135 N.C. App. 781, 522 S.E.2d 330 (1999)).

Remedies of Taxpayer. — Where the Secretary of Revenue assesses additional income tax against a taxpayer in accordance with provisions of § 105-160 et seq., and has the certificate filed in the county in which the taxpayer has property for the purpose of creating a lien under subsection (c) of this section, the taxpayer may not move in such county to vacate and set aside the certificate on the ground of irregularity or invalidity, no execution having been issued thereon nor any effort made to enforce the lien, but the taxpayer is remitted to the statutory remedies given him to contest the assessment or attack its validity. Gill v. Smith, 233 N.C. 50, 62 S.E.2d 544 (1950).

Execution on Judgment Under Subsection (c) Must Be Issued by Clerk. — Where the Secretary of Revenue has the clerk of a superior court to docket his certificate setting forth the tax due by a resident of the county pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, execution on such judgment directed to the sheriff of the county must be issued by the clerk of the superior court of the county, or in his name by a deputy or assistant clerk, and it cannot be issued by the Secretary of Revenue. A sale under execution issued by the Secretary is a nullity. Daniels v. Yelverton, 239 N.C. 54, 79 S.E.2d 311 (1953).

Garnishee Held Liable for Costs. — Where the Secretary of Revenue has garnished a bank deposit for taxes due by the depositor, and the garnishee bank, in refusing to comply with the order, asserts no defense or setoff against the taxpayer, the bank, in the Secretary's action to compel compliance, will be held liable also for the costs. Gill v. Bank of French Bd., 230 N.C. 118, 52 S.E.2d 4 (1949).

§ 105-243. Taxes recoverable by action.

Upon the failure of any corporation to pay the taxes, fees, and penalties prescribed by this Subchapter, the Secretary of Revenue may certify same to the sheriff of the county in which such company may own property, for collection as provided in this Subchapter; and if collection is not made, such taxes or fees and penalties thereon may be recovered in an action in the name of the State, which may be brought in the Superior Court of Wake County, or in any county in which such corporation is doing business, or any county in which such corporation owns property. The Attorney General, on request of the Secretary of Revenue, shall institute such action in the Superior Court of Wake County, or of any such county as the Secretary of Revenue may direct. In any such action it shall be sufficient to allege that the tax, fee, or penalty sought to be recovered is delinquent, and that the same has been unpaid for the period of 30 days after due date. (1939, c. 158, s. 914; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-243.1. Collection of tax debts.

(a) Definitions.— The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Overdue tax debt.— Any part of a tax debt that remains unpaid 90 days or more after the notice of final assessment was mailed to the taxpayer. The term does not include a tax debt, however, if the taxpayer entered into an installment agreement for the tax debt under G.S. 105-237 within 90 days after the notice of final assessment was mailed and has not failed to make any payments due under the installment agreement.
- (2) Tax debt.— The total amount of tax, penalty, and interest due for which a notice of final assessment has been mailed to a taxpayer after the taxpayer no longer has the right to contest the debt.

(b) (Effective until October 1, 2003) Outsourcing.— The Secretary may contract for the collection of tax debts. At least 30 days before the Department submits a tax debt to a contractor for collection, the Department must notify the taxpayer by mail that the debt may be submitted for collection if payment is not received within 30 days after the notice was mailed.

(b) (Effective October 1, 2003) Outsourcing.— The Secretary may contract for the collection of tax debts owed by nonresidents and foreign entities. At least 30 days before the Department submits a tax debt to a contractor for collection, the Department must notify the taxpayer by mail that the debt may be submitted for collection if payment is not received within 30 days after the notice was mailed.

(c) Secrecy.— A contract for the collection of tax debts is conditioned on compliance with G.S. 105-259. If a contractor violates G.S. 105-259, the contract is terminated, and the Secretary must notify the contractor of the termination. A contractor whose contract is terminated for violation of G.S. 105-259 is not eligible for an award of another contract under this section for a period of five years from the termination. These sanctions are in addition to the criminal penalties set out in G.S. 105-259.

(d) Fee.— A collection assistance fee is imposed on an overdue tax debt that remains unpaid 30 days or more after the fee notice required by this subsection is mailed to the taxpayer. In order to impose a collection assistance fee on a tax debt, the Department must notify the taxpayer that the fee will be imposed if the tax debt is not paid in full within 30 days after the date the fee notice was mailed to the taxpayer. The Department may not mail the fee notice earlier than 60 days after the notice of final assessment for the tax debt was mailed to the taxpayer. The fee is collectible as part of the debt. The Secretary may waive the fee pursuant to G.S. 105-237 to the same extent as if it were a penalty.

The amount of the collection assistance fee is twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the overdue tax debt. If a taxpayer pays only part of an overdue tax debt, the payment is credited proportionally to fee revenue and tax revenue.

(e) Use.— The fee is a receipt of the Department and must be applied to the costs of collecting overdue tax debts. The proceeds of the fee must be credited to a special account within the Department and may be expended only as provided in this subsection. The Department may apply the proceeds of the fee to pay contractors for collecting tax debts under subsection (b) of this section and to pay the fee the United States Department of the Treasury charges for setoff to recover tax owed to North Carolina. The remaining proceeds of the fee may be spent only pursuant to appropriation by the General Assembly. The fee proceeds do not revert but remain in the special account until spent for the costs of collecting overdue tax debts.

(f) Reports.— The Department must report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its efforts to collect tax debts. Reports must be submitted quarterly beginning November 1, 2001, through November 1, 2002, and semiannually thereafter. Each report must include a breakdown of the amount and age of tax debts collected by collection agencies on contract, the amount and age of tax debts collected by the Department through warning letters, and the amount and age of tax debts otherwise collected by Department personnel. Each report must also include a long-term collection plan, a timeline for implementing each step of the plan, a summary of steps taken since the last report and their results, and any other data requested by the Commission or the Committee. (2001-380, s. 2.)

Subsection (b) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (b) set out above is effective until October 1, 2003. The second version of (b) set out above is effective October 1, 2003.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-341, ss. 3 to 6, as amended by Session Laws 2000-120, ss. 16 and 17, and by Session Laws 2001-380, ss. 6 and 7, provide that the Secretary of Revenue may draw up to $150,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14 to pay for the costs of programming, form revision, and resources for taxpayer assistance to implement ss. 1 and 2 of Session Laws 1999-341.

During the 1999-2000 fiscal year, the Secretary of Revenue is to implement a program to allow those taxpayers required under G.S. 105-164.16 to report and pay sales and use taxes on a semimonthly basis to file the semimonthly return electronically. To pay for this program, the Secretary is authorized to draw up to $500,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14.

The Secretary shall contract during the 1999-2001 fiscal biennium for the collection of delinquent tax debts owed by nonresidents and foreign entities. To implement this section, the Secretary may draw funds for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from the net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14. For the 2000-2001 and 2001-2002 fiscal years the Secretary may retain costs of implementing the section from amounts collected pursuant to contracts authorized by the section. The Secretary is to report annually to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its collections during the biennium.

The Department of Revenue is directed to conduct a study to identify and evaluate proposals for more efficient collection of taxes, and the State Controller is to cooperate with the Department of Revenue in this study. The Department is to report the results of its study, including findings, recommendations, and estimated revenue gains of each recommendation, to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May 1, 2000. The Secretary of Revenue is authorized to draw up to $50,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14. To implement the recommendations of the study, the Secretary may enter into a performance-based contract and may withhold from the revenue collected the amount needed to obtain assistance in developing a request for proposal for the performance-based contract. For the 2001-2002 fiscal year the Department may draw up to $500,000 from the collection assistance fee account created in G.S. 105-243.1 to pay for assistance in developing a request for proposals for a performance-based contract to implement the results of the study; the fee proceeds may be used for this purpose only to the extent the contract is for collecting overdue tax debts as defined in G.S. 105-243.1.

Session Laws 2001-380, which enacted § 105-243.1, provides in s. 1: "The General Assembly finds that the Department of Revenue has documented that the State's cost of collecting overdue tax debts exceeds twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the overdue tax debts. The General Assembly finds that the cost of collecting overdue tax debts is currently borne by taxpayers who pay their taxes on time. It is the intent of the General Assembly by this act to shift this cost to the delinquent taxpayers who owe overdue tax debts."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-380, s. 9, makes this section effective August 20, 2001, and applicable to tax debts that remain unpaid on or after that date.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 14D.1, provides: "Funds appropriated to the Department of Revenue for Project Collect Tax shall be transferred to a separate Fund Code in the Department's budget."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 14D.2, provides: "The Department of Revenue shall report to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations and the Fiscal Research Division by October 1, 2001, and monthly thereafter regarding its progress in developing a request for proposal for a performance-based contract to collect overdue tax debts as defined in G.S. 105-243.1. The report shall include a list of any funds expended in developing the request for proposal and the purposes for which the funds were spent."

"The Department of Revenue shall consult with the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations prior to issuing the request for proposal for performance-based contracts."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-380, s. 8, effective October 1, 2003, inserted "owed by nonresidents and foreign entities" at the end of the first sentence of subsection (b).

§ 105-244: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(o), effective January 1, 1999.

§ 105-244.1. Cancellation of certain assessments.

The Secretary of Revenue is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to cancel and abate all assessments made after October 16, 1940, for or on account of any tax owing to the State of North Carolina and which is payable to the Department of Revenue against any person who was killed while a member of the armed forces or who has a service connected disability as a result of which the United States is paying him disability compensation. This provision shall apply only to assessments made after October 16, 1940, for taxes which were due prior to the time the taxpayer was inducted into the armed forces. If any such assessment is or has been paid, the Secretary of Revenue may refund the amount paid but shall not add thereto any interest. (1949, c. 392, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-245. Failure of sheriff to execute order.

If any sheriff of this State shall willfully fail, refuse, or neglect to execute any order directed to him by the Secretary of Revenue and within the time provided in this Subchapter, the official bond of such sheriff shall be liable for the tax, penalty, interest, and cost due by the taxpayer. (1939, c. 158, s. 916; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-246. Actions, when tried.

All actions or processes brought in any of the superior courts of this State, under provisions of this Subchapter, shall have precedence over any other civil causes pending in such courts, and the courts shall always be deemed open for trial of any such action or proceeding brought therein. (1939, c. 158, s. 917.)

§ 105-247. Municipalities not to levy income and inheritance tax.

No city, town, township, or county shall levy any tax on income or inheritance. (1939, c. 158, s. 918.)

§ 105-248. Purpose of State taxes.

The taxes levied in this Subchapter are for the expenses of the State government, the appropriations to its educational, charitable, and penal institutions, the interest on the debt of the State, the public schools, and other specific appropriations made by law, and shall be collected and paid into the General Fund. (1939, c. 158, s. 919; 1981, c. 3; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 17.)

Legal Periodicals. — For discussion of section, see 12 N.C.L. Rev. 23 (1934).

For a survey of 1996 developments in constitutional law, see 75 N.C.L. Rev. 2252 (1997).

§ 105-248.1. Reimbursement and tax-sharing distributions.

If the amount appropriated to the Reserve for Reimbursements to Local Governments and Shared Tax Revenues for a fiscal year is less than the amount of the distributions required by law to be made from that reserve for the fiscal year, the deficiency shall be credited to the reserve from the General Fund. If the amount appropriated to the Reserve for Reimbursements to Local Governments and Shared Tax Revenues for a fiscal year is greater than the amount of the distributions required by law to be made from that reserve for the fiscal year, the excess reverts to the General Fund. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 812, s. 9(a).)

§ 105-249.2. Due date extended and penalties waived for certain military personnel or individuals affected by a presidentially declared disaster.

(a) Combat. — The Secretary may not assess interest or a penalty against a taxpayer for any period that is disregarded under section 7508 of the Code in determining the taxpayer's liability for a federal tax. A taxpayer is granted an extension of time to file a return or take another action concerning a State tax for any period during which the Secretary may not assess interest or a penalty under this section.

(b) Disaster. — The penalties in G.S. 105-236(2), (3), and (4) may not be assessed for any period in which the time for filing a federal return or report or for paying a federal tax is extended under section 7508A of the Code because of a presidentially declared disaster. For the purpose of this section, "presidentially declared disaster" has the same meaning as in section 1033(h) (3) of the Code. (1967, c. 706, s. 1; 1991, c. 439, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 922, s. 10; 2001-87, s. 1; 2001-414, s. 24.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-87, s. 1, effective May 17, 2001, rewrote the section catchline, which formerly read "Due date and penalties for State taxes owed by certain members of the armed forces or individuals serving in support of the armed forces"; redesignated the former section as present subsection (a); and added subsection (b).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 24, effective September 14, 2001, in this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-414, s. 24, added subsection headings to subsections (a) and (b).

§ 105-249.3: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 19, effective August 14, 1998.

§ 105-250. Law applicable to foreign corporations.

All foreign corporations, and the officers and agents thereof, doing business in this State, shall be subject to all the liabilities and restrictions that are or may be imposed upon corporations of like character, organized under the laws of this State, and shall have no other or greater powers. (1939, c. 158, s. 920.)

§ 105-251. Type of information a taxpayer must provide.

A taxpayer must give information to the Secretary when the Secretary requests the information. The Secretary may request a taxpayer to provide only the following kinds of information on a return, a report, or otherwise:

- (1) Information that identifies the taxpayer.
- (2) Information needed to determine the liability of the taxpayer for a tax.
- (3) Information needed to determine whether an item is subject to a tax.
- (4) Information that enables the Secretary to collect a tax.
- (5) Other information the law requires a taxpayer to provide or the Secretary needs to perform a duty a law requires the Secretary to perform. (1939, c. 158, s. 921; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 661, s. 2.)

§ 105-251.1: Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Regular Session, 1992), c. 1007, s. 14.

§ 105-252. Returns required.

A person who receives from the Secretary any form requiring information shall fill the form out properly and answer each question fully and correctly. If unable to answer a question, the person shall explain why in writing. The person shall return the form to the Secretary at the time and place required by the Secretary. The person shall also furnish an oath or affirmation verifying the return; the oath or affirmation shall be in the form required by the Secretary. (1939, c. 158, s. 922; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 5.)

§ 105-253. Personal liability when certain taxes not remitted.

(a) Any officer, trustee, or receiver of any corporation or limited liability company required to file a report with the Secretary who has custody of funds of the corporation or company and who allows the funds to be paid out or distributed to the stockholders of the corporation or to the members of the company without having remitted to the Secretary any State taxes that are due is personally liable for the payment of the tax.

(b) Each responsible officer is personally and individually liable for all of the following:

- (1) All sales and use taxes collected by a corporation or a limited liability company upon its taxable transactions.
- (2) All sales and use taxes due upon taxable transactions of a corporation or a limited liability company but upon which it failed to collect the tax, but only if the person knew, or in the exercise of reasonable care should have known, that the tax was not being collected.
- (3) All taxes due from a corporation or a limited liability company pursuant to the provisions of Articles 36C and 36D of Subchapter V of this Chapter and all taxes payable under those Articles by it to a supplier for remittance to this State or another state.
- (4) All income taxes required to be withheld from the wages of employees of a corporation or a limited liability company.

The liability of the responsible officer is satisfied upon timely remittance of the tax by the corporation or the limited liability company. If the tax remains unpaid after it is due and payable, the Secretary may assess the tax against and collect the tax from any responsible officer in accordance with the procedures in this Article for assessing and collecting tax from a taxpayer. As used in this section, the term “responsible officer” means the president and the treasurer of a corporation, the manager of a limited liability company, and any officer of a corporation or member of a limited liability company who has a duty to deduct, account for, or pay taxes listed in this subsection. Any penalties that may be imposed under G.S. 105-236 and that apply to a deficiency also apply to an assessment made under this section. The provisions of this Article apply to an assessment made under this section to the extent they are not inconsistent with this section.

The period of limitations for assessing a responsible officer for unpaid taxes under this section expires one year after the expiration of the period of limitations for assessment against the corporation or limited liability company.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Regular Session, 1992), c. 1007, s. 15. (1939, c. 158, s. 923; 1941, c. 50, s. 10; 1955, c. 1350, s. 23; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1287, s. 13; 1983, c. 220, s. 1; 1991, c. 690, s. 7; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 15; 1995, c. 390, s. 15; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 52; 1997-6, s. 9; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(p); 1999-337, s. 34.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, rewrote this section.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 34, effective July 22, 1999, in subsection (a), inserted “or limited liability company,” inserted “or company,” and inserted “or to the members of the company.”

CASE NOTES

The first two paragraphs of this section are independent of each other; each provides a means for holding officers personally liable for unpaid corporate taxes. The two paragraphs were enacted at different times; the first in 1939, the second in 1973. They differ in scope; the first applies to all state tax schedules, while the second is limited to sales and use taxes. Neither paragraph requires reference to the other for definition of terms or for any other reason. In re Jonas, 70 N.C. App. 116, 318 S.E.2d 869 (1984).

§ 105-254. Secretary to furnish forms.

The Secretary shall prepare forms suitable for carrying out the duties delegated to the Secretary. Upon request, the Secretary shall provide forms to any person subject to the laws administered by the Secretary. Failure to receive or secure a form does not relieve a person from a duty to file a return or a report. (1939, c. 158, s. 924; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 6.)

§ 105-255. Secretary of Revenue to keep records.

The Secretary of Revenue shall keep books of account and records of collections of taxes as may be prescribed by the Director of the Budget; shall keep an assessment roll for the taxes levied, assessed, and collected under this Subchapter, showing in same the name of each taxpayer, the amount of tax assessed against each, when assessed, the increase or decrease in such assessment; the penalties imposed and collected, and the total tax paid; and shall make monthly reports to the Director of the Budget and to the Auditor and/or State Treasurer of all collections of taxes on such forms as prescribed by the Director of the Budget. (1939, c. 158, s. 925; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

Cross References. — As to photographic reproductions of records of Department of Revenue, see § 8-45.3.

§ 105-256. Reports prepared by Secretary of Revenue.

(a) Reports. — The Secretary shall prepare and publish the following:

- (1) At least every two years, statistics concerning taxes imposed by this Chapter, including amounts collected, classifications of taxpayers, geographic distribution of taxes, and other facts considered pertinent and valuable.
- (2) At least every two years, a tax expenditure report that lists the tax expenditures made by a provision in this Chapter, other than a provision in Subchapter II, and gives an estimate of the amount by which revenue is reduced by each tax expenditure. A “tax expenditure” is an exemption, an exclusion, a deduction, an allowance, a credit, a refund, a preferential tax rate, or another device that reduces the amount of tax revenue that would otherwise be available to the State. An estimate of the amount by which revenue is reduced by a tax expenditure may be stated as ranging between two amounts if the Department does not have sufficient data to make a more specific estimate.
- (3) As often as required, a report that is not listed in this subsection but is required by another law.
- (4) As often as the Secretary determines is needed, other reports concerning taxes imposed by this Chapter.
- (5) At least once a year, a statement of the taxpayer’s bill of rights, which sets forth in simple and nontechnical terms the following:
  - a. The taxpayer’s right to have the taxpayer’s tax information kept confidential.
  - b. The rights of a taxpayer and the obligations of the Department during an audit.
  - c. The procedure for a taxpayer to appeal an adverse decision of the Department at each level of determination.
  - d. The procedure for a taxpayer to claim a refund for an alleged overpayment.
  - e. The procedure for a taxpayer to request information, assistance, and interpretations or to make complaints.
  - f. Penalties and interest that may apply and the basis for requesting waiver of a penalty.
  - g. The procedures the Department may use to enforce the collection of a tax, including assessment, jeopardy assessment, enforcement of liens, and garnishment and attachment.
- (6) On an annual basis, a report on the quality of services provided to taxpayers, including telephone and walk-in assistance and taxpayer education. The report must be submitted to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations.

(b) Information. — The Secretary may require a unit of State or local government to furnish the Secretary statistical information the Secretary needs to prepare a report under this section. Upon request of the Secretary, a unit of government shall submit statistical information on one or more forms provided by the Secretary.

(c) Distribution. — The Secretary shall distribute reports prepared by the Secretary as follows without charge:

- (1) Five copies to the Division of State Library of the Department of Cultural Resources, as required by G.S. 125-11.7.

- (2) Five copies to the Legislative Services Commission for the use of the General Assembly.
- (3) Upon request, one copy to each entity and official to which a copy of the reports of the Appellate Division of the General Court of Justice is furnished under G.S. 7A-343.1.
- (4) One copy of the tax expenditure report to each member of the General Assembly and, upon request, one copy of any other report to each member of the General Assembly.
- (5) One copy of the taxpayer's bill of rights to each taxpayer the Department contacts regarding determination or collection of a tax, other than by providing a tax form.
- (6) Upon request, one copy of the taxpayer's bill of rights to each taxpayer.

The Secretary may charge a person not listed in this subsection a fee for a report prepared by the Secretary in an amount that covers publication or copying costs and mailing costs.

(d) Other Requirements. — The following requirements apply to the Secretary:

- (1) Video Poker. — G.S. 14-306.1(j) requires the Department to provide summary reports quarterly to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations.
- (2) Escheats. — G.S. 116B-60(g) requires the Secretary to furnish information to the Escheat Fund on October 1 of each year. (1939, c. 158, s. 926; 1955, c. 1350, s. 8; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 10, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 16; 1993, c. 433, s. 1; c. 532, s. 6; 2001-414, s. 26.)

Cross References. — As to the annual report by the Department of Revenue to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations, see G.S. 143B-218.1.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-414, ss. 25 and 26, effective September 14, 2001, recodified G.S. 143B-218.1 as subdivision

(a)(6) of this section; in subdivision (a)(6), as recodified, substituted "On an annual basis, a report" for "The Department of Revenue shall report annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations" in the first sentence and added the second sentence; and added subsection (d).

§ 105-256.1. Corporate annual report.

A corporation that files its annual report with the Secretary must pay the amount provided in G.S. 55-1-22 when it files the report. Amounts collected under this section shall be credited to the General Fund as tax revenue. The Secretary must transmit an annual report filed with the Secretary in accordance with G.S. 55-16-22 to the Secretary of State. (1997-475, s. 6.10.)

(2001), review granted, 354 N.C. 67, 553 S.E.2d 33 (2001).

§ 105-257. Department may charge fee for report or other document.

The Secretary of Revenue may charge a fee for a report or another document in an amount that covers copying or publication costs and mailing costs. (1933, c. 88, s. 2; 1955, c. 1350, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 10, s. 2.)

Legal Periodicals. — For discussion of section, see 11 N.C.L. Rev. 250 (1933).

§ 105-258. Powers of Secretary of Revenue; who may sign and verify legal documents; who may serve civil papers.

(a) Secretary May Examine Data and Summon Persons. — The Secretary of Revenue, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return, making a return where none has been made, or determining the liability of any person for any tax imposed by this Subchapter, or collecting any such tax, shall have the power to examine, personally, or by an agent designated by him, any books, papers, records, or other data which may be relevant or material to such inquiry, and the Secretary may summon the person liable for the tax or required to perform the act, or any officer or employee of such person, or any person having possession, custody, care or control of books of account containing entries relevant or material to the income and expenditures of the person liable for the tax or required to perform the act, or any other person having knowledge in the premises, to appear before the Secretary, or his agent, at a time and place named in the summons, and to produce such books, papers, records or other data, and to give such testimony under oath as may be relevant or material to such inquiry, and the Secretary or his agent may administer oaths to such person or persons. If any person so summoned refuses to obey such summons or to give testimony when summoned, the Secretary may apply to the Superior Court of Wake County for an order requiring such person or persons to comply with the summons of the Secretary, and the failure to comply with such court order shall be punished as for contempt.

(b) Department Employees May Sign and Verify Legal Documents. — In a matter to which the Secretary of Revenue is a party or in which the Secretary has an interest, all legal documents may be signed and verified on behalf of the Secretary by (i) a Deputy or Assistant Secretary; (ii) any director or assistant director of any division of the Department of Revenue; or (iii) any other agent or employee of the Department so authorized by the Secretary of Revenue.

(c) Department Employees May Serve Civil Papers. — In a civil matter to which the Secretary of Revenue is a party or in which the Secretary has an interest, any agent or employee of the Department of Revenue may serve summonses and other legal documents lawfully issued when so authorized by the Secretary of Revenue. (1939, c. 158, s. 927; 1943, c. 400, s. 9; 1955, c. 435; 1959, c. 1259, s. 8A; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1044, s. 1; 1991, c. 157, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — This section is not unconstitutional under N.C. Const., Art. I, §§ 19 and 20. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

This section does not violate constitutional search and seizure provisions, because the statute is not self-enforcing. The Secretary of Revenue does not have the authority to compel compliance with a summons, and if a revenue agent is forced to go to superior court to enforce compliance with an order, the court's scrutiny of the order will ensure that no abuse of process occurs. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

Scope of Administrative Summons

Power. — The administrative summons power under this section is more analogous to that held by a grand jury than to the search and seizure power of a police officer. It grants inquisitional powers, allowing investigations on the suspicion that a law is being violated, or even because the Department wants assurances that it is not. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

This section does not require that a tax investigator have probable cause before examining a taxpayer's records. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 S.E.2d 743 (1989).

A summons under this section would violate constitutional protections if it was overly broad, not issued in good faith for a purpose. State v. Davis, 96 N.C. App. 545, 386 legitimate purpose, or not relevant to that S.E.2d 743 (1989).

§ 105-258.1. Taxpayer interviews.

(a) Scope. — This section applies to in-person interviews between a taxpayer and an officer or employee of the Department relating to the determination or collection of a tax, other than an in-person interview concerning any of the following:

- (1) A criminal investigation.
- (2) The determination or collection of a tax imposed by Article 2D of this Chapter.
- (3) The assessment under G.S. 105-241.1(g) of a tax whose collection is in jeopardy.
- (4) The levy or execution under G.S. 105-241.2(e) of an assessment whose collection is in jeopardy.

(b) Recording of Interview. — The Department shall allow a taxpayer to make an audio recording of an interview at the taxpayer's expense and using the taxpayer's equipment. The Department may make an audio recording of an interview at its own expense and using its own equipment. The Department shall, upon request of the taxpayer, provide the taxpayer a transcript of an interview recorded by the Department; the Department may charge the taxpayer for the cost of the requested transcription and reproduction of the transcript.

(c) Disclosure of Procedure. — At or before an initial interview relating to the determination of a tax, the Department shall provide the taxpayer a written explanation of the audit process and the taxpayer's rights in the process. At or before an initial interview relating to the collection of a tax, the Department shall provide the taxpayer a written explanation of the collection process and the taxpayer's rights in the process.

(d) Right of Consultation. — A taxpayer may authorize a person to represent the taxpayer in an interview if the person has a written power of attorney executed by the taxpayer. The Department may not require a taxpayer to accompany the taxpayer's representative to the interview unless the Secretary has summoned the taxpayer pursuant to G.S. 105-258.

(e) Suspension of Interview. — The Department shall suspend an interview relating to the determination of a tax if the taxpayer is not accompanied by a representative and, at any time during the interview, expresses the desire to consult with another person. (1993, c. 532, s. 7; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 18.)

§ 105-259. Secrecy required of officials; penalty for violation.

(a) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

- (1) Employee or officer. — The term includes a former employee, a former officer, and a current or former member of a State board or commission.
- (2) Tax information. — Any information from any source concerning the liability of a taxpayer for a tax, as defined in G.S. 105-228.90. The term includes the following:
  - a. Information contained on a tax return, a tax report, or an application for a license for which a tax is imposed.
  - b. Information obtained through an audit of a taxpayer or by correspondence with a taxpayer.

c. Information on whether a taxpayer has filed a tax return or a tax report.

d. A list or other compilation of the names, addresses, social security numbers, or similar information concerning taxpayers.

The term does not include (i) statistics classified so that information about specific taxpayers cannot be identified, (ii) an annual report required to be filed under G.S. 55-16-22 or (iii) information submitted to the Business License Information Office of the Department of Secretary of State on a master application form for various business licenses.

(b) Disclosure Prohibited. — An officer, an employee, or an agent of the State who has access to tax information in the course of service to or employment by the State may not disclose the information to any other person unless the disclosure is made for one of the following purposes:

- (1) To comply with a court order or a law.
- (2) Review by the Attorney General or a representative of the Attorney General.
- (3) Review by a tax official of another jurisdiction to aid the jurisdiction in collecting a tax imposed by this State or the other jurisdiction if the laws of the other jurisdiction allow it to provide similar tax information to a representative of this State.
- (4) To provide a governmental agency or an officer of an organized association of taxpayers with a list of taxpayers who have paid a privilege license tax under Article 2 of this Chapter.
- (5) To furnish to the chair of a board of county commissioners information on the county sales and use tax.
- (5a) Reserved.
- (5b) To furnish to the finance officials of a city a list of the utility taxable gross receipts and piped natural gas tax revenues attributable to the city under G.S. 105-116.1 and G.S. 105-187.44 or under former G.S. 105-116 and G.S. 105-120.
- (5c) To provide the following information to a regional public transportation authority or a regional transportation authority created pursuant to Article 26 or Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes on an annual basis, when the information is needed to enable the authority to administer its tax laws:
  - a. The name, address, and identification number of retailers who collect the tax on leased vehicles imposed by G.S. 105-187.5.
  - b. The name, address, and identification number of a retailer audited by the Department of Revenue regarding the tax on leased vehicles imposed by G.S. 105-187.5, when the Department determines that the audit results may be of interest to the authority.
- (5d) To provide the following information to a county or city on an annual basis, when the county or city needs the information for the administration of its local tax on prepared food and beverages:
  - a. The name, address, and identification number of retailers who collect the sales and use taxes imposed under Article 5 of this Chapter and may be engaged in the business of selling prepared food and beverages.
  - b. The name, address, and identification number of a retailer audited by the Department of Revenue regarding the sales and use taxes imposed under Article 5 of this Chapter, when the Department determines that the audit results may be of interest to the county or city in the administration of its local tax on prepared food and beverages.

- (6) To sort, process, or deliver tax information on behalf of the Department of Revenue.
- (6a) To furnish the county official designated under G.S. 105-164.14(f) a list of claimants that have received a refund of the county sales or use tax to the extent authorized in G.S. 105-164.14(f).
- (7) To exchange information with the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation or the International Fuel Tax Association, Inc., when the information is needed to fulfill a duty imposed on the Department of Revenue or the Division of Motor Vehicles.
- (7a) To furnish the name and identifying information of motor carriers whose licenses have been revoked to the administrator of a national criminal justice system database that makes the information available only to criminal justice agencies and public safety organizations.
- (8) To furnish to the Department of State Treasurer, upon request, the name, address, and account and identification numbers of a taxpayer who may be entitled to property held in the Escheat Fund.
- (9) To furnish to the Employment Security Commission the name, address, and account and identification numbers of a taxpayer when the information is requested by the Commission in order to fulfill a duty imposed under Article 2 of Chapter 96 of the General Statutes.
- (9a) To furnish information to the Employment Security Commission to the extent required for its NC WORKS study of the working poor pursuant to G.S. 108A-29(r). The Employment Security Commission shall use information furnished to it under this subdivision only in a nonidentifying form for statistical and analytical purposes related to its NC WORKS study. The information that may be furnished under this subdivision is the following with respect to individual income taxpayers, as shown on the North Carolina income tax forms:
  - a. Name, social security number, spouse's name, spouse's social security number, and county of residence.
  - b. Filing status and federal personal exemptions.
  - c. Federal taxable income, additions to federal taxable income, and total of federal taxable income plus additional income.
  - d. Income while a North Carolina resident, total income from North Carolina sources while a nonresident, and total income from all sources.
  - e. Exemption for children, nonresidents' and part-year residents' exemption for children, and credit for children.
  - f. Expenses for child and dependent care, portion of expenses paid while a resident of North Carolina, portion of expenses paid while a resident of North Carolina that was incurred for dependents who were under the age of seven and dependents who were physically or mentally incapable of caring for themselves, credit for child and dependent care expenses, other qualifying expenses, credit for other qualifying expenses, total credit for child and dependent care expenses.
- (10) Review by the State Auditor to the extent authorized in G.S. 147-64.7.
- (11) To give a spouse who elects to file a joint tax return a copy of the return or information contained on the return.
- (11a) To provide a copy of a return to the taxpayer who filed the return.
- (11b) In the case of a return filed by a corporation, a partnership, a trust, or an estate, to provide a copy of the return or information on the return to a person who has a material interest in the return if, under the circumstances, section 6103(e)(1) of the Code would require disclosure to that person of any corresponding federal return or information.

- (11c) In the case of a return of an individual who is legally incompetent or deceased, to provide a copy of the return to the legal representative of the estate of the incompetent individual or decedent.
- (12) To contract with a financial institution for the receipt of withheld income tax payments under G.S. 105-163.6 or for the transmittal of payments by electronic funds transfer.
- (13) To furnish the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly, upon request, a sample, suitable in character, composition, and size for statistical analyses, of tax returns or other tax information from which taxpayers' names and identification numbers have been removed.
- (14) To exchange information concerning a tax imposed by Subchapter V of this Chapter with the Standards Division of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services when the information is needed to administer the Gasoline and Oil Inspection Act, Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes.
- (15) To exchange information concerning a tax imposed by Articles 2A, 2C, or 2D of this Chapter with one of the following agencies when the information is needed to fulfill a duty imposed on the Department or the agency:
  - a. The North Carolina Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.
  - b. The Division of Alcohol Law Enforcement of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety.
  - c. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms of the United States Treasury Department.
  - d. Law enforcement agencies.
  - e. The Division of Community Corrections of the Department of Correction.
- (16) To furnish to the Department of Secretary of State the name, address, tax year end, and account and identification numbers of a corporation liable for corporate income or franchise taxes or of a limited liability company liable for a corporate or a partnership tax return to enable the Secretary of State to notify the corporation or the limited liability company of the annual report filing requirement or that its articles of incorporation or articles of organization or its certificate of authority has been suspended.
- (16a) To provide the North Carolina Self-Insurance Guaranty Association information on self-insurers' premiums as determined under G.S. 105-228.5(b), (b1), and (c) for the purpose of collecting the assessments authorized in G.S. 97-133(a).
- (17) To inform the Business License Information Office of the Department of Secretary of State of the status of an application for a license for which a tax is imposed and of any information needed to process the application.
- (18) To furnish to the Office of the State Controller the name, address, and account and identification numbers of a taxpayer upon request to enable the State Controller to verify statewide vendor files or track debtors of the State.
- (19) To furnish to the North Carolina Industrial Commission information concerning workers' compensation reported to the Secretary under G.S. 105-163.7.
- (20) (Repealed effective January 1, 2012) To furnish to the Environmental Management Commission information concerning whether a person who is requesting certification of a dry-cleaning facility or wholesale distribution facility from the Commission is liable for privilege tax under Article 5D of this Chapter.

- (21) To exchange information concerning the tax on piped natural gas imposed by Article 5E of this Chapter with the North Carolina Utilities Commission or the Public Staff of that Commission.
- (22) To provide the Secretary of Administration pursuant to G.S. 143-59.1 a list of vendors and their affiliates who meet one or more of the conditions of G.S. 105-164.8(b) but refuse to collect the use tax levied under Article 5 of this Chapter on their sales delivered to North Carolina.
- (23) To provide public access to a database containing the names and account numbers of taxpayers who are not required to pay sales and use taxes under Article 5 of this Chapter to a retailer because of an exemption or because they are authorized to pay the tax directly to the Department of Revenue.

- (27) To publish the information required under G.S. 105-129.6.

(c) Punishment. — A person who violates this section is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. If the person committing the violation is an officer or employee, that person shall be dismissed from public office or public employment and may not hold any public office or public employment in this State for five years after the violation. (1939, c. 158, s. 928; 1951, c. 190, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 903, s. 4; c. 1287, s. 13; 1975, c. 19, s. 29; c. 275, s. 7; 1977, c. 657, s. 6; 1979, c. 495; 1983, c. 7; 1983 (Reg. Sess., c. 14, s. 51; c. 24, s. 14(c); 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 679, s. 8.4; 1995, c. 17, s. 11; c. 21, s. 2; 1997-118, s. 6; 1997-261, s. 14; 1997-340, s. 2; 1997-392, s. 4.1; 1997-475, s. 6.11; 1998-22, ss. 10, 11; 1998-98, ss. 13.1(b), 20; 1998-139, s. 1; 1998-212, s. 12.27A(o); 1999-219, s. 7.1; 1999-340, s. 8; 1999-341, s. 8; 1999-360, s. 2.1; 1999-438, s. 18; 1999-452, s. 28.1; 2000-120, s. 8; 2000-173, s. 11; 2001-205, s. 1; 2001-380, s. 5; 2001-476, s. 8(b); 2001-487, ss. 47(d), 123.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1997-392, s. 8 provides in part that s. 4.1 of Session Laws 1997-392, which added subdivision (b)(20) of this section, is repealed effective January 1, 2012.

Session Laws 1997-392, s. 5, as amended by Session Laws 2000-19, s. 17, provides: "This act constitutes a recent act of the General Assembly within the meaning of G.S. 150B-21.1. The Environmental Management Commission may adopt temporary rules to implement this act until 30 June 2001."

Session Laws 2000-19, s. 20 is a severability clause.

The number of subdivision (b)(24) was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the designation in Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2.1 having been subdivision (b)(22).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 21 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(c), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 123, makes this section effective for business activities occurring on or after January 1, 2002, and applicable to business activities occurring before that date for which no application has been filed with the Department of Commerce if the taxpayer files the application, pays required fees and submits returned application and relevant tax return.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1997-392, s. 4.1, effective January 1, 1999, added subdivision (b)(20).

Session Laws 1998-22, ss. 10 and 11, effective July 1, 1999, and applicable to piped natural gas delivered on or after that date, rewrote subdivision (b)(5b); and added subdivision (b)(21).

Session Laws 1998-98, s. 13.1(b), effective July 1, 1999, deleted “2B” from the list of Articles in the introductory sentence of subdivision (b)(15).

Session Laws 1999-219, s. 7.1, effective June 25, 1999, added subdivision (b)(16a).

Session Laws 1999-340, s. 8, effective July 22, 1999, inserted “spouse’s social security number” in subdivision (b)(9a)a; and added subdivisions (b)(9a)e and (b)(9a)f.

Session Laws 1999-341, s. 8, effective July 1, 1999, added subdivisions (b)(22) and (b)(23).

Session Laws 1999-360, s. 2.1, effective January 1, 2000, added present subdivision (b)(24).

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 18, effective August 10, 1999, inserted “Department or the” in the introductory language of subdivision (b)(15); and added subdivision (b)(15)d.

Session Laws 1999-452, s. 28.1, effective October 1, 1999, inserted “or the International Fuel Tax Association, Inc.” in subdivision (b)(7).

Session Laws 2000-120, s. 8, effective July 14, 2000, added subdivision (b)(25).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 11, effective August 2, 2000, added subdivision (b)(15)e.

Session Laws 2001-205, s. 1, effective June 15, 2001, added subdivision (b)(7a).

Session Laws 2001-380, s. 5, effective August 20, 2001, and applicable to tax debts that remain unpaid on or after that date, added subdivision (b)(26).

Session Laws 2001-476, s. 8(b), effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, added subdivision (b)(27).

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 47(d), effective December 16, 2001, substituted “Community Corrections” for “Adult Probation and Parole” in subdivision (b)(15)e.

§ 105-260. Evaluation of Department personnel.

The Secretary may not use records of tax enforcement results, or production goals based on these records, as the sole criteria in evaluating employees of the Department who are directly involved in tax collection activities or in evaluating the immediate supervisors of these employees. The Secretary must consider records of taxpayer complaints that named an employee as discourteous, unresponsive, or incompetent in evaluating the employee. (1939, c. 158, s. 929; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 859, s. 79; c. 1127, s. 53; 1993, c. 532, s. 8.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1993, c. 532, s. 13 provides: “The Department of Revenue shall report annually to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations on the quality of services provided to taxpayers, including telephone and walk-in assistance and taxpayer education.”

§ 105-260.1. Delegation of authority to hold hearings.

The Secretary of Revenue may delegate to a Deputy or Assistant Secretary of Revenue the authority to hold any hearing required or allowed under this Chapter. (1985, c. 258.)

§ 105-261. Secretary and deputies to administer oaths.

The Secretary of Revenue and such deputies as he may designate shall have the power to administer an oath to any person or to take the acknowledgment of any person in respect to any return or report required by this Subchapter or under the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Revenue, and shall have access to all the books and records of any person, firm, corporation, county, or municipality in this State. (1939, c. 158, s. 930; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-262. Rules.

(a) The Secretary of Revenue may adopt rules needed to administer a tax collected by the Secretary or to fulfill another duty delegated to the Secretary. The Tax Review Board shall review a new rule or a change to a rule before it is filed in the North Carolina Administrative Code.

(b) The Secretary must ask the Office of State Budget and Management to prepare a fiscal note for a proposed new rule or a proposed change to a rule that has a substantial economic impact, as defined in G.S. 150B-21.4(b1). The Secretary shall not take final action on a proposed rule change that has a substantial economic impact until at least 60 days after the fiscal note has been prepared. (1939, c. 158, s. 931; 1955, c. 1350, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 859, s. 80; c. 1127, s. 53; 1991, c. 45, s. 28; c. 477, s. 7; 1995, c. 507, s. 27.8(p); 2000-140, s. 93.1(a); 2001-424, s. 12.2(b).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 93.1, effective July 1, 2000, in subsection (b), substituted "Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management" for "Office of State Budget and Management."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 12.2(b), effective July 1, 2001, substituted "Office of State Budget and Management" for "Office of State Budget, Planning, and Management" in subsection (b).

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — The cases below were decided prior to the 1991 amendment, which re-wrote this section.

Remedies of Taxpayer. — Any interested citizen may procure a copy of the regulations promulgated pursuant to this section and apply the administrator's interpretation of the law to the citizen's tax situation. If, under the regulations, tax liability seems likely, he may present the matter to the Secretary of Revenue for examination and determination. If the Secretary assesses a tax, the party who deems himself aggrieved may, as provided by statute, protect himself against an illegal assessment. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

Petition will not lie directly to the superior court to have an administrative interpretation promulgated by the Secretary under this section declared to be erroneous, unlawful or improper. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

Interpretation of Secretary Prima Facie

Correct. — While a decision or regulation of the Secretary of Revenue interpreting a taxing statute is not controlling, the Secretary of Revenue is authorized by this section to implement taxing statutes, with certain specific exceptions, and his interpretation is made prima facie correct, and such interpretive regulation will ordinarily be upheld when it is not in conflict with the statute and is within the authority of the Secretary to promulgate. Campbell v. Currie, 251 N.C. 329, 111 S.E.2d 319 (1959); In re Alamance Mem. Park, 41 N.C. App. 278, 254 S.E.2d 671 (1979).

Cited in Sale v. Johnson, 258 N.C. 749, 129 S.E.2d 465 (1963); Oscar Miller Contractor v. North Carolina Tax Rev. Bd., 61 N.C. App. 725, 301 S.E.2d 511 (1983); In re Assessment of Additional Sales & Use Tax Against Strawbridge Studios, Inc., 94 N.C. App. 300, 380 S.E.2d 142 (1989).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Approval of Rules by Tax Review Board.

— This section does not require that the Tax Review Board approve the Revenue Department's rules which have been filed with the Attorney General as Title 17 of the North Carolina Administrative Code in order for those rules to become effective. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Sam T. Currin, Assistant to the Secretary, Department of Revenue, 46 N.C.A.G. 53 (1976), rendered prior to 1991 amendment.

§ 105-263. Extensions of time for filing a report or return.

The Secretary may extend the time in which a person must file a report or return with the Secretary. To obtain an extension of time for filing a report or return, a person must comply with any application requirement set by the Secretary. An extension of time for filing a franchise tax return, an income tax return, or a gift tax return does not extend the time for paying the tax due or the time when a penalty attaches for failure to pay the tax. An extension of time for filing a report or any return other than a franchise tax return, an income tax return, or a gift tax return extends the time for paying the tax due and the time when a penalty attaches for failure to pay the tax. When an extension of time for filing a report or return extends the time for paying the tax expected to be due with the report or return, interest, at the rate established pursuant to G.S. 105-241.1(i), accrues on the tax due from the original due date of the report or return to the date the tax is paid. (1939, c. 158, s. 932; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 1114, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 984, s. 14; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 11; 1997-300, s. 1.)

§ 105-264. Effect of Secretary's interpretation of revenue laws.

It is the duty of the Secretary to interpret all laws administered by the Secretary. The Secretary's interpretation of these laws shall be consistent with the applicable rules.

An interpretation by the Secretary is prima facie correct. When the Secretary interprets a law by adopting a rule or publishing a bulletin or directive on the law, the interpretation is a protection to the officers and taxpayers affected by the interpretation, and taxpayers are entitled to rely upon the interpretation. If the Secretary changes an interpretation, a taxpayer who relied on it before it was changed is not liable for any penalty or additional assessment on any tax that accrued before the interpretation was changed and was not paid by reason of reliance upon the interpretation. If a taxpayer requests in writing specific advice from the Department and receives in response erroneous written advice, the taxpayer is not liable for any penalty or additional assessment attributable to the erroneous advice furnished by the Department to the extent the advice was reasonably relied upon by the taxpayer and the penalty or additional assessment did not result from the taxpayer's failure to provide adequate or accurate information.

This section does not prevent the Secretary from changing an interpretation and it does not prevent a change in an interpretation from applying on and after the effective date of the change. (1939, c. 158, s. 933; 1955, c. 1350, s. 4; 1957, c. 1340, s. 14; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 45, s. 29; 1993, c. 532, s. 9; 1998-98, s. 21.)

CASE NOTES

Applicability of "Prima Facie Correct" Standard. — Interpretation of a tax statute by the Secretary of Revenue is prima facie correct, and when the Secretary interprets a tax law by adopting a rule or publishing a bulletin on the law, the interpretation is a protection to the officers and taxpayers affected by the interpretation. Polaroid Corp. v. Offerman, 349 N.C. 290, 507 S.E.2d 284 (1998), cert. denied, 526

U.S. 1098, 119 S. Ct. 1576, 143 L. Ed. 2d 671 (1999).

Applicability of "Prima Facie Correct" Standard. — A reading of this entire section indicates that only decisions of the Secretary of Revenue to initiate or propose regulations that modify, change, alter or repeal existing regulations are "prima facie correct." This "prima facie correct" standard does not apply to administrative interpretations. National Serv. Indus., Inc. v. Powers, 98 N.C. App. 504, 391 S.E.2d 509 (1990).

Authority of Secretary to Construe This Subchapter. — This section gives the Secretary of Revenue the power to construe the Revenue Act of 1939, codified as this Subchapter, and such construction will be given due consideration by the courts, although it is not controlling. Valentine v. Gill, 223 N.C. 396, 27 S.E.2d 2 (1943). See also Powell v. Maxwell, 210 N.C. 211, 186 S.E. 326 (1936); Dayton Rubber Co. v. Shaw, 244 N.C. 170, 92 S.E.2d 799 (1956).

Weight Given Secretary's Construction. — The construction given a taxing statute by the Secretary of Revenue will be given consideration by the courts though not controlling. Charlotte Coca-Cola Bottling Co. v. Shaw, 232 N.C. 307, 59 S.E.2d 819 (1950); Campbell v. Currie, 251 N.C. 329, 111 S.E.2d 319 (1959).

Attorney General's Opinion Advisory

Only. — The responsibility for interpreting a tax statute is placed on the Secretary of Revenue by this section, and an Attorney General's opinion in regard thereto was advisory only. In re Virginia-Carolina Chem. Corp., 248 N.C. 531, 103 S.E.2d 823 (1958).

Court Interpretation Prevails. — If there should be a conflict between the interpretation placed upon any of the provisions of the Revenue Act by the Secretary of Revenue and the interpretation of the courts, the interpretation or construction by the latter will prevail. Campbell v. Currie, 251 N.C. 329, 111 S.E.2d 319 (1959).

Quoted in Duke Power Co. v. Clayton, 274 N.C. 505, 164 S.E.2d 289 (1968).

Stated in Clark v. City of Greenville, 221 N.C. 255, 20 S.E.2d 56 (1942).

§ 105-266. Overpayment of taxes to be refunded with interest.

(a) Refund. — If the Secretary discovers that a taxpayer has overpaid the correct amount of a tax, that overpayment shall be refunded to the taxpayer as soon as possible together with any applicable interest. The Secretary shall not refund an overpayment before the taxpayer has filed the final return for the tax period. The Secretary may not refund any of the following:

- (1) An overpayment set off under Chapter 105A, the Setoff Debt Collection Act, or under another setoff debt collection program authorized by law.
- (2) An income tax overpayment the taxpayer has elected to apply to another purpose as provided in this Article.
- (3) An individual income tax overpayment of less than one dollar ($1.00) or another tax overpayment of less than three dollars ($3.00), unless the taxpayer makes a written demand for the refund.

(b) Interest. — An overpayment of tax bears interest at the rate established in G.S. 105-241.1(i) from the date that interest begins to accrue until a refund is paid. A refund sent to a taxpayer is considered paid on a date determined by the Secretary that is no sooner than five days after a refund check is mailed.

A refund set off against a debt pursuant to Chapter 105A of the General Statutes is considered paid five days after the Department mails the taxpayer a notice of the setoff, unless G.S. 105A-5 or G.S. 105A-8 requires the agency that requested the setoff to return the refund to the taxpayer. In this circumstance, the refund that was set off is not considered paid until five days after the agency that requested the refund mails the taxpayer a check for the refund.

Interest on an overpayment of a tax, other than a tax levied under Article 4 or Article 8B of this Chapter, accrues from a date 90 days after the date the tax was originally paid by the taxpayer until the refund is paid. Interest on an overpayment of a tax levied under Article 4 or Article 8B of this Chapter accrues from a date 45 days after the latest of the following dates until the refund is paid:

- (1) The date the final return was filed.
- (2) The date the final return was due to be filed.
- (3) The date of the overpayment.

The date of an overpayment of a tax levied under Article 4 or Article 8B of this Chapter is determined in accordance with section 6611(d), (f), (g), and (h) of the Code.

(c) Statute of Limitations. — The period in which a refund must be demanded or discovered under this section is determined as follows:

- (1) General Rule. — No overpayment shall be refunded, whether upon discovery or receipt of written demand, if the discovery is not made or the demand is not received within three years after the date set by the statute for the filing of the return or within six months after the payment of the tax alleged to be an overpayment, whichever is later. An agreement by a taxpayer to extend the time in which the Department can assess the taxpayer for an underpayment automatically extends the time in which the taxpayer can request a refund.
- (2) Worthless Debts or Securities. — Section 6511(d)(1) of the Code applies to an overpayment of the tax levied in Part 2 or 3 of Article 4 of this Chapter to the extent the overpayment is attributable to either of the following:
  - a. The deductibility by the taxpayer under section 166 of the Code of a debt that becomes worthless, or under section 165(g) of the Code of a loss from a security that becomes worthless.
  - b. The effect of the deductibility of a debt or loss described in subpart a. of this subdivision on the application of a carryover to the taxpayer.
- (3) Capital Loss and Net Operating Loss Carrybacks. — Section 6511(d)(2) of the Code applies to an overpayment of the tax levied in Part 2 or 3 of Article 4 of this Chapter to the extent the overpayment is attributable to a capital loss carryback under section 1212(c) of the Code or to a net operating loss carryback under section 172 of the Code.
- (4) Federal Determination. — When a taxpayer files with the Secretary a return that reflects a federal determination and the return is filed within the required time, the period in which a refund must be demanded or discovered is one year after the return reflecting the federal determination is filed or three years after the original return was filed or due to be filed, whichever is later.

(d) Effect of Refund. — A refund made under this section does not absolve the taxpayer of a tax liability that may in fact exist; the Secretary may make an assessment for any deficiency as provided in this Article.

(e) Scope. — This section does not apply to interest required under G.S. 105-267. This section applies to a refund payable to a husband and wife who filed a joint return. (1939, c. 158, s. 937; 1941, c. 50, s. 10; 1947, c. 501, s. 9; 1949, c. 392, s. 6; 1951, c. 643, s. 9; 1957, c. 1340, s. 14; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 903, s. 5; 1975, c. 74, s. 3; 1979, c. 801, s. 90; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1223, s. 2; 1989, c. 728, s. 1.48; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 930, s. 23; 1993, c. 315, s. 3; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 662, ss. 2, 3; 1995, c. 17, s. 11.1; c. 360, s. 1(g); 1997-490, s. 2; 1998-98, s. 110; 1999-438, s. 19.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — The 1997 amendment, effective January 1, 2000, inserted "sent to a taxpayer" in the second sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (b), and inserted the second paragraph of subsection (b).

The 1998 amendment, effective August 14, 1998, in subdivisions (c)(2) and (c)(3), substituted "Part 2 or 3 of Article 4" for "Division II or III of Article 4".

Session Laws 1999-438, s. 19, effective August 10, 1999, added the last sentence in subdivision (c)(1).

CASE NOTES

Deductions for Prior Years Disallowed.
— To allow as deductions for a given tax year items which could have been the basis of claims for refunds in prior years, would render every return inconclusive far beyond the time intended by the legislature. In re Fleishman, 264 N.C. 204, 141 S.E.2d 256 (1965).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Claim for refund made within three years of date to which time for filing tax was extended by Secretary of Revenue is timely made. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. W.B. Matthews, Department of Revenue, 44 N.C.A.G. 247 (1975).

§ 105-266.1. Refunds of overpayment of taxes.

(a) If a taxpayer claims that a tax or an additional tax paid by the taxpayer was excessive or incorrect, the taxpayer may apply to the Secretary for refund of the tax or additional tax at any time within the period set by the statute of limitations in G.S. 105-266.

The Secretary shall grant a hearing on each timely request for a refund. Within 60 days after a timely request for a refund has been filed and at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing, the Secretary shall notify the taxpayer in writing of the time and place at which the hearing will be conducted. The date set for the hearing shall be within 90 days after the timely request for a hearing was filed or at a later date mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary. The date set for the hearing may be postponed once, at the request of the taxpayer or the Secretary, for a period of up to 90 days or for a longer period mutually agreed upon by the taxpayer and the Secretary.

Within 90 days after conducting a hearing under this subsection, the Secretary shall make a decision on the requested refund, notify the taxpayer of the decision, and adjust the computation of the tax in accordance with the decision. The Secretary shall refund to the taxpayer in accordance with G.S. 105-266 the amount of any tax the Secretary finds was paid incorrectly or paid in excess of the tax due.

(b) The rules of evidence do not apply in a hearing before the Secretary of Revenue under this section. G.S. 105-241.2, 105-241.3, and 105-241.4 apply to a tax or additional tax assessed under this section.

(c) Within 90 days after notification of the Secretary's decision with respect to a demand for refund of any tax or additional tax under this section, an aggrieved taxpayer may, instead of petitioning for administrative review by the Tax Review Board under G.S. 105-241.2, bring a civil action against the Secretary for recovery of the alleged overpayment. If the alleged overpayment is more than two hundred dollars ($200.00), the taxpayer may bring the action either in the Superior Court of Wake County or in the superior court of the county in which the taxpayer resides; if the alleged overpayment is two hundred dollars ($200.00) or less, the taxpayer may bring the action in any State court of competent jurisdiction in Wake County. If upon trial it is determined that there has been an overpayment of tax or additional tax, judgment shall be rendered therefor, with interest, and the State shall refund the amount due.

(d) Either party may appeal to the appellate division from the judgment of the superior court under the rules and regulations prescribed by law for appeals, except that the Secretary, if he should appeal, shall not be required to give any undertaking or make any deposit to secure the cost of such appeal.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to conflict with or supersede the provisions of G.S. 105-241.2, and, with respect to tax paid to the Secretary of Revenue, the rights granted by this section are in addition to the rights provided by G.S. 105-267. ### CASE NOTES

This section is a procedural statute. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 33 N.C. App. 124, 234 S.E.2d 477, aff'd, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

Construction with Federal Law. — Neither the federal Tax Injunction Act nor principles of comity prevented the federal court from considering plaintiffs' section 1983 action alleging that imposition of a controlled substance tax assessment and filing a certificate of liability violated the fourth amendment because (1) the action did not seek to enjoin, suspend, or restrain the assessment, did not seek a refund, and did not challenge the constitutionality of the controlled substance tax or seek a declaratory judgment regarding its validity, (2) no tax was ever collected, and (3) North Carolina statutes did not afford a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

It does not set out when a taxpayer is entitled to a refund but only the steps by which a refund may be received. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 33 N.C. App. 124, 234 S.E.2d 477, aff'd, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

This section, by express language, relates to proceedings begun by request for administrative review. It is an extension and enlargement of the policy declared by the legislature in § 105-241.1. This policy is predicated on the theory that an administrative hearing may be preferred by the taxpayer to an action at law to determine liability for the tax. In 1955 this idea was expanded to permit an appeal from the Secretary's decision to a Tax Review Board under § 105-241.2. Proceedings so initiated may ultimately find their way to the courts. Kirkpatrick v. Currie, 250 N.C. 213, 108 S.E.2d 209 (1959).

This section does not provide a remedy whereby unconstitutionally assessed taxes may be recovered by the taxpayer regardless of whether or not their payment was voluntary. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 33 N.C. App.

124, 234 S.E.2d 477, aff'd, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

This section cannot be interpreted to entitle a taxpayer to a refund where the payment is made voluntarily. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 33 N.C. App. 124, 234 S.E.2d 477, aff'd, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

This section fails to provide an exception to the general rule that voluntary payments of unconstitutional taxes are not refundable. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

This section may not be used to obtain a refund of taxes unlawfully collected. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

This section by its express terms, confers no authority on the Secretary to refund taxes which, at the time they were collected, were unlawful but not erroneous or incorrect. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

The Secretary of Revenue has no authority under this section to order the refund of an invalid or illegal tax, since questions of constitutionality are for the courts. Coca-Cola Co. v. Coble, 293 N.C. 565, 238 S.E.2d 780 (1977).

§ 105-266.2. Refund of tax paid on substantial income later restored.

This section applies to a taxpayer who is subject to the alternative tax under § 1341(a)(5) of the Code for the current taxable year because the taxpayer restored an item of income that had been included in the taxpayer's gross income for an earlier taxable year. For the purpose of Article 4 of this Chapter, the taxpayer is considered to have made a payment of tax for the current taxable year on the later of the date the return for the current taxable year was filed or the date the return was due to be filed. The amount of this payment of tax is (i) the amount the taxpayer's tax under Article 4 for the earlier taxable year was increased because the item of income was included in gross income for that year minus (ii) the amount the taxpayer's tax under Article 4 for the current taxable year was decreased because the item was deductible for that year. To the extent this payment of tax creates an overpayment, the overpayment is refundable in accordance with G.S. 105-266. (1997-213, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1997-213, s. 2, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

§ 105-267. Taxes to be paid; suits for recovery of taxes.

No court of this State shall entertain a suit of any kind brought for the purpose of preventing the collection of any tax imposed in this Subchapter. Whenever a person has a valid defense to the enforcement of the collection of a tax, the person shall pay the tax to the proper officer, and that payment shall be without prejudice to any defense of rights the person may have regarding the tax. At any time within the applicable protest period, the taxpayer may demand a refund of the tax paid in writing from the Secretary and if the tax is not refunded within 90 days thereafter, may sue the Secretary in the courts of the State for the amount demanded. The protest period for a tax levied in Article 2A, 2C, or 2D of this Chapter is 30 days after payment. The protest period for all other taxes is three years after payment.

The suit may be brought in the Superior Court of Wake County, or in the county in which the taxpayer resides at any time within three years after the expiration of the 90-day period allowed for making the refund. If upon the trial it is determined that all or part of the tax was levied or assessed for an illegal or unauthorized purpose, or was for any reason invalid or excessive, judgment shall be rendered therefor, with interest, and the judgment shall be collected as in other cases. The amount of taxes for which judgment is rendered in such an action shall be refunded by the State. G.S. 105-241.2 provides an alternate procedure for a taxpayer to contest a tax and is not in conflict with or superseded by this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 936; 1955, c. 1350, s. 15; 1957, c. 1340, s. 10; 1977, c. 946, s. 1; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 10.1; 1998-98, s. 13.1(c); 1999-415, s. 5.)

Cross References. — As to refund of taxes illegally collected, see § 105-267.1. As to taxpayers' remedies for erroneous or illegal assessment of property taxes, see § 105-381.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1997-318, ss. 1 through 3, provide that because the General Assembly has enacted Session Laws 1997-17, prohibiting the Secretary of Revenue from collecting intangibles tax liability arising from a taxpayer's use of the taxable percentage deductions in former § 105-203 for any of the tax years from 1990 through 1994, § 105-267 as it applies to those tax years entitles a taxpayer to a refund for one or more of those tax years to the extent the taxpayer meets all of the following requirements with respect to the applicable tax year:

(1) The taxpayer paid intangibles tax on shares of stock for the tax year.

(2) The taxpayer protested payment of the tax within 30 days of payment and met the other requirements of § 105-267, as it then existed, to establish and preserve the taxpayer's refund claim for the tax year.

(3) The taxpayer's established and preserved refund claim was pending on February 21, 1996, the date the United States Supreme Court held the taxable percentage deduction in former § 105-203 unconstitutional.

The Secretary of Revenue shall make these refunds in accordance with § 105-267, and shall mail a copy of the Wake County Superior Court's notice in the class action lawsuit Smith v. State to all intangibles taxpayers identified as possibly being affected and for whom there is a last known mailing address as quickly as possible, and shall supplement the mailing required by this section with circulation of the court's notice to tax professionals and media outlets throughout the state and to any other person considered appropriate.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective July 1, 1999, deleted "2B" from the first paragraph.

Session Laws 1999-415, s. 5, effective for taxes paid on or after January 1, 1999, substituted "three years" for "one year" in the last sentence of the first paragraph.

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Many of the cases cited below were decided before the 1977 amendment to this section, and a number of them deal with suits for recovery of local taxes.

Section Is Constitutional. — This section, permitting payment to be made under protest with a right to bring an action to recover the moneys so paid, is constitutional and accords the taxpayer due process. Kirkpatrick v. Currie, 250 N.C. 213, 108 S.E.2d 209 (1959).

Federal court afforded full faith and credit to a North Carolina Supreme Court decision that a prior federal court holding that the North Carolina refund statute did not provide plain, speedy, and efficient remedy had no preclusive effect because it was not final. Swanson v. Faulkner, 55 F.3d 956 (4th Cir.), cert. denied, 516 U.S. 964, 116 S. Ct. 418, 133 L. Ed. 2d 335 (1995).

Construction with Federal Law. — Neither the federal Tax Injunction Act nor principles of comity prevented the federal court from considering plaintiffs' section 1983 action alleging that imposition of a controlled substance tax assessment and filing a certificate of liability violated the fourth amendment because (1) the action did not seek to enjoin, suspend, or restrain the assessment, did not seek a refund, and did not challenge the constitutionality of the controlled substance tax or seek a declaratory judgment regarding its validity, (2) no tax was ever collected, and (3) North Carolina statutes did not afford a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy. Andrews v. Crump, 984 F. Supp. 393 (W.D.N.C. 1996).

A constitutional defense to a tax does not exempt a plaintiff from the mandatory procedure for challenging the tax set out in this section. The plaintiff's argument that the tax levied on it pursuant to § 105-164.8 is unconstitutional may have merit, but to seek relief plaintiff must proceed according to the requirements of this section. 47th Street Photo, Inc. v. Powers, 100 N.C. App. 746, 398 S.E.2d 52 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 268, 407 S.E.2d 835 (1991).

Method Has Been Available Since 1887. — The method of disputing an assessment by requiring the taxpayer to pay the disputed tax and sue the State for its recovery has, in effect, been available to taxpayers since 1887. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

And Is Appropriate for Testing Constitutionality of Statute. — Requiring a taxpayer to pay the amount of a disputed tax and sue the State for its recovery is an appropriate procedure for a taxpayer who seeks to test the constitutionality of a statute or its application to him. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

When a tax is challenged as unlawful rather than excessive or incorrect, the appropriate remedy is to bring suit under this section. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

A constitutional defense to a tax does not exempt a plaintiff from the mandatory procedure for challenging the tax set out in this section. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Applicability to Other Sections. — This section does not apply to matters dealt with in Subchapter II of Chapter 105. Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

Proper Procedure. — A taxpayer with a valid defense to the enforcement of the collection of a tax must first pay the tax, then demand a refund of that tax in writing within 30 days after payment. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Proper procedure for a taxpayer to determine his liability for a tax is to pay the tax under protest and sue to recover such payment. ET & WNC Transp. Co. v. Currie, 248 N.C. 560, 104 S.E.2d 403 (1958), aff'd, 359 U.S. 28, 79 S. Ct. 602, 3 L. Ed. 2d 625 (1959).

Taxpayer Required to Pay Tax and Sue for Recovery. — This section requires the taxpayer disputing an allegedly illegal assessment to pay the amount of the disputed tax and sue the State for its recovery. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

This section requires a taxpayer to pay the tax and demand a refund, and if the tax is not refunded he may then bring suit to recover the amount paid. Lewis v. Goodman, 14 N.C. App. 582, 188 S.E.2d 709, cert. denied, 281 N.C. 622, 190 S.E.2d 466 (1972).

Where plaintiffs did not pay, and stated they could not pay, the assessed tax, they were unable to avail themselves of the procedures mandated in this section. Salas v. McGee, 125 N.C. App. 255, 480 S.E.2d 714 (1997).

Payment May Not Be Withheld Pending Resolution of Dispute. — A taxpayer may not challenge the levying of a tax by withholding payment until the matter is settled. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

When Taxpayer May Sue. — Only when the Secretary of Revenue fails to refund the tax within 90 days may the taxpayer sue the Secretary of Revenue for the amount demanded. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Statutory Procedure Must Be Followed. — In order for a taxpayer to avoid the payment of a tax claimed by him to have been illegally assessed by the State, he must comply with procedure provided in the statute and where the statute specifies that he must pay the tax to the proper officer and notify him in writing that he pays under protest, and at any time within 30 days demand its refund from the State Secretary in writing, and if not refunded in 90 days, bring action to recover the amount, the remedy given must be followed in order for the taxpayer to recover the amount, and the failure of the taxpayer to make the demand required until nearly two years after the payment of the tax is fatal; former § 105-267.1, requiring the State Auditor to issue his warrant in certain instances, has no application. Bunn v. Maxwell, 199 N.C. 557, 155 S.E. 250 (1930).

Even when taxpayers are seeking a tax refund as a class, the requisites of this section must be met. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998) (without deciding whether a suit regarding a tax may be brought as a class action).

Plaintiffs' Remedies. — Under this section plaintiffs' remedies are restricted to a refund of any illegal, invalid, or unauthorized tax, but only if the prerequisites of that statute have been followed. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

Strict Compliance Necessary. — Strict compliance with the provisions of this section is necessary, and where payments were not made under protest, nor the mandatory provisions of this section otherwise complied with, the taxpayer is not entitled to recover for the excess fees paid. Victory Cab Co. v. City of Charlotte, 234 N.C. 572, 68 S.E.2d 433 (1951).

Compliance With Section Not Required. — Where the collection of taxes on retirement benefits of certain state and local government employees was held unconstitutional, the trial court erred by limiting relief only to those taxpayers who protested in accordance with this section. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

No Provision for Demand by Class. — Although this section does not expressly prohibit taxpayers from seeking refunds as a class, it includes no provision for a tax refund demand to be made either by taxpayers as a class or as represented by others. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998) (without deciding whether a suit regarding a tax may be brought as a class action).

When a class of taxpayers seeks to sue for a refund under this section, each member must individually satisfy the conditions precedent to suit mandated in this section. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998) (without deciding whether a suit regarding a tax may be brought as a class action).

In a class action for injunctive and declaratory relief against the collection of taxes on retirement benefits of certain state and local government retirees, the trial court erred in its conclusion that sovereign immunity had been waived by the passage of this section and in its order enjoining further collection of the tax during the resolution of the case. Bailey v. State, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

This section bars courts absolutely from entertaining suits of any kind brought for the purpose of preventing the collection of any tax imposed in Subchapter I. Bailey v. State, 330 N.C. 227, 412 S.E.2d 295 (1991), cert. denied, 504 U.S. 911, 112 S. Ct. 1942, 118 L. Ed. 2d 547 (1992), overruled on other grounds, 348 N.C. 130, 500 S.E.2d 54 (1998).

No Injunctive or Declarative Relief to Prevent Collection. — This section establishes the general rule that there shall be no injunctive or declaratory relief to prevent the collection of a tax, i.e., the taxpayer must pay the tax and bring suit for a refund. Cedar Creek Enters., Inc. v. State Dep't of Motor Vehicles, 290 N.C. 450, 226 S.E.2d 336 (1976).

No Injunction Lies in Federal Courts. — A suit in equity to enjoin the collection of State tax, alleged to be violative of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV, on the ground of an arbitrary and excessive assessment, will not lie in the federal court, since the plaintiff has a plain, adequate, and complete remedy at law by first paying the tax and then suing to recover it. Catholic Soc'y of Religious & Literary Educ. v. Madison County, 74 F.2d 848 (4th Cir. 1935).

Taxpayer may not maintain an action under the Declaratory Judgment Act, § 1-253 et seq., to determine his liability therefor, since the State has not waived its immunity against suit by one of its citizens under the Declaratory Judgment Act, § 1-253 et seq., to adjudicate his tax liability under the sales tax statute. Buchan v. Shaw, 238 N.C. 522, 78 S.E.2d 317 (1953).

The State has not waived its immunity against suit by one of its citizens under the Declaratory Judgment Act, § 1-253 et seq., to adjudicate his tax liability under the sales tax statute. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

Secretary of Revenue cannot be sued pursuant to provisions of Declaratory Judgment Act, § 1-253 et seq. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

Recovery of Entire Amount Paid under Protest. — Since a debtor may direct application of payment, and if neither debtor nor creditor makes application before institution of suit, the law will apply a payment to the unsecured or most precariously secured debt, when a taxpayer makes anticipatory payment not under protest, and thereafter pays under protest the balance of the taxes levied against his property, in his action under this section, to recover the taxes the entire amount paid under protest may be recovered when unlawful levies equal such amount, and the recovery will not be limited to the proportionate part which the unlawful levies bear to the entire tax levy, since it will not be presumed that the county intended to make an unlawful levy or that the taxpayer intended to pay tax illegally levied. Nantahala Power & Light Co. v. Clay County, 213 N.C. 698, 197 S.E. 603 (1938).

Rights granted in § 105-266.1 are in addition to rights provided by this section. Housing Auth. v. Johnson, 261 N.C. 76, 134 S.E.2d 121 (1964).

As Are Provisions of § 105-130.4(s). — The purpose of § 105-130.4(s) was not to provide either a substitute for, or an alternative to, this section, but to afford relief from the apportionment formula of § 105-130.4 when it operates to tax a greater portion of a corporation's income than is reasonably attributable to business in this State. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966), decided under § 105-134 prior to the amendment thereof by Session Laws 1967, c. 1110.

Taxpayer contending that additional assessment of income tax is invalid is not required to proceed under § 105-130.4(s), but may pay the tax under protest, make proper demand for refund, and, upon refusal, bring suit under this section. Sayles Biltmore Bleacheries, Inc. v. Johnson, 266 N.C. 692, 147 S.E.2d 177 (1966), decided under § 105-134 prior to the amendment thereof by Session Laws 1967, c. 1110.

Section Available to Corporation Taxed on Income Not Attributable to This State. — Had the General Assembly meant to deprive a corporation of the right to proceed under this section when it contends that it has been illegally taxed upon income not attributable to business within the State, it would undoubtedly have said so. Gulf Oil Corp. v. Clayton, 267 N.C. 15, 147 S.E.2d 522 (1966).

Alternate Remedy Under §§ 105-241.2 and 105.241.3. — The remedy afforded by this section may at times place an undue burden on the taxpayer. The legislature of 1955 took recognition of that fact and broadened the provisions by which the taxpayer might have his liability determined, in the enactment of §§ 105-241.2 and 105-241.3. Duke v. State, 247 N.C. 236, 100 S.E.2d 506 (1957).

Allegation That Tax Paid Under Compulsion. — In an action under the Revenue Act of 1933 it was held that an allegation that the tax was paid under compulsion was a mere conclusion of the pleader, and a demurrer of the Secretary of Revenue was sustained. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distrib. Corp. v. Maxwell, 209

N.C. 47, 182 S.E. 724 (1935).

Burden Is on Taxpayer to Show Exemption. — A taxpayer who challenges a sales tax coverage by virtue of an exemption or exclusion has the burden of showing that he comes within the exemption upon which he relies. Olin Mathieson Chem. Corp. v. Johnson, 257 N.C. 666, 127 S.E.2d 262 (1962).

Class Suit. — The remedy provided by this section cannot, in case of a class suit instituted in behalf of a large number of taxpayers, be deemed an adequate remedy as compared with the suit in equity which eliminates so much useless and cumbersome litigation. Gramling v. Maxwell, 52 F.2d 256 (W.D.N.C. 1931).

The trial court properly dismissed a class action for refunds brought on behalf of a named plaintiff and others similarly situated who received and paid North Carolina income taxes on unemployment compensation where the plaintiff failed to make proper demand within 30 days pursuant to this section. Stenhouse v. Lynch, 37 N.C. App. 280, 245 S.E.2d 830 (1978).

Remedy Formerly Applied to Taxes Imposed by Municipalities. — See Lewis v. Goodman, 14 N.C. App. 582, 188 S.E.2d 709, cert. denied, 281 N.C. 622, 190 S.E.2d 466 (1972).

Where the plaintiffs complied with the provisions of this section in respect to the fees paid for a particular year, they were entitled to recover back the excess portion of the fees paid for that year. Victory Cab Co. v. City of Charlotte, 234 N.C. 572, 68 S.E.2d 433 (1951).

Commissioners who were directed by a consent judgment to sell land and pay the taxes lawfully due thereon and distribute the remaining proceeds as provided in the judgment could not tender only the taxes which were in fact lawfully due, but were compelled by this section to pay the entire amount demanded by the county, and then sue for the recovery of so much of the tax paid as was not lawfully due. Rand v. Wilson County, 243 N.C. 43, 89 S.E.2d 779 (1955).

When "Payment" Occurs Under Installment Agreement. — Where the plaintiff seeking a refund was charged a total tax assessment plus interest accrued in a single tax bill, and the Department of Revenue granted the plaintiff a grace period for the payment of the tax by an installment agreement, "payment" for purposes of the statutory time period occurred upon payment of the final installment. Rent-A-Car Co. v. Lynch, 39 N.C. App. 709, 251 S.E.2d 917, rev'd on other grounds, 298 N.C. 559, 259 S.E.2d 564 (1979).

Refund of Intangibles Tax. — All taxpayers who paid the intangibles tax had to be relieved from liability under the North Carolina Constitution, Article 5, § 2(2), including those who did not file notice under this section, where the General Assembly passed a law forgiving the intangibles tax on corporate stock for the group of taxpayers who had benefited from the unconstitutional taxable percentage deduction. Smith v. State, 349 N.C. 332, 507 S.E.2d 28 (1998).

§ 105-267.1: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 45, s. 30.

§ 105-268. Reciprocal comity.

The courts of this State shall recognize and enforce liabilities for taxes lawfully imposed by other states which extend a like comity to this State. (1939, c. 158, s. 938.)

Legal Periodicals. — See 13 N.C.L. Rev. 405. For article, "Recognition of Foreign Judgments," see 50 N.C.L. Rev. 21 (1971).

§ 105-268.1. Agreements to coordinate the administration and collection of taxes.

The Secretary of Revenue is hereby authorized, with the approval of the Governor and Council of State, to enter into agreements with the United States government or any department or agency thereof, or with a state or any political subdivision thereof, for the purpose of coordinating the administration and collection of taxes imposed by this State and administered and collected by said Secretary with taxes imposed by the United States or by any other state or political subdivision thereof. (1943, c. 747, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1096, s. 6 provided: "It is the intent of the General Assembly that the Department of Revenue shall collect all of the sales and use taxes due to the State and local governments. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-268.1, the Secretary of Revenue may, without seeking prior approval of the Governor and the Council of State, enter into agreements with any other state to coordinate and promote collection of sales and use taxes by retailers making mail order sales, as defined in this act."

Legal Periodicals. — For comment on enactment of this section, see 21 N.C.L. Rev. 363 (1943).

CASE NOTES

Cited in United States v. Williams, 139 F. Supp. 94 (M.D.N.C. 1956).

§ 105-268.2. Expenditures and commitments authorized to effectuate agreements.

The Secretary of Revenue with the approval of the Governor and Council of State is authorized and empowered to undertake such commitments and make such expenditures, within the appropriations provided by law, as may be necessary to effectuate such agreements. (1943, c. 747, s. 2; 1971, c. 806, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

Legal Periodicals. — For article, "Recognition of Foreign Judgments," see 50 N.C.L. Rev. 21 (1971).

§ 105-268.3. Returns to be filed and taxes paid pursuant to agreements.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, returns shall be filed and taxes paid in accordance with the provisions of any agreement entered into pursuant to this Article. (1943, c. 747, s. 3; 1971, c. 806, s. 2.)

Legal Periodicals. — For article, “Recognition of Foreign Judgments,” see 50 N.C.L. Rev. 21 (1971).

§ 105-269. Extraterritorial authority to enforce payment.

(a) The Secretary, with the assistance of the Attorney General, is authorized to bring suits in the courts of other states to collect taxes legally due this State. The officials of other states that extend a like comity to this State are empowered to sue for the collection of taxes in the courts of this State. A certificate by the Secretary of State, under the Great Seal of the State, that these officers have authority to collect the tax is conclusive evidence of this authority. Whenever the Secretary considers it expedient to employ local counsel to assist in bringing suit in an out-of-state court, the Secretary, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, may employ local counsel on the basis of a negotiated retainer or in accordance with prevailing commercial law league rates.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-380, s. 4, effective August 20, 2001, and applicable to tax debts that remain unpaid on or after that date. (1939, c. 158, s. 939; 1963, c. 1169, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1005; 2001-380, s. 4.)

Cross References. — As to collection of tax debts, see § 105-243.1.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-380, s. 4, effective August 20, 2001, and applicable to tax debts that remain unpaid on or after that date, in subsection (a) substituted “the Secretary” for “the Secretary of Revenue” and substituted “authorized” for “hereby empowered” in the first sentence, substituted “that” for “which” and deleted “such” preceding “taxes” in the second sentence, substituted

“these” and “this” for “such” and substituted “is” for “shall be” in the third sentence, and substituted “the Secretary considers it expedient” for “it shall be deemed expedient by the Secretary of Revenue” in the fourth sentence; and deleted subsection (b), regarding contracts for the collection of taxes.

§ 105-269.1. Local authorities authorized to furnish office space.

Boards of county commissioners and governing boards of cities and towns are hereby fully authorized and empowered to furnish adequate and suitable office space for field representatives of the Department of Revenue upon request of the Secretary of Revenue, and are hereby authorized and empowered to make necessary expenditures therefor. (1951, c. 643, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-269.2. Tax Review Board.

The Tax Review Board shall be composed of the following members: (i) the State Treasurer, ex officio, who shall be chairman of the board; (ii) the chairman of the Utilities Commission, ex officio; (iii) a member appointed by the Governor; and (iv) the Secretary of Revenue, ex officio, who shall be a member only for the purposes stated in G.S. 105-122 and 105-130.4. The member whom the Governor shall appoint shall serve for a term of four years and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The first such appointment shall be made for a term beginning on July 1, 1975.

The chairman or any two members, upon five days' notice, may call a meeting of the Board; provided, any member of the Board may waive notice of a meeting and the presence of a member of the Board at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of the notice of said meeting. A majority of the members of the Board shall constitute a quorum, and any act or decision of a majority of the members shall constitute an act or decision of the Board, except for the purposes and under the conditions of the provisions of G.S. 105-122 and 105-130.4.

The Tax Review Board may employ a secretary and such clerical assistance as it deems necessary for the proper performance of its duties. All expenses of the Board shall be paid from sums appropriated from the Contingency and Emergency Fund to the use of said Board. If the full time of such secretary and clerical staff should not be needed in connection with the duties of such Board, such secretary and staff can be assigned by the Board to other duties related to the tax program of the State.

The regular sessions of the Tax Review Board shall be held in the City of Raleigh at the offices provided for the Board by the Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds. The Board may, in its discretion, hold other meetings at any place in the State. (1953, c. 1302, s. 7; 1955, c. 1350, s. 1; 1971, c. 1093, s. 11; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 275, s. 8.)

State Government Reorganization. — The Tax Review Board was transferred to the Department of State Treasurer by § 143A-38, enacted by Session Laws 1971, c. 864.

Legal Periodicals. — For brief comment on this section, see 31 N.C.L. Rev. 441 (1953).

§ 105-269.3. Enforcement of Subchapter V and fuel inspection tax.

The State Highway Patrol and law enforcement officers and other appropriate personnel in the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation may assist the Department of Revenue in enforcing Subchapter V of this Chapter and Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes. The State Highway Patrol and law enforcement officers of the Division of Motor Vehicles have the power of peace officers in matters concerning the enforcement of Subchapter V of this Chapter and Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes. (1963, c. 1169, s. 6; 1991, c. 42, s. 16; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 17; 1993, c. 485, s. 15; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 19.)

§ 105-269.4. Election to apply income tax refund to following year's tax.

Any taxpayer required to file an income tax return under Article 4 of this Subchapter whose return shows that the taxpayer is entitled to a refund may elect to apply part or all of the refund to that taxpayer's estimated income tax liability for the following year. The Secretary of Revenue shall amend the income tax returns to permit the election authorized by this section. (1983, c. 663, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 28.)

§ 105-269.5. Contribution of income tax refund to Wildlife Conservation Account.

Any taxpayer entitled to a refund of income taxes under Article 4 of this Chapter may elect to contribute all or part of the refund to the Wildlife Conservation Account established under G.S. 143-247.2 to be used for the management, protection, and preservation of wildlife in accordance with that statute. The Secretary shall provide appropriate language and space on the income tax form in which to make the election. The taxpayer's election becomes irrevocable upon filing the taxpayer's income tax return for the taxable year. The Secretary shall transmit the contributions made pursuant to this section to the State Treasurer for credit to the Wildlife Conservation Account. (1983, c. 865, s. 2; 1991, c. 45, s. 20; 1993, c. 543, s. 6.)

Editor's Note. — This section is former § 105-130.35, as amended and recodified as § 105-269.5 by Session Laws 1991, c. 45, s. 20. Session Laws 1983, c. 865, ss. 3 and 4 provided: "Sec. 3. At least seventy-five percent (75%) of the total amount of the funds derived during any year from the contributions made pursuant to this act must be used for nongame, endangered and threatened species, and urban wildlife programs, and the remainder may be used by the Wildlife Resources Commission for other wildlife management programs."

§ 105-269.6. Contribution of individual income tax refund to Candidates Financing Fund.

An individual entitled to a refund of income taxes under Part 2 of Article 4 of this Chapter may elect to contribute all or part of the refund to the North Carolina Candidates Financing Fund for the use of political campaigns as provided in Article 22C of Chapter 163 of the General Statutes. The Secretary of Revenue shall provide appropriate language and space on the individual income tax form in which to make the election. The election becomes irrevocable upon filing the individual's income tax return for the taxable year. The Secretary of Revenue shall, on a quarterly basis, transmit the contributions made pursuant to this section to the State Treasurer for credit to the North Carolina Candidates Financing Fund. Any interest earned on funds so credited shall be credited to that Fund. (1991, c. 45, s. 21; 1998-98, s. 71.)

§ 105-269.13. Debts not collectible under North Carolina law.

(a) Debts Not Collectible. — The following debts are not collectible and are not subject to execution under Article 28 of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes or any other provision of law:

- (1) A loan made by a person who does not comply with G.S. 105-88.
- (2) A debt owed to a retailer described in subsection (b) of this section as the result of the purchase of tangible personal property.

(b) Retailer. — A debt owed to a retailer is subject to this section if all of the following applies to the retailer:

- (1) The retailer meets one or more of the conditions in G.S. 105-164.8(b).
- (2) The retailer is not registered to collect the use tax due under Article 5 of this Chapter on its sales delivered to an address in North Carolina.
- (3) The retailer reported gross sales of at least five million dollars ($5,000,000) on its most recent federal income tax return.

(c) Assignment. — An assignment to a person of a debt listed in subsection (a) of this section is subject to the collection restrictions imposed by this section. (2000-120, s. 9.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-120, s. 18, made this section effective July 14, 2000.

§ 105-269.14. (Repealed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003) Payment of use tax with individual income tax.

(a) Requirement. — An individual who owes use tax that is payable on an annual basis pursuant to G.S. 105-164.16(d) and who is required to file an individual income tax return under Part 2 of Article 4 of this Chapter must pay the use tax with the individual income tax return for the taxable year. The Secretary must provide appropriate space and information on the individual income tax form and instructions. The information must include the following:

- (1) An explanation of an individual's obligation to pay use tax on items purchased from mail order, Internet, or other sellers that do not collect State and local sales and use taxes on the items.
- (2) A method to help an individual determine the amount of use tax the individual owes. The method must list categories of items, such as personal computers and clothing, that are commonly sold by mail order or Internet and must include a table that gives the average amounts of use tax payable by taxpayers in various income ranges.

(b) Distribution. — The Secretary must distribute one-third of the net use tax proceeds collected under this section to counties and cities in proportion to their total distributions under Articles 39, 40, and 42 of this Chapter and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws for the most recent period for which data is available. The provisions of G.S. 105-472, 105-486, and 105-501 do not apply to tax proceeds distributed under this section. (1999-341, s. 2.)

Section Repealed Effective for Taxable Years Beginning on or after January 1, 2003. — This section is repealed, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2003, by Session Laws 2000-120, s. 10.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-341, s. 9, made this section effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Session Laws 1999-341, ss. 3 to 6, as amended by Session Laws 2000-120, ss. 16 and 17, and by Session Laws 2001-380, ss. 6 and 7, provide that the Secretary of Revenue may draw up to $150,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14 to pay for the costs of programming, form revision, and resources for taxpayer assistance to implement ss. 1 and 2 of Session Laws 1999-341.

During the 1999-2000 fiscal year, the Secretary of Revenue is to implement a program to allow those taxpayers required under G.S. 105-164.16 to report and pay sales and use taxes on a semimonthly basis to file the semimonthly return electronically. To pay for this program, the Secretary is authorized to draw up to $500,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14.

The Secretary shall contract during the 1999-2001 fiscal biennium for the collection of delinquent tax debts owed by nonresidents and foreign entities. To implement this section, the Secretary may draw funds for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from the net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14. For the 2000-2001 and 2001-2002 fiscal years the Secretary may retain costs of implementing the section from amounts collected pursuant to contracts authorized by the section. The Secretary is to report annually to the Revenue Laws Study Committee on its collections during the biennium.

The Department of Revenue is directed to conduct a study to identify and evaluate proposals for more efficient collection of taxes, and the State Controller is to cooperate with the Department of Revenue in this study. The Department is to report the results of its study, including findings, recommendations, and estimated revenue gains of each recommendation, to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by May

1, 2000. The Secretary of Revenue is authorized to draw up to $50,000 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year from net collections that would otherwise be credited to the General Fund under G.S. 105-269.14. To implement the recommendations of the study, the Secretary may enter into a performance-based contract and may withhold from the revenue collected the amount needed to obtain assistance in developing a request for proposal for the performance-based contract. For the 2001-2002 fiscal year the Department may draw up to $500,000 from the collection assistance fee account created in G.S. 105-243.1 to pay for assistance in developing a request for proposals for a performance-based contract to implement the results of the study; the fee proceeds may be used for this purpose only to the extent the contract is for collecting overdue tax debts as defined in G.S. 105-243.1.

Session Laws 2001-380, s. 7 provides that for the 2001-2002 fiscal year the Department may draw up to $500,000 from the collection assistance fee account created in G.S. 105-243.1 to pay for assistance in developing a request for proposals for a performance-based contract to implement the results of the study; the fee proceeds may be used for this purpose only to the extent the contract is for collecting overdue tax debts as defined in G.S. 105-243.1.

§ 105-269.15. Income tax credits of partnerships.

(a) Qualification. — A partnership that engages in an activity that is eligible for a tax credit qualifies for the credit as an entity and then passes through to each of its partners the partner's distributive share of the credit for which the partnership entity qualifies. Maximum dollar limits and other limitations that apply in determining the amount of a tax credit available to a taxpayer apply to the same extent in determining the amount of a tax credit for which the partnership entity qualifies, with one exception. The exception is a limitation that the tax credit cannot exceed the amount of tax imposed on the taxpayer.

(b) Allowance of Credit to Partner. — A partner's distributive share of an income tax credit passed through by a partnership is allowed to the partner only to the extent the partner would have qualified for the credit if the partner stood in the position of the partnership. All limitations on an income tax credit apply to each partner to the extent of the partner's distributive share of the credit, except that a corporate partner's distributive share of an individual income tax credit is allowed as a corporation income tax credit to the extent the corporate partner could have qualified for a corporation income tax credit if it stood in the position of the partnership. All limitations on an income tax credit apply to the sum of the credit passed through to the partner plus the credit for which the partner qualifies directly.

(c) Determination of Distributive Share. — A partner's distributive share of an income tax credit shall be determined in accordance with sections 702 and 704 of the Code. (1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 674, s. 3; 2001-335, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-335, s. 1, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, rewrote subsection (a).

§ 105-272. Purpose of Subchapter.

The purpose of this Subchapter is to provide the machinery for the listing, appraisal, and assessment of property and the levy and collection of taxes on property by counties and municipalities. It is the intent of the General Assembly to make the provisions of this Subchapter uniformly applicable throughout the State, and to assure this objective no local act to become effective on or after July 1, 1971, shall be construed to repeal or amend any section of this Subchapter in whole or in part unless it shall expressly so provide by specific reference to the section to be repealed or amended. As used in this section, the term "local act" means any act of the General Assembly that applies to one or more counties by name, to one or more municipalities by name, or to all municipalities within one or more named counties. (1939, c. 310, s. 1802; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1991, c. 11, s. 1.)

§ 105-273. Definitions.

When used in this Subchapter (unless the context requires a different meaning):

- (1) "Abstract" means the document on which the property of a taxpayer is listed for ad valorem taxation and on which the appraised and assessed values of the property are recorded.
- (2) "Appraisal" means both the true value of property and the process by which true value is ascertained.
- (3) "Assessment" means both the tax value of property and the process by which the assessment is determined.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 695, s. 15, effective January 1, 1974.
- (4a) "Code" [is] defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (5) "Collector" or "tax collector" means any person charged with the duty of collecting taxes for a county or municipality.
- (5a) "Contractor" means a taxpayer who is regularly engaged in building, installing, repairing, or improving real property.
- (6) "Corporation" includes nonprofit corporation and every type of organization having capital stock represented by shares.
- (6a) "Discovered property" includes all of the following:
  - a. Property that was not listed during a listing period.
  - b. Property that was listed but the listing included a substantial understatement.
  - c. Property that has been granted an exemption or exclusion and does not qualify for the exemption or exclusion.
- (6b) "To discover property" means to determine any of the following:
  - a. Property has not been listed during a listing period.
  - b. A taxpayer made a substantial understatement of listed property.

- c. Property was granted an exemption or exclusion and the property does not qualify for an exemption or exclusion.
- (7) "Document" includes book, paper, record, statement, account, map, plat, film, picture, tape, object, instrument, and any other thing conveying information.
- (7a) "Failure to list property" includes all of the following:
  - a. Failure to list property during a listing period.
  - b. A substantial understatement of listed property.
  - c. Failure to notify the assessor that property granted an exemption or exclusion under an application for exemption or exclusion does not qualify for the exemption or exclusion.
- (8) "Intangible personal property" means patents, copyrights, secret processes, formulae, good will, trademarks, trade brands, franchises, stocks, bonds, cash, bank deposits, notes, evidences of debt, leasehold interests in exempted real property, bills and accounts receivable, and other like property.
- (8a) "Inventories" means (i) goods held for sale in the regular course of business by manufacturers, retail and wholesale merchants, and contractors, and (ii) goods held by contractors to be furnished in the course of building, installing, repairing, or improving real property. As to manufacturers, the term includes raw materials, goods in process, and finished goods, as well as other materials or supplies that are consumed in manufacturing or processing, or that accompany and become a part of the sale of the property being sold. The term also includes crops, livestock, poultry, feed used in the production of livestock and poultry, and other agricultural or horticultural products held for sale, whether in process or ready for sale. The term does not include fuel used in manufacturing or processing, nor does it include materials or supplies not used directly in manufacturing or processing. As to retail and wholesale merchants and contractors, the term includes, in addition to articles held for sale, packaging materials that accompany and become a part of the sale of the property being sold.
- (9) "List" or "listing," when used as a noun, means abstract.
- (10) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 43, s. 1.
- (10a) "Local tax official" includes a county assessor, an assistant county assessor, a member of a county board of commissioners, a member of a county board of equalization and review, a county tax collector, and the municipal equivalents of these officials.
- (10b) "Manufacturer" means a taxpayer who is regularly engaged in the mechanical or chemical conversion or transformation of materials or substances into new products for sale or in the growth, breeding, raising, or other production of new products for sale. The term does not include delicatessens, cafes, cafeterias, restaurants, and other similar retailers that are principally engaged in the retail sale of foods prepared by them for consumption on or off their premises.
- (11) "Municipal corporation" and "municipality" mean city, town, incorporated village, sanitary district, rural fire protection district, rural recreation district, mosquito control district, hospital district, metropolitan sewerage district, watershed improvement district, or other district or unit of local government by or for which ad valorem taxes are levied. The terms also include a consolidated city-county as defined by G.S. 160B-2(1).
- (12) "Person" and "he" include any individual, trustee, executor, administrator, other fiduciary, corporation, limited liability company, unincorporated association, partnership, sole proprietorship, company, firm, or other legal entity.

- (13) (Effective until July 1, 2002) “Real property,” “real estate,” and “land” mean not only the land itself, but also buildings, structures, improvements, and permanent fixtures thereon, and all rights and privileges belonging or in any wise appertaining thereto. These terms also mean a manufactured home as defined in G.S. 143-143.9(6) if it is a multi-section residential structure (consisting of two or more sections); has the moving hitch, wheels, and axles removed; and is placed upon a permanent enclosed foundation on land owned by the owner of the manufactured home.
- (13) (Effective July 1, 2002) “Real property,” “real estate,” and “land” mean not only the land itself, but also buildings, structures, improvements, and permanent fixtures on the land, and all rights and privileges belonging or in any way appertaining to the property. These terms also mean a manufactured home as defined in G.S. 143-143.9(6) if it is a residential structure; has the moving hitch, wheels, and axles removed; and is placed upon a permanent foundation on land owned by the owner of the manufactured home. A manufactured home as defined in G.S. 143-143.9(6) that does not meet all of these conditions is considered tangible personal property.
- (13a) “Retail Merchant” means a taxpayer who is regularly engaged in the sale of tangible personal property, acquired by a means other than manufacture, processing, or producing by the merchant, to users or consumers.
- (13b) “Substantial understatement” means the omission of a material portion of the value, quantity, or other measurement of taxable property. The determination of materiality in each case shall be made by the assessor, subject to the taxpayer’s right to review of the determination by the county board of equalization and review or board of commissioners and appeal to the Property Tax Commission.
- (14) “Tangible personal property” means all personal property that is not intangible and that is not permanently affixed to real property.
- (15) “Tax” and “taxes” include the principal amount of any tax, costs, penalties, and interest imposed upon property tax or dog license tax.
- (16) “Taxing unit” means a county or municipality authorized to levy ad valorem property taxes.
- (17) “Taxpayer” means any person whose property is subject to ad valorem property taxation by any county or municipality and any person who, under the terms of this Subchapter, has a duty to list property for taxation.
- (18) “Valuation” means appraisal and assessment.
- (19) “Wholesale Merchant” means a taxpayer who is regularly engaged in the sale of tangible personal property, acquired by a means other than manufacture, processing, or producing by the merchant, to other retail or wholesale merchants for resale or to manufacturers for use as ingredient or component parts of articles being manufactured for sale. (1939, c. 310, s. 2; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 695, ss. 14, 15; 1985, c. 656, s. 20; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 947, ss. 3, 4; 1987, c. 43, s. 1; c. 440, s. 2; c. 805, s. 3; c. 813, ss. 1-4; 1991, c. 34, s. 3; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 975, s. 1; c. 1004, s. 1; 1993, c. 354, s. 23; c. 459, s. 1; 1995, c. 461, s. 15; 1998-212, s. 29A.18(c); 2001-506, s. 1.)

Subdivision (13) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subdivision (13) set out above is effective until July 1, 2002. The second version of subdivision (13) set out above is effective July 1, 2002.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-506, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2002, rewrote subdivision (13).

Legal Periodicals. — For article on the need to reform North Carolina property tax law, see 59 N.C.L. Rev. 675 (1981).

CASE NOTES

“Appraisal” and “Assessment” Synonymous for Public Service Companies. — For public service companies, the true value of property is its tax value, and “appraisal” and “assessment” are synonymous. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463, rev’d on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Leases are intangible personal property only when they are leases in “exempted real property.” Thus, the only leases taxable to the lessee are leases on fees exempt from taxation on the lessor. Where the fee is nonexempt, the lease is not intangible personal property and is taxable to the owner, as is all real and personal property not exempt under § 105-274. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 430, 242 S.E.2d 502 (1978), aff’d, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

Leasehold Estate. — A lease is a chattel real, and as such is a species of intangible personal property. However, the value of a leasehold estate is subject to ad valorem tax and not to the State intangible tax. Bragg Inv. Co. v. Cumberland County, 245 N.C. 492, 96 S.E.2d 341 (1957), decided under former similar provisions.

Used Machinery Is Not Inventory. — Where taxpayer which acquired used machinery and equipment primarily for use in its manufacture of textiles and only held the goods for sale after the property was no longer useful in taxpayer’s textile business, the equipment and machinery at issue were not inventory held for sale in the regular course of business by a wholesale merchant. Consequently, the property was not excluded from ad valorem taxation. In re Cone Mills Corp., 112 N.C. App. 539, 435 S.E.2d 835 (1993), cert. denied, 335 N.C. 555, 441 S.E.2d 112 (1994).

Use as Income Produce Equipment Incompatible with Character As Inventory. — Where defendant treated equipment as income producing property rather than inventory for financial reporting purposes, depreciating only that part of its inventory of new and used equipment that it used for rental purposes, this treatment rendered the equipment used for rental purposes ineligible for tax exclusion because its use and consumption as income producing property was incompatible with its character as inventory. In re R.W. Moore Equip. Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

Rental Equipment Not “Held.” — Equipment was not “held” as stated in subsection (8a) by taxpayer when rented to third parties. In re R.W. Moore Equip. Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

Husband and Wife Are Separate “Taxpayers” as to Land Held by Entirety. — A husband and wife are “taxpayers” with reference to taxes levied on account of property owned by each alone, but they are, in contemplation of law, a separate person from either with reference to land owned by them as tenants by the entirety. Consequently, no lien attaches to such land on account of a tax levied upon either on account of separately owned property. Duplin County v. Jones, 267 N.C. 68, 147 S.E.2d 603 (1966), decided under former similar provisions.

Applied in In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 73 N.C. App. 475, 326 S.E.2d 911 (1985); Computer Sales Int’l, Inc. v. Forsyth Mem. Hosp., 112 N.C. App. 633, 436 S.E.2d 263 (1993).

ARTICLE 12.

Property Subject to Taxation.

§ 105-274. Property subject to taxation.

(a) All property, real and personal, within the jurisdiction of the State shall be subject to taxation unless it is:

- (1) Excluded from the tax base by a statute of statewide application enacted under the classification power accorded the General Assembly by Article V, § 2(2), of the North Carolina Constitution, or
  - (2) Exempted from taxation by the Constitution or by a statute of statewide application enacted under the authority granted the General Assembly by Article V, § 2(3), of the North Carolina Constitution.
- (b) No provision of this Subchapter shall be construed to exempt from taxation any property situated in this State belonging to any foreign corporation unless the context of the provision clearly indicates a legislative intent to grant such an exemption. (1939, c. 310, ss. 303, 1800; 1961, c. 1169, s. 8; 1967, c. 1185; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-499, ss. 3(a) to 3(i), establishes the Property Tax Study Commission. Section 3(c) provides:

"The Commission shall study, examine, and, if necessary, recommend changes to the property tax system. The Commission shall include in its study an examination of all classes of property, including the taxability of nonprofit charitable hospitals, as well as other exemptions and exclusions of property from the property tax base. The Commission shall also study the present-use value system, including the following:

"(1) Examine the implementation and application of the current present-use value statutes.

"(2) Evaluate other tax credits, including adjustments to and credits for ad valorem taxes, to encourage agricultural, forestry, and horticultural use of land.

"(3) Evaluate the treatment of undeveloped land in ad valorem tax.

"(4) Evaluate the possibility of tax incentives to encourage conservation and environmental protection of land. The study shall include the feasibility of allowing forestland managed for conservation purposes and the preservation of wildlife habitats to be taxed at its present-use value.

"(5) Review other issues related to the taxation of agricultural land, horticultural land, and forestland, including reducing the acreage requirement for land to qualify as forestland."

The Commission is to submit a final written report to the 2003 General Assembly and may submit a report to the 2002 Regular Session. The final report is to include recommendations for changes in the property tax system, and an analysis of the fiscal impact of each recommendation.

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Legislative Purpose. — The legislature has decreed that all property, real and personal, within the jurisdiction of the State, is subject to taxation whether owned by a resident or a nonresident. The purpose of this strong decree is to treat all property owners equally so that the tax burden will be shared proportionately, and to gather in all the tax money to which the various counties and municipalities are entitled. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

All property privately owned within this State is subject to taxation unless exempt by strict construction of the pertinent statute. Bragg Inv. Co. v. Cumberland County, 245 N.C.

492, 96 S.E.2d 341 (1957).

All personal property whatsoever within the jurisdiction of the State and not specifically exempted from taxation by law is subject to taxation in North Carolina. Davenport v. Ralph N. Peters & Co., 274 F. Supp. 99 (W.D.N.C. 1966), rev'd on other grounds, 386 F.2d 199 (4th Cir. 1967).

All property, real and personal, within the jurisdiction of this State, whether owned by a foreign corporation or a domestic corporation, is subject to taxation unless specifically excluded or exempted from the tax base. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

All property in North Carolina, both real and personal, is subject to property tax unless it was excluded or exempted from taxation by statute or the Constitution. Edward Valves, Inc. v. Wake County, 117 N.C. App. 484, 451 S.E.2d 641 (1995), rev'd in part, aff'd in part, 343 N.C. 426, 471 S.E.2d 342 (1996), cert. denied, 519 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 952, 136 L. Ed. 2d 839 (1997).

No state may tax anything not within her jurisdiction without violating U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

But interstate commerce can be required to pay its nondiscriminatory share of taxes which each state may impose on property within its borders. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

The ad valorem property tax may be levied by the proper taxing authority upon personal property of an individual or corporation engaged in interstate commerce the same as upon any other property so long as the effect of such taxation does not place interstate commerce at a competitive disadvantage with intrastate commerce. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Test of whether tax law violates due process is whether the taxing power exerted by the State bears fiscal relation to protection, opportunities and benefits given by the State. The simple but controlling question is whether the State has given anything for which it can ask return. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Taxation of Personal Property of Non-residents Is Constitutional. — The taxation of personal property of nonresidents by this State when such personal property has acquired a taxable situs here does not violate the provisions of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV, the rule that personal property follows the domicile of the owner being subject to an exception when such personalty is held in such a manner as to create a "business situs" for the purpose of taxation. County of Mecklenburg v. Sterchi Bros. Stores, 210 N.C. 79, 185 S.E. 454 (1936).

When personal property belonging to a non-resident has acquired a taxable situs in this State, this State may tax that nonresident's property without violating the provisions of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

Situs Essential for Tax Exaction. — Taxable tangible personal property must have acquired a tax situs in this State, for situs is an absolute essential for tax exaction. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

Situs of personal property for tax purposes is determined by the legislature, and the legislature may provide different rules for different kinds of property and may change the rules from time to time. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

A jet aircraft hangared in Rockingham County, North Carolina for approximately one year by a nonresident corporation having no principal place of business in this State, under the stipulated facts and evidence, was "situated" or "more or less permanently located" in Rockingham County on January 1, 1984, and therefore had a tax situs in Rockingham County on that date. The fact that the airplane happened to be physically located at a Virginia airport on January 1, 1984, did not defeat taxation by Rockingham County. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

Exemptions Strictly Construed. — Exemption from taxation is exceptional. Such exemptions should be strictly construed. In re Notice of Attachment & Garnishment Issued by Catawba County Tax Collector, 59 N.C. App. 332, 296 S.E.2d 499 (1982), cert. denied, 307 N.C. 576, 299 S.E.2d 645 (1983).

Inventory Exclusion Not Applicable to Rental Equipment. — Taxpayer, by renting equipment to third parties, was not entitled to the inventory tax exclusion for the rented equipment. In re R.W. Moore Equip. Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

Where defendant treated equipment as income producing property rather than inventory for financial reporting purposes, depreciating only that part of its inventory of new and used equipment that it used for rental purposes, this treatment rendered the equipment used for rental purposes ineligible for tax exclusion because its use and consumption as income producing property was incompatible with its character as inventory. In re R.W. Moore Equip. Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

As to right of State to tax foreign corporations, see Commissioners of Beaufort County v. Old Dominion S.S. Co., 128 N.C. 558, 39 S.E. 18 (1901).

When Lease Taxable to Lessee and When to Lessor. — Leases are intangible personal property only when they are leases in "exempted real property." Thus, the only leases taxable to the lessee are leases on fees exempt from taxation on the lessor. Where the fee is nonexempt, the lease is not intangible personal property and is taxable to the owner as is all real and personal property not exempt under this section. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 430, 242 S.E.2d 502 (1978), aff'd, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

Used Machinery and Equipment. — Where taxpayer which acquired used machinery and equipment primarily for use in its manufacture of textiles and only held the goods for sale after the property was no longer useful in taxpayer's textile business, the equipment and machinery at issue were not inventory held for sale in the regular course of business by a wholesale merchant. Consequently, the property was not excluded from ad valorem taxation. In re Cone Mills Corp., 112 N.C. App. 539, 435 S.E.2d 835 (1993), cert. denied, 335 N.C. 555, 441 S.E.2d 112 (1994).

Educational Exemption Upheld. — A seminary met its burden of proving that three parcels of its property were entitled to an exemption under § 105-278.4, although the land in question was undeveloped, the future planned use might not be exempt, and the seminary had sold some timber from the land to maintain a healthy forested state, to remove trees damaged by a hurricane, and to pay for other repairs caused by that hurricane. In re Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Inc., 135 N.C. App. 247, 520 S.E.2d 302 (1999).

Structures and improvements, together with stoves and refrigerators, placed by lessee on lands within a military reservation leased from the federal government are subject to taxation by the county in which the property is situated, the improvements as realty and the stoves and refrigerators as tangible personal property. #### OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Editor's Note. — The opinions of the Attorney General cited below were rendered under former similar provisions.

Timberland owned by nonstock corporation and leased to paper company is subject to ad valorem taxation by county in which land is located. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. James R. Hood, Jones County Attorney 40 N.C.A.G. 786 (1969).

As to when personal property of nonresident stored in a warehouse in North Carolina is not subject to ad valorem taxes, see opinion of Attorney General to Mr. T.R. Holbrook, Administrative Officer, State Board of Assessment, 41 N.C.A.G. 27 (1970).

§ 105-275. Property classified and excluded from the tax base.

The following classes of property are hereby designated special classes under authority of Article V, Sec. 2(2), of the North Carolina Constitution and shall not be listed, appraised, assessed, or taxed:

- (1) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 5.
- (2) Tangible personal property that has been imported from a foreign country through a North Carolina seaport terminal and which is stored at such a terminal while awaiting further shipment for the first 12 months of such storage. (The purpose of this classification is to encourage the development of the ports of this State.)
- (3) Real and personal property owned by nonprofit water or nonprofit sewer associations or corporations.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 5.
- (5) Vehicles that the United States government gives to veterans on account of disabilities they suffered in World War II, the Korean Conflict, or the Vietnam Era so long as they are owned by:
  - a. A person to whom a vehicle has been given by the United States government or
  - b. Another person who is entitled to receive such a gift under Title 38, section 252, United States Code Annotated.

- (5a) A motor vehicle owned by a disabled veteran that is altered with special equipment to accommodate a service-connected disability. As used in this section, disabled veteran means a person as defined in 38 U.S.C. § 101(2) who is entitled to special automotive equipment for a service-connected disability, as provided in 38 U.S.C. § 3901.
- (6) Special nuclear materials held for or in the process of manufacture, processing, or delivery by the manufacturer or processor thereof, regardless whether the manufacturer or processor owns the special nuclear materials. The terms "manufacture" and "processing" do not include the use of special nuclear materials as fuel. The term "special nuclear materials" includes (i) uranium 233, uranium enriched in the isotope 233 or in the isotope 235; and (ii) any material artificially enriched by any of the foregoing, but not including source material. "Source material" means any material except special nuclear material which contains by weight one twentieth of one percent (0.05%) or more of (i) uranium, (ii) thorium, or (iii) any combination thereof. Provided however, that to qualify for this exemption no such nuclear materials shall be discharged into any river, creek or stream in North Carolina. The classification and exclusion provided for herein shall be denied to any manufacturer, fabricator or processor who permits burial of such material in North Carolina or who permits the discharge of such nuclear materials into the air or into any river, creek or stream in North Carolina if such discharge would contravene in any way the applicable health and safety standards established and enforced by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The most stringent of these standards shall govern.
- (7) Real and personal property that is:
- a. Owned either by a nonprofit corporation formed under the provisions of Chapter 55A of the General Statutes or by a bona fide charitable organization, and either operated by such owning organization or leased to another such nonprofit corporation or charitable organization, and
  - b. Appropriated exclusively for public parks and drives.
- (8)a. Real and personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used exclusively for air cleaning or waste disposal or to abate, reduce, or prevent the pollution of air or water (including, but not limited to, waste lagoons and facilities owned by public or private utilities built and installed primarily for the purpose of providing sewer service to areas that are predominantly residential in character or areas that lie outside territory already having sewer service), if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources or a local air pollution control program for air-cleaning devices located in an area where the Environmental Management Commission has certified a local air pollution control program pursuant to G.S. 143-215.112 furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated or to be situated stating that the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program has found that the described property:
1. Has been or will be constructed or installed;
  2. Complies with or that plans therefor which have been submitted to the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program indicate that it will comply with the requirements of the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program;

3. Is being effectively operated or will, when completed, be required to operate in accordance with the terms and conditions of the permit, certificate of approval, or other document of approval issued by the Environmental Management Commission or local air pollution control program; and
  4. Has or, when completed, will have as its primary rather than incidental purpose the reduction of water pollution resulting from the discharge of sewage and waste or the reduction of air pollution resulting from the emission of air contaminants.
- b. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used exclusively for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as its primary purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste.
  - c. Tangible personal property that is used exclusively, or if being installed, is to be used exclusively, for the prevention or reduction of cotton dust inside a textile plant for the protection of the health of the employees of the plant, in accordance with occupational safety and health standards adopted by the State of North Carolina pursuant to Article 16 of G.S. Chapter 95. The Department of Revenue shall adopt guidelines to assist the tax supervisors in administering this exclusion.
  - d. Real or personal property that is used or, if under construction, is to be used by a major recycling facility as defined in G.S. 105-129.25 predominantly for recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste, if the Department of Environment and Natural Resources furnishes a certificate to the tax supervisor of the county in which the property is situated stating the Department of Environment and Natural Resources has found that the described property has been or will be constructed or installed for use by a major recycling facility, complies or will comply with the rules of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, and has, or will have as a purpose recycling or resource recovering of or from solid waste.
- (9) through (11) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 5.
  - (12) Real property owned by a nonprofit corporation or association exclusively held and used by its owner for educational and scientific purposes as a protected natural area. (For purposes of this subdivision, the term "protected natural area" means a nature reserve or park in which all types of wild nature, flora and fauna, and biotic communities are preserved for observation and study.)
  - (13) Repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 904.
  - (14) Motor vehicles chassis belonging to nonresidents, which chassis temporarily enters the State for the purpose of having a body mounted thereon.
  - (15) Upon the date on which each county's next general reappraisal of real property under the provisions of G.S. 105-286(a) becomes effective, standing timber, pulpwood, seedlings, saplings, and other forest growth. (The purpose of this classification is to encourage proper forest management practices and to develop and maintain the forest resources of the State.)

- (16) Non-business Property. — As used in this subdivision, the term “non-business property” means personal property that is used by the owner of the property for a purpose other than the production of income and is not used in connection with a business. The term includes household furnishings, clothing, pets, lawn tools, and lawn equipment. The term does not include motor vehicles, mobile homes, aircraft, watercraft, or engines for watercraft.
- (17) Real and personal property belonging to the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, or to any similar veterans organizations chartered by the Congress of the United States or organized and operated on a statewide or nationwide basis, and any post or local organization thereof, when used exclusively for meeting or lodge purposes by said organization, together with such additional adjacent real property as may be necessary for the convenient and normal use of the buildings thereon. Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement hereinabove established, if a part of a property that otherwise meets this subdivision’s requirements is used for a purpose that would require that it not be listed, appraised, assessed or taxed if the entire property were so used, that part, according to its value, shall not be listed, appraised, assessed or taxed. The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so far as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the classification granted by this section.
- (18) Real and personal property belonging to the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, the Prince Hall Masonic Grand Lodge of North Carolina, their subordinate lodges and appendant bodies including the Ancient and Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and the Ancient Egyptian Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, when used exclusively for meeting or lodge purposes by said organization, together with such additional adjacent real property as may be necessary for the convenient normal use of the buildings thereon. Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement hereinabove established, if a part of a property that otherwise meets this subdivision’s requirements is used for a purpose that would require that it not be listed, appraised, assessed or taxed if the entire property were so used, that part, according to its value, shall not be listed, appraised, assessed or taxed. The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so far as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the classification granted by this section.
- (19) Real and personal property belonging to the Loyal Order of Moose, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the Knights of Pythias, the Odd Fellows, the Woodmen of the World, and similar fraternal or civic orders and organizations operated for nonprofit benevolent, patriotic, historical, charitable, or civic purposes, when used exclusively for meeting or lodge purposes by the organization, together with as much additional adjacent real property as may be necessary for the convenient normal use of the buildings. Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement of this subdivision, if a part of a property that otherwise meets this subdivision’s requirements is used for a purpose that would require that it not be listed, appraised, assessed, or taxed if the entire property were so used, that part, according to its value, shall not be listed, appraised, assessed, or taxed. The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so far as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the classification granted by this section. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed so as to include social fraternities, sororities, and similar college, university, or high school organizations in the classification for exclusion from ad valorem taxes.

- (20) Real and personal property belonging to Goodwill Industries and other charitable organizations organized for the training and rehabilitation of disabled persons when used exclusively for training and rehabilitation, including commercial activities directly related to such training and rehabilitation.
- (21) The first thirty-eight thousand dollars ($38,000) in assessed value of housing together with the necessary land therefor, owned and used as a residence by a disabled veteran who receives benefits under 38 U.S.C. § 2101. This exclusion shall be the total amount of the exclusion applicable to such property.
- (22) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 5.
- (23) Tangible personal property imported from outside the United States and held in a Foreign Trade Zone for the purpose of sale, manufacture, processing, assembly, grading, cleaning, mixing or display and tangible personal property produced in the United States and held in a Foreign Trade Zone for exportation, either in its original form or as altered by any of the above processes.
- (24) Cargo containers and container chassis used for the transportation of cargo by vessels in ocean commerce.

The term "container" applies to those nondisposable receptacles of a permanent character and strong enough for repeated use and specially designed to facilitate the carriage of goods, by one or more modes of transport, one of which shall be by ocean vessels, without intermediate reloadings and fitted with devices permitting its ready handling particularly in the transfer from one transport mode to another.

- (24a) Aircraft that is owned or leased by an interstate air courier, is apportioned under G.S. 105-337 to the air courier's hub in this State, and is used in the air courier's operations in this State. For the purpose of this subdivision, the terms "interstate air courier" and "hub" have the meanings provided in G.S. 105-164.3.
- (25) Tangible personal property shipped into this State for the purpose of repair, alteration, maintenance or servicing and reshipment to the owner outside this State.
- (26) For the tax year immediately following transfer of title, tangible personal property manufactured in this State for the account of a nonresident customer and held by the manufacturer for shipment. For the purpose of this subdivision, the term "nonresident" means a taxpayer having no place of business in North Carolina.
- (27), (28) Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 643, s. 1.
- (29) Real property and easements wholly and exclusively held and used for nonprofit historic preservation purposes by a nonprofit historical association or institution, including real property owned by a nonprofit corporation organized for historic preservation purposes and held by its owner exclusively for sale under an historic preservation agreement prepared and recorded under the provisions of the Conservation and Historic Preservation Agreements Act, Article 4, Chapter 121 of the General Statutes of North Carolina.
- (29a) Land within an historic district held, by a nonprofit corporation organized for historic preservation purposes, for use as a future site for an historic structure that is to be moved to the site from another location. Property may be classified under this subdivision for no more than five years. The taxes that would otherwise be due on land classified under this subdivision shall be a lien on the real property of the taxpayer as provided in G.S. 105-355(a). The taxes shall be carried forward in the records of the taxing unit or units as deferred taxes and shall be payable five years from the fiscal year the exclusion is first claimed unless an historic structure is moved onto the site during that time. If an historic structure has not been moved to the site within five years, then deferred taxes for the preceding five fiscal years shall immediately be payable, together with interest as provided in G.S. 105-360 for unpaid taxes that shall accrue on the deferred taxes as if they had been payable on the dates on which they would originally become due. All liens arising under this subdivision are extinguished upon either the payment of any deferred taxes under this subdivision or the location of an historic structure on the site within the five-year period allowed under this subdivision.

- (30) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 5.
- (31) Intangible personal property other than leasehold interests in exempted real property. This subdivision does not affect the taxation of software not otherwise excluded by subdivision (40) of this section.
- (31a) through (31d) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-23, s. 3.
- (32) (See editor's note) Recodified as § 105-278.6A by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(a), effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998.
- (32a) Inventories owned by contractors.
- (33) Inventories owned by manufacturers.
- (34) Inventories owned by retail and wholesale merchants.
- (35) Severable development rights, as defined in G.S. 136-66.11(a), when severed and evidenced by a deed recorded in the office of the register of deeds pursuant to G.S. 136-66.11(c).
- (36) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 8, effective November 29, 2001.
- (37) Poultry and livestock and feed used in the production of poultry and livestock.
- (38) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-474, s. 8, effective November 29, 2001.
- (39) Real and personal property that is: (i) owned by a nonprofit corporation organized upon the request of a State or local government unit for the sole purpose of financing projects for public use, (ii) leased to a unit of State or local government whose property is exempt from taxation under G.S. 105-278.1, and (iii) used in whole or in part for a public purpose by the unit of State or local government. If only part of the property is used for a public purpose, only that part is excluded from the tax. This subdivision does not apply if any distributions are made to members, officers, or directors of the nonprofit corporation.
- (39a) A correctional facility, including construction in progress, that is located on land owned by the State and is constructed pursuant to a contract with the State, and any leasehold interest in the land owned by the State upon which the correctional facility is located.
- (40) Computer software and any documentation related to the computer software. As used in this subdivision, the term "computer software" means any program or routine used to cause a computer to perform a specific task or set of tasks. The term includes system and application programs and database storage and management programs.

The exclusion established by this subdivision does not apply to computer software and its related documentation if the computer software meets one or more of the following descriptions:

- a. It is embedded software. "Embedded software" means computer instructions, known as microcode, that reside permanently in the internal memory of a computer system or other equipment and are not intended to be removed without terminating the operation of the computer system or equipment and removing a computer chip, a circuit, or another mechanical device.
- b. It is purchased or licensed from a person who is unrelated to the taxpayer and it is capitalized on the books of the taxpayer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, including financial accounting standards issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. A person is unrelated to a taxpayer if (i) the taxpayer and the person are not subject to any common ownership, either directly or indirectly, and (ii) neither the taxpayer nor the person has any ownership interest, either directly or indirectly, in the other.

This subdivision does not affect the value or taxable status of any property that is otherwise subject to taxation under this Subchapter.

The provisions of the exclusion established by this subdivision are not severable. If any provision of this subdivision or its application is held invalid, the entire subdivision is repealed.

- (41) Objects of art held by the North Carolina Art Society, Incorporated.
- (42) A vehicle that is offered at retail for short-term lease or rental and is owned or leased by an entity engaged in the business of leasing or renting vehicles to the general public for short-term lease or rental. For the purposes of this subdivision, the term "short-term lease or rental" shall have the same meaning as in G.S. 105-187.1, and the term "vehicle" shall have the same meaning as in G.S. 153A-156(e) and G.S. 160A-215.1(e). A gross receipts tax as set forth by G.S. 153A-156 and G.S. 160A-215.1 is substituted for and replaces the ad valorem tax previously levied on these vehicles. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(e), as amended by Session Laws 2000-20, s. 2, provides in part that s. 29A.18(a) of the act, which recodified subdivision (32) of this section as § 105-278.6A and provided for its delayed repeal, is effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998. Section 105-278.6A is repealed effective for taxes imposed after taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by the act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Session Laws 2000-2, s. 4, directs the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly to compare the revenue generated statewide by the substitute and replacement gross receipts tax authorized by the act with the revenue that would have been generated by an ad valorem tax and to report its findings to the 2003 Session of the 2003-2004 General Assembly.

Session Laws 2001-84, s. 2, provided: "This act, being necessary for the health and welfare of the people of the State, shall be liberally construed to effect its purposes."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-55, s. 10, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001, added subdivision (24a).

Session Laws 1998-55, s. 18, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1999, added subdivision (8)d.

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 35(a), effective July 22, 1999, added subdivision (41).

Session Laws 2000-2, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2000, added present subdivision (42).

Session Laws 2000-18, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2000, added subdivision (5a).

Session Laws 2000-140, ss. 71 and 72(a), effective July 21, 2000, rewrote subdivision (40); redesignated the subdivision added by Session Laws 2000-2, s. 1, as present subdivision (42); and inserted "and the term 'vehicle' shall have the same meaning as in G.S. 153A-156(e) and G.S. 160A-215.1(e)" in present subdivision (42).

Session Laws 2001-84, s. 3, effective May 17, 2001, in subdivision (39), inserted "State or" preceding "local government" in three places in the first sentence, and substituted "the unit" for "such unit" in that sentence, substituted "excluded" for "exempt" in the second sentence, and substituted "does not apply" for "shall not apply" in the third sentence.

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 15(b), effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001, inserted subdivision (39a).

Session Laws 2001-474, s. 8, effective November 29, 2001, deleted subdivision (36) which read: "Real and personal property property belonging to the North Carolina Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management Authority created under Chapter 104G of the General Statutes"; and deleted subdivision (38) which read: "Real and personal property belonging to the North Carolina Hazardous Waste Management Commission created under Chapter 130B of the General Statutes."

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

County Precluded from Challenging Constitutionality of Former § 105-281. — See In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

Application of North Carolina's ad valorem property tax to imported tobacco destined for domestic markets does not violate the import-export clause or the due process clause of the federal Constitution. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. v. Durham County, 479 U.S. 130, 107 S. Ct. 499, 93 L. Ed. 2d 449 (1986).

Consistent with the supremacy clause, a State may impose a nondiscriminatory ad valorem property tax on imported goods stored in a customs-bonded warehouse and destined for domestic manufacture and sale. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. v. Durham County, 479 U.S. 130, 107 S. Ct. 499, 93 L. Ed. 2d 449 (1986).

Use, rather than ownership or objective, is the primary exempting characteristic of this Subchapter. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 414, 242 S.E.2d 492 (1978), aff'd, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

Not only the purpose for holding the real property but also its actual use determines whether it is to be excluded from or included in the tax base. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 414, 242 S.E.2d 492 (1978), aff'd, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

It is not the nature or characteristic of the owning entity which ultimately determines whether property shall be exempt from taxation, but it is the use to which the property is dedicated which controls. In re Wake Forest Univ., 51 N.C. App. 516, 277 S.E.2d 91, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 544, 281 S.E.2d 391 (1981).

Construction. — This section provides an exemption from taxation and is strictly construed against the taxpayer and in favor of the State. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

While the courts have consistently held that tax exemption statutes must be strictly construed against exemption, they have also held that such statutes should not be given a narrow or stingy construction. In re Wake Forest Univ., 51 N.C. App. 516, 277 S.E.2d 91, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 544, 281 S.E.2d 391 (1981).

This statute's function is to describe a separate class of property for exclusion from the tax base, rather than to provide a tax exemption to religious organizations for property used for religious purposes. In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

Uniformity in taxation relates to equality in the burden of the State's taxpayers. In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

Burden is on the taxpayer to show that it comes within the exemption or exception. In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

Used Machinery Is Not Inventory. — Where taxpayer which acquired used machinery and equipment primarily for use in its manufacture of textiles and only held the goods for sale after the property was no longer useful in taxpayer's textile business, the equipment and machinery at issue were not inventory held for sale in the regular course of business by a wholesale merchant. Consequently, the property was not excluded from ad valorem taxation. In re Cone Mills Corp., 112 N.C. App. 539, 435 S.E.2d 835 (1993), cert. denied, 335 N.C. 555, 441 S.E.2d 112 (1994).

Inventory Exclusion Not Applicable to Rental Equipment. — Taxpayer, by renting equipment to third parties, was not entitled to the inventory tax exclusion for the rented equipment. In re R.W. Moore Equip. Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

Where defendant treated equipment as income producing property rather than inventory for financial reporting purposes, depreciating only that part of its inventory of new and used equipment that it used for rental purposes, this treatment rendered the equipment used for rental purposes ineligible for tax exclusion because its use and consumption as income producing property was incompatible with its character as inventory. In re R.W. Moore Equip.

Co., 115 N.C. App. 129, 443 S.E.2d 734, cert. denied, 337 N.C. 693, 448 S.E.2d 533 (1994).

Applied in re K-Mart Corp., 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Cited in re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 430, 242 S.E.2d 502 (1978).

II. PROTECTED NATURAL AREAS.

Term "protected natural areas" in subdivision (12) of this section means property which, insofar as possible, is kept in a pristine state free from those interferences which any given generation may feel to be "improvements" on nature. The General Assembly intended the protection of such natural areas be of a passive nature designed to prevent manmade or natural disasters and not of an active nature envisioned as "improvements" of the areas. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 414, 242 S.E.2d 492 (1978), aff'd, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

A forest owned by a foundation did not come within the statutory definition of a "protected natural area" due to the extensive program of road building, construction of drainage ditches and fire lanes, site preparation, including disking and burning, leasing of hunting rights to local hunting clubs, and the cutting of timber and pulpwood. While such activities may well constitute prudent management techniques, they certainly do not result in the preservation of all types of wild nature, flora and fauna. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

III. DECISIONS UNDER PRIOR LAW.

A. In General.

Editor's Note. — The cases in the annotations below were decided under former subdivisions of this section that have now been repealed or under prior provisions.

B. Farm Products Held for Shipment to Foreign Country.

Classification of Tobacco Generally. — The legislature plainly intended to establish two classes of property: (1) under former subdivision (1) of this section, if tobacco is held or stored for shipment to any foreign country, it is exempt; and (2) under former § 105-277(a), if tobacco (or other farm products) is held or stored for manufacture or processing, it is taxed at the preferential rate. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

Raw Tobacco to Be Manufactured into Cigarettes and Then Shipped. — Raw tobacco is not exempt from taxation as being held or stored for shipment to a foreign country within the meaning of former subdivision (1) of this section where the tobacco is to be manufactured into cigarettes and other tobacco products, and the cigarettes and other products will be shipped to a foreign country; rather, the tobacco is held or stored for processing or manufacture and is taxable at the preferential rate of 60 percent of value under former § 105-277(a). In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

C. Property Shipped into State and Warehoused for Transshipment.

Exemption under former subdivision (10) applied only when, among other things, the goods moved into this State from some place without the State. Scovill Mfg. Co. v. County of Guilford, 28 N.C. App. 209, 220 S.E.2d 188 (1975), cert. denied, 289 N.C. 452, 223 S.E.2d 160 (1976), decided under subdivisions (10) and (11) as they stood before the 1977 amendment.

D. Property Warehoused for Transshipment Outside State.

Assuming that goods are otherwise qualified for exemption under former subdivision (11), they must also be placed in a public warehouse for transshipment to an out-of-state destination. Scovill Mfg. Co. v. County of Guilford, 28 N.C. App. 209, 220 S.E.2d 188 (1975), cert. denied, 289 N.C. 452, 223 S.E.2d 160 (1976) decided under subdivisions (10) and (11) as they stood before the 1977 amendment.

General Assembly intended to deny public warehouse status to owned or leased premises of ultimate consignee or its sub- siary. In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

"Transship". — There is nothing to indicate that the word "transship" has a special or technical meaning, therefore, the word is given its natural, approved and recognized meaning. In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

Goods Held for Transshipment to Taxpayer Stores. — Warehoused goods held for transshipment to taxpayer's customers are within the exempted class under former subdivision (10) of this section, but goods held for transshipment to taxpayer stores were outside the exempted class and were therefore subject to taxation. In re K-Mart Corp., 79 N.C. App. 725, 340 S.E.2d 752, modified on other grounds, 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Goods designated for transshipment "to an out-of-state or within the state destination" were not goods designated to an out-of-state destination within the meaning of former subdivision (11) as it stood before the 1977 amendment. Scovill Mfg. Co. v. County of Guilford, 28 N.C. App. 209, 220 S.E.2d 188 (1975), cert. denied, 289 N.C. 452, 223 S.E.2d 160 (1976).

Evidence that most of the goods were eventually shipped to points without State was immaterial. Scovill Mfg. Co. v. County of Guilford, 28 N.C. App. 209, 220 S.E.2d 188 (1975), cert. denied, 289 N.C. 452, 223 S.E.2d 160 (1976), decided under former subdivisions (10) and (11) as they stood before the 1977 amendment.

No time limit on the act of transshipping. — See In re Martin, 286 N.C. 66, 209 S.E.2d 766 (1974).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Property of a labor union is not classified out of the ad valorem tax base by subdivision (19) of this section. See opinion of Attorney General to J. Bourke Bilisoly, Wake County Tax Attorney, 50 N.C.A.G. 35 (1980).

Dining facilities located with the lodge structure of Elks Club come within the provisions of subdivision (19), but a swimming pool does not. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. D.R. Holbrook, Ad Valorem Tax Division, Department of Revenue, 44 N.C.A.G. 160 (1974).

§ 105-275.1. (Repealed effective July 1, 2003) Reimbursement for exclusion of manufacturers' inventories and poultry and livestock.

(a) Initial Distribution. — On or before January 15, 1989, the governing body of each county and each city shall furnish to the Secretary a list of (i) all the inventories owned by manufacturers that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the county or city under this Subchapter; (ii) all livestock and poultry and feed used in the production of livestock and poultry that was required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and was listed on or before

September 1, 1987, in the county or city under this Subchapter; (iii) all the crops and other agricultural or horticultural products held for sale, whether in process or ready for sale, owned by taxpayers regularly engaged in the growth, breeding, raising, or other production of new products for sale, that were not included under subdivision (ii) above and that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the county or city under this Subchapter; (iv) in the case of a city, all the inventories owned by manufacturers that were located as of January 1, 1987, in an area for which the city began annexation proceedings before September 1, 1987, and which became a part of the city after January 1, 1987, and before January 1, 1988; and (v) in the case of a city, all the inventories owned by manufacturers that were located as of January 1, 1987, in an area for which the city began annexation proceedings before September 1, 1987, and which became a part of the city after January 1, 1988, and before July 1, 1990. The list shall contain the value of the inventories and other items as well as the property tax rates in effect in the county or city for the eight years from 1980 through 1987. The list shall also contain the property tax rates in effect for those years in each special district for which the county or city collected taxes in 1987 but whose tax rates were not included in the rates listed for the county or city, and the value of the inventories owned by manufacturers and other items described in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) above that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in that district. The list shall be accompanied by an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the list and shall be on a form prescribed by the Secretary.

On or before March 20, 1989, the Secretary shall pay to each county and city that submitted a list under this subsection an amount equal to the county or city average rate, as provided below, multiplied by the value of the inventories described in subdivisions (i) and (iv) above contained in the list submitted by the city or county, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce.

On or before March 20, 1989, the Secretary shall also pay to each county and city that submitted a list under this subsection an amount equal to the average rate, as provided below, for each special district for which the county or city collected taxes in 1987, but whose tax rates were not included in the county or city's rates, multiplied by the value of the inventories owned by manufacturers that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the district, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce.

The Secretary shall calculate an average rate for each county and city, and for each special district whose tax rates were not included in the tax rates of a county or city, as the arithmetic mean of the property tax rates in effect in the county, city, or district for the eight years from 1980 through 1987. If a county, city, or district did not have tax rates in effect for the entire eight-year period, the average rate shall be the arithmetic mean of the property rates in effect for the years during the eight-year period that it did have rates in effect.

Of the funds received by each county and city pursuant to this subsection, the portion that was received because the county or city was collecting taxes for a special district (either because the district's tax rate was included in the city or county's rate or because the Secretary paid the county or city the product of the district's average rate and the value of the inventories in the district) shall be distributed among the districts in the county or city as soon as practicable after the city or county receives funds under this subsection. The county or city shall distribute to each special district in the county or city an amount equal to the average rate for the district multiplied by the value of the inventories owned by manufacturers that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the district, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The Local Government Commission may adopt rules for the resolution of disputes and correction of errors in the distribution among special districts provided in this paragraph. The Local Government Commission shall report to the 1990 General Assembly any errors it discovers in the information furnished by local governments to the Secretary as required in this subsection.

(b) Subsequent Distributions. — As soon as practicable after January 1, 1990, the Secretary shall pay to each county and city the amount it received under subsection (a) in 1989 plus an amount equal to the county or city average rate multiplied by the value of the items described in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of subsection (a) that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the county or city, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. As soon as practicable after January 1, 1990, the Secretary shall also pay to each county and city an amount equal to the average rate for each special district for which the county or city collected taxes in 1987, but whose tax rates were not included in the county or city's rates, multiplied by the value of the items described in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of subsection (a) that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the district, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. As soon as practicable after January 1, 1991, except as provided in subsection (f), the Secretary shall pay to each county and city the amount it received under this section the preceding year plus an amount equal to the county or city average rate multiplied by the value of the items described in subdivision (v) of subsection (a) contained in the list submitted by the county or city, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. As soon as practical after January 1, 1992, except as provided in subsection (f), the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city the amount it received under this section the preceding year. On or before April 30, 1993, except as provided in subsection (f), the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city ninety-nine and eighty-one one-hundredths percent (99.81%) of the amount it received under this section the preceding year. Thereafter, until August 1995, except as provided in subsection (f), on or before April 30 of each year, the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city the amount it received under this section the preceding year. On or before August 30, 1995, the Secretary shall determine for each county and city the amount it received in April 1995 under this section. Each year thereafter, except as provided in subsection (f), the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city fifty percent (50%) of this amount on or before September 30 and the remaining fifty percent (50%) on or before the following April 30.

Of the funds received by each county and city pursuant to this subsection in 1990, the portion that was received because the county or city was collecting taxes for a special district (either because the district's tax rate was included in the city or county's rate or because the Secretary paid the county or city the product of the district's average rate and the value of the inventories and other items in the district) shall be distributed among the districts in the county or city as soon as practicable after the city or county receives the funds. The county or city shall distribute to each special district in the county or city the amount it distributed to the district in 1989 plus an amount equal to the average rate for the district multiplied by the value of the items, other than inventory, described in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) of subsection (a) that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the district, plus or minus the percentage of this product that equals the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce.

Each year thereafter, until August 1995, as soon as practicable after receiving funds under this subsection, every county and city shall distribute among the special districts for which the county or city collects tax an amount equal to the amount it distributed among such districts the previous year. Each year thereafter, as soon as practical after receiving funds under this subsection in September, every county and city shall distribute among the special districts for which the county or city collects tax an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount it distributed among such districts in April 1995, and as soon as practicable after receiving funds under this subsection in April, every county and city shall distribute among the special districts for which the county or city collects tax an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount it distributed among such districts in April 1995.

The Local Government Commission may adopt rules for the resolution of disputes and correction of errors in the distribution among special districts provided in this subsection. In addition, the Local Government Commission may adopt rules for the reallocation of funds when a special district is dissolved, merged, or consolidated, or when a special district ceases to levy tax, either temporarily or permanently.

(c) Use. — Funds received by a county, city, or special district under this section may be used for any lawful purpose.

(d) "City" Defined. — As used in this section, the term "city" has the same meaning as in G.S. 153A-1(1).

(e) Source of Funds. — To pay for the distribution required by this section and the cost to the Department of Revenue of making the distribution, the Secretary of Revenue shall draw from collections received under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter an amount equal to the amount distributed and the cost of making the distribution.

(f) Correction of Errors. — If the Secretary discovers that the amount or value of any inventories or other items listed by a county or city pursuant to subsection (a) of this section was overstated or understated, the Secretary shall adjust the amount to be distributed under subsection (b) as follows. For the distribution to be made in the year following discovery of the overstatement or understatement, the Secretary shall distribute to the county or city the amount it would have received under subsection (b) in 1993 if it had not overstated or understated the amount or value of any inventories or other items, plus the total amount it failed to receive in 1989 and subsequent years due to understatement of the amount or value of the inventories or other items, or minus the total amount it received in 1989 and subsequent years due to overstatement of the amount or value of the inventories or other items. Thereafter, each year the Secretary shall distribute to the county or city the amount it would have received under subsection (b) in 1993 if it had not overstated or understated the amount or value of any inventories or other items. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s.

1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-275.2. (Repealed effective July 1, 2003) Reimbursement to counties and municipalities for repeal of State tax on intangible personal property.

(a) Reimbursement for Repeal of Tax on Money on Deposit, Money on Hand, and Funds on Deposit with Insurance Companies. — On or before August 30 of each year, the Secretary of Revenue shall allocate to each county the amount allocated to the county under this subsection in 1990.

(a1) Reimbursement for Partial Repeal of Tax on Accounts Receivable. — On or before August 30 of each year, the Secretary of Revenue shall allocate to counties an amount equal to forty percent (40%) of the tax collected on accounts receivable under former Article 7 of this Chapter (repealed) during the 1989-90 fiscal year. The Secretary shall allocate this amount among the counties in proportion to the amount allocated to each county under former G.S. 105-213 (repealed) in August 1994.

(a2) Reimbursement for Repeal of Tax on Accounts Receivable, Bonds, Stocks, and Foreign Trust Interests. — On or before August 30 of each year, the Secretary of Revenue shall allocate to counties the sum of ninety-five million three hundred thirty-one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven dollars ($95,331,927). The Secretary shall allocate this amount among the counties in proportion to the amount allocated to each county under former G.S. 105-213 (repealed) in August 1994.

(a3) Distribution Between County and Its Municipalities. — The amounts allocated to each county under this section shall be allocated between the county and the municipalities in the county in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each during the fiscal year preceding the distribution. In dividing these amounts between each county and its municipalities, the Secretary of Revenue shall treat taxes levied by a merged school administrative unit described in G.S. 115C-513 in a part of the unit located in a county as taxes levied by the county in which that part is located.

§ 105-275.2 has a postponed repeal date. See notes.

After making these allocations, the Secretary shall certify to the State Controller and to the State Treasurer the amount to be distributed to each county and municipality in the State. The State Controller shall then issue a warrant on the State Treasurer to each county and municipality in the amount certified.

For the purpose of computing the distribution to any county and the municipalities located in the county for any year with respect to which the property valuation of a public service company is the subject of an appeal and the Department of Revenue is restrained by law from certifying the valuation to the county and the municipalities in the county, the Department shall use the last property valuation of the public service company that has been certified.

The chair of each board of county commissioners and the mayor of each municipality shall report to the Secretary of Revenue information requested by the Secretary to enable the Secretary to allocate the amount distributed by this section. If a county or municipality fails to make a requested report within the time allowed, the Secretary may disregard the county or municipality in allocating the amount distributed by this section.

(b) Restrictions on Use. — The amount distributed to each county and municipality shall be used by the county or municipality in proportion to property tax levies made by it for the various funds and activities of the county or municipality, unless the county or municipality has pledged the amount to be distributed to it under this section in payment of a loan agreement with the North Carolina Solid Waste Management Capital Projects Financing Agency. A county or municipality that has pledged amounts distributed under this section in payment of a loan agreement with the Agency may apply the amount the loan agreement requires.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 41, s. 3.

(d) Source. — Funds distributed under this section shall be drawn from collections received under Part 2 of Article 4 of this Chapter.

(e) (Expires September 1, 2002) Reduction. — Each year, on or before July 15, the governing body of each county and each municipality shall notify the Secretary of the amount of taxes it collected in the preceding fiscal year from taxes on intangible personal property discovered on or after January 1, 1997, for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1991. The Secretary shall reduce the amount allocated to each county and municipality for distribution the following August by the amount the county or municipality reports pursuant to this subsection. If the Secretary discovers that a county or municipality failed to report any taxes as required by this subsection, the Secretary shall reduce the county or municipality's next distribution under this section by ten percent (10%).

(f) (Expires September 1, 2003) Additional Reduction. — Each year, on or before July 15, the governing body of each county and each municipality shall notify the Secretary of the amount of taxes it collected in the preceding fiscal year from taxes on qualified retirement facility property, as defined in G.S. 105-278.6A, discovered on or after January 1, 1998, for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1992. The Secretary shall reduce the amount allocated to each county and municipality for distribution the following August by one hundred ten percent (110%) of the amount the county or municipality reports pursuant to this subsection. (1985, c. 656, s. 41; 1989, c. 752, s. 52(c); 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 813, s. 8; 1991, c. 689, s. 28(h); 1991 (Reg. Section repealed effective July 1, 2003.

— This section is repealed effective July 1, 2003, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.15.

Editor's Note. — This section is former G.S. 105-213.1, as rewritten and recodified by Session Laws 1995, c. 41, ss. 1(a) and 3. The historical citations to the former section have been added to the section as rewritten and recodified.

Session Laws 1997-23, s. 10 provides in part that the amendment by s. 8, which adds G.S. 105-275.2(e), becomes effective July 1, 1997 and expires September 1, 2002.

Session Laws 1999-191, s. 4 provides in part that s. 2 of this act, which adds G.S. 105-275.2(f), is effective on and after July 1, 1998, and expires September 1, 2003. Section 4 also provides that notwithstanding G.S. 105-275.2(f), as enacted by Session Laws 1999-191, the report otherwise due under that subsection on July 15, 1998, is due on July 15, 1999.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-191, s. 2, effective on and after July 1, 1998, until September 1, 2003, added subsection (f).

§ 105-276. Taxation of intangible personal property.

Intangible personal property that is not excluded from taxation under G.S. 105-275 is subject to this Subchapter. The exclusion of a class of intangible personal property from taxation under G.S. 105-275 does not affect the appraisal or assessment of real property and tangible personal property. (1939, c. 310, s. 601; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 1180; 1985, c. 656, s. 38; 1987, c. 813, s. 8; 1995, c. 41, s. 6; 1997-23, s. 2.)

§ 105-277. Property classified for taxation at reduced rates; certain deductions.

(a) through (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 9, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(d) All bona fide indebtedness incurred in the purchase of fertilizer and fertilizer materials owing by a taxpayer as principal debtor may be deducted from the total value of all fertilizer and fertilizer materials as are held by such taxpayer for his own use in agriculture during the current year. Provided, further, that from the total value of cotton stored in this State there may be deducted by the owner thereof all bona fide indebtedness incurred directly for the purchase of said cotton and for the payment of which the cotton so purchased is pledged as collateral.

(e) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 9, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1988.

(f) Repealed by Session Laws 1977, c. 869, s. 1.

(g) Buildings equipped with a solar energy heating or cooling system, or both, are hereby designated a special class of property under authority of Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution. Such buildings shall be assessed for taxation in accordance with each county's schedules of value for buildings equipped with conventional heating or cooling systems and no additional value shall be assigned for the difference in cost between a solar energy heating or cooling system and a conventional system typically found in the county. As used in this classification, the term "system" includes all controls, tanks, pumps, heat exchangers and other equipment used directly and exclusively for the conversion of solar energy for heating or cooling. The term "system" does not include any land or structural elements of the building such as walls and roofs nor other equipment ordinarily contained in the structure.

(h) Private Water Companies. — Contributions in aid of construction and acquisition adjustments. In assessing the property of any private water company, there shall be excluded that portion of the investment of the company represented by contributions in aid of construction and by acquisition adjustments which is designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the Constitution. "Investment," "contributions in aid of construction" and "acquisition adjustment" shall have the meanings as those terms are defined in the Uniform System of Accounts specified by the North Carolina Utilities Commission for use by such private water company.

CASE NOTES

- I. In General.
- II. Decisions under Prior Law.

I. IN GENERAL.

A taxpayer does not have to cite or make reference to the applicable statute in order to claim the applicable exemption allowed by this section if the application shows facts which entitle the applicant to such exemption. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 74 N.C. App. 140, 327 S.E.2d 607 (1985).

II. DECISIONS UNDER PRIOR LAW.

Editor's Note. — The cases below were decided under former subsections of this section.

Catchline of Former Subsection (a) Did Not Control over Body of Subsection. — See In re Forsyth County, 285 N.C. 64, 203 S.E.2d 51 (1974).

Assuming the catchline "(a) Agricultural Products in Storage" was inserted by the General Assembly and not by a compiler, nevertheless the body of former subsection (a) provided that the product be held for manufacturing and processing. In re Forsyth County, 285 N.C. 64, 203 S.E.2d 51 (1974).

Former Subsection (a) Held to Discriminate Against Railroads. — Former subsection (a) of this section, which required tobacco warehouses to pay tax on only 60% of their tobacco in storage, discriminated against railroads, whose property was assessed at 100% of market value, in violation of § 306 of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act, 49 U.S.C. § 11503. Clinchfield R.R. v. Lynch, 605 F. Supp. 1005 (E.D.N.C. 1985), aff'd, 784 F.2d 545 (4th Cir. 1986).

In suits alleging discriminatory taxation of real and personal property in violation of § 306 of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976 (the 4-R Act), codified at 49 U.S.C. § 11503 (1982), the trial court was correct in considering as a factor in its finding of tax discrimination the fact that under this section stored tobacco inventories were taxed at only 60% of fair market value. Clinchfield R.R. v. Lynch, 784 F.2d 545 (4th Cir. 1986).

Application of North Carolina's ad valorem property tax to imported tobacco destined for domestic markets did not violate the import-export clause or the due process clause of the federal Constitution. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. v. Durham County, 479 U.S. 130, 107 S. Ct. 499, 93 L. Ed. 2d 449 (1986).

Consistent with the supremacy clause, a State may impose a nondiscriminatory ad valorem property tax on imported goods stored in a customs-bonded warehouse and destined for domestic manufacture and sale. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. v. Durham County, 479 U.S. 130, 107 S. Ct. 499, 93 L. Ed. 2d 449 (1986).

Classification of Tobacco Generally. — The legislature plainly intended to establish two classes of property: (1) under former § 105-275(1), if tobacco was held or stored for shipment to any foreign country, it was exempt; and (2) under former subsection (a) of this section, if tobacco (or other farm products) was held or stored for manufacture or processing, it was taxed at the preferential rate. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

Tobacco was an agricultural product under this section until it was manufactured into the finished product. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

When Tobacco Taxed Pursuant to Former Subsection (a). — Tobacco that is being held or stored to be manufactured or processed is taxed pursuant to this section, where it is given a preferential rate of 60 percent of value for tax purposes. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

Tobacco removed from shed where hogs-heads were stored during early part of aging process was still an agricultural product and retained its preferred status. In re Forsyth County, 285 N.C. 64, 203 S.E.2d 51 (1974).

Raw tobacco was not exempt from taxation as being held or stored for shipment to foreign country within the meaning of former § 105-275(1) where the tobacco was to be manufactured into cigarettes and other tobacco products, and the cigarettes and other products would be shipped to a foreign country; rather, the tobacco was held or stored for processing or manufacture and was taxable at the preferential rate of 60 percent of value under former subsection (a) of this section. In re R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981).

§ 105-277.001. (Repealed effective July 1, 2003) Reimbursement for exclusion of retailers' and wholesalers' inventories.

(a) Submission of Claims. — On or before January 15, 1989, the governing body of each county and city shall furnish to the Secretary a list of all the inventories owned by retailers and wholesalers that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in the county or city under this Subchapter. The list shall contain the value of the inventories as well as the property tax rates in effect in the county or city for the eight years from 1980 through 1987. The list shall also contain the property tax rates in effect for those years in each special district for which the county or city collected taxes in 1987 but whose tax rates were not included in the rates listed for the county or city, and the value of the inventories owned by retailers and wholesalers that were required to be listed and assessed as of January 1, 1987, and were listed on or before September 1, 1987, in that district. The list shall be accompanied by an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the list and shall be on a form prescribed by the Secretary.

The Secretary shall calculate an average rate for each county and city, and for each special district whose tax rates were not included in the tax rates of a county or city, as the arithmetic mean of the property tax rates in effect in the county, city, or district for the eight years from 1980 through 1987. If a county, city, or district did not have tax rates in effect for the entire eight-year period, the average rate shall be the arithmetic mean of the property rates in effect for the years during the eight-year period that it did have rates in effect.

(b) First Per Capita Distribution. — As soon as practicable after January 1 of 1989, the Secretary shall distribute to each taxing unit the unit's per capita share of the sum of fifteen million seven hundred forty-five thousand dollars ($15,745,000). Thereafter, as soon as practicable after January 1 of 1990 and 1991, the Secretary shall distribute to each taxing unit the unit's per capita share of an amount equal to the sum distributed to all taxing units the previous year under this subsection plus or minus the product of the sum distributed the previous year and the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce.

On or before April 30 of 1992, 1993, 1994, and 1995, the Secretary shall distribute to each taxing unit the unit's per capita share of the sum that this subsection provided was to be distributed to all taxing units in 1991. Beginning August 1995 and each year thereafter, the Secretary shall determine for each taxing unit the unit's per capita share of the sum that this subsection provided was to be distributed to all taxing units in 1991. Each year, the Secretary shall distribute to each taxing unit fifty percent (50%) of this share on or before September 30 and the remaining fifty percent (50%) of this share on or before the following April 30.

To make the per capita distributions required by this subsection, the Secretary shall first allocate the sum to be distributed among the counties on a per capita basis. The Secretary shall then compute a per capita distributable amount for each county by dividing the amount allocated to a county by the total population of the county, plus the population of any incorporated towns and cities located in the county. Each taxing unit in a county, including the county itself, shall receive the product of the population of the taxing unit and the per capita distributable amount for that county.

A city or county that receives funds under this subsection and that collects taxes for another taxing unit shall distribute part of the taxes received by it to the taxing unit for which it collects tax. The distribution shall be made on the basis of the proportionate amount of ad valorem taxes levied, for the most recent fiscal year beginning July 1, by the city or county and by all the taxing units for which the city or county collects tax. This distribution shall be made as soon as practicable after a city or county receives funds from the State under this section.

(c) Second Per Capita Distribution. — On or before March 20, 1989, the Secretary shall allocate to each county the county's per capita share of the sum of thirty-nine million dollars ($39,000,000).

Each year thereafter through April 1995, on or before April 30, the Secretary of Revenue shall allocate to each county the amount it received the previous year under this subsection. On or before August 30, 1995, the Secretary shall determine for each county the amount it received in April 1995 under this subsection. Each year thereafter, the Secretary shall distribute fifty percent (50%) of this amount to each county on or before September 30 and the remaining fifty percent (50%) to each county on or before the following April 30.

Amounts allocated to a county under this subsection shall in turn be divided and distributed between the county and the cities located in the county in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each during the fiscal year preceding the distribution. For the purposes of this section, the amount of the ad valorem taxes levied by a county or city shall include any ad valorem taxes collected by the county or city in behalf of a special district. For the purpose of computing the distribution for any year with respect to which the property valuation of a public service company is the subject of an appeal and the Department of Revenue is restrained by law from certifying the valuation to the appropriate counties and cities, the Department shall use the latest property valuation of that public service company that has been certified.

The governing body of each county and city shall report to the Secretary of Revenue such information as he may request in order to make the distribution under this subsection. If a county or city fails to make a requested report within the time prescribed, the Secretary may disregard that county or city and the other taxing units in the county or city in making the distribution.

(c1) Claims-based Distribution. — On or before March 20, 1989, the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city an amount equal to the amount by which the county or city's inventory loss, as defined in subsection (d) of this section, exceeds the amount of the reimbursement received by the county or city under subsection (c) of this section.

Except as provided in subsection (g) of this section, each year thereafter through April 1995, on or before April 30, the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city the amount it received the previous year under this subsection. On or before August 30, 1995, the Secretary shall determine for each county and city the amount it received in April 1995 under this subsection. Each year thereafter, the Secretary shall distribute fifty percent (50%) of this amount to each county and city on or before September 30 and the remaining fifty percent (50%) of this amount to each county and city on or before the following April 30.

(c2) Supplemental Distribution. — On or before March 20, 1989, the Secretary shall determine, with respect to each county and city, whether the sum of (i) the amount the county or city received under subsection (c), plus (ii) the amount the county or city received under subsection (c1), plus (iii) three and four-tenths percent (3.4%) of the total distribution received by the county or city under G.S. 105-472, 105-486, 105-501, and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws between January 1, 1988, and December 31, 1988, is less than ninety percent (90%) of the amount of taxes the county or city actually levied on inventories owned by retailers and wholesalers for the 1987-88 tax year. If that sum is less than ninety percent (90%) of the amount of taxes the county or city actually levied on those inventories for the 1987-88 tax year, the Secretary shall distribute to that county or city a supplemental amount equal to the amount by which ninety percent (90%) of the taxes it actually levied on inventories owned by retailers and wholesalers for the 1987-88 tax year exceeds the total of subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii).

Except as provided in subsection (g) of this section, each year thereafter through April 1995, on or before April 30, the Secretary shall distribute to each county and city the amount it received the previous year under this subsection. On or before August 30, 1995, the Secretary shall determine for each county and city the amount it received in April 1995 under this subsection. Each year thereafter, the Secretary shall distribute fifty percent (50%) of this amount to each county and city on or before September 30 and the remaining fifty percent (50%) of this amount to each county and city on or before the following April 30.

(c3) Distribution to Special Districts. — Of the funds received by each county and city pursuant to subsections (c), (c1), and (c2) of this section, the portion that was received because the county or city was collecting taxes for a special district shall be distributed among the districts in the county or city in proportion to the amount of each special district's inventory levy, as defined in subsection (d) of this section, as soon as practicable after the city or county receives funds under this subsection. The Local Government Commission may adopt rules for the resolution of disputes and correction of errors in the distribution among special districts provided in this paragraph. In addition, the Local Government Commission may adopt rules for the reallocation of funds when a special district is dissolved, merged, or consolidated, or when a special district ceases to levy tax, either temporarily or permanently.

(d) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) "City" has the same meaning as in G.S. 153A-1(1).

(2) "City's inventory loss" means the city's average rate multiplied by eighty percent (80%) of the value of the inventories reported to the Secretary under subsection (a) of this section by the city, plus the average rate for each special district for which the city collected taxes in 1987, but whose tax rates were not included in the city's rates, multiplied by eighty percent (80%) of the value of the inventories reported to the Secretary under subsection (a) of this section in behalf of the district, plus or minus the percentage of this amount that equals the lesser of five percent (5%) or the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce, minus three and four-tenths percent (3.4%) of the total distribution received by the city under G.S. 105-472, 105-486, 105-501, and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws between January 1, 1988, and December 31, 1988.

- (3) "County's inventory loss" means the county's average rate multiplied by eighty percent (80%) of the value of the inventories reported to the Secretary under subsection (a) of this section by the county, plus the average rate for each special district for which the county collected taxes in 1987, but whose tax rates were not included in the county's rates, multiplied by eighty percent (80%) of the value of the inventories reported to the Secretary under subsection (a) of this section in behalf of the district, plus or minus the percentage of this amount that equals the lesser of five percent (5%) or the percentage by which State personal income has increased or decreased during the most recent 12-month period for which State personal income data has been compiled by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce, minus three and four-tenths percent (3.4%) of the total distribution received by the county under G.S. 105-472, 105-486, 105-501, and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws between January 1, 1988, and December 31, 1988.
- (4) "Special district's inventory levy" means the special district's average rate multiplied by eighty percent (80%) of the value of the inventories reported to the Secretary under subsection (a) of this section in behalf of the district.
- (5) "Taxing unit" means a unit that levied a property tax or for which another unit collected a property tax for the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year a distribution is made under this section.

(e) Population Estimates. — In making the per capita calculations under this section, the Secretary shall use the most recent annual population estimates certified by the State Planning Officer.

(f) Source of Funds. — To pay for the distribution required by this section and the cost of making the distribution, the Secretary shall draw from collections received under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter an amount equal to the amount distributed and the cost of making the distribution.

(g) Correction of Errors. — If the Secretary discovers that the amount or value of any inventories listed by a county or city pursuant to subsection (a) of this section was overstated or understated, the Secretary shall adjust the amount to be distributed under subsections (c1) and (c2) as follows. For the distribution to be made in the year following discovery of the overstatement or understatement, the Secretary shall distribute to the county or city the amount it would have received under subsections (c1) and (c2) in 1989 if it had not overstated or understated the amount or value of any inventories, plus the total amount it failed to receive in 1989 and subsequent years due to understatement of the amount or value of the inventories, or minus the total amount it received in 1989 and subsequent years due to overstatement of the amount or value of the inventories. Thereafter, each year the Secretary shall distribute to the county or city the amount it would have received under subsections (c1) and (c2) in 1989 if it had not overstated or understated the amount or value of any inventories. Section Repealed Effective July 1, 2003.

— This section is repealed effective July 1, 2003, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.15.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1.5, effective January 1, 1997, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, amends Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, s. 4, by deleting the word “and” before subdivision (4), by changing the period at the end of subdivision (4) to a semicolon and adding the word “and”, and by adding subdivision (5), which reads: “The sales price of food and other items that are not otherwise exempt from tax pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 but would be exempt from the State sales and use tax pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 if purchased with coupons issued under the Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51.”

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that the act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: “This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal.”

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1.6, amends Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, s. 5, by substituting “The use tax that Mecklenburg County may impose under this division is a tax at the rate of one percent (1%) of the cost price of each item or article of tangible personal property that is not sold but is used, consumed, or stored for use or consumption in Mecklenburg County. The tax applies to the same items that are subject to tax under Section 4 of this act” for the first sentence of section 5.

Former 105-277A was recodified as this section pursuant to Session Laws 1997-456, s. 27, which authorized the Revisor of Statutes to renumber or reletter sections and parts of sections having a number or letter designation that is incompatible with the General Assembly's computer database.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001.’”

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-277.01. Certain farm products classified for taxation at reduced valuation.

Farm products (including crops but excluding poultry and other livestock) held by or for a cooperative stabilization or marketing association or corporation to which they have been delivered, conveyed, or assigned by the original producer for the purpose of sale are hereby designated a special class of property under authority of Article V, Sec. 2(2), of the North Carolina Constitution. Before being assessed for taxation the appraised valuation of farm products so classified shall be reduced by the amount of any unpaid loan or advance made or granted thereon by the United States government, an agency of the United States government, or a cooperative stabilization or marketing association or corporation. (1973, c. 695, s. 3.)

§ 105-277.1. Property tax homestead exclusion.

(a) Exclusion. — A permanent residence owned and occupied by a qualifying owner is designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and is taxable in accordance with this section. The amount of the appraised value of the residence equal to the exclusion amount is excluded from taxation. The exclusion amount is the greater of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or fifty percent (50%) of the appraised value of the residence. A qualifying owner is an owner who meets all of the following requirements as of January 1 preceding the taxable year for which the benefit is claimed:

- (1) Is at least 65 years of age or totally and permanently disabled.
- (2) Has an income for the preceding calendar year of not more than the income eligibility limit.
- (3) Is a North Carolina resident.

(a1) Temporary Absence. — An otherwise qualifying owner does not lose the benefit of this exclusion because of a temporary absence from his or her permanent residence for reasons of health, or because of an extended absence while confined to a rest home or nursing home, so long as the residence is unoccupied or occupied by the owner's spouse or other dependent.

(a2) Income Eligibility Limit. — Until July 1, 2003, the income eligibility limit is eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000). For taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2003, the income eligibility limit is the amount for the preceding year, adjusted by the same percentage of this amount as the percentage of any cost-of-living adjustment made to the benefits under Titles II and XVI of the Social Security Act for the preceding calendar year, rounded to the nearest one hundred dollars ($100.00). On or before July 1 of each year, the Department of Revenue must determine the income eligibility amount to be in effect for the taxable year beginning the following July 1 and must notify the assessor of each county of the amount to be in effect for that taxable year.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Code. — The Internal Revenue Code, as defined in G.S. 105-228.90.

(1a) Income. — Adjusted gross income, as defined in section 62 of the Code, plus all other moneys received from every source other than gifts or inheritances received from a spouse, lineal ancestor, or lineal descendant. For married applicants residing with their spouses, the income of both spouses must be included, whether or not the property is in both names.

(1b) Owner. — A person who holds legal or equitable title, whether individually, as a tenant by the entirety, a joint tenant, or a tenant in common, or as the holder of a life estate or an estate for the life of another. A manufactured home jointly owned by husband and wife is considered property held by the entirety.

(2) Repealed by Session Laws 1993, c. 360, s. 1.

(2a) Repealed by Session Laws 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 982, s. 20.

(3) Permanent residence. — A person's legal residence. It includes the dwelling, the dwelling site, not to exceed one acre, and related improvements. The dwelling may be a single family residence, a unit in a multi-family residential complex, or a manufactured home.

(4) Totally and permanently disabled. — A person is totally and permanently disabled if the person has a physical or mental impairment that substantially precludes him or her from obtaining gainful employment and appears reasonably certain to continue without substantial improvement throughout his or her life.

(c) Application. — An application for the exclusion provided by this section should be filed during the regular listing period, but may be filed and must be accepted at any time up to and through June 1 preceding the tax year for which the exclusion is claimed. When property is owned by two or more persons other than husband and wife and one or more of them qualifies for this exclusion, each owner must apply separately for his or her proportionate share of the exclusion.

- (1) Elderly Applicants. — Persons 65 years of age or older may apply for this exclusion by entering the appropriate information on a form made available by the assessor under G.S. 105-282.1.
- (2) Disabled Applicants. — Persons who are totally and permanently disabled may apply for this exclusion by (i) entering the appropriate information on a form made available by the assessor under G.S. 105-282.1 and (ii) furnishing acceptable proof of their disability. The proof must be in the form of a certificate from a physician licensed to practice medicine in North Carolina or from a governmental agency authorized to determine qualification for disability benefits. After a disabled applicant has qualified for this classification, the applicant is not required to furnish an additional certificate unless the applicant's disability is reduced to the extent that the applicant could no longer be certified for the taxation at reduced valuation.

(d) Multiple Ownership. — A permanent residence owned and occupied by husband and wife as tenants by the entirety is entitled to the full benefit of this exclusion notwithstanding that only one of them meets the age or disability requirements of this section. When a permanent residence is owned and occupied by two or more persons other than husband and wife and one or more of the owners qualifies for this exclusion, each qualifying owner is entitled to the full amount of the exclusion not to exceed his or her proportionate share of the valuation of the property. No part of an exclusion available to one co-owner may be claimed by any other co-owner and in no event may the total exclusion allowed for a permanent residence exceed the exclusion amount provided in this section. (1971, c. 932, s. 1; 1973, c. 448, s. 1; 1975, c. 881, s. 2; 1977, c. 666, s. 1; 1979, c. 356, s. 1; c. 846, s. 1; 1981, c. 54, s. 1; c. 1052, s. 1; 1985, c. 656, ss. 44, 45; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 982, ss. 19, 20; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; 1993, c. 360, s. 1; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, s. 15.1(a); 2001-308, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-308, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2002, rewrote the section catchline; rewrote subsection (a); inserted the subsection (a1) designation and catchline; added subsection (a2); substituted "The following definitions apply in this section" for "When used in this section, the following definitions shall apply" in subsection (b); in the introductory paragraph of subsection (c), substituted "June 1" for "April 15" and "must" for "shall"; and in subdivision (c)(2), substituted "must" for "shall" in the first sentence and substituted "the applicant is not" for "he or she shall not be."

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Exclusion May Not Be Claimed by Executor. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. D.R. Holbrook, State Board of Assessment, 42 N.C.A.G. 198 (1973).

Person Not Disqualified for Beneficial

Treatment If Away from Residence and in Nursing Home for More Than Six Months.

— See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. John R. Milliken, 41 N.C.A.G. 725 (1972).

§ 105-277.1A. (Repealed effective July 1, 2003) Property classified for taxation at reduced valuation; duties of tax collectors; reimbursement of localities for portion of tax lost.

(a) On September 1, 1990, the tax collector of each county and the tax collector of each city shall furnish to the Secretary of Revenue a list containing the name and address of each person who has qualified in that year for the exemption provided in G.S. 105-277.1. The list shall also contain for each name the total amount of property exempted, the tax rate the property is subject to, and the product obtained by multiplying those two numbers by each other. The lists shall be accompanied by an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the list and shall all be on a form prescribed by the Secretary of Revenue.

(a1) On December 1, 1997, the tax collector of each county and the tax collector of each city shall furnish to the Secretary of Revenue two lists containing the name and address of each taxpayer who has qualified in that year for the exemption provided in G.S. 105-277.1. The first list shall include those taxpayers whose income was above eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) and the second list shall include those taxpayers whose income was eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) or less. On the first list, the tax collector shall provide for each name the total amount of property exempted and on the second list, the tax collector shall provide for each name the amount of property above fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) exempted. On both lists, the tax collector shall provide the tax rate the property is subject to and the product obtained by multiplying the tax rate by the amount of property. The lists shall be accompanied by an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the list and shall be on a form prescribed by the Secretary of Revenue.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 18, s. 15.1(c).

(c) The Secretary of Revenue may, for cause, grant an extension for the submission of a list required by this section.

(d) Before May 31, 1991, the Secretary of Revenue shall distribute to the county or city fifty percent (50%) of the total for the entire list provided pursuant to subsection (a) of this section of the product obtained by multiplying the tax exemption for each taxpayer times the applicable tax rate. Each year thereafter, on or before May 31, the Secretary of Revenue shall pay to each county and city that was entitled to receive a distribution under this subsection in 1991 the amount it was entitled to receive in 1991.

(d1) Before May 31, 1998, the Secretary of Revenue shall distribute to the county or city fifty percent (50%) of the total for both lists provided the preceding December 1 pursuant to subsection (a1) of this section of the product obtained by multiplying the applicable tax rate times the amount listed for each taxpayer. Before May 31, 1999, the Secretary of Revenue shall pay to each county and city the amount it received under this subsection in 1998.

(e) Any funds received by any county or city pursuant to this section because the county or city was collecting taxes for another unit of government or special district shall be credited to the funds of that other unit or district in accordance with regulations issued by the Local Government Commission.

(f) In order to pay for the reimbursement under this section and the cost to the Department of Revenue of administering the reimbursement, the Secretary of Revenue shall draw from collections received under Part 1 of Article 4 of this Chapter an amount equal to the reimbursement and the cost of administration. (1981, c. 1052, ss. 2-4; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1282, s. 70.1; 1985, c. 656, ss. 46, 50; 1989, c. 752, s. 52(g); 1991, c. 689, s. 28(k); 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 993, s. 4; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 18, s. 15.1(c); 1998-98, s. 70; 2001-424, s. 34.15(a)(5).)

Section Repealed Effective July 1, 2003. — This section is repealed effective July 1, 2003, by Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.15.
Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the

'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."
 Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-277.2. Agricultural, horticultural, and forestland — Definitions.

The following definitions apply in G.S. 105-277.3 through G.S. 105-277.7:

- (1) Agricultural land. — Land that is a part of a farm unit that is actively engaged in the commercial production or growing of crops, plants, or animals under a sound management program. Agricultural land includes woodland and wasteland that is a part of the farm unit, but the woodland and wasteland included in the unit shall be appraised under the use-value schedules as woodland or wasteland. A farm unit may consist of more than one tract of agricultural land, but at least one of the tracts must meet the requirements in G.S. 105-277.3(a)(1), and each tract must be under a sound management program.
- (1a) Business entity. — A corporation, a general partnership, a limited partnership, or a limited liability company.
- (2) Forestland. — Land that is a part of a forest unit that is actively engaged in the commercial growing of trees under a sound management program. Forestland includes wasteland that is a part of the forest unit, but the wasteland included in the unit shall be appraised under the use-value schedules as wasteland. A forest unit may consist of more than one tract of forestland, but at least one of the tracts must meet the requirements in G.S. 105-277.3(a)(3), and each tract must be under a sound management program.
- (3) Horticultural land. — Land that is a part of a horticultural unit that is actively engaged in the commercial production or growing of fruits or vegetables or nursery or floral products under a sound management program. Horticultural land includes woodland and wasteland that is a part of the horticultural unit, but the woodland and wasteland included in the unit shall be appraised under the use-value schedules as woodland or wasteland. A horticultural unit may consist of more than one tract of horticultural land, but at least one of the tracts must meet the requirements in G.S. 105-277.3(a)(2), and each tract must be under a sound management program.
- (4) Individually owned. — Owned by one of the following:
  - a. A natural person. For the purpose of this section, a natural person who is an income beneficiary of a trust that owns land may elect to treat the person's beneficial share of the land as owned by that person. If the person's beneficial interest is not an identifiable share of land but can be established as a proportional interest in the trust income, the person's beneficial share of land is a percentage of the land owned by the trust that corresponds to the beneficiary's proportional interest in the trust income. For the purpose of this section, a natural person who is a member of a business entity, other than a corporation, that owns land may elect to treat the person's share of the land as owned by that person. The person's share is a percentage of the land owned by the business entity that corresponds to the person's percentage of ownership in the entity.
  - b. A business entity having as its principal business one of the activities described in subdivisions (1), (2), and (3) and whose members are all natural persons who meet one or more of the following conditions:

1. The member is actively engaged in the business of the entity.
  2. The member is a relative of a member who is actively engaged in the business of the entity.
  3. The member is a relative of, and inherited the membership interest from, a decedent who met one or both of the preceding conditions after the land qualified for classification in the hands of the business entity.
- c. A trust that was created by a natural person who transferred the land to the trust and each of whose beneficiaries who is currently entitled to receive income or principal meets one of the following conditions:
1. Is the creator of the trust or the creator's relative.
  2. Is a second trust whose beneficiaries who are currently entitled to receive income or principal are all either the creator of the first trust or the creator's relatives.
- d. A testamentary trust that meets all of the following conditions:
1. It was created by a natural person who transferred to the trust land that qualified in that person's hands for classification under G.S. 105-277.3.
  2. At the time of the creator's death, the creator had no relatives as defined in this section as of the date of death.
  3. The trust income, less reasonable administrative expenses, is used exclusively for educational, scientific, literary, cultural, charitable, or religious purposes as defined in G.S. 105-278.3(d).
- (4a) Member. — A shareholder of a corporation, a partner of a general or limited partnership, or a member of a limited liability company.
- (5) Present-use value. — The value of land in its current use as agricultural land, horticultural land, or forestland, based solely on its ability to produce income, using a rate of nine percent (9%) to capitalize the expected net income of the property and assuming an average level of management.
- (5a) Relative. — Any of the following:
- a. A spouse or the spouse's lineal ancestor or descendant.
  - b. A lineal ancestor or a lineal descendant.
  - c. A brother or sister, or the lineal descendant of a brother or sister.
For the purposes of this sub-subdivision, the term brother or sister includes stepbrother or stepsister.
  - d. An aunt or an uncle.
  - e. A spouse of a person listed in paragraphs a. through d.
For the purpose of this subdivision, an adoptive or adopted relative is a relative and the term "spouse" includes a surviving spouse.
- (6) Sound management program. — A program of production designed to obtain the greatest net return from the land consistent with its conservation and long-term improvement. (1973, c. 709, s. 1; 1975, c. 746, s. 1; 1985, c. 628, s. 1; c. 667, ss. 1, 4; 1987, c. 698, s. 1; 1995, c. 454, s. 1; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 17; 1998-98, s. 24.)

CASE NOTES

Ownership distinctions of subdivision (4)b and (5a) of this section satisfy equal protection requirements of state and federal constitutions. In re Consol. Appeals of Certain Timber Cos., 98 N.C. App. 412, 391 S.E.2d 503 (1990).

Statutory Scheme Is Tax Deferment. — The statutory scheme for taxation of property qualifying for present use value treatment as defined in this section and (former) § 105-277.3 is a tax deferment. In re Parker, 76 N.C. App. 447, 333 S.E.2d 749 (1985).

Principal Business of a Corporation. — Factors which should be looked at in determining the principal business of a corporation for present use valuation other than gross income are net income or profit and its source, annual receipts and disbursement, the purpose of the corporation as stated in its corporate charter and the actual corporate function in relation to its stated corporate purpose. W.R. Co. v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 48 N.C. App. 245, 269 S.E.2d 636 (1980), cert. denied, 301 N.C. 727, 276 S.E.2d 287 (1981).

Property to Be Valued on Ability to Produce Income in Present Use. — Clear legislative intent under this section is that property be valued on the basis of its ability to produce income in the manner of its present use; all other uses for which the property might be employed, and the many factors enunciated in § 105-317(a), are irrelevant and immaterial. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Taxpayer Had Standing to Appeal to County. — Where taxpayer complained that the property of a real estate corporation was undervalued, with the result that other property owners in the county would bear a disproportionate share of the tax burden, taxpayer was adversely affected by the alleged undervaluation of the corporation's property and had standing to appeal to the county for a revaluation of the corporate property. In re Whiteside Estates, Inc., 136 N.C. ## OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Interest Is Due on Deferred Taxes. — See Schwartz, N.C. House of Representatives, 43 opinion of Attorney General of Honorable B.D. N.C.A.G. 64 (1973).

§ 105-277.3. Agricultural, horticultural, and forestland — Classifications.

(a) Classes Defined. — The following classes of property are designated special classes of property under authority of Section 2(2) of Article V of the North Carolina Constitution and shall be appraised, assessed, and taxed as provided in G.S. 105-277.2 through G.S. 105-277.7.

(1) Agricultural land. — Individually owned agricultural land consisting of one or more tracts, one of which consists of at least 10 acres that are in actual production and that, for the three years preceding January 1 of the year for which the benefit of this section is claimed, have produced an average gross income of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000). Gross income includes income from the sale of the agricultural products produced from the land and any payments received under a governmental soil conservation or land retirement program. Land in actual production includes land under improvements used in the commercial production or growing of crops, plants, or animals.

- (2) Horticultural land. — Individually owned horticultural land consisting of one or more tracts, one of which consists of at least five acres that are in actual production and that, for the three years preceding January 1 of the year for which the benefit of this section is claimed, have met the applicable minimum gross income requirement. Land in actual production includes land under improvements used in the commercial production or growing of fruits or vegetables or nursery or floral products. Land that has been used to produce evergreens intended for use as Christmas trees must have met the minimum gross income requirements established by the Department of Revenue for the land. All other horticultural land must have produced an average gross income of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000). Gross income includes income from the sale of the horticultural products produced from the land and any payments received under a governmental soil conservation or land retirement program.
  - (3) Forestland. — Individually owned forestland consisting of one or more tracts, one of which consists of at least 20 acres that are in actual production and are not included in a farm unit.
- (b) Natural Person Ownership Requirements. — In order to come within a classification described in subsection (a) of this section, the land must, if owned by a natural person, also satisfy one of the following conditions:
- (1) It is the owner's place of residence.
  - (2) It has been owned by the current owner or a relative of the current owner for the four years preceding January 1 of the year for which the benefit of this section is claimed.
  - (3) At the time of transfer to the current owner, it qualified for classification in the hands of a business entity or trust that transferred the land to the current owner who was a member of the business entity or a beneficiary of the trust, as appropriate.
- (b1) Entity Ownership Requirements. — In order to come within a classification described in subsection (a) of this section, the land must, if owned by a business entity or trust, have been owned by the business entity or trust or by one or more of its members or creators, respectively, for the four years immediately preceding January 1 of the year for which the benefit of this section is claimed.
- (b2) Exception to Ownership Requirements. — G.S. 105-277.4(c) provides that deferred taxes are payable if land fails to meet any condition or requirement for classification. Accordingly, if land fails to meet an ownership requirement due to a change of ownership, G.S. 105-277.4(c) applies. Despite this failure and the resulting liability for taxes under G.S. 105-277.4(c), the land may qualify for classification in the hands of the new owner if both of the conditions listed in this subsection are met, even if the new owner does not meet all of the ownership requirements of subsections (b) and (b1) of this section with respect to the land. If the land qualifies for classification in the hands of the new owner under the provisions of this subsection, then the new owner becomes liable for the deferred taxes, and the deferred taxes become payable if the land fails to meet any other condition or requirement for classification.
- (1) The land was appraised at its present use value or was eligible for appraisal at its present use value at the time title to the land passed to the new owner.
  - (2) At the time title to the land passed to the new owner, the new owner acquires the land for the purposes of and continues to use the land for the purposes it was classified under subsection (a) of this section while under previous ownership.
- (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 454, s. 2.

(d) Exception for Conservation Reserve Program. — Land enrolled in the federal Conservation Reserve Program authorized by 16 U.S.C. § 1381 is considered to be in actual production, and income derived from participation in the federal Conservation Reserve Program may be used in meeting the minimum gross income requirements of this section either separately or in combination with income from actual production. Land enrolled in the federal Conservation Reserve Program shall be assessed as agricultural land if it is planted in vegetation other than trees, or as forestland if it is planted in trees.

(e) Exception for Turkey Disease. — Agricultural land that meets all of the following conditions is considered to be in actual production and to meet the minimum gross income requirements:

- (1) The land was in actual production in turkey growing within the preceding two years and qualified for present use value treatment while it was in actual production.
- (2) The land was taken out of actual production in turkey growing solely for health and safety considerations due to the presence of Poultry Enteritis Mortality Syndrome among turkeys in the same county or a neighboring county.
- (3) The land is otherwise eligible for present use value treatment. (1973, c. 709, s. 1; 1975, c. 746, s. 2; 1983, c. 821; c. 826; 1985, c. 667, ss. 2, 3, 6.1; 1987, c. 698, ss. 2-5; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1044, s. 13.1; 1989, cc. 99, 736, s. 1; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 814, s. 29; 1995, c. 454, s. 2; 1997-272, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 22; 2001-499, s. 1.)

Cross References. — As to taxation of lessees and users of tax-exempt cropland or forestland, see § 105-282.7.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-499, ss. 3(a) to 3(i), establishes the Property Tax Study Commission. Section 3(c) provides:

"The Commission shall study, examine, and, if necessary, recommend changes to the property tax system. The Commission shall include in its study an examination of all classes of property, including the taxability of nonprofit charitable hospitals, as well as other exemptions and exclusions of property from the property tax base. The Commission shall also study the present-use value system, including the following:

"(1) Examine the implementation and application of the current present-use value statutes.

"(2) Evaluate other tax credits, including adjustments to and credits for ad valorem taxes, to encourage agricultural, forestry, and horticultural use of land.

"(3) Evaluate the treatment of undeveloped land in ad valorem tax.

"(4) Evaluate the possibility of tax incentives to encourage conservation and environmental protection of land. The study shall include the feasibility of allowing forestland managed for conservation purposes and the preservation of wildlife habitats to be taxed at its present-use value.

"(5) Review other issues related to the taxation of agricultural land, horticultural land, and forestland, including reducing the acreage requirement for land to qualify as forestland."

The Commission is to submit a final written report to the 2003 General Assembly and may submit a report to the 2002 Regular Session. The final report is to include recommendations for changes in the property tax system, and an analysis of the fiscal impact of each recommendation.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-499, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, in the introductory language of subsection (b2), substituted "the conditions listed in this subsection" for "the following conditions" in the third sentence, added the fourth sentence, and rewrote subdivision (b2)(2), which read: "At the time title to the land passed to the new owner, the owner owned the land classified under subsection (a)."

Statutory Scheme Is Tax Deferment. —

The statutory scheme for taxation of property qualifying for present use value treatment as defined in § 105-277.2 and this section is a tax deferment. In re Parker, 76 N.C. App. 447, 333 S.E.2d 749 (1985).

The word “passed” in context of subsection (c) means that the transference or conveyance has already occurred and that for purposes of this portion of the statute, the property should be viewed in the hands of the grantee. In re Davis, 113 N.C. App. 743, 440 S.E.2d 307 (1994).

Present Use Violation. — Where the property met all of the requirements of subsection (c), the Property Tax Commission did not err in concluding that the property qualified for present use valuation. In re Davis, 113 N.C. App. 743, 440 S.E.2d 307 (1994).

§ 105-277.4. Agricultural, horticultural and forestland — Application; appraisal at use value; appeal; deferred taxes.

(a) Application. — Property coming within one of the classes defined in G.S. 105-277.3 shall be eligible for taxation on the basis of the value of the property in its present use if a timely and proper application is filed with the assessor of the county in which the property is located. The application shall clearly show that the property comes within one of the classes and shall also contain any other relevant information required by the assessor to properly appraise the property at its present-use value. An initial application shall be filed during the regular listing period of the year for which the benefit of this classification is first claimed, or within 30 days of the date shown on a notice of a change in valuation made pursuant to G.S. 105-286 or G.S. 105-287. A new application is not required to be submitted unless the property is transferred or becomes ineligible for use-value appraisal because of a change in use or acreage.

(b) Appraisal at Present-use Value. — Upon receipt of a properly executed application, the assessor shall appraise the property at its present-use value as established in the schedule prepared pursuant to G.S. 105-317. In appraising the property at its present-use value, the assessor shall appraise the improvements located on qualifying land according to the schedules and standards used in appraising other similar improvements in the county. If all or any part of a qualifying tract of land is located within the limits of an incorporated city or town, or is property annexed subject to G.S. 160A-37(f1) or G.S. 160A-49(f1), the assessor shall furnish a copy of the property record showing both the present-use appraisal and the valuation upon which the property would have been taxed in the absence of this classification to the collector of the city or town. He shall also notify the tax collector of any changes in the appraisals or in the eligibility of the property for the benefit of this classification. Upon a request for a certification pursuant to G.S. 160A-37(f1) or G.S. 160A-49(f1), or any change in the certification, the assessor for the county where the land subject to the annexation is located shall, within 30 days, determine if the land meets the requirements of G.S. 160A-37(f1)(2) or G.S. 160A-49(f1)(2) and report the results of its findings to the city.

(b1) Appeal. — Decisions of the assessor regarding the qualification or appraisal of property under this section may be appealed to the county board of equalization and review or, if that board is not in session, to the board of county commissioners. Decisions of the county board may be appealed to the Property Tax Commission.

(c) Deferred Taxes. — Land meeting the conditions for classification under G.S. 105-277.3 shall be taxed on the basis of the value of the land for its present use. The difference between the taxes due on the present-use basis and the taxes that would have been payable in the absence of this classification, together with any interest, penalties, or costs that may accrue thereon, are a lien on the real property of the taxpayer as provided in G.S. 105-355(a). The difference in taxes shall be carried forward in the records of the taxing unit or units as deferred taxes. The taxes become due and payable when the land fails to meet any condition or requirement for classification. The tax for the fiscal year that opens in the calendar year in which deferred taxes become due is computed as if the land had not been classified for that year, and taxes for the preceding three fiscal years that have been deferred are immediately payable, together with interest as provided in G.S. 105-360 for unpaid taxes. Interest accrues on the deferred taxes due as if they had been payable on the dates on which they originally became due. If only a part of the qualifying tract of land fails to meet a condition or requirement for classification, a determination shall be made of the amount of deferred taxes applicable to that part and that amount becomes payable with interest as provided above. Upon the payment of any taxes deferred in accordance with this section for the three years immediately preceding a disqualification, all liens arising under this subsection are extinguished. The deferred taxes for any given year may be paid in that year without the qualifying tract of land becoming ineligible for deferred status.

(d) Exceptions. — Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (c) of this section, if property loses its eligibility for present use value classification solely due to one of the following reasons, no deferred taxes are due and the lien for the deferred taxes is extinguished:

- (1) There is a change in income caused by enrollment of the property in the federal conservation reserve program established under 16 U.S.C. Chapter 58.
- (2) The property is conveyed by gift to a nonprofit organization and qualifies for exclusion from the tax base pursuant to G.S. 105-275(12) or G.S. 105-275(29).
- (3) The property is conveyed by gift to the State, a political subdivision of the State, or the United States.

(e) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-270, s. 3, effective July 3, 1997. (1973, c. 709, s. 1; c. 905; c. 906, ss. 1, 2; 1975, c. 62; c. 746, ss. 3-7; 1981, c. 835; 1985, c. 518, s. 1; c. 667, ss. 5, 6; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 295, s. 5; c. 698, s. 6; 1987 (Reg. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-499, ss. 3(a) to 3(i), establishes the Property Tax Study Commission. Section 3(c) provides:

"The Commission shall study, examine, and, if necessary, recommend changes to the property tax system. The Commission shall include in its study an examination of all classes of property, including the taxability of nonprofit charitable hospitals, as well as other exemptions and exclusions of property from the property tax base. The Commission shall also study the present-use value system, including the following:

"(1) Examine the implementation and application of the current present-use value statutes.

"(2) Evaluate other tax credits, including adjustments to and credits for ad valorem taxes, to encourage agricultural, forestry, and horticultural use of land.

"(3) Evaluate the treatment of undeveloped land in ad valorem tax.

"(4) Evaluate the possibility of tax incentives to encourage conservation and environmental protection of land. The study shall include the feasibility of allowing forestland managed for conservation purposes and the preservation of wildlife habitats to be taxed at its present-use value.

"(5) Review other issues related to the taxation of agricultural land, horticultural land, and forestland, including reducing the acreage requirement for land to qualify as forestland."

The Commission is to submit a final written report to the 2003 General Assembly and may submit a report to the 2002 Regular Session. The final report is to include recommendations for changes in the property tax system, and an analysis of the fiscal impact of each recommendation.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

2001-499, s. 2, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, added the final sentence in subsection (c).

§ 105-277.5. Agricultural, horticultural and forestland — Notice of change in use.

Not later than the close of the listing period following a change which could disqualify all or a part of a tract of land receiving the benefit of this classification, the property owner shall furnish the assessor with complete information regarding such change. Any property owner who fails to notify the assessor of changes as aforesaid regarding land receiving the benefit of this classification shall be subject to a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the total amount of the deferred taxes and interest thereon for each listing period for which the failure to report continues. ### § 105-277.6. Agricultural, horticultural and forestland — Appraisal; computation of deferred tax.

(a) In determining the amount of the deferred taxes herein provided, the assessor shall use the appraised valuation established in the county's last general revaluation except for any changes made under the provisions of G.S. 105-287.

(b) In revaluation years, as provided in G.S. 105-286, all property entitled to classification under G.S. 105-277.3 shall be reappraised at its true value in money and at its present use value as of the effective date of the revaluation. The two valuations shall continue in effect and shall provide the basis for deferred taxes until a change in one or both of the appraisals is required by law. The present use-value schedule, standards, and rules shall be used by the tax assessor to appraise property receiving the benefit of this classification until the next general revaluation of real property in the county as required by G.S. 105-286.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 295, s. 2. (1973, c. 709, s. 1; 1975, c. 746, ss. 9, 10; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 295, s. 2.)

§ 105-277.7. Use-Value Advisory Board.

The Use-Value Advisory Board is established under the supervision of the Agricultural Extension Service of North Carolina State University. The Board shall annually submit to the Department of Revenue a recommended use-value manual developed in accordance with the guidelines in G.S. 105-289(a)(5). In developing the manual, the Board may consult with federal and State agencies as needed. The Board shall submit to the Department of Revenue recommendations concerning requirements for horticultural land used to produce evergreens intended for use as Christmas trees when requested to do so by the Department.

The Board shall be chaired by the Director of the Agricultural Extension Service of North Carolina State University and shall consist of the following additional members: a representative of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, designated by the Commissioner of Agriculture; a representative of the Forest Resources Division of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, designated by the Director of that Division; and a representative of the Agricultural Extension Service at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, designated by the Director of the Extension Service. All members shall serve ex officio. The Agricultural Extension Service at North Carolina State University shall provide clerical assistance to the Board. (1973, c. 709, s. 1; 1975, c. 746, s. 11; 1985, c. 628, s. 2; 1989, c. 727, s. 218(44); c. 736, s. 2; 1997-261, s. 109; 1997-443, s. 11A.119(a).)

§ 105-277.8. Taxation of property of nonprofit homeowners' association.

(a) The value of real and personal property owned by a nonprofit homeowners' association shall be included in the appraisals of property owned by members of the association and shall not be assessed against the association if:

- (1) All property owned by the association is held for the use, benefit, and enjoyment of all members of the association equally;
- (2) Each member of the association has an irrevocable right to use and enjoy, on an equal basis, all property owned by the association, subject to any restrictions imposed by the instruments conveying the right or the rules, regulations, or bylaws of the association; and
- (3) Each irrevocable right to use and enjoy all property owned by the association is appurtenant to taxable real property owned by a member of the association.

The assessor may allocate the value of the association's property among the property of the association's members on any fair and reasonable basis.

(b) As used in this section, "nonprofit homeowners' association" means a homeowners' association as defined in § 528(c) of the Internal Revenue Code. (1979, c. 686, s. 1; 1987, c. 130.)

Legal Periodicals. — For survey of 1979 tax law, see 58 N.C.L. Rev. 1548 (1980).

§ 105-277.9. Taxation of property inside certain roadway corridors.

Real property that lies within a transportation corridor marked on an official map filed under Article 2E of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes is designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and is taxable at twenty percent (20%) of the general tax rate levied on real property by the taxing unit in which the property is situated if:

- (1) As of January 1, no building or other structure is located on the property; and
- (2) The property has not been subdivided, as defined in G.S. 153A-335 or G.S. 160A-376, since it was included in the corridor. (1987, c. 747, s. 22; 1998-184, s. 2.)

§ 105-277.10. Taxation of precious metals used or held for use directly in manufacturing or processing by a manufacturer.

Precious metals, including rhodium and platinum, used or held for use directly in manufacturing or processing by a manufacturer as part of industrial machinery is designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and shall be assessed for taxation in accordance with this section. The classified property shall be assessed at the lower of its true value or the manufacturer's original cost less depreciation. The original cost of the classified property shall be adjusted by the index factor, if any, that applies in assessing the industrial machinery with which the property is used, and the depreciable life of the classified property shall be the life assigned to the industrial machinery with which the property is used. The residual value of the classified property may not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the manufacturer's original cost. (1989, c. 674.)

§ 105-277.11: Not in effect.

Editor's Note. — A § 105-277.11 was enacted by Session Laws 1993, c. 497, s. 21, but was made effective upon certification of approval of an amendment to Article V of the Constitution of North Carolina relating to the authority of any county, city or town to borrow money, without the need of voter approval, and issue financing bonds to be used to finance public activities associated with private economic development projects. This amendment was submitted to the people on November 2, 1993 and was defeated. The section, therefore, never took effect.

§ 105-277.12. Antique airplanes.

(a) For the purpose of this section, the term "antique airplane" means an airplane that meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) It is registered with the Federal Aviation Administration and is a model year 1954 or older.
- (2) It is maintained primarily for use in exhibitions, club activities, air shows, and other public interest functions.
- (3) It is used only occasionally for other purposes.
- (4) It is used by the owner for a purpose other than the production of income.

(b) Antique airplanes are designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and shall be assessed for taxation in accordance with this section. An antique airplane shall be assessed at the lower of its true value or five thousand dollars ($5,000). (1997-355, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1997-355, s. 2, made this section effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998.

§ 105-277.13. Taxation of improvements on brownfields.

(a) Qualifying improvements on brownfields properties are designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and shall be appraised, assessed, and taxed in accordance with this section. An owner of land is entitled to the partial exclusion provided by this section for the first five taxable years beginning after completion of qualifying improvements made after the later of July 1, 2000, or the date of the brownfields agreement. After property has qualified for the exclusion provided by this section, the assessor for the county in which the property is located shall annually appraise the improvements made to the property during the period of time that the owner is entitled to the exclusion.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the terms “qualifying improvements on brownfields properties” and “qualifying improvements” mean improvements made to real property that is subject to a brownfields agreement entered into by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources and the owner pursuant to G.S. 130A-310.32.

(c) The following table establishes the percentage of the appraised value of the qualified improvements that is excluded based on the taxable year:

Year	Percent of Appraised Value Excluded
Year 1	90%
Year 2	75%
Year 3	50%
Year 4	30%
Year 5	10%.

(2000-158, s. 1.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 2000-158, s. 3, made this section effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

§ 105-278. Historic properties.

(a) Real property designated as a historic structure or site by a local ordinance adopted pursuant to G.S. 160A-399.4 or designated as a historic landmark by a local ordinance adopted pursuant to G.S. 160A-400.5 is hereby designated a special class of property under authority of Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution. Property so classified shall be taxed uniformly as a class in each local taxing unit on the basis of fifty percent (50%) of the true value of the property as determined pursuant to G.S. 105-285 and 105-286, or 105-287.

(b) The difference between the taxes due on the basis of fifty percent (50%) of the true value of the property and the taxes that would have been payable in the absence of the classification provided for in subsection (a) shall be a lien on the property of the taxpayer as provided in G.S. 105-355(a) and shall be carried forward in the records of the taxing unit or units as deferred taxes, but shall not be payable until the property loses its eligibility for the benefit of this classification because of a change in an ordinance designating a historic property or a change in the property, except by fire or other natural disaster, which causes its historical significance to be lost or substantially impaired. The tax for the fiscal year that opens in the calendar year in which a disqualification occurs shall be computed as if the property had not been classified for that year, and taxes for the preceding three fiscal years that have been deferred as provided herein shall be payable immediately, together with interest thereon as provided in G.S. 105-360 for unpaid taxes, which shall accrue on the deferred taxes as if they had been payable on the dates on which they originally became due. If only a part of the historic property loses its eligibility for the classification, a determination shall be made of the amount of deferred taxes applicable to that part, and the amount shall be payable with interest as provided above. (1977, c. 869, s. 2; 1981, c. 501; 1989, c. 706, s. 3.1.)

Editor's Note. — Section 160A-399.4, referred to in subsection (a) of this section, was repealed by Session Laws 1989, c. 706, s. 1. See now § 160A-400.5.

§ 105-278.1. Exemption of real and personal property owned by units of government.

(a) Real and personal property owned by the United States and, by virtue of federal law, not subject to State and local taxes shall be exempted from taxation.

(b) Real and personal property belonging to the State, counties, and municipalities is exempt from taxation.

(c) For purposes of this section:

- (1) A specified unit of government (federal, State, or local) includes its departments, institutions, and agencies.
- (2) By way of illustration but not by way of limitation, the following boards, commissions, authorities, and institutions are units of State government:
  - a. The State Marketing Authority established by G.S. 106-529.
  - b. The Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina incorporated under the provisions of G.S. 116-3 and known as "The University of North Carolina."
  - c. The North Carolina Museum of Art made an agency of the State under G.S. 140-1.
- (3) By way of illustration but not by way of limitation, the following boards, commissions, authorities, and institutions are units of local government of this State:
  - a. An airport authority, board, or commission created as a separate and independent body corporate and politic by an act of the General Assembly.
  - b. An airport authority, board, or commission created as a separate and independent body corporate and politic by one or more counties or municipalities or combinations thereof under the authority of an act of the General Assembly.
  - c. A hospital authority created under G.S. 131-93.
  - d. A housing authority created under G.S. 157-4 or G.S. 157-4.1.
  - e. A municipal parking authority created under G.S. 160-477.

- f. A veterans' recreation authority created under G.S. 165-26. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; 1987, c. 777, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Section 140-1, referred to in subdivision (c)(2)c, has been recodified as § 140-5.12.

Section 131-93, referred to in subdivision (c)(3)c, has been repealed. For similar provision, see now § 131E-17.

Section 160-477, referred to in subdivision (c)(3)e, has been transferred to § 160A-552.

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — Property owned by the State is exempt from ad valorem taxation by N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2(3) solely by reason of State ownership, and this section as it read prior to amendment in 1987, requiring property owned by the State to be held exclusively for a public purpose in order to be exempt from taxation, was unconstitutional. Therefore, the Towns of Chapel Hill and Carrboro and the County of Orange may not assess ad valorem taxes against any property owned by The University of North Carolina, an agency of the State, regardless of the purpose for which the property is held. In re University of N.C., 300 N.C. 563, 268 S.E.2d 472 (1980).

The holdings of cases misapplying the holding of Atlantic & N.C.R.R. v. Board of Comm'rs, 75 N.C. 474 (1876), as mandating a "public purpose" requirement for the exemption of State-owned property under the North Carolina Constitution: Board of Fin. Control v. County of Henderson, 208 N.C. 569, 181 S.E. 636 (1935); Town of Bensen v. County of Johnston, 209 N.C. 751, 185 S.E. 6 (1936); Town of Warrenton v. Warren County, 215 N.C. 342, 2 S.E.2d 463 (1939); and City of Winston-Salem v. Forsyth County, 217 N.C. 704, 9 S.E.2d 381 (1940), must be considered not in keeping with the rationale expressed in the present case and in other opinions of the Court of Appeals. ## § 105-278.2. Burial property.

(a) Real property set apart for burial purposes shall be exempted from taxation unless it is owned and held for purposes of (i) sale or rental or (ii) sale of burial rights therein.

(b) Taxable real property set apart for human burial purposes is hereby designated a special class of property under authority of Article V, Section 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution, and it shall be assessed for taxation taking into consideration the following:

- (1) The effect on its value by division and development into burial plots;
- (2) Whether it is irrevocably dedicated for human burial purposes by plat recorded with the Register of Deeds in the county in which the land is located; and
- (3) Whether the owner is prohibited or restricted by law or otherwise from selling, mortgaging, leasing or encumbering the same.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "real property" includes land, tombs, vaults, monuments, and mausoleums, and the term "burial" includes entombment. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; 1987, c. 724.)

CASE NOTES

Property Not Exempted. — Where taxpayer corporation owned undeveloped, unmapped land as part of a tract of land set apart as a cemetery, which land was irrevocably dedicated for use exclusively as a cemetery under the North Carolina Cemetery Act, and where the taxpayer was not holding undeveloped land for its own burial, because the undeveloped land was irrevocably dedicated for use exclusively as a cemetery, the taxpayer could only have been holding it for the purpose of sale to others as burial sites, and as such the land did not fall under the exemption of this section as tax-exempt property. In re Lee Memory Gardens, Inc., 110 N.C. App. 541, 430 S.E.2d 451 (1993).

Cited in In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

§ 105-278.3. Real and personal property used for religious purposes.

(a) Buildings, the land they actually occupy, and additional adjacent land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of any such building shall be exempted from taxation if wholly owned by an agency listed in subsection (c), below, and if:

- (1) Wholly and exclusively used by its owner for religious purposes as defined in subsection (d)(1), below; or
- (2) Occupied gratuitously by one other than the owner and wholly and exclusively used by the occupant for religious, charitable, or nonprofit educational, literary, scientific, or cultural purposes.

(b) Personal property shall be exempted from taxation if wholly owned by an agency listed in subsection (c), below, and if:

- (1) Wholly and exclusively used by its owner for religious purposes; or
- (2) Gratuitously made available to one other than the owner and wholly and exclusively used by the possessor for religious, charitable, or nonprofit educational, literary, scientific, or cultural purposes.

(c) The following agencies, when the other requirements of this section are met, may obtain exemption for their properties:

- (1) A congregation, parish, mission, or similar local unit of a church or religious body; or
- (2) A conference, association, presbytery, diocese, district, synod, or similar unit comprising local units of a church or religious body.

(d) Within the meaning of this section:

- (1) A religious purpose is one that pertains to practicing, teaching, and setting forth a religion. Although worship is the most common religious purpose, the term encompasses other activities that demonstrate and further the beliefs and objectives of a given church or religious body. Within the meaning of this section, the ownership and maintenance of a general or promotional office or headquarters by an owner listed in subdivision (2) of subsection (c), above, is a religious purpose and the ownership and maintenance of residences for clergy, rabbis, priests or nuns assigned to or serving a congregation, parish, mission or similar local unit, or a conference, association, presbytery, diocese, district, synod, province or similar unit of a church or religious body or residences for clergy on furlough or unassigned, is also a religious purpose. However, the ownership and maintenance of residences for other employees is not a religious purpose for either a local unit of a church or a religious body or a conference, association, presbytery, diocese, district, synod, or similar unit of a church or religious body. Provided, however, that where part of property which otherwise qualifies for the exemption provided herein is made available as a residence for an individual who provides guardian, janitorial and custodial services for such property, or who oversees and supervises qualifying activities upon and in connection with said property, the entire property shall be considered as wholly and exclusively used for a religious purpose.

- (2) A charitable purpose is one that has humane and philanthropic objectives; it is an activity that benefits humanity or a significant rather than limited segment of the community without expectation of pecuniary profit or reward. The humane treatment of animals is also a charitable purpose.

- (3) An educational purpose is one that has as its objective the education or instruction of human beings; it comprehends the transmission of information and the training or development of the knowledge or skills of individual persons.
- (4) A literary purpose is one that pertains to letters or literature (including drama), especially writing, publishing, and the study of literature.
- (5) A cultural purpose is one that is conducive to the enlightenment and refinement of taste acquired through intellectual and aesthetic training, education, and discipline.
- (6) A scientific purpose is one that yields knowledge systematically through research, experimentation or other work done in one or more of the natural sciences.

(e) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement of subsection (a), above, if part of a property that otherwise meets that subsection's requirements is used for a purpose that would require exemption if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.

(f) The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so long as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the exemption granted by this section.

(g) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement of subsection (a), above, any parking lot wholly owned by an agency listed in subsection (c), above, may be used for parking without removing the tax exemption granted in this section; provided, the total charge for said uses shall not exceed that portion of the actual maintenance expenditures for the parking lot reasonably estimated to have been made on account of said uses. This subsection shall apply beginning with the taxable year that commences on January 1, 1978. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; c. 1421; 1975, c. 848; 1977, c. 867.)

CASE NOTES

Property Must Be Presently Used for Exempt Purposes. — The rule in North Carolina is that unless property is presently used for tax exempt purposes, it is not tax exempt; because no public purpose is served by permitting land to lie unused and untaxed, present use, not intended use, controls. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

It was undisputed that the church youth groups used the property in question for recreational church-related activities; therefore, the use was present and for religious purposes. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

Property Held for Present and Future Use Still Exempt. — Property which was being used for religious purposes was not removed from the operation of this section simply because it was also being held for future use. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

Natural areas reserved and used as a spiritual retreat should be exempt from ad valorem taxation on "religious purposes" grounds. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

Property Used as a Buffer Zone. — Use of church-owned property as a buffer zone to screen the church from industrial exposure was an exempt use under this section. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

Use of adjacent undeveloped land as a buffer zone was reasonably necessary for the convenient use of [church] buildings and the use of the property as a buffer zone to protect the sanctity and serenity of the church from encroaching industrial development was a permissible religious purpose and present use entitling the property to exemption. In re Worley, 93 N.C. App. 191, 377 S.E.2d 270 (1989).

Church Camp. — Where there was substantial evidence that the primary purpose of camp was to serve the religious and spiritual needs of the members of church, the fact that others were permitted to use the camp and that some were charged a fee was not determinative. In re Mount Shepherd Methodist Camp, 120 N.C. App. 388, 462 S.E.2d 229 (1995).

Natural Areas of Church Camp. — Property Tax Commission did not err as a matter of law in concluding that the natural areas of Church Camp, where no improvements were located, were properly within the scope of this section. In re Mount Shepherd Methodist Camp, 120 N.C. App. 388, 462 S.E.2d 229 (1995).

§ 105-278.4. Real and personal property used for educational purposes.

(a) Buildings, the land they actually occupy, and additional land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of any such building shall be exempted from taxation if:

- (1) Owned by an educational institution (including a university, college, school, seminary, academy, industrial school, public library, museum, and similar institution);
- (2) The owner is not organized or operated for profit and no officer, shareholder, member, or employee of the owner or any other person is entitled to receive pecuniary profit from the owner's operations except reasonable compensation for services;
- (3) Of a kind commonly employed in the performance of those activities naturally and properly incident to the operation of an educational institution such as the owner; and
- (4) Wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes by the owner or occupied gratuitously by another nonprofit educational institution (as defined herein) and wholly and exclusively used by the occupant for nonprofit educational purposes.

(b) Land (exclusive of improvements); and improvements other than buildings, the land actually occupied by such improvements, and additional land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of any such improvement shall be exempted from taxation if:

- (1) Owned by an educational institution that owns real property entitled to exemption under the provisions of subsection (a), above;
- (2) Of a kind commonly employed in the performance of those activities naturally and properly incident to the operation of an educational institution such as the owner; and
- (3) Wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes by the owner or occupied gratuitously by another nonprofit educational institution (as defined herein) and wholly and exclusively used by the occupant for nonprofit educational purposes.

(c) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirements of subsections (a) and (b), above, if part of a property that otherwise meets the requirements of one of those subsections is used for a purpose that would require exemption if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.

(d) The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so long as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the exemption granted by this section.

(e) Personal property owned by a church, a religious body, or an educational institution (including a university, college, school, seminary, academy, industrial school, public library, museum, and similar institution) shall be exempted from taxation if:

- (1) The owner is not organized or operated for profit, and no officer, shareholder, member, or employee of the owner, or any other person is entitled to receive pecuniary profit from the owner's operations except reasonable compensation for services; and

- (2) Used wholly and exclusively for educational purposes by the owner or held gratuitously by a church, religious body, or nonprofit educational institution (as defined herein) other than the owner, and wholly and exclusively used for nonprofit educational purposes by the possessor.

(f) An educational purpose within the meaning of this section is one that has as its objective the education or instruction of human beings; it comprehends the transmission of information and the training or development of the knowledge or skills of individual persons. The operation of a golf course, a tennis court, a sports arena, a similar sport property, or a similar recreational sport property for the use of students or faculty is also an educational purpose, regardless of the extent to which the property is also available to and patronized by the general public. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 926, s. 1.)

Legal Periodicals. — For symposium on historic preservation which includes a discussion of relevant North Carolina law, see 12 Wake Forest L. Rev. 9 (1976).

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — The court upheld this section in spite of a challenge on the constitutional grounds that it applied unequally to various property tracts and violated the rule of uniformity; the four requirements of the section were reasonably objective and did not result in any hostile or systematic discrimination and, further, the exemption requirements were sufficiently enumerated. In re Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Inc., 135 N.C. App. 247, 520 S.E.2d 302 (1999).

The Atlantic Coast Conference was not a separate entity from its constituent schools and since each member was an educational institution, exempt from taxation, then the ownership requirement of this section was met. In re Atl. Coast Conference, 112 N.C. App. 1, 434 S.E.2d 865 (1993), aff'd, 336 N.C. 69, 441 S.E.2d 550 (1994).

Exemption of Portion of Property. — Where Wake Forest University granted a corporation an easement to use a football stadium parking lot for employee and visitor parking and general access to the corporation's headquarters building, the Property Tax Commission properly determined that a portion of the parking lot not regularly used by the corporation is wholly and exclusively used by Wake Forest University for educational purposes and is exempt from ad valorem taxation under subsection (c) of this section. In re Wake Forest Univ., 51 N.C. App. 516, 277 S.E.2d 91, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 544, 281 S.E.2d 391 (1981).

Exemption Upheld. — A seminary met its burden of proving that three parcels of its property were entitled to an exemption under this section, although the land in question was undeveloped, the future planned use might not be exempt, and the seminary had sold some timber from the land to maintain a healthy forested state, to remove trees damaged by a hurricane, and to pay for other repairs caused by that hurricane. In re Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Inc., 135 N.C. App. 247, 520 S.E.2d 302 (1999).

Exemption Denied. — Day care center was denied a tax exemption because, while some of its activities educated the children enrolled there, substantial evidence supported the tax commission's decision that its property was not wholly and exclusively used for educational purposes, as required by § 105-278.4(a)(4). ### § 105-278.5. Real and personal property of religious educational assemblies used for religious and educational purposes.

(a) Buildings, the land they actually occupy, and additional adjacent land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of any such building or for the religious educational programs of the owner, shall be exempted from taxation if:

- (1) Owned by a religious educational assembly, retreat, or similar organization;
- (2) No officer, shareholder, member, or employee of the owner, or any other person is entitled to receive pecuniary profit from the owner's operations except reasonable compensation for services; and
- (3) Of a kind commonly employed in those activities naturally and properly incident to the operation of a religious educational assembly such as the owner; and
- (4) Wholly and exclusively used for
  - a. Religious worship or
  - b. Purposes of instruction in religious education.

(b) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirement of subsection (a), above, if part of a property that otherwise meets the subsection's requirements is used for a purpose that would require exemption if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.

(c) The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so long as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the exemption granted by this section.

(d) Personal property owned by a religious educational assembly, retreat, or similar organization shall be exempted from taxation if it is exclusively maintained and used in connection with real property granted exemption under the provisions of subsection (a) or (b), above. (1973, c. 695, s. 4.)

§ 105-278.6. Real and personal property used for charitable purposes.

(a) Real and personal property owned by:

- (1) A Young Men's Christian Association or similar organization;
- (2) A home for the aged, sick, or infirm;
- (3) An orphanage or similar home;
- (4) A Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals;
- (5) A reformatory or correctional institution;
- (6) A monastery, convent, or nunnery;
- (7) A nonprofit, life-saving, first aid, or rescue squad organization;
- (8) A nonprofit organization providing housing for individuals or families with low or moderate incomes shall be exempted from taxation if: (i) As to real property, it is actually and exclusively occupied and used, and as to personal property, it is entirely and completely used, by the owner for charitable purposes; and (ii) the owner is not organized or operated for profit.

(b) A charitable purpose within the meaning of this section is one that has humane and philanthropic objectives; it is an activity that benefits humanity or a significant rather than limited segment of the community without expectation of pecuniary profit or reward. The humane treatment of animals is also a charitable purpose.

(c) The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so long as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the exemption granted by this section.

(d) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirements of this section, if part of a property that otherwise meets the section's requirements is used for a purpose that would require exemption under subsection (a), above, if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.

(e) Real property held by an organization described in subdivision (a)(8) is held for a charitable purpose under this section if it is held for no more than five years as a future site for housing for individuals or families with low or moderate incomes. The taxes that would otherwise be due on real property exempt under this subsection shall be a lien on the property as provided in G.S. 105-355(a). The taxes shall be carried forward in the records of the taxing unit as deferred taxes and shall be payable five years after the tax year the exemption is first claimed unless the organization has constructed low- or moderate-income housing on the site. If this condition has not been met, the deferred taxes for the preceding five fiscal years shall be payable immediately, together with interest as provided in G.S. 105-360 for unpaid taxes that accrues on the deferred taxes as if they had been payable on the dates they would have originally become due. All liens arising under this subsection are extinguished upon one of the following:

- (1) Payment of all deferred taxes under this subsection.
- (2) Construction by the organization of low- or moderate-income housing on the site within five years after the tax year the exemption is first claimed. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; 1975, c. 808; 1993, c. 230, s. 1.)

§ 105-278.6A. Qualified retirement facility.

(a) Classification. — Buildings, the land they actually occupy, additional adjacent land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of the buildings, and personal property owned by a qualified retirement facility and used in the operation of that facility are designated a special class of property under Section 2(2) of Article V of the North Carolina Constitution and are excluded from taxation to the extent provided in this section.

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in section:

- (1) Charity care. — The unreimbursed costs to the facility of providing health care, housing, or other services to a resident who is uninsured, underinsured, or otherwise unable to pay for all or part of the services rendered.
- (2) Community benefits. — The unreimbursed costs to the facility of providing the following:

- a. Services, including health, recreation, community research, and education activities provided to the community at large, including the elderly.
- b. Charitable donations.
- c. Donated volunteer services.
- d. Donations and voluntary payments to government agencies.
- (3) Financial reporting period. — The calendar year or tax year ending prior to the date the retirement facility applies for an exclusion under this section.
- (4) Resident revenue. — Annual revenue paid by a resident for goods and services and one year's share of the initial resident fee amortized in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- (5) Retirement facility. — A community that meets all of the following conditions:
  - a. It is licensed under Article 64 of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes.
  - b. It is designed for elderly residents.
  - c. It includes independent living units for elderly residents.
  - d. It includes a skilled nursing facility or an adult care facility.
- (6) Unreimbursed costs. — The costs a facility incurs for providing charity care or community benefits after subtracting payment or reimbursement received from any source for the care or benefits. Unreimbursed costs include costs paid from funds generated by a program described in subdivision (c)(5) of this section.
- (c) Total Exclusion. — A retirement facility qualifies for total exclusion under this section if it meets all of the following conditions:
  - (1) It is exempt from tax under Article 4 of this Chapter and private shareholders do not benefit from its operations.
  - (2) All of its revenues, less operating and capital expenses, are applied to providing uncompensated goods and services to the elderly and to the local community, or are applied to an endowment or a reserve for these purposes.
  - (3) Its charter provides that in the event of dissolution, its assets will revert or be conveyed to an entity that is organized exclusively for charitable, educational, scientific, or religious purposes, and is an exempt organization under section 501(c)(3) of the Code.
  - (4) Repealed by Session Laws 2001-17, s. 1, effective July 1, 2001.
  - (5) It has an active program to generate funds through one or more sources, such as gifts, grants, trusts, bequests, endowment, or an annual giving program, to assist the retirement facility in serving persons who might not be able to reside there without financial assistance or subsidy.
  - (6) It meets at least one of the following conditions:
    - a. The facility serves all residents without regard to the residents' ability to pay.
    - b. At least five percent (5%) of the facility's resident revenue for the financial reporting period is provided in charity care to its residents, in community benefits, or in both.
- (d) Partial Exclusion. — A retirement facility qualifies for a partial exclusion under this subsection if it meets conditions under subdivisions (c) (1) through (c)(5) of this section and at least one percent (1%) of the facility's resident revenue for the financial reporting period is provided in charity care to its residents, in community benefits, or in both. The percentage of the retirement facility's assessed value that is excluded from taxation is the applicable percentage provided in the following table, based on the minimum percentage of the facility's resident revenue that it provides in charity care to its residents, in community benefits, or in both:

Partial Exclusion	Minimum Percentage of Resident Revenue
80%	4%
60%	3%
40%	2%
20%	1%

(e) Application for Exclusion. — The application requirements of G.S. 105-282.1 apply to this section. Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(a) recodified former section 105-275(32) as this section.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(e), as amended by Session Laws 2000-20, s. 2, and by Session Laws 2001-17, s. 2, provides in part that s. 29A.18(a) of the act, which recodified subdivision (32) of § 105-275 as § 105-278.6A, is effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998. Session Laws 2001-17, s. 2, deleted the former provision that § 105-278.6A would be repealed effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(e) provides in part that G.S. 105-282.1(a) notwithstanding, an application for the benefit provided in s. 29A.18(a) of this section for the 1998-99 tax year is timely if it is filed on or before November 15, 1998.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.2 provides “Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1998-99 fiscal year, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 1998-99 fiscal year.”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 1.1 provides: “This act shall be known as the ‘Current Operations Appropriations and Capital Improvement Appropriations Act of 1998.’”

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.3 contains a savings clause.

Session Laws 1998-212, s. 30.5 contains a severability clause.

Session Laws 2001-17, s. 3, provides: “This act is effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-282.1(a), an application for the benefit provided in this act for the 2001-2002 tax year is timely if it is filed on or before September 1, 2001.”

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.18(a), effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, recodified former G.S. 105-275(32) as this section and rewrote it.

Session Laws 1999-191, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, in subdivision (c)(4), deleted “as they existed on August 15, 1998” following “bylaws” and inserted “or associations”; and substituted “501(c)(3), (8), or (10)” for “501(c)(3)” in subdivision (c)(4)a.

Session Laws 2001-17, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001, in subsection (a) substituted “Buildings, the land...and personal property” for “Real and personal property,” and substituted “are excluded from taxation to the extent provided in this section” for “shall not be listed, assessed, or taxed”; rewrote subsection (b), which formerly defined “facility”; substituted “Total Exclusion” for “Qualification” in the catchline of subsection (c); substituted “total exclusion under” for “the benefits of” in the introductory language of subsection (c); deleted subdivision (c)(4), relating to governance by a board of directors or trustees; added subdivision (c)(6); and added subsections (d) and (e).

CASE NOTES

Former subdivision (32)(v) Held Unconstitutional. — Subdivision (32)(v) (now 105-278.6A) of this section is unconstitutional, as violative of the prohibition against the establishment of religion as found in N.C. Const., Art. I, § 13 because it (now 105-278.6A) distinguishes between homes that are religiously affiliated and those that perform essentially the same functions but lack any religious affiliation. In re Springmoor, Inc., 125 N.C. App. 184, 479 S.E.2d 795 (1997), aff'd, 348 N.C. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

Because former subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) excludes only those homes for the elderly that are owned and operated by religious or Masonic entities, it has the principal or primary effect of advancing religion in violation of the Lemon (Lemon v. Kurtzman, 403 U.S. 602, 91 S.Ct. 2105, 29 L. Ed. 2d 745 (1971)). In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

Former subdivision (32)(v) (now 105-278.6A) violates the constitutional prohibition against the establishment of religion as found in both the federal and state constitutions. In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

Severability of Subpart. — Former subpart (v) of subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A), may not be severed from the subdivision; thus, the whole subsection must be held unconstitutional. In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

County Precluded from Challenging Constitutionality of Subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A). — County, which argued that subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) was unconstitutional on its face because it violated the establishment clause of U.S. Const., Amend. I, did not have standing to raise such constitutional issue, as county was not a member of the class subject to the alleged discrimination, and there were other taxpayers within the State who were members of the affected class subject to the alleged discrimination who still could question the statute's validity. In re Moravian Home, Inc., 95 N.C. App. 324, 382 S.E.2d 772, appeal dismissed and cert. denied, 325 N.C. 707, 388 S.E.2d 457 (1989), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 1047, 111 S. Ct. 754, 112 L. Ed. 2d 774 (1991).

Exclusion of Home from Taxation Under Subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A). — Property tax commission's ruling that home's property should have been excluded from ad valorem taxation was correct; sufficient evidence was presented to establish that home had an active program to generate funds to assist those who could not pay the fees charged by the home where the home's chairman of the board testified that the home had established an endowment fund to assist the indigent and where he further claimed that the home actively solicited contributions for the fund. In re Moravian Home, Inc., 95 N.C. App. 324, 382 S.E.2d 772, appeal dismissed and cert. denied, 325 N.C. 707, 388 S.E.2d 457 (1989), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 1047, 111 S. Ct. 754, 112 L. Ed. 2d 774 (1991).

Constitutionality of Subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A). — Subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) of this section does not discriminate against individual property owners who own their property for residential purposes in violation of the rule of uniformity in taxation established under N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2. In re Barbour, 112 N.C. App. 368, 436 S.E.2d 169 (1993).

The distinction between "homes for the aged, sick, or infirm" and individual residential property owners under subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) of this section is not unconstitutional under the equal protection clause of N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19. In re Barbour, 112 N.C. App. 368, 436 S.E.2d 169 (1993).

Subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) Has Legitimate Purpose. — Promoting the safety and welfare of the aged and infirm is a legitimate, secular legislative purpose. In re Springmoor, Inc., 348 N.C. App. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

Standing to Challenge Constitutionality. — Non-profit corporation which ran a retirement community for the aged, sick and infirm, and which sought a personal property tax exemption on certain items owned by it and used in the operation of the home, had standing to challenge the constitutionality of subdivision (32) (now 105-278.6A) of this section. In re Springmoor, Inc., 125 N.C. App. 184, 479 S.E.2d 795 (1997), aff'd, 348 N.C. 1, 498 S.E.2d 177 (1998).

§ 105-278.7. Real and personal property used for educational, scientific, literary, or charitable purposes.

(a) Buildings, the land they actually occupy, and additional adjacent land necessary for the convenient use of any such building shall be exempted from taxation if wholly owned by an agency listed in subsection (c), below, and if:

- (1) Wholly and exclusively used by its owner for nonprofit educational, scientific, literary, or charitable purposes as defined in subsection (f), below; or
  - (2) Occupied gratuitously by an agency listed in subsection (c), below, other than the owner, and wholly and exclusively used by the occupant for nonprofit educational, scientific, literary, or charitable purposes.
- (b) Personal property shall be exempted from taxation if wholly owned by an agency listed in subsection (c), below, and if:
- (1) Wholly and exclusively used by its owner for nonprofit educational, scientific, literary, or charitable purposes; or
  - (2) Gratuitously made available to an agency listed in subsection (c), below, other than the owner, and wholly and exclusively used by the possessor for nonprofit educational, scientific, literary, or charitable purposes.
- (c) The following agencies, when the other requirements of this section are met, may obtain property tax exemption under this section:
- (1) A charitable association or institution,
  - (2) An historical association or institution,
  - (3) A veterans' organization or association,
  - (4) A scientific association or institution,
  - (5) A literary association or institution,
  - (6) A benevolent association or institution, or
  - (7) A nonprofit community or neighborhood organization.
- (d) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirements of subsection (a), above, if part of a property that otherwise meets the subsection's requirements is used for a purpose that would require exemption if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.
- (e) The fact that a building or facility is incidentally available to and patronized by the general public, so long as there is no material amount of business or patronage with the general public, shall not defeat the exemption granted by this section.
- (f) Within the meaning of this section:
- (1) An educational purpose is one that has as its objective the education or instruction of human beings; it comprehends the transmission of information and the training or development of the knowledge or skills of individual persons.
  - (2) A scientific purpose is one that yields knowledge systematically through research, experimentation, or other work done in one or more of the natural sciences.
  - (3) A literary purpose is one that pertains to letters or literature (including drama), especially writing, publishing, and the study of literature.
  - (4) A charitable purpose is one that has humane and philanthropic objectives; it is an activity that benefits humanity or a significant rather than limited segment of the community without expectation of pecuniary profit or reward. The humane treatment of animals is also a charitable purpose. (1973, c. 695, s. 4; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 15.)

CASE NOTES

Concept of charity is not confined to the relief of the needy and destitute. Aged people require care and attention apart from financial assistance, and the supply of this care and attention is as much a charitable and benevolent purpose as the relief of their financial wants. In re Chapel Hill Residential Retirement Center, Inc., 60 N.C. App. 294, 299 S.E.2d 782, cert. denied, 308 N.C. 386, 302 S.E.2d 249 (1983).

Property Occupied Gratuitously for Charitable Purpose. — Where a religious association made a loan to respondent nursing home, with which the association was affiliated, to expand its facilities, the nursing home's payment of an amount equivalent to the interest on the loan and the depreciation on the property did not prevent the nursing home from occupying the property gratuitously, and the property in question was exempt from ad valorem taxation in that it was being used for a charitable purpose by a charitable institution within the meaning of subdivisions (f)(4), (a)(2) and (c)(1) of this section. In re Taxable Status of Property, 45 N.C. App. 632, 263 S.E.2d 838 (1980).

§ 105-278.8. Real and personal property used for charitable hospital purposes.

(a) Real and personal property held for or owned by a hospital organized and operated as a nonstock, nonprofit, charitable institution (without profit to members or their successors) shall be exempted from taxation if actually and exclusively used for charitable hospital purposes.

(b) Notwithstanding the exclusive-use requirements of subsection (a), above, if part of a property that otherwise meets that subsection's requirements is used for a purpose that would require exemption under that subsection if the entire property were so used, the valuation of the part so used shall be exempted from taxation.

(c) Within the meaning of this section, a charitable hospital purpose is a hospital purpose that has humane and philanthropic objectives; it is a hospital activity that benefits humanity or a significant rather than limited segment of the community without expectation of pecuniary profit or reward. However, the fact that a qualifying hospital charges patients who are able to pay for services rendered does not defeat the exemption granted by this section. (1973, c. 695, s. 4.)

CASE NOTES

Test for Exemption. — Pursuant to the language of this section, the test to determine whether an exemption may be granted is: (1) Whether the applicant is a hospital organized and operated without profit to members, (2) exclusively used for humane and philanthropic objectives which benefit a significant segment of the community, and (3) without expectation of reward or profit. An applicant which meets the requirements of this test will not be rejected simply because it charges those patients who are able to pay for their services. In re Found. Health Sys. Corp., 96 N.C. App. 571, 386 S.E.2d 588 (1989).

Corp., 96 N.C. App. 571, 386 S.E.2d 588 (1989).

And Was Entitled to Tax Exemption. — Nonprofit outpatient surgical center which provided facilities for the treatment of emergency or urgent care patients without regard for their ability to pay and charged fees which were lower than those of county hospital was wholly and exclusively used for a charitable purpose or purposes within the meaning of this section, and was entitled to a property tax exemption. In re Found. Health Sys. Corp., 96 N.C. App. 571, 386 S.E.2d 588 (1989).

Hospital Day Care Center. — Hospital's Child care center which was open seven days a week, including holidays, from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 midnight and aided hospital in the recruitment and retention of hospital employees was actually and exclusively used for a charitable hospital purpose as required by this section and accordingly, hospital was entitled to an exemption from ad valorem taxes for its child care center. In re Moses H. Cone Mem. Hosp., 113 N.C. App. 562, 439 S.E.2d 778 (1994), aff'd in part, cert. improvidently granted in part, 340 N.C. 93, 455 S.E.2d 431 (1995).

There was no direct commercial competition between hospital's child care center and other area commercial child care centers where it did not compete directly with other commercial child care centers for patrons from the general public as it was open only to hospital employees and the center met a need of its employees that was not fulfilled by other commercial child care centers by being open seven days a week, and on holidays from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 midnight. In re Moses H. Cone Mem. Hosp., 113 N.C. App. 562, 439 S.E.2d 778 (1994), aff'd in part, cert. improvidently granted in part, 340 N.C. 93, 455 S.E.2d 431 (1995).

§ 105-282.1. Applications for property tax exemption or exclusion; annual review of property exempted or excluded from property tax.

(a) Application. — Every owner of property claiming exemption or exclusion from property taxes under the provisions of this Subchapter has the burden of establishing that the property is entitled to it. If the property for which the exemption or exclusion is claimed is appraised by the Department of Revenue, the application shall be filed with the Department. Otherwise, the application shall be filed with the assessor of the county in which the property is situated. An application must contain a complete and accurate statement of the facts that entitle the property to the exemption or exclusion and must indicate the municipality, if any, in which the property is located. Each application filed with the Department of Revenue or an assessor shall be submitted on a form approved by the Department. Application forms shall be made available by the assessor and the Department, as appropriate.

Except as provided below, an owner claiming an exemption or exclusion from property taxes must file an application for the exemption or exclusion annually during the listing period.

(1) No application required. — Owners of the following exempt or excluded property do not need to file an application for the exemption or exclusion to be entitled to receive it:

a. Property exempt from taxation under G.S. 105-278.1 or G.S. 105-278.2.

- b. Special classes of property excluded from taxation under G.S. 105-275(15), (16), (26), (31), (32a), (33), (34), (37), (40), or (42).
  - c. Property classified for taxation at a reduced valuation under G.S. 105-277(g) or G.S. 105-277.9.
- (2) Single application required. — An owner of one or more of the following properties eligible to be exempted or excluded from taxation must file an application for exemption or exclusion to receive it. Once the application has been approved, the owner does not need to file an application in subsequent years unless new or additional property is acquired or improvements are added or removed, necessitating a change in the valuation of the property, or there is a change in the use of the property or the qualifications or eligibility of the taxpayer necessitating a review of the exemption or exclusion:
- a. Property exempted from taxation under G.S. 105-278.3, 105-278.4, 105-278.5, 105-278.6, 105-278.7, or 105-278.8.
  - b. Special classes of property excluded from taxation under G.S. 105-275(3), (7), (8), (12), (17), (18), (19), (20), (21), (35), (36), (38), (39), or (41) or under G.S. 131A-21.
  - c. Special classes of property classified for taxation at a reduced valuation under G.S. 105-277(h), 105-277.1, 105-277.10, 105-277.13, 105-278.
  - d. Property owned by a nonprofit homeowners' association but where the value of the property is included in the appraisals of property owned by members of the association under G.S. 105-277.8.

(a1) Late Application. — Upon a showing of good cause by the applicant for failure to make a timely application, an application for exemption or exclusion filed after the close of the listing period may be approved by the Department of Revenue, the board of equalization and review, the board of county commissioners, or the governing body of a municipality, as appropriate. An untimely application for exemption or exclusion approved under this subsection applies only to property taxes levied by the county or municipality in the calendar year in which the untimely application is filed.

(b) Approval and Appeal Process. — The Department of Revenue or the assessor to whom an application for exemption or exclusion is submitted must review the application and either approve or deny the application. Approved applications shall be filed and made available to all taxing units in which the exempted or excluded property is situated. If the Department denies an application for exemption or exclusion, it shall notify the taxpayer, who may appeal the denial to the Property Tax Commission.

If an assessor denies an application for exemption or exclusion, the assessor must notify the owner of the decision and the owner may appeal the decision to the board of equalization and review or the board of county commissioners, as appropriate, and from the county board to the Property Tax Commission. If the notice of denial covers property located within a municipality, the assessor shall send a copy of the notice and a copy of the application to the governing body of the municipality. The municipal governing body shall then advise the owner whether it will adopt the decision of the county board or require the owner to file a separate appeal with the municipal governing body. In the event the owner is required to appeal to the municipal governing body and that body renders an adverse decision, the owner may appeal to the Property Tax Commission. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent the governing body of a municipality from denying an application which has been approved by the assessor or by the county board provided the owner's rights to notice and hearing are not abridged. Applications handled separately by a municipality shall be filed in the office of the person designated by the governing body, or in the absence of such designation, in the office of the chief fiscal officer of the municipality.

(c) Discovery of Property. — When an owner of property that may be eligible for exemption or exclusion neither lists the property nor files an application for exemption or exclusion, the assessor or the Department of Revenue, as appropriate, shall proceed to discover the property. If, upon appeal, the owner demonstrates that the property meets the conditions for exemption or exclusion, the body hearing the appeal may approve the exemption or exclusion. Discovery of the property by the Department or the county shall automatically constitute a discovery by any taxing unit in which the property has a taxable situs.

(d) Roster of Exempted and Excluded Property. — The assessor shall prepare and maintain a roster of all property in the county that is granted tax relief through classification or exemption. On or before November 1 of each year, the assessor must send a report to the Department of Revenue summarizing the information contained in the roster. The report must be in the format required by the Department. The assessor must also send the Department a copy of the roster upon the request of the Department. As to affected real and personal property, the roster shall set forth:

- (1) The name of the owner of the property.
- (2) A brief description of the property.
- (3) A statement of the use to which the property is put.
- (4) A statement of the value of the property.
- (5) The total value of exempt property in the county and in each municipality therein.

(e) Annual Review of Exempted or Excluded Property. — Pursuant to G.S. 105-296(l), the assessor must annually review at least one-eighth of the parcels in the county exempted or excluded from taxation to verify that the parcels qualify for the exemption or exclusion. (1973, c. 695, s. 8; c. 1252; 1981, c. 54, ss. 2, 3; c. 86, s. 2; c. 915; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 982, s. 22; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 295, ss. 5, 6; c. 680, ss. 1-3; c. 813, s. 13; 1989, c. 674, s. 2; c. 723, s. 2; 1991, c. 34, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 975, s. 3; 1993, c. 459, s. 3; 1995, c. 41, s. 7; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 16; 1997-23, s. 4; 2000-140, s. 72(b); 2001-139, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-17, which rewrote § 105-278.6A, in s. 3, provides that, notwithstanding the provisions of § 105-282.1(a), an application for the benefit provided in the act for the 2001-2002 tax year is timely if it is filed on or before September 1, 2001.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 72(b), effective July 21, 2000, inserted "or (42)" in subdivision (a)(2) and deleted "or" preceding "(40)."

Session Laws 2001-139, s. 1, effective May 31, 2001, rewrote the section.

CASE NOTES

Purpose. — The purpose of this section is to establish a uniform method of informing a county of a property owner's intent to claim a tax exemption. In re Valley Proteins, Inc., 128 N.C. App. 151, 494 S.E.2d 111 (1997).

A taxpayer does not have to cite or make reference to the applicable statute in order to claim the applicable exemption allowed by the section if the application shows facts which entitle the applicant to the exemption. Failure of a county to respond to an application for exemption does not require that it be deemed accepted for that year and the failure to respond to the application for exemption does not establish a presumption, rebuttable or otherwise, that the application for exemption has been granted. In re North Carolina Forestry Found., Inc., 35 N.C. App. 414, 242 S.E.2d 492 (1978), aff'd, 296 N.C. 330, 250 S.E.2d 236 (1979).

Notification of Challenge to Existing Exemption. — A county assessor has the power to challenge an exemption once granted by requiring the taxpayer to file a new application if he or she perceives that one of the changes in the property listed in subdivision (a)(3) has occurred. Under the plain language of this section, the application for the exemption must be made during the listing period; the county therefore is required to notify the taxpayer before the listing period that such an application will be required for the coming tax year. In re Church of Creator, 102 N.C. App. 507, 402 S.E.2d 874 (1991).

Substantial Compliance Found Where Exemption Filed on Wrong Form. — Where county was clearly aware of taxpayer's intent and received all of the relevant information it needed, taxpayer's application was timely filed in substantial compliance with the statute even though he did not file exemption on the proper form. In re Valley Proteins, Inc., 128 N.C. App. 151, 494 S.E.2d 111 (1997).

Right to Appeal. — The plain intent and thrust of subsection (b) of this section and § 105-322 and former § 105-324 is to permit a property owner, as a matter of right, to appeal to the Property Tax Commission upon a county or municipal board denying its application for an exemption. In re K-Mart Corp., 79 N.C. App. 725, 340 S.E.2d 752, aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Although the decision of the county board to grant or deny an exemption is a discretionary one, it is reviewable by the Property Tax Commission. In re K-Mart Corp., 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

While it is true that the 1987 amendment to subsection (c) made the decisions of the county boards discretionary, it did not make those decisions unreviewable. Rather, the legislature has placed the duty upon the Property Tax Commission to hear appeals from decisions of the county boards arising under the provisions of § 105-312 and other sections of Chapter 105. In re K-Mart Corp., 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

ARTICLE 12A.

Taxation of Lessees and Users of Tax-Exempt Cropland or Forestland.

§ 105-282.7. Taxation of lessees and users of tax-exempt cropland or forestland.

(a) When any cropland or forestland owned by the United States, the State, a county or a municipal corporation is leased, loaned or otherwise made available to and used by a person, as defined in G.S. 105-273(12), in connection with a business conducted for profit, the lessee or user of the property is subject to taxation to the same extent as if the lessee or user owned the property. As used in this section, "forestland" has the same meaning as in G.S. 105-277.2(2), and "cropland" means agricultural land and horticultural land as defined in G.S. 105-277.2(1) and (3) respectively.

(b) This section does not apply to cropland or forestland for which payments in lieu of taxes are made in amounts equivalent to the amount of tax that could otherwise be lawfully assessed.

(c) Taxes levied pursuant to this Article are levied on the privilege of leasing or otherwise using tax-exempt cropland or forestland in connection with a business conducted for profit. The purpose of these taxes is to eliminate the competitive advantage accruing to profit-making enterprises from the use of tax-exempt property. (1981, c. 819, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — Contention that as to appellant this section was a retrospective tax in violation of N.C. Const., Art. I, § 16 was without merit, where the statute was ratified in 1981, and did not become effective until January 1, 1982, and appellant was not taxed under it for any period prior to the enactment. In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329

S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

N.C. Const., Art. V, §§ 2(1) and 2(2), which require that taxation be done in a just and equitable manner and that no class of property be taxed except by uniform rule and that every classification be made by general law, are no bar to taxing lessee and users in forestlands owned by the State under this section "to the same extent as if the lessee or user owned the property," while other leasehold interests are taxed at true value. In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

Taxing pursuant to this section of the interest of a corporation using forestlands owned by this State under leases granting user the right to cut timber therein until the year 2044 held not unconstitutional under N.C. Const., Art. V, § 2(3). In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

Contention that this section was invalid because its effect was to tax only the appellant was without merit, as on its face the section uniformly operates without discrimination or distinction upon all persons composing the described class, and as even appellant's own evidence did not show that the law applied only to it, but established only that no one knew whether the statute had been applied to other taxpayers during the one year it had been in effect. In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

Classifying for taxation under this section leasehold interests in government owned croplands and forestlands that are used in connection with a business conducted for profit seems eminently reasonable. In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

This section is not unconstitutionally vague in taxing the "user of the property." In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

Applicability. — This section applies to every party in the State that uses the property designated in connection with a business conducted for profit. In re Champion Int'l Corp., 74 N.C. App. 639, 329 S.E.2d 691, cert. denied, 314 N.C. 540, 335 S.E.2d 15 (1985).

§ 105-282.8. Assessment and collection.

The taxes levied under this Article shall be assessed to the lessee or user of the exempt property and shall be collected in the same manner and to the extent as if the lessee or user owned the property. The taxes are a debt due from the lessee or user to the taxing unit in which the property is located and are recoverable as other actions to collect a debt. (1981, c. 819, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 13.

Standards for Appraisal and Assessment.

§ 105-283. Uniform appraisal standards.

All property, real and personal, shall as far as practicable be appraised or valued at its true value in money. When used in this Subchapter, the words "true value" shall be interpreted as meaning market value, that is, the price estimated in terms of money at which the property would change hands between a willing and financially able buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell and both having reasonable knowledge of all the uses to which the property is adapted and for which it is capable of being used. For the purposes of this section, the acquisition of an interest in land by an entity having the power of eminent domain with respect to the interest acquired shall not be considered competent evidence of the true value in money of comparable land. (1939, c. 310, s. 500; 1953, c. 970, s. 5; 1955, c. 1100, s. 2; 1959, c. 682; 1967, c. 892, s. 7; 1969, c. 945, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 695, s. 11; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1297.)

CASE NOTES

Determination by General Assembly. — The North Carolina General Assembly, and no one else, determines how property in this State should be valued for purposes of ad valorem taxation. In re Amp, Inc., 287 N.C. 547, 215 S.E.2d 752 (1975).

Property Appraised at Market Value. — In substance this section and § 105-317.1 provide that all property shall be appraised at market value, and that all the various factors which enter into the market value of property are to be considered by the assessors in determining this market value for tax purposes. In re Bosley, 29 N.C. App. 468, 224 S.E.2d 686, cert. denied, 290 N.C. 551, 226 S.E.2d 509 (1976).

Valuation by Property Tax Commission. — The record supported the Property Tax Commission's valuation of taxpayer's plant, where the county conceded that its valuation method was arbitrary, and therefore, the Commission properly accorded no presumption of correctness to county's figures, but heard evidence and arrived at a value between those offered by the county and the taxpayer. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503 S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Fundamental rule of valuation is actual market or fair cash value. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

There may be reasonable variations from market value in appraisals of property for tax purposes if these variations are uniform. In re Bosley, 29 N.C. App. 468, 224 S.E.2d 686, cert. denied, 290 N.C. 551, 226 S.E.2d 509 (1976).

The fair market value of real property for tax purposes is the same as that for condemnation purposes. In re Parsons, 123 N.C. App. 32, 472 S.E.2d 182 (1996).

Use of "Book Value". — There is no statutory authority that permits the county tax supervisor, as a per se rule, to equate "book value" with true value in money as a uniform measure of assessment for purposes of ad valorem tax valuation. In re Amp, Inc., 287 N.C. 547, 215 S.E.2d 752 (1975).

The North Carolina General Assembly has specifically rejected a per se rule that would equate inventory value as reported on State tax returns with the value of such inventory as reported for purposes of ad valorem taxation. Hence, in requiring the taxpayers of a county to list their property at the value reported on State tax returns (i.e., "book value"), a county tax supervisor acts contrary to the mandate of the North Carolina Machinery Act. In re Amp, Inc., 287 N.C. 547, 215 S.E.2d 752 (1975).

Use of Sales Price. — Neither this section nor § 105-317(a) requires the commission to value property according to its sales price in a recent arm's length transaction when competent evidence of a different value is presented. In re Greensboro Office Partnership, 72 N.C. App. 635, 325 S.E.2d 24, cert. denied, 313 N.C. 602, 330 S.E.2d 610 (1985).

Where sale was not between a willing buyer and a willing seller, as contemplated by this section, sales price was not indicative of property's true value. In re Phoenix Ltd. Partnership, 134 N.C. App. 474, 517 S.E.2d 903 (1999).

Past and Future Income. — Section 105-317(a), in fixing the guide which assessors must use in valuing property for taxes, includes as a factor the past income therefrom, and its probable future income. But the income referred to is not necessarily actual income. The language is sufficient to include the income which could be obtained by the proper and efficient use of the property. To hold otherwise would be to penalize the competent and diligent and to reward the incompetent or indolent. In re Greensboro Office Partnership, 72 N.C. App. 635, 325 S.E.2d 24, cert. denied, 313 N.C. 602, 330 S.E.2d 610 (1985).

Property's Income Producing Ability. — The Machinery Act does not provide for consideration of property's income producing ability nor for the cost to conduct environmental remediation on the property in determining property value, although, a buyer would take them into account when deciding upon a price to offer for the property. In re Camel City Laundry Co., 115 N.C. App. 469, 444 S.E.2d 689 (1994).

Extrapolation Method. — The extrapolation method of valuation was appropriate, where the Property Tax Commission calculated the actual cost per square foot of the expansion, and then multiplied the square footage of the main building by that figure to estimate the cost of that building. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503 S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Cost Approach. — The county appraiser applied an appropriate version of the generally accepted cost method of appraisal in appraising the taxpayer's plant, where he used the actual cost of the plant expansion to estimate the cost of the main building, adjusted to remove personal property and excess costs, and added the results to determine the plant's total value. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503

S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Income Approach. — The income approach should have been the primary method used to reach a value for the anchor store in a shopping mall; while the income approach is preferential, a combination of approaches may be used because of the inherent weaknesses in each approach, so long as the income approach is given greatest weight. In re Belk-Broome Co., 119 N.C. App. 470, 458 S.E.2d 921 (1995), aff'd, 342 N.C. 890, 467 S.E.2d 242 (1996).

Taxation to Be in Proportion to True Value of Property. — The purpose of the statutory requirement that all property be appraised at its true value in money is to assure, as far as practicable, a distribution of the burden of taxation in proportion to the true values of the respective taxpayers' property holdings, whether they be rural or urban. In re King, 281 N.C. 533, 189 S.E.2d 158 (1972).

Personal Property Expenses. — In arriving at the true value of corporate real property, the Property Tax Commission did not err by including personal property expenses as a portion of excess costs, which it then deducted from total cost figures. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503 S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Charitable Trusts. — Because of the valid and enforceable restraint on alienation, property of a charitable trust itself is unmarketable; therefore, to tax the property according to normal market assumptions would be unfair to the charitable trust, and in doing so, would seriously erode and ultimately defeat the public policy of this State in favor of charitable trusts. In re Perry-Griffin Found., 108 N.C. App. 383, 424 S.E.2d 212 (1993).

There is no distinction between owners of real and personal property as to their right to insist upon equality of valuation or as to their standing to pursue the remedies provided in the Machinery Act for error in the valuation of properties. In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth Street, 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

Ad valorem tax assessments are presumed to be correct, and when such assessments are challenged, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer to show that the assessment was erroneous. In re Bosley, 29 N.C. App. 468, 224 S.E.2d 686, cert. denied, 290 N.C. 551, 226 S.E.2d 509 (1976).

Ad valorem tax assessments are presumed correct. In order to rebut this presumption, the taxpayer must present evidence to show that an arbitrary method of valuation was used, or that an illegal method of valuation was used, and that the assessment substantially exceeded the true value in money of the property. In re Interstate Income Fund I, 126 N.C. App. 162, 484 S.E.2d 450 (1997).

County tax assessment valuation method held not arbitrary. See In re Wagstaff, 42 N.C. App. 47, 255 S.E.2d 754 (1979).

Actual value of a note, bond, or other evidence of debt is the price estimated in terms of money at which the property would change hands between a willing and financially able buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell; it is synonymous with the "market value," or the "true value." In re Alamance Mem. Park, 41 N.C. App. 278, 254 S.E.2d 671 (1979).

Economic Blight of Downtown Area to Be Considered in Revaluation. — The policy of equality in valuations compels the assessors and, upon an appeal, the State Board of Assessment to take economic blight of a downtown area into account when revaluing property for tax purposes. In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth Street, 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

To find the true value of property subject to conservation easements, the Commission must determine the market value prior to the granting of the easements and then reduce that value by applying a damage factor caused by the granting of the conservation easements. Determining the highest and best use of the property prior to the granting of the easement is a critical part of the appraisal process. Rainbow Springs Partnership v. County of Macon, 79 N.C. App. 335, 339 S.E.2d 681, cert. denied, 316 N.C. 736, 345 S.E.2d 392 (1986).

In order to obtain relief from valuations upon their property by the State Board of Assessment, appellant electric membership corporations must show that the methods used in determining true value were illegal and arbitrary, and that appellants were substantially injured by a resulting excessive valuation of their property. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

Failure to Make Factor Affecting True Value Known to County. — The Property Tax Commission did not err as a matter of law by not considering evidence of a factor allegedly affecting the "true value" of taxpayer's property for a given year where taxpayer failed to make the factor known to the County. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

Appraisal Rebutted. — Taxpayers presented substantial evidence to rebut the presumption of correctness of county's appraisal of land; thus, the Property Tax Commission properly granted the taxpayers relief. In re Parsons, 123 N.C. App. 32, 472 S.E.2d 182 (1996).

§ 105-284. Uniform assessment standard.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, all property, real and personal, shall be assessed for taxation at its true value or use value as determined under G.S. 105-283 or G.S. 105-277.6, and taxes levied by all counties and municipalities shall be levied uniformly on assessments determined in accordance with this section.

(b) The assessed value of public service company system property subject to appraisal by the Department of Revenue under G.S. 105-335(b)(1) shall be determined by applying to the allocation of such value to each county a percentage to be established by the Department of Revenue. The percentage to be applied shall be either:

- (1) The median ratio established in sales assessment ratio studies of real property conducted by the Department of Revenue in the county in the year the county conducts a reappraisal of real property and in the fourth and seventh years thereafter; or
- (2) A weighted average percentage based on the median ratio for real property established by the Department of Revenue as provided in subdivision (1) and a one hundred percent (100%) ratio for personal property. No percentage shall be applied in a year in which the median ratio for real property is ninety percent (90%) or greater.

If the median ratio for real property in any county is below ninety percent (90%) and if the county assessor has provided information satisfactory to the Department of Revenue that the county follows accepted guidelines and practices in the assessment of business personal property, the weighted average percentage shall be applied to public service company property. In calculating the weighted average percentage, the Department shall use the assessed value figures for real and personal property reported by the county to the Local Government Commission for the preceding year. In any county which fails to demonstrate that it follows accepted guidelines and practices, the percentage to be applied shall be the median ratio for real property. The percentage established in a year in which a sales assessment ratio study is conducted shall continue to be applied until another study is conducted by the Department of Revenue.

(c) Notice of the median ratio and the percentage to be applied for each county shall be given by the Department of Revenue to the chairman of the board of commissioners not later than April 15 of the year for which it is to be effective. Notice shall also be given at the same time to the public service companies whose property values are subject to adjustment under this section. Either the county or an affected public service company may challenge the real property ratio or the percentage established by the Department of Revenue by giving notice of exception within 30 days after the mailing of the Department's notice. Upon receipt of such notice of exception, the Department shall arrange a conference with the challenging party or parties to review the matter. Following the conference, the Department shall notify the challenging party or parties of its final determination in the matter. Either party may appeal the Department's determination to the Property Tax Commission by giving notice of appeal within 30 days after the mailing of the Department's decision. (1939, c. 310, s. 500; 1953, c. 970, s. 5; 1955, c. 1100, s. 2; 1959, c. 682; 1967, c. 892, s. 7; 1969, c. 945, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 695, s. 12; 1985, c. 601, s. 1; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1052, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — An amendment to this section, which would have added a new subsection (d), by Session Laws 1993, c. 497, s. 20, was made effective upon certification of approval of an amendment to Article V of the Constitution of North Carolina relating to the authority of any county, city or town to borrow money, without the need of voter approval, and issue financing bonds to be used to finance public activities associated with private economic development projects. This amendment was submitted to the people on November 2, 1993 and was defeated. The amendment to this section, therefore, never took effect.

CASE NOTES

N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 Not Applicable to Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), Chapter 1052. — North Carolina Const., Art. II, § 23 applies, inter alia, to laws enacted for the purpose of imposing a tax. Chapter 1052 of Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988) neither imposes a tax nor authorizes its imposition, and therefore, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 does not apply. North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

There is no doubt that the effect of Chapter 1052 of Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988) imposed a greater tax burden on plaintiff for 1988. However, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 focuses on the purpose of the statute (to impose a tax) and not the result of the statute (an increased tax burden). North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

Generally, property in this state is assessed at 100% of its appraised (true) value. Some statutes, however, provide for assessment at different rates for special classes of property. *North Carolina E. Rebuttable Presumption of Correctness. — Ad valorem tax assessments are presumed correct. However, this presumption of correctness is only one of fact and is therefore rebuttable. In re Duke Power Co., 82 N.C. App. 492, 347 S.E.2d 54 (1986), cert. denied, 318 N.C. 694, 351 S.E.2d 744 (1987).

Time for Listing and Appraising Property for Taxation.

§ 105-285. Date as of which property is to be listed and appraised.

(a) Annual Listing Required. — All property subject to ad valorem taxation shall be listed annually.

(b) Personal Property; General Rule. — Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, the value, ownership, and place of taxation of personal property, both tangible and intangible, shall be determined annually as of January 1.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 12.

(d) Real Property. — The value of real property shall be determined as of January 1 of the years prescribed by G.S. 105-286 and G.S. 105-287. The ownership of real property shall be determined annually as of January 1, except in the following situation: When any real property is acquired after January 1, but prior to July 1, and the property was not subject to taxation on January 1 on account of its exempt status, it shall be listed for taxation by the transferee as of the date of acquisition and shall be appraised in accordance with its true value as of January 1 preceding the date of acquisition; and the property shall be taxed for the fiscal year of the taxing unit beginning on July 1 of the year in which it is acquired. The person in whose name such property is listed shall have the right to appeal the listing, appraisal, and assessment of the property in the same manner as that provided for listings made as of January 1.

In the event real property exempt as of January 1 is, prior to July 1, acquired from a governmental unit that by contract is making payments in lieu of taxes to the taxing unit for the fiscal period beginning July 1 of the year in which the property is acquired, the tax on such property for the fiscal period beginning on July 1 immediately following acquisition shall be one half of the amount of the tax that would have been imposed if the property had been listed for taxation as of January 1. ### § 105-286. Time for general reappraisal of real property.

(a) Octennial Plan. — Unless the date shall be advanced as provided in subdivision (a)(2), below, each county of the State, as of January 1 of the year prescribed in the schedule set out in subdivision (a)(1), below, and every eighth year thereafter, shall reappraise all real property in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-283 and 105-317.

(1) Schedule of Initial Reappraisals. —

Division One — 1972: Avery, Camden, Cherokee, Cleveland, Cumberland, Guilford, Harnett, Haywood, Lee, Montgomery, Northampton, and Robeson.

Division Two — 1973: Caldwell, Carteret, Columbus, Currituck, Davidson, Gaston, Greene, Hyde, Lenoir, Madison, Orange, Pamlico, Pitt, Richmond, Swain, Transylvania, and Washington.

Division Three — 1974: Ashe, Buncombe, Chowan, Franklin, Henderson, Hoke, Jones, Pasquotank, Rowan, and Stokes.

Division Four — 1975: Alleghany, Bladen, Brunswick, Cabarrus, Catawba, Dare, Halifax, Macon, New Hanover, Surry, Tyrrell, and Yadkin.

Division Five — 1976: Bertie, Caswell, Forsyth, Iredell, Jackson, Lincoln, Onslow, Person, Perquimans, Rutherford, Union, Vance, Wake, Wilson, and Yancey.

Division Six — 1977: Alamance, Durham, Edgecombe, Gates, Martin, Mitchell, Nash, Polk, Randolph, Stanly, Warren, and Wilkes.

Division Seven — 1978: Alexander, Anson, Beaufort, Clay, Craven, Davie, Duplin, and Granville.

Division Eight — 1979: Burke, Chatham, Graham, Hertford, Johnston, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Moore, Pender, Rockingham, Sampson, Scotland, Watauga, and Wayne.

(2) Advancing Scheduled Octennial Reappraisal. — Any county desiring to conduct a reappraisal of real property earlier than required by this subsection (a) may do so upon adoption by the board of county commissioners of a resolution so providing. A copy of any such resolution shall be forwarded promptly to the Department of Revenue. If the scheduled date for reappraisal for any county is advanced as provided herein, real property in that county shall thereafter be reappraised every eighth year following the advanced date unless, in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision (a)(2), an earlier date shall be adopted by resolution of the board of county commissioners, in which event a new schedule of octennial reappraisals shall thereby be established for that county.

(b) Fourth-Year Horizontal Adjustments. — As of January 1 of the fourth year following a reappraisal of real property conducted under the provisions of subsection (a), above, each county shall review the appraised values of all real property and determine whether changes should be made to bring those values into line with then current true value. If it is determined that the appraised value of all real property or of defined types or categories of real property require such adjustment, the assessor shall revise the values accordingly by horizontal adjustments rather than by actual appraisal of individual properties: That is, by uniform application of percentages of increase or reduction to the appraised values of properties within defined types or categories or within defined geographic areas of the county.

(c) Value to Be Assigned Real Property When Not Subject to Appraisal. — In years in which real property within a county is not subject to appraisal or reappraisal under subsections (a) or (b), above, or under G.S. 105-287, it shall be listed at the value assigned when last appraised under this section or under G.S. 105-287. (1939, c. 310, s. 300; 1941, c. 282, ss. 1, 11/2; 1943, c. 634, s. 1; 1945, c. 5; 1947, c. 50; 1949, c. 109; 1951, c. 847; 1953, c. 395; 1955, c. 1273; 1957, c. 1453, s. 1; 1959, c. 704, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-287. Changing appraised value of real property in years in which general reappraisal or horizontal adjustment is not made.

(a) In a year in which a general reappraisal or horizontal adjustment of real property in the county is not made, the assessor shall increase or decrease the appraised value of real property, as determined under G.S. 105-286, to recognize a change in the property’s value resulting from one or more of the reasons listed in this subsection. The reason necessitating a change in the property’s value need not be under the control of or at the request of the owner of the affected property.

- (1) Correct a clerical or mathematical error.
- (2) Correct an appraisal error resulting from a misapplication of the schedules, standards, and rules used in the county’s most recent general reappraisal or horizontal adjustment.
- (2a) Recognize an increase or decrease in the value of the property resulting from a conservation or preservation agreement subject to Article 4 of Chapter 121 of the General Statutes, the Conservation and Historic Preservation Agreements Act.
- (2b) Recognize an increase or decrease in the value of the property resulting from a physical change to the land or to the improvements on the land, other than a change listed in subsection (b) of this section.
- (2c) Recognize an increase or decrease in the value of the property resulting from a change in the legally permitted use of the property.
- (3) Recognize an increase or decrease in the value of the property resulting from a factor other than one listed in subsection (b).

(b) In a year in which a general reappraisal or horizontal adjustment of real property in the county is not made, the assessor may not increase or decrease the appraised value of real property, as determined under G.S. 105-286, to recognize a change in value caused by:

- (1) Normal, physical depreciation of improvements;
- (2) Inflation, deflation, or other economic changes affecting the county in general; or

(3) Betterments to the property made by:

- a. Repairing buildings or other structures;
- b. Terracing or other methods of soil conservation;
- c. Landscape gardening;
- d. Protecting forests against fire; or
- e. Impounding water on marshland for non-commercial purposes to preserve or enhance the natural habitat of wildlife.

(c) An increase or decrease in the appraised value of real property authorized by this section shall be made in accordance with the schedules, standards, and rules used in the county's most recent general reappraisal or horizontal adjustment. An increase or decrease in appraised value under this section is effective as of January 1 of the year in which it is made and is not retroactive. This section does not modify or restrict the provisions of G.S. 105-312 concerning the appraisal of discovered property.

(d) Notwithstanding subsection (a), if a tract of land has been subdivided into lots and more than five acres of the tract remain unsold by the owner of the tract, the assessor may appraise the unsold portion as land acreage rather than as lots. A tract is considered subdivided into lots when the lots are located on streets laid out and open for travel and the lots have been sold or offered for sale as lots since the last appraisal of the property. (1939, c. 310, ss. 301, 500; 1953, c. 970, s. 5; 1955, c. 901; c. 1100, s. 2; 1959, c. 682; c. 704, s. 2; 1963, c. 414; 1967, c. 892, s. 7; 1969, c. 945, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 695, s. 10; c. 790, s. 2; 1987, c. 655; 1997-226, s. 4; 2001-139, s. 2.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-139, s. 2, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2002, substituted “to recognize a change in the property’s value resulting from one or more of the reasons listed in this subsection” for “to accomplish any one or more of the following” at the end of the first sentence of subsection (a), added the second sentence of subsection (a), and added subdivisions (a)(2b) and (a)(2c).

CASE NOTES

Purpose of Section. — The obvious purpose of the procedure in this section is to provide opportunity at the local level to deal with taxpayer-presented information and to modify appraisals as such information requires before any appeal need be heard by the Property Tax Commission. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

This section imposes upon the county an affirmative duty to reappraise property in a non-appraisal year whenever it determines that any of the enumerated circumstances exists. In re Butler, 84 N.C. App. 213, 352 S.E.2d 232, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 673, 356 S.E.2d 775 (1987).

Economic Changes. — A decline in the value of downtown property and a change in federal tax laws are economic changes affecting the county in general. In re Hotel L'Europe, 116 N.C. App. 651, 448 S.E.2d 865 (1994), cert. denied, 339 N.C. 612, 454 S.E.2d 252 (1995).

A post-octennial valuation sale is not a statutorily permissive basis for adjusting a property's tax valuation. In re Allred, 351 N.C. 1, 519 S.E.2d 52 (1999).

State Tax Commission's reliance upon an independent appraiser's collateral determination of petitioners' property value, without challenge or correlation to the county's schedules of value or the application of those schedules to the property, was in violation of the statutory requirement of this section that any permissible increase or decrease in the appraised value of real property be calculated using the schedules and standards established by the county. In re Allred, 351 N.C. 1, 519 S.E.2d 52 (1999).

Correction of Unjust and Inequitable Assessment. — It is apparent that the legislature intended to authorize a county board of equalization and review, when requested so to do, to correct any unjust and inequitable assessment. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963) (decided under former similar provisions).

Only one of the nine grounds for reappraisal enumerated in this section need exist in order for a county to lawfully conduct a reappraisal in a non-appraisal year. In re Butler, 84 N.C. App. 213, 352 S.E.2d 232, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 673, 356 S.E.2d 775 (1987).

Burden of Proof on Taxpayer. — While there is an affirmative duty upon the taxing authority to reappraise property if statutorily enumerated circumstances exist, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer to establish the presence of such conditions. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

Burden on Taxpayer to Prove Lack of Authority. — A county is not required to bear a particular burden of establishing its authority to reappraise in off years. To the contrary, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer. In re Butler, 84 N.C. App. 213, 352 S.E.2d 232, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 673, 356 S.E.2d 775 (1987).

Taxpayer adequately stated a claim in asserting that assessment was erroneous because it substantially exceeded true value, failed to address factors impacting the value of real property under § 105-317, was premised on certain clerical, mathematical and/or appraisal errors, and failed to properly adjust value of property based on its physical condition, layout and economic and functional obsolescence. In re Sterling Diagnostic Imaging, Inc., 132 N.C. App. 393, 511 S.E.2d 682 (1999).

Due Process Requirements Regarding Notice to Taxpayer. — Due process merely requires that notice to a taxpayer whose property is reappraised pursuant to this section, considering the time, the general wording, and the method of publication, be reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and to afford them an opportunity to present their objections. In re Butler, 84 N.C. App. 213, 352 S.E.2d 232, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 673, 356 S.E.2d 775 (1987).

Failure of Taxpayer to Notify County. — The Property Tax Commission did not err as a matter of law by not considering evidence of a factor allegedly affecting the “true value” of taxpayer’s property for a given year where taxpayer failed to make the factor known to the County. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

Adjustment for Inflationary Increases. — The taxpayer failed to show that the Property Tax Commission erred by not adjusting its expansion costs to the most recent reevaluation year, where witnesses for both parties agreed that total costs should be adjusted downward to account for inflation, and it was reasonable to assume that, in arriving at the value of the expansion, the Commission contemplated this necessity and included price escalations in its reduction of the expansion cost figure by fifty percent to reflect excess costs. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503 S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Notification by Taxpayer of Asbestos Contamination Untimely. — Statement regarding contamination given to the County’s appraiser nearly sixteen months after the effective date of appraisal and almost four months following conclusion of the tax year in question, as well as the proffer of asbestos contamination evidence at hearing before the Property Tax Commission, came too late to qualify as proper and timely notification. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

If county board of equalization and review refuses to act, the taxpayer may appeal to the State Board of Assessment. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963).

Legislature never contemplated that injustice done a taxpayer must continue for a period of years merely because he failed at the first opportunity to bring the injustice to the attention of the authority having the power to correct. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963).

Reappraisal Supported By Substantial Evidence. — Under the “whole record” test, land pricing maps and other exhibits and the expert testimony of the appraisal supervisor provided competent, material, and substantial evidence in support of the commission’s conclusion that county’s reappraisal was lawful because a clerical error caused an undervaluation. In re Butler, 84 N.C. App. 213, 352 S.E.2d 232, cert. denied, 319 N.C. 673, 356 S.E.2d 775 (1987).

No Revaluation After Transfer. — The Property Tax Commission was without statutory authority to revalue a piece of land after the owners/tax payers gave a part of it to a third party. Although the division of the 1.91 acre tract into two tracts and the conveyance of one of the tracts “directly affected” the property, the division and transfer was within the sole authority of the taxpayers and, therefore, not a “factor” within the meaning of this section. In re Corbett, 138 N.C. App. 534, 530 S.E.2d 90 (2000).

Failure to Appraise Property or to Bill Owners. — This section, prohibiting retroactive increases in appraised property values, did not operate to preclude county tax assessor from levying challenged tax in 1990 (based on property tax commission finding that assessor appraised the house at $0 in 1989), where the assessor, due to an administrative error, simply failed to appraise the house or to bill the owners in 1989 for the taxes owned thereon. In re Dickey, 110 N.C. App. 823, 431 S.E.2d 203 (1993).

Duties of Department and Property Tax Commission as to Assessments.

§ 105-288. Property Tax Commission.

(a) Creation and Membership. — The Property Tax Commission is created. It consists of five members, three of whom are appointed by the Governor and two of whom are appointed by the General Assembly. Of the two appointments by the General Assembly, one shall be made upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the other shall be made upon the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. The terms of the members appointed by the Governor and of the member appointed upon the recommendation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate are for four years. Of the members appointed for four-year terms, two expire on June 30 of each odd-numbered year. The term of the member appointed upon the recommendation of the Speaker of the House of Representatives is for two years and it expires on June 30 of each odd-numbered year. The General Assembly shall make its appointments in accordance with G.S. 120-121 and shall fill a vacancy in accordance with G.S. 120-122. A vacancy occurs on the Commission when a member resigns, is removed, or dies. The person appointed to fill a vacancy shall serve for the balance of the unexpired term. The Governor may remove any member for misfeasance, malfeasance, or nonfeasance.

The Commission shall have a chair and a vice-chair. The Governor shall designate one of the Commission members as the chair, to serve at the pleasure of the Governor. The members of the Commission shall elect a vice-chair from among its membership. The vice-chair serves until the member's regularly appointed term expires.

(b) Duties. — The Property Tax Commission constitutes the State Board of Equalization and Review for the valuation and taxation of property in the State. It shall hear appeals from the appraisal and assessment of the property of public service companies as defined in G.S. 105-333. The Commission may adopt rules needed to fulfill its duties.

(c) Oath. — Each member of the Property Tax Commission, as the appointed holder of an office, shall take the oath required by Article VI, § 7 of the North Carolina Constitution with the following phrase added to it: "that I will not allow my actions as a member of the Property Tax Commission to be influenced by personal or political friendships or obligations,".

(d) Expenses. — The members of the Property Tax Commission shall receive travel and subsistence expenses in accordance with G.S. 138-5 and a salary of two hundred dollars ($200.00) a day when hearing cases, meeting to decide cases, and attending training or continuing education classes on property taxes or judicial procedure. The Secretary of Revenue shall supply all the clerical and other services required by the Commission. All expenses of the Commission and the Department of Revenue in performing the duties enumerated in this Article shall be paid as provided in G.S. 105-501.

(e) Meetings. — The Property Tax Commission shall meet at least once in each quarter and may hold special meetings at any time and place within the State at the call of the Chair or upon the written request of at least three members. At least 15 days' notice shall be given to each member with respect to each special meeting. A majority of the Commission members constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business. Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2000-67, s. 1.1, provides: "This act shall be known as 'The Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2000'."

Session Laws 2000-67, s. 28.4, contains a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-67, s. 7.11, effective July 1, 2000, substituted "cases, meeting to decide cases, and attending training or continuing education classes on property taxes or judicial procedure" in subsection (d).

CASE NOTES

Duty to Weigh and Appraise Evidence. — The function of the Property Tax commission is to determine the weight and sufficiency of the evidence and the credibility of the witnesses, to draw inferences from the facts and to appraise conflicting and circumstantial evidence. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463, rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Sanctions for Failure to Follow Commission's Rules. — Dismissal of an appeal to the commission for failure to follow the rules of the commission for filing the appeal is an appropriate sanction. Without the implicit authority to enforce its rules by dismissal, the commission's effectiveness as a quasi-judicial body would be fatally compromised. In re Fayetteville Hotel Assocs., 117 N.C. App. 285, 450 S.E.2d 568 (1994), aff'd per curiam, 342 N.C. 405, 464 S.E.2d 298 (1995).

Order Entered After Expiration of Chairman's Term. — Order entered on November 4, 1991 by chairman of county tax commission after his term had expired as a commissioner on the property tax commission and his successor to the commission had been appointed was not a valid and binding order because the chairman did not have the authority to enter an order after the expiration of his term on the commission. ## § 105-289. Duties of Department of Revenue.

(a) It shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue:

- (1) To discharge the duties prescribed by law and to enforce the provisions of this Subchapter.
- (2) To exercise general and specific supervision over the valuation and taxation of property by taxing units throughout the State.
- (3) To appraise the property of public service companies.
- (4) To keep full and accurate records of the Commission's official proceedings.
- (5) To prepare and distribute annually to each assessor a manual that establishes five expected net income per acre ranges for agricultural land, horticultural land, and forestland, and establishes a method for appraising nonproductive land as a percentage of the lowest use-value established for productive land. The high and low net income amount in each range may differ by no more than fifteen dollars ($15.00). The basis for establishing each range shall be soil productivity.

For agricultural land, the expected net income per acre ranges shall be based on the actual yields and prices of corn and soybeans over a period of at least the five previous years, and the actual fixed and variable costs, including an imputed management cost, incurred in growing corn and soybeans over the same period of time. The manual shall contain recommended adjustments to the net income per acre ranges for the growing of crops subject to acreage or poundage allotments.

Expected net income per acre ranges shall be similarly established for horticultural land and forestland, using typical horticultural or forest products in various growing regions of the State instead of corn and soybeans.

- (6) To establish requirements for horticultural land, used to produce evergreens intended for use as Christmas trees, in lieu of a gross income requirement until evergreens are harvested from the land, and to establish a gross income requirement for this type horticultural land, that differs from the income requirement for other horticultural land, when evergreens are harvested from the land.

(b), (c) Repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 476, s. 193.

(d) In exercising general and specific supervision over the valuation and taxation of property, the Department shall provide the following:

- (1) A continuing program of education and training for local tax officials in the conduct of their duties;
- (2) A program for testing the qualifications of an assessor and other persons engaged in the appraisal of property for a county or municipality;
- (3) A certification program for an assessor and other persons engaged in the appraisal of property for a county or municipality; and
- (4) Assistance to the county and/or the county attorney in developing the specifications for the proposed contract sent to the Department for review pursuant to G.S. 105-299.

The Department shall promulgate regulations to carry out its duties under this subsection.

(e) The Department of Revenue may furnish the following information to a local tax official:

- (1) Information contained in a report to it or to any other State department; and
- (2) Information the Department has in its possession that may assist a local tax official in securing complete tax listings, appraising or assessing taxable property, collecting taxes, or presenting information in administrative or judicial proceedings involving the listing, appraisal, or assessment of property.

A local tax official may use information obtained from the Department under this subsection only for the purposes stated in subdivision (2). A local tax official may not divulge or make public this information except as required in administrative or judicial proceedings under this Subchapter. A local tax official who makes improper use of or discloses information obtained from the Department under this subsection is punishable as provided in G.S. 153A-148.1 or G.S. 160A-208.1, as appropriate.

The Department may not furnish information to a local tax official pursuant to this subsection unless it has obtained a written certification from the official stating that the official is familiar with the provisions of this subsection and G.S. 153A-148.1 or G.S. 160A-208.1, as appropriate, and that information obtained from the Department under this subsection will be used only for the purposes stated in subdivision (2).

(f) To advise local tax officials of their duties concerning the listing, appraisal, and assessment of property and the levy and collection of property taxes.

(g) To see that proper proceedings are brought to enforce the statutes pertaining to taxation and the collection of penalties and liabilities imposed by law upon public officers, officers of corporations, and individuals who fail, refuse, or neglect to comply with the provisions of this Subchapter and other laws with respect to the taxation of property, and to call upon the Attorney General of this State or any prosecuting attorney of this State to assist in the execution of the powers conferred by the laws of this State with respect to the taxation of property.

(h) To make annual studies of the ratio of the appraised value of real property to its true value and to establish for each county the median ratio as determined by the studies for each calendar year. The studies for each calendar year shall be completed by April 15 of the following calendar year. The studies shall be conducted in accordance with generally accepted principles and procedures for sales assessment ratio studies.

(i) To maintain a register of appraisal firms, mapping firms and other persons or firms having expertise in one or more of the duties of the assessor; to review the qualifications and work of such persons or firms; and to advise county officials as to the professional and financial capabilities of such persons or firms to assist the assessor in carrying out his duties under this Subchapter. The register shall include a copy of the report filed by the counties pursuant to G.S. 105-322(g)(4). It shall also include the average median sales assessment ratio and the coefficient of dispersion achieved in each county for the first two years following the county's effective date of revaluation. To be registered with the Department of Revenue, such persons or firms shall annually file a report with the Department setting forth the following information:

- (1) A statement of the firm's ownership,
- (2) A statement of the firm's financial condition,
- (3) A list of the firm's principal officers with a statement of their qualifications and experience,
- (4) A list of the firm's employees with a statement of their education, training and experience, and
- (5) A full and complete resume of each employee which the firm proposes to place in a supervisory position in any mapping or revaluation project for a county in this State. (1939, c. 310, s. 202; 1955, c. 1350, s. 10; 1967, c. 1196, s. 3; 1969, c. 7, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 47, s. 2; c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 275, s. 9; c. 508, s. 1; 1981, c. 387, ss. 1, 2; 1983, c. 813, s. 1; 1985, c. 601, s. 3; c. 628, s. 3; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 46, s. 1; c. 440, s. 1; c. 830, s. 84(a); 1987 (Reg. #### CASE NOTES

North Carolina Const., Art. II, § 23 Not Applicable to Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), Chapter 1052. — North Carolina Const., Art. II, § 23 applies, inter alia, to laws enacted for the purpose of imposing a tax. Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1052 neither imposes a tax nor authorizes its imposition, and therefore, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 does not apply. North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

There is no doubt that the effect of Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1052 imposed a greater tax burden on plaintiff for 1988. However, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 focuses on the purpose of the statute (to impose a tax) and not the result of the statute (an increased tax burden). North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

Department of Revenue is given general supervisory power over the valuation and taxation of property throughout the State and authority to correct improper assessments. In re King, 281 N.C. 533, 189 S.E.2d 158 (1972).

§ 105-289.1: Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 12.

§ 105-290. Appeals to Property Tax Commission.

(a) Duty to Hear Appeals. — In its capacity as the State board of equalization and review, the Property Tax Commission shall hear and adjudicate appeals from boards of county commissioners and from county boards of equalization and review as provided in this section.

(b) Appeals from Appraisal and Listing Decisions. — The Property Tax Commission shall hear and decide appeals from decisions concerning the listing, appraisal, or assessment of property made by county boards of equalization and review and boards of county commissioners. Any property owner of the county may except to an order of the county board of equalization and review or the board of county commissioners concerning the listing, appraisal, or assessment of property and appeal the order to the Property Tax Commission.

(1) In these cases, taxpayers and persons having ownership interests in the property subject to taxation may file separate appeals or joint appeals at the election of one or more of the taxpayers. It is the intent of this provision that all owners of a single item of personal property or tract or parcel of real property be allowed to join in one appeal and also that any taxpayer be allowed to include in one appeal all objections timely presented regardless of the fact that the listing or valuation of more than one item of personal property or tract or parcel of real property is the subject of the appeal.

(2) When an appeal is filed, the Property Tax Commission shall provide a hearing before representatives of the Commission or the full Commission as specified in this subdivision.

a. Hearing by Commission Representatives. — The Commission may authorize one or more members of the Commission or employees of the Department of Revenue to hear an appeal, to make examinations and investigations, to have made from stenographic notes a full and complete record of the evidence offered at the hearing, and to make recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law. Should the Commission elect to follow this procedure, it shall fix the time and place at which its representatives will hear the appeal and, at least 10 days before the hearing, give written notice of the hearing to the appellant and to the clerk of the board of commissioners of the county from which the appeal is taken. At the hearing the Commission's representatives shall hear all evidence and affidavits offered by the appellant and appellee county and may exercise the authority granted by subsection (d), below, to obtain information pertinent to decision of the appeal. The representatives conducting the hearing shall submit to the Commission and to the appellant and appellee their recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law. Upon the request of any party, the representatives conducting the hearing shall also submit to the Commission and to the appellant and appellee a full record of the proceeding. The cost of providing the full record of the proceeding shall be borne by the party requesting it, unless the Commission determines for good cause that the cost should be borne by the Commission. The Commission shall review the record, the recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law, and any written arguments that may be submitted to the Commission by the appellant or appellee within 15 days following the date on which the findings and conclusions were submitted to the parties and shall take one of the following actions:

1. Accept the recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue an appropriate order as provided in subdivision (b)(3), below.
  2. Make new findings of fact or conclusions of law based upon the materials submitted by the Commission's representatives and issue an appropriate order as provided in subdivision (b)(3), below.
  3. Rehear the appeal under the procedure provided in subdivision (b)(2)b, below, with respect to any portion of the record or recommended findings of fact or conclusions of law.
- b. Hearing by Full Commission. — Should the Commission elect not to employ the procedure provided in subdivision (b)(2)a, above, it shall fix a time and place at which the Commission shall hear the appeal and, at least 10 days before the hearing, give written notice of the hearing to the appellant and to the clerk of the board of commissioners of the county from which the appeal is taken. At the hearing the Commission shall hear all evidence and affidavits offered by the appellant and appellee county and may exercise the authority granted by subsection (d), below, to obtain information pertinent to decision of the appeal. The Commission shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue an appropriate order as provided in subdivision (b)(3), below.
- (3) On the basis of the findings of fact and conclusions of law made after any hearing provided for by this subsection (b), the Property Tax Commission shall enter an order (incorporating the findings and conclusions) reducing, increasing, or confirming the valuation or valuations appealed or listing or removing from the tax lists the property whose listing has been appealed. A certified copy of the order shall be delivered to the appellant and to the clerk of the board of commissioners of the county from which the appeal was taken, and the abstracts and tax records of the county shall be corrected to reflect the Commission's order.
- (4) Interest on Overpayments. — When an order of the Property Tax Commission reduces the valuation of property or removes the property from the tax lists and, based on the order, the taxpayer has paid more tax than is due on the property, the taxpayer is entitled to receive interest on the overpayment in accordance with this subdivision. An overpayment of tax bears interest at the rate set under G.S. 105-241.1(i) from the date the interest begins to accrue until a refund is paid. Interest accrues from the later of the date the tax was paid and the date the tax would have been considered delinquent under G.S. 105-360. A refund is considered paid on a date determined by the governing body of the taxing unit that is no sooner than five days after a refund check is mailed.
- (c) Appeals from Adoption of Schedules, Standards, and Rules. — It shall be the duty of the Property Tax Commission to hear and to adjudicate appeals from orders of boards of county commissioners adopting schedules of values, standards, and rules under the provisions of G.S. 105-317 as prescribed in this subsection (c), and the adoption of such schedules, standards, and rules shall not be subject to appeal under any other provision of this Subchapter.
- (1) A property owner of the county who, either separately or in conjunction with other property owners of the county, asserts that the schedules of values, standards, and rules adopted by order of the board of county commissioners do not meet the true value or present-use value appraisal standards established by G.S. 105-283 and G.S. 105-277.2(5), respectively, may appeal the order to the Property Tax Commission within 30 days of the date when the order adopting the schedules, standards, and rules was first published, as required by G.S. 105-317(c).

- (2) Upon such an appeal the Property Tax Commission shall proceed to hear the appeal in accordance with the procedures provided in subdivisions (b)(1) and (b)(2), above, and in scheduling the hearing upon such an appeal, the Commission shall give it priority over appeals that may be pending before the Commission under the provisions of subsection (b), above. The decision of the Commission upon such an appeal shall be embodied in an order as provided in subdivision (c)(3), below.
- (3) On the basis of the findings of fact and conclusions of law made after any hearing provided for by this subsection (c), the Property Tax Commission shall enter an order (incorporating the findings and conclusions):
  - a. Modifying or confirming the order adopting the schedules, standards, and rules challenged, or
  - b. Requiring the board of county commissioners to revise or modify its order of adoption in accordance with the instructions of the Commission and to present the order as thus revised or modified for approval by the Commission under rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission.

(d) Witnesses and Documents. — Upon its own motion or upon the request of any party to an appeal, the Property Tax Commission, or any member of the Commission, or any employee of the Department of Revenue so authorized by the Commission shall examine witnesses under oath administered by any member of the Commission or any employee of the Department so authorized by the Commission, and examine the documents of any person if there is ground for believing that information contained in such documents is pertinent to the decision of any appeal pending before the Commission, regardless of whether such person is a party to the proceeding before the Commission. Witnesses and documents examined under the authority of this subsection (d) shall be examined only after service of a subpoena as provided in subdivision (d)(1), below. The travel expenses of any witness subpoenaed and the cost of serving any subpoena shall be borne by the party that requested the subpoena.

- (1) The Property Tax Commission, a member of the Commission, or any employee of the Department of Revenue authorized by the Commission, is authorized and empowered to subpoena witnesses and to subpoena documents upon a subpoena to be signed by the chairman of the Commission directed to the witness or witnesses or to the person or persons having custody of the documents sought. Subpoenas issued under this subdivision may be served by any officer authorized to serve subpoenas.

- (2) Any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to appear, to produce subpoenaed documents in response to a subpoena, or to testify as provided in this subsection (d) shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(e) Time Limits for Appeals. — A notice of appeal from an order of a board of county commissioners, other than an order adopting a uniform schedule of values, or from a board of equalization and review shall be filed with the Property Tax Commission within 30 days after the date the board mailed a notice of its decision to the property owner. A notice of appeal from an order adopting a schedule of values shall be filed within the time set in subsection (c).

(f) Notice of Appeal. — A notice of appeal filed with the Property Tax Commission shall be in writing and shall state the grounds for the appeal. A property owner who files a notice of appeal shall send a copy of the notice to the appropriate county assessor.

(g) What Constitutes Filing. — A notice of appeal submitted to the Property Tax Commission by a means other than United States mail is considered to be filed on the date it is received in the office of the Commission. A notice of appeal submitted to the Property Tax Commission by United States mail is considered to be filed on the date shown on the postmark stamped by the United States Postal Service. If an appeal submitted by United States mail is not postmarked or the postmark does not show the date of mailing, the appeal is considered to be filed on the date it is received in the office of the Commission. A property owner who files an appeal with the Commission has the burden of proving that the appeal is timely. ## CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Legislative Intent. — The Legislature intended the right of appeal in these cases to extend only to taxpayers or those persons who have ownership interests in the property subject to taxation. In re Appeal of Forsyth County, 104 N.C. App. 635, 410 S.E.2d 533 (1991), cert. denied, 330 N.C. 851, 413 S.E.2d 551 (1992).

Filing of Notice of Appeal. — A notice of appeal submitted to the Commission via the Postal Service, but which does not bear a postmark stamped by the Service, is considered filed only upon receipt by the Commission. In re Bass Income Fund, 115 N.C. App. 703, 446 S.E.2d 594 (1994).

Entry of Judgment. — This section, rather than § 1A-1, Rule 58, controlled appeal to the Property Tax Commission, including entry of judgment. In re Gen. Tire, Inc., 102 N.C. App. 38, 401 S.E.2d 391 (1991).

Property Tax Commission is given general supervisory power over the valuation and taxation of property throughout the State and authority to correct improper assessments. In re King, 281 N.C. 533, 189 S.E.2d 158 (1972).

Property Tax Commission Empowered to Make Final Valuation of Property. — The legislature's intent is that the agency designated to hear appeals in all matters pertaining to tax valuations should also be the one empowered to make the final valuation. The State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) — unlike the courts — has the staff, the specialized knowledge and expertise necessary to make informed decisions upon questions relating to the valuation and assessment of property. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

Limits on Commission's Powers. — State Property Tax Commission's authority to issue an order reducing, increasing or confirming the valuation or valuations appealed, or listing or removing from the tax lists the property which has been appealed, is subject to the same statutory parameters as assessors, county boards and county commissioners. In re Allred, 351 N.C. 1, 519 S.E.2d 52 (1999).

Decision Regarding Exemption. — Although the decision of the county board to grant or deny an exemption is a discretionary one, it is reviewable by the Property Tax Commission. In re K-Mart Corp., 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Dismissal of Appeals to Commission. — A county board of equalization and review operates in a very informal manner. No record is kept and usually little hard evidence exists to indicate the procedures followed. Therefore, appeals to the Property Tax Commission should not be dismissed on technical grounds but only for clear noncompliance with statutory prerequisites. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

Taxpayer Must Exhaust Administrative Remedy Before Resorting to Courts. — The legislature has provided adequate means whereby the individual taxpayer may contest not only the valuation which the county commissioners have placed upon his own property but the entire tax list or assessment roll, and he must exhaust this administrative remedy before he can resort to the courts. King v.

Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

The superior court has no authority to issue mandamus commanding the commissioners to revalue all real property in the county at its true value in money, since taxpayers must first exhaust the statutory administrative remedies in the county board of equalization and review and in the State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) before they can resort to the superior court. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

But Judicial Review Is Available. — Any person aggrieved by a final decision of the Property Tax Commission, and who has exhausted all administrative remedies available to him, is entitled to judicial review under § 150A-43 (see now § 150B-43) et seq. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

The administrative decisions of the Property Tax Commission, whether with respect to the schedule of values of the appraisal of property, are always subject to judicial review after administrative procedures have been exhausted. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

And Jurisdiction of State Board (now Property Tax Commission) Not Exclusive. — See In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Jurisdiction Lacking. — Where County Tax Assessor attempted to appeal in his individual capacity a decision of the Board of Equalization and Review that he could not appeal in his official capacity as Tax Assessor he had no standing to appeal to the Property Tax Commission and the Commission had no jurisdiction to hear his appeal. In re Moses H. Cone Mem. Hosp., 113 N.C. App. 562, 439 S.E.2d 778 (1994), aff'd in part, cert. improvidently granted in part, 340 N.C. 93, 455 S.E.2d 431 (1995).

Weight of Findings of Commission upon Review. — When judicial review is sought in superior court on the record made before the Property Tax Commission, the court is bound by the findings if they are supported by competent, material and substantial evidence under § 150A-51(5) (see now § 150B-51(5)) in view of the entire record as submitted. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

When Case Remanded to Commission. — Where the findings of the Property Tax Commission are not supported according to the requirements of § 150A-51(5) (see now § 150B-51(5)), the case will be remanded for further proceedings. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

Steps in Obtaining Review of Valuation.

— If the county commissioners have failed to value land at its true value in money — be the failure deliberate, an error in judgment, or caused by a misconception of the law — plaintiffs' initial step is to complain to the county board of equalization and review and request a hearing. If they are dissatisfied with the action taken by that board they may except to its order and appeal to the State Board (now Property Tax Commission). Thereafter, plaintiffs may resort to the courts, but only to obtain judicial review for errors of law or abuse of discretion by the State Board (now Property Tax Commission). King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

Burden of Proof on Taxpayer. — While there is an affirmative duty upon the taxing authority to reappraise property if statutorily enumerated circumstances exist, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer to establish the presence of such conditions. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

Showing Required to Have Valuation

Set Aside. — In order for a taxpayer to have valuation set aside, he must show more than a failure to follow the statutory procedures. It is not enough for the taxpayer to show that the means adopted by the tax supervisor were wrong; he must also show that the result arrived at is substantially greater than the true value in money of the property assessed, i.e., that the valuation was unreasonably high. In re Highlands Dev. Corp., 80 N.C. App. 544, 342 S.E.2d 588 (1986).

Where taxpayers failed to show how they were aggrieved by the valuation of other owners' property, the Commission properly refused to allow them to appeal those valuations as a class action. In re Highlands Dev. Corp., 80 N.C. App. 544, 342 S.E.2d 588 (1986).

§ 105-291. Powers of Department and Commission.

(a) General Powers. — The Department of Revenue is authorized to exercise all powers reasonably necessary to perform the duties imposed upon it by this Subchapter and other laws of this State.

(b) Rule-Making Power. — The Department may adopt such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as the Department may deem necessary to perform the duties or responsibilities of this Chapter.

(c) General Investigatory Authority. — In exercising general and specific supervision over the valuation and taxation of property, the Department or any authorized deputy shall have power to examine witnesses under oath administered by any member or authorized deputy and to examine the documents of any State department, county, city, town, or taxpayer if there is ground for believing that the witnesses have or that the documents contain information pertinent to the subject of the Department's inquiry. Witnesses and documents examined under the authority of this subsection (c) may be obtained through service of subpoenas as provided in subdivision (c)(1), below.

(1) To obtain the testimony of witnesses or to obtain access to the documents enumerated in this subsection (c), the Department or any authorized deputy is authorized and empowered to subpoena witnesses and to subpoena documents upon a subpoena to be signed by the Secretary of Revenue directed to the witness or to the person having custody of the documents sought, and to be served by any officer authorized to serve subpoenas.

(2) Any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to appear; to produce subpoenaed documents before the Department or authorized deputy in response to a subpoena; or to testify as provided in this subsection (c) shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(d) Certification of Actions. — The Property Tax Commission shall have power to certify copies of its records, orders, and proceedings by attesting the copies with its official seal, and copies of records, orders, or proceedings so certified shall be received in evidence in all courts of this State with like effect as certified copies of other public records.

(e) Power to Require Reports. — In its discretion, the Department may require tax supervisors, clerks of boards of county commissioners, and county accountants to file with it, when called for, complete reports of the appraised and assessed value of all real and personal property in the counties, itemized as the Department may prescribe.

(f) Power to Prescribe Record Forms. — The Department may prescribe the forms, books, and records to be used in the listing, appraisal, and assessment of property and in the levying and collection of property taxes, and how the same shall be kept.

(g) Power to Recommend Appraisal Standards. — The Department may develop and recommend standards and rules to be used by tax supervisors and other responsible officials in the appraisal of specific kinds and categories of property for taxation. (1939, c. 310, s. 203; 1945, c. 955; 1951, c. 798; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 539, s. 714; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

ARTICLE 16.

County Listing, Appraisal, and Assessing Officials.

§ 105-294. County assessor.

(a) Appointment. — Persons occupying the position of county assessor on July 1, 1983, shall continue in office until the first Monday in July, 1983. At its first regular meeting in July, 1983, and every two years or four years thereafter, as appropriate, the board of county commissioners of each county shall appoint a county assessor to serve a term of not less than two nor more than four years; provided, however, that no person shall be eligible for initial appointment to a term of more than two years unless such person is deemed to be qualified as provided in subsection (b) of this section or has been certified by the Department of Revenue as provided in subsection (c) of this section. The board of commissioners may remove the assessor from office during his term for good cause after giving him notice in writing and an opportunity to appear and be heard at a public session of the board. Whenever a vacancy occurs in this office, the board of county commissioners shall appoint a qualified person to serve as county assessor for the period of the unexpired term.

(b) Persons who held the position of assessor on July 1, 1971, and continue to hold the position, and persons who have been certified for appointment as assessor by the Department of Revenue between July 1, 1971, and July 1, 1983, are deemed to be qualified to serve as county assessor. Any other person selected to serve as county assessor must meet the following requirements:

- (1) Be at least 21 years of age as of the date of appointment;
- (2) Hold a high school diploma or certificate of equivalency, or in the alternative, have five years employment experience in a vocation which is reasonably related to the duties of a county assessor;
- (3) Within two years of the date of appointment, achieve a passing score in courses of instruction approved by the Department of Revenue covering the following topics:
  - a. The laws of North Carolina governing the listing, appraisal, and assessment of property for taxation;
  - b. The theory and practice of estimating the fair market value of real property for ad valorem tax purposes;
  - c. The theory and practice of estimating the fair market value of personal property for ad valorem tax purposes; and
  - d. Property assessment administration.
- (4) Upon completion of the required four courses, achieve a passing grade in a comprehensive examination in property tax administration conducted by the Department of Revenue.

(c) Certification. — Persons meeting all of the requirements of this section shall be certified by the Department of Revenue. From the date of appointment until the date of certification, persons appointed to serve as county assessor are deemed to be serving in an acting capacity. Any person who fails to qualify within two years after the date of initial appointment shall not be eligible for reappointment until all of the requirements have been met.

(d) In order to retain the position of county assessor, every person serving as county assessor, including those persons deemed to be qualified under the provisions of this act, shall, in each period of 24 months, attend at least 30 hours of instruction in the appraisal or assessment of property as provided in regulations of the Department of Revenue.

(e) The compensation and expenses of the county assessor shall be determined by the board of county commissioners.

(f) Alternative to separate office of county assessor. — Pursuant to Act [Article] VI, Section 9 of the North Carolina Constitution, the office of county assessor is hereby declared to be an office that may be held concurrently with any other appointive or elective office except that of member of the board of county commissioners. (1939, c. 310, ss. 400, 401; 1953, c. 970, ss. 1, 2; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 813, s. 2; 1987, c. 45, ss. 1, 2; 1997-23, s. 5.)

Editor's Note. — In subsection (f), the word "Article" has been inserted in brackets following "Act" since the intended reference was to N.C. Const., Art. VI, § 9.

§ 105-295. Oath of office for assessor.

The assessor, as the holder of an appointed office, shall take the oath required by Article VI, § 7 of the North Carolina Constitution with the following phrase added to it: "that I will not allow my actions as assessor to be influenced by personal or political friendships or obligations." The oath must be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners. (1939, c. 310, s. 402; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; 1991, c. 110, s. 4; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 21.)

§ 105-296. Powers and duties of assessor.

(a) The county assessor shall have general charge of the listing, appraisal, and assessment of all property in the county in accordance with the provisions of law. He shall perform the duties imposed upon him by law, and he shall have and exercise all powers reasonably necessary in the performance of his duties not inconsistent with the Constitution or the laws of this State.

(b) Within budgeted appropriations, he shall employ listers, appraisers, and clerical assistants necessary to carry out the listing, appraisal, assessing, and billing functions required by law. The assessor may allocate responsibility among such employees by territory, by subject matter, or on any other reasonable basis. Each person employed by the assessor as a real property appraiser or personal property appraiser shall during the first year of employment and at least every other year thereafter attend a course of instruction in his area of work. At the end of the first year of their employment, such persons shall also achieve a passing score on a comprehensive examination in property tax administration conducted by the Department of Revenue.

(c) At least 10 days before the date as of which property is to be listed, he shall advertise in a newspaper having general circulation in the county and post in at least five public places in each township in the county a notice containing at least the following:

- (1) The date as of which property is to be listed.
- (2) The date on which listing will begin.
- (3) The date on which listing will end.
- (4) The times between the date mentioned in subdivision (c)(2), above, and the date mentioned in subdivision (c)(3), above, during which lists will be accepted.
- (5) The place or places at which lists will be accepted at the times established under subdivision (c)(4), above.
- (6) A statement that all persons who, on the date as of which property is to be listed, own property subject to taxation must list such property within the period set forth in the notice and that any person who fails to do so will be subject to the penalties prescribed by law.

If the listing period is extended in any county by the board of county commissioners, the assessor shall advertise in the newspaper in which the original notice was published and post in the same places a notice of the extension and of the times during which and the place or places at which lists will be accepted during the extended period.

(d) through (f) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 43, s. 2.

(g) He shall have power to subpoena any person for examination under oath and to subpoena documents whenever he has reasonable grounds for the belief that such person has knowledge or that such documents contain information that is pertinent to the discovery or valuation of any property subject to taxation in the county or that is necessary for compliance with the requirements as to what the tax list shall contain. The subpoena shall be signed by the chairman of the board of equalization and review if that board is in session;

otherwise, it shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners. It shall be served by an officer qualified to serve subpoenas. Any person who shall wilfully fail or refuse to appear, produce subpoenaed documents, or testify concerning the subject of the inquiry shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(h) Only after the abstract has been carefully reviewed can the assessor require any person operating a business enterprise in the county to submit a detailed inventory, statement of assets and liabilities, or other similar information pertinent to the discovery or appraisal of property taxable in the county. Inventories, statements of assets and liabilities, or other information secured by the assessor under the terms of this subsection, but not expressly required by this Subchapter to be shown on the abstract itself, shall not be open to public inspection but shall be made available, upon request, to representatives of the Department of Revenue or of the Employment Security Commission. Any assessor or other official or employee disclosing information so obtained, except as may be necessary in listing or appraising property in the performance of official duties, or in the administrative or judicial proceedings relating to listing, appraising, or other official duties, shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor and punishable only by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00).

(i) Prior to the first meeting of the board of equalization and review, the assessor may, for good cause, change the appraisal of any property subject to assessment for the current year. Written notice of a change in assessment shall be given to the taxpayer at his last known address prior to the first meeting of the board of equalization and review.

(j) The assessor shall annually review one eighth of the parcels in the county classified for taxation at present-use value to verify that these parcels qualify for the classification. By this method, the assessor shall review the eligibility of all parcels classified for taxation at present-use value in an eight-year period. The assessor may require the owner of classified property to submit any information needed by the assessor to verify that the property continues to qualify for present-use value taxation. The owner has 60 days from the date a written request for the information is made to submit the information to the assessor. If the assessor determines the owner failed to make the information requested available in the time required without good cause, the property loses its present-use value classification and the property's deferred taxes become due and payable as provided in G.S. 105-277.4(c). The assessor must reinstate the property's present-use value classification when the owner submits the requested information unless the information discloses that the property no longer qualifies for present-use value classification. When a property's present-use value classification is reinstated, it is reinstated retroactive to the date the classification was revoked and any deferred taxes that were paid as a result of the revocation must be refunded to the property owner.

(k) He shall furnish information to the Department of Revenue as required by the Department to conduct studies in accordance with G.S. 105-289(h).

(l) The assessor shall annually review at least one-eighth of the parcels in the county exempted or excluded from taxation to verify that these parcels qualify for the exemption or exclusion. By this method, the assessor shall review the eligibility of all parcels exempted or excluded from taxation in an eight-year period. The assessor may require the owner of exempt or excluded property to make available for inspection any information reasonably needed by the assessor to verify that the property continues to qualify for the exemption or exclusion. The owner has 60 days from the date a written request for the information is made to submit the information to the assessor. If the assessor determines that the owner failed to make the information requested available in the time required without good cause, then the property loses its exemption or exclusion. The assessor must reinstate the property's exemption or exclusion when the owner makes the requested information available unless the information discloses that the property is no longer eligible for the exemption or exclusion.

(m) The assessor shall annually review the transportation corridor official maps and amendments to them filed with the register of deeds pursuant to Article 2E of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes. The assessor must indicate on all tax maps maintained by the county or city that portion of the properties embraced within a transportation corridor and must note any variance granted for the property for such period as the designation remains in effect. The assessor must tax the property within a transportation corridor as required under G.S. 105-277.9. (1939, c. 310, ss. 403, 404; 1953, c. 970, s. 3; 1955, c. 1012, s. 1; 1957, c. 202; 1959, c. 740, s. 3; 1963, c. 302; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 560; 1983, c. 813, s. 3; 1985, c. 518, s. 2; 1987, c. 43, s. 2; c. 45, ss. 1, 2; c. 830, s. 84(b); 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1044, s. 13; 1991, c. 34, s. 2; c. 77, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, ss. 715, 716; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 2001-139, ss. 3-5.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-139, ss. 3 to 5, effective May 31, 2001, added the last four sentences of subsection (j), added the last three sentences of subsection (l), and added subsection (m).

§ 105-297. Assistant assessors.

The board of county commissioners may, upon the recommendation of the assessor, appoint one or more assistant assessors. The board may delegate to assistant assessors appointed under this section responsibility for the appraisal of real property, the listing and appraisal of business property, or such other duties as the board deems advisable. Pursuant to Article VI, Sec. 9, of the North Carolina Constitution, the office of assistant assessor is hereby declared to be an office that may be held concurrently with any other appointive office. (1939, c. 310, s. 409; 1955, c. 866; 1963, c. 625; 1967, cc. 59, 293; 1971, c. 802, s. 11; c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-298: Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 43, s. 3.

§ 105-299. Employment of experts.

The board of county commissioners may employ appraisal firms, mapping firms or other persons or firms having expertise in one or more of the duties of the assessor to assist him or her in the performance of such duties. The county may make available to such persons any information it has that will facilitate the performance of a contract entered into pursuant to this section. Persons receiving such information shall be subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-289(e) and G.S. 105-259 regarding the use and disclosure of information provided to them by the county. Any person employed by an appraisal firm whose duties include the appraisal of property for the county shall be required to demonstrate that he or she is qualified to carry out such duties by achieving a passing grade on a comprehensive examination in the appraisal of property administered by the Department of Revenue. In the employment of such firms, primary consideration shall be given to the firms registered with the Department of Revenue pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-289(i). A copy of the specifications to be submitted to potential bidders and a copy of the proposed contract may be sent by the board to the Department of Revenue for review before the invitation or acceptance of any bids. Contracts for the employment of such firms or persons shall be deemed to be contracts for personal services and shall not be subject to the provisions of Article 8, Chapter 143, of the General Statutes. (1939, c. 310, s. 408; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 508, s. 2; 1983, c. 813, s. 4; 1985, c. 601, s. 2; 1989, c. 79.)

§ 105-300. Tax commission.

In all counties having a tax commission or comparable agency, the commission or agency shall, except for levying taxes, perform all the duties required by this Subchapter to be performed by the board of equalization and review and the board of county commissioners. All expenses incurred by the tax commission or agency or its appointees in accordance with this Subchapter shall be paid by the county. Pursuant to Article VI, Sec. 9, of the North Carolina Constitution, the office of member of a tax commission or comparable agency is hereby declared to be an office that may not be held concurrently with any other elective or appointive office. (1939, c. 310, s. 410; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 17.

Administration of Listing.

§ 105-301. Place for listing real property.

All taxable real property that is not required by this Subchapter to be appraised originally by the Department of Revenue shall be listed in the county in which it is situated. If all or part of the real property is situated within the boundaries of a municipal corporation, this fact shall be specified on the abstract as required by G.S. 105-309. Nothing in this section shall be construed to conflict with the provisions of G.S. 105-326 through 105-328. (1939, c. 310, s. 700; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

CASE NOTES

Where Corporate Owner Must List Property. — A corporate owner is not authorized to list its property anywhere except the situs of its home office. In re Appeal of McLean Trucking Co., 283 N.C. 650, 197 S.E.2d 520 (1973), decided under former provisions of § 105-302.

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Where tract of land lies within two townships so much of tract as lies within each township must be listed in that township. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. J.E. Rains, Randolph County Tax Supervisor, 40 N.C.A.G. 824 (1969), issued under former similar provisions.

§ 105-302. In whose name real property is to be listed.

(a) Taxable real property shall be listed in the name of the owner, and it shall be the owner's duty to list it unless the board of county commissioners shall have adopted a permanent listing system as provided in G.S. 105-303(b). For purposes of this section, the board of county commissioners may require that real property be listed in the name of the owner of record as of the day as of which property is to be listed under G.S. 105-285.

(b) If real property is listed in the name of one other than the person in whose name it should be listed, and the name of the proper person is later ascertained, the abstract and tax records shall be corrected to list the property in the name of the person in whose name it should have been listed. The corrected listing shall have the same force and effect as if the real property had been listed in the name of the proper person in the first instance.

(c) For purposes of this Subchapter:

- (1) The owner of the equity of redemption in real property subject to a mortgage or deed of trust shall be considered the owner of the property, and such real property shall be listed in the name of the owner of the equity of redemption.
- (2) Real property owned by a corporation shall be listed in the name of the corporation.
- (3) Real property owned by an unincorporated association shall be listed in the name of the association.
- (4) Real property owned by a partnership shall be listed in the name of the partnership.
- (5) Real property held in connection with a sole proprietorship shall be listed in the name of the owner, and the name and address of the proprietorship shall be noted on the abstract.
- (6) Real property of which a decedent died possessed, if not under the control of an executor or administrator, shall be listed in the names of the heirs or devisees if known, but such property may be listed as property of "the heirs" or "the devisees" of the decedent, without naming them, until they have given the assessor notice of their names and of the division of the estate. It shall be the duty of an executor or administrator having control of real property to list it in his fiduciary capacity, as required by subdivision (c)(7), below, until he is divested of control of the property. However, the right of an administrator or executor of a deceased person to petition for the sale of real property to make assets shall not be considered control of the real property for the purposes of this subdivision.
- (7) Real property, the title to which is held by a trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, shall be listed by the fiduciary in his fiduciary capacity except as otherwise provided in this section.
- (8) A life tenant or tenant for the life of another shall be considered the owner of real property, and it shall be his duty to list the property for taxation, indicating on the abstract that he is a life tenant or tenant for the life of another named individual.
- (9) Upon request to and with the approval of the assessor, undivided interests in real property owned by tenants in common who are not copartners may be listed by the respective owners in accordance with their respective undivided interests. Otherwise, real property held by tenants in common shall be listed in the names of all the owners.

- (10) Real property owned by husband and wife as tenants by the entirety shall be listed on a single abstract in the names of both tenants, and the nature of their ownership shall be indicated thereon.
- (11) When land is owned by one party and improvements thereon or special rights (such as mineral, timber, quarry, waterpower, or similar rights) therein are owned by another party, the parties shall list their interests separately unless, in accordance with contractual relations between them, both the land and the improvements and special rights are listed in the name of the owner of the land.
- (12) If the person in whose name real property should be listed is unknown, or if title to real property is in dispute, the property shall be listed in the name of the occupant or, if there be no occupant, in the name of "unknown owner." Such a listing shall not affect the validity of the lien for taxes created by G.S. 105-355. When the name of the owner is later ascertained, the provisions of subsection (b), above, shall apply.
- (13) Real property, owned under a time-sharing arrangement but managed by a homeowners association or other managing entity, shall be listed in the name of the managing entity. (1939, c. 310, s. 701; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1983, c. 785, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-302.1. Reports on properties listed in name of unknown owner.

In order to promote the discovery of "State lands" as defined by G.S. 146-64(6), it shall be the duty of all assessors upon request to furnish the State of North Carolina a report on all properties listed in the name of "unknown owner" pursuant to G.S. 105-302(c)(12) in their respective tax jurisdictions. Such report shall be forwarded to the Secretary of the North Carolina Department of Administration. The report shall contain all information available to the assessor concerning the location and identification of the properties in question. (1979, c. 45, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-303. Obtaining information on real property transfers; permanent listing.

(a) To facilitate the accurate listing of real property for taxation, the board of county commissioners may require the register of deeds to comply with the provisions of subdivision (a)(1), below, or it may require him to comply with the provisions of subdivision (a)(2), below:

- (1) When any conveyance of real property (other than a deed of trust or mortgage) is recorded, the board of county commissioners may require the register of deeds to certify to the assessor:
  - a. The name of the person conveying the property.
  - b. The name and address of the person to whom the property is being conveyed.
  - c. A description of the property sufficient to locate and identify it.
  - d. A statement as to whether the parcel is conveyed in whole or in part.
- (2) When any conveyance of real property (other than a deed of trust or mortgage) is submitted for recordation, the board of county commissioners may require the register of deeds to refuse to record it unless it has been presented to the assessor and the assessor has noted thereon that he has obtained the information he desires from the conveyance and from the person recording it.

(b) (Effective until July 1, 2004) With the approval of the Department of Revenue, the board of county commissioners may install a permanent listing system. (The Department's approval shall not, however, be required for any such system installed prior to April 3, 1939.) Under such a system the provisions of subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(4), below, shall apply.

- (1) The assessor shall be responsible for listing all real property on the abstracts and tax records each year in the name of the owner of record as of the day as of which property is to be listed under G.S. 105-285.
- (2) Persons whose duty it is to list real property under the provisions of G.S. 105-302 shall be relieved of that duty, but annually, during the listing period established by G.S. 105-307, such persons shall furnish the assessor with the information concerning improvements on and separate rights in real property required by G.S. 105-309(c)(3) through (c)(5).
- (3) The penalties imposed by G.S. 105-308 and 105-312 shall not be imposed for failure to list real property for taxation, but they shall be imposed for failure to comply with the provisions of subdivision (b)(2), above, with respect to reporting the construction or acquisition of improvements on and separate rights in real property. In such a case, the penalty prescribed by G.S. 105-312 shall be computed on the basis of the tax imposed on the improvements and separate rights.
- (4) The Department of Revenue may authorize the board of county commissioners to make additional modifications of the listing requirements of this Subchapter, but no such modification shall conflict with the provisions of subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(3), above.

(b) (Effective July 1, 2004) The board of commissioners of each county must install a permanent listing system. Each county must obtain the approval of the Department of Revenue for its permanent listing system. Under such a system the provisions of subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(4) of this subsection apply.

- (1) The assessor is responsible for listing all real property on the abstracts and tax records each year in the name of the owner of record as of the day as of which property is to be listed under G.S. 105-285.
- (2) Persons whose duty it is to list real property under the provisions of G.S. 105-302 are relieved of that duty, but annually, during the listing period established by G.S. 105-307, these persons must furnish the assessor with the information concerning improvements on and separate rights in real property required by G.S. 105-309(c)(3) through (c)(5).
- (3) The penalties imposed by G.S. 105-308 and 105-312 do not apply to failure to list real property for taxation, but they apply to failure to comply with the provisions of subdivision (b)(2) of this subsection with respect to reporting the construction or acquisition of improvements on and separate rights in real property. In such a case, the penalty prescribed by G.S. 105-312 shall be computed on the basis of the tax imposed on the improvements and separate rights.
- (4) The Department of Revenue may authorize the board of county commissioners to make additional modifications of the listing requirements of this Subchapter, as long as the modifications do not conflict with subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(3) of this subsection. (1939, c. 310, s. 701; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 789; 1987, c. 43, s. 4; c. 45, s. 1; 1999-297, s. 3.)

Subsection (b) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (b) set out above is effective until July 1, 2004. The second version of subsection (b) set out above is effective July 1, 2004.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-297, s. 1 provides that it is the intent of the General Assembly to encourage all counties to adopt a permanent property tax listing system in accordance with G.S. 105-303(b), as a permanent listing is more convenient for taxpayers and more efficient for counties; that to encourage counties to adopt permanent listing in the next few years, Session Laws 1999-297, s. 2, which amends G.S. 105-312, prohibits counties that have not adopted such a system from charging late listing penalties in certain circumstances; and that Session Laws 1999-297, s. 3, which amends G.S. 105-303, requires all counties to adopt permanent listing systems by the 2004 tax year.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-297, s. 3, effective for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004, rewrote the introductory language of subsection (b), substituted "these persons must" for "such persons shall" in subdivision (b)(2), in subdivision (b)(3), substituted "do not apply to" for "shall not be imposed for," substituted "apply to" for "shall be imposed for," and substituted "of this subsection" for "above" and in subdivision (b)(4), substituted "as long ... conflict with" for "but no such modification shall conflict with the provisions of" and substituted "of this subsection" for "above."

§ 105-304. Place for listing tangible personal property.

(a) Listing Instructions. — This section applies to all taxable tangible personal property that has a tax situs in this State and that is not required by this Subchapter to be appraised originally by the Department of Revenue. The place in this State at which this property is taxable is determined according to the rules provided in this section. The person whose duty it is to list property must list it in the county in which the place of taxation is located, indicating on the abstract the information required by G.S. 105-309(d). If the place of taxation lies within a city or town that requires separate listing under G.S. 105-326(a), the person whose duty it is to list must also list the property for taxation in the city or town.

(a1) Electronic Listing. — The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, provide for electronic listing of business personal property in accordance with procedures prescribed by the board. If the board of county commissioners allows electronic listing of business personal property, the assessor must publish this information, including the timetable and procedures for electronic listing, in the notice required by G.S. 105-296(c).

(b) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Situated. — More or less permanently located.

(2) Business premises. — The term includes, for purposes of illustration, the following: Store, mill, dockyard, piling ground, shop, office, mine, farm, factory, warehouse, rental real estate, place for the sale of property (including the premises of a consignee), and place for storage (including a public warehouse).

(3) Electronic. — Defined in G.S. 66-312.

(c) General Rule. — Except as otherwise provided in subsections (d) through (h) of section, this tangible personal property is taxable at the residence of the owner. For purposes of this section:

(1) The residence of an individual person who has two or more places in this State at which the individual occasionally dwells is the place at which the individual dwelt for the longest period of time during the calendar year immediately preceding the date as of which property is to be listed for taxation.

(2) The residence of a domestic or foreign taxpayer other than an individual person is the place at which its principal North Carolina place of business is located.

(d) Property of Taxpayers With No Fixed Residence in This State. —

(1) Tangible personal property owned by an individual nonresident of this State is taxable at the place in this State at which the property is situated.

(2) Tangible personal property owned by a domestic or foreign taxpayer (other than an individual person) that has no principal office in this State is taxable at the place in this State at which the property is situated.

(e) Farm Products. — Farm products produced in this State, if owned by their producer, are taxable at the place in this State at which they were produced.

(f) Property Situated or Commonly Used at Premises Other Than Owner's Residence. — Subject to the provisions of subsection (e) of this section:

(1) Tangible personal property situated at or commonly used in connection with a temporary or seasonal dwelling owned or leased by the owner of the personal property is taxable at the place at which the temporary or seasonal dwelling is situated.

(2) Tangible personal property situated at or commonly used in connection with a business premises hired, occupied, or used by the owner of the personal property (or by the owner's agent or employee) is taxable at the place at which the business premises is situated. Tangible personal property that may be used by the public generally or that is used to sell or vend merchandise to the public falls within the provisions of this subdivision.

- (3) Tangible personal property situated at or commonly used in connection with a premise owned, hired, occupied, or used by a person who is in possession of the personal property under a business agreement with the property's owner is taxable at the place at which the possessor's premise is situated. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "business agreement means a commercial lease, a bailment for hire, a consignment, or a similar business arrangement.
- (4) In applying the provisions of subdivisions (1), (2), and (3) of this subsection, the temporary absence of tangible personal property from the place at which it is taxable under one of those subdivisions on the day as of which property is to be listed does not affect the application of the rules established in those subdivisions. The presence of tangible personal property at a location specified in subdivision (1), (2), or (3) of this subsection on the day as of which property is to be listed is prima facie evidence that it is situated at or commonly used in connection with that location.

(g) Decedents. — The tangible personal property of a decedent whose estate is in the process of administration or has not been distributed is taxable at the place at which it would be taxable if the decedent were still alive and still residing at the place at which the decedent resided at the time of death.

(h) Beneficial Ownership. — Tangible personal property within the jurisdiction of the State held by a resident or nonresident trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary having legal title to the property is taxable in accordance with the following rules:

- (1) If any beneficiary is a resident of the State, an amount representing that beneficiary's portion of the property is taxable at the place at which it would be taxable if the beneficiary owned that portion.
- (2) If any beneficiary is a nonresident of the State, an amount representing that beneficiary's portion of the property is taxable at the place at which it would be taxable if the fiduciary were the beneficial owner of the property. (1939, c. 310, s. 800; 1947, c. 836; 1951, c. 1102, s. 1; 1955, c. 1012, ss. 2, 3; 1969, c. 940; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1180; 2001-279, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-279, s. 1, effective July 13, 2001, added subsection (a1), added subdivision (b)(3), and inserted subsection catchlines for subsections (g) and (h). In addition, the amendment made extensive stylistic and gender neutralization changes throughout the section.

  - A. In General.
  - B. Corporations.
  - C. Property Located Outside State.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

The theory of taxation is that the right to tax is derived from the protection afforded to the subject upon which it is imposed. The actual situs and control of the property within this State, and the fact that it enjoys the protection of the laws here, are conditions which subject it to taxation here. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

Uniform Rule Established. — The rules and regulations fixed by the "Revenue Act" and the "Machinery Act" for the guidance of the officers charged with the listing and assessment of property for purposes of State taxation govern and control the action of county and other municipal officers charged with the listing and assessment of property for municipal taxation. The conclusion, therefore, is that the legislature has adopted a "uniform rule" which must be observed. Wiley v. Commissioners of Salisbury, 111 N.C. 397, 16 S.E. 542 (1892).

Stated in Powell v. County of Haywood, 15 N.C. App. 109, 189 S.E.2d 785 (1972).

Cited in Szabo Food Serv., Inc. v. Balentine's, Inc., 285 N.C. 452, 206 S.E.2d 242 (1974).

II. "SITUATED."

"Situated" connotes a more or less permanent location. It does not mean a mere temporary presence. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Words "more or less permanently" exclude necessity of establishing unqualified permanency such as actual and continuous presence in the State. In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

As to origin of term "more or less permanently located," see In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

More Than Temporary Presence for Specific Service Required. — Any degree of permanency would seem to require more than a temporary presence of limited duration within the State for a specific service pursuant to a scheduled arrangement as to time of entrance and departure. In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

Cloth materials of nonresident converters shipped from outside the State to textile finishing company for processing and reshipment to these converters or to their customers at designated places outside the State are not "situated" or "more or less permanently located" in the county in which the finishing company is located on January 1, of the year in question, and, therefore, do have a tax situs in that county. In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

III. SITUS.

A. In General.

Situs is an absolute essential for tax exaction. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Taxable tangible personal property must have acquired a tax situs in this State, for situs is an absolute essential for tax exaction. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

As no state may tax anything not within her jurisdiction without violating U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

State of Domicile May Tax Property Which Has Not Acquired Situs Elsewhere.

— The state of domicile may tax the full value of a taxpayer's tangible personal property for which no tax situs beyond the domicile has been established so that the property may not be said to have "acquired an actual situs elsewhere." Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Actual situs of taxable property turns on uninterrupted presence of the property within the taxing jurisdiction. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

When Personal Property of Nonresident May Be Taxed. — When personal property belonging to a nonresident has acquired a taxable situs in this State, this State may tax that nonresident's property without violating the provisions of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

It is for the legislature to determine situs of personal property for purposes of taxation, and it may provide different rules for different kinds of property, and change them from time to time, and the courts may not, for consideration of expediency, disregard the legislative will. Planters Bank & Trust Co. v. Town of Lumberton, 179 N.C. 409, 102 S.E. 629 (1920).

The situs of personal property for purposes of taxation is determined by the legislature, and the legislature may provide different rules for different kinds of property and may change the rules from time to time. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

Nature of Property Considered in Determining Situs. — Any determination of the tax situs of tangible personal property must take into account the nature of the property involved. In re Appeal of Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

Different Kinds of Personality Subject to Different Rules. — As to the situs of realty there can be no doubt, but the situs of personality for purposes of taxation from time immemorial has been a matter for the law-making power, which has provided different rules for different kinds of personality, and has changed them from time to time. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Situs of Personality Is Ordinarily Owner's Domicile. — The situs of personal property for purposes of taxation is ordinarily the domicile of the owner. Where, however, the owner maintains said property in a jurisdiction other than that of his domicile, in the conduct of his business within such jurisdiction, the situs of said property for purposes of taxation is its actual situs, and not that of his domicile. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

Taxation of Movable Personal Property. — A state can impose upon a plaintiff's movable personal property the same tax imposed upon similar property used in like manner by its own citizens, and such tax may be fixed by an appraisal and valuation of the average amount of the property thus habitually used and employed. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

A jet aircraft hangared in Rockingham County, North Carolina, for approximately one year by a nonresident corporation having no principal place of business in this State, under the stipulated facts and evidence, was "situated" or "more or less permanently located" in Rockingham County on January 1, 1984, and therefore had a tax situs in Rockingham County on that date. The fact that the airplane happened to be physically located at a Virginia airport on January 1, 1984, did not defeat taxation by Rockingham County. In re Bassett Furn. Indus., Inc., 79 N.C. App. 258, 339 S.E.2d 16, appeal dismissed, 316 N.C. 553, 344 S.E.2d 4 (1986).

Property Held by Executors and Trustees. — Where a testator appointed executors of his will who were also therein named as trustees for certain beneficiaries, who moved to another town, after the matters of executorship had been closed, leaving those of the trusteeship continuing, it was held, under a former statute, that the personal property should have been listed at the place of residence of the beneficiaries; and the taxes not having been listed at all, it was proper for the commissioners of the town of residence of the beneficiaries to cause the personality to be listed there and impose the penalty prescribed by law. Smith v.

Town of Dunn, 160 N.C. 174, 76 S.E. 242 (1912).

As to residence and domicile under former laws, see Town of Roanoke Rapids v. Patterson, 184 N.C. 135, 113 S.E. 603 (1922); Ransom v. Board of Comm'rs, 194 N.C. 237, 139 S.E. 232 (1927).

Temporary Absence of Property. — Subdivision (f)(4) of this section clearly provides that the temporary absence of tangible personal property from the place at which it is normally taxable shall not affect the rule of taxation. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

Absence on Tax Date for Processing Outside State. — A foreign corporation which was a broker of high fashion jeans acquired a business situs in Mecklenburg County so as to subject its property (piece goods and finished goods) to ad valorem taxation by Mecklenburg County where its only warehouse for assembling and shipping its inventory was located in Mecklenburg County, and the tax situs of such property remained in Mecklenburg County while it was outside North Carolina on the tax date being stitched or laundered. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

B. Corporations.

"Business Situs" Defined. — Business situs means a situs acquired for tax purposes by one who has carried on a business in the State more or less permanent in its nature. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

Generally, Personality of Corporation Has Situs at Principal Office. — Except for its property which has acquired a business situs elsewhere, the legislature has fixed the tax situs of the personality of a corporation at the place of its principal office in the State. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

The legislature has fixed the tax situs of a corporation's tangible personal property subject to North Carolina's taxing jurisdiction at the place of its principal office in North Carolina unless such property or a part thereof has a tax situs elsewhere and thus is not within the taxing jurisdiction of this State. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

The tax situs of a corporation's tangible personal property within the jurisdiction of the State is at the place of its principal office in North Carolina. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

Although Part of Personality Located

Elsewhere. — Where a corporation had its place of business and principal office in one town, with a part of the personal property located in another town, such property was only taxable in the town where the place of business and principal office were located. The same was said to be true of a partnership. City of Winston v. City of Salem, 131 N.C. 404, 42 S.E. 889 (1902).

Corporations Engaged in Interstate Operations. — The state of domicile may constitutionally subject its own corporations to non-discriminatory property taxes even though they are engaged in interstate commerce. It is only multiple taxation of interstate operations that violates the Commerce Clause. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Subdivision (d)(2) Contemplates Property in Transient Condition. — Subdivision (d)(2) of this section contemplates a situation in which a corporation has no principal office in this State, and its property is in a transient condition through the state. In re Plushbottom & Peabody, Ltd., 51 N.C. App. 285, 276 S.E.2d 505, cert. denied, 303 N.C. 314, 281 S.E.2d 653 (1981).

C. Property Located Outside State.

Property Permanently Located Outside State May Not Be Taxed. — The state of domicile may not levy an ad valorem tax on tangible personal property of its citizens which is permanently located in some other state throughout the tax year. This is forbidden by the due process clause of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Tangible personal property permanently located in other states and employed there in the prosecution of plaintiff's business is not subject to taxation in another state. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Taxation by Apportionment. — When a defined part of the domiciliary corpus has acquired a taxable situs in one or more nondomiciliary states, it may be taxed by those states on an apportionment basis; and taxation by apportionment precludes taxation of all of the property by the state of the domicile. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

When an apportionment tax is imposed by a nondomiciliary state (a) it must be just and equitable; (b) it must bear a reasonable relation in its practical operation to the opportunities, the benefits, and the protection afforded by the taxing jurisdiction; and (c) the opportunities, benefits and protection must be available throughout the tax year. Billings Transf. Corp.

v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Goods owned by nonresident converters but in a textile finishing company's possession on January 1, purchased from North Carolina greige mills and shipped to the finishing company for processing and reshipment to the converter or its customer at a destination outside of North Carolina, are subject to ad valorem taxation by the county in which the finishing company is located. In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

In respect of a North Carolina corporation, its tangible personal property located in North Carolina on January 1 is subject to ad valorem taxation without reference to whether it is in the custody of a textile finishing company or in the actual custody of the North Carolina corporation. Whether such property is taxable in the county where the principal office and place of business are located or the county where the property is physically situated is a matter for determination by the Department of Revenue. In re Hanes Dye & Finishing Co., 285 N.C. 598, 207 S.E.2d 729 (1974).

Tax Situs of Fleet of Vehicles Operated Through State. — When a fleet of vehicles is operated into, through, and out of a nondomiciliary state, a "tax situs" sufficient to satisfy constitutional requirements is acquired if (a) the vehicles are operated along fixed routes and on regular schedules, or (b) the vehicles are habitually situated and employed within the nondomiciliary jurisdiction throughout the tax year. In that event, their continuous presence supports imposition of an ad valorem tax based upon the average number continuously present in the taxing state regardless of routes and schedules. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Burden Is on Taxpayer to Prove Tax Situs Is in Another Jurisdiction. — The burden is on the taxpayer who contends that some portion of his tangible personal property is not within the taxing jurisdiction of his domiciliary state to prove that the same property has acquired a tax situs in another jurisdiction. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

And Evidence That Part of Property Is Absent from State Is Not Sufficient. — Continuous presence of the property throughout the tax year in a nondomiciliary state is not shown by evidence which merely proves that some determinable fraction of its property is absent from the state for part of the tax year. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

Mere general showing of continuous use of tangible movable property in other states is insufficient to exclude the taxing power of the state of domicile. Billings Transf. Corp. v. County of Davidson, 276 N.C. 19, 170 S.E.2d 873 (1969).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Personalty located in county may be taxed by county when, before January 1, owner marries serviceman not domiciled in State but stationed in same county and she continues to reside in that county. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Fred P. Parker, Jr., Wayne County Attorney, 40 N.C.A.G. 825 (1969).

§ 105-305. Place for listing intangible personal property.

(a) Listing Instructions. — This section applies to all taxable intangible personal property that has a tax situs in this State and is not required by this Subchapter to be appraised originally by the Department of Revenue. The place in this State at which this property is taxable shall be determined as provided in this section. The person whose duty it is to list property shall list it in the county in which the place of taxation is located, indicating on the abstract the information required by G.S. 105-309(d). If the place of taxation lies within a city or town that requires separate listing under G.S. 105-326(a), the person whose duty it is to list shall also list the property for taxation in the city or town.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-456, s. 43(a).

(c) Intangible personal property representing an interest or interests in real property that is situated in this State shall be taxable in the place in which the represented real property is located.

(d), (e) Repealed by Session Laws 1997-456, s. 43(a). (1939, c. 310, s. 801; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1995, c. 41, s. 8; 1997-456, s. 43(a).)

§ 105-306. In whose name personal property is to be listed.

(a) Taxable personal property shall be listed in the name of the owner on the day as of which property is to be listed for taxation, and it shall be the duty of the owner to list the property.

(b) If personal property is listed in the name of a person other than the one in whose name it should be listed, and the name of the proper person is later ascertained, the abstract and tax records shall be corrected to list the property in the name in which it should have been listed. The corrected listing shall have the same force and effect as if the personal property had been listed in the name of the proper person in the first instance.

(c) For purposes of this Subchapter:

- (1) The owner of the equity of redemption in personal property subject to a chattel mortgage shall be considered the owner of the property.
- (2) The vendee of personal property under a conditional bill of sale, or under any other sale contract through which title to the property is retained by the vender as security for the payment of the purchase price, shall be considered the owner of the property if he has possession of or the right to use the property.
- (3) Personal property owned by a corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association shall be listed in the name of the corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association.
- (4) Personal property held in connection with a sole proprietorship shall be listed in the name of the owner, and the name and address of the proprietorship shall be noted on the abstract.
- (5) Personal property of which a decedent died possessed, if not under the control of an executor or administrator, shall be listed in the names of the next of kin or legatees if known, but such property may be listed as property of "the next of kin" or "the legatees" of the decedent, without naming them, until they have given the assessor notice of their names and of the division of the estate. It shall be the duty of an executor or administrator having control of personal property to list it in his fiduciary capacity, as required by subdivision (c)(6), below, until he is divested of control of the property.

- (6) Personal property, the title to which is held by a trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, shall be listed by the fiduciary in his fiduciary capacity except as otherwise provided in this section.
- (7) If personal property is owned by two or more persons who are joint owners, each owner shall list the value of his interest. However, if the joint owners are husband and wife, the property owned jointly shall be listed on a single abstract in the names of both the husband and the wife.
- (8) If the person in whose name personal property should be listed is unknown, or if the ownership of the property is in dispute, the property shall be listed in the name of the person in possession of the property, or if there appears to be no person in possession, in the name of "unknown owner." When the name of the owner is later ascertained, the provisions of subsection (b), above, shall apply.
- (9) Personal property, owned under a time-sharing arrangement but managed by a homeowners association or other managing entity, shall be listed in the name of the managing entity. (1939, c. 310, s. 802; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1983, c. 785, s. 2; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-307. Length of listing period; extension; preliminary work.

(a) Listing Period. — Unless extended as provided in this section, the period during which property is to be listed for taxation each year begins on the first business day of January and ends on January 31.

(b) General Extensions. — The board of county commissioners may, by resolution, extend the time during which property is to be listed for taxation as provided in this subsection. Any action by the board of county commissioners extending the listing period must be recorded in the minutes of the board, and notice of the extensions must be published as required by G.S. 105-296(c). The entire period for listing, including any extension of time granted, is considered the regular listing period for the particular year within the meaning of this Subchapter.

- (1) In nonrevaluation years, the listing period may be extended for up to 30 additional days.
- (2) In years of octennial appraisal of real property, the listing period may be extended for up to 60 additional days.

- (3) If the county has provided for electronic listing of business personal property under G.S. 105-304, the period for electronic listing may be extended up to June 1.

(c) Individual Extensions. — The board of county commissioners shall grant individual extensions of time for the listing of real and personal property upon written request and for good cause shown. The request must be filed with the assessor no later than the ending date of the regular listing period. The board may delegate the authority to grant extensions to the assessor. Extensions granted under this subsection shall not extend beyond April 15. If the county has provided for electronic listing of business personal property under G.S. 105-304, the period for electronic listing is as provided in subsection (b) of this section.

(d) Preliminary Work. — The assessor may conduct preparatory work before the listing period begins, but may not make a final appraisal of property before the day as of which the value of the property is to be determined under G.S. 105-285. (1939, c. 310, s. 905; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, cc. 141, 706; 1975, c. 49; 1977, c. 360; 1987, c. 43, s. 5; c. 45, s. 1; 2001-279, s. 2.)

Support Troops Participating in Operations Enduring Freedom and Noble Eagle.

— Session Laws 2001-508, ss. 3 to 5(b), provide: “Section 3. Definitions. — As used in this act:

“(1) (Military personnel) includes both of the following:

“a. A member of the armed forces or the armed forces reserves of the United States on active duty in support of Operation Enduring Freedom or Operation Noble Eagle on or after September 11, 2001.

“b. A member of the North Carolina Army National Guard or the North Carolina Air National Guard called to active duty in support of Operation Enduring Freedom or Operation Noble Eagle on or after September 11, 2001.

“A copy of the soldier’s military orders specifying deployment is conclusive evidence of the soldier’s deployment.

“(2) (Operation Enduring Freedom) or (Operation Noble Eagle) include any other operations with differing names arising out of the same occurrence.

“Section 4. Waiver of Deadlines, Fees, and Penalties. — Except as prohibited by the Constitution, the Governor may extend deadlines and waive penalties or fees as is necessary to alleviate hardship created for deployed military personnel serving in either Operation Enduring Freedom or Operation Noble Eagle. Such authority includes, but is not limited to, the authority to:

“(1) Extend for up to 90 days from the end of deployment the validity of a permanent or temporary drivers license issued under G.S. 20-7 to deployed military personnel;

“(2) Waive civil penalties and restoration fees under G.S. 20-309 for any deployed military personnel whose motor vehicle liability insurance lapsed during the period of deployment or within 90 days after the soldier returned to North Carolina if the soldier certifies to the Division of Motor Vehicles that the motor vehicle was not driven on the highway by anyone during the period in which the motor vehicle was uninsured and that the owner now has liability insurance on the motor vehicle;

“(3) Allow up to 90 days from the end of deployment for any deployed military personnel to renew a license as defined in G.S. 93B-1. During the period of deployment or active duty and until the expiration of the 90-day period provided for in this subsection, expired licenses that are within the scope of this act [Session Laws 2001-508] shall remain valid, as if they had not expired; and

“(4) Require that any renewal fee applicable to the renewal of a license under subdivision (3) of this section [s. 4 of Session Laws 2001-508] be prorated over the period covered by the license and reduced in proportion to the period of time that the licensee was deployed outside the State.

“Section 5.(a) Property Taxes. — Notwithstanding G.S. 105-360 or G.S. 105-330.4, deployed military personnel are allowed 90 days after the end of the individual’s deployment to pay property taxes at par, for any property taxes that became due or delinquent during the term of the deployment. For these individuals, the taxes for the relevant tax year do not become delinquent until after the end of the 90-day period provided in this section [s. 5 of Session Laws 2001-508], and an individual who pays the property taxes before the end of the 90-day period is not liable for interest on the taxes for the relevant tax year. If the individual does not pay the taxes before the end of the 90-day period, interest shall accrue on the taxes according to the schedule provided in G.S. 105-360 or G.S. 105-330.4, as applicable, as though the taxes were unpaid as of the date the taxes would have become delinquent if not for this section [s. 5 of Session Laws 2001-508].

"Section 5.(b). Notwithstanding G.S. 105-307, deployed military personnel required to list property for taxation while deployed are allowed 90 days after the end of the deployment to list the property. For these individuals, the listing period for the relevant tax year is extended until the end of the 90-day period provided in this act [Session Laws 2001-508], and an individual who lists the property before the end of the 90-day period is not subject to civil or criminal penalties for failure to list the property required to be listed during deployment."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-279, s. 2, effective July 13, 2001, rewrote subsections (a) and (b); added new subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(3); in subsection (c), added the subsection catchline, substituted "this subsection" for "this paragraph" in the next to last sentence, and added the last sentence; and in subsection (d), added the subsection catchline.

§ 105-308. Duty to list; penalty for failure.

Every person in whose name any property is to be listed under the terms of this Subchapter shall list the property with the assessor within the time allowed by law on an abstract setting forth the information required by this Subchapter.

In addition to all other penalties prescribed by law, any person whose duty it is to list any property who willfully fails or refuses to list the same within the time prescribed by law shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. The failure to list shall be prima facie evidence that the failure was willful.

Any person who willfully attempts, or who willfully aids or abets any person to attempt, in any manner to evade or defeat the taxes imposed under this Subchapter, whether by removal or concealment of property or otherwise, shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. ### § 105-309. What the abstract shall contain.

(a) Each person whose duty it is to list property for taxation shall file each year with the assessor a tax list or abstract showing, as of the date prescribed by G.S. 105-285(b), the information required by this section. Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (a)(1) and (a)(2), below, each person whose duty it is to list property for taxation shall file a separate abstract.

- (1) Tenants by the entirety shall file a single abstract listing the real property so held, together with all personal property they own jointly.
- (2) Tenants in common shall file a single abstract listing the real property so held, together with all personal property that they own jointly, unless, as provided in G.S. 105-302(c)(9), the assessor allows them to list their undivided interests in the real property on separate abstracts.

(b) Each abstract shall show the taxpayer's name; residence address; and, if required by the assessor, business address.

- (1) An individual trading under a firm name shall show his name and address and also the name and address of his business firm.

- (2) An unincorporated association shall show both the name and address of the association and the names and addresses of its principal officers.
- (3) A partnership shall show both the name and address of the partnership and the names and addresses of its full partners.
- (c) Each tract, parcel, or lot of real property owned or controlled in the county shall be listed in accordance with the following instructions:
  - (1) Real property not divided into lots shall be described by giving:
    - a. The township in which located.
    - b. The total number of acres in the tract, or, if smaller than one acre, the dimensions of the parcel.
    - c. The tract name (if any), the names of at least two adjoining landowners, a reference to the tract's designation on any map maintained in the office of the assessor or on file in the office of the register of deeds, or some other description sufficient to identify and locate the property by parol testimony.
    - d. If applicable, the number of acres of:
      1. Cleared land;
      2. Woods and timberland;
      3. Land containing mineral or quarry deposits;
      4. Land susceptible of development for waterpower;
      5. Wasteland.
    - e. The portion of the tract or parcel located within the boundaries of any municipality.
  - (2) Real property divided into lots shall be described by giving:
    - a. The township in which located.
    - b. The dimensions of the lot.
    - c. The location of the lot, including its street number (if any).
    - d. The lot's designation on any map maintained in the office of the assessor or on file in the office of the register of deeds, or some description sufficient to identify and locate the property by parol testimony.
    - e. The portion of the lot located within the boundaries of any municipality.
  - (3) In conjunction with the listing of any real property under subdivisions (c)(1) and (c)(2), above, there shall be given a short description of any buildings and other improvements thereon that belong to the owner of the land.
  - (4) Buildings and other improvements having a value in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) that have been acquired, begun, erected, damaged, or destroyed since the time of the last appraisal of property shall be described.
  - (5) If some person other than the owner of a tract, parcel, or lot shall own any buildings or other improvements thereon or separate rights (such as mineral, quarry, timber, waterpower, or other rights) therein, that fact shall be specified on the abstract on which the land is listed, together with the name and address of the owner of the buildings, other improvements, or rights.
    - a. Buildings, other improvements, and separate rights owned by a taxpayer with respect to the lands of another shall be listed separately and identified so as to indicate the name of the owner thereof and the tract, parcel, or lot on which the buildings or other improvements are situated or to which the separate rights appertain.

- b. In accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-302(c)(11), buildings or other improvements or separate rights owned by a taxpayer with respect to the lands of another may be listed either in the name of the owner of the buildings, other improvements, or rights, or in the name of the owner of the land.
- (d) Personal property shall be listed to indicate the township and municipality, if any, in which it is taxable and shall be itemized by the taxpayer in such detail as may be prescribed by an abstract form approved by the Department of Revenue. Personal property shall also be listed to indicate which property, if any, is subject to a tax credit under G.S. 105-151.21.
- (1) If the assessor considers it necessary to obtain a complete listing of personal property, the assessor may require a taxpayer to submit additional information, inventories, or itemized lists of personal property.
- (2) At the request of the assessor, the taxpayer shall furnish any information the taxpayer has with respect to the true value of the personal property the taxpayer is required to list.
- (e) At the end of the abstract each person whose duty it is to list property for taxation shall sign the affirmation required by G.S. 105-310.
- (f) (Effective until July 1, 2002) The following information shall appear on each abstract or on an information sheet distributed with the abstract. The abstract or sheet must include the address and telephone number of the assessor below the notice required by this subsection. The notice shall read as follows:

“PROPERTY TAX RELIEF FOR ELDERLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED PERSONS.

North Carolina excludes from property taxes the first twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in appraised value of a permanent residence owned and occupied by North Carolina residents aged 65 or older or totally and permanently disabled whose income does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000). Income means the owner's adjusted gross income as determined for federal income tax purposes, plus all moneys received other than gifts or inheritances received from a spouse, lineal ancestor or lineal descendant.

If you received this exclusion in (assessor insert previous year), you do not need to apply again unless you have changed your permanent residence. If you received the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) and your income in (assessor insert previous year) was above fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), you must notify the assessor. If you received the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) because you were totally and permanently disabled and you are no longer totally and permanently disabled, you must notify the assessor. If the person receiving the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) has died, the person required by law to list the property must notify the assessor. Failure to make any of the notices required by this paragraph before April 15 will result in penalties and interest.

If you did not receive the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) but are now eligible, you may obtain a copy of an application from the assessor. It must be filed by April 15. ”

(f) (Effective July 1, 2002) The notice set out below must appear on each abstract or on an information sheet distributed with the abstract. The abstract or sheet must include the address and telephone number of the assessor below the notice:

§ 105-309(f) is set out twice. See notes.

“PROPERTY TAX HOMESTEAD EXCLUSION FOR ELDERLY OR PERMANENTLY DISABLED PERSONS.

North Carolina excludes from property taxes a portion of the appraised value of a permanent residence owned and occupied by North Carolina residents aged 65 or older or totally and permanently disabled whose income does not exceed (assessor insert amount). The amount of the appraised value of the residence that may be excluded from taxation is the greater of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or fifty percent (50%) of the appraised value of the residence. Income means the owner's adjusted gross income as determined for federal income tax purposes, plus all moneys received other than gifts or inheritances received from a spouse, lineal ancestor or lineal descendant.

If you received this exclusion in (assessor insert previous year), you do not need to apply again unless you have changed your permanent residence. If you received the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) and your income in (assessor insert previous year) was above (assessor insert amount), you must notify the assessor. If you received the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) because you were totally and permanently disabled and you are no longer totally and permanently disabled, you must notify the assessor. If the person receiving the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) has died, the person required by law to list the property must notify the assessor. Failure to make any of the notices required by this paragraph before June 1 will result in penalties and interest.

If you did not receive the exclusion in (assessor insert previous year) but are now eligible, you may obtain a copy of an application from the assessor. It must be filed by June 1.”

(g) Any person who fails to give the notice required by G.S. 105-309(f) shall not only be subject to loss of the exemption, but also to the penalties provided by G.S. 105-312, and also if willful to the penalty provided in G.S. 105-310. For the purpose of determining whether a penalty is levied, whenever a taxpayer has received an exemption under G.S. 105-277.1 for one taxable year but the property of taxpayer is not eligible for the exemption the next year, notice given of that fact to the assessor on or before April 15 shall be considered as timely filed. (1939, c. 310, s. 900; 1941, c. 221, s. 1; 1953, c. 970, s. 6; 1955, c. 34; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 448, s. 2; c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 881, s. 3; 1977, c. 666, s. 2; 1979, c. 846, s. 2; 1981, c. 54, ss. 4-6; c. 1052, s. 1; 1985, c. 656, ss. 47, 51; 1985 (Reg. Subsection (f) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (f) set out above is effective until July 1, 2002. The second version of subsection (f) set out above is effective July 1, 2002.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-308, s. 2, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2002, in the introductory paragraph of subsection (f), substituted “notice set out below must” for “following information shall” in the first sentence, deleted “required by this subsection” at the end of the second sentence, and deleted “The notice shall read as follows” following that sentence; rewrote the notice and its heading; in the paragraph following the notice, substituted “(assessor insert amount)” for “fifteen thousand dollars” in the second sentence, and substituted “June 1” for “April 15” in the last sentence; and in the last paragraph, substituted “June 1” for “April 15.”

CASE NOTES

Classification Irrelevant. — All taxpayers are required to list taxable property for ad valorem taxes regardless of its classification. Edward Valves, Inc. v. Wake County, 117 N.C. App. 484, 451 S.E.2d 641 (1995), rev'd in part, aff'd in part, 343 N.C. 426, 471 S.E.2d 342 (1996), cert. denied, 519 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 952, 136 L. Ed. 2d 839 (1997).

Compliance with Statutory Procedure Essential. — The listing of property must be done in the manner prescribed by the statute. Rexford v. Phillips, 159 N.C. 213, 74 S.E. 337 (1912).

This means that listing must be done by owner or his duly accredited agent in cases where listing by an agent is permissible. Stone v. Phillips, 176 N.C. 457, 97 S.E. 375 (1918).

Time of Making List. — Under an earlier statute it was held that property can be listed for taxation only in the year, and for the year, in which taxes are due. North Carolina R.R. v. Commissioners of Alamance, 77 N.C. 4 (1877); Johnson v. Royster, 88 N.C. 194 (1883).

Sufficiency of Description. — The listing of land as a certain number of acres lying in a named township was held too vague to support a valid assessment, the land being insufficiently described. Rexford v. Phillips, 159 N.C. 213, 74 S.E. 337 (1912).

A description on a tax list made under the direction of the taxpayer in the words, "Tax list in No. 2 township, C. county, for the year 1893," was held sufficient, as between the taxpayer and a purchaser of his land at a tax sale, where it was the only land owned by the former in the township. Fulcher v. Fulcher, 122 N.C. 101, 29 S.E. 91 (1898).

§ 105-310. Affirmation; penalty for false affirmation.

There shall be annexed to the abstract on which the taxpayer's property is listed the following affirmation, which shall be signed by an individual qualified under the provisions of G.S. 105-311:

Under penalties prescribed by law, I hereby affirm that to the best of my knowledge and belief this listing, including any accompanying statements, inventories, schedules, and other information, is true and complete. (If this affirmation is signed by an individual other than the taxpayer, he affirms that he is familiar with the extent and true value of all the taxpayer's property subject to taxation in this county and that his affirmation is based on all the information of which he has any knowledge.)

Any individual who willfully makes and subscribes an abstract listing required by this Subchapter which he does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, s. 902; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 718; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-311. Duty to appear for purposes of listing and signing affirmation; use of agents and mail.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the person whose duty it is to list property for taxation shall appear before the assessor for purposes of listing and shall sign the affirmation required by G.S. 105-310 to be annexed to the completed abstract on which the property is listed.

- (1) In the case of an individual taxpayer who is unable to list his property, a guardian, authorized agent, or other person having knowledge of and charged with the care of the person and property of the taxpayer shall appear for purposes of listing and shall sign the required affirmation in the name of the taxpayer, noting thereon the capacity in which he signs.
- (2) In the case of a corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association, a person specified in subdivision a or subdivision b, below, shall appear for purposes of listing the taxpayer's property and shall sign the required affirmation in the name of the taxpayer, noting thereon the capacity in which he signs, and no other agent shall be permitted to sign the affirmation required on such a taxpayer's abstract:

- a. A principal officer of the taxpayer or
- b. A full-time employee of the taxpayer who has been officially empowered by a principal officer of the taxpayer in his behalf to list the taxpayer's property for taxation in the county and to sign the affirmation annexed to the abstract or abstracts on which its property is listed.

(3) In the case of an individual who is not a resident of the county in which his property is to be listed, the taxpayer shall sign the affirmation required on the abstract on which his property is listed, but he may submit the completed abstract by mail or by an authorized agent.

(b) Any abstract submitted by mail may be accepted or rejected by the assessor in the assessor's discretion. However, the board of county commissioners, with the approval of the Department of Revenue, may by resolution provide for the general acceptance of completed abstracts submitted by mail or submitted electronically. In no event shall an abstract submitted by mail be accepted unless the affirmation on the abstract is signed by the individual prescribed in subsection (a) of this section. An electronic listing may be signed electronically in accordance with the Electronic Commerce Act, Article 11A of Chapter 66 of the General Statutes.

For the purpose of this Subchapter, abstracts submitted by mail are considered filed as of the date shown on the postmark affixed by the United States Postal Service. If no date is shown on the postmark, or if the postmark is not affixed by the United States Postal Service, the abstract is considered filed when received in the office of the assessor. Abstracts submitted by electronic listing are considered filed when received in the office of the assessor. In any dispute arising under this Subchapter, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer to show that the abstract was timely filed. (1939, c. 310, ss. 901, 903, 904; 1957, c. 848; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 327, s. 1; 1987, c. 43, s. 7; c. 45, s. 1; 2001-279, s. 3; 2001-487, s. 70.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-279, effective July 13, 2001, in the first paragraph of subsection (b), inserted "the assessor's" in the first sentence, added "or submitted electronically" at the end of the second sentence, substituted "on the abstract" for "thereon" and "(a) of this section" for "(a), above" in the third sentence, and added the fourth sentence; and in the second paragraph of subsection (b), substituted "are considered" for

"shall be deemed to be" in the first sentence, substituted "abstract is considered" for "abstracts shall be deemed to be" in the second sentence, and added the next-to-last sentence.

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 70, effective December 16, 2001, in this section as rewritten by s. 3 of Session Laws 2001-279, deleted "his" preceding "the assessor's discretion" at the end of the first sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (b).

CASE NOTES

This section must be read narrowly because of its incorporation into § 105-312, a penalty statute. Winston-Salem Joint Venture v. City of Winston-Salem, 54 N.C. App. 202, 282 S.E.2d 509 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 728, 288 S.E.2d 803 (1982).

Word "when" in the second paragraph of subsection (b) of this section refers to a time, not a contingency, necessarily requiring receipt as a prerequisite to application of this section. Winston-Salem Joint Venture v. City of Winston-Salem, 54 N.C. App. 202, 282 S.E.2d 509 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 728, 288 S.E.2d 803 (1982).

Second paragraph of subsection (b) of this section merely creates logical prefer-

And Applies Only Where Abstract Is Received and Envelope Is Available. — Second paragraph of subsection (b) of this section applies only where an abstract has actually been received and the envelope is available for scrutiny. Winston-Salem Joint Venture v. City of Winston-Salem, 54 N.C. App. 202, 282 S.E.2d 509 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 728, 288 S.E.2d 803 (1982).

And Not Where Receipt Is Denied. —

Where property owner alleged he mailed tax listing before deadline, but receipt of the listing was denied by the taxing authority, second paragraph of subsection (b) of this section was not dispositive. Winston-Salem Joint Venture v. City of Winston-Salem, 54 N.C. App. 202, 282 S.E.2d 509 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 728, 288 S.E.2d 803 (1982).

§ 105-312. Discovered property; appraisal; penalty.

(a) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 34, s. 4.

(b) Duty to Discover and Assess Unlisted Property. — It shall be the duty of the assessor to see that all property not properly listed during the regular listing period be listed, assessed and taxed as provided in this Subchapter. The assessor shall file reports of such discoveries with the board of commissioners in such manner as the board may require.

(c) Carrying Forward Real Property. — At the close of the regular listing period each year, the assessor shall compare the tax lists submitted during the listing period just ended with the lists for the preceding year, and he shall carry forward to the lists of the current year all real property that was listed in the preceding year but that was not listed for the current year. When carried forward, the real property shall be listed in the name of the taxpayer who listed it in the preceding year unless, under the provisions of G.S. 105-302, it must be listed in the name of another taxpayer. Real property carried forward in this manner shall be deemed to be discovered property, and the procedures prescribed in subsection (d), below, shall be followed unless the property discovered is listed in the name of the taxpayer who listed it for the preceding year and the property is not subject to appraisal under either G.S. 105-286 or G.S. 105-287 in which case no notice of the listing and valuation need be sent to the taxpayer.

(d) Procedure for Listing, Appraising, and Assessing Discovered Property. — Subject to the provisions of subsection (c), above, and the presumptions established by subsection (f), below, discovered property shall be listed by the assessor in the name of the person required by G.S. 105-302 or G.S. 105-306. The discovery shall be deemed to be made on the date that the abstract is made or corrected pursuant to subsection (e) of this section. The assessor shall also make a tentative appraisal of the discovered property in accordance with the best information available to him.

When a discovery is made, the assessor shall mail a notice to the person in whose name the discovered property has been listed. The notice shall contain the following information:

- (1) The name and address of the person in whose name the property is listed;
- (2) A brief description of the property;
- (3) A tentative appraisal of the property;
- (4) A statement to the effect that the listing and appraisal will become final unless written exception thereto is filed with the assessor within 30 days from date of the notice.

Upon receipt of a timely exception to the notice of discovery, the assessor shall arrange a conference with the taxpayer to afford him the opportunity to present any evidence or argument he may have regarding the discovery. Within 15 days after the conference, the assessor shall give written notice to the taxpayer of his final decision. Written notice shall not be required, however, if the taxpayer signs an agreement accepting the listing and appraisal. In cases in which agreement is not reached, the taxpayer shall have 15 days from the date of the notice to request review of the decision of the assessor by the board of equalization and review or, if that board is not in session, by the board of commissioners. Unless the request for review by the county board is given at the conference, it shall be made in writing to the assessor. Upon receipt of a timely request for review, the provisions of G.S. 105-322 or G.S. 105-325, as appropriate, shall be followed.

(e) Record of Discovered Property. — When property is discovered, the taxpayer's original abstract (if one was submitted) may be corrected or a new abstract may be prepared to reflect the discovery. If a new abstract is prepared, it may be filed with the abstracts that were submitted during the regular listing period, or it may be filed separately with abstracts designated "Late Listings." Regardless of how filed, the listing shall have the same force and effect as if it had been submitted during the regular listing period.

(f) Presumptions. — When property is discovered and listed to a taxpayer in any year, it shall be presumed that it should have been listed by the same taxpayer for the preceding five years unless the taxpayer shall produce satisfactory evidence that the property was not in existence, that it was actually listed for taxation, or that it was not his duty to list the property during those years or some of them under the provisions of G.S. 105-302 and G.S. 105-306. If it is shown that the property should have been listed by some other taxpayer during some or all of the preceding years, the property shall be listed in the name of the appropriate taxpayer for the proper years, but the discovery shall still be deemed to have been made as of the date that the assessor first listed it.

(g) Taxation of Discovered Property. — When property is discovered, it shall be taxed for the year in which discovered and for any of the preceding five years during which it escaped taxation in accordance with the assessed value it should have been assigned in each of the years for which it is to be taxed and the rate of tax imposed in each such year. The penalties prescribed by subsection (h) of this section shall be computed and imposed regardless of the name in which the discovered property is listed. If the discovery is based upon an understatement of value, quantity, or other measurement rather than an omission from the tax list, the tax shall be computed on the additional valuation fixed upon the property, and the penalties prescribed by subsection (h) of this section shall be computed on the basis of the additional tax.

(h) (Effective until taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004) Computation of Penalties. — Having computed each year's taxes separately as provided in subsection (g) of this section, there shall be added a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount of the tax for the earliest year in which the property was not listed, plus an additional ten percent (10%) of the same amount for each subsequent listing period that elapsed before the property was discovered. This penalty shall be computed separately for each year in which a failure to list occurred; and the year, the amount of the tax for that year, and the total of penalties for failure to list in that year shall be shown separately on the tax records; but the taxes and penalties for all years in which there was a failure to list shall be then totalled on a single tax receipt. The penalty provided in this section does not apply to real property if there have been no improvements to the property since it was last listed and there has been no change in ownership since it was last listed.

(h) (Effective for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004) Computation of Penalties. — Having computed each year's taxes separately as provided in subsection (g), above, there shall be added a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount of the tax for the earliest year in which the property was not listed, plus an additional ten percent (10%) of the same amount for each subsequent listing period that elapsed before the property was discovered. This penalty shall be computed separately for each year in which a failure to list occurred; and the year, the amount of the tax for that year, and the total of penalties for failure to list in that year shall be shown separately on the tax records; but the taxes and penalties for all years in which there was a failure to list shall be then totalled on a single tax receipt.

(h1) Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 624, s. 8.

(i) Collection. — For purposes of tax collection and foreclosure, the total figure obtained and recorded as provided in subsection (h) of this section shall be deemed to be a tax for the fiscal year beginning on July 1 of the calendar year in which the property was discovered. The schedule of discounts for prepayment and interest for late payment applicable to taxes for the fiscal year referred to in the preceding sentence shall apply when the total figure on the single tax receipt is paid. Notwithstanding the time limitations contained in G.S. 105-381, any property owner who is required to pay taxes on discovered property as herein provided shall be entitled to a refund of any taxes erroneously paid on the same property to other taxing jurisdictions in North Carolina. Claim for refund shall be filed in the county where such tax was erroneously paid as provided by G.S. 105-381.

(j) Tax Receipts Charged to Collector. — Tax receipts prepared as required by subsections (h) and (i) of this section for the taxes and penalties imposed upon discovered property shall be delivered to the tax collector, and he shall be charged with their collection. Such receipts shall have the same force and effect as if they had been delivered to the collector at the time of the delivery of the regular tax receipts for the current year, and the taxes charged in the receipts shall be a lien upon the property in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-355.

(k) Power to Compromise. — After a tax receipt computed and prepared as required by subsections (g) and (h) of this section has been delivered and charged to the tax collector as prescribed in subsection (j), above, the board of county commissioners, upon the petition of the taxpayer, may compromise, settle, or adjust the county's claim for taxes arising therefrom. The board of commissioners may, by resolution, delegate the authority granted by this subsection to the board of equalization and review, including any board created by resolution pursuant to G.S. 105-322(a) and any special board established by local act.

(l) Municipal Corporations. — The provisions of this section shall apply to all cities, towns, and other municipal corporations having the power to tax property. Such governmental units shall designate an appropriate municipal officer to exercise the powers and duties assigned by this section to the assessor, and the powers and duties assigned to the board of county commissioners shall be exercised by the governing body of the unit. When the assessor discovers property having a taxable situs in a municipal corporation, he shall send a copy of the notice of discovery required by subsection (d) to the governing body of the municipality together with such other information as may be necessary to enable the municipality to proceed. The governing board of a municipality may, by resolution, delegate the power to compromise, settle, or adjust tax claims granted by this subsection and by subsection (k) of this section to the county board of equalization and review, including any board created by resolution pursuant to G.S. 105-322(a) and any special board established by local act. (1939, c. 310, s. 1109; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 787; 1977, c. 864; 1981, c. 623, ss. 1, 2; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 743, ss. 1, 2; 1989, c. 522; 1991, c. 34, s. 4; c. 624, s. 8; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 12 1999-297, s. 2.)

Subsection (h) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (h) set out above is effective until taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004. The second version of subsection (h) is effective for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004.

Cross References. — For definitions applicable to this Subchapter, see § 105-273.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-297, s. 4, provides that Session Laws 1999-297, s. 2, which amended subsection (h) of this section, is repealed effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2004.

Session Laws 1999-297, s. 1 provides that it is the intent of the General Assembly to encourage all counties to adopt a permanent property tax listing system in accordance with G.S. 105-303(b), as a permanent listing is more convenient for taxpayers and more efficient for counties; that to encourage counties to adopt permanent listing in the next few years, Session Laws 1999-297, s. 2, which amends G.S. 105-312, prohibits counties that have not adopted such a system from charging late listing penalties in certain circumstances; and that Session Laws 1999-297, s. 3, which amends G.S. 105-303, requires all counties to adopt permanent listing systems by the 2004 tax year.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-297, s. 2, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1999, in subsection (h), substituted "(g) of this section" for "(g), above" and added the last sentence. For repeal of this amendment, see the Editor's note.

Construed as Whole. — Public Laws 1927, c. 71, s. 73, relating to the same subject matter as this section, must be construed as a whole, not piecemeal. Madison County v. Coxe, 204 N.C. 58, 167 S.E. 486 (1933).

Retroactive Effect. — The intention of the legislature to give the new Machinery Act of 1971 retroactive effect is expressly declared in § 105-395. In re Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., 28 N.C. App. 400, 221 S.E.2d 378 (1976).

Discovery and Listing of Omitted Property. — The statute provides for discovery of taxable property not listed, by certain tax authorities, and listing same. Hardware Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Stinson, 210 N.C. 69, 185 S.E. 449 (1936).

The language of subdivision (a)(3) of this section makes it clear that property can only be discovered if it is not listed. In re Wesleyan Educ. Center, 68 N.C. App. 742, 316 S.E.2d 87 (1984).

"Listed in the Name of the Taxpayer," etc., as Used in Subsection (c). — In light of the definition of "discovered property" in subdivision (a)(1), the phrase "listed in the name of the taxpayer who listed it for the preceding year" as used in subsection (c) of this section includes a listing of property in the name of the taxpayer both when listed personally by the taxpayer and when listed in the taxpayer's name by "any other person," according to law, for the preceding year. Failure of Owner to Appear to Receive Lists. — Under the Act of 1784, if the owner failed to attend at the time and place appointed to receive the lists of taxable property, the justice could make out a list for himself to the best of his knowledge. Tores v. Justices of County Court, 6 N.C. 167 (1812).

Rebuttal of Presumption. — The presumption created by statute, that the person in possession of personal property was the owner and in possession of said property on the taxing dates of the five preceding years, was held rebutted by the facts of the case. Coltrane v. Donnell, 203 N.C. 515, 166 S.E. 397 (1932).

Compromise Settlement Is Binding Unless Made in Bad Faith. — In the absence of a finding that the board of commissioners acted in bad faith in making a compromise settlement of a tax, or abused its discretion in so doing, mandamus to compel the commissioners to list and assess will be denied. Stone v. Board of Comm'rs, 210 N.C. 226, 186 S.E. 342 (1936).

Right to Review. — While it is true that the 1987 amendment to § 150-282.1(c) made the decisions of the county boards discretionary, it did not make those decisions unreviewable. Rather, the legislature has placed the duty upon the Property Tax Commission to hear appeals from decisions of the county boards arising under the provisions of this section and other sections of Chapter 105. In re K-Mart Corp., 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Reports in Aid of Listing.

§ 105-313. Report of property by multi-county business.

A taxpayer who is engaged in business in more than one county in this State and who owns real property or tangible personal property in connection with his multi-county business shall, upon the request of the Department of Revenue or the assessor of a county in which part of this business property is situated, file a report with the Department of Revenue stating, as of the dates specified in G.S. 105-285 of any year, the following information:

- (1) The counties in this State in which the taxpayer's business property is situated;
- (2) The taxpayer's investment, on a county by county basis, in his business property situated in this State, categorized as the Department of Revenue or the assessor may require; and
- (3) The taxpayer's total investment in his business property situated in this State, categorized as the Department of Revenue or the assessor may require.

This report shall be subscribed and sworn to by the owner of the property. If the owner is a corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association, the report shall be subscribed and sworn to by a principal officer of the owner who has knowledge of the facts contained in the report. (1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987, c. 777, s. 3.)

§ 105-315. Reports by persons having custody of tangible personal property of others.

(a) As of January 1, every person having custody of taxable tangible personal property that has been entrusted to him by another for storage, sale, renting, or any other business purpose shall furnish the appropriate assessor the reports required by subdivision (a)(2), below:

- (1) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 14.
- (2) For all tangible personal property, except inventories exempt under G.S. 105-275(33) and (34), there shall be furnished to the assessor of the county in which the property is situated a statement showing the name of the owner of the property, a description of the property, the quantity of the property, and the amount of money, if any, advanced against the property by the person having custody of it.

- (3) For purposes of illustration, but not by way of limitation, the term "person having custody of taxable tangible personal property" as used in this subsection (a) shall include warehouses, cooperative growers' and marketing associations, consignees, factors, commission merchants, and brokers.

(b) Any person who fails to make the reports required by subsection (a), above, by January 15 in any year shall be liable to the counties in which the property is taxable for a penalty to be measured by any portion of the tax on the property that has not been paid at the time the action to collect this penalty is brought plus two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). This penalty may be recovered in a civil action in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the property is taxable. Upon recovery of this penalty, the tax on the property shall be deemed to be paid. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1001, 1002; 1955, c. 1069, ss. 2, 3; 1965, c. 592; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 813, s. 14.)

§ 105-316. Reports by house trailer park, marina, and aircraft storage facility operators.

(a) As of January 1 each year:

- (1) Every operator of a park or storage lot renting or leasing space for three or more house trailers or mobile homes shall furnish to the assessor of the county in which the park or lot is located the name of the owner of and a description of each house trailer or mobile home situated thereon.
- (2) Every operator of a marina or comparable facility renting, leasing, or otherwise providing dockage or storage space for three or more boats, vessels, floating homes, or floating structures shall furnish to the assessor of the county in which the marina or comparable facility is located the name of the owner of and a description of each boat, vessel, floating home, or floating structure for which dockage or storage space is rented, leased, or otherwise provided.
- (3) Every operator of a storage facility renting or leasing space for three or more airplanes or other aircraft shall furnish to the assessor of the county in which the storage facility is located the name of the owner of and a description of each airplane or aircraft for which space is rented or leased.

(b) Any person who fails to make any report required by subsection (a), above, by January 15 of any year shall be liable to the county in which the house trailers, mobile homes, boats, vessels, floating homes, floating structures, or airplanes are taxable for a penalty to be measured by any portion of the tax on the personal property that has not been paid at the time the action to collect this penalty is brought, plus two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). This penalty may be recovered in a civil action in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the personal property is taxable. Upon recovery of this penalty, the tax on the personal property shall be deemed to be paid. (1939, c. 310, s. 1002; 1955, c. 1069, s. 3; 1965, c. 592; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1985, c. 378, ss. 1, 2; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-316.1. Tax permit required to move mobile home.

(a) In order to protect the local taxing units of this State against the nonpayment of ad valorem taxes on mobile homes, it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person other than a mobile home manufacturer or retailer to remove or cause to be removed any mobile home situated at a premises in this State without first obtaining a tax permit from the tax collector of the county in which the mobile home is situated. The tax permit shall be conspicuously displayed near the license tag on the rear of the mobile home at all times during its transportation. Permits required by G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 may be obtained at the office of the county tax collector during normal business hours.

(b) Except as provided in G.S. 105-316.4, manufacturers, retailers and licensed carriers of mobile homes shall not be required to obtain the tax permits required by this section. Persons or firms transporting mobile homes shall, however, be responsible for seeing that a proper license tag, and when required under this section, a tax permit, are properly displayed thereon at all times during their transportation. (1975, c. 881, s. 1; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1187, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 105-316.2. Requirements for obtaining permit.

(a) In order to obtain the permits herein provided, persons other than manufacturers and retailers of mobile homes shall be required to (i) pay all taxes due to be paid by the owner to the county or to any other taxing unit therein; or (ii) show proof to the tax collector that no taxes are due to be paid; or (iii) demonstrate to the tax collector that the removal of the mobile home will not jeopardize the collection of any taxes due or to become due to the county or to any taxing unit therein.

(b) In addition to complying with the provisions of subsection (a) above, owners of mobile homes required to obtain the permits herein provided shall also furnish the following information to the tax collector:

- (1) The name and address of the owner,
- (2) The address or location of the premises from which the mobile home is to be moved,
- (3) The address or location of the place to which the mobile home is to be moved, and
- (4) The name and address of the carrier who is to transport the mobile home. (1975, c. 881, s. 1.)

§ 105-316.3. Issuance of permits.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in G.S. 105-316.2 above, no permit required by G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 shall be issued by the tax collector unless and until all taxes due to be paid by the owner to the county or to any other taxing unit therein, including any penalties or interest thereon, have been paid. Any taxes which have not yet been computed but which will become due during the current calendar year shall be determined as in the case of prepayments.

(b) Upon compliance with the provisions of G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8, the tax collector shall issue, without charge, a permit authorizing the removal of the mobile home. He shall also maintain a record of all permits issued. (1975, c. 881, s. 1.)

§ 105-316.4. Issuance of permits under repossession.

Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-316.2(a) and 105-316.3(a), above, any person who intends to take possession of a mobile home, whether by judicial or nonjudicial authority, as a holder of a lien on said mobile home shall apply for, and be issued, the permit herein provided without paying all taxes due to be paid by the owner of the mobile home being repossessed, upon notifying the tax collector of the location in North Carolina to which the mobile home is to be taken. At the time of notification the tax collector shall render to the holder of the lien a statement of taxes due against only the mobile home. Within seven days of the issuance of the permit the applicant shall pay to the tax collector the taxes due as set forth in the statement.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any applicant who is a nonresident of North Carolina must pay the taxes due as set forth above at the time of notification to the tax collector and application for the permit.

Upon issuance of the permit and the payment of any taxes as prescribed herein, the mobile home shall no longer be subject to levy or attachment of any lien for any other taxes then owed by the owner thereof, whether or not previously determined. (1975, c. 881, s. 1; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1187, s. 3.)

§ 105-316.5. Form of permit.

The permit shall be in substantially the following form:

TAX PERMIT

County of _____ Permit Number _____
 State of North Carolina Date of Issuance _____ Permission is hereby granted to: _____ (Name & address of owner)

_____ (Name & address of carrier) to remove the following described mobile home:

_____ (Make, model, size, serial number, etc.)
 From: _____ (Address)
 To: _____ (Address)

This permit is issued in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-316.1 through G.S. 105-316.8 of the General Statutes of North Carolina.
 (Signed) _____ Tax Collector
 (or Deputy Tax Collector)
 County of _____

(1975, c. 881, s. 1; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1187, s. 1.)

§ 105-316.6. Penalties for violations.

(a) Any person required by G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 to obtain a tax permit who fails to do so or who fails to properly display same shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor. This penalty shall be in addition to any penalties imposed for failure to list property for taxation and interest for failure to pay taxes provided by the general laws of this State.

(b) Any manufacturer or retailer of mobile homes who aids or abets any owner covered by G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 to defeat in any manner the purpose of G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor.

(c) Any person who transports a mobile home from a location in this State for an owner other than a manufacturer or retailer of mobile homes without having properly displayed thereon the tax permit required by G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor.

(d) Any law-enforcement officer of this State who apprehends any person violating the provisions of G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 shall detain such person and mobile home until satisfactory arrangements have been made to meet the requirements of G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8. (1975, c. 881, s. 1; 1977, 2nd Sess., c. 1187, ss. 1, 4, 5; 1993, c. 539, s. 719; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-316.7. Mobile home defined.

For the purpose of G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8, "mobile home" means a structure that (i) is designed, constructed, and intended for use as a dwelling house, office, place of business, or similar place of habitation and (ii) is capable of being transported from place to place on wheels attached to its frame. It also means a manufactured home as described in G.S. 105-273(13). This definition does not include trailers and vehicles required to be registered annually pursuant to Part 3, Article 3 of Chapter 20 of the General Statutes. (1975, c. 881, s. 1; 1987, c. 805, s. 4.)

§ 105-316.8. Taxable situs not presumed.

Nothing in G.S. 105-316.1 through 105-316.8 shall be interpreted so as to subject to taxation any mobile home which does not have a taxable situs within this State under the general rules of law appropriate to such a determination. (1975, c. 881, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 19.

Administration of Real and Personal Property Appraisal.

§ 105-317. Appraisal of real property; adoption of schedules, standards, and rules.

(a) Whenever any real property is appraised it shall be the duty of the persons making appraisals:

- (1) In determining the true value of land, to consider as to each tract, parcel, or lot separately listed at least its advantages and disadvantages as to location; zoning; quality of soil; waterpower; water privileges; dedication as a nature preserve; conservation or preservation agreements; mineral, quarry, or other valuable deposits; fertility; adaptability for agricultural, timber-producing, commercial, industrial, or other uses; past income; probable future income; and any other factors that may affect its value except growing crops of a seasonal or annual nature.
- (2) In determining the true value of a building or other improvement, to consider at least its location; type of construction; age; replacement cost; cost; adaptability for residence, commercial, industrial, or other uses; past income; probable future income; and any other factors that may affect its value.

- (3) To appraise partially completed buildings in accordance with the degree of completion on January 1.
- (b) In preparation for each revaluation of real property required by G.S. 105-286, it shall be the duty of the assessor to see that:

- (1) Uniform schedules of values, standards, and rules to be used in appraising real property at its true value and at its present-use value are prepared and are sufficiently detailed to enable those making appraisals to adhere to them in appraising real property.
  - (2) Repealed by Session Laws 1981, c. 678, s. 1.
  - (3) A separate property record be prepared for each tract, parcel, lot, or group of contiguous lots, which record shall show the information required for compliance with the provisions of G.S. 105-309 insofar as they deal with real property, as well as that required by this section. (The purpose of this subdivision is to require that individual property records be maintained in sufficient detail to enable property owners to ascertain the method, rules, and standards of value by which property is appraised.)
  - (4) The property characteristics considered in appraising each lot, parcel, tract, building, structure and improvement, in accordance with the schedules of values, standards, and rules, be accurately recorded on the appropriate property record.
  - (5) Upon the request of the owner, the board of equalization and review, or the board of county commissioners, any particular lot, parcel, tract, building, structure or improvement be actually visited and observed to verify the accuracy of property characteristics on record for that property.
  - (6) Each lot, parcel, tract, building, structure and improvement be separately appraised by a competent appraiser, either one appointed under the provisions of G.S. 105-296 or one employed under the provisions of G.S. 105-299.
  - (7) Notice is given in writing to the owner that he is entitled to have an actual visitation and observation of his property to verify the accuracy of property characteristics on record for that property.
- (c) The values, standards, and rules required by subdivision (b)(1) shall be reviewed and approved by the board of county commissioners before January 1 of the year they are applied. The board of county commissioners may approve the schedules of values, standards, and rules to be used in appraising real property at its true value and at its present-use value either separately or simultaneously. Notice of the receipt and adoption by the board of county commissioners of either or both the true value and present-use value schedules, standards, and rules, and notice of a property owner's right to comment on and contest the schedules, standards, and rules shall be given as follows:
- (1) The assessor shall submit the proposed schedules, standards, and rules to the board of county commissioners not less than 21 days before the meeting at which they will be considered by the board. On the same day that they are submitted to the board for its consideration, the assessor shall file a copy of the proposed schedules, standards, and rules in his office where they shall remain available for public inspection.
  - (2) Upon receipt of the proposed schedules, standards, and rules, the board of commissioners shall publish a statement in a newspaper having general circulation in the county stating:
    - a. That the proposed schedules, standards, and rules to be used in appraising real property in the county have been submitted to the board of county commissioners and are available for public inspection in the assessor's office; and

- b. The time and place of a public hearing on the proposed schedules, standards, and rules that shall be held by the board of county commissioners at least seven days before adopting the final schedules, standards, and rules.

- (3) When the board of county commissioners approves the final schedules, standards, and rules, it shall issue an order adopting them. Notice of this order shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper having general circulation in the county, with the last publication being not less than seven days before the last day for challenging the validity of the schedules, standards, and rules by appeal to the Property Tax Commission. The notice shall state:

- a. That the schedules, standards, and rules to be used in the next scheduled reappraisal of real property in the county have been adopted and are open to examination in the office of the assessor; and

- b. That a property owner who asserts that the schedules, standards, and rules are invalid may except to the order and appeal therefrom to the Property Tax Commission within 30 days of the date when the notice of the order adopting the schedules, standards, and rules was first published.

(d) Before the board of county commissioners adopts the schedules of values, standards, and rules, the assessor may collect data needed to apply the schedules, standards, and rules to each parcel in the county. (1939, c. 310, s. 501; 1959, c. 704, s. 4; 1967, c. 944; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 5; 1981, c. 224; c. 678, s. 1; 1985, c. 216, s. 2; c. 628, s. 4; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 295, s. 1; 1997-226, s. 5.)

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

This section, generally speaking, is directory. In re Appeal of Reeves Broadcasting Corp., 273 N.C. 571, 160 S.E.2d 728 (1968).

Ad valorem tax assessments are presumed correct. In order to rebut this presumption, the taxpayer must present evidence to show that an arbitrary method of valuation was used, or that an illegal method of valuation was used, and that the assessment substantially exceeded the true value in money of the property. In re Interstate Income Fund I, 126 N.C. App. 162, 484 S.E.2d 450 (1997).

Procedural Due Process. — Under § 105-317(b), taxpayers' constitutional rights to procedural due process were not violated where they were given multiple opportunities to present evidence to the North Carolina Property Tax Commission advocating their proposed method of valuing their properties. In re Owens, 144 N.C. App. 349, 547 S.E.2d 827 (2001).

Failure to consider each and every indicia of value recited in this section does not vitiate the appraisal. In re Appeal of Reeves Broadcasting Corp., 273 N.C. 571, 160 S.E.2d 728 (1968).

Subdivision (a)(1) of this section is directory, and failure to consider each and every indicia of value recited in the statute does not vitiate the appraisal. In re Highlands Dev. Corp., 80 N.C. App. 544, 342 S.E.2d 588 (1986).

Commission May Decline to Use Highest and Best Use Valuation. — There is no statutory proscription against the Tax Commission's declining to use the highest and best use valuation provided it has considered both the specifically enumerated factors of subsection (a) of this section and any other factors that may affect the land's value. In re Perry-Griffin Found., 108 N.C. App. 383, 424 S.E.2d 212 (1993).

Subsection (a), in fixing the guide which assessors must use in valuing property for taxes, includes as a factor the past income therefrom, and its probable future income. But the income referred to is not necessarily actual income. The language is sufficient to include the income which could be obtained by the proper and efficient use of the property. To hold otherwise would be to penalize the competent and diligent and to reward the incompetent or indolent. In re Greensboro Office Partnership, 72 N.C. App. 635, 325 S.E.2d 24, cert. denied, 313 N.C. 602, 330 S.E.2d 610 (1985).

Neither § 105-283 nor subsection (a) of this section require the commission to value property according to its sales price in a recent arm's length transaction when competent evidence of a different value is presented. In re Greensboro Office Partnership, 72 N.C. App. 635, 325 S.E.2d 24, cert. denied, 313 N.C. 602, 330 S.E.2d 610 (1985).

The fair market value of real property for tax purposes is the same as that for condemnation purposes. In re Parsons, 123 N.C. App. 32, 472 S.E.2d 182 (1996).

Net income produced is an element which may properly be considered in determining value, but it is only one element. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963); In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth St., 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

Bankruptcy Stigma as Appraisal Factor. — Taxpayer's contention that expert witness ignored the impact of bankruptcy stigma in valuing a property held without merit. In re Phoenix Ltd. Partnership, 134 N.C. App. 474, 517 S.E.2d 903 (1999).

The income approach should have been the primary method used to reach a value for the anchor store in a shopping mall; while the income approach is preferential a combination of approaches may be used because of the inherent weaknesses in each approach, so long as the income approach is given greatest weight. In re Belk-Broome Co., 119 N.C. App. 470, 458 S.E.2d 921 (1995), aff'd, 342 N.C. 890, 467 S.E.2d 242 (1996).

But Fact-Finding Board May Also Consider Earning Capacity. — If it appears that the income actually received is less than the fair earning capacity of the property, the earning capacity should be substituted as a factor rather than the actual earnings. The fact-finding board can properly consider both. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963); In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth St., 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

The former language in this section, "the past income therefrom, its probable future income," was not necessarily actual income. The language was sufficient to include the income which could be obtained by the proper and efficient use of the property. In re Property of Pine Raleigh Corp., 258 N.C. 398, 128 S.E.2d 855 (1963).

Advantages and Disadvantages in Location to Be Considered. — Consideration of advantages inherent in the location of the property necessarily requires consideration of any disadvantages inherent in such location. In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth St., 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

Factors in Subsection (a) Irrelevant to Valuation Under § 105-277.2. — Clear legislative intent under § 105-277.2 is that property be valued on the basis of its ability to produce income in the manner of its present use; all other uses for which the property might be employed, and the many factors enunciated in subsection (a) of this section, are irrelevant and immaterial. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

To find the true value of property subject to conservation easements, the Commission must determine the market value prior to the granting of the easements and then reduce that value by applying a damage factor caused by the granting of the conservation easements. Determining the highest and best use of the property prior to the granting of the easement is a critical part of the appraisal process. Rainbow Springs Partnership v. County of Macon, 79 N.C. App. 335, 339 S.E.2d 681 (1986), cert. denied, 316 N.C. 736, 345 S.E.2d 392 (1986).

Equalization of Property Improper. — It was not the Commission's place to equalize property values between anchor store property and the surrounding property in a shopping mall; in doing so, the Commission exceeded its authority and committed an error of law. In re Belk-Broome Co., 119 N.C. App. 470, 458 S.E.2d 921 (1995), aff'd, 342 N.C. 890, 467 S.E.2d 242 (1996).

Charitable Trusts. — Because of the valid and enforceable restraint on alienation, property of a charitable trust itself is unmarketable; therefore, to tax the property according to normal market assumptions would be unfair to the charitable trust and in doing so, would seriously erode and ultimately defeat the public policy of this State in favor of charitable trusts. In re Perry-Griffin Found., 108 N.C. App. 383, 424 S.E.2d 212 (1993).

Potential Uses and Income Held Adequately Considered. — Where county appraisers considered soil quality and whether the land was cropland, pasture, or woodland, and set varying land values on this basis, and also took into consideration that part of the land was swampland, the potential uses and income of the land were adequately considered. In re Wagstaff, 42 N.C. App. 47, 255 S.E.2d 754 (1979).

Presumption of Correctness of Appraisal Rebutted. — Taxpayers presented substantial evidence to rebut the presumption of correctness of county's appraisal of land; thus, the Property Tax Commission properly granted the taxpayers relief. In re Parsons, 123 N.C. App. 32, 472 S.E.2d 182 (1996).

County Tax Assessment Valuation Method Held Arbitrary. — Where there was no evidence that the county considered the advantages or disadvantages of the location; availability of water; or the nature of the mineral, quarry or other valuable deposits, consideration of which, among other facts, is required by this section, and where there was no evidence that any county representative ever visited or observed any portion of the tract in question as required by this section, the county's valuation method was held to be arbitrary. In re Land & Mineral Co., 49 N.C. App. 608, 272 S.E.2d 878 (1980), cert. denied, 302 N.C. 397, 279 S.E.2d 351 (1981).

Appraisal 27 Months Prior to Effective Date Held Arbitrary. — Decision to conduct an appraisal in a time of less than two months, and to complete it some 27 months prior to its effective date, does not comport with the realities of the economic world, and is plainly arbitrary under subdivision (a)(3) of this section, which requires that partially completed buildings be appraised "in accordance with the degree of completion on January 1." In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Tobacco Allotments as Element of Value. — Mandamus would lie to compel the board of county commissioners to include tobacco allotments as an element of value in the appraisal and assessment of county real property for ad valorem taxes. Stocks v. Thompson, 1 N.C. App. 201, 161 S.E.2d 149 (1968).

Tobacco allotments must be considered as an element of value in appraising all tracts of real property. In re Whittington, 129 N.C. App. 259, 498 S.E.2d 194 (1998).

Applied in Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976); In re Land & Mineral Co., 49 N.C. App. 529, 272 S.E.2d 6 (1980); In re McElwee, 51 N.C. App. 163, 275 S.E.2d 865 (1981); In re Westinghouse Elec. Corp., 93 N.C. App. 710, 379 S.E.2d 37 (1989).

§ 105-317.1. Appraisal of personal property; elements to be considered.

(a) Whenever any personal property is appraised it shall be the duty of the persons making appraisals to consider the following as to each item (or lot of similar items):

- (1) The replacement cost of the property;
- (2) The sale price of similar property;
- (3) The age of the property;
- (4) The physical condition of the property;
- (5) The productivity of the property;
- (6) The remaining life of the property;
- (7) The effect of obsolescence on the property;
- (8) The economic utility of the property, that is, its usability and adaptability for industrial, commercial, or other purposes; and
- (9) Any other factor that may affect the value of the property.

(b) In determining the true value of taxable tangible personal property held and used in connection with the mercantile, manufacturing, producing, processing, or other business enterprise of any taxpayer, the persons making the appraisal shall consider any information as reflected by the taxpayer's records and as reported by the taxpayer to the North Carolina Department of Revenue and to the Internal Revenue Service for income tax purposes, taking into account the accuracy of the taxpayer's records, the taxpayer's method of accounting, and the level of trade at which the taxpayer does business. (1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 813, s. 15.)

ARTICLE 20.

*Approval, Preparation, Disposition of Records.§ 105-318. Forms for listing, appraising, and assessing property.

The Department of Revenue may design and prescribe the books and forms to be used throughout the State in the listing, appraising, and assessing of property for taxation. If the board exercises the authority granted by the preceding sentence, it is authorized to make arrangements for the purchase and distribution of approved books and forms through the Division of Purchase and Contract, the cost thereof to be billed to the counties. If the Department does not exercise the authority granted by the first sentence of this section, each county and municipality shall submit the books and forms it proposes to adopt for these purposes to the Department for approval before they are employed. (1939, c. 310, s. 907; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-319. Tax records; preparation of scroll and tax book.

(a) For each year there shall be prepared for each county and tax-levying municipality a scroll (showing property valuations) and a tax book (showing the amount of taxes due) or a combined record (showing both property valuation and taxes due). The governing body of the county or municipality shall have authority to determine whether the tax records shall be prepared in combined form or in a separate scroll and tax book. When used in this Subchapter, the term "tax records" shall mean the scroll, tax book, and combined record. No tax records shall be adopted by any county or municipality until they have been approved by the Department of Revenue.

(b) County tax records shall, unless otherwise authorized by the board of county commissioners, be prepared separately for each township. The tax records of both counties and municipalities shall, unless otherwise authorized by the unit governing body, be divided into two parts:

- (1) Individual taxpayers (including corporate fiduciaries when, in their fiduciary capacity, they list the property of individuals).
  - (2) Corporations, partnerships, other business firms, unincorporated associations, and all other taxpayers other than individual persons.
- (c) The tax records shall show at least the following information:

- (1) In alphabetical order, the name of each taxpayer whose property is listed and assessed for taxation.

- (2) The assessment of each taxpayer's real property listed for unit-wide taxation (divided into as many categories as the Department of Revenue may prescribe).
- (3) The assessment of each taxpayer's personal property listed for unit-wide taxation (divided into as many categories as the Department of Revenue may prescribe).
- (4) The total assessed value of each taxpayer's real and personal property listed for unit-wide purposes.
- (5) The amount of ad valorem tax due by each taxpayer for unit-wide purposes.
- (6) The amount of dog license tax due by each taxpayer.
- (7) The total assessed value of each taxpayer's real and personal property listed for taxation in any special district or subdivision of the unit.
- (8) The amount of ad valorem tax due by each taxpayer to any special district or subdivision of the unit.
- (9) The amount of penalties, if any, imposed under the provisions of G.S. 105-312.
- (10) The total amount of all taxes and penalties due by each taxpayer to the unit and to special districts and subdivisions of the unit.

(d) Listings and assessments and any changes therein made during the period between the close of the regular listing period and the first meeting of the board of equalization and review, as well as those made during the regular listing period, shall be entered on the county tax records, and the county tax records shall be submitted to the board of equalization and review at its first meeting. Additions and changes made by the board of equalization and review shall be entered on the county tax records in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-326. Municipal corporations shall be governed by the provisions of G.S. 105-326 through 105-328 with regard to matters dealt with in this subsection (d). (1939, c. 310, s. 1101; 1963, c. 784, s. 1; 1969, c. 1279; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-320. Tax receipts; preparation.

(a) No taxing unit shall adopt a tax receipt form until it has been approved by the Department of Revenue, and no tax receipt form shall be approved unless it shows at least the following information:

- (1) The name and mailing address of the taxpayer charged with taxes.
- (2) The assessment of the taxpayer's real property listed for unit-wide taxation.
- (3) The assessment of the taxpayer's personal property listed for unit-wide taxation.
- (4) The total assessed value of the taxpayer's real and personal property listed for unit-wide taxation.
- (5) The total assessed value of the taxpayer's real and personal property listed for taxation in any special district or subdivision of the unit.
- (6) The rate of tax levied for each unit-wide purpose, the total rate levied for all unit-wide purposes, and the rate levied by or for any special district or subdivision of the unit in which the taxpayer's property is subject to taxation. (In lieu of showing this information on the tax receipt, it may be furnished on a separate sheet of paper, properly identified, at the time the official receipt is delivered upon payment).

- (7) The amount of ad valorem tax due by the taxpayer for unit-wide purposes.
  - (8) The amount of ad valorem tax due by the taxpayer to any special district or subdivision of the unit.
  - (9) The amount of dog license tax due by the taxpayer.
  - (10) The amount of penalties, if any, imposed under the provisions of G.S. 105-312.
  - (11) The total amount of all taxes and penalties due by the taxpayer to the unit and to special districts and subdivisions of the unit.
  - (12) The amount of discount allowed for prepayment of taxes under the provisions of G.S. 105-360.
  - (13) The amount of interest charged for late payment of taxes under the provisions of G.S. 105-360.
  - (14) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 813, s. 16.
  - (15) Repealed by 1987 (Regular Session, 1988), c. 1041, s. 1.2.
  - (16) The total assessed value of farm machinery, attachments, and repair parts of individual owners and Subchapter S corporations engaged in farming subject to the income tax credit in G.S. 105-151.21 and the amount of ad valorem taxes due by an individual farmer or a Subchapter S corporation engaged in farming on farm machinery, attachments, and repair parts subject to that credit.
- (b) Instead of being shown on the tax receipt, the information required in subdivision (16) of subsection (a) may be shown on a separate sheet furnished to the affected taxpayers.
- (c) The governing body of the county or municipality shall designate the person or persons who shall compute and prepare the tax receipt for all taxes charged upon the tax records. (1939, c. 310, s. 1102; 1961, c. 380; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1985, c. 656, s. 23; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 947, s. 6; 1987, c. 813, ss. 16, 17; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1041, ss. 1.2, 1.3; 1991, c. 45, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-321. Disposition of tax records and receipts; order of collection.

(a) County tax records shall be filed in the office of the assessor unless the board of county commissioners shall require them to be filed in some other public office of the county. City and town tax records shall be filed in some public office of the municipality designated by the governing body of the city or town. In the discretion of the governing body, a duplicate copy of the tax records may be delivered to the tax collector at the time he is charged with the collection of taxes.

(b) Before delivering the tax receipts to the tax collector in any year, the board of county commissioners or municipal governing body shall adopt and enter in its minutes an order directing the tax collector to collect the taxes charged in the tax records and receipts. A copy of this order shall be delivered to the tax collector at the time the tax receipts are delivered to him, but the failure to do so shall not affect the tax collector's rights and duties to employ the means of collecting taxes provided by this Subchapter. The order of collection shall have the force and effect of a judgment and execution against the taxpayers' real and personal property and shall be drawn in substantially the following form:

State of North Carolina

County (or City or Town) of _____

To the Tax Collector of the County (or City or Town) of _____
_____:

You are hereby authorized, empowered, and commanded to collect the taxes set forth in the tax records filed in the office of _____ and in the tax receipts herewith delivered to you, in the amounts and from the taxpayers likewise therein set forth. Such taxes are hereby declared to be a first lien upon all real property of the respective taxpayers in the County (or City or Town) of _____, and this order shall be a full and sufficient authority to direct, require, and enable you to levy on and sell any real or personal property of such taxpayers, for and on account thereof, in accordance with law.

Witness my hand and official seal, this _____ day of _____,

_____
 _____ (Seal)
 Chairman, Board of Commissioners of _____ County (Mayor, City (or Town) of _____)

Attest:

_____
 Clerk of Board of Commissioners of _____ County (Clerk of the City (or Town) of _____)

(c) The original tax receipts, together with any duplicate copies that may have been prepared, shall be delivered to the tax collector by the governing body on or before the first day of September each year if the tax collector has made settlement as required by G.S. 105-352. The tax collector shall give his receipt for the tax receipts and duplicates delivered to him for collection.

(d) No tax receipt shall be delivered to the tax collector for any assessment appealed to the Property Tax Commission until such appeal has been finally adjudicated.

(e) The governing body of a taxing unit may contract with a bank or other financial institution for receipt of payment of taxes payable at par and of delinquent taxes and interest for the current tax year. A financial institution may not issue a receipt for any tax payments received by it, however. Discount for early payment of taxes shall be allowed by a financial institution that contracts with a taxing unit pursuant to this subsection to the same extent as allowed by the tax collector. A financial institution that contracts with a taxing unit for receipt of payment of taxes shall furnish a bond to the taxing unit conditioned upon faithful performance of the contract in a form and amount satisfactory to the governing body of the taxing unit. A governing body of a taxing unit that contracts with a financial institution pursuant to this subsection shall publish a timely notice of the institution at which taxpayers may pay their taxes in a newspaper having circulation within the taxing unit. No notice is required, however, if the financial institution receives payments only through the mail.

(f) Minimal Taxes. — Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-380, the governing body of a taxing unit that collects its own taxes may, by resolution, direct its assessor and tax collector not to collect minimal taxes charged on the tax records and receipts. Minimal taxes are the combined taxes and fees of the taxing unit and any other units for which it collects taxes, due on a tax receipt prepared pursuant to G.S. 105-320 or on a tax notice prepared pursuant to G.S. 105-330.5, in a total original principal amount that does not exceed an amount, up to five dollars ($5.00), set by the governing body. The amount set by the governing body should be the estimated cost to the taxing unit of billing the taxpayer for the amounts due on a tax receipt or tax notice. Upon adoption of a resolution pursuant to this subsection, the tax collector shall not bill the taxpayer for, or otherwise collect, minimal taxes but shall keep a record of all minimal taxes by receipt number and amount and shall make a report of the amount of these taxes to the governing body at the time of the settlement. These minimal taxes shall not be a lien on the taxpayer's real property and shall not be collectible under Article 26 of this Subchapter. A resolution adopted pursuant to this subsection must be adopted on or before June 15 preceding the first taxable year to which it applies and remains in effect until amended or repealed by resolution of the taxing unit. (1939, c. 310, s. 1103; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 615; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; 1989, c. 578, s. 1; 1991, c. 584, s. 1; 1995, c. 24, s. 1; c. 329, ss. 1, 2; 1999-456, s. 59.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995, c. 329, s. 1, enacted subsection (f) of this section. Section 2 of the session law provides: "A resolution adopted under G.S. 105-330.5(b1), as enacted by Chapter 24 of the 1995 Session Laws, prior to the effective date of this act will be considered a resolution adopted under G.S. 105-321(f) as enacted by this act." Section 2 also repealed Chapter 24 of the 1995 Session Laws. For the text of G.S. 105-330.5(b1), see editor's note under that section.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-456, s. 59, effective January 1, 2000, amended the form in subsection (d) to change the line for date entry from "19" to a blank line.

ARTICLE 21.

Review and Appeals of Listings and Valuations.

§ 105-322. County board of equalization and review.

(a) Personnel. — Except as otherwise provided herein, the board of equalization and review of each county shall be composed of the members of the board of county commissioners.

Upon the adoption of a resolution so providing, the board of commissioners is authorized to appoint a special board of equalization and review to carry out the duties imposed under this section. The resolution shall provide for the membership, qualifications, terms of office and the filling of vacancies on the board. The board of commissioners shall also designate the chairman of the special board. The resolution may also authorize a taxpayer to appeal a decision of the special board with respect to the listing or appraisal of his property or the property of others to the board of county commissioners. The resolution shall be adopted not later than the first Monday in March of the year for which it is to be effective and shall continue in effect until revised or rescinded. It shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting of the board of commissioners and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the Department of Revenue within 15 days after its adoption.

Nothing in this subsection (a) shall be construed as repealing any law creating a special board of equalization and review or creating any board charged with the duties of a board of equalization and review in any county.

(b) Compensation. — The board of county commissioners shall fix the compensation and allowances to be paid members of the board of equalization and review for their services and expenses.

(c) Oath. — Each member of the board of equalization and review shall take the oath required by Article VI, § 7 of the North Carolina Constitution with the following phrase added to it: "that I will not allow my actions as a member of the board of equalization and review to be influenced by personal or political friendships or obligations." The oath must be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners.

(d) Clerk and Minutes. — The assessor shall serve as clerk to the board of equalization and review, shall be present at all meetings, shall maintain accurate minutes of the actions of the board, and shall give to the board such information as he may have or can obtain with respect to the listing and valuation of taxable property in the county.

(e) Time of Meeting. — Each year the board of equalization and review shall hold its first meeting not earlier than the first Monday in April and not later than the first Monday in May. In years in which a county does not conduct a real property revaluation, the board shall complete its duties on or before the third Monday following its first meeting unless, in its opinion, a longer period of time is necessary or expedient to a proper execution of its responsibilities. Except as provided in subdivision (g)(5) of this section, the board may not sit later than July 1 except to hear and determine requests made under the provisions of subdivision (g)(2), below, when such requests are made within the time prescribed by law. In the year in which a county conducts a real property revaluation, the board shall complete its duties on or before December 1, except that it may sit after that date to hear and determine requests made under the provisions of subdivision (g)(2), below, when such requests are made within the time prescribed by law. From the time of its first meeting until its adjournment, the board shall meet at such times as it deems reasonably necessary to perform its statutory duties and to receive requests and hear the appeals of taxpayers under the provisions of subdivision (g) (2), below.

(f) Notice of Meetings and Adjournment. — A notice of the date, hours, place, and purpose of the first meeting of the board of equalization and review shall be published at least three times in some newspaper having general circulation in the county, the first publication to be at least 10 days prior to the first meeting. The notice shall also state the dates and hours on which the board will meet following its first meeting and the date on which it expects to adjourn; it shall also carry a statement that in the event of earlier or later adjournment, notice to that effect will be published in the same newspaper. Should a notice be required on account of earlier adjournment, it shall be published at least once in the newspaper in which the first notice was published, such publication to be at least five days prior to the date fixed for adjournment. Should a notice be required on account of later adjournment, it shall be published at least once in the newspaper in which the first notice was published, such publication to be prior to the date first announced for adjournment.

(g) Powers and Duties. — The board of equalization and review has the following powers and duties:

- (1) Duty to Review Tax Lists. — The board shall examine and review the tax lists of the county for the current year to the end that all taxable property shall be listed on the abstracts and tax records of the county and appraised according to the standard required by G.S. 105-283, and the board shall correct the abstracts and tax records to conform to the provisions of this Subchapter. In carrying out its responsibilities under this subdivision (g)(1), the board, on its own motion or on sufficient cause shown by any person, shall:
  - a. List, appraise, and assess any taxable real or personal property that has been omitted from the tax lists.
  - b. Correct all errors in the names of persons and in the description of properties subject to taxation.
  - c. Increase or reduce the appraised value of any property that, in the board's opinion, has been listed and appraised at a figure that is below or above the appraisal required by G.S. 105-283; however, the board shall not change the appraised value of any real property from that at which it was appraised for the preceding year except in accordance with the terms of G.S. 105-286 and 105-287.
  - d. Cause to be done whatever else is necessary to make the lists and tax records comply with the provisions of this Subchapter.
  - e. Embody actions taken under the provisions of subdivisions (g)(1)a through (g)(1)d, above, in appropriate orders and have the orders entered in the minutes of the board.

- f. Give written notice to the taxpayer at the taxpayer's last known address in the event the board, by appropriate order, increases the appraisal of any property or lists for taxation any property omitted from the tax lists under the provisions of this subdivision (g)(1).
- (2) Duty to Hear Taxpayer Appeals. — On request, the board of equalization and review shall hear any taxpayer who owns or controls property taxable in the county with respect to the listing or appraisal of the taxpayer's property or the property of others.
- a. A request for a hearing under this subdivision (g)(2) shall be made in writing to or by personal appearance before the board prior to its adjournment. However, if the taxpayer requests review of a decision made by the board under the provisions of subdivision (g)(1), above, notice of which was mailed fewer than 15 days prior to the board's adjournment, the request for a hearing thereon may be made within 15 days after the notice of the board's decision was mailed.
- b. Taxpayers may file separate or joint requests for hearings under the provisions of this subdivision (g)(2) at their election.
- c. At a hearing under provisions of this subdivision (g)(2), the board, in addition to the powers it may exercise under the provisions of subdivision (g)(3), below, shall hear any evidence offered by the appellant, the assessor, and other county officials that is pertinent to the decision of the appeal. Upon the request of an appellant, the board shall subpoena witnesses or documents if there is a reasonable basis for believing that the witnesses have or the documents contain information pertinent to the decision of the appeal.
- d. On the basis of its decision after any hearing conducted under this subdivision (g)(2), the board shall adopt and have entered in its minutes an order reducing, increasing, or confirming the appraisal appealed or listing or removing from the tax lists the property whose omission or listing has been appealed. The board shall notify the appellant by mail as to the action taken on the taxpayer's appeal not later than 30 days after the board's adjournment.
- (3) Powers in Carrying Out Duties. — In the performance of its duties under subdivisions (g)(1) and (g)(2), above, the board of equalization and review may exercise the following powers:
- a. It may appoint committees composed of its own members or other persons to assist it in making investigations necessary to its work. It may also employ expert appraisers in its discretion. The expense of the employment of committees or appraisers shall be borne by the county. The board may, in its discretion, require the taxpayer to reimburse the county for the cost of any appraisal by experts demanded by the taxpayer if the appraisal does not result in material reduction of the valuation of the property appraised and if the appraisal is not subsequently reduced materially by the board or by the Department of Revenue.
- b. The board, in its discretion, may examine any witnesses and documents. It may place any witnesses under oath administered by any member of the board. It may subpoena witnesses or documents on its own motion, and it must do so when a request is made under the provisions of subdivision (g)(2)c, above.
- A subpoena issued by the board shall be signed by the chair of the board, directed to the witness or to the person having custody of the document, and served by an officer authorized to serve subpoenas. Any person who willfully fails to appear or to produce documents in response to a subpoena or to testify when appearing in response to a subpoena shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

- (4) Power to Submit Reports. — Upon the completion of its other duties, the board may submit to the Department of Revenue a report outlining the quality of the reappraisal, any problems it encountered in the reappraisal process, the number of appeals submitted to the board and to the Property Tax Commission, the success rate of the appeals submitted, and the name of the firm that conducted the reappraisal. A copy of the report should be sent by the board to the firm that conducted the reappraisal.
- (5) Duty to Change Abstracts and Records After Adjournment. — Following adjournment upon completion of its duties under subdivisions and (g)(1) and (g)(2) of this subsection, the board may continue to meet to carry out the following duties:
  - a. To hear and decide all appeals relating to discovered property under G.S. 105-312(d) and (k).
  - b. To hear and decide all appeals relating to the appraisal, situs, and taxability of classified motor vehicles under G.S. 105-330.2(b).
  - c. To hear and decide all appeals relating to audits conducted under G.S. 105-296(j) and relating to audits conducted under G.S. 105-296(j) and (l) of property classified at present-use value and property exempted or excluded from taxation. (1939, c. 310, s. 1105; 1965, c. 191; 1967, c. 1196, s. 6; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 863; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; 1989, c. 79, s. 3; c. 176, s. 1; c. 196; 1991, c. 110, s. 5; 1991 (Reg. ## CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Valuation by Owner Subject to Review by Board. — The valuation upon personal property is made by the taxpayer when he lists his property, and is binding upon the list taker, but it may be corrected by the board of equalization at the dates fixed by the statute, upon due notice to the taxpayer. Pocomoke Guano Co. v. City of New Bern, 172 N.C. 258, 90 S.E. 202 (1916).

Right to Appeal. — The plain intent and thrust of this section and § 105-282.1(b) and former § 105-324 is to permit a property owner, as a matter of right, to appeal to the Property Tax Commission upon a county or municipal board denying its application for an exemption. In re K-Mart Corp., 79 N.C. App. 725, 340 S.E.2d 752, aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 319 N.C. 378, 354 S.E.2d 468 (1987).

Steps in Obtaining Review of Valuation.

— If the county commissioners have failed to value land at its true value in money — be the failure deliberate, an error in judgment, or caused by a misconception of the law — plaintiffs' initial step is to complain to the county board of equalization and review and request a hearing. If they are dissatisfied with the action taken by that board they may except to its order and appeal to the State Board. Thereafter plaintiffs may resort to the courts, but only to obtain judicial review for errors of law or abuse of discretion by the State Board. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

North Carolina law provides two avenues by which a taxpayer may seek relief from an unjust property tax assessment: administrative review followed by judicial review in the Court of Appeals, and direct judicial review in superior or district court. Administrative review begins in the county board of equalization and review. The county board has jurisdiction to hear any taxpayer who has a complaint as to the listing or appraisal of his or others' property. Any taxpayer who wishes to except to an order of the county board shall appeal to the State Property Tax Commission. In turn, a taxpayer who is unsatisfied with the decision of the Property Tax Commission shall appeal to the North Carolina Court of Appeals, and then to the North Carolina Supreme Court. Johnston v. Gaston County, 71 N.C. App. 707, 323 S.E.2d 381 (1984), cert. denied, 313 N.C. 508, 329 S.E.2d 392 (1985).

Before Whom Complaint Made. — The complaint against excessive valuation must be made before the board of county commissioners, and the aldermen of the city have no jurisdiction to change such valuation. Pocomoke Guano Co. v. City of New Bern, 172 N.C. 258, 90 S.E. 202 (1916).

Requisites of Complaint. — The complaint in an action against a city to recover for taxes paid must allege that the valuation complained of is greater than that fixed by the county board of equalization, or the tax he was forced to pay was greater than it would have been if correctly computed at the legal rate on the valuation properly ascertained, or a demurrer thereto will be sustained. Pocomoke Guano Co. v. City of New Bern, 172 N.C. 258, 90 S.E. 202 (1916).

Property Tax Commission Empowered to Make Final Valuation of Property. — The legislature's intent is that the agency designated to hear appeals in all matters pertaining to tax valuations should also be the one empowered to make the final valuation. The State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) — unlike the courts — has the staff, the specialized knowledge and expertise necessary to make informed decisions upon questions relating to the valuation and assessment of property. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

Purpose of Notice Before Meeting. — The notice required before the meeting is general, and has reference to a general revision of the lists of the whole county, with a view to an equal and uniform assessment among the several townships, and it is to give opportunity to all who may be dissatisfied with the valuation of their property to make complaint and have it corrected. Commissioners of Cleaveland County v. Atlanta & C. Air Line Ry., 86 N.C. 541 (1882).

Limits on Commission's Powers. — State Property Tax Commission's authority to issue an order reducing, increasing or confirming the valuation or valuations appealed, or listing or removing from the tax lists the property which has been appealed, is subject to the same statutory parameters as assessors, county boards and county commissioners. In re Allred, 351 N.C. 1, 519 S.E.2d 52 (1999).

Revision Without Notice Void. — Where the value of the solvent credits of a taxpayer is increased without due notice to him or his agent, such increase in value is a nullity. Wolfenden v. Board of Comm'rs, 152 N.C. 83, 67 S.E. 319 (1910).

Designated Date of Meeting Exclusive of Others. — See Wolfenden v. Board of Comm'rs, 152 N.C. 83, 67 S.E. 319 (1910).

County Board Must Pass upon Question of Tax Situs. — Where the question of tax situs is raised before the county board, it is an integral part of its duties to pass upon the question. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

And in doing so, it is not passing upon taxpayer's liability for tax. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Determination of tax situs is a requirement precedent to any legal listing, assessment, and valuation for tax purposes. In re Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Designation "property of others" in subdivision (2) of subsection (g) is broad enough to include every piece of rural land or the county's entire tax list if the commissioners have failed to value it as required by law. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

When Property Owner May Contest Valuation on "Property of Others." — It is clear that the property owner may contest the valuation on the "property of others" under subdivision (g)(2) only where he is in some way aggrieved by that valuation. Brock v. North Carolina Property Tax Comm'n, 290 N.C. 731, 228 S.E.2d 254 (1976).

Standing to Appeal. — Where taxpayer complained that the property of a real estate corporation was undervalued, with the result that other property owners in the county would bear a disproportionate share of the tax burden, taxpayer was adversely affected by the alleged undervaluation of the corporation's property and had standing to appeal to the county for a revaluation of the corporate property. In re Whiteside Estates, Inc., 136 N.C. App. 360, 525 S.E.2d 196 (2000), cert. denied, 351 N.C. 473, 543 S.E.2d 511 (2000).

Right to Request Hearing, etc., Not Limited. — The right to request a hearing by and relief from the county board of equalization and review is not limited to the owner in fee simple of the property, the valuation of which is in question. In re Valuation of Property Located at 411-417 W. Fourth St., 282 N.C. 71, 191 S.E.2d 692 (1972).

Subsection (e) Mandatory as to Time Prescribed for Completing Work. — The duty imposed on the board of equalization and review to complete its work within the time prescribed by subsection (e), at least to the extent that authority is given the board to act ex mero motu, is mandatory. Spiers v. Davenport, 263 N.C. 56, 138 S.E.2d 762 (1964).

When Board's Duties and Powers Cease. — After the board of county commissioners has completed the revision of the tax lists as authorized by the statute, its duties and powers as a revising board cease and determine until the time appointed by the statute for the next succeeding year. Wolfenden v. Board of Comm'rs, 152 N.C. 83, 67 S.E. 319 (1910).

Taxpayer Must Exhaust Administrative

Remedies Before Resorting to Courts. — The legislature has provided adequate means whereby the individual taxpayer may contest not only the valuation which the county commissioners have placed upon his own property but the entire tax list or assessment roll, and he must exhaust this administrative remedy before he can resort to the courts. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

The superior court has no authority to issue mandamus commanding the commissioners to revalue all real property in the county at its true value in money, since taxpayers must first exhaust the statutory administrative remedies in the county board of equalization and review and in the State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) before they can resort to the superior court. King v. Baldwin, 276 N.C. 316, 172 S.E.2d 12 (1970).

Appeal. — The county commissioners have exclusive original jurisdiction to grant relief against excessive valuation of property for taxation, and, unless they proceed upon some erroneous principle, there is no appeal where the statute gives none. Wade v. Commissioners of Craven County, 74 N.C. 81 (1876). As to appeal to Property Tax Commission, see § 105-290 and notes thereto.

Wake County*, 343 N.C. 426, 471 S.E.2d 342 (1996), cert. denied, 519 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 952, 136 L. Ed. 2d 839 (1997).

§ 105-323. Giving effect to decisions of the board of equalization and review.

All changes in listings, names, descriptions, appraisals, and assessments made by the board of equalization and review shall be reflected upon the abstracts and tax records by insertion of rebates given, additional charges made, or any other insertion; by correction; or by any other charge. The tax records shall then be totalled, and at least a majority of the members of the board of equalization and review shall sign the following statement to be inserted at the end of the tax records:

State of North Carolina
County of _____
We, the undersigned members of the Board of Equalization and Review of _____ County, hereby certify that these tax records constitute the fixed and permanent tax list and assessment roll and record of taxes due for the year _____, subject to only such changes as may be allowed by law.

_____
Members of the Board of Equalization and Review of _____ County

The omission of this endorsement shall not affect the validity of the tax records or of any taxes levied on the basis of the assessments appearing in them. (1939, c. 310, s. 1106; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1999-456, s. 59.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-456, s. 59, effective January 1, 2000, amended the form to change the line for date entry from “19” to a blank line.

§ 105-324: Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 295, s. 4.

§ 105-325. Powers of board of county commissioners to change abstracts and tax records after board of equalization and review has adjourned.

(a) After the board of equalization and review has finished its work and the changes it effected or ordered have been entered on the abstracts and tax records as required by G.S. 105-323, the board of county commissioners shall not authorize any changes to be made on the abstracts and tax records except as follows:

- (1) To give effect to decisions of the Property Tax Commission on appeals taken under G.S. 105-290.
- (2) To add to the tax records any valuation certified by the Department of Revenue for property appraised in the first instance by the Department or to give effect to corrections made in such appraisals by the Department.
- (3) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (a)(3)a and (a)(3)b, below, to correct the name of any taxpayer appearing on the abstract or tax records erroneously; to substitute the name of the person who should have listed property for the name appearing on the abstract or tax records as having listed the property; and to correct an erroneous description of any property appearing on the abstract or tax records.
  - a. Any correction or substitution made under the provisions of this subdivision (a)(3) shall have the same force and effect as if the name of the taxpayer or description of the property had been correctly listed in the first instance, but the provisions of this subdivision (a)(3)a shall not be construed as a limitation on the taxation and penalization of discovered property required by G.S. 105-312.
  - b. If a correction or substitution under this subdivision (a)(3) will adversely affect the interests of any taxpayer, he shall be given written notice thereof and an opportunity to be heard before the change is entered on the abstract or tax records.
- (4) To correct appraisals, assessments, and amounts of taxes appearing erroneously on the abstracts or tax records, as the result of clerical or mathematical errors. (If the clerical or mathematical error was made by the taxpayer, his agent, or an officer of the taxpayer and if the correction demonstrates that the property was listed at a substantial understatement of value, quantity, or other measurement, the provisions of G.S. 105-312 shall apply.)
- (5) To add to the tax records and abstracts or to correct the tax records and abstracts to include property discovered under the provisions of G.S. 105-312 or property exempted or excluded from taxation pursuant to G.S. 105-282.1(a)(4).

- (6) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (a)(6)a, (a)(6)b, (a)(6)c, and (a)(6)d, below, to appraise or reappraise property when the assessor reports to the board that, since adjournment of the board of equalization and review, facts have come to his attention that render it advisable to raise or lower the appraisal of some particular property of a given taxpayer in the then current calendar year.
- The power granted by this subdivision (a)(6) shall not authorize appraisal or reappraisal because of events or circumstances that have taken place or arisen since the day as of which property is to be listed.
  - No appraisal or reappraisal shall be made under the authority of this subdivision (a)(6) unless it could have been made by the board of equalization and review had the same facts been brought to the attention of that board.
  - If a reappraisal made under the provisions of this subdivision (a)(6) demonstrates that the property was listed at a substantial understatement of value, quantity, or other measurement, the provisions of G.S. 105-312 shall apply.
  - If an appraisal or reappraisal made under the provisions of this subdivision (a)(6) will adversely affect the interests of any taxpayer, he shall be given written notice thereof and an opportunity to be heard before the appraisal or reappraisal shall become final.
- (7) To give effect to decisions of the board of county commissioners on appeals taken under G.S. 105-322(a).

(b) The board of county commissioners may give the assessor general authority to make any changes authorized by subsection (a), above, except those permitted under subdivision (a)(6), above.

(c) Orders of the board of county commissioners and actions of the assessor upon delegation of authority to him by the board that are made under the provisions of this section may be appealed to the Property Tax Commission under the provisions of G.S. 105-290. (1939, c. 310, s. 1108; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 295, s. 8; c. 680, s. 6; 1989, c. 176, s. 2.)

dural developments in the discovery of property unlisted for purposes of ad valorem taxation, see 51 N.C.L. Rev. 531 (1973).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Board of county commissioners may not reappraise property when information as to change comes to tax supervisor's attention while board of equalization and review is in session. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. H.L. Riddle, Jr., 41 N.C.A.G. 514 (1971).

§ 105-325.1. Special committee for motor vehicle appeals.

The board of county commissioners may appoint a special committee of its members or other persons to hear and decide appeals arising under G.S. 105-330.2(b). The county shall bear the expense of employing the committee. (1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 9.)

ARTICLE 22.

*Listing, Appraising, and Assessing by Cities and Towns.§ 105-326. Listing property for city and town taxation; duty of owner; authority of governing body to obtain lists from county.

(a) All property subject to ad valorem taxation in any city or town shall be listed annually during the period prescribed by G.S. 105-307 in the city or town in which it is taxable in the name of the person required by G.S. 105-302 and 105-306 on an abstract prepared according to G.S. 105-309 and affirmed as required by G.S. 105-310. In lieu of requiring property owners to list their property with the city or town, the governing body of any city or town may make provision for obtaining from the abstracts and tax records of the county in which the municipality is situated lists of the property subject to taxation by the city or town.

(b) Regardless of whether a city or town adopts the alternative provided in the second sentence of subsection (a), above, the provisions of G.S. 105-311 and 105-312 shall apply to the listing of property for municipal taxation, as shall the penalties imposed by G.S. 105-308 and 105-312 for failure to list. In the preparation of abstracts, tax records, and tax receipts the city or town shall be governed by the provisions of G.S. 105-318, 105-319, 105-320, and 105-321. The powers and duties assigned to the assessor by the statutes cited as being applicable to municipalities shall be imposed upon and exercised by some official designated by the governing body of the city or town, and the powers and duties assigned therein to the board of county commissioners shall be imposed upon and exercised by the governing body of the city or town. (1939, c. 310, s. 1201; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 105-327. Appraisal and assessment of property subject to city and town taxation.

For the property it is entitled to tax, a city or town situated in a single county shall accept and adopt the appraisals and assessments fixed by the authorities of that county as modified by the Department of Revenue under the provisions of this Subchapter. However, the requirement of this section shall not be construed to modify the appraisal and assessment authority given cities and towns with respect to discovered property by G.S. 105-312. (1939, c. 310, s. 1201; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

Legal Periodicals. — For note on procedural developments in the discovery of property      unlisted for purposes of ad valorem taxation, see 51 N.C.L. Rev. 531 (1973).

CASE NOTES

Cited in In re Whiteside Estates, Inc., 136 N.C. App. 360, 525 S.E.2d 196 (2000), cert. denied, 351 N.C. 473, 543 S.E.2d 511 (2000).

§ 105-328. Listing, appraisal, and assessment of property subject to taxation by cities and towns situated in more than one county.

(a) For purposes of municipal taxation, all property subject to taxation by a city or town situated in two or more counties may, by resolution of the governing body of the municipality, be listed, appraised, and assessed as provided in G.S. 105-326 and 105-327 if, in such a case, in the opinion of the governing body, the same appraisal and assessment standards will thereby apply uniformly throughout the municipality. However, if, in such a case, the governing body shall determine that adoption of the appraisals and assessments fixed by the counties will not result in uniform appraisals and assessments throughout the municipality, the governing body may, by horizontal adjustments, equalize the appraisal and assessment values fixed by the counties in order to obtain the required uniformity. Taxes levied by the city or town shall be levied uniformly on the assessments so determined.

(b) Should the governing body of a city or town situated in two or more counties not adopt the procedure provided in subsection (a), above, all property subject to taxation by the municipality shall be listed, appraised, and assessed as provided in subdivisions (b)(1) through (b)(6), below.

- (1) The governing body of the city or town shall appoint a municipal assessor on or before the first Monday in July in each odd-numbered year. The governing body may remove the municipal assessor from office during his term for good cause after giving him notice in writing and an opportunity to appear and be heard at a public session of the appointing body. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office, the governing body shall appoint a qualified person to serve as municipal assessor for the period of the unexpired term. A person appointed as a municipal assessor shall meet the qualifications and requirements set for a county assessor under G.S. 105-294. Pursuant to Article VI, Sec. 9, of the North Carolina Constitution, the office of municipal assessor is hereby declared to be an office that may be held concurrently with any other appointive office.
- (2) With the approval of the governing body, a municipal assessor may employ listers, appraisers, and clerical assistants necessary to carry out the listing, appraisal, assessing, and billing functions required by law.
- (3) A municipal assessor and the persons employed by him have the same powers and duties as their county equivalents with respect to property subject to taxation by a city or town.
- (4) The governing body shall, with respect to property subject to city or town taxation, be vested with the powers and duties vested by this Subchapter in boards of county commissioners and boards of equalization and review. Appeals may be taken from the municipal board of equalization and review or governing body to the Property Tax Commission in the manner provided in this Subchapter for appeals from county boards of equalization and review and boards of county commissioners.
- (5) All expenses incident to the listing, appraisal, and assessment of property for the purpose of city or town taxation shall be borne by the municipality for whose benefit the work is undertaken.
- (6) The intent of this subsection (b) is to provide cities and towns that are situated in two or more counties with machinery for listing, appraising, and assessing property for municipal taxation equivalent to that established by this Subchapter for counties. The powers to be exercised by, the duties imposed on, and the possible penalties against municipal governing bodies, boards of equalization and review, assessors, and persons employed by an assessor shall be the same as those provided in this Subchapter by, on, or against county boards of commissioners, boards of equalization and review, assessors, and persons employed by an assessor. (1939, c. 310, s. 1202; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 13; 1987, c. 43, s. 8; c. 45, s. 1; c. 46, s. 2.)

§ 105-329: Repealed by Session Laws 1991 (Regular Session, 1992), c. 961, s. 2.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1991, c. 629, s. 10, had provided that this section would become effective January 1, 1993; however, this section was repealed by Session Laws 1991

(Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 2, effective January 1, 1993. Therefore, this section never went into effect.

ARTICLE 22A.

Motor Vehicles.

§ 105-330. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Classified motor vehicle. A motor vehicle classified under this Article.
- (2) Motor vehicle. Defined in G.S. 20-4.01(23).
- (3) Public service company. Defined in G.S. 105-333(14). (1991, c. 624, s. 1.)

§ 105-330.1. Classification of motor vehicles.

(a) Classification. — All motor vehicles other than the motor vehicles listed in subsection (b) of this section are designated a special class of property under authority of Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution. Classified motor vehicles shall be listed and assessed as provided in this Article and taxes on classified motor vehicles shall be collected as provided in this Article.

(b) Exceptions. — The following motor vehicles are not classified under subsection (a) of this section:

- (1) Motor vehicles exempt from registration pursuant to G.S. 20-51.
- (2) Manufactured homes, mobile classrooms, and mobile offices.
- (3) Semitrailers or trailers registered on a multiyear basis.
- (4) Motor vehicles owned or leased by a public service company and appraised under G.S. 105-335.
- (5) Repealed by Session Laws 2000, c. 140, s. 75(a), effective July 1, 2000. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 3; 1993, c. 485, s. 18; c. 543, s. 4; 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 745, s. 1; 2000-140, s. 75(a).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-140, s. 75(a), effective July 1, 2000, repealed subdivision (b)(5), which read “U-drive-it’ passenger vehicles registered under G.S. 20-87(2).”

§ 105-330.2. Appraisal, ownership, and situs.

(a) Date Determined. — The value of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) (registered vehicles) shall be determined as of January 1 of the year the taxes are due. If the value of a new motor vehicle cannot be determined as of that date, the value of that vehicle shall be determined for that year as of the date that model vehicle is first offered for sale at retail in this State.

The ownership, situs, and taxability of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) (registered vehicles) shall be determined annually as of the day on which a new registration is applied for or the day on which the current vehicle registration is renewed, regardless of whether the registration is renewed after it has expired.

The value of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2) (unregistered vehicles) shall be determined as of January 1 of the year in which the motor vehicle is required to be listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2). The ownership, situs, and taxability of a classified motor vehicle listed or discovered pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2) (unregistered vehicles) shall be determined as of January 1 of the year in which the motor vehicle is required to be listed.

(b) Value; Appeal. — A classified motor vehicle shall be appraised by the assessor at its true value in money as prescribed by G.S. 105-283. The owner of a classified motor vehicle may appeal the appraised value of the vehicle in the manner provided by G.S. 105-312(d) for appeals in the case of discovered property and may appeal the situs or taxability of the vehicle in the manner provided by G.S. 105-381. The owner of a classified motor vehicle must file an appeal of appraised value with the assessor within 30 days after the date of the tax notice prepared pursuant to G.S. 105-330.5. Notwithstanding G.S. 105-312(d), an owner who appeals the appraised value of a classified motor vehicle shall pay the tax on the vehicle when due, subject to a full or partial refund if the appeal is decided in the owner's favor.

(c) Administration. — The Department of Revenue, acting through the Property Tax Division, and the Department of Transportation, acting through the Division of Motor Vehicles, shall enter into a memorandum of understanding concerning the vehicle identification information, name and address of the owner, and other information that will be required on the motor vehicle registration forms to implement the tax listing and collection provisions of this Article. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 4; 1995, c. 510, s. 1; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 24; 1997-6, s. 10; 1999-353, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-353, s. 1, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2000, made the former first two paragraphs of subsection (a) the present first paragraph and rewrote this paragraph, inserted "(registered vehicles)" in the present second paragraph of subsection (a), inserted "(unregistered vehicles)" in two places in the third paragraph of subsection (a), and added subsection catchlines for subsections (a) to (c).

§ 105-330.3. Assessor's duty to list classified motor vehicles; application for exempt status.

- (a)(1) Registered Vehicles. The assessor shall list, appraise, and assess all taxable classified motor vehicles for county, municipal, and special district taxes each year in the name of the record owner as of the day on which the current vehicle registration is renewed or the day on which a new registration is applied for. The owner of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to this subdivision need not list the vehicle as provided in G.S. 105-306; G.S. 105-312 does not apply to classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to this subdivision.
- (2) Unregistered Vehicles. The owner of a classified motor vehicle who does not register the vehicle or does not renew the registration of the vehicle on or before the expiration date of the current registration shall list the vehicle for taxes by filing an abstract with the assessor of the county in which the vehicle is located on or before January 31 following the date the unregistered vehicle is acquired or, in the case of a registration that is not renewed, January 31 following the date the registration expires, and on or before January 31 of each succeeding year that the vehicle is unregistered. If a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to this section is registered during the calendar year in which it was listed, it shall be taxed for the fiscal year that opens in the calendar year of listing as an unregistered vehicle. A vehicle required to be listed pursuant to this subdivision that is not listed by January 31 shall be subject to discovery pursuant to G.S. 105-312.

(b) The owner of a classified motor vehicle who claims an exemption or exclusion from tax under this Subchapter has the burden of establishing that the vehicle is entitled to the exemption or exclusion. The owner may establish prima facie entitlement to exemption or exclusion of the classified motor vehicle by filing an application for exempt status with the assessor. When an approved application is on file, the assessor shall omit from the tax records classified motor vehicles described in the application.

(c) The owner of a classified motor vehicle that has been omitted from the tax records as provided in subsection (b) shall report to the assessor any classified motor vehicle registered in the owner's name or owned by him that does not qualify for exemption or exclusion for the current year. This report shall be made within 30 days after the renewal of registration or initial registration of the vehicle or, for an unregistered vehicle, on or before January 31 of the year in which the vehicle is required to be listed by subdivision (a)(2). A classified motor vehicle that does not qualify for exemption or exclusion but has been omitted from the tax records as provided in subsection (b) is subject to discovery under the provisions of G.S. 105-312, except that in lieu of the penalties prescribed by G.S. 105-312(h) there shall be assessed a penalty of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each registration period that elapsed before the disqualification was discovered.

(d) The provisions of G.S. 105-282.1 do not apply to classified motor vehicles. (1991, c. 624, s. 1.)

§ 105-330.4. Due date, interest, and enforcement remedies.

(a) Taxes on a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2) shall be due on September 1 following the date by which the vehicle was required to be listed. Taxes on a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) shall be due each year on the following dates:

- (1) For a vehicle registered under the staggered system, taxes shall be due on the first day of the fourth month following the date the registration expires or on the first day of the fourth month following the last day of the month in which the new registration is applied for.
- (2) For a vehicle newly registered under the annual system, taxes shall be due on the first day of the fourth month following the date the new registration is applied for. For a vehicle whose registration is renewed under the annual system, taxes shall be due on May 1 following the date the registration expired.

(b) Subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-395.1, interest on unpaid taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) accrues at the rate of two percent (2%) for the first month following the date the taxes were due and three-fourths percent (3/4 %) for each month thereafter until the taxes are paid, unless the tax notice required by G.S. 105-330.5 is prepared after the date the taxes are due. In that circumstance, the interest accrues beginning the second month following the date of the notice until the taxes are paid. Subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-395.1, interest on delinquent taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a) (2) accrues as provided in G.S. 105-360(a) and discounts shall be allowed as provided in G.S. 105-360(c).

(c) Unpaid taxes on classified motor vehicles may be collected by levying on the motor vehicle taxed or on any other personal property of the taxpayer pursuant to G.S. 105-366 and G.S. 105-367, or by garnishment of the taxpayer's property pursuant to G.S. 105-368. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-366(b), the enforcement measures of levy, attachment, and garnishment may be used to collect unpaid taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) at any time after interest accrues. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-355, taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) do not become a lien on real property owned by the taxpayer. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 5; 1995, c. 510, s. 2; 2001-139, s. 8.)

Support Troops Participating in Operations Enduring Freedom and Noble Eagle.

— As to waiver of deadlines, fees, and penalties for military personnel participating in Operations Enduring Freedom and Noble Eagle, see note for Session Laws 2001-508, ss. 3 to 5(b), at § 105-307.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws

2001-139, s. 8, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 2001, in the first sentence of subsection (b), substituted “two percent (2%) for” for “three fourths of one percent ( $\frac{3}{4}\%$ ) per month beginning” and inserted “and three-fourths percent ( $\frac{3}{4}\%$ ) for each month thereafter.”

§ 105-330.5. Listing and collecting procedures.

(a) For classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1), upon receiving the registration lists from the Division of Motor Vehicles each month, the assessor shall prepare a tax notice for each vehicle; the tax notice shall contain all county, municipal, and special district taxes due on the motor vehicle. In computing the taxes, the assessor shall appraise the motor vehicle in accordance with G.S. 105-330.2 and shall use the tax rates of the various taxing units in effect on the first day of the month in which the current vehicle registration expired or the new registration was applied for. This procedure shall constitute the listing and assessment of each classified motor vehicle for taxation. The tax notice shall contain:

- (1) The date of the tax notice.
- (2) The appraised value of the motor vehicle.
- (3) The tax rate of the taxing units.
- (4) A statement that the appraised value of the motor vehicle may be appealed to the assessor within 30 days after the date of the notice.

(a1) When a new registration is obtained for a vehicle registered under the annual system in a month other than December, the assessor shall prorate the taxes due for the remainder of the calendar year. The amount of prorated taxes due is the product of the proration fraction and the taxes computed according to subsection (a). The numerator of the proration fraction is the number of full months remaining in the calendar year following the date the registration is applied for and the denominator of the fraction is 12.

(b) When the tax notice required by subsection (a) is prepared, the county tax collector shall mail a copy of the notice, with appropriate instructions for payment, to the motor vehicle owner. The county may retain the actual cost of collecting municipal and special district taxes collected pursuant to this Article, not to exceed one and one-half percent ( $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) of the amount of taxes collected. The county finance officer shall establish procedures to ensure that tax payments received pursuant to this Article are properly accounted for and taxes due other taxing units are remitted to the units to which they are due at least once each month. Each month, a county shall provide reasonable information to the municipalities and special districts located in it to enable them to account for the tax payments remitted to them.

(b1) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 329, s. 2.

(c) For classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2), the assessor shall appraise each vehicle in accordance with G.S. 105-330.2. The assessor shall prepare a tax notice for each vehicle before September 1 following the January 31 listing date; the tax notice shall include all county and special district taxes due on the motor vehicle. In computing the taxes, the assessor shall use the tax rates of the taxing units in effect for the fiscal year that begins on July 1 following the January 31 listing date. Municipalities shall list, assess, and tax classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2) as provided in G.S. 105-326, 105-327, and 105-328 and shall send tax notices as provided in this section.

(d) The county shall include taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) in the tax levy for the fiscal year in which the taxes become due and shall charge the taxes to the tax collector for that year, unless the tax notice required by subsection (a) is prepared after the date the taxes are due. If that occurs, the county shall include the taxes from that notice in the tax levy for the current fiscal year and shall charge the taxes to the tax collector for that year. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 6; 1995, c. 24, s. 1; c. 329, s. 2; c. 510, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995, c. 24, s. 1, effective April 6, 1995, added a subdivision (b1), which was repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 329, s. 2, effective for taxes imposed for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1995. Prior to its repeal, subdivision (b1) read: "(b1) Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-380, the board of county commissioners may, by resolution, direct the tax collector to treat as fully paid minimal taxes billed on a tax notice required by subsection (a) of this section. The taxes billed on a tax notice are minimal under this subsection when the total county, municipal, and special district taxes billed on the notice do not exceed an amount up to five dollars ($5.00) set by the board of county commissioners in the resolution. The amount set by the board should be the estimated cost to the county of billing a taxpayer for the taxes on a notice. The tax collector shall not bill the taxpayer for these minimal taxes but shall keep a record of the taxes by taxpayer and amount and shall report the taxes to the board of county commissioners as part of the settlement for the year. A resolution adopted pursuant to this subsection shall become effective no earlier than 30 days after its adoption and shall apply to registration lists received under subsection (a) of this section on or after the date the resolution becomes effective. The resolution remains in effect until amended or repealed by resolution of the board of county commissioners. Upon adoption of a resolution pursuant to this subsection, minimal taxes to which the resolution applies are considered fully paid."

Session Laws 1995, c. 329, s. 2, provides: "A resolution adopted under G.S. 105-330.5(b1), as enacted by Chapter 24 of the 1995 Session Laws, prior to the effective date of this act will be considered a resolution adopted under G.S. 105-321(f) as enacted by this act".

§ 105-330.6. Motor vehicle tax year; transfer of plates; surrender of plates.

(a) Tax Year. — The tax year for a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) and registered under the staggered system begins on the first day of the first month following the date on which the registration expires or the new registration is applied for and ends on the last day of the twelfth month following the date on which the registration expires or the new registration is applied for. The tax year for a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) and registered under the annual system begins on the first day of the first month following the date on which the registration expires or the new registration is applied for and ends the following December 31. The tax year for a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a) (2) is the fiscal year that opens in the calendar year in which the vehicle is required to be listed.

(a1) Change in Tax Year. — If the tax year for a classified motor vehicle changes because of a change in its registration for a reason other than the transfer of its registration plates to another classified motor vehicle pursuant to G.S. 20-64, and the new tax year begins before the expiration of the vehicle's original tax year, the taxpayer may receive a credit, in the form of a release, against the taxes on the vehicle for the new tax year. The amount of the credit is equal to a proportion of the taxes paid on the vehicle for the original tax year. The proportion is the number of full calendar months remaining in the original tax year as of the first day of the new tax year, divided by 12. To obtain the credit allowed in this subsection, the taxpayer must apply within 30 days after the taxes for the new tax year are due and must provide the county tax collector information establishing the original tax year of the vehicle, the amount of taxes paid on the vehicle for that year, and the reason for the change in registration.

(b) Transfer of Plates. — If the owner of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) transfers the registration plates from the listed vehicle to another classified motor vehicle pursuant to G.S. 20-64 during the listed vehicle's tax year, the vehicle to which the plates are transferred is not required to be listed or taxed until the current registration expires or is renewed.

(c) Surrender of Plates. — If the owner of a classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a) (1) either transfers the motor vehicle to a new owner or moves out-of-state and registers the vehicle in another jurisdiction, and the owner surrenders the registration plates from the listed vehicle to the Division of Motor Vehicles, then the owner may apply for a release or refund of taxes on the vehicle for any full calendar months remaining in the vehicle's tax year after the date of surrender. To apply for a release or refund, the owner must present to the county tax collector within one year after surrendering the plates the receipt received from the Division of Motor Vehicles accepting surrender of the registration plates. The county tax collector shall then multiply the amount of the taxes for the tax year on the vehicle by a fraction, the denominator of which is 12 and the numerator of which is the number of full calendar months remaining in the vehicle's tax year after the date of surrender of the registration plates. The product of the multiplication is the amount of taxes to be released or refunded. If the taxes have not been paid at the date of application, the county tax collector shall make a release of the prorated taxes and credit the owner's tax notice with the amount of the release. If the taxes have been paid at the date of application, the county tax collector shall direct an order for a refund of the prorated taxes to the county finance officer, and the finance officer shall issue a refund to the vehicle owner. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 7; 1995, c. 510, s. 4; 1998-139, s. 3; 2001-406, s. 1; 2001-497, s. 1(a).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-406, s. 1, effective September 14, 2001, in subsection (a), added the subsection catchline, twice substituted "begins" for "shall begin", twice substituted "ends" for "end", and substituted "is" for "shall be" following "G.S. 105-330.3(a)(2)"; added subsection (a1); and added the subsection catchlines to subsections (b) and (c).

Session Laws 2001-497, s. 1(a), effective December 19, 2001, substituted "one year" for "120 days" in the second sentence of subsection (c) of this section as amended by Session Laws 2001-406.

Legal Periodicals. — See legislative survey, 21 Campbell L. Rev. 323 (1999).

§ 105-330.7. List of delinquents sent to Division of Motor Vehicles.

On the tenth day of each month the county tax collector shall prepare a list with the name and address of the owner and the vehicle identification number of every classified motor vehicle listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) on which taxes remain unpaid on that date and on which taxes became due on the first day of the fourth month preceding that date. The tax collector shall mail that list to the Division of Motor Vehicles. The list shall be in the form and contain the information required by the Division of Motor Vehicles. (1991, c. 624, s. 1; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 8.)

§ 105-330.8. Deadlines not extended.

Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the provisions of G.S. 105-395.1 and G.S. 103-5 do not apply to deadlines established in this Article. (1991, c. 624, s. 1.)

§ 105-330.9. Antique automobiles.

(a) For the purpose of this section, the term “antique automobile” means a motor vehicle that meets all of the following conditions:

- (1) It is registered with the Division of Motor Vehicles and has an historic vehicle special license plate under G.S. 20-79.4.
- (2) It is maintained primarily for use in exhibitions, club activities, parades, and other public interest functions.
- (3) It is used only occasionally for other purposes.
- (4) It is owned by an individual.
- (5) It is used by the owner for a purpose other than the production of income and is not used in connection with a business.

(b) Antique automobiles are designated a special class of property under Article V, Sec. 2(2) of the North Carolina Constitution and shall be assessed for taxation in accordance with this section. An antique automobile shall be assessed at the lower of its true value or five hundred dollars ($500.00). (1995, c. 512, s. 2.)

ARTICLE 23.

Public Service Companies.

§ 105-333. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article unless the context requires a different meaning:

- (1) Airline company. — A company engaged in the business of transporting passengers and property by aircraft for hire within, into, or from this State.
- (2) Bus line company. — A company engaged in the business of transporting passengers and property by motor vehicle for hire over the public highways of this State (but not including a bus line company operating primarily upon the public streets within a single local taxing unit), whether the transportation is within, into, or from this State.

- (3) Distributable system property. — All real property and personal property owned or used by a railroad company other than nondistributable system property.
- (4) Electric membership corporation. — A company organized, reorganized, or domesticated under Chapter 117 of the General Statutes and engaged in the business of supplying electricity for light, heat, or power to consumers in this State.
- (5) Electric power company. — A company engaged in the business of supplying electricity for light, heat, or power to consumers in this State.
- (6) Repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 783, s. 5.
- (7) Flight equipment. — Aircraft fully equipped for flying and used in any operation within this State.
- (8) Gas company. — A company engaged in the business of supplying artificial or natural gas to, from, within, or through this State through pipe or tubing for light, heat, or power to consumers in this State.
- (9) Locally assigned rolling stock. — Rolling stock that is owned or leased by a motor freight carrier company, specifically assigned to a terminal or other premises, and regularly used at the premises to which assigned.
- (10) Motor freight carrier company. — A company engaged in the business of transporting property by motor vehicle for hire over the public highways of this State as provided in this subdivision:
  - a. As to interstate carrier companies domiciled in North Carolina, this term includes carriers who regularly transport property by tractor trailer to or from one or more terminals owned or leased by the carrier outside this State or two or more terminals inside this State. For purposes of appraisal and allocation only, the term also includes a North Carolina interstate carrier that does not have a terminal outside this State but whose operations outside the State are sufficient to require the payment of ad valorem taxes on a portion of the value of the rolling stock of the carrier to taxing units in one or more other states.
  - b. As to interstate carrier companies domiciled outside this State, this term includes carriers who regularly transport property by tractor trailer to or from one or more terminals owned or leased by the carrier inside this State.
  - c. As to intrastate carrier companies, this term includes only those carriers that are engaged in the transportation of property by tractor trailer to or from two or more terminals owned or leased by the carrier in this State.
- (11) Nondistributable system property. — The following properties owned by a railroad company: land other than right-of-way, depots, machine shops, warehouses, office buildings, other structures, and the contents of the structures listed in this subdivision.
- (12) Nonsystem property. — The real and tangible personal property owned by a public service company but not used in its public service activities.
- (13) Pipeline company. — A company engaged in the business of transporting natural gas, petroleum products, or other products through pipelines to, from, within, or through this State, or having control of pipelines for such a purpose.
- (14) Public service company. — A railroad company, a pipeline company, a gas company, an electric power company, an electric membership corporation, a telephone company, a telegraph company, a bus line company, an airline company, or a motor freight carrier company. The term also includes any company performing a public service that is regulated by the United States Department of Energy, the United States Department of Transportation, the Federal Communications Commission, the Federal Aviation Agency, or the North Carolina Utilities Commission, except that the term does not include a water company, a radio common carrier company as defined in G.S. 62-119(3), a cable television company, or a radio or television broadcasting company.

- (15) Railroad company. — A company engaged in the business of operating a railroad to, from, within or through this State on rights-of-way owned or leased by the company. It also means a company operating a passenger service on the lines of any railroad located wholly or partly in this State.
- (16) Rolling stock. — Motor vehicles, railroad locomotives, and railroad cars that are propelled by mechanical or electrical power and used upon the highways or, in the case of railroad vehicles, upon tracks.
- (17) System property. — The real property and personal property used by a public service company in its public service activities. The term also includes public service company property under construction on the day as of which property is assessed which when completed will be used by the owner in its public service activities.
- (18) Telegraph company. — A company engaged in the business of transmitting telegraph messages to, from, within, or through the State.
- (19) Telephone company. — A company engaged in the business of transmitting telephone messages and conversations to, from, within, or through this State.
- (20) Repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 783, s. 5. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1600-1605; 1943, c. 634, s. 3; 1965, c. 287, s. 17; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; c. 1121, s. 4; 1973, c. 198; c. 783, ss. 1-5; c. 1180; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 1; 1995, c. 350, ss. 1, 2; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 646, s. 18; 1997-23, ss. 6, 7; 1998-98, s. 25.)

Editor's Note. — Section 62-119, referred to in subdivision (14) of this section, was repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 523, s. 31.

§ 105-334. Duty to file report; penalty for failure to file.

(a) Every public service company, whether incorporated under the laws of this State or any other state or any foreign nation, whose property is subject to taxation in this State, shall prepare and deliver to the Department of Revenue each year a report showing (as of January 1) such information with regard to the property it owns and the system property it leases as the Department of Revenue may by regulation prescribe. This report shall be filed on or before the last day of March, and the following affirmation, which shall be annexed to the report, shall be signed by a principal officer of the public service company making the report:

Under penalties prescribed by law, I hereby affirm that to the best of my knowledge and belief this report, including any accompanying statements, inventories, schedules, and other information is true and complete.

(b) Any individual who willfully subscribes a report required by this section which he does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter shall be guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor.

(c) For good cause the Department may grant reasonable extensions of time for filing the required reports.

(d) The Department may require any additional reports or information it deems necessary to properly carry out its duties under this Article.

(e) The provisions of G.S. 105-291 and 105-312 are made specifically applicable to all proceedings taken under this Article. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1600-1606; 1943, c. 634, s. 3; 1965, c. 287, s. 17; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 539, s. 721; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-335. Appraisal of property of public service companies.

(a) Duty to Appraise. — In accordance with the provisions of subsection (b), below, the Department of Revenue shall appraise for taxation the true value of each public service company (other than bus line, motor freight carrier, and airline companies) as a system (both inside and outside this State). Certain specified properties of bus line, motor freight carrier, and airline companies shall be appraised by the Department in accordance with the provisions of subsection (c), below, and all other properties of such companies shall be listed, appraised, and assessed in the manner prescribed by this Subchapter for the properties of taxpayers other than public service companies.

(b) Property of Public Service Companies Other Than Those Noted in Subsection (c). —

- (1) System Property. — Each year, as of January 1, the Department of Revenue shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) the system property used by each public service company both inside and outside this State. Property leased by a public service company shall be included in appraising the value of its system property if necessary to ascertain the true value of the company's system property.
- (2) Nonsystem Personal Property. — Each year as of January 1, the Department shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) each public service company's nonsystem tangible personal property subject to taxation in this State.
- (3) Nonsystem Real Property. — In accordance with the county in which the public service company's nonsystem real property is located and the schedules set out in G.S. 105-286 and 105-287, the Department of Revenue shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) each public service company's nonsystem real property subject to taxation in this State.

- (c) Property of Bus Line, Motor Freight Carrier, and Airline Companies. —
- (1) Bus Company Rolling Stock. — Each year as of January 1, the Department shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) the rolling stock owned or leased by or operated under the control of each bus line company, which bus line company is domiciled in this State or which is regularly engaged in business in this State.
  - (2) Motor Freight Carrier Company Rolling Stock. — Each year as of January 1, the Department shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) the rolling stock owned by a motor freight carrier company or leased by a motor freight carrier company and operated by its employees which motor freight carrier company is domiciled in this State or is regularly engaged in business in this State at a terminal owned or leased by the carrier.
  - (3) Flight Equipment. — Each year, as of January 1, the Department shall appraise at its true value (as defined in G.S. 105-283) the flight equipment owned or leased by or operated under the control of each airline company that is domiciled in the State or that is regularly engaged in business at some airport in this State. (1939, c. 310, s. 1608; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 783, s. 6; c. 1180.)

Personal property (rolling stock) of motor carriers may be taxed at a higher ratio of true market value than commercial and industrial real property. Arkansas-Best Freight Sys. v. Lynch, 723 F.2d 365 (4th Cir. 1983).

Assessment of Railroad Property by Local Officers. — In assessing railroad property, local officers only list and assess such property as is off the right-of-way. Caldwell Land & Lumber Co. v. Smith, 151 N.C. 70, 65 S.E. 641 (1909).

Rolling stock of a railroad company used upon the branch roads, or roads otherwise acquired, ascertained by a pro rata standard based on the relative length thereof to the whole line, is liable to taxation. Wilmington & W.R.R. v. Alsbrook, 110 N.C. 137, 14 S.E. 652, aff'd, 146 U.S. 279, 13 S. Ct. 72, 36 L. Ed. 972 (1892).

Abandoned Portion of Railroad. — Where a railroad, under an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, abandoned its operations as a common carrier on a portion of its road, and thereafter did not operate over such portion of its line except to haul away the scrap as the roadbed was dismantled and salvaged, it was held that such abandoned portion of the road ceased to be vested with a character which would bring it within the jurisdiction of the Department of Revenue for appraisal and taxation. Warren v. Maxwell, 223 N.C. 604, 27 S.E.2d 721 (1943).

A road definitely abandoned and retired from the operative system, after a proper order respecting the convenience and necessity of its further operation as a carrying road has been granted for such abandonment, was no longer within the purview of the predecessor to this statute. Warren v. Maxwell, 223 N.C. 604, 27 S.E.2d 721 (1943).

Former Law. — As to construction of prior law providing for the assessment of railroad property by the former Corporation Commission, see Atlantic & N.C.R.R. v. City of New Bern, 147 N.C. 165, 60 S.E. 925 (1908).

§ 105-336. Methods of appraising certain properties of public service companies.

(a) Appraising System Property of Public Service Companies Other Than Those Noted in Subsection (b). — In determining the true value of each public service company (other than one covered by subsection (b), below) as a system the Department of Revenue shall give consideration to the following:

- (1) The market value of the company's capital stock and debt, taking into account the influence of any nonsystem property.
- (2) The book value of the company's system property as reflected in the books of account kept under the regulations of the appropriate federal or State regulatory agency and what it would cost to replace or reproduce the system property, less a reasonable allowance for depreciation.
- (3) The gross receipts and operating income of the company.
- (4) Any other factor or information that in the judgment of the Department has a bearing on the true value of the company's system property.

(b) Appraising Rolling Stock and Flight Equipment. — In determining the true value of the rolling stock of bus line and motor freight carrier companies and the flight equipment of airline companies, the Department of Revenue shall consider the book value of the property as reflected in the books of account kept under the regulations of the appropriate federal or State regulatory agency and what it would cost to replace or reproduce the property in its existing condition. (1939, c. 310, s. 1608; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

CASE NOTES

Department of Revenue is by statute given the power to value property. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

Implicit in this power is the power to reject a value declared by the taxpayer. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

Department Presumed to Act in Good Faith. — The members of the Department of Revenue are public officers, and the Department's official acts are presumed to be made in good faith and in accordance with law. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

And burden is upon party asserting otherwise to overcome such presumptions by competent evidence to the contrary. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

"Appraisal" and "Assessment" Are Synonymous. — For public service companies, the true value of property is its tax value, and "appraisal" and "assessment" are synonymous. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463, rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Appraisal Methods Discussed and Compared. — See In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Choice of Valuation Method Generally. — A careful reading of the statute reveals that all four approaches to valuation are to be used in establishing the appraised value, but no guidelines are set out establishing the weight to be given any single system of valuation. Rather, based on the judgment of the Ad Valorem Tax Division, the Department may exercise its discretion on valuation. The appraisal must not be arbitrary, must be based on substantial evidence, and must be based on lawful methods of valuation. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Any method of appraisal which does not tend to establish market value is an illegal method of valuation for property tax purposes. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Appraisal Presumed Correct Although Tentative. — Although the appraisal is called "tentative," it nevertheless remains in effect unless the Property Tax Commission overturns or otherwise disposes of it. The appraisals are presumed to be correct. This presumption applies, as well, to the good faith of the tax assessors and the validity of their actions. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Rebuttal of Presumption of Correctness.

— To rebut the presumption of correctness of an appraisal, the taxpayer must produce competent, material, and substantial evidence that tends to show that: (1) Either the county tax supervisor used an arbitrary method of valuation; or (2) the county tax supervisor used an illegal method of valuation; and (3) the assessment substantially exceeded the true value in money of the property. In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Value Set by Department Will Stand Where Appellants Fail to Rebut. — Where appellants have failed to offer sufficient evidence of probative value showing the true value of their property, the value set by the Department of Revenue must stand. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

Actions to Set Aside or Modify Appraisals Generally. — Since the appraisal, although tentative, remains in existence and is presumed to be correct, any action to set aside or modify it is an appeal which the Commission was created to hear. Such appeal presents the first opportunity for a public service company to challenge an appraisal made by the Ad Valorem Tax Division. It broadens the scope of the hearing of the appeal in § 105-342(d). In re S. Ry., 59 N.C. App. 119, 296 S.E.2d 463 (1982), rev'd on other grounds, 313 N.C. 177, 328 S.E.2d 235 (1985).

Courts Will Only Interfere with Department's Assessment Where Arbitrary and Capricious. — It is only when the actions of the Department of Revenue are found to be arbitrary and capricious that courts will interfere with tax assessments because of asserted violations of the due process clause. Albemarle Elec. Membership Corp. v. Alexander, 282 N.C. 402, 192 S.E.2d 811 (1972).

Commission erred in approving Department's use of pipeline company's imbedded, historical cost of debt rather than current market cost in arriving at a proper capitalization rate under the income approach to value. In re Colonial Pipeline Co., 318 N.C. 224, 347 S.E.2d 382 (1986).

Inclusion of Future Investment Tax Credits in Projected Future Income Stream Not Supported by Record. — Where there was a stipulation in the record that pipeline company's last major construction program ended in 1980 and that since termination of this project in 1980, it had had no major construction plans or programs in effect, there was no factual basis in the record for including in the company's projected future income stream amounts attributable to future investment tax credits, for there was no evidence to support the fact that there would be such credits in the future. In re Colonial Pipeline Co., 318 N.C. 224, 347 S.E.2d 382 (1986).

Department's refusal to deduct from valuations of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) an amount attributable to "economic obsolescence" because the FERC had limited pipeline company's rate of return to a rate below the market rate was not error. In re Colonial Pipeline Co., 318 N.C. 224, 347 S.E.2d 382 (1986).

Applied in In re Colonial Pipeline Co., 67 N.C. App. 388, 313 S.E.2d 819 (1984).

§ 105-337. Apportionment of taxable values to this State.

With respect to any public service company operating both inside and outside this State, it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to apportion for taxation in this State a fair and reasonable share of the value of the company as a system or its rolling stock or flight equipment as appraised under the provisions of G.S. 105-336. Thus, when the Department has determined true value in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-336(a) or G.S. 105-336(b), it shall ascertain the portion of the total value subject to taxation in this State by applying property, business, and mileage factors thereto in accordance with the ratio that the company's property, business, or mileage in this State bears to its total property, business, or mileage. In its discretion, the Department may use one or more of the factors listed in the preceding sentence in order to achieve a fair and accurate result in the apportionment of the value of the property of any public service company. As used in this section,

- (1) The term "business factor" means data that reflect the use of the company's property, such as gross revenue, net income, tons of freight carried, revenue ton miles, passenger miles, car miles, ground hours, and comparable data.

- (2) The term "mileage factor" means factual information as to the linear miles of the company's track, wire, lines, pipes, routes, and similar operational routes and factual information as to the miles traveled by the company's rolling stock.
- (3) The term "property factor" means investment in property; it may be either gross or net investment or any other reasonable figure reflecting the company's investment in property. (1939, c. 310, s. 1609; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-338. Allocation of appraised valuation of system property among local taxing units.

(a) State Board's Duty. — For purposes of taxation by local taxing units in this State, the Department of Revenue shall allocate the valuations of public service company property among the local taxing units in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(b) System Valuation of Companies Other Than Those Noted in Subsection (c). —

- (1) System Property of Railroad Companies. — The appraised valuation of the distributable system property of a railroad shall be allocated for taxation to the local taxing units in accordance with the ratio of the miles of all the company's tracks in the local taxing unit to the total miles of all the company's tracks in this State, adjusted to reflect density of traffic in the local taxing unit.

- (2) System Property of Telephone Companies. —

a. The Department of Revenue shall divide each telephone company's system property in this State into the following two classes and shall determine the original cost of that property and the percentage thereof represented by the property in each of the two classes.

— Class 1: Property located in this State that is identified under the applicable uniform system of accounts as central office equipment, large P.B.X. equipment, motor vehicles, tools and work equipment, office furniture and equipment, materials and supplies, and land and buildings (including towers and other structures).

— Class 2: Property located in this State that does not come within Class 1.

The Department of Revenue shall then apply the percentages obtained in accordance with this subdivision to the appraised valuation of the company's system property in this State and thereby derive the proportions of appraised valuation to be allocated as Class 1 and Class 2 valuations to local taxing units in accordance with subdivision (b)(2)b, below.

- b. Having made the division required by subdivision (b)(2)a, above, the Department of Revenue shall allocate the appraised valuation of the properties in each class among the local taxing units of the State as follows:

— Class 1: The appraised valuations of property in this class shall be allocated among the local taxing units in which such property of the company is situated on January 1 in the proportion that the original cost of such property in the taxing unit bears to the original cost of all such property in this State.

— Class 2: The appraised valuations of property in this class shall be allocated among the local taxing units in which the company operates in the proportion that the miles of the company's single aerial wire and single wire in cable (including single tube in coaxial cable) in the taxing unit bears to the total of such wire miles of the company in this State.

- (3) System Property of Other Companies Appraised by the Department of Revenue. —
- a. The provisions of this subdivision (b)(3) shall govern the allocation of the property of all companies appraised by the Department of Revenue except railroad, telephone, bus line, motor freight carrier, and airline companies.
  - b. The appraised valuation of the system property of such a company shall be allocated for taxation to the local taxing units in which the company operates in the proportion that the original cost of the taxable system property in the local taxing unit on January 1 bears to the original cost of all the taxable system property in this State. If in any local taxing unit the company owns system property acquired prior to January 1, 1972, for which the original cost cannot be definitely ascertained, a reasonable estimate of the original cost of that property shall be made by the company, and this estimate shall be used by the Department of Revenue for allocation purposes as if it were the actual original cost of the property.
- (c) Property of Bus Line, Motor Freight Carrier, and Airline Companies. —
- (1) The appraised valuation of a bus line company's rolling stock shall be allocated for taxation to each local taxing unit according to the ratio of the company's scheduled miles during the calendar year preceding January 1 in each such unit to the company's total scheduled miles in this State for the same period. In no event, however, shall the State Board make an allocation to a taxing unit if, when computed, the valuation for that taxing unit amounts to less than five hundred dollars ($500.00).
  - (2) The appraised valuation of the rolling stock (other than locally assigned rolling stock) owned or leased by a motor freight carrier company shall be allocated for taxation to each local taxing unit in which the company has a terminal according to the ratio of the tons of freight handled in the calendar year preceding January 1 at the company's terminals within the taxing unit to the total tons of freight handled by the company in this State in the same period. If a North Carolina interstate motor freight carrier company has no terminal outside this State, but has been required to pay ad valorem tax to one or more taxing units outside this State, there shall be allowed a reduction in the North Carolina valuation measured by the ratio of the rolling stock subject to ad valorem taxation outside the State to all of the carrier's rolling stock.
  - (3) The appraised valuation of an airline company's flight equipment shall be allocated for taxation to each local taxing unit in which an airport used by the company is situated according to the ratio obtained by averaging the following two ratios: the ratio of the company's ground hours in the taxing unit in the year preceding January 1 to the company's ground hours in the State in the same period, and the ratio of the company's gross revenue in the taxing unit in the year preceding January 1 to the company's gross revenue in the State in the same period. (1939, c. 310, s. 1610; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 1180; 1997-456, s. 27.)

Editor's Note. — Subdivision (b)(2)(a) was redesignated as subdivision (b)(2)a. pursuant to Session Laws 1997-456, s. 27, which authorized the Revisor of Statutes to renumber or reletter sections and parts of sections having a number or letter designation that is incompatible with the General Assembly's computer database.

§ 105-339. Certification of appraised valuations of nonsystem property and locally assigned rolling stock.

Having determined the appraised valuations of the nonsystem properties of public service companies in accordance with subdivisions (b)(2) and (b)(3) of G.S. 105-335 and the appraised valuations of locally assigned rolling stock in accordance with subdivision (c)(1) of G.S. 105-335, the Department of Revenue shall assign those appraised valuations to the taxing units in which such properties are situated by certifying the valuations to the appropriate counties and municipalities. Each local taxing unit receiving such certified valuations shall assess them at the figures certified and shall tax the assessed valuations at the rate of tax levied against other property subject to taxation therein. (1939, c. 310, s. 1610; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 18.)

§ 105-340. Certification of appraised valuations of railroad companies.

(a) Having determined the appraised valuation of the "nondistributable" system property of a railroad company, the Department of Revenue shall assign the valuations for taxation to the local taxing units in which such property is situated in the same manner as is provided for nonsystem property in G.S. 105-339.

(b) Having determined the appraised valuation of the "distributable" system property of a railroad company and having allocated the valuations in accordance with G.S. 105-338(b)(1), the Department of Revenue shall then certify the amounts of those allocations to the local taxing units to which such amounts are due in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 105-341.

(c) Each local taxing unit receiving certified valuations in accordance with this section shall assess them at the figures certified and shall tax the assessed valuations at the rate of tax levied against other property subject to taxation therein. (1939, c. 310, s. 1620; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 19.)

§ 105-341. Certification of public service company system appraised valuations.

Having determined the appraised valuations of public service company system property in accordance with subdivision (b)(1) of G.S. 105-335 and having allocated the valuations in accordance with G.S. 105-338(b)(2) and (3), the Department of Revenue shall assign each local taxing unit's appraised valuations by certifying them to the appropriate counties and municipalities. Each local taxing unit receiving such certified valuations shall assess them at the figures certified and shall tax the assessed valuations at the rate of tax levied against other property subject to taxation therein. (1939, c. 310, s. 1610; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 695, s. 20.)

§ 105-342. Notice, hearing, and appeal.

(a) Right to Information. — Upon written request to the Department of Revenue, any public service company whose property values are subject to appraisal, apportionment, and allocation for purposes of taxation under this Article shall be entitled to be informed of the elements that the Department considered in the appraisal of the company's property, the result in dollars produced by each element (including the methods and mathematical calculations used in determining those results), the specific factors and ratios the Department used in apportioning the appraised valuation of the company's property to this State, and the factors and the specific mathematical calculations the Department used in allocating the company's valuation among the local taxing units of this State. Upon written request to the Department of Revenue, any local taxing unit in this State shall be entitled to the same information with regard to any public service company whose property values are subject to appraisal, apportionment, and allocation for purposes of taxation under this Article.

(b) Appraisal and Apportionment Review. — The appraised valuation of public service company's property and the share thereof apportioned for taxation in this State under G.S. 105-335, 105-336, and 105-337 shall be deemed tentative figures until the provisions of this subsection (b) have been complied with. As soon as practicable after the tentative figures referred to in the preceding sentence have been determined, the Department of Revenue shall give the taxpayer written notice of the proposed figures and shall state in the notice that the taxpayer shall have 20 days after the date on which the notice was mailed in which to submit a written request to the Property Tax Commission for a hearing on the tentative appraisal or apportionment or both. If a timely request for a hearing is not made, the tentative figures shall become final and conclusive at the close of the twentieth day after the notice was mailed. If a timely request is made, the Property Tax Commission shall fix a date and place for the requested hearing and give the taxpayer at least 20 days' written notice thereof. The hearing shall be conducted under the provisions of subsection (d), below.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1985, c. 601.

(d) Hearing and Appeal. — At any hearing under this section, the Property Tax Commission shall hear all evidence and affidavits offered by the taxpayer and may exercise the authority granted by G.S. 105-290(d) to obtain information pertinent to decision of the issue. The Commission shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law and issue an order embodying its decision. As soon as practicable thereafter, the Commission shall serve a written copy of its decision upon the taxpayer by personal service or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. (1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, c. 584, s. 2; c. 665, s. 1; 1985, c. 601, s. 4; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1052, s. 1.)

Cross References. — As to judicial review and enforcement of orders of the Property Tax Commission, see §§ 105-345 through 105-346.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1052, s. 1, effective January 1, 1988, rewrote section 5 of Session Laws 1985, c. 601, section 4 of which act repeals subsection (c) of this section, to read:

"Sec. 5. Sections 1 and 3 of this act shall become effective January 1, 1987; provided that as to any public service company whose property values in a county are adjusted in the third year after the year of reappraisal of real property in the county pursuant to G.S. 105-342(c) and whose property values in the same county are adjusted in the following year pursuant to Section 1 of this act, a county shall be entitled in such following year to increase the property values of the public service company certified to the county by the Department of Revenue by the same amount as the public service company property values were reduced the preceding year pursuant to G.S. 105-342(c). Sections 2 and 5 are effective upon ratification. Section 4 shall become effective in each county as of January 1 of the year in which sales assessment ratio studies are first required to be conducted in the county by the Department of Revenue under Section 1."

Session Laws 1985, c. 601, by its effectiveness provision removed subsection (c). The Revisor of Statutes has been informed that the condition applies to all counties and directed to show subsection (c) as repealed.

CASE NOTES

Purposes in Amending and Rewriting Section Between 1985 and 1988. — For a case discussing the Legislature's purposes in amending and rewriting this section between 1985 and 1988, particularly as those amendments affected Division Five counties, see North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

North Carolina Const., Art. II, § 23 Not Applicable to Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), Chapter 1052. — North Carolina Const., Art. II, § 23 applies, inter alia, to laws enacted for the purpose of imposing a tax. Chapter 1052 of Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988) neither imposes a tax nor authorizes its imposition, and therefore, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 does not apply. North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

There is no doubt that the effect of Chapter 1052 of Session Laws 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988) imposed a greater tax burden on plaintiff for 1988. However, N.C. Const., Art. II, § 23 focuses on the purpose of the statute (to impose a tax) and not the result of the statute (an increased tax burden). North Carolina E. Mun. Power v. Wake County, 100 N.C. App. 693, 398 S.E.2d 486 (1990), cert. denied, 329 N.C. 270, 407 S.E.2d 838 (1991).

Discriminatory Taxation of Railroads. — In suits alleging discriminatory taxation of real and personal property in violation of § 306 of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976 (the 4-R Act), codified at 49 U.S.C. § 11503 (1982), the counties had the burden of establishing facts sufficient for the court to find levels of assessment for business personal property different from the levels stipulated for real property. Clinchfield R.R. v. Lynch, 784 F.2d 545 (4th Cir. 1986).

In suits alleging discriminatory taxation of real and personal property in violation of § 306 of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976 (the 4-R Act), codified at 49

U.S.C. § 11503 (1982), the trial court was correct in considering as a factor in its finding of tax discrimination the fact that under § 105-277 stored tobacco inventories were taxed at only 60% of fair market value. Clinchfield R.R. v. Lynch, 784 F.2d 545 (4th Cir. 1986).

Once North Carolina is shown to have discriminated with respect to real property assessment, the burden shifts to the State and counties to establish facts sufficient to warrant a different conclusion with respect to personal property. Time Period for Appealing Valuation. —

Appellant taxpayer's written request for a hearing on the valuation made on its property for tax purposes was properly made within the 20-day period set forth in § 105-342(b) where that request was submitted by facsimile, the statute did not require the written submission be made in any particular form, and the statute had to be strictly construed against appellee state property tax commission and in favor of appellant. ### § 105-343. Penalty for failure to make required reports.

Any public service company which fails or refuses to prepare and deliver to the Department of Revenue any report required by this Article shall forfeit and pay to the State of North Carolina one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each day the report is delayed beyond the date on which it is required to be submitted. This penalty may be recovered in an action in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of Wake County in the name of the State on the relation of the Secretary of Revenue. When collected, the penalty shall be paid into the general fund of the State. The Secretary shall have the power to reduce or waive the penalty provided in this section for good cause. (1939, c. 310, s. 1606; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-344. Failure to pay tax; remedies; penalty.

If any public service company fails or refuses to pay any taxes imposed on its property by any taxing unit of this State, the taxing unit may bring an action in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the taxing unit is located for the recovery of the tax. Not less than 15 days before such an action is instituted, the taxing unit shall notify the taxpayer by registered or certified mail of its intention to bring the action. The judgment rendered in such an action shall include the tax imposed and unpaid and, as an additional tax, a penalty of fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the tax with interest on the sum of these taxes at the rate of nine percent (9%) per annum from the date the tax was due to be paid, plus reasonable attorneys' fees for the prosecution of the action to be fixed by the court. (The awarding of attorneys' fees by the court shall not prevent the taxing unit from paying its attorney an additional fee pursuant to contract, nor shall it prevent the taxing unit from requiring that the attorneys' fees awarded by the court be paid into the general fund of the taxing unit in accordance with any arrangement between the taxing unit and its attorneys.) The judgment rendered by the court may include a mandamus ordering the payment of the judgment, penalty, interest, and costs including the attorneys' fees as part of the costs.

If, during the pendency of an action brought under this section, additional or subsequent taxes shall accrue, those taxes, together with penalties and interest, may be included in the judgment if, prior to rendition of the judgment, the tax collector of the taxing unit files with the court a certificate of the additional taxes, penalties, and interest.

In any action brought under this section, the appraised valuation of the taxpayer's property as determined, allocated, and certified to the taxing unit by the Department of Revenue shall be conclusive and shall not be subject to collateral attack. (1939, c. 310, s. 1611; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; c. 931, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

ARTICLE 24.

*Review and Enforcement of Orders.§ 105-345. Right of appeal; filing of exceptions.

(a) No party to a proceeding before the Property Tax Commission may appeal from any final order or decision of the Commission unless within 30 days after the entry of such final order or decision the party aggrieved by such decision or order shall file with the Commission notice of appeal and exceptions which shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the aggrieved party considers said decision or order to be unlawful, unjust, unreasonable or unwarranted, and including errors alleged to have been committed by the Commission.

(b) Any party may appeal from all or any portion of any final order or decision of the Commission in the manner herein provided. Copy of the notice of appeal shall be mailed by the appealing party at the time of filing with the Commission, to each party to the proceeding to the addresses as they appear in the files of the Commission in the proceeding. The failure of any party, other than the Commission, to be served with or to receive a copy of the notice of appeal shall not affect the validity or regularity of the appeal.

(c) The Commission may on motion of any party to the proceeding or on its own motion set the exceptions to the final order upon which such appeal is based for further hearing before the Commission.

(d) The appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals as provided in G.S. 7A-29. The procedure for the appeal shall be as provided by the rules of appellate procedure.

(e) The Court of Appeals shall hear and determine all matters arising on such appeal, as in this Article provided, and may in the exercise of its discretion assign the hearing of said appeal to any panel of the Court of Appeals. (1979, c. 584, s. 3; 1983, c. 565.)

Legal Periodicals. — For survey of 1979 tax law, see 58 N.C.L. Rev. 1548 (1980).

CASE NOTES

Legislative Intent. — Subsection (d) of this section, which provides that appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals, and § 105-345.2(b), which describes the breadth of review by the Court of Appeals, indicate that the General Assembly intended such appeal to be the exclusive mode of judicial review of property tax assessments contested in the county board and Property Tax Commission. Johnston v. Gaston County, 71 N.C. App. 707, 323 S.E.2d 381 (1984), cert. denied, 313 N.C. 508, 329 S.E.2d 392 (1985).

North Carolina law provides two avenues by which a taxpayer may seek relief from an unjust property tax assessment: administrative review followed by judicial review in the Court of Appeals, and direct judicial review in superior or district court. Administrative review begins in the county board of equalization and review. The county board has jurisdiction to hear any taxpayer who has a complaint as to the listing or appraisal of his or others' property. Any taxpayer who wishes to except to an order of the county board shall appeal to the State Property Tax Commission. In turn, a taxpayer who is unsatisfied with the decision of the Property Tax Commission shall appeal to the North Carolina Court of Appeals, and then to the North Carolina Supreme Court. Johnston v. Gaston County, 71 N.C. App. 707, 323 S.E.2d 381 (1984), cert. denied, 313 N.C. 508, 329 S.E.2d 392 (1985).

This section effectively bypassed the provision in the North Carolina Administrative Act, § 150B-1 et seq., for judicial review in superior court for persons aggrieved by a final agency decision. Johnston v. Gaston County, 71 N.C. App. 707, 323 S.E.2d 381 (1984), cert. denied, 313 N.C. 508, 329 S.E.2d 392 (1985).

A party may not circumvent the manner in which appeals are taken under subsection (a) of this section by relying on N.C.R.A.P., Rule 18(b)(2) or other state or federal rules of civil procedure; therefore, the appropriate analysis for the time for taking such appeal lies in this section where the appealing party has 30 days after the entry of the final order or decision to file its notice of appeal and exceptions not from a party's receipt of a copy of the final order. In re Gen. Tire, Inc., 102 N.C. App. 38, 401 S.E.2d 391 (1991).

N.C.R.A.P., Rule 27(b) Inapplicable. —

Under this section, the entry of the final order or decision triggers the time limitations for giving notice of appeal. Service is not required by this section, and therefore, N.C.R.A.P., Rule 27(b) is inapplicable. In re Gen. Tire, Inc., 102 N.C. App. 38, 401 S.E.2d 391 (1991).

Cited in In re Moravian Home, Inc., 95 N.C. App. 324, 382 S.E.2d 772 (1989); Edward Valves, Inc. v. Wake County, 343 N.C. 426, 471 S.E.2d 342 (1996), cert. denied, 519 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 952, 136 L. Ed. 2d 839 (1997).

§ 105-345.1. No evidence admitted on appeal; remission for further evidence.

No evidence shall be received at the hearing on appeal to the Court of Appeals but if any party shall satisfy the court that evidence has been discovered since the hearing before the Property Tax Commission that could not have been obtained for use at that hearing by the exercise of reasonable diligence, and will materially affect the merits of the case, the court may, in its discretion, remand the record and proceedings to the Commission with directions to take such subsequently discovered evidence, and after consideration thereof, to make such order as the Commission may deem proper, from which order an appeal shall lie as in the case of any other final order from which an appeal may be taken as provided in G.S. 105-345. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

§ 105-345.2. Record on appeal; extent of review.

(a) On appeal the court shall review the record and the exceptions and assignments of error in accordance with the rules of appellate procedure, and any alleged irregularities in procedures before the Property Tax Commission, not shown in the record, shall be considered under the rules of appellate procedure.

(b) So far as necessary to the decision and where presented, the court shall decide all relevant questions of law, interpret constitutional and statutory provisions, and determine the meaning and applicability of the terms of any Commission action. The court may affirm or reverse the decision of the Commission, declare the same null and void, or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse or modify the decision if the substantial rights of the appellants have been prejudiced because the Commission's findings, inferences, conclusions or decisions are:

- (1) In violation of constitutional provisions; or
- (2) In excess of statutory authority or jurisdiction of the Commission; or
- (3) Made upon unlawful proceedings; or
- (4) Affected by other errors of law; or
- (5) Unsupported by competent, material and substantial evidence in view of the entire record as submitted; or
- (6) Arbitrary or capricious.

(c) In making the foregoing determinations, the court shall review the whole record or such portions thereof as may be cited by any party and due account shall be taken of the rule of prejudicial error. The appellant shall not be permitted to rely upon any grounds for relief on appeal which were not set forth specifically in his notice of appeal filed with the Commission. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

CASE NOTES

This section is the controlling judicial review statute for appeals from the Property Tax Commission. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Duty of Appellate Court. — Under this section, the appellate court is to decide all relevant questions of law and interpret constitutional and statutory provisions to determine whether the decision of the commission is affected by errors of law. MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994).

Duty of Commission. — The Property Tax Commission has the authority and responsibility to determine the weight and sufficiency of the evidence and the credibility of the witnesses, to draw inferences from the facts, and to appraise conflicting and circumstantial evidence. In re Philip Morris U.S.A., 130 N.C. App. 529, 503 S.E.2d 679 (1998), cert. denied, 349 N.C. 359 (1998).

Review Procedure Equal to That Under Administrative Procedure Act. — Procedure for judicial review provided by this section is equal to that under the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 150A (see now Chapter 150B), § 150B-1 et seq.). In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

“Substantial Prejudice” Defined. — Substantial prejudice under this section is a substantially higher valuation than one which would have been reached under a legal valuation process. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

The “whole record” test is not a tool of judicial intrusion, but instead, merely gives a reviewing court the capability to determine whether an administrative decision has a rational basis in the evidence. In re Owens, 132 N.C. App. 281, 511 S.E.2d 319 (1999).

Appraisal Notice in Violation of Constitutional Provisions and Unlawful. — Where timing of notice, size, generalities of wording and single publication newspaper of schedule of values used by county in appraising property for ad valorem tax purposes were not reasonably calculated, under all circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and to afford them an opportunity to present their objections, such notice was insufficient to fulfill due process requirement and to bar an attack against the revaluation schedules themselves; hence, Property Tax Commission's action in affirming the procedure employed by county was in violation of constitutional provisions and made upon unlawful proceedings within the meaning of subdivisions (b)(1) and (3) of this section. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Error of Law in Using Comparable Sales

in Present Use Valuation. — Property Tax Commission committed an error of law as contemplated by this section by upholding the use of sales of similarly used land as a factor upon which a present use valuation was based. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Burden of Overcoming Presumption of Correctness of Ad Valorem Assessments. — The presumption in this State that ad valorem tax assessments are presumed correct places the burden upon the taxpayer to prove that the assessments are incorrect. In order to overcome this presumption, the taxpayer must produce competent material and substantial evidence that tends to show that: (1) Either the county tax supervisor used an arbitrary method of valuation; or (2) the county tax supervisor used an illegal method of valuation; and (3) the assessment substantially exceeded the true value in money of the property. In re Odom, 56 N.C. App. 412, 289 S.E.2d 83, cert. denied, 305 N.C. 760, 292 S.E.2d 575 (1982).

Burden of Proving Reasonableness of Valuation. — When taxpayer has rebutted the presumption of regularity in favor of the county, burden shifts to the county to demonstrate to the Property Tax Commission that the values determined in the revaluation process were not substantially higher than those called for by the statutory formula, and the county must demonstrate the reasonableness of its valuation under subdivision (b)(5) of this section. In re McElwee, 304 N.C. 68, 283 S.E.2d 115 (1981).

Expert Evidence. — Although Commission agreed with expert that property was affected by functional and economic obsolescence, it was not bound to accept the expert's percentage for such obsolescence and could arrive at its own percentage so long as supported by competent, material and substantial evidence. In re Stroh Brewery Co., 116 N.C. App. 178, 447 S.E.2d 803 (1994).

The Commission's findings of fact were supported by competent, material, and substantial evidence that the property of the family corporation was not actively engaged in the commercial growing of trees under a sound management program, and therefore, not eligible for taxation at present-use value. In re Whiteside Estates, Inc., 136 N.C. App. 360, 525 S.E.2d 196 (2000), cert. denied, 351 N.C. 473, 543 S.E.2d 511 (2000).

Commission's Valuation Not Upheld. — The Property Tax Commission's valuation of commercial property was not supported by substantial evidence, where it did not specify in its final decision the “appropriate” capitalization rate used, and the record did not support the ultimate capitalization rate apparently employed. In re Owens, 132 N.C. App. 281, 511 S.E.2d 319 (1999).

Commission's finding that county used an arbitrary method of valuing taxpayer's property was supported by the evidence, where the county had averaged eight of 14 comparable sales, entirely omitting six others, where county witnesses set a figure of $640 per front foot without considering the suitability for building on parcel with two cemeteries, wetlands and limited depth, and where the county did not consider limited access to the property or the cemeteries. In re Boos, 95 N.C. App. 386, 382 S.E.2d 769 (1989).

Absent evidence that the Property Tax Commission's decision was based on statutorily-mandated criteria, the appellate court found that the Commission exceeded its statutory authority and that its decision was unsupported by competent evidence, resulting in prejudice to the county's substantial rights. In re Camel City Laundry Co., 115 N.C. App. 469, 444 S.E.2d 689 (1994).

Authority Exceeded. — It is not the Commission's place to equalize property values between anchor store property and the surrounding property in a shopping mall; thus in doing so, the Commission exceeded its authority and committed an error of law. In re Belk-Broome Co., 119 N.C. App. 470, 458 S.E.2d 921 (1995), aff'd, 342 N.C. 890, 467 S.E.2d 242 (1996).

Applied in In re Certain Tobacco, 52 N.C. App. 299, 278 S.E.2d 575 (1981); In re Southview Presbyterian Church, 62 N.C. App. 45, 302 S.E.2d 298 (1983); In re Barham, 70 N.C. ### § 105-345.3. Relief pending review on appeal.

Pending judicial review, the Property Tax Commission is authorized, where it finds that justice so requires, to postpone the effective date of any action taken by it. Upon such conditions as may be required and to the extent necessary to prevent irreparable injury, a judge of the Court of Appeals is authorized to issue all necessary and appropriate process to postpone the effective date of any action by the Commission or take such action as may be necessary to preserve status or rights of any of the parties pending conclusion of the proceedings on appeal. The court may require the applicant for such stay to post adequate bond as required by the court. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

§ 105-345.4. Appeal to Supreme Court.

In all appeals heard in the Court of Appeals, any party may file a motion for review in the Supreme Court of the decision of the Court of Appeals under G.S. 7A-31, and in cases entitled to be appealed as a matter of right under G.S. 7A-30(3) any party may appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Court of Appeals under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed by law for appeals, and such court may advance the cause on its docket. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

Editor's Note. — Subdivision (3) of § 7A-30, referred to in this section, was deleted by Session Laws 1983, c. 526, s. 2.

§ 105-345.5. Judgment on appeal enforced by mandamus.

In all cases in which, upon appeal, an order or decision of the Property Tax Commission is affirmed, in whole or in part, the appellate court may include in its decree a mandamus to the appropriate party to put said order in force, or so much thereof as shall be affirmed, or the appellate court may make such other order as it deems appropriate. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

§ 105-346. Peremptory mandamus to enforce order when no appeal.

(a) If no appeal is taken from an order or decision of the Property Tax Commission within the time prescribed by law and the person to which the order or decision is directed fails to put the same in operation, as therein required, the Commission may apply to the judge regularly assigned to the superior court district which includes Wake County, or to the resident judge of said district at chambers upon 10 days' notice, for a peremptory mandamus upon said person for the putting in force of said order or decision; and if said judge shall find that the order or said Commission was valid and within the scope of its powers, he shall issue such peremptory mandamus.

(b) An appeal shall lie to the Court of Appeals in behalf of the Commission, or the defendant, from the refusal or the granting of such peremptory mandamus. The remedy prescribed in this section for enforcement of orders of the Commission is in addition to other remedies prescribed by law. (1979, c. 584, s. 3.)

ARTICLE 25.

*Levy of Taxes and Presumption of Notice.§ 105-347. Levy of property taxes.

Each year — not later than the date prescribed by applicable law or, in the absence of specific statutory provisions, not later than the first day of August — the tax levying authorities of counties and municipalities shall levy on property rates of taxes, not exceeding any constitutional or statutory limits, necessary to meet the general and other legally authorized expenses of the taxing units. (1939, c. 310, s. 1400; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Reason Why Board Must Act Within Fixed Time. — The reason why the board of equalization is required to act within a fixed time is apparent. The taxing authority must know the value of the taxable property before it can fix a rate sufficient to meet governmental needs. Spiers v. Davenport, 263 N.C. 56, 138 S.E.2d 762 (1964), decided under former similar provisions.

§ 105-348. All interested persons charged with notice of taxes.

All persons who have or who may acquire any interest in any real or personal property that may be or may become subject to a lien for taxes are hereby charged with notice that such property is or should be listed for taxation, that taxes are or may become a lien thereon, and that if taxes are not paid the proceedings allowed by law may be taken against such property. This notice shall be conclusively presumed, whether or not such persons have actual notice. (1939, c. 310, s. 1705; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 26.

*Collection and Foreclosure of Taxes.§ 105-349. Appointment, term, qualifications, and bond of tax collectors and deputies.

(a) Appointment and Term. — The governing body of each county and municipality shall appoint a tax collector on or before July 1, 1971, to serve for a term to be determined by the appointing body and until his successor has been appointed and qualified. Until the first such appointments are made, county and municipal taxes shall be collected by the tax collectors presently serving under prior provisions of law. The governing body may remove the tax collector from office during his term for good cause after giving him notice in writing and an opportunity to appear and be heard at a public session of the governing body. No hearing shall be required, however, if the tax collector is removed for failing to meet the prerequisites prescribed by G.S. 105-352(b) for delivery of the tax receipts. Unless otherwise provided by G.S. 105-373, whenever any vacancy occurs in this office, the governing body shall appoint a qualified person to serve as tax collector for the period of the unexpired term.

(b) Qualifications. — The governing body shall appoint as tax collector a person of character and integrity whose experience in business and collection work is satisfactory to the governing body.

(c) Bond. — No tax collector shall be allowed to begin his duties until he shall have furnished bond conditioned upon his honesty and faithful performance in such amount as the governing body may prescribe. A tax collector shall not be permitted to collect any taxes not covered by his bond, nor shall a tax collector be permitted to continue collecting taxes after his bond has expired without renewal.

(d) Compensation. — The compensation and expense allowances of the tax collector shall be fixed by the governing body.

(e) Alternative to Separate Office of Tax Collector. — Pursuant to Article VI, Sec. 9, of the North Carolina Constitution, the office of tax collector is hereby declared to be an office that may be held concurrently with any appointive or elective office other than those hereinafter designated, and the governing body may appoint as tax collector any appointive or elective officer who meets the personal and bonding requirements established by this section. A member of the governing body of a taxing unit may not be appointed tax collector, nor may the duties of the office be conferred upon him. A person appointed or elected as the treasurer or chief accounting officer of a taxing unit may not be appointed tax collector, nor may the duties of the office of tax collector be conferred upon him except with the written permission of the secretary of the Local Government Commission who, before giving his permission, shall satisfy himself that the unit's internal control procedures are sufficient to prevent improper handling of public funds.

(f) Deputy Tax Collectors. — The governing body of a county or municipality is authorized to appoint one or more deputy tax collectors and to establish their terms of office, compensation, and bonding requirements. A deputy tax collector shall have authority to perform, under the direction of the tax collector, any act that the tax collector may perform unless the governing body appointing the deputy specifically limits the scope of the deputy's authority.

(g) Oath. — Every tax collector and deputy tax collector, as the holder of an office, shall take the oath required by Article VI, § 7 of the North Carolina Constitution with the following phrase added to it: "that I will not allow my actions as tax collector to be influenced by personal or political friendships or obligations." The oath must be filed with the clerk of the governing body of the taxing unit. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1701, 1702; 1957, c. 537; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1991, c. 110, s. 6; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 1007, s. 23.)

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

For a discussion of the proper authority and procedures for appointing an interim county tax collector, see opinion of Attorney General to The Honorable Charles Beall, North Carolina House of Representatives, 1998 N.C.A.G. 35 (8/5/98).

§ 105-350. General duties of tax collectors.

It shall be the duty of each tax collector:

- (1) To employ all lawful means to collect all property, dog, license, privilege, and franchise taxes with which he is charged by the governing body.
- (2) To give such bond as may be required of him by the governing body under the provisions of G.S. 105-349.
- (3) To perform such duties in connection with the preparation of the tax records and tax receipts as the governing body may direct under the provisions of G.S. 105-319 and 105-320.
- (4) To keep adequate records of all collections he makes.
- (5) To account for all moneys coming into his hands in such form and detail as may be required by the chief accounting officer of the taxing unit.
- (6) To make settlement at the times required by G.S. 105-373 and at any other time the governing body may require him to do so.
- (7) To submit to the governing body at each of its regular meetings a report of the amount he has collected on each year's taxes with which he is charged, the amount remaining uncollected, and the steps he is taking to encourage or enforce payment of uncollected taxes.
- (8) To send bills or notices of taxes due to taxpayers if instructed to do so by the governing body.
- (9) To visit delinquent taxpayers to encourage payment of taxes if instructed to do so by the governing body. (1939, c. 310, s. 1703; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-351. Authority of successor collector.

The successor in office of any tax collector may continue and complete any legally authorized process or proceeding begun by his predecessor for the collection of taxes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1703; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-352. Delivery of tax receipts to tax collector; prerequisites; procedure upon default.

(a) Time of Delivery. — As provided in G.S. 105-321, upon order of the governing body, the tax receipts shall be delivered to the tax collector on or before the first day of September.

(b) Settlement, Bond, and Prepayments. — Before the tax receipts for the current year are delivered to the tax collector, he shall have:

- (1) Delivered to the chief accounting officer of the taxing unit the duplicate receipts issued for prepayments received by the tax collector.
- (2) Demonstrated to the satisfaction of the chief accounting officer that all moneys received by the tax collector as prepayments have been deposited to the credit of the taxing unit.
- (3) Made his annual settlement (as defined in G.S. 105-373) for all taxes in his hands for collection.
- (4) Provided bond or bonds as required by G.S. 105-349(c) for taxes for the current year and all prior years in his hands for collection. (In no event shall the governing body accept a bond of lesser amount than that prescribed by any local act applying to the taxing unit.)

In the event prepayments have been received by a person other than the regular tax collector, that person shall, before the tax receipts are delivered to the tax collector, deliver the prepayment receipt duplicates to the chief accounting officer and demonstrate to the satisfaction of that officer that all moneys received by him as prepayments have been deposited to the credit of the taxing unit. If the chief accounting officer has accepted prepayments, he shall not later than the day on which the tax receipts are delivered to the tax collector, make settlement with the governing body in such manner and form as the governing body may prescribe.

(c) Procedure upon Default. — If, when the tax receipts for the current year have been computed and prepared, the regular tax collector shall not have met the requirements of subsection (b), above, the governing body shall immediately appoint a special tax collector and, after he has given satisfactory bond for the full amount of the taxes as required by G.S. 105-349(c), deliver to him the tax receipts for the current year and order him to make collections as provided in G.S. 105-321. In the discretion of the governing body, the cost of the special tax collector's bond and compensation may be deducted from the compensation of the regular tax collector. If the regular tax collector shall thereafter meet the requirements of subsection (b), above, the special collector shall make full settlement (in the manner provided in G.S. 105-373 for tax collectors retiring from office), and the governing body, as provided in G.S. 105-321, shall deliver the tax receipts for the current year to the regular tax collector and order their collection.

(d) Civil and Criminal Penalties. —

- (1) Any member of the governing body who shall vote to deliver the tax receipts to a tax collector before the tax collector has met the requirements prescribed by this section shall be individually liable for the amount of taxes charged against the tax collector for which he has not made satisfactory settlement; and any member of the governing body who so votes, or who willfully fails to perform any duty imposed by this section, shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.
- (2) Any tax collector or other official who fails to account for prepayments as prescribed by this section shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, s. 1707; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 722; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-353. Place for collection of taxes.

Taxes shall be payable at the office of the tax collector or at a financial institution with which the taxing unit has contracted for receipt of payment of taxes. For the convenience of taxpayers, the governing body may require the tax collector to be present to collect taxes in person or by deputy at other designated places within the taxing unit at times prescribed by the governing body. If the governing body exercises this authority, the tax collector shall give timely notice of the places and times at which he will be present for collection; this notice shall be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the taxing unit and posted at three or more public places within the taxing unit. (1939, c. 310, s. 1712; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1989, c. 578, s. 2.)

Local Modification. — Cleveland: 1989, c. 155, s. 1; Gaston and municipalities and special districts located in that county: 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 908; Iredell: 1983, c. 284, s. 4; 1985, c. 570, s. 5; Wake and municipalities and special districts located in that county: 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 908.

§ 105-354. Collections for districts and other units of local government.

Whenever a taxing unit collects taxes for some district or other unit of local government, those taxes, for collection and foreclosure purposes, shall be treated as taxes of the taxing unit making the collection. (1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-355. Creation of tax lien; date as of which lien attaches.

(a) Lien on Real Property. — Regardless of the time at which liability for a tax for a given fiscal year may arise or the exact amount thereof be determined, the lien for taxes levied on a parcel of real property shall attach to the parcel taxed on the date as of which property is to be listed under G.S. 105-285, and the lien for taxes levied on personal property shall attach to all real property of the taxpayer in the taxing unit on the same date. All penalties, interest, and costs allowed by law shall be added to the amount of the lien and shall be regarded as attaching at the same time as the lien for the principal amount of the taxes. For purposes of this subsection (a):

- (1) Taxes levied on real property listed in the name of a life tenant under G.S. 105-302(c)(8) shall be a lien on the fee as well as the life estate.
- (2) Taxes levied on improvements on or separate rights in real property owned by one other than the owner of the land, whether or not listed separately from the land under G.S. 105-302(c)(11), shall be a lien on both the improvements or rights and on the land.

(b) Lien on Personal Property. — Taxes levied on real and personal property (including penalties, interest, and costs allowed by law) shall be a lien on personal property from and after levy or attachment and garnishment of the personal property levied upon or attached. (1939, c. 310, s. 1704; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 564, s. 4.)

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

This section authorizes a tax lien on the land to which improvements are connected for the value of the tax on those improvements. Mid-State Serv. Co. v. Dunford, 18 N.C. App. 641, 197 S.E.2d 626 (1973).

This lien attaches the date the land is listed. Mid-State Serv. Co. v. Dunford, 18 N.C. App. 641, 197 S.E.2d 626 (1973).

When Tax on Personal Property Becomes Lien on That Property. — A tax on personal property becomes a lien on that personal property only after levy or attachment of the personal property taxed. Mid-State Serv.

Co. v. Dunford, 18 N.C. App. 641, 197 S.E.2d 626 (1973).

And When It Becomes Lien on Real Property. — A tax assessed against personal property becomes a lien on real property only when both the realty and personalty are owned by the same owner. Mid-State Serv. Co. v. Dunford, 18 N.C. App. 641, 197 S.E.2d 626 (1973).

Taxes Owed on Due Parcel Not a Lien on Another Parcel. — Taxes owed on Parcel A are not a lien on taxpayer's Parcel B in the same county. Goldsboro Milling Co. v. Reaves, 804 F. Supp. 762 (E.D.N.C. 1991).

Lessee's Obligation to Pay Taxes Extinguished. — Any obligation a lessee may have had to pay taxes was extinguished with the release and cancellation of the lease contract. Mid-State Serv. Co. v. Dunford, 18 N.C. App. 641, 197 S.E.2d 626 (1973).

Lien Attaches Only to Land of Taxpayer Liable. — Though liability for the payment of taxes does not arise out of contract, a tax is a debt of the taxpayer, and a lien for taxes cannot be fastened upon the land of a person other than the taxpayer liable for the tax. Duplin County v. Jones, 267 N.C. 68, 147 S.E.2d 603 (1966).

Land Owned by Entireties Is Not Sub- ject to Lien for Taxes on Personal Property Owned Separately. — When land, owned by a husband and wife as tenants by the entireties, is listed for taxation by the husband in his name as owner it is not subject to a lien for taxes assessed on account of personal property, listed by him at the same time in his own name, some of which is owned by him and some by his wife but none by both together. Duplin County v. Jones, 267 N.C. 68, 147 S.E. 603 (1966).

The pivotal event in determining when a tax is incurred is the date that the property is listed by the owner thereof; the obligation to pay ad valorem property taxes in the State of North Carolina attaches at the time the property is listed, even though the amount of the tax has not yet been determined. *Burns v. ### § 105-356. Priority of tax liens.

(a) On Real Property. — The lien of taxes imposed on real and personal property shall attach to real property at the time prescribed in G.S. 105-355(a). The priority of that lien shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

- (1) Subject to the provisions of the Revenue Act prescribing the priority of the lien for State taxes, the lien of taxes imposed under the provisions of this Subchapter shall be superior to all other liens, assessments, charges, rights, and claims of any and every kind in and to the real property to which the lien for taxes attaches regardless of the claimant and regardless of whether acquired prior or subsequent to the attachment of the lien for taxes.
- (2) The liens of taxes of all taxing units shall be of equal dignity.
- (3) The priority of the lien for taxes shall not be affected by transfer of title to the real property after the lien has attached, nor shall it be affected by the death, receivership, or bankruptcy of the owner of the real property to which the lien attaches.

(b) On Personal Property. — The lien of taxes on real and personal property shall attach to personal property at the time prescribed in G.S. 105-355(b). The priority of that lien shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

- (1) The tax lien, when it attaches to personal property, shall, insofar as it represents taxes imposed upon the property to which the lien attaches, be superior to all other liens and rights whether such other liens and rights are prior or subsequent to the tax lien in point of time.
- (2) The tax lien, when it attaches to personal property, shall, insofar as it represents taxes imposed upon property other than that to which the lien attaches, be inferior to prior valid liens and perfected security interests and superior to all subsequent liens and security interests.
- (3) As between the tax liens of different taxing units, the tax lien first attaching shall be superior. (1939, c. 310, s. 1704; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

Legal Periodicals. — For article, "Future Advances and Title Insurance Coverage," see 15 Wake Forest L. Rev. 329 (1979).

CASE NOTES

Purchase of Warehouse Receipt without Knowledge of Lien Senior in Time. — Under § 105-241, a lien for State taxes on personal property is not enforceable against a bona fide purchaser for value, except upon a levy upon such property under an execution or a tax warrant; but when a tax lien is perfected, it is, by subsection (b) of this section, superior to all other liens or rights prior or subsequent in time. By § 25-7-502(1)(c) a bona fide purchaser of a warehouse receipt acquires good title against a lien senior in time of which the purchaser had no notice. Thus, an enforceable lien on oil stored in North Carolina would not arise until it was executed on; but it could not be attached when a warehouse receipt therefor was in the hands of one who purchased it not knowing of the lien. Davenport v. Ralph N. Peters & Co., 386 F.2d 199 (4th Cir. 1967), (decided under former provisions similar to this section).

Tax Liens Take Priority Over Estate Administration Costs. — The conflict between § 28A-19-6 and this section was resolved in favor of city and county who sought to recover back taxes and interest through a foreclosure proceeding on property, although a guardian ad litem and public administrator, who had advanced funds to administrate the properties, asserted that such foreclosure would cause the tax lien to take precedence over the costs of estate administration in violation of § 28A-19-6 and would result in inequity should the sale fail to render sufficient funds to cover both taxes and costs. City of Durham v. Hicks, 135 N.C. App. 699, 522 S.E.2d 583 (1999).

A local ad valorem tax lien is superior to all other liens, including State tax liens. County of Lenoir v. Moore, 114 N.C. App. 110, 441 S.E.2d 589 (1994), aff'd, 340 N.C. 104, 455 S.E.2d 158 (1995).

§ 105-357. Payment of taxes.

(a) Medium of Payment. — Taxes shall be payable in existing national currency. Deeds to real property, notes of the taxpayer or others, bonds or notes of the taxing unit, and payments in kind shall not be accepted in payment of taxes, nor shall any taxing unit permit the payment of taxes by offset of any bill, claim, judgment, or other obligation owed to the taxpayer by the taxing unit.

(b) Acceptance of Checks and Electronic Payment. — The tax collector may accept checks and electronic payments, as defined in G.S. 147-86.20, in payment of taxes, as authorized by G.S. 159-32.1. Acceptance of a check or electronic payment is at the tax collector's own risk. A tax collector who accepts electronic payment of taxes may add a fee to each electronic payment transaction to offset the service charge the taxing unit pays for electronic payment service. A tax collector who accepts electronic payment or check in payment of taxes may issue the tax receipt immediately or withhold the receipt until the check has been collected or the electronic payment invoice has been honored by the issuer.

If a tax collector accepts a check or an electronic payment and issues a tax receipt and the check is returned unpaid (without negligence on the part of the tax collector in presenting the check for payment) or the electronic payment invoice is not honored by the issuer, the taxes for which the check or electronic payment was given shall be deemed unpaid; the tax collector shall immediately correct the copy of the tax receipt and other appropriate records to show the fact of nonpayment, and shall give written notice by certified or registered mail to the person to whom the tax receipt was issued to return it to the tax collector. After correcting the records to show the fact of nonpayment, the tax collector shall proceed to collect the taxes by the use of any remedies allowed for the collection of taxes or by bringing a civil action on the check or electronic payment.

A financial institution with which a taxing unit has contracted for receipt of payment of taxes may accept a check in payment of taxes. If the check is honored, the financial institution shall so notify the tax collector, who shall, upon request of the taxpayer, issue a receipt for payment of the taxes. If the check is returned unpaid, the financial institution shall so notify the tax collector, who shall proceed to collect the taxes by use of any remedy allowed for collection of taxes or by bringing a civil action on the check.

(1) Effect on Tax Lien. — If the tax collector accepts a check or electronic payment in payment of taxes on real property and issues the receipt, and the check is later returned unpaid or the electronic payment invoice is not honored by the issuer, the taxing unit's lien for taxes on the real property shall be inferior to the rights of purchasers for value and of persons acquiring liens of record for value if the purchasers or lienholders acquire their rights in good faith and without actual knowledge that the check has not been collected or the electronic payment invoice has not been honored, after examination of the copy of the tax receipt in the tax collector's office during the time that record showed the taxes as paid or after examination of the official receipt issued to the taxpayer prior to the date on which the tax collector notified the taxpayer to return the receipt.

(2) Penalty. — In addition to interest for nonpayment of taxes provided by G.S. 105-360 and in addition to any criminal penalties provided by law for the giving of worthless checks, the penalty for giving in payment of taxes a check that is returned because of insufficient funds or nonexistence of an account of the drawer is ten percent (10%) of the amount of the check, subject to a minimum of one dollar ($1.00) and a maximum of one thousand dollars ($1,000). This penalty does not apply if the tax collector finds that, when the check was presented for payment, the drawer of the check had sufficient funds in an account at a financial institution in this State to pay the check and, by inadvertence, the drawer of the check failed to draw the check on the account that had sufficient funds. This penalty shall be added to and collected in the same manner as the taxes for which the check was given.

(c) Small Underpayments and Overpayments. — The governing body of a taxing unit may, by resolution, permit its tax collector to treat small underpayments of taxes as fully paid and to not refund small overpayments of taxes unless the taxpayer requests a refund before the end of the fiscal year in which the small overpayment is made. A "small underpayment" is a payment made, other than in person, that is no more than one dollar ($1.00) less than the taxes due on a tax receipt. A "small overpayment" is a payment made, other than in person, that is no more than one dollar ($1.00) greater than the taxes due on a tax receipt.

The tax collector shall keep records of all underpayments and overpayments of taxes by receipt number and amount and shall report these payments to the governing body as part of his settlement.

A resolution authorizing adjustments of underpayments and overpayments as provided in this subsection shall:

- (1) Be adopted on or before June 15 of the year to which it is to apply;
- (2) Apply to taxes levied for all previous fiscal years; and
- (3) Continue in effect until repealed or amended by resolution of the taxing unit. (1939, c. 310, s. 1710; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1987, c. 661; 1989, c. 578, s. 3; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1005, s. 8; 1991, c. 584, s. 2; 1999-434, s. 6; 2001-487, s. 25.)

Session Laws 1999-434, s. 20 requires the Secretary of Commerce to develop and implement policies, procedures, and/or programs to ensure that personnel receive high quality training in the principles of "Best Value" Procurement, Solution-Based Procurement, Government-Vendor Partnership, contract administration, and project management.

Session Laws 1999-434, s. 21 provides that the Secretary of Commerce shall report to the Joint Select Committee on Information Technology on the implementation of Session Laws 1999-434 on or before April 1, 2000.

Session Laws 1999-434, s. 22 provides that the Joint Select Committee on Information Technology shall study the governance of State government-wide information technology management by the creation of a centralized agency responsible for all technology-related issues. An interim report may be made by the Committee to the 2000 Session of the General Assembly and a final report prior to the convening of the 2001 General Assembly.

Session Laws 1999-434, s. 23 provides that the Office of the State Auditor shall audit the Office of Information Technology Services and shall issue reports regarding the findings. Expenses shall be reimbursed by the Office of Information Technology.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-434, s. 6, effective August 10, 1999, in subsection (b), rewrote the first paragraph, and substituted "electronic payment" for "credit card" throughout the second paragraph and subdivision (b)(1).

Session Laws 2001-487, s. 25, effective December 16, 2001, substituted "inadvertence" for "inadvertance" in the second sentence in subdivision (b)(2).

CASE NOTES

Failure to Follow Statutory Procedure upon Return of Check. — The fact that a county tax collector accepted a check in payment of taxes, and the check was returned, and he paid the taxes in his settlement with the board of county commissioners, did not give him a lien which might be foreclosed under former § 105-414. The collector having failed to correct the tax record so as to show that the check had been returned and that the taxes were not paid, the tax lien was not reinstated. He could have protected himself and preserved the tax lien if he had followed the procedure outlined in this section; this he failed to do, and the returned check was but a simple promise to pay. Since the provisions of this section enacted for the protection of the collector were not complied with and he elected to hold the returned check as evidence of the nonpayment of the taxes, he was in no better position than if he had accepted a note in lieu of the check. Miller v. Neal, 222 N.C. 540, 23 S.E.2d 852 (1943).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Taxpayer May Not Pay His Ad Valorem Taxes by Use of Credit Card. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Fred P. Parker, Jr., Wayne County Attorney, 40 N.C.A.G. 817 (1969), issued under former similar provisions.

§ 105-358. Partial payments.

Unless otherwise directed by the governing body, the tax collector shall accept partial payments on taxes and issue partial payment receipts therefor.

When a payment is made on the tax for any year or on any installment, it shall first be applied to accrued penalties, interest, and costs and then to the principal amount of the tax or installment. In its discretion, the governing body may prescribe by uniform regulation the minimum amount or percentage of tax liability that may be accepted as a partial payment. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1708, 1709; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-359. Prepayments.

(a) To Whom Made. — Payments of taxes made before the tax receipts have been delivered to the tax collector, herein referred to as prepayments, shall be made to the regular tax collector unless the governing body shall have designated some other person to receive them. The regular tax collector or person named to receive prepayments shall give bond satisfactory to the governing body.

(b) When Accepted. — No taxing unit shall be required to accept any tender of prepayment until the annual budget estimate has been filed as required by law.

(c) Estimation of Liability; Overpayment and Underpayment. — If the tax rate has not been finally fixed or if the assessed valuation of the taxpayer's property has not been finally determined at the time a prepayment is tendered, the tax collector shall compute the amount of the tax liability on the basis of the best information available to him. If it is later ascertained that there has been an overpayment, the excess (without interest) shall be refunded by the taxing unit. If it is later ascertained that there was an underpayment, the unpaid balance of the tax shall be due, and the balance due shall be allowed the discount or charged the interest in effect with respect to taxes for the same year at the time the balance is paid.

(d) Receipts. — A receipt issued for a prepayment made on the basis of an estimate of the tax rate or assessed valuation shall so state, and such a receipt shall not release property from the tax lien created by G.S. 105-355(a). An official and final receipt shall be made available to the taxpayer as soon as possible after determination that the tax has been fully paid.

(e) Duties of Chief Accounting Officer. — It shall be the duty of the chief accounting officer of the taxing unit to:

- (1) Secure and retain in his office, available to taxpayers upon request, the official receipts for taxes paid in full by prepayment.
- (2) Credit on the tax receipts to be delivered to the tax collector all taxes that have been paid in full or in part by prepayment.
- (3) Prepare and deliver refunds for overpayments made by way of prepayment.
- (4) Reduce the charge to be made against the tax collector by deducting from the total amount of taxes levied so much of the amount received as prepayments as is not required to be refunded under the provisions of subsection (c), above.

Any chief accounting officer who fails to perform the duties imposed upon him by this subsection (e) shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, ss. 1706, 1707; 1969, c. 921, s. 2; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1993, c. 539, s. 723; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

CASE NOTES

Designation of County Official to Collect Prepayments. — By its failure to designate specifically any county official to collect prepayments under this section, and by its instructions to the sheriff as to the manner of collecting taxes and the payment of commissions, and by its acquiescence in the manner in which commissions were paid to the sheriffs in the past years, a county board of commissioners in effect designated the sheriff as collector of prepayments of taxes under this section. Barbour v. Goodman, 247 N.C. 655, 101 S.E.2d 696 (1958), decided under former similar provisions.

§ 105-360. Due date; interest for nonpayment of taxes; discounts for prepayment.

(a) Taxes levied under this Subchapter by a taxing unit are due and payable on September 1 of the fiscal year for which the taxes are levied. Taxes are payable at par or face amount if paid before January 6 following the due date. Taxes paid on or after January 6 following the due date are delinquent and are subject to interest charges. Interest accrues on taxes paid on or after January 6 as follows:

- (1) For the period January 6 to February 1, interest accrues at the rate of two percent (2%); and
- (2) For the period February 1 until the principal amount of the taxes, the accrued interest, and any penalties are paid, interest accrues at the rate of three-fourths of one percent ( $3/4\%$ ) a month or fraction thereof.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1987, c. 93, s. 2.

(c) Under the conditions established by this subsection (c), the governing body of any county or municipality levying taxes under the provisions of this Subchapter shall have authority to establish a schedule of discounts to be applied to taxes paid prior to the due date prescribed in subsection (a) above. To exercise this authority, the governing body shall:

- (1) Not later than the first day of May preceding the due date of the taxes to which it first applies, adopt a resolution or ordinance specifying the amounts of the discounts and the periods of time during which they are to be applicable.
- (2) Submit the resolution or ordinance to the Department of Revenue for approval.
- (3) Upon approval by the Department of Revenue, publish the discount schedule at least once in some newspaper having general circulation in the taxing unit.

When such a resolution or ordinance is submitted to the Department of Revenue, the Department may approve it or disapprove it in whole or in part if, in the opinion of the Department, the discounts or the periods of time for which discounts are allowed are excessive or unreasonable. Such a resolution or ordinance, once adopted and approved by the Department of Revenue, shall continue in effect until repealed. Nothing in this subsection (c) shall prevent the governing body of any taxing unit from providing by resolution that the schedule of discounts for prepayment of taxes in effect in the taxing unit on June 30, 1971, shall continue in effect through November 1, 1971, but no longer.

(d) For the purposes of computing discounts and interest, tax payments submitted by mail shall be deemed to be received as of the date shown on the postmark affixed by the United States Postal Service. If no date is shown on the postmark or if the postmark is not affixed by the United States Postal Service, the tax payment shall be deemed to be received when the payment is received in the office of the tax collector. In any dispute arising under this subsection, the burden of proof shall be on the taxpayer to show that the payment was timely made. (1939, c. 310, s. 1403; 1943, c. 667; 1945, c. 247, s. 3; c. 1041; 1947, c. 888, s. 1; 1969, c. 921, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 327, s. 2; c. 630; 1979, c. 233, ss. 1, 2; 1987, c. 93, ss. 1, 2.)

Legal Periodicals. — See legislative survey, 21 Campbell L. Rev. 323 (1999).

CASE NOTES

Discrimination Between Different Counties. — A statute which discriminates between the different counties of the State, as to the times when the payment of taxes can be compelled, is not unconstitutional, since its provisions affect every one alike in the localities to which they are applicable and contain no violation of the principle of equation of taxation. State v. Jones, 121 N.C. 616, 28 S.E. 347 (1897), decided under former similar provisions.

Applied in In re Foreclosure of Deed of Trust, 41 N.C. App. 563, 255 S.E.2d 260 (1979).

Stated in Justus v. Deutsch, 62 N.C. App. 711, 303 S.E.2d 571 (1983).

§ 105-361. Statement of amount of taxes due.

(a) Duty to Furnish a Certificate. — On the request of any of the persons prescribed in subdivision (a)(1), below, and upon the condition prescribed by subdivision (a)(2), below, the tax collector shall furnish a written certificate stating the amount of any taxes and special assessments for the current year and for prior years in his hands for collection (together with any penalties, interest, and costs accrued thereon) including the amount due under G.S. 105-277.4(c) if the property should lose its eligibility for the benefit of classification under G.S. 105-277.2 et seq. that are a lien on a parcel of real property in the taxing unit.

(1) Who May Make Request. — Any of the following persons shall be entitled to request the certificate:

- a. An owner of the real property;
- b. An occupant of the real property;
- c. A person having a lien on the real property;
- d. A person having a legal interest or estate in the real property;
- e. A person or firm having a contract to purchase or lease the property or a person or firm having contracted to make a loan secured by the property;

f. The authorized agent or attorney of any person described in subdivisions (a)(1)a through e above.

- (2) Duty of Person Making Request. — With respect to taxes, the tax collector shall not be required to furnish a certificate unless the person making the request specifies in whose name the real property was listed for taxation for each year for which the information is sought. With respect to assessments, the tax collector shall not be required to furnish a certificate unless the person making the request furnishes such identification of the real estate as may be reasonably required by the tax collector.

(b) Reliance on the Certificate. — When a certificate has been issued as provided in subsection (a), above, all taxes and special assessments that have accrued against the property for the period covered by the certificate shall cease to be a lien against the property, except to the extent of taxes and special assessments stated to be due in the certificate, as to all persons, firms, and corporations obtaining such a certificate and their successors in interest who rely on the certificate:

- (1) By paying the amount of taxes and assessments stated therein to be a lien on the real property;
- (2) By purchasing or leasing the real property; or
- (3) By lending money secured by the real property.

The tax collector shall be liable on his bond for any loss to the taxing unit arising from an understatement of the tax and special assessment obligations in the preparation of a certificate furnished under this section.

(c) Penalty. — Any tax collector who fails or refuses to furnish a certificate when requested under the conditions prescribed in this section shall be liable for a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00) recoverable in a civil action by the person who made the request.

(d) Oral Statements. — An oral statement made by the tax collector as to the amount of taxes, special assessments, penalties, interest, and costs due on any real or personal property shall bind neither the tax collector nor the taxing unit. (1939, c. 310, s. 1711; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 604; c. 1340.)

§ 105-362. Discharge of lien on real property.

(a) General Rule. — The tax lien on real property shall continue until the principal amount of the taxes plus penalties, interest, and costs allowed by law have been fully paid.

(b) Release of Separate Parcels from Tax Lien. —

- (1) When the lien of taxes of any taxing unit for any year attaches to two or more parcels of real property owned by the same taxpayer, the lien may be discharged as to any parcel at any time prior to advertisement of tax foreclosure sale in accordance with either subdivision (b)(1)a or subdivision (b)(1)b:

- a. Upon payment, by or on behalf of the listing taxpayer, of the taxes for the year on the parcel or parcels to be released, plus all personal property taxes owed by the listing taxpayer for the same year.
- b. Upon payment, by or on behalf of any person (other than the listing taxpayer) who has a legal interest in the parcel or parcels to be released, of the taxes for the year on the parcel or parcels to be released, plus a proportionate part of personal property taxes owed by the listing taxpayer for the same year. The proportionate part shall be a percentage of the personal property taxes equal to the percentage of the total assessed valuation of the taxpayer's real property in the taxing unit represented by the assessed valuation of the parcel or parcels to be released.

- (2) When real property listed as one parcel is divided, a part thereof may be released as provided in subdivision (b)(1), above, after the assessed valuation of the part to be released has been determined and certified to the tax collector by the tax supervisor.
- (3) It shall be the duty of the tax collector accepting a payment made under this subsection (b) for the purpose of releasing the tax lien from less than all of the taxpayer's real property:
  - a. To give the person making the payment a receipt setting forth a description of the real property released from the tax lien and bearing a statement that such property is being released from the tax lien.
  - b. To indicate on the tax receipts, tax records, and other official records of his office what real property has been released from the tax lien.

If the tax collector fails to issue the receipt or make the record entries required by this subdivision (3), the omission may be supplied at any time.
- (4) When any parcel of real property has been released under the provisions of this subsection (b) from the lien of taxes of any taxing unit for any year, the property shall not thereafter be subject to the lien of any other regularly levied taxes of the same taxing unit for the same year, whether such other taxes be levied against the listing owner of the property or against some other person acquiring title thereto. No tax foreclosure judgment for such other taxes shall become a lien on the released property; and, upon appropriate request and satisfactory proof of the release by any interested person, the clerk of the superior court shall indicate on the judgment docket that the judgment is not a lien on the released property. However, the failure to make such an entry shall not have the effect of making the judgment a lien on the released property. (1939, c. 310, s. 1704; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Duration of Lien. — The General Assembly, pursuant to the Constitution, has established the procedure for levying and collecting taxes and when levied the tax lien shall continue until the taxes, plus interest, penalties, and costs, as allowed by law, have been fully paid. City of Charlotte v. Kavanaugh, 221 N.C. 259, 20 S.E.2d 97 (1942), decided under former similar provisions.

Cancellation of Liens on Specific Parcels. — When taxes are owed on several parcels of real estate in a county, an interested party may pay the taxes owed on one parcel and cancel the tax lien on that parcel. Goldsboro Milling Co. v. Reaves, 804 F. Supp. 762 (E.D.N.C. 1991).

Any time before the taxes have been reduced to a judgment, one may pay the real property taxes accrued on a specific parcel, with a pro-rata portion of any personal property taxes and advertising expenses, and have that parcel released from all tax liens. Goldsboro Milling Co. v. Reaves, 804 F. Supp. 762 (E.D.N.C. 1991).

Attorney's Fees. — Subsection (a) and § 105-374(e) do not specifically include attorney's fees as "costs" and § 105-374(i) contemplates attorney's fees as they are awarded by the court in its discretion; thus, plaintiff acted improperly by refusing to release tax lien against defendants' property until attorney's fees were paid. Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

§ 105-363. Remedies of cotenants and joint owners of real property.

(a) Payment of Taxes on Share of One Cotenant. — Any one of several tenants in common or joint tenants (other than copartners) of real property may pay that portion of the taxes, interest, and costs that are a lien upon his undivided share of the property and thereby release the tax lien from his share. Thereafter, in any partition sale of the property the share of the joint owner who has paid his portion of the taxes shall be set apart free from the tax lien, and his share of the proceeds of any sale shall not be diminished by disbursements to pay any taxes, interest, or costs. In the event the tax lien is foreclosed and the property is sold for failure to pay taxes, the share of any joint owner who has paid his portion of the taxes shall be excepted from the advertisement and sale.

(b) Payment of Entire Amount of Taxes by One Cotenant. — Any one of several tenants in common or joint tenants (other than copartners) of real property may pay the entire amount of the taxes, interest, and costs constituting a lien on the property, and any amount so paid that is in excess of his share of the taxes, interest, and costs and that was not paid through agreement with or on behalf of the other joint owners shall constitute a lien in his favor upon the shares of the other joint owners. Such a lien may be enforced in a proceeding for actual partition, a proceeding for partition and sale, or by any other appropriate judicial proceeding. (1901, c. 558, ss. 13, 14, 47; Rev., s. 2860; C.S., s. 7983; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Payment by One Tenant in Common. — Petitioners in a proceeding for sale of land for partition may not object to the allowance of a sum advanced by one of the parties to pay taxes on the property, as provided by this section, when there is no exception or appeal entered of record by the testator's administrator. Everton v. Rodgers, 206 N.C. 115, 173 S.E. 48 (1934).

Where One Tenant in Possession. — This section refers to cases where all the tenants are on the same footing, all or none being in possession. It does not authorize one tenant in common to take title for the whole tract, nor does it apply to a case where one tenant was in possession for all. Smith v. Smith, 150 N.C. 81, 63 S.E. 177 (1908).

Contention of Exclusive Possession Rejected. — Trial judge properly ordered reimbursement under this section, despite contention of one cotenant that the other, her ex-husband, was in sole possession of the property. A cotenant's mere presence on the property does not amount to a prima facie showing of exclusive possession. Consequently, the trial judge did not, and was not required to, make findings on that issue. Knotts v. Hall, 85 N.C. App. 463, 355 S.E.2d 237, aff'd, 321 N.C. 119, 361 S.E.2d 591 (1987).

§ 105-364. Collection of taxes outside the taxing unit.

(a) Duty of Governing Body. — It shall be the duty of the governing body of each taxing unit to require reports from the tax collector at such times as it may prescribe (but not less frequently than in connection with the tax collector's annual settlement) concerning the efforts he has made to locate taxpayers who have removed from the taxing unit, the efforts he has made to locate personal property in other taxing units belonging to delinquent taxpayers, and the efforts he has made under the provisions of this section to collect taxes.

(b) Duty to Certify Unpaid Taxes. — If a taxpayer has no personal property or real property subject to the tax lien in the taxing unit but does have personal property in some other taxing unit in this State, or if a taxpayer has removed from the taxing unit, leaving no personal property or real property subject to the tax lien there, and is known to be in some other taxing unit in this State, the tax collector shall forward the tax receipt (with a certificate stating that the taxes are unpaid) for collection to the tax collector of the taxing unit in which the taxpayer is known to have personal property or in which he is known to be. The tax collector may not, however, certify an unpaid tax receipt to another taxing unit if 10 years have elapsed since the date the unpaid taxes became due.

(c) Effect of Certificate; Duty of Receiving Tax Collector. — In the hands of the tax collector receiving them, the copy of the tax receipt and the certificate of nonpayment shall have the force and effect of an unpaid tax receipt of his own taxing unit, and it shall be the receiving tax collector's duty to proceed immediately to collect the taxes by any means by which he could lawfully collect taxes of his own taxing unit. Within 30 days after receiving such a tax receipt and certificate, the collector receiving them shall report to the tax collector that sent them that he has collected the tax, that he has begun proceedings to collect the tax, or that he is unable to collect it. If the tax collector reports that he has begun proceedings to collect the tax, he shall, not later than 90 days after so reporting, make a final report to the tax collector who certified the tax receipt stating that he has collected the tax or that he is unable to collect it.

- (1) In acting on a tax receipt and certificate under the provisions of this section, the tax collector receiving them shall, in addition to collecting the amount of taxes certified as due, also impose a fee equal to ten percent (10%) of the amount of taxes certified as unpaid, to be paid into the general fund of his taxing unit.
- (2) Within five days after making a collection under the provisions of this section, the tax collector receiving the tax receipt and certificate shall remit the funds collected, less the fee provided for in subdivision (c)(1), above, to the tax collector of the taxing unit that levied the tax.
- (3) If the tax collector receiving the tax receipt and certificate reports that he is unable to collect the tax, he shall make his report under oath and shall state therein that he has used due diligence and is unable to collect the tax by levy, attachment and garnishment, or any other legal means.

(d) Liability on Bond. — A tax collector who receives a tax receipt and certificate from the tax collector of another taxing unit under the provisions of subsection (b), above, shall be liable on his bond to the taxing unit that levied the tax for the amount of the taxes certified if:

- (1) The tax collector receiving the certified tax receipt fails to make any report to the certifying tax collector within 30 days after receiving the certified tax receipt.
- (2) The tax collector receiving the certified tax receipt fails to swear to any report stating that he is unable to collect the certified tax.
- (3) Having reported that he has begun proceedings to collect a certified tax, the tax collector receiving the certified tax receipt fails to make a final report within 90 days after reporting that he has begun proceedings for collection. (1939, c. 310, s. 1714; 1955, c. 909; 1963, c. 132; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 231.)

Local Modification. — Gaston: 1979, c. 303.

§ 105-365. Preference accorded taxes in liquidation of debtors' estates.

In all cases in which a taxpayer's assets are in the hands of a receiver or assignee for the benefit of creditors or are otherwise being liquidated or managed for the benefit of creditors, the taxes owed by the debtor (together with interest, penalties, and costs) shall be a preferred claim, second only to administration expenses and specific liens. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to modify or reduce the priority given by G.S. 105-356 to tax liens on real and personal property or to alter or preclude the exercise of any remedies against personal property provided for in G.S. 105-366. (1939, c. 310, s. 1704; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-366. Remedies against personal property.

(a) Authority to Proceed against Personal Property; Relation between Remedies against Personal Property and Remedies against Real Property. — All tax collectors shall have authority to proceed against personal property to enforce the collection of taxes as provided in this section and in G.S. 105-367 and 105-368. Any tax collector may, in his discretion, proceed first against personal property before employing the remedies for enforcing the lien for taxes against real property, and he shall proceed first against personal property:

- (1) When directed to do so by the governing body of the taxing unit; or
- (2) When requested to do so by the taxpayer or by a mortgagee or other person holding a lien upon the real property subject to the lien for taxes if the person making the request furnishes the tax collector with a written statement describing the personal property to be proceeded against and giving its location.

No foreclosure of a tax lien on real property may be attacked as invalid on the ground that payment of the tax should have been procured from personal property.

(b) Remedies after Taxes Are Delinquent. — At any time after taxes are delinquent and before the filing of a tax foreclosure complaint under G.S. 105-374 or the docketing of a judgment for taxes under G.S. 105-375, and subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-356 governing the priority of liens, the tax collector may levy upon and sell or attach the following property for failure to pay taxes:

- (1) Any personal property owned by the taxpayer, regardless of the time at which it was acquired and regardless of the existence or date of creation of mortgages or other liens thereon.
- (2) Any personal property transferred by the taxpayer to a relative (which shall mean any parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew, or their spouses, of the taxpayer or his spouse).
- (3) Personal property in the hands of a receiver for the taxpayer. (It shall not be necessary for the tax collector to apply for an order of the court directing payment or authorizing the levy or attachment, but he may proceed as though the property were not in the hands of the receiver, and the tax collector's filing of a claim in a receivership proceeding shall not preclude him from proceeding to levy under G.S. 105-367 or to attach under G.S. 105-368.)
- (4) Personal property of a deceased taxpayer if the levy or attachment is made before final settlement of the estate.
- (5) The stock of goods or fixtures of a wholesale merchant or retailer, as defined in G.S. 105-164.3, in the hands of a purchaser or transferee thereof, or any other personal property of the purchaser or transferee of the property, if the taxes on the goods or fixtures remain unpaid 30 days after the date of the sale or transfer. In the case of other personal property of the purchaser or transferee, the levy or attachment must be made within six months of the sale or transfer.
- (6) Personal property of the taxpayer that has been repossessed by one having a security interest therein so long as the property remains in the hands of the person who has repossessed it or the person to whom it has been transferred other than by bona fide sale for value.

- (7) Personal property due the taxpayer or to become due to him within the calendar year.
- (8) Personal property of a partner in satisfaction of taxes on partnership property, but only after the tax collector:
  - a. Has sold the taxing unit's lien for taxes against the partnership real property, if any; and
  - b. Exhausted the partnership's personal property through the use of levy and attachment and garnishment; and
  - c. Exercised the authority granted him by G.S. 105-364 in an effort to collect the tax due on the partnership's property.
- (9) Personal property transferred by the taxpayer by any type of transfer other than those mentioned in this subsection (b) and other than by bona fide sale for value if the levy or attachment is made within six months of the transfer.

(c) Remedies Before Taxes Are Delinquent. — If between the date as of which property is to be listed and January 6 of the fiscal year for which the taxes are imposed the tax collector has reasonable grounds for believing that the taxpayer is about to remove his property from the taxing unit or transfer it to another person or is in imminent danger of becoming insolvent, the tax collector may levy on or attach that property or any other personal property of the taxpayer, in the manner provided in G.S. 105-367 and 105-368. If the amount of taxes collected under this subsection has not yet been determined, these taxes shall be computed in accordance with G.S. 105-359 and any applicable discount shall be allowed.

(d) Remedies against Sellers and Purchasers of Stocks of Goods or Fixtures of Wholesale Merchants or Retailers. —

- (1) Any wholesale merchant or retailer, as defined in G.S. 105-164.3, who sells or transfers the major part of its stock of goods, materials, supplies, or fixtures, other than in the ordinary course of business, or who goes out of business, must take the following actions:
  - a. At least 48 hours prior to the date of the pending sale, transfer, or termination of business, give notice to the assessors and tax collectors of the taxing units in which the business is located.
  - b. Within 30 days of the sale, transfer, or termination of business, pay all taxes due or to become due on the transferred property on the first day of September of the current calendar year.
- (2) Any person to whom the major part of the stock of goods, materials, supplies, or fixtures of a wholesale merchant or retailer is sold or transferred, other than in the ordinary course of business, or who becomes the successor in business of a wholesale merchant or retailer shall withhold from the purchase money paid to the merchant an amount sufficient to pay the taxes due or to become due on the transferred property on the first day of September of the current calendar year until the former owner or seller produces either a receipt from the tax collector showing that the taxes have been paid or a certificate that no taxes are due. If the purchaser or successor in business fails to withhold a sufficient amount of the purchase money to pay the taxes as required by this subsection and the taxes remain unpaid after the 30-day period allowed, the purchaser or successor is personally liable for the amount of the taxes unpaid. This liability may be enforced by means of a civil action brought in the name of the taxing unit against the purchaser or successor in an appropriate trial division of the General Court of Justice in the county in which the taxing unit is located.
- (3) Whenever any wholesale merchant or retailer sells or transfers the major part of its stock of goods, materials, supplies, or fixtures, other than in the ordinary course of business, or goes out of business and the taxes due or to become due on the transferred property on the first day of September of the current calendar year are unpaid, the tax collector, to enforce collection of the unpaid taxes, may do any of the following:

- a. Levy on or attach any personal property of the seller.
  - b. If the taxes remain unpaid 30 days after the date of the transfer or termination of business, levy on or attach any of the property transferred in the hands of the transferee or successor in business, or any other personal property of the transferee or successor in business, but in either case the levy or attachment must be made within six months of the transfer or termination of business.
- (4) In using the remedies provided in this subsection, the amount of taxes not yet determined shall be computed in accordance with G.S. 105-359, and any applicable discount shall be allowed. (1939, c. 310, s. 1713; 1951, c. 1141, s. 1; 1955, cc. 1263, 1264; 1957, c. 1414, ss. 2-4; 1969, c. 305; c. 1029, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 564, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; c. 93, s. 3; 1998-98, ss. 112, 113.)

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — This section and § 105-368, enabling a city to garnish defendant taxpayer's bank account for taxes due on a bulk sale without prior notice or hearing, do not violate the due process or equal protection rights of the taxpayer as guaranteed by the Constitutions of the United States and this State. Town of Hudson v. Martin-Kahill Ford Lincoln Mercury, Inc., 54 N.C. App. 272, 283 S.E.2d 417 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 733, 288 S.E.2d 804 (1982).

Sale by Assignee for Benefit of Creditors Prior to Levy. — Where an assignee for the benefit of the creditors of a taxpayer sells personal property of his assignor, on which a tax had been assessed, but not levied, prior to the assignment, the proceeds in the hands of the assignee are not subject to garnishment for the payment of the tax, but belong to the creditors. Town of Shelby v. Tiddy, 118 N.C. 792, 24 S.E. 521 (1896).

Tax list in the hands of a tax collector is equivalent to an execution, and the tax collector, in lieu of selling real estate for the collection of taxes due thereon, may seize personal property belonging to the taxpayer and sell same or so much thereof as may be necessary for the satisfaction of all taxes due by the taxpayer. Town of Apex v. Templeton, 223 N.C. 645, 27 S.E.2d 617 (1943).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

When merchant transfers goods without paying personal property tax, and when taxing unit fails to levy on the property within six months, the purchaser becomes personally liable. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Fred P. Parker, Jr., 41 N.C.A.G. 482 (1971).

§ 105-367. Procedure for levy.

(a) The levy upon the sale of tangible personal property for tax collection purposes (including levy and sale fees) shall be governed by the laws regulating levy and sale under execution except as otherwise provided in this section.

(b) The tax collector or any duly appointed deputy tax collector shall make the levy and conduct the sale; it shall not be necessary for the sheriff to make the levy or conduct the sale. However, upon the authorization of the governing body of the taxing unit, the tax collector may direct an execution against personal property for taxes to the sheriff in the case of county or municipal taxes or to a municipal policeman in the case of municipal taxes. In either case the officer to whom the execution is directed shall proceed to levy on and sell the personal property subject to levy in the manner and with the powers and authority normally exercised by sheriffs in levying upon and selling personal property under execution.

(c) In addition to the notice of sale required by the laws governing sale of property levied upon under execution, the tax collector may advertise the sale in any reasonable manner and for any reasonable period of time he deems necessary to produce an adequate bid for the property. The taxing unit shall advance the cost of all advertising.

(d) Levy and sale fees, plus actual advertising costs, shall be added to and collected in the same manner as taxes. The advertising costs, when collected, shall be used to reimburse the taxing unit for advertising costs it has advanced. Levy and sale fees, when collected, shall be treated in the same manner as other fees received by the collecting official. (1939, c. 310, s. 1713; 1951, c. 1141, s. 1; 1955, cc. 1263, 1264; 1957, c. 1414, ss. 2-4; 1969, c. 305; c. 1029, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-368. Procedure for attachment and garnishment.

(a) Subject to the provisions of G.S. 105-356 governing the priority of the lien acquired, the tax collector may attach wages and other compensation, rents, bank deposits, the proceeds of property subject to levy, or any other intangible personal property, including property held in the Escheat Fund, in the circumstances and to the extent prescribed in G.S. 105-366(b), (c), and (d).

In the case of property due the taxpayer or to become due to him within the current calendar year, the person owing the property to the taxpayer or having the property in his possession shall be liable for the taxes to the extent of the amount he owes or has in his possession. However, when wages or other compensation for personal services is attached, the garnishee shall not pay to the tax collector more than ten percent (10%) of such compensation for any one pay period.

(b) To proceed under this section, the tax collector shall serve or cause to be served upon the taxpayer and the person owing or having in his possession the wages, rents, debts or other property sought to be attached a notice as provided by this subsection. The notice may be personally served by any deputy or employee of the tax collector or by any officer having authority to serve summonses, or may be served in any manner provided in Rule 4 of the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The notice shall contain:

- (1) The name of the taxpayer, and if known his Social Security number or federal tax identification number and his address.
- (2) The amount of the taxes, penalties, interest, and costs (including the fees allowed by this section) and the year or years for which the taxes were imposed.
- (3) The name of the taxing unit or units by which the taxes were levied.
- (4) A brief description of the property sought to be attached.
- (5) A copy of the applicable law, that is, G.S. 105-366 and 105-368. Notices concerning two or more taxpayers may be combined if they are to be served upon the same garnishee, but the taxes, penalties, interest, and costs charged against each taxpayer must be set forth separately.

(c) If the garnishee has no defense to offer or no setoff against the taxpayer, he shall within 10 days after service of the notice answer it by sending to the tax collector by registered or certified mail a statement to that effect, and if the amount demanded by the tax collector is then due to the taxpayer or subject to his demand, the garnishee shall remit it to the tax collector with his statement; but if the amount due to the taxpayer or subject to his demand is to mature in the future, the garnishee's statement shall set forth that fact, and the demand shall be paid to the tax collector upon maturity. Any payment by the garnishee under the provisions of this subsection (c) shall completely satisfy any liability therefor on his part to the taxpayer.

(d) If the garnishee has a defense or setoff against the taxpayer, he shall state it in writing under oath, and, within 10 days after service of the garnishment notice, he shall send two copies of his statement to the tax collector by registered or certified mail. If the tax collector admits the defense or setoff, he shall so advise the garnishee in writing within 10 days after receipt of the garnishee's statement, and the attachment or garnishment shall thereupon be discharged to the amount required by the defense or setoff, and any amount attached or garnished which is not affected by the defense or setoff shall be remitted to the tax collector as provided in subsection (c), above.

If the tax collector does not admit the defense or setoff, he shall set forth in writing his objections thereto and send a copy thereof to the garnishee within 10 days after receipt of the garnishee's statement, or within such further time as may be agreed on by the garnishee, and at the same time the tax collector shall file a copy of the notice of garnishment, a copy of the garnishee's statement, and a copy of the tax collector's objections thereto in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the garnishee resides or does business, where the issues made shall be tried as in civil actions.

(e) If the garnishee has not responded to the notice of garnishment as required by subsections (c) and (d), above, within 15 days after service of the notice, the tax collector may file in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the garnishee resides a copy of the notice of garnishment, accompanied by a written statement that the garnishee has not responded thereto and a request for judgment, and the issues shall be tried as in civil actions.

(f) The taxpayer may raise any defenses to the attachment or garnishment that he may have in the manner provided in subsection (d), above, for the garnishee.

(g) The fee for serving a notice of garnishment shall be the same as that charged in a civil action. If judgment is entered in favor of the taxing unit by default or after hearing, the garnishee shall become liable for the taxes, penalties, and interest due by the taxpayer, plus the fees and costs of the action, but payment shall not be required from amounts which are not to become due to the taxpayer until they actually come due. The garnishee may satisfy the judgment upon paying the amount thereof, and if he fails to do so, execution may issue as provided by law. From any judgment or order entered, either the taxing unit or the garnishee may appeal as provided by law. If, before or after judgment, adequate security is filed for the payment of the taxes, penalties, interest, and costs, the tax collector may release the attachment or garnishment, or execution may be stayed at the request of the tax collector pending appeal, but the final judgment shall be paid or enforced as above provided. If judgment is rendered against the taxing unit, it shall pay the fees and costs of the action. All fees collected by officers shall be disposed of in the same manner as other fees collected by such officers.

(h) Tax collectors may proceed against the wages, salary, or other compensation of officials and employees of this State and its agencies, instrumentalities, and political subdivisions in the manner provided in this section. If the taxpayer is an employee of the State, the notice of attachment shall be served upon him and upon the head or chief fiscal officer of the department, agency, instrumentality, or institution by which he is employed. If the taxpayer is an employee of a political subdivision of the State (county, municipality, etc.), the notice of attachment shall be served upon him and upon the officer charged with making up the payrolls of the political subdivision by which he is employed. All deductions from the wages or salary of a taxpayer made pursuant to this subsection (h) and remitted to the tax collector shall, pro tanto, constitute a satisfaction of the salary or wages due the taxpayer.

- (i) (1) Any person who, after written demand therefor, refuses to give the tax collector or assessor a list of the names and addresses of all of his employees who may be liable for taxes, shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.
- (2) Any tax collector or assessor who receives, upon his written demand, any list of employees may not release or furnish that list or any copy thereof, or disclose any name or information thereon, to any other person, and may not use that list in any manner or for any purpose not directly related to and in furtherance of the collection and foreclosure of taxes. Any tax collector or assessor who violates or allows the violation of this subdivision (i)(2) shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, s. 1713; 1951, c. 1141, s. 1; 1955, cc. 1263, 1264; 1957, c. 1414, ss. 2-4; 1969, c. 305; c. 1029, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1979, c. 103, ss. 3, 4; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1085, s. 2; 1981, c. 76, s. 1; 1987, c. 45, s. 1; 1989, c. 580, s. 2; 1993, c. 539, s. 724; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — Section 105-366 and this section, enabling a city to garnish defendant taxpayer's bank account for taxes due on a bulk sale without prior notice or hearing, do not violate the due process or equal protection rights of the taxpayer as guaranteed by the Constitutions of the United States and this State. Town of Hudson v. Martin-Kahill Ford Lincoln Mercury, Inc., 54 N.C. App. 272, 283 S.E.2d 417 (1981), cert. denied, 304 N.C. 733, 288 S.E.2d 804 (1982).

Proper notice under this statute is a prerequisite to a valid attachment. City of Durham v. Herndon, 61 N.C. App. 275, 300 S.E.2d 460 (1983).

Where the notice states the amount of taxes, penalties, interest, and assessments, the requirement of the statute even though the amount stated is not divided specifically into the stated categories and although the notice does not contain the year or years for which the taxes were imposed, this omission is not fatal since giving notice to those whose property is attached, which is the purpose of the statute. City of Durham v. Herndon, 61 N.C. App. 275, 300 S.E.2d 460 (1983).

To require the bank to establish priority by exercising the right to setoff before receiving notice of attachment would necessitate the senseless practice of requiring a garnishee bank to anticipate which accounts might potentially be attached in order to avoid losing its right to the property upon receipt of notice of attachment. In re Taxes of Bob Dance Chevrolet, 67 N.C. App. 509, 313 S.E.2d 207 (1984).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Municipal Police Officer May Serve Notice of Attachment and Garnishment within the Corporate Limits. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. J. Troy Smith, Jr., 42 N.C.A.G. 296 (1973).

Home addresses of State employees may be obtained by ad valorem tax collectors pursuant to subsection (i) of this section. See opinion of Attorney General to Dr. Sarah T. Morrow, Secretary, Department of Human Resources, 52 N.C.A.G. 85 (1983).

§ 105-369. Advertisement of tax liens on real property for failure to pay taxes.

(a) Report of Unpaid Taxes That Are Liens on Real Property. — In February of each year, the tax collector must report to the governing body the total amount of unpaid taxes for the current fiscal year that are liens on real property. A county tax collector's report is due the first Monday in February, and a municipal tax collector's report is due the second Monday in February. Upon receipt of the report, the governing body must order the tax collector to advertise the tax liens. For purposes of this section, district taxes collected by county tax collectors shall be regarded as county taxes and district taxes collected by municipal tax collectors shall be regarded as municipal taxes.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1983 (Regular Session, 1984), c. 1013.

(b1) Notice to Owner. — After the governing body orders the tax collector to advertise the tax liens, the tax collector must send a notice to the listing owner and to the record owner of each affected parcel of property, as determined as of December 31 of the fiscal year for which the taxes are due. The notice must be sent to each owner's last known address by first-class mail at least 30 days before the date the advertisement is to be published. The notice must state the principal amount of unpaid taxes that are a lien on the parcel to be advertised and inform the owner that the names of the listing owner and the record owner will appear in a newspaper advertisement of delinquent taxes if the taxes are not paid before the publication date. Failure to mail the notice required by this section to the correct listing owner or record owner does not affect the validity of the tax lien or of any foreclosure action.

(c) Time and Contents of Advertisement. — A tax collector's failure to comply with this subsection does not affect the validity of the taxes or tax liens. The county tax collector shall advertise county tax liens by posting a notice of the liens at the county courthouse and by publishing each lien at least one time in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the taxing unit. The municipal tax collector shall advertise municipal tax liens by posting a notice of the liens at the city or town hall and by publishing each lien at least one time in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the taxing unit. Advertisements of tax liens shall be made during the period March 1 through June 30. The costs of newspaper advertising shall be paid by the taxing unit. If the taxes of two or more taxing units are collected by the same tax collector, the tax liens of each unit shall be advertised separately unless, under the provisions of a special act or contractual agreement between the taxing units, joint advertisement is permitted.

The posted notice and newspaper advertisement shall set forth the following information:

- (1) In the case of property that the listing owner has not transferred after January 1 preceding the fiscal year for which the tax liens are advertised, the name of each person to whom is listed real property on which the taxing unit has a lien for unpaid taxes, in alphabetical order.
- (1a) In the case of property that the listing owner has transferred after January 1 preceding the fiscal year for which the tax liens are advertised, the name of the record owner as of December 31 of each parcel on which the taxing unit has a lien for unpaid taxes, in alphabetical order, followed by a notation that the property was transferred to the record owner and a notation of the name of the listing owner.
- (1b) After the information required by subdivision (1) or (1a) of this subsection for each parcel, a brief description of each parcel of land to which a lien has attached and a statement of the principal amount of the taxes constituting a lien against the parcel.
- (2) A statement that the amounts advertised will be increased by interest and costs and that the omission of interest and costs from the amounts advertised will not constitute waiver of the taxing unit's claim for those items.
- (3) In the event the list of tax liens has been divided for purposes of advertisement in more than one newspaper, a statement of the names of all newspapers in which advertisements will appear and the dates on which they will be published.
- (4) A statement that the taxing unit may foreclose the tax liens and sell the real property subject to the liens in satisfaction of its claim for taxes.

(d) Costs. — Each parcel of real property advertised pursuant to this section shall be assessed an advertising fee to cover the actual cost of the advertisement. Actual advertising costs per parcel shall be determined by the tax collector on any reasonable basis. Advertising costs assessed pursuant to this subsection are taxes.

(e) Payments during Advertising Period. — At any time during the advertisement period, any parcel may be withdrawn from the list by payment of the taxes plus interest that has accrued to the time of payment and a proportionate part of the advertising fee to be determined by the tax collector. Thereafter, the tax collector shall delete that parcel from any subsequent advertisement, but the tax collector is not liable for failure to make the deletion.

(f) Listing and Advertising in Wrong Name. — No tax lien is void because the real property to which the lien attached was listed or advertised in the name of a person other than the person in whose name the property should have been listed for taxation if the property was in other respects correctly described on the abstract or in the advertisement.

(g) Wrongful Advertisement. — Any tax collector or deputy tax collector who willfully advertises any tax lien knowing that the property is not subject to taxation or that the taxes advertised have been paid is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor, and shall be required to pay the injured party all damages sustained in consequence. (1939, c. 310, s. 1715; 1955, c. 993; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1983, c. 808, s. 1; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1013; 1993, c. 539, s. 725; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1999-439, s. 1; 2000-140, s. 73.)

Editor's Note. — Subdivision (b1) has been designated as such at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Session Laws 1983, c. 808, which rewrote this section, provided in s. 12 that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983, and in s. 13 provided: "Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-439, s. 1, effective January 1, 2001, rewrote subsection (a); added subsection (b1); inserted the first sentence of subsection (c); deleted parentheses enclosing the last sentence of the first paragraph of subsection (c); rewrote former subdivision (c)(1) as present subdivision (c)(1) and (c)(1b); added subdivision (c)(1a); deleted a former final sentence of subsection (c), which read "Failure to comply until this subsection does not affect the validity of the taxes or tax liens"; substituted "this subsection" for "this subdivision (d)" and "are" for "shall be deemed to be" in subsection (d); substituted "the tax collector is not liable for" for "if he fails to do so he shall not be liable for his" in subsection (e); substituted "is" for "shall be" in subsections (f) and (g); substituted "advertises" for "advertise" in subsection (g); and made minor stylistic changes.

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 73, effective January 1, 2001, substituted "owner that the names of the listing owner and the record owner" for "listing owner that his or her name" in subsection (b1).

CASE NOTES

Judgment Is Lien on All Property Owned by Debtor. — A judgment for taxes is a lien on all of the property owned by the judgment debtor in the county. Goldsboro Milling Co. v. Reaves, 804 F. Supp. 762 (E.D.N.C. 1991).

Power to sell real estate for taxes was repealed by Session Laws 1939, c. 310, and the sheriff or tax collector is limited to the sale of the tax lien. Crandall v. Clemmons, 222 N.C. 225, 22 S.E.2d 448 (1942).

Tax lien can be enforced only by an action in the county in which the land is situated in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage. Crandall v. Clemmons, 222 N.C. 225, 22 S.E.2d 448 (1942). See §§ 105-374 and 105-375.

Newspaper Must Meet "General Circulation" Requirements of Both Subsection (d) and § 1-597. — In order to qualify to publish notices of tax lien sales a newspaper must meet the "general circulation" requirements of both subsection (d) of this section, and § 1-597. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304

N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Reading both § 1-597 and subsection (d) of this section together and giving effect to each, in order for a newspaper to qualify to publish notices of tax lien sales it must be a newspaper of general circulation to actual paid subscribers in the taxing unit. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

This Section and § 1-597 Do Not Conflict. — The “general circulation” provision in subsection (d) of this section does not conflict with its counterpart in § 1-597. It simply specifies the geographic area, i.e., “the taxing unit” in which there must be a newspaper of general circulation and the times at which publication must be made. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

General Circulation to Actual Paid Subscribers in Taxing Unit. — For a newspaper to be one of general circulation to actual paid subscribers in the taxing unit it must meet a four-pronged test: first, it must have a content that appeals to the public generally; second, it must have more than a de minimis number of actual paid subscribers in the taxing unit; third, its paid subscriber distribution must not be entirely limited geographically to one community, or section, of the taxing unit; and fourth, it must be available to anyone in the taxing unit who wishes to subscribe to it. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Contents Are Primary Consideration. — The term “general circulation,” when applied to newspapers, refers not so much to the numerical or geographic distribution of the newspaper as it does to the contents of the paper itself. The primary consideration is whether the newspaper contains information of general interest. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

But Quantitative Aspects Also Considered. — Although courts have focused on content in defining “general circulation,” the term is not devoid of quantitative aspects. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

More Than De Minimis Number of Readers Required. — In order to satisfy the quantitative considerations inherent in the term “general circulation,” a newspaper must enjoy more than a de minimis number of readers in the taxing unit; this number must not be so insignificant that the newspaper simply fails to reach a diverse group of people in the area prescribed. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Need for more than de minimis number of paid subscribers does not mean that those subscribers must be evenly distributed in every city, town or section of the county or taxing unit, nor must publication be in the paper with the widest geographical distribution in the county. Neither § 1-597 nor subsection (d) of this section so require. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Whether newspaper has de minimis number of subscribers must always be determined in context. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Only Actual Paid Subscribers May Be Considered. — To determine whether more than a de minimis number of readers exists, only actual paid subscribers may be considered. Great S. Media, Inc. v. McDowell County, 304 N.C. 427, 284 S.E.2d 457 (1981).

Cancellation of Lien on Specific Parcel. — Any time before the taxes have been reduced to a judgment, one may pay the real property taxes accrued on a specific parcel, with a pro-rata portion of any personal property taxes and advertising expenses, and have that parcel released from all tax liens. Goldsboro Milling Co. v. Reeves, 804 F. Supp. 762 (E.D.N.C. 1991).

Cited in Henderson County v. Osteen, 28 N.C. App. 542, 221 S.E.2d 903 (1976); Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977); Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

§§ 105-370 through 105-372: Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 808, ss. 2-4.

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1983, c. 808, s. 12, provided that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983.

Session Laws 1983, c. 808, s. 13, provided: “Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale.”

§ 105-373. Settlements.

(a) Annual Settlement of Tax Collector. —

(1) Preliminary Report. — After July 1 and before he is charged with taxes for the current fiscal year, the tax collector shall make a sworn report to the governing body of the taxing unit showing:

- a. A list of the persons owning real property whose taxes for the preceding fiscal year remain unpaid and the principal amount owed by each person; and
- b. A list of the persons not owning real property whose personal property taxes for the preceding fiscal year remain unpaid and the principal amount owed by each person. (To this list the tax collector shall append his statement under oath that he has made diligent efforts to collect the taxes due from the persons listed out of their personal property and by other means available to him for collection, and he shall report such other information concerning these taxpayers as may be of interest to or required by the governing body, including a report of his efforts to make collection outside the taxing unit under the provisions of G.S. 105-364.) The governing body of the taxing unit may publish this list in any newspaper in the taxing unit. The cost of publishing this list shall be paid by the taxing unit.

(2) Insolvents. — Upon receiving the report required by subdivision (a)(1), above the governing body of the taxing unit shall enter upon its minutes the names of persons owing taxes (but who listed no real property) whom it finds to be insolvent, and it shall by resolution designate the list entered in its minutes as the insolvent list to be credited to the tax collector in his settlement.

(3) Settlement for Current Taxes. — After July 1 and before he is charged with taxes for the current fiscal year, the tax collector shall make full settlement with the governing body of the taxing unit for all taxes in his hands for collection for the preceding fiscal year.

a. In the settlement the tax collector shall be charged with:

1. The total amount of all taxes in his hands for collection for the year, including amounts originally charged to him and all amounts subsequently charged on account of discoveries;
2. All penalties, interest, and costs collected by him in connection with taxes for the current year; and
3. All other sums collected by him.

b. The tax collector shall be credited with:

1. All sums representing taxes for the year deposited by him to the credit of the taxing unit or receipted for by a proper official of the unit;
2. Releases duly allowed by the governing body;
3. The principal amount of taxes constituting liens on real property;
4. The principal amount of taxes included in the insolvent list determined in accordance with subdivision (a)(2), above;
5. Discounts allowed by law; and
6. Commissions (if any) lawfully payable to the tax collector as compensation.

The tax collector shall be liable on his bond for both honesty and faithful performance of duty; for any deficiencies; and, in addition, for all criminal penalties provided by law.

The settlement, together with the action of the governing body with respect thereto, shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body.

- (4) Disposition of Tax Receipts after Settlement. — Uncollected taxes allowed as credits in the settlement prescribed in subdivision (a)(3), above, whether represented by tax liens held by the taxing unit or included in the list of insolvents, shall, for purposes of collection, be recharged to the tax collector or charged to some other person designated by the governing body of the taxing unit under statutory authority. The person charged with uncollected taxes shall:

- a. Give bond satisfactory to the governing body;
- b. Receive the tax receipts and tax records representing the uncollected taxes;
- c. Have and exercise all powers and duties conferred or imposed by law upon tax collectors; and
- d. Receive compensation as determined by the governing body.

(b) Settlements for Delinquent Taxes. — Annually, at the time prescribed for the settlement provided in subdivision (a)(3), above, all persons having in their hands for collection any taxes for years prior to the year involved in the settlement shall settle with the governing body of the taxing unit for collections made on each such year's taxes. The settlement for the taxes for prior years shall be made in whatever form is satisfactory to the chief accounting officer and the governing body of the taxing unit, and it shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body.

(c) Settlement at End of Term. — Whenever any tax collector fails to succeed himself at the end of his term of office, he shall, on the last business day of his term, make full and complete settlement for all taxes (current or delinquent) in his hands and deliver the tax records, tax receipts, tax sale certificates, and accounts to his successor in office. The settlement shall be made in whatever form is satisfactory to the chief accounting officer and the governing body of the taxing unit, and it shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body.

(d) Settlement upon Vacancy during Term. — When a tax collector voluntarily resigns, he shall, upon his last day in office, make full settlement (in the manner provided in subsection (c), above) for all taxes in his hands for collection. In default of such a settlement, or in case of a vacancy occurring during a term for any reason, it shall be the duty of the chief accounting officer or, in the discretion of the governing body, of some other qualified person appointed by it immediately to prepare and submit to the governing body a report in the nature of a settlement made on behalf of the former tax collector. The report, together with the governing body's action with respect thereto, shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body. Whenever a settlement must be made in behalf of a former tax collector, as provided in this subsection (d), the governing body may deliver the tax receipts, tax records, and tax sale certificates to a successor collector immediately upon the occurrence of the vacancy, or it may make whatever temporary arrangements for the collection of taxes as may be expedient, but in no event shall any person be permitted to collect taxes until he has given bond satisfactory to the governing body.

(e) Effect of Approval of Settlement. — Approval of any settlement by the governing body does not relieve the tax collector or his bondsmen of liability for any shortage actually existing at the time of the settlement and thereafter discovered; nor does it relieve the collector of any criminal liability.

(f) Penalties. — In addition to any other civil or criminal penalties provided by law, any member of a governing body of a taxing unit, tax collector, or chief accounting officer who fails to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

(g) Relief from Collecting Insolvents. — The governing body of any taxing unit may, in its discretion, relieve the tax collector of the charge of taxes owed by persons on the insolvent list that are five or more years past due when it appears to the governing body that such taxes are uncollectible.

(h) Relief from Collecting Taxes on Classified Motor Vehicles. The board of county commissioners may, in its discretion, relieve the tax collector of the charge of taxes on classified motor vehicles listed pursuant to G.S. 105-330.3(a)(1) that are one year or more past due when it appears to the board that the taxes are uncollectible. This relief, when granted, shall include municipal and special district taxes charged to the collector. (1939, c. 310, s. 1719; 1945, c. 635; 1947, c. 484, ss. 3, 4; 1951, c. 300, s. 1; c. 1036, s. 1; 1953, c. 176, s. 2; 1955, c. 908; 1967, c. 705, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1983, c. 670, s. 22; c. 808, ss. 5-7; 1987, c. 16; 1991, c. 624, s. 3; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 961, s. 10; 1993, c. 539, s. 726; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c); 1997-456, s. 27.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1983, c. 808, which amended this section, provided in s. 12 that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983, and in s. 13 provided: "Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale."

In subdivision (a)(3), the first subdivisions (a)(3)a. through (a)(3)c. were redesignated as subdivisions (a)(3)a.1. through (a)(3)a.3., and the second subdivisions (a)(3)a. through (a)(3)f. were redesignated as subdivisions (a)(3)b.1. through (a)(3)b.6. pursuant to Session Laws 1997-456, s. 27, which authorized the Revisor of Statutes to renumber or reletter sections and parts of sections having a number or letter designations that is incompatible with the General Assembly's computer database.

CASE NOTES

Legislative Power to Penalize. — The legislature has the power to impose penalties on the tax collector for his delay or failure to make settlement with the proper county authorities within a stated time. The power to coerce prompt collection and settlement of taxes is no less necessary than the power to levy and assess them, and both are essential to the maintenance of the government. State ex rel. Lovingood v. Gentry, 183 N.C. 825, 112 S.E. 427 (1922).

An extension of time, within which a sheriff may settle State taxes, does not exonerate the sureties upon his bond. Worth v. Cox, 89 N.C. 44 (1883), decided under former statute.

§ 105-374. Foreclosure of tax lien by action in nature of action to foreclose a mortgage.

(a) General Nature of Action. — The foreclosure action authorized by this section shall be instituted in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice in the county in which the real property is situated and shall be an action in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage.

(b) Taxing units may proceed under this section, either on the original tax lien created by G.S. 105-355(a) or on the lien acquired at a tax lien sale held under former G.S. 105-369 before July 1, 1983, with or without a lien sale certificate; and the amount of recovery in either case shall be the same. To this end, it is hereby declared that the original attachment of the tax lien under G.S. 105-355(a) is sufficient to support a tax foreclosure action by a taxing unit, that the issuance of a lien sale certificate to the taxing unit for lien sales held before July 1, 1983, is a matter of convenience in record keeping within the discretion of the governing body of the taxing unit, and that issuance of such certificates is not a prerequisite to perfection of the tax lien.

(c) Parties; Summonses. — The listing taxpayer and spouse (if any), the current owner, all other taxing units having tax liens, all other lienholders of record, and all persons who would be entitled to be made parties to a court action (in which no deficiency judgment is sought) to foreclose a mortgage on such property, shall be made parties and served with summonses in the manner provided by G.S. 1A-1, Rule 4.

The fact that the listing taxpayer or any other defendant is a minor, is incompetent, or is under any other disability shall not prevent or delay the tax lien sale or the foreclosure of the tax lien; and all such persons shall be made parties and served with summons in the same manner as in other civil actions.

Persons who have disappeared or who cannot be located and persons whose names and whereabouts are unknown, and all possible heirs or assignees of such persons, may be served by publication; and such persons, their heirs, and assignees may be designated by general description or by fictitious names in such an action.

(c1) Lienholders Separately Designated. — The word “lienholder” shall appear immediately after the name of each lienholder (including trustees and beneficiaries in deeds of trust, and holders of judgment liens) whose name appears in the caption of any action instituted under the provisions of this section. Such designation is intended to make clear to the public the capacity of such persons which necessitated their having been made parties to such action. Failure to add such designation to captions shall not constitute grounds for attacking the validity of actions brought under this section, or titles to real property derived from such actions.

(d) Complaint as Lis Pendens. — The complaint in an action brought under this section shall, from the time it is filed in the office of the clerk of superior court, serve as notice of the pendency of the foreclosure action, and every person whose interest in the real property is subsequently acquired or whose interest therein is subsequently registered or recorded shall be bound by all proceedings taken in the foreclosure action after the filing of the complaint in the same manner as if those persons had been made parties to the action. It shall not be necessary to have the complaint cross-indexed as a notice of action pending to have the effect prescribed by this subsection (d).

(e) Subsequent Taxes. — The complaint in a tax foreclosure action brought under this section by a taxing unit shall, in addition to alleging the tax lien on which the action is based, include a general allegation of subsequent taxes which are or may become a lien on the same real property in favor of the plaintiff unit. Thereafter it shall not be necessary to amend the complaint to incorporate the subsequent taxes by specific allegation. In case of redemption before confirmation of the foreclosure sale, the person redeeming shall be required to pay, before the foreclosure action is discontinued, at least all taxes on the real property which have at the time of discontinuance become due to the plaintiff unit, plus penalties, interest, and costs thereon. Immediately prior to judgment ordering sale in a foreclosure action (if there has been no redemption prior to that time), the tax collector or the attorney for the plaintiff unit shall file in the action a certificate setting forth all taxes which are a lien on the real property in favor of the plaintiff unit (other than taxes the amount of which has not been definitely determined).

Any plaintiff in a tax foreclosure action (other than a taxing unit) may include in his complaint, originally or by amendment, all other taxes and special assessments paid by him which were liens on the same real property.

(f) Joinder of Parcels. — All real property within the taxing unit subject to liens for taxes levied against the same taxpayer for the first year involved in the foreclosure action may be joined in one action. However, if real property is transferred by the listing taxpayer subsequent to the first year involved in the foreclosure action, all subsequent taxes, penalties, interest, and costs (for which the property is ordered sold under the terms of this Subchapter) shall be prorated to such property in the same manner as if payments were being made to release such property from the tax lien under the provisions of G.S. 105-356(b).

(g) Special Benefit Assessments. — A cause of action for the foreclosure of the lien of any special benefit assessments may be included in any complaint filed under this section.

(h) Joint Foreclosure by Two or More Taxing Units. — Liens of different taxing units on the same parcel of real property, representing taxes in the hands of the same tax collector, shall be foreclosed in one action. Liens of different taxing units on the same parcel of real property, representing taxes in the hands of different tax collectors, may be foreclosed in one action in the discretion of the governing bodies of the taxing units.

The lien of any taxing unit made a party defendant in any foreclosure action shall be alleged in an answer filed by the taxing unit, and the tax collector of each answering unit shall, prior to judgment ordering sale, file a certificate of subsequent taxes similar to that filed by the tax collector of the plaintiff unit, and the taxes of each answering unit shall be of equal dignity with the taxes of the plaintiff unit. Any answering unit may, in case of payment of the plaintiff unit's taxes, continue the foreclosure action until all taxes due to it have been paid, and it shall not be necessary for any answering unit to file a separate foreclosure action or to proceed under G.S. 105-375 with respect to any such taxes.

If a taxing unit properly served as a party defendant in a foreclosure action fails to answer and file the certificate provided for in the preceding paragraph, all of its taxes shall be barred by the judgment of sale except to the extent that the purchase price at the foreclosure sale (after payment of costs and of the liens of all taxing units whose liens are properly alleged by complaint or answer and certificates) may be sufficient to pay such taxes. However, if a defendant taxing unit is plaintiff in another foreclosure action pending against the same property, or if it has begun a proceeding under G.S. 105-375, its answer may allege that fact in lieu of alleging its liens, and the court, in its discretion, may order consolidation of such actions or such other disposition thereof (and such disposition of the costs therein) as it may deem advisable. Any such order may be made by the clerk of the superior court, subject to appeal as provided in G.S. 1-301.1.

(i) Costs. — Subject to the provisions of this subsection (i), costs may be taxed in any foreclosure action brought under this section in the same manner as in other civil actions. When costs are collected, either by payment prior to the sale or upon payment of the purchase price at the foreclosure sale, the fees allowed officers shall be paid to those entitled to receive them. In foreclosure actions in which the plaintiff is a taxing unit, no prosecution bond shall be required.

The word "costs," as used in this subsection (i), shall be construed to include one reasonable attorney's fee for the plaintiff in such amount as the court shall, in its discretion, determine and allow. When a taxing unit is made a party defendant in a tax foreclosure action and files answer therein, there may be included in the costs an attorney's fee for the defendant unit in such amount as the court shall, in its discretion, determine and allow. The governing body of any taxing unit may, in its discretion, pay a smaller or greater sum than that allowed as costs to its attorney as a suit fee, and the governing body may allow a reasonable commission to its attorney on taxes collected by him after they have been placed in his hands; or the governing body may arrange with its attorney for the handling of tax foreclosure suits on a salary basis or may make any other reasonable agreement with its attorney or attorneys. Any arrangement made between a taxing unit and its attorney may provide that attorneys' fees collected as costs in foreclosure actions be collected for the use of the taxing unit.

In any foreclosure action in which real property is actually sold after judgment, costs shall include a commissioner's fee to be fixed by the court, not exceeding five percent (5%) of the purchase price; and in case of redemption between the date of sale and the order of confirmation, the fee shall be added to the amount otherwise necessary for redemption. In case more than one sale is made of the same property in any action, the commissioner's fee may be based on the highest amount bid, but the commissioner shall not be allowed a separate fee for each such sale. The governing body of any plaintiff unit may request the court to appoint as commissioner a salaried official, attorney, or employee of the unit and, when the requested appointment is made, may require that the commissioner's fees, when collected, be paid to the plaintiff unit for its use.

(j) Contested Actions. — Any action brought under this section in which an answer raising an issue requiring trial is filed within the time allowed by law shall be entitled to a preference as to time of trial over all other civil actions.

(k) Judgment of Sale. — Any judgment in favor of the plaintiff or any defendant taxing unit in an action brought under this section shall order the sale of the real property or as much as may be necessary for the satisfaction of all of the following:

- (1) Taxes adjudged to be liens in favor of the plaintiff (other than taxes the amount of which has not been definitely determined) together with penalties, interest, and costs thereon.
- (2) Taxes adjudged to be liens in favor of other taxing units (other than taxes the amount of which has not yet been definitely determined) if those taxes have been alleged in answers filed by the other taxing units, together with penalties, interest, and costs thereon.

The judgment shall appoint a commissioner to conduct the sale and shall order that the property be sold in fee simple, free and clear of all interests, rights, claims, and liens whatever except that the sale shall be subject to taxes the amount of which cannot be definitely determined at the time of the judgment, taxes and special assessments of taxing units which are not parties to the action, and, in the discretion of the court, taxes alleged in other tax foreclosure actions or proceedings pending against the same real property.

In all cases in which no answer is filed within the time allowed by law, and in cases in which answers filed do not seek to prevent sale of said property, the clerk of the superior court may enter the judgment, subject to appeal as provided in G.S. 1-301.1.

(l) Advertisement of Sale. — The sale shall be advertised, and all necessary resales shall be advertised, in the manner provided by Article 29A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes or by any statute enacted in substitution therefor.

(m) Sale. — The sale shall be by public auction to the highest bidder and shall, in accordance with the judgment, be held at the courthouse door on any day of the week except a Sunday or legal holiday. (In actions brought by a municipality that is not a county seat, the court may, in its discretion, direct that the sale be held at the city or town hall door.) The commissioner conducting the sale may, in his discretion, require from any successful bidder a deposit equal to not more than twenty percent (20%) of his bid, which deposit, in the event that the bidder refuses to take title and a resale becomes necessary, shall be applied to pay the costs of sale and any loss resulting. (However, this provision shall not deprive the commissioner of his right to sue for specific performance of the contract.) No deposit shall be required of a taxing unit that has made the highest bid at the foreclosure sale.

(n) Report of Sale. — Within three days following the foreclosure sale the commissioner shall report the sale to the court giving full particulars thereof.

(o) Exceptions and Increased Bids. — At any time within 10 days after the commissioner files his report of the foreclosure sale, any person having an interest in the real property may file exceptions to the report, and at any time within that 10-day period an increased bid may be filed in the amount specified by and subject to the provisions (other than provisions in conflict herewith) of Article 29A of Chapter 1 of the General Statutes or the provisions (other than provisions in conflict herewith) of any law enacted in substitution therefor. In the absence of exceptions or increased bids, the court may, whenever it deems such action necessary for the best interests of the parties, order resale of the property.

(p) Judgment of Confirmation. — At any time after the expiration of 10 days from the time the commissioner files his report, if no exception or increased bid has been filed, the commissioner may apply for judgment of confirmation, and in like manner he may apply for such a judgment after the court has passed upon exceptions filed, or after any necessary resales have been held and reported and 10 days have elapsed. The judgment of confirmation shall direct the commissioner to deliver the deed upon payment of the purchase price. This judgment may be entered by the clerk of superior court subject to appeal as provided in G.S. 1-301.1.

(q) Application of Proceeds; Commissioner's Final Report. — After delivery of the deed and collection of the purchase price, the commissioner shall apply the proceeds as follows:

- (1) First, to payment of all costs of the action, including the commissioner's fee and the attorney's fee, which costs shall be paid to the officials or funds entitled thereto;
- (2) Then to the payment of taxes, penalties, and interest for which the real property was ordered to be sold, and in case the funds remaining are insufficient for this purpose, they shall be distributed pro rata to the various taxing units for whose taxes the property was ordered sold;
- (3) Then pro rata to the payment of any special benefit assessments for which the property was ordered sold, together with interest and costs thereon;
- (4) Then pro rata to payment of taxes, penalties, interest, and costs of taxing units that were parties to the foreclosure action but which filed no answers therein;
- (5) Then pro rata to payment of special benefit assessments of taxing units that were parties to the foreclosure action but which filed no answers therein, together with interest and costs thereon;
- (6) And any balance then remaining shall be paid in accordance with any directions given by the court and, in the absence of such directions, shall be paid into court for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto. (If the clerk is in doubt as to who is entitled to the surplus or if any adverse claims are asserted thereto, the clerk shall hold the surplus until rights thereto are established in a special proceeding pursuant to G.S. 1-339.71.)

Within five days after delivering the deed, the commissioner shall make a full report to the court showing delivery of the deed, receipt of the purchase price, and the disbursement of the proceeds, accompanied by receipts evidencing all such disbursements.

(r) Purchase and Resale by Taxing Unit. — The rights of a taxing unit to purchase real property at a foreclosure sale and resell it are governed by G.S. 105-376. (1939, c. 310, s. 1719; 1945, c. 635; 1947, c. 484, ss. 3, 4; 1951, c. 300, s. 1; c. 1036, s. 1; 1953, c. 176, s. 2; 1955, c. 908; 1967, c. 705, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 788, s. 1; 1981, c. 580; 1983, c. 808, s. 8; 1999-216, ss. 14-16.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1983, c. 808, which amended this section, provided in s. 12 that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983, and in s. 13 provided: "Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-216, s. 14, effective January 1, 2000, and applicable to all orders or judgments subject to Session Laws 1999-216 that are entered on or after that date, in the last paragraph of subsection (h), substituted “as provided in G.S. 1-301.1” for “in the same manner as appeals are taken from other orders of the clerk” and made a minor punctuation change.

Session Laws 1999-216, s. 15, effective January 1, 2000, and applicable to all orders or judgments subject to Session Laws 1999-216 that are entered on or after that date, in the introductory language of subsection (k), substituted “as much” for “so much thereof” and added “all of the following,” in subdivision

(k)(1), deleted “and” following “thereon,” and in the last paragraph of subsection (k), substituted “enter” for “render” and substituted “as provided in G.S. 1-301.1” for “in the same manner as appeals are taken from other judgments of the clerk.”

Session Laws 1999-216, s. 16, effective January 1, 2000, and applicable to all orders or judgments subject to Session Laws 1999-216 that are entered on or after that date, in subsection (p), substituted “entered” for “rendered” and substituted “as provided in G.S. 1-301.1” for “in the same manner as appeals are taken from other judgments of the clerk.”

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Section 105-375 was enacted as an alternative to this section which authorizes tax foreclosures by actions in nature of action to foreclose mortgage. Jenkins v. Richmond County, 99 N.C. App. 717, 394 S.E.2d 258 (1990), discretionary review denied, 328 N.C. 572, 403 S.E.2d 512 (1991).

There are two distinct alternate methods provided by statute for the foreclosure of a tax sale certificate or the lien evidenced thereby: 1. After the land has been sold by the tax collector and a certificate of sale has been issued, the purchaser may institute an action to foreclose the lien evidenced by the certificate. This section provides the regulations and procedure respecting an action instituted pursuant to this method. 2. Under § 105-375 the taxing unit may file in the office of the clerk of the superior court a certificate of sale of land to satisfy taxes. Thereupon, the clerk must docket the certificate upon his judgment docket. It then has the full force and effect of a judgment, and execution may issue thereon against the property of the tax debtor. Boone v. Sparrow, 235 N.C. 396, 70 S.E.2d 204 (1952).

Prescribed Remedy Optional with State. — The fact that the Revenue Act prescribes a specific remedy for the collection of taxes does not restrict the State to pursue that method, nor preclude it from seeking the aid of the superior court through a creditor's suit. The specific remedy pointed out restricts only the officers who collect only the revenue and not the sovereign. State v. Georgia Co., 112 N.C. 34, 17 S.E. 10 (1893).

Summary Proceeding Unnecessary. — Where the legislature has authorized a municipality to collect back taxes, and in an action for that purpose it appears that the taxes of the defendant are due, and were properly assessed against lots of land within the limits of the municipality subject to the lien therefor it is not necessary that the plaintiffs should first have resorted to the summary method of levy and sale, for recourse may be had directly by suit to foreclose the lien, under this section. City of Wilmington v. Moore, 170 N.C. 52, 86 S.E. 775 (1915); Muddy Creek Drainage Comm'n v. Epley, 190 N.C. 672, 130 S.E. 497 (1925).

Suit for foreclosure of tax liens is a civil action, and not a special proceeding. This is made plain by the specific declaration of this section that “the foreclosure action . . . shall be an action in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage.” Chappell v. Stallings, 237 N.C. 213, 74 S.E.2d 624 (1953).

Consolidation of Actions. — Where actions are pending in the same court, at the same time, between the same parties and involving substantially the same facts, they may be consolidated. The principle applies to tax foreclosure suits. McIver Park v. Brinn, 223 N.C. 502, 27 S.E.2d 548 (1943).

Effect of Failure of Owners to List Property for Taxes. — The jurisdiction of the superior court to determine the liability of the land for taxes was not defeated by a finding that the owners — defendants in the action — had not listed the property for taxes. County of Franklin v. Jones, 245 N.C. 272, 95 S.E.2d 863 (1957).

Benefits of subsection (e) apply only to taxing units, not private citizens. Keener v. Korn, 46 N.C. App. 214, 264 S.E.2d 829 (1980).

Taxes Due after Commencement of Action. — Where a county brings suit to foreclose a tax lien on the lands of the taxpayer and draws its complaint according to the provisions of this section, other taxes due after the commencement of the action are properly included in the judgment therein rendered in its favor. New Hanover County v. Whiteman, 190 N.C. 332, 129 S.E. 808 (1925).

Tax Collector Has No Lien Where Check Returned Unpaid. — The fact that a county tax collector accepted a check in payment for taxes, and the check was returned unpaid, and the collector in his settlement with the county paid the taxes in question, does not give him a lien which may be enforced under this section. The collector having failed to correct the tax record so as to show the check returned and the taxes unpaid, the tax lien was not reinstated. Miller v. Neal, 222 N.C. 540, 23 S.E.2d 852 (1943).

Taxes Not Subject to Setoff or Counterclaim. — Taxes are not debts in the ordinary sense of the word and they do not rest upon contract or consent of the taxpayer. Pleas of setoff and counterclaim are not allowed because to do so would delay the collection and payment of taxes, and would deprive the government of means of performing its functions. State ex rel. Graded Sch. v. McDowell, 157 N.C. 316, 72 S.E. 1083 (1911); Commissioners of Yancey County v. Hall, 177 N.C. 490, 99 S.E. 372 (1919).

In a suit by a town against defendants to foreclose a tax lien where defendants set up defense by answer and also a counterclaim, motion to strike the counterclaim and order thereon was proper, but the other defenses were unaffected thereby. Town of Apex v. Templeton, 223 N.C. 645, 27 S.E.2d 617 (1943).

Amount of Interest Recoverable. — Since no rate of interest was fixed by the section, only six percent interest was held recoverable. City of Wilmington v. Stolter, 122 N.C. 395, 30 S.E. 12 (1898).

Judgment Is Lien in Rem. — In an action to foreclose a lien for delinquent taxes or special assessments, the judgment obtained in said action constitutes a lien in rem, and the owner of the property is not personally liable for the payment thereof. Town of Apex v. Templeton, 223 N.C. 645, 27 S.E.2d 617 (1943).

Order of Foreclosure Restricted to Land Described in Complaint. — Where the complaint describes the real estate sought to be foreclosed to enforce the tax lien, the order of foreclosure is restricted to the described parcels, and so much of the judgment as authorizes the sale of other lands is in excess of the jurisdiction of the court. Miller v. McConnell, 226 N.C. 28, 36 S.E.2d 722 (1946).

Sale with No Other Notice Than Posting and Publication Offends Due Process. — Where the statutory alternative to foreclosure by court action as prescribed in § 105-391 (now this section), is a sale without any notice except by posting and publication, the statutory alternative offends the fundamental concept of due process of law. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Effect of Failure to Allege Collection of Costs and Fees. — In an action by an ex clerk of the superior court against a county for the recovery of fees allegedly due such clerk in tax foreclosure suits by the county, the complaint, alleging that all of the tax suits in question were prosecuted to judgment against the various defendants, without any allegation or admission that in any of the suits the costs or fees were collected and turned over to the county, is demurrable as not stating a cause of action, the county being under no obligation to pay costs and officer's fees in advance, or ever unless collected. Watson v. Lee County, 224 N.C. 508, 31 S.E.2d 535 (1944).

Purported Adverse Possessor Not Entitled to Personal Notice. — Where a city, in a foreclosure action, gave personal notice to all the record owners of the property in question and notice by publication to all others having an interest in the disputed property who could not with due diligence be located, it was not required to give personal notice to a purported adverse possessor whose purported interest was not recorded. Overstreet v. City of Raleigh, 75 N.C. App. 351, 330 S.E.2d 643 (1985).

Judgment Foreclosing Tax Lien Extinguished All Rights. — The effect of a judgment foreclosing a tax lien on real property was to extinguish all rights, title and interests in the property subject to foreclosure, including a claim based on adverse possession. The interest in the disputed property acquired by the purchaser at the tax foreclosure sale was fee simple and the purchaser's title defeated the claims of ownership based on adverse possession. Overstreet v. City of Raleigh, 75 N.C. App. 351, 330 S.E.2d 643 (1985).

Applied in Keener v. Korn, 46 N.C. App. 214, 264 S.E.2d 829 (1980); Guilford County v. Boyan, 49 N.C. App. 430, 272 S.E.2d 1 (1980); City of Durham v. Hicks, 135 N.C. App. 699, 522 S.E.2d 583 (1999).

Cited in Henderson County v. Osteen, 28 N.C. App. 542, 221 S.E.2d 903 (1976); Bradbury v. Cummings, 68 N.C. App. 302, 314 S.E.2d 568 (1984).

II. PARTIES TO ACTIONS.

Necessary Parties. — In an action to foreclose a tax lien all persons having an interest in the equity of redemption must be made parties by name, and judgment rendered in such proceeding is void as to persons having such interest who are not made parties. City of Wilmington v. Merrick, 231 N.C. 297, 56 S.E.2d 643 (1949).

Owner of remainder subject to a life estate is a necessary party in an action to foreclose a tax lien. Board of Comm'rs v. Bumpass, 233 N.C. 190, 63 S.E.2d 144 (1951).

Class Representation of Contingent Remaindermen. — In an action to enforce the lien for taxes against lands affected by a contingent limitation over, in which each class of contingent remaindermen is represented by defendants actually served and answering, the judgment is binding upon all contingent remaindermen by class representation. Rodman v. Norman, 221 N.C. 320, 20 S.E.2d 294 (1942).

Failure to Join Heirs and Devisees Where Owners Deceased. — In an action to enforce the lien for taxes, each person having an estate in the land is a necessary party if his equity of redemption is to be barred, and where at the time of the institution of the proceeding the persons named in the summons and complaint as owners of the land are dead, and their heirs or devisees are not made parties, judgment of foreclosure and sale of the land thereunder cannot divest the title of the heirs or devisees. Page v. Miller, 252 N.C. 23, 113 S.E.2d 52 (1960).

Tax Sale of Land Owned by Minors. — A judgment decreeing foreclosure and ordering sale of land for taxes was not void on the ground that three of the defendants were minors where the court upon learning of such fact appointed a guardian ad litem for the minors who filed an answer prior to the date of the tax sale. County of Franklin v. Jones, 245 N.C. 272, 95 S.E.2d 863 (1957).

Receiver of a drainage district may proceed in an action in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage under this section for the collection of such drainage assessments. Nesbit v. Kafer, 222 N.C. 48, 21 S.E.2d 903 (1942).

III. ADEQUACY OF PURCHASE PRICE.

Court has authority to reject bid made at foreclosure sale of a tax sale certificate and order a resale, even in the absence of exceptions of an increased bid, under the provisions of subsection (o). Bladen County v. Squires, 219 N.C. 649, 14 S.E.2d 665 (1941).

Finding of Inadequacy Five Years Later. — A tax sale confirmed by the court was not rendered void by a finding five years later that the purchase price was unjust and inadequate. County of Franklin v. Jones, 245 N.C. 272, 95 S.E.2d 863 (1957).

Fraud, Suppression, or Unfairness Must

Be Shown. — In an action to foreclose a tax lien on land, the mere inadequacy of the price bid therefor is not sufficient to avoid the sale and cancel the deed to the purchaser, unless some element of fraud, suppression of bidding, or other unfairness in the sale appears. Duplin County v. Ezzell, 223 N.C. 531, 27 S.E.2d 448 (1943).

IV. EXCEPTIONS.

When Exceptions Must Be Filed. — It is manifest that subsections (n), (o) and (p) require a person having an interest in the property involved in a tax foreclosure action to file exceptions to the report of a particular sale and to appeal from an adverse ruling on such exceptions when, and only when, his exceptions challenge the validity of the steps taken by the commissioner in conducting the particular sale, or the fairness of the particular sale in respect to price or other factors to the parties concerned. Chappell v. Stallings, 237 N.C. 213, 74 S.E.2d 624 (1953).

Subsections (n), (o) and (p) do not apply to objections which are addressed to the validity of the judgment of sale itself. In consequence, a person having an interest in the property involved in a tax foreclosure action does not lose the benefit of an aptly taken objection to the validity of the judgment of sale by failing to file exceptions to the report of a particular sale made under it, or by failing to take a specific appeal from an order confirming such particular sale. A proper legal objection to the validity of a judgment of sale in and of itself puts in issue the validity of all proceedings under it. Chappell v. Stallings, 237 N.C. 213, 74 S.E.2d 624 (1953).

V. REDEMPTION.

Owner's right of redemption is recognized in express terms in this section. The owner has the right to redeem his land from the lien of unpaid taxes by paying the taxes with accrued interest, penalties and costs, and the court costs at any time before the entry of a valid judgment in a tax foreclosure action confirming the judicial sale of the land for the satisfaction of the lien. Chappell v. Stallings, 237 N.C. 213, 74 S.E.2d 624 (1953).

Ample Opportunity Given to Redeem. — Where the judgment of foreclosure in a tax suit authorized a sale, in default of payment of all taxes, etc., on or before 60 days from the date of the judgment, and the original sale was held within 60 days of such date, and after two resales, the last of which was held more than three months after the date of the judgment, the sale was finally consummated, there was ample opportunity to redeem, and sale and confirmation were valid. McIver Park v. Brinn, 223 N.C. 502, 27 S.E.2d 548 (1943).

VI. ATTORNEYS' FEE.

Construed together, § 160A-233(c) and subsection (i) of this section provide for an award of one reasonable attorneys' fee, in the court's discretion, in a foreclosure of an assessment lien by action in nature of action to foreclose a mortgage. Guilford County v. Boyan, 42 N.C. App. 627, 257 S.E.2d 463 (1979).

Award of Attorneys' Fee Not Limited by § 6-21.2. — The amount of an attorneys' fee awarded in a tax foreclosure proceeding under this section is to be determined pursuant to subsection (i) in the discretion of the trial court and is not limited by the provisions of § 6-21.2. Town of Sylva v. Gibson, 51 N.C. App. 545, 277 S.E.2d 115, cert. denied and appeal dismissed, 303 N.C. 319, 281 S.E.2d 659 (1981).

Attorney Fees Properly Awarded to Defendant in Proceeding Under Chapter 156. — Assuming subsection (i) of this section is incorporated by reference into Chapter 156, that the section provides for attorney fees for taxing authorities does not mean it prohibits attorney fees being taxed as part of costs for members of drainage districts. Northampton County Drainage Dist. Number One v. Bailey, 326 N.C. 742, 392 S.E.2d 352 (1990).

Determination of Fee by Defendants. — Where plaintiff was the party seeking attorney's fees, defendants could proceed by counterclaim for a determination of what constituted a reasonable attorney's fee and were not required to file a motion in the cause under subsection (i). Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

Refusal to Release Tax Lien Improper. — Section 105-362(a) and subsection (e) of this section do not specifically include attorney's fees as "costs" and subsection (i) of this section contemplates attorney's fees as they are awarded by the court in its discretion; thus, plaintiff acted improperly by refusing to release tax lien against defendants' property until attorney's fees were paid. Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

§ 105-375. In rem method of foreclosure.

(a) Intent of Section. — It is hereby declared to be the intention of this section that proceedings brought under it shall be strictly in rem. It is further declared to be the intention of this section to provide, as an alternative to G.S. 105-374, a simple and inexpensive method of enforcing payment of taxes necessarily levied, to the knowledge of all persons, for the requirements of local governments in this State; and to recognize, in authorizing this proceeding, that all persons owning interests in real property know or should know that the tax lien on their real property may be foreclosed and the property sold for failure to pay taxes.

(b) Docketing Certificate of Taxes as Judgment. — In lieu of following the procedure set forth in G.S. 105-374, the governing body of any taxing unit may direct the tax collector to file with the clerk of superior court, no earlier than 30 days after the tax liens were advertised, a certificate showing the following: the name of the taxpayer listing real property on which the taxes are a lien, together with the amount of taxes, penalties, interest, and costs that are a lien thereon; the year or years for which the taxes are due; and a description of the property sufficient to permit its identification by parol testimony. The fees for docketing and indexing the certificate shall be payable to the clerk of superior court at the time the taxes are collected or the property is sold.

(c) Notice Listing Taxpayer and Others. — The tax collector filing the certificate provided for in subsection (b), above, shall, at least 30 days prior to docketing the judgment, send a registered or certified letter, return receipt requested, to the listing taxpayer at his last known address, and to all lienholders of record who have a lien against the listing taxpayer or against any subsequent owner of the property (including any liens referred to in the conveyance of the property to the listing taxpayer or to the subsequent owner of the property), stating that the judgment will be docketed and the execution will be issued thereon in the manner provided by law. A notice stating that the judgment will be docketed and that execution will be issued thereon shall also be mailed by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, to the current owner of the property (if different from the listing owner) if: (i) a deed or other instrument transferring title to and containing the name of the current owner was recorded in the office of the register of deeds or filed or docketed in the office of the clerk of superior court after January 1 of the first year in which the property was listed in the name of the listing owner, and (ii) the tax collector can obtain the current owner's mailing address through the exercise of due diligence. If within 10 days following the mailing of said letters of notice, a return receipt has not been received by the tax collector indicating receipt of the letter, then the tax collector shall have a notice published in a newspaper of general circulation in said county once a week for two consecutive weeks directed to, and naming, all unnotified lienholders and the listing taxpayer that a judgment will be docketed against the listing taxpayer. The notice shall contain the proposed date of such docketing, that execution will issue thereon as provided by law, a brief description of the real property affected, and notice that the lien may be paid off prior to judgment being entered. All costs of mailing and publication, plus a charge of fifty dollars ($50.00) to defray administrative costs, shall be added to the amount of taxes that are a lien on the real property and shall be paid by the taxpayer to the taxing unit at the time the taxes are collected or the property is sold.

(d) Effect of Docketing Certificate of Taxes Due. — Immediately upon the docketing and indexing of a certificate as provided in subsection (b), above, the taxes, penalties, interest, and costs shall constitute a valid judgment against the real property described therein, with the priority provided for tax liens in G.S. 105-356. The judgment, except as expressly provided in this section, shall have the same force and effect as a duly rendered judgment of the superior court directing sale of the property for the satisfaction of the tax lien, and it shall bear interest at an annual rate of eight percent (8%).

(e) Special Assessments. — Street, sidewalk, and other special assessments may be included in any judgment for taxes taken under this section, or the special assessments may be included in a separate judgment docketed under this section. The tax collector may use such a judgment as a method of foreclosing the lien of special assessments. When used to foreclose the lien of special assessments, the procedure may be instituted at any time after the assessment or installment falls due and remains unpaid; the waiting period required by subsection (b) of this section does not apply to the foreclosure of special assessments.

(f) Motion to Set Aside. — At any time prior to the issuance of execution, any person having an interest in the real property to be foreclosed may appear before the clerk of superior court and move to set aside the judgment on the ground that the tax has been paid or that the tax lien on which the judgment is based is invalid.

(g) Cancellation upon Payment. — Upon payment in full of any judgment docketed under this section, together with interest thereon and costs accrued to the date of payment, the tax collector receiving payment shall certify the fact thereof to the clerk of superior court and cancel the judgment.

(h) Relationship between G.S. 105-374 and This Section. — If, before the issuance of execution on the judgment under subsection (i), below, the taxing unit is made a defendant in a foreclosure action brought against the property under G.S. 105-374, it shall file an answer in that proceeding and thereafter all proceedings shall be governed by order of the court in accordance with that section.

(i) Issuance of Execution. — At any time after three months and before two years from the indexing of the judgment as provided in subsection (b), above, execution shall be issued at the request of the tax collector in the same manner as executions are issued upon other judgments of the superior court, and the real property shall be sold by the sheriff in the same manner as other real property is sold under execution with the following exceptions:

- (1) No debtor's exemption shall be allowed.
- (2) In lieu of personal service of notice on the owner of the property, registered or certified mail notice shall be mailed to the listing owner at the listing owner's last known address at least 30 days prior to the day fixed for the sale. The notice must also be mailed to the current owner by registered or certified mail if notice was required to be mailed to the current owner pursuant to subsection (c) of this section.
- (3) The sheriff shall add to the amount of the judgment as costs of the sale any postage expenses incurred by the tax collector and the sheriff in foreclosing under this section.
- (4) In any advertisement or posted notice of sale under execution, the sheriff may (and at the request of the governing body shall) combine the advertisements or notices for properties to be sold under executions against the properties of different taxpayers in favor of the same taxing unit or group of units; however, the property included in each judgment shall be separately described and the name of the listing taxpayer specified in connection with each.

The purchaser at the execution sale shall acquire title to the property in fee simple free and clear of all claims, rights, interests, and liens except the liens of other taxes or special assessments not paid from the purchase price and not included in the judgment.

(j) Attorney's Fee. — The governing body of the taxing unit may make whatever arrangement it deems satisfactory for compensating an attorney rendering assistance or advice in foreclosure proceedings brought under this section, but the attorney's fee shall not be added to the judgment as part of the costs of the action.

(k) Consolidation of Liens. — By agreement between the governing bodies, two or more taxing units may consolidate their tax liens for the purpose of docketing a judgment, or may have one execution issued for separate judgments, against the same property. In like manner, one execution may issue for separate judgments in favor of one or more taxing units against the same property for different years' taxes.

(l) Purchase and Resale by Taxing Unit. — The rights of a taxing unit to purchase real property at a foreclosure sale and resell it are governed by G.S. 105-376.

(m) Procedure if Section Declared Unconstitutional. — If any provisions of this section are declared invalid or unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of North Carolina, a United States district court of three judges, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, or the United States Supreme Court, all taxing units that have proceeded under this section shall have five years from the date of the filing of the opinion (or, in the case of appeal, from the date of the filing of the opinion on appeal) in which to institute foreclosure actions under G.S. 105-374 for all taxes included in judgments taken under this section and for subsequent taxes due or which, but for purchase of the property by the taxing unit, would have become due; and such judicial decision shall not have the effect of invalidating the tax lien or disturbing its priority. (1939, c. 310, s. 1720; 1945, c. 646; 1957, cc. 91, 1262; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 108, s. 52; c. 681, ss. 1, 2; 1983, c. 808, s. 9; c. 855, ss. 1, 2; 1987, c. 450; 1989, c. 37, s. 7; c. 682; 1999-439, ss. 2, 3; 2001-139, s. 9.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1983, c. 808, which amended this section, provided in s. 12 that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983, and in s. 13 provided: "Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-439, s. 2, effective January 1, 2001, substituted "file with the clerk ... were advertised" for "file, no earlier than six months following the advertisement of tax liens, with the clerk of superior court" in subsection (b).

Session Laws 1999-439, s. 3, effective January 1, 2001, in subsection (e), divided the former first sentence into the first two sentences, deleted "which is hereby declared to be made available" following "under this section" at the end of the present first sentence, added "The tax collector may use such a judgment" at the beginning of the present second sentence, deleted "six months" preceding "waiting period" and substituted "subsection (b) of this section does not" for "subsection (b), above, shall not" in the last sentence, and made a stylistic change.

Session Laws 2001-139, s. 9, effective July 1, 2001, and applicable to an in rem foreclosure proceeding begun on or after that date, substituted "three months" for "six months" in the introductory language of subsection (i) and rewrote subdivision (i)(2).

CASE NOTES

This section was enacted as an alternative to § 105-374, which authorizes tax foreclosures by actions in nature of action to foreclose mortgage. Jenkins v. Richmond County, 99 N.C. App. 717, 394 S.E.2d 258 (1990), discretionary review denied, 328 N.C. 572, 403 S.E.2d 512 (1991).

Notices Indispensable to Valid Sale. — The giving of the notices of the docketing of the judgment and of the sale under execution, required by this section, is indispensable to a valid sale under that statute and the provision of § 105-394, to the contrary, is in conflict with N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

The giving of the notice of sale under execution, by mailing a copy of the notice to the listing taxpayer at his last known address at least one week prior to the day fixed for the sale, as required by subdivision (i)(2) of this section, is constitutionally indispensable to a valid sale. Annas v. Davis, 40 N.C. App. 51, 252 S.E.2d 28 (1979).

Notice and Opportunity to Object. — It is axiomatic that prior to action affecting property, State must provide notice reasonably calculated, under all circumstances, to apprise interested parties of pendency of action and afford them opportunity to present objections. Jenkins v. Richmond County, 99 N.C. App. 717, 394 S.E.2d 258 (1990), discretionary review denied, 328 N.C. 572, 403 S.E.2d 512 (1991).

Execution Sale Invalid Due to County's Failure to Provide Attempt to Provide Notice to Property Owners. — Defendant county made no effort to determine location of or to send tax notice to three out of four current owners of real property in question, all of whom were listed on deed. This failure of the county to attempt to send mailed notices to each individual taxpayer rendered subsequent execution sale invalid. Jenkins v. Richmond County, 99 N.C. App. 717, 394 S.E.2d 258 (1990), discretionary review denied, 328 N.C. 572, 403 S.E.2d 512 (1991).

Due Process Satisfied. — When notice of the execution sale is sent by registered or certified mail to the listing taxpayer at his last known address, as is required by this section, such notice, in conjunction with the posting and publication also required by the statute, would be sufficient to satisfy the fundamental concept of due process of law and therefore, to comply with N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19, and the due process clause of U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Presumption of Regularity of Official Acts Applies to Mailing of Notice. — Under this section the taxpayer has constructive notice of the tax lien. Before the tax sale can take place, however, the sheriff is required to mail notice of the sale to the taxpayer at his last known address. The presumption of regularity of official acts should be applicable to the mailing of this notice by the sheriff's office. Henderson County v. Osteen, 297 N.C. 113, 254 S.E.2d 160 (1979).

While strict compliance with the notice provisions of this section is essential to a valid sale, the purchaser at a sale under the statute is entitled to rely on the presumption that official duties in connection with the sale were regularly and properly performed until a party challenging the validity of the sale has produced ample evidence to the contrary. Henderson County v. Osteen, 297 N.C. 113, 254 S.E.2d 160 (1979).

Foreclosure Sale Permissible After Death of Judgment Debtor. — Foreclosure of a tax lien by judgment and execution, pursuant to this section, is an exception to the general rule that land may not be sold under an execution issued after the death of the judgment debtor. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Mailing of Notice to Last Known Address Required. — When a county which has purchased a tax lien at a valid sale thereof and which, after notice to the listing taxpayer, has docketed a judgment and issued execution in accordance with the procedures prescribed in this section, the county may not, after the death of the taxpayer, without mailing notice to his last known address by registered or certified mail, as specified in the statute, sell his land, at a sale otherwise held in conformity to the statute, and convey a valid title to the purchaser for the reason that the provision of § 105-394 declaring the failure so to mail the prescribed notice to the listing taxpayer a mere irregularity, not affecting the validity of the deed, is unconstitutional. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

The county tax department provided a foreign taxpayer with sufficient notice of a tax foreclosure sale by mailing notice to the taxpayer's last known address in England and by publishing notice of the sale in the local newspaper, even though it could have gotten the taxpayer's new address by calling the country club where the lot was located, since such a call would place an "intolerable burden" on the local taxing unit. Hardy v. Moore County, 133 N.C. App. 321, 515 S.E.2d 84 (1999), aff'd, 351 N.C. 185, 522 S.E.2d 582 (1999).

Tenancy by Entireties. — Where, tax foreclosure proceedings under this section are instituted in regard to land held by husband and wife by the entireties, but the proceedings are solely against the husband without notice to the wife, the tax sale on the certificate-judgment is wholly ineffectual, since the wife is not bound thereby and the husband has no divisible interest in the property which is subject to execution. Edwards v. Arnold, 250 N.C. 500, 109 S.E.2d 205 (1959) (decided under former similar provisions).

Burden of proof is on party attacking validity of tax foreclosure sale. Henderson County v. Osteen, 297 N.C. 113, 254 S.E.2d 160 (1979).

Judgment Foreclosing Tax Lien Extinguished All Rights. — The effect of a judgment foreclosing a tax lien on real property was to extinguish all rights, title and interests in the property subject to foreclosure, including a claim based on adverse possession. The interest in the disputed property acquired by the purchaser at the tax foreclosure sale was fee simple and the purchaser's title defeated the claims of ownership based on adverse possession. Overstreet v. City of Raleigh, 75 N.C. App. 351, 330 S.E.2d 643 (1985).

Failure to Serve Owner. — Where the evidence clearly showed that there was no personal service upon defendant-owner and that plaintiff town knew that defendant no longer resided at recorded address, trial court unerringly ruled that the judgment entered in the action was void. Town of Cary v. Stallings, 97 N.C. App. 484, 389 S.E.2d 143 (1990).

Applied in Howell v. Treece, 70 N.C. App. 322, 319 S.E.2d 301 (1984); Murray v. Cumberland County, 98 N.C. App. 143, 389 S.E.2d 616 (1990).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Surplus Proceeds of Execution Sale May Not Be Paid for Taxes Not Included in the Judgment. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. John T. Page, Jr., Richmond County Attorney, 40 N.C.A.G. 778 (1970), issued under former similar provisions.

Circumstances When Clerk Authorized to Issue Execution; Necessity of Description of Property. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Edwin Roland, 41 N.C.A.G. 427 (1971), issued under former similar provisions.

§ 105-376. Taxing unit as purchaser at foreclosure sale; payment of purchase price; resale of property acquired by taxing unit.

(a) Taxing Unit as Purchaser. — Any taxing unit (or two or more taxing units jointly) may bid at a foreclosure sale conducted under G.S. 105-374 or G.S. 105-375, and any taxing unit that becomes the successful bidder may assign its bid at any time by private sale for not less than the amount of the bid.

(b) Payment of Purchase Price by Taxing Units; Status of Property Purchased by Taxing Units. — Any taxing unit that becomes the purchaser at a tax foreclosure sale may, in the discretion of its governing body, pay only that part of the purchase price that would not be distributed to it and other taxing units on account of taxes, penalties, interest, and such costs as accrued prior to the initiation of the foreclosure action under G.S. 105-374 or docketing of a judgment under G.S. 105-375. Thereafter, in such a case, the purchasing taxing unit shall hold the property for the benefit of all taxing units that have an interest in the property as defined in this subsection (b). All net income from real property so acquired and the proceeds thereof, when resold, shall be first used to reimburse the purchasing unit for disbursements actually made by it in connection with the foreclosure action and the purchase of the property, and any balance remaining shall be distributed to the taxing units having an interest therein in proportion to their interests. The total interest of each taxing unit, including the purchasing unit, shall be determined by adding:

- (1) The taxes of the unit, with penalties, interest, and costs (other than costs already reimbursed to the purchasing unit) to satisfy which the property was ordered sold;
- (2) Other taxes of the unit, with penalties, interest, and costs which would have been paid in full from the purchase price had the purchase price been paid in full;
- (3) Taxes of the unit, with penalties, interest, and costs to which the foreclosure sale was made subject; and
- (4) The principal amount of all taxes which became liens on the property after purchase at the foreclosure sale or which would have become liens thereon but for the purchase, but no amount shall be included for taxes for years in which (on the day as of which property was to be listed for taxation) the property was being used by the purchasing unit for a public purpose.

If the amount of net income and proceeds of resale distributable exceeds the total interests of all taxing units defined in this subsection (b), the remainder shall be applied to any special benefit assessments to satisfy which the sale was ordered or to which the sale was made subject, and any balance remaining shall accrue to the purchasing unit.

When any real property that has been purchased as provided in this section is permanently dedicated to use for a public purpose, the purchasing unit shall make settlement with other taxing units having an interest in the property (as defined in this subsection) in such manner and in such amount as may be agreed upon by the governing bodies; and if no agreement can be reached, the amount to be paid shall be determined by a resident judge of the superior court in the district in which the property is situated.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the purchasing unit to secure the approval of other interested taxing units before reselling the property or as requiring the purchasing unit to pay other interested taxing units in full if the net income and resale price are insufficient to make such payments.

Any taxing unit purchasing property at a foreclosure sale may, in the discretion of its governing body, instead of following the foregoing provisions of this section, make full payment of the purchase price, and thereafter it shall hold the property as sole owner in the same manner as it holds other real property, subject only to taxes and special assessments, with penalties, interest, and costs, to which the sale was made subject.

(c) Resale of Real Property Purchased by Taxing Units. — Real property purchased at a tax foreclosure sale by a taxing unit may be resold at any time (for such price as the governing body of the taxing unit may approve) at a sale conducted in the manner provided by law for sales of other real property of the taxing unit. However, a purchasing taxing unit, in the discretion of its governing body, may resell such property to the former owner or to any other person formerly having an interest in the property at private sale for an amount not less than the taxing unit's interest therein if it holds the property as sole owner or for an amount not less than the total interests of all taxing units (other than special assessments due the taxing unit holding title) if it holds the property for the benefit of all such units. (1939, c. 310, s. 1719; 1945, c. 635; 1947, c. 484, ss. 3, 4; 1951, c. 300, s. 1; c. 1036, s. 1; 1953, c. 176, s. 2; 1955, c. 908; 1967, c. 705, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

Local Modification. — Avery: 1973, c. 313.

§ 105-377. Time for contesting validity of tax foreclosure title.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law prescribing the period for commencing an action, no action or proceeding shall be brought to contest the validity of any title to real property acquired by a taxing unit or by a private purchaser in any tax foreclosure action or proceeding authorized by this Subchapter or by other laws of this State in force at the time the title was acquired, nor shall any motion to reopen or set aside the judgment in any such tax foreclosure action or proceeding be entertained after one year from the date on which the deed is recorded. (1939, c. 310, s. 1721; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1977, c. 886, s. 2.)

CASE NOTES

A remainderman, who has been served only by publication based upon a fatally defective affidavit, may attack the tax foreclosure more than one year afterward, since neither this section nor any statute of limitations can bar the right to attack a judgement for want of jurisdiction. Board of Comm'rs v. Bumpass, 233 N.C. 190, 63 S.E.2d 144 (1951).

Motion to Set Aside Tax Sale Held Not Barred by This Section. — A judgment having been entered in favor of a county against the defendants for ad valorem taxes, and the land in question having been sold and conveyed pursuant to an execution, a motion properly filed by the defendants in the cause seeking to set aside the tax sale was not barred by former § 105-393 (the predecessor to this section) since the motion in the cause was not an action or proceeding brought to contest the validity of a title to real property, nor a motion to reopen or set aside the judgment pursuant to which the tax sale was held. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Where city became record owner of property pursuant to tax foreclosure sale, and while purported adverse possessors brought their action to quiet title beyond the one year statute of limitation contained in this section, there were no genuine issues of material fact and the city was entitled to summary judgment. Overstreet v. City of Raleigh, 75 N.C. App. 351, 330 S.E.2d 643 (1985).

Applied in Howell v. Treece, 70 N.C. App. 322, 319 S.E.2d 301 (1984).

§ 105-378. Limitation on use of remedies.

(a) Use of Remedies Barred. — No county or municipality may maintain an action or procedure to enforce any remedy provided by law for the collection of taxes or the enforcement of any tax liens (whether the taxes or tax liens are evidenced by the original tax receipts, tax sales certificates, or otherwise) unless the action or procedure is instituted within 10 years from the date the taxes became due.

(b) Not Applicable to Special Assessments. — The provisions of subsection (a), above, shall not be construed to apply to the lien of special assessments.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 26, effective August 14, 1998. (1933, c. 181, s. 7; c. 399; 1945, c. 832; 1947, c. 1065, s. 1; 1949, cc. 60, 269, 735; 1951, cc. 71, 306, 572; 1953, cc. 381, 427, 538, 645, 656, 752, 775, 1008; 1955, c. 1087; 1957, cc. 53, 678, 1123; 1959, cc. 373, 608; 1961, cc. 542, 695, 885; 1965, cc. 129, 294; 1967, c. 242; c. 321, s. 1; c. 422, s. 1; 1969, c. 96; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1998-98, s. 26.)

CASE NOTES

The legislature did not intend for taxing units to assign barred claims to individuals who would then serve as collection agents for the taxing unit and thereby circumvent the limitation placed on the taxing units by this section. Bradbury v. Cummings, 68 N.C. App. 302, 314 S.E.2d 568 (1984).

Private Holders of Tax Lien Sale Certificates. — Although private holders of tax lien sale certificates are not mentioned in this section, the statute nevertheless applies to private holders. Bradbury v. Cummings, 68 N.C. App. 302, 314 S.E.2d 568 (1984).

ARTICLE 27.

Refunds and Remedies.

§ 105-379. Restriction on use of injunction and claim and delivery.

(a) Grounds for Injunction. — No court may enjoin the collection of any tax, the sale of any tax lien, or the sale of any property for nonpayment of any tax imposed under the authority of this Subchapter except upon a showing that the tax (or some part thereof) is illegal or levied for an illegal or unauthorized purpose.

(b) No Order in Claim and Delivery. — No court may issue any order in claim and delivery proceedings or otherwise for the taking of any personal property levied on or attached by the tax collector under the authority of this Subchapter. (1901, c. 558, s. 30; Rev., s. 2855; C.S., s. 7979; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

A distinction between an erroneous tax and an illegal or invalid tax is recognized by this section and North Carolina case law. Redevelopment Comm'n v. Guilford County, 274 N.C. 585, 164 S.E.2d 476 (1968).

An illegal or invalid tax results when the taxing body seeks to impose a tax without authority, as in cases where it is asserted that the rate is unconstitutional, or that the subject is exempt from taxation. Redevelopment Comm'n v. Guilford County, 274 N.C. 585, 164 S.E.2d 476 (1968).

§ 105-380. No taxes to be released, refunded, or compromised.

(a) The governing body of a taxing unit is prohibited from releasing, refunding, or compromising all or any portion of the taxes levied against any property within its jurisdiction except as expressly provided in this Subchapter.

(b) Taxes that have been released, refunded, or compromised in violation of this section shall be deemed to be unpaid and shall be collectible by any means provided by this Subchapter, and the existence and priority of any tax lien on property shall not be affected by the unauthorized release, refund, or compromise of the tax liability.

(c) Any tax that has been released, refunded, or compromised in violation of this section may be recovered from any member or members of the governing body who voted for the release, refund, or compromise by civil action instituted by any resident of the taxing unit, and when collected, the recovered tax shall be paid to the treasurer of the taxing unit. The costs of bringing the action, including reasonable attorneys' fees, shall be allowed the plaintiff in the event the tax is recovered.

(d) The provisions of this section are not intended to restrict or abrogate the powers of a board of equalization and review or any agency exercising the powers of such a board. (1901, c. 558, s. 31; Rev., s. 2854; C.S., s. 7976; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 564, s. 2.)

CASE NOTES

Duty of Commissioners to Rescind Order Releasing Tax. — It is not only competent, but the duty of county commissioners to rescind an order improvidently granted to release one from the assessment of a legal tax upon property. Lemly v. Commissioners of Forsyth, 85 N.C. 379 (1881), decided under former similar provisions.

§ 105-381. Taxpayer's remedies.

(a) Statement of Defense. — Any taxpayer asserting a valid defense to the enforcement of the collection of a tax assessed upon his property shall proceed as hereinafter provided.

- (1) For the purpose of this subsection, a valid defense shall include the following:
  - a. A tax imposed through clerical error;
  - b. An illegal tax;
  - c. A tax levied for an illegal purpose.
- (2) If a tax has not been paid, the taxpayer may make a demand for the release of the tax claim by submitting to the governing body of the taxing unit a written statement of his defense to payment or enforcement of the tax and a request for release of the tax at any time prior to payment of the tax.
- (3) If a tax has been paid, the taxpayer, at any time within five years after said tax first became due or within six months from the date of payment of such tax, whichever is the later date, may make a demand for a refund of the tax paid by submitting to the governing body of the taxing unit a written statement of his defense and a request for refund thereof.

(b) Action of Governing Body. — Upon receiving a taxpayer's written statement of defense and request for release or refund, the governing body of the taxing unit shall within 90 days after receipt of such request determine whether the taxpayer has a valid defense to the tax imposed or any part thereof and shall either release or refund that portion of the amount that is determined to be in excess of the correct tax liability or notify the taxpayer in writing that no release or refund will be made. The governing body may, by resolution, delegate its authority to determine requests for a release or refund of tax of less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) to the finance officer, manager, or attorney of the taxing unit. A finance officer, manager, or attorney to whom this authority is delegated shall monthly report to the governing body the actions taken by him on requests for release or refund. All actions taken by the governing body or finance officer, manager, or attorney on requests for release or refund shall be recorded in the minutes of the governing body. If a release is granted or refund made, the tax collector shall be credited with the amount released or refunded in his annual settlement.

(c) Suit for Recovery of Property Taxes. —

(1) Request for Release before Payment. — If within 90 days after receiving a taxpayer's request for release of an unpaid tax claim under (a) above, the governing body of the taxing unit has failed to grant the release, has notified the taxpayer that no release will be granted, or has taken no action on the request, the taxpayer shall pay the tax. He may then within three years from the date of payment bring a civil action against the taxing unit for the amount claimed.

(2) Request for Refund. — If within 90 days after receiving a taxpayer's request for refund under (a) above, the governing body has failed to refund the full amount requested by the taxpayer, has notified the taxpayer that no refund will be made, or has taken no action on the request, the taxpayer may bring a civil action against the taxing unit for the amount claimed. Such action may be brought at any time within three years from the expiration of the period in which the governing body is required to act.

(d) Civil Actions. — Civil actions brought pursuant to subsection (c) above shall be brought in the appropriate division of the general court of justice of the county in which the taxing unit is located. If, upon the trial, it is determined that the tax or any part of it was illegal or levied for an illegal purpose, or excessive as the result of a clerical error, judgment shall be rendered therefor with interest thereon at six percent (6%) per annum, plus costs, and the judgment shall be collected as in other civil actions. (1901, c. 558, s. 30; Rev., s. 2855; C. S., s. 7979; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1973, c. 564, s. 3; 1977, c. 946, s. 2; 1985, c. 150, s. 1; 1987, c. 127.)

CASE NOTES

- I. General Consideration.
- II. Demand.
- III. Injunctions.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Editor's Note. — Many of the cases cited below were decided under former similar provisions.

Constitutionality of Provisions. — See Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891); Kirkpatrick v. Currie, 250 N.C. 213, 108 S.E.2d 209 (1959).

Jurisdiction which § 105-290 confers upon State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) is not exclusive. The provisions of this section are still open to a taxpayer if he prefers them. In re Pilot

Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Taxpayers in North Carolina have an alternative to administrative review. They can seek judicial review of an assessment directly in superior or district court by paying taxes and then bringing a suit against the taxing unit for recovery of taxes paid. In order to have such an action, the taxpayer must first have filed a written statement of a valid defense to the tax with the governing body of the taxing unit and a request for release or refund of the tax. A valid defense is either that: (1) the tax was imposed through clerical error, (2) the tax was an "illegal tax," or (3) the tax was levied for an illegal purpose. Within 90 days of receiving the taxpayer's statement and request, the governing body of the taxing unit must act. If it denies the request or does not act within that time, then the taxpayer may bring a civil suit, provided he has paid the taxes assessed. The trial court will allow recovery of the taxes if it finds that one or more of the defenses exists. Johnston v. Gaston County, 71 N.C. App. 707, 323 S.E.2d 381 (1984), cert. denied, 313 N.C. 508, 329 S.E.2d 392 (1985).

Commissioner's Decisions Subject to Judicial Review. — The administrative decisions of the State Board of Assessment (now Property Tax Commission) are always subject to review by the superior court. Under both § 105-290 and this section, if either the taxpayer or the taxing authority wants judicial review, it is available. In re Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., 263 N.C. 345, 139 S.E.2d 633 (1965).

Clerical Error. — The meaning of clerical error in this section is not ambiguous and applies only to transcription errors. Ammons v. County of Wake, 127 N.C. App. 426, 490 S.E.2d 569 (1997), cert. denied, 347 N.C. 670, 500 S.E.2d 84 (1998).

To qualify as a clerical error, the mistake must ordinarily be apparent on the face of the instrument and a clerical error must be unintended. Ammons v. County of Wake, 127 N.C. App. 426, 490 S.E.2d 569 (1997), cert. denied, 347 N.C. 670, 500 S.E.2d 84 (1998).

Clerical Error Not Shown. — Assessor's allegedly inaccurate assertion that plaintiffs' property failed to qualify for present use value taxation did not constitute clerical error. Ammons v. County of Wake, 127 N.C. App. 426, 490 S.E.2d 569 (1997), cert. denied, 347 N.C. 670, 500 S.E.2d 84 (1998).

Ordinarily, sovereign may not be denied or delayed in enforcement of its right to collect revenue upon which its very existence depends. This rule applies to municipalities and other subdivisions of the State government. If a tax is levied against a taxpayer which he deems unauthorized or unlawful, he must pay the same under protest and then sue for its recovery. And if the statute provides an administrative remedy, he must first exhaust that remedy before resorting to the courts for relief. Moreover, as broad and comprehensive as it is, even the Declaratory Judgment Act does not supersede the rule or provide an additional or concurrent remedy. Bragg Dev. Co. v. Braxton, 239 N.C. 427, 79 S.E.2d 918 (1954).

Section Not to Preclude Counterclaim. — This section provides a mechanism by which a taxpayer can sue a taxing unit and prevent foreclosure without impeding the collection of tax revenue needed. It should not be applied to preclude a counterclaim in a foreclosure proceeding. Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C.

App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

Adequate Remedy at Law. — Under this section the taxpayer has an adequate remedy at law by first paying the tax and then suing to recover it. Henrietta Mills v. Rutherford County, 281 U.S. 121, 50 S. Ct. 270, 74 L. Ed. 737 (1930); Fox v. Board of Comm'rs, 244 N.C. 497, 94 S.E.2d 482 (1956).

Exclusiveness of Statutory Remedy. — The taxpayer is restricted to the remedy provided by the statute, and, in order to avail himself of it, he must comply with all the requirements thereof. Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891); Wilson v. Green, 135 N.C. 343, 47 S.E. 469 (1904).

Where a corporation, under Session Laws 1925, c. 102, submitted its report to the Department of Revenue, and the Department in accordance with the statute certified to the register of deeds of the county where the property was situated the corporate excess liable for local taxation, the exclusive remedy of the corporation if dissatisfied with the report of the Department was to file exceptions with the Department in accordance with the statute, with the right of appeal from the Department upon a hearing by it, and the corporation could not pay the tax under protest and seek to recover it under the provisions of this section. Garysburg Mfg. Co. v. Board of Comm'rs, 196 N.C. 744, 147 S.E. 284, appeal dismissed, 280 U.S. 520, 50 S. Ct. 67, 74 L. Ed. 589 (1929).

Assumpsit for money had and received does not lie to recover improperly listed taxables. Huggins v. Hinson, 61 N.C. 126 (1867).

Quo warranto is the sole remedy to test the validity of an election to public office, but not to test the validity of a tax even though it is levied under the authority of a popular election. Barbee v. Board of Comm'rs, 210 N.C. 717, 188 S.E. 314 (1936).

Where a town ordinance imposes a license tax upon those selling at wholesale or peddling therein, and provides that its violation is punishable as a misdemeanor, the remedy to test the validity of the ordinance is to pay the tax under protest and bring action to recover it back, in accordance with this section, and equity will not enjoin the town from executing its threat to arrest for violations of the ordinance, it not appearing that the plaintiff would be irreparably damaged by the payment of the tax, and the legal remedy to recover the tax affording adequate relief. Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co. v. Town of Sanford, 200 N.C. 467, 157 S.E. 432 (1931).

Compliance with this section is prerequisite to right of action for recovery of taxes or any part thereof. Taxes paid voluntarily and without objection or compulsion cannot be recovered, even though the tax be levied unlawfully. Middleton v. Wilmington, B. & S.R.R., 224 N.C. 309, 30 S.E.2d 42 (1944).

Party Seeking Relief Under (c)(2) Must Assert Valid Defense. — A party seeking relief under subdivision (c)(2) of this section must assert a valid defense, as that term is defined in subdivision (a)(1) of this section, in their initial statement to the governing body of the taxing unit as a prerequisite to the later filing of a civil action. Kinro, Inc. v. Randolph County, 108 N.C. App. 334, 423 S.E.2d 513 (1992).

Payment Under Protest. — Where the owner resists the payment of taxes as unlawful, he is required to pay them under his protest and sue to recover them. Carstarphen v. Town of Plymouth, 186 N.C. 90, 118 S.E. 905 (1923); Galloway v. Board of Educ., 184 N.C. 245, 114 S.E. 165 (1922). See also State v. Snipes, 161 N.C. 242, 76 S.E. 243 (1912).

To test the legality of a tax imposed, the taxpayer should pay the same and sue to recover it in accordance with the provisions of this section. Southeastern Express Co. v. City of Charlotte, 186 N.C. 668, 120 S.E. 475 (1923).

Payment of Tax But Not Attorney's Fees Prerequisite. — Payment of tax, even an allegedly illegal tax, is a prerequisite for filing suit under this statute; however, payment of attorney's fees not assessed by the court was not a prerequisite. Onslow County v. Phillips, 123 N.C. App. 317, 473 S.E.2d 643 (1996), modified on other grounds, 346 N.C. 265, 485 S.E.2d 618 (1997).

Right to Sue. — Upon the failure of the county treasurer to refund within 90 days, the person so paying the tax may maintain an action against the county, including in his demand both the State and county taxes. Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. v. County of Mecklenburg, 181 N.C. 386, 107 S.E. 317 (1921).

Distinction between an erroneous tax and an illegal or invalid tax is recognized by this section and North Carolina case law. Redevelopment Comm'n v. Guilford County, 274 N.C. 585, 164 S.E.2d 476 (1968).

Illegal or invalid tax results when taxing body seeks to impose tax without authority, as in cases where it is asserted that the rate is unconstitutional, or that the subject is exempt from taxation. Redevelopment Comm'n v. Guilford County, 274 N.C. 585, 164 S.E.2d 476 (1968); Reeves Bros. v. Town of Rutherfordton, 15 N.C. App. 385, 190 S.E.2d 345 (1972), rev'd on other grounds, 282 N.C. 559, 194 S.E.2d 129 (1973).

A tax or assessment is invalid or illegal only when the taxing body lacks the authority to impose the tax, as where the rate is unconstitutional or the subject is exempt from taxation.

Reeves Bros. v. Town of Rutherfordton, 15 N.C. App. 385, 190 S.E.2d 345 (1972), rev'd on other grounds, 282 N.C. 559, 194 S.E.2d 129 (1973).

Burden on Taxpayer. — Where a taxpayer seeks equitable relief against the alleged unlawful assessment of taxes against its property by the county authorities, it must allege and show that the amount claimed as excessive was in fact an excessive valuation. Norfolk-Southern R.R. v. Board of Comm'rs, 188 N.C. 265, 124 S.E. 560 (1924).

Applied in Adams-Millis Corp. v. Town of Kernersville, 281 N.C. 147, 187 S.E.2d 704 (1972); Town of Bladenboro v. McKeithan, 44 N.C. App. 459, 261 S.E.2d 260 (1980).

Stated in Raintree Corp. v. City of Charlotte, 49 N.C. App. 391, 271 S.E.2d 524 (1980).

Cited in MAO/Pines Assocs. v. New Hanover County Bd. of Equalization, 116 N.C. App. 551, 449 S.E.2d 196 (1994); Edward Valves, Inc. v. Wake County, 343 N.C. 426, 471 S.E.2d 342 (1996), cert. denied, 519 U.S. 1112, 117 S. Ct. 952, 136 L. Ed. 2d 839 (1997); State v. Jarman, 140 N.C. App. 198, 535 S.E.2d 875 (2000).

II. DEMAND.

Demand for Refund Required. — The General Assembly, as far back as 1887, enacted that demand for the return of taxes must be made within the prescribed time after payment, and it was held in Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891), and Teeter v. Wallace, 138 N.C. 264, 50 S.E. 701 (1905), that the statute applied to all taxes, that the remedy provided was exclusive, and that a failure to make demand within the time prescribed was fatal to the right to maintain an action to recover the tax. Blackwell v. City of Gastonia, 181 N.C. 378, 107 S.E. 218 (1921).

The requirement of making a demand within the prescribed time is mandatory. Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891).

It must also be made in writing. Bristol v. Commissioners of Morganton, 125 N.C. 365, 34 S.E. 512 (1899).

Requirement of demand is not confined to claim for refunding any particular tax or taxes alleged to be invalid on any particular account. Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891).

Alleging Demand. — A complaint which fails to allege that the demand was made within the prescribed time is insufficient on demurrer. Richmond & D.R.R. v. Town of Reidsville, 109 N.C. 494, 13 S.E. 865 (1891). See Hunt v. Cooper, 194 N.C. 265, 139 S.E. 446 (1927).

III. INJUNCTIONS.

When Injunction Will Lie. — Injunction will lie when the tax or assessment is itself invalid or illegal. Redevelopment Comm'n v. Guilford County, 274 N.C. 585, 164 S.E.2d 476 (1968); Reeves Bros. v. Town of Rutherfordton, 15 N.C. App. 385, 190 S.E.2d 345 (1972), rev'd on other grounds, 282 N.C. 559, 194 S.E.2d 129 (1973).

An injunction will lie to restrain the collection of taxes and to restrain the sale of property under distraint, for three reasons, to wit: (1) If the taxes or any part thereof be assessed for an illegal or unauthorized purpose. (2) If the tax itself be illegal or invalid. (3) If the assessment of the tax be illegal or invalid. Purnell v. Page, 133 N.C. 125, 45 S.E. 534 (1903); Sherrod v. Dawson, 154 N.C. 525, 70 S.E. 739 (1911).

The remedy of injunction is available to a taxpayer when a tax levy or assessment, or some part thereof, is challenged on the ground (1) the tax or assessment is itself illegal or invalid, or (2) for an illegal or unauthorized purpose. Wynn v. Trustees of Charlotte Community College Sys., 255 N.C. 594, 122 S.E.2d 404 (1961).

The equitable remedy of injunction is proper where it is contended that the taxing body is without authority to impose the tax because of a constitutional exemption. Reeves Bros. v. Town of Rutherfordton, 15 N.C. App. 385, 190 S.E.2d 345 (1972), rev'd on other grounds, 282 N.C. 559, 194 S.E.2d 129 (1973).

Injunction is the appropriate relief to prevent the collection of an illegal and invalid tax. This constitutes the exception in the statute and gives the taxpayer an additional remedy (see Purnell v. Page, 133 N.C. 125, 45 S.E. 534 (1903)) to test the validity of a tax. Wrought Iron Range Co. v. Carver, 118 N.C. 328, 24 S.E. 352 (1896).

Only collection of tax will be enjoined, until the merits of the controversy can be determined. North Carolina R.R. v. Commissioners of Alamance, 82 N.C. 259 (1880).

Failure to Give Taxpayer Notice. — An injunction will be granted to the hearing against the sheriff for collecting back taxes on a solvent credit, upon the ground that the plaintiff was not given notice of the assessment or opportunity to be heard before the board of assessors or the tribunal having the power to list or assess such property. Caldwell Land & Lumber Co. v. Smith, 146 N.C. 199, 59 S.E. 653 (1907).

Special Assessment for Improvements. — Where an owner of a town lot resists payment of an assessment of his property for the cost of paving or laying down a sidewalk on the ground of excessive cost, discrimination, or for other causes, the remedy of injunction is an improper one, for the owner should pay, under protest, the assessment levied and bring his action to recover it or the excess over a proper charge. Marion v. Town of Pilot Mt., 170 N.C. 118, 87 S.E. 53 (1915).

Levy for School Purposes. — Injunctive relief is not available to the taxpayers of a county, where a tax levy for school purposes has been made, when it appears that under the levy complained of the moneys have been raised and distributed to the branches of government entitled thereto, some of which are not parties to the suit. Semble, the only remedy for the injured taxpayers is to pay the illegal tax under protest and sue to recover the same, as provided by statute. Galloway v. Board of Educ., 184 N.C. 245, 114 S.E. 165 (1922).

Parties to Suit for Injunction. — The sheriff (tax collector) is the proper party defendant to a suit to enjoin the collection of taxes, but the commissioners may make themselves parties if they think the rights of the county require it. Caldwell Land & Lumber Co. v. Smith, 146 N.C. 199, 59 S.E. 653 (1907).

Necessary Allegations. — In order to enjoin the collection of taxes on land, it is necessary to allege that the taxes sought to be recovered were illegally imposed or unlawfully collected. Hunt v. Cooper, 194 N.C. 265, 139 S.E. 446 (1927).

Injunction Granted. — For case in which injunctive relief against the collection of taxes was granted, see Barber v. Town of Benson, 200 N.C. 683, 158 S.E. 245 (1931).

Portion of Levy Enjoined. — The courts will not enjoin the collection of an entire levy of taxes if the portion conceded to be valid can be separated from the portion alleged to be unconstitutional. Southern Ry. v. Board of Comm'rs, 148 N.C. 220, 61 S.E. 690 (1908).

ARTICLE 28.

Special Duties to Pay Taxes.

§ 105-383. Fiduciaries to pay taxes.

(a) Duty to Pay. — It shall be the duty of every guardian, executor, administrator, agent, trustee, receiver, or other fiduciary having care or control of any real or personal property to pay the taxes thereon out of the trust funds in his hands.

(b) Liability for Failure to Pay. — Any fiduciary who fails to pay the taxes on property in his care or control when trust funds are available to him for that purpose shall be personally liable for the taxes. This liability may be enforced by a civil action brought in the name of the tax collector of the taxing unit to which the taxes are owed against the fiduciary in an appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the taxing unit is located.

(c) Liability for Sale of Property. — Any fiduciary who suffers property in his care or control to be sold by reason of his negligence in failing to pay the taxes thereon when available funds were in his hands shall be liable to his ward, principal, or cestui que trust for all actual damages incurred as a result of his neglect.

(d) Effect of Section. — This section shall not have the effect of relieving property and estates held in trust or under the control of fiduciaries from the lien of property taxes. (1762, c. 69, s. 14; R.C., c. 54, s. 27; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 32; 1879, c. 71, s. 53; Code, ss. 1595, 3698; Rev., s. 2862; C.S., s. 7985; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-384. Duties and liabilities of life tenant.

(a) If real or personal property is held by a tenant for life or by a tenant for the life of another, it shall be the duty of the life tenant to pay the taxes imposed on the property.

(b) Any remainderman or reversioner of real or personal property who pays the taxes thereon may recover the money so paid in an action against the life tenant of the property; in the case of real property, the action may be brought only in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the real property is located.

(c) Any tenant for life of real or personal property who suffers the property to be foreclosed and sold or sold under levy for failure to pay the taxes thereon shall be liable to the remainderman or to the reversioner for any damages incurred. (1879, c. 71, ss. 53, 54; Code, ss. 3698, 3699; 1901, c. 558, s. 45; Rev., s. 2859; C.S., s. 7982; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

Life tenant's purchase at tax sale is regarded as payment of tax, and the owner of the future interest is regarded as still holding under his original title. Thompson v. Watkins, 285 N.C. 616, 207 S.E.2d 740 (1974).

Life tenant has obligation to list and pay taxes on the property. Thompson v. Watkins, 285 N.C. 616, 207 S.E.2d 740 (1974).

§ 105-385. Duty to pay taxes on real property; judicial sales; sales under powers; governmental purchasers.

(a) Judicial Sales. — In all civil actions and special proceedings in which the sale of any real property is ordered, the judgment shall provide for the payment of all taxes then constituting a lien upon the property and all special assessments or installments thereof then due, and the tax liens and special assessments shall be satisfied from the proceeds of the sale before the proceeds are disbursed. The judgment in such a civil action or special proceeding shall adjust the disbursements for taxes and special assessments between the parties to the action or special proceeding in accordance with their respective rights.

(b) Sales under Powers. — Any person who sells real property under a power of sale conferred upon him by a deed, will, power of attorney, mortgage, deed of trust, or assignment for the benefit of creditors shall from the proceeds of the sale first satisfy all taxes constituting a lien upon the real property and all special assessments or installments thereof then due unless the notice of sale provided that the property would be sold subject to tax liens and special assessments, and it was so sold.

(c) Governmental Purchasers. — Any agency, department, or institution of the State of North Carolina and any county or municipal corporation that purchases real property shall satisfy all taxes constituting a lien upon the property purchased and all special assessments or installments thereof then due by deducting the amount of the taxes and special assessments from the purchase price and paying it to the proper taxing unit or units. Any agency, department, or institution of the State and any county or municipal corporation that fails to make the deductions and payments required by this subsection (c) shall be liable to the taxing unit or units to which the taxes and special assessments are owed for the amount thereof. This liability may be enforced in a civil action brought by the taxing unit or units to which the taxes and special assessments are owed in the appropriate trial division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the property is located; this remedy shall be in addition to any remedies the taxing unit may have against the grantor of the property. (1901, c. 558, s. 47; Rev., s. 2857; C.S., s. 7980; 1929, c. 231, s. 1; 1951, c. 252, s. 1; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

§ 105-386. Tax paid by holder of lien; remedy.

If any person having a lien or encumbrance of any kind upon real property shall pay the taxes that constitute a lien upon the real property:

- (1) He shall thereby acquire a lien upon the real property from the time of payment, which lien shall be superior to all other liens and which may be enforced by an action in the appropriate division of the General Court of Justice of the county in which the real property is situated.
- (2) He may, by an action for moneys paid to the use of the owner of the real property at the time of payment, recover the amount paid. (1879, c. 71, s. 55; Code, s. 3700; 1901, c. 558, s. 46; Rev., s. 2858; C.S., s. 7981; 1971, c. 806, s. 1.)

ARTICLE 30.

*General Provisions.§ 105-394. Immaterial irregularities.

Immaterial irregularities in the listing, appraisal, or assessment of property for taxation or in the levy or collection of the property tax or in any other proceeding or requirement of this Subchapter shall not invalidate the tax imposed upon any property or any process of listing, appraisal, assessment, levy, collection, or any other proceeding under this Subchapter.

The following are examples of immaterial irregularities:

- (1) The failure of list takers, tax supervisors, or members of boards of equalization and review to take and subscribe the oaths required of them.
- (2) The failure to sign the affirmation required on the abstract.
- (3) The failure to list, appraise, or assess any property for taxation or to levy any tax within the time prescribed by law.
- (4) The failure of the board of equalization and review to meet or to adjourn within the time prescribed by law or to give any required notice of its meetings and adjournment.
- (5) Any defect in the description upon any abstract, tax receipt, tax record, notice, advertisement, or other document, of real or personal property, if the description be sufficient to enable the tax collector or any person interested to determine what property is meant by the description. (In such cases the tax supervisor or tax collector may correct the description on the documents bearing the defective description, and the correct description shall be used in any documents later issued in tax foreclosure proceedings authorized by this Subchapter.)
- (6) The failure of the collector to advertise any tax lien.
- (7) Repealed by Session Laws 1983, c. 808, s. 11.
- (8) Any irregularity or informality in the order or manner in which tax liens on real property are offered for sale.
- (9) The failure to make or serve any notice mentioned in this Subchapter.
- (10) The omission of a dollar mark or other designation descriptive of the value of figures upon any document required by this Subchapter.
- (11) Any other immaterial informality, omission, or defect on the part of any person in any proceeding or requirement of this Subchapter. (1939, c. 310, s. 1715; 1965, c. 192, ss. 1, 2; 1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1983, c. 808, ss. 10, 11.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1983, c. 808, which amended this section, provided in s. 12 that the act would not affect the validity of any tax lien sale held before July 1, 1983, and in s. 13 provided: "Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, any person, firm, or corporation who purchased or took assignment of a tax lien sale certificate before July 1, 1983, pursuant to statutes amended or repealed by this act may initiate a foreclosure action under

G.S. 105-374 no earlier than six months after the date of the original lien sale."

Legal Periodicals. — For survey of 1977 law on taxation, see 56 N.C.L. Rev. 1128 (1978).

CASE NOTES

Purpose. — This section contains a broad statement that is intended to cover cases where there is no dispute that but for a clerical error, the tax would have been valid. In re Notice of Attachment & Garnishment Issued by Catawba County Tax Collector, 59 N.C. App. 332, 296 S.E.2d 499 (1982), cert. denied, 307 N.C. 576, 299 S.E.2d 645 (1983).

Constitutionality of Notice Provisions. — The giving of the notices of the docketing of the judgment and of the sale under execution, required by § 105-375, is indispensable to a valid sale under that statute and the provision of this section, to the contrary, is in conflict with N.C. Const., Art. I, § 19. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

When a county which has purchased a tax lien at a valid sale thereof and which, after notice to the listing taxpayer, has docketed a judgment and issued execution in accordance with the procedures prescribed in § 105-375, the county may not, after the death of the taxpayer, without mailing to his last known address by registered or certified mail, as specified in the statute, sell his land, at a sale otherwise held in conformity to the statute, and convey a valid title to the purchaser for the reason that the provision of this section declaring the failure so to mail the prescribed notice to the listing taxpayer a mere irregularity, not affecting the validity of the deed, is unconstitutional. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Section Not Limited to Procedures Incident to Sale of Tax Liens. — Former § 105-397.1 was originally a subparagraph in the section entitled, "Sales of Tax Liens on Real Property for Failure to Pay Taxes." (former § 105-387(j)). The legislature of 1965 took this provision out of that section and, with minor modifications, made it a separate section in Article 28 (now Article 30) of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. This would indicate a legislative intent to free this provision from any possible limitation of it to procedures incident to the sale of tax liens so as to extend it to procedures for foreclosure thereof as well. Henderson County v. Osteen, 292 N.C. 692, 235 S.E.2d 166 (1977).

Immaterial irregularities in notice do not invalidate taxes imposed. In re Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., 28 N.C. App. 400, 221 S.E.2d 378 (1976).

Failure to Levy Assessments by Prescribed Date as Immaterial Irregularity. — Section 156-105 provides that assessments shall be collected "in the same manner and by the same officers as the state and county taxes are collected," and subdivision (3) of this section provides that "[t]he failure to list, appraise, or assess any property for taxation or to levy any tax within the time prescribed by law" is an immaterial irregularity that does not affect the validity of the assessment; therefore, plaintiff drainage district's failure to levy annual assessments for 1974 and 1983 by the first Monday in September of those years did not bar later collection of the assessments. Northampton County Drainage Dist. Number One v. Bailey, 92 N.C. App. 68, 373 S.E.2d 560 (1988), rev'd on other grounds, 326 N.C. 742, 392 S.E.2d 352 (1990), modified on other grounds, 326 N.C. 742, 392 S.E.2d 352.

Section Not to Be Strictly Construed against Taxing Authority. — Tax statutes are to be strictly construed against the taxing authority; but that is only when the statute is susceptible of two constructions, unlike this section, which is clear and uncomplicated. In re Notice of Attachment & Garnishment Issued by Catawba County Tax Collector, 59 N.C. App. 332, 296 S.E.2d 499 (1982), cert. denied, 307 N.C. 576, 299 S.E.2d 645 (1983).

Clerical error by a tax supervisor's office is an immaterial irregularity under this section so as not to invalidate the tax levied on the property. In re Notice of Attachment & Garnishment Issued by Catawba County Tax Collector, 59 N.C. App. 332, 296 S.E.2d 499 (1982), cert. denied, 307 N.C. 576, 299 S.E.2d 645 (1983).

The failure by a county tax assessor due to an administrative error to include on homeowner's tax bill an assessment for the improvements to the lot was an immaterial irregularity and did not, contrary to the homeowner's contention, invalidate the tax owed on the house. In re Dickey, 110 N.C. App. 823, 431 S.E.2d 203 (1993).

§ 105-395. Application and effective date of Subchapter.

(a) The provisions of G.S. 105-333 through 105-344 (being Article 23 in this Subchapter) shall first be applicable to public service company property to be listed or reported for taxation as of January 1, 1972. Unless otherwise specifically provided herein, all other provisions of this Machinery Act (being Subchapter II of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes) shall become effective July 1, 1971, and shall apply to all taxes due and uncollected as of that date as well as to those that shall become due thereafter.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 27, effective August 14, 1998.

(c) It is the intent of the General Assembly to make the provisions of this Subchapter uniformly applicable throughout the State, and to assure this objective all laws and clauses of laws, including private and local acts, other than local acts relating to the selection of tax collectors, in conflict with this Subchapter are repealed effective July 1, 1971. As used in this section, the term "local acts" means any acts of the General Assembly that apply to one or more counties by name, to one or more municipalities by name, or to all municipalities within one or more named counties. (1971, c. 806, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 19; 1998-98, s. 27.)

ARTICLE 36.

Gasoline Tax.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995, c. 17, s. 12, effective March 23, 1995, substituted “two-tenths” for “two tenths” in the last sentence of § 105-434(a). Section 105-434 was subsequently repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 390, s. 2, effective January 1, 1996. Prior to January 1, 1996, subsection (a) of § 105-434 reads: “Tax. — An excise tax is levied on motor fuel sold, distributed, or used by a distributor within this State at a flat rate of seventeen and one-half cents (17 1/2¢) per gallon, plus a variable rate of either three and one-half cents (3 1/2¢) per gallon or seven percent (7%) of the average wholesale price of motor fuel for the applicable base period, whichever is greater. The Secretary of Revenue shall semiannually determine the average wholesale price of motor fuel using information on refiner and gas plant operator sales prices of finished motor gasoline and No. 2 diesel fuel for resale, published by the United States Department of Energy in the “Monthly Energy Review,” or equivalent data. The Secretary shall determine the average wholesale price of motor fuel by computing the average sales price of finished motor gasoline for the base period, computing the average sales price for No. 2 diesel fuel for the base period, and then computing a weighted average of the results of the first two computations based on the proportion of tax collected under this Article on motor fuel and Article 36A on fuel for the base period. The Secretary shall notify affected taxpayers of the tax rate to be in effect for each six-month period beginning January 1 and July 1.”

“To facilitate administration of the motor fuel tax, the Secretary shall convert the wholesale percentage component to a cents-per-gallon rate. The rate for the six-month period beginning January 1 shall be computed from data published for the six-month base period ending on the preceding September 30, and the rate for the six-month period beginning July 1 shall be computed from data published for the six-month base period ending on the preceding March 31. The cents-per-gallon rate computed by the Secretary shall be rounded to the nearest one-tenth of a cent (1/10¢). If the cents-per-gallon rate computed by the Secretary is exactly between two-tenths of a cent, the rate shall be rounded up to the higher of the two.”

ARTICLE 36B.

Tax on Carriers Using Fuel Purchased Outside State.

§ 105-449.37. Definitions; tax liability.

(a) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this Article:

(1) Motor carrier. — A person who operates or causes to be operated on any highway in this State a motor vehicle that is a qualified motor vehicle under the International Fuel Tax Agreement. The term does not include the United States, the State, or a political subdivision of the State.

(1a) Motor vehicle. — A motor vehicle as defined in G.S. 105-164.3 other than special mobile equipment as defined in G.S. 105-164.3.

(2) Operations. — Operations of all motor vehicles described in subdivision (1), whether loaded or empty and whether or not operated for compensation.

(2a) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.

(3) Secretary. — The Secretary of Revenue.

(b) Liability. — A motor carrier who operates on one or more days of a reporting period is liable for the tax imposed by this Article for that reporting period and is entitled to the credits allowed for that reporting period. (1955, c. 823, s. 1; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 55; 1989, c. 7, s. 1; 1991, c. 182, s. 2; c. 487, s. 2; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 913, s. 8; 1993, c. 354, s. 28; 1999-337, s. 36; 2000-140, s. 74.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 36, effective July 22, 1999, in subdivision (a)(1a), substituted "G.S. 105-164.3(8c)" for "G.S. 20-4.01(23)" and substituted "G.S. 105-164.3(16b)" for "G.S. 20-4.01(44)."

Session Laws 2000-140, s. 74, effective July 21, 2000, substituted "G.S. 105-164.3" for "G.S. 105-164.3(8c)" and "G.S. 105-164.3" for "G.S. 105-164.3(16b)" in subdivision (a)(1a).

§ 105-449.38. Tax levied.

A road tax for the privilege of using the streets and highways of this State is imposed upon every motor carrier on the amount of motor fuel or alternative fuel used by the carrier in its operations within this State. The tax shall be at the rate established by the Secretary pursuant to G.S. 105-449.80 or G.S. 105-449.136, as appropriate. This tax is in addition to any other taxes imposed on motor carriers (1955, c. 823, s. 2; 1969, c. 600, s. 22; 1981, c. 690, s. 3; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 982, s. 16; 1995, c. 390, s. 16; 2001-205, s. 2.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-205, s. 2, effective June 15, 2001, substituted "G.S. 105-449.136" for "G.S. 105-449.134" in the second sentence.

§ 105-449.39. Credit for payment of motor fuel tax.

Every motor carrier subject to the tax levied by this Article is entitled to a credit on its quarterly report for tax paid by the carrier on fuel purchased in the State. The amount of the credit is determined using the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the variable cents-per-gallon rate of tax in effect during the quarter covered by the report. To obtain a credit, the motor carrier must furnish evidence satisfactory to the Secretary that the tax for which the credit is claimed has been paid.

If the amount of a credit to which a motor carrier is entitled for a quarter exceeds the motor carrier's liability for that quarter, the Secretary must refund the excess to the motor carrier. (1955, c. 823, s. 3; 1969, c. 600, s. 22; c. 1098; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1098; 1981, c. 690, s. 3; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 982, s. 17; 1987, c. 315; 1989, c. 692, s. 5.7; 1991, c. 182, s. 3; c. 487, s. 3; 1998-146, s. 1; 1999-337, s. 37.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 37, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote the first paragraph and substituted “quarter” for “reporting period” twice in the second paragraph.

§ 105-449.40. Secretary may require bond.

(a) Authority. — The Secretary may require a motor carrier to furnish a bond when any of the following occurs:

- (1) The motor carrier fails to file a report within the time required by this Article.
- (2) The motor carrier fails to pay a tax when due under this Article.
- (3) After auditing the motor carrier’s records, the Secretary determines that a bond is needed to protect the State from loss in collecting the tax due under this Article.

(b) Amount. — A bond required of a motor carrier under this section may not be more than the larger of the following amounts:

- (1) Five hundred dollars ($500.00).
- (2) Four times the motor carrier’s average tax liability or refund for a reporting period.

A bond must be in the form required by the Secretary. (1955, c. 823, s. 4; 1967, c. 1110, s. 15; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1991, c. 487, s. 4.)

§ 105-449.41. Penalty for false statements.

Any person who wilfully and knowingly makes a false statement orally, or in writing, or in the form of a receipt for the sale of motor fuel, for the purpose of obtaining or attempting to obtain or to assist any other person, partnership or corporation to obtain or attempt to obtain a credit or refund or reduction of liability for taxes under this Article shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. (1955, c. 823, s. 5; 1993, c. 539, s. 733; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-449.42. Payment of tax.

The tax levied by this Article is due when a motor carrier files a quarterly report under G.S. 105-449.45. The amount of tax due is calculated on the amount of motor fuel or alternative fuel used by the motor carrier in its operations within this State during the quarter covered by the report. (1955, c. 823, s. 6; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1086, s. 2; 1983, c. 29, s. 2; 1991, c. 182, s. 4; 1999-337, s. 38.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 38, effective July 22, 1999, deleted “or an annual” following “quarterly” in the first sentence, and in the second sentence substituted “is” for “shall be,” substituted “on” for “upon,” deleted “gasoline or other” preceding “motor fuel” and inserted “or alternative fuel” thereafter, and substituted “quarter” for “reporting period.”

§ 105-449.42A. Leased motor vehicles.

(a) Lessor in Leasing Business. — A lessor who is regularly engaged in the business of leasing or renting motor vehicles without drivers for compensation is the motor carrier for a leased or rented motor vehicle unless the lessee of the leased or rented motor vehicle gives the Secretary written notice, by filing a report or otherwise, that the lessee is the motor carrier. In that circumstance, the lessee is the motor carrier for the leased or rented motor vehicle.

Before a lessee gives the Secretary written notice under this subsection that the lessee is the motor carrier, the lessee and lessor must make a written agreement for the lessee to be the motor carrier. Upon request of the Secretary, the lessee must give the Secretary a copy of the agreement.

(b) Independent Contractor. — The lessee of a motor vehicle that is leased from an independent contractor is the motor carrier for the leased motor vehicle unless either of the following applies:

- (1) The motor vehicle is leased for fewer than 30 days.
- (2) The motor vehicle is leased for at least 30 days and the lessor gives the Secretary written notice, by filing a report or otherwise, that the lessor is the motor carrier.

If either of these circumstances applies, the lessor is the motor carrier for the leased motor vehicle.

Before a lessor gives the Secretary written notice under subdivision (2) that the lessor is the motor carrier, the lessor and lessee must make a written agreement for the lessor to be the motor carrier. Upon request of the Secretary, the lessor must give the Secretary a copy of the agreement.

(c) Liability. — An independent contractor who leases a motor vehicle to another for fewer than 30 days is liable for compliance with this Article and the person to whom the motor vehicle is leased is not liable. Otherwise, both the lessor and lessee of a motor vehicle are jointly and severally liable for compliance with this Article. (1983, c. 29, s. 3; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 826, s. 11; 1991, c. 487, s. 5; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 913, s. 9.)

§ 105-449.43. Application of tax proceeds.

Tax revenue collected under this Article and tax refunds or credits allowed under this Article shall be allocated among and charged to the funds and accounts listed in G.S. 105-449.125 in accordance with that section. (1955, c. 823, s. 7; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1211, s. 3; 1989, c. 692, s. 1.16; 1995, c. 390, s. 17.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1989, c. 692, s. 8.4, as amended by Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 590, s. 7, and by Session Laws 1999-380, s. 3, provides that when contracts for all projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 have been let and sufficient revenue has been accumulated to pay the contracts, the Secretary of Transportation shall certify this occurrence by letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the Secretary of State, which contingency is not expected to occur until the year 2020. Proceeds of bonds and notes issued pursuant to the State Highway Bond Act of 1996 shall not be included as revenues accumulated to pay the contracts for projects specified in Article 14 of Chapter 136 of the General Statutes. This section shall be amended by providing that all revenue collected under this Article be credited to the Highway Fund, effective the first day of the calendar quarter following the date the Secretary sends the letter, unless there is less than 30 days between that date and the first day of the following quarter, in which case the amendment will become effective the first day of the second calendar quarter following the date the letter is sent.

§ 105-449.44. How to determine the amount of fuel used in the State; presumption of amount used.

(a) Calculation. — The amount of motor fuel or alternative fuel a motor carrier uses in its operations in this State for a reporting period is the ratio of the number of miles the motor carrier travels in this State during that period to the total number of miles the motor carrier travels inside and outside this State during that period, multiplied by the total amount of fuel the motor carrier uses in its operations inside and outside the State during that period.

(b) Presumption. — The Secretary must check reports filed under this Article against the weigh station records and other records of the Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation concerning motor carriers to determine if motor carriers that are operating in this State are filing the reports required by this Article. The Department may assess a motor carrier for the amount payable based on the presumed mileage. A motor carrier that does either of the following for a quarter is presumed to have traveled in this State during that quarter the number of miles equal to 10 trips of 450 miles each for each of the motor carrier's vehicles:

- (1) Fails to file a report for the quarter and the records of the Division indicate the carrier operated in this State during the quarter.
- (2) Files a report for the quarter that, based on the records of the Division, understates by at least twenty-five percent (25%) the carrier's mileage in this State for the quarter.

(c) Vehicles. — The number of vehicles of a motor carrier that is registered under this Article is the number of identification markers issued to the carrier. The number of vehicles of a carrier that is not registered under this Article is the number of vehicles registered by the motor carrier in the carrier's base state under the International Registration Plan. (1955, c. 823, s. 8; 1995, c. 390, s. 35; 1999-337, s. 39; 2000-173, s. 12.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 39, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote subsection (a).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 12, effective August 2, 2000, substituted "a motor carrier uses" for "a motor carrier carries" in subsection (a); in subsection (b), substituted "must" for "shall" in the first sentence and inserted the second sentence; designated the former last paragraph in subsection (b) as present subsection (c); and in subsection (c), inserted the subsection catchline "Vehicles" and deleted the former last sentence, which read "The Department shall assess a motor carrier for the amount payable based on the presumed mileage."

§ 105-449.45. Reports of carriers.

(a) Report. — A motor carrier must report its operations to the Secretary on a quarterly basis unless subsection (b) of this section exempts the motor carrier from this requirement. A quarterly report covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day in April, July, October, and January.

(b) Exemptions. — A motor carrier is not required to file a quarterly report if any of the following applies:

- (1) All the motor carrier's operations during the quarter were made under a temporary permit issued under G.S. 105-449.49.
- (2) The motor carrier is an intrastate motor carrier, as indicated on the motor carrier's application for registration with the Secretary.

(c) Other Reports. — A motor carrier must file with the Secretary other reports concerning its operations that the Secretary requires.

(d) Penalties. — A motor carrier that fails to file a report under this section by the required date is subject to a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1955, c. 823, s. 9; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1086, s. 2; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1254, s. 2; 1989 (Reg. Sess., 1990), c. 1050, s. 1; 1991, c. 182, s. 5; 1995, c. 17, s. 13.1; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(q); 1999-337, s. 40.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, substituted “fifty dollars ($50.00)” for “up to fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first failure and of up to one hundred dollars ($100.00) for a subsequent failure” in subsection (d).

Session Laws 1999-337, s. 40, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote subsections (a) and (b) and substituted “must” for “shall” in subsection (c).

§ 105-449.46. Inspection of books and records.

The Secretary and his authorized agents and representatives shall have the right at any reasonable time to inspect the books and records of any motor carrier subject to the tax imposed by this Article. (1955, c. 823, s. 10; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-449.47. Registration of vehicles.

(a) Requirement. — A motor carrier that is subject to the International Fuel Tax Agreement may not operate or cause to be operated in this State any vehicle listed in the definition of motor vehicle unless both the motor carrier and the motor vehicle are registered with the motor carrier's base state jurisdiction. A motor carrier that is not subject to the International Fuel Tax Agreement may not operate or cause to be operated in this State any vehicle listed in the definition of motor vehicle unless both the motor carrier and the motor vehicle are registered with the Secretary for purposes of the tax imposed by this Article.

When the Secretary registers a motor carrier, the Secretary must issue at least one identification marker for each motor vehicle operated by the motor carrier. Registrations and identification markers issued by the Secretary are for a calendar year. The Secretary may renew a registration or an identification marker without issuing a new registration or identification marker. All identification markers issued by the Secretary remain the property of the State. The Secretary may withhold or revoke a registration or an identification marker when a motor carrier fails to comply with this Article, former Article 36 or 36A of this Subchapter, or Article 36C or 36D of this Subchapter.

A motor carrier must carry a copy of its registration in each motor vehicle operated by the motor carrier when the vehicle is in this State. A motor vehicle must clearly display an identification marker at all times. The identification marker must be affixed to the vehicle for which it was issued in the place and manner designated by the authority that issued it.

(b) Exemption. — This section does not apply to the operation of a vehicle that is registered in another state and is operated temporarily in this State by a public utility, a governmental or cooperative provider of utility services, or a contractor for one of these entities for the purpose of restoring utility services in an emergency outage. (1955, c. 823, s. 11; 1973, c. 746, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 56; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 937, s. 20; 1989, c. 692, s. 6.2; 1991, c. 487, s. 6; 1995, c. 50, s. 5; c. 390, s. 18; 1999-337, s. 41.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 41, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote subsection (a).

§ 105-449.48. Fees and civil penalties credited to Highway Fund.

All fees collected under this Article and all civil penalties collected under G.S. 105-449.52 shall be credited to the Highway Fund. (1955, c. 823, s. 12; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 57; 1991, c. 42, s. 13.)

§ 105-449.49. Temporary permits.

Upon application to the Secretary and payment of a fee of fifty dollars ($50.00), a motor carrier may obtain a temporary permit authorizing the carrier to operate a vehicle in the State without registering the vehicle in accordance with G.S. 105-449.47 for not more than 20 days. A motor carrier to whom a temporary permit has been issued may elect not to report its operation of the vehicle during the 20-day period. The Secretary may refuse to issue a temporary permit to any of the following:

- (1) A motor carrier whose registration has been withheld or revoked.
- (2) A motor carrier who the Secretary determines is evading payment of tax through the successive purchase of temporary permits. (1955, c. 823, s. 13; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, c. 11; 1981 (Reg. Sess., 1982), c. 1254, s. 1; 1983, c. 713, s. 58; 1991, c. 182, s. 6; c. 487, s. 7; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 913, s. 10.)

§ 105-449.50. Application blanks.

The Secretary shall prepare forms to be used in making applications in accordance with this Article and the applicant shall furnish all information required by such forms. (1955, c. 823, s. 14; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-449.51. Violations declared to be misdemeanors.

Any person who operates or causes to be operated on a highway in this State a motor vehicle that does not carry a registration card as required by this Article, does not properly display an identification marker as required by this Article, or is not registered in accordance with this Article is guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall only be fined no less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00). Each day's operation in violation of any provision of this section shall constitute a separate offense. (1955, c. 823, s. 15; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1983, c. 713, s. 59; 1993, c. 539, s. 734; 1994, Ex. Sess., c. 24, s. 14(c).)

§ 105-449.52. Penalty for operating a motor vehicle without a registration card or an identification marker.

(a) Penalty. — A motor carrier who operates in this State or causes to be operated in this State a motor vehicle that does not carry the registration card required by this Article or does not display an identification marker in accordance with this Article is subject to a civil penalty of one hundred dollars ($100.00). The penalty is payable to the Department of Revenue or the Division of Motor Vehicles. When a motor vehicle is found to be operating without a registration card or an identification marker, the motor vehicle may not be driven for a purpose other than to park the motor vehicle until the penalty imposed under this section is paid unless the officer that imposes the penalty determines that operation of the motor vehicle will not jeopardize collection of the penalty.

(b) Hearing. — The procedure set out in G.S. 105-449.119 for protesting a penalty imposed under Article 36C, Part 6, of this Chapter applies to a penalty imposed under this section. (1955, c. 823, s. 16; 1957, c. 948; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1975, c. 716, s. 5; 1981, c. 690, s. 18; 1983, c. 713, s. 60; 1991, c. 42, s. 14; 1991 (Reg. Sess., 1992), c. 913, s. 11; 1998-146, s. 2; 1999-337, s. 43.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 43, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote subsection (b).

§ 105-449.53: Repealed by Session Laws 1963, c. 1169, s. 6.

§ 105-449.54. Commissioner of Motor Vehicles made process agent of nonresident motor carriers.

The acceptance by a nonresident motor carrier of the rights and privileges conferred by the laws now or hereafter in force in this State permitting the operation of motor vehicles, as evidenced by the operation of a motor vehicle by such nonresident, either personally or through an agent or employee, on the public highways of this State, or the operation by such nonresident, either personally or through an agent or employee, of a motor vehicle on the public highways of this State other than as so permitted or regulated, shall be deemed equivalent to the appointment by such nonresident motor carrier of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, or his successor in office, to be his true and lawful attorney and the attorney of his executor or administrator, upon whom may be served all summonses or other lawful process or notice in any action, assessment proceeding or other proceeding against him or his executor or administrator, arising out of or by reason of any provisions of this Article relating to such vehicle or relating to the liability for tax with respect to operation of such vehicle on the highways of this State. Said acceptance or operation shall be a signification by such nonresident motor carrier of his agreement that any such process against or notice to him or his executor or administrator shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served on him personally, or on his executor or administrator. All of the provisions of G.S. 1-105 following the first paragraph thereof shall be applicable with respect to the service of process or notice pursuant to this section. (1955, c. 823, s. 18.)

§§ 105-449.55, 105-449.56: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 42, s. 17.

Cross References. — As to enforcement of Subchapter V, see now § 105-269.3.

§ 105-449.57. Cooperative agreements between jurisdictions.

(a) Authority. — The Secretary may enter into cooperative agreements with other jurisdictions for exchange of information in administering the tax imposed by this Article. No agreement, arrangement, declaration, or amendment to an agreement is effective until stated in writing and approved by the Secretary.

(b) Content. — An agreement may provide for determining the base state for motor carriers, records requirements, audit procedures, exchange of information, persons eligible for tax licensing, defining qualified motor vehicles, determining if bonding is required, specifying reporting requirements and periods, including defining uniform penalty and interest rates for late reporting, determining methods for collecting and forwarding of motor carrier taxes and penalties to another jurisdiction, and any other provisions that will facilitate the administration of the agreement.

(c) Disclosure. — In accordance with G.S. 105-259, the Secretary may, as required by the terms of an agreement, forward to officials of another jurisdiction any information in the Department's possession relative to the use of motor fuel or alternative fuel by any motor carrier. The Secretary may disclose to officials of another jurisdiction the location of offices, motor vehicles, and other real and personal property of motor carriers.

(d) Audits. — An agreement may provide for each jurisdiction to audit the records of motor carriers based in the jurisdiction to determine if the taxes due each jurisdiction are properly reported and paid. Each jurisdiction must forward the findings of the audits performed on motor carriers based in the jurisdiction to each jurisdiction in which the carrier has taxable use of motor fuel or alternative fuel. For motor carriers not based in this State, the Secretary may utilize the audit findings received from another jurisdiction as the basis upon which to propose assessments of taxes against the carrier as though the audit had been conducted by the Secretary. Penalties and interest must be assessed at the rates provided in the agreement.

No agreement entered into pursuant to this section may preclude the Department from auditing the records of any motor carrier covered by this Chapter.

The provisions of Article 9 of this Chapter apply to any assessment or order made under this section.

(e) Restriction. — The Secretary may not enter into any agreement that would increase or decrease taxes and fees imposed under Subchapter V of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. Any provision to the contrary is void. (1989, c. 667, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 36; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 50; 1999-337, s. 42.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46, provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 42, effective July 22, 1999, rewrote the section.

§§ 105-449.58, 105-449.59: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 36C.

Gasoline, Diesel, and Blends.

Part 1. General Provisions.

§ 105-449.60. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Blended fuel. — A mixture composed of gasoline or diesel fuel and another liquid, other than a de minimus amount of a product such as carburetor detergent or oxidation inhibitor, that can be used as a fuel in a highway vehicle.

- (2) Blender. — A person who produces blended fuel outside the terminal transfer system.
- (3) Bulk-end user. — A person who maintains storage facilities for motor fuel and uses part or all of the stored fuel to operate a highway vehicle.
- (4) Bulk plant. — A motor fuel storage and distribution facility that is not a terminal and from which motor fuel may be removed at a rack.
- (5) Code. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (6) Destination state. — The state, territory, or foreign country to which motor fuel is directed for delivery into a storage facility, a receptacle, a container, or a type of transportation equipment for the purpose of resale or use.
- (7) Diesel fuel. — Any liquid, other than gasoline, that is suitable for use as a fuel in a diesel-powered highway vehicle. The term includes kerosene. The term does not include jet fuel sold to a buyer who is certified to purchase jet fuel under the Code.
- (8) Distributor. — A person who acquires motor fuel from a supplier or from another distributor for subsequent sale.
- (9) Dyed diesel fuel. — Diesel fuel that meets the dyeing and marking requirements of § 4082 of the Code.
- (10) Elective supplier. — A supplier that is required to be licensed in this State and that elects to collect the excise tax due this State on motor fuel that is removed by the supplier at a terminal located in another state and has this State as its destination state.
- (11) Export. — To obtain motor fuel in this State for sale or other distribution in another state. In applying this definition, motor fuel delivered out-of-state by or for the seller constitutes an export by the seller and motor fuel delivered out-of-state by or for the purchaser constitutes an export by the purchaser.
- (12) Fuel alcohol. — Methanol or fuel grade ethanol.
- (13) Fuel alcohol provider. — A person who does any of the following:
  - a. Produces fuel alcohol.
  - b. Imports fuel alcohol outside the terminal transfer system by means of a marine vessel, a transport truck, or a railroad tank car.
- (14) Gasohol. — A blended fuel composed of gasoline and fuel grade ethanol.
- (15) Gasoline. — Any of the following:
  - a. All products that are commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline and are suitable for use as a fuel in a highway vehicle, other than products that have an American Society for Testing Materials octane number of less than 75 as determined by the motor method.
  - b. A petroleum product component of gasoline, such as naphtha, reformate, or toluene.
  - c. Gasohol.
  - d. Fuel grade ethanol.

The term does not include aviation gasoline sold for use in an aircraft motor. "Aviation gasoline" is gasoline that is designed for use in an aircraft motor and is not adapted for use in an ordinary highway vehicle.
- (16) Gross gallons. — The total amount of motor fuel measured in gallons, exclusive of any temperature, pressure, or other adjustments.
- (17) Highway. — Defined in G.S. 20-4.01(13).
- (18) Highway vehicle. — A self-propelled vehicle that is designed for use on a highway.
- (19) Import. — To bring motor fuel into this State by any means of conveyance other than in the fuel supply tank of a highway vehicle. In applying this definition, motor fuel delivered into this State from out-of-state by or for the seller constitutes an import by the seller, and motor fuel delivered into this State from out-of-state by or for the purchaser constitutes an import by the purchaser.

- (19a) In-State-only supplier. — Either of the following:
- a. A supplier that is required to have a license and elects not to collect the excise tax due this State on motor fuel that is removed by the supplier at a terminal located in another state and has this State as its destination state.
  - b. A supplier that does business only in this State.
- (20) Motor fuel. — Gasoline, diesel fuel, and blended fuel.
- (21) Motor fuel rate. — The rate of tax set in G.S. 105-449.80.
- (22) Motor fuel transporter. — A person who transports motor fuel outside the terminal transfer system by means of a transport truck, a railroad tank car, or a marine vessel.
- (23) Net gallons. — The amount of motor fuel measured in gallons when corrected to a temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit and a pressure of 14  $\frac{7}{10}$  pounds per square inch.
- (24) Permissive supplier. — An out-of-state supplier that elects, but is not required, to have a supplier's license under this Article.
- (25) Person. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (26) Position holder. — The person who holds the inventory position in motor fuel in a terminal, as reflected on the records of the terminal operator. A person holds the inventory position in motor fuel when that person has a contract with the terminal operator for the use of storage facilities and terminaling services for fuel at the terminal. The term includes a terminal operator who owns fuel in the terminal.
- (27) Rack. — A mechanism for delivering motor fuel from a refinery, a terminal, or a bulk plant into a transport truck, a railroad tank car, or another means of transfer that is outside the terminal transfer system.
- (28) Removal. — A physical transfer other than by evaporation, loss, or destruction. A physical transfer to a transport truck or another means of conveyance outside the terminal transfer system is complete upon delivery into the means of conveyance.
- (29) Retailer. — A person who maintains storage facilities for motor fuel and who sells the fuel at retail or dispenses the fuel at a retail location.
- (30) Secretary. — Defined in G.S. 105-228.90.
- (31) Supplier. — Any of the following:
- a. A position holder or a person who receives motor fuel pursuant to a two-party exchange.
  - b. A fuel alcohol provider.
- (32) System transfer. — Either of the following:
- a. A transfer of motor fuel within the terminal transfer system.
  - b. A transfer, by transport truck or railroad tank car, of fuel grade ethanol.
- (33) Tank wagon. — A truck that is not a transport truck and has multiple compartments designed or used to carry motor fuel.
- (33a) Tax. — An inspection or other excise tax on motor fuel and any other fee or charge imposed on motor fuel on a per-gallon basis.
- (34) Terminal. — A motor fuel storage and distribution facility that has been assigned a terminal control number by the Internal Revenue Service, is supplied by pipeline or marine vessel, and from which motor fuel may be removed at a rack.
- (35) Terminal operator. — A person who owns, operates, or otherwise controls a terminal.

- (36) Terminal transfer system. — The motor fuel distribution system consisting of refineries, pipelines, marine vessels, and terminals. The term has the same meaning as “bulk transfer/terminal system” under 26 C.F.R. § 48.4081-1.
- (37) Transmix. — Either of the following:
  - a. The buffer or interface between two different products in a pipeline shipment.
  - b. A mix of two different products within a refinery or terminal that results in an off-grade mixture.
- (38) Transport truck. — A semitrailer combination rig designed or used to transport loads of motor fuel over a highway.
- (39) Trustee. — A person who is licensed as a supplier, an elective supplier, or a permissive supplier and who receives tax payments from and on behalf of a licensed distributor.
- (40) Two-party exchange. — A transaction in which motor fuel is transferred from one licensed supplier to another licensed supplier pursuant to an exchange agreement under which the supplier that is the position holder agrees to deliver motor fuel to the other supplier or the other supplier’s customer at the rack of the terminal at which the delivering supplier is the position holder.
- (41) User. — A person who owns or operates a licensed highway vehicle that has a registered gross vehicle weight of at least 10,001 pounds and who does not maintain storage facilities for motor fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, ss. 1, 2; 1998-146, s. 3; 2000-173, ss. 13(a), 14(a); 2001-414, s. 27.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1998-146, s. 13, applicable to transactions occurring on or after January 1, 1999, substituted “transaction” for “exchange” in subdivision (31)a., and rewrote subdivision (40). Session Laws 2000-173, s. 13(a) amended subdivisions (31) and (40) to restore the pre-1998 wording.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 13(a), effective July 1, 2000, substituted “exchange” for “transaction” in subdivision (31)a.; and in subdivision (40), substituted “exchange” for “transaction” and substituted “from one licensed supplier ... the position holder agrees” for “between two licensed suppliers as the motor fuel crosses the terminal rack as the result of an exchange agreement or a sale between the suppliers that requires the supplier that is the position holder.”

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 14(a), effective August 2, 2000, inserted “that has a registered gross vehicle weight of at last 10,001 pounds and who” and deleted “and” thereafter in subdivision (41).

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 27, effective September 14, 2001, substituted “least” for “last” in subdivision (41).

CASE NOTES

Editor’s Note. — The case below was decided under repealed Article 36 of this chapter.

Tax is payable by the first distributor. In re Sing Oil Co., 263 N.C. 520, 139 S.E.2d 599 (1965).

§ 105-449.61. Tax restrictions; administration.

(a) No Local Tax. — A county or city may not impose a tax on the sale, distribution, or use of motor fuel.

(b) No Double Tax. — The tax imposed by this Chapter applies only once on the same motor fuel.

(c) Administration. — Article 9 of this Chapter applies to this Article. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.62. Nature of tax.

This Article imposes a tax on motor fuel to provide revenue for the State's transportation needs and for the other purposes listed in Part 7 of this Article. The tax is collected from the supplier or importer of the fuel because this method is the most efficient way to collect the tax. The tax is designed, however, to be paid ultimately by the person who consumes the fuel. The tax becomes a part of the cost of the fuel and is consequently paid by those who subsequently purchase and consume the fuel. (1997-60, s. 1.)

§§ 105-449.63 through 105-449.64: Reserved for future codification purposes.

Part 2. Licensing.

§ 105-449.65. List of persons who must have a license.

(a) License. — A person may not engage in business in this State as any of the following unless the person has a license issued by the Secretary authorizing the person to engage in that business:

- (1) A refiner.
- (2) A supplier.
- (3) A terminal operator.
- (4) An importer.
- (5) An exporter.
- (6) A blender.
- (7) A motor fuel transporter.
- (8) Repealed by Session Laws 1999-438, s. 20, effective August 10, 1999.
- (9) Repealed by Session Laws 1999-438, s. 21, effective August 10, 1999.

(b) Multiple Activity. — A person who is engaged in more than one activity for which a license is required must have a separate license for each activity, unless this subsection provides otherwise. A person who is licensed as a supplier is not required to obtain a separate license for any other activity for which a license is required and is considered to have a license as a distributor. A person who is licensed as an occasional importer or a tank wagon importer is not required to obtain a separate license as a distributor. A person who is licensed as a distributor is not required to obtain a separate license as an importer if the distributor acquires fuel for import only from an elective supplier or a permissive supplier and is not required to obtain a separate license as an exporter. A person who is licensed as a distributor or a blender is not required to obtain a separate license as a motor fuel transporter if the distributor or blender does not transport motor fuel for others for hire. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 3; 1997-60, s. 2; 1999-438, ss. 20, 21.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, ss. 20 and 21, effective August 10, 1999, repealed subdivisions (a)(8) and (a)(9), pertaining to bulk-end users and retailers of undyed deisel fuel.

§ 105-449.66. Types of importers; restrictions on who can get a license as an importer.

(a) Types. — An applicant for a license as an importer must indicate the type of importer license sought. The types of importers are as follows:

- (1) Bonded importer. — A bonded importer is a person, other than a supplier, who imports, by transport truck or another means of transfer outside the terminal transfer system, motor fuel removed from a terminal located in another state in any of the following circumstances:
  - a. The state from which the fuel is imported does not require the seller of the fuel to collect motor fuel tax on the removal either at that state's rate or the rate of the destination state.
  - b. The supplier of the fuel is not an elective supplier.
  - c. The supplier of the fuel is not a permissive supplier.
- (2) Occasional importer. — An occasional importer is any of the following that imports motor fuel by any means outside the terminal transfer system:
  - a. A distributor that imports motor fuel on an average basis of no more than once a month during a calendar year.
  - b. A bulk-end user that acquires motor fuel for import from a bulk plant and is not required to be licensed as a bonded importer.
  - c. A distributor that imports motor fuel for use in a race car.
- (3) Tank wagon importer. — A tank wagon importer is a person who imports, only by means of a tank wagon, motor fuel that is removed from a terminal or a bulk plant located in another state.

(b) Restrictions. — A person may not be licensed as more than one type of importer. A bulk-end user that imports motor fuel from a terminal of a supplier that is not an elective or a permissive supplier must be licensed as a bonded importer. A bulk-end user that imports motor fuel from a bulk plant and is not required to be licensed as a bonded importer must be licensed as an occasional importer. A bulk-end user that imports motor fuel only from a terminal of an elective or a permissive supplier is not required to be licensed as an importer. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 4; 1997-60, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.67. List of persons who may obtain a license.

A person who is engaged in business as any of the following may obtain a license issued by the Secretary for that business:

- (1) A distributor.
- (2) A permissive supplier. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 5; 1997-60, s. 4.)

§ 105-449.68. Restrictions on who can get a license as a distributor.

A bulk-end user of motor fuel may not be licensed as a distributor unless the bulk-end user also acquires motor fuel from a supplier or from another distributor for subsequent sale. This restriction does not apply to a bulk-end user that was licensed as a distributor on January 1, 1996. If a distributor license held by a bulk-end user on January 1, 1996, is subsequently cancelled, the bulk-end user is subject to the restriction set in this section. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 2000-173, s. 14.(b).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 14(b), effective August 2, 2000, inserted the first instance of “bulk-end.”

§ 105-449.69. How to apply for a license.

(a) General. — To obtain a license, an applicant must file an application with the Secretary on a form provided by the Secretary. An application must include the applicant's name, address, federal employer identification number, and any other information required by the Secretary.

(b) Most Licenses. — An applicant for a license as a refiner, a supplier, a terminal operator, an importer, a blender, a bulk-end user of undyed diesel fuel, a retailer of undyed diesel fuel, or a distributor must meet the following requirements:

- (1) If the applicant is a corporation, the applicant must either be incorporated in this State or be authorized to transact business in this State.
- (2) If the applicant is a limited liability company, the applicant must either be organized in this State or be authorized to transact business in this State.
- (3) If the applicant is a limited partnership, the applicant must either be formed in this State or be authorized to transact business in this State.
- (4) If the applicant is an individual or a general partnership, the applicant must designate an agent for service of process and give the agent's name and address.

(c) Federal Certificate. — An applicant for a license as a refiner, a supplier, a terminal operator, a blender, or a permissive supplier must have a federal Certificate of Registry that is issued under § 4101 of the Code and authorizes the applicant to enter into federal tax-free transactions in taxable motor fuel in the terminal transfer system. An applicant that is required to have a federal Certificate of Registry must include the registration number of the certificate on the application for a license under this section.

An applicant for a license as an importer, an exporter, or a distributor that has a federal Certificate of Registry issued under § 4101 of the Code must include the registration number of the certificate on the application for a license under this section.

(d) Import Activity. — An applicant for a license as an importer or as a distributor must list on the application each state from which the applicant intends to import motor fuel and, if required by a state listed, must be licensed or registered for motor fuel tax purposes in that state. If a state listed requires the applicant to be licensed or registered, the applicant must give the applicant's license or registration number in that state.

A license holder that intends to import motor fuel from a state not listed on the license holder's application for an importer's license or a distributor's license must give the Secretary written notice of the change before importing motor fuel from that state. The notice must include the information that is required on the license application.

(e) Export Activity. — An applicant for a license as an exporter must designate an agent located in North Carolina for service of process and must give the agent's name and address. An applicant for a license as an exporter or as a distributor must list on the application each state to which the applicant intends to export motor fuel received in this State by means of a transfer that is outside the terminal transfer system and, if required by a state listed, must be licensed or registered for motor fuel tax purposes in that state. If a state listed requires the applicant to be licensed or registered, the applicant must give the applicant's license or registration number in that state.

A license holder that intends to export motor fuel to a state not listed on the license holder's application for an exporter's license or a distributor's license must give the Secretary written notice of the change before exporting motor fuel to that state. The notice must include the information that is required on the license application. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 6.)

§ 105-449.70. Supplier election to collect tax on out-of-state removals.

(a) Election. — An applicant for a license as a supplier may elect on the application to collect the excise tax due this State on motor fuel that is removed by the supplier at a terminal located in another state and has this State as its destination state. The Secretary must provide for this election on the application form. A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section is an elective supplier. A supplier that does not make the election allowed by this section is an in-State-only supplier.

A supplier that does not make the election on the application for a supplier's license may make the election later by completing an election form provided by the Secretary. A supplier that does not make the election may not act as an elective supplier for motor fuel that is removed at a terminal in another state and has this State as its destination state.

(b) Effect. — A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section agrees to all of the following with respect to motor fuel that is removed by the supplier at a terminal located in another state and has this State as its destination state:

- (1) To collect the excise tax due this State on the fuel and to waive any defense that the State lacks jurisdiction to require the supplier to collect the excise tax due this State under this Article on the fuel.
- (2) To report and pay the tax due on the fuel in the same manner as if the removal had occurred at a terminal located in this State.
- (3) To keep records of the removal of the fuel and submit to audits concerning the fuel as if the removal had occurred at a terminal located in this State.
- (4) To report removals of fuel received by a person who is not licensed in the state where the removal occurred.

(c) Limited Jurisdiction. — A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section acknowledges that the State imposes the requirements listed in subsection (b) of this section on the supplier under its general police power set out in Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes to regulate the quality of motor fuel and thereby promote public health and safety. A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section submits to the jurisdiction of the State only for the administration of this Article. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, ss. 7, 8.)

§ 105-449.71. Permissive supplier election to collect tax on out-of-state removals.

(a) Election. — An out-of-state supplier that is not required to have a license under this Part may elect to have a license and thereby become a permissive supplier. An out-of-state supplier that does not make this election may not act as a permissive supplier for motor fuel that is removed at a terminal in another state and has this State as its destination state.

(b) Effect. — By obtaining a license as a permissive supplier, the permissive supplier agrees to be subject to the same requirements as a supplier and to all of the following with respect to motor fuel that is removed by the permissive supplier at a terminal located in another state and has this State as its destination state:

- (1) To collect the excise tax due this State on the fuel and to waive any defense that the State lacks jurisdiction to require the supplier to collect the excise tax due this State under this Article on the fuel.
- (2) To report and pay the tax due on the fuel in the same manner as if the removal had occurred at a terminal located in this State.
- (3) To keep records of the removal of the fuel and submit to audits concerning the fuel as if the removal had occurred at a terminal located in this State.
- (4) To report removals of fuel received by a person who is not licensed in the state where the removal occurred.

(c) Limited Jurisdiction. — A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section acknowledges that the State imposes the requirements listed in subsection (b) of this section on the supplier under its general police power set out in Article 3 of Chapter 119 of the General Statutes to regulate the quality of motor fuel and thereby promote public health and safety. A supplier that makes the election allowed by this section submits to the jurisdiction of the State only for the administration of this Article. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 9.)

§ 105-449.72. Bond or letter of credit required as a condition of obtaining and keeping certain licenses or of applying for certain refunds.

(a) Initial Bond. — An applicant for a license as a refiner, a terminal operator, a supplier, an importer, a blender, a permissive supplier, or a distributor must file with the Secretary a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit. A bond must be conditioned upon compliance with the requirements of this Article, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary. The amount of the bond or irrevocable letter of credit is determined as follows:

- (1) For an applicant for a license as any of the following, the amount is two million dollars ($2,000,000):
  - a. A refiner.
  - b. A terminal operator.
  - c. A supplier that is a position holder or a person that receives motor fuel pursuant to a two-party exchange.
  - d. A bonded importer.
  - e. A permissive supplier.
- (2) For an applicant for a license as any of the following, the amount is two times the applicant's average expected monthly tax liability under this Article, as determined by the Secretary. The amount may not be less than two thousand dollars ($2,000) and may not be more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000):
  - a. A supplier that is a fuel alcohol provider but is neither a position holder nor a person that receives motor fuel pursuant to a two-party exchange.
  - b. An occasional importer.
  - c. A tank wagon importer.
  - d. A distributor.
  - e. Repealed by Session Laws 1997-60, s. 5, effective October 1, 1997.
- (3) For an applicant for a license as a blender, a bond is required only if the applicant's average expected annual tax liability under this Article, as determined by the Secretary, is at least two thousand dollars ($2,000). When a bond is required, the bond amount is the same as under subdivision (2) of this subsection.

(b) Multiple Activity. — An applicant for a license as a distributor and as a bonded importer must file only the bond required of a bonded importer. An applicant for two or more of the licenses listed in subdivision (a)(2) or (a)(3) of this section may file one bond that covers the combined liabilities of the applicant under all the activities. A bond for these combined activities may not exceed the maximum amount set in subdivision (a)(2) of this subsection.

(c) Adjustment to Bond. — When notified to do so by the Secretary, a person that has filed a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit and that holds a license listed in subdivision (a)(2) of this section must file an additional bond or irrevocable letter of credit in the amount requested by the Secretary. The person must file the additional bond or irrevocable letter of credit within 30 days after receiving the notice from the Secretary. The amount of the initial bond or irrevocable letter of credit and any additional bond or irrevocable letter of credit filed by the license holder, however, may not exceed the limits set in subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

(d) Replacements. — When a license holder files a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit as a replacement for a previously filed bond or letter of credit and the license holder has paid all taxes and penalties due under this Article, the Secretary must take one of the following actions:

(1) Return the previously filed bond or letter of credit.

(2) Notify the person liable on the previously filed bond and the license holder that the person is released from liability on the bond.

(e) Credit Card Companies. — The Secretary may require a credit card company to file with the Secretary a bond if the company applies for a refund under G.S. 105-449.105(a) and the Secretary determines after an audit that a bond is needed to protect the State from loss in collecting any additional tax due pursuant to the audit. The bond must be conditioned upon compliance with the requirements of this Article, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary. The amount of a bond required under this subsection is two times the average monthly refund due, subject to the minimum and maximum amounts provided in subdivision (a)(2) of this section. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 10; 1997-60, s. 5; 1998-146, s. 4; 2001-205, s. 5.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-205, s. 5, effective October 1, 2001, added “or of applying for certain refunds” at the end of the section catchline, and added subsection (e).

§ 105-449.73. Reasons why the Secretary can deny an application for a license.

The Secretary may refuse to issue a license to an individual applicant that has done any of the following and may refuse to issue a license to an applicant that is a business entity if any principal in the business has done any of the following:

(1) Had a license or registration issued under this Article or former Article 36 or 36A of this Chapter cancelled by the Secretary for cause.

(1a) Had a motor fuel license or registration issued by another state cancelled for cause.

(2) Had a federal Certificate of Registry issued under § 4101 of the Code, or a similar federal authorization, revoked.

(3) Been convicted of fraud or misrepresentation.

(4) Been convicted of any other offense that indicates that the applicant may not comply with this Article if issued a license. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 11.)

Editor's Note. — The subsection designation (1a) was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the designation in Session Laws 1995

(Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 11, having been (2). The remaining subsections designations are unchanged.

§ 105-449.74. Issuance of license.

Upon approval of an application, the Secretary must issue a license to the applicant as well as a duplicate copy of the license for each place of business of the applicant. A supplier's license must indicate the category of the supplier. A license holder must display a license issued under this Part in a conspicuous place at each place of business of the license holder. A license is not transferable and remains in effect until surrendered or cancelled. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.75. License holder must notify the Secretary of discontinuance of business.

A license holder that stops engaging in this State in the business for which the license was issued must give the Secretary written notice of the change and must surrender the license to the Secretary. The notice must give the date the change takes effect and, if the license holder has transferred the business to another by sale or otherwise, the date of the transfer and the name and address of the person to whom the business is transferred.

If the license holder is a supplier, all taxes for which the supplier is liable under this Article but are not yet due become due on the date of the change. If the supplier has transferred the business to another and does not give the notice required by this section, the person to whom the supplier has transferred the business is liable for the amount of any tax the supplier owed the State on the date the business was transferred. The liability of the person to whom the business is transferred is limited to the value of the property acquired from the supplier. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.76. Reasons why the Secretary can cancel a license.

The Secretary may cancel a license issued under this Article upon the written request of the license holder. The Secretary may summarily cancel the license of a license holder when the Secretary finds that the license holder is incurring liability for the tax imposed under this Article after failing to pay a tax when due under this Article. In addition, the Secretary may cancel the license of a license holder that commits one or more of the acts listed in G.S. 105-449.120 after holding a hearing on whether the license should be cancelled.

The Secretary must send a person whose license is summarily cancelled a notice of the cancellation and must give the person an opportunity to have a hearing on the cancellation within 10 days after the cancellation. The Secretary must give a person whose license may be cancelled after a hearing at least 10 days' written notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing. A notice of a summary license cancellation and a notice of hearing must be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the license holder.

When the Secretary cancels a license and the license holder has paid all taxes and penalties due under this Article, the Secretary must take one of the following actions concerning a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit filed by the license holder:

- (1) Return an irrevocable letter of credit to the license holder.
- (2) Return a bond to the license holder or notify the person liable on the bond and the license holder that the person is released from liability on the bond. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.77. Records and lists of license applicants and license holders.

(a) Records. — The Secretary must keep a record of the following:

- (1) Applicants for a license under this Article.
- (2) Persons to whom a license has been issued under this Article.
- (3) Persons that hold a current license issued under this Article, by license category.

(b) Supplier Lists. — The Secretary must give a list of licensed suppliers, licensed terminal operators, licensed importers, licensed distributors, and licensed exporters to each licensed supplier. The list must state the name, account number, and business address of each license holder on the list. The Secretary must send a monthly update of the list to each licensed supplier.

The Secretary must give a list of licensed suppliers to each licensed distributor, licensed exporter, and licensed importer. The Secretary must also give a list of licensed suppliers to each unlicensed distributor that asks for a copy of the list. The list must state the name, account number, and business address of each supplier on the list and must indicate whether the supplier is an elective supplier, a permissive supplier, or an in-State-only supplier. The Secretary must send an annual update of the list to each licensed distributor, licensed exporter, and licensed importer, and to each unlicensed distributor that requested a copy of the list.

(c) Transporter Lists. — The Secretary must give a list of licensed motor fuel transporters to each licensed supplier, licensed terminal operator, licensed importer, licensed blender, licensed distributor, and licensed exporter. The list must state the name, account number, and business address of each motor fuel transporter on the list. The Secretary must send a monthly update of the list to each license holder to whom the Secretary must give the list.

The Secretary must give a list of licensed suppliers, licensed terminal operators, licensed importers, licensed blenders, licensed distributors, and licensed exporters to each licensed motor fuel transporter. The list must state the name, account number, and business address of each license holder on the list. The Secretary must send a monthly update of the list to each licensed motor fuel transporter. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 12; 1997-60, s. 6.)

§§ 105-449.78, 105-449.79: Reserved for future codification purposes.

Part 3. Tax and Liability.

§ 105-449.80. Tax rate.

(a) Rate. — The motor fuel excise tax rate is a flat rate of seventeen and one-half cents (17 1/2¢) a gallon plus a variable wholesale component. The variable wholesale component is either three and one-half cents (3 1/2¢) a gallon or seven percent (7%) of the average wholesale price of motor fuel for the applicable base period, whichever is greater.

The two base periods are six-month periods; one ends on September 30 and one ends on March 31. The Secretary must set the tax rate twice a year based on the wholesale price for each base period. A tax rate set by the Secretary using information for the base period that ends on September 30 applies to the six-month period that begins the following January 1. A tax rate set by the Secretary using information for the base period that ends on March 31 applies to the six-month period that begins the following July 1.

(b) Wholesale Price. — The Secretary must determine the average wholesale price of motor fuel for each base period. To do this, the Secretary must use information on refiner and gas plant operator sales prices of finished motor gasoline and No. 2 diesel fuel for resale, published by the United States Department of Energy in the "Monthly Energy Review", or equivalent data.

The Secretary must compute the average sales price of finished motor gasoline for the base period, compute the average sales price for No. 2 diesel fuel for the base period, and then compute a weighted average of the results of the first two computations based on the proportion of tax collected on each under this Article for the base period. The Secretary must then convert the weighted average price to a cents-per-gallon rate and round the rate to the nearest one-tenth of a cent (1/10¢). If the converted cents-per-gallon rate is exactly between two-tenths of a cent (2/10¢), the Secretary must round the rate up to the higher of the two.

(c) Notification. — The Secretary must notify affected taxpayers of the tax rate to be in effect for each six-month period beginning January 1 and July 1. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.81. Excise tax on motor fuel.

An excise tax at the motor fuel rate is imposed on motor fuel that is:

- (1) Removed from a refinery or a terminal and, upon removal, is subject to the federal excise tax imposed by § 4081 of the Code.
- (2) Imported by a system transfer to a refinery or a terminal and, upon importation, is subject to the federal excise tax imposed by § 4081 of the Code.
- (3) Imported by a means of transfer outside the terminal transfer system for sale, use, or storage in this State and would have been subject to the federal excise tax imposed by § 4081 of the Code if it had been removed at a terminal or bulk plant rack in this State instead of imported.
- (3a) Fuel grade ethanol that meets any of the following descriptions:
  - a. Is removed from a terminal or another storage and distribution facility, unless the removed fuel is received by a supplier for subsequent sale.
  - b. Is imported to this State outside the terminal transfer system by a means other than a marine vessel, a transport truck, or a railroad tank car.
- (4) Blended fuel made in this State or imported to this State.
- (5) Transferred within the terminal transfer system and, upon transfer, is subject to the federal excise tax imposed by section 4081 of the Code. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 13.)

Editor's Note. — The subdivision designation (3a) was assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the designation in Session Laws 1995

(Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 13, having been (4). The subdivision designation (4) remains unchanged.

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — The cases below were decided under repealed Article 36 of this chapter.

Excise and Not Property Tax. — The State gasoline tax is an excise and not a property tax. Stedman v. City of Winston-Salem, 204 N.C. 203, 167 S.E. 813 (1933).

Tax imposed by this section is a privilege tax. In re Sing Oil Co., 263 N.C. 520, 139 S.E.2d 599 (1965); In re Newsom Oil Co., 273 N.C. 383, 160 S.E.2d 98 (1968).

The word "receipt" means gasoline purchased for resale or for use by the purchasing distributor. In re Sing Oil Co., 263 N.C. 520, 139 S.E.2d 599 (1965).

This section places the burden on the distributor to pay the tax to the Secretary of Revenue. In re Newsom Oil Co., 273 N.C. 383, 160 S.E.2d 98 (1968).

Distributor may determine his tax liability by either of two methods. He may compute his liability on his monthly sales, or on his monthly purchases. If he elects to use purchases to determine his tax liability, he is entitled to a tare on his receipts. In re Newsom Oil Co., 273 N.C. 383, 160 S.E.2d 98 (1968).

Delivery of gasoline to one oil company on a second's order constitutes technical possession and receipt by the second. In re Sing Oil Co., 263 N.C. 520, 139 S.E.2d 599 (1965).

Where an oil company had oil delivered to another oil company on its order, it was held to be a distributor under this section and entitled to the tare allowed therein. In re Sing Oil Co.,

263 N.C. 520, 139 S.E.2d 599 (1965).

Tax May Be Levied on Political Subdivision. — Under the provisions of the N.C. Const., Art. V, § 5, the General Assembly is prohibited from levying a property tax on property owned by municipal corporations, but the prohibition does not extend to excise taxes, and under the provisions of this section, a municipality is liable for the gasoline tax on gasoline bought by it in bulk and distributed by it to its various departments for use in its governmental functions. Stedman v. City of Winston-Salem, 204 N.C. 203, 167 S.E. 813 (1933).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Tax Accrues upon Delivery of Gasoline to Service Station Operator on Consignment. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Fred W. London, Gasoline Tax Division, N.C. Department of Revenue, 43 N.C.A.G. 134 (1973) (decided under prior law).

§ 105-449.82. Liability for tax on removals from a refinery or terminal.

(a) Refinery Removal. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(1) on motor fuel removed from a refinery in this State is payable by the refiner.

(b) Terminal System Removal. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(1) on motor fuel removed by a system transfer from a terminal in this State is payable by the position holder for the fuel. If the position holder is not the terminal operator, the terminal operator is jointly and severally liable for the tax.

(c) Terminal Rack Removal. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(1) on motor fuel removed at a terminal rack in this State is payable by the person that first receives the fuel upon its removal from the terminal. If the motor fuel is removed by an unlicensed distributor, the supplier of the fuel is jointly and severally liable for the tax due on the fuel. If the motor fuel is sold by a person who is not licensed as a supplier, as required by this Article, the terminal operator, the person selling the fuel, and the person removing the fuel are jointly and severally liable for the tax due on the fuel. If the motor fuel removed is not dyed diesel fuel but the shipping document issued for the fuel states that the fuel is dyed diesel fuel, the terminal operator, the supplier, and the person removing the fuel are jointly and severally liable for the tax due on the fuel.

If the motor fuel is removed for export by an unlicensed exporter, the exporter is liable for tax on the fuel at the motor fuel rate and at the rate of the destination state. The liability for the tax at the motor fuel rate applies when the Department assesses the unlicensed exporter for the tax. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 14; 1997-60, s. 7.)

§ 105-449.83. Liability for tax on imports.

(a) By System Transfer. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(2) on motor fuel imported by a system transfer to a refinery is payable by the refiner. The excise tax imposed by that subdivision on motor fuel imported by a system transfer to a terminal is payable by the person importing the fuel and by the terminal operator, both of which are jointly and severally liable for payment of the tax due on the fuel.

(b) From Out-of-State Terminal. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(3) on motor fuel that is removed from a terminal rack located in another state and has this State as its destination state is payable by the importer of the fuel as follows:

- (1) If the importer of the fuel is a licensed supplier in this State and the fuel is removed for the supplier's own account for use in this State, the tax is payable by the supplier.
  - (2) If the supplier of the fuel is licensed in this State as an elective supplier or a permissive supplier, the tax is payable to the supplier as trustee.
  - (3) If no other subdivision of this subsection applies, the tax is payable by the importer when filing a return with the Secretary.
- (c) From Out-of-State Bulk Plant. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(3) on motor fuel that is removed from a bulk plant located in another state is payable by the person that imports the fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.83A. Liability for tax on fuel grade ethanol.

The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(3a) on fuel grade ethanol removed from a storage facility is payable by the fuel alcohol provider. The excise tax imposed by that subdivision on fuel grade ethanol imported to this State is payable by the importer. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 15.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647 enacted this section and amended G.S. 105-449.81. As subsections in G.S. 105-449.81 were redesignated at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes the reference in this section has been changed to be consistent with those changes.

§ 105-449.84. Liability for tax on blended fuel.

(a) On Blender. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(4) on blended fuel made in this State is payable by the blender. The number of gallons of blended fuel on which the tax is payable is the difference between the number of gallons of blended fuel made and the number of gallons of previously taxed motor fuel used to make the blended fuel.

(b) On Importer. — The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(4) on blended fuel imported to this State is payable by the importer.

(c) Blends Made at Terminal. — The following blended fuel is considered to have been made by the supplier of gasoline or undyed diesel fuel used in the blend:

- (1) An in-line-blend made by combining a liquid with gasoline or undyed diesel fuel as the fuel is delivered at a terminal rack into the motor fuel storage compartment of a transport truck or a tank wagon.
- (2) A kerosene splash-blend made when kerosene is delivered at a terminal into a motor fuel storage compartment of a transport truck or a tank wagon and undyed diesel fuel is also delivered at that terminal into the same storage compartment, if the buyer of the kerosene notified the supplier before or at the time of delivery that the kerosene would be used to make a splash-blend. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 16.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 16, changed the references to G.S. 105-449.81(4) to G.S. 105-449.81(5) to be consistent with amendments made to that section; however, as those subsections were redesignated at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes no changes have been made to this section.

§ 105-449.84A. Liability for tax on behind-the-rack transfers.

The excise tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.81(5) on motor fuel transferred within the terminal transfer system is payable by the supplier of the fuel, the person receiving the fuel, and the terminal operator of the terminal at which the fuel was transferred, all of whom are jointly and severally liable for the tax. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 17.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647 enacted this section and amended G.S. 105-449.81. As subsections in G.S. 105-449.81 were redesignated at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes the reference in this section has been changed to be consistent with those changes.

§ 105-449.85. Compensating tax on and liability for unaccounted for motor fuel losses at a terminal.

(a) Tax. — An excise tax at the motor fuel rate is imposed annually on unaccounted for motor fuel losses at a terminal that exceed one-half of one percent (0.5%) of the number of net gallons removed from the terminal during the year by a system transfer or at a terminal rack. To determine if this tax applies, the terminal operator of the terminal must determine the difference between the following:

- (1) The amount of motor fuel in inventory at the terminal at the beginning of the year plus the amount of motor fuel received by the terminal during the year.
- (2) The amount of motor fuel in inventory at the terminal at the end of the year plus the amount of motor fuel removed from the terminal during the year.

(b) Liability. — The terminal operator whose motor fuel is unaccounted for is liable for the tax imposed by this section and is liable for a penalty equal to the amount of tax payable. Motor fuel received by a terminal operator and not shown on an informational return filed by the terminal operator with the Secretary as having been removed from the terminal is presumed to be unaccounted for. A terminal operator may establish that motor fuel received at a terminal but not shown on an informational return as having been removed from the terminal was lost or part of a transmix and is therefore not unaccounted for. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 18.)

§ 105-449.86. Tax on and liability for dyed diesel fuel used to operate certain highway vehicles.

(a) Tax. — An excise tax at the motor fuel rate is imposed on dyed diesel fuel acquired to operate any of the following:

- (1) A highway vehicle that is owned by or leased to a unit of local government and is allowed by § 4082 of the Code to use dyed diesel fuel.
- (2) Either a local bus or an intercity bus that is allowed by § 4082(b)(3) of the Code to use dyed diesel fuel.
- (3) A highway vehicle that is owned by or leased to an educational organization that is not a public school and is allowed by § 4082(b)(1) or (b)(3) of the Code to use dyed diesel fuel.
- (4) A highway vehicle that is owned by or leased to the American Red Cross and is allowed by § 4082 of the Code to use dyed diesel fuel.

(b) Liability. — If the distributor of dyed diesel fuel that is taxable under this section is not liable for the tax imposed by this section, the person that acquires the fuel is liable for the tax. The distributor of dyed diesel fuel that is taxable under this section is liable for the tax imposed by this section in the following circumstances:

- (1) When the person acquiring the dyed diesel fuel has storage facilities for the fuel and is therefore a bulk-end user of the fuel.
- (2) When the person acquired the dyed diesel fuel from a retail outlet of the distributor by using an access card or code indicating that the person's use of the fuel is taxable under this section. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.87. Backup tax and liability for the tax.

(a) Tax. — An excise tax at the motor fuel rate is imposed on the following:

- (1) Dyed diesel fuel that is used to operate a highway vehicle for a use that is not a nontaxable use under § 4082(b) of the Code. The tax does not apply, however, to dyed diesel fuel that is used to operate special mobile equipment.
- (2) Motor fuel that was allowed an exemption from the motor fuel tax and was then used for a taxable purpose.
- (3) Motor fuel that is used to operate a highway vehicle after an application for a refund of tax paid on the motor fuel is made or allowed under G.S. 105-449.107(a) on the basis that the motor fuel was used for an off-highway purpose.

(4) Repealed by Session Laws 1995 (Regular Session, 1996), c. 647, s. 19.

(b) Liability. — The operator of a highway vehicle that uses motor fuel that is taxable under this section is liable for the tax. If the highway vehicle that uses the fuel is owned by or leased to a motor carrier, the motor carrier is jointly and severally liable for the tax. If the end seller of motor fuel taxable under this section knew or had reason to know that the motor fuel would be used for a purpose that is taxable under this section, the end seller is jointly and severally liable for the tax. If the Secretary determines that a bulk-end user or retailer used or sold untaxed dyed diesel fuel to operate a highway vehicle when the fuel is dispensed from a storage facility or through a meter marked for nonhighway use, all fuel delivered into that storage facility is presumed to have been used to operate a highway vehicle.

(c) Imputed Knowledge. — An end seller of dyed diesel fuel is considered to have known or had reason to know that the fuel would be used for a purpose that is taxable under this section if the end seller delivered the fuel into a storage facility that was not marked as required by G.S. 105-449.123. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 19; 1997-60, s. 8; 1998-146, s. 5; 1999-438, s. 22.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 22, effective October 1, 1999, added the last sentence in subdivision (a)(1).

§ 105-449.88. Exemptions from the excise tax.

The excise tax on motor fuel does not apply to the following:

- (1) Motor fuel removed, by transport truck or another means of transfer outside the terminal transfer system, from a terminal for export, if the motor fuel is removed by a licensed distributor or a licensed exporter and the supplier of the motor fuel collects tax on it at the rate of the motor fuel's destination state.

- (1a) Motor fuel removed by transport truck from a terminal for export if the motor fuel is removed by a licensed distributor or licensed exporter, the supplier that is the position holder for the motor fuel sells the motor fuel to another supplier as the motor fuel crosses the terminal rack, the purchasing supplier or its customer receives the motor fuel at the terminal rack for export, and the supplier that is the position holder collects tax on the motor fuel at the rate of the motor fuel's destination state.
- (2) Motor fuel sold to the federal government for its use.
- (3) Motor fuel sold to the State for its use.
- (4) Motor fuel sold to a local board of education for use in the public school system.
- (5) Diesel that is kerosene and is sold to an airport.
- (6) Motor fuel sold to a charter school for use for charter school purposes.
- (7) Motor fuel sold to a community college for use for community college purposes. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, ss. 20, 21; 1998-98, s. 28; 1998-146, s. 6; 2000-72, s. 2; 2000-173, ss. 13(b), 15; 2001-427, s. 9(a).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-72, s. 2, effective October 1, 2000, added subdivision (6).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 13(b), effective July 1, 2000, added subdivision (1a).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 15, effective August 2, 2000, inserted "the motor fuel is removed by a licensed distributor or a licensed exporter and" in subdivision (1).

Session Laws 2001-427, s. 9(a), effective January 1, 2002, added subdivision (7).

§ 105-449.88A. Liability for tax due on motor fuel designated as exempt by the use of cards or codes.

(a) Exempt Cards at Rack. — When a licensed distributor or licensed importer removes motor fuel from a terminal by means of an exempt card or exempt access code issued by the supplier, the distributor or importer represents that the fuel removed will be resold to a governmental unit that is exempt from the tax. A supplier may rely on this representation. A licensed distributor or licensed importer that does not resell motor fuel removed from a terminal by means of an exempt card or exempt access code to an exempt governmental unit is liable for any tax due on the fuel.

(b) Exempt Cards at Retail. — An "exempt card or code" is a credit card or an access code that enables the person to whom the card or code is issued to buy motor fuel at retail without paying the motor fuel excise tax on the fuel. An entity that issues an exempt card or code has a duty to determine if the person to whom it is issued is exempt from the motor fuel excise tax. An entity that issues an exempt card or code to a person who is not exempt from tax is liable for tax due on motor fuel the person purchases at retail by use of the exempt card or code. If a supplier authorizes another entity to issue an exempt card or code to a person who is not exempt from tax, the supplier and the entity that issued the card are jointly and severally liable for tax due on motor fuel the person purchases at retail by use of the exempt card or code.

(c) Card Holder. — A person to whom an exempt card or exempt access card is issued for use at a terminal or at retail is liable for any tax due on fuel purchased with the card for a purpose that is not exempt. A person who misuses an exempt card or code by purchasing fuel with the card or code for a purpose that is not exempt is liable for the tax due on the fuel. (1997-60, s. 9; 2001-205, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-205, s. 4, effective October 1, 2001, rewrote subsection (b).

§ 105-449.89. Removals by out-of-state bulk-end user.

An out-of-state bulk-end user may not remove motor fuel from a terminal in this State for use in the state in which the bulk-end user is located unless the bulk-end user is licensed under this Article as an exporter. An out-of-state bulk-end user that is not licensed under this Article may remove motor fuel from a bulk plant in this State. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 22; 1997-60, s. 10.)

Part 4. Payment and Reporting.

§ 105-449.90. When tax return and payment are due.

(a) Filing Periods. — The excise tax imposed by this Article is payable when a return is due. A return is due annually, quarterly, or monthly, as specified in this section. A return must be filed with the Secretary and be in the form required by the Secretary.

An annual return is due within 45 days after the end of each calendar year. An annual return covers tax liabilities that accrue in the calendar year preceding the date the return is due.

A quarterly return is due by the last day of the month that follows the end of a calendar quarter. A quarterly return covers tax liabilities that accrue in the calendar quarter preceding the date the return is due.

A monthly return of a person other than an occasional importer is due within 22 days after the end of each month. A monthly return of an occasional importer is due by the 3rd of each month. A monthly return covers tax liabilities that accrue in the calendar month preceding the date the return is due.

(b) Annual Filers. — A terminal operator must file an annual return for the compensating tax imposed by G.S. 105-449.85.

(c) Quarterly Filers. — A licensed importer that removes fuel at a terminal rack of a permissive or an elective supplier and a licensed distributor must file a quarterly return under G.S. 105-449.94 to reconcile exempt sales.

(d) Monthly Filers on 22nd. — The following persons must file a monthly return by the 22nd of each month:

- (1) A refiner.
- (2) A supplier.
- (3) A bonded importer.
- (4) A blender.
- (5) A tank wagon importer.
- (6) A person that incurred a liability under G.S. 105-449.86 during the preceding month for the tax on dyed diesel fuel used to operate certain highway vehicles.
- (7) A person that incurred a liability under G.S. 105-449.87 during the preceding month for the backup tax on motor fuel.

(e) Monthly Filers on 3rd. — An occasional importer must file a monthly return by the third day of each month. An occasional importer is not required to file a return, however, if all the motor fuel imported by the importer in a reporting period was removed at a terminal located in another state and the supplier of the fuel is an elective supplier or a permissive supplier. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 23; 1997-60, s. 11.)

§ 105-449.90A. Payment by supplier of destination state tax collected on exported motor fuel.

Tax collected by a supplier on exported motor fuel is payable by the supplier to the destination state if the supplier is licensed in that state for payment of motor fuel excise taxes. Tax collected by a supplier on exported motor fuel is payable to the Secretary for remittance to the destination state if the supplier is not licensed in that state for payment of motor fuel excise taxes. Payments of destination state tax are due to the destination state or the Secretary, as appropriate, on the date set by the law of the destination state. Payments of destination state tax to the Secretary must be accompanied by a form provided by the Secretary that contains the information required by the Secretary. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 24.)

§ 105-449.91. Remittance of tax to supplier.

(a) Distributor. — A distributor must remit tax due on motor fuel removed at a terminal rack to the supplier of the fuel. A licensed distributor has the right to defer the remittance of tax to the supplier, as trustee, until the date the trustee must pay the tax to this State or to another state. The time when an unlicensed distributor must remit tax to a supplier is governed by the terms of the contract between the supplier and the unlicensed distributor.

(b) Exporter. — An exporter must remit tax due on motor fuel removed at a terminal rack to the supplier of the fuel. The time when an exporter must remit tax to a supplier is governed by the law of the destination state of the exported motor fuel.

(c) Importer. — A licensed importer must remit tax due on motor fuel removed at a terminal rack of a permissive or an elective supplier to the supplier of the fuel. A licensed importer that removes fuel from a terminal rack of a permissive or an elective supplier has the right to defer the remittance of tax to the supplier until the date the supplier must pay the tax to this State.

(d) General. — The method by which a distributor, a licensed exporter, or a licensed importer must remit tax to a supplier is governed by the terms of the contract between the supplier and the distributor, exporter, or licensed importer and the supplier. G.S. 105-449.76 governs the cancellation of a license of a distributor, an exporter, and an importer. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 25; 1997-60, s. 12.)

§ 105-449.92. Notice to suppliers of cancellation or reissuance of certain licenses; effect of notice.

(a) Notice to Suppliers. — If the Secretary cancels a distributor's license, an exporter's license, or an importer's license, the Secretary must notify all suppliers of the cancellation. If the Secretary issues a license to a distributor, an exporter, or an importer whose license was cancelled, the Secretary must notify all suppliers of the issuance.

(b) Effect of Notice. — A supplier that sells motor fuel to a distributor after receiving notice from the Secretary that the Secretary has cancelled the distributor's license is jointly and severally liable with the distributor for any tax due on motor fuel the supplier sells to the distributor after receiving the notice. This joint and several liability does not apply to excise tax due on motor fuel sold to a previously unlicensed distributor after the supplier receives notice from the Secretary that the Secretary has issued another license to the distributor. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 26; 1997-60, s. 13.)

§ 105-449.93. Exempt sale deduction and percentage discount for licensed distributors and some licensed importers.

(a) Deduction. — A license holder listed below may deduct from the amount of tax otherwise payable to a supplier the amount calculated on motor fuel the license holder received from the supplier and resold to a governmental unit whose purchases of motor fuel are exempt from the tax under G.S. 105-449.88 if, when removing the fuel, the license holder used an access card or code specified by the supplier to notify the supplier of the license holder's intent to resell the fuel in an exempt sale:

(1) A licensed distributor.

(2) A licensed importer that removed the motor fuel from a terminal rack of a permissive or an elective supplier.

(b) Percentage Discount. — A licensed distributor that pays the tax due a supplier by the date the supplier must pay the tax to the State may deduct from the amount due a discount of one percent (1%) of the amount of tax payable. A licensed importer that removes motor fuel from a terminal rack of a permissive or an elective supplier and that pays the tax due the supplier by the date the supplier must pay the tax to the State may deduct from the amount due a discount of the same amount allowed a licensed distributor. The discount covers the expense of furnishing a bond and losses due to shrinkage or evaporation. A supplier may not directly or indirectly deny this discount to a licensed distributor or licensed importer that pays the tax due the supplier by the date the supplier must pay the tax to the State. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 27.)

§ 105-449.94. Quarterly reconciling return for exempt sales by licensed distributor and some licensed importers.

(a) Return. — A licensed distributor or a licensed importer that deducts exempt sales under G.S. 105-449.93(a) when paying tax to a supplier must file a quarterly reconciling return for the exempt sales. The return must list the following information:

(1) The number of gallons for which a deduction was taken during the quarter, by supplier.

(2) The number of gallons sold in exempt sales during the quarter, by type of sale, and the purchasers of the fuel in the exempt sales.

(b) Payment. — If the number of gallons for which a licensed distributor or licensed importer takes a deduction during a quarter exceeds the number of exempt gallons sold, the licensed distributor or licensed importer must pay tax on the difference at the motor fuel rate. The licensed distributor or licensed importer is not allowed a percentage discount when paying tax under this subsection.

(c) Refund. — If the number of gallons for which a licensed distributor or licensed importer takes a deduction during a quarter is less than the number of exempt gallons sold, the Secretary must refund the amount of tax paid on the difference. The Secretary must reduce the amount of the refund by the amount of the percentage discount received on the fuel.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1995 (Regular Session, 1996), c. 647, s. 28.

(e) Penalty. — A licensed distributor or a licensed importer that deducts an exempt sale when paying tax to a supplier and does not report the sale by filing the return required by this section is liable for a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00). (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 28; 1998-146, s. 7.)

Effect of Amendments. — The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, added subsection (e).

§ 105-449.95. Quarterly hold harmless for licensed distributors and some licensed importers.

(a) Calculation. — At the end of each calendar quarter, the Secretary must review the amount of discounts each licensed distributor or licensed importer received under G.S. 105-449.93(b). The Secretary must determine if the amount of discounts the distributor or importer received under that subsection in each month of the quarter is less than the amount the distributor or importer would have received if the distributor or importer had been allowed a discount on taxable gasoline purchased by the distributor or importer from a supplier during each month of the quarter under the following schedule:

Amount of Gasoline Purchased Each Month	Percentage Discount
First 150,000 gallons	2%
Next 100,000 gallons	1 1/2%
Amount over 250,000 gallons	1%.

(b) Refund. — If the amount the licensed distributor or licensed importer received under G.S. 105-449.93(b) for a month in the quarter is less than the amount the distributor or importer would have received on the distributor's or importer's taxable gasoline purchases under the monthly schedule in subsection (a) of this section, the Secretary must send the distributor or importer a refund check for the difference. In determining the amount of discounts a distributor or importer received under G.S. 105-449.93(b) for gasoline purchased in a month, a distributor or importer is considered to have received the amount of any discounts the distributor or importer could have received under that subsection but did not receive because the distributor or importer failed to pay the tax due to the supplier by the date the supplier had to pay the tax to the State. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 29; 1997-6, s. 11.)

§ 105-449.96. Information required on return filed by supplier.

A return of a supplier must list all of the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

- (1) The number of gallons of tax-paid motor fuel received by the supplier during the month, sorted by type of fuel, seller, point of origin, destination state, and carrier.
- (2) The number of gallons of motor fuel removed at a terminal rack during the month from the account of the supplier, sorted by type of fuel, person receiving the fuel, terminal code, and carrier.
- (3) The number of gallons of motor fuel removed during the month for export, sorted by type of fuel, person receiving the fuel, terminal code, destination state, and carrier.
- (4) The number of gallons of motor fuel removed during the month at a terminal located in another state for destination to this State, as indicated on the shipping document for the fuel, sorted by type of fuel, person receiving the fuel, terminal code, and carrier.
- (5) The number of gallons of motor fuel the supplier sold during the month to any of the following, sorted by type of fuel, exempt entity, person receiving the fuel, terminal code, and carrier:

- a. A governmental unit whose use of fuel is exempt from the tax.
  - b. A licensed distributor or importer that resold the motor fuel to a governmental unit whose use of fuel is exempt from the tax, as indicated by the distributor or importer.
  - c. A licensed exporter that resold the motor fuel to a person whose use of fuel is exempt from tax in the destination state, as indicated by the exporter.
- (6) The amount of discounts allowed under G.S. 105-449.93(b) on motor fuel sold during the month to licensed distributors or licensed importers. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 30; 1997-60, s. 14.)

§ 105-449.97. Deductions and discounts allowed a supplier when filing a return.

(a) Taxes Not Remitted. — When a supplier files a return, the supplier may deduct from the amount of tax payable with the return the amount of tax any of the following license holders owes the supplier but failed to remit to the supplier:

- (1) A licensed distributor.
- (2) A licensed importer that removed the motor fuel on which the tax is due from a terminal of an elective or a permissive supplier.
- (3) Repealed by Session Laws 1995, c. 647, s. 32.

A supplier is not liable for tax a license holder listed in this subsection owes the supplier but fails to pay. If a listed license holder pays tax owed to a supplier after the supplier deducts the amount on a return, the supplier must promptly remit the payment to the Secretary.

(b) Administrative Discount. — A supplier that files a timely return and sends a timely payment may deduct from the amount of tax payable with the return an administrative discount of one-tenth of one percent (0.1%) of the amount of tax payable to this State as the trustee, not to exceed eight thousand dollars ($8,000) a month. The discount covers expenses incurred in collecting taxes on motor fuel.

(c) Percentage Discount. — A supplier that sells motor fuel directly to an unlicensed distributor or to the bulk-end user, the retailer, or the user of the fuel may take the same percentage discount on the fuel that a licensed distributor may take under G.S. 105-449.93(b) when making deferred payments of tax to the supplier.

(d) Taxes Paid on Exempt Retail Sales. — When filing a return, a supplier that issues or authorizes the issuance of an exempt card or an exempt access code to a person that enables the person to buy motor fuel at retail without paying tax on the fuel may deduct the amount of excise tax imposed on fuel purchased with the exempt retail card or code. The amount of excise tax imposed on fuel purchased at retail with an exempt retail card or code is the amount that was imposed on the fuel when it was delivered to the retailer of the fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, ss. 31, 32; 1997-60, s. 15; 1999-438, s. 23; 2000-173, s. 14(c).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 23, effective August 10, 1999, inserted "and sends a timely payment" in subsection (b).

Session Laws 2000-173, s. 14(c), effective August 2, 2000, inserted "the" preceding "user" in subsection (c).

§ 105-449.98. Duties of supplier concerning payments by distributors, exporters, and importers.

(a) As Fiduciary. — A supplier has a fiduciary duty to remit to the Secretary the amount of tax paid to the supplier by a licensed distributor, licensed exporter, or licensed importer. A supplier is liable for taxes paid to the supplier by a licensed distributor, licensed exporter, or licensed importer.

(b) Notice of Fuel Received. — A supplier must notify a licensed distributor, a licensed exporter, or a licensed importer that received motor fuel from the supplier during a reporting period of the number of taxable gallons received. The supplier must give this notice after the end of each reporting period and before the license holder must remit to the supplier the amount of tax due on the fuel.

(c) Notice to Department. — A supplier of motor fuel at a terminal must notify the Department within 10 business days after a return is due of any licensed distributors, licensed exporters, or licensed importers that did not pay the tax due the supplier when the supplier filed the return. The notice must be transmitted to the Department in the form required by the Department.

(d) Payment Application. — A supplier that receives a payment of tax from a licensed distributor, a licensed exporter, or a licensed importer may not apply the payment to a debt that person owes the supplier for motor fuel purchased from the supplier. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 33; 1997-60, s. 16.)

§ 105-449.99. Returns and discounts of importers.

(a) Return. — A monthly return of a bonded importer, an occasional importer, or a tank wagon importer must contain the following information concerning motor fuel imported during the period covered by the return:

- (1) The number of gallons of imported motor fuel acquired from a supplier that collected the excise tax due this State on the fuel.
- (2) The number of gallons of imported motor fuel acquired from a supplier that did not collect the excise tax due this State on the fuel, listed by source state, supplier, and terminal.
- (3) The import authorization number of each import that is reported under subdivision (2) of this subsection and was removed from a terminal.
- (4) For an occasional importer or a tank wagon importer, the number of gallons of imported motor fuel acquired from a bulk plant, listed by bulk plant.

(b) Discounts. — An importer may not deduct an administrative discount from the amount remitted with a return. An importer that imports motor fuel received from an elective supplier or a permissive supplier may deduct the percentage discount allowed by G.S. 105-449.93(b) when remitting tax to the supplier, as trustee, for payment to the State. An importer that imports motor fuel received from a supplier that is not an elective supplier or a permissive supplier may not deduct the percentage discount allowed by G.S. 105-449.93(b) when filing a return for the tax due. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.100. Terminal operator to file informational return showing changes in amount of motor fuel at the terminal.

A terminal operator must file a monthly informational return with the Secretary that shows the amount of motor fuel received or removed from the terminal during the month. The return is due by the 25th day of the month following the month covered by the return. The return must contain the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

- (1) The number of gallons of motor fuel received in inventory at the terminal during the month and each position holder for the fuel.
- (2) The number of gallons of motor fuel removed from inventory at the terminal during the month and, for each removal, the position holder for the fuel and the destination state of the fuel.
- (3) The number of gallons of motor fuel gained or lost at the terminal during the month. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 34.)

§ 105-449.101. Motor fuel transporter to file informational return showing deliveries of imported or exported motor fuel.

(a) Requirement. — A person that transports, by pipeline, marine vessel, railroad tank car, or transport truck, motor fuel that is being imported into this State or exported from this State must file a monthly informational return with the Secretary that shows motor fuel received or delivered for import or export by the transporter during the month. This requirement does not apply to a distributor that is not required to be licensed as a motor fuel transporter.

(b) Content. — The return required by this section is due by the 25th day of the month following the month covered by the return. The return must contain the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

- (1) The name and address of each person from whom the transporter received motor fuel outside the State for delivery in the State, the amount of motor fuel received, the date the motor fuel was received, and the destination state of the fuel.
- (2) The name and address of each person from whom the transporter received motor fuel in the State for delivery outside the State, the amount of motor fuel delivered, the date the motor fuel was delivered, and the destination state of the fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 35.)

§ 105-449.102. Distributor to file return showing exports from a bulk plant.

(a) Return. — A distributor that exports motor fuel from a bulk plant located in this State must file a monthly return with the Secretary that shows the exports. The return is due by the 25th day of the month following the month covered by the return. The return serves as a claim for refund by the distributor for tax paid to this State on the exported motor fuel.

(b) Content. — The return must contain the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

- (1) The number of gallons of motor fuel exported during the month.
- (2) The destination state of the motor fuel exported during the month.
- (3) A certification that the distributor has paid to the destination state of the motor fuel exported during the month, or will pay on a timely basis, the amount of tax due that state on the fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 36.)

§ 105-449.103: Reserved for future codification purposes.

§ 105-449.104. Use of name and account number on return.

When a transaction with a person licensed under this Article is required to be reported on a return, the return must state the license holder's name and the account number used by the Department to identify the license holder. The name of a license holder and the license holder's account number is stated on the lists compiled under G.S. 105-449.77. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 37.)

Part 5. Refunds.*§ 105-449.105. Refunds upon application for tax paid on exempt fuel, lost fuel, and fuel unsalable for highway use.

(a) Exempt Fuel. — An entity whose use of motor fuel is exempt from tax may obtain a refund of any motor fuel excise tax the entity pays on its motor fuel. A person who sells motor fuel to an entity whose use of motor fuel is exempt from tax may obtain a refund of any motor fuel excise tax the person pays on motor fuel it sells to the entity. A credit card company that issues a credit card to an entity whose use of motor fuel is exempt from tax may obtain a refund of any motor fuel excise tax the company pays on motor fuel the entity purchases using the credit card.

A person may obtain a refund of tax paid by the person on exported fuel, including fuel whose shipping document shows this State as the destination state but was diverted to another state in accordance with the diversion procedures established by the Secretary.

(b) Lost Fuel. — A supplier, an importer, or a distributor that loses tax-paid motor fuel due to damage to a conveyance transporting the motor fuel, fire, a natural disaster, an act of war, or an accident may obtain a refund for the tax paid on the fuel.

(c) Accidental Mixes. — A person that accidentally combines any of the following may obtain a refund for the amount of tax paid on the fuel:

- (1) Dyed diesel fuel with tax-paid motor fuel.
- (2) Gasoline with diesel fuel.
- (3) Undyed diesel fuel with dyed kerosene.

(d) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 29, effective August 14, 1998.

(e) Refund Amount. — The amount of a refund allowed under this section is the amount of excise tax paid, less the amount of any discount allowed on the fuel under G.S. 105-449.93. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; c. 523, ss. 32.1, 32.2; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 38; 1997-6, s. 12; 1997-60, s. 17; 1998-98, s. 29; 2000-173, s. 16; 2001-205, s. 3.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 16, effective August 2, 2000, substituted "and fuel unsalable for highway use" for "fuel unsalable for highway use, and undyed diesel fuel used in boats" in the catchline.

Session Laws 2001-205, s. 3, effective October 1, 2001, rewrote the first paragraph of subsection (a).

Legal Periodicals. — For survey of 1982 law on taxation, see 61 N.C.L. Rev. 1217 (1983).

§ 105-449.105A. Monthly refunds for kerosene.

(a) Refund. — A distributor who sells kerosene to any of the following may obtain a refund for the excise tax the distributor paid on the kerosene, less the amount of any discount allowed on the kerosene under G.S. 105-449.93:

- (1) The end user of the kerosene, if the distributor dispenses the kerosene into a storage facility of the end user that contains fuel used only for one of the following purposes and the storage facility is installed in a manner that makes use of the fuel for any other purpose improbable:

- a. Heating.
  - b. Drying crops.
  - c. A manufacturing process.
- (2) A retailer of kerosene, if the distributor dispenses the kerosene into a storage facility that meets both of the following conditions:
- a. It is marked with the phrase “Undyed, Untaxed Kerosene, Nontaxable Use Only” or a similar phrase that clearly indicates that the fuel is not to be used to operate a highway vehicle.
  - b. It either has a dispensing device that is not suitable for use in fueling a highway vehicle or is kept locked by the retailer and must be unlocked by the retailer for each sale of kerosene.

(b) Liability. — If the Secretary determines that the Department overpaid a distributor by refunding more tax to the distributor than is due under this section, the distributor is liable for the amount of the overpayment. This liability applies regardless of whether the actions of a retailer of kerosene contributed to the overpayment. (1998-146, s. 8; 2000-173, s. 17; 2001-205, s. 6.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 17, effective August 2, 2000, designated the existing paragraph as present subsection (a) and added subsection (b); inserted “Refund” in subsection (a); and in subdivision (a)(2), substituted “with the phrase ‘Undyed, Untaxed Kerosene, Nontaxable Use Only’ and either” for “for nonhighway use in accordance with the requirements in G.S. 105-

449.123(a)(1) through (a)(3) and,” and added “or is kept locked by the retailer and must be unlocked by the retailer for each sale of kerosene.”

Session Laws 2001-205, s. 6, effective October 1, 2001, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, rewrote subdivisions (a)(1) and (a)(2).

§ 105-449.106. Quarterly refunds for certain local governmental entities, nonprofit organizations, taxicabs, and special mobile equipment.

(a) Government and Nonprofits. — A local governmental entity or a nonprofit organization listed below that purchases and uses motor fuel may receive a quarterly refund, for the excise tax paid during the preceding quarter, at a rate equal to the amount of the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the variable cents-per-gallon rate in effect during the quarter for which the refund is claimed, less one cent (1¢) per gallon.

An application for a refund allowed under this subsection must be made in accordance with this Part and must be signed by the chief executive officer of the entity. The chief executive officer of a nonprofit organization is the president of the organization or another officer of the organization designated in the charter or bylaws of the organization.

Any of the following entities may receive a refund under this subsection:

- (1) A county or a municipal corporation.
- (2) A private, nonprofit organization that transports passengers under contract with or at the express designation of a unit of local government.
- (3) A volunteer fire department.
- (4) A volunteer rescue squad.
- (5) A sheltered workshop recognized by the Department of Health and Human Services.

(b) Taxi. — A person who purchases and uses motor fuel in a taxicab, as defined in G.S. 20-87(1), while the taxicab is engaged in transporting passengers for hire, or in a bus operated as part of a city transit system that is exempt from regulation by the North Carolina Utilities Commission under G.S. 62-260(a)(8), may receive a quarterly refund, for the excise tax paid during the preceding quarter, at a rate equal to the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the variable cents-per-gallon rate in effect during the quarter for which the refund is claimed, less one cent (1¢) per gallon. An application for a refund must be made in accordance with this Part.

(c) Special Mobile Equipment. — A person who purchases and uses motor fuel to operate special mobile equipment off-highway may receive a quarterly refund, for the excise tax paid during the preceding quarter, at a rate equal to the flat cents-per-gallon rate plus the variable cents-per-gallon rate in effect during the quarter for which the refund is claimed, less the amount of sales and use tax due on the fuel under this Chapter, as determined in accordance with G.S. 105-449.107(c). An application for a refund must be made in accordance with this Part. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-6, s. 13; 1997-443, s. 11A.118(a); 1999-438, s. 24.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 24, effective August 10, 1999, and applicable to taxes paid on or after January 1, 1999, substituted "taxicabs, and special mobile equipment" for "and taxicabs" in the catchline; rewrote subsection (a); and added subsection (c).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Gasoline purchased by county board of education on behalf of extension unit of community college system located in county for use in adult driver education program is not exempt from gasoline tax. See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Fred W. London, N.C. Department of Revenue, 40 N.C.A.G. 835 (1969) (decided under prior law).

Gasoline Tax Refunds to County Hospi- tal. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Leon M. Killian, III, 41 N.C.A.G. 306 (1971) (decided under prior law).

Where City Purchases Gasoline and Sells It to Redevelopment Commission, the Commission and Not the City Is Entitled to Gas Tax Refund. — See opinion of Attorney General to Mr. Luther J. Britt, Jr., 41 N.C.A.G. 585 (1971) (decided under prior law).

§ 105-449.107. Annual refunds for off-highway use and use by certain vehicles with power attachments.

(a) Off-Highway. — A person who purchases and uses motor fuel for a purpose other than to operate a licensed highway vehicle may receive an annual refund for the excise tax the person paid on fuel used during the preceding calendar year. The amount of refund allowed is the amount of the flat cents-per-gallon rate in effect during the year for which the refund is claimed plus the average of the two variable cents-per-gallon rates in effect during that year, less the amount of sales and use tax due on the fuel under this Chapter. An application for a refund allowed under this section must be made in accordance with this Part.

(b) Certain Vehicles. — A person who purchases and uses motor fuel in one of the vehicles listed below may receive an annual refund for the amount of fuel consumed by the vehicle:

- (1) A concrete mixing vehicle.
- (2) A solid waste compacting vehicle.
- (3) A bulk feed vehicle that delivers feed to poultry or livestock and uses a power takeoff to unload the feed.

- (4) A vehicle that delivers lime or fertilizer in bulk to farms and uses a power takeoff to unload the lime or fertilizer.
- (5) A tank wagon that delivers alternative fuel, as defined in G.S. 105-449.130, or motor fuel or another type of liquid fuel into storage tanks and uses a power takeoff to make the delivery.
- (6) A commercial vehicle that delivers and spreads mulch, soils, composts, sand, sawdust, and similar materials and that uses a power takeoff to unload, blow, and spread the materials.

The amount of refund allowed is thirty-three and one-third percent (33⅓%) of the following: the sum of the flat cents-per-gallon rate in effect during the year for which the refund is claimed and the average of the two variable cents-per-gallon rates in effect during that year, less the amount of sales and use tax due on the fuel under this Chapter. An application for a refund allowed under this section must be made in accordance with this Part. This refund is allowed for the amount of fuel consumed by the vehicle in its mixing, compacting, or unloading operations, as distinguished from propelling the vehicle, which amount is considered to be one-third of the amount of fuel consumed by the vehicle.

(c) Sales Tax Amount. — Article 5 of this Chapter determines the amount of sales and use tax to be deducted under this section from a motor fuel excise tax refund. The sales price and the cost price of motor fuel to be used in determining the amount to deduct is the average of the wholesale prices used under G.S. 105-449.80 to determine the excise tax rates in effect for the two six-month periods of the year for which the refund is claimed. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-6, s. 14; 1997-423, s. 4; 2001-408, s. 1.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-408, s. 1, effective September 14, 2001, and applicable to motor fuel and alternative fuel consumed on or after January 1, 2001, substituted “the vehicle” for “any of the following vehicles” at the end of the introductory language of subsection (b); and added subdivision (b)(6).

§ 105-449.108. When an application for a refund is due.

- (a) Due Dates. — The due dates of applications for refunds are as follows:
- |                  |  |
|------------------|--|
| Refund Period    | Due Date   |
| Annual           | April 15 after the end of the year   |
| Quarterly        | Last day of the month after the end of the quarter   |
| Monthly          | 22nd day after the end of the month  |
| Upon Application | Last day of the month after the month in which tax was paid or the event occurred that is the basis of the refund. |

(b) Requirements. — An application for an annual refund must state whether or not the applicant has filed a North Carolina income tax return for the preceding taxable year. An application for a refund allowed under this Part must state that the applicant has paid for the fuel for which a refund is claimed or that payment for the fuel has been secured to the seller’s satisfaction.

(c) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-146, s. 10, effective September 18, 1998.

(d) Late Application. — A refund applied for more than three years after the date the application is due is barred. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-6, s. 15; 1998-146, s. 10; 1998-212, s. 29A.14(r).)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(r), effective January 1, 1999, added subsection (d).

§ 105-449.109: Repealed by Session Laws 1998-212, s. 29A.14(s), effective January 1, 1999.

§ 105-449.110. Review of refund application and payment of refund.

(a) Decision. — Upon determining that an application for refund is correct, the Secretary must issue the applicant a warrant upon the State Treasurer for the amount of the refund. If the Secretary determines that an application for refund is incorrect, the Secretary must send a written notice of the determination to the applicant. The notice must advise the applicant that the applicant may request a hearing on the matter in accordance with Article 9 of this Chapter.

(b) Interest. — The rate of interest payable on a refund is the rate set in G.S. 105-241.1(i). Interest accrues on a refund from the date that is 90 days after the later of the following:

- (1) The date the application for refund was filed.
- (2) The date the application for refund was due. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 30.)

§§ 105-449.111 through 105-449.113: Reserved for future codification purposes.

§ 105-449.114. Authority for agreement with Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians.

(a) By virtue of an Act of June 4, 1924, Pub. L. No. 68-191, Ch. 253, 43 Stat. 370, Congress and the United States courts have recognized the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians as possessing sovereign legal rights over their members and their trust lands.

(b) The following definitions apply in this act:

- (1) Chief. — The Principal Chief of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians.
- (2) Council. — The Tribal Council of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians.
- (3) Tribe. — The Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law concerning refunds of motor fuels and special fuels taxes, the Department of Revenue may enter into a memorandum of understanding or an agreement with the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians to make refunds of motor fuels and special fuels taxes to the Tribe in its collective capacity on behalf of its members who reside on or engage in otherwise taxable transactions within Cherokee trust lands. The memorandum or agreement shall be approved by the Council and signed by the Chief on behalf of the Tribe and shall be signed by the Secretary of Revenue on behalf of Department of Revenue. The memorandum or agreement may not affect the right of an individual member of the Tribe to a refund and shall provide for deduction of amounts refunded to individual members of the Tribe from the amounts to be refunded to the Tribe on behalf of all members. The memorandum or agreement may be effective for a definite or indefinite period, as specified in the agreement. (1989, c. 753, ss. 1-3; 1991, c. 193, s. 6.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1989, c. 753, ss. 1-3, as amended by Session Laws 1991, c. 193, s. 6, were codified as this section at the direction of the Revisor of Statutes.

Part 6. Enforcement and Administration.

§ 105-449.115. Shipping document required to transport motor fuel by railroad tank car or transport truck.

(a) Issuance. — A person may not transport motor fuel by railroad tank car or transport truck unless the person has a shipping document for its transportation that complies with this section. A terminal operator and the operator of a bulk plant must give a shipping document to the person who operates a railroad tank car or a transport truck into which motor fuel is loaded at the terminal rack or bulk plant rack.

(b) Content. — A shipping document issued by a terminal operator or the operator of a bulk plant must be machine-printed and must contain the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

- (1) Identification, including address, of the terminal or bulk plant from which the motor fuel was received.
- (2) The date the motor fuel was loaded.
- (3) The gross gallons loaded.
- (4) The destination state of the motor fuel, as represented by the purchaser of the motor fuel or the purchaser's agent.
- (5) If the document is issued by a terminal operator, the following information:
  - a. The net gallons loaded.
  - b. A tax responsibility statement indicating the name of the supplier that is responsible for the tax due on the motor fuel.

(c) Reliance. — A terminal operator or bulk plant operator may rely on the representation made by the purchaser of motor fuel or the purchaser's agent concerning the destination state of the motor fuel. A purchaser is liable for any tax due as a result of the purchaser's diversion of fuel from the represented destination state.

(d) Duties of Transporter. — A person to whom a shipping document was issued must do all of the following:

- (1) Carry the shipping document in the conveyance for which it was issued when transporting the motor fuel described in it.
- (2) Show the shipping document to a law enforcement officer upon request when transporting the motor fuel described in it.
- (3) Deliver motor fuel described in the shipping document to the destination state printed on it unless the person does all of the following:
  - a. Notifies the Secretary before transporting the motor fuel into a state other than the printed destination state that the person has received instructions since the shipping document was issued to deliver the motor fuel to a different destination state.
  - b. Receives from the Secretary a confirmation number authorizing the diversion.
  - c. Writes on the shipping document the change in destination state and the confirmation number for the diversion.
- (4) Give a copy of the shipping document to the distributor or other person to whom the motor fuel is delivered.

(e) Duties of Person Receiving Shipment. — A person to whom motor fuel is delivered by railroad tank car or transport truck may not accept delivery of the motor fuel if the destination state shown on the shipping document for the motor fuel is a state other than North Carolina. To determine if the shipping document shows North Carolina as the destination state, the person to whom the fuel is delivered must examine the shipping document and must keep a copy of the shipping document. The person must keep a copy at the place of business where the motor fuel was delivered for 90 days from the date of delivery and must keep it at that place or another place for at least three years from the date of delivery. A person who accepts delivery of motor fuel in violation of this subsection is jointly and severally liable for any tax due on the fuel.

(f) Sanctions Against Transporter. — The following acts are grounds for a civil penalty payable to the Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles, or the Department of Revenue:

- (1) Transporting motor fuel in a railroad tank car or transport truck without a shipping document or with a false or an incomplete shipping document.
- (2) Delivering motor fuel to a destination state other than that shown on the shipping document.

The penalty imposed under this subsection is payable by the person in whose name the conveyance is registered, if the conveyance is a transport truck, and is payable by the person responsible for the movement of motor fuel in the conveyance, if the conveyance is a railroad tank car. The amount of the penalty depends on whether the person against whom the penalty is assessed has previously been assessed a penalty under this subsection. For a first assessment under this subsection, the penalty is one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). For a second or subsequent assessment under this subsection, the penalty is seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500). A penalty imposed under this subsection is in addition to any motor fuel tax assessed. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, ss. 39, 40.)

§ 105-449.116: Repealed by Session Laws 1999-438, s. 25, effective August 10, 1999.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-438, s. 31, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-449.117. Penalties for highway use of dyed diesel or other non-tax-paid fuel.

It is unlawful to use dyed diesel fuel in a highway vehicle that is licensed or required to be licensed under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes unless that use is allowed under section 4082 of the Code. It is unlawful to use undyed diesel fuel in a highway vehicle that is licensed or required to be licensed under Chapter 20 of the General Statutes unless the tax imposed by this Article has been paid. A person who violates this section is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor and is liable for a civil penalty.

The civil penalty is payable to the Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles, or the Department of Revenue and is payable by the person in whose name the highway vehicle is registered. The amount of the penalty depends on the amount of fuel in the supply tank of the highway vehicle. The penalty is the greater of one thousand dollars ($1,000) or five times the amount of motor fuel tax payable on the fuel in the supply tank. A penalty imposed under this section is in addition to any motor fuel tax assessed. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-60, s. 19.)

§ 105-449.118. Civil penalty for buying or selling non-tax-paid motor fuel.

A person who dispenses non-tax-paid motor fuel into the supply tank of a highway vehicle or who allows non-tax-paid motor fuel to be dispensed into the supply tank of a highway vehicle is subject to a civil penalty. The penalty is based on the amount of motor fuel dispensed and is set at the following amounts:

Number of Gallons Dispensed:	Penalty
Less than 25	$ 75.00
At least 25 but less than 50	150.00
At least 50	300.00.

The penalty is payable to the Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles, or the Department of Revenue. Failure to pay a penalty imposed under this section is grounds under G.S. 20-88.01(b) to withhold or revoke the registration plate of the motor vehicle into which the motor fuel was dispensed. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.118A. Civil penalty for refusing to allow the taking of a motor fuel sample.

A person who refuses to allow the taking of a motor fuel sample is subject to a civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000). The penalty is payable to the Department of Transportation, Division of Motor Vehicles, or the Department of Revenue. If the refusal is for a sample to be taken from a vehicle, the penalty is payable by the person in whose name the vehicle is registered. If the refusal is for a sample to be taken from any other storage tank or container, the penalty is payable by the owner of the container. (1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 41.)

§ 105-449.119. Hearing on civil penalty assessment.

A person who denies liability for a penalty imposed under this Part must pay the penalty under protest and make a written demand to the Department of Revenue for a refund. The written demand must be made within 30 days after the penalty is imposed and must explain why the person is not liable for the penalty. Upon receiving a demand for a refund, the Secretary must schedule a hearing on the matter before an employee or an agent of the Department. The hearing must be held within 30 days after receiving the written demand for a refund. If, after the hearing, the Department determines that the person was not liable for the penalty, the amount collected must be refunded. If, after the hearing, the Department determines that the person was liable for the penalty, the person paying the penalty may appeal the imposition of the penalty in accordance with G.S. 105-241.2, 105-241.3, and 105-241.4. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1999-337, s. 44.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 46 provides that the act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before the effective date of its amendment or repeal (July 22, 1999); nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that accrued under the amended or repealed statute before the effective date of its amendment or repeal.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-337, s. 44, effective July 22, 1999, inserted “and must explain why the person is not liable for the penalty,” substituted “must” for “shall” twice in this section, and made minor stylistic changes.

§ 105-449.120. Acts that are misdemeanors.

(a) Class 1. — A person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor:

- (1) Fails to obtain a license required by this Article.
- (2) Willfully fails to file a return required by this Article.
- (3) Willfully fails to pay a tax when due under this Article or under former Article 36 or 36A of this Chapter. Failure to comply with a requirement of a supplier to remit tax payable to the supplier by electronic funds transfer is considered a failure to make a timely payment.
- (3a) Willfully fails to pay a tax collected on behalf of a destination state to that state when it is due.
- (4) Makes a false statement in an application, a return, or a statement required under this Article.
- (5) Makes a false statement in an application for a refund.
- (6) Fails to keep records as required under this Article.
- (7) Refuses to allow the Secretary or a representative of the Secretary to examine the person's books and records concerning motor fuel.
- (8) Fails to disclose the correct amount of motor fuel sold or used in this State.
- (9) Fails to file a replacement bond or an additional bond as required under this Article.
- (10) Fails to show or give a shipping document as required under this Article.
- (11) Willfully refuses to allow a licensed distributor, a licensed exporter, or a licensed importer to defer payment of tax to the supplier, as required by G.S. 105-449.91.
- (12) Willfully refuses to allow a licensed distributor or a licensed importer to take the discount allowed by G.S. 105-449.93 when remitting tax to the supplier.

(b) Class 2. — A person who commits any of the following acts is guilty of a Class 2 misdemeanor:

- (1) Knowingly dispenses non-tax-paid motor fuel into the supply tank of a highway vehicle.
- (2) Knowingly allows non-tax-paid fuel to be dispensed into the supply tank of a highway vehicle. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 42; 1997-60, s. 20.)

§ 105-449.121. Record-keeping requirements; inspection authority.

(a) What Must Be Kept. — A person who is subject to audit under subsection (b) of this section must keep a record of all shipping documents or other documents used to determine information the person provides in a return or to determine the person's motor fuel transactions. The records must be kept for three years from the due date of the return to which the records apply or, if the records apply to a transaction not required to be reported in a return, for three years from the date of the transaction.

(b) Inspection. — The Secretary or a person designated by the Secretary may do any of the following to determine tax liability under this Article:

- (1) Audit a distributor or a person who is required to have or elects to have a license under this Article.
- (2) Audit a distributor, a retailer, a bulk-end user, or a motor fuel user that is not licensed under this Article.
- (3) Examine a tank or other equipment used to make, store, or transport motor fuel, diesel dyes, or diesel markers.

- (4) Take a sample of a product from a vehicle, a tank, or another container in a quantity sufficient to determine the composition of the product.
- (5) Stop a vehicle for the purpose of taking a sample of motor fuel from the vehicle. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 43; 2000-173, s. 18.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-173, s. 18, effective August 2, 2000, inserted “a retailer, a bulk-end user” in subdivision (b)(2).

§ 105-449.122. Equipment requirements.

(a) Metered Pumps. — All motor fuel dispensed at retail must be dispensed from metered pumps that indicate the total amount of fuel measured through the pumps. Each pump must be marked to indicate the type of motor fuel dispensed.

(b) Metered Pumps. — A highway vehicle that transports diesel fuel in a tank that is separate from the fuel supply tank of the vehicle may not have a connection from the transporting tank to the motor or to the supply tank of the vehicle. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-60, s. 21.)

§ 105-449.123. Marking requirements for dyed diesel fuel storage facilities.

(a) Requirements. — A person who is a retailer of dyed diesel fuel or who stores both dyed and undyed diesel fuel for use by that person or another person must mark the storage facility for the dyed diesel fuel as follows with the phrase “Dyed Diesel”, “For Nonhighway Use”, or a similar phrase that clearly indicates the diesel fuel is not to be used to operate a highway vehicle:

- (1) The storage tank of the storage facility must be marked if the storage tank is visible.
- (2) The fillcap or spill containment box of the storage facility must be marked.
- (3) The dispensing device that serves the storage facility must be marked.

(b) Exception. — The marking requirements of this section do not apply to a storage facility that contains fuel used only for one of the purposes listed in G.S. 105-449.105A(a)(1) and is installed in a manner that makes use of the fuel for any other purpose improbable. (1997-60, s. 22; 2001-205, s. 7.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-205, s. 7, effective October 1, 2001, substituted “for one of the purposes listed in G.S. 105-449.105A(a)(1)” for “in heating, drying crops, or a manufacturing process” in subsection (b).

§ 105-449.124: Reserved for future codification purposes.

Part 7. Use of Revenue.

§ 105-449.125. Distribution of tax revenue among various funds and accounts.

The Secretary shall allocate the amount of revenue collected under this Article from an excise tax of one-half cent (1/2¢) a gallon to the following funds and accounts in the fraction indicated:

Fund or Account	Amount
Commercial Leaking Petroleum
Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund	Nineteen thirty-seconds
Noncommercial Leaking Petroleum
Underground Storage Tank Cleanup Fund	Three thirty-seconds
Water and Air Quality Account	Five-sixteenths.

The Secretary shall allocate seventy-five percent (75%) of the remaining excise tax revenue collected under this Article to the Highway Fund and shall allocate twenty-five percent (25%) to the Highway Trust Fund.

The Secretary shall charge a proportionate share of a refund allowed under this Article to each fund or account to which revenue collected under this Article is credited. The Secretary shall credit revenue or charge refunds to the appropriate funds or accounts on a monthly basis. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.126. Distribution of part of Highway Fund allocation to Wildlife Resources Fund.

The Secretary shall credit to the Wildlife Resources Fund one-sixth of one percent (1/6 of 1%) of the amount that is allocated to the Highway Fund under G.S. 105-449.125 and is from the excise tax on motor fuel. Revenue credited to the Wildlife Resources Fund under this section may be used only for the boating and water safety activities described in G.S. 75A-3(c). The Secretary must credit revenue to the Wildlife Resources Fund on an annual basis. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; c. 507, s. 18.16.)

§ 105-449.127. Civil penalties.

The Secretary must credit civil penalties collected under this Article to the Highway Fund as nontax revenue. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§§ 105-449.128, 105-449.129: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 36D.

Alternative Fuel.

§ 105-449.130. Definitions.

The following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Alternative fuel. — A combustible gas or liquid that can be used to generate power to operate a highway vehicle and that is not subject to tax under Article 36C of this Chapter.
- (1a) Bulk-end user. — A person who maintains storage facilities for alternative fuel and uses part or all of the stored fuel to operate a highway vehicle.
- (2) Highway. — Defined in G.S. 20-4.01(13).
- (3) Highway vehicle. — Defined in G.S. 105-449.60.
- (4) Motor fuel. — Defined in G.S. 105-449.60.
- (5) Motor fuel rate. — Defined in G.S. 105-449.60.
- (6) Provider of alternative fuel. — A person who does one or more of the following:
  - a. Acquires alternative fuel for sale or delivery to a bulk-end user or a retailer.

- b. Maintains storage facilities for alternative fuel, part or all of which the person uses or sells to someone other than a bulk-end user or a retailer to operate a highway vehicle.
  - c. Sells alternative fuel and uses part of the fuel acquired for sale to operate a highway vehicle by means of a fuel supply line from the cargo tank of the vehicle to the engine of the vehicle.
  - d. Imports alternative fuel to this State, by a means other than the usual tank or receptacle connected with the engine of a highway vehicle, for use by that person to operate a highway vehicle.
- (7) Retailer. — A person who maintains storage facilities for alternative fuel and who sells the fuel at retail or dispenses the fuel at a retail location to operate a highway vehicle. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 44.)

Editor's Note. — The subdivision designations (1a), (6), and (7) were assigned by the Revisor of Statutes, the designations in Session Laws 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 44, having been (2), (7), and (8), respectively. The remaining subdivision designations are unchanged.

§ 105-449.131. List of persons who must have a license.

A person may not engage in business in this State as any of the following unless the person has a license issued by the Secretary authorizing the person to engage in that business:

- (1) A provider of alternative fuel.
- (2) A bulk-end user.
- (3) A retailer. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 45.)

§ 105-449.132. How to apply for a license.

To obtain a license, an applicant must file an application with the Secretary on a form provided by the Secretary. An application must include the applicant's name, address, federal employer identification number, and any other information required by the Secretary. An applicant must meet the requirements for obtaining a license set out in G.S. 105-449.69(b). (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1998-146, s. 11.)

§ 105-449.133. Bond or letter of credit required as a condition of obtaining and keeping certain licenses.

(a) Who Must Have Bond. — The following applicants for a license must file with the Secretary a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit:

- (1) An alternative fuel provider.
- (2) A retailer or a bulk-end user that intends to store highway and nonhighway alternative fuel in the same storage facility.

(b) Amount. — The amount of the bond is the amount that would be required if the fuel the applicant intended to provide or store was motor fuel rather than alternative fuel. An applicant that is also required to file a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit under G.S. 105-449.72 to obtain a license as a distributor of motor fuel may file a single bond or irrevocable letter of credit under that section for the combined amount.

A bond filed under this subsection must be conditioned upon compliance with this Article, be payable to the State, and be in the form required by the Secretary. The Secretary may require a bond issued under this subsection to be adjusted in accordance with the procedure set out in G.S. 105-449.72 for adjusting a bond filed by a distributor of motor fuel. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-60, s. 23.)

§ 105-449.134. Denial or cancellation of license.

The Secretary may deny an application for a license or cancel a license under this Article for the same reasons that the Secretary may deny an application for a license or cancel a license under Article 36C of this Chapter. The procedure in Article 36C for cancelling a license applies to the cancellation of a license under this Article. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 46.)

§ 105-449.135. Issuance of license; notification of changes.

(a) Issuance. — The Secretary must issue a license to each applicant whose application is approved. A license is not transferable and remains in effect until surrendered or cancelled.

(b) Notice. — A license holder that stops engaging in this State in the business for which the license was issued must give the Secretary written notice of the change and must surrender the license. The notice must give the date the change takes effect and, if the license holder has transferred the business to another by sale or otherwise, the date of the transfer and the name and address of the person to whom the business is transferred.

All taxes for which the license holder is liable under this Article but are not yet due become due on the date of the change. If the license holder transfers the business to another and does not give the notice required by this section, the person to whom the business was transferred is liable for the amount of any tax the license holder owed the State on the date the business was transferred. The liability of the person to whom the business is transferred is limited to the value of the property acquired from the license holder. (1995, c. 390, s. 3.)

§ 105-449.136. Tax on alternative fuel.

A tax at the motor fuel rate is imposed on liquid alternative fuel used to operate a highway vehicle by means of a vehicle supply tank that stores fuel only for the purpose of supplying fuel to operate the vehicle. A tax at the equivalent of the motor fuel rate is imposed on all other alternative fuel used to operate a highway vehicle. The Secretary must determine the equivalent rate. The exemptions from the tax on motor fuel in G.S. 105-449.88(2), (3), and (4) apply to the tax imposed by this section. The refunds for motor fuel tax allowed by Part 5 of Article 36C of this Chapter apply to the tax imposed by this section, except that the refund allowed by G.S. 105-449.107(b) for certain vehicles that use power takeoffs does not apply to a vehicle whose use of alternative fuel is taxed on the basis of miles driven. The proceeds of the tax imposed by this section must be allocated in accordance with G.S. 105-449.125. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 47.)

§ 105-449.137. Liability for and payment of the tax.

(a) Liability. — A bulk-end user or retailer that stores highway and nonhighway alternative fuel in the same storage facility is liable for the tax imposed by this Article. The tax payable by a bulk-end user or retailer applies when fuel is withdrawn from the storage facility. The alternative fuel provider that sells or delivers alternative fuel is liable for the tax imposed by this Article on all other alternative fuel.

(b) Payment. — The tax imposed by this Article is payable when a return is due. A return is due monthly within 25 days after the end of each month. A monthly return covers liabilities that accrue in the calendar month preceding the date the return is due. A return must be filed with the Secretary and must be in the form and contain the information required by the Secretary. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1997-60, s. 24.)

§ 105-449.138. Requirements for bulk-end users and retailers.

(a) Informational Return. — A bulk-end user and a retailer must file a quarterly informational return with the Secretary. A quarterly return covers a calendar quarter and is due by the last day of the month that follows the quarter covered by the return.

The return must give the following information and any other information required by the Secretary:

(1) The amount of alternative fuel received during the quarter.

(2) The amount of alternative fuel sold or used during the quarter.

(b) Storage. — A bulk-end user or a retailer may store highway and nonhighway alternative fuel in separate storage facilities or in the same storage facility. If highway and nonhighway alternative fuel are stored in separate storage facilities, the facility for the nonhighway fuel must be marked in accordance with the requirements set by G.S. 105-449.123 for dyed diesel storage facilities. If highway and nonhighway alternative fuel are stored in the same storage facility, the storage facility must be equipped with separate metering devices for the highway fuel and the nonhighway fuel. If the Secretary determines that a bulk-end user or retailer used or sold alternative fuel to operate a highway vehicle when the fuel was dispensed from a storage facility or through a meter marked for nonhighway use, all fuel delivered into that storage facility is presumed to have been used to operate a highway vehicle. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 48; 1997-60, s. 25.)

§ 105-449.139. Miscellaneous provisions.

(a) Records. — A license holder must keep a record of all documents used to determine the information provided in a return filed under this Article. The records must be kept for three years from the due date of the return to which the records apply. The records are open to inspection during business hours by the Secretary or a person designated by the Secretary.

(b) Violations. — The offenses listed in subdivisions (1) through (9) of G.S. 105-449.120 apply to this Article. In applying those offenses to this Article, references to “this Article” are to be construed as references to Article 36D and references to “motor fuel” are to be construed as references to alternative fuel.

(c) Lists. — The Secretary must give a list of licensed alternative fuel providers to each licensed bulk-end user and licensed retailer. The Secretary must also give a list of licensed bulk-end users and licensed retailers to each licensed alternative fuel provider. A list must state the name, account number, and business address of each license holder on the list. The Secretary must send an annual update of a list to each license holder, as appropriate. (1995, c. 390, s. 3; 1995 (Reg. Sess., 1996), c. 647, s. 49.)

SUBCHAPTER VI. TAX RESEARCH.

ARTICLE 37.

Tax Research.

§§ 105-450 through 105-457: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 10, s. 3.

Cross References. — As to preparation of reports concerning taxes by the Secretary of Revenue, see now § 105-256.

Editor's Note. — Repealed §§ 105-450 to 105-452, 105-454, and 105-457 were previously repealed by Session Laws 1973, c. 476, s. 193.

SUBCHAPTER VII. PAYMENTS RECEIVED FROM TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY IN LIEU OF TAXES.

ARTICLE 38.

*Equitable Distribution between Local Governments.§ 105-458. Apportionment of payments in lieu of taxes between local units.

The payments received by the State and local governments from the Tennessee Valley Authority in lieu of taxes under section 13 of the Act of Congress creating it, and as amended, shall be apportioned between the local governments in which the property is owned or an operation is carried on, on the basis of the percentage of loss of taxes to each, determined as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, that the minimum annual payment to any local government from said fund, including the amounts paid direct to said local government by the Authority, shall not be less than the amount of annual actual tax loss to such local government based upon the two-year average on said property next prior to it being taken over by the Authority. (1941, c. 85, s. 1; 1959, c. 1060.)

§ 105-459. Determination of amount of taxes lost by virtue of T.V.A. operation of property; proration of funds.

The Department of Revenue shall determine each year, on the basis of current tax laws, the total taxes that would be due to both the State of North Carolina and the local governments in the same manner as if the property owned and/or operated by the Authority were owned and/or operated by a privately owned public utility: Provided, however, in making said calculations the Department of Revenue shall use the tax rate fixed by the local government unit and taxing district involved for the tax year next preceding such calculations. The Department of Revenue and the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina shall then prorate the funds received from the Authority by the State and local governments between the local governments upon the basis of the foregoing calculations. (1941, c. 85, s. 2; 1959, c. 1060; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-460. Distribution of funds by State Treasurer.

The Treasurer of the State of North Carolina shall then ascertain the payments to be made to the local governments upon the basis of the provisions of G.S. 105-459 and he is authorized and directed to distribute the same between the local governments in accordance with the foregoing provisions of G.S. 105-459. The Treasurer of the State of North Carolina is further authorized and directed to pay said sums to the local governments each month or so often as he shall receive payments from the Authority, but not more often than once each month, after first deducting from any sum to be paid a local government such amount as has theretofore been paid direct to said local government by the Authority for the same period: Provided, however, that the minimum annual payment to any local government from said fund shall not be less than the average annual tax on the property taken by the Authority for the two years next preceding the taking. (1941, c. 85, s. 3; 1959, c. 1060.)

§ 105-461. Duty of county accountant, etc.

The county accountant or other proper officer of each local government to which this Subchapter is applicable shall:

- (1) Certify to the Department of Revenue and the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina the tax rate fixed by the governing body of such local government immediately upon the fixing of the same;
- (2) Certify each month to the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina a statement of the amount received by the local government direct from the Authority.

No local government shall be entitled to receive its distributive share of said fund from the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina until the foregoing information has been properly furnished. If any such local government shall fail to furnish the information herein required within 10 days from and after receipt by it from the Department of Revenue of request for the same, forwarded by registered mail, then and in that event it shall be barred from participating in the benefits provided for the period for which the same is requested. (1941, c. 85, s. 4; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

§ 105-462. Local units entitled to benefits; prerequisite for payments.

Any local governments within the State in which the Authority now or may hereafter own property or carry on an operation shall be entitled to the benefits arising under this Subchapter: Provided, however, that no payment shall be made to them by the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina until such time as such local governments shall have certified to the Department of Revenue and the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina the average annual tax loss it has sustained by the taking of said property for the two years immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, further, that in the event of any disagreement between said local governments and the Treasurer of the State of North Carolina as to such annual tax loss, then the same shall be determined by the Department of Revenue, and its decision thereon shall be final. (1941, c. 85, s. 5; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

SUBCHAPTER VIII. LOCAL GOVERNMENT SALES AND USE TAX.

ARTICLE 39.

Local Government Sales and Use Tax.

§ 105-463. Short title.

This Article shall be known as the “Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act.” (1971, c. 77, s. 2.)

Editor’s Note. — Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13 provide: “Sec. 9. The board of commissioners of any county may, by resolution, after 10 days’ public notice and a public hearing held pursuant thereto, adopt the expansion of the local sales tax levy provided in this act. Upon adoption of such a resolution, the board of commissioners shall forward a copy of the resolution to the Secretary of Revenue. Pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-483, 105-490 [repealed], and 105-498, adoption of the expansion of the Local Government Sales and Use Act provided in Section 4 of this act constitutes adoption of an equivalent expansion of the local sales taxes levied under Articles 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes.

“Sec. 10. If a county fails to adopt the expansion of the Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act provided in Section 4 of this act on or before February 1, 1988, the sales and use taxes levied by the county pursuant to Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 are repealed effective March 1, 1988, because they will be inconsistent with the scope of the levies authorized by those Articles as amended effective March 1, 1988. If Mecklenburg County fails to adopt the expansion of Section 4 of Chapter 106 of the 1967 Session Laws provided in Section 5 of this act on or before February 1, 1988, the sales and use tax levied by Mecklenburg County pursuant to Chapter 106 of the 1967 Session Laws is repealed effective March, 1, 1988, because it will be inconsistent with the scope of the levy authorized by that Chapter as amended effective March 1, 1988, and the sales and use taxes levied by Mecklenburg County pursuant to Articles 40, 41, and 42 are repealed effective March 1, 1988, because those Articles will no longer apply to Mecklenburg County, as provided in G.S. 105-482, 105-489 [repealed], and 105-497. If the sales and use taxes levied by a county are repealed as provided in this section because the county failed to adopt the expansion of the local sales tax levy, the county may, on or after March 1, 1988, levy local sales and use taxes in accordance with the provisions of Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as applicable.

“Sec. 11. This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or other person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal.

“Sec. 13. It is the intent of the General Assembly that if the local sales and use taxes levied under Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, are at a later date consolidated with the State sales and use taxes levied under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, then the legislation enacting the consolidation shall also change the method of distributing the proceeds of the excise tax on liquor levied under G.S. 105-113.80(c) from the current formulation to a new method that would distribute one-eighth ( $\frac{1}{8}$ ) of the total proceeds of that excise tax to local governments in the same manner as the State sales and use tax proceeds that are distributed to local governments under the legislation that consolidates the local sales taxes with the State sales tax.”

Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 320(a) provides: “Approval under the Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act, Article 39 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, or under the Mecklenburg County Sales and Use Tax Act, Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, of one percent (1%) local sales and use taxes in addition to the three percent (3%) State sales and use taxes constitutes approval of one percent (1%) local sales and use taxes in addition to the four percent (4%) State sales and use taxes.”

Section 352 of Session Laws 1991, c. 689 provides: “Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1991-93 biennium, the textual provisions of Titles I, II and III of this act shall apply only to funds appropriated for and activities occurring during the 1991-93 biennium."

CASE NOTES

The sales tax and the use tax may often bring about the same result but they are different in conception. They are assessments upon different transactions and are bot-tomed on distinguishable taxable events. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The purpose of North Carolina's sales and use tax scheme is two-fold. The primary purpose is, of course, to generate revenue for the State. The sales tax is, in effect, a tax imposed upon the retail merchant as a privilege tax for the right to engage in that business. The tax is, however, designed to be passed on to the consumer. The second purpose of the sales and use tax scheme is to equalize the tax burden on all State residents. This is achieved through imposition of the use tax in certain situations where the sales tax is not applicable. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The chief function of the Sales and Use Tax Act is to prevent the evasion of a sales tax by persons purchasing tangible personal property outside of North Carolina for storage, use or consumption within the State. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The use tax does not impermissibly bur-den interstate commerce since it is a tax imposed on the enjoyment of goods after the sale has already spent its interstate character. It is designed to complement the sales tax and to reach transactions which cannot constitu-tionally be subject to a sales tax. In re Assess-ment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

The North Carolina use tax can be con-stitutionally assessed against a newspa-per which enjoys protection under U.S. Const., Amend. XIV. In re Assessment of Additional N.C. & Orange County Use Taxes, 312 N.C. 211, 322 S.E.2d 155 (1984), appeal dismissed, 472 U.S. 1001, 105 S. Ct. 2693, 86 L. Ed. 2d 710 (1985).

For case in which former local option sales and use tax act was held unconstitu-tional for lack of uniformity, see Hajoca Corp. v. Clayton, 277 N.C. 560, 178 S.E.2d 481 (1971), considering former §§ 105-164 to 105-164.58.

§ 105-464. Purpose and intent.

It is the purpose of this Article to afford the counties and municipalities of this State with opportunity to obtain an added source of revenue with which to meet their growing financial needs by providing all counties of the State with authority to levy a one percent (1%) sales and use tax as hereinafter provided. (1971, c. 77, s. 2.)

§ 105-465. County election as to adoption of local sales and use tax.

The board of elections of any county, upon the written request of the board of county commissioners, or upon receipt of a petition signed by qualified voters of the county equal in number to at least fifteen percent (15%) of the total number of votes cast in the county, at the last preceding election for the office of Governor, shall call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the county the question of whether a one percent (1%) sales and use tax will be levied.

The special election shall be held under the same rules applicable to the election of members of the General Assembly. No new registration of voters shall be required. All qualified voters in the county who are properly registered not later than 21 days (excluding Saturdays and Sundays) prior to the election shall be entitled to vote at the election. The county board of elections shall give at least 20 days' public notice prior to the closing of the registration books for the special election.

The county board of elections shall prepare ballots for the special election. The question presented on the ballot shall be "FOR one percent (1%) local sales and use tax on items subject to State sales and use tax at the general State rate and on food" or "AGAINST one percent (1%) local sales and use tax on items subject to State sales and use tax at the general State rate and on food".

The county board of elections shall fix the date of the special election, except that the special election shall not be held on the date or within 60 days of any biennial election for county officers, nor within one year from the date of the last preceding special election under this section. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1981, c. 560, s. 2; 1991, c. 689, s. 315; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 1.2.)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1.7, provides: "Approval under Article 39, 40, or 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes or under the Mecklenburg County Sales and Use Tax Act, Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, of local sales and use taxes on items subject to State sales and use tax at the general State rate constitutes approval of local sales and use taxes on food."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-466. Levy of tax.

(a) In the event a majority of those voting in a special election held pursuant to G.S. 105-465 shall approve the levy of the local sales and use tax, the board of county commissioners may, by resolution, proceed to levy the tax.

(b) In addition, the board of county commissioners may, in the event no election has been held within five years under the provisions of G.S. 105-465 in which the tax has been defeated, after not less than 10 days' public notice and after a public hearing held pursuant thereto, by resolution, impose and levy the local sales and use tax to the same extent and with the same effect as if the levy of the tax had been approved in an election held pursuant to G.S. 105-465.

(b1) If the board of commissioners of a county has imposed the local sales and use tax authorized by this Article and any or all of the taxes authorized by Articles 40 and 42 of this Chapter, with or without a special election, and the county subsequently becomes part of a consolidated city-county, the taxes shall continue in effect unless and until repealed by the governing board of the consolidated city-county.

(c) Collection of the tax, and liability therefor, must begin and continue only on and after the first day of the month of either January or July, as set by the board of county commissioners in the resolution levying the tax. In no event may the tax be imposed, or the tax rate changed, earlier than the first day of the second succeeding calendar month after the date of the adoption of the resolution. The county must give the Secretary at least 90 days advance notice of a new tax levy or tax rate change.

(d) Upon adoption of a resolution levying the tax, the board of county commissioners shall immediately deliver a certified copy of the resolution to the Secretary, accompanied by a certified statement from the county board of elections, if applicable, setting forth the results of any special election approving the tax in the county. Upon receipt of these documents, the Secretary shall collect and administer the tax as provided in this Article. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 302; c. 476, s. 193; 1977, c. 372, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 22; 1995, c. 461, s. 16; 2000-120, s. 12; 2001-414, s. 28.)

Local Modification. — Burke: 1977, c. 372, s. 2.

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.14(b), provides: "Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c), a tax levied during the 2003 calendar year under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act [Session Laws 2001-424], may become effective on the first day of any calendar month beginning on or after July 1, 2003. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c), if a county levies a tax during the 2003 calendar year under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act, the county is required to give the Secretary of Revenue only 30 days' advance notice of the tax levy. For taxes levied on or after January 1, 2004, the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c) apply."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides:

"Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2000-120, s. 12, effective July 14, 2000, in subsection (c), in the first sentence, substituted "the month of either January or July, as set by the board of county commissioners" for "a calendar month" and deleted "which shall in no case be" following "levying the tax," inserted "In no event may the tax be imposed, or the tax rate changed" in the second sentence, and added the third sentence.

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 28, effective September 14, 2001, in subsection (c), substituted "must begin" for "shall begin," and substituted "as set by the board" for "as set by the board of county commissioner set by the board."

§ 105-467. Scope of sales tax.

(a) Sales Tax. — The sales tax that may be imposed under this Article is limited to a tax at the rate of one percent (1%) of the transactions listed in this subsection. The sales tax authorized by this Article does not apply to sales that are taxable by the State under G.S. 105-164.4 but are not specifically included in this subsection.

- (1) The sales price of tangible personal property subject to the general rate of sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(1) and (a)(4b).
- (2) The gross receipts derived from the lease or rental of tangible personal property when the lease or rental of the property is subject to the general rate of sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(2).
- (3) The gross receipts derived from the rental of any room or other accommodations subject to the general rate of sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(3).
- (4) The gross receipts derived from services rendered by laundries, dry cleaners, and other businesses subject to the general rate of sales tax imposed by the State under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4).
- (5) The sales price of food that is not otherwise exempt from tax pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13 but is exempt from the State sales and use tax pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13B.
- (6) The sales price of prepaid telephone calling arrangements taxed as tangible personal property under G.S. 105-164.4(a)(4d).

(b) Exemptions and Refunds. — The State exemptions and exclusions contained in G.S. 105-164.13, the State sales and use tax holiday contained in G.S. 105-164.13C, and the State refund provisions contained in G.S. 105-164.14 apply to the local sales and use tax authorized to be levied and imposed under this Article. A taxing county may not allow an exemption, exclusion, or refund that is not allowed under the State sales and use tax.

(c) Sourcing. — The local sales tax authorized to be imposed and levied under this Article applies to taxable transactions by retailers whose place of business is located within the taxing county. The sourcing principles in G.S. 105-164.4B apply in determining whether the local sales tax applies to a transaction. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1097, s. 9; 1987, c. 557, s. 7; c. 832, s. 4; 1989, c. 692, s. 3.7; 1991, c. 689, s. 316; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 1.3; 1998-98, s. 30.1; 1998-171, s. 9; 2001-347, s. 2.15; 2001-414, s. 29; 2001-424, s. 34.16(b); 2001-430, s. 13; 2001-487, s. 67(e).)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001'."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.15, effective January 1, 2002, added the subsection catchlines in subsections (a), (b) and (c); in subsection (a), substituted "transactions listed in this subsection" for "following;" at the end of the first sentence of the introductory paragraph, inserted the second sentence of the introductory paragraph, and deleted the last sentence of the subsection, which formerly read, "The sales tax authorized by this Article does not apply to sales that are taxable by the State under G.S. 105-164.4 but are not specifically included in this section"; and rewrote the last sentence of subsection (c), which formerly read, "For the purpose of this Article, the situs of a transaction is the location of the retailer's place of business."

Session Laws 2001-414, s. 29, effective January 1, 2002, in subdivision (5), substituted "is exempt" for "would be exempt," and substituted "G.S. 105-164.13B" for "G.S. 105-164.13 if it were purchased under the Food Stamp Program, 7 U.S.C. § 51."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.16(b), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to sales made on or after that date, as amended by Session Laws 2001-347, s. 2.15, in subsection (b), inserted "the State sales and use tax holiday contained in G.S. 105-164.13C."

Session Laws 2001-430, s. 13, as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 67(e), effective January 1, 2002, and applicable to taxable services reflected on bills dated on or after January 1, 2002, added subdivision (6).

CASE NOTES

Editor's Note. — Some of the cases cited below were decided under former § 105-89.1.

Local Sales Tax Not Precluded by Exemption from State Tax. — The limitation, in subdivision (1), of local sales tax to sales "subject to" the State sales tax refers not to those transactions for which a State sales tax is actually assessed, but to any transaction described in (former) § 105-164.4(1) without regard to whether the transaction might be exempted or excluded from taxation by the operation of § 105-164.13. Thus, exemption from State sales tax does not preclude the assessment of a local sales tax. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 38 N.C. App. 483, 248 S.E.2d 378 (1978), aff'd, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

Municipal Tax on Operators of Gasoline Pumps. — The provision authorizing counties, cities and towns to levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, not in excess of one fourth of that levied by the State, does not preclude a city from levying a tax on operators of gasoline pumps located on sidewalks along certain streets between the curb and the property line when such city tax is levied in the nature of a permit in the exercise of regulatory police power. State v. Evans, 205 N.C. 434, 171 S.E. 640 (1933).

Retail sales of used tangible personal property were subject to the local government sales tax when such property, having been accepted in trade by the vendor as a credit or part payment on the sales price of new property that was exempt from local sales tax under the provisions of § 105-467 by virtue of delivery to a purchaser at a point outside the taxing county by the vendor or his agent or by a common carrier, was sold at retail and delivered to the purchaser within the taxing county in which the taxpayer had a place of business. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 38 N.C. App. 483, 248 S.E.2d 378 (1978), aff'd, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

A retailer doing business in a county that imposes the one percent local government sales tax must collect that tax when it sells and delivers within that county used tangible personal property previously accepted in trade as part payment on the sales price of new property that was delivered outside the county. Gregory Poole Equip. Co. v. Coble, 297 N.C. 19, 252 S.E.2d 729 (1979).

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Situs of Sale. — See opinion of Attorney General to Honorable I. L. Clayton, Commissioner of Revenue, 40 N.C.A.G. 881 (1970), issued under former § 105-164.51.

§ 105-468. Scope of use tax.

The use tax authorized by this Article is a tax at the rate of one percent (1%) of the cost price of each item or article of tangible personal property that is not sold in the taxing county but is used, consumed, or stored for use or consumption in the taxing county. The tax applies to the same items that are subject to tax under G.S. 105-467.

Every retailer who is engaged in business in this State and in the taxing county and is required to collect the use tax levied by G.S. 105-164.6 shall collect the one percent (1%) use tax when the property is to be used, consumed, or stored in the taxing county. The use tax contemplated by this section shall be levied against the purchaser, and the purchaser's liability for the use tax shall be extinguished only upon payment of the use tax to the retailer, where the retailer is required to collect the tax, or to the Secretary, where the retailer is not required to collect the tax.

Where a local sales or use tax has been paid with respect to tangible personal property by the purchaser, either in another taxing county within the State, or in a taxing jurisdiction outside the State where the purpose of the tax is similar in purpose and intent to the tax which may be imposed pursuant to this Article, the tax paid may be credited against the tax imposed under this section by a taxing county upon the same property. If the amount of sales or use tax so paid is less than the amount of the use tax due the taxing county under this section, the purchaser shall pay to the Secretary an amount equal to the difference between the amount so paid in the other taxing county or jurisdiction and the amount due in the taxing county. The Secretary may require such proof of payment in another taxing county or jurisdiction as is deemed to be necessary. The use tax levied under this Article is not subject to credit for payment of any State sales or use tax not imposed for the benefit and use of counties and municipalities. No credit shall be given under this section for sales or use taxes paid in a taxing jurisdiction outside this State if that taxing jurisdiction does not grant similar credit for sales taxes paid under this Article. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1100, s. 2; 1989, c. 692, s. 3.8; 1991, c. 689, s. 317; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 13, s. 1.4.)

§ 105-468.1. Certain building materials exempt from sales and use taxes.

The provisions of this Article shall not be applicable with respect to any building materials purchased for the purpose of fulfilling any lump sum or unit price contract entered into or awarded, or entered into or awarded pursuant to any bid made, before the effective date of the tax imposed by a taxing county when, absent the provisions of this section, such building materials would otherwise be subject to tax under the provisions of this Article. (1971, c. 77, s. 3.)

§ 105-469. Secretary to collect and administer local sales and use tax.

(a) The Secretary shall collect and administer a tax levied by a county pursuant to this Article.

(b) The Secretary shall require retailers who collect use tax on sales to North Carolina residents to ascertain the county of residence of each buyer and provide that information to the Secretary along with any other information necessary for the Secretary to allocate the use tax proceeds to the correct taxing county. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1993, c. 485, s. 23; 1996, 2nd Ex. Sess., c. 14, s. 12.)

§ 105-470: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 318.

§ 105-471. Retailer to collect sales tax.

Every retailer whose place of business is in a taxing county shall on and after the levy of the tax herein authorized collect the one percent (1%) local sales tax provided by this Article.

The tax to be collected under this Article shall be collected as a part of the sales price of the item of tangible personal property sold, the cost price of the item of tangible personal property used, or as a part of the charge for the rendering of any services, renting or leasing of tangible personal property, or the furnishing of any accommodation taxable hereunder. The tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales price or cost price and shall be shown separately on the retailer's sales record and shall be paid by the purchaser to the retailer as trustee for and on account of the State or county wherein the tax is imposed. It is the intent and purpose of this Article that the local sales and use tax herein authorized to be imposed and levied by a taxing county shall be added to the sales price and that the tax shall be passed on to the purchaser instead of being borne by the retailer. The Secretary of Revenue shall design, print and furnish to all retailers in a taxing county in which he shall collect and administer the tax the necessary forms for filing returns and instructions to insure the full collection from retailers, and the Secretary may adapt the present form used for the reporting and collecting of the State sales and use tax to this purpose. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

Local Modification. — Pender: 1993 (Reg. Sess., 1994), c. 577, s. 1.

§ 105-472. (Effective until July 1, 2003) Disposition and distribution of taxes collected.

(a) County Allocation. — The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, allocate to each taxing county for which the Secretary collects the tax the net proceeds of the tax collected in that county under this Article. For the purpose of this section, “net proceeds” means the gross proceeds of the tax collected in each county under this Article less taxes refunded, the cost to the State of collecting and administering the tax in the county as determined by the Secretary, and other deductions that may be charged to the county. If the Secretary collects local sales or use taxes in a month and the taxes cannot be identified as being attributable to a particular taxing county, the Secretary shall allocate the taxes among the taxing counties in proportion to the amount of taxes collected in each county under this Article during that month and shall include them in the quarterly distribution.

(b) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. — The Secretary shall divide the amount allocated to each taxing county among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method determined by the county. The board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, choose one of the following methods of distribution:

- (1) Per Capita Method. — The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and to the municipalities in the county on a per capita basis according to the total population of the taxing county, plus the total population of the municipalities in the county. In the case of a municipality located in more than one county, only that part of its population living in the taxing county is considered its “total population”. In order to make the distribution, the Secretary shall determine a per capita figure by dividing the amount allocated to each taxing county by the total population of that county plus the total population of all municipalities in the county. The Secretary shall then multiply this per capita figure by the population of the taxing county and by the population of each municipality in the county; each respective product shall be the amount to be distributed to the county and to each municipality in the county. To determine the population of each county and each municipality, the Secretary shall use the most recent annual estimate of population certified by the State Planning Officer.
- (2) Ad Valorem Method. — The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and the municipalities in the county in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each on property having a tax situs in the taxing county during the fiscal year next preceding the distribution. For purposes of this section, the amount of the ad valorem taxes levied by a county or municipality includes ad valorem taxes levied by the county or municipality in behalf of a taxing district and collected by the county or municipality. In addition, the amount of taxes levied by a county includes ad valorem taxes levied by a merged school administrative unit described in G.S. 115C-513 in the part of the unit located in the county. In computing the amount of tax proceeds to be distributed to each county and municipality, the amount of any ad valorem taxes levied but not substantially collected shall be ignored. Each county and municipality receiving a distribution of the proceeds of the tax levied under this Article shall in turn immediately share the proceeds with each district in behalf of which the county or municipality levied ad valorem taxes in the proportion that the district levy bears to the total levy of the county or municipality. Any county or municipality that fails to provide the Department of Revenue with information concerning ad valorem taxes levied by it adequate to permit a timely determination of its appropriate share of tax proceeds collected under this Article may be excluded by the Secretary from each quarterly distribution with respect to which the information was not provided in a timely manner, and those tax proceeds shall then be distributed only to the remaining counties or municipalities, as appropriate. For the purpose of computing the distribution of the tax under this subsection to any county and the municipalities located in the county for any quarter with respect to which the property valuation of a public service company is the subject of an appeal and the Department of Revenue is restrained by law from certifying the valuation to the county and the municipalities in the county, the Department shall use the last property valuation of the public service company that has been certified.

The board of county commissioners in each taxing county shall, by resolution adopted during the month of April of each year, determine which of the two foregoing methods of distribution shall be in effect in the county during the next succeeding fiscal year. In order for the resolution to be effective, a certified copy of it must be delivered to the Secretary in Raleigh within 15 calendar days after its adoption. If the board fails to adopt a resolution choosing a method of distribution not then in effect in the county, or if a certified copy of the resolution is not timely delivered to the Secretary, the method of distribution then in effect in the county shall continue in effect for the following fiscal year. The method of distribution in effect on the first of July of each fiscal year shall apply to every distribution made during that fiscal year.

(c) Municipality Defined. — As used in this Article, the term “municipality” means “city” as defined in G.S. 153A-1.

(d) No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 752; 1979, c. 12, s. 1; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1137, s. 49; 1981, c. 4, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 934, s. 2; 1991, c. 325, s. 8; 1993, c. 485, s. 24; 1999-458, s. 6.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective until July 1, 2003. For the section as effective July 1, 2003, see the following section, also numbered § 105-472.

Local Modification. — Burke: 1983, c. 273, 1983 (Reg. Sess., 1984), c. 1034, s. 127; 1985, c. 326; Roanoke Rapids: 1973, c. 3; Community of Gray's Creek: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002); Community of Union Cross: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002).

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 12 provides that section 1 of this act (which amended G.S. 120-163(c)) applies with respect to municipalities for which the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations makes recommendations on or after the date the act becomes law. Sections 1 through 11 of the act, other than the repeal of G.S. 120-169.1(a), do not apply to any community which first filed a petition with the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations prior to July 20, 1999. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law (August 13, 1999).

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 6, effective August 13, 1999, added subsection (d). See editor's note for applicability.

§ 105-472 is set out twice. See notes.

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality. — Per capita distribution offends neither the State Constitution nor the federal Constitution. Town of Beech Mt. v. County of Watauga, 324 N.C. 409, 378 S.E.2d 780, cert. denied, 493 U.S. 954, 110 S. Ct. 365, 107 L. Ed. 2d 351 (1989).

Construction with Other Provisions. — Since distribution of the residual sales taxes under subdivision (b)(2) is dependent upon the levy of ad valorem taxes within a taxing district, it does not appear that it was the intent of the legislature for § 115C-430 to supersede subdivision (b)(2); therefore, the trial court properly concluded that the two statutes were not in conflict. Banks v. County of Buncombe, 128 N.C. App. 214, 494 S.E.2d 791 (1998), aff'd, 348 N.C. 687, 500 S.E.2d 666 (1998).

Per capita method of distribution of local sales and use tax revenues to municipalities does not burden the right of interstate travel and deprive out-of-state residents of their privileges and immunities under U.S. Const., Art. IV, § 2, since this section does not treat nonresidents any differently than it treats residents of this state. Town of Beech Mt. v.

§ 105-472. (Effective July 1, 2003) Disposition and distribution of taxes collected.

(a) County Allocation. — The Secretary shall, on a monthly basis, allocate to each taxing county for which the Secretary collects the tax the net proceeds of the tax collected in that county under this Article. For the purpose of this section, “net proceeds” means the gross proceeds of the tax collected in each county under this Article less taxes refunded, the cost to the State of collecting and administering the tax in the county as determined by the Secretary, and other deductions that may be charged to the county. If the Secretary collects local sales or use taxes in a month and the taxes cannot be identified as being attributable to a particular taxing county, the Secretary shall allocate the taxes among the taxing counties in proportion to the amount of taxes collected in each county under this Article during that month and shall include them in the monthly distribution.

(b) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. — The Secretary shall divide the amount allocated to each taxing county among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method determined by the county. The board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, choose one of the following methods of distribution:

- (1) Per Capita Method. — The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and to the municipalities in the county on a per capita basis according to the total population of the taxing county, plus the total population of the municipalities in the county. In the case of a municipality located in more than one county, only that part of its population living in the taxing county is considered its “total population”. In order to make the distribution, the Secretary shall determine a per capita figure by dividing the amount allocated to each taxing county by the total population of that county plus the total population of all municipalities in the county. The Secretary shall then multiply this per capita figure by the population of the taxing county and by the population of each municipality in the county; each respective product shall be the amount to be distributed to the county and to each municipality in the county. To determine the population of each county and each municipality, the Secretary shall use the most recent annual estimate of population certified by the State Planning Officer.

- (2) Ad Valorem Method. — The net proceeds of the tax collected in a taxing county shall be distributed to that county and the municipalities in the county in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each on property having a tax situs in the taxing county during the fiscal year next preceding the distribution. For purposes of this section, the amount of the ad valorem taxes levied by a county or municipality includes ad valorem taxes levied by the county or municipality in behalf of a taxing district and collected by the county or municipality. In addition, the amount of taxes levied by a county includes ad valorem taxes levied by a merged school administrative unit described in G.S. 115C-513 in the part of the unit located in the county. In computing the amount of tax proceeds to be distributed to each county and municipality, the amount of any ad valorem taxes levied but not substantially collected shall be ignored. Each county and municipality receiving a distribution of the proceeds of the tax levied under this Article shall in turn immediately share the proceeds with each district in behalf of which the county or municipality levied ad valorem taxes in the proportion that the district levy bears to the total levy of the county or municipality. Any county or municipality that fails to provide the Department of Revenue with information concerning ad valorem taxes levied by it adequate to permit a timely determination of its appropriate share of tax proceeds collected under this Article may be excluded by the Secretary from each monthly distribution with respect to which the information was not provided in a timely manner, and those tax proceeds shall then be distributed only to the remaining counties or municipalities, as appropriate. For the purpose of computing the distribution of the tax under this subsection to any county and the municipalities located in the county for any month with respect to which the property valuation of a public service company is the subject of an appeal and the Department of Revenue is restrained by law from certifying the valuation to the county and the municipalities in the county, the Department shall use the last property valuation of the public service company that has been certified.

The board of county commissioners in each taxing county shall, by resolution adopted during the month of April of each year, determine which of the two foregoing methods of distribution shall be in effect in the county during the next succeeding fiscal year. In order for the resolution to be effective, a certified copy of it must be delivered to the Secretary in Raleigh within 15 calendar days after its adoption. If the board fails to adopt a resolution choosing a method of distribution not then in effect in the county, or if a certified copy of the resolution is not timely delivered to the Secretary, the method of distribution then in effect in the county shall continue in effect for the following fiscal year. The method of distribution in effect on the first of July of each fiscal year shall apply to every distribution made during that fiscal year.

§ 105-472 is set out twice. See notes.

(c) Municipality Defined. — As used in this Article, the term “municipality” means “city” as defined in G.S. 153A-1.

(d) No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; c. 752; 1979, c. 12, s. 1; 1979, 2nd Sess., c. 1137, s. 49; 1981, c. 4, s. 2; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 934, s. 2; 1991, c. 325, s. 8; 1993, c. 485, s. 24; 1999-458, s. 6; 2001-427, s. 13(a); 2001-487, s. 118(b).)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective July 1, 2003. For the section as effective until July 1, 2003, see the preceding section, also numbered 105-472.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-427, s. 13.(a), as amended by Session Laws 2001-487, s. 118(b), effective July 1, 2003, and applicable to amounts collected on or after that date, substituted “monthly” for “quarterly” twice in subsection (a); and in subdivision (b)(2) substituted “monthly” for “quarterly” in the next to last sentence and substituted “any month” for “any quarter” in the last sentence.

§ 105-473. Repeal of levy.

(a) The board of elections of any county, upon the written request of the board of county commissioners thereof, or upon receipt of a petition signed by qualified voters of the county equal in number to at least fifteen percent (15%) of the total number of votes cast in the county at the last preceding election for the office of Governor, shall call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the county the question of whether the levy of a one percent (1%) sales and use tax theretofore levied should be repealed.

The special election shall be held under the same rules and regulations applicable to the election of members of the General Assembly. No new registration of voters shall be required. All qualified voters in the county who are properly registered not later than 21 days (excluding Saturdays and Sundays) prior to the election shall be entitled to vote at said election. The county board of elections shall give at least 20 days’ public notice prior to the closing of the registration books for the special election.

The county board of elections shall prepare ballots for the special election which shall contain the words “FOR repeal of the one percent (1%) local sales and use tax levy,” and the words “AGAINST repeal of the one percent (1%) local sales and use tax levy,” with appropriate squares so that each voter may designate his vote by his cross (X) mark.

The county board of elections shall fix the date of the special election; provided, however, that the special election shall not be held on the day of any biennial election for county officers, nor within 60 days thereof, nor within one year from the date of the last preceding special election held under this section.

(b) In the event a majority of those voting in a special election held pursuant to this section shall approve the repeal of the levy, the board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, proceed to terminate the levy and the imposition of the tax in the taxing county unless and until the tax is levied again as provided in G.S. 105-466(a).

(c) In addition, the board of county commissioners may, by resolution and without the necessity of an election proceed to terminate the levy and the imposition of the tax in the taxing county if the tax was levied under the provisions of G.S. 105-466(b).

(d) No termination of taxes levied and imposed under this Article shall be effective until the end of the fiscal year in which the repeal election was held.

(e) The board of county commissioners, upon adoption of said resolution, shall cause a certified copy of the resolution to be delivered immediately to the Secretary of Revenue, accompanied by a certified statement from the county board of elections, if applicable, setting forth the results of any special election approving the repeal of the tax in the county.

(f) No liability for any tax levied under this Article which shall have attached prior to the effective date on which a levy is terminated shall be discharged as a result of such termination, and no right to a refund of tax or otherwise, which shall have accrued prior to the effective date on which a levy is terminated shall be denied as a result of such termination. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193; 1981, c. 560, s. 2; 1995, c. 461, s. 17.)

§ 105-474. Definitions; construction of Article; remedies and penalties.

The definitions set forth in G.S. 105-164.3 shall apply to this Article insofar as such definitions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Article, and all other provisions of Article 5 and of Article 9 of Subchapter 1, Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as the same relate to the North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act shall be applicable to this Article unless such provisions are inconsistent with the provisions of this Article. The administrative interpretations made by the Secretary of Revenue with respect to the North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act, to the extent not inconsistent with the provisions of this Article, may be uniformly applied in the construction and interpretation of this Article. It is the intention of this Article that the provisions of this Article and the provisions of the North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act, insofar as practicable, shall be harmonized.

The provisions with respect to remedies and penalties applicable to the North Carolina Sales and Use Tax Act, as contained in Article 5 and Article 9, Subchapter 1, Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, shall be applicable in like manner to the tax authorized to be levied and collected under this Article, to the extent that the same are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Article. (1971, c. 77, s. 2; 1973, c. 476, s. 193.)

ARTICLE 40.

Supplemental Local Government Sales and Use Taxes.

§ 105-480. Short title.

This Article shall be known as the Supplemental Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act. (1983, c. 908, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 320(b) provides: "Approval under the Supplemental Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act, Article 40 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, on one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes in addition to the one percent (1%) local sales and use taxes and three percent (3%) State sales and use taxes constitutes approval of one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes in addition to the one percent (1%) local sales and use taxes and the four percent (4%) States sales and use taxes."

Section 352 of Session Laws 1991, c. 689 provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1991-93 biennium, the textual provisions of Titles I, II and III of this act shall apply only to funds appropriated for and activities, occurring during the 1991-93 biennium."

§ 105-481. Purpose and intent.

It is the purpose of this Article to afford the counties and cities of this State an opportunity to obtain an added source of revenue with which to meet their growing financial needs, and to reduce their reliance on other revenues, such as the property tax, by providing all counties of the State that are subject to this Article with authority to levy one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes. (1983, c. 908, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Cited in Finlator v. Powers, 902 F.2d 1158 (4th Cir. 1990).

§ 105-482. Limitations.

This Article applies only to counties that levy one percent (1%) sales and use taxes under Article 39 of this Chapter or under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws. (1983, c. 908, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 25.)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, ss. 1.5 and 1.6, amend Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, referred to in this section.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1.7, provides: "Approval under Article 39, 40, or 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes or under the Mecklenburg County Sales and Use Tax Act, Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, of local sales and use taxes on items subject to State sales and use tax at the general State rate constitutes approval of local sales and use taxes on food."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-483. Levy and collection of additional taxes.

Any county subject to this Article may levy one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes in addition to any other State and local sales and use taxes levied pursuant to law. Except as provided in this Article, the adoption, levy, collection, distribution, administration, and repeal of these additional taxes shall be in accordance with Article 39 of this Chapter. In applying the provisions of Article 39 of this Chapter to this Article, references to "this Article" mean Article 40 of this Chapter. The exemption for building materials in G.S. 105-468.1 does not apply to taxes levied under this Article. (1983, c. 908, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 26.)

Editor’s Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor’s Note under § 105-463.

§ 105-484. Form of ballot.

(a) The form of the question to be presented on a ballot for a special election concerning the additional taxes authorized by this Article shall be: “FOR additional one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes” or “AGAINST additional one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes.”

(b) The form of the question to be presented on a ballot for a special election concerning the repeal of any additional taxes levied pursuant to this Article shall be: “FOR repeal of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes” or “AGAINST repeal of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) local sales and use taxes.” (1983, c. 908, s. 1.)

§ 105-485: Repealed by Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 318.

§ 105-486. Distribution of additional taxes.

(a) (Effective until July 1, 2003) County Allocation. — The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer.

(a) (Effective July 1, 2003) County Allocation. — The Secretary shall, on a monthly basis, allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer.

(b) Adjustment. — The Secretary shall then adjust the amount allocated to each county under subsection (a) by multiplying the amount by the appropriate adjustment factor set out in the table below. If, after applying the adjustment factors, the resulting total of the amounts allocated is greater or lesser than the net proceeds to be distributed, the amount allocated to each county shall be proportionally adjusted to eliminate the excess or shortage.

(c) (Effective until July 1, 2003) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. — The amount allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed. If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter.

(c) (Effective July 1, 2003) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. — The amount allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed.

(d) No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999. (1983, c. 908, s. 1; 1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 2; 1987, c. 832, s. 6; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1082, s. 2; 1999-458, s. 7; 2001-427, s. 13(b), (c).)

Subsections (a) and (c) Set Out Twice. — The first version of subsection (a) set out above is effective until July 1, 2003. The second version of subsection (a) set out above is effective July 1, 2003.

The first version of subsection (c) set out above is effective until July 1, 2003. The second version of subsection (c) set out above is effective July 1, 2003.

Local Modification. — Community of Gray's Creek: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002); Community of Union Cross: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002).

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, ss. 1.5 and 1.6, amend Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, referred to in this section.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-458, s. 12 provides that section 1 of this act (which amended G.S. 120-163(c)) applies with respect to municipalities for which the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations makes recommendations on or after the date the act becomes law. Sections 1 through 11 of the act, other than the repeal of G.S. 120-169.1(a), do not apply to any community which first filed a petition with the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations prior to July 20, 1999. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law (August 13, 1999).

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 7, effective August 13, 1999, added subsection (d). See editor's note for applicability.

Session Laws 2001-427, ss. 13(b) and (c), effective July 1, 2003, and applicable to amounts collected on or after that date, in subsection (a) substituted "monthly" for "quarterly"; and in subsection (c) deleted the former last sentence, relating to pro rata distribution of a share of taxes not collected in a county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes.

§ 105-487. Use of additional tax revenue by counties.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (c), forty percent (40%) of the revenue received by a county from additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) sales and use taxes levied under this Article during the first five fiscal years in which the additional taxes are in effect in the county and thirty percent (30%) of the revenue received by a county from these taxes in the next 23 fiscal years in which the taxes are in effect in the county may be used by the county only for public school capital outlay purposes as defined in G.S. 115C-426(f) or to retire any indebtedness incurred by the county for these purposes.

(b) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 31, effective August 14, 1998.

(c) The Local Government Commission may, upon petition by a county, authorize the county to use part or all its tax revenue, otherwise required by subsection (a) of this section to be used for public school capital needs, for any lawful purpose. The petition shall be in the form of a resolution adopted by the Board of County Commissioners and transmitted to the Local Government Commission. The petition shall demonstrate that the county can provide for its public school capital needs without restricting the use of part or all of the designated amount of the additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) sales and use tax revenue for that purpose.

In making its decision, the Local Government Commission shall consider information contained in the petition concerning not only the public school capital needs, but also the other capital needs of the petitioning county. The Commission may also consider information from sources other than the petition. The Commission shall issue a written decision on each petition stating the findings of the Commission concerning the public school capital needs of the petitioning county and the percentage of revenue otherwise restricted by subsection (a) of this section that may be used by the petitioning county for any lawful purpose.

Decisions of the Commission allowing counties to use a percentage of their tax revenue that would otherwise be restricted under subsection (a) of this section for any lawful purpose are final and shall continue in effect until the restrictions imposed by that subsection expire. A county whose petition is denied, in whole or in part, by the Commission may subsequently submit a new petition to the Commission.

(d) For purposes of determining the number of fiscal years in which one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) sales and use taxes levied under this Article have been in effect in a county, these taxes are considered to be in effect only from the effective date of the levy of these taxes and are considered to be in effect for a full fiscal year during the first year in which these taxes were in effect, regardless of the number of months in that year in which the taxes were actually in effect.

(e) A county may expend part or all of the revenue restricted for public school capital needs pursuant to subsection (a) of this section in the fiscal year in which the revenue is received, or the county may place part or all of this revenue in a capital reserve fund and shall specifically identify this revenue in accordance with Chapter 159 of the General Statutes. (1983, c. 908, s. 1; 1993, c. 255, ss. 1, 3; 1998-98, s. 31; 1998-186, s. 1.)

This Article shall be known as the Additional Supplemental Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1991, c. 689, s. 320(c) provides: "Approval under the Additional Supplemental Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act, Article 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, of one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes in addition to the one and one-half percent ( $\frac{11}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes and three percent (3%) States sales and use taxes constitutes approval of one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes in addition to the one and one-half percent ( $\frac{11}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes and the four percent (4%) State sales and use taxes."

Section 352 of Session Laws 1991, c. 689 provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 1991-93 biennium, the textual provisions of Titles I, II and III of this act shall apply only to funds appropriated for and activities, occurring during the 1991-93 biennium."

§ 105-496. Purpose and intent.

It is the purpose of this Article to afford the counties and cities of this State an opportunity to obtain an added source of revenue with which to meet their growing financial needs, and to reduce their reliance on other revenues, such as the property tax and federal revenue sharing, by providing all counties of the State that are subject to this Article with authority to levy one-half percent (½%) sales and use taxes. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1.)

CASE NOTES

Cited in Finlator v. Powers, 902 F.2d 1158 (4th Cir. 1990).

§ 105-497. Limitations.

This Article applies only to counties that levy one percent (1%) sales and use taxes under Article 39 of this Chapter or under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws and also levy one-half percent (½%) local sales and use taxes under Article 40 of this Chapter. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, ss. 1.5 and 1.6, amend Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, referred to in this section.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-498. Levy and collection of additional taxes.

Any county subject to this Article may levy one-half percent (½%) local sales and use taxes in addition to any other State and local sales and use taxes levied pursuant to law. Except as provided in this Article, the adoption, levy, collection, distribution, administration, and repeal of these additional taxes shall be in accordance with Article 39 of this Chapter. In applying the provisions of Article 39 of this Chapter to this Article, references to "this Article" mean Article 42 of this Chapter. The exemption for building materials in G.S. 105-468.1 does not apply to taxes levied under this Article. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1; 1993, c. 485, s. 27.)

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1.7, provides: "Approval under Article 39, 40, or 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes or under the Mecklenburg County Sales and Use Tax Act, Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, of local sales and use taxes on items subject to State sales and use tax at the general State rate constitutes approval of local sales and use taxes on food."

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c.

13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

§ 105-499. Form of ballot.

(a) The form of the question to be presented on a ballot for a special election concerning the additional taxes authorized by this Article shall be: "FOR one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes in addition to the current one and one-half percent ( $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes" or "AGAINST one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes in addition to the current one and one-half percent ( $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes."

(b) The form of the question to be presented on a ballot for a special election concerning the repeal of any additional taxes levied pursuant to this Article shall be: "FOR repeal of the additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes, thus reducing local sales and use taxes to one and one-half percent ( $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ )" or "AGAINST repeal of the additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) local sales and use taxes, thus reducing local sales and use taxes to one and one-half percent ( $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ )."

 (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1.)

§ 105-501. (Effective until July 1, 2003) Distribution of additional taxes.

The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer. The Secretary shall then adjust the amount allocated to each county as provided in G.S. 105-486(b). The amount allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and the municipalities located in the county in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed. No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999.

If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter.

In determining the net proceeds of the tax to be distributed, the Secretary shall deduct from the collections to be allocated an amount equal to one-fourth of the costs during the preceding fiscal year of:

- (1) The Department of Revenue in performing the duties imposed by G.S. 105-275.2 and by Article 15 of this Chapter.
- (2) The Property Tax Commission.
- (3) The Institute of Government in operating a training program in property tax appraisal and assessment.
- (4) The personnel and operations provided by the Department of State Treasurer for the Local Government Commission. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1; 1987, c. 832, s. 8; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1082, s. 4; 1995, c. 41, s. 4; c. 370, s. 1; 1999-458, s. 9.)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective until July 1, 2003. For the section as effective July 1, 2003, see the following section, also numbered § 105-501.

§ 105-501 is set out twice. See notes.

Local Modification. — Community of Gray's Creek: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002); Community of Union Cross: 1999, c. 458, s. 13 (contingent on petition filed before July 1, 2002).

Editor's Note. — For the provisions of Session Laws 1987, c. 832, ss. 9 to 11 and 13, see the Editor's Note under § 105-463.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, ss. 1.5 and 1.6, amend Session Laws 1967, c. 1096, referred to in this section.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 1, provides that this act shall be known as the William S. Lee Quality Jobs and Business Expansion Act.

Session Laws 1996, Second Extra Session, c. 13, s. 10.1, provides: "This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or another person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal."

Session Laws 1999-458, s. 12 provides that section 1 of this act (which amended G.S. 120-163(c)) applies with respect to municipalities for which the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations makes recommendations on or after the date the act becomes law. Sections 1 through 11 of the act, other than the repeal of G.S. 120-169.1(a), do not apply to any community which first filed a petition with the Joint Legislative Commission on Municipal Incorporations prior to July 20, 1999. The remainder of the act is effective when it becomes law (August 13, 1999).

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-458, s. 9, effective August 13, 1999, added the last three sentences in the first paragraph. See editor's note for applicability.

§ 105-501. (Effective July 1, 2003) Distribution of additional taxes.

The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent ( $\frac{1}{2}\%$ ) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer. The Secretary shall then adjust the amount allocated to each county as provided in G.S. 105-486(b). The amount allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and the municipalities located in the county in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed. No municipality may receive any funds under this section if it was incorporated with an effective date of on or after January 1, 2000, and is disqualified from receiving funds under G.S. 136-41.2. No municipality may receive any funds under this section, incorporated with an effective date on or after January 1, 2000, unless a majority of the mileage of its streets are open to the public. The previous sentence becomes effective with respect to distribution of funds on or after July 1, 1999.

If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter.

In determining the net proceeds of the tax to be distributed, the Secretary shall deduct from the collections to be allocated an amount equal to one-fourth of the costs during the preceding fiscal year of:

- (1) The Department of Revenue in performing the duties imposed by G.S. 105-275.2 and by Article 15 of this Chapter.
- (2) The Property Tax Commission.
- (3) The Institute of Government in operating a training program in property tax appraisal and assessment.
- (4) The personnel and operations provided by the Department of State Treasurer for the Local Government Commission. (1985 (Reg. Sess.,

§ 105-501 is set out twice. See notes.

1986), c. 906, s. 1; 1987, c. 832, s. 8; 1987 (Reg. Sess., 1988), c. 1082, s. 4; 1995, c. 41, s. 4; c. 370, s. 1; 1999-458, s. 9; 2001-427, s. 13(d).)

Section Set Out Twice. — The section above is effective July 1, 2003. For the section as effective until July 1, 2003, see the preceding session, also numbered § 105-501.

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 2001-427, s. 13(d), effective July 1, 2003, and applicable to amounts collected on or after that date, in the first sentence of the first paragraph substituted “monthly” for “quarterly”; deleted the former second paragraph, relating to pro rata distribution of a share of taxes not collected by a county for a full quarter because of levy or repeal of the taxes; and in the introductory language of the final paragraph substituted “one-twelfth” for “one-fourth.”

§ 105-502. Use of additional tax revenue by counties.

(a) Sixty percent (60%) of the revenue received by a county under this Article during the first 25 fiscal years in which the tax is in effect may be used by the county only for public school capital outlay purposes as defined in G.S. 115C-426(f) or to retire any indebtedness incurred by the county for these purposes during the period beginning five years prior to the date the taxes took effect.

(b) The Local Government Commission may, upon petition by a county, authorize a county to use part or all of its tax revenue, otherwise required by subsection (a) to be used for public school capital outlay purposes, for any lawful purpose. The petition shall be in the form of a resolution adopted by the Board of County Commissioners and transmitted to the Local Government Commission. The petition shall demonstrate that the county can provide for its public school capital needs without restricting the use of part or all of the designated amount of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use tax revenue for these purposes.

In making its decision, the Local Government Commission shall consider information in the petition concerning not only the public school capital needs but also the other capital needs of the petitioning county. The Commission may consider information from sources other than the petition. The Commission shall issue a written decision on each petition stating the findings of the Commission concerning the public school capital needs of the petitioning county and the percentage of revenue otherwise restricted by subsection (a) that may be used by the petitioning county for any lawful purpose.

Decisions of the Commission allowing counties to use a percentage of their tax revenue that would otherwise be restricted under subsection (a) for any lawful purpose are final and shall continue in effect until the restrictions imposed by those subsections expire. A county whose petition is denied, in whole or in part, by the Commission may subsequently submit a new petition to the Commission.

(c) A county may expend part or all of the revenue restricted for public school capital needs pursuant to subsection (a) in the fiscal year in which the revenue is received, or the county may place part or all of this revenue in a capital reserve fund and shall specifically identify this revenue in accordance with Chapter 159 of the General Statutes.

(d) For purposes of this section in determining the number of fiscal years in which one-half percent (½%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article have been in effect in a county, these taxes are considered to be in effect only from the effective date of the levy of these taxes and are considered to be in effect for a full fiscal year during the first year in which these taxes were in effect, regardless of the number of months in that year in which the taxes were actually in effect. (1985 (Reg. Sess., 1986), c. 906, s. 1; 1987, c. 622, s. 11; 1993, c. 255, ss. 2, 4; 1998-186, s. 2.)

[Reserved.]

§§ 105-510 through 105-514: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 44.

Third One-Half Cent (1½¢) Local Government Sales and Use Tax.

§ 105-515. Short title.

This Article is the Third One-Half Cent (1½¢) Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

Editor's Note. — Session Laws 2001-424, s. 1.2, provides: "This act shall be known as the 'Current Operations and Capital Improvements Appropriations Act of 2001.'"

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.14(b), provides: "Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c), a tax levied during the 2003 calendar year under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act [Session Laws 2001-424], may become effective on the first day of any calendar month beginning on or after July 1, 2003. Notwithstanding the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c), if a county levies a tax during the 2003 calendar year under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act, the county is required to give the Secretary of Revenue only 30 days' advance notice of the tax levy. For taxes levied on or after January 1, 2004, the provisions of G.S. 105-466(c) apply."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.14(c), provides: "A tax levied under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, as enacted by this act [Session Laws 2001-424], does not apply to construction materials purchased to fulfill a lump-sum or unit-price contract entered into or awarded before the effective date of the levy or entered into or awarded pursuant to a bid made before the effective date of the levy when the construction materials would otherwise be subject to the tax levied under Article 44 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 34.14(d), made this article effective September 26, 2001.

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.3, provides: "Except for statutory changes or other provisions that clearly indicate an intention to have effects beyond the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the textual provisions of this act apply only to funds appropriated for, and activities occurring during, the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium."

Session Laws 2001-424, s. 36.5 is a severability clause.

§ 105-516. Limitations.

This Article applies only to counties that levy the first one-cent (1¢) sales and use tax under Article 39 of this Chapter or under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, the first one-half cent (½¢) local sales and use tax under Article 40 of this Chapter, and the second one-half cent (½¢) local sales and use tax under Article 42 of this Chapter. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§ 105-517. Levy.

(a) After Vote. — If a majority of those voting in a special election held pursuant to this Article vote for the levy of the taxes in a county, the board of commissioners of a county may, by resolution, levy one-half percent (½%) local sales and use taxes in addition to any other State and local sales and use taxes levied pursuant to law.

(b) Without Vote. — If the question of whether to levy taxes under this Article has not been defeated in a special election held in the county within two years, the board of commissioners of a county may, by resolution, levy one-half percent (½%) local sales and use taxes in addition to any other State and local sales and use taxes levied pursuant to law. Before adopting a resolution under this subsection, the board of commissioners must give at least 10 days' public notice of its intent to adopt the resolution and must hold a public hearing on the issue of adopting the resolution.

(c) Effective Date. — A tax levied under this Article may not become effective before July 1, 2003. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§ 105-518. County election on adoption of tax.

(a) Resolution. — The board of commissioners of a county may direct the county board of elections to conduct a special election on the question of whether to levy local one-half percent (½%) sales and use taxes in the county as provided in this Article. The election must be held on a date jointly agreed upon by the two boards and must be held in accordance with the procedures of G.S. 163-287.

(b) Ballot Question. — The question to be presented on a ballot for a special election concerning the levy of the taxes authorized by this Article must be in the following form:

[    ] FOR                      [    ] AGAINST

one-half percent (½%) local sales and use taxes, to replace the current one-half percent (½%) State sales and use taxes that end July 1, 2003. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§ 105-519. Administration of taxes.

Except as provided in this Article, the adoption, levy, collection, administration, and repeal of these additional taxes must be in accordance with Article 39 of this Chapter. A tax levied under this Article does not apply to the sales price of food that is exempt from tax pursuant to G.S. 105-164.13B. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§ 105-520. Distribution of taxes.

(a) Point of Origin. — The Secretary must, on a monthly basis, allocate to each taxing county one-half of the net proceeds of the tax collected in that county under this Article. If the Secretary collects taxes under this Article in a month and the taxes cannot be identified as being attributable to a particular taxing county, the Secretary must allocate one-half of the net proceeds of these taxes among the taxing counties in proportion to the amount of taxes collected in each county under this Article in that month.

(b) Per Capita. — The Secretary must, on a monthly basis, allocate the remaining net proceeds of the tax collected under this Article among the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer. The Secretary must then adjust the amount allocated to each county as provided in G.S. 105-486(b).

(c) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. — The Secretary must divide and distribute the funds allocated under this section each month between each taxing county and the municipalities located in the county in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed. No municipality may receive any funds under this subsection for a month if it is not entitled to a distribution under G.S. 105-501 for the same month. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§ 105-521. Transitional local government hold harmless.

(a) Definitions. — The following definitions apply in this section:

(1) Local government. — A county or municipality that received a distribution of local sales taxes in the most recent fiscal year for which a local sales tax share has been calculated.

(2) Local sales tax share. — A local government's percentage share of the two-cent (2¢) sales taxes distributed during the most recent fiscal year for which data are available.

(3) Repealed reimbursement amount. — The total amount a local government would have been entitled to receive during the 2002-2003 fiscal year under G.S. 105-164.44C, 105-275.1, 105-275.2, 105-277.001, and 105-277.1A, if the Governor had not withheld any distributions under those sections.

(4) Two-cent (2¢) sales taxes. — The first one-cent (1¢) sales and use tax authorized in Article 39 of this Chapter and in Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, the first one-half cent (½¢) local sales and use tax authorized in Article 40 of this Chapter, and the second one-half cent (½¢) local sales and use tax authorized in Article 42 of this Chapter.

(b) Distributions. — On or before September 15, 2003, and each September 15 thereafter, the Secretary must multiply each local government's local sales tax share by the estimated amount that all local governments would be expected to receive during the current fiscal year under G.S. 105-520 if every county levied the tax under this Article for the year. If the resulting amount is less than one hundred percent (100%) of the local government's repealed reimbursement amount, the Secretary must pay the local government the difference, but not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00).

On or before May 1, 2003, and each May 1 thereafter, the Office of State Budget and Management and the Fiscal Research Division of the General Assembly must each submit to the Secretary and to the General Assembly a final projection of the estimated amount that all local governments would be expected to receive during the upcoming fiscal year under G.S. 105-520 if every county levied the tax under this Article for the fiscal year. If the Secretary does not use the lower of the two final projections to make the calculation required by this subsection, the Secretary must report the reasons for this decision to the Joint Legislative Commission on Governmental Operations within 60 days after receiving the projections.

(c) Source of Funds. — The Secretary must draw the funds distributed under this section from sales and use tax collections under Article 5 of this Chapter.

(d) Reports. — The Secretary must report to the Revenue Laws Study Committee by January 31, 2004, and each January 31 thereafter, the amount distributed under this section for the current fiscal year. (2001-424, s. 34.14(a).)

§§ 105-522 through 105-549: Reserved for future codification purposes.

SUBCHAPTER IX. MULTICOUNTY TAXES.

ARTICLE 50.

Regional Transit Authority Vehicle Rental Tax.

§ 105-550. Definitions.

The definitions in G.S. 105-164.3 and the following definitions apply in this Article:

- (1) Authority. — A regional public transportation authority or a regional transportation authority created pursuant to Article 26 or Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
- (2) Long-term lease or rental. — Defined in G.S. 105-187.1.
- (3) Motorcycle. — Defined in G.S. 20-4.01.
- (4) Repealed by Session Laws 1998-98, s. 33, effective August 14, 1998.
- (5) Public transportation system. — Any combination of real and personal property established for purposes of public transportation. The systems may include one or more of the following: structures, improvements, buildings, equipment, vehicle parking or passenger transfer facilities, railroads and railroad rights-of-way, rights-of-way, bus services, shared-ride services, high-occupancy vehicle facilities, car-pool and vanpool programs, voucher programs, telecommunications and information systems, integrated fare systems, bus lanes, and busways. The term does not include, however, streets, roads, or highways except to the extent they are dedicated to public transportation vehicles or to the extent they are necessary for access to vehicle parking or passenger transfer facilities.
- (6) Short-term lease or rental. — A lease or rental that is not a long-term lease or rental.
- (7) U-drive-it vehicle. — Defined in G.S. 20-4.01. (1997-417, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 33; 1999-452, s. 26.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-452, s. 26, effective October 1, 1999, deleted “passenger” following “U-drive-it” in subdivision (7).

§ 105-551. Tax on gross receipts authorized.

(a) Tax. — The board of trustees of an Authority may levy a privilege tax on a retailer who is engaged in the business of leasing or renting U-drive-it vehicles or motorcycles based on the gross receipts derived by the retailer from the short-term lease or rental of these vehicles. The tax rate must be a percentage and may not exceed five percent (5%). A tax levied under this section applies to short-term leases or rentals made by a retailer whose place of business or inventory is located within the territorial jurisdiction of the Authority. This tax is in addition to all other taxes.

(b) Restrictions. — The board of trustees of an Authority may not levy a tax under this section or increase the tax rate of a tax levied under this section until all of the following requirements have been met:

- (1) The board of trustees has held a public hearing on the tax or the increase in the tax rate after giving at least 10 days' notice of the hearing.
- (2) If the Authority has a special tax board, the special tax board has adopted a resolution approving the levy of the tax or the increase in the tax rate.
- (3) The board of commissioners of each county included in the territorial jurisdiction of the Authority has adopted a resolution approving the levy of the tax or the increase in the tax rate.

(c) Special Tax District. — If a regional transportation authority created under Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes has not levied the tax under this section or has levied the tax at a rate of less than five percent (5%), it may create a special district that consists of the entire area of one or more counties within its territorial jurisdiction and may levy on behalf of the special district the tax authorized in this section. The rate of tax levied within the special district may not, when combined with the rate levied within the entire territorial jurisdiction of the authority, exceed five percent (5%). The regional transportation authority may not levy or increase a tax within the special district unless the board of commissioners of each county in the special district has adopted a resolution approving the levy or increase.

A special district created pursuant to this subsection is a body corporate and politic and has the power to carry out the purposes of this subsection. The board of trustees of the regional transportation authority created under Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes shall serve, ex officio, as the governing body of a special district it creates pursuant to this subsection. The proceeds of a tax levied under this subsection may be used only for the benefit of the special district and only for the purposes provided in G.S. 105-554. Except as provided in this subsection, a tax levied under this subsection is governed by the provisions of this Article. (1997-417, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 34; 1999-445, s. 3; 1999-452, s. 27.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-445, s. 3, effective August 10, 1999, added subsection (c).

Session Laws 1999-452, s. 27, effective October 1, 1999, deleted "passenger" following "U-drive-it" in the first sentence of subsection (a).

§ 105-552. Collection and administration of gross receipts tax.

(a) Effective Date. — A tax or a tax increase levied under this Article becomes effective on the date set by the board of trustees in the resolution levying the tax or the tax increase. The effective date must be the first day of a month and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the board of trustees adopts the resolution.

(b) Collection. — A tax levied by an Authority under this Article shall be collected by the Authority but shall otherwise be administered in the same manner as the optional gross receipts tax levied by G.S. 105-187.5. Like the optional gross receipts tax, a tax levied under this Article is to be added to the lease or rental price of a U-drive-it vehicle or motorcycle and thereby be paid by the person to whom it is leased or rented.

A tax levied under this Article applies regardless of whether the retailer who leases or rents the U-drive-it vehicle or motorcycle has elected to pay the optional gross receipts tax on the lease or rental receipts from the vehicle. A tax levied under this Article must be paid to the Authority that levied the tax by the date an optional gross receipts tax would be payable to the Secretary of Revenue under G.S. 105-187.5 if the retailer who leases or rents the U-drive-it vehicle or motorcycle had elected to pay the optional gross receipts tax.

(c) Penalties and Remedies. — The penalties and remedies that apply to local sales and use taxes levied under Subchapter VIII of this Chapter apply to a tax levied under this Article. The board of trustees of an Authority may exercise any power the Secretary of Revenue or a board of county commissioners may exercise in collecting local sales and use taxes. (1997-417, s. 3; 1998-98, s. 35; 1999-452, s. 28.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-452, s. 28, effective October 1, 1999, deleted “passenger” following “U-drive-it” three times in subsection (b).

§ 105-553. Exemptions and refunds.

No exemptions are allowed from a tax levied under this Article. No refunds are allowed for a tax lawfully levied under this Article. (1997-417, s. 3.)

§ 105-554. Use of tax proceeds.

An Authority that levies a tax under this Article may use the proceeds of the tax for any purpose for which the Authority is authorized to use funds. An Authority shall use the tax proceeds to supplement and not to supplant or replace existing funds or other resources for public transportation systems. Authorized purposes for which an Authority may use funds include the following:

- (1) Pledging funds in connection with the financing of a public transportation system or any part of a public transportation system.
- (2) Paying a note, bond, or other obligation entered into by the Authority pursuant to Article 26 or Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes. (1997-417, s. 3.)

§ 105-555. Repeal of tax or decrease in tax rate.

The board of trustees of an Authority may repeal a tax levied under this Article or decrease the tax rate of a tax levied under this Article. The same restrictions that apply to the levy of a tax or an increase in a tax rate under this Article apply to the repeal of the tax or a decrease in the tax rate.

A tax repeal or a tax decrease becomes effective on the date set by the board of trustees in the resolution repealing or decreasing the tax. The effective date must be on the first day of a month and may not be earlier than the first day of the second month after the board of trustees adopts the resolution. Repeal or decrease of a tax levied under this Article does not affect the rights or liabilities of an Authority, a taxpayer, or another person arising before the repeal or decrease. (1997-417, s. 3.)

§§ 105-556 through 105-559: Reserved for future codification purposes.

ARTICLE 51.

*Regional Transit Authority Registration Tax.§ 105-560. Definitions.

- (1) Authority. — Any of the following:
  - a. A public transportation authority created pursuant to Article 25 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes that includes two or more counties.
  - b. A regional public transportation authority created pursuant to Article 26 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
  - c. A regional transportation authority created pursuant to Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes.
- (2) Board of trustees. — The governing body of an Authority.
- (3) Public transportation system. — Defined in G.S. 105-550. (1997-417, s. 4.)

§ 105-561. Authority registration tax authorized.

(a) Tax Authorized. — The board of trustees of an Authority may, by resolution, levy an annual license tax in accordance with this Article upon any motor vehicle with a tax situs within its territorial jurisdiction. The purpose of the tax levied under this Article is to raise revenue for capital and operating expenses of an Authority in providing public transportation systems. The rate of tax levied under this Article must be a full dollar amount, but may not exceed five dollars ($5.00) a year.

(b) Restrictions. — The board of trustees of an Authority may not levy a tax under this Article or increase the tax rate until all of the following requirements have been met:

- (1) The board of trustees has held a public hearing on the tax or the increase in the tax rate after giving at least 10 days' notice of the hearing.
- (2) If the Authority has a special tax board, the special tax board has adopted a resolution approving the levy of the tax or the increase in the tax rate.
- (3) Except where the levy or increase in tax is necessary for debt service on bonds or notes that each of the boards of county commissioners had previously approved under G.S. 159-51, the board of commissioners of each county included in the territorial jurisdiction of the Authority has adopted a resolution approving the levy of the tax or the increase in the tax rate.

(c) Resolutions. — The board of trustees and the board of county commissioners, upon adoption of a resolution pursuant to this section, shall cause a certified copy of the resolution to be delivered immediately to the Authority and to the Division of Motor Vehicles.

(d) Special Tax District. — If a regional transportation authority created under Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes has not levied the tax under this section or has levied the tax at a rate of less than five dollars ($5.00) it may create a special district that consists of the entire area of one or more counties within its territorial jurisdiction and may levy on behalf of the special district the tax authorized in this section. The rate of tax levied within the special district may not, when combined with the rate levied within the entire territorial jurisdiction of the authority, exceed five dollars ($5.00). The regional transportation authority may not levy or increase a tax within the special district unless the board of commissioners of each county in the special district has adopted a resolution approving the levy or increase.

A special district created pursuant to this subsection is a body corporate and politic and has the power to carry out the purposes of this subsection. The board of trustees of the regional transportation authority created under Article 27 of Chapter 160A of the General Statutes shall serve, ex officio, as the governing body of a special district it creates pursuant to this subsection. The proceeds of a tax levied under this subsection may be used only for the benefit of the special district and only for the purposes provided in G.S. 105-564. Except as provided in this subsection, a tax levied under this subsection is governed by the provisions of this Article. (1997-417, s. 4; 1999-445, s. 4.)

Effect of Amendments. — Session Laws 1999-445, s. 4, effective August 10, 1999, added subsection (d).

§ 105-562. Collection and scope.

(a) Collection. — A tax or a tax increase levied under this Article becomes effective on the date set by the board of trustees in the resolution levying the tax or the tax increase. The effective date must be the first day of a month and may not be earlier than the first day of the third calendar month after the board of trustees adopts the resolution. To the extent the tax applies to vehicles whose tax situs is in a county the entire area of which is within the jurisdiction of the Authority, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall collect and administer the tax. To the extent the tax applies to vehicles whose tax situs is in a county that is only partially within the jurisdiction of the county, the Authority shall collect and administer the tax. The Authority may contract with one or more local governments in its jurisdiction to collect the tax on its behalf.

Upon receipt of the resolutions under G.S. 105-561, the Division of Motor Vehicles shall proceed to collect and administer the tax as provided in this Article. The tax is due at the same time and subject to the same restrictions as in G.S. 20-87(1), (2), (4), (5), (6), and (7) and G.S. 20-88. The Division of Motor Vehicles may adopt rules to carry out its responsibilities under this Article.

(b) Scope. — Only vehicles required to pay a tax under G.S. 20-87(1), (2), (4), (5), (6), and (7) and G.S. 20-88 shall be subject to the tax provided by this Article. Taxes shall be prorated in accordance with G.S. 20-95.

(c) Tax Situs. — The tax situs of a motor vehicle for the purpose of this Article is its ad valorem tax situs. If the vehicle is exempt from ad valorem tax, its tax situs for the purpose of this Article is the ad valorem tax situs it would have if it were not exempt from ad valorem tax. (1997-417, s. 4.)

§ 105-563. Modification or repeal of tax.

The Board of Trustees may, by resolution, repeal the levy of the tax under this Article or decrease the amount of the tax, under the same procedures and subject to the same limitations as provided in G.S. 105-561. A tax repeal or a tax decrease becomes effective on the date set by the board of trustees in the resolution repealing or decreasing the tax. The effective date must be on the first day of a month and may not be earlier than the first day of the third calendar month after the board of trustees adopts the resolution. Repeal or decrease of a tax levied under this Article does not affect the rights or liabilities of an Authority, a taxpayer, or another person arising before the repeal or decrease. (1997-417, s. 4.)

§ 105-564. Distribution and use of proceeds.

The Authority shall retain the net proceeds of taxes it collects under this Article. Taxes collected by the Division of Motor Vehicles under this Article shall be credited to a special fund and the net proceeds disbursed quarterly to the appropriate Authority. Interest credited to the fund shall be disbursed quarterly to the Highway Fund to reimburse the Division of Motor Vehicles for the cost of collecting and administering the tax.

An Authority that levies a tax under this Article may use the proceeds of the tax for any purpose for which the Authority is authorized to use funds. An Authority shall use the tax proceeds to supplement and not to supplant or replace existing funds or other resources for public transportation systems. (1997-417, s. 4.)
